Welcome to Utah Valley University! I commend your decision to study at this dynamic university that offers a signature engaged learning experience. By coming here prepared for a rigorous academic experience, you are on the path to reaching your educational, professional and personal goals. It is my personal commitment to you that UVU will offer a first-rate environment as you pursue scholarly discovery and personal growth.

It is an exciting time to be a Wolverine. As you might know, UVU is now the largest public institution of higher education in the state. As a new student, that might seem intimidating, but I am confident that your experience here will be characterized by lasting friendships with your fellow students as well as personalized attention and mentoring from caring faculty and staff who are focused on your success.

Learning enlarges the world around us and helps us make sense of it, too. At Utah Valley University, you will participate in an active process called “engaged learning.” This approach to teaching and learning combines the foundations of academic theory with the context of practical application. We believe engaged learning creates a deep, lasting connection with the curriculum. It applies to scholarly disciplines across the academic spectrum and sets UVU apart. The University is dedicated to providing you with opportunities for hands-on, practical experiences. Whether pursuing a certificate program or an associate, bachelor’s or master’s degree, with a UVU education, you will graduate with a diploma and a resume, prepared to reach your goals.

Best,

[Signature]

President Matthew S. Holland

This issue of the Utah Valley University catalog contains information about the institution as currently approved by the governing boards. The online version of the catalog will always contain the most current version of the catalog and therefore replaces and supersedes any hard copy version. This catalog is not to be considered a contract between Utah Valley University and any student, any other institution, or any other person or entity. Utah Valley University reserves the right to change its role, policies, or course offerings at any time. To the extent any contradictions exist between this catalog and Utah Valley University policies, the policies take precedence and control. Utah Valley University offers programs at its several campus sites, including the Orem Campus, the Provo Airport Campus, the West Campus, the North Valley Center, and the Wasatch Campus. The UVU semester class schedule designates at which campus site each class section is taught.

Academic Policies & Standards

Academic Year

The academic year consists of three semesters: fall, spring, and summer. Fall and spring semesters are each made up of 15 weeks of class work and one week for final exams. The summer semester is 14 weeks in length; the time in classes is adjusted to equal the class time of fall and spring semesters. There is no final exam period during summer, and most classes are offered in one of two seven-week blocks.

Course Administration

UVU reserves the right to cancel any course at any time. Reasons for course cancellations include, but are not limited to, low enrollment in the course, space unavailability, instructor change, loss of instructor, and/or program changes. Students enrolled in the course will be contacted as soon as possible by the appropriate school or college when the university decides to cancel a course.

Class Periods/Credits

All credit hours are computed in semester hours. Three hours of work per week are, on average, expected to earn one semester credit hour; however, one credit hour may include any of the following combinations of work:

1. One hour of lecture, plus a minimum of two hours of personal work outside of class, regardless of delivery mode (One hour of lecture is considered to be 50 minutes per week);
2. Three hours in a laboratory, internships, practica, studio work, or other academic work, regardless of delivery mode, with additional outside work in preparation and documentation;
3. Any other combination appropriate to a particular course as determined by the academic department.
Introduction

All transfer courses taken on a quarter system will be converted to semester hours using a three to two credit ratio. For example, a three credit hour course from a quarter calendar institution transfers to UVU as two semester credits. A three semester credit course at UVU transfers to a college or university operating on the quarter calendar as 4.5 quarter credits.

Full-time Student Status

UVU considers students registered for 12 credits or more per semester or summer to be full-time students. A 12 credit hour minimum load is generally accepted by sponsoring agencies for certifying full-time status. Financial aid recipients receiving full benefits and students on scholarships are required to carry a minimum of 12 credits per semester.

For students attending only the fall and spring semesters, 15 to 18 credits per semester is generally required to complete associate degree programs within two academic years or bachelors degrees within four academic years, assuming all prerequisites are satisfied (See individual major requirements for exceptions).

Credit Hour Loads in Excess of 20

Students who enroll in 21 or more credit hours in a semester must have approval from the deans of the appropriate schools and/or colleges.

Year Classifications & Credit Hours

Freshman: 0-29 credit hours
Sophomore: 30-59 credit hours
Junior: 60-89 credit hours
Senior: 90 or more credit hours

Grading Policies

Grades are determined by instructors, based upon measures determined by the instructor and department and may include: evaluation of responses, written exercises and examinations, performance exercises and examinations, classroom/laboratory contributions, mastery of pertinent skills, etc. The letter grade “A” is an exceptional grade indicating superior achievement; “B” is a grade indicating commendable mastery; “C” indicates satisfactory mastery and is considered an average grade; “D” indicates substandard progress and insufficient evidence of ability to succeed in sequential courses; “E” (failing) indicates inadequate mastery of pertinent skills or repeated absences from class; “UW” indicates unofficial withdrawal from class.

The following table indicates each grade variant and the equivalent grade points for that variation.

The GPA is determined by dividing the total grade points earned (credit hours times grade in points above) by the number of semester hours attempted.

Students may view final grades electronically on the myUVU system after the end of the semester. All financial obligations to the Institution and “holds” on academic records must be resolved before college transcripts are issued.

Incomplete (I) Grades

Students are required to complete all courses for which they are registered by the end of the semester. In some cases, a student may be unable to complete all of the course work because of extenuating circumstances. The term “extenuating circumstances” includes: (1) incapacitating illness which prevents a student from attending classes (usually more than five consecutive class days); (2) a death in the immediate family; (3) change in work schedule as required by employer; or (4) other emergencies deemed acceptable by the instructor.

If circumstances are deemed appropriate, the student may petition the instructor for time beyond the end of the semester to finish the work. If the instructor agrees, an “I” grade will be given. An Incomplete Grade Form indicating work completed and work to be completed must be signed by the student, instructor, and the department chairperson, and turned into the Registrar’s Office at the end of the semester.

“1” grades should not be requested nor given for lack of completion of work because of procrastination or dissatisfaction with the grade earned. Per policy, students must be passing the course and completed 70% or more of the course work in order to qualify for an incomplete.

Specific arrangements to remove an “I” grade must be made between the student and the instructor. In most circumstances, work to be completed should be finished in the first two or three weeks following the end of the semester in which the “I” was given. Failing to complete the “I” and replace it with the appropriate letter grade may negatively affect any financial aid.

Incomplete work cannot be completed by retaking the class. If such an option is preferred, the student must take the grade earned and then retake the class for a better grade. The grade for the later class will be calculated in the GPA. In all cases, the “I” grade must be made up within one year. If it is not, the “I” grade will change to an “E” on the transcript. “I” grades are not computed in the GPA.

Repeating a Course

No additional credit is allowed for repeating a course in which the initial grade was passing unless the course number for the course ends in the letter suffix “R” or “Z” (a course designed to be repeatable for credit). For other repeated courses, the most recent grade will be used in the calculation of the GPA. Upon successful completion of the repeated course, the repeat is indicated on the student’s transcript (E=Exclude, I=Include). All work will remain on the records, ensuring a true and accurate academic history. (Note: Although not used in computing the UVU overall GPA for UVU purposes, many graduate programs, such as law or dental school, include ALL grades in calculating an overall GPA for admissions criteria.)

Courses are not accepted from other institutions for the purpose of posting a repeat of a course already taken at UVU.

Board of Regents policy requires that students shall be charged at the full cost of the instruction tuition for repeating a course more than once, unless the institution determines that the repetition is a result of illness, accident or other cause beyond the student’s control or unless the course is prescribed by the student’s program of study. This affects all courses beginning January of 2003.

Changing a Grade Other than an Incomplete

Policy

Any student who has reason to believe that a grade assigned in a specific course was not justified has the right to appeal that grade.

Procedure

Student Action—

Grades may be appealed within one year of issuance in the following manner:

First, the student shall approach the instructor of the course as soon as possible after receiving the final grade. He/she has the right to discuss the merits of his/her appeal in an informal and non-threatening environment.

Second, after obtaining feedback from the instructor regarding the rationale for assigning the original grade, and assuming dissatisfaction still exists at the conclusion of the first step, or if the original instructor is no longer available, the student has a right to submit a written appeal to the department chair, in a consultation setting.

Finally, if a mutual understanding cannot be reached in the second step, the student has the right to submit a formal written appeal through the Office of the Registrar to the University Academic Standards Committee, which exercises final authority in adjudicating the appeal.

Faculty Action—

During the first year after the issuance of a grade, an instructor for a specific class may submit a grade change form with proper documentation directly to the Records Office.

During the second through fifth years, the grade change form must be accompanied by an Academic Standards Petition filled out by the student and submitted by the course instructor or department chair directly to the registrar. If a grade change is requested and the faculty member who gave the original grade is no longer employed by UVU, the appropriate department chair may make the change if it is warranted.
Introduction

After five years, a grade change may be considered only where evidence exists to prove that an error occurred in the recording of the original grade or extreme extenuating circumstances existed. In the latter case, an Academic Standards Petition with appropriate documentation may be submitted to the Office of the Registrar for possible consideration by the University Academic Standards Committee.

When the Records Office receives a signed change of grade form from an instructor, the new grade(s) are entered into the computer. An explanation of the transaction is entered into the student’s record, including what the old and new grades are.

Withdrawal & Reinstatement

Withdrawal from Classes

Students may drop and withdraw from classes according to the dates and deadlines posted on the Semester Student Timetable. Classes may be dropped and not appear on the transcript through the drop deadline. After the last day to drop noted on the Semester Student Timetable, a grade of “W” will appear on the transcript for all official withdrawals and students will be responsible for tuition and fees. A “W” grade could impact a student’s satisfactory academic progress with the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office.

Withdrawing from a course after the last day to withdraw deadline may only be for extenuating circumstances and not solely for academic difficulty, and requires the signature of the department chair with a department approval stamp. Such changes to a student’s schedule may adversely affect current and future financial aid, scholarships and/or refunds. Students are cautioned to see a financial aid advisor before attempting to completely withdraw from school.

If a student stops attending (but does not officially withdraw) before the last day to withdraw, he/she should receive a “UW.”

If a student stops attending (but does not officially withdraw) beyond the last day to withdraw, he/she may receive the grade earned up to that point, or an “E”, at the instructor’s discretion.

“UWs” are calculated into the grade point average (GPA) as 0.00, the same as “E’s” (failing grades).

Administrative Drops and Withdrawals

Students may be dropped or withdrawn from classes by the administration if they: 1. register, but do not attend courses within the first three class periods of a semester; 2. register for courses for which they have not completed prerequisites; 3. neglect to pay tuition and fees for any given semester by the deadline published in the Student Timetable; or 4. other administrative reasons. Such changes to a student’s schedule could affect financial aid, scholarships, and/or refunds.

Withdrawal from the Institution

It is the responsibility of the student who withdraws from school to complete the online Leave of Absence process. If withdrawing (Leave of Absence) after the refund period noted in the Semester Student Timetable, a grade of “W” will appear on the transcript for all official withdrawals and students will be responsible for tuition and fees. A “W” grade could impact a student’s satisfactory academic progress with the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office. Complete withdrawal from college may adversely affect financial aid and/or Veterans’ benefits.

Simply stopping attendance does not qualify as a withdrawal, and a student who does so may receive a failing grade.

Reinstatement

Students who withdraw from the Institution and then desire to be reinstated during the same academic semester may do so by obtaining clearance from the Registrar’s Office and completing the late registration process.

Student Military Leave Procedure

Students activated into military service during an academic semester for which they are currently enrolled have the following options to choose from, in addition to other alternatives provided by existing policy and regulation. The student is responsible to notify appropriate Institution officials regarding the implementation of the selected option.

1. A request to withdraw from school will be honored with a full refund of all tuition and fees paid. Non-punitive “W’s” will be recorded on the transcript and the date of action maintained on the student’s record.
2. Incomplete grades may be negotiated with individual faculty and/or departments based on realistic means of completing the required objectives of the course(s). Where recommended by the department (faculty), the time limit for completing the “I” may be extended. This option may include “home study” as a means of completing the required work with faculty approval and where practical.
3. Current grades (grades earned at the point of termination) may be issued at the discretion of individual faculty. This is also a negotiated option.

In all cases, the student activated into military service is eligible for readmission.

College Credit

College credit at UVU may be obtained through the following methods: 1. UVU Credit (includes Cooperative Education); 2. Transfer Credit; 3. Challenge Credit; 4. Foreign Language Challenge Credit; 5. Advanced Placement Credit; and 6. CLEP (College Level Examination Program).

1. UVU Credit

UVU credit is obtained through admittance to UVU, registering for classes, and satisfactorily completing all required course work. Courses completed through this method will receive a letter grade that will be used in calculating Grade Point Average (GPA).

Cooperative Education
Cooperative Education (Coop) offers another avenue for students to obtain UVU college credit. Students enrolled in cooperative education work as paid employees of a business, agency, or institution while enrolled at the Institution in classes related to their career. Academic credit for cooperative work experience is granted according to the number of hours a student works during the semester using the following formula:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit Hours</th>
<th>Minimum Hours of Work</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>

<td>6</td>
<td>450</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>525</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>600</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Coop credits are registered for at the same time and in the same manner as UVU credits.

Courses completed through Cooperative Education will receive a credit/no-credit grade which is not included in the calculation of the GPA.

The maximum number of coop credits that may be applied toward a certificate is 8; a diploma is 14; an associate or bachelor’s degree is 16 credit hours. Departments define how coop credit is applied to specific programs. Additional coop credit may be taken (but not applied toward graduation) with approval of the cooperative education director and the appropriate dean.

2. Transfer Credit

It is the student’s responsibility to have official transcripts of any previous college work completed elsewhere sent to the UVU Admissions Office. Transcripts accepted as official by the UVU Admissions Office are automatically sent to the Transfer Credit Office for evaluation and posting. The Transfer Credit Office may require the student to supply the catalog, bulletin, or course outlines from previous schools attended to assist in determining the transferability of specific courses. Transfer credit may or may not apply to UVU graduation requirements, regardless of the number of credits transferred. The Transfer Credit Office will apply credit based on the appropriateness to specific degree program requirements and curricula.

Transfer courses with grades below “C-” will not be accepted by UVU. Individual departments reserve the right to impose limits on the age and grade level of transfer credit. There is no limit to the number of transfer credits that may be accepted; however, UVU graduation requirements such as residence, total credits, and GPA must still be met.

Transfer courses will not be accepted from other institutions for the purpose of posting a repeat on a course already taken at UVU.

Courses in religion will be evaluated on the basis of the particular orientation of the course as determined by the UVU Religious Studies Committee. In order to be considered, these courses must be listed on an official transcript from a regionally accredited institution and must demonstrate scholarly rigor and critical engagement with the subject matter.

General Education for Transfer Students

For transfer students from any Utah State Higher Education institution, UVU shall accept at full value all General Education course work approved by the sending institution, provided it meets the minimum C-letter grade requirement, in any area specified by the Board of Regents document R470. These areas include Composition, Quantitative Literacy, Fine Arts, Humanities, Social and Behavioral Science, Biology and Physical Science. UVU shall require transfer students to complete any additional coursework needed to satisfy the unmet portions of the UVU General Education requirements. Previously completed General Studies course work shall be applied to assure the best possible fit with UVU’s General Education requirements. As each transfer student’s requirements may vary, see the Graduation Office (BA 114) for specific requirements.

An AA or an AS degree earned at any USHE institution will meet the General Education requirements of UVU. The degree must include equivalents of UVU’s English, Mathematics, and American Institutions requirements or the student will have to fulfill these requirements separately.

Upper Division Course Work

Under rare circumstances, and only if subject content is equivalent, 1000 or 2000-level courses transferred from other institutions may be substituted for UVU upper-division courses. However, these courses will not satisfy upper-division credit-hour requirements. The baccalaureate degree requires a minimum of 40 hours of upper-division (3000 and 4000-level) credit.

U.S. Institutions outside of Utah

For transfer credit to be accepted by UVU, the institution from which credit is to be transferred must be accredited by one of the following regional associations:

- Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools (MSA)
- Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU)
- North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (NCA)
- New England Association of Schools and Colleges, Inc./Commission on Institutions of Higher Education (NEASC-CIHE)
- Southern Association of Colleges and Schools/Commission on Colleges (SACS-CC)
- Western Association of Schools and Colleges/Accrediting Commission for Community and Jr. Colleges (WASC-Jr.)
- Western Association of Schools and Colleges/Accrediting Commission for Sr. Colleges and Universities (WASC-Sr.)
Introduction

An equivalent AA or AS degree earned at one of these accredited institutions will meet General Education requirements at UVU. The degree must include equivalents of UVU's English, Mathematics, and American Institutions requirements or the student will have to fulfill these requirements separately.

Non-accredited institutions may be accepted on an exception basis by individual departments.

Military courses are evaluated using the ACE recommendations from the Guide to the Evaluation of Education Experiences in the Armed Services.

International and Foreign Institutions

The Admissions/Transfer Office, working with department academic advisors and faculty, is authorized to evaluate credit from foreign colleges, universities, and/or International Baccalaureate (IB) Diplomas after a student has been admitted to UVU. International students requesting transfer of credit from foreign institutions of higher education must submit a transcript from an approved Foreign Credentials evaluation Service. See BA 114 for a list of these accepted services.

Transfer courses from international and foreign institutions are not calculated in the GPA.

3. Challenge Credit/Experiential Credit

(Equivalency Examination and/or Documentation of Earned Competency)

No more than 25 percent of the minimum credits required toward a bachelor’s degree, and associate degree, diploma, or certificate of completion, may be awarded through experiential and/or challenge credit. Challenge credit and experiential credit are not eligible for use in a certificate of proficiency. Credit for courses that appear in the current catalog may be awarded to individuals who can prove through appropriate assessment and/or documentation that they have already acquired the equivalent knowledge and/or expertise required for successful completion of that course.

To receive experiential/challenge credit for a specific course, the student must

1. Be enrolled at the University.
2. For Challenge credit, complete a comprehensive examination (theoretical and/or applied) with at least a "C-" grade; or for Experiential credit, provide documentation of practical experience to the satisfaction of the department chairperson and dean showing course objectives have been met; or with the departmental approval, complete an advanced course with a grade of "C-" or higher (if deemed necessary by the department) as a validation procedure.
3. Pay, in advance, a nonrefundable processing fee.
4. After successful completion of requirements, pay the per-credit-hour fee.

A specific course shall be challenged only once, and a student shall not receive challenge/experiential credit for a course that the student is/or has been previously enrolled in and received a grade, including a "W" grade.

Duplicate credit will not be awarded.

Grades shall be recorded only as “CR” (credit) and shall not be calculated in a student’s university GPA.

4. Language Challenge Credit

Students may obtain an Experiential Language Credit Request Form in the UVU Languages and Cultures Department.

Students who have acquired proficiency in languages offered at UVU by means other than college courses (high school, foreign residency, etc.) may earn up to 16 credit hours.

To qualify for these credits, a student shall complete a course in that language at a higher level than the credits for which he/she applies; and the grade in that course must be a “C-” or better.

To qualify for credit for language courses not offered at UVU, a student may, as an alternative, take the appropriate language test at any accredited four-year institution and provide UVU with the satisfactory (C- or better) test results. In this circumstance, the student must meet with the Languages and Cultures department chairperson to ascertain the maximum language credits that may be applied to any degree from UVU.

Proficiency tests to determine placement (not credit) in advanced courses are administered in the UVU Classroom Testing Center prior to the beginning of each semester. Students unsure of their language skills must take the test or receive permission from the course instructor before registering for advanced classes.

Students who qualify for credit under the above provisions (for example, they register for, and successfully complete, Spanish 2010 with at least a “C-” grade, thus qualifying for the credits for the previous courses—1010 and 1020) must petition for those credits (application forms are available in the Languages and Cultures Department) and pay a fee for each credit hour. No additional tuition will be charged for those credits. The credits will be listed on transcripts as “CR” and are not calculated in the GPA.

Additional information regarding language challenge credit and other policies are available from the Languages and Cultures Department.

5. Advanced Placement Credit

Students who complete an Advanced Placement Exam through CollegeBoard may earn up to 8 academic credits per test with a score of 3, 4, or 5, as per the policies set forth by the Utah State Board of Regents. Students having AP test scores of 3 or higher should contact the Graduation/Transfer Office to ensure posting of the results to their UVU transcripts.

Specific equivalencies and acceptance criteria are updated annually, upon departmental faculty review and approval.

If all residence, credit, and grade point average requirements have been met, there is no limit to the number of Advanced Placement credits that may be accepted; however, duplicate credit for tests and course work shall not be applied.

6. CLEP Credit (College Level Examination Program)

Students may receive college credit for CLEP exams as specified on the approved list in the Graduation/Transfer Office. Additionally, students intending to transfer to another institution from UVU should articulate with their intended transfer institution to gain advance information on how that institution accepts CLEP credit.
CLEP credit will be posted as a “CR” grade and will not be calculated in the GPA. The amount of credit given through CLEP subject examinations is determined by the appropriate departments. No more than 25 percent of the minimum credits required toward a degree may be awarded through CLEP and/or Challenge/Experiential Credit hours.

Course Number System

0000-0999 Remedial or preparatory noncredit courses; may not be counted toward a certificate, diploma, associate, or bachelor’s degree. Technical, nontransferable courses may count toward a certificate.

1000-2999 Lower division (freshman and sophomore courses); courses designed as transfer courses; count toward a certificate, diploma, associate, and/or bachelor’s degree.

3000-5000 Upper division (junior and senior courses); courses designed to count toward a bachelor’s degree, or any other degree as required by department.

6000 Graduate courses; regular courses in master’s level programs.

Learning Enrichment courses with 1000 level numbers do not satisfy General Education requirements for the associate or bachelor’s degrees. These classes may count as electives for the Associate in Arts, Associate in Science, and Bachelor of Science degrees.

The letter suffix “R” indicates that a course is repeatable for credit (example: PES 161R). Course descriptions indicate the number of “repeats” allowed.

Variable and partial credit is indicated by letter suffixes of “A,” “B,” “C,” etc. (example: ACC 201A = 4 credits and ACC 201B = 2 credits). Changing the hours of credit for a variable-credit class after registration may be done only through the add/drop (class change) procedure. Such changes must be made prior to completion of that partial course.

“Honors” credit courses are identified on the transcript by an “H” following the course number (example: ENGL 225H).

Global/Intercultural credit courses are identified on the transcript by a “G” following the course number (example: ANTH 101G).

Undergraduate Academic Standards

- Academic Counseling Center
  - Office: LC 402
  - Telephone: 801-863-8425

Policy

Academic standing is determined by the grades a student earns at UVU. A student with his/her most recent semester grade point average (GPA) and cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale is in good academic standing. When a full- or part-time undergraduate student fails to maintain a semester or cumulative GPA of 2.0 on a 4.0 scale, the student shall be notified of progressive academic intervention actions.

This policy does not include nor preclude additional program requirements that may be mandated by specific departmental majors.

Procedures

Academic intervention shall be applied progressively in the order described below.

Alert Status

When a student is not making adequate progress towards course completion and the instructor is unable to resolve the issue with the student, the student may be placed on alert status. A registration hold may be placed on the student’s record. The student must then meet with his/her academic advisor for guidance before the registration hold will be removed.

Academic Warning

When the semester GPA falls below 2.0 and the cumulative GPA is 2.0 or above, the student shall be placed on academic warning regardless of alert status. A registration hold shall be placed on the student’s record. The student must complete an academic success warning workshop and meet with his/her academic advisor before the registration hold will be removed.

Academic Probation

When the semester and cumulative GPA both fall below 2.0, the student will be placed on academic probation. A registration hold shall be placed on the student’s record. The student must complete an academic success probation workshop, develop an academic success plan, and meet with his/her academic advisor before the registration hold will be removed.

If the student on academic probation fails to raise the cumulative GPA to a 2.0 or above in the subsequent semester, the student will be placed on continued academic probation. A registration hold shall be placed on the student’s record and the student must prepare an academic success plan with his/her academic advisor as well as the academic standards counselor before the registration hold will be removed. The student may also be required to attend another academic success probation workshop and/or enroll in a college success class.
Introduction

All students on continued academic probation will be required to submit an in-progress grade report to the Academic Standards Office in order to register for any subsequent semester(s). The student shall continue to receive advisement from the academic standards counselor, as well as his/her academic advisor, to monitor and promote academic progress.

Academic Suspension

When on continued academic probation, a student receiving a semester and cumulative GPA below 2.0 in a subsequent semester shall be placed on academic suspension. The student shall be immediately dropped from enrollment in all current semester classes and a registration hold shall be placed on the student’s record. The student shall be suspended for a minimum of one full semester. During this time the student is expected to resolve all academic problems that led to the academic suspension.

To re-enroll at the University, a student must submit a Petition for Academic Suspension Review to the Academic Support Committee. This committee will make suggestions for specific customized interventions to be approved by the Academic Standards Committee. A decision shall then be rendered as to whether, and under what conditions, the student may continue to study at the University. The student must complete the requirements set forth by the Academic Standards Committee before the registration hold will be removed.

Academic Probation Returning from Academic Suspension

When the academic suspension petition is granted, the student is allowed to resume his/her academic studies under probation returning from suspension. This status allows the student to register for classes under the guidance of the Academic Standards Office, in conjunction with his/her academic advisor. As long as the student acquires a semester GPA of 2.0 or above in all subsequent semesters and abides by the conditions outlined by the Academic Standards Committee, the student may continue to enroll in classes. The student will remain on academic probation returning from academic suspension until the cumulative GPA is at or above 2.0.

Academic Dismissal

When failing to comply with the conditions set forth by the Academic Standards Committee while on academic probation returning from academic suspension, the student shall be dismissed from the University and immediately dropped from enrollment in all classes. A registration hold shall be placed on the student’s record.

The student may not re-enroll at the University or submit a Petition for Academic Dismissal Review for a minimum of one full calendar year from the date of academic dismissal. During this calendar year, the student may also be required to attend another institution and complete 18 credits with at least a 2.5 GPA. Upon review by both the Academic Support Committee and the Academic Standards Committee, a decision will be rendered as to whether or not, and under what conditions, the student may re-enroll at the University.

Any student who returns to the University after being dismissed will be placed on academic probation returning from academic dismissal and will be required to follow the academic plan outlined by the Academic Standards Committee.

Academic Probation Returning from Academic Dismissal

When the Petition for Academic Dismissal Review is granted by the Academic Standards Committee, the student is allowed to continue his/her academic studies on academic probation returning from academic dismissal. The student is allowed to register for classes under the guidance of the Academic Standards Office, in conjunction with his/her academic advisor. As long as the student acquires a semester GPA of 2.0 or above in all subsequent semesters and abides by the conditions outlined by the Academic Standards Committee, the student may continue to enroll in classes. The student will remain on probation returning from dismissal until the cumulative GPA is at or above 2.0.

Appeals

When the student’s Petition for Academic Suspension Review or Petition for Academic Dismissal Review is denied by the Academic Standards Committee, the student may present an appeal to a hearing panel that consists of the Academic Standards Committee and a representative appointed by the President of the Utah Valley University Student Association (UVUSA). After review of the petition, the hearing panel will determine if the student’s appeal is granted or denied. If the appeal is granted, the hearing panel shall determine the conditions for re-enrollment at the University.

If the student is unsatisfied with the hearing panel’s decision, the student has the right to appeal in writing to the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

Academic Renewal

For students who are challenged with a low GPA or for those who have experienced a period of low grades that does not reflect their academic potential, UVU offers academic renewal. A student is allowed to petition the Registrar for academic renewal only one time during his or her enrollment at the University. This process shall remove a limited amount of previous academic work from the student’s GPA and from credit toward graduation. To be eligible a student shall meet the following conditions at the time the petition is filed:

1. The student must be currently enrolled at UVU.
2. A minimum of two years has elapsed since the most recent course work to be eliminated was completed.
3. The student has completed at least 30 semester hours of UVU course work with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50. These 30 hours shall have been completed after the course work the student is requesting to eliminate.
4. The student's cumulative GPA is below the level necessary for graduation in his or her current program of study. In most instances, this is a 2.0 cumulative GPA.
5. The requested course work has not been used toward an existing degree.

The student may request a maximum of two specific semesters/terms of academic course work be eliminated from his or her earned credits and cumulative GPA. Individual courses shall not be accepted.

If the petition qualifies under this policy, the student’s permanent academic record shall be annotated to indicate that no work taken during the disregarded semester(s) and/or term(s), even if satisfactory, shall apply toward earned credits, GPA, academic standing, and/or graduation requirements. All work shall remain on the records, ensuring a true and accurate academic history. The words “Academic Renewal” and the affected semester(s)/term(s) shall be annotated on the student’s transcript.

Academic renewal shall not be requested to earn or change academic honors status on a student’s transcript.
No exceptions shall be made to this policy. Students shall be aware that this policy may not be accepted at transfer institutions, and all credit, including those with academic renewal, may still be calculated by the transfer institution.

Academic Distinction
The Dean’s list recognizes those who have demonstrated outstanding academic performance during a term or semester. To be eligible:

1. The student must complete 12 semester hours or more in any semester and a commensurate number of hours in any term.
2. The student must earn a semester GPA of 3.6 or above.

Accreditation

Utah Valley University is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

Accreditation of an institution of higher education by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities indicates that it meets or exceeds criteria for the assessment of institutional quality evaluated through a peer review process. An accredited college or university is one which has available the necessary resources to achieve its stated purposes through appropriate educational programs, is substantially doing so, and gives reasonable evidence that it will continue to do so in the foreseeable future. Institutional integrity is also addressed through accreditation.

Accreditation by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities is not partial but applies to the institution as a whole. As such, it is not a guarantee of every course or program offered, or the competence of individual graduates. Rather, it provides reasonable assurance about the quality of opportunities available to students who attend the institution.

The Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) is an independent, non-profit membership organization recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as the regional authority on educational quality and institutional effectiveness of higher education institutions in the seven-state Northwest region of Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington.

Inquiries regarding an institution’s accredited status by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities should be directed to the administrative staff of the institution. Individuals may also contact:

- Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities

In addition, some programs or majors have other specialized accreditation.

Gainful Employment

Gainful Employment information is provided in compliance with the U.S. Department of Education’s disclosure requirements for programs eligible for Title IV financial aid that prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation as required in 34 CFR 668.6(b). All programs list the following information: CIP Code, Level of Program, Program Length, Tuition and required fees, Estimated costs for books and supplies, Debt at program completion, Program completion in Normal Time, Job Placement, and Related Occupations. Gainful Employment Program Disclosure is listed on all marketing materials for potential students.

Admissions Policy

Utah Valley University maintains an open admissions practice, admitting all applicants whose qualifications indicate they may benefit from the instructional programs offered.
Introduction

The University does, however, have enrollment standards. In order to help students enroll in courses that match their academic preparation and ability, admission to the University requires that every student adhere to the established admission deadlines and provide all application materials as stipulated by the university including: ACT/SAT scores, an official high school and/or college transcripts, and a $35 application fee. Returning/Transfer students are required to submit transcripts from all colleges/universities they have attended. After being admitted, most students are required to meet with an advisor to be guided through a personalized enrollment process.

State Authorization Requirements for Online courses and programs

Utah Valley University delivers online education programs and courses throughout the United States and abroad. Recent amendments to the Higher Education Act of 1965 include changes to a regulation on State authorization that impacts online and distance education providers. The regulation changes are designed to address the growing population of students residing at a distance and pursuing university-level education online by requiring institutions to meet any State requirements to be legally offering online education in that State.

UVU is working to comply with these changes by seeking authorization to deliver online courses and programs outside Utah borders. If you wish to register for UVU online courses while residing outside of Utah, please visit our State Authorization [http://www.uvu.edu/otl/state-authorization.html] website to check UVU’s status for your state.

Admissions Procedure

UVU is committed to the concept of equal opportunity without regard to race, color, disability, religion, age, sex, national origin, or other legally impermissible factors.

Age Exception

New freshmen under the age of 17 and who have not graduated high school seeking admission must apply for exception through the Admissions Office. The student must submit all required documents for admission and demonstrate through assessment testing the ability to succeed. After meeting with the student in person, the Director or Assistant Director of Admissions will make the final determination for admittance.

Students are required to be in the non-degree seeking status High School Concurrent Enrollment (HSCE) until they graduate from high school, receive a GED or are beyond compulsory high school age. Students are required to take ACT/ACT-R testing and at a minimum must qualify to enter English and Math at a college level (1010 or above.)

Enrollment

Admission to the University does not constitute admission into an individual major or program of study. Some programs of study may require an additional program admission process. In programs or courses with limited openings (or seats), enrollment is based on a “first-come, first-served” procedure, assuming prerequisites have been satisfied.

Specific Program Screening

Some programs or majors of the institution are accredited by professional or technical organizations which may recommend certain minimum standards for entrance into the program. Other programs may require prerequisite skills or knowledge that are specific to entry-level courses required for that major.

Admission Steps

To be officially admitted to the University, an applicant must submit the following to the Office of Admissions:

1. Complete the online Application for Admission available at: www.uvu.edu/admissions.
2. Application Fee: Nonrefundable, $35 application fee accompanying first undergraduate, $15 for each retuning/readmitting undergraduate application for admission, $45 for each graduate application for admission, $100 for international application for admission, $145 for each international MBA application. Application deadline for undergraduate admissions: fall semester, Aug. 1st; spring semester, Dec. 1st. Application deadlines for graduate admissions are set by the school to which the applicant is applying.
3. Official Transcripts: All High School/College/University transcripts must arrive at UVU in an unopened envelope from the sending institution and must be printed with in the last six months to be considered official. High school transcripts can be considered official if they are emailed from the high school counselor to admissions@uvu.edu or faxed, with a cover sheet from the high school, to 801.863.8913. Items must be received or postmarked before the admissions deadline.
4. Official ACT or SAT scores: Current ACT or SAT test scores are required for all students under the age of 20. Send official test scores to the Office of Admissions. If the ACT or SAT have not been completed, the ACT-R can be taken at Testing Services in the Wolverine Services Center. Expired test scores (two years for math and three years for English) will not prohibit admission to UVU. However, current placement scores may be required prior to registration of math or English courses.

Acceptance and resident status will be determined by the Office of Admissions. A declaration of major is accomplished through the Application for Admission. Students desiring to change their major after acceptance to the University are required to do so with the academic advisor for their newly desired major.

Resident Classification

Resident tuition applies to residents of the State of Utah.

Utah Valley University will determine student residency in accordance with Utah Law and the State Board of Regents Policy R512.

Nonresident students should note that residency does not change automatically. Students are required to submit a Residency Application with appropriate documentation to the Office of Admissions for review and approval before residency status can be changed.

Applicants for residency classification should allow three to four weeks for a review and determination of his/her residency. All communication regarding residency will be through myUVU. Students should check their myUVU account regularly, for updated information or documentation requests.

Applications for residency for any given semester must be received before the deadline posted on the Residency Application. In accordance with the residency policy, all changes in residency classification must be completed before the 3rd week of each semester. Applications/Supporting documentation received after the 3rd week of the semester will not be considered until the next semester. Residency changes are not retroactive. Please check your status and deadlines before registering for classes.

Returning Students
Students returning to UVU after a break of seven semesters or more are required to reapply for admission. A $15 readmission fee will be assessed to returning students. If the student has attended a College/University since their last attendance at UVU an official transcript from each institution attended is required before acceptance back into UVU.

Veterans

Veterans considering enrollment are encouraged to contact the UVU Veterans Services Office (WB 100) during the admissions process to receive assistance in planning programs of study and applying for educational benefits.

Senior Citizens

Utah residents, age 62 and over, may enroll on an audit basis in any University class offered (as space is available) by completing an Application for Admission and paying the $35 application fee. One Stop will issue an audit form to be signed by the instructor. A $20 registration fee, which covers all costs except books and special lab and course fees, is required each semester. This policy does not apply to specialized workshops.

Senior citizens desiring credit for courses taken should register according to regular admissions policies and procedures.

Non-Degree Seeking Students

Students that desire to attend courses at UVU for personal or professional enrichment only or to gain credit to transfer back to their home institution and are not seeking a formal degree or award from UVU may enroll as non-degree seeking students for three consecutive semesters. After this time period, non-degree seeking students must reapply following regular admission procedures if they wish to continue enrolling in courses at UVU. Non-degree seeking students are not eligible to receive financial aid or apply for graduation from UVU.

International Students: F-1 Immigration Status

The University is authorized under federal law to enroll non-immigrant alien (international) students. An international student is defined as an individual who is legally domiciled in a country other than the United States of America at the time of application for admission to UVU. International students must be 18 years or older for admittance.

I-20 Certificate of Eligibility

This document issued by the designated international student admissions officer to international students with non-immigrant status, is to be used to apply for an F-1 Visa to the United States.

Only persons who do not intend to remain permanently in the United States and who have adequate financial resources are eligible for such status.

Educational Costs

An estimate of an academic school year costs, as determined by UVU, is stated on the I-20 form prior to issuance to the student. The American Consul uses this information to determine the adequacy of the applicant’s financial resources.

Affidavit of Support

UVU requires international applicants (with their sponsors) to submit an “Affidavit of Support” for an International Student at UVU. The affidavit states that a sponsor is legally bound to financially support the applicant. Upon satisfactory completion of other admission requirements, the affidavit is returned to the prospective student with the I-20, which may then be presented to an American Consul or Embassy to gain an F-1 Visa.

Transcript of Credits

This is an official copy of the permanent academic record of the student’s high school (12th grade equivalency) and/or college grades. It is used by UVU to determine admission qualifications.

TOEFL or IELTS

The TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) is a confidential examination given through procedures designed to protect its security before, during, and after its administration. Scores over one-year old are not acceptable. Information for TOEFL may be obtained by contacting www.ets.org/TOEFL. We will also accept the IELTS test for English proficiency. Information for IELTS can be obtained at www.ielts.org.

A minimum score of 520 written test, 184 computer based, or 66 for internet based test for TOEFL an IELTS score of 6.0 is required for admittance to an undergraduate level program at UVU. No scores are needed for admittance to the Intensive English program. Certain majors may require higher scores before acceptance into major.

Graduate level programs individually determine scores required for entrance to their program.

Note: Assessment tests are administered to all incoming students. The results of that exam determine first semester classes.

Financial Aid & Scholarships

International students are not eligible for scholarships or financial aid from the United States Government.

Academic Load

An international student is required to carry a full time course load (minimum of 12 hours of credit for undergraduate students and minimum of 9 credits for graduate students) that applies toward a major each academic semester of fall and spring. Summer is optional unless it is the student’s first semester at UVU or the student has attended school for more than one year and uses a semester other than summer as a vacation. The 12 credit-hour requirement may not include repeated classes or audit classes.

Hospitalization & Health Insurance
UVU recommends that international students acquire appropriate insurance while in school. Information can be obtained at the UVU Student Health Services Office.

Tuberculin Skin Test

Each international student must independently acquire a Tuberculin Skin Test after entering the United States. This may be obtained at the Student Health Services office on campus or the Utah County Health Department. Written results must be submitted to Student Health Services prior to registering for classes. An international student transferring from another institution within the United States may present written results from a previous skin test.

Essential Learning Outcomes (ELO)

The Essential Learning Outcomes (ELOs) are a comprehensive set of learning goals that are fostered and developed across a student’s entire educational experience. They reflect the knowledge, skills, and competencies needed to meet the challenges of an ever-changing and complex world. The ELOs prepare students for future employment, life, and citizenship. With the achievement of these outcomes, UVU graduates will possess breadth and depth of knowledge, highly developed intellectual and practical skills, commitment to personal and social responsibility, awareness of the interdependence of communities, and the ability to synthesize and apply their learning to solve complex real-world problems.

Integrative and Applied Learning:

A student will engage in discipline-appropriate experiences with the academic and broader community through integrated and applied learning.

Intellectual and Practical Skills Foundation:

A student will acquire a foundation of intellectual and practical skills including communication, quantitative reasoning, qualitative reasoning (critical, analytical, and creative thinking), and technical and information literacies.

People of Integrity:

A student will become personally and socially responsible by acquiring, developing and demonstrating skills in ethical reasoning and understanding.

Professional Competency:

A student will demonstrate professional competence by meeting the established standards of the discipline, working as a valued member of a team, effectively formulating and solving problems, and actively seeking and honing lifelong learning skills.

Stewards of Place:

A student will demonstrate stewardship of local, national, and global communities by cultivating awareness of: interdependence among those communities; issues within those communities; and organizations and skills that address such issues.

Knowledge Foundation:

A student will demonstrate knowledge of human cultures and the physical and natural world in the following areas of essential study: arts, history, humanities, languages, science and mathematics, social sciences. Knowledge Foundation refers to GE Distribution courses and other courses and experiences within the major.

Financial Aid Application Procedure
The content contained in this section is subject to change based on federal and state regulations. Financial aid is designed to bridge the gap between the costs of attending UVU and what students and their families are expected to pay. To be considered for financial aid:

1. Be admitted to UVU.
2. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at www.fafsa.gov. UVU’s school code is 0040207.
3. Complete any necessary unsatisfied requirements listed in myUVU. Log in to myUVU, go to Students, Paying For My Education, My Financial Aid Requirements, select the appropriate Aid Year.
4. Check your financial aid requirements often as additional information requirements may be added at any time, even after your aid has disbursed. You must meet all general and program eligibility requirements in order to receive federal financial aid. For more information on eligibility requirements please visit the Financial Aid and Scholarships website at www.uvu.edu/financialaid.
5. Accept your Terms and Conditions and award through your myUVU account. Only grants are automatically accepted. You must accept all other financial aid awards. Log into myUVU: Students, Paying For My Education, My Financial Aid Awards, Select the appropriate Aid Year, Terms and Conditions, Accept Award Offer.
6. All students receiving a Stafford loan for the first time at UVU must complete entrance loan counseling at www.studentloans.gov. Note: All students will receive a loan counseling requirement under their myUVU account. This requirement will not appear on your myUVU account until the loan has been awarded. Only students accepting a loan will need to complete loan counseling.
7. E-sign your master promissory note (MPN) at www.studentloans.gov three to five days after you accept your loan. You must be enrolled in at least six eligible credit hours (waitlist hours, audited courses, and some repeated courses, are not enrollment hours) and have met all other financial aid requirements to receive a loan.
8. The Financial Aid and Scholarships Office communicates to students through myUVU and myUVU email. Financial Aid rules change often and could impact your requirements and awards that you may have already received. If requested.

To ensure your federal financial aid is available to you on the first day of each semester, you must have completed all requirements by August 15th for Fall semester, December 15th for Spring semester, and April 15th for Summer semester.

If you fail to meet these dates, while you will not have federal financial aid available on the first day of the semester, you may still receive federal financial aid for the semester. However, you must have a valid FAFSA and must meet all eligibility requirements by the last day of the semester for which you are enrolled and requesting aid.

In order to receive federal financial aid, you must meet specific eligibility requirements directed by the Department of Education. The Financial Aid and Scholarships Office must ensure you have met all eligibility requirements prior to awarding and disbursing federal financial aid to you and must ensure you continue to meet those eligibility requirements after federal financial aid has been awarded and/or disbursed to you. To view information on eligibility requirements please view the Financial Aid and Scholarships website at www.uvu.edu/financialaid or the Federal Student Aid website at www.studentaid.gov. Your requirements will be listed under the Financial Aid Requirements section of your myUVU account. Changes to your eligibility may occur at any time. Your requirements will be updated as soon as we are aware of any changes. We highly encourage you to check your requirements often as changes may occur at any time after you have received your federal financial aid.

Clearly label all pages of all forms or documents with your name and UV ID. All forms or documents must be signed. Failure to sign and label all paperwork with your name and UV ID will delay your financial aid.

The Financial Aid Award

Awards for each of the Federal and State Student Aid programs are based on some form of financial need; beginning with a student’s cost of attendance (COA). Unlike scholarship programs that may award funds based on academic merit, need-based grants, loans, and work study are based on the family’s demonstrated financial need for assistance. Financial need is also determined by the student’s Expected Family Contribution (EFC), which is calculated by the information listed on the FAFSA.

The COA is an estimate of the student’s educational expenses for a period of enrollment. The types of costs that may be included in a student’s COA are determined by law. The amounts associated with the types of costs are determined annually and can be viewed on the Financial Aid and Scholarships website.

In addition the Federal Government has established eligibility requirements the student must meet. If all eligibility requirements have been met and financial need is demonstrated, assistance from scholarships, grants, loans, or part-time employment may be offered. All awards are calculated based on each academic year. Students must complete a FAFSA application each year.

General Education

General Education Information

General Education is a shared academic experience that provides students with the opportunity to explore new subjects, intellectual traditions, and perspectives; expands their awareness of the wider world; and prepares them with foundational knowledge, skills, and abilities that are expanded on in their disciplines of study in order to be successful learners and professionals positioned to contribute to their broader communities.

Completion of the UVU General Education requirements will fulfill the General Education requirements at all colleges and universities within the Utah System of Higher Education. However, certain majors, both at this institution and other Utah institutions, may require specific General Education courses. While UVU has not articulated these courses with higher education institutions outside the State of Utah, they will generally articulate to other regionally accredited colleges and universities in the United States. It is the responsibility of students to complete the appropriate General Education courses required by their departments regardless of the generalized list printed in this catalog.

Note: Students taking General Education courses without having declared a specific major are advised in the Academic Counseling Center, LC 402, telephone 801-863-8425. Students who have declared a specific major that is taught at UVU will be directed to the appropriate academic advisor upon completion of new student orientation and assessment activities.

Department Articulation Agreements

In addition to General Education courses, many departments have articulated specific courses that transfer to help fulfill baccalaureate degree requirements. Information concerning these courses may be obtained from UVU department advisors or the Admissions-Transfer Services Office, BA 114.

General Education Code System

General Education course designator codes (Attributes) aid students and transfer institutions to identify how General Education courses meet graduation requirements.

The following list identifies General Education core and distribution courses as they apply to the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees and Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees, and can be used to search the registration menu:

AS - American Institutions
BB - Biology
CC - English Composition
FF - Fine Arts
HH - Humanities
LH - Foreign Language
PP - Physical Science
SS - Social Science
QL – Quantitative Literacy
XF - Must be taken with another course to equal FF (see department)

General Education Requirements

Associate in Arts/Science Degrees and Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees

These requirements satisfy the General Education requirements for both the Associate in Arts and the Associate in Science Degrees, as well as the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science Degrees at UVU, taking into account adjustments that may be required by academic departments to fulfill their specific needs. Honors courses with the same prefix and number also satisfy distribution requirements. Total core and distribution is 35 credits.

Core Requirements

These courses provide basic skills in logic, math, written and oral communications, health, and fitness.

Complete the following for 6 credits:

| ENGL 1010/101H Introduction to Writing |
| ENGL 2010/201H Intermediate Writing—Humanities/Social Science |
| ENGL 2020/202H Intermediate Writing—Science and Technology |

Complete one of the following for either 3 or 4 credits:

| ENGL 1020/102H Introduction to Writing |
| ENGL 2020/202H Intermediate Writing—Science and Technology |
Students should enroll in Mat 1030 unless MATH 1040 is recommended for their major or they are planning to enroll in courses requiring MATH 1050 as a prerequisite.

MAT 1030 Quantitative Reasoning (recommended for Humanities or Arts majors)

or

MATH 1040 Introduction to Statistics (recommended for Social Science majors)

or

MATH 1050 College Algebra (recommended for Business, Education, Science, and Health Professions majors*)

or

MATH 1090 College Algebra for Business (recommended for Business majors)

or

One MATH course that requires MATH 1050 as a prerequisite (excluding MATH 1060)

or

An Advanced Placement (AP) Mathematics Test with a score of 3 or higher.

Complete the following for 5 credits:

PHIL 2050/205G/205H Ethics and Values

and

HLTH 1100 Personal Health and Wellness

or

PES 1097 Fitness for Life

*All other majors should check with their advisor for the correct course.

Additional Guidelines for Completion of the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees

The Associate in Arts and the Associate in Science Degrees are designed to complete General Education requirements and could complete lower division pre-majors for baccalaureate degrees at UVU or other colleges or universities.

The General Education courses shown above constitute the majority of the credits required for these degrees. In addition to the General Education requirements, these degrees require 25 additional credit hours.

Associate in Arts Degrees require 8 hours of these 25 hours to be from the same recognized foreign language.

See your specific academic department for further information on appropriate course work to complete a pre-major or the remaining 25 hours. The Academic Counseling Center (LC 402) has some specific outlines available to transfer to other institutions.

Associate in Applied Science Degrees

This is a general outline. Refer to the department or Graduation Office for specific requirements. A total of 16 credit hours is required. Students must have a minimum of three credits in each area, except "F" (Physical Ed/Health/Safety/Environment).

A. ENGLISH complete for 3 credits:

ENGL 1010/101H Introduction to Writing
or
MKTG 2200 Business Communication

B. MATHEMATICS complete for 3 credits:

MAT 1000 Integrated Beginning and Intermediate Algebra
Introduction

or
MAT 1010 Intermediate Algebra
or Any Higher Mathematics course
or
Any approved Departmental Mathematics Course

C. HUMANITIES/FINE ARTS/FOREIGN LANGUAGE complete for 3 credits:

PHIL 2050/205G/205H Ethics and Values (Highly recommended)
or
Any approved Humanities, Fine Arts, or Foreign Language Distribution Course

D. SOCIAL AND BEHAVIORAL SCIENCE complete for 3 credits:

MGMT 3000 Organizational Behavior
or
Any approved Behavioral Science, Social or Political Science Distribution Course

E. BIOLOGY OR PHYSICAL SCIENCE complete for 3 credits:

Any approved Biology or Physical Science Distribution Course

F. PHYSICAL ED/HEALTH/SAFETY OR ENVIRONMENT complete for 1 credit

Any approved Physical Education, Health, Safety or Environment Course

Transfer Information

For students transferring to four-year Institutions, Colleges, and Universities in the Utah System of Higher Education.

UVU courses numbered 1000 or above will transfer within the Utah System of Higher Education. However, the application of these courses toward graduation is determined by academic departments of receiving institutions.

For students transferring to colleges and universities in the Utah System of Higher Education before earning an Associate in Arts or an Associate in Science Degree, or a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science Degree, a certified letter verifying completion of the UVU General Education requirements may be requested from the Graduation Office. This letter will cause the gaining institution (run by the State of Utah) to accept the completion of UVU General Education requirements as fulfilling all of the General Education/Liberal Education requirements of the gaining institution.

Note: Completion of an Associate in Arts/Science Degree waives only General Education requirements. It does not waive the necessary hours to graduate. A student transferring to another institution should check with that institution to see how their credits have been accepted toward their degree.

Private, Parochial, or Out-of-State Colleges & Universities

Since these schools are not bound by Utah State Regent's policies, colleges/universities outside the Utah System of Higher Education may have specific requirements and may not accept all courses available at UVU. Students should contact the institution they are transferring to in order to determine how their credits will be accepted.

Brigham Young University

Brigham Young University accepts the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees for completion of its General Education requirements. Courses with grades of "D+" or lower will not transfer. Some departments at BYU have specific General Education course requirements that will still need to be taken at BYU. Individual departments at BYU should be consulted for exceptions.

Note: BYU has a limit on the number of transfer students admitted.

General Information

Mission
Utah Valley University is a teaching institution which provides opportunity, promotes student success, and meets regional educational needs. UVU builds on a foundation of substantive scholarly and creative work to foster engaged learning. The university prepares professionally competent people of integrity who, as life-long learners and leaders, serve as stewards of a globally interdependent community.

Core Themes & Objectives

Student Success: UVU supports students in achieving their educational, professional, and personal goals.

• Objective 1: UVU supports students’ preparation for and achievement of academic success at the University.
• Objective 2: UVU provides a meaningful and well-rounded university experience.
• Objective 3: UVU prepares students for success in their subsequent academic, professional, and lifelong learning pursuits including serving as leaders, people of integrity, and stewards of their communities.

Serious: UVU fosters a culture of academic rigor and professional excellence.

• Objective 1: UVU champions learning through outstanding teaching in an academically rigorous environment.
• Objective 2: UVU supports a culture of scholarship and creative work and promotes accomplishment in cultural, academic, and co-curricular/extramural endeavors.
• Objective 3: UVU attracts, develops, and retains high achieving students and highly qualified faculty, staff, and administrators.
• Objective 4: UVU is recognized for high-quality, efficient and effective programs and services.

Engaged: UVU engages its communities in mutually beneficial collaboration and emphasizes engaged learning.

• Objective 1: UVU faculty and staff engage students using real-world contexts within the curriculum and activities outside the classroom to increase professional competence and confidence.
• Objective 2: UVU fosters partnerships and outreach opportunities that enhance the regional, national, and global communities.
• Objective 3: UVU serves as a portal of civic engagement and an engine of regional economic and business development.

Inclusive: UVU provides opportunity for individuals from a wide variety of backgrounds and perspectives and meets regional educational needs.

• Objective 1: UVU provides accessible and equitable educational opportunities and resources for all students.
• Objective 2: UVU provides opportunities to improve intercultural competence in an increasingly complex, diverse, and globalized society.
• Objective 3: UVU provides an inviting, safe, and supportive environment for people from diverse backgrounds and perspectives.
• Objective 4: UVU offers an array of courses, programs, and delivery methods designed to reflect students’ goals and the region’s educational needs.

Essential Learning Outcomes

Integrative and Applied Learning: A student will engage in discipline-appropriate experiences with the academic and broader community through integrated and applied learning.

Intellectual and Practical Skills Foundation: A student will acquire a foundation of intellectual and practical skills including communication, quantitative reasoning, qualitative reasoning (critical, analytical, and creative thinking), and technical and information literacies.

People of Integrity: A student will become personally and socially responsible by acquiring, developing and demonstrating skills in ethical reasoning and understanding.

Professional Competency: A student will demonstrate professional competence by meeting the established standards of the discipline, working as a valued member of a team, effectively formulating and solving problems, and actively seeking and honing lifelong learning skills.

Stewards of Place: A student will demonstrate stewardship of local, national, and global communities by cultivating awareness of: interdependence among those communities; issues within those communities; and organizations and skills that address such issues.

Knowledge Foundation: A student will demonstrate knowledge of human cultures and the physical and natural world in the following areas of essential study: arts, history, humanities, languages, science and mathematics, social sciences. Knowledge Foundation refers to GE Distribution courses and other courses and experiences within the major.

Values

As a regional state university composed of qualified professionals, we are committed to these core values:

Learning & Scholarship: UVU values preparing intellectually resilient graduates for a future of continuous and cross-disciplinary learning. We encourage students, faculty, and staff to engage in a broad array of academic, professional, and experiential learning opportunities and scholarly endeavors that foster professional and personal growth, that build real-world capabilities and result in honest, challenging and significant intellectual work.

Critical & Creative Thinking: UVU values the broad acquisition of knowledge and recognizes the value of critical and creative thinking and practical skills. We prepare students to contribute to society, adapt creatively to new challenges, and thrive in an ever-changing world community.

Academic Freedom: UVU values the free exchange of ideas and builds an academic climate conducive to such expression. We encourage thoughtful debate and civil discourse. We respect the right and responsibility of faculty and students to explore topics relevant to the educational experience.

Ethics & Integrity: UVU values ethics education and ethical behavior. We engage members of the campus and community in experiences that encourage a broader understanding of ethics across disciplines, professions, and communities. Honor and integrity, respect and civility, commitment and diligence are essential in our learning community and in interpersonal relationships.

Accountability & Openness: UVU values the opportunity to be accountable for our academic, professional, and fiscal stewardships. We welcome the responsibility to assess and examine the effectiveness and implications of our programs and initiatives. UVU embraces open dialogue and transparent decision-making.
Introduction

Engaged Learning: UVU values student engagement, scholarly excellence, and creative work. We support active learning and professional development for students, faculty, and staff. We cultivate community leadership and strong relationships that extend the university into the workplace and region.

Diversity: UVU values a welcoming and diverse learning environment that embraces all people and transcends differences. Diversity enriches the intellectual and social engagement of the learning community. We support a student and workforce community that reflects the entire population.

Global Engagement: UVU is a multicultural community that values cultural literacy and actively supports learning that crosses cultural and political boundaries. We engage locally, regionally, nationally and globally in order to fulfill our mission.

Roles

As a regional state university, Utah Valley University:

Provides quality academic learning opportunities for students through programs at the certificate, associate, baccalaureate, and graduate levels. To encourage responsible citizenship, emphasis is placed on engaged teaching and learning as well as scholarly work, research, creative achievements, career and technical education and community and professional engagement.

Provides access to higher education and offers a broad range of opportunities from developmental education through honors programs. The institution provides services designed to meet the educational and personal needs of students, to foster student success, to prepare students for meaningful lifework, and to provide access through a variety of modalities, including satellite campuses and the use of technology.

Promotes economic and cultural development to contribute to the quality of life of the region and state. The institution fosters economic development and provides a talent-force to meet the needs of a dynamic economy by offering credit and non-credit programs and services for individuals and organizations. UVU provides cultural experiences that enrich the community and offer significant and varied opportunities for continuous learning.

Historical Development

Utah Valley University was established as Central Utah Vocational School in September 1941 with the primary function of providing war production training.

Post-war training needs found the school offering programs throughout the region and at the Utah County Fairgrounds. The three school districts within Utah County combined efforts to purchase a thirteen-acre site close to Provo High School.

In 1963, the name was changed to Utah Trade Technical Institute to emphasize its growing role in technical training. The name change to Utah Technical College at Provo in 1967 was accompanied by the authority to award the Associate in Applied Science Degree. The Associate in Science Degree was added in 1972.

The initial 185-acre Orem Campus was dedicated in 1977. In 1987, the name was changed to Utah Valley Community College and the Associate in Arts degree was added by the Utah State Board of Regents.

In 1993, the name was changed to Utah Valley State College reflecting the change in mission to offer high demand baccalaureate degrees.

The Utah State Legislature approved, in February 2007, a name change to Utah Valley University that became effective July 1, 2008. The Utah State Board of Regents approved the corresponding mission change in December 2007 to give authority to offer master level degrees; this also became effective July 1, 2008.

Accreditation

Utah Valley University is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

Accreditation of an institution of higher education by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities indicates that it meets or exceeds criteria for the assessment of institutional quality evaluated through a peer review process. An accredited college or university is one which has available the necessary resources to achieve its stated purposes through appropriate educational programs, is substantially doing so, and gives reasonable evidence that it will continue to do so in the foreseeable future. Institutional integrity is also addressed through accreditation.

Accreditation by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities is not partial but applies to the institution as a whole. As such, it is not a guarantee of every course or program offered, or the competence of individual graduates. Rather, it provides reasonable assurance about the quality of opportunities available to students who attend the institution.

The Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) is an independent, non-profit membership organization recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as the regional authority on educational quality and institutional effectiveness of higher education institutions in the seven-state Northwest region of Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington.

Inquiries regarding an institution’s accredited status by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities should be directed to the administrative staff of the institution. Individuals may also contact:

  • Redmond, Washington 98052-3981
  • (425)-558-4224
  • www.nwccu.org

In addition, some programs or majors have other specialized accreditation.

• Specialized Accreditation, Certification, and Approvals
Gainful Employment information is provided in compliance with the U.S. Department of Education’s disclosure requirements for programs eligible for Title IV financial aid that prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation as required in 34 CFR 668.6(b). All programs list the following information: CIP Code, Level of Program, Program Length, Tuition and required fees, Estimated costs for books and supplies, Debt at program completion, Program completion in Normal Time, Job Placement, and Related Occupations. Gainful Employment Program Disclosure is listed on all marketing materials for potential students.

Graduation

- Graduation Office
  - Office: BA 114
  - Telephone: 801-863-8438

Utah Valley University offers the following degrees: Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Education (M.Ed.), Master of Science in Nursing (MSN), Baccalaureate degrees, Associate in Applied Science (AAS), Associate in Arts (AA), Associate in Pre-Engineering (APE), Associate in Science (AS), Associate in Science in Business (ASB), Associate in Science in Nursing (ASN); Diplomas, and Certificates are also offered.

General Graduation Requirements

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the rules and regulations of both the University and their specific majors. Detailed information concerning graduation requirements is available in this catalog as part of department descriptions. Responsibility for satisfying all graduation requirements rests upon the student. UVU reserves the right to change graduation requirements at any time.

The University confers degrees, diplomas, or certificates upon students who meet both the General Education requirements of the University and the specific requirements of one of the academic departments.

Grade Point Average Requirement

A minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 (C) is required for graduation. In some programs specific course grades below 2.0 will not be accepted for graduation and some programs require a higher cumulative grade point average (see individual program requirements).

Graduation Catalog Requirement

Candidates for graduation will be held to the requirements of the catalog under which they were admitted. Students have a maximum of 7 years to complete bachelor degrees and 5 years to complete associate degrees; 6 years are allowed for master degrees. In the case of bachelor degree programs, the seven year limit begins when a student is formally matriculated into the program. When students take longer than the given years to complete, they must choose from any one catalog published within the accepted period prior to their graduation. Programs that are no longer being offered may not be pursued by students who were not admitted or formally matriculated in that program during the accepted period of time. Students may not combine portions of different catalogs to fulfill graduation requirements. Once a catalog is selected, students must abide by all the graduation requirements specified within that catalog. Minors can only be sought if offered during that catalog year. Please see the Graduate Studies section of the catalog regarding catalog year requirements for master degree programs.

Global/Intercultural Requirement

The Global/Intercultural requirement is a graduation requirement at the baccalaureate degree level. Courses that may be used to complete this requirement will be coded with a GI course attribute. The purpose of the Global/Intercultural requirement is to assist students to become better prepared to understand and participate in the global and cultural interdependencies that characterize our world. Students who take courses at another university and want to use them for the Global/Intercultural requirement must petition through the GI committee. See the Office of Senior Registrar (BA 114) for further information. For a complete listing of the courses offered at UVU that fulfill this requirement, see the Course Descriptions section in the back of this catalog for course numbers ending in "G".
Introduction

Residence Requirement

Credit hours in residency (UVU credits) at a UVU campus, satellite, or branch campus, or through distance education or concurrent enrollment, are required for all certificates, diplomas, and degrees. Minimum hours are as follows:

1. Certificates of proficiency require 25% of total credit hours (rounded up);
2. Certificates of completion require 10 credit hours;
3. Associate degrees and diplomas require 20 credit hours;
4. Baccalaureate degrees require 30 credit hours (10 credits of those 30 shall have been completed within the last 45 credit hours earned for the degree).

Multiple Degrees

Students may earn multiple certificates. Students may earn only one academic associate degree from Utah Valley University; either an Associate in Science or an Associate in Arts. With some exceptions, students may earn multiple Associate in Applied Science (AAS) degrees, specialized associate degrees, and baccalaureate degrees.

A second bachelor’s degree may be awarded when all requirements for both degrees are satisfied, along with the following:

1. All UVU General Education requirements are satisfied;
2. Thirty semester hours beyond the original degree are completed;
3. Twenty semester hours of the 30 hours in item 2 above must be completed at UVU (resident hours);

Dual Baccalaureate Majors (One Degree– with Two majors)

A baccalaureate degree with dual majors may be awarded when students complete all requirements for two approved degrees from the approved dual majors list, but has not met the required 30 semester hours for a second degree beyond the original degree. The student shall receive a single baccalaureate degree; the diploma and transcript shall list both majors.

Other information regarding the dual major:

1. Students apply for graduation for one degree, and only one degree type, such as a Bachelor of Arts, or a Bachelor of Science;
2. In order to be awarded a dual major, both majors must be completed during the semester when (or prior to) applying for graduation
3. If Students have already graduated in one of the majors, they may not apply for a dual major.
4. After being awarded a dual major degree, students may not apply for graduation for one of the dual majors separately.
5. Students shall have no more than three course substitutions from the required courses for the two majors combined.
6. Students may not receive minors in either major, but may be awarded a minor from another area if all requirements are met.
7. Credits shall not exceed the 160 credit hour limit with the two combined majors.

Degree Requirements

Master Degrees

Please see the Graduate Studies section of the catalog regarding degree requirements.

Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees

Graduation requirements for the Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees are:

• Completion of a minimum of 120 semester credits, or more if specified by program requirements;
• Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. Departments may require a higher GPA;
• Residency hours - minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours;
• At least 40 credit hours in upper division courses;
• Completion of General Education requirements. See General Education section above for specific courses required for graduation;
• Completion of specific departmental (major) requirements;
• Completion of Global/Intercultural Requirement course.

For a Bachelor of Arts Degree in programs offering the degree, students must complete 16 credit hours of course work from one language to include the 1010, 1020, 2010 and 202G levels, or transferred equivalents. Some ESL course work may be used to fulfill this requirement. See the ESL department for specific details.

Note: Academic departments may require specific General Education courses in addition to major requirements.

Multiple Emphases

Students may earn additional emphases, with departmental approval under a specific bachelor’s degree by completing the requirements for those emphases. Additional emphases shall appear on transcripts, but no additional diplomas will be awarded.

Associate in Arts/Science Degrees*

Graduation requirements for the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees are:

• Completion of a minimum of 60 or more semester credits;
• Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. Departments may require higher GPA;
Introduction

- Residency hours - minimum of 20 credit hours earned through course attendance at UVU;
- Completion of General Education requirements. See General Education section for specific courses required for graduation;
- Completion of specific department (major) requirements.

Note: Academic departments may require specific General Education courses in addition to major requirements.

*The Associate in Arts Degree differs from the Associate in Science Degree in that a minimum of 8 credits must be earned in the same Foreign Language.

Language Proficiency

A second language is required to obtain the Associate in Arts Degree. This language must be different from the student’s native language. Language proficiency may be demonstrated by any one of the following methods:

- Eight credits of the same language taken at UVU or transferred from another college; or
- Application of foreign language challenge credit as described in the Foreign Language Challenge Procedures (available from the Languages Department Chair);
- Language credit does not apply to the General Education Humanities Distribution area (except for any 202G course) but will apply as elective credit in the Associate in Arts/Science Degree and as Humanities credit for the Associate in Applied Science Degree.

Associate in Applied Science Degrees

Graduation requirements for the Associate in Applied Science Degrees are:

- Completion of a minimum of 63 semester credits;
- Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above;
- Residency hours - minimum of 20 credit hours earned through course attendance at UVU;
- Completion of department General Education requirements;
- Completion of specific department major requirements.

Diplomas

Diplomas require a minimum of 50 credits in a specialty area. Some programs offering Associate in Applied Science Degrees also offer diplomas. Not all departments offer diplomas. See specific department program listings for details.

Certificates of Completion

Certificates of Completion require a minimum of 30 credit hours. Not all departments offer a Certificate of Completion. See specific department program listings for details.

Certificates of Proficiency

Certificates of Proficiency vary in credit hours from 3-29 credit hours. Not all departments offer a Certificate of Proficiency. See specific department program listings for details.

General Graduation Information

Application for Graduation

Graduation is not automatic. Prospective graduates must complete the online Graduation Application via Wolverine Track in myUVU. Applicants may also be required to fill out additional forms/surveys. The application must be completed by the Application deadline as listed below:

Application Deadlines

- Fall semester: First Friday in October
- Spring semester: First Friday in February
- Summer semester: First Friday in June

Graduation applications are processed each semester. Diplomas are mailed to graduates after final grades are reviewed and graduation requirements are verified as completed for all students at the end of the semester. Students failing to complete graduation requirements by the following dates for which they have applied must reapply for graduation.

REQUIREMENT DEADLINES

- Fall semester: January 15th
- Spring semester: May 31st
- Summer semester: September 15th

Requirements may include, but are not limited to: all current semester grades, all “I” (Incomplete) and “M” (Missing) grades, grade changes, challenge and experiential credit, AP (Advanced Placement) credits, CLEP (College Level Examination Program) and DSST (DANTES Subject Standardized Tests) credit, transferred credit, required testing and departmental exceptions. All of these items MUST be completed and submitted by the above deadlines. Failure to comply will cause the student to have their graduation declined for that semester. Students will then have to apply for another graduation semester.

Commencement

Commencement exercises are held once each year at the end of spring semester. Students who have completed their graduation requirements during the summer, fall, or spring of that academic year are invited to participate. Attendance is strongly encouraged, but not mandatory.

Financial Holds
Candidates for graduation who owe money to UVU will not receive their diplomas until all debts are paid.

Graduation with Distinction

Honors at graduation are available to students who meet the following minimum cumulative grade point averages: (Honors designations are computed on hours completed; 20 hours minimum for associate degrees; 30 hours minimum for bachelor degrees.) These Distinctions are awarded and based only upon GPA and are not related to participation in the UVU Honors Program.

- Associate in Arts/Associate in Science
  - Honors GPA 3.60
  - High Honors GPA 3.80

- Bachelor Degrees
  - Cum Laude GPA 3.60
  - Magna Cum Laude GPA 3.80
  - Summa Cum Laude GPA 3.90

Note: Please contact the Honors Program (LC 204) for information about the UVU Honors Program.

Valedictorians

Each of the Colleges and Schools of the University will select a valedictorian from a list supplied by the Graduation Office of candidates graduating with honors during the academic year. The status of valedictorian is determined by each school and college, based on competitive criteria. Please check your school or college for requirements and details.

Registration

- Registration Office
  - Office: BA 106 (One Stop)
  - Telephone: 801-863-8468

Registration Procedures

A schedule of classes is published online every semester in advance of each registration period, indicating courses offered, times, instructors, and room assignments. Registration procedures are available online at www.uvu.edu.

Special Notice to Students

It is the responsibility of the student to verify registration accuracy and completeness.

University Advanced Standing Requirement

Before students can register for upper-division coursework (3000 or higher), they must qualify for University Advanced Standing (UAS) by:

- Completing, and/or transferring in, at least 24 credits of college-level coursework (1000 or higher);
- Having a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher;
- Complete MAT 1030 or higher and ENGL 2010, 2020 or equivalent.

Academic departments may also establish additional advanced standing requirements that must be met before students will be allowed to enroll in upper-division courses within their disciplines.

Change of Registration (Add/Drops)

After initial registration, students may modify their schedules by adding, dropping, or changing to audit. The Semester Student Timetable specifies the time period when changes may be made.

If a class is full and has a Wait List option, students may add themselves to the Wait List. A Wait List is an electronic list of students who want to enroll in a course that has reached maximum capacity (closed). Wait List is first come, first serve according to the date and time the student selects the Wait List option.

Beginning the first day of the semester students may add open classes without a fee or approval. After the deadline noted on the Semester Student Timetable students wishing to add a class must obtain instructor and department approval and pay the corresponding fee. Students may not attend classes for which they are not officially enrolled.

After obtaining the instructor and department approvals, the student may add the class(es) and then pay appropriate tuition/fees.

Students may drop and withdraw from classes according to the dates and deadlines posted on the Semester Student Timetable. Classes may be dropped and not appear on the transcript through the drop deadline. After the last day to drop noted on the Semester Student Timetable, a grade of "W" will appear on the transcript for all official withdrawals and students will be responsible for tuition and fees. Withdrawing from a course after the last day to withdraw deadline may only be for extenuating circumstances and not solely for academic difficulty, and requires the signature of the department chair with a department approval stamp. Such changes to a student’s schedule may adversely affect current and future financial aid, scholarships and/or refunds. Students are cautioned to see a financial aid advisor before attempting to completely withdraw from school. A “W” grade could impact a student’s satisfactory academic progress with the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office.

Students who add classes must pay appropriate tuition/fees, for any additional credit, by the published dates on the Semester Student Timetable.

Administrative Drops and Withdrawals

Students may be dropped or withdrawn from classes by the administration if they: 1. Register, but do not attend courses within the first three days of a semester; 2. Register for courses for which they have not completed prerequisites; 3. Neglect to pay tuition and fees for any given semester/term by the deadline published in the Student Timetable; or 4. Other administrative reasons. Such changes to a student’s schedule could affect financial aid, scholarships, and/or refunds.

Auditing

Students may choose to register for classes on an audit basis (register for classes as a “listener” without receiving credit). Tuition, registration times and add/drop criteria are the same as for regular class registration. For an audit, the student must complete and sign an “audit form” at One Stop. Audits may only be requested through the audit deadline specified on the Semester Student Timetable. Students may not change from audit to credit status.

Classes appear as “AU” (audit) on the official transcript. Since they are noncredit, they do not count in the credit load for foreign students, veterans, students receiving financial aid, etc.; nor do they fill graduation requirements.

Students may not challenge courses that they have audited. An incomplete grade may not be made up by repeating the class for audit.

Noncredit Continuing Education Unit (CEU)

The Division of Continuing Education offers a variety of courses and programs for life-long learning. Many of these programs are offered under a noncredit option. The Continuing Education Unit (CEU) is a means for measuring and recording noncredit study.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Purpose of this Policy

The purpose of the enactment of a student rights and responsibilities code is to set forth in a clear and concise manner the rules and regulations of conduct expected of those who join the institution’s community. Students, faculty, staff and administration should always exercise their freedom with personal responsibility. This code will outline due process for handling alleged student violations of institutional policies, including, but not limited to the responsibilities set forth in this policy. Further, the purpose of this policy is to delineate the range of sanctions for such violations, and establish procedures for appeal of disciplinary sanctions.

The institution expects all students to obey the law, to show respect for properly constituted authority, to perform contracted obligations, to maintain absolute integrity and high standards of individual honesty in academic work, and to observe a high standard of conduct within the academic environment. In short, a student enrolled in the institution accepts the obligation to conduct themselves in an appropriate manner acceptable at an institution of higher learning.

Policy

Members of the student body should exercise their freedoms with personal responsibility. Should violations of the Student Rights and Responsibilities Code occur, sanctions may be enforced for the protection of the institution and its members.

Behavior which violates the Student Rights and Responsibilities Code should be reported to the office of Student Conduct 801-863-8665 (non-emergency) or Campus Police 801-863-5555 (emergency).

A. General Rights

1. A student, while properly enrolled at the institution, will have the right to the following institutional services, treatment and information:
   a. Free and open discussion, inquiry and expression, subject to constitutional limitations regarding time, place and manner.
   b. Protection against the institution’s improper disclosure of a student’s records, work, views, beliefs and political associations.
   c. Procedural safeguard and personal privacy with respect to testing for drugs and infectious diseases (e.g., AIDS).
   d. Timely and understandable information and respectful treatment regarding policies, refunds, lab and course fees, library fines, lab breakages, liability, etc.
   e. Freedom from a discriminatory and offensive environment that may cause emotional stress or a hostile or offensive campus environment directed toward another person.
   f. Freedom from sexual harassment.
   g. Full protection under the Constitution for freedom of the press, including constitutional limitations on prior restraint and censorship.
   h. Due process of law recognized as being essential to the proper enforcement of institution rules.
   i. Security for his/her person, papers and personal effects against unreasonable searches and seizures.
   j. Freedom to form and operate an organized student association within the guidelines prescribed by the institution.
   k. Access to the institution’s Ombudsman for consultation in matters of personal and school issues and concerns.
   l. Student representation through student government on institutional committees, councils, commissions and other formally constituted bodies that make general policy and procedure decisions directly affecting students or that govern student activities and conduct.
   m. Access to all student government sponsored activities.
   n. Accurate information in advertising, recruitment, and orientation efforts.

B. Academic Rights
Introduction

1. A student will have the following rights in academic affairs, services and information when properly enrolled as a student at the institution:
   a. Performance evaluation based on a written syllabus.
   b. Appropriate and open discussion, inquiry and expression, both in the classroom and in student/instructor conferences.
   c. Freedom to take exception to the views presented in a classroom setting and to reserve judgment in matters of opinion.
   d. Professional and ethical conduct from all institutional personnel.
   e. Competent and professional instruction.
   f. Competent academic advisement.
   g. Protection against improper disclosure of a student's records, academic work, views, beliefs and political associations.
   h. Information prior to registering regarding the costs of tuition, activity fees, lab fees, etc.
   i. Scheduled access to and the use of institutional services, facilities and programs.
   j. Accurate information regarding course offerings, programs, majors, transfer policy, and institutional requirements and expectations.
   k. Accurate information regarding changes in course programs or institutional requirements and reasonable accommodation of those already enrolled in a program or classes.
   l. The right to receive academic credit and/or academic degrees when all specified requirements and coursework have been satisfied.
   m. The right to appeal to the Academic Standards Committee regarding grade changes, withdrawals, etc.

C. General Responsibilities

1. A student assumes the responsibility to conduct himself/herself in an appropriate manner. Categories of misconduct that are not considered responsible behavior include, but are not limited to, the following:
   a. Failure to respect the right of every person to be secure from fear, threats, intimidation, harassment, hazing and/or physical harm caused by the activities of groups or individuals.
   b. Sexual assault, harassment, or any other unwelcome verbal or physical sexual activity, including the support or assistance of such activities.
   c. Unauthorized seizure or occupation of any institutional building or facility.
   d. Obstruction, disruption or interference with teaching, disciplinary proceedings, institution-sponsored activities and services or events.
   e. Use or possession of any weapon, explosive device, or fireworks on any campus property.
   f. Unlawful use, possession, distribution, sale, manufacture, or possession for purposes of distribution or sale of any controlled substance or illegal drug on any property or on any building owned, leased or rented by the institution or at any activity sponsored by the institution.
   g. Initiation or circulation of any false report, warning or threat of fire, bombs or explosives on institutional premises or during institution-sponsored events.
   h. Violation of the Utah Indoor Clean Air Act and/or the institution smoking policy (institution Policy 158 Tobacco).
   i. Sale, possession, manufacture, distribution or consumption of alcoholic beverages on institution property.
   j. Unauthorized possession, forging, altering, misusing or mutilating of institutional documents, records, educational materials, identification, (e.g., personal ID, parking decal, etc.) or other institution property.
   k. Violation of city ordinances and/or state statutes regarding gambling.
   l. Delivery of false information to institutional personnel.
   m. Theft or malicious destruction, damage or misuse of institution property or private property of another person on the institution campus or when engaged in activities sponsored or supervised by the institution off campus.
   n. Intentional or reckless destroying, defacing, vandalizing, damaging or misusing the property, equipment, materials, services or data of the institution.
   o. Unauthorized possession or use of a key to any institution facility or equipment.
   p. Obscenity and lewd conduct as defined by institution policy, city ordinances, and/or state statutes.
   q. Failure to adhere to all laws and regulations governing the duplication and use of copyrighted materials including, but not limited to, printed and audio materials, video, film, and/or computer software.
   r. Unauthorized use or charges to any institution telephone for long distance calls. Institution telephones are for business use only.
   s. Unauthorized off-campus fund raising activities on behalf of the institution. All fund raising must have prior written approval from the institution's Development Office.
   t. Intent to defraud the institution in any financial matter including, but not limited to:
      u. Failure to conduct oneself in a way that does not endanger the health and well-being of other student and institution personnel.
      v. Unauthorized commercial ventures or enterprises on institution property.
      w. Bringing animals on campus, except for those serving the disabled or those used for educational purposes.
      x. Allowing children in institution classrooms or laboratories (unless they are an integral part of instruction) or leaving children unattended in hallways and restrooms or at institution-sponsored events and functions.
   y. Students are encouraged to report violations of this policy to an appropriate institutional office.
      a. Non-redemption of personal checks refused by a bank;
      b. Sale/resale of supplies, books, or equipment in violation of institution agreements;
      c. Falsifying institution financial records; and/or
      d. Non-payment of tuition and fees as set forth by institution regulations.

D. Academic Responsibilities

1. Each student is expected to take an active role in the learning process by meeting course requirements as specified in written syllabi.
2. Each student is expected to display appropriate conduct in classroom situations, that will enhance the learning environment.
3. Faculty members have the right to establish classroom standards of behavior and attendance requirements. Students will be expected to meet these requirements and make contact with faculty members when unable to do so.
4. Each student is expected to maintain academic ethics and honesty in all its forms, including, but not limited to, cheating and plagiarism as defined hereafter:
   a. Cheating is the act of using or attempting to use or providing others with unauthorized information, materials or study aids in academic work. Cheating includes, but is not limited to, passing examination answers to or taking examinations for someone else, or preparing or copying other’s academic work.
   b. Plagiarism is the act of appropriating another person’s or group’s ideas or work (written, computerized, artistic, etc.) or portions thereof and passing them off as the product of one’s own work in any academic exercise or activity.
   c. Fabrication is the use of invented information or the falsification of research or other findings. Examples include but are not limited to:
      1. Citation of information not taken from the source indicated. This may include the incorrect documentation of secondary source materials.
      2. Listing sources in a bibliography not used in the academic exercise.
3. Submission in a paper, thesis, lab report or other academic exercise of falsified, invented, or fictitious data or evidence, or deliberate and knowing concealment or distortion of the true nature, origin, or function of such data or evidence.
4. Submitting as your own any academic exercise, (e.g., written work, printing, sculpture, etc.) prepared totally or in part by another.

E. Expectations
1. The institution expects all students to maintain integrity and high standards of individual honesty in academic work, to obey the law, and to show respect for others.

F. Where Policy Applies
1. The Student Rights and Responsibilities Code applies to conduct that is in violation of institution Policy 541, The Student Rights and Responsibilities Code that occurs on institutional premises and at institution-sponsored activities. It also applies to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the campus community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. The Student Rights and Responsibilities Code applies to a student’s conduct even if the student withdraws from the institution while a disciplinary matter is pending. The Director of Judicial Affairs shall decide whether the Student Rights and Responsibilities Code shall be applied to conduct occurring off-campus, on a case-by-case basis.

G. Informal Resolution
1. Informal resolution of differences or appeals shall be encouraged.

H. Academic Infractions (Grades)
1. Responsibility for and authority over Academic Infractions, and other academic appeals, including Grade Appeals, shall reside with the Dean of the academic area in which an issue may arise.

I. General Infractions
1. Responsibility for and authority over General Infractions shall reside with the Dean of Students.

J. Composition of Campus Appeals Board
1. The Campus Appeals Board shall consist of two faculty members from each academic area appointed by the Faculty Senate in consultation with the respective academic Deans, three staff members appointed by PACE, with approval of the staff members’ supervisors, and three students appointed by the Student Body President. Appointments of faculty and staff shall be for three-year rotating terms. Three student members shall be appointed to a one-year term. The Director of Judicial Affairs shall obtain names from the appointing entities annually prior to May 1, and shall send a letter of appointment to those appointed. The Director of Judicial Affairs shall organize the initial term lengths for the rotating members of the Board to allow an orderly rotation. The Director of Judicial Affairs shall chair the Board in a non-voting capacity.

K. Responsibilities of Board
1. The Campus Appeals Board shall be trained by the Office of Judicial Affairs in due process and other Student Rights and Responsibilities Code matters. A subset of the Board shall hear appeals, as necessary. In hearing appeals, the Board shall be concerned primarily with due process and fairness, recognizing that they do not have the full awareness of professional competence and context, in general. In addition to hearing appeals, the Board shall have the responsibility to train faculty and staff in the Student Rights and Responsibilities Code’s (institution Policy 541, Student Rights and Responsibilities Code) expectations, procedures, and due process.

L. Confidentiality
1. Confidentiality shall be maintained for all parties to Student Rights and Responsibilities Code actions, except as necessary to provide due process. If the Campus Appeals Board finds a complaint to be without merit, records of the complaint and proceedings shall be destroyed.

M. Sanctions
1. Sanctions must be applied in a fair and impartial manner. Sanctions are assigned in accordance with two criteria: (1) Educational value for the student found in violation of institution Policy 541, the Student Rights and Responsibilities Code, (2) Commensurability of the violation and the assigned sanction.
2. Academic sanctions that may be imposed include:
   a. Warning
   b. Requiring a student to retake an exam(s)
   c. Requiring a student to re-write a paper(s) and/or repeat an assignment(s)
   d. A grade reduction
   e. A failing grade
   f. Probation with specified conditions
   g. Suspension from the Department, School, or Institution (must be reviewed and confirmed by Vice President of Academic Affairs and President)
   h. Expulsion from the Department, School, or Institution (must be reviewed and confirmed by the Vice President of Academic Affairs and President)
   i. Revocation of admission or degree (for fraud, misrepresentation, or other serious violations of institution standards in obtaining the degree; must be reviewed and confirmed by the Vice President of Academic Affairs and President)
   j. Withholding degree until completion of process and other sanctions relating to a violation of the Student Rights and Responsibilities Code
3. Sanctions that may be imposed for General infractions include:
   a. Warning
   b. Probation with specific conditions
   c. Loss of privileges
   d. Fine
   e. Restitution
   f. Discretionary Sanctions such as work assignments, personal development assignments, essays, or service assignments.
   g. Suspension from the Department, School, or Institution (must be reviewed and confirmed by Vice President of Student Affairs and President)
   h. Expulsion from the Department, School, or Institution (must be reviewed and confirmed by the Vice President of Student Affairs and President)
Introduction

1. Student Rights and Responsibilities are delineated in institution Policy 541, Student Rights and Responsibilities Code. Students are also subject to other institutional policies.

2. In cases of overlapping or concurrent jurisdiction, the Dean of Students and the relevant Academic Dean shall negotiate to agree on the locus of primary jurisdiction. The Dean of primary jurisdiction shall then control the process and communicate outcomes to the other Dean.

3. No reprisals shall be taken by or against any party or legitimate participant in the appeal process by reason of such participation. However, individuals furnishing false information and/or documentation at any point in the formal process described in this policy are subject to disciplinary action.

4. Interim suspension:
   a. In urgent circumstances, interim suspension may be imposed as outlined below:
      1. A classroom instructor, Department Chair, or Dean may ask Campus Police to remove a student immediately from the classroom or other academic area.
      2. If a student is removed, an immediate report must be made to the Director of Judicial Affairs by the instructor, Chair, or Dean who instigated the removal.
      3. The Director of Judicial Affairs may impose institutional suspension prior to the completion of appeals and final imposition of sanctions.
   b. Sanctions associated with Academic Infractions shall be reported by the instructor to the student, within ten (10) business days of the imposition of the sanction by the instructor.
   c. The interim suspension does not replace the regular due process, which shall proceed on the normal schedule.
   d. During the interim suspension, a student shall be denied access to the campus, including classes, and all other institutional activities or privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible, as the Director of Judicial Affairs or the Dean of Students may determine to be appropriate.
   e. The interim suspension does not replace the regular due process, which shall proceed on the normal schedule.
   f. The student shall be notified in writing of this action and the reasons for the suspension. The notice should include the time, date, and place of subsequent hearing at which the student may show cause why his or her continued presence on campus does not fall within the reasons above (and which they may contest whether a campus rule was violated).

N. Multiple Offenses, Pattern of Behavior

1. If a student is found guilty of the reported infractions and sanctions in his/her disciplinary record, then the Director of Judicial Affairs shall report the particulars of the student’s disciplinary record to the Campus Appeals Board for review of the larger pattern of misbehavior. If a larger pattern of misconduct should appear, additional disciplinary measures may be imposed by the Campus Appeals Board.

O. No Reprisals

1. No reprisals shall be taken by or against any party or legitimate participant in the appeal process by reason of such participation. However, individuals furnishing false information and/or documentation at any point in the formal process described in this policy are subject to disciplinary action.

P. Disciplinary Records

1. Records of disciplinary actions shall not be made a part of the student’s academic record except through the appearance in the academic record of grade reductions or failing grades, but shall become part of the student’s disciplinary record. The disciplinary record shall be reviewed and expunged. In situations involving both an accused student(s) (or group or organization) and a student(s) claiming to be the victim of another student’s conduct, the records of the process and of the sanctions imposed, if any, shall be provided to the disciplinary/educational records of both the accused student(s) and the student(s) claiming to be the victim because the educational career and chances of success in the academic community of each may be impacted.

Q. Concurrent Jurisdiction

1. In cases of overlapping or concurrent jurisdiction, the Dean of Students and the relevant Academic Dean shall negotiate to agree on the locus of primary jurisdiction. The Dean of primary jurisdiction shall then control the process and communicate outcomes to the other Dean.

R. Student Rights & Responsibilities

1. Student Rights and Responsibilities are delineated in institution Policy 541, Student Rights and Responsibilities Code. Students are also subject to other institutional policies. Alleged violations of institutional policies by students shall be handled according to the procedures set forth below.

S. Appeals Process, Determination & Application of Sanctions

1. Academic Infraction Due Process Procedures
   a. Instructors shall discuss allegations of misconduct with the accused student in a confidential environment.
   b. Sanctions associated with Academic Infractions shall be reported by the instructor to the student, within ten (10) business days of the imposition of the sanction by the instructor. Except in cases where there is a significant threat of disruption or of undermining of the academic integrity of the course, instructors shall refrain from implementing irreversible sanctions (e.g. denying access to class or a final exam) until the student has exhausted all appeals.
   c. Before an appeal, the student must attempt to resolve the issue informally with the instructor.
   d. In case of an appeal, documentary evidence shall be deposited by the instructor and/or the student with the Office of Judicial Affairs. Said office shall maintain original documents in a secure location and shall make copies available to the parties and the hearing officer for the appeal. Whether or not there is documentary evidence to deposit, the instructor shall file a copy of allegations with the Office of Judicial Affairs. Said copy shall be clearly labeled “under appeal” and shall not become a part of the student’s disciplinary record until appeals are exhausted.
   e. Sanctions may be modified at any point in the appeals process if evidence warrants.
   f. If the student chooses to appeal the instructor’s decision, the appeal must be made in writing to the Department Chair within ten (10) business days of the instructor’s final decision.
   g. The Chair will render a decision in writing to the student and the instructor within ten (10) business days of receiving the student’s written appeal.
   h. If either the student or the instructor chooses to appeal the Chair’s decision, the appeal shall be made in writing to the campus Appeals Board within ten (10) business days of the Chair’s decision, or if the student and instructor agree, the appeal may be made directly to the Dean rather than the Board.
   i. The hearing body, whether it is the Board or the Dean, shall render a decision in writing to the student and the instructor, with a copy to the Chair, within ten (10) days of receiving the written appeal.
   j. If either the student of the instructor chooses to appeal a decision of the Board, the appeal shall be made in writing to the Dean within ten (10) business days of the Board’s decision. The Dean shall be responsible for determining remediation and sanctions after a finding by the Board that Academic Misbehavior occurred.
   k. The Dean shall render a decision in writing to the student and the instructor, with a copy to the Chair, and to the Board if they heard the previous appeal, within ten (10) business days of receiving the written appeal.
I. The decision of the Dean as to findings of Academic Infraction(s), remediation, and sanctions shall be final except for review of proposed suspension by the Vice President of Academic Affairs (VPAA) and of proposed expulsion, revocation of admission or degree by the VPAA and President.

m. Final decisions in which allegations of Academic Infraction(s) have been sustained shall be reported by the final deciding body (or by the instructor in case there are no appeals) to the Office of Judicial Affairs, with copies to the student or other parties to the appeal, within ten (10) business days of the decision.

2. General Infraction Due Process Procedures

a. All allegations of General infractions will be reported to the Office of Judicial Affairs within ten (10) business days of sufficient information being gathered. Discussions of allegations with the students involved shall take place in a confidential environment. Documentary evidence shall be deposited by the accuser and/or the student with the Office of Judicial Affairs. Said Office shall maintain original documents in a secure location and shall make copies available to the parties and the hearing officer for the appeal. The allegations shall not become a part of the student’s disciplinary record until appeals are exhausted.

b. The Office of Judicial Affairs will notify the student within five (5) business days after receiving a report of violation and schedule a hearing with the Director of Judicial Affairs.

c. The Director of Judicial Affairs will determine the merit of the complaint and assign sanctions if the complaint is found to be meritorious and to warrant sanctions. The Director of Judicial Affairs shall notify the student in writing of his or her finding and of any sanctions within ten (10) business days of the hearing. Except in cases of urgent circumstances, the Director of Judicial Affairs shall refrain from implementing irreversible sanctions until the student has had the opportunity to fully pursue the appeals process.

d. Sanctions may be modified at any point in the appeals process if evidence warrants.

e. If the student chooses to appeal the decision of the Director of Judicial Affairs, the appeal shall be made in writing to the Campus Appeals Board within ten (10) business days of the Director’s decision. The student may choose to appeal directly to the Dean of Students rather than the Board.

f. The hearing body, i.e. the Board or the Dean of Students, shall render a decision in writing to the student and the Director of Judicial Affairs within ten (10) business days of receiving the written appeal.

g. If the student chooses to appeal the decision of the Board, the appeal shall be made in writing to the Dean of Students within ten (10) business days of the Board’s decision. The Dean of Students shall be responsible for determining remediation and sanctions after a finding by the Board that a general infraction was committed.

h. The Dean of Students shall render a decision in writing to the student and the Director of Judicial Affairs, with a copy to the Board if they heard the previous appeal, within ten (10) business days of receiving the written notice.

i. The decision of the Dean of Students as to findings of General Infractions, remediation, and sanctions shall be final except for review of proposed suspension by the Vice President of Student Affairs (VPSA) and of proposed expulsion, or revocation of admission or degree by the VPSA and President.

j. Final decisions in which allegations of General Infractions have been sustained shall be reported by the final deciding body to the Office of Judicial Affairs, with copies to the student and other parties to the appeal, within ten (10) business days of the decision.

3. Withdrawal of Appeals-An appeal may be withdrawn by the appellant at any time without prejudice.

T. Campus Appeals Board Hearings

1. The Campus Appeals Board Chair shall convene a subcommittee from its members. The subcommittee of the Board shall consist of two members from the School of Division referring the appeal, a third member from another unit of the institution, two students, and a staff member to hear any appeal.

U. Disciplinary Records

1. The Office of Judicial Affairs shall be responsible for facilitating written appeals and for keeping records of all decisions under this code, whether general or academic.

2. When a sanction has been imposed and made final after any appeals process, a report shall be submitted to the Office of Judicial Affairs by the final deciding instructor, officer, or Board.

a. Disciplinary records shall be kept confidential, and access, as necessary for carrying out their duties, shall be limited to Deans and institutional line officers above the Deans, the Office of Judicial Affairs, and members of the Campus Appeals Board. Nonetheless, students may give written consent to faculty members or other institutional employees to view their disciplinary records. A student requesting a recommendation that asks about disciplinary actions shall be presumed to give implied consent to the recommender to see the disciplinary record.

b. When the student’s disciplinary record shows multiple similar infractions or a pattern of improper behavior, the Director of Judicial Affairs shall report the case to the Campus Appeals Board for further review. The Board shall hold a hearing with the student and determine further sanctions, if necessary and appropriate.

c. Determinations of when records are to be expunged or reports removed are to be made only by the Office of Judicial Affairs in order to maintain a single institutional standard for retention of records of Student Conduct Code actions.

d. Factors relevant to the decision to retain or delete specific records include:
   1. How much time has elapsed since the infraction (generally, at least five (5) years).
   2. Whether the student has graduated.
   3. The seriousness of the infraction and the resulting sanctions - institutional suspension, expulsion, and revocation of admission or degree shall be considered for expunging only upon application by the student to the Director of Judicial Affairs and then only with the concurrence of the relevant Dean, Vice President, and the President.

   e. Students shall apply to the Director of Judicial Affairs to have their disciplinary records expunged. If the student applying for expungement has graduated, or if the disciplinary records are at least five (5) years old, they shall be expunged unless the Director of Judicial Affairs finds circumstances requiring retention of the records, except in the cases of suspension, expulsion, or revocation or withholding of a degree require further review.

The Accessibility Services Department serves Utah Valley University students and the community by providing access to the campus and curriculum for individuals with disabilities to facilitate, support, and encourage their academic success, their retention and ensure their academic rights. Services are available to students who have documentation substantiating various conditions (including a physical, psychological, or learning disability) and may include: sign language interpreting, testing accommodations, text in audio format, note taking, adaptive equipment, transfer of printed material to Braille, and other individualized services.

Alumni Association

- Office: AL 003
- Telephone: 801-863-8179

The purpose of the UVU Alumni Association is to create lasting relationships between students, alumni and friends of the University for the advancement of the University.

The UVU Alumni Association provides benefits and support for over 200,000 UVU alumni, and is responsible for many services, like publishing UVU Magazine, providing benefits programs, Alumni Awards, Founder’s Day, the Family Fun Fair, Homecoming and other similar offerings. In addition, the Alumni Association maintains its home page at uvualumni.org, where both students and alumni can access various services of the association through the online community.

The UVU Alumni Association also sponsors the Student Alumni Association, which is involved in hosting important events and activities on campus, and at regional and national conferences. In addition, they are involved in service projects and annual student giving campaigns. Membership in the Student Alumni Association is open to all students, and applications for the Student Alumni Board are accepted during spring semester. For more information about this and other Alumni related topics, call 801-863-8179.

The Center for Global and Intercultural Engagement (CGIE) supports the University efforts to prepare globally competent citizens. To accomplish these objectives, CGIE collaborates closely with colleges, schools, and other units across campus to create a community of students, staff, and faculty that share multicultural and international knowledge, attitudes, experiences, and efforts. We are committed to fostering an inclusive atmosphere for all students and to preparing them for an increasingly complex, diverse, and globalized society. CGIE is comprised of four programs.
1. International & Multicultural Studies (IMS): These programs support and facilitate international study programs, study abroad, international internships, student exchanges, travel resources, global and multicultural faculty training, cultural excursions, and student workshops. The programs include the Global Spotlight Program, mentored research programs, and other engaged learning opportunities for students. IMS also is the primary provider of facilitation, training, and support for the Global/Intercultural Graduation Requirement. This requirement enables all UVU students to gain critical exposure to issues related to cross-cultural appreciation and understanding. IMS is also committed to inclusive teaching practices and approaches that enhance the learning of students from a variety of backgrounds and cultures.

2. Multicultural Student Services (MSS): Our programs provide a full range of support services targeting historically underrepresented populations with an eye toward inclusion of all students across campus. The mission is to promote educational opportunities and intercultural enrichment for diverse students and the wider campus community. Our programs aim to nurture student achievement and develop relationships that support student success, academic growth, retention, and completion of educational programs. Services include general academic advising, registration and financial aid help, student leadership programs, multicultural club advisement and support, academic and social events, and initiative programs that provide specific resources for Latino, LGBT, Native American, and Pacific Islander student populations.

3. International Student Services (ISS): Our programs provide advisement and support on visa, employment, and academic issues for UVU’s international student population. Students with questions regarding immigration, visa, or related issues may visit one of our advisors in LA 114. ISS activities including orientations each semester for all new international students, managing the federally mandated Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) to ensure that all international students at UVU are legally “in status,” and providing a variety of services designed to promote the academic success of our international students.

4. International Affairs & Diplomacy (IAD): Our office advances UVU’s presence and reach in the international community through cultural exchanges, diplomatic visits, economic development partnerships, and other related activities. Programs include the hosting and connecting international dignitaries including heads of state, ministers, ambassadors, business, educational, and religious leaders.

The Center for the Advancement of Leadership

- Director: Belinda S. Han, MA
- Office: LC 302
- Telephone: 801-863-6466
- E-mail: cal@uvu.edu

L.E.A.D. Program

The L.E.A.D. Program focuses on four key aspects of personal development (Learn, Engage, Acquire, and Discover). Together, these four aspects ensure leadership growth concurrently in both the personal and professional arenas.

The L.E.A.D. Program offers students the opportunity to receive the Engaged Learning University Distinction in Leadership after completing four semesters. Students completing two semesters will receive departmental recognition in the form of a standard certificate. Details on these options can be viewed at uvu.edu/leadership.

Care about Childcare at Utah Valley University

- Coordinator: Julia Mohr
- Office: EE 009
- Telephone: 801-863-8557
- Web: uvu.edu/cac

Care About Childcare @ UVU (formerly Child Care Resource and Referral Mountainland) is a state-funded resource for parents who are seeking child care in Utah, Summit, Juab or Wasatch counties. Parents can call the referral line at 801-863-8631 or toll-free at 1-800-952-8220 or log onto the website at uvu.edu/cac and receive a free personalized list of available state-regulated child care that meets their requested work schedule and family size needs. CAC@UVU also teaches approved professional child care training that satisfies both the Utah Bureau of Child Care Licensing and Provider Professional Development Program career ladder requirements. CAC@UVU also offers services to Spanish speaking child care providers as well as grants and program coaching to child care family home providers and child care centers.

Clubs & Organizations

- Office: SL 122
- Telephone: 801-863-8820

Clubs and Organizations, also known as UV Clubs, connects students to UVU in a unique way that reflects each student’s individual interests and academic desires.

UV Clubs, a branch of UVUSA, works with 100+ active clubs facilitating club success on campus. Many clubs are very active on campus and have received local, state, and national recognitions.

By getting involved in a club or organization students have the opportunity to increase leadership, citizenship, and service skills that enhance UVU and the community. Students meet new people, develop skill sets, and most of all, have fun. For information on existing clubs and/or procedures for chartering a new club, look on the web at uvu.edu/clubs, or contact the UV Clubs Office in SL 122.

Dean of Students/AVP Student Life

- Alexis Palmer
- Office: SL 201
- Telephone: 801-863-8311

The Dean of Students is committed to providing a growth enhancing environment in which all Utah Valley University students learn and develop to their fullest potential. Student Life at Utah Valley University promotes the psychological, physical, intellectual, occupational, spiritual and ethical wellness of all students, engages students socially, encourages civic involvement, and provides opportunities for experiential learning, leadership, and wellness through collaboration with the campus and community.

Six remote food service locations are also available. The Trades Café is located on the 3rd floor of the Gunther Trades building. A food kiosk is available on the 4th floor of the Losee Center For Student Success. Also, the University Library now offers the Bytes and Brew Café featuring Starbucks coffee selections and additional coffee house brews, lattes, gourmet sandwiches and take-and-go meal options. Located at the intersection of the PE Hallway and the Student Life and Wellness Building are three additional branded restaurants, Jamba Juice, Taco Bell and the most recent healthy retail option: The Green Line Café, (formerly known as the LA Café). Our last two remotes are the HP Café in the Health Professions building and the ME Café, located in the McKay Education building.

The Sorensen Student Center and Catering Services is recognized in the community as one of the area’s finest catering services. It has earned a reputation in outstanding dining service quality for over 20 years. Clientele include students, administrators, staff personnel, conference groups, weddings, class reunions and local community groups. The Dining Services Department also manages the campus vending machines. Dining Services provides an excellent source of employment opportunities for UVU students in all of these venues.

Engaged Learning University Distinction

- Office: BA 211
- Telephone: 801-863-7181
- Web: uvu.edu/oel/elud/
- Hours:
  - Monday - Friday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.
  - Saturday: 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. (Pizza Hut)
  - 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. (Subway)

The Engaged Learning University Distinction (ELUD) contributes to the UVU’s “community engaged” Carnegie classification through the collaborative connection of teaching, learning, scholarly, and service activities among students, faculty, and the community. The program provides UVU students the opportunity to integrate academic and co-curricular activities in order to demonstrate experiential learning to potential employers, graduate programs, or other post-graduate student pursuits. The distinction is an institutional graduation honor consisting of a certificate award, notation on the academic transcript, a graduation regalia cord, and related recognition. Students may select between four tracks within the ELUD program.

1. Leadership Track: The L.E.A.D. Program is administered through the Center for the Advancement of Leadership (CAL) and develops the leadership capacities of UVU students by focusing on four key areas of personal development: Learn, Engage, Acquire, and Discover. These four areas are designed to enhance professional and personal growth for students in the L.E.A.D. program.

2. Professional Engagement Track: This Program is administered through the Career Development Center’s CareerPassport Program, and is a self-paced effort that assists UVU students in preparing for career decisions and related post-graduate pursuits. Activities include personality and interest testing, interviewing, resume development, job shadowing, networking events, internships, and many other career-related experiences.

3. Service Learning Track: This program is administered through the Volunteer & Service Learning Center and is geared toward students who wish to have a structured emphasis on service and civic engagement as part of their university experience. Activities include service projects, academic reflection assignments, portfolio preparation, and other opportunities to connect students with community organizations and partners.

4. Global/Intercultural (G/I) Track: This program is administered through the G/I committee and the Center for Global/Intercultural Engagement and is geared toward students who wish to have a structured emphasis on global, intercultural, and diversity issues during their collegiate career. This program offers students an opportunity to interact with diverse ideas and people from a wide range of cultural backgrounds. Students will take four G/I designated courses and participate in activities such as international or domestic multicultural excursions, service projects, academic reflection assignments, global spotlight events, and other cultural awareness building activities.
All students in ELUD are required to complete “Dimensions of Engaged Learning,” an introductory course that incorporates integrative and applied teaching strategies to encourage student ownership of the learning process through involvement and engagement principles. Emphasis is given to utilizing these principles to enhance a student’s college experience, career preparation, and future contribution in the community and the world. Students will also complete a capstone project related to their track that includes a portfolio of activities that demonstrate their level of engagement and preparedness for post-graduate experiences. Visit the program website for detailed information on courses and track requirements.

Equity in Education: Training & Resource Center

- Director: Jennie Briggs
- Office: LC 405b
- Telephone: 801-863-8498
- Web: uvu.edu/equitycenter

The Equity in Education Center’s focus is to promote inclusion, acceptance, and respect for diversity in Utah classrooms, work environments, and communities; to assist Utah’s workforce and future workforce in becoming self-sufficient through knowledge of opportunities and positive decision making; to raise awareness of the harmful effects of media and advertising on our society and to raise awareness and advocate prevention of violence and abuse in our community. The Equity Center sponsors the annual Empowering Your ‘Tomorrow boys’ conference, the annual Expanding Your Horizons girls’ conference and the bi-annual Clothesline Project, which is a violence awareness and prevention program held in April and October. Additionally, the Equity Center offers free trainings on topics such as: Stereotyping, Cultural Diversity, Making Language Inclusive and more. The Equity Center also houses a free resource library consisting of books and videos that cover a wide variety of equity and diversity related topics.

Intramural Sports

- Manager: Jen Berrett
- Office: SL 213
- Telephone: 801-863-5568
- E-mail: jberrett@uvu.edu

The Intramural Sports Program is one of the largest co-curricular activity programs that complement the formal academic curriculum. It offers extensive opportunities to currently enrolled Utah Valley University students, faculty, staff and their spouses/partners in a number of competitive and structured activities each year. Participation in the program is voluntary and determined by interest.

Participation can provide one with opportunities to have fun, learn new sports, meet people from other cultures, test one's physical ability as well as offer a break from routine. Team sports generally take on a league structure and a post-season tournament to determine champions. Special events range from one day to several day tournaments. In most events, skill levels and divisions are established to allow competition for men’s, women’s, co-ed and Mixed teams at various skill levels.

The Intramural Sports program strives to provide programming for all levels of ability and experience. Our aim is to serve the recreational needs of the majority of the student body and not just the athletic minority.

A competitive spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship is encouraged in order to provide all with a wholesome recreational experience. Participants and staff are asked to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with, and in support of, those values set forth by Utah Valley University.

“Sportsmanship is no different from fair play in life. When someone crowds into line at a grocery store, that person is a poor sport. We need to discipline ourselves and control our reactions in similar situations in sports.” - Clark Thorstenson

National Student Exchange

- Office: LC 410p
- Telephone: 801-863-6750
- E-mail: Julieb@uvu.edu

National Student Exchange embodies the overall mission of Utah Valley University by providing meaningful Engagement Opportunities for its students. The National Student Exchange (NSE) which is a service within the Career Development Center, provides opportunities for undergraduates, to study for up to one calendar year at another NSE member college or university and pay in-state tuition.

With over 200 colleges and universities from which to choose, students can find a campus that is "custom" to individual degree plans, with just the right combination of courses, facilities, and environment to meet unique personal and academic needs and interests. Spending time at another campus will allow students to grow academically and personally. Students will develop a greater appreciation for the different regions, cultures, and people. NSE extends beyond the borders of the United States to include U.S. territories as well as some Canadian provinces. Students participate in order to:

- Broaden personal and educational perspectives
- Explore and appreciate new cultures
- Widen university boundaries
- Take courses not offered at the home campus
- Learn from different professors
- Access courses with different perspectives
- Explore new areas of study
- Experience personal growth
- Break out of their comfort zones
- Live in a different geographic area
- Acquire life skills
- Investigate graduate or professional schools
- Look for future employment opportunities
- Become more independent and resourceful

NSE is a “study away” experience that fits into university initiatives for globalization and diversity. NSE participants have found their exchanges culturally enriching, academically rewarding, and one of the most significant experiences of their undergraduate education. Since it's founding in 1968, more than 100,000 students have had the opportunity to experience life from a different point of view.

Students will need a 3.0 cumulative GPA and one-year of university work, to join the more than 85,000 students who have been placed in life-changing exchange situations which challenged their thinking, expanded their educational, personal experiences, and encouraged them to take risks.

Ombuds

- Office: SL 212b
- Telephone: 801-863-7237

Within the UVU community misunderstandings and disagreements needing resolution occur. The UVU Ombuds is a mediator and resource who is familiar with campus policies, student’s rights and responsibilities, and can help find useful options within these guidelines. In order to serve as a mediator, as opposed to an advocate, the Ombuds neutrally and objectively listens to all problems and works with the parties involved to find a solution. The Ombuds may be used as a resource for help in a variety of difficult situations. The Ombuds can help with:

- University related or personal issues
- Interpersonal conflicts
- Sexual Harassment
- Academic complaints and conflicts
- Housing/Landlord disagreements
- Discrimination complaints
Introduction

- Grading procedure disputes
- School policy and procedures
- Others

All services are offered free of charge.

Parking & Transportation Services

- Located: 936 S. 400 W., Orem
- Telephone: 801-863-8188
- Hours:
  - Monday - Friday 7 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Parking permits are required to park anywhere on the UVU main campus and west campus. UVU uses license plate reader technology and assigns a digital permit to your vehicle license plate at the time of permit purchase. Parking permits are available in our office at 936 S. 400 W. or online through the link found at uvu.edu/parking - there is also information on the site regarding parking maps, regulations, and other information to assist you in parking on campus. We can also be contacted by phone at 801-863-8188 Monday through Friday 7 am to 5 pm.

Parking for People with Disabilities

Only those vehicles carrying distinctive (logo) license plates for people with disabilities or temporary/permanent permits obtained from the Utah State Division of Motor Vehicles at 150 E. Center in Provo plus a valid UVU handicapped parking permit shall be allowed to park in stalls for the disabled. If all disabled stalls are full in a given area, those displaying a disabled permit may park in the nearest available stall.

Student and Employee Parking

Students and employees operating vehicles on University properties must adhere to all state, local, and university traffic/parking regulations. To park on campus, students and employees must obtain a valid parking permit from Parking Services. Employees and Students will need to provide their vehicle information e.g. license plate number, make and model before a permit can be issued to them. Permits are not required to park in any employee or student lot after 5 p.m.

Visitor Parking

Visitors operating vehicles on University property must adhere to all state, local, and university traffic/parking regulations. There are three visitor pay lots on campus. The Lakeside Visitor Lot and Admissions Meter Lot are located on the south side of campus, and the Parking Garage is on the north side by the Student Life building. The cost to use the lot is posted at the lot, as well as on the Parking Services website. These lots are pay-by-space parking and each stall is numbered. Pay stations are located in convenient locations in these lots. Payment is required in these pay lots from 5 AM through 10 PM, seven days a week. Payment is required at the time you park at one of the pay stations. If you have any questions regarding parking on campus please contact the Parking Services Office at 801-863-6188.

The Office of Student Involvement builds and facilitates action learning activities and expeditions for student centered learning (out of the classroom, hands-on, experience-centered learning). OSI works collaboratively with students, faculty and professional community partners to bring about a full and exciting student life experience. OSI is engaged learning: it is Student LIFE!

Students may join in student life experiences through creating or joining an Action Learning Community, developing student leadership skills by becoming a Action Learning Leader, or participating in numerous hosted and sponsored activities in the Student Engaged Learning ZONE in the UVU Sorensen Student Center. Faculty are invited to apply for Action Learning Fellowships where they can collaborate with the Office of Student Involvement to create action learning expeditions and receive assistance from an Action Learning Leader as they create engaging expeditions and create professional relationships with community partners.

Details on these opportunities for engaged learning may be found by contacting the Office of Student Involvement.

Testing Services

Office: Wolverine Service Center–North Entrance

Testing Services assists both students and staff. It is divided into three branches: the Assessment Center, the Classroom Testing Center, and the Proctored Exam Center.

- Assessment Center
  - Located: WS 101
  - Telephone: 801-863-8269

The primary responsibility of the Assessment Center is to assist all new students in developing a first-year educational plan. In addition to orientation and advisement, all students must meet the University’s assessment requirements. This information is used to place students into appropriate Math and English courses, which will in turn, help to ensure student success. Testing sessions for new students are conducted throughout the day, no appointment necessary, but check our website for details at uvu.edu/testingservices, as our hours do change at different times during the year.

New students must meet one of following assessment requirements:

1. ACT/SAT Scores
   a. English: Not older than 3 years.
   b. Math: Not older than 2 years.
2. New Student Assessment
   a. Required for UVU students for assessment purposes. Administered in the Assessment Center. There are 3 sections: reading, writing, and math. For more details and information, call the Testing Services department at 801-863-8269 or visit our web pages: uvu.edu/testingservices. Fees are charged for assessments.
3. Transfer Credit
   a. Completed English Composition and Algebra at another college/university, with a C or higher (verified by official college transcripts mailed directly from your previous institution to UVU Admissions).
   b. Another function of Testing Services is to administer screening instruments, standardized tests, and other assessment instruments required by University programs and departments. Some of these include the GED, CLEP, SAT, ACT, EMT and POST tests. Pre-enrollment English proficiency assessment for international students is also a service provided in Testing Services. The department is an established site for residual ACT testing. Certification testing for different programs offered by UVU and the surrounding community is also available. Students can obtain information on tests in the office and hours of operation by calling 801-863-8269 or by visiting the web page at: uvu.edu/testingservices.

- Classroom Testing Center
  - Located: WS 112
  - Telephone: 801-863-7461

The Classroom Testing Center (CTC) is located in the Wolverine Service Center (WS 112). The CTC provides testing services enabling students to take participating instructors’ exams in the center on a flexible schedule. The CTC is generally open six days a week Monday - Saturday. Students can obtain test schedules and scores by logging into chitester.uvu.edu and use UV Link user name and password to log in. Highlight the exam name and click on View test score(s).

- Proctored Exam Center (PEC)
  - Located: WS 111
  - Telephone: 801-863-8544

The Proctored Exam Center (PEC) provides testing accommodations to UVU students with disabilities as well as services for distance education students who need to have a test proctored from another university or college. Students with disabilities requiring assistance MUST obtain a letter from the Accessibility Services Department before being eligible to use the PEC. Scheduling an individual appointment for testing is required for both parties. For scheduling information and further assistance, call 801-863-8544.

Trio College Prep Programs

Educational Talent Search & Upward Bound

Talent Search

- Director: Michael M. Campbell
  - Telephone: 801-863-8569
  - E-mail: campbemi@uvu.edu

- Coordinator: Rebecca Ayala
  - Telephone: 801-863-7216

- Administrative Support: Kasha Farmer
  - Telephone: 801-863-7414

Talent Search serves young people in grades six through twelve. In addition to counseling, participants receive information about college admissions requirements, scholarships and various student financial aid programs. This early intervention program helps young people to better understand their educational opportunities and options. UVU services Orem, Provo, Wasatch, South Summit, Duchesne, and Uintah.

Upward Bound
Introduction

• Director: Michael M. Campbell
  • Telephone: 801-863-8569
  • E-mail: campbemi@uvu.edu

• Coordinator: Alex Atwood
  • Telephone: 801-863-8570

• Administrative Support: Kasha Farmer
  • Telephone: 801-863-7218

Upward Bound helps young people and adults prepare for higher education. Participants receive instruction in literature, composition, mathematics and science on college campuses after school, on Saturdays and during the summer. UVU services students from Orem, Provo, Wasatch, Duchesne and Uintah.

TRIO Student Support Services (SSS)

• Office: LA 012
  • Telephone: 801-863-8541

TRIO Student Support Services (SSS) is a federally funded program. The purpose of TRIO SSS is to:

1. Increase the retention and graduation rates of eligible students
2. Foster an institutional climate supportive of the success of low-income and first generation college students and individuals with disabilities through a variety of services such as:
   • needs assessment testing
   • individual education planning
   • academic, career, and transfer counseling
   • tutoring
   • cultural events
   • SLSS 1100 Stress Management–Hardiness and SLSS 1195 Speed Reading
   • workshops and guest presentations

To be eligible to receive TRIO SSS services, a student must meet all of the following requirements:

1. Is a citizen or national of the U.S. or meets the residency requirement for Federal student financial assistance
2. Is enrolled at UVU or accepted for enrollment in the next academic semester
3. Has a need for academic support, as determined by UVU, in order to successfully pursue a post-secondary educational program

Meets at least one of the following criteria:

• Low income
• First generation college student
• Has a disability which inhibits the learning process

Eligible students are selected into UVU's TRIO SSS program based upon their academic need and upon their ability to benefit from the services offered. Space is limited, so students are advised to apply early.

Turning Point

• Director: Dixie Sevison
  • Office: HP 116
  • Telephone: 801-863-7580
  • Web: uvu.edu/turningpoint

Turning Point/Center for Personal and Career Development is a community and university resource for individuals wanting to improve on a personal, educational and/or professional level. It is dedicated to quality support services which increase the emotional, social and economic well-being of all participants. Individuals can access numerous services to help complete education goals, build personal relationships, master communication skills, learn job-seeking strategies, explore career options and enter the work force. Reduced tuition may be available for those who qualify.

UCCU Center

• Office: EC 012
  • Telephone: 801-863-8767

The UCCU Center is a multipurpose facility serving the University and the community. The UCCU Center hosts a variety of local and special performances, sports events, educational seminars, concerts, conventions, trade shows, lectures and other community gatherings.
Some events that are hosted here include basketball games, circus performances, business trade shows and expos as well as various types of concerts. The events center is an excellent choice for hosting any kind of event.

Athletics

The mission of UVU Athletics is to provide a wide range of athletic programs that are highly competitive and nationally recognized on a consistent basis. The department seeks to provide the individual athlete with the opportunity to improve athletic skills and abilities while obtaining an exceptional quality education with the best facilities and coaching staff available, to benefit the athlete in future academic, athletic, and vocational endeavors. Each student-athlete is required to be in good standing academically and making progress toward graduation with a bachelor degree according to NCAA requirements.

The Wolverines compete at the NCAA Division I level and currently are members of the Western Athletic Conference. UVU offers the following NCAA Division I sports: Baseball, Softball, Men’s and Women’s Basketball, Men’s and Women’s Cross Country, Men’s and Women’s Golf, Men’s and Women’s Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field, Men’s and Women’s Soccer, and Women’s Volleyball.

For more specific information regarding any sport or team, please call our Athletic Department Office at 801-863-8998, or look us up on the internet at: wolverinegreen.com.

Cheerleaders & “THE WOLVERINE”

The UVU Cheerleaders are a large part of promoting fan involvement and enthusiasm at UVU athletic events. The squad consists of highly talented young men and women who perform stunting and tumbling routines.

The WOLVERINE is the school mascot who is also involved in crowd interaction and may be seen hanging from the rafters or dropping through the middle of the basketball hoop to excite fans.

Tryouts for these positions are held each spring, and specific information about tryouts may be obtained by calling Student Leadership and Activities at 801-863-8150.

Dance Team

The UVU Dance Team is comprised of 12-16 skilled dancers who perform regularly at UVU Athletic Events. The Team employs a wide range of styles and utilizes Jazz, Funk, and Lyrical Dance numbers, all choreographed by the team members and director. Tryouts are held each spring. For more information call Student Leadership and Activities at 801-863-8150.

Veteran Success Center

- Office: WB 100a
- Telephone: 801-863-8212
- E-mail: veterans@uvu.edu
- Web: uvu.edu/veterans

Veterans eligible for VA Education Benefits may obtain assistance at the Veteran Success Center located in the Woodbury Business Building. Veterans not receiving VA educational benefits are also encouraged to bring their Military Transcripts or JST transcripts to this office to begin the evaluation process.

Guideline for Enrollment and Progress

According to VA standards of progress, educational benefits will be paid for courses required for graduation in the student’s declared educational objective. Eligible persons will be required to maintain a 2.0 cumulative GPA or higher and to actively and consistently pursue their declared educational objective. To receive Veterans Educational Benefits, students are required to attend class. Benefits will be terminated for non-attendance. This may cause an over-payment to the student. Most veterans receiving VA educational benefits must verify their attendance to receive their benefits. Please check with the Veterans Success Center for current procedures.

Veterans and dependents receiving grades of “UW” (unofficial withdrawal) or “W” (withdrawal) will have to reimburse the VA for any difference in pay, retroactive to the beginning of the semester, unless they can report mitigating circumstances to the Department of Veterans Affairs. Benefits will not be paid for a course that is audited (AU).

New Veterans

New students applying for VA educational benefits may be requested to submit to the UVU Veterans’ Service Coordinator either original or certified copies of the following documents: (1) DD Form 214 (students may be eligible for a minimum of four semester hours of transfer credit), (2) DD-2384 (Notice of Basic Eligibility), (3) VA claim (c) number, if applicable, and (4) Copy of VONAPP application. This information is needed as soon as possible to ensure timely and accurate processing of benefits. UVU forms can be found online at uvu.edu/veterans. Official transcripts from all previously attended colleges or universities are required. The VA will not pay for any course the student has previously taken and successfully completed.

Continuing & Returning Veterans

All continuing and returning veterans must submit to UVU Veterans’ Service Office promptly after registering for the semester a Veterans’ Class Schedule Form that can be found online. This form must be submitted each semester to indicate that the student requests to receive educational benefits for that semester. Please be aware that adding and dropping classes may cause a debt with the Veterans Administration.
Introduction

The Volunteer and Service-Learning Center engages students, faculty, staff, and community organizations in collaborative work and sustained partnerships to create transformative learning experiences and positive community change. Our work focuses on academic service-learning, student leadership, community partnerships, and campus collaboration. Students can participate in several one-time and weekly service opportunities through the Student Service Council. Students can also receive the Engaged Learning University Distinction on their transcript for participating in service by enrolling in the Service Scholar Program. For more information on all the ways you can get involved, visit uvu.edu/volunteer.

Other Important Student Information

Student Right to Know

Utah Valley University hosts information regarding the Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act of 1991 on the HEA Student Consumer Information website. The Student Right-to-Know Act of 1991 requires all colleges and universities participating in Federal Student Aid Programs to disclose campus security policies, crime statistics, and information on students receiving athletically-related student aid, graduation rates, and other basic information about the University. To access a copy of the current Campus Security Report please visit www.uvu.edu/police.

Alcohol, Tobacco & Drugs

Utah Valley University, historically and at present, seeks to encourage and sustain an academic environment that promotes the health, safety, and welfare of all members of its community. In keeping with these objectives, alcoholic beverages, unlawful drugs, or other illegal substances shall not be consumed, used, carried, sold, or unlawfully manufactured on any property or in any building owned, leased, or rented by UVU, or at any activity sponsored by the University. (UVU Policy 157)

Any individual known to be in violation will be subject to University disciplinary action and to substantial legal sanctions pursuant to Local, County, State and Federal laws.

Smoking is prohibited in all University buildings and concourses. (UVU Policy 158)

All students can access a copy of the University Drug Policy online each semester at uvu.edu/studentconduct/students/drugalco.html. It explains the policy and University sanctions that may follow as a result of inappropriate drug and alcohol use and the known health risks associated with inappropriate use.

Confidentiality of Records Policy
Utah Valley University is concerned for the confidentiality of student academic records, and a reasonable balance between the obligation of the institution for the instruction and welfare of the student and its responsibility to society. The University will make every effort to maintain student academic records in confidence by keeping information from individuals who are not authorized to receive it or who might use it for illegitimate purposes. The policy also reflects the efforts of the University to comply with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974.

Upon presentation of appropriate identification and under circumstances which preclude alteration or mutilation of records, students will be able to inspect all records relating to themselves which are not considered by the University to be private records of University Personnel. A student is entitled to an explanation of any recorded data and may initiate action leading to a hearing, if necessary, to correct or expunge information he or she considers inaccurate or misleading.

Faculty and administrative officers who have a legitimate need to use student records will be allowed access to such records, as needed without prior permission from the student. A request from an educational institution to which the student has applied for admission, or from an institution or agency, from which the student is seeking financial assistance will be granted without written permission of the student. Similarly, data will be furnished to university accrediting bodies and governmental officials without written permission of the student.

No student information other than directory information will be given to any third party (except those mentioned above) without written consent of the student, and then only those records accessible to the student. The term party is construed to include parents, employers, government agencies, or any other people or organizations. Parents or guardians may have access to grade reports of a student's activity if the parents establish to the satisfaction of the University that they are providing one-half or more of the student’s support. Court orders and subpoenas for records will be referred to and acted upon according to the directions of the Registrar. The University will make a reasonable effort to notify the student prior to release of information in response to subpoenas or court orders prior to actual submission of the material.

Directory information will be released to news media and to others upon request.

Directory information is defined as follows:

1. Name of student
2. Telephone number of student
3. Hometown city and state of student
4. Verification of current enrollment
5. Dates of enrollment
6. Degrees conferred, dates, major field of concentration and honors received

Students may request, at any time, through One Stop, the Admissions Office, and the Registrar’s Office of the University, that Directory information be withheld by submitting a Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information form.

Civil Rights

Utah Valley University does not discriminate in recruitment or admission of students on the basis of race, color, religion, age, sex, national origin, or other legally impermissible factors.

Policy

Students who believe that they have been discriminated against or harassed should contact the Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, SL 201.

Note: Employees or students bringing a grievance against an employee who believe that they have been discriminated against or harassed should contact the Director of Human Resources Services or University Equity Officer.

Students should also consult the Student’s Rights and Responsibilities Code, which is printed in this catalog. See Student Rights and Responsibilities Section.

Procedure

1. Purpose
   The primary purpose of this procedure is to provide a remedy through which to seek redress for alleged acts of discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, color, religion, age, sex, national origin, pregnancy-related condition, disability, or veteran status. This grievance procedure is not applicable for situations for which other appeal and adjudication procedures are provided in State law or in which the University is without authority to act.

2. Stages of Redress
   a. Students grieving against another student or an employee who is grieving against a student must present the grievance in written form to the SCCR within 14 days (two calendar weeks) of the violation.
   b. If not satisfied with the response the grievant may appeal within 14 days (two calendar weeks) of receipt of the response to the Dean of Students.

3. Hearing and Decisions
   At each of the levels noted above, the grievant shall be given the opportunity to be present and to be heard. Due process shall be accorded to all parties involved in the grievance, such as written notice of hearing dates and charge, right to counsel, right to present witnesses, and to present written statements. However, formal rules of evidence and trial procedure required in a court of law will not be applicable to such hearings. Decisions by the Campus Appeals Board shall be by a majority of the members present at the meeting. If an appeal is sent to the President, it must be accompanied by all documentation related to the prior hearings. The President's decision is final.

Withdrawal
   A grievance may be withdrawn by the grievant at any level without prejudice or record.

4. Reprisal
   No reprisal of any kind shall be taken by or against any party or legitimate participant in the grievance procedure by reason of such participation.

5. Confidentiality
   Appropriate confidentiality will be observed in all grievance procedures.

6. Informal Resolution of Grievance
   Nothing contained herein shall be construed so as to limit in any way the ability of the grievant and the University to resolve any grievance, mutually and informally.

Peaceful Assembly

Policy
Free expression and peaceful assembly are rights guaranteed by the Constitution, subject to time, place and manner regulations. The University acknowledges this right for its students to assemble and express their views peacefully. However, to protect the health and safety of both participants and bystanders, peaceful assembly procedures follow.

Preparation Strategies
1. Plan your peaceful assemblies through the Dean of Students Office
2. Reserve an appropriate location from the list below
3. Schedule appropriate amplification, if necessary
4. Contact University Police for traffic and crowd control, if necessary
5. Post fliers and/or cardboard signs according to the University Signage Policy
6. Pay rental charges, if required
7. Commit to obey local, state and federal laws and University policies
8. Agree not to disrupt the educational process of the University

Prohibitions
1. Interference with the rights of others. Examples are harassment, intimidation and discrimination
2. Disruption of normal functions of the University
3. Damage to University property
4. Endangerment of the health or safety of self or others
5. Use of classrooms during academic hours
6. Refusal to vacate the premises upon official request by a University administrator or Law Enforcement personnel
7. Use of objects that might injure participants or bystanders; examples are wires, ropes, sticks and chains

Penalties
Prohibited acts are grounds for suspension or dismissal. Utah law provides that a student may be barred from campus for up to 14 days following an incident where the student violates University policy or state law. Refusal to vacate premises upon official request warrants immediate temporary suspension and arrest under the law.

Locations Appropriate For Peaceful Assembly
Locations are subject to availability; some locations may not be available at all times due to previously scheduled engagements.

Large assemblies (more than 50 people): Sorensen Student Center: Courtyard Lawn, North Parking Lot, Grand Ballroom, Theater, Centre Stage or meeting rooms; Athletic fields/Lawn areas; Events Center: Arena, or Presidential Level.

Small assemblies (fewer than 50 people): Student Lounges or Student Center Meeting Rooms.

Resources
Reservations:
1. Student Life & Wellness and Sorensen Student Center Scheduling Office, SC 103, 801-863-8612
2. Events Center Scheduling, EC Concourse, 801-863-8767
3. All other Campus Scheduling, Planning Center, 801-863-8883

Amplification for the Student Life & Wellness, Sorensen Student Center and outdoor areas can occur between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., Monday through Friday. Saturday hours are flexible. Adequate and effective amplification will be provided within limits necessary to protect the neighboring community. Amplification for small peaceful assembly sites is rarely needed. Contact: Media Services, LC 300, 801-863-8888 or Sorensen Student Center, SC 103, 801-863-8612.

Utah Safety Law
In 1965 the Utah State Legislature passed a law requiring every student, teacher, and visitor in any public or private school to wear industrial quality eye protection devices while participating in or observing the following: industrial educational activities involving hot or molten metals; operation of machinery or equipment that may throw particles of foreign matter into the eyes; heating, treating, tempering, or kiln firing of industrial materials; chemistry or physics laboratories when using caustic, explosive, or hot chemicals, liquids, or solids.

Tuition & Fees

  - Telephone: 801-863-7200
  - Fax: 801-863-8787
  - E-mail: bursar@uvu.edu
  - Hours:
    - Monday, Thursday, Friday 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
    - Tuesday, Wednesday 8 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Tuition & Fees Policy
Tuition and student fees are established by the Utah State Board of Regents. University Policy regarding payment of tuition and fees states that all tuition and fees assessed at the time of registration are due and payable. This policy applies to all registration periods. Tuition and other charges are subject to change without notice. Please check current policies, procedures, tuition and fee tables, payment deadlines, and other important information at uvu.edu/cashier.

Early registration not covered by Financial Aid or paid in full by the published payment deadline may be purged for non-payment. After the published deadline, Utah Valley University will not drop courses for non-payment or non-attendance. Students who change their mind are responsible to drop their own classes or file a Leave of Absence. Filing a Leave of Absence does not absolve a student of any financial obligation to the University for tuition or other charges owed or repayment of a financial aid disbursement. Students must drop or withdraw by the published 100% Refund Date or they will be responsible to pay the total tuition and fees owed. For exact refund and drop deadlines, please refer to the Student Timetable at uvu.edu/schedule.

Students who default on all or any portion of their tuition and fees will be suspended from further registration and records activity at UVU until their accounts are paid in full. The registration and records activity suspension will be carried forward to perpetuity until all past-due tuition and fees are paid in full.

Past due tuition accounts may be reported to a Nationwide Credit Reporting Agency, and/or turned over to an outside collection agency for collection.

Tuition Surcharge Policy

Students are encouraged to avoid accumulating credit hours beyond those needed to successfully complete their identified program of study. A student may be charged the excess credit hour surcharge for credit hours in excess of 125% of a student’s program of study. The surcharge amount for resident students is double the current year’s resident tuition rates for the number of credit hours taken. Non-resident students will continue to pay non-resident tuition.

For further information regarding this policy, please contact your advisor or the Graduation/Transfer Services Office.

Dropping/Withdrawing from Courses

When students enroll in a course, they are reserving a seat in the class. If a student decides not to take a class, it is the responsibility of the student to drop the course before the 100% Refund Deadline. Dropping the class before this deadline removes the charges from the student’s account and allows other students to register. Charges for classes dropped after the 100% Refund Period deadlines will remain owing and will not be credited back to the student’s account balance.

Student Financial Responsibility

Before students can register for classes they must review and agree to the terms and conditions outlined in the Student Financial Responsibility Agreement, then review and update their address and other demographic information. It is important that students carefully update their demographic information as the University periodically sends bills, refund checks, and other important correspondence through the mail.

The Student Financial Responsibility Agreement (SFRA) includes agreements to pay tuition and fees, requires adherence to payment and withdrawal deadlines, outlines the consequences of delinquencies, and presents required financial aid consents. It also provides students an opportunity to consent to electronic delivery of their 1098-T Tax Form. The following is a brief description of terms included in the SFRA. To view the SFRA document in full, visit uvu.edu/cashier/tuition/sfra.html.

• FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY: I agree to pay all tuition, fees, and other related costs that result from my registration and/or future drop/add activity and understand that acceptance of these terms constitutes a promise to pay agreement.

• DROPPING/WITHDRAWING FROM COURSES: I understand and agree it is my responsibility to drop my own classes if I decide not to attend and further understand that I must drop my classes and/or file a Leave of Absence before the 100% Refund Deadline or I will be responsible for all tuition and fees.

• CONSEQUENCES OF DELINQUENT ACCOUNT/COLLECTION: I agree to pay all charges by the published deadlines and understand the consequences of delinquencies on my account including late payment charges, registration holds, and possible collection fees.

• COMMUNICATION: I understand all correspondence from Utah Valley University will be sent to the student’s myUVU email account (including my billing statements) and therefore I am responsible for reading the e-mails I receive from UVU on a timely basis. I agree to keep my contact information current with UVU and further agree to allow Utah Valley University and its agents to contact me at any address, telephone, or cell phone number that I provide now or in the future.

• FINANCIAL AID DISBURSEMENTS: I understand that if I am expecting Financial Aid, I am responsible to follow up and ensure I have met all requirements to receive it, and acknowledge that I may be charged a late fee if my Financial Aid has not disbursed by the Late Fee Deadline. I further acknowledge that aid is contingent upon my enrollment and attendance in each class.

Tuition Refund Policy

The tuition refund policy is established by the Utah State Board of Regents and amended by each college or university to fit their programs. Utah Valley University refunds to students who withdraw from school or drop classes as follows:

Semester:

• Through the 100% refund date published on the Student Timetable...100%

• After the 100% refund date published on the student Timetable...0%

Exact dates for semester, block, and weekend classes can be found at uvu.edu/schedule.

Students must drop classes or completely withdraw by the published 100% Refund Deadline in order to have the charges removed from their account. Students who withdraw after that date will not receive a refund; if they have not paid, they will continue to owe the University for these charges and will be subject to collections procedures if left unpaid.

Changes in enrollment may affect Financial Aid eligibility and amounts received. Financial Aid awards may be pulled back when dropping courses, thus increasing the amount owed.

A Petition to the Refund Policy Form can be obtained online through myUVU or from the Office of the Registrar.

State-Mandated Refund Policies
Introduction

Students who are living in the following states while actively participating in UVU courses will receive refunds as designated by the state departments of education.

New Mexico

5.100.3.11 PAYMENT AND REFUNDS FOR TUITION:

A. Cooling off period: Any student signing an enrollment agreement or making an initial deposit or payment toward tuition and fees of the institution shall be entitled to a cooling off period of at least three work days from the date of agreement or payment or from the date that the student first visits the institution, whichever is longer. During the cooling off period the agreement can be withdrawn and all payments shall be refunded. Evidence of personal appearance at the institution or deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery by mail or other means shall be deemed as meeting the terms of the cooling off period.

B. Refunds prior to commencing instruction: Following the cooling off period but prior to the beginning of instruction, a student may withdraw from enrollment, effective upon personal appearance at the institution or deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery (as defined above), and the institution shall be entitled to retain no more than $200 in tuition or fees as registration charges.

C. In the case of students enrolling for non-traditional instruction, a student may withdraw from enrollment following the cooling off period, prior to submission by the student of any lesson materials and effective upon deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery (as defined above) and the institution shall be entitled to retain no more than $200 in tuition or fees as registration charges or an alternative amount that the institution can demonstrate to have been expended in preparation for that particular student's enrollment.

D. Refunds following commencement of instruction: An institution registered with the department shall adhere to either the following tuition refund policy or to a policy established by the institution's state of residence or accrediting body.

E. A student may withdraw after beginning instruction or submitting lesson materials, effective upon appearance at the institution or deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery (as defined above), and the institution shall be entitled to retain no more than $200 in tuition or fees as registration charges or an alternative amount that the institution can demonstrate to have been expended in undertaking that particular student's instruction plus a pro rata amount of any additional tuition and fees earned and paid according to the following schedule:

F. "Enrollment period for which the student was obligated" means a quarter, semester, or other term of instruction followed by the institution which the student has begun and for which the student has agreed to pay tuition.

G. Tuition/fee refunds must be made within 30 calendar days of the institution receiving written notice of a student's withdrawal or of the institution terminating enrollment of the student, whichever is earlier. Upon request by a student or the department, the institution shall provide an accounting for such amounts retained under this standard within five work days.

H. The institution's payment and refund policies shall be clearly articulated in the institution's catalog and as part of all enrollment agreements.

Special Lab & Course Fees

Some classes require fees in addition to standard tuition and fees. The online class schedule indicates such lab, course, and materials fees.

Late Payment Fee (Late Fee)

The Late Payment Fee is assessed each Wednesday night throughout the semester beginning the first week of classes. Late fees are assessed on ALL unpaid account balances at 20%, not to exceed $200.00 per semester, including accounts awaiting Financial Aid.

Late Registration Fee (Late ADD Fee)

Special approvals are required to register late for a class. The length of time for each late registration period is relative to each part of term and is governed by the Student Timetable. Students who add classes during the late registration period must finalize the process by paying for appropriate late registration fees in addition to their tuition/fees according to the published dates on the Semester Student Timetable.

Payment Options

At the Cashier Windows or One Stop

- Cash
- Check
- PIN-based debit
Online through Tuition Payment Plus

- Electronic Checks

Electronic Check payments are free of charge and can be made online only with the bank routing number and account number. Payments can be made from a personal checking or savings account. Corporate checks, credit card checks, home equity, traveler’s cheques, etc. are not accepted. Electronic check payments are processed through Tuition Payment PLUS, accessed through myUVU. Any check returned by the payer’s bank for any reason, will be considered a “dishonored” check and all penalties for a “dishonored” check will be applicable.

- Credit Cards

Payments with credit cards are accepted online only and will be charged a non-refundable service fee of 2.75% (minimum $3.00). Most major credit cards are accepted including VISA, MasterCard, American Express, and Discover.

Tuition Payment Plan

The tuition payment plan allows students to pay for their tuition and fees over the course of the semester in three payment installments with a minimal fee to enroll. If students enroll before the published Payment Deadline dates, their classes will not be dropped for nonpayment. In addition, enrollment in the payment plan before the Late Fee Deadline will prevent the 20% late fee from being assessed. More information about the payment plan can be found at uvu.edu/collections/tuitionpaymentplan/index.html.

Check Cashing Procedures

The University does not accept two-party checks. Checks written to UVU must have the student’s UV ID number, the payer’s address, and payer’s phone number on the face of the check. Two forms of identification are required at all campus check-cashing locations.

Checks made for an amount larger than the total tuition and fees due will not be accepted. Checks written for up to $5 over the amount of the purchase may be cashed at the Bookstore. All other campus locations accept checks for amount of purchase (or payment) only.

Dishonored Checks

A dishonored check is any check returned by the payer’s bank for any reason, including, but not limited to, insufficient funds, no account, bad account, stop payment, unauthorized account, refer to maker. Checks written that later have a “stop payment” placed upon them will be considered as “dishonored”.

A service charge will be assessed on each dishonored check unless the payer can document in writing from the bank that it was a bank error.

Third Party/Sponsored Payments

Students are responsible for ensuring that appropriate documentation for a third-party or sponsored payment is submitted to the Accounts Receivable Office prior to the start of classes each semester. If paperwork cannot be submitted to the Accounts Receivable Office by the published Payment Deadline, students should consider enrolling in the Tuition Payment Plan to avoid having their classes purged for nonpayment.

Students who are sponsored by a third-party must comply with the terms of the sponsor agreement and verify that all tuition and fees charges are paid by the sponsor. Any balance not paid by the sponsor remains the student responsibility and is subject to all payment deadlines and late fees.

If a student adjusts their registration schedule after their authorization has been received by UVU, it is the student's responsibility to verify that any course or tuition and fee changes will be paid by the sponsor and that these changes are reported to the Accounts Receivable office for proper processing.

If the sponsor does not provide funding by the end of the semester, the student will be responsible for payment of tuition and fees.

University Police

Crime Awareness & University Police

The safety and well-being of our students, faculty, and staff are a high priority at Utah Valley University.

Although the UVU campus is a relatively safe place, we are not immune to those problems that beset all urban citizens, including problems related to public safety and law enforcement.

The Utah Valley University Police Department (UVUPD), a police force fully accredited by the State of Utah, is charged with protecting your safety and property on our campuses. The following outlines the services, policies, and programs which help us to meet that challenge.

The full support and cooperation of the entire University community is required to allow for the pursuit of knowledge in a safe and secure environment.

Utah Valley University police provide several important services to a diverse University community consisting of approximately 33,000 students and supporting faculty and staff by providing 24 hour-a-day police patrol and security protection for the benefit of all University properties, employees, students and visitors on campus.

Utah Valley University police officers have the same full police powers and responsibilities as do officers in other Utah law enforcement agencies.

All UVUPD police officers are trained at Utah State Police Academies and each year receive a minimum of forty (40) hours of in-service and specialized training in crime prevention and awareness, first aid, firearms, defensive tactics, legal updates, evidence gathering, traffic control and traffic accident investigation, follow-up on criminal and civil investigations, etc.

Several patrol methods are used to secure and patrol University properties, including uniformed and plain clothes, vehicle, foot, and Segway patrol.

University police officers are also responsible for providing a full range of public safety services to the University community, including the handling of all crime reports, investigations, traffic accidents, enforcement of laws regulating underage drinking, the use of controlled substances, weapons violations, and enforcement of all applicable State, County and local laws, in addition to all other incidents such as medical and fire emergencies which require police assistance.

University police officers prepare and submit reports of incidents brought to their attention. As a courtesy, they share information on arrests and serious crimes with any law enforcement agency having a legitimate need to know.

The serial numbers of all vehicles, office equipment, and personal property stolen from our University campuses are reported nationwide through the National Crime Information Center (NCIC).
Introduction

UVUPD encourages the prompt and accurate reporting of crimes to our office by victims, witnesses or any other persons having knowledge that a crime has been committed on our campus.

The UVU Dispatch office is staffed 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year and can be reached by calling 801-863-5555 or dialing 9-1-1.

The University Police office is located in Gunther Trades 331.

There are emergency telephones located in each Orem Campus elevator. When activated these phones will automatically put you in direct contact with the elevator company.

Crime Awareness/Crime Prevention

An important function of UVUPD is making our campus users aware of how to avoid becoming a victim of crime.

If requested, one of our University police officers will talk to groups regarding Crime Awareness/Crime Prevention.

UVUPD officers will also provide escort services to those who desire assistance in safely getting to their car.

CAMPUS Safety Awareness Programs

The Chief of Police/Director of Public Safety, the University Fire Marshal and other staff members are involved in the University Safety Committee which makes periodic security and safety surveys of campus facilities.

Officer Friendly Program

Several times throughout the school year our University police officers will make an Officer Friendly presentation to the University Child Care Center emphasizing “police are our friends”. Child safety is stressed.

Grounds & Building Safety

The University Facilities and Planning/Plant Operations Departments maintain college buildings and grounds with a concern for safety and security. These facilities are inspected regularly; plant staff attempt to make prompt repairs and respond 24 hours-a-day to reports of potential safety and security hazards, such as broken windows and locks. The University Police Department assists maintenance personnel by reporting potential safety and security hazards. Students, as well as employees, are encouraged to call Facilities Planning and Maintenance (801-863-8130) to report any hazard.

Representatives from University Police/Department of Public Safety and Facilities Planning routinely inspect the entire campus to review lighting and environmental safety concerns.

Crime Statistics for the University Community

The University Police Department submits a monthly Uniform Crime Report to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) through the Utah Bureau of Criminal Identification. UCR data is available online through BCI at publicsafety.utah.gov/bci.

UVU also submits crime data to the Department of Education. For a more detailed breakdown, see www.uvu.edu/police.

A glossary of offenses is available at ope.ed.gov/security/index.aspx.

OFF-CAMPUS STUDENT RESIDENCES

There are numerous privately owned rental units off-campus in which students reside. The University encourages students to locate and investigate off-campus living units whose owners have agreed to exercise reasonable efforts to maintain rental facilities in good repair including properly functioning locks on doors and windows. Some of the large apartment complexes provide their own night security watch.

THE UNIVERSITY CANNOT AND DOES NOT GUARANTEE OR REPRESENT THAT OWNERS AND MANAGERS ALWAYS MEET OUR SUGGESTED PHYSICAL CRITERIA. Thus, students are individually responsible to carefully choose a safe and secure off-campus apartment.

Crime prevention and crime awareness programs emphasizing security and what students and employees can do to help themselves from becoming a victim are provided free, upon request, by contacting local police agencies or the University Police Department, telephone 801-863-5555.

The University Police Department is responsible for policing the Utah Valley University campuses. The respective city police departments are responsible to police the surrounding areas where our students may choose to live.

The University Police Department has a mutual working relationship with all Local, County, Federal and any other State law enforcement agencies in Utah County (Utah Valley region), providing each department as requested, or as becomes necessary, with patrol assistance, information exchange, and back up.

Skateboards, Roller Blades, Hover Boards, Roller Skates, Bicycles, & Motorcycles

Skateboards, roller blades, hover boards, roller skates, and bicycles are allowed on campus exterior locations for transportation only. All Utah State traffic laws and University administrative rules regarding the use of such devices must be obeyed at all times. NO stunts or tricks are allowed. Motorcycles and like devices shall not be operated on sidewalks without the approval of the Chief of Police or the Facilities Director, unless it is a university owned vehicle responding to an emergency situation.

Sanctions

Violations of this policy may be enforced against students, employees and visitors of Utah Valley University by notices or citations which may be processed and settled through the police office or court of jurisdiction whichever is appropriate.
Other Facilities Utilized by UVU

UVU has satellite offices located in several communities throughout Utah such as: Spanish Fork, and Heber City. University Police provide law enforcement and crime prevention services for these areas as needed. Routine patrol coverage is by the appropriate local law enforcement agencies.

The mission of UVU Aviation Science is to provide a superior educational experience which prepares students for successful careers and promotes responsible citizenship in a global aviation environment. Degrees are offered through technology-enhanced traditional classroom and innovative online delivery methods. Simulations and flight training are integrated with scholarly work to create a complete and well-balanced aeronautics program. The curriculum is developed through ties with industry to incorporate changing standards in technology and procedural advances. Our student-centered approach encourages leadership and engaged life-long learning. We emphasize public awareness and safety in aviation as our commitment to the community at large.

The Behavioral Science department is a rigorous interdisciplinary program (Anthropology, Family Studies, Psychology, Social Work, Sociology, Substance Use Disorder Counseling, and Autism Studies) that prepares students to make positive contributions in their academic, work, and community settings by developing their understanding of human functioning in various contexts. We promote and mentor student engagement with each other and with their academic, professional, or geographic communities in order to achieve essential learning outcomes.

Communications

- Department Chair: Janet Colvin
- Office: CB 502V
- Telephone: 801-863-7282
Colleges and Schools

The mission of the Department of Communication is to prepare students to execute critical thinking skills and to help students prepare for careers that require expertise in oral, written, and/or mediated communications. The department offers programs of study leading to Associate in Arts/Science and Bachelor of Arts/Science degrees with concentrations in Journalism, Public Relations, or Speech Communication. Communication is also available as an emphasis for a BA or BS in Integrated Studies.

Programs of study in Communication at UVU offer a balance of analytic and applied approaches to study in the field. The department offers an expanding menu of beginning and advanced courses in interpersonal communication, intercultural communication, international communication, organizational communication and journalism.

Encouraging student internships, and working closely with Student Media and other units on campus, the curriculum balances traditional, academic-style learning with applied, practical approaches to study in the field.

Note: Communication students in the journalism emphasis are required to have laptop computers.

English & Literature

- Department Chair: Grant Moss
  - Office: CB 402A
  - Telephone: 801-863-6294

- Assistant Chair: Nathan Gorelick
  - Office: CB 402A
  - Telephone: 801-863-6072

The Department of English and Literature provides an innovative and stimulating learning environment to help students broaden their cultural experiences, deepen and refine their abilities in critical thinking, and improve their skills in written and verbal communication. By offering courses, programs and activities in literature, creative writing, college-level composition, and technical communication, the department aims to foster an invigorating and diverse learning community that changes the ways students envision themselves and the world, thus making them more thoughtful and productive contributors to their communities. Students pursuing English studies gain invaluable workplace skills: they think more critically and creatively; they communicate clearly and logically; they comprehend the ways language defines and affects behavior, and they come to understand the complexity of human relations in various cultural and historical contexts.

History & Political Science

- Department Chair: David Connelly
  - Office: CB 203A
  - Telephone: 801-863-8642

In keeping with the University's mission, the History and Political Science department is dedicated to providing students with a broad range of opportunities and experiences in general-education and discipline-specific courses in history and political science. Classes are taught in ways that foster critical thinking and analysis of complex issues and materials through lecture, reading, class discussion, and the development of written- and oral-presentation skills. The History and Political Science department strives to provide a reflective, multicultural, and international perspective.

Integrated Studies

- Department Chair: Wayne Hanewicz
  - Office: CB 311H
  - Telephone: 801-863-6343

- Administrative Support: Mark Olson
  - Office: CB 311C
  - Telephone: 801-863-5888

- Advisor: Lynne Hetzel
  - Office: CB 506D
  - Telephone: 801-863-6485

The individualized nature of the Integrated Studies degree is attractive to students with multiple interests who want to develop skills that are relevant to a variety of careers. Students integrate course work in emphases such as science, business, health, literature, languages, communication, philosophy, behavioral science, social science and the arts. Emphases from computer science and information systems, accounting, technology and trades and physical education are also offered as part of this degree. http://www.uvu.edu/is/

Interdisciplinary Studies Program

- Director: John Goshert
  - Office: CB 410f
  - Telephone: 801-863-6288
Interdisciplinary Studies provides a framework for supporting innovative, boundary-crossing inquiry among students and faculty across campus as well as in wider intellectual and social communities. IDST coordinates existing multidisciplinary minor and emphasis programs and provides guidance and support as new programs are envisioned and established. IDST programs promote instructional excellence and offer a variety of courses and events that enhance the overall academic experience at Utah Valley University.

Interdisciplinary Minor Programs

- American Indian Studies
- American Studies
- Cinema Studies
- Chinese Commerce
- Chinese Studies
- Classical Studies
- Deaf Studies

- Gender Studies
- Peace and Justice Studies
- Religious Studies
- Russian Studies

Languages and Cultures

- Department Chair: Jeff Packer
  - Office: CB 310B
  - Telephone: 801-863-8518

The Department of Languages promotes global awareness, intercultural understanding and international insights by providing instruction in eight languages (American Sign Language, Chinese, German, French, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish). The lower division courses (1000-2000 level) fulfill Associate in Arts and Bachelor of Arts program requirements; the upper division courses (3000-4000 level) apply to degree program requirements, including the Deaf Studies, ASL and Deaf Studies Education, Spanish and Spanish Education degrees, the Integrated Studies degree (emphasis in Spanish, French, or ASL), and the minors in Deaf Studies, French, German, Languages and Spanish. Language instruction is enhanced by excellent, caring instructors who are supported by a multimedia language lab focused on cutting-edge technology in the delivery of instruction.

Philosophy & Humanities

- Department Chair: Pierre Lamarche
  - Office: CB 507B
  - Telephone: 801-863-8214
- Associate Chair: Dennis Potter
  - Office: CB 507D
  - Telephone: 801-863-8817
- Director of Humanities: Sam Liang
  - Office: LA 121
  - Telephone: 801-863-6266

The Department of Philosophy and Humanities provides critical study of the creative and intellectual underpinnings of the liberal arts curriculum that connects students to the past, present and future. Students will understand and be able to apply foundational philosophical concepts in all major disciplines, including concepts from multicultural, historical, artistic and values-conscious belief systems. The department is dedicated to enhancing critical thinking and writing skills to support student occupational and academic endeavors.

College of Science and Health

The College of Science and Health is committed to providing courses and programs to meet community needs for major and professional education, service courses for majors outside the College, general and transfer education, skill development, personal enhancement and career enhancement. The faculty of the College are committed to providing an atmosphere which encourages innovation and opportunities for students and faculty to attain their personal and professional goals. Recognizing students as the priority and focus of the College, College faculty are committed to providing high quality learning experiences in an environment in which students can actively participate in learning, raise questions about assumptions, and develop a scholarly approach to the sciences and health professions. All programs in the College emphasize critical thinking and lifelong learning.

Earth scientists help society make use of natural resources while protecting environmental quality for future generations. The degree programs in Earth Science prepare students for careers in water resources, treatment of drinking and waste water, cleanup of polluted soil and groundwater, engineering geology, and oil and mineral exploration. Many students pursue graduate programs in geology, environmental science, and law.

Exercise Science & Outdoor Recreation

- Department Chair: Mike Bohne

Graduates from Exercise Science & Outdoor Recreation find productive careers in several different areas. A majority of Exercise Science students pursue graduate programs in physical therapy, exercise physiology, biomechanics, physician’s assistant, and occupational therapy. Outdoor Recreation graduates are prepared to work in fields such as park interpretation, resort recreation, corporate recreation management, and recreation outdoor leadership. Physical Education Teacher Education graduates are employed as teachers at the K-12 level.

Several career paths are available to physics graduates, including high-tech industry, research, medical physics, technical writing, and computer science. Many physics students pursue graduate degrees in physics or related fields (engineering, patent law, etc.). Physics is also a common pre-med degree. The UVU Physics degree requirements maybe be tailored to suit a student’s particular interests. For example, a student wishing to attend medical school may focus elective credits on biology and chemistry.

Public & Community Health

Public and Community Health graduates pursue a variety of careers, including health education, health promotion, and health services administration. Graduates are qualified to work in government health agencies and in private-sector settings, such as public health departments, health maintenance organizations, hospitals, clinics, and specialized health agencies such as the American Heart Association. An emphasis in School Health Education prepares students to teach health in secondary education.

College of Technology and Computing

The mission of the College of Technology and Computing is to prepare students for successful careers or advanced study in a dynamic, technology-based, global environment. The college utilizes an applied learning environment to provide the needed technical knowledge, skills, and scholarship that enable students to excel in their chosen profession. In addition, the college is committed to mutually enriching relationships with alumni, government, regional industry—and beyond, to supplement the classroom, to provide real-world experience, and to foster a desire for lifelong learning.

The mission of the UVU Automotive Department is to conduct academic and applied teaching. The training programs provide qualified employees for entry level positions in all categories of the Automotive, Collision / Refinish, and Diesel repair technology industries. These programs will afford students the opportunity to attain a one, two, and/or four-year degree at the completion of their training. The training provided will have an emphasis on basic skills and principles which will allow participants to adapt to new and ever changing technologies. Current and foreseeable technology will be utilized in presenting and practicing basic performance skills.

Digital Media (DGM) fuses both fundamental theory and practical application in the production of electronically generated content to be delivered via Internet, radio and television, digital cinema, computer games, animation and cinematic visual effects, as well as for emerging technologies such as mobile computing (hand-held computing devices). The
The curriculum integrates these digital mediums to entertain, educate, and communicate ideas through meaningful human interaction. DGM provides motivated and dedicated students the opportunity to work closely with professionally active faculty members committed to the future of the digital disciplines.

The Mission of the Engineering Technology Department is to prepare graduates to work in high demand, very technical, vastly diverse, automated industries that provide products and services to keep our state and national economy running. The Pre-Engineering graduates are prepared to go into upper level engineering fields at local universities in the state. The Mechatronics graduates are focused on designing the newest machines and automated systems needed by industry. The Electrical Automation and Robotics Technology graduates keep industry running by fixing, adapting, programming, and maintaining the automated machines and systems used in industry. The hands on/class room/lab learning approach used in the Engineering Technology Department is the best skill learning approach in higher education.

The mission of the Technology Management department is to provide academic degrees in technical and operations management relevant to the global economy. Our courses provide appropriate knowledge and skills through engaged learning, hands-on activities, scholarship investigation, ethical responsibility, creativity, and lifelong learning. Students will be prepared for professional careers in management and entrepreneurship as well as provided with a strong foundation for advanced academic study. Our graduates will also be prepared to contribute to their employers and communities through leadership, service, and a concern for the environment.

Other Academic Programs

Occasionally, academic programs span all or several of the colleges or schools of the University. These programs often have an interdisciplinary aspect to them. They are enhancements to and enrichments of other existing programs explained within the colleges or schools and departments in other descriptions in this catalog.

The interdisciplinary programs at UVU provide students with rich and varied opportunities to engage in study and research that address complex problems by drawing on multiple disciplinary tools.

UVU offers several curriculum-spanning opportunities for students to explore interdisciplinary relationships.

The Leadership Certification Program brings together students who are interested in strengthening their leadership skills, no matter what their major.

The Center for the Study of Ethics provides opportunities for students to think more deeply about the ethical dimensions of contemporary life.

The Honors Program works with a number of departments and colleges and schools on campus to prepare students for graduate or professional schools, among other futures, through interdisciplinary research, internship, field, and experiential learning opportunities.

The Integrated Studies Program allows students to engage in cross-disciplinary research that can culminate in an associate and/or bachelor degree.

The Interdisciplinary Studies Program offers nine stand-alone minors, in topic-specific areas with curricula drawn from various departments.

Interdisciplinary programs at UVU offer innovative learning experiences that challenge, teach, and prepare student for successful lives and careers after graduation.

For more information, please see individual department pages.

See below for more detail on interdisciplinary or cross-discipline programs and opportunities.

Leadership Certification Program

The Center for the Advancement of Leadership (CAL) has designed an extra-curricular Engaged Learning University Distinction in Leadership for any and all students on the UVU Campus. Whether majoring in business, engineering, law, emergency services, biology, aviation, or any other degree or program, this Engaged Learning Distinction is designed for students who wish to advance their personal, interpersonal, organizational and/or civic leadership skills while pursuing their degrees and programs – making them more productive and marketable to their future employers and/or graduate or professional schools.

All students are invited to preview the program by visiting our website at uvu.edu/leadership, attending our monthly Master Mind Meeting the first Monday of each month, visiting our office in LC 302, or calling (801-863-6466).

Leadership Certification Structure

The Engaged Learning University Distinction in Leadership focuses on four key aspects of personal development: Learn, Engage, Acquire, and Discover. Together, these four aspects ensure leadership growth concurrently in both the personal and professional arenas.

The Engaged Learning University Distinction in Leadership is a two year program.
Center for the Study of Ethics

- Director: Brian D. Birch
- Associate Director: Courtney Davis
- Coordinator: Susanna Garcia
- Office: CB 411
- Telephone: 801-863-5455
- Email: ethics@uvu.edu
- Web: uvu.edu/ethics

The Center for the Study of Ethics (CSE) supports and facilitates the interdisciplinary study of ethics. This includes traditional moral philosophy and the integration of theory and practice across the disciplines and professions. Center activities include public forums, co-curricular support of faculty and student scholarship, and community engagement activities.

Because an educated citizenry is necessary for democracy, the study of interdisciplinary ethics aids individuals in moral decision-making relevant to professional, private, and public life. While CSE programming addresses a range of challenging ethical and public policy issues, the CSE is a non-advocacy center designed to promote academic achievement and community dialogue.

Regular events include Ethics Awareness Week, the Environmental Ethics Symposium, the Faculty Summer Seminar. The CSE also hosts a variety of customized forums in response to student interest and contemporary events.

The organizational structure of the CSE is comprised of an Executive Committee, the Community Advisory Board, and the Faculty Advisory Committee.

Ethics forums are free and open to the public.

The Honors Program at Utah Valley University provides opportunities for highly motivated students pursuing any associates or baccalaureate degree to realize academic, professional, and personal potential. Honors offers a powerful first-year experience, sustained peer-group interactions, and small courses with outstanding faculty employing innovative classroom approaches. Honors students benefit from experiential learning, undergraduate research, cultural events, and dynamic social gatherings. Honors students also experience extensive mentoring by faculty while researching and completing a year-long Honors thesis or project, leaving students well-positioned to succeed in applications to competitive graduate and professional schools. Close interaction with faculty in small Honors courses also fosters opportunities for students’ career and professional development. Graduate school and employment applications are enhanced by the numerous research, internship, field, and experiential learning opportunities provided by the Honors Program.

Unique in Utah, the Honors Colloquium is a 1-credit course that includes cohort building activities emphasizing cultural, outdoor, and academic activities. These include trips to the Utah Symphony, Utah Opera, guest lecturers from the academic and professional communities, outdoor recreation activities, reading groups, and community or campus service projects. The Colloquium syllabus is available each semester in the Honors Office (LC 204) or in electronic form from the Faculty Director and Program Coordinators.

The Honors Program also offers merit-based tuition scholarships to Utah residents, as well as a competitive housing scholarship that is available to both resident and non-resident students. Application to the program and for these scholarships occurs each October for Spring semester and each January for Fall semester.

Interdisciplinary Studies provides a framework for supporting innovative, boundary-crossing inquiry among students and faculty across campus as well as in wider intellectual and social communities. IDST coordinates existing multidisciplinary minor and emphasis programs and provides guidance and support as new programs are envisioned and established. IDST programs promote instructional excellence and offer a variety of courses and events that enhance the overall academic experience at Utah Valley University.

School of Education

The School of Education prepares competent, caring and qualified individuals who are ready to assume the role of teacher in elementary and secondary schools, as well as prepare them for further career choices and advancement. The professional program provides essential coursework and experiences to support students as they progress toward becoming professional educators. Students are engaged in research-based and standards-based instruction in content and pedagogy. Candidates are expected to plan, instruct, and assess in a manner that meets curriculum, school and district goals as well as the diverse instructional and experiential needs of all students. Candidates reflect on their own practice and performance, analyze progress, and make choices for future professional growth. In the Master's program, new knowledge is put into practice in students' own classrooms. Graduates acquire knowledge, skills, and dispositions to positively impact their classroom, school, and community as they continue on the journey of life-long learning.

The Department of Art and Design prepares students for careers in applied arts, fine arts, and art education. Training is provided for both 2-dimensional and 3-dimensional art in a variety of media. Professional training is provided in the areas of graphic design, illustration, photography, painting/drawing and sculpture/ceramics through the BFA degree. The BFA degree is a competitive program for those with above average abilities in art and requires students to specialize in one of the aforementioned areas. The BS/BA degrees are general degrees that allow students to study various aspects of art and visual communications and are open to all. The Bachelor of Science in Art Education helps prepare students to teach in secondary schools. Some of our 1000 level courses also fulfill general education requirements.

Dance

• Department Chair: Nichole Ortega
• Office: LA 022d
• Telephone: 801-863-8610

The mission of Utah Valley University Department of Dance is to foster academic and artistic excellence through an intensive technical and reflective study of dance. Anchored in a common core curriculum with several areas of emphasis, our program provides a rich and stimulating environment where students cultivate their technical, aesthetic, creative, and scholarly potential. We value superior teaching which promotes dance as an artistic and cultural expression that has the power to enrich and transform the individual, community, and society.

Students interested in pursuing a degree in dance can choose from the following degree paths: AS Pre-Major in Dance, BFA in Dance with an emphasis in Ballet or Modern Dance, BS in Dance with an emphasis in Ballroom Dance, and BS in Dance Education. A variety of student, pre-professional and professional companies within the department provide excellent local, national and international performing opportunities for students in formal and informal as well as, adjudicated settings. Membership in companies is by audition only.

Those trained in dance find careers as public and private school teachers, college and university educators (requires graduate degree), performers, choreographers, dance historians and critics, administrators, dance therapists and professionals in the field of somatics, private studio owners, health and fitness consultants, researchers, notators and movement analysts.

Music
The Department of Music promotes student success through innovative programs that enhance musical creativity, hone performance expertise, and sustain high standards of academic excellence. It provides world-class faculty and opportunities essential to the professional competency of music students as they prepare for an increasingly global marketplace. Cultivating appreciation for the musical arts, it engages diverse audiences in the campus, regional, and global communities through performances and activities representing an array of musical styles and traditions.

Our objectives are to:

Offer the highest quality of education for students pursuing undergraduate programs in music performance, commercial music, music education, liberal arts in music, and integrated studies with a music emphasis.

Provide general music studies and performance opportunities to all students on campus.

Foster an open and inclusive environment that engages traditional and non-traditional students, celebrates diversity, and promotes understanding of a variety of musical styles and cultures.

Promote a supportive and stimulating environment within the department that encourages students and faculty to explore creativity and innovation at their highest professional potential to enhance their success.

Theatrical Arts for Stage & Screen

The Department of Theatrical Arts for Stage and Screen offers programs of study leading to the Associate in Science degree, to the Associate in Applied Science degree, and to three baccalaureate degrees – Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science in Theatre Arts Education, and the Bachelor of Fine Arts in Theatre Arts. The Department provides cultural experiences and undergraduate instruction in theatre and film for the individual theatre major, the UVU student community, and the community at large, preparing students not only for continued education and employment, but also for lifelong learning, personal fulfillment, and culturally active citizenship.

The Department mounts four to six productions per year encompassing a rich variety of genres and time periods. Students work side-by-side with faculty whose combined professional theatre experience and academic credentials enrich coursework in performance, script analysis, script writing, directing, theatre history and literature, theatre management, and in design for lighting, sound, scenery, costumes, and makeup. Productions are often selected for showcasing in the Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival, where students also compete for scholarships and professional employment.

Smaller student cohorts make it possible for the vast majority of student performers to be on stage in any given school year and for aspiring technicians and designers to be involved in the production process early in their college careers. The annual Short Attention-Span Theatre Festival features student-written, -directed, -designed, and -performed productions.

The Department, working in relationship with the Sundance Resort, produces the Sundance Summer Theatre every July and August. Students are given opportunities to perform, design, build, and stage manage these semi-professional productions.

The Department also manages a Theatre Study Abroad program, where 10-15 students spend four weeks living and studying theatre in London. Students also produce a performance piece that travels to and performs at the Edinburgh Fringe Theatre Festival.

Woodbury Art Museum

The Woodbury Art Museum serves as a catalyst in engaging our community in aesthetic investigation and cultural awareness. The museum collects, preserves, and exhibits art and related materials, focusing on modern and contemporary artistic styles. These exhibitions, programs, and collections stimulate research and serve as a valuable resource in our academic setting as well as in the community.

The Woodbury Art Museum provides free exhibitions and programs for local communities. Showcasing the museum's Permanent Collection and rotating exhibitions, the museum has been presenting the visual arts since 2002. We are located on the second floor of the University Place. The Woodbury Art Museum exists out of the generosity of Orrin and Wally Woodbury.

The Utah Valley University Arts Resource Council is an active partner in helping the School of the Arts accomplish many things. Chosen for their demonstrated leadership and accomplishments in the arts, business and/or community service, Council members provide valuable counsel and assistance in the areas of creative and scholarly activity.
Colleges and Schools

development, fund raising, and increasing awareness in the community. Success in these focus areas contributes significantly to the students and faculty of the School of the Arts and allows the School to more fully enrich the community.

University College

University College serves a unique role and mission within Utah Valley University. Based on a national model, the name University College signifies opportunity for student success through curricular and co-curricular offerings, academic services, and innovative programs. University College welcomes students at present levels of achievement and challenges them with higher expectations. The programs and departments of Literacies and Composition, Student Leadership & Success Studies, Developmental Mathematics, English Language Learning, Academic Counseling Center, Academic Standards, Writing Center, Academic Tutoring, Math Lab, and First Year Experience & Student Retention promote interdisciplinary partnerships as students transition into university academics.

The courses offered by the Department of Developmental Mathematics are designed to provide a foundation in preparatory mathematics that is required for higher level mathematics courses and that support our students in many disciplines. The courses also provide for the development of critical thinking skills that are applicable to all aspects of academic life.

The Department of Developmental Mathematics offers MAT 1000, MAT 1010, and MAT 1030 as transferable, college credit classes, as well as prerequisites for MATH 1040, and MATH 1050. The Department of Developmental Mathematics also offers preparatory, non-transferable courses for students who need to strengthen mathematics skills before entering MAT 1010.

The mission of the English Language Learning department at Utah Valley University is to provide a broad range of quality academic and social opportunities designed to help non-native English speaking students understand and successfully meet academic language expectations within an American university by demonstrating proficiency in reading, writing, grammar, and listening/speaking.
Colleges and Schools

All students are required to take a placement examination prior to registration for any courses. Placement/promotion testing is done at the beginning and end of each semester. All students who successfully complete the advanced level courses and meet the ELL Program exit criteria are admitted into the university to begin their undergraduate or graduate academic studies.

The Literacies and Composition Department is dedicated to assisting students and community members who wish to improve their reading, writing, and communication skills in preparation for taking college courses or for self-improvement. Instruction in the Literacies & Composition program emphasizes helping students to think critically, comprehend and respond to written texts, analyze and synthesize texts, organize ideas, use logic and support to present oral and written arguments, compose in a variety of electronic environments, and learn the conventions of academic English. The Literacies & Composition Department strives to accomplish its mission by providing a learner-centered environment which allows students to develop self-confidence along with the skills necessary to succeed in their academic or occupational endeavors. The Department uses a variety of instructional formats including traditional classroom settings, hybrid and online instruction, collaborative learning activities, peer and instructor tutorials, and individualized instruction to meet student needs.

Learning Communities consist of two courses linked together where you are with the same students in both classes, explore common themes, build partnerships with professors and peers, and participate in rewarding community engagement projects. Participation in a Learning Community offers a number of benefits, all of which help promote your academic and social success at UVU. The potential benefits include:

- Enhanced academic and social opportunities
- Improved GPA
Colleges and Schools

• Improved connection to faculty and other students
• Greater involvement in learning
• Increased satisfaction with your UVU experience
• Increased persistence to graduation

Academic Counseling Center

• Director: Adam Black
• Office: LC 402
• Telephone: 801-863-8425
• Email: acadcounseling@uvu.edu
• Web: uvu.edu/acc

The Academic Counseling Center (ACC) is committed to meeting the career and academic needs of current and future students, faculty, staff, and community members. Our center is an ideal starting point for undecided students, with many working towards their Associate in Science (AS) or Associate in Arts (AA) degree in University Studies, or those pursuing professional programs requiring formal application such as Law and Medical school.

Academic Advising & Counseling

Academic counselors are available to assist students in determining and achieving their educational goals. Counselors are qualified to help students select majors and careers, review prior education, and plan educational programs.

The ACC provides advisement for general education requirements and is the advisement center for those majoring in University Studies. Students are referred to departmental advisors for help in meeting their major requirements. Other services provided include assisting students experiencing academic difficulties and enforcing academic standards.

The ACC also has counselors for students seeking admission into Law School, Medical, Dental, Nursing and many other health occupations.

Referrals are made to help students achieve their educational goals. Some of these include referrals to personnel in the Accessibility Services Center, Student Health Services, Testing Services, University Studies, and to academic departmental advisors.

Career Assessment & Counseling

Our counselors provide a full range of career assessment. These services include:

• Career interest/personality testing
• One-on-one career counseling sessions
• Career workshops
• Occupational information
• Use of UtahFutures career and educational software
• Career resource library
• Vocational evaluation services

Academic Standards

• Director: Jan Klingman
• Office: LC 402
• Telephone: 801-863-5325

• Hours:
  • Monday 8 a.m. - 6 p.m.
  • Tuesday 8 a.m. - 7 p.m.
  • Wednesday 8 a.m. - 7 p.m.
  • Thursday 8 a.m. - 7 p.m.
  • Friday 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

The primary mission of the Academic Standards Office at UVU is to promote students' academic success and to assist those experiencing academic difficulty. The work of the Academic Standards Office is to assist students in discovering and accessing the personal or college resources that will allow them to reach their full potential. When students fall below the grade point average standard of 2.0, the programs of the Academic Standards Office are intended to bring them back on course toward academic success and graduation.

Academic Standards will help students find success through:

• Probation and Warning Workshops
• Referrals to other applicable resources and departments
• One-on-one academic counseling
• Grade check appointments
• StrengthsFinder assessments

The Student Success/UV Mentor program, in partnership with Student Affairs, focuses on preparing students for their college experience. The program is committed to leveraging students for success and persistence in achieving their academic goals. The program is fully integrated into campus-wide student success and retention initiatives. The University Student Success course (SLSS 1000), taught through the Department of Student Leadership Success Studies, is the recommended starting point for first-year students. The objectives of the University Student Success course include:

- Study Strategies
- Self-Discovery and Awareness
- Socialization and Connection to the campus community

The program is home to the UV Mentors. Our UV Mentors are dedicated student leaders who are trained to mentor first-year students and assist instructors in every section of University Student Success. The goals of UV Mentors are to connect personally to their students by mentoring them and modeling the skills being taught. UV Mentors are students who are successful in their SLSS 1000 class, who then enroll in the Leadership Mentoring I class (SLSS 2200), and then were selected to serve as peer mentors. UV Mentors are awarded tuition waivers for their service.

Mission Statement

Through exceptional business education, we help students become successful professionals who build our community.

Core Themes - (University Alignment: Student Success, Engagement, Inclusivity, and Seriousness)

1. Delta: Maximize student improvement through engaged learning (E)
2. Placement: Help students obtain and succeed in careers aligned with their goals (SS)
3. Scholarship: Produce and promote research that improves business education and practice (S)
4. Reach: Serve as many people in our community as we can (I)

Accreditation

The Woodbury School of Business was reaccredited with the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) accreditation in fall 2011. AACSB International Business accreditation is an achievement earned only by programs of the highest caliber. Institutions that earn accreditation confirm their commitment to quality and continuous improvement through a rigorous and comprehensive peer review.

Advisement Center

The Woodbury School of Business Advisement Center provides one-on-one advising throughout a student’s program. Information regarding transfer programs is readily available by contacting departmental advisors in WB 257 of the Woodbury Business Building. Each student should make an appointment to see a Woodbury School of Business advisor early in his/her first semester on campus.

Internships

The Woodbury School of Business encourages students to enroll in internship courses once they have advanced standing (matriculation). Completing between three and six credits of internship is required of many degrees in the Woodbury School of Business. An internship combines classroom theory with related, practical job experience. While enrolled at the university, students select a work environment related to their major. Internship experience serves as a resume builder and assists students in launching their careers following graduation.

A coordinator works closely with students and employers to ensure that the internship is a successful career education experience. The Woodbury School of Business Manager of Career and Corporate Development is:

- Jessica McArthur
  - Office: WB 146k
  - Telephone: 801-863-6243

Admission to the Woodbury School of Business

Students choosing to pursue majors in the Woodbury School of Business should decide early, plan their schedules carefully, be aware of all the requirements, and stay informed about any changes by checking often with advisors in the Woodbury School of Business Advisement Center.

Accessibility to the Woodbury School of Business Courses

All 1000- and 2000-level business courses are open to all UVU students along with selected 3000- and 4000-level courses. Some courses have prerequisites, which must be satisfied. No more than 9 credits of upper-division courses can be taken before a student has been formally matriculated into the UVU Woodbury School of Business.

Repeating Failed Foundation Core Courses

Each business major has foundation core courses. A student will be allowed to repeat a failed foundation core course only twice. If the foundation core course is not passed with a minimum grade of “C-” after the third attempt, the student will not be allowed to apply for advanced standing (matriculation) toward a degree in one of the Woodbury School of Business majors.

Application Requirements for (Matriculation)

To be considered for matriculation in a Woodbury School of Business four-year program, a student must do the following:

- Complete the foundation core courses listed for their major with at least a “C-“ grade; Legal Studies majors must have a grade of “C+” or higher. A student will be limited in taking upper-division coursework (3000 level or higher) until these foundation courses are completed.
- IM 2010 and MKTG 2200 require a B-grade.
- Complete matriculation orientation course (CEBU 100).
- Achieve a grade point average (GPA) in business courses of at least a 2.5 and an overall GPA of 2.0.
- Make formal application for (matriculation) through a Woodbury School of Business advisor.
- The student will be required to complete the program that is in effect at the time (matriculation) is granted. Exceptions will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

Major Specialization of Courses

After matriculation, the student will be required to complete the remaining courses in their major specialization. See your Woodbury School of Business advisor or the appropriate section of the current catalog for requirements for each major specialization.

Maintenance of Matriculation

Once matriculated, the student must maintain the 2.5 business GPA to remain in the Woodbury School of Business. A student falling below the minimum GPA will be placed on probation for one semester. If the business GPA remains below 2.5 for a second semester, matriculation will be revoked. A student who wishes to continue in the Woodbury School of Business major will be required to retake some classes to bring up the business GPA to at least 2.5 and will be required to apply for reinstatement for matriculation.

A student will be allowed to repeat a failed major specialization course only twice. If the course is not passed with a minimum of “C-“ after the third attempt (“C+” for Legal Studies majors), the student will be dropped from the Woodbury School of Business program.

Graduation Requirements

A Bachelor of Science degree in a Woodbury School of Business major may be earned upon the completion of four years of full-time (16 credits per semester) university work. The bachelor degree consists of 120-124 semester credit hours with a minimum of 40 hours upper-division credits. At least 30 of the credit hours earned in the degree must be Woodbury School of Business courses; 10 of these credit hours must be within the last 45 credit hours earned toward completion of the degree. The student pursuing a bachelor... degree must also complete the general education requirements listed for the Associate in Science degree. The student must have a minimum 2.5 GPA in all Woodbury School of Business courses and a minimum 2.0 GPA overall for graduation.

The Woodbury School of Business reserves the right to change, at any time, the requirements for graduation and every candidate not yet matriculated into a Woodbury School of Business degree will be required to comply with such changes as far as the uncompleted portion of his/her degree is affected. Any exceptions must be approved by the Dean. In addition courses within degrees may change at any time. Students will be required to complete the revised course requirements even if the changes add credit hours to the original degree.

Whether or not a course is accepted toward degree requirements is determined by the date it was taken and the grade received. For details contact your UVU Woodbury School of Business Advisor or the Woodbury School of Business Assistant Dean.

Credit Policy

1. Obsolete Credit: UVU Woodbury School of Business credit or business transfer credit earned more than ten years earlier than the proposed date of graduation (five years for business computer proficiency) may not be accepted toward requirements for graduation unless validated through taking a challenge examination, completing the next course in a related sequence with a grade of "C" or better, or receiving department chair and assistant dean approval.

2. Waiver/substitution Requests: Any deviations from the printed UVU Woodbury School of Business graduation requirements must be approved by the appropriate department chair and the assistant dean prior to waiving, substituting, or taking the course(s) in question.

3. Challenge/Experiential Credit: Credit for any course that appears in the current catalog may be awarded to individuals who can prove through appropriate assessment and/or documentation that they have already acquired the equivalent knowledge and/or expertise required for successful completion of that course. See your Woodbury School of Business advisor for details on how to receive challenge credit for a specific course. Students may not challenge a class for which they are or have been enrolled. No more than 25 percent of the minimum credits of challenge/experiential may be applied to a bachelor degree in the Woodbury School of Business.

4. Coop/Internship Credits: Academic credit for cooperative work experience and/or internship may be granted in associate and bachelor degrees. Check with your Woodbury School of Business advisor for the maximum number of coop/internship credits that can be applied to your specific program. Additional coop/internship credits may be taken (but not applied toward graduation) with the approval of the manager of career and corporate development and the assistant dean.

5. Transfer Credits: Students transferring from other colleges or universities within the Utah System of Higher Education (USHE) should consult their Woodbury School of Business advisor to determine which credits will be accepted by UVU. Students wishing to transfer Woodbury School of Business credits from colleges or universities outside the state not covered by the USHE Transfer Credit Guide may need to submit further documentation which allows the Transfer Office, Woodbury School of Business advisor, department chair, and/or Woodbury School of Business assistant dean to assess the content of courses taken. In the majority of cases, courses taken at institutions accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) International will be accepted. Only courses with a grade of "C-" or higher are eligible for credit. Classes taken more than 10 years ago may not be accepted but will be evaluated individually.

Application Requirements (Matriculation)

To be considered for matriculation in a Woodbury School of Business four-year program, a student must do the following:

- Complete the foundation core courses for their major with at least a “C-” grade; Legal Studies majors must have a grade of "C+" or higher. A student will be limited in taking upper-division coursework (3000 level or higher) until these foundation courses are completed.
- IM 2010 and MKTG 2200 require a B- grade.
- Complete matriculation orientation course (CEBU100)
- Achieve a grade point average (GPA) in business courses of at least a 2.5 and an overall GPA of 2.0.
- Make formal application for (matriculation) through a Woodbury School of Business advisor.
- The student will be required to complete the program that is in effect at the time (matriculation) is granted. Exceptions will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

Maintenance of Matriculation

Business Computer Proficiency

Most of the degrees offered in the Woodbury School of Business require the student to demonstrate business computer proficiency. Students pursuing most bachelor degrees must complete this proficiency requirement before they can be matriculated. This proficiency can be attained by completing the Business Computer Proficiency exam with a score of 80 percent or higher or complete the IM 2010 course with a score of 80 percent or higher. The prerequisite for IM 2010 is IM 1010. Students can either complete the IM 1010 course with a score of 80 percent or higher or take the exam in the Aculis Testing Center located in CS 612. Students may also complete the Excel Educator course through MyEducator for the IM 2010 course. See your Woodbury School of Business advisor for additional details.

Degree Requirements

See the individual departmental sections in the catalog that follow this Woodbury School of Business section for specific requirements on each degree offered by the individual departments.

The Associate in Science Woodbury School of Business transfer degree is available for students planning to transfer to another college or university in Utah, or it can be completed by students seeking a BS degree at UVU.

Accounting

- Department Chair: Dr. Stan Jenne
- Office: WB 221
- Telephone: 801-863-6178
- Email: SJenne@uvu.edu

The mission of the Accounting Department is to build a strong learning and growth environment for students to prepare for successful careers in industry, government, and public accounting. We maintain a teaching-focused environment where students can master the fundamental and technical competencies required of professional accountants.

Through our partnering with the business community, students will have opportunities of interactive learning in and out of the classroom. The Accounting Department is committed to assessing current accounting trends and developing specialties within the curriculum to prepare students for careers in those growth fields. Upon completion of an Accounting degree, students should have a combination of skills and abilities including but not limited to leadership, teamwork, communication, analytical reasoning, and lifelong learning.

Finance & Economics

- Department Chair: Dr. Lowell M. Glenn
- Office: WB 215
- Telephone: 801-863-8385
- Email: Lowell.Glenn@uvu.edu

The business world is more competitive today than in past generations. Decision makers understand the increasing importance of getting things right the first time using business models and measurement methods in making those policy decisions. The classes taught in the Department of Finance and Economics are designed to give students the background to make professional business decisions.

The department offers three bachelor degree programs in Economics, Finance, and Personal Financial Planning (PFP). Graduates in economics find employment in a variety of public and private institutions while many go on to graduate education in law, public policy, an MBA and other disciplines. Finance major’s move on to careers in corporate financial management, as investment managers and analysts, in banking and other careers in the finance industry. The business world is more competitive today than in past generations. Decision makers understand the increasing importance of getting things right the first time using business models and measurement methods to make policy decisions. The PFP program is designed to prepare students for professional careers as fee-for-service certified financial planners. Unlike the other two degrees that offer Bachelor of Arts and Sciences as well as minors and emphases in integrated studies, the PFP program is restricted to a single bachelor degree. Students who complete the PFP degree will in many respects emulate the careers of accountants who work with individuals and organizations in the management of wealth, personal resources, and provide other professional functions. The PFP Program is registered with the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. The classes taught in the Department of Finance and Economics are designed to give students the background they need to make professional business decisions.

Experienced faculty work with students in understanding the theory of their discipline and learning to apply that theory in the pragmatic application of those principles in financial management, economics, statistics, and operations management courses critical to their professional development.

Hospitality Management

- Program Coordinator: Doug Miller
- Office: WB 203c
- Telephone: 801-863-8106
- Email: Millerdo@uvu.edu

The Hospitality Management program prepares graduates for employment in one of the fastest growing segments of the nation’s economy. Students are marketable in a wide range of hospitality and tourism areas such as hotel, resort, and motel management; restaurant and institutional food service; event planning; cruise ship management; convention and visitor facilities; and gaming facilities.

For students interested in management positions in the hospitality industry, the Hospitality Management program offers a Bachelor of Science in Hospitality Management. The demand for management staff in this industry is tremendous particularly for those with specialized hospitality management skills.

Legal Studies

- Department Chair: Dr. Lowell Glenn
- Office: WB 215
- Telephone: 801-863-8385
- Email: Lowell.Glenn@uvu.edu

The mission of the Department of Legal Studies is to provide educational opportunities that emphasize skills and knowledge that will allow the student to adjust through a lifetime of social change. We recognize that education is vital in developing skills needed for a productive society and essential in promoting the individual’s sense of worth, values, and high ethical standards.
Recognizing the need to increase and improve access to the legal system, the Department of Legal Studies promotes quality legal studies education, develops educational standards, and encourages professional growth in order to prepare graduates to perform a significant role in the delivery of legal services.

The UVU Legal Studies Department paralegal training program is approved by the American Bar Association. The Legal Studies minor does not prepare students for a career as a paralegal and the minor is not approved by the American Bar Association.

Management

- Department Chair: Dr. David McArthur
- Office: WB 243
- Telephone: 801-863-7144
- Email: David.McArthur@uvu.edu

Students graduating from the Business Management Department have many opportunities in private industry, government, and entrepreneurship fields. Bachelor of Science degrees are offered with emphases in entrepreneurship, hospitality management, international business, and general business. An Associate in Science degree and an Associate in Applied Science degree are also available.

Faculty in the Business Management Department have real-world expertise that they bring to the classroom. During their program of study students serve an internship in business where they receive actual work experience during their training. Graduates of the UVU business management program are well prepared to work in multiple aspects of business or to go on to graduate school for additional education.

Marketing

- Department Chair: Dr. Paul Dishman
- Office: WB 203e
- Phone: 801-863-7198
- Email: PDishman@uvu.edu

For those trained in marketing, career opportunities are available in advertising, brand and product management, customer affairs, industrial marketing, international marketing, marketing management science and systems analysis, marketing research, new product planning, marketing logistics (physical distribution), public relations, purchasing, retail management, Internet marketing, and sales and sales management.

Almost a third of all Americans are employed in marketing-related positions. From large corporations to small companies, both in manufacturing and service areas, firms rely on marketers. There is also a growing trend to use marketing in nonprofit organizations, such as colleges, libraries, and hospitals.

Location: EE 113
Telephone: 801-863-7570
Email: Ellen.Draper@uvu.edu
Web Address: http://www.uvu.edu/academicoutreach/

Director: Darrel L. Hammon

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Academic Outreach is to collaborate with the University community, K-16 alliances, and other community entities in facilitating the development of relevant career and college pathways that support workforce and economic development and inspire a culture of lifelong learning.

Academic Outreach Focus

Academic Outreach is comprised of Concurrent Enrollment, Professional and Continuing Education, Turning Point, and the UVU-Wasatch Campus. Academic Outreach’s focus is to form and strengthen university relations and partnerships with business and industry, educational institutions, and government agencies in order to meet regional workforce needs and respond to community interests. Additionally, Academic Outreach will work with UVU internal stakeholders, including academic departments and university leadership, to facilitate program enhancement, development, and implementation of credit and non-credit programming from non-credit/credit certificates to baccalaureate to master degrees.

Professional and Continuing Education

- Development and delivery of professional development courses, events, conferences, and workshops
- Development of community and continuing education programs
- Oversight of Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for educational program, particularly non-credit programming
- Educational entrepreneurship for UVU
- Workforce and continuing education programming throughout region

Concurrent Enrollment

- Facilitation of high-school partnership programs where students can:
  1. Earn college credit
  2. Take face-to-face or Live interactive college classes at their high school
  3. Become prepared for the higher education experience
- Professional Development for Concurrent Enrollment high school teachers and counselors

Turning Point

Turning Point/Center for Personal and Career Development is a community and university resource for individuals wanting to improve on a personal, educational and/or professional level. It is dedicated to quality support services which increase the emotional, social and economic well-being of all participants. Individuals can access numerous services to help complete education goals, build personal relationships, master communication skills, learn job-seeking strategies, explore career options and enter the work force. Reduced tuition may be available for those who qualify.

Wasatch Campus

- Accounting
- Facilitation with UVU-Orem regarding academic programs and offerings
- Administrative support for faculty, staff, and students, including tutoring center for writing and mathematics and face-to-face and live interactive class support
- Development of academic and Community events in Wasatch and Summit Counties.

Program Description
The Department of Accounting offers the following academic programs:

• Bachelor of Science – General Accounting Emphasis is the degree which prepares students for many accounting positions in business and industry.
• Bachelor of Science – Internal Auditing Emphasis is an accounting degree which prepares students to enter the internal auditing profession. With additional supporting training and experience student may qualify for the Certified Internal Auditor designation offered by the Institute of Internal Auditors.
• Minor in Accounting provides education in accounting at the intermediate level. This minor provides financial training for non-accountants who need an understanding of accounting information to support them in their desired employment. Elective courses allow some customization of the minor to the needs of the student.
• Minor in Internal Auditing includes basic skills in internal auditing, accounting, and information systems auditing. This minor complements many majors inside and outside of business to create opportunities for entry-level employment in internal auditing in businesses and industries related to the student’s major.
• Associate of Science in Accounting provides an introduction to accounting and prepares students to move seamlessly into a Bachelor of Science program. This associate degree qualifies students for positions requiring an associate degree and basic training in accounting and supporting subjects.
• Certificate of Completion in Accounting which provides an introduction to accounting supported with courses in mathematics, spreadsheets, economics, English, and communication. This certificate prepares students to perform basic accounting tasks and to pursue higher degrees in accounting.

Employment Opportunities

Every organization needs an accountant to navigate through financial decisions. They are needed in times of prosperity as well as in times of financial distress. Therefore, the opportunities for employment remain strong. Accountants are employed to perform a variety of critical tasks related to businesses and individuals. Areas of employment in accounting include:

• Analysis of economic events, recording financial information, summarizing and reporting financial information, and assisting in decisions based on the financial information presented.
• Auditing, or independent verification of financial and non-financial information, to lend credibility to the information presented.
• Development, analysis, and monitoring of internal controls which assure protection of assets, accuracy of financial reporting, effectiveness and efficiency of operations, and compliance with laws, regulations, and policies.
• Tax consulting for individuals, businesses, and other entities including proper reporting to taxing entities such as state and federal governments.
• Business consulting particularly related to financial decisions and internal controls.

Employment opportunities and income levels increase with the higher levels of education and with professional certifications. It is not uncommon to find accountants becoming the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) or Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of an organization. Accounting also can provide flexible careers for those who wish to work part-time.

Accreditation
The Woodbury School of Business (WSB) is accredited by AACSB International, the premier business accrediting organization in the world. Accreditation is a mark of quality programs that live by their mission and provide quality education to their students. Many employers and graduate programs seek students from AACSB accredited programs.

Internal Auditing, Minor

Careers

Internal Auditing
Accounting - General Accounting Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

This degree offers a balanced theoretical and applied approach to study a broad range of business and accounting disciplines. This includes business topics of marketing, finance, law, operations, and strategy. Following a study of the primary accounting disciplines of financial, managerial, audit, information systems, and tax, students can engage in a more specialized study of internal audit, management accounting, tax, or public accounting/graduate school. Students also develop important business skills in communication, critical thinking, team building, and computer applications.

Military Science (Army)
A five-week Advanced Leadership Course is required in the summer between the junior and senior years. All Army ROTC students are required to attend a leadership laboratory for two and one-half hours each week. Practical experience in leadership applications such as small unit tactics, rappelling, weapons familiarization, etc., are emphasized during laboratory periods.

Cadets are also required to participate in scheduled morning/afternoon fitness training.

Military Science Minor (Army)
A minor in Military Science is also available for Army ROTC Cadets. For more information regarding a minor in Military Science, students are encouraged to speak with their UVU Army ROTC instructor in order to program in their schedule the required courses.

Cross-Enrollment Agreement
The University offers ROTC through a cross-enrollment agreement with Brigham Young University (BYU). Compliance with BYU standards, as listed in the current BYU catalog, is an obligation while participating in ROTC activities and at all times on the BYU campus.

General Information on Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC) and Military Science (Army ROTC) is given below. More detailed information is available in the appropriate BYU catalog listing.

General Information
The ROTC program is designed to produce highly qualified commissioned officers for the U.S. Air Force, U.S. Army, Army Reserve, and Army National Guard.

The traditional ROTC program extends over four years of college and consists of two phases: a two-year basic course during the freshman and sophomore years, and a two-year advanced course covering the junior and senior years of college.

To receive a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force, U.S. Army, Army Reserve or Army National Guard, students must earn a baccalaureate degree prior to age 30. An exception will be made for prior service, which may extend the age limit to 34. If designated for Air Force pilot or navigator training, all commissioning requirements must be met prior to age 29. Students must be citizens of the United States to be commissioned.

Physical and academic standards for the basic course are the same as for those of the university. To qualify for the advanced program, students must pass an academic and physical examination during the year preceding entry into the advanced course. At the beginning of the fall semester of their junior year, students are sworn into the Air Force or Army Reserves and sign an agreement to complete the last two years of ROTC and to serve on reserve or active duty upon graduation. Students incur no military obligation prior to joining the reserves.

Program of Instruction
The ROTC program is designed to complement the civilian goal of acquiring a baccalaureate degree in a personal course of study while enabling students to develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for transition into the United States Armed Forces upon commissioning and to fulfill a military obligation as a reserve or active duty officer. Students do not major in Aerospace Studies or Military Science, but may receive a minor in these areas upon their request and depending upon the requirements of the college or university from which the students received their baccalaureate degree.

ROTC military and leadership training provides ROTC graduates with many special skills and experiences which will enable them to compete as leaders in the military and/or business, civic, and community affairs.

Scholarships
ROTC offers many two, three, and four-year scholarships for which students may compete, awarded on merit. The scholarships pay full tuition, textbook costs, lab, and other required college fees, related education expenses such as classroom materials, and a $350-500 per month subsistence allowance. These scholarships are among the finest scholarships offered and can be used at hundreds of other universities and colleges across the United States for students to complete their baccalaureate training at a four-year school. ROTC scholarships are offered on a competitive basis and applications must be submitted through either the Air Force or Army ROTC Detachments. In most cases, deadline for scholarship applications is January of the year prior to enrollment; however, it is suggested that interested parties check with specific ROTC departments since in certain instances deadlines may vary. ROTC scholarships are not affected by other grants, loans, or VA/VEAP. To be eligible for a scholarship, a student must be eligible to receive a baccalaureate degree by his or her 30th birthday, be a U.S. Citizen, be at least age 17 at the time the scholarship is to be used, and be willing to serve on active duty for a period of four years if a scholarship is utilized by a student. There are also Reserve Component Scholarships awarded each year for National Guard and Reserve duty.

Mission Statement
To cultivate the creation and appreciation of visual art, we foster creative confidence, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills. We follow these principles to accomplish our mission:

Visual Literacy, Professional Excellence, Creative Diversity, Interdisciplinary Collaboration, and Cultural/Social Responsibility

Visual Literacy We encourage the development of strong visual literacy among students of the visual arts. We support the study of history, culture, technology and trends to this end.

Professional Excellence In preparing visual art students for careers in a broad market, we support and expect excellence and professionalism.

Creative Diversity While teaching techniques, styles, and practices is an important part of our programs, we support a diversity of styles and individual expressions among students in their creative work.

Interdisciplinary Collaboration We support collaboration across the visual arts through multi-disciplinary student and faculty projects. These collaborative efforts may be extended to include other departments within the School of the Arts as well as the entire UVU campus.

Cultural/Social Responsibility We support the study and advancement of the visual arts from local to international levels. We foster understanding to promote artistic freedom and to preserve culture through creative production and historical research.

Program Description
Utah Valley University’s Department of Art Design offers degrees in applied arts, fine arts and art education. Upon completing a degree, students emerge from the program ready to enter careers in graphic design, photography, advertising, printing, animation, illustration, art education, printmaking, sculpture, game development, painting and more. Students can earn a general degree, exploring several areas within the visual arts, or they can specialize, exploring a specific practice in depth to better understand it and/or prepare for employment in that field.

Degrees Offered

Students who want to concentrate on a specific area of art and visual communications can gain professional training at UVU through several specialized degrees:

Associate in Applied Science (A.A.S.)
A two-year degree where students can emphasize in one of three areas.
• Graphic Design
• Illustration
• Photography

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Art Education
A four-year degree in which students are trained to teach as art specialists at the secondary level (7–12 grade).

Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.)
A four-year degree for individuals with above-average abilities, who are looking for a competitive program to hone their skills.
• Graphic Design
• Illustration
• Painting/Drawing
• Photography
• Sculpture/Ceramics

General Art Degrees (B.A., B.S., A.A., A.S.)
Students wanting to study art and visual communications broadly, without emphasizing one particular emphasis area can choose to earn one of four general degrees:

- Bachelor of Arts in Art and Visual Communications (B.A.)
- Bachelor of Science in Art and Visual Communications (B.S.)
- Associate in Art in Art and Visual Communications (A.A.)
- Associate in Science in Art and Visual Communications (A.S.)

Students who elect to earn a bachelor of arts or associate in arts degree are required to complete a foreign language requirement, while those who earn a bachelor of science or associate in science degree have the option to take more electives. All of these degrees allow students to explore a few areas within the department and gain a more well-rounded education in the visual arts. Some of our 1000 level courses also fulfill general education requirements.

Career Opportunities

Our degrees prepare students for various career opportunities, some of which are delineated below.

Fine Arts: Painting/Drawing, Sculpture/Ceramics, Photography

Students are prepared to compete in the arts arena typically via self-employment by promoting their work through galleries, museums, exhibitions and commissions. Some students also choose to pursue graduate studies to further their development or to prepare them to teach in higher education. Areas of study include painting, drawing, printmaking, sculpture, and ceramics.

Applied Arts: Graphic Design, Illustration, Photography

Students are prepared to compete for employment at advertising agencies, design studios, in-house design departments, printing firms, photography studios, gaming developers, animation studios and for freelance consulting work (self-employed). Some students may also choose to further their studies in graduate programs.

Education: BS in Art Education

The Bachelor of Science in Art Education certifies students to teach as an art specialist at the secondary level in public schools and private schools.

Engaged Learning

Students are encouraged to learn by applying what they study in the real world and by taking part in activities outside the classroom.

The department offers many opportunities for students to travel and interact with practicing art professionals. In an annual trip to New York, students visit museums, galleries and artists' studios to learn more about creating art. Students can also apply to attend a five-week study abroad in Italy each summer. The department's four-week art history and photography study abroad program recently placed 8th among Abroad101's list of best Short-Term Programs. In this program, students tour Europe for four weeks, learning about art history and taking advantage of photography opportunities.

Students regularly enter their work in competitions at local, state and national levels, with several students earning awards each year. At UVU's annual art history symposium, students present their research alongside faculty. Every student in the Department of Art & Design attends an art lecture series, in which artists from around the country visit UVU to present their work, lecture on what they do and occasionally hold a workshop.

AVC Core Grade Requirement

The AVC Core requirements (ART 1110, ART 1120, ART 1130, ART 1400 and one of the following: ART 1050, ART 1350, ART 1420, or ART 1650) must be completed with a B- or higher before being formally admitted to the BS, BA, and BFA programs.

Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) Requirements:

This degree is for those with exceptional abilities in art and visual communications. In order to apply to the BFA, students must first meet the core class requirements (consult with your academic advisor for details) in the AVC Department and submit a portfolio for departmental BFA review. Students desiring to participate in the review should submit a letter of intent by Thursday, February 19th to the office of the area coordinator in their particular interest. Portfolios will be due on Thursday, March 5th. Acceptance into the BFA is based on the portfolio review, overall GPA of 2.0 or above with 3.0 GPA or above in ART and ARTH courses. Courses within the student's area of emphasis must be completed with a C grade or above. For graduation with a BFA degree, students must maintain the grade requirements listed above and receive a B grade or above for ART 499R BFA Project. For more information, contact the Academic Advisors. Those not accepted into the program may apply up to 2 additional times for admission. With the exception of the Graphic Design emphasis, a review is held in the fall for students who were not accepted in the spring. Students not accepted into the BFA program, or who are unable to fulfill the above requirements, may still pursue the more general BA/BS degrees.

Graduation Requirement: Portfolio Submission

To ensure that faculty and programs at UVU are adequately teaching and preparing students for professional careers and/or further schooling, the Art and Visual Communications Department has implemented a graduating student portfolio submission. All students completing a degree in the Art and Visual Communications Department are required to submit a portfolio for faculty/professional review prior to graduation. Results are kept confidential and are used only to help modify and improve curriculum and teaching. Consult with your academic advisor for details of deadlines and requirements to make certain all AVC degree graduation requirements are met.

Art History, Minor

Requirements

Because art history is cross-disciplinary by nature, a minor in art history would compliment almost any degree, whether within or outside of the arts. The minor requires 18 credits of art history courses, including the survey classes Art to and from the Renaissance, as well as four upper division electives, ranging from ancient to contemporary art history. The minor creates a more diverse skill set for students of the visual arts, as well as a more culturally rich educational experience for students outside of the arts.

Art historians preserve ideas and artifacts for future generations, and they teach others to appreciate art, culture, and cultural history. The Bachelors of Art in Art History degree helps students prepare for a range of arts-related jobs, including art dealership, art directorship, art education, and work in museums and galleries. It also provides the necessary foundation for graduate studies in art history, which in turn, prepares one for a career in post-secondary teaching, museum curatorship, and museum directorship.
Finally, the degree helps students prepare for graduate work in correlated fields, such as art restoration, arts management, library studies, international business, and legal studies.

Situated in the heart of the “Silicon Slopes,” UVU’s graphic design program is uniquely situated to offer students cutting-edge learning, internship, and job-placement opportunities. As students use the latest software to practice communicating creatively using typography and imagery, they learn to approach problem solving from marketing and artistic standpoints that resonate with target audiences. Courses emphasize creative, concept-intensive communication, and effective design implementation in both print and interactive design.

Art and Design - Illustration Emphasis, B.F.A.

Requirements
The program is ideal for students wanting to pursue careers in traditional illustration, digital illustration, or animation. In addition to working with faculty who are professionals in their fields, students have access to the best software in the industry. Courses in figure drawing, children’s book illustration, anatomy and figure structure, flash animation, 3-D computer rendering, and advanced illustration are just a few of the classes available to students. The courses offer a well-rounded and practical learning experience. Students in the illustration program benefit from interaction with instructors who are nationally known professional illustrators.

Art and Design - Painting and Drawing Emphasis, B.F.A.

Requirements

Within the painting/drawing program, students emphasize one of four areas: drawing, watermedia, painting, or printmaking. In their senior year, B.F.A. students receive one-on-one instruction from the professor of their choice. Students explore their personal artistic identity while learning the rigor and attention to detail needed to put together a solo exhibition as their culminating experience.

Art and Design - Photography Emphasis, B.F.A.

Requirements

UVU’s photography program teaches the language of photography. Students will take courses to diversify their skill set in the creation and appreciation of different approaches to photography. They will work with film, historic photographic processes, and cutting-edge digital technology. Students learn about and work in commercial and fine art environments. They will be taught working methods in the darkroom, studio lighting techniques, motion, and digital manipulation. The photo program emphasizes a hands-on and engaged approach. We actively look for opportunities to get our students on location and into real world scenarios through internships, study abroad programs, and classes taught off campus.

Art and Design - Sculpture and Ceramics Emphasis, B.F.A.

Careers

Students are prepared to compete in the arts arena typically via self-employment by promoting their work through galleries, museums, exhibitions, commissions fairs and festivals. Other opportunities include teaching private lessons and working in related fields in museums and galleries. Some students also choose to pursue graduate studies to further their development or to prepare them to teach in higher education. Areas of study include sculpture and ceramics.

Careers

A degree in art provides training in creative and critical thinking, problem solving and visual communication, providing a sound background for careers both in and outside of the arts. Careers could include working with arts organizations, museums, or non-profit groups. While the BFA degrees provide specific professional training, Bachelor of Science students who have taken a number of classes in a specific area may also be qualified for jobs in the fields of graphic design, photography and illustration, or opportunities to submit work to galleries, museums, exhibitions, commissions fairs and festivals.

Mission Statement
The mission of the UVU Automotive Department is to conduct academic and applied teaching. The training programs provide qualified employees for entry level positions in all categories of the Automotive, Collision / Refinish, and Diesel repair technology industries. These programs will afford students the opportunity to attain a one, two, and/or four-year degree at the completion of their training. The training provided will have an emphasis on basic skills and principles which will allow participants to adapt to new and ever changing technologies. Current and foreseeable technology will be utilized in presenting and practicing basic performance skills.

Careers

Recognizing that a successful career in automotive technology involves much more than mechanical ability to replace parts, Utah Valley University has designed this curriculum for the individual who has ability and aptitude to become a skilled automotive technician. Opportunities are available in: general automotive repair, steering/suspension and alignment, tune-up, cooling system and air conditioning brakes, engine rebuilding, automatic and manual transmissions, computerized electronic ignition and fuel injection, and emission controls. Training for service advisors, shop foreman, and shop managers is also provided.
2. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. (Departments may require higher GPA.)
3. Residency hours—minimum of 20 credit hours through course attendance at UVU.

Diesel Mechanics Technology, A.A.S.
Careers

Careers: Diesel technology students may be hired as mechanics working on engines, automatic transmissions, drive trains, electrical systems, suspension and steering, hydraulics, and air systems. They work on heavy equipment, farm equipment, and on-highway trucks. Diesel mechanics diagnose, repair, weld, and fine-tune the working parts of buses, trucks, construction machinery, and generators. Students pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree in Technology management can expect opportunities as shop managers, service writers, equipment managers, fleet managers and product development.

Diesel Mechanics Technology, Diploma

Careers

Diesel technology students may be hired as mechanics working on engines, automatic transmissions, drive trains, electrical systems, suspension and steering, hydraulics, and air systems. They work on heavy equipment, farm equipment, and on-highway trucks. Diesel mechanics diagnose, repair, weld, and fine-tune the working parts of buses, trucks, construction machinery, and generators. Students pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree in Technology management can expect opportunities as shop managers, service writers, equipment managers, fleet managers and product development.

FLIGHT REQUIREMENTS

Students entering or transferring into any Aviation Sciences program and enrolled in on-campus courses must complete their flight training at the UVU flight training facility—using UVU owned aircraft. Exception waivers may be granted if they are approved in advance by both the Department Chair and Chief Flight Instructor.

Student's flight training at the UVU facility may be eligible for an increased cost of attendance to obtain private (alternative) loans. In order to receive a private student loan based on these flight costs, students MUST be enrolled in the appropriate flight course section. For more information regarding student loans, please visit the UVU Financial Aid & Scholarship Office located in BA 108.

In addition to the regular tuition rate, students training at the UVU facility pay for their flight costs via course fees, which are associated with each flight course they register for. Each flight course fee has been estimated to cover costs associated with the required pilot training for a particular FAA certificate or rating. Students experiencing difficulties and fall behind may be required to pay additional flight training costs.

Students who utilize UVU aircraft are required to enroll in and attend live ground and flight course sections.

Students enrolled in live flight courses must attend their flight class by contacting the records section in HB-202B within three days after the start of the semester or they may be dropped from the class. Students experiencing difficulties and fall behind may be required to pay additional flight training costs.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Professional Pilot: Worldwide growth of airlines and air traffic correlates highly with economic growth. The number of passengers is expected to nearly double by 2020. Pilots and aviation/aerospace personnel work in highly technical and practical scientific environments on a daily basis; pilots have responsibility for operating single engine, multi-engine, turbo-prop, and jet aircraft in all weather conditions both day and night. Examples of jobs in the aviation field are: airline, charter and air taxi pilot, flight instructor, aerial photography and surveying, military, bush pilot/remote re-supply, medical evacuation, firefighting and spotting, Federal and State Government positions, drug enforcement, FAA safety inspectors, pipeline and transmission line patrol, recreation/sight-seeing pilot, police and traffic control, research and development, test flight, airplane sales/demonstration and generic commercial airline pilot. Graduates of the Associate in Applied Science or Associate in Science are qualified to become a professional pilot or certified flight instructor and should qualify for entry into a four-year degree program for upper division course work. Graduates of the Bachelor of Science in Aviation Science aviation science or in Technology Management with an emphasis in Aviation Science.

Students graduating with the associate degree in Aviation Science may transfer to any of the Bachelor of Science options.

Note: An overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above is required for graduation. A grade of C- or better must be achieved in each aviation science course.

Note: All aviation science majors are required to purchase the Bedford Handbook in their first semester of study. This handbook will be utilized throughout the aviation curriculum as a standard reference to help students improve their written communications skills and ability to follow documentation and citation standards. Aviation Science students are expected to comply with APA standards in all upper-level aviation science courses.

Mission Statement

The mission of the UVU School of Aviation Sciences is to provide a superior educational experience that prepares students for successful careers and promotes responsible citizenship in a global aviation environment. Degrees are offered through technology-enhanced traditional classroom and innovative online delivery methods. Simulations and flight training are integrated with scholarly work to create a complete and well-balanced aeronautics program. The curriculum is developed through ties with industry to incorporate changing standards and technology and procedural advances. Our student-centered approach encourages leadership and engaged lifelong learning. We emphasize public awareness and safety in aviation as our commitment to the community at large.

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of a minimum of 120 or more semester credits, with a minimum of 40 upper division semester credits.
2. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. Aviation courses require a C- or above. (Departments may require a higher GPA.)
3. Residency hours—minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours.
5. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements unique to the area of emphasis. Students in the Professional Pilot emphasis should obtain an FAA Class I or II Medical Certificate prior to beginning flight training.
6. Students may count no more than 8 credit hours of total cooperative work experience (AVSC 281R/285R/481R/485R) toward the degree requirements without department approval.
7. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course. NOTE: if student chooses HIST 2700 and 2710, the additional hours may be used towards a social science distribution requirement.

Aviation Science - Aviation Administration Emphasis, B.S.

CAREERS

Aviation Administration: this emphasis is designed to prepare students for careers as professional leaders in aviation. Courses include but are not limited to: airport management, security, transportation and corporate management, and cargo operations. The Aviation Administration emphasis will develop practical management and leadership skills for students with career goals in the aviation industry. Classes are based on real world aviation needs and will prepare students for employment in a broad range of positions including airline, corporate aviation, fixed base operations, and airport management.

Related Careers

- Airline Pilots, Copilots, and Flight Engineers
- Commercial Pilots

Aviation Science - Professional Pilot Emphasis, B.S.

REQUIREMENTS

This degree prepares the student to enter the work force as a professional pilot at an intermediate to advanced level. The degree builds on the foundation in the A.S. and A.A.S. degrees. Students can obtain additional advanced ratings and deepen their knowledge of the pilot profession through an impressive range of course subject matter. Specific courses are designed to help the student pilot receive the training necessary to qualify for employment with a commuter airline.

Mission Statement

The Behavioral Science department is a rigorous interdisciplinary program (Anthropology, Family Studies, Psychology, Social Work, Sociology, Substance Use Disorder Counseling, and Autism Studies) that prepares students to make positive contributions in their academic, work, and community settings by developing their understanding of human functioning in various contexts. We promote and mentor student engagement with each other and with their academic, professional, or geographic communities in order to achieve essential learning outcomes.

- In addition to the requirements listed above, students must complete 9 credits of approved Behavioral Science electives. These courses must come from ANTH/AUTS/BESC/FAMS/PSY/SOC/SW and they can be 1000 level or higher. Students planning on taking PSY 3430 and/or PSY 3450 should take PSY 2710 to count towards part of this requirement. Please see your Behavioral Science advisor for a list of approved courses.

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of a minimum of 120 credits, 40 of which must be 3000 level or higher.
2. Minimum UVU GPA of 2.0 upon graduation.
3. Minimum 2.5 program GPA upon graduation.
4. Residency hours—minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours.
5. All major course work taken to meet Behavioral Science requirements must be completed with a grade of C- or better.

6. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.

Note: Please see department advisor for explanation of all program requirements, a list of recommended classes, and for assistance with creating an academic plan for graduation.

Note: If a student has completed an associate degree through another institution, the required general education courses may be waived.

Note: Students would need to pass ENGL 1010 and ENGL 2010 or 2020 with a C+ or higher as prerequisites for the Behavioral Science Bachelor degree courses.

Footnote
 Recommended if student is considering an MSW program.

 Completion of PSY 2710 or ZOOL 2320 and ZOOL 2420 is a prerequisite for PSY 3430 and PSY 3450, no exceptions to this requirement will be made.

Biology

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Biology is two-fold: first, we are committed to educate students in the principle tenets of biology through structured inquiry and opportunities for individualized experiential learning. Second, we are committed to teaching ethical behavior in experimental design and practice to all of our students. The department strives to provide the best educational opportunities possible for students to attain their academic goals and to facilitate faculty in scholarship in an atmosphere that encourages free exchange of ideas.

Our Philosophy and Values

The Department of Biology believes that students and faculty have a shared responsibility to obtain knowledge. Faculty should maintain their expertise by ongoing investigation, presentation, and pursuit of scholarly activities. In addition to the pursuit of scholarly information in biology, students should develop skills in communication, analysis, and critical thinking relevant to biology and other disciplines.

Goals

The Department of Biology recognizes excellent student education as its first priority. In addition to formal programs of study, we offer opportunities for research, service, field and laboratory activities, and secondary education training.

The UVU Biology program offers a variety of courses that investigate the living world, including courses in biology, botany, ecology, genetics, human physiology, microbiology, and zoology. A course of study may be designed to provide breadth in the life sciences or emphasize field or laboratory oriented biology.

Career Opportunities

Majors in Biology prepare for a wide variety of occupations in education, government, medicine, and research. Students majoring in a UVU Bachelor’s program should meet with the Biology Department advisor early in their program.

Job Outlook

Graduates with degrees in Biology are especially in demand in the secondary education, health, natural resource management, and biotechnology areas.

Programs

Eight degree options are available: Associate in Science or Associate in Arts with a pre-major in Biology; Bachelor of Science in Integrated Studies (IS) with a Biology emphasis, Bachelor of Science in Biology, Bachelor of Science in Biotechnology, Bachelor of Science in Biology Education, and Bachelor of Science in Botany. A minor in biology is available for those in other baccalaureate programs.

All AS/AA and BS Biology, Botany, and IS majors must consult with the Biology Department advisor prior to their first semester of enrollment at UVU or immediately upon changing to one of these majors to formulate a plan of study. BS in Biotechnology majors consult with the Biotechnology advisor. BS in Biology Education majors consult with Biology Secondary Education advisor. BS in Integrated Studies must also consult with the Integrated Studies advisor. Those interested in Regulatory Affairs need to speak with the Regulatory Affairs Program Director.

Students interested in a career in biology or related field are encouraged to earn at least a baccalaureate degree (BS). Many professions (e.g., pharmacy, medicine) require additional post-baccalaureate education. The UVU AS/AA degree is intended for students who plan to use it as a first step toward a baccalaureate degree. The AS/AA degree may be granted to those who do not continue in a bachelor’s program and meet the minimum requirements. The Departmental Bachelor of Science Degrees may be used for entry into a career or in preparation for post-baccalaureate (for masters and doctoral degrees) or professional education (e.g., medical, dental) education. A Bachelor of Science Degree in Integrated Studies, Biology emphasis is available. Please see Biology advisors for more information.

Biology, A.S.

Requirements

Students interested in biology, or related fields, are encouraged to earn at least a baccalaureate degree (BS). Many professions (e.g., Pharmacy or Medicine) require additional post-baccalaureate education. The AS/AA degree is intended for students who plan to use it as a first step toward a baccalaureate degree. The AS/AA degree may be granted to those who do not continue in a bachelor's program and meet the minimum requirements.

Biology Education, B.S.

Requirements

Biology is the study of living organisms and includes study of subjects such as evolution, ecology, zoology, physiology, anatomy, and botany among other subjects. Completion of this degree will prepare students to teach classes in high school biology, and related subjects, plus integrated science at the 7th grade level.

Total Program Credits: 125.5

Matriculation Requirements:

Admission to Professional Education status is a requirement for enrollment in professional studies level courses. Admission criteria includes:

1. ACT exam minimums: Composite 21, English 20, Math 19; or SAT exam minimums: Critical Read/Math 1000, with Math and Reading scores of 450; or if student has a bachelor degree or higher, he/she does not need to meet this testing requirement.
2. GPA of 3.0 or higher with no grade lower than a C in content area courses.
3. Completion of all General Education requirements and the majority of content area courses.
4. Pass group interview directed by the Secondary Teacher Education Department.
5. Pass LiveScan Criminal Background Check.

Careers

The multiple career opportunities available for graduates with a degree in Biology make it a highly versatile degree. In addition to standard career options, such as working in the fields of healthcare, biotechnology, agriculture, education, and environmental science, biology graduates find employment in fields as diverse as art (scientific illustrator), public relations (for science museums, etc.), governmental agencies (wildland restoration, etc.), and non-profit organizations (wildlife agencies).
Biology

conservation, etc.). With additional education, majors can go onto careers in law (medical/biotechnology patent attorney, forensic scientist), business (healthcare and agricultural industry management), engineering (biomechanical device development), and even aerospace (a number of NASA astronauts have been biomedical researchers). A degree in Biology can provide for career opportunities as limitless and evolving as life itself.

Program Description

Utah Valley University offers two distinct MBA tracks. The professional, part-time, Master of Business Administration track is an applied graduate degree that reflects the Woodbury School of Business’s long and distinguished history of providing excellence in business education. Our innovative team-based curriculum reaches beyond the walls and textbooks of a traditional program and is geared toward students with a moderate level of business management experience. This professional program leverages the management experiences of our professional students while focusing on application and practice through the use of group discussions, case studies, simulations, projects, and interaction with regional organizations and business leaders. The two year program offers two areas of emphasis in management or accounting and meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings—an ideal schedule for enterprising professionals.

Our full-time accelerated Master of Business Administration option is designed to meet the needs of students that have completed their undergraduate degree and would like to continue their education through a one-year, three semester, accelerated program. This curriculum requires a full-time effort, as classes, workshops, and events are scheduled throughout the week. Due to the rigorous demands of this program, employment during enrollment is discouraged. Courses concentrate on real-world and engaged activities designed to assist students as they prepare to enter the business world. Two areas of emphasis are offered – business management and accounting.

The MBA program embraces the university’s designation as an engaged learning campus. Students immerse themselves in all aspects of business management, including accounting, leadership, marketing, economics, ethics, and social responsibility. Throughout the program, students will participate in several integration modules, designed to integrate the various functions of business through projects, simulations, and comprehensive case studies.

Prerequisites

All prerequisite and proficiency courses must be completed prior to beginning the program. The prerequisite courses for Finance and Business Statistics taken within the last five years with a “C” grade or better by April 1 of each year, meet the prerequisite requirement.

Students may elect to fulfill their prerequisites through the successful completion of online course "boot camps" through UVO’s Continuing Education Department. These self-paced courses have been developed by Woodbury School of Business faculty and are designed to prepare students for the rigor of their MBA program. These courses are not for credit. Registration and payment are through the Continuing Education Department. Contact the MBA office for additional information.

Accelerated Business Core "Boot camp" (13.5 credit hours):

- Corporate Finance (1.5)
- Marketing (1.5)
- Operations Management (1.5)
- Economics (3)
- Management (1.5)
- Legal/Ethical Environment (1.5)

Prerequisite Courses (or equivalent classes) from Undergraduate Studies:

- ECON 2010 Introduction to Microeconomics
- ECON 2020 Introduction to Macroeconomics
- ACCT 2010 Financial Accounting
- ACCT 2020 Managerial Accounting
- LEGL 3000 Business Law
- MGMT 2240 Business Calculus
- MGMT 2340 Business Statistics
- MGMT 3010 Principles of Management
- MGMT 3100 Principles of Finance
- MGMT 3600 Principles of Marketing
- MGMT 3450 Operations Management

Application Process

Baccalaureate degree holders with both business and non-business majors may apply. Deadlines and current application requirements are posted on the website, www.uvu.edu/mba. Applicants must submit all of the following to the Woodbury School of Business:

2. Remit a nonrefundable $45 fee by check or money order (payable to UVU).
3. Forward all official university transcripts.
4. Provide three letters of recommendation. Recommenders can send letters of recommendation or complete electronic evaluation forms.
5. Submit a current resume that includes educational background and professional work experience.
6. Complete online application.

Send official GMAT test scores. GMAT registration is available at www.mba.com. Submit TOEFL scores with a minimum of 79 for the Internet-based test (This is only for applicants for whom English is a second language and who have not earned a degree in the U.S.)

Reapplication

1. Student interviews may also be requested at the discretion of the selection committee.
If an applicant is not admitted, he/she may reapply again at a later time. All current admission requirements at the time of application must be met.

Satisfactory Progress

Continuation in the Master of Business Administration program is determined by: (1) satisfactory progress (C or higher) in all courses (completed courses with a grade lower than a C must be repeated) and (2) faculty committee chair and the graduate admission and retention committee recommendation.

Academic Probation

A student can be recommended for academic probation for the following reason(s): (1) Failure to meet the scholarship requirements of the Graduate Program of an overall GPA of 3.00 (on a 4.00 scale) or higher, with no individual course grade lower than C; (2) Failure to complete prescribed courses; and/or (3) Failure to adhere to University student rights and responsibilities standards.

Dismissal from the Program

A student can be dismissed from the Master of Business Administration program for the following reason(s):

1. Academic dishonesty;
2. Continued failure to meet academic standards; and/or
3. Continued failure to adhere to University student rights and responsibilities standards.

Courses

Admission to the Master of Business Administration program is a requirement for enrollment into all Master of Business Administration courses.

Careers

The job market will likely hold steady for 2014 MBA graduates, according to the Graduate Management Admission council. More than three-quarters of employers that plan to hire graduates expect to maintain or increase their hiring this year. They also report that projected hiring for 2014 is much improved from a few years ago. In addition, between 45 and 58 percent of employers plan to increase annual base salaries at or above the rate of inflation, an indicator that demand for talented graduates remains strong.

Center for Constitutional Studies

Name: Center for Constitutional Studies
Location: LI 305
Telephone: 801-863-5470
Email: constitution@uvu.edu
Web Address: uvu.edu/ccs
Interim Director: Andrew S. Bibby

Administrative Assistant: Thomas Hone

The Center for Constitutional Studies is a nonpartisan, academic institute that promotes the study, instruction, and research of constitutionalism. In particular, it examines important constitutional issues found at the intersections of political thought, public policy, public law, religion, history, and economics. Employing a multidisciplinary approach, the Center seeks to more effectively equip a new generation of citizens and leaders with a broad understanding of political thought and economic and political practices critical to the perpetuation of constitutional government, ordered liberty, and the rule of law.

The Center promotes educational, scholarly, and public outreach endeavors across the state, the region, the nation, and the globe. It partners with the Political Science Program and other university entities on timely and important projects and events, and supports and promotes the Political Science Constitutional Studies Minor degree program.

Via its prestigious academic events, excellent constitutional studies course offerings, and character-building mentoring program, the Center has emerged as a leader in the fields of constitutional studies and civic leadership.

Recognized for its vision and accomplishments, the Center has hosted such prominent academicians and renowned figures as: two-time Pulitzer Prize winner, David McCullough; U.S. Court of Appeals Judge, Thomas B. Griffith; award-winning author and Harvard University Professor of Law, Noah Feldman; former Utah Governor, Michael O. Leavitt; Founding Secretary of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Governor Thomas Ridge; and renowned University of Pennsylvania Professor of Law and History, Sarah Barringer Gordon. The Center has truly emerged as a regional hub and national force for constitutional studies, driving and shaping debate on important constitutional, political, and economic issues facing the state of Utah, the Mountain West region, and the nation.

Regular public forums include: Constitution Week Conferences, Religious Freedom Symposia, and a score of other events dealing with key political and constitutional issues.

CCS forums and events are usually ticketed and free of charge.
The Center for Global and Intercultural Engagement (CGIE) supports the University efforts to prepare globally competent citizens. To accomplish these objectives, CGIE collaborates closely with colleges, schools, and other units across campus to create a community of students, staff, and faculty that share multicultural and international knowledge, attitudes, experiences, and efforts. We are committed to fostering an inclusive atmosphere for all students and to preparing them for an increasingly complex, diverse, and globalized society. CGIE is comprised of four programs.

1. International & Multicultural Studies (IMS): These programs support and facilitate international study programs, study abroad, international internships, student exchanges, travel resources, global and multicultural faculty training, cultural excursions, and student workshops. The programs include the Global Spotlight Program, mentored research programs, and other engaged learning opportunities for students. IMS also is the primary provider of facilitation, training, and support for the Global/Intercultural Graduation Requirement. This requirement enables all UVU students to gain critical exposure to issues related to cross-cultural appreciation and understanding. IMS is also committed to inclusive teaching practices and approaches that enhance the learning of students from a variety of backgrounds and cultures.

2. Multicultural Student Services (MSS): Our programs provide a full range of support services targeting historically underrepresented populations with an eye toward inclusion of all students across campus. The mission is to promote educational opportunities and intercultural enrichment for diverse students and the wider campus community. Our programs aim to nurture student achievement and develop relationships that support student success, academic growth, retention, and completion of educational programs. Services include general academic advising, registration and financial aid help, student leadership programs, multicultural club advisement and support, academic and social events, and initiative programs that provide specific resources for Latino, LGBT, Native American, and Pacific Islander student populations.

3. International Student Services (ISS): Our programs provide advisement and support on visa, employment, and academic issues for UVU’s international student population. Students with questions regarding immigration, visa, or related issues may visit one of our advisors in LA 114. ISS activities including orientations each semester for all new international students, managing the federally mandated Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) to ensure that all international students at UVU are legally “in status,” and providing a variety of services designed to promote the academic success of our international students.

4. International Affairs & Diplomacy (IAD): Our office advances UVU's presence and reach in the international community through cultural exchanges, diplomatic visits, economic development partnerships, and other related activities. Programs include the hosting and connecting of international dignitaries including heads of state, ministers, ambassadors, business, educational, and religious leaders.
Leadership Certification Program

The Center for the Advancement of Leadership (CAL) has designed an extra-curricular Engaged Learning University Distinction in Leadership for all students on the UVU Campus. Whether you are majoring in business, engineering, law, emergency services, biology, aviation, or any other degree or program, this Engaged Learning Distinction is designed for students who wish to advance their personal, interpersonal, organizational and/or civic leadership skills while pursuing their degrees and programs – making them more productive and marketable to their future employers and/or graduate schools.

All students are invited to preview the program by visiting our website at uvu.edu/leadership, attending our monthly Master Mind Meeting the first Monday of each month, or visiting our office in LC 302 (801-863-6466).

Leadership Certification Structure

The Engaged Learning University Distinction in Leadership focuses on four key aspects of personal development (Learn, Engage, Acquire, and Discover). Together, these four aspects ensure leadership growth concurrently in both the personal and professional arenas.

The Engaged Learning University Distinction in Leadership is a two year program.

Coordinator: Susanna Garcia

The Center for the Study of Ethics (CSE) supports and facilitates the interdisciplinary study of ethics. This includes traditional moral philosophy and the integration of theory and practice across the disciplines and professions. Center activities include public forums, co-curricular support of faculty and student scholarship, and community engagement activities.

Because an educated citizenry is necessary for democracy, the study of interdisciplinary ethics aids individuals in moral decision-making relevant to professional, private, and public life. While CSE programming addresses a range of challenging ethical and public policy issues, the CSE is a non-advocacy center designed to promote academic achievement and community dialogue.

Regular events include Ethics Awareness Week, the Environmental Ethics Symposium, the Faculty Summer Seminar. The CSE also hosts a variety of customized forums in response to student interest and contemporary events.

The organizational structure of the CSE is comprised of an Executive Committee, the Community Advisory Board, and the Faculty Advisory Committee.

Ethics forums are free and open to the public.

Mission Statement
The Chemistry Department is dedicated to providing a high quality chemistry education for the students at Utah Valley University. The department offers a wide variety of classes to support other departments and to provide excellent training leading to a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry or a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry/Physics Education. The chemistry faculty is committed to encouraging students to learn and to do research not only in their course work, but in their lifelong careers.

Career Opportunities
Graduates with a bachelor degree in Chemistry will be prepared to work in industry or pursue a graduate degree in chemistry. Current employment opportunities for graduates in Chemistry programs are good.

Graduates with a bachelor degree in Chemistry Education will be prepared to teach chemistry in junior and senior high. Current employment opportunities for graduates from Chemistry Education programs are excellent.

Programs
Students may receive:
• Bachelor of Science in Chemistry with an Emphasis in Biochemistry
• Bachelor of Science in Chemistry with an Emphasis in Forensic Chemistry
• Bachelor of Science in Chemistry with an Emphasis in Professional Chemistry
• Bachelor of Science in Chemistry Education

Admission Requirements
A student who wants to pursue a chemistry major should meet with the department chair or chemistry advisor for advisement.

Chemistry - Biochemistry Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Biochemistry studies the chemical composition of living things. Biochemistry combines the study of biology with organic and inorganic chemistry as applied to topics such as enzymology, genetics, toxicology, pharmacology, food science, and medicine. Students with this degree may pursue graduate study or work in the field of biotechnology or in one of the many related areas or be eligible for many employment opportunities in chemistry and biology.

Related Careers
• Natural Sciences Managers
• Chemists
• Chemistry Teachers, Postsecondary
• Secondary School Teachers, Except Special and Career/Technical Education

Chemistry - Forensic Chemistry Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements
The Forensic Chemistry emphasis prepares a student for work in a forensic laboratory. A forensic chemist is a professional chemist who analyzes evidence that is brought in from crime scenes and reaches a conclusion based on tests run on that piece of evidence. Classes deal with fingerprint and bloodstain pattern analysis, chemical trace analysis, impression evidence, etc. as well as criminal law.

In obtaining this degree, students will learn how to:
Use modern scientific instruments and interpret results
Apply principles used in chemistry to solve everyday problems
Think analytically
Use problem solving skills
Categorize information
Apply learned math skills
Develop laboratory skills

Requirements

This bachelor's degree in professional chemistry prepares a student for employment as a chemist. It also prepares a student for further study in a graduate degree or professional program. This degree is designed to meet American Chemical standards for a bachelor degree. Job opportunities for students with this degree are very good. Students with this degree can have careers in test laboratories, government laboratories, hospital laboratories, research and development, quality control, manufacturing, and many other areas.

In obtaining this degree, students will learn how to:

- Use modern scientific instruments and interpret results
- Apply principles used in chemistry to solve everyday problems
- Think analytically

Chemistry - Professional Chemistry Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

The degree in chemistry education prepares a student to teach chemistry in secondary education. Students that complete this degree receive endorsements to teach chemistry. Completion of this program is dependent upon being accepted into the Secondary Education Program through the School of Education. There is a great demand for teachers in chemistry and employment opportunities are excellent. In obtaining this degree, students will learn how to:

- Use modern scientific instruments and interpret results
- Apply principles used in chemistry to solve everyday problems
- Think analytically
- Use problem solving skills
- Categorize information
- Develop laboratory skills

Related Careers

- Natural Sciences Managers
- Chemists
- Chemistry Teachers, Postsecondary
- Secondary School Teachers, Except Special and Career/Technical Education

Total Program Credits: 124

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Students are admitted directly to the Baccalaureate degree program in Chemistry Education upon acceptance to the Secondary Education Program.
2. Students must obtain the departmental Advisor's signature on an approved program plan prior to enrollment in their second semester of study.

Secondary Education Requirements:

1. ACT exam minimums: Composite 21, English 20, Math 19; or SAT exam minimums: Critical Read /Math 1000, with Math and Reading scores of 450; or If student has a bachelor degree or higher, he/she does not need to meet this testing requirement.
2. GPA of 3.0 or higher with no grade lower than a C in content area courses.
3. Completion of all General Education requirements and the majority of content area courses.
4. Pass group interview directed by the Secondary Teacher Education Department.
5. Pass LiveScan Criminal Background Check.

Communication

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Communication is to prepare students to execute critical thinking skills and to help students prepare for careers that require expertise in oral, written, and/or mediated communications. The department offers programs of study leading to Associate in Arts/Science and Bachelor of Arts/Science degrees with concentrations in Journalism, Public Relations, or Speech Communication. Communication is also available as a minor and an emphasis for a BA or BS in Integrated Studies.

Programs of study in Communication at UVU offer a balance of analytic and applied approaches to study in the field. The department offers an expanding menu of beginning and advanced courses in mass communication, public relations, media studies, interpersonal communication, intercultural communication, international communication, organizational communication, and journalism.

Encouraging student internships, and working closely with Student Media and other units on campus, the curriculum balances traditional, academic-style learning with applied, practical approaches to study in the field.

Communication - Journalism Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

Students choosing a Communication degree with an emphasis in Journalism will have the opportunity to work with award-winning faculty and gain substantial amounts of hands-on experience. The program encourages students to get involved with The UVU Review, the student-produced campus news organization. The Review is an excellent way to build skills in print, broadcast, and web journalism. Course options for Journalism students range from introductory writing and reporting classes to advanced magazine writing, news editing, broadcast news, and long-form video journalism. Students interested in a degree in Communication with an emphasis in Journalism should look at course requirements and start planning for future semesters. Journalism students are encouraged to look into elective credits in the Digital Media Department, as a way to broaden their skills in modern storytelling.

Communication - Journalism Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements
Students choosing a Communication degree with an emphasis in Journalism will have the opportunity to work with award-winning faculty and gain substantial amounts of hands-on experience. The program encourages students to get involved with The UVU Review, the student-produced campus news organization. The Review is an excellent way to build skills in print, broadcast, and web journalism. Course options for Journalism students range from introductory writing and reporting classes to advanced magazine writing, news editing, broadcast news, and long format video journalism. Students interested in a degree in Communication with an emphasis in Journalism should look at degree requirements and start planning for future semesters. Journalism students are encouraged to look into elective credits in the Digital Media Department, as a way to broaden their skills in modern storytelling.

Communication - Speech Communication Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements
Speech Communication is the study of how we communicate face-to-face in a variety of situations. Students in this field are interested in the dynamics of conversations, the common pitfalls and how to avoid them, and how to make the most out of human interaction. Speech Communication practitioners feel confident in interpersonal exchanges, public speaking, small-group discussion, and specialized fields like argumentation and/or mediation and negotiation. Every industry needs people that can communicate effectively. Graduates often find use for their skills in professions like sales, corporate training and development, human resources, and various social services. Many students choose Speech Communication as a bachelor's degree program that will prepare them for law school and other graduate school work. For their upper division elective coursework, Speech Communication students are encouraged to take classes in Business Management and/or Behavioral Science (Psychology, Sociology, etc.).

Communication - Speech Communication Emphasis, B.S.

Careers

Virtually every modern field of endeavor has increasing demand for specialists with training in the field of communication. Traditional areas of employment for communication students include: print and electronic journalism; print and electronic entertainment; public relations (public affairs, media relations, customer relations, marketing, etc.); advertising; various sorts of writing, reviewing, and editing; training; sales; project management; and management. Today, new media technologies are expanding the need for communication specialists, as well as their range of skills. Communication also provides excellent preparation for graduate study in the fields of business, education, law, psychology, and of course, communication.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Computer Science program at Utah Valley University is to qualify students to function as professional computer scientists, computer engineers, and software engineers in the workplace, and to enter appropriate graduate programs. Graduates will be committed to lifelong learning and empowered with the intellectual and ethical foundations necessary to make responsible decisions.

Three four-year bachelor degrees are offered: Computer Science, Software Engineering, and Computer Engineering. The Computer Science degree (BS-CS) is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET) and offers two areas of emphasis: Computer Science and Computer Networking. The Computer Science degree conforms to the Association of Computing Machinery (ACM) and Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineering (IEEE) joint model curriculum; the Software Engineering degree conforms to the IEEE Computer Society’s Software Engineering Body of Knowledge; and the Computer Engineering degree conforms to the IEEE Computer Society’s Computer Engineering Body of Knowledge.

Note: Students may earn only one BS Degree in Computer Science or Software Engineering. Additional degrees will not be awarded for completing subsequent BS-CS areas of emphasis.

Requirements for Certificate of Completion (Programmer), Associate in Science in Computer Science (AS-CS) and Associate in Applied Science in Computer Science (AAS-CS) with emphasis in Computer Engineering and in Computing and Networking Sciences degrees are included within the BS degree requirements. Students majoring in Computer Science degrees are encouraged to review these degrees and apply for them when they have met the requirements.

Classroom instruction is supported by well-equipped computer labs.

Graduation Requirements:

1. To fill the requirements for a computer science minor students must have no course grade lower than C- in any of the CNS courses required for the computer science minor.

Computer Science, Minor

Careers

Students who work in organizations that use or develop software will have an appreciation for that skill set which will aid them in their own career development.

Related Careers

Computer Engineering, B.S.

Requirements

Computer Engineering encompasses the science and technology of design, construction, implementation, testing, and maintenance of integrated software and hardware components of modern computing systems and computer–controlled equipment (cell phones, video games, laptops).

Computer Science - Computer Science Emphasis, B.S.

Careers:
The work of Computer Scientists falls into three categories: a) designing and building software; b) developing effective ways to solve computing problems, such as storing information in databases, sending data over networks or providing new approaches to security problems; and c) devising new and better ways of using computers and addressing particular challenges in areas such as robotics, computer vision, or digital forensics.

Software Engineering, B.S.

Requirements

Software Engineers design and develop large software systems. In addition, they may lead teams of software developers or quality assurance engineers. They also work with users and customers to understand their needs. Software systems we take for granted, such as Microsoft Office, are implemented by software engineers. Software engineers employ innovative software development approaches, such as Agile software development, to effectively manage software development projects.

Total Program Credits: 122

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Completion of CS 1400, CS 1410, CS 2300, and CS 2420 with a grade of C+ better.
2. Completion of MATH 1210 and ENGL 1010 with a grade of C or better.

Concurrent Enrollment is a Utah Valley University High School partnership program, where qualified high school students can earn college credit prior to high school graduation.

On-site

These classes are taught at the high school campuses during the normal school day. Courses are taught by UVU-approved, high school instructors who meet the same academic requirements for faculty teaching at UVU. Students officially apply to UVU and subsequently register for courses available at their high school campus. Students pay a one-time admission fee and partial tuition based on the amount of registered credit hours. All courses are the same as those taught on the UVU campus including applicable prerequisites, course syllabus, course curriculum, modes of instruction, and assessment. An official high school transcript and a permanent college transcript are generated for all Concurrent Enrollment courses.

A site coordinator is provided at each high school to assist students in course selection and the registration process.

Live interactive

Many courses are delivered by interactive television and internet from UVU classrooms and faculty to high school sites throughout the state. These courses are broadcast during the normal school day. Students officially apply to UVU and register for Live-interactive courses available at their high school campus. Students pay a one-time admission fee, lab and textbook fees, and partial tuition based on the amount of registered credit hours. Students are held to the same standards of achievement as those expected of students in UVU campus sections. An official high school transcript and a permanent college transcript are generated for all Live-interactive courses.

Degree/Certificates:
• One Year Certificate
• Two Year Associate in Applied Science
• Two Year Associate in Science
• Bachelors of Science in Technology Management

Career Opportunities
Graduates of this program are better equipped to find employment in the building inspection and construction management fields. In addition, this curriculum will provide supporting instruction for those students in the Construction Technologies (CT) and the Engineering, Graphics and Design Technologies (EGDT) programs.

Reminder: An overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above is required for graduation.

Construction Management, A.A.S.

Requirements

Students may earn an Associate in Applied Science degree. The Clyde Institute of Construction Management Program has been designed to provide students a strong foundation in Construction Management that prepares them for jobs in construction site supervision and/or for advancement on to a BS degree in Construction Management. The program provides courses in building construction, construction management and construction science that apply to all segments of the construction industry with an emphasis on heavy civil and commercial construction. Students will learn about construction materials and methods through the use of readings, 3-D models, hands-on laboratory exercises, and site visits. Construction management courses in estimating and scheduling are also provided along with a strong background in mathematics, computer technology, business and other general education subjects. A supervisory course is also required so students can learn to manage workers at construction sites.

Construction Management, B.S.

Requirements

Students may earn an Associate in Applied Science degree. The Clyde Institute of Construction Management Program has been designed to provide students a strong foundation in Construction Management that prepares them for jobs in construction site supervision and/or for advancement on to a BS degree in Construction Management. The program provides courses in building construction, construction management and construction science that apply to all segments of the construction industry with an emphasis on heavy civil and commercial construction. Students will learn about construction materials and methods through the use of readings, 3-D models, hands-on laboratory exercises, and site visits. Construction management courses in estimating and scheduling are also provided along with a strong background in mathematics, computer technology, business and other general education subjects. A supervisory course is also required so students can learn to manage workers at construction sites.

Criminal Justice/Law Enforcement

Organize a Skills USA criminal justice program. Increase the number of students in both the criminal justice and the forensic science programs.
Continue curriculum improvement efforts and link assessment more closely to competencies.

Increase rigor/scholarship across the curriculum.
Actively participate in professional organizations.
Promote scholarly research and development within the faculty.

Contribution to Overall UVU Mission
The departmental mission was developed to contribute to the College of Aviation & Public Services mission which, in turn, contributes to UVU’s mission. Critical to our program is a focus on developing a curriculum, along with other departments at UVU, which prepares our students to be competent for employment or advanced education and excellence in teaching, scholarship, and community service.

Mission Statement
Mission, Goals, and Values
The Criminal Justice program is committed to fostering a challenging and intellectually stimulating environment that provides a broad range of interactive academic and field experiences. An understanding and appreciation of the theory, research, policy and practice of criminal justice, as a unique discipline, will be advanced. The department will promote the development of future professionals who are capable of assuming responsibility for the research, continuing scholarship and administration of the criminal justice system.

The Forensic Science program is committed to fostering a challenging and intellectually stimulating environment that provides a broad range of interactive academic and field experiences. An understanding and appreciation of theory, research, policy and practice of forensic science, as a unique discipline, will be advanced. The department will promote the development of future professionals who are capable of assuming responsibility for the research, continuing scholarship and administration of forensic science.

The following values will dictate our actions in carrying out these missions:

- Academically and professionally qualified faculty.
- Superior teaching.
- Scholarly activities that enhance and strengthen teaching.
- Continued re-evaluation, assessment, and corrections to curriculum.
- Ethical awareness and conduct.
- Cooperation, communication, and diversity across the curriculum.
- Development of sensitivity toward, and appreciation for, cultural diversity.
- Development of analytical and critical thinking skills essential to the criminal justice field.
- Preparation for the technologically sophisticated legal environment of the 21st century.

Advancement of the study of law within the context of an interdisciplinary liberal arts education.

The vision of the Criminal Justice Department is to become an academic program in the field of Criminal Justice recognized by students, and alumni, which provides them with a critical understanding of the total system of criminal justice and the society in which it functions. Additionally, we aspire to be recognized by local, state, and federal law enforcement communities for our progressive education, service, intellectual maturity, and ethical awareness.

The vision of the Forensic Science area of the Criminal Justice Department is to become an academic program in the field of Forensic Science recognized by students, and alumni, which provides a critical understanding of the investigation procedures for forensic evidence and the society in which it functions. Additionally, we aspire to be recognized by local, state, and federal law enforcement communities for our progressive education, service, intellectual maturity, and ethical awareness.

The following strategies/goals are being pursued to move toward the above vision:
Develop a comprehensive forensic curriculum in cooperation with the science department.

Program

The Culinary Arts Institute (CAI) at UVU provides premier training for students interested in a career in professional cooking or baking. The program offers small, hands-on classes, focusing on individualized attention and development. The Culinary Arts Institute provides experience, through "engaged" industry based learning.

The Culinary Arts Institutes comprehensive course of study covers several service areas; including not only learning how to cook and bake, but key requirement to success such as; customer service, business and finance management, marketing and advertising. CAI students learn how to apply these skills to a variety of food service establishments and operations. The practical and theoretical instruction covers such areas as food service safety and sanitation, professional dining room service, menu planning, nutrition and purchasing-storeroom management procedures.

While studying Culinary Arts at UVU, students gain a solid understanding of the food and beverage industry and learn the newest techniques in food and baking production using state-of-the-art equipment in our kitchen labs. The CAI also applies real world training as students run, full service, fine dining operations at Restaurant Forte, located in the UCCU Center and the Canyon Park Café located the Culinary Arts Institute in North Orem. These industry based learning models allow students to work with a wide range of foods while directly interacting with the public. In order to get the full breadth of running their own food service establishment, students work in a variety of functions including waiting tables, purchasing, preparing food, hosting, and supervising as the head chef.

Mission Statement

The Department of Dental Hygiene offers an Associate in Applied Science in Dental Hygiene. It also offers a Bachelor Completion degree in Dental Hygiene. The Dental Hygiene AAS program prepares graduates to take the Dental Hygiene National Boards, the Western Regional Dental Hygiene Clinical Boards, the Western Regional Written and Clinical Local Anesthesia Boards and to apply for state licensure. Completion of the program prepares graduates to enter private practice as competent dental hygiene professionals.

The program is competency based and student centered in nature. The program focuses on developing the knowledge and skill needed in dental hygiene while it strives to develop student problem solving and critical thinking skills, communication skills and teaching/education skills. The curriculum also develops student professionalism and promotes lifelong learning, community awareness, engagement and service.

The AAS program is a competitive admission program. Please refer to our department website for a complete description of our application process and requirements. Call our office with any questions.

You must apply and be officially accepted into our program to declare yourself a dental hygiene major in order to begin taking Dental Hygiene courses.

The AAS curriculum includes a total of 83 credits including prerequisites. These prerequisite courses must be taken before applying to the Dental Hygiene Program:

- CHEM 1110 Chemistry for the Health Professions
- ENGL 1010 College Writing
- MATH 1050 Intermediate Algebra.
- ZOOL 2320 Human Anatomy Lecture
- ZOOL 2325 Human Anatomy Lab
- ZOOL 2420 Human Physiology
- ZOOL 2425 Human Physiology Lab

Please be aware that some of the above prerequisites have their own prerequisites. Please contact the Biology Department for information on their prerequisites for the Human Anatomy and Human Physiology courses and the Chemistry Department for their prerequisites for CHEM 1110.

The Bachelor Completion Program includes a total of 120 credits. It has a competitive admission process as well. It builds on the credits received in the AAS program. It offers several tracts of 12 credits each. Please refer to our department website for information concerning the application process, required courses and other important information. Bear in mind that students need their two year degree in dental hygiene prior to matriculating into this program.

Career Opportunities

Dental hygienists, under the supervision of licensed dentists, provide preventive dental care to patients such as dental prophylaxis, topical fluoride applications, pit and fissure sealants, administration of local anesthetics, dental radiographs and teaching patients plaque control procedures. Dental hygienists work in private dental practices as well as in school systems, public health agencies, Federal and State agencies, hospitals, and nursing homes.

Program Overview

Admission to UVU does not constitute admission to the Dental Hygiene program.

Admission to the Dental Hygiene program requires a separate and competitive admission process.

The Department of Dental Hygiene currently offers two programs leading to the following degrees: 1) Associate in Applied Science in Dental Hygiene and 2) Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene. Upon successful completion of the AAS program, graduates must pass National, Regional and State Board examinations to apply for licensure.

Applicants to the AAS program, who have questions about their potential for licensure in a particular state, should contact that state’s board of dental hygiene. One important pre-requireise to entering the Bachelor program is an Associate level degree in dental hygiene from an accredited school in the United States. The Associate level degree must be transferable to the USHE higher education system.

The AAS Dental Hygiene program at UVU has been granted accreditation status by the Commission on Dental Accreditation of the American Dental Association, 211 East Chicago Ave., Chicago, IL 60611, 312-440-4653.

Program Information

Students are required to follow departmental infection control policies and procedures that are based on OSHA regulations and CDC recommendations. They must meet the health and safety requirements participating facilities require of their employees. These requirements must be met prior to enrollment in Dental Hygiene 1010:

1. Documentation of current immunization for Tetanus, Measles, Mumps, Rubella, and Hepatitis B, and Negative Mantoux for tuberculosis. (negative chest x-ray if Mantoux is contra indicated/positive). Students may refuse any immunization by signing a waiver and release from liability. Immunization may also be waived with documentation of acceptable titer or written documentation from a physician of immunization risk.

2. Current CPR certification (American Heart Association CPR for Health Care Providers, American Red Cross Health Care Provider, or National Safety Council); certification must remain current throughout academic program. Students will have professional liability insurance through UVU’s comprehensive liability insurance policy. This liability insurance is in effect when students are performing within the scope of their assigned clinical/laboratory activities and under the supervision of Department of Dental Hygiene faculty and supervising dentists.

The Department of Dental Hygiene adheres to UVU policy allowing students, staff or faculty with AIDS, ARC, or HIV to participate in all phases of College life within established College policies. The Department will respect the confidentiality of individuals with AIDS, ARC, or HIV insofar as the safety of others is not in question. College policy is not to test students, faculty or staff for the AIDS virus. See Policy A-9.1 for full college policy. State Licensure requirements may consider health status. Applicants with questions regarding Licensure policies should contact the licensing division of the state(s) in which they intend to seek Licensure following graduation.

Costs for the AAS Dental Hygiene program include a $3175 program fee per semester for four (4) semesters, in addition to UVU tuition and laboratory fees (these costs are subject to change). This fee is subject to change on a yearly basis and the student is responsible to pay any fee increases, regardless of when they began the program. Students are required to purchase their own dental instruments, some clinical supplies, and uniforms. Students are responsible for transportation to the clinic and other clinical sites, as well as other field experiences and any State, Regional or National boards and licensing.

The AAS Dental Hygiene program is challenging academically and in the amount of time involved on campus and at clinical experiences. Students should plan for some evening and weekend clinical experiences in dental hygiene courses. Students will provide patient care in a clinical setting. While volunteer patients come to the clinic for treatment, students should seek patients for some clinical experiences, and are ultimately responsible for obtaining their clinical patients.

The BS Dental Hygiene program does not entail a special fee or clinical component.

Students in either the AAS or BS program will be informed of additional departmental policies following admission to the program.

Admission Requirements

Admission to UVU does not constitute admission to any of the Dental Hygiene Programs. Admission to the Dental Hygiene Program requires a separate and competitive admission process.

For specific admission criteria, please visit our department web-site www.uvu.edu/dental. Feel free to contact the Department of Dental Hygiene at 801-863-7536 or 801-863-6974, or e-mail a request for information to maria.wilkey@uvu.edu.

All applicants will be notified by mail of their admission status. No telephone or in-person requests for admission status will be answered. Students not admitted for the semester of application must reapply for the next application period and compete with the new pool for admission. There is no waiting list for either program.

Transfer of Credits

For information regarding the transfer of credits from other institutions of higher learning for general education and required courses, other than Dental Hygiene courses, please contact the Graduation and Transfer Services office (BA 114g, telephone 801-863-8438). For Dental Hygiene courses, contact the Department of Dental Hygiene after you have been notified of acceptance into the AAS program.

Degree

The Department of Dental Hygiene reserves the right to modify the curriculum as needed to meet accreditation requirements and changes in the profession.

The Department of Dental Hygiene has a working Dental Hygiene clinic serving the general public. Clinic appointments can be made by calling 801-863-7608.

Requirements

This is a Bachelor Completion program, meaning you must first have a two year degree in dental hygiene to apply and be accepted. Please refer to our website at www.uvu.edu/dental and/or call us at 801-863-7536 or 7592 for specific information about the application process. The BS degree builds on the AAS degree in dental hygiene. The BS degree consists of 120 credits and builds on the credits already earned in the AAS program. This degree can be for those who want to: increase their knowledge in their field, move onto an advanced degree, become a hygiene faculty and teach, work for private companies, research work for the government, become a mid-level provider or want to improve their critical thinking and problem solving skills. The degree has emphases in four (4) areas consisting of 12 credit hours each. This degree is aimed at the working professional, as the Dental Hygiene courses are offered on-line. There is no clinical component. There is also no special fee involved. The first four courses already taken, the following plan is only meant to be a guide. It is based on a student completing the UVU AAS Dental Hygiene Degree. Once you have applied, and are in the BS program, you must speak with the Department of Dental Hygiene advisor to help you customize a plan that works for you.

Requirements

This is a Bachelor Completion program, meaning you must first have a two year degree in dental hygiene to apply and be accepted. Please refer to our website at www.uvu.edu/dental and/or call us at 801-863-7536 or 7592 for specific information about the application process. The BS degree builds on the AAS degree in dental hygiene. The BS degree consists of 120 credits and builds on the credits already earned in the AAS program. This degree can be for those who want to: increase their knowledge in their field, move onto an advanced degree, become a hygiene faculty and teach, work for private companies, research work for the government, become a mid-level provider or want to improve their critical thinking and problem solving skills. The degree has emphases in four (4) areas consisting of 12 credit hours each. This degree is aimed at the working professional, as the Dental Hygiene courses are offered on-line. There is no a clinical component. There is also no special fee involved. The first four semesters and AAS pre-requisites are listed. You must have completed your AAS degree before you can matriculate into the BS program. Because applicants will present with a variety of previous courses already taken, the following plan is only meant to be a guide. It is based on a student completing the UVU AAS Dental Hygiene Degree. Once you have applied, and are in the BS program, you must speak with the Department of Dental Hygiene advisor to help you customize a plan that works for you.

The courses offered by the Department of Developmental Mathematics are designed to provide a foundation in preparatory mathematics that is required for higher level mathematics courses and that support our students in many disciplines. The courses also provide for the development of critical thinking skills that are applicable to all aspects of academic life.

The Department of Developmental Mathematics offers MAT 1000, MAT 1010, and MAT 1030 as transferable, college credit classes, as well as prerequisites for MATH 1030, MATH 1040, and MATH 1050. The Department of Developmental Mathematics also offers preparatory, non-transferable courses for students who need to strengthen mathematics skills before entering MAT 1010.

University College
University College serves a unique role and mission within Utah Valley University. Based on a national model, the name University College signifies opportunity for student success through curricular and co-curricular offerings, academic services and innovative programs. University College welcomes students at present levels of achievement and challenges them with higher expectations. The programs and departments of Literacies and Composition, Student Leadership & Success Studies, Developmental Mathematics, English Language Learning, Academic Counseling Center, Academic Standards, Writing Center, Academic Tutoring, Math Lab, and First Year Experience & Student Retention, and Tutoring and Academic Skills Services (TASS) promote interdisciplinary partnerships as students transition into university academics.

Mission Statement

Digital Media prepares students for careers in digital media. It equips students with foundation theories and procedures to develop sound multi-communication structures. It integrates: graphics, text animation, video and audio digital materials to entertain, educate, and communicate ideas through meaningful human interaction. Students in Digital Media (DGM) may earn either an AAS degree or a Bachelor's Degree.

  Email: Joyce.porter@uvu.edu
• Marianna Henry
  Telephone: 801-863-7125
  Email: Marianna.Henry@uvu.edu

Bachelor Admittance Requirement

Digital Media (DGM) requires all students seeking a bachelor's degree to meet or exceed certain criteria to be eligible for the program. All sophomores and transfer students will need to apply to the program by completing a Portfolio Review. Eligibility for the bachelor program requires that all students receive a B- (2.75) or above in DGM courses. Additionally, this grade threshold must be maintained throughout the bachelor degree program to remain in good standing. Upper-division courses (3000 or 4000 level) cannot be taken unless accepted into the bachelor program.

Note: All freshmen should declare their "anticipated" degree when they complete their entrance application. Students accepted into the bachelor program must re-submit a new application at which time they must declare their "official" degree.

Laptop Requirement

Laptops will be required for many of the upper-division courses. Each degree will have its own laptop specifications. Please see a Digital Media advisor for details.

Digital Cinema, Certificate of Proficiency
Careers

Because of extensive use of digital media in nearly every area of our lives, graduates will find themselves in demand by diverse organizations which use digital technology to communicate ideas. For example, graduates may work with medical teams to develop training materials to describe new surgical techniques to physicians, or work with a team to create an educational game. They may work as video or audio specialists on a documentary, or create an interactive web site to support a company’s retail efforts or as administrative information management professionals.

Careers:

Because of extensive use of digital media in nearly every area of our lives, graduates will find themselves in demand by diverse organizations which use digital technology to communicate ideas. For example, graduates may work with medical teams to develop training materials to describe new surgical techniques to physicians, or work with a team to create an educational game. They may work as video or audio specialists on a documentary, or create an interactive web site to support a company's retail efforts or as administrative information management professionals.

Web Design and Development - Web and App Development Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements
The BS in Web Design and Development allows students to study app development for mobile devices, web design, and development for mobile friendly websites, digital magazine publishing, and user experience design. In order to be successful in these areas, students need skills in design and content creation.

Careers

Because of extensive use of digital media in nearly every area of our lives, graduates will find themselves in demand by diverse organizations which use digital technology to communicate ideas. For example, graduates may work with medical teams to develop training materials to describe new surgical techniques to physicians, or work with a team to create an educational game. They may work as video or audio specialists on a documentary, or create an interactive web site to support a company's retail efforts or as administrative information management professionals.

Mission Statement
The Department of Earth Science’s mission is to provide students with a rewarding and dynamic educational experience. We pride ourselves on being able to offer personal attention to the needs of students with diverse backgrounds and educational goals, and to providing students with the opportunity to learn outside of the classroom in research, service-learning and internship projects. Our three degree programs (B.S. in Geology, B.S. in Environmental Science and Management, and B.S. in Earth Science Education) provide a wide range of skills and knowledge that are applicable to today’s earth science job markets, as well as a broad-based science education that’s ideal for students planning to continue to graduate programs in law, education, business, or health fields. Our Department graduates professionals who are skilled and creative and who are well prepared to contribute toward solving earth and environmental science challenges faced here in Utah and worldwide.

Depending on the specific degree and elective courses chosen, a graduate will gain particular expertise in one or more of the following areas:

- Economic Geology
- Environmental Science
- Environmental Management
- Geochemistry
- Geographic Information Systems
- Geologic Hazards
- Geomorphology
- Hydrology
- Paleontology
- Petrology
- Tectonics

Earth Science Education, B.S.

Requirements
Earth Science is the study of the Earth, including its water and atmosphere, and their relationship to humans and other living things. Earth Science applies chemistry, physics, mathematics and biology to scientific problems of the Earth. The Earth Science Education program prepares students to receive a Utah State teaching credential with an endorsement in Earth Science. Through careful choice of courses, students may also earn endorsements in the other physical sciences.

Total Program Credits: 123

Matriculation Requirements:
1. Complete the following courses: GEO 1010, GEO 1015, MATH 1050, MATH 1060, BIOL 1610 with a grade of "C-" or higher in each.
2. Complete a minimum of 30 semester hours of college credit.
3. Apply to the department of Earth Science for admission.

Secondary Education Requirements:
1. ACT exam minimums: Composite 21, English 20, Math 19; or SAT exam minimums: Critical Read /Math 1000, with Math and Reading scores of 450; or If student has a bachelor degree or higher, he/she does not need to meet this testing requirement.
2. GPA of 3.0 or higher with no grade lower than a C in content area courses.
3. Completion of all General Education requirements and the majority of content area courses.
4. Pass group interview directed by the Secondary Teacher Education Department.
5. Pass LiveScan Criminal Background Check.

Students planning to continue to graduate programs in law, education, business, or health fields. Our Department graduates professionals who are skilled and creative and who are well prepared to contribute toward solving earth and environmental science challenges faced here in Utah and worldwide.

The Earth Science Education degree prepares K-12 science teachers. The degree emphasizes earth science curriculum, but many students gear their program to qualify them to teach other physical sciences and/or geography. Job prospects for graduates are outstanding, and many UVU-educated earth science teachers are making a difference in young people's lives through their work in Utah's K-12 school system.
Earth Science

Environmental Science and Management, B.S.

Requirements

Environmental Science is the study of the Earth’s surface, including its water and atmosphere, with a particular focus on their relationship to humans and other living things. Environmental Science applies chemistry, physics, mathematics and biology to answer questions about the Earth and its interrelationships with living things. Environmental Management focuses on the maintenance of environmental resources, for example water resources. Environmental scientists may conduct studies in the field, in the laboratory using advanced analytical equipment, and in the office using specialized computer software. The program is preparation for a variety of career paths, including water monitoring, treatment, and pollution control with local, state or federal agencies; environmental consulting with private industry; and other careers that draw on a background in the natural sciences, including law, public policy, and public health.

Environmental Science and Management, B.S.

Careers

The three degree programs offered by the Department of Earth Science (B.S. in Geology, B.S. in Environmental Science and Management, and B.S. in Earth Science Education) provide a wide range of skills and knowledge that are applicable to today's earth science job markets, as well as a broad science education that is ideal for students planning to continue to graduate programs in law, education, business, or health fields. Our Department graduates professionals who are skilled and creative and who are well prepared to contribute toward solving earth and environmental science challenges faced here in Utah and worldwide.

The Environmental Science and Management B.S. degree is a flexible program that prepares graduates for a variety of exciting and important careers ranging from water and wastewater treatment through jobs monitoring water resources to working with geographic information systems. The degree is also terrific preparation for many careers that draw on a solid background in environmental science, for example in public policy, law, public health, humanitarian work and more. Job prospects are excellent, and potential employers include local, state and federal government agencies and environmental consulting firms. Graduates are well prepared to work with water quality issues, including both monitoring and treating water resources, and a number of graduates are working at local government water treatment plants around the state, ensuring a safe water supply. Others work for environmental consulting firms where they are helping prevent, assess, and remediate water pollution and other environmental hazards; some have chosen to enhance their education in graduate agencies and environmental consulting firms. Graduates are well prepared to work and still others work in a range of fields monitoring and maintaining the environment.

Geology, B.S.

Careers

The three degree programs offered by the Department of Earth Science (B.S. in Geology, B.S. in Environmental Science and Management, and B.S. in Earth Science Education) provide a wide range of skills and knowledge that are applicable to today's earth science job markets, as well as a broad science education that's ideal for students planning to continue to graduate programs in law, education, business, or health fields. Our Department graduates professionals who are skilled and creative and who are well prepared to contribute toward solving earth and environmental science challenges faced here in Utah and worldwide. More specific information on career opportunities related to each degree is provided below.

A bachelor of science in Geology is excellent preparation for a wide range of careers, including geology and closely allied fields, as well as a variety of opportunities that draw upon a graduate's broad and rigorous education in the physical and environmental sciences. Job prospects for graduates are excellent, and work may be largely be field-based, office-based or a combination. Many students continue to graduate school before entering the labor market, while many others take employment upon graduation. Large employers of geologists include the oil and gas industry, mineral exploration and extraction, geologic consulting, and government agencies. In the oil and gas and mining industries many geologists are involved with exploration for additional resources and development of existing resources. Geologic consulting involves work such as assessing and mitigating hazards including landslides, earthquakes and flooding; evaluating slope stability and compaction; and evaluating and protecting surface and ground water resources. Geologists working for government agencies perform interesting tasks ranging to land use analysis, investigations of water resources, and working with geographic information systems. However, many graduates have shown that a degree in geology is an effective stepping-stone to a variety of career paths including public policy, law, public health, humanitarian work, and more, particularly when the endeavors involve issues related to the environment.

Program Description

The Master of Education (M.Ed.) degree at Utah Valley University is an applied master's degree aimed at building the instructional skill and professional competency of teachers. The goal is to enable participants to become more proficient in selecting optimum, research-based, curriculum design strategies that best apply to specific teaching situations.

There are currently five options within the Curriculum and Instruction Degree:

- Models of Instruction
- English as a Second Language (ESL)
- Elementary Mathematics
- Educational Technology
- Reading I
- Elementary STEM

The M.Ed. requires 30-36 semester hours of graduate course work and completion of a culminating applied instructional project tailored to the particular interests of program participants. Participants enter the M.Ed. program in cohorts and progress through the degree program in a group. While the culminating applied instructional project is unique to each student, some course work and many class activities are done in collaboration with fellow students.

Admission & Retention

Application to the Program

Applicants should complete an online graduate application by following the application link on the UVU Web site and follow all instructions for graduate application and admission. Applications and application fees must be received by March 31 for consideration for summer semester. Students in the M.Ed. program begin with full-time coursework in the summers and part-time enrollment in the fall and spring semesters.

Required support materials received after the application deadline will delay processing of the application. The School of Education Graduate Screening Committee reviews applications and schedules interviews for applicants meeting minimum admission requirements. The Coordinator of Graduate Studies for the School of Education notifies all applicants in writing of the admission decision. The University cannot guarantee a response on or before a specific date. All admission materials become the property of UVU and will not be returned to the applicant.

Reapplication

If an applicant is not admitted, s/he may reapply. All current admission requirements at the time of application must be met.

Satisfactory Progress

Continuation in the Master of Education program is determined by: (1) satisfactory progress (B- or higher) in all courses and (2) faculty committee chair and the graduate admission and retention committee recommendation.

Academic Probation

A student can be recommended for academic probation for the following reason(s): (1) Failure to meet the scholarship requirements of the Graduate Program of an overall GPA of 3.00 (on a 4.00 scale) or higher, with no individual course grade lower than B-; (2) Failure to complete prescribed courses; and/or (3) Failure to adhere to University student rights and responsibilities standards.

Dismissal from the Program

A student can be dismissed from the Master of Education program for the following reason(s):

1. Academic dishonesty;
2. Continued failure to meet academic standards; and/or
3. Continued failure to adhere to University student rights and responsibilities standards.

Courses

Admission to the master’s program or permission of the Dean of the School of Education is required for enrollment in the Master of Education courses.

Requirements

The Master of Education Degree (M.Ed.) at Utah Valley University is an applied master's program aimed at building the instructional skills and professional competency of teachers. Currently there are five options for participants: Models of Instruction; English as a Second Language (ESL); Elementary Mathematics; Reading I, and Educational Technology. The M.Ed. program emphasizes coursework that prepares teachers to become instructional leaders, with classes in advanced pedagogy, subject matter content, curriculum design, and assessment. Core coursework in research methods is required of participants in all options, however, students select a topic for a culminating project according to their interest or area of licensure in K-12 education.

Total Program Credits: 30

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Application for admission.
2. Bachelor degree from an accredited institution.
3. Graduate Records Exam (GRE) with a verbal and quantitative score at or above the 40th percentile.
4. Overall grade point average in undergraduate work of 3.2 or higher or have a grade point average of 3.2 or higher for the last 60 semester hours of college or university credit.
5. Interview with School of Education Graduate Committee.
6. Three professional letters of recommendation.

Preference will be given to individuals who have at least one year of successful teaching experience in grades K-12. A one-year internship will count as the preferred year of successful teaching.

Preference will be given to practicing teachers who have access to an established teaching environment in grades K-12.

Curriculum and Instruction, M.Ed.

Careers

While the Master of Education degree program is designed primarily to enhance the skills and understandings of practicing classroom teachers, it also prepares these graduate students for expanded leadership roles at the school, district, or state level in delivering professional development, designing and evaluating curriculum and textbooks, and mentoring novice teachers. A Master of Education degree may also qualify a student as an instructor for teacher preparation courses in a community college or as an adjunct instructor at the undergraduate level in a four-year college or university. Successful completion of this master's degree also provides a valuable foundation for those students who choose to pursue a doctoral degree. Completed coursework in English as a Second Language, Elementary Mathematics, Educational Technology, and the Reading 1 options qualifies students for an endorsement to their existing Utah Teaching Certificate.

Dual Language Immersion, Endorsement

Requirements

The Dual Language Immersion (DLI) Endorsement program is designed to prepare teachers to be sensitive and responsive to the needs of dual language immersion (DLI) learners and to become advocates for DLI in a variety of educational settings. Coursework is designed to address historical and political foundations of DLI education and methods and materials for engaging DLI students in challenging educational experiences. The UVU endorsement program is intended to provide educators with an opportunity to develop, expand, and integrate their knowledge of content, pedagogy, and cultural perspectives in dual language immersion education. Completed program coursework qualifies students to apply to the Utah State Office of Education for an endorsement to their current Utah Teaching License.

Dual Language Immersion, Endorsement

Careers:

While the Master of Education degree program is designed primarily to enhance the skills and understandings of practicing classroom teachers, it also prepares these graduate students for expanded leadership roles at the school, district, or state level in delivering professional development, designing and evaluating curriculum and textbooks, and mentoring novice teachers. A Master of Education degree may also qualify a student as an instructor for teacher preparation courses in a community college or as an adjunct instructor at the undergraduate level in a four-year college or university. Successful completion of this master's degree also provides a valuable foundation for those students who choose to pursue a doctoral degree. Program options in English as a Second Language, Educational Technology, Elementary Mathematics, and Reading  I will also qualify students to apply for an endorsement to their current Utah Teaching Certificate.

Mission Statement

The School of Education prepares competent, caring and qualified individuals who are ready to assume the role of teacher in elementary and secondary schools, as well as prepare them for further career choices and advancement.

The professional program provides essential coursework and experiences to support students as they progress toward becoming professional educators. Students are engaged in research-based and standards-based instruction in content and pedagogy. Candidates are expected to plan, instruct, and assess in a manner that meets curriculum, school and district goals as well as the diverse instructional and experiential needs of all students. Candidates reflect on their own practice and performance, analyze progress, and make choices for future professional growth. In the Master’s program, new knowledge is put into practice in students’ own classrooms. Graduates acquire knowledge, skills, and dispositions to positively impact students, the community, and themselves as they continue on the journey of life-long learning.

Early Childhood Education Program

The Early Care and Education program is strongly aligned with community needs. It provides instruction and preparation for those seeking to work with young children in preschool and day care facilities. It provides a strong experiential program through course work, observations and practicum.

Professional Elementary Teacher Education Program

The Professional Elementary Teacher Education Program at Utah Valley University is designed to prepare quality, entry-level candidates for teaching in elementary education programs grades K-6. Students successfully completing the UVU professional teacher education program graduation and licensure requirements receive a baccalaureate degree in Elementary Education and a Level I Utah Professional Teaching License.

The UVU teacher education initial licensure program is accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Education Preparation (CAEP), the Utah State Office of Education, and the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

Admission to the Teacher Education Licensure Program is a separate process from and in addition to admission to Utah Valley University. Meeting the minimum requirements qualifies the student to be considered for admission.

Career Opportunities

Early Childhood Education Program

Career opportunities include: teaching in early childhood programs and child care centers, Head Start teacher and teacher aide, teacher aide in elementary school, teacher aide in special education classes, owner and/or director of preschool or child care center.

Professional Elementary Teacher Education Program

Career opportunities result from completion of the UVU Professional Teacher Education Program, which qualifies students for an Elementary Education Professional Educator License.

Certain Elementary Education (EDEL) and Early Childhood Education (EDEC) courses transfer to other institutions offering these programs.

Degrees/License

Degrees available: Certificate of Completion in Early Care and Education; Associate in Science (AS) in Early Childhood Education; Associate in Science (AS) in Pre-Elementary Education; Baccalaureate of Science Degree (BS) in Elementary Education. The State of Utah offers Professional Educator Licenses for Elementary Education for grades K-6.

Admission & Retention

Admission to the Education Program is required for enrollment in professional studies level courses. Admission criteria*: 1) Praxis II (5001) Scores (required scores: Read/Lang. Art = 157, Math = 157, Social Studies = 155, Science – 159); 2) GPA of 3.00 or higher (including B- or higher in all pre professional emphasis courses); 3) an interview directed by the Teacher Education Admission and Retention Committee, and 4) Completion of the coursework for the Associate of Science degree in Pre-Elementary Education or equivalent. Applicants are accepted into the Teacher Education Program for fall and spring semesters after meeting entrance requirements.

*Please contact the Elementary Education Advisors for the current admission requirements. Admission to the teacher education licensure program is a separate process from and in addition to admission to Utah Valley University. Meeting the minimum requirements qualifies the student to be considered for admission.
Elementary Education

To continue in the program, students are expected to maintain all program standards. They must maintain expected levels of competence in all coursework, field work, and student teaching with all course grades at or above a B- and a program GPA of 3.00 or higher. Additionally, teacher candidates are expected to adhere to standards of personal integrity, responsibility, and citizenship commonly expected of professional educators.

Persons who hold a valid (current or expired) Professional Elementary Education Teaching License may pursue relicensing course work through the School of Education.

Requirements

The Professional Special Education Teacher Education Program at Utah Valley University is designed to prepare quality, entry-level candidates for teaching students with mild to moderate disabilities in special education programs grades K-12. Students successfully completing the Teacher Education Program graduation and licensure requirements will receive a BS in Special Education and a Level I Utah Professional Teaching License. Through electives, students can choose to specialize in concentration areas such as Autism Studies or Secondary Special Education Mathematics. Additionally, students can choose to earn a dual license in Special Education and Elementary Education grades K-6 or Secondary Education. To continue in the Teacher Education Program, students are expected in all coursework, to maintain all program standards. They must maintain expected levels of competence in fieldwork and student teaching placements with all course grades at or above a B- and a program GPA of 3.00 or higher. In addition, teacher candidates are expected to adhere to standards of personal integrity, responsibility, and citizenship commonly expected of professional educators.

Class Scheduling
Emergency Services classes are scheduled to meet the needs of traditional students and firefighters working various shift assignments. During each semester, classes are offered during the day, afternoons, evenings and weekends. Classes designed primarily for working firefighters are scheduled on a weekend or seminar basis, and are often available for either college credit or continuing education credit. The seminar sessions are not always listed in the college semester schedule, but are announced through the quarterly Straight Tip magazine. For more information on currently scheduled classes, call (801) 863-7723, or check our web page at www.uvu.edu/ufra.

Engineering Design Technology

Mission Statement

The mission of the UVU Engineering Design Technology program (EGDT) is to prepare future professionals to engage in diverse design, modeling, and drafting disciplines. The program cultivates an elevated commitment to work ethic, quality, productivity, and service. Successful graduates will be dynamic self-starters and lifelong learners who are serious about work and accept the stewardship of designing the future.

Structural

Pam Foote, Steel Encounters; Steve Holdaway, Tectonix Steel; Rob Schoen, Axis Steel Detailing. Other: Gary Roberts, Wasatch High School; Ginger Timmerman, Prosoft.

Career Opportunities

The Engineering Design Technology program prepares students for design, 3D modeling, surveying, and drafting careers in mechanical, architectural, structural, civil, and electrical/electronic fields. Jobs are available with architects, cities, counties, states, the federal government, engineering and surveying companies, mines, research and development companies, and the mechanical, structural steel, architectural development, electronics, construction, and fire protection industries. In addition, because of the broad nature of the program, graduates are prepared to succeed in most technical fields. For example, they can work as manufacturing, industrial engineering, and construction technicians as well as in functional areas of purchasing, estimating, bidding, plant management, quality control, expediting, and sales.

Job Description – Engineering Design Technology

Engineering Design Technicians (formerly Drafters/Designers) translate ideas from design layouts, specifications, rough sketches, and calculations of engineers & architects into working drawings, maps, plans, and illustrations which are used in making products, structures, land development, and civil infrastructure. They prepare 3D computer models and 2D drawings using Computer Aided Drafting, Design, and 3D modeling systems. They perform design and drafting work in mechanical, electrical, electronic, structural, architectural, civil, piping, and technical illustration fields. They make mathematical calculations using algebra, trigonometry, plane and solid geometry, applied mechanics, strength of materials and basic physics.

The Engineering Design Technician works closely with both professional and nonprofessional people and acts as a liaison between the shop or field and the engineering office. Professional appearance and work habits are essential.

Job Description – Land Surveying

Surveying Technicians work out-of-doors performing surveys of property, roads, pipelines, subdivisions, and all types of construction projects. They may work in specialized fields such as topographic mapping, and mine and hydrographic surveying. They use levels, total stations, and global positioning system equipment. They make mathematical calculations using algebra, trigonometry, and plane and solid geometry. They may also be called upon to produce drawings related to their work.

Surveyors develop good human relations skills and professional work habits to be able to work closely with the public.

Programs

Students in the Engineering Design Technology program may earn Certificates of Proficiency (Architectural Design Technology, Civil Design Technology, Mechanical Design Technology and Structural Design Technology), an Associate in Applied Science Degree, an Associate in Science Degree with an Engineering Design Technology pre-major or a Bachelor of Science in Technology Management Degree in Engineering Design Technology.

Reminder: an overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above is required for graduation.

Due to the technical nature of the material in the following courses, additional reading and math instruction may be required. More information will be given during advisement.

Cooperative Education

Cooperative Education is highly recommended as an elective in these majors. Two credits may be applied towards graduation.

Career Opportunities
The Geomatics program prepares students to enter the workplace in a variety of disciplines. Geomatics is the study of geospatial measurement and representation including such disciplines as land surveying, photogrammetry, remote sensing (satellite imaging and laser/LIDAR scanning), geographic information systems (GIS), cartography, global positioning systems (GPS), geography and some elements of civil engineering. Geomatics not only encompasses traditional land surveying but today also includes geography and other disciplines which integrate acquisition, modeling, analysis, and management of geo-spatial reference data. Some students will have opportunities to work for organizations such as the National Geodetic Survey (NGS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Bureau of Land Management (BLM), National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), national, state, county, and city governmental agencies, universities and colleges, and private surveying and engineering firms.

Job Description

Some of the positions held by Geomatics graduates are: Land Surveyors, Survey Technicians, Cartographers, Photogrammetrists, Geographic Information Systems (GIS) specialists, GIS professionals, Drafters, Civil engineering technicians, Environmental specialists, and Urban/Regional planners. Surveyors do some of their work in offices but much of their work takes place out-of-doors where they perform surveys of public lands, private properties, roads and highways, pipelines, large buildings, and subdivisions, as well as all types of geospatial measurement projects. The licensed surveyor today is required to know an increasing volume of real property and boundary laws as well as possess an exceptional knowledge of sophisticated geo-spatial measurement instrumentation like GPS, Robotic Stations, 3D Laser Scanners, and UAV’s. Licensed Surveyors are required to make various mathematical calculations using algebra, trigonometry, calculus, and solid/plane geometry. They develop technical maps and other deliverables of 3D data for use by professionals in related disciplines as well as the general public.

Programs

Geomatics is the study of geospatial measurement and representation including such disciplines as land surveying, photogrammetry, remote sensing (satellite imaging and laser scanning), geographic information systems (GIS), cartography, global positioning systems (GPS), and some parts of geography and civil engineering.

Geomatics is a discipline which integrates acquisition, modeling, analysis, and management of geo-spatial reference data. Based on the scientific framework of geodesy, it uses terrestrial, marine, airborne, satellite-based sensors, and measurement systems and technologies to acquire spatial and other data. The Land Surveying component of Geomatics includes investigation, analysis, and application of boundary/property laws and legal principles pertaining to specific public and private properties and is a regulated profession wherein a license to practice land surveying is issued by each state in an effort to protect the public and private interests in property boundaries, as well as surveying control for construction projects.

Students in the Geomatics program may earn an Associate in Science in Geomatics which will help them be immediately employable as entry level Surveyor or GIS technician. Students may also earn a Bachelor of Science in Geomatics which will prepare them to successfully pass the national Fundamentals of Surveying (FS) exam which is a significant step towards surveying licensure. The bachelor degree program has been developed around four core disciplines which build on an in-depth foundation of knowledge needed for the professional practice of surveying and GIS. Geomatics program goals are to secure ABET/ASAC accreditation and to continue to encourage student interest in obtaining graduate degrees in the field of Geomatics from other nationally ranked institutions. The program is operating under an annual cohort system starting in the Fall semester of each year, so matriculation is required to ensure that each perspective student completes all required course prerequisites prior to entrance into a cohort.

Reminder: An overall grade point average 2.5 or above with a minimum of 3.0 GPA in all Geomatics courses. No grade lower than a "B" in core discipline courses including: (Geomatics, Measurement, Legal Principles, and Surveying Services Core).

Due to the technical nature of the material in the following courses, additional reading and math instruction may be required. More information will be given during advisement.

Cooperative Education

Cooperative education is highly recommended as an elective(s) in this major. As much as six (6) credit hours of electives are allowed in the bachelor degree program as internship credits.

Degree Programs

Engineering Design Technology, A.A.S.

Requirements

The Associate in Applied Science Degree is a "job ready" degree and applies the technical and functional elements of several Drafting and Design fields. Students will take courses in the fundamentals of drafting and design, industry standard two-dimensional and three-dimensional software, Architectural Design, Civil Design and Surveying, Electrical Design, Mechanical Design, and Structural Steel Detailing and Design. Students will take other supporting classes and advanced courses in a minimum of two specialty areas of their choosing.

Engineering Design Technology, A.A.S.

Careers:
The Engineering Design Technology program prepares students for design, 3D modeling, surveying, and drafting careers in mechanical, architectural, structural, civil, and electrical/electronic fields. Jobs are available with architects, cities, counties, states, the federal government, engineering and surveying companies, mines, research and development companies, and the mechanical, structural steel, architectural development, electronics, construction, and fire protection industries. In addition, because of the broad nature of the program, graduates are prepared to succeed in most technical fields. For example, they can work as manufacturing, industrial engineering, and construction technicians as well as in functional areas of purchasing, estimating, bidding, plant management, quality control, expediting, and sales.

Graduation Requirements:
1. Completion of a minimum of 67 semester credits.
2. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. (Departments may require a higher GPA.)
3. Residency hours—minimum of 20 credit hours through course attendance at UVU.

Geomatics, A.S.

Careers:

The Geomatics program prepares students to enter the workplace in a variety of disciplines. Geomatics is the study of geospatial measurement and representation including such disciplines as land surveying, photogrammetry, remote sensing (satellite imaging and laser/LIDAR scanning), geographic information systems (GIS), cartography, global positioning systems (GPS), geography and some elements of civil engineering. Geomatics not only encompasses traditional land surveying but today also includes geography and other disciplines which integrate acquisition, modeling, analysis, and management of geo-spatial reference data. Some students will have opportunities to work for organizations such as the National Geodetic Survey (NGS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Bureau of Land Management (BLM), National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), national, state, county, and city governmental agencies, universities and colleges, and private surveying and engineering firms.

Geomatics is a discipline which integrates acquisition, modeling, analysis, and management of geo-spatial reference data. Based on the scientific framework of geodesy, it uses terrestrial, marine, airborne, satellite-based sensors, and measurement systems and technologies to acquire spatial and other data. The Land Surveying component of Geomatics includes investigation, analysis, and application of boundary/property laws and legal principles pertaining to specific public and private properties and is a regulated profession wherein a license to practice land surveying is issued by each state in an effort to protect the public and private interests in property boundaries.

Students in the Geomatics program may earn an Associate in Science in Geomatics which will help them be immediately employable as an entry level surveyor GIS technician. Students may also earn a Bachelor of Science in Geomatics which will prepare them to successfully pass the national Fundamentals of Surveying (FS) exam which is a significant step towards surveying licensure. The bachelor degree program has been developed around four core disciplines which build on an in-depth foundation of knowledge needed for the professional practice of surveying and GIS. Geomatics program goals are to secure ABET/ASAC accreditation by Fall Semester 2017 and to continue to encourage student interest in obtaining graduate degrees in the field of Geomatics from other nationally ranked institutions. The program is operating under an annual cohort system starting in the fall semester of each year, so matriculation is required to ensure that each perspective student completes all required course prerequisites prior to entrance into a cohort.

Total Program Credits: 121

Matriculation Requirements:
1. Before being formally admitted into the BS Geomatics, students must matriculate into the Geomatics Cohort (the final 2 years of the program) by either completing an AS in Geomatics with a minimum grade of C or better, OR by completing matriculation requirements 2 and 3:
2. Complete the Business Computer Proficiency exam with 80% or higher OR complete IM 2010 (3.0 credit hours) with B- or higher
3. Complete the following courses with a C grade or better:
   • SURV 1020 Introduction to Geomatics (1.0)
   • EGDT 1040 Computer Aided Drafting--AutoCAD (3.0)
   • EGDT 1400 Surveying Applications and Field Techniques I (3.0)

4. All Geomatics students must complete a Matriculation Application by the appointed deadline during the Spring semester prior to the Fall cohort to which the student desires to gain entry. Subsequently official approval must be obtained from the Program Coordinator prior to taking any further Geomatics courses.

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of a minimum of 121 semester credits required for a BS degree; at least 40 credit hours must be upper-division courses.
2. Overall grade point average 2.5 or above with a minimum of 3.0 GPA in all Geomatics courses. No grade lower than a "B" in core discipline courses including: (Geomatics, Measurement, Legal Principles, and Surveying Services Core)
3. Residency hours: Minimum of 30 credit hours of Geomatics courses through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours.

4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements. Students are responsible for completing all prerequisite courses.

5. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.

Geomatics, B.S.

Careers

The Geomatics program prepares students to enter the workplace in a variety of disciplines. Geomatics is the study of geospatial measurement and representation including such disciplines as land surveying, photogrammetry, remote sensing (satellite imaging and laser/LIDAR scanning), geographic information systems (GIS), cartography, global positioning systems (GPS), geography and some elements of civil engineering. Geomatics not only encompasses traditional land surveying but today also includes geography and other disciplines which integrate acquisition, modeling, analysis, and management of geo-spatial reference data. Some students will have opportunities to work for organizations such as the National Geodetic Survey (NGS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Bureau of Land Management (BLM), National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), national, state, county, and city governmental agencies, universities and colleges, and private surveying and engineering firms.

Mission Statement
The Mission of the Engineering Technology Department is to prepare graduates to work in high demand, very technical, vastly diverse, automated industries that provide products and services to keep our state and national economy running. The Pre-Engineering graduates are prepared to go into upper level engineering fields at local universities in the state. The Mechatronics graduates are focused on designing the newest machines and automated systems needed by industry. The Electrical Automation and Robotics Technology graduates keep industry running by fixing, adapting, programming, and maintaining the automated machines and systems used in industry. The hands on/class room/lab learning approach used in the Engineering Technology Department is the best skill learning approach in higher education.

Programs
Students can choose from two degree plans. The Associate in Pre-Engineering degree is comprised of those math, science, and engineering courses normally taken by first and second year students in a four-year program, along with a small number of general education courses. If a student adds appropriate general education courses, an Associate in Science Degree with a pre-engineering pre-major may be obtained. This option normally takes longer, unless the student has advanced placement or concurrent enrollment from high school; however, it has the added benefit of possible waiving of general education requirements at the student’s follow-on school.

Associate in Pre-Engineering - Biological and Chemical Engineering Emphasis, A.P.E.

Requirements

The pre-engineering program at UVU has been created for students who plan to complete the first two to three years of their engineering education at UVU and then transfer to a baccalaureate university to complete their engineering degree. With adequate planning, pre-engineering coursework completed at UVU will transfer to all of the Utah universities with baccalaureate engineering degrees. All students who declare pre-engineering as their major are automatically accepted into pre-engineering status. After completion of the pre-engineering program at UVU, the student applies for professional status at an institution of the student's choice.

Electrical Automation and Robotics Technology, A.A.S.

Requirements

The EART program prepares Electrical Automation Technicians to troubleshoot, wire, repair, adapt, maintain, program (PLC’s & PAC’s), and control large automated electrical systems found in Industrial and Manufacturing Industries worldwide. The EART Technician will work with DC & AC motor controlled machines; Programmable Logic Controlled (PLC’s) and Programmable Automation Controlled (PAC’s) machines, systems, and devices; Hydraulic and pneumatic controlled machines; conveyor, fluid, and bulk storage systems; flex, soft start, and variable frequency drives; Robots; servo, and stepper motors. Because of their highly skilled hands on training the EART student is in high demand from many industries.

Mechatronics Engineering Technology, A.A.S. Careers
Careers
Graduates from the Mechatronics Program will find gainful and rewarding employment in the Utah economy and graduates from the Mechatronics Program find employment in the automotive, medical, food, and sporting goods industries as Automation Technologists. With the blend of electronics and mechanics the graduates integrate into careers maintaining, upgrading, and designing new technically demanding automation systems that are the foundation of manufacturing production. Starting and long term salary potential is excellent for Mechatronics Technologists and the opportunity to work in a high demand occupation with a great salary potential makes the Mechatronics an excellent long term career choice. Graduates also have the option to continue their education in the Technology Management Program that will provide the opportunity to transition their careers into a supervision or management path after several years of technical employment.

Pre-Engineering, A.S.
Requirements
The pre-engineering program at UVU has been created for students who plan to complete the first two to three years of their engineering education at UVU, and then transfer to a baccalaureate university to complete their engineering degree. With adequate planning, pre-engineering coursework completed at UVU will transfer to all of the Utah universities with baccalaureate engineering degrees. All students who declare pre-engineering as their major are automatically accepted into pre-engineering status. After completion of the pre-engineering program at UVU, the student applies for professional status at an institution of the student’s choice.

The mission of the Department of English Language Learning at Utah Valley University is to provide a broad range of quality academic and social opportunities designed to help non-native English speaking students understand and successfully meet academic language expectations within an American university by demonstrating proficiency in reading, writing, grammar, and listening/speaking.

University College

University College serves a unique role and mission within Utah Valley University. Based on a national model, the name University College signifies opportunity for student success through curricular and co-curricular offerings, academic services, and innovative programs. University College welcomes students at present levels of achievement and challenges them with higher expectations. The programs and departments of Literacies and Composition, Student Leadership & Success Studies, Developmental Mathematics, English Language Learning, Academic Counseling Center, Academic Standards, Writing Center, Academic Tutoring, Math Lab, and First Year Experience & Student Retention promote interdisciplinary partnerships as students transition into university academics.

Mission Statement

The Department of English and Literature at UVU provides an innovative and stimulating learning environment to help broaden cultural experiences, improve skills in written and verbal communication, deepen and refine abilities in critical thinking, and prepare students for graduate school and/or careers. By offering courses, programs, and activities in college-level writing, creative writing, literature, technical communication, and education, the department fosters an invigorating and diverse learning community that will enhance the way students envision themselves and their world.

English with an Emphasis in Technical Communication, A.A.

Requirements

UVU’s English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others “different” voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

English with an Emphasis in Technical Communication, A.A.

Careers

Employers expect clear verbal and written communication, critical thinking and reading, audience analysis, and persuasive presentations and research from their employees. English and Literature students often work as teachers, analysts, critics, librarians, creative writers, public relations specialists, lobbyists, copywriters, journalists, editors, technical writers, and professors. Language used well is an important part of websites, legislation, novels, document design, instruction manuals, screenplays, advertising, news reporting, etc. Students in English at UVU are also well prepared for graduate work in law, business, and education.

Requirements

UVU's English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others’ “different” voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

English - Creative Writing Emphasis, B.A.

Careers:

Employers expect clear verbal and written communication, critical thinking and reading, audience analysis, and persuasive presentations and research from their employees. English and Literature students often work as teachers, analysts, critics, librarians, creative writers, public relations specialists, lobbyists, copywriters, journalists, editors, technical writers, and professors. Language used well is an important part of websites, legislation, novels, document design, instruction manuals, screenplays, advertising, news reporting, etc. Students in English at UVU are also well prepared for graduate work in law, business, and education.

English - Creative Writing Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

UVU’s English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others’ “different” voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

The English program students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others’ “different” voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

English- Writing Studies Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements
UVU’s English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others’ “different” voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation

Mission Statement

The Mission of the Department of Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation is consistent with the College’s Mission in its commitment to providing students with excellent professional, ethical, and exciting educational experiences through modern, effective pedagogical and scholarly approaches. Baccalaureate programs offered in Physical Education Teacher Education (PETE) and Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation (with concentrations in Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation Management) provide a broad discipline approach for optimal promotion of physical activity, recreation, fitness, health, wellness, and quality of life for all. The curricula are balanced in theory and application and are specifically designed to provide students with experiential education that promotes leadership, teamwork, service learning, values, diversity, and lifelong learning. To best serve our students, curricula have been designed to reflect current market demands. Depending on the specific area of study, graduates from this program will possess exceptional knowledge and skills and be well prepared for careers and/or graduate school in the following areas:

- Medicine
- Physical and Occupational Therapy
- Dentistry
- Physician Assistant (PA)
- Fitness Trainer/Technician
- Corporate Wellness
- Cardiac Rehab
- Teaching/Coaching
- Travel/Tourism
- Recreational Sports Administration
- Federal and State Land Management Agencies
- Programs for At Risk Youth
- Resource Management

In addition to preparing students for professional opportunities or graduate study in related fields, the program is intended to prepare all students for a variety of professional certifications offered in their respective fields of study. The faculty in the department work collaboratively and strive to support the Mission through our commitment to outstanding teaching, mentorship, service, and professional and scholarly development.

Programs

The Department of Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation offers two 4-year degrees. One offers a BA or BS in Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation with a choice of emphasis in Exercise Science or Outdoor Recreation. Students completing the Exercise Science emphasis will be qualified for several different graduate schools and a variety of jobs including fitness and health promotion, exercise testing, corporate wellness, clinical exercise physiology, cardiac rehab, etc. This major could also lead to acceptance into medical, dental, physical therapy and other professional or graduate schools.

The Exercise Science curriculum has been designed to address student needs and market demands. Students have the opportunity to practice and understand what they learn in the classroom. Our Biomechanics and Human Performance Laboratories contain state-of-the-art equipment used for lab classes and student research projects. Our equipment includes Biodex Balance System SD and a Biodex System 4, Vicon motion analysis with 12 cameras and 3 force plates, Bod Pod, 16 channel wireless EMG system, treadmills, cycle ergometers, metabolic carts, and other equipment to facilitate labs and research projects.

Students completing the Outdoor Recreation emphasis are qualified to become park interpreters, resort recreation directors, corporate recreation managers, or community recreation directors. Supported by a strong background in recreation theory, with courses like Outdoor Leadership and Recreation Risk Management, students also choose from a variety of land and water-based skills courses, including park management, program planning, backpacking, mountain biking, avalanche awareness, canoeing, and whitewater kayaking. More than a career, a major in Outdoor Recreation teaches leadership for life because graduates exit the program with enhanced personal responsibility and ability to overcome barriers.

The second Bachelor degree is the Physical Education Teacher Education (PETE) degree.

Graduates from the UVU Physical Education K-12 Teacher Education (PETE) program will be specifically qualified to teach developmentally appropriate physical education to the increasingly diverse population of students in the K-12 schools in the State of Utah. Their preparation will help meet the anticipated demands for quality elementary, as well as secondary, physical educators in the twenty-first century. Successful completion of this program leads to Licensure in the State of Utah.

The department also offers a minor in Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation which can be combined with other college-wide bachelor degrees. The minor provides students with a broad academic knowledge of the foundational and scientific principles in the field of Exercise Science and can lead to careers in the fitness industry.

Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation - Exercise Science Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

The Exercise Science curriculum has been designed to address student needs and current market demands. Through practical experiences in laboratory settings using state of the art equipment such as the Biodex S4, students are exposed to real life rehabilitation experiences as well as researching functional abilities and performance aspects of collegiate athletes. Additional classroom and lab experiences allow students to conduct 3-D motion analysis, measure muscle activity using wireless EMG technology, and analyze gait patterns using the GaitRite System, as well as conducting assessments to determine maximum oxygen uptake (VO2 Max), body composition, and anaerobic power.

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of a minimum of 120 semester credits. 40 credits must be upper-division.
2. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. (Departments may require a higher GPA.)
3. Residency hours: minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours.
4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements.
5. Completion of 16 credit hours of course work from one language to include the 1010, 1020, 2010, and 202G/2020 levels or transferred equivalents.
6. No grades below C- in Discipline Core or Emphasis Courses.
7. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.

Note: Students must obtain the departmental advisor’s signature on an approved program plan prior to enrollment in their second semester of study.

Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation - Exercise Science Emphasis, B.A.

Careers

Students completing the Exercise Science Concentration will be qualified for several different graduate school programs and a variety of careers including fitness and health promotion, exercise testing, strength and conditioning, corporate wellness, clinical exercise physiology, cardiac rehab, etc. This major can also lead to acceptance into medical, dental, physical or occupational therapy and other graduate or professional schools.

Related Careers

- Fitness Trainers and Aerobics Instructors

Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation - Exercise Science Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

The Exercise Science curriculum has been designed to address student needs and current market demands. Through practical experiences in laboratory settings using state of the art equipment such as the Biodex S4, students are exposed to real life rehabilitation experiences as well as researching functional abilities and performance aspects of collegiate athletes. Additional classroom and lab experiences allow students to conduct 3-D motion analysis, measure muscle activity using wireless EMG technology, and analyze gait patterns using the GaitRite System, as well as conducting assessments to determine maximum oxygen uptake (VO2 Max), body composition, and anaerobic power.

Physical Education Teacher Education, B.S.

Requirements

Graduates from the Physical Education K-12 Teacher Education (PETE) program will be prepared to meet all standards for Utah licensure for K-12 Physical Education. They should also be prepared to meet most standards for certification in the rest of the 49 states, since the National Initial Physical Education Teacher Education Standards have been used to develop, assess, and update the program on an annual basis. The focus of this program is on enhancing student outcomes – both for university students and for their future students. Outcomes that should be met by the end of the program include scientific and theoretical knowledge, skill and fitness based competency, planning and implementation, instructional delivery and management, impact on student learning, and professionalism. PETE majors learn to individualize instruction to enhance learning for all students, regardless of their abilities.

Physical Education Teacher Education, B.S.

Careers:

Successful completion of the Physical Education Teacher Education degree leads to Licensure in the State of Utah. Graduates from the PETE program will be specifically qualified to teach physical education to the increasingly diverse population of students in K-12 schools in the State of Utah. Their preparation will help meet the anticipated demands for elementary, as well as secondary physical educators in the twenty-first century. Many graduates from the PETE Program also coach at their respective schools.

The Office of Extended Studies coordinates and supports academic educational opportunities for students at non-traditional times and at various locations on and off the main campus. Current locations are:

• Weekend College
• UVU North (Lehi and Saratoga Springs)
• UVU South (Spanish Fork, Springville, Santaquin)
• UVU West @ National Guard Building
• Wasatch Campus

Extended Studies strives to continually improve educational opportunities and services to meet student needs by initiating new programs, providing student and faculty services and initiating opportunities for flexible learning experiences. Many programs are available to students interested in earning a degree, increasing job skills necessary for career advancement, or for personal enrichment.

Weekend College

Over 2000 students are pursuing their degree at UVU by taking classes through the Weekend College Program. The Weekend College program serves a diverse population that includes adult, part-time and traditional students. More than 115 courses are taught on Friday evenings and Saturdays on the UVU Orem Campus during fall and spring semesters. Classes are scheduled at three times on Saturday allowing students to take classes back to back. During the 10-week summer block, over 50 classes are available.

Courses needed for General Education are offered as well as many upper division courses. The Office of Extended Studies has partnered with several academic departments on campus in facilitating classes necessary for Associate and Bachelor degree programs. These courses are offered in the late afternoon, evenings, online, and at Weekend College in a structured two or three year sequence.

The Weekend College program is characterized by smaller classes, quiet surroundings, excellent faculty and personal interaction among instructors and students. Weekend College staff is available to assist instructors and students while classes are in session.

UVU West is located west of the UVU Orem Campus across the I-15 Freeway. Both day and evening courses are offered to students at the National Guard Building located at 951 S. Geneva Road.

UVU West is a multi-functional facility with nine enhanced classrooms, a computer lab, and an auditorium where UVU credit and non-credit courses are offered. Interior Design, Nursing, and Public and Community Health courses are also offered at UVU West. UVU West staff is available to assist instructors and students while classes are in session.

More than 40 courses are offered for fall and spring semesters to students who need to complete their General Education requirements. Day and evening classes are also offered both blocks of summer semester.

The Front Runner stops with walking distance of UVU West. In addition the UTA Bus (route 830) travels to and from the main UVU campus and UVU West every 15 minutes throughout the day and evening hours. Vehicle parking is located 100 feet south of the building.

Finance and Economics

Mission Statement
The department offers three bachelor degree programs in Economics, Finance, and Personal Financial Planning (PFP). Graduates in economics find employment in a variety of public and private institutions while many go on to graduate education in law, public policy, an MBA and other disciplines. Finance major’s move on to careers in corporate financial management, as investment managers and analysts, in banking and other careers in the finance industry. Faculty in the department have been remarkably successful in supporting students taking the financial industry’s most sophisticated accreditation exam, the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA), first level that is available to seniors at the university level. The business world is more competitive today than in past generations. Decision makers understand the increasing importance of getting things right the first time using business models and measurement methods to make policy decisions.

The PFP program is designed to prepare students for professional careers as fee-for-service certified financial planners. Unlike the other two degrees that offer Bachelor of Arts and Sciences as well as minors and emphases in integrated studies, the PFP program is restricted to a single bachelor degree. Students who complete the PFP degree will in many respects emulate the careers of accountants who work with individuals and organizations in the management of wealth, personal resources, and provide other professional functions. The PFP Program is registered with the Certified Financial Planner (CFP®) Board of Standards, Inc. The classes taught in the Department of Finance and Economics are designed to give students the background they need to make professional business decisions. They also offer an online group of courses in cooperation with Dalton Education that meet the CFP educational requirements for practicing professionals in the financial industry to sit for the accreditation examination.

Experienced faculty work with students in understanding the theory of their discipline and learning to apply that theory in the pragmatic application of those principles in financial management, economics, statistics, and operations management courses critical to their professional development.

Finance & Economics

Job Outlook

The need for economic and financial decision makers is increasing at all levels of business and government. Job demand is high, particularly in larger metropolitan areas, and the employment outlook is excellent. Those trained in finance and economics who also have competence in information analysis can enter fields such as fund management, energy, securities, securities market regulation, or government financial management. Those with foreign language capabilities may also have access to employment in international business, international finance, import/export, and securities operations. The PFP program gives graduates an opportunity to both work for themselves in the capacity of an individual planner as well as to obtain employment in other organizations as they provide needed services to clients.

Programs

As noted earlier, students interested in finance and economics may receive a Bachelor of Science Degree (BS) or Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Economics or Finance. There are also Minors in both Economics and Finance as well as an emphasis in Integrated Studies in both the Economics and Finance disciplines. However, the PFP program only offers a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree with a variety of courses designed to prepare students to take certification exams offered by national financial planning associations.

Accreditation
The Woodbury School of Business was reaccredited with the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools (AACSB) Accreditation in fall 2011. AACSB International Business accreditation is an achievement earned only by programs of the highest caliber.

Institutions that earn accreditation confirm their commitment to quality and continuous improvement through a rigorous and comprehensive peer review.

Admission
Students choosing to pursue majors in the Woodbury School of Business should decide early, plan their schedules carefully, be aware of all the requirements, and stay informed about any changes by checking often with advisors in the Woodbury School of Business Advisement Center.

Accessibility to Courses
All 1000- and 2000-level business courses are open to all UVU students along with selected 3000- and 4000-level courses. Some courses have prerequisites, which must be satisfied. No more than 9 credits of upper-division courses can be taken before a student has been formally matriculated into the UVU Woodbury School of Business.

Repeating Failed Foundation Core Courses
Each business major has foundation core courses. A student will be allowed to repeat a failed foundation core course only twice. If the foundation core course is not passed with a minimum grade of "C-" after the third retake, the student will not be allowed to apply for advanced standing (matriculation) toward a degree in one of the Woodbury School of Business majors.

Business Computer Proficiency Exam
Most of the degrees offered in the Woodbury School of Business require the student to demonstrate business computer proficiency. Students pursuing most bachelor degrees must complete this proficiency requirement before they can be matriculated. This proficiency can be attained by completing the Business Computer Proficiency exam with a score of 80 percent or higher or complete the IM 2010 course with a score of 80 percent or higher. The prerequisite for IM 2010 is IM 1010. Students can either complete the IM 1010 course with a score of 80 percent or higher or take the exam in the Aculis Testing Center located in CS 612. Students may also complete the Excel Educator course through MyEducator for the IM 2010 course. See your Woodbury School of Business advisor for additional details.

Degree Requirements
See the individual departmental sections in the catalog that follow this Woodbury School of Business section for specific requirements on each degree offered by the individual departments.

The Associate in Science Woodbury School of Business transfer degree is available for students planning to transfer to another college or university in Utah, or it can be completed by students seeking a BS degree at UVU.

Advisement Center
The Woodbury School of Business Advisement Center provides one-on-one advising throughout a student’s program. Information regarding transfer programs is readily available by contacting departmental advisors in WB 257 of the Woodbury Business Building. Each student should make an appointment to see a Woodbury School of Business advisor early in his/her first semester on campus.

Degrees & Programs

History and Political Science, A.A.

Requirements

UVU’s History Program is dedicated to developing the twenty-first century student. We provide the general student body a broad range of courses that increase global awareness, engagement and informed citizenship, as well as develop critical thinking, writing, and oral expression. In addition, History majors can choose from a large number of in-depth upper division courses that further their content knowledge and expand their abilities to critically analyze past and current events in a variety of regions and nations. In all courses, students and faculty observe the human experience by investigating the diverse historical perspectives of the past and present. History faculty endeavor to teach in ways that foster independent thinking, engage the students with historical conversations and debates, and improve students’ ability to communicate in a variety of media. Students who successfully complete our programs will have a valuable set of skills for further study in graduate and professional programs, and careers in public service or private enterprise.

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the “queen of the sciences.” It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentational skills required of tomorrow’s public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

Political Science, Minor

Requirements

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the "queen of the sciences." It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentialational skills required of tomorrow’s public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

Political Science - American Government Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the “queen of the sciences.” It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical, and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentational skills required of tomorrow’s public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

History and Political Science
Political Science - World Politics Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the "queen of the sciences." It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentational skills required of tomorrow's public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

Honors

Mission Statement

The Honors Program at Utah Valley University provides opportunities for highly motivated students pursuing any associates or baccalaureate degree to realize academic, professional, and personal potential. Honors offers a powerful first-year experience, sustained peer-group interactions, and small courses with outstanding faculty employing innovative classroom approaches. Honors students benefit from experiential learning, undergraduate research, cultural events, and dynamic social gatherings.

Program Description

The Honors Program admits students competitively each February and October on the basis of previous academic experience, curiosity, initiative, and intellectual potential. All students are welcome to apply, although most admitted students do have strong GPAs and ACT scores above 24. Honors offers both a lower-division entry point (for students with fewer than 60 college credits) and an upper-division entry point (more than 60 credits). The Honors Program can accommodate students from any major, using both General Education courses and majors courses at an Honors level to enhance students' undergraduate experience. Please visit and apply at www.uvu.edu/honors.

Program Benefits

- Challenging and engaging coursework
- Small class sizes
- Priority course registration
- Specialized advising and personalized mentoring
- Residential and academic scholarship opportunities
- Motivated collegiate peer group
- Access to cultural, outdoor, and academic events paid for by the Honors Program
- Special recognition on transcript and diploma
- Specialized graduation regalia
- Access to the Honors Study Commons and computers
- Regular opportunities for undergraduate research
- Excellent graduate school preparation

Honors Scholarships

The Honors Program also offers up to 20 competitive, merit-based tuition scholarships to Utah residents in each entering class, as well as a competitive merit-based housing scholarship that is available to both resident and non-resident students. Application to the program and for these scholarships occurs each October for Spring semester and each January for Fall semester. Students earn scholarships based on criteria that include academic achievement, creativity, innovative thinking, and intellectual potential. Two application essays serve as the primary method of assessing applicants.

Honors Courses

Through Honors, students complete a series of small classes with other highly motivated students, guided by faculty invested in their students’ intellectual potential. Students grapple with texts and ideas that have fascinated the world’s great thinkers, writers, artists, and scientists as they gain the courage to try out new and challenging ideas, places, and experiences. Students use Honors Contracts in their major to complete required or elective courses at an Honors level. The Program concludes with each student completing a two-semester senior thesis or project that demonstrates commitment and skill within the student’s selected major. Through Honors, all highly motivated students can chart a customized program of study most suited to their post-baccalaureate plans.

Honors Graduation Requirements

Students must have a 3.5 cumulative GPA when applying for graduation to become an Honors Program Graduate.

Information Systems and Technology, A.A.S. Requirements

The two-year AAS in Information Systems and Technology is designed to help students develop job-ready computer skills to meet today’s industry needs. Students complete a foundational core in programming, database, web application design, data communication, and networking. After that, students select a specialization in either Information Systems or Information Technology to complete a focused set of courses to obtain more in-depth knowledge and skills for a variety of computer-related jobs. If planned carefully with an advisor, this program provides a smooth, stackable pathway to the B.S. in Information Systems degree or the B.S. in Information Technology degree at UVU.

IT 3650 Information Storage and Management (3.0)

IT students need to take 6 credits in approved domain (see list of approved courses on the BS IT degree). Recommended to take 6 credits in the domain as electives if plan to complete BS in IT degree. If plan to obtain BS in Information Technology with Computer Forensics & Security emphasis, take CJ 1330 and CJ 2350 as domain classes.

Graduation Requirements:
1. Completion of a minimum of 65 semester credits.
2. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above with a minimum 2.5 GPA in all discipline core and elective courses with no grade lower than a "C-".
3. Residency hours: minimum of 20 credit hours through attendance at UVU.
4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements. Students are responsible for completing all prerequisite courses.

Information Systems - Business Intelligence Systems Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements
The BS in Information Systems program prepares students to be Information Systems professionals. Graduates develop and deploy enterprise-level systems to meet organizational needs. The Business Intelligence Systems (BIS) emphasis prepares graduates to become business intelligence analysts who produce financial and marketing intelligence by querying data repositories, generating reports, and devising methods for identifying data patterns and trends. Organizations store an enormous amount of data. People who are able to perform data mining and can analyze the data to detect trends and form predictions are highly sought by national and regional organizations.

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of at least 124 semester credits required in the BS degree; at least 40 credit hours must be upper-division courses.
2. Overall grade point average 2.0 or above with a minimum of 2.5 GPA in all discipline core, specialty core, and elective courses with no grade lower than a "C-".
3. Residency hours: Minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours.
4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements. Students are responsible for completing all prerequisite courses.
5. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.

Information Systems - Information Security Management Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Managing the security of information systems is extremely important for all types of organizations to protect the systems from data breaches. The BS in Information Systems program prepares students to be Information Systems professionals. Graduates develop and deploy enterprise-level systems to meet organizational needs. The Information Security Management (ISM) emphasis prepares students for information technology management and information security analyst positions.

Electronic data is often used as evidence in court. Forensic specialists learn how to identify, preserve, and extract data from electronic devices, such as computers and smart phones. The Bachelor of Science in Information Technology (IT) degree prepares students to install, manage, and maintain the computing infrastructure on which organizational systems run. The Computer Forensics and Security emphasis provides students with a solid foundation for employment by government or corporate sector to work in a computer forensics lab as a forensic analyst or in information security.

Program Description

The Graduate Certificate in Cybersecurity at Utah Valley University is a post-baccalaureate program for students who wish to complete advanced studies in the field of cybersecurity. This program is designed to provide students with advanced technical and managerial knowledge of cybersecurity, preparing them for senior technical and leadership roles in the field. Coursework includes a balanced approach, combining critical analysis of cybersecurity theory with hands-on education for essential applied cybersecurity techniques and tools.

The program takes two semesters to complete the 18 credits of graduate-level courses. The curriculum includes cybersecurity operations, advanced network defense, cybersecurity management, case studies, secure coding, ethical hacking, and the legal and privacy implications of cybersecurity.

To be successful, students should have a strong background in technology. Students should have completed undergraduate work in a related field or have applicable work experience. For those who do not meet this requirement, select undergraduate courses are available to provide the foundational knowledge needed. Please contact the academic advisor for more information.

Admission Requirements

Potential students must apply for admission into the program. To be accepted, students must have completed a Bachelor’s degree, preferably in Information Systems, Information Security, Information Technology, or Computer Science. However, applicants who have a Bachelor’s degree in another field may be admitted to the program if they also have at least two years of IT or cybersecurity industry experience and have completed undergraduate courses in data communication, programming, and servers.

Degrees & Programs

Cybersecurity, Graduate Certificate

Requirements

The Graduate Certificate in Cybersecurity at Utah Valley University is a post-baccalaureate program for students who wish to complete advanced studies in the field of cybersecurity. This program is designed to provide students with advanced technical and managerial knowledge of cybersecurity, preparing them for senior technical and leadership roles in the field. Coursework includes a balanced approach, combining critical analysis of cybersecurity theory with hands-on education for essential applied cybersecurity techniques and tools. The program takes two semesters to complete the 18 credits of graduate level courses. Courses include cybersecurity operations, advanced network defense, cybersecurity management, case studies, secure coding, ethical hacking, and the legal and privacy implications of cybersecurity.

To be successful, students should have a strong background in technology. Students should have completed undergraduate work in a related field or have applicable work experience. For those who do not meet this requirement, select undergraduate courses are available to provide the foundational knowledge needed. Please contact the academic advisor for more information.

Total Program Credits: 18

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Application for admission to the program.
3. 2 years of IT or IT security industry experience (if Bachelor's degree in non-related field).
4. Completion of undergraduate courses in data communication, programming, and servers.

Cybersecurity, Graduate Certificate

Careers

Cyber security is a critical part of our digitally connected lives. From the public sector to private industry, organizations are seeking cyber security professionals to protect their critical data. In addition to cyber security specialists, there is a demand for other technology and business leaders to have a solid understand of the principles and application of cyber security.

Mission Statement
The Program in Integrated Studies serves students with interests and capabilities in more than one scholarly discipline. The degree trades disciplinary depth for breadth and for cross-disciplinary research and writing that culminate in a senior thesis. The Program encourages and supports interdisciplinary study across campus.

Special Program Characteristics
- Students engage in interdisciplinary work that culminates in a senior thesis.
- Students receive one-on-one feedback from multiple faculty advisors throughout their senior thesis process.
- Students completing the Integrated Studies degree have developed skills in thinking, problem solving, collaborative work, gathering and analyzing data, writing, and speaking, and have done so on the foundation of solid (but not exhaustive) disciplinary emphases.
- Faculty do campus-wide interdisciplinary work that includes team teaching across disciplines and collaborative projects.
- The campus and local community benefit from our lecture series and our interdisciplinary conferences, as well as from our student-published journal.

Curriculum
The individualized nature of the Integrated Studies degree is attractive to students with multiple interests. Students integrate course work in emphases such as biology, earth science, business, health, literature, languages, communication, philosophy, psychology, sociology, anthropology, and the arts. Emphases from computer science and information systems, accounting, technology management, and physical education are also offered as part of this degree.

Summary of the Degree
- After becoming familiar with the material on the IS website, meet with advisors to plan course work. Various emphases may require specific courses and minimum grades. 2.5 GPA required for application.
- Become matriculated into Integrated Studies by submitting an academic plan and an interest essay which must be signed by department advisors and the Integrated Studies committee.

- Complete two approved 18-21 credit hour emphases from the following colleges/schools: College of Humanities and Social Sciences; College of Science and Health; College of Technology and Computing; School of the Arts; Woodbury School of Business. More than 40 emphasis areas are available. For a list, please visit www.uvu.edu/is.
- Complete the Integrated Studies Discipline Core with a minimum grade of C in each class.
- Complete forty hours of upper-division course work as part of the requirements in the emphasis areas & IS Core.
- Complete thirty hours of course work in residency at UVU; at least 10 of these must be completed at UVU within the last 45 credit hours earned.
- For a Bachelor of Arts degree, students must complete the 202G/202O class in the chosen foreign language. For a Bachelor of Science degree, students must complete either MATH 1210 or MATH 2040.

Mission Statement
Interdisciplinary Studies provides a framework for supporting innovative, boundary-crossing inquiry among students and faculty across campus as well as in wider intellectual and social communities. IDST coordinates existing multidisciplinary minor and emphasis programs and provides guidance and support as new programs are envisioned and established. IDST programs promote instructional excellence and offer a variety of courses and events that enhance the overall academic experience at Utah Valley University.

American Indian Studies, Minor

Careers:

After completion of the minor, graduates will have received an academic background that will prepare them for relevant employment in tribal governments and other Indian organizations, state or federal agencies which serve Indian tribes and organizations, and private sector enterprises that work with Indian tribes and organizations. Graduates will have received the basic knowledge and analytical skills to enable them to pursue graduate degrees in fields related to American Indian Studies. The American Indian Studies minor will emphasize the traditional acquisition of knowledge and skills that apply to American Indian communities, a vital sense of service to these communities, and an enthusiastic pursuit of what these communities can contribute to the academy in knowledge, methods, and ethics.

American Studies, Minor

Requirements

American Studies provides students with an interdisciplinary approach to the study of American cultures. Through examination of historical, religious, and literary texts, political institutions, popular culture, film, art, and the physical landscape, students will explore how Americans create meaning in their lives and make sense of the world in which they live. By encouraging students to approach their majors from the perspective of several overlapping disciplines, American Studies courses will foster deeper critical thinking and broader contextualization.

Total Program Credits: 21

Matriculation Requirements:
1. Completion of 30 hours of credit.
2. Admitted to a bachelor degree program at UVU.

Discipline Core Requirements: 9 Credits

- AMST 2000 Introduction to American Studies
- AMST 300R Topics in American Studies (3 credits, must be repeated)

Elective Requirements: 12 Credits

Complete twelve hours of advisor-approved electives. Elective courses should reflect a specific topical or thematic focus and must be approved by an American Studies advisor.

Graduation Requirements:
1. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above.
2. Residency hours—minimum of 12 credit hours through course attendance at UVU.

Environmental Studies, Minor

Requirements

Environmental Studies explores the complex links between human culture and the natural world. The program challenges students to critically examine both the ecological and social context of environmental issues and the numerous connections between natural and social systems, from local to global scales. It is undeniable that humans have a profound impact on the environment. To have the greatest positive influence, we must seek knowledge of the structure and function of natural systems, as well as an understanding of how culture affects the way we perceive nature.

Gender Studies, Minor

Requirements

The Gender Studies minor allows students to study the extent to which gender and gender relations are socially influenced. Students will examine the ways in which conceptions of masculinity and femininity directly impact social and political institutions and practices, cultural expressions (such as art, communication, media, literature, music and film), law, education, business, scientific inquiry, interpersonal relations, sexuality and family. The minor broadens students' understanding of their chosen major and career path while facilitating the recognition of gender dynamics in their own lives.

Religious Studies, Minor

Requirements

The Religious Studies minor fosters and facilitates an interdisciplinary approach to the academic study of religion. Due to its influential role at the local, national, and international levels, religion requires careful study utilizing academic methods employed in the examination of other cultural institutions. This includes the study of the history, theology, literature, folklore, etc., of various religions in an effort to study religion as a cultural phenomenon. The program is intended to serve our students and community by deepening our understanding of religious beliefs and practices in a spirit of open inquiry. Its aim is neither to endorse nor to undermine the claims of religion, but to create an environment in which various issues can be engaged from a variety of perspectives and methodologies.

- Area, Ethnic, and Cultural Studies Teachers, Postsecondary
Utah Valley University encourages students to extend learning beyond the classroom by participating in internships or other professional engagement activities. Students who participate in professionally engaged activities:

- network with peers, mentors, faculty, employers, community leaders, and experienced associates
- acquire the knowledge, skills, and attitudes to be successful and versatile professionals and citizens
- are confident, competent, creative, and proactive in becoming intellectually engaged in their personal pursuits, careers, and local and global communities

To qualify for internship academic credit the experience must:

- relate to the student’s major or professional field of study
- integrate academic and experiential learning
- be at a professional level of responsibility appropriate for academic credit
- include written agreements between the student, employer, academic department and University that outline the responsibilities of the parties

All departments in the University have integrated internship experience in their curriculum either as a required component or as an elective. Generally these courses are designated as 281R (lower division) or 481R (upper division). Some departments require an associated pre-requisite and/or co-requisite.

Each college/school within the university has an Internship Coordinator and approval for enrollment is obtained from them. A list of current coordinators can be obtained from the Internship Services website or by contacting the specific academic department directly. Students declared as a University Studies major, or those students who would like to explore career options should consider enrolling in an exploratory internship through the Department of Student Leadership and Success Studies (SLSS).

All students enrolled for internship credit must complete a required online orientation. The Online Internship Orientation can be found at uvu.edu/internships/student/orientation.html.

Academic credit for internships is granted according to learning objectives with the academic department and the number of hours a student works during the semester. The number of required hours may vary from department to department, but a minimum of 60 hours of work is required for every credit hour received.

Grading for internship may be a letter grade or CR (credit granted) or NC (credit not granted) depending on the department. The maximum number of internship credits that may be applied toward a certificate or graduation requirement is determined by the individual department.

Internship Services and The Career Development Center

The University is committed to assisting students in making intelligent and informed career choices. Internship Services Coordinators and/or The Career Development Center Office can assist students in investigating internship opportunities by providing employer leads and information, helping students construct resumes, and assisting with interview preparation.

Languages and Cultures

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Languages and Cultures at Utah Valley University is to prepare students to interact effectively in a global community by acquiring competent communicative skills, and developing sensitivity toward cultural differences. By engaging with linguistic and cultural artifacts such as history, literature, and contemporary social structures and systems, language and culture students learn to think critically and behave ethically as they mature in linguistic and cultural literacy. This department prepares students to enter the global work force, further graduate studies and enjoy lifelong enrichment.

Latin American Studies, Minor

Requirements
The minor in Latin American Studies (LAS) provides a comprehensive and interdisciplinary understanding of Latin American and Latino culture, history, and language. This is particularly important for preparing UVU students to be fully competitive in the global marketplace since two of the top ten trading partners of the United States, Mexico and Brazil, are located in Latin America. Students learn to comprehend the unique geographical and historical complexities of Latin America and its place in the world, as well as the multifaceted cultural backgrounds of their fellow students whose families are from that vast area. A minor in LAS complements a diverse number of majors giving our students the opportunity to prepare for a future working with either Utah’s growing Latino population or beyond the state pursuing opportunities abroad.

This four-year degree is a liberal arts degree that provides in-depth study into all facets of the Deaf-World. Students choose among two emphases. There is no special application process, but students should declare their major by contacting the academic advisor for the Languages Department.

This emphasis provides an opportunity for students to gain advanced ASL skills and thorough knowledge of the Deaf-World. Graduates with this emphasis will be prepared to work in various fields related to deafness. They will also work in fields that are not specifically tied to the Deaf-World but which require the skills and knowledge cultivated through the acquisition of any liberal arts degree. This emphasis is also terrific preparation for graduate school in any number of disciplines.

Deaf Studies - General Deaf Studies Emphasis, B.A. Careers

Careers:

Many of your clients will be Deaf or Hard-of-Hearing. It will be to your immense advantage to be able to communicate with them directly. As a nurse, one will be able to communicate with your Deaf patients while doing routine tasks. Elementary school teachers will possibly have Deaf children mainstreamed in their classroom. Mental health workers, social workers, and counselors who know and understand Deaf people are in high demand. In fact, Deaf people have sought out service providers who use ASL and helped augment the number of clients utilizing a particular service provider. Advocates such as lawyers or lobbyists who work with legislators will be able to use their knowledge and skill in ASL when parts of legislation affect Deaf people. Even if you don’t plan to focus on serving Deaf people, you can probably expand your client base by offering expertise in ASL. Sales assistants in stores and shops will often encounter Deaf customers seeking to make purchases. In fact, a background in ASL will be useful in absolutely any field or employment.

This four-year degree is a liberal arts degree that provides in-depth study into all facets of the Deaf-World. Students choose among two emphases. There is no special application process, but students should declare their major by contacting the academic advisor for the Languages Department.

Emphasis #2: Interpreting:

This emphasis provides an opportunity for students and focuses on helping them to gain interpreting skills and certification. There is currently an intense shortage of interpreters for the Deaf across the United States. UVU offers two distinct programs to prepare students to enter the interpreting profession: The Novice-Level Interpreter Preparation Program (NLIPP) and the Advanced Certification Interpreter Preparation Program (ACIPP). These programs can accommodate students of any skill level and courses fit right into the Deaf Studies degree requirements.

Careers

Language expertise has specific application to a career in language teaching or translation. It becomes an attending, and often essential, skill in any business or government activity which involves domestic or international non-English speaking communities. Additionally, businesses and governments are increasingly global enterprises, while U.S. citizens are becoming more multilingual, which means the demand for language expertise is increasing throughout all facets of social interaction, particularly, but not limited to industry, commerce, and education.

For those trained as legal professionals, many rewarding opportunities exist for employment as law clerks, paralegals, legal assistants, litigation specialists, court clerks and other professions. In addition to traditional law firms, business and government at all levels hire legal professionals to meet their ever expanding law-related needs. All levels of local, state and federal government, banks, insurance companies, title companies, mortgage companies, law libraries, courts, legal service/legal aid offices, legal clinics, and law departments of special interest groups or associations readily employ non-attorney legal professionals, typically working under the supervision of attorneys.

Paralegals may not provide legal services directly to the public, except as permitted by law.

The Minor is not approved by the American Bar Association and is not intended to prepare students to work as Paralegals.

Admission Requirements
In addition to applying for admission to Utah Valley University, Legal Studies students must meet the following admission requirements:

• Submit Compass Test scores to a Woodbury School of Business advisor for evaluation. Applicants who score below the required level must register for additional courses in English, reading and/or math.
• Meet with a Woodbury School of Business advisor.

Cooperative Education
Cooperative education or an internship is required for Legal Studies students. A total of eight credits may be applied toward graduation.

Legal Studies

Legal Studies, A.S.

Careers:

For those trained as legal professionals, many rewarding opportunities exist for employment as law clerks, paralegals, legal assistants, litigation specialists, court clerks, and other professions. In addition to traditional law firms, business and government at all levels hire legal professionals to meet their ever expanding law-related needs. All levels of local, state, and federal government, banks, insurance companies, title companies, mortgage companies, law libraries, courts, legal service/legal aid offices, legal clinics, and law departments of special interest groups or associations readily employ non-attorney legal professionals, typically working under the supervision of attorneys. Paralegals may not provide legal services directly to the public, except as permitted by law.

The Literacies and Composition Department understands that all students bring with them rich and diverse histories, knowledge, skills, and literacies that can be applied to the literacy work they will take part in as college students at UVU. We are committed to providing opportunities for students to recognize their own oral, written, and visual literacies as relevant to the academic setting and to helping them develop these literacies for the work they will do in the academy, in the workplace, and in their personal lives.

University College

University College serves a unique role and mission within Utah Valley University. Based on a national model, the name University College signifies opportunity for student success through curricular and co-curricular offerings, academic services, and innovative programs. University College welcomes students at present levels of achievement and challenges them with higher expectations. The programs and departments of Literacies and Composition, Student Leadership & Success Studies, Developmental Mathematics, English Language Learning, Academic Counseling Center, Academic Standards, Writing Center, Academic Tutoring, Math Lab, and First Year Experience & Student Retention promote interdisciplinary partnerships as students transition into university academics.

Mission Statement
The Department of Management supports and drives forward the Vision of the Woodbury School of Business (WSB), which is (that) "...a community-engaged school of business that integrates teaching and scholarship, we aspire to be a school of choice and a leader in student development, entrepreneurship, global involvement, and innovative teaching."

We do this, as do all departments in the WSB, through...
- Quality instruction and student involvement
- Faculty and student scholarship
- Community outreach and engaged learning
- Integration and application of knowledge
- Social, ethical, cultural, and global literacy

Management

Career Opportunities

Many opportunities exist for those trained in business management in private industry, government, and through entrepreneurship. Possible jobs in domestic and international businesses include agents, business managers, business executives, operations managers, health service administrators, human resources managers, job benefits and analysis specialists, management analysts, office managers, and purchasing managers.

Job Outlook

Job demand is high, particularly in larger metropolitan areas; and the employment outlook is excellent.

Programs

Students focusing on business management may receive a Certificate of Completion in Business Management, an Associate in Applied Science in Business Management, an Associate in Science with a pre-major in Business, a Bachelor of Science or Certificate of Proficiency in Entrepreneurship, a Bachelor of Science in Hospitality Management, or a Bachelor of Science in Business Management with a specialization in one of the following three areas: General Business, Hospitality Management or International Business or a Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Minor in Human Resource Management.

An Associate in Science Woodbury School of Business transfer degree is available for students planning to transfer to another college or university in Utah. (See the Woodbury School of Business section of the catalog for details on the AS degree.)

Hospitality Management

Program Coordinator: Doug Miller

- Telephone: 801-863-8106
- Email: dmillerdo@uvu.edu

Career Opportunities

The Hospitality Management program prepares graduates for employment in one of the fastest growing segments of the nation’s economy. The additions of several new convention centers in the state have dramatically increased the need for hotel and restaurant facilities. Students are marketable in a wide range of hospitality and tourism areas such as: hotel, resort, and motel management; event planning; restaurant and institutional food service; and a number of other areas such as cruise ship management, amusement park management, convention and visitor facilities, and gaming facilities.

The Hospitality Management program in the Woodbury School of Business offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Hospitality Management, as well as a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Management, with an Emphasis in Hospitality Management. Associate in Science and Associate in Applied Science degrees are also offered.

The Bachelor of Science in Hospitality Management degree offers the possibility for a student to choose one of four specializations: General Operations; Revenue Management; Food and Beverage Management (designed mainly for Culinary Arts AAS graduates); and Foreign Language Track (which provides 12-15 hours of language credit).

*See Culinary Arts Institute section of this catalog for program.

Programs

Four degrees are available: Associate in Applied Science; Associate in Science Degree; a Bachelor of Science in Hospitality Management; and Bachelor of Science in Business Management with an Emphasis in Hospitality Management.

Human Resource Management, Minor

Requirements

The Department of Management in the Woodbury School of Business at Utah Valley University currently has a Bachelor of Science in Business Management with a track in HRM (within the General Business emphasis). The proposed BS/BA and Minor in Human Resource Management would strengthen the program offerings of the Woodbury School of Business. By structuring the degree requirements to enhance the curriculum, it would add rigor to the program and greater professional competence to graduates.

Business Management - International Business Emphasis, B.S.

Careers

Many opportunities exist for those trained in business management and an emphasis in international business in private industry and through entrepreneurship. US Dept of Labor reports estimate a 12% growth through 2022 in jobs requiring Bachelor’s degrees – such as those offered by the Management Department. Possible jobs in international businesses include agents, business managers, business executives, operations managers, human resources managers, job benefits and analysis specialists, management analysts, office managers, and purchasing managers. Job demand is high, particularly in larger metropolitan areas and the employment outlook is excellent. A current employer survey by the National Association of Colleges and Employers showed that 86% expected to hire graduates with BS degrees in business.

Hospitality Management, B.S.

Careers

The Hospitality Management program prepares graduates for employment in one of the fastest growing segments of the nation's economy. The additions of several new convention centers in the state have dramatically increased the need for hotel and restaurant facilities. Students are marketable in a wide range of hospitality and tourism areas such as: hotel, resort, and motel management; event planning; restaurant and institutional food service; and a number of other areas such as cruise ship management, amusement park management, convention and visitor facilities, and gaming facilities.

Related Careers

- Food Service Managers
- Lodging Managers

Human Resource Management, B.A.

Requirements

The HRM program will provide students with practical and applied skills, experience in applying those skills, and a variety of intellectual tools to prepare them for HRM careers in business, government, and non-profit organizations. The proposed classes, engaged pedagogy, and instructors will aim to prepare students for staffing organizations, setting and advising procedures for recruitment, interview, and placement. Additionally, students will be prepared for carrying out disciplinary action, tracking leave and absences, and ensuring the health, safety, and development of organizational employees. HR graduates will also be prepared to advise company management on labor law issues.

Human Resource Management, B.S.

Requirements

The HRM program will provide students with practical and applied skills, experience in applying those skills, and a variety of intellectual tools to prepare them for HRM careers in business, government, and non-profit organizations. The proposed classes, engaged pedagogy, and instructors will aim to prepare students for staffing organizations, setting and advising procedures for recruitment, interview, and placement. Additionally, students will be prepared for carrying out disciplinary action, tracking leave and absences, and ensuring the health, safety, and development of organizational employees. HR graduates will also be prepared to advise company management on labor law issues.

Mission Statement
As a community-engaged school of business that integrates teaching and scholarship, we aspire to be a school of choice and a leader in student development, entrepreneurship, global involvement, and innovative teaching.

In December, 2006, The UVU School of Business earned its international accreditation from AACSB International - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

Marketing
Career Opportunities
For those trained in marketing, career opportunities are available in advertising, brand and product management, customer affairs, industrial marketing, international marketing, marketing research and intelligence, new product planning, marketing logistics (physical distribution), public relations, purchasing, retail management, internet marketing, and sales and sales management.

Job Outlook
Almost a third of all Americans are employed in marketing-related positions. From large corporations to small companies, both in manufacturing and service areas, firms rely on marketers.

Programs
Students in Marketing may receive a Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, or a Minor in Marketing. Also available is a Bachelor of Science in Digital Marketing and a Certificate of Proficiency in Professional Sales.

Professional Sales, Certificate of Proficiency

Careers:

Every field of business has an integral need for professional sales specialists. Professional sales is central to virtually every industry and key to an organization’s ability to grow and sustain business operations. As a profession, the field of sales provides a strong trajectory of earnings potential unmatched by those of other career paths. Professional sales specialists are in increasing demand nationally and especially within Utah. Sales as a career provides the opportunity for career advancement through management and senior management within organizations as well as the opportunity to work with a variety of customers to help them solve problems and identify solutions which will help their businesses grow. Traditional areas of employment for sales students include: account executive roles, account management, inside sales, project management, sales management, sales analytics, sales training and development, and senior management.

Marketing, Minor

Requirements

The Marketing Department offers students three different tracks in the marketing minor, each providing a theoretical and in-depth professional preparation in the field. The first is the Marketing Management track, which provides a broad base of experiential classes and the most flexibility in scheduling for employed students. The second is the Digital Marketing track, which provides courses in internet marketing, social media, and web analytics. The newest track is Professional Selling, which prepares students for a career in sales with courses in personal selling, sales management, and sales analytics. Whichever track is chosen, a professional internship is highly encouraged.

Careers

Almost a third of all Americans are employed in marketing-related positions. Marketing graduates are in high demand in business, non-profit, and government service. Traditional career paths for students with marketing degrees include: brand management, advertising and promotion, professional sales, market research, pricing, product strategy, consumer behavior, event management, and international marketing. Many marketing graduates begin their careers, and then continue their education with a master’s degree in Marketing.

Requirements

The Marketing Department offers students three different tracks each providing a theoretical and in-depth professional preparation in the field. The first is the Marketing Management track which provides a broad base of experiential classes and the most flexibility in scheduling for employed students. The second is the Digital Marketing track which provides courses in internet marketing, social media, and web analytics. The newest track is Sales which prepares students for a career in sales with courses in personal selling, sales management, and sales analytics. Whichever track is chosen, a professional internship is highly encouraged.

Mission Statement
The Utah Valley University Mathematics Department’s primary purpose is to educate students in mathematics, mathematics education, and statistics. The department prepares students for both graduate degrees and productive careers by fostering a rigorous development of cognitive skills, helping them to analyze logical inferences, reason critically, and apply mathematical ideas to solve real world problems. The department’s other functions include service which supports the mission of the University, and the development of scholarly work to both advance research and facilitate student engagement in current areas of interest.

MATH 4340 Introduction to Number Theory (3.0)
MATH 4510 Foundations of Topology (3.0)
MATH 4610 Introduction to Numerical Analysis I (3.0)
MATH 4620 Introduction to Numerical Analysis II (3.0)
MATH 490R Topics in Mathematics (2.0)

Graduation Requirements:
1. Completion of a minimum of 120 semester credits with at least 40 credit hours in upper-division courses.
2. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above, a minimum GPA of 2.4 in all MATH courses listed above, with no grade lower than a “C” in all listed PHYS and MATH courses (substitutions may be granted for some elective courses).
3. Residency hours—minimum of 30 credit hours earned in the last 45 hours.
4. Completion of general education and specified departmental requirements.
5. Complete an exit survey administered by the Mathematics Department Advisor.
6. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.

Footnotes:
* Students planning to do graduate work in mathematics should take both of the year-long sequences MATH 4210, 4220, and MATH 4310, 4320, and acquire a reading knowledge of at least one foreign language chosen from French, German, or Russian.
 Requires completion of a prerequisite course, which fulfills elective requirements.

Mission Statement

The Department of Music promotes student success through innovative programs that enhance musical creativity, hone performance expertise, and sustain high standards of academic excellence. World-class faculty provide learning opportunities essential to the professional competency of music students as they prepare for an increasingly global marketplace. The department engages diverse audiences through performances and activities representing an array of musical styles and traditions.

Our objectives are to:

1. Offer the highest quality of education for students pursuing undergraduate programs in music performance, commercial music, music education, liberal arts in music, and integrated studies with a music emphasis.
2. Provide an inviting, safe, and healthy environment that promotes academic excellence and musical creativity.
3. Provide general music studies and performance opportunities to all students on campus.
4. Foster an open and inclusive environment that engages traditional and non-traditional students, celebrates diversity, and promotes understanding of a variety of musical styles and cultures.
5. Promote a supportive and stimulating environment within the department that encourages students and faculty to explore creativity and innovation at their highest professional potential.

Entrance Auditions

Entrance auditions are required for students wishing to pursue a degree in music. Live auditions are recommended, as they provide students with the opportunity to meet and perform for the faculty. Students also have the option to submit a recorded audition. More information (link to: http://www.uvu.edu/music/getting/entrance.html)

Scholarship Auditions

Music majors and non-majors alike are eligible for a variety of scholarships, ranging from quarter to full tuition. Live auditions are recommended, as they provide students with the opportunity to meet and perform for the faculty. More information (link to: http://www.uvu.edu/music/getting/scholarships.html)

Ensemble Auditions

Ensemble auditions are held at the beginning of Fall and Spring semesters. More information (link to http://www.uvu.edu/music/getting/#ensemble

Theory Placement

All new music major students are required to take a music theory placement examination on the first day of semester classes. The results of this test may indicate a need for further theory training before entrance into Music Theory I. More information (link to http://www.uvu.edu/music/getting/#theory)

Keyboard Proficiency

Music majors are required to pass keyboard proficiency examinations in preparation for their Sophomore review. Students who complete Group Piano I, II, III, and IV with a ‘B’ or higher will fulfill exam requirements. Students who have attained a requisite level of competency in piano may be exempted from group piano coursework through a demonstration of exam requirements.
