Have you switched to SmarTrip® yet?

SmarTrip® is the convenient rechargeable farecard.

- Use it to pay for fares on Metrorail and Metrobus. Paying your fare with a SmarTrip® card costs less than paying with cash (20¢ on Metrobus and $1 on Metrorail).
- Store up to $300 in value on your card.
- The value on a registered SmarTrip® card is protected from loss.
- Add value or a pass to your SmarTrip® card from our Web site. Or go online to find out how much value is on your card, see where and when you used it last or report it lost or stolen.

SmarTrip® cards are sold at Metro stations, Metro sales offices or online at wmata.com.
Finding the Metro station
- If you’re driving, look for the large Metro signs to direct you to the station.
- Tall brown columns with a large M identify the station’s entrance.
- Color stripes on the columns show the lines that serve the station.

Metrorail accessibility
Elevators and escalators connect station entrance levels with the train platform. If an elevator is out of service, shuttle bus service is available on request. To find out which elevators are out-of-service:
- Log onto wmata.com and check the service status box on the home page.
- Call 202-962-1212 for a list of out-of-service equipment.
- Check the “white boards” at each station manager’s kiosk.
- Check the electronic signs in stations.

Waiting for the train
- Signs in the station tell you which train platform to use for your destination.
- Please stand behind the bumpy lines along the platform’s edge.
- Electronic signs in stations and flashing lights along the platform edge signal a train’s arrival.

Boarding the train
- Check the destination of the train posted above the side windows.
- Stand clear of the train car doors and let passengers on and off before you board. Step over the small gap between the platform and the train.
- Listen for the chimes that signal the car doors are closing. If the train is full, step back and wait for the next train. Unlike elevator doors, train doors do not reopen automatically.

PARKING
Most end-of-the-line stations—near the Capital Beltway (I-495/I-95)—have the largest parking lots. On weekends, it’s usually easy to find a space to park, but on weekdays, many lots fill up early. Parking at Metro-operated lots is FREE on weekends and federal holidays. On weekdays, there’s a small fee. You can pay with a credit card at most Metro-operated lots. Cash is only accepted at metered parking spaces.

METROTAXIS
Hours of service
Schedules vary by route. Most routes run every day.
- Frequency between buses may change between rush hours and all other times.
- Where to wait for the bus
  - Stand at designated Metrotaxi stops.
  - Check the bus destination before you board. The route number and destination are displayed above the windshield or on the boarding side of the bus.
- Fares are based on when and how far you travel. Fares (and travel times) are posted in Metro stations on farecard machines, on the information kiosk and beneath the large Metrorail map.
- Each person must have his or her own farecard, SmarTrip® card or pass to ride.
- Save $1.00 on the Metrorail fare by using a SmarTrip® card instead of a paper farecard.
- Farecards and Metrotaxi passes are available at farecard vendors in the stations.

Metrorail
- Metrorail’s Orange Line operators do not carry cash. Unless you use a SmarTrip® card, pass or token, you must have exact change to pay your fare.
- Fares are posted on the farebox.
- Save 20¢ on the Metrorail fare when you use a SmarTrip® card instead of cash.

Special fares
- Two children age four and under ride free with a paying adult on Metrorail, Metrotaxi and all regional bus systems, and to pay to park at Metro-operated parking lots. And it saves you money each time you use it instead of cash on Metrorail or a paper farecard on Metrorail.
- Metrorail’s Orange Line operators do not carry cash. Unless you use a SmarTrip® card, pass or token, you must have exact change to pay your fare.

SmarTrip® cards
A SmarTrip® card is the easy way to pay your fare on Metrorail, Metrotaxi and all regional bus systems, and to pay to park at Metro-operated lots. And it saves you money each time you use it instead of cash on Metrorail or a paper farecard on Metrorail.
- Store up to $300 in value on a SmarTrip® card. Purchase SmarTrip® cards at CVG/Baggage & Giant; in selected Metro stations, at Metro sales offices at Metro Center, the Pentagon Transit Center and Metro Headquarters at 600 Fifth St. NW, Northern Bus Division and at more than 300 area locations. Go online to wmata.com or call 202-637-7000 for details.

Paying the fare
Mode of payment
- Fares are based on when and how far you travel. Fares (and travel times) are posted in Metro stations on farecard machines, on the information kiosk and beneath the large Metrorail map.
- Each person must have his or her own farecard, SmarTrip® card or pass to ride.
- Save $1.00 on the Metrorail fare by using a SmarTrip® card instead of a paper farecard.
- Farecards and Metrotaxi passes are available at farecard vendors in the stations.

Metrotaxis
- Fares are based on when and how far you travel. Fares (and travel times) are posted in Metro stations on farecard machines, on the information kiosk and beneath the large Metrorail map.
- Each person must have his or her own farecard, SmarTrip® card or pass to ride.
- Save $1.00 on the Metrorail fare by using a SmarTrip® card instead of a paper farecard.
- Farecards and Metrotaxi passes are available at farecard vendors in the stations.

Sign up for Metrotaxis at wmata.com and get timely, targeted Metro information sent right to your desktop or mobile device.

Information is subject to change.