What if the only thing standing between your company and a devastating lawsuit is ...

- That new HR assistant you just hired? Or ...
- That manager who “doesn’t have time” for your training sessions? Or ...
- An overworked HR staff member who overlooks an obscure wrinkle in an important federal law?

Are you 100 percent sure they can handle EVERY situation that comes their way? Truth is, there are 1,001 different scenarios going on throughout your company every day that impact employment law, benefits administration, compensation and even fringe benefits.

And it only takes one mistake—however unintentional—to cause significant damage to your company’s ability to do business. Companies shell out an average of $750,000 in damages for wrongful termination suits that they lose! Even more sobering ... more and more companies are losing these suits each year.

Which makes it more important than ever for your HR staff (and other managers and supervisors in your company) to possess a keen working knowledge of the fundamentals of HR law. But where can you get this training quickly, easily—and accurately?

Come to this seminar. In just one day, we’ll cover the basics of HR law in a fast-paced, plain-English way that will provide a whole new level of understanding to anyone who has to deal with the thousands of facets of employment law.

It’s HR 101—and we take that as a BIG compliment!
Our previous attendees call this course HR 101, and they say it with a smile! It’s a must-have foundation of knowledge everyone needs in today’s complex business world. We cover everything from the ADA … to the FLSA … to fringe benefits, but we don’t go in depth into the tiny nuances of each law.

Instead, participants learn the basics of what the law means ... to whom the law applies ... and which agency enforces the law. Plus, they’ll return to the office armed with resources they can immediately access when they need information.

What you’ll have after this powerful session are employees who know the magnitude of HR law and can converse with any employee about the issues safely ... and a dramatically reduced threat of mistakes, blunders and missteps due to ignorance that can land you and your company in hot water.
HR Laws Are Changing
That’s Why This Training Is So Important

Are you up to date on what’s happening in the world of HR law? This is a time of unprecedented change, not only in terms of the number and complexity of the regulations and laws, but also in how each is being enforced. Let’s face it—being out of the loop could result in serious, costly penalties for organizations and key managers alike.

For instance, here are just a handful of things that need to be on your radar screen:

- The EEOC is increasing enforcement activities—which means employers need to make sure all their ducks are in a row. Are yours?

- Amendments to the Americans with Disabilities Act have forced some pretty dramatic changes. Do you know what they are and how to deal with them in your workplace?

- How much do you know about the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act (GINA)?

- The Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Restoration Act addresses discriminatory compensation decisions or practices. Should your organization be worried?

- Employee privacy is becoming a bigger and bigger issue, especially in terms of Internet use and the workplace, including the issue of what employees are writing and posting on social media sites. Do you understand the implications for your organization?

These HR “hot spots” are just the tip of the iceberg. If you’re not clear—super-clear—on the HR laws your organization must strictly comply with (as well as those workplace scenarios most likely to trip you up), you need to attend the HR Law seminar. Reserve your seat in this critical training today!
