An Illustration of the Believers’ Equal Status
in the New Man

I. Introduction
vv. 1-3

1 Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and bTimothy the brother, to Philemon our beloved and cfirm partner
dto our beloved and cfellow worker eAnd to 1Apphia the asister and to 1bArchippus our cfellow soldier and to the 2church, which is in your house:
3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

II. A Slave Reborn to Be a Brother
vv. 4-16

4 I athank my God always, making bmention of you in my prayers,
5 Hearing of your 1love and the faith which you have toward the Lord Jesus and to all the saints,

1 According to the familial nature of this Epistle, Apphia must have been Philemon’s wife, and Archippus, his son.

2 Philemon lived in Colossae
(v. 2 cf. Col. 4:17; v. 10 cf. Col. 1:2; 4:9)
and according to history was an elder of the church there. It must have been that the church in Colossae met in his house. Hence, it was the church in his house.

5 In the initial stage of the life of a believer, faith comes first, and then,
out of faith, love is produced (Gal. 5:6;
Eph. 1:15; Col. 1:4; see notes 14 in 1 Tim. 1 and 23 in Eph. 6). But here love is mentioned first and then faith, because the matter of the equal status of the believers, dealt with in this Epistle, is a matter of love, which comes out of faith. In the new man the members love one another in faith (Titus 3:15).
6 That the fellowship of your faith may become effective in the full knowledge of every good thing which is in you for Christ.

7 For I had much joy and encouragement over your love, because the inward parts of the saints have been refreshed through you, brother.

8 Therefore though I have much boldness in Christ to charge you what is fitting,

9 Because of love I rather entreat, being such a one as Paul the aged and now also a prisoner of Christ Jesus.

10 I entreat you concerning my child, whom I have begotten in my bonds, Onesiumus, 11 Who formerly was useless to you but now is useful both to you and to me.

Their relationship is of love through faith. The apostle appreciated the fellowship of Philemon’s faith (v. 6) and was encouraged by his love (v. 7); thus, he entreated Philemon to receive Onesiumus because of this love (v. 9). These two virtues are referred to in combination here; Philemon had both of them, not only toward the Lord but also to all the saints.

6a I.e., full acknowledgment, full appreciation, and full recognition through experience.

6b Not natural things (cf. Rom. 7:18) but spiritual and divinely good things, such as the love and the faith that Philemon had toward the Lord Jesus. These good things are in us, the regenerated believers, but are not in natural men.

6c Some ancient MSS read, us.

6d Lit., unto, toward. All the spiritual and divinely good things in us are unto Christ, toward Christ, for Christ. The apostle prayed that the fellowship, the communication, the sharing of Philemon’s faith toward all the saints might become effective in them in the element and sphere of the full knowledge, the full realization, of all the good things in us for Christ, causing them to acknowledge, appreciate, and recognize all the spiritual and divinely good things that are in the believers for Christ.

7a For introduces the reason that the apostle prayed for Philemon’s faith to become effective in the saints (v. 6), the reason being that Philemon’s love had refreshed the inward parts of the saints and, hence, had rendered the apostle much joy and encouragement.

7b Lit., bowels.

7c Soothed, cheered.

9a Or, an ambassador (Eph. 6:20).

9b Prisoner here, fellow prisoner in v. 23, and bonds in v. 13 indicate that this Epistle was written during the apostle’s first imprisonment in Rome. See note 6b in 2 Tim. 4.

10a Through the Spirit with the eternal life of God (John 3:3; 1:13).

10b The name in Greek means profitable, useful, helpful; it was a common name for slaves. He was Philemon’s purchased bondslave, who, according to Roman law, had no human rights. He ran away from his master, thus committing a crime punishable by death. While he was in prison at Rome with the apostle, he was saved through him. Now the apostle sent him back with this Epistle to his master.

11a Or, unserviceable. Referring to Onesiumus’s running away from Philemon.

11b Or, serviceable. Because Onesiumus had been converted and was willing to return to Philemon.
12. Him I have sent back to you—him, that is, my very heart—
13. Whom I intended to keep with myself that on your behalf he might minister to me in the bonds of the gospel.
14. But without your mind I did not want to do anything, that your goodness would not be as of necessity, but voluntary.
15. For perhaps for this reason he was separated from you for but an hour, that you might fully have him forever,
16. No longer as a slave, but above a slave, a beloved brother, especially to me, but how much more to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord.

III. A Brother Recommended for the New Man’s Acceptance

vv. 17-22

17. If then you hold me as a partner, receive him as myself.
18 And if he has 1wronged you in anything or owes anything, charge that to 2my account.

19 I, Paul, have written with my own hand: I will 1repay; not to say to you that you owe me even 2your own self besides.

20 Yes, a brother, may I have 1profit from you in the Lord; 2refresh my 3inward parts in Christ.

21 Having a confidence in your obedience, I have written to you, knowing that you will do even beyond the things that I say.

22 And at the same time also prepare me a lodging, for I 1hope that through your bprayers I will be 2graciously 3given to you.

IV. Conclusion
vv. 23-25

23 1a Epaphras, my b fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus, greets you;

24 As do a Mark, b Aristarchus, c Demas, d Luke, my e fellow workers.

25 The 1a grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your 2b spirit. 3 are all intimate terms, indicating the apostle’s intimate sentiment concerning his relationship with the members in the new man.

16 1 I.e., in the flesh as a slave and in the Lord as a brother. In the flesh Onesimus was a brother as a slave, and in the Lord he was a slave as a brother.

17 1 Just as a local church with its elders is in partnership with the Lord, and the Lord entrusts to them the newly saved ones, as the good Samaritan did with the healed one (Luke 10:33-35).

17 2 This indicates the deep relationship of fellowship in the Lord.

18 1 This indicates that Onesimus had defrauded his master.

18 2 In caring for Onesimus, Paul did exactly what the Lord does for us.

19 1 Just as the Lord pays everything for His redeemed.

19 2 This indicates that Philemon had been saved through Paul himself.

20 1 Gk. onaimen, similar in sound to Onesimus (both words meaning profitable). Here, this word is an allusion to the name Onesimus. This is a play on words, implying that since “you owe me even your own self, you are an Onesimus to me—hence, you should be profitable to me, i.e., should let me have profit from you in the Lord.”

20 2 Soothe, cheer.

20 3 Lit., bowels, as in v. 7. Since Philemon had refreshed the inward parts of the saints, his partner now asked him to do the same for him in the Lord.

21 1 This expectation, that he would be liberated from his imprisonment and visit the churches again, is expressed also in Phil. 1:25 and 2:24.

21 2 Paul considered that his visit would be a gracious gift to the church.

21 3 A contraction of Epaphroditus (Phil. 2:25; 4:18).

22 1 The apostle always greeted the recipients of his Epistles, in both the opening and the conclusion, with the grace of the Lord. This shows that he trusted in the Lord’s grace, being confident that this grace would enable them, as well as himself (1 Cor. 15:10), to accomplish what he wrote to them. No human effort avails for the accomplishing of a revelation as high as the completing revelation of the apostle Paul—for this the Lord’s grace is needed.

25 See note 182 in Gal. 6.
25 Some ancient MSS add, Amen.
