Our Scholarship Recipients

By Steve Urbaniak ’77

Our first scholarship for 2011 is to a young woman who has set high standards for herself - and by applying drive to the challenges, has succeeded in her endeavors. I'm speaking of Allison Patrick.

Allison is the daughter of Kenneth Patrick and Elizabeth 'Beth Meerschaert' Patrick, Class of 1977, Allison is one of the valedictorians with a perfect 4.00 GPA. She is senior class president, involved in Student Council, volleyball, track (despite her asthma), National Honor Society, marching and concert band, and plays a mean saxophone.

She volunteers for activities for charities, many involving walking or running. She has assisted students at Thomas Edison Elementary, gathered cans of food and typed a book which is to be made into Braille for the MISD. She plans a biology major at Northwestern University, and receives the first $1,000 scholarship. Way to go, Allison!

Our equally important second scholarship is also to a young woman who has worked hard to get where she is. An honor roll student, she is graduating cum laude -- Miss Alyssa Osborne.

Alyssa is the daughter of Melody and Nicholas Osborne. Nicholas was FHS alumnus Class of 1981. Alyssa has been in HOSA, Go Green, PHIT, cleans up at the College of Martial Arts and delivers newspapers for Hanover Grove cooperative. She participates in karate and Brazilian jiu-jitsu. She's also helped out MCREST. She is very responsible, organized and punctual with nearly perfect attendance. Her shyness faded when she was young; the more outgoing Alyssa is the person known to her peers. She plans to attend my old stomping ground, Macomb Community College, studying electronics engineering. We’re proud to award Alyssa with our second scholarship for her hard work.

Congratulations to this year’s ‘Audrey Kleino-DeFauw Memorial Scholarship Fund / FHS 25+ Alumni Club’ recipients.

How Times Have Changed
By Steve Urbaniak ’77

When Fraser was a much smaller community, it seemed like everybody knew all their neighbors and many of the townspeople. Folks knew much of the lives of the other Fraser citizens. Sixty or more years ago, it was customary to publish newspaper articles about what residents were doing. To show how much times have changed, I found an article from the Mt. Clemens Monitor from Wednesday, Dec. 24, 1941, Christmas Eve, just two and one-half weeks after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Let us look back at what some of the members of the Fraser village were up to during this time. Note the familiar names, some of which have three or four generations in Fraser.......

FRASER-- Students home for the holidays are Geraldine Steffens and Edgar Miller, from Michigan State; Lawrence Hartig and Kenneth Sauder, from Ypsilanti; Herbert Rewoldt, Jr., from Valparaiso; Walter Gugel, from River Forest; Alger Boening, of Wayne, is also enjoying his vacation period. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schneider had as their dinner guests on Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Otis McKinley and son, Delton, Rev. and Mrs. Lynn Tschudy and daughter, Joan.

Private Earl Engel, of Fort Leonard Wood, is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Engel. Janice Marie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Beardsley, was christened at the home on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Lynn Tschudy. Dr. and Mrs. Otis McKinley have as their house guests his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Velton McKinley, and daughter, of Dallas, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steffens will have as their guests his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Velton McKinley, and daughter, of Dallas, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steffens will have as their guests their Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Voelker, and Mrs. Mollie Mitchel, of Newton, Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jacob will entertain at their home on Fourteen Mile road, at a family dinner on Christmas Day. Mrs. Jacob's mother, Mrs. John Lupu, her two brothers, Nick and Eli, and Mr. and Mrs. El Oltean and daughter, Donna, of Detroit will be attending. Following their old delightful custom, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Bielawski will this year again hold open house at their home on Fourteen Mile road on Saturday evening.

Will the real Alumni Club, step forward?
By Steve Urbaniak ’77

Several people have contacted the FHS 25+ Alumni Club in recent years about certain projects, and unfortunately, we had to tell these folks that we are not the party responsible for their inquiries. One concern was the alumni directory. Thousands of alumni were sent a postcard asking them to call a toll-free number to provide current information for verification. I assure you that this was not the a project of the FHS 25+ Alumni Club. Many of the items that the Alumni Club has been contacted about is, in fact, the work of the Fraser Educational Foundation (FEF). The Foundation began at the behest of Superintendent Gary Matsche, in 1987. The object was to raise funds in order to award grants to any staff member (teacher, administrator, support staff, etc.) for innovative projects outside the realm of standard budgetary items. No board member is actively employed with the district. Michelle Wenner, administrative assistant for the superintendent, attends the meetings to keep minutes. Dr. Richards, Fraser’s superintendent, occasionally attends the meetings.

I, personally, have attended several school board meetings over the last 12 years and have seen presentations to the board by the FEF. But let us not confuse the FHS 25+ Alumni Club and the FEF. Sure, both organizations are interested in the Fraser schools and raising money for its betterment. The FEF works mainly through grants; the alumni club raises money for our newsletter printing and annual scholarships. The FEF has no newsletter. Items are published via the district website and its newsletter. There is no specific outlet to FEF. The FEF has had many worthy projects that have been funded. They have awarded over $39,500 in the last three years alone. Among the grants: Hardbound booklets for short stories, eBooks covering five major curriculum areas, computer simulations linked to medieval world history, real-life experience of 1845 Fort Wayne complete with costumes, video recording equipment, green roof project, (covered in 2010 alumni newsletter), literacy centers with cross-curricular hands-on, Alpha Smart programs to assist in writing centers, display/exhibit systems for art shows, facial reconstruction materials for anatomy and crime science classes, among just a few.

Alumnus, Joanne ’VanThomme, Hartzel ’64, spoke about the Foundation, “We had been looking for ways of getting additional funds. The Harris organization (which prints alumni directories nationwide) contacted us at one point, but we didn’t immediately jump on it. However, our donations have been dwindling, and we needed to do something. Requests from local businesses had been sent out several times over the years and they had been good at donating, but those, too, got less and less. Alumni requests and memorials are also good ways of gathering the needed funds to keep the projects afloat. Staff members have been very generous in donating by way of payroll deductions. The FEF will receive a percentage of the sale of the alumni directories. Other fundraisers were discussed, like a golf outing.”

You might ask yourself who are the major players in the FEF? Well, members have their own interests in programs and a background in the community. They are voted in when openings occur. Many have been involved with the schools in various capacities over the years, and some have even been alumni. Past members include former FHS 25+ Alumni Club president, Audrey ‘Kleino’ DeFauw (’57), Steve Donovan, Superintendent Howard Richards, Bernice Souts, Sal Venti, Jon Wainwright, Joe Di Stefano, Cheryl Morris, former school board members Larry Schoenherr, Hamon Nine, Gerald McCaffrey, and Rosemary Colombo. Sharron Henderson, former administrative assistant for Dr. Matsche and Rick Repicky, was also on the Board.

The Fraser Public Schools have several organizations that look toward increasing their fundraising, the Fraser High School Alumni 25+ Club are just two of them.
At the annual picnics, many people inquire why we don’t have more yearbooks. Usually we get them when an alumnus dies - his/her siblings give us their old yearbook(s) or when you’re just down-sizing.

FHS 25+ Alumni Club has these issues:
1942 1953 1965 1976

Can you fill in any? Call Steven Urbaniak @ (586)791-0677 or e-mail smurbaniak@yahoo.com to donate.

2012 FLORIDA REUNION

A couple of strong thunderstorms didn't dampen the spirits of the 17 FHS alumni and spouses who gathered at the home of Elsie ‘Larson’ Riggen ’61 and Rich Riggen ’61 for the annual FHS Florida Reunion on Saturday, March 10. The rain held off long enough to get the hamburgers and hotdogs cooked, and for everyone to respond to Rich’s cry of “Hot corn, hot corn, hot corn, here!” His grilled-in-the-husk corn is always a hit. It was great to welcome some new faces to the party and catch up on what they’ve been doing. The friendship and camaraderie is what makes this event so much fun! The next FHS Winter Reunion will be in the Cypress Room, Sun-N-Fun RV Resort in Sarasota, FL, on Saturday, March 10, 2013, hosted by June ‘Haist’ Taylor, also from ’61.

To all that made our largest fundraiser to be a success and helped at the picnic, but especially to these two (Chris Fletcher’s granddaughter, Kierra and Janet ‘Smits’ Kimball’s daughter, Joleen ‘King’ Boguslaw ’87) who stepped up to make the Food area run smoothly. Of course, John Porter ’77 hanging around all night, roasting that pig cannot go without mention, also. Thanks all !! (Even if we didn’t mention you by name)

PRICOM, a group of dedicated individuals committed to helping, by documenting causes of unexplained phenomena met at the St. Johns Assoc. Cemetery, in 2008. On one evening, the Cemetery revealed truths to the team through a chance encounter with a ghost named George. He seemed friendly and answered numerous questions. Your Club, the FHS 25+ is dedicated to giving scholarships to graduating Seniors. We need money to accomplish this. We can cut expenses by not sending the newsletter, our largest expense or we can increase revenues, by having you send a donation. If you, being one of the databases’ 11,000, send just $5, we wouldn’t be having to keep evaluating our existence. We need to constantly re-evaluate our budget - you can help by sending what ever you can afford, if not the $5, something, anything would help. We would like to continue on with mailing the newsletter; or will we be forced to make it available only on-line? 11,000 (alumni & staff) x postage x printing = Very expensive. Please help your club continue giving 2 deserving graduating Seniors scholarships, as we have been doing since 1995.

Teacher Feature - Jean Clark Wojcikiewicz

Her story begins in Ann Arbor. This is the town where she grew up, graduating from Ann Arbor (now named Pioneer) High School. She stayed in the vicinity, attended Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, and earned her Bachelor's degree in teaching. The University of Michigan is Michigan's college epitome and Jean lived not far from the famed football field.

While at school, she met Mr. Faulmann from Fraser's funeral home. Sensing Jean probably liked a smaller town atmosphere, a close-knit community, he suggested she try Fraser for a teaching position. That turned out to be right when an opening occurred, and she was hired in the Business Department. In 1960, while the watchful eyes of Stanley Schook and Ned Salerno they guided new teachers to successful careers. Only the best for Fraser always.

In the early years, Miss Clark taught typing, business math and accounting alongside her compadres, Margaret Coleman, Loren Butler, Arlene Eddy, and John Cain. For her advanced degree, Jean commuted to Royal Oak and received her Master's degree in guidance and counseling.

She was voted Teacher of the Year in 1989 and retired in January 1990 after purchasing a few years for her pension. “I had my daughter during my teaching career,” Jean noted. Zane retired at the same time. Retirement days were initially spent leisurely reading her favorite newspaper, The Detroit Free Press.

The couple spent the first five years traveling to Florida in the colder months. Eventually they purchased a condo and now spend pretty much from October to May in the Clearwater, Florida area, though they still consider themselves Michiganders. Many cruises have been taken - among the locales are the Panama Canal, Barbados, St. Kitts, and the Caribbean. They missed Grenada due to a mishap. Recreationally they are not good at golf -- they just survive. Jean likes her mystery novels, which she reads often. Occasionally they bump into students. “Restaurants seem to be the most common place former students recognize you,” Jean said. She looks back on her long teaching career with fondness, but warns about the modern common opinion that teachers are overpaid. “I can see why so many people change their minds about teaching and go into other fields.”

At 72, Jean is slowing down only because Zane, five years her senior, is having health problems. They have now been retired for over 21 years. Jean wishes the students who remember her all the best. “Thanks for thinking of me.”
