C. STEVEN YERRID
SELECTED FOR INCLUSION IN BEST LAWYERS®
FOR OVER TWO DECADES
For nearly three decades, Best Lawyers® lists attorneys in 82 practice areas, representing practice areas, as were lawyers in smaller jurisdictions. Where practice areas are national own jurisdiction. Lawyers in closely related practice areas were asked to vote across general, lawyers were asked to vote only on nominees in their own practice area in their nated since the previous survey, and new nominees solicited from listed attorneys. In , lawyers who were nomi- whose names appeared in the previous edition of Best Lawyers®. The nomination pool for the 2012 edition consisted of all lawyers included. In this regard, Best Lawyers remains the gold standard of reliability and integri-ty in lawyer ratings. The nomination pool for the 2012 edition consisted of all lawyers whose names appeared in the previous edition of Best Lawyers; lawyers who were nomi-nated since the previous survey, and new nominees solicited from listed attorneys. In general, lawyers were asked to vote only on nominees in their own practice area in their own jurisdiction. Lawyers in closely related practice areas were asked to vote across practice areas, as were lawyers in smaller jurisdictions. Where practice areas are national or international in nature, lawyers were asked to vote nationally as well as locally. Voting

METHODOLOGY

Lawyers were also given an opportunity to offer more detailed comments on nominees. Voting lawyers were provided this general guideline for determining if a nominee should be listed: “If you had a close friend or relative who needed a real estate lawyer (for example), and you could not handle the case yourself, to whom would you refer them?” All votes and comments were solicited with a guarantee of confidentiality — a critical factor in the viability and validity of Best Lawyers surveys. To ensure the rigor of the selection process, lawyers were urged to use only their highest standards when voting, and to eval-uate each nominee based only on his or her individual merits. The additional comments were used to make more accurate comparisons between voting patterns and weight votes accordingly. Best Lawyers uses various methodological tools to identify and correct for anomalies in both the nomination and voting process.

Ultimately, of course, a lawyer’s inclusion is based on the subjective judgments of his or her fellow attorneys. While it is true that the lists may at times disproportionately reward visibility or popularity, the breadth of the survey, the candor of the respondents, and the sophistication of the polling methodology largely correct for any biases. For all these reasons, Best Lawyers lists continue to represent the most reliable, accurate and useful guide to the legal profession in the United States. Best Lawyers lists are available at www.bestlawyers.com. “Best Lawyers” and “The Best Lawyers in America” are registered trademarks of Woodward/White, Inc.
Investments of the Heart
Steve Yerrid’s Dedication to Cases and Causes Yields Big Results

Intimidation is a word that simply doesn't exist in trial attorney Steve Yerrid's vocabulary. In fact, it's his nature to pursue what he believes in, no matter the odds.

"My parents instilled in me the idea that, if you find a cause that is worth embracing, then embrace it with all your heart and give everything that can be given," Yerrid says. "There's a very large price to be paid when you continually go all out with the effort. Each case is an investment of the heart."

During his expansive career, Yerrid has achieved more than 175 jury verdicts and settlements of $1 million or more for individuals or families of individuals who have been injured or killed due to the negligence of others.

In 2006, he earned a jury verdict of $217 million, the largest medical malpractice award in Florida's history and largest verdict for 2006 in the entire country. In 2009, he achieved a jury verdict of $330 million—that year's largest verdict in the nation in a wrongful death case.

Most recently, Yerrid was the lead lawyer in obtaining a $10 million jury verdict on behalf of the family of Ereck Plancher, a 19-year-old football player who died due to complications of his sickle cell trait after participating in off-season conditioning drills. The jury found the university's athletic association negligent in failing to inform Plancher of his condition and failing to take the steps necessary to save the young man's life.

"This case will have a profound effect on Division 1 college football and puts these programs on notice about the special attention and proper care needed by athletes with sickle cell," Yerrid says. "Winning in college football is not everything. The student athlete's welfare always has to come first."

One of his most memorable cases was taking on Big Tobacco. Yerrid was one of 11 trial lawyers selected by the late Governor Lawton Chiles to represent Florida in its monumental lawsuit against the tobacco industry.

The work of Yerrid and his colleagues resulted in more than $17 billion—the largest civil monetary settlement of its kind in United States history—and paved the way for other states to achieve landmark settlements.

"The armada of lawyers the defendants sent against us represented the best legal talent money could buy. We sometimes faced 100 attorneys in the courtroom," Yerrid recalls. "I'm grateful that I had the opportunity to help hold this giant industry accountable. Only in America could something so profound happen."

What's more, the industry agreed to numerous concessions to stop marketing tobacco products to children.

"We established the Truth Campaign, banned critical media advertising, and stopped the targeting of our children to become the next generation of smokers," Yerrid says. "Some young people today may not even be aware of the world that we extinguished. Now, it's only something they read about in history books."

Yerrid attracted international attention in 1980, when he successfully represented and, using an "Act of God" defense, obtained the exoneration of John Lerro, the pilot of the large freighter that crashed into the mammoth Sunshine Skyway Bridge, which spanned Tampa Bay during a freak storm, resulting in its collapse. Thirty-five people died and more than $100 million in damage was done.

"Other than my mother, no one thought we could win," Yerrid says. "I was 30 years old, and it was the first time my picture made the New York Times."

Yerrid and his talented firm treat each and every client the same.

"No person's heartache is any more painful or less painful than the others. There is no prosthetic device for a broken heart, and the only thing that even comes close to addressing horrific loss is true and complete justice," he says. "We treat every broken heart the same and in the manner we want to be treated."

Yerrid is a member of the Inner Circle of Advocates, an invitation-only organization, consisting of the best 100 plaintiffs' trial lawyers in the country. The National Law Journal named Yerrid one of the Top 10 Litigators in Florida, and Lawyers USA named him a Top Lawyer in the Nation.

Honored as the Outstanding Lawyer of the Year in the Thirteenth Circuit, Yerrid was recognized as Trial Lawyer of the Year by the American Board of Trial Advocates, Tampa Chapter. Since the 1980s, Yerrid has continuously been selected for inclusion in Who's Who in American Law, Who's Who in the World, Lexdrager, Super Lawyers, and Law & Leading Attorneys. As CEO of his nonprofit, The Yerrid Foundation, he actively supports numerous worthy causes, both locally and nationally.

Yerrid credits his achievements to hard work, determination, and unconditional effort. Most important, he attributes his success and career accomplishments as directly related to the invaluable help he has received from others along the way.

"I'm so grateful for all the people I work with at my firm, and all those who have supported me in giving me everything that I needed," Yerrid says. "I'm even more grateful for all the wonderful clients and causes I have championed. It is a true blessing to have people who have believed in me and the abilities of our firm to deliver what is often the most important thing in their life—justice."

"TO THE TRUTH AND THOSE WHO SEEK IT, TO JUSTICE AND THOSE WHO ACHIEVE IT... BUT MOSTLY, TO THE INNOCENT WHO ARE OFTEN LEFT WITHOUT BOTH."

—STEVE YERRID
The Gunn Law Group is a statewide plaintiffs’ practice focused primarily on issues of insurance coverage and bad faith, medical malpractice, and complex personal injury. Mr. Gunn began his career defending hospitals, major corporations and insurance carriers. In 2000, after seventeen years of defense practice, he began applying that experience as an advocate representing injured people, policyholders, patients and consumers. “I have a keen understanding of how the defense might view and prepare a case,” he says. “That insight helps me to build the strongest case possible for my client.” Since 2000, the firm has secured many multimillion-dollar recoveries on behalf of its clients, and founder Lee D. Gunn IV credits this success, in part, to the firm’s specialization in its field.

“We achieve results for our clients because we have the persistence and financial strength to fund and resolve complex cases in areas such as medical malpractice and insurance coverage and bad faith” he says.

The firm’s unique attributes proved vital in one of its most notable cases, in which it achieved a confidential recovery for an alleged unnecessary experimental in utero fetal surgery at St. Joseph’s Hospital in Tampa. In addition, the fetal surgeon in the case was required to personally pay $100,000 for the settlement of the punitive damage claim. “At least half a dozen law firms turned the case down because they thought it would be too complicated and expensive to win,” Mr. Gunn says. “But we took it on, and we were able to succeed for the client.”

The firm’s selectivity in choosing its cases has allowed it to maintain a high degree of personalized service. It also employs the most current technologies, such as video teleconferencing, to ensure that its representation is both effective and efficient. By adhering to these practices, the firm has become known in the legal community for its ability to provide superior legal advocacy and the capital needed to fund complex cases. Furthermore, this stellar reputation has prompted more than 90 percent of Gunn Law Group’s client referrals to come from fellow attorneys.

In recognition of his skillful representation, Gunn has been av rated by Martindale-Hubbell and Board Certified as a specialist in Civil Trial Practice by the Florida Bar and the National Board of Trial Advocates. He is also a member of the Multi-Million Dollar Advocates Forum, and he has been selected for inclusion in Florida Trend magazine’s Florida Trend Legal Elite, The Best Lawyers in America® 2012, and Florida Super Lawyers.

Edward O. Savitz

Bush Ross, P.A.
CONSTRUCTION LAW, TAMPA

When trial attorney Edward O. Savitz was attending law school at the University of Florida, he initially wanted to become a tax lawyer. He took every course offered in tax law and planned to attend New York University to earn an LL.M. in tax law following graduation.

“As I progressed through law school, I needed immediate income, so I began working and got more involved in business disputes, rather than business and tax planning,” Savitz says.

Before long, he realized that he enjoyed commercial litigation more than planning, and now Savitz has practiced commercial litigation and dispute resolution for almost 40 years. Savitz represents both individual and corporate clients at both the trial and appellate level in matters involving construction litigation, franchise litigation, intellectual property litigation, and professional liability litigation. A certified mediator in federal court, he is also an approved panel attorney for most professional liability insurance carriers.

“I enjoy working with people and solving problems, and the law profession provides opportunities to do both,” Savitz says.

Prior to graduating law school, he was commissioned as a field artillery officer in the U.S. Army and received the Army Commendation Medal upon his honorable discharge. A Master of the Terrell Inn Chapter of the American Inn of Court, Savitz is a recipient of the University of Florida Law Review Alumni Association Commentary Award and the Gertrude Brick Law Review Apprentice Prize.

But to Savitz, his greatest achievement is coming to know Jesus Christ, and he attributes all of his professional success to his solid faith. “I’ve been fortunate to work with good clients,” he says. “I’m grateful to have the opportunity to work with other professionals who want to help people and who aren’t afraid to work hard.”

Benjamin H. Hill, III

Hill Ward Henderson
LEGAL MALPRACTICE LAW – DEFENDANTS, TAMPA

Benjamin H. Hill, III is a lawyer who enjoys helping lawyers. Hill credits his father for instilling in him a desire to help others, which is the reason he pursued a legal career in the first place.

“I thought the legal profession would give me the best opportunity to work with and serve people,” Hill says.

Early in his career, Hill realized that professional liability law would enable him to help those who serve others.

“I’ve always looked at the legal profession as a profession that serves people,” Hill says.

Law suits against lawyers were rare when Hill first became an attorney. However, they are now more common and complex.

“I like working with lawyers,” he says. “To the extent that I can help other lawyers with their problems, I feel privileged to be able to do so.

Hill has helped many lawyers, including those aspiring to be judges. He recently completed a term as the chair of the American Bar Association’s Standing Committee on the Federal Judiciary, which tasked him with evaluating presidential nominees for federal judge appointments.

Hill was a founding member of his law firm 25 years ago. He earned his J.D. from the University of Florida in 1967 and is an active member of the Florida Bar.

Hill has been selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America® 2012 and Florida Super Lawyers. Hill is proud of the contributions he has made during his career. However, he is just as proud of his two attorney sons and their commitment to the legal profession.

STEEL LAW GROUP, P.A.

Litigation - Intellectual Property

2012 Edition

Thomas T. Steele

In 2005, Tom Steele founded Steele Law Group, P.A., after nearly 30 years at a well-respected full-service firm. A litigation boutique, Steele Law Group focuses on unfair competition claims in federal and state courts along the west coast of Florida, concentrating on cases involving noncompetition and nonsolicitation agreements; confidentiality agreements; trade secrets and other confidential business information; copyrights, trademarks, service marks, “trade dress,” and “cybersquatting”; “black hat” marketing involving Internet search engines; and common law and statutory unfair competition.

Steele Law Group recently added Brook A. Baker—a graduate of the University of Florida Levin College of Law with a Certificate in Intellectual Property Law—who will concentrate on litigating cases and copyright and trademark infringement disputes.

Steele is well known as the principal drafter of the statute regulating the enforcement of noncompetition, nonsolicitation, and confidentiality agreements in Florida. The 1996 Florida Bar Journal article, entitled “Restrictive Covenant: Florida Returns To The Original ‘Unfair Competition Approach For The 21st Century” which he co-authored, has been quoted or cited by at least a dozen published federal and state court decisions in the past fifteen years.

Steele has served as the president of the Tampa Bay Chapter of the Federal Bar Association and on the Executive Council of the Business Law Section of the Florida Bar. He has secured million-dollar verdicts for clients in unfair competition cases, and he was honored with the George C. Carr Memorial Award for excellence in federal practice.

Steele has been named a Florida Super Lawyer in business litigation, to The Best Lawyers in America® 2012 for intellectual property litigation, and most recently, as one of the premier lawyers in intellectual property litigation in the Tampa Bay area.
