The Confession of Sin and Supplication for Grace

Minister and People

O Lord, teach me the nature of a sacrament as a seal and pledge of Christ’s love: That He is faithful to make Himself a present reality to His own who are guests at His table. Assure me by it that His word is made good to my faith, that His life begun in me will be perfected hereafter, that my covenant with Him is confirmed, and that He gives Himself to all who take Him thankfully. As I come to the feast, help me to repent of my sins against Thee, and my neglect of duties towards my family, church, friends, and neighbors. Heal me now, as I approach Thy table, and fill me with all grace, and with Thyself. Amen.

The Scriptural Assurance of Pardon

John 6:48-51

I am the Bread of Life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread which comes down out of heaven, so that one may eat of it and not die. I am the living bread that came down out of heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he shall live forever.

Sing Alleluia forth in duteous praise, Ye citizens of heaven, O sweetly raise an endless Alleluia, Alleluia. Ye powers who stand before the eternal light, let all your choirs re-echo to the height an endless Alleluia, Alleluia. Ye who have fought and joined the starry throng, Ye victors now take up the eternal song an endless Alleluia, Alleluia. Your songs of triumph shall forever ring, the hymns which tell the honor of your King, an endless Alleluia, Alleluia. Such song is rest and food and deep delight to saints forgiven. Let them all unite in endless Alleluia, Alleluia. Almighty Christ, to Thee our voices sing, Glory, glory evermore, to Thee we bring an endless Alleluia...

This morning we celebrate the sacrament of the Lord’s Supper, spiritually communing with our Lord in keeping with his teaching to the first disciples. It is my experience that the more we understand the Lord’s Supper, the more it will mean to us. Perhaps the most important thing for us to realize is that this sacrament is a sign of the atoning work of Christ and all the benefits that comes to us through faith in Him. A number of years ago, I published a booklet on the Lord’s Supper, and I wrote this about the sacrament as a sign:

“Like the Passover, the Lord’s Supper was instituted as a sign to the disciples and their future generations. Jesus said, “Do this in remembrance of me” (Lk. 22:19; 1 Cor. 11:25). The event signified is the death of Jesus Christ, which our Lord anticipated as imminent. Jesus handed them the bread and said, “This is my body, which is given for you” (Lk. 22:19). Then he passed the cup, saying, “This cup that is poured out for you is the new covenant in my blood” (v. 20). Thus the bread and the wine together, as presented with Christ’s words, signify Jesus’ death for his disciples as an atonement for sin. Charles Hodge observes, “Redemption, therefore, is not by power, or by teaching, or by moral influence, but by expiation. It is this truth which the Lord’s Supper exhibits and authenticates.” In so doing, our Lord bore testimony to the primacy of his atoning death at the very heart of the Christian religion. Louis Berkhof says, “The central fact of redemption, prefigured in the sacrifices of the Old Testament, is clearly set forth by means of the significant symbols of the New Testament sacrament. The words of the institution, ‘broken for you’ and ‘shed for many’, point to the fact that the death of Christ is a sacrificial one, for the benefit, and even in the place, of His people.”

“So why did Jesus install a new sacrament, if the Passover already pointed to an atoning death as the source of salvation? The answer is that the central act of redemptive history was unfolding even as the Lord gathered that last time with his disciples before his arrest. Benjamin Warfield writes, “He to whom all the Paschal lambs from the beginning had been pointing was about to be offered up. The old things were passing away; behold, all things were to become new.” The antitype having come, the type could no longer be fitting to set forth the reality now made new...

“The elements of the Lord’s Supper present Christ’s death to the senses of his people. But there is more signified in its administration. The eating of the elements by believers signifies their participation in the crucified Christ. Berkhof teaches, “They symbolically appropriate the benefits secured by the sacrificial death of Christ.” Additionally, the partaking of the sacrament signifies the effect of Christ’s death in giving life and strength to the soul, as food and drink sustain the body. Furthermore, just as the sacrament symbolizes the believers’ union with Christ, it also places a visible difference between members of Christ’s church and the world, while signifying the believers’ communion one to another in him.”

I hope that these reflections will assist you in preparing for the Lord’s Supper this coming Lord’s Day. We gather not merely to participate in a ritual, but rather to meet with Christ in faith. As we feed upon His wonderful gospel, He is certain to nourish our souls.

May the Lord bless you all this week.

In Christ’s Love,

Pastor Phillips

On Worship

This Lord’s Day we should begin our worship with the hymn, The Church’s One Foundation, written by Samuel J. Stone in 1866. It was a time of doctrinal turmoil in the Anglican Church and Stone was deeply concerned over scholarly attacks on the Bible. His conviction, expressed in this great hymn, was that there can be no unity in the Church except that which rests on faith in Christ and His Word. “The Church’s one foundation is Jesus Christ her Lord,” he wrote in the opening line. The reason is expressed in the rest of the first verse: “From heav’n he came and sought her to be His holy bride / With His own blood He bought her, and for her life He died.” As we sing this great hymn, let us remember how true it is and resolve anew to build our church only on the Lord Jesus Christ.

Make a joyful shout to the Lord, all you lands! Serve the Lord with gladness; come before His presence with singing. Know that the Lord, He is God; It is He who has made us, and not we ourselves; we are His people and the sheep of His pasture. Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise. Be thankful to Him, and bless His name. ~Psalm 100: 1-4
