A Message from Mercer County Clerk,
Paula Sollami Covello, Esq.

Dear Homeowner:

On behalf of the Mercer County elected officials, and the Mercer County Office of Consumer Affairs, we are pleased to be able to offer this Foreclosure Resource Directory to troubled homeowners in Mercer County. The thought of losing one’s home through foreclosure can be daunting. We urge you to avoid a “quick fix”, from a disreputable third-party that can worsen the situation.

This guidebook is intended to provide you with assistance through HUD-certified organizations as well as Federal and State agencies, specifically designed to provide help to troubled homeowners facing foreclosure. Please do not hesitate to reach out to them as soon as possible, as early intervention can sometimes prevent foreclosure.

We hope you find that this booklet is a source of assistance to you.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Paula Sollami Covello
Mercer County Clerk

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

The FDIC along with fellow regulators and the banking industry is working vigorously to help consumers and the banking industry avoid unnecessary foreclosures and stop foreclosure "rescue" scams that promise false hope to consumers at risk of losing their homes. Banks that originate and service mortgage loans are encouraged to make prudent attempts to find solutions for homeowners having trouble making their mortgage payments. Exploring options that can keep homeowners in their homes may be one of the best ways for lenders to mitigate losses, preserve customer relationships, and maintain safe and stable neighborhoods.

Homeowners who currently have, or expect to have, difficulty making their payments should contact their loan services or reputable counseling agency as soon as possible to discuss options. Troubled borrowers should be careful in dealing with organizations that encourage borrowers to cease making payments or walk away from their home while also promising to repair their credit. If it sounds too good to be true, it may well be a scam that will damage the borrower's credit and cost more in the long run. Working directly with the services or legitimate non-profit organizations is the best approach for troubled borrowers.

HUD PROGRAMS

Making Home Affordable © (MHA) Program
MHA’s goal is to help homeowners avoid foreclosure, stabilize the country's housing market, and improve the nation's economy.
Homeowners can lower their monthly mortgage payments and get into more stable loans at lower rates. For those homeowners for whom homeownership is no longer affordable or desirable, the program can provide a way out which avoids foreclosure. Additionally, in an effort to be responsive to the needs of today's homeowners, there are also options for unemployed homeowners and homeowners who owe more than their homes are worth. Please read the following program summaries to determine which program options may be best suited for your particular circumstances.

Home Affordable Modification Program (HAMP):
HAMP lowers your monthly mortgage payment to 31 percent of your verified monthly gross (pre-tax) income to make your payments more affordable.

Principal Reduction Alternative (PRA):
PRA was designed to help homeowners whose homes are worth significantly less than they owe by encouraging servicers and investors to reduce the amount you owe on your home.

Home Affordable Refinance Program (HARP):
If you are current on your mortgage and have been unable to obtain a traditional refinance because the value of your home has declined, you may be eligible to refinance through HARP.

HUD Housing Counseling Agencies:
● U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development - Phone: 1-800-225-5342 * Website: www.HUD.gov
If, in your housing search, you believe you are being discriminated against on the basis of your race, color, nationality, religion, sex, familial status, or disability, contact HUD’s Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity.

NEW JERSEY HOMEOWNERSHIP PRESERVATION EFFORT (NJ HOPE)
Families and communities across New Jersey are facing mounting difficulties as a result of the boom in sub-prime mortgage lending. If you are having trouble paying your mortgage, help is available. Do not be embarrassed. Do not panic. If you are having trouble with your mortgage payments, contact your mortgage lender. Do not ignore your lender’s letters and phone calls. Do not wait! Your financial future is worth a phone call.
The NJ HOPE alliance was formed to help you find the resources that are being used by people across the state to understand what type of mortgage they have, the terms of their loan, when the interest rate on their mortgage is going to reset and what steps they need to take to resolve their mortgage problems.
The NJ HOPE alliance is a collaborative effort to enhance homeownership preservation in New Jersey. Assisting New Jersey residents in achieving and maintaining the American Dream of homeownership is a shared goal among the members.
