Shared Responsibility Payment
(or Why Exemptions are Important)
Individual Shared Responsibility Payment

- Everyone in a household must have minimum essential coverage or an exemption from the coverage requirement.
- If they do not, they owe an individual shared responsibility payment, or the penalty, for every month they are uninsured.

Health Reform: Beyond the Basics
Example: John

Calculating the Penalty
- Income: $17,000
- Filing Status: Single
- Adults: 1
- Children: 0
- Months uninsured: 12
- Tax filing threshold in 2015: $10,300

1. $17,000 - $10,300 = $6,700
   x 2%
   $134.00

2. $325 x 1 adult = $325.00

John’s penalty for 2015

Note: In tax year 2014, John would have paid only $95. If everything remains the same, in 2016 he would pay $695.
Example: John

Calculating the Penalty
- Income: $17,000
- Filing Status: Single
- Adults: 1
- Children: 0
- Months uninsured: 7

John’s penalty for 2015: $189.60
Example: Ruiz Family

Calculating the Penalty

- Income: $39,500
- Filing Status: Married Filing Jointly
- Adults: 2 (both uninsured)
- Children: 2 (both uninsured)
- Months uninsured: 12
- Tax filing threshold in 2015: $20,600

1. $39,500 - $20,600 = $18,900
   \[ \text{x 2%} \]
   \[ $378.00 \]

2. $325 \times 2 \text{ adult} + $162.50 \times 2 \text{ children} = \$975.00

Ruiz family’s penalty for 2015: $378.00
Two Types of Exemptions

All exemptions must be claimed at tax filing on Form 8965

Exemptions Granted by the Marketplace:
- Part I of Form 8965
- Must apply for the exemption through the Marketplace
- Need supporting documentation
- Takes time to process

Exemptions Granted by the IRS:
- Part II and III of Form 8965
- Can claim these exemptions directly on Form 8965 at tax time
- No supporting documentation needed
- Immediate
Exemptions from the Shared Responsibility Payment

Exemptions Granted by the Marketplace

- Hardships, including a state’s failure to expand Medicaid
- Insurance is unaffordable
- Member of certain religious sects

Exemptions Granted at Tax Filing

- Income below filing threshold
- Insurance is unaffordable
- Certain noncitizens
- Short coverage gap (< 3 months)
- Resident of a state that did not expand Medicaid

Exemptions Granted by the Marketplace or at Tax Filing

- Indian tribe membership
- Incarceration
- Health care sharing ministry

PART II: Household Exemptions Granted by the IRS

Use Part II to claim exemptions that cover the entire household for the entire year

- Household income below filing threshold
- Gross income is below the filing threshold

PART III: Individual Exemptions Granted by the IRS

Use Part III to claim exemptions for individual household members

• Can be claimed for monthly or for entire year
• A person can be eligible for multiple exemptions during the year, but only should report one exemption per month.

Note: Enter an exemption type (A-H) if eligible for IRS exemption

- Alabama
- Alaska
- Florida
- Georgia
- Idaho
- Indiana
- Kansas
- Louisiana
- Maine
- Mississippi
- Missouri

Example: Medicaid Coverage Gap Exemption

Rashid, Miriam and Leila

• Rashid was uninsured for all of 2015
• His wife, Miriam, had insurance all year through her employer
• Leila was born in November and was covered by CHIP
• Household income for 2015: $25,000 (129% FPL)
• They live in Texas

Does Rashid qualify for an exemption?

✓ YES, Rashid’s household income is below 138% FPL and in 2015, he lived in a non-expansion state
  • Rashid qualifies for this exemption for the entire year even if he had other insurance options, such as coverage through his wife’s employer or insurance in the Marketplace with PTCs
Example: Medicaid Coverage Gap Exemption

But what if...

- Rashid, Miriam and Leila moved to Oregon (a Medicaid expansion state) midway through 2015

Does Rashid qualify for an exemption?

☑️ YES, Rashid’s household income is still below 138% FPL and because he lived in a non-expansion state at some point in 2015, he is still eligible for this exemption
  - Rashid qualifies for this exemption even if he enrolled in Medicaid once he moved to Oregon
Citizens living abroad and certain noncitizens

(Codes C)

Applies to:
• Individuals who are not U.S. citizens, nationals or lawfully present (e.g., undocumented immigrants)
• Some other citizens living outside of the U.S., residents of territories, and 1040NR (or 1040NR-EZ) filers.
• [Anyone who does not have an eligible immigration status as defined by the ACA. All eligible statuses listed here: www.healthcare.gov/immigrants/immigration-status]
Example: Certain Noncitizens

Fatima, Nadif and Amina

- Fatima is a Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) grantee (“Dreamer”)
- Her husband and daughter are U.S. citizens

Is Fatima eligible for an exemption?

✓ YES, she will use exemption code C on Form 8965 at tax time
Short coverage gap (Code B)

- A coverage gap of less than 3 months (so, 1 or 2 months). If the coverage gap is 3 months or longer, none of the months in the gap qualify for exemption.

→ But remember that a person is considered to have coverage for the entire month if they have coverage for one day in the month.

NOTE: There is a look-back but no look-forward. Consecutive uninsured months at the end of 2014 count toward a gap at the start of 2015; uninsured months in 2016 do not.

- Example 1: If Bob is uninsured Dec 2014, Jan 2015 and Feb 2015, he doesn’t qualify for this exemption because the gap is not less than 3 months.
- Example 2: If Bob is uninsured starting in December 2015 and is still uninsured when he files his taxes in March 2016, he can claim this exemption for December.
Example: Short Coverage Gap

John
• John is uninsured
• He gets a new job in March
• His ESI begins April 1

Is John eligible for this exemption?

NO, ineligible for an exemption based on a short coverage gap because the gap is not less than three full calendar months
Example: Short Coverage Gap

But what if...

- John’s new job offers ESI that begins March 15

Is John eligible for this exemption?

March 15: ESI begins

✓ YES, eligible for an exemption based on a short coverage gap because the gap is less than three full calendar months (Jan – Feb)
Insurance is considered unaffordable (Code A or G)

- Lowest-cost premium available would have cost more than 8.05% of household income
- Additional exemption available when two family members are eligible for employer-sponsored insurance, if the combined cost of coverage is greater than 8.05% of income

Which offer of insurance is measured?

If eligible for an offer of employer-sponsored insurance (ESI):

- As an employee: the lowest cost self-only plan costs more than 8.05% of household income (Code A)
- As a member of the employee’s family: the lowest cost family plan costs more than 8.05% of household income (Code A)
- Two people in the family are eligible for ESI: if both self-only plans are affordable (and no family coverage is affordable) and the combined cost of self-only coverage is more than 8.05% of household income (Code G)

If not eligible for an offer of ESI:

- Lowest cost bronze plan (after PTCs) for all non-exempt members of the taxpayer’s family costs more than 8.05% of household income
Example: Aggregate Cost of ESI

Jay and Priya

- Jay and Priya each have offers of self-only ESI from their employers but no affordable offer of family coverage
- Household Income: $45,000
- Premium cost for Priya: $2,100/year
- Premium cost for Jay: $2,400/year
- Aggregate cost: $4,500/year

Are Jay and Priya eligible for this exemption?

- YES, eligible for an exemption based on affordability because the aggregate cost of the two offers of ESI is more than 8.05% of income.
Incarceration (Code F)

- Can be claimed for months someone on the tax return was incarcerated for at least one day of the month
- Incarceration is prison or jail
  - Does not include time in jail pending disposition of charges (i.e., held but not convicted)
  - Does not include probation, parole or home confinement

Member of an Indian tribe (Code E)

- Members of federally-recognized Indian tribe
- American Indian, Alaska Native, or spouse or dependent of those who are eligible for services from an Indian health care provider or through the Indian Health Service (IHS)
PART I: Exemptions Granted by the Marketplace

Types of Marketplace Exemptions:

• Insurance is unaffordable (based on projected income)

• Hardship, including:
  – Life circumstances
  – State failure to expand Medicaid
  – Eligible for Indian Health services
  – Plan cancellation

• Member of certain religious sects

• Incarceration

• Membership in an Indian tribe

Note: If granted exemption, will receive an exemption certificate number (ECN), a digit letter/number code
Why apply for a Marketplace exemption?

• Some exemptions are not available at tax filing
  – Religious conscience and hardships can only be claimed by application to the Marketplace

• Circumstances change! A person who appears exempt early in the year may not be exempt at tax filing
Example: David

• David lives in Texas, a non-expansion state.
• He lost his job in December 2015 and asks about enrolling in health coverage in January 2016
• He doesn’t qualify for unemployment benefits and has no income right now
• He feels really uncomfortable guessing about his income for 2016 because he really doesn’t know
• He decides to wait and get insurance later
• An assister tells him about the exemptions that he appears eligible for to avoid penalty:
  – He is in the coverage gap
  – Based on his low projected income, insurance is likely unaffordable
Why apply for a Marketplace exemption?

Example: David

• In May, he gets a job and earns $2,100/month ($16,800 for the year)
• He still remains uninsured for the year
• At tax time for 2016, David doesn’t qualify for any IRS exemptions:
  ‥ His income is above the filing threshold
  ‥ Based on year-end income, insurance is affordable (even for the months he had no income!)
  ‥ His income is greater than 138% FPL ($16,243 for coverage year 2016*)
  ‥ No other exemption applies
• On his 2016 taxes, he will owe a $695 penalty.

Lesson: If a person qualifies for an exemption early in the year, claim it!

*Reminder: 2015 federal poverty levels are used to determine eligibility for 2016 coverage
Some Exemptions Need to be Claimed Early

Assisters can be most helpful on exemptions that:

• Can be forfeited if the consumer’s situation changes over the course of the year (especially for people experiencing temporary job loss or reduced income)
  - ✓ Affordability
  - ✓ Medicaid coverage gap

• Are only claimed through the Marketplace
  - ✓ Hardships
  - ✓ Religious Conscience
Marketplace Exemptions: Affordability

Insurance is unaffordable

Lack of affordable coverage based on projected income (>8.05% of household income)

What is considered unaffordable coverage?

If eligible for an offer of ESI:

• As an employee: the lowest cost self-only plan costs more than 8.05% of household income
• As a member of the employee’s family: the lowest cost family plan costs more than 8.05% of household income.
• (OR ESI costs more than 8.05% of household income due to failure to qualify for wellness discounts)

If not eligible for an offer of ESI:

• Lowest cost bronze plan (after PTCs) for all non-exempt members of the taxpayer’s family costs more than 8.05% of household income

*Increase household income by any amount that wages (or the wages of any other member of your tax household whose MAGI was included in your household income) were reduced to pay all or a portion of the premiums for employer-sponsored coverage (i.e., a salary reduction arrangement)
Example: Affordability Exemption

Teresa, Antonio, Gaby and Michael

• Teresa’s employer offers ESI for herself and her children
• She doesn’t accept it and the family goes uninsured for the year
• Household income: $47,700
• Employee-only premium: $196/month (4.9% of income)
• Employee + children premium: $392/month (9.9% of income)
• No spousal coverage is offered

Is Teresa eligible for an exemption based on affordability?

Does the lowest-cost plan that covers only the employee cost more than 8.05% of household income?

- No, the lowest cost employee-only plan is 4.9% of income
- The plan is considered affordable

x  Not eligible for exemption based on affordability
Are Gaby and Michael eligible for an exemption based on affordability?

Does the lowest-cost plan that covers Gaby and Michael cost more than 8.05% of household income?

- Yes, the lowest cost plan that covers the children is 9.9% of income
- It is considered unaffordable

✅ Eligible for exemptions based on affordability

What about Medicaid or CHIP?
The children may be eligible for Medicaid or CHIP, but eligibility for those programs is not taken into account in awarding this exemption.

Is Antonio eligible for an exemption based on affordability?

Does the lowest-cost bronze plan covering only Antonio in the Marketplace, after accounting for PTCs, cost more than 8.05% of household income?

- The lowest cost bronze plan available to him is $2,000 (4% of household income) after taking into account PTCs
- The plan is considered affordable

× Not eligible for exemption based on affordability

When to Apply:

Up to 3 years after the month of the hardship (but documentation is required in most circumstances so earlier is better)
Kurt

- Kurt had a difficult winter. After failing to pay his electric bill for three months, he received a notice in February that his electricity would be turned off.
- He scrambled to pay the bill and neglected other bills, including his insurance premium. After three months of non-payment his coverage was terminated retroactively.
- Kurt can use the utility shut-off notice to apply for a hardship exemption for the time he went without coverage.
- The Marketplace will determine the exact length of the exemption.

Duration: Entire year

When to Apply:
- Apply for Medicaid at any time

Exemption is automatic if ALL are true:
- Submitted an application via Healthcare.gov
- Was determined/assessed to be ineligible for Medicaid due to the state’s decision not to expand
- Has income under 100% FPL

Apply for an exemption if EITHER are true:
- Has income between 100-138% FPL (and submitted an application via Healthcare.gov and was determined/assessed to be ineligible for Medicaid)
- Received a determination directly from your state Medicaid office
Example: Medicaid Coverage Gap Exemption

Jane

- Jane is unemployed until she gets a job that offers ESI
- Monthly income (Aug–Dec): $2,200 (225% FPL)
- Annual Income: $11,000 (93% FPL)
- Residence: Texas

Scenario 1: Jane does not apply for coverage

Jane knew she was in the Medicaid “coverage gap” and did not apply for Medicaid

August 1: ESI begins

Not eligible for this exemption through the Marketplace because she didn’t apply for Medicaid while uninsured. If her annual income is below 138% FPL for the year, she can claim this exemption through the IRS at tax time.
Example: Medicaid Coverage Gap Exemption

Jane

• Jane is unemployed until she gets a job that offers ESI
• Monthly income (Aug–Dec): $2,200 (225% FPL)
• Annual Income: $11,000 (93% FPL)

Application Form:

- All states (except Connecticut):

- Connecticut application:

For all Marketplace Exemption Applications:
Re-Enrollment and Tax Filing
Failure to Reconcile for 2014

- A person that receives APTC must agree to file a tax return and reconcile the credit
- 1.8 million consumers that received APTC in 2014 failed to reconcile by the end of May
- When a consumer files a new 2016 application, updates an existing application, or is auto re-enrolled, the Marketplace will confirm with the IRS that a consumer has reconciled the 2014 APTC
Notices

• IRS sent notices in July–August to people who failed to reconcile
• Marketplace Open Enrollment Notices will warn about risk of loss of APTC in 2016 and will give several reasons:
  – Did not authorize the Marketplace to request updated tax information
  – Failure to file a tax return
  – Updated tax information indicates household income is too high to receive APTC
File now!

• Non-filers should file their 2014 taxes as soon as possible, then return to the Marketplace
• There will be a new question that allows someone to attest to filing
Re-Enrollment

• Even if APTC is discontinued January 1 because of a failure to file, a person may be auto-enrolled without APTC

• They can still file and have APTC reinstated!
  → File the tax return and return to the Marketplace between Dec. 16 – Jan. 15 for APTC to begin February 1st.
  → File the tax return and return to the Marketplace between Jan. 16 – Feb. 15 for APTC to begin March 1st.
What if the 1095-A is wrong?

• Call the Marketplace for an amendment
• Amendments don’t always require filing delays

  – If an error doesn’t affect the PTC calculation (e.g., incorrect address, social security number or birth date), seek a correction, but the consumer should file anyway.

  – If an error does affect the PTC calculation, wait for corrected information before filing. The consumer may be able to get the information over the phone.

Note: Second lowest cost silver plan (SLCSP) is often not amended.
• If it’s wrong, use the look-up tool to find the correct one to use on Form 8962 (FFM tool: https://www.healthcare.gov/taxes/tools/silver/)
