Clean Energy Coming to the Peninsula

Daly City is excited to bring more renewable energy to residents and businesses through Peninsula Clean Energy (PCE). The Daly City Council voted unanimously to join PCE in January. All 20 cities in San Mateo County are now on board. Peninsula Clean Energy is the name for the Community Choice Energy (CCE) effort in San Mateo County. CCE allows city and county governments to use their combined electricity demand to buy and develop renewable, clean power on behalf of their communities. PCE will be a public, nonprofit Joint Powers Authority (JPA) governed by a Board of Directors with representation from every member city.

How does it work?

PCE will purchase energy from renewable sources like solar and wind and PG&E will deliver that electricity over its existing transmission lines. PG&E will continue to maintain the power lines, read your meter, and send you a single bill.

PCE will be completely funded by ratepayers; there are no taxpayer dollars involved. In order to buy electricity, PCE has a couple options: enter into Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs) over short or long-term time periods with existing energy providers (like a solar farm in the Central Valley) or sponsor a bidding process whereby project developers bid to build new electricity sources solely for PCE customers.

What changes will I see as a customer?

Once PCE is operational later this year, you will notice a change to your utility bill. Charges for electricity generation will no longer be paid to PG&E and will instead be paid to PCE for the purchase of renewable energy. You will continue to pay energy distribution fees to PG&E. The other more significant change is that you will be able to choose between different energy options since PCE will offer options with higher renewable energy content.

Why is Peninsula Clean Energy important?

PCE will help accomplish the greenhouse gas reduction goals of the City’s Climate Action Plan adopted by the City Council in 2010. In fact, CCE is the single most impactful step our City can take in reducing its greenhouse gas emissions. PCE will also provide consumer choice in an energy market where none currently exists. Competition in the energy market is a good thing; it helps drive down costs, encourages new investment in energy projects, and diversifies power choices.

How are electricity rates affected?

So far, CCE electricity rates have been 3-10% lower than PG&E rates, varying depending on the customer class and the CCE option chosen by the customer. Current CCEs offer a “default” option that is both cleaner and cheaper than PG&E, as well as a 100% renewable energy option that is slightly more expensive than PG&E’s default product. Additionally, CCE rates are more stable than PG&E. While PG&E changes rates several times a year, CCE rates are usually adjusted once annually. Since CCEs are small, nonprofit agencies, they pay no shareholder dividends, high corporate salaries, investor returns or income taxes and are able to keep costs down.

Volunteer Leadership Program (VLP)
Experience a summer of community building through volunteer work, event planning and having fun! This program promotes professional growth, personal development and service to the Daly City community. It gives teens in grades 8th-12th (13-18 years of age) an opportunity to work in our Volunteer program and do community service at 1 of our 5 Summer Youth Recreation Program (SYRP) locations. Volunteers use training topics such as Leadership, Communication, Team Building, Diversity, Behavior Management, Arts and Crafts, and Games and Safety to engage youth participants in the program. Volunteers motivate the youth in structured play while learning life skills. They also build friendships and positively affect youth in our community.

For more information contact teens@dalycity.org.

Volunteer Opportunities
Need community services hours? Or just want to give back to your community?

The Department of Library and Recreation Services offers a variety of opportunities for teens in our community. We help encourage and empower our volunteers to give back by working with youth in our recreation programs. Programs range from tutoring in our afterschool recreation program or assisting in our youth sports leagues.

If interested, contact us at teens@dalycity.org.

Volunteer Program (AYRP/ASES)
This program promotes professional and personal development and service to the community. It gives youth, ages 13-18, an opportunity to work in the Afterschool Youth Recreation Program. Volunteers work with Recreators at one of four sites; giving them opportunities to give back to their community and earn service credits for their school (if applicable). Our goal is to prepare youth in our community to become future recreators in our programs.
