Who we are & what we do

The Labor Market Information Center (LMIC) is a part of the South Dakota Department of Labor and Regulation. Our purpose is to collect, analyze and provide, to the public, information on the labor market of the state, such as employment levels, unemployment rates, wage and earnings data, labor supply, employment projections and business staffing patterns. Our staff possesses expertise in labor economics and analysis, primary and secondary research and public information. Among those who use our information are employers, economic development groups, public agencies, career decision makers, employment specialists, and education and training program planners.

We have the labor market information you need

We maintain an extensive website of labor market data and analysis at www.sdjobs.org/lmic which is available free of charge. In addition to narrative analyses of many labor market issues, you can access a wealth of current and historical data, including:

- Careers & Occupations
- Consumer Price Index
- Postsecondary Graduate Outcomes
- Labor Force
- Labor Supply
- Population
- Projections
- Wages & Earnings
- Workers by Industry

Additionally at www.sdjobs.org/lmic, you can create a customized labor profile for your community. South Dakota Career InSite, another LMIC product, offers career interest assessments and provides comprehensive information on hundreds of career options, including state-specific employment, projected employment and demand, and wage data. Reality Check, a component of Career InSite, also helps you estimate the costs associated with lifestyle choices you make, then lets you compare those costs to the wages of occupations of interest.

We’re here to help you

Not into surfing the Web? Can’t find what you’re looking for online, or need some help? Just give us a call at 800.592.1881. We’re here to help you, and we’ll do our best to respond to your request for information on any aspect of the labor market.

The LMIC is South Dakota’s representative for federal-state cooperative programs with the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, which provides the opportunity for us to be familiar with labor market information available for the nation and other states. We also have staff well versed in demographic and economic information from other national agencies, such as the U.S. Census Bureau.

We have resources readily available to you

We have printed and electronic resources available free of charge. These resources are listed on the reverse side. For complete product descriptions, or to order online, go to our website at www.sdjobs.org/lmic and simply click on the “Order Publications” option from the right-hand menu. Or, give us a call at 800.592.1881; we’d be happy to visit with you about which products might be most beneficial for you.

We make presentations and provide training

Upon request, and as our staff time and budget allow, we make presentations on labor market information.

Presentation topics include:
- Who we are and the kinds of products we produce
- Projected industry and occupational trends

Potential training topics include:
- Using labor market Internet sites to their full advantage
- Maximizing the potential of LMIC website applications
