Pages 3-4 specify the exams that must be passed to obtain initial certification.

However, the Department may waive the requirement that these specific exams be passed, if the applicant previously passed certification examinations and meets any of the following:

1. Passed a test or tests substantially similar to test or tests specified on pages 3-4 after July 12, 1996.

2. Passed a test or tests substantially similar to the test or tests specified on pages 3-4 before July 12, 1996, as long as the applicant also submits proof of one of the following:

   - Evidence of continuous employment as a code administrator in a related field, in the form of a notarized statement from your employer indicating that you have been performing construction code services from the earliest exam result date that you are submitting until the date of your waiver request. (This statement should include the employer’s Federal ID Number.)

   Or, if you have been self-employed, a notarized statement attesting to the fact that you have been performing construction code services in a related field from the earliest exam result date that you are submitting until the date of your waiver request. (This sworn statement should include your Social Security Number.)

   - A current certification issued by a model code organization.

   - Evidence of completion of 30 hours of continuing education or a college degree program in a related field.

3. Passed a Certified Building Official (CBO) examination. An applicant who provides proof of having passed this examination is eligible to receive UCC certification in the following categories:

   - Residential Building Inspector
   - Building Inspector
   - Building Plans Examiner

Follow these steps, if you are seeking initial certification:

STEP 1: Determine the categories in which you desire to become certified and which examinations you need to take to fulfill the category requirements. See pages 3-4.

STEP 2: Determine which test administrator provides the examinations needed. See pages 5-7.

STEP 3: Determine reference materials required and prepare for the examinations.

STEP 4: Register to take the required examinations by contacting one of the following: Prometric (NCPCCI); the International Code Council; the PA Construction Codes Academy; the Elevator Industry Work Preservation Fund; the National Association of Elevator Safety Authorities International (NAESA International); or, QEI Services, Inc. See pages 5-7.

STEP 5: Pass the examinations.

STEP 6: Submit the following:

   - An Application for Certification.
Please fill out this form completely. Be sure to check all categories for which certification is sought.

- Proof that you have passed all required exams for each of the checked categories.
- A check (made payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania) in the amount of $50.00.
- Proof that you have passed a substantially similar exam (if a test other than that specified on pages 3-4 was passed).
- Proof that you have meet one of the three additional requirements mentioned in number 2 on page 1 (if a substantially similar exam was passed prior to July 12, 1996)

Mail the application package to:

Department of Labor & Industry
BOIS-UCC Certification Unit
651 Boas Street, Room 1606
Harrisburg, PA 17121-0750

If a certification application is approved, the Department will issue an official certification card to the applicant. All certifications are valid three (3) years from the date of issuance.

If an additional initial certification is obtained before the end of this three-year period, a new certification card will be issued. This will list all certifications held, the expiration date will then become a date three years from the date when the new (revised card) was issued. On or before the expiration date, application for recertification must be made to the Department.

The International Code Council currently offers the exams listed below. Passing the listed exam will qualify an individual to obtain the Pennsylvania certification listed on the left. These exams are offered in two formats: paper and pencil and computer-based.

You may learn more about these offerings and how to apply to take examinations by visiting the ICC web site (www.iccsafe.org). At the home page, click on “Certification and Testing.”

The ICC’s “Candidate Bulletin” which can be accessed in the certification section lists the phone number to call for making arrangements to take a computer–based exam and also provides the application that must be mailed to the ICC to take a paper and pencil exam.
