THE

ANGLICAN USE GRADUAL

ADAPTED BY
C. DAVID BURT

PARTRIDGE HILL PRESS
MANSFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS
2006
Since the reform of the Latin Rite in the 1960’s, the use of a three-year cycle for the Eucharistic Lectionary has necessitated a reorganization of the minor propers of the Mass. The Graduale Romanum published by Solesmes in 1979 has provided the Latin chant for the Mass, but there has existed no English version.

The great work of the Rev. G. H. Palmer and Francis Burgess, early in the last century, to provide plainchant settings for the music of the liturgy, endowed the English-speaking world with a rich corpus of chant. It is to be lamented that the Catholic Church did not draw on this heritage when the Mass began to be celebrated in the vernacular. The insistence on “modernized” English made this impossible. At the same time, the Anglican Communion was engaged in its own liturgical upheaval, and in America the traditional Book of Common Prayer was replaced by a liturgy using more modern English. The Coverdale Psalter of the Prayerbook was replaced with a modern English Psalter.

This has all led to the desuetude of The Plainchant Gradual of Palmer and Burgess and The English Gradual of Francis Burgess. Nevertheless, the Pastoral Provision for Anglicans in the Roman Catholic Church and the many traditionalist churches that use the Anglican liturgy have re-awakened the need for a revision of the Gradual in English.

The present work follows the structure of the Graduale Romanum and draws upon and occasionally incorporates the musicological work of Dr. Palmer (G.H.P.), Francis Burgess (F.B.), and Winfred Douglas (W.D.). This first edition gives the simpler chants in order to provide a practical book that can be used in most churches. Occasionally the ancient melodies adapted by Palmer are given as well. The American Gradual, edited by Bruce Ford, gives the more complex traditional melodies set to the 1979 Psalter text.

While this work is intended for the Anglican Use in the Catholic Church, it is hoped that it will prove useful to Anglicans and to Catholics as well.

(Verse 10 is never to be omitted.)

1. Sing, my tongue, the glorious battle,
   Sing the ending of the fray,
   Now above the Cross, the trophy,
   Sound the loud triumphant lay:
   Tell how Christ, the world’s redeemer,
   As a victim won the day.

Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.
GOOD FRIDAY

2. God in pity saw man fallen,
    Sham’d and sunk in misery.
When he fell on death by tasting
    Fruit of the forbidden tree:
Then another tree was chosen
    Which the world from death should free.

R. Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

3. Thus the scheme of our salvation
    Was of old in order laid
That the manifold deceiver’s
    Art by art might be outweigh’d:
And the lure the foe put forward,
    Into means of healing made.

R. Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.

4. Therefore when th’ appointed fulness
    Of the holy time was come,
He was sent who maketh all things
    Forth from God’s eternal home:
Thus he came to earth incarnate,
    Offspring of a virgin’s womb.

R. Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

5. Lo! he lies, an infant weeping,
    Where the narrow manger stands:
While the Mother-maid his members
    Wraps in mean and lowly bands:
And the swaddling clothes are winding
    Round God’s helpless feet and hands.

R. Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.
6. Thirty years among us dwelling,
   His appointed time fulfill’d,
   Born for this, he meets his Passion,
   For that this he freely will’d:
   On the Cross the Lamb is lifted
   Where his life-blood shall be spill’d.

   Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

7. He endur’d the nails, the spitting.
   Vinegar, and spear, and reed;
   From that holy Body broken
   Blood and water both proceed:
   Earth, and stars, and sky, and ocean
   By that flood from stain are freed.

   Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.

8. Bend thy boughs, O tree of glory!
   Thy relaxing sinews bend;
   For awhile the ancient rigour
   That thy birth bestow’d suspend:
   And the King of heav’nly beauty
   On thy bosom gently tend.

   Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

9. Thou alone wast counted worthy
   This world’s ransom to uphold;
   For a shipwreck’d race preparing
   Harbour, like the ark of old:
   With the sacred Blood anointed
   From the smitten Lamb that roll’d.

   Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.
10. To the Trinity be glory everlasting as is meet; Equal to the Father, equal to the Son and Paraclete: Tri- nal Unity, whose praises All created things repeat. Amen. Rex. Swee-test.

2 Thou deckest thyself with light as it were with a gárment, * and spreadest out the heavens like a cúrtain.

5 He laid the foundations of thé earth, * that it never should môve at ány time.

6 Thou coveredst it with the deep like as with a gárment; * the waters stând abóve the hills.

10 He sendeth the springs into the rívers, * which rûn amóng the hills.

11 All beasts of the field drink théreof, * and the wild âsses quénch their thirst.

12 Beside them shall the fowls of the air have their habiténion, * and sing amóng the bránches.

2 Praise the LORD with harp; * sing praises unto him with the lute, and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing unto the Lord a new song; * sing praises lustily unto him with a good courage.

4 For the word of the LORD is true; * and all his works are faithfal.

5 He loveth righteousness and judgment; * the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; * and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together, as it were upon an heap; * and layeth up the deep, as in a treasure-house.

8 Let all the earth fear the Lord: * stand in awe of him, all ye that dwell in the world.

9 For he spake, and it was done; * he commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought, * and maketh the devices of the people to be of none effect, and casteth out the counsels of princes.
11 The counsel of the LORD shall endure for ever, * and the thoughts of his heart from generation to generation.

EASTER EVEN

2 Therefore will we not fear, though the earth be moved, * and though the hills be carried into the midst of the sea;

3 Though the waters thereof rage and swell, * and though the mountains shake at the tempest of the same.

4 There is a river, the streams whereof make glad the city of God; * the holy place of the tabernacle of the Most High.

5 God is in the midst of her, therefore shall she not be removed; * God shall help her, and that right early.

6 The nations make much ado, and the kingdoms are moved; * but God hath showed his voice, and the earth shall melt away.

7 The Lord of hosts is with us; * the God of Jacob is our refuge.

8 O come hither, and behold the works of the Lord, * what destruction he hath brought upon the earth.

9 He maketh wars to cease in all the world; * he breaketh the bow, and knappeth the spear in sunder, and burneth the chariots in the fire.

10 Be still then, and know that I am God: * I will be exalted among the nations, and I will be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hosts is with us; * the God of Jacob is our refuge.
