LEE SULPHUR SPRINGS

Since the early 1800s when the famous Lee family of Virginia made their summer retreat at Howard’s Lick, the area has been building a reputation as a popular resort. Now known as Lost River State Park, the area has come into its own as a family vacation facility.

Originally part of the massive land holdings of Thomas Lord Fairfax, this region fell to the apportionment of Lord Fairfax’s land after the Revolutionary War. Successful military leaders were granted land for their service during the war. It was in this manner that “Light Horse Harry” Lee acquired the land. Shortly thereafter, Lee built the cabin that is listed in the National Register of Historic Places and is now preserved as a museum at the park. The cabin museum is open weekends from Memorial Day to Labor Day.
