About This Publication

This booklet is published by College Foundation of North Carolina, which administers many grant, scholarship, and loan programs in North Carolina. Use it to locate sources of financial aid available to North Carolina students. This book does not include every scholarship available, but it does include many of the major programs available across the state.

You will find printed copies of this booklet in high school student-services offices, university financial aid offices, and in North Carolina public libraries. This publication is also available on the web at: CFNC.org/fabook.

PLEASE NOTE:

Unless otherwise stated, College Foundation of North Carolina does not distribute applications for the various scholarship programs listed in this booklet. Grant, scholarship, and loan applications can be obtained through the addresses, phone numbers, and websites listed in each entry’s description.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information contained for the various scholarship, grant, loan, and work programs. However, we are not responsible for program deadlines, requirements, and other characteristics of scholarships that may have changed. Contact the administrators of the programs in which you are interested to obtain the most current information.

This booklet is intended as a guide to help students identify programs for which they may be eligible and services that may be available to them. Other possible financial aid sources not included in this publication are:

• Private or institutional scholarships offered on individual campuses.
• Scholarships that require no special application or procedure for the student to be considered by the campus.
• Scholarships and grants provided by some community-based organizations and charities on a local level.

Please check with your high school counseling office for information on programs specific to your area.

This publication is prepared annually by the Grants, Training and Outreach Division of the North Carolina State Education Assistance Authority.

Please direct questions about this publication to Nicole Roach at nroach@ncseaa.edu.
Need help completing your federal financial aid form?

FAFSA Day, Saturday, February 20, 2016

Each February, College Foundation of North Carolina, in partnership with the North Carolina Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators and the State Employees’ Credit Union, sponsors “FAFSA Day.” On that day, students and their families meet with college financial aid officers who help them complete and submit their free application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) forms. FAFSA forms are the standard forms required for federal and state need-based aid and for consideration for many other scholarships and grant opportunities. FAFSA Day service will be available in most North Carolina counties.

FAFSA Day is Saturday, February 20, 2016, from 9 a.m. until noon at most locations. Please visit CFNC.org/fafsaday after October 1 for details. North Carolinians who plan to enroll at ANY college during the 2016-17 academic year are invited to attend a FAFSA Day program at one of the many host sites conveniently located across the state. Parents of dependent students are also encouraged to attend.

Program details, a list of sites, and registration information will be available at CFNC.org/fafsaday or by calling College Foundation of North Carolina, toll-free, at 866-866-CFNC beginning October, 2015.

FAFSA Day is a service of College Foundation of North Carolina, the North Carolina Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators, and the State Employees’ Credit Union.

If you have a disability as defined in the Americans with Disabilities Act and need to participate in FAFSA Day, please contact College Foundation of North Carolina at 866-866-CFNC by January 29, 2016. Requests received after this date will be considered to the fullest extent possible.

An Overview of Financial Assistance for Students

“What are you going to do after high school?”
For many students, that question is difficult to answer when there is no money to pay for vocational or technical training, or for a two-year or four-year college. Fortunately, there is a lot of money available to help students reach their dreams of a college education or training beyond high school. The following information briefly describes the types of aid available and how to apply for financial aid.

Types of Financial Aid
There are three types of financial aid available to students:

1) Scholarships or Grants: Money that does not have to be repaid or earned; it is sometimes referred to as “free money.” Scholarships and grants are available based on the student’s financial need (need-based) or based on the student’s academic achievements or special talents (merit-based).

2) Loans: Funds that must be repaid either in cash, usually with interest, or through service. Loans made with a service option usually require the student repay the loan after graduation by working a specified number of years in a particular field. Loans that must be repaid with cash usually begin repayment after the student is out of college.

3) Work: Funds that a student earns through a job on or off the college campus. The student has the opportunity to work and earn money to assist with the expenses associated with college.

Applying for Financial Aid
To be considered for financial aid, students must apply using the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), available in a paper format from any college financial aid office or high school student-services office. The application is also available at www.fafsa.gov, or you may call 800-4-FedAid (800-433-3243). As the name says, there is no charge to complete this application, and by doing so, you will be considered for all types of federal financial aid. It is important to complete this form as soon as possible after January 1 of the year you plan to go to college, and definitely before the deadlines published by the college you wish to attend.

All students who want to be considered for financial aid should complete the FAFSA; however, some colleges and universities, as well as some separate scholarship programs, require additional forms.

Students should check with the college they wish to attend to see if there are additional forms to be completed.

Financial Aid Resources
- After the FAFSA has been submitted, the college(s) the student listed on the FAFSA will receive an estimate of how much the student’s family can pay toward the cost of college. The financial aid office will use that information to put together a financial aid “package,” consisting of one or more grants, scholarships, loans, and/or work opportunities to help cover the difference between what it costs to attend the college and what the family can pay. Students will be notified of the type and amount of each aid source and information about how the student will receive the funds. The student should then respond to the college regarding whether he/she wants to accept the offered funds.

- In many communities, local service clubs, civic organizations, employers, churches, and others have college scholarships available. Usually your high school counselor will have information on how to apply for these scholarships.

- Students may want to explore other sources of financial aid by completing a scholarship search program on the Internet. It is generally not advisable for students to pay for a search, especially with so many free searches available online. Your school counselor or the financial aid office at the college you wish to attend can recommend websites for your use.

- To assist prospective students in learning more about the state’s many institutions of higher education, a listing of North Carolina colleges and universities can be found near the back of this publication.

- The best and most comprehensive online source for free financial aid information for North Carolina residents is College Foundation of North Carolina, CFNC.org. The website also provides comprehensive information to help students plan for and apply to college.

- You may also call the toll-free number for College Foundation of North Carolina, 866-866-CFNC (2362) to speak with a college planning specialist, who will provide information and answers to your questions about planning, applying, and paying for college.
College Foundation of North Carolina

As part of its commitment to help more students obtain an education beyond high school, the State Education Assistance Authority actively participates in the College Foundation of North Carolina (CFNC). This collaborative effort involves working with College Foundation Inc., the University of North Carolina, the North Carolina Community College System, North Carolina Independent Colleges and Universities, and the Department of Public Instruction in providing a comprehensive website and a call center, staffed with college planning and financing specialists. Fiscal year 2015 marked CFNC's 14th full year.

The service provides, in one place, the information North Carolina students and families need to plan, apply, and pay for college. CFNC helps communicate through a single, one-stop resource that higher education is available and possible for all North Carolinians, creating more opportunities than ever to go to college.

Via CFNC.org, students can use a wide range of career exploration and planning tools; maintain a personal portfolio to record courses taken; test scores and accomplishments; visit a virtual "College Fair" to compare, explore, and link to more than 110 North Carolina colleges and universities; apply online for college admission and financial aid; and access financial planning, college savings, loan, grant, and scholarship information.

The CFNC Call Center, accessed toll-free at 866-866-CFNC (2362), offers specialists in career counseling, academic advising, and financial resources for college. Students, families, and counselors are encouraged to call with individual questions or to request more information.

With CFNC's expanded services, families with young children are able to start early in their financial and academic planning for college. For those families with high school students or adults soon anticipating college enrollment, CFNC provides detailed guidance on both college admission and financial aid.

CFNC Usage Statistics, FY 2014-15

- On June 30, 2015, CFNC.org had more than 5.7 million user accounts and averaged 11,419 visits a day for the year.
- The CFNC Call Center responded to more than 109,832 phone calls on paying for college and 12,000 on careers and college admission. It also responded to 4,518 emails on financial aid and 4,046 emails with questions or publication requests on college admission and careers.
- CFNC Regional Representatives, located across the state, made a total of 2,712 college access presentations to 91,957 people in schools and community groups.
- North Carolina students submitted 418,976 college applications using CFNC.org.
- CFNC has processed 288,968 electronic high school transcripts for up to 530 North Carolina high schools.
- Among juniors and seniors in North Carolina high schools, 90% are aware of CFNC, according to the most recent market awareness study (2012). The study also found 90% awareness of CFNC among parents of North Carolina middle and high school students.
Glossary of Financial Aid Terms

Academic Year – An academic year requires a minimum of 30 weeks of instructional time for a program that measures its length in credit hours or a minimum of 26 weeks of instructional time for a program that measures its length in clock hours. For an undergraduate program, a year is at least 24 semester or trimester hours, or 36 quarter hours for a course of study that measures its program length in credit hours or 900 clock hours for a course of study that measures its program length in clock hours. All programs must define an academic year that conforms to the minimum requirements, even if the program itself is shorter than those minimum requirements.

Award Notification/Letter – An official notice, issued by the financial aid office, that lists all the financial aid awarded to the student. This communication may be online and generally provides the expected family contribution, cost of attendance, and the terms of the aid awarded.

Capitalization – The process of adding unpaid interest to the principal balance of an educational loan, increasing the principal amount of the loan that must be repaid.

Consolidation – A loan program that allows a borrower to combine several educational loans into one new loan. This process extends the repayment period and allows for a single monthly payment. It simplifies the repayment process and usually lowers the monthly payment, though it may result in higher overall interest payments.

Cost of Attendance (COA) – The total cost of an education, which is usually expressed as a yearly amount. COA includes tuition and fees, room and board, an allowance for books and supplies, transportation, and miscellaneous expenses, dependent care, study abroad expenses, disability expenses, employment expenses for co-op study, and loan fees. The amount is determined by the financial aid office of the institution.

Default – Failure to repay a student loan according to the terms of a promissory note signed by the student. The organization that holds the loan (the state or the federal government) can take action to recover the money, including notifying national credit bureaus of the default. Wages and/or tax refunds of the defaulter may be garnished, and the borrower will no longer be eligible to receive federal financial aid until the defaulted loan is repaid or the borrower has made six full, on-time, consecutive monthly payments.

Deferment – An authorized period of time during which a borrower may postpone principal and interest payments. Deferments are available to borrowers who are in school at least half-time, enrolled in a graduate fellowship program, experiencing periods of unemployment or economic hardship, or in some cases, while teaching in shortage areas or low income schools, or for volunteering with the Peace Corps, VISTA, etc.

Dependent Student – For financial aid purposes, an undergraduate student is usually classified as a dependent and is expected to have access to parental financial resources if he/she is not married, does not have legal dependents, including children that he/she supports more than 50 percent, is not a veteran, is not currently serving on active duty (including National Guard or Reserves activated by Federal Authority) in the U.S. Armed Forces for purposes other than training, was not an orphan, ward of the court, or foster child at the age of 13 or any time thereafter, or is not an emancipated minor, in legal guardianship, or unaccompanied youth who is homeless or self-supporting and at risk of homelessness and under 24 years of age.

Entrance/Exit Interviews – Counseling sessions for borrowers are required before their first loan disbursement can be released and before the borrower leaves school.

Expected Family Contribution (EFC) – Determined by a formula, this figure indicates how much of a family’s financial resources are expected to help pay for the student’s education. The EFC is used in determining eligibility for financial aid. Both FM (federal methodology) and IM (institutional methodology) use the EFC concept, although the calculated EFC under the two methodologies may differ.

FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) – The federal aid application that must be completed by students who want to be considered for federal and much state need-based aid.

FM (federal methodology) – An eligibility formula, mandated by the U.S. Congress, that determines the student’s and the family’s “expected family contribution” (EFC). This formula is used in making allocations of federal aid and, at some colleges and universities, for making institutional aid decisions as well.
Financial Aid Package – The total financial aid a student receives to meet educational expenses. It may include federal, state, and private aid, such as grants, loans, work study, and scholarships.

Financial Need – The difference between the Cost of Attendance and the Estimated Family Contribution. It is used in determining what the student’s aid package will be.

Forbearance – A period of time during which the borrower is permitted to temporarily cease making payments or reduce the amount of payments. The borrower is liable for the interest that accrues on the loan during the forbearance period.

Forgivable Loan for Service – A form of financial aid that has a service and/or cash repayment obligation as a condition for receiving the funds. A student must promise to repay the money upon graduation or withdrawal from the program within a specified time period, either through service in a certain geographical and/or subject area or in cash at a predetermined interest rate.

Full-Time Student – For undergraduate students, this is usually a minimum of 12 semester hours of enrollment in a degree-granting program.

General Education Development (GED) Certificate – A certificate students receive if they’ve passed a specific, approved high school equivalency test. Students who don’t have a high school diploma but who have a GED may still qualify for federal and state student aid.

Grace Period – Period of time when a borrower leaves school or drops below half-time, and the borrower is not obligated to begin repayment of his/her loans – usually six or nine months.

Grant – Financial aid awarded on the basis of need or merit that the student is not obligated to repay.

Guaranty Agency – The state-designated organization that administers the Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP), including the Federal Stafford Loan and Federal PLUS Loan programs. In this state, the agency is the North Carolina State Education Assistance Authority.

IM (institutional methodology) – A need-analysis formula developed by College Board’s College Scholarship Service. It determines the student’s and the family’s capacity to pay for college each year, and is used by some postsecondary institutions for awarding institutional and private financial aid.

Independent Student – For financial aid purposes, a student is classified as an independent student if at least one of the following applies: he/she is 24 or older, is married, is enrolled in a graduate or professional educational program (beyond a bachelor’s degree), has legal dependents other than a spouse, was an orphan, foster child, or ward/dependent of the court at any time since age 13, is an emancipated minor, in legal guardianship or was determined at any time since July 1, 2012, to be an unaccompanied youth who was homeless or was self-supporting and at risk of being homeless, is a veteran of the U.S. armed forces (defined as a student who has engaged in active service in the U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines or Coast Guard and was released under a condition other than dishonorable — including a student who attended a U.S. military academy but withdrew in good standing), or is currently serving on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces for purposes other than training and activated by federal authority.

Interest – The charge made to a borrower for use of a lender’s money.

Institutional Student Information Record (ISIR) – An electronic record for schools that contains a student’s Expected Family Contribution (EFC), as calculated by the Central Processing System, as well as all the financial and other data submitted by the student on the FAFSA.

Need Analysis – The process of reviewing a student’s aid application to determine the ability of the family to contribute to the costs of education. Completing a need analysis form (e.g., FAFSA or PROFILE) is the required step in applying for most types of financial aid.

North Carolina State Education Assistance Authority (NCSEAA) – The state agency in North Carolina that promotes access to higher education by administering financial aid and savings programs, informing students and families about paying for college, teaching educators about financial aid administration, and advocating for resources to support students. For more information, visit ncseaa.edu.

Origination Fee – A fee charged by the federal government and deducted from the loan before disbursement to offset part of the administrative costs of the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program (DL).

Principal – The initial amount of the student loan. Interest is charged on this amount, and an origination fee is deducted from the principal prior to disbursement.
PROFILE – A need-analysis form required by some institutions for non-federal aid and processed through the College Board’s College Scholarship Service (CSS). This form can be found at https://profileonline.collegeboard.com.

Promissory Note – The legal document that a borrower must sign when he/she receives an educational loan that lists conditions under which the money is borrowed and the terms under which he/she agrees to repay the loan with interest.

Residency – In North Carolina, a person does not necessarily have to be a U.S. citizen to be classified as a North Carolina resident for tuition purposes. However, a person must reside in this state for at least 12 months prior to the date of enrollment or re-enrollment in a postsecondary institution. Each postsecondary institution makes its own determination regarding in-state residency. Some factors include place of residence, place where one votes, place where one votes, place of jury service, place of car registration or license, driver’s license, place of employment, state where income tax is paid, location of personal property, and location where one spends vacation time. Minors residing in North Carolina are considered residents of the state where their parents reside. A currently enrolled North Carolina resident who leaves the state is granted a 12-month grace period during which time he/she is treated as an in-state resident for tuition purposes. State law also allows military personnel and their dependents to qualify for in-state tuition while stationed in North Carolina.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) – A student must be making satisfactory academic progress to continue receiving federal aid. Each institution develops its own satisfactory academic progress standards for financial aid eligibility.

Scholarship – A form of financial aid given to students on the basis of need or merit (or a combination of both) to help pay for their education expenses. Some scholarships have community service requirements and geographic, institutional, or academic major restrictions. Most scholarships require the student to maintain satisfactory academic progress for renewal.

Scholarship-Loan – A form of financial aid that has a service and/or cash repayment obligation as a condition for receiving the funds. A student must promise to repay the money upon graduation or withdrawal from the program within a specified time period either through service in a certain geographical and/or subject area or in cash at a predeterminated interest rate. Also known as a Forgivable Loan.

Selective Service Registration – A male student must register with the Selective Service to receive federal and/or state student aid. The requirement applies to males who are at least 18 and are not currently on active duty in the armed forces.

Student Aid Report (SAR) – A federal “output” document sent to a student by the Central Processing System. The SAR contains financial and other information reported by the student on the FAFSA. A student receives a paper SAR if he or she files a paper FAFSA and does not provide a valid email address. The student receives a link to online SAR information if he or she provides a valid email address on the FAFSA. The student’s Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is included on the SAR. All information reported on the SAR is also sent to schools the student listed on the FAFSA.

Subsidized Loan – A need-based loan on which the interest is paid by the federal government while the borrower is enrolled in school or during grace and deferment periods. For Direct Subsidized Loans, first disbursed between July 1, 2012, and July 1, 2015, the borrower will be responsible for paying any interest that accrues during the grace period. If the interest is not paid during the grace period, the interest will be added to the loan’s principal balance.

Unsubsidized Loan – A non need-based loan for which borrowers are responsible for interest from the date the loan is disbursed.

Verification – A review process to determine the accuracy of the information on a student’s financial aid application. If a student is selected for verification, he/she is required to submit acceptable documentation to support information on his/her FAFSA application.
Government Programs

Scholarships or Grants

Appropriated Grants
These grants consist of funds for undergraduate students administered through the financial aid offices of the constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina and funds for graduate and first-year professional students in those institutions administered by other institutional offices as determined by the chancellors.

Eligibility: North Carolina residents enrolled in good standing in the regular or summer sessions as full- or part-time undergraduate, graduate, or first professional degree candidates in constituent institutions of The University of North Carolina are eligible to apply. These awards are based on financial need as determined by the respective constituent institutions.

Value: Awards vary, depending upon the cost of education at the institution, other available financial aid, and the financial resources of the student and/or family.

Application Procedure:
• Undergraduate level: There is no separate application. Apply for need-based financial aid as indicated by the institution; eligible students will automatically be considered for grants.
• Graduate or first professional level: Contact the graduate dean of the program of your choice to obtain information.

Federal Pell Grant Program
This program awards grants to eligible students with payment made through the institutions. Federal Pell Grants are the “foundation” of student aid to which aid from other sources may be added.

Eligibility: A student’s eligibility is determined by using a formula established by Congress that takes into consideration family financial circumstances. The formula produces an Expected Family Contribution (EFC) number that is used by the institution to determine the amount of the Federal Pell Grant. Eligible students must:
• Be undergraduates enrolled as either part-time or full-time students in an approved postsecondary institution who have not already earned a bachelor’s or professional degree

Value: Amounts vary and are awarded on the basis of need, enrollment status, length of enrollment, and cost of education at the school the student attends. The maximum annual award for 2015-16 is $5,730; the minimum annual award is $587 (full-time enrollment).

Application Procedure: Student applies for a Federal Pell Grant by filling out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The Federal Pell Grant is included as part of his/her total financial aid package. Call CFNC at 866-866-CFNC if you have questions about applying for a Federal Pell Grant. You may learn more about this program and other federal programs of assistance by visiting the federal government website at: http://studentaid.ed.gov/guide.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program (FSEOG)

Eligibility: A student must be an undergraduate and have exceptional financial need to qualify for an FSEOG award. The amount of financial need is determined by the educational institution the student attends. Recipients must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States. Priority is given to students who receive Federal Pell Grants.

Value: The value of the award is determined by the need of the recipient and the available funds. An award may not be less than $100, and the maximum award is usually $4,000 per year.

Application Procedure: Student applies for an FSEOG award by filling out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FSEOG will be included as part of the student’s total financial aid package developed by the college the student attends. Annual application is required. See the webpage at: http://studentaid.ed.gov/guide.

NC Reach (Child Welfare Postsecondary Support Program)
NC Reach, also known as the Child Welfare Postsecondary Support Program, was established by the 2007 General Assembly to provide funding for college students who aged out of North Carolina public foster care or whose adoption from North Carolina public foster care was finalized on or after their 12th birthday.
Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Have either been adopted from NC Division of Social Services (DSS) foster care after the age of 12, or aged out of NC DSS foster care at age 18 (must have been in care on their 18th birthday)
- Enroll at either a state community college or one of the 16 constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina system, at least half-time, pursuing an undergraduate degree, diploma, or certificate
- Make satisfactory progress toward the completion of undergraduate study
- Comply with registration requirements for military service unless they are exempt from registration
- Not be in default or owe a refund under any federal or state loan or grant program
- Be a resident of North Carolina, eligible for in-state tuition rates
- Be under the age of 26 (participants remain eligible until their 26th birthday)

Value: Award amounts vary. Benefits are determined based on federal and state grants and scholarships, including the Pell Grant, the Education Training Voucher and state scholarships such as the North Carolina Education Lottery Scholarship, which are applied first to the predetermined costs of attendance at the qualifying school. The NC Reach Scholarship will pay up to the balance of the predetermined costs of attendance.

Application Procedure: To apply for this program, please visit www.ncreach.org. Additional information may be obtained by calling the NC Reach team at (800) 585-6112, or by clicking “Contact Us” on the NC Reach homepage.

North Carolina Need-Based Scholarships (NBS)

Created by the 2011 North Carolina General Assembly, this is a need-based program for students attending private North Carolina institutions of higher education.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet all of the following eligibility requirements.

- Be a North Carolina resident for tuition purposes as defined by the State Residence Classification Manual
- Be enrolled as an undergraduate student in at least nine credit hours at a qualifying private North Carolina campus

Value: Award amounts vary depending on the EFC. For the 2015-16 academic year, awards range from $1,360 to $7,100 (full-time enrollment).

Application Procedure: Applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), listing at least one qualifying private North Carolina institution. Consideration for the grant is automatic once the FAFSA is filed. No deadline has been established; however, applicants should meet financial aid application deadlines established by their institutions. Late applicants may be denied if insufficient funds are available. For more information, visit CFNC.org/NBS.

North Carolina Community College Grant Program

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be a North Carolina resident for tuition purposes as defined by the State Residence Classification Manual
- Enroll for at least six credit hours per semester in a curriculum program
- Meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements of the institution

Eligibility is determined based on the same criteria as the Federal Pell Grant; students not eligible for the Federal Pell Grant may be considered for this grant based on their estimated family contribution (EFC). Students who have earned baccalaureate (four-year) college degrees are ineligible.

Value: Award amounts vary depending on the EFC. For the 2015-2016 academic year, awards range from $100 to $1,500.

Application Procedure: Applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), listing at least one qualifying private North Carolina institution. Consideration for the grant is automatic once the FAFSA is filed. No deadline has been established; however, applicants should meet financial aid application deadlines established by their institutions. Late applicants may be denied if insufficient funds are available. For more information, visit CFNC.org/NCCCG.
North Carolina Education Lottery Scholarship (ELS)

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be a North Carolina resident for tuition purposes as defined by the State Residence Classification Manual
- Enroll for at least six credit hours per semester in a curriculum program
- Meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements of the institution
- Be admitted, enrolled, and classified as an undergraduate student in matriculated status in a degree, certificate, or diploma program at eligible North Carolina institutions (UNC campuses, community college campuses)

Students who have earned baccalaureate (four-year) college degrees are ineligible.

Eligibility is determined based on the same criteria as the Federal Pell Grant. Students with an estimated family contribution (EFC) of $5,000 or less will be eligible for an Education Lottery Scholarship.

Value: Award amounts vary depending on the EFC. For the 2015-16 academic year, awards range from $100 to $3,000.

Application Procedure: Applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), listing at least one qualifying private North Carolina institution. Consideration for the grant is automatic once the FAFSA is filed. No deadline has been established; however, applicants should meet financial aid application deadlines established by their institutions. Late applicants may be denied if insufficient funds are available. For more information, visit CFNC.org/ELS.

UNC Campus Scholarship Program

This program, established in 2002 by the General Assembly, was created through the consolidation of several programs that previously existed to provide assistance to North Carolinians attending the state’s public universities. The UNC Campus Scholarship Program is designed to promote diversity on the 16 North Carolina public university campuses. A portion of the program is reserved for American Indian/Native American students who can provide evidence of membership in an Indian tribe recognized by the state of North Carolina or by the United States. Information about the doctoral program can be found elsewhere in this publication.

Eligibility: Each campus determines eligibility and recipients based on approved criteria established by the institution.

Value: The amount awarded is determined by the campus.

Application Procedure: North Carolina residents interested in this program should contact the financial aid office at the North Carolina public university they plan to attend.

University of North Carolina Need-Based Grant

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be a North Carolina resident for tuition purposes as defined by the State Residence Classification Manual
- Be enrolled in at least six credit hours at one of the 16 constituent institutions of The University of North Carolina
- Demonstrate eligibility based on a calculation of need, using income data from the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

Students who have earned baccalaureate (four-year) college degrees are ineligible.
Value: Award amounts vary. For the 2015-16 academic year, funds range from $500 to $4,200.

Application Procedure: Applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), listing at least one qualifying private North Carolina institution. Consideration for the grant is automatic once the FAFSA is filed. No deadline has been established; however, applicants should meet financial aid application deadlines established by their institutions. Late applicants may be denied if insufficient funds are available. For more information, visit CFNC.org/UNCNB.

Loans

Federal Perkins Loan Program

Created in 1958, this program was formerly known as the National Direct and National Defense Student Loan.

Eligibility: Applicants must meet the following eligibility requirements.
• Be enrolled full- or part-time in an undergraduate or graduate program at a postsecondary institution participating in the Federal Perkins Loan Program
• Be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States. Priority is given to students with the greatest financial need

Value: The Federal Perkins Loan is a low-interest loan based entirely on need, as determined by the financial aid office. The annual loan maximum is $5,500 per year for undergraduate students and $8,000 per year for graduate or professional students. The amount the student borrows depends upon financial need and the availability of funds.

Application Procedure: Students apply for a Federal Perkins Loan by filling out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The Federal Perkins Loan may be included as part of the student's total financial aid package developed by the institution the student attends. An annual application is required.

Repayment: The current interest rate is fixed at 5%. A student signs a master promissory note (MPN) and must begin repayment nine months after graduation or leaving school, or upon enrollment status dropping below half-time enrollment. A student has up to 10 years to repay the loan. Part of the Federal Perkins Loan may be canceled for each year the recipient is: a teacher in a school designated as serving a low-income population, or a full-time special education teacher; a teacher of mathematics, science, foreign language, or bilingual education; a full-time nurse or medical technician; a full-time employee of a family service agency providing services to high-risk children; a Peace Corps volunteer; or a member of the U.S. Armed Forces serving in an area of hostility. See the following web link for additional cancellation provisions: https://studentaid.ed.gov/repay-loans/forgiveness-cancellation/charts

William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program (DL)
The William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program has been in operation since 1994 and is named for a U.S. congressman. Loans made through this program are referred to as Direct Loans and include the Federal Direct Subsidized Stafford Loan, the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan, the Federal Direct PLUS Loan, and the Federal Direct Consolidation Loan. Funding for loans is provided by the U.S. Department of the Treasury, and colleges and universities act as agents for the Department of Education in making educational loans to students and parents for college expenses. The student’s and/or parent’s obligation for repayment is between the borrower and the federal government.

Federal Direct Stafford Loans

Federal Direct Stafford Loans are either subsidized or unsubsidized, depending on whether the student has demonstrated financial need. Subsidized means that the federal government pays the interest on the loan for the student while the student is in an in-school, grace, or deferment period. Unsubsidized means that the student is responsible for the interest for the entire life of the loan.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.
• Be enrolled at least half-time during the loan period
• Be enrolled in a program of study that leads to a degree or certificate
• Have received a determination of eligibility or ineligibility for a Federal Pell Grant
• Be a U.S. citizen or eligible noncitizen

Value: The amount a student can borrow through the Direct Loan Program depends on the student’s collegiate grade level and dependency status as noted below:

Annual Loan Limits

Dependent Students
Freshmen
$5,500 (including up to $3,500 subsidized)
Sophomores
$6,500 (including up to $4,500 subsidized)
Juniors and Seniors
$7,500 (including up to $5,500 subsidized)

Independent Students

- Freshmen
  $9,500 (including up to $3,500 subsidized)

- Sophomores
  $10,500 (including up to $4,500 subsidized)

- Juniors and Seniors
  $12,500 (including up to $5,500 subsidized)

Graduate Students
$20,500 (For loan periods beginning and after July 1, 2012, graduate/professional students are no longer eligible to receive Direct Subsidized loans.)
The cumulative lifetime amount that any student can borrow through the Direct Loan Program (subsidized and unsubsidized) is indicated below:

Dependent Undergraduate
$31,000 (no more than $23,000 subsidized)

Independent Undergraduate
$57,500 (no more than $23,000 subsidized)

Graduate/Professional Students
$138,500 (no more than $65,500 subsidized, including undergraduate borrowing). For Direct Subsidized Loans first disbursed between July 1, 2012, and July 1, 2014, the borrower will be responsible for paying any interest that accrues during the grace period. If the interest is not paid during the grace period, the interest will be added to the loan’s principal balance.

Repayment: Repayment of a Federal Direct Stafford Loan begins six months after the student ceases enrollment as at least a half-time student and usually extends up to 10 years. In certain situations, students may delay repayment by requesting a deferment, which is granted under a variety of conditions set forth in federal regulations. You may also ask your financial aid officer for additional information.

Interest Rates: Interest on Direct Subsidized Loans is a fixed rate of 4.29% for loans made July 1, 2015 – June 30, 2016. Interest on Direct Unsubsidized Loans for loans made July 1, 2015 – June 30, 2016, is a fixed rate of 4.29% (Undergraduates) and 5.84% (Graduate or Professional Students).

Repayment Incentives
A repayment incentive is a benefit that is offered to encourage the borrower to repay the loan on time. Under a repayment incentive program, the interest rate charged on the loan may be reduced. Some repayment incentive programs require that the borrower make a certain number of payments on time to keep the benefits of the repayment incentive.

The Direct Loan Program currently offers one repayment incentive program.

- Interest Rate Reduction for Automatic Withdrawal Payments
  Under the Automatic Withdrawal payment option, the bank automatically deducts the monthly loan payment from the checking or savings account and sends the payment to the loan holder or loan servicer. In addition to helping to ensure that the payments are made on time, the borrower receives a 0.25% interest rate reduction when making payments through this option.

Repayment Plans
Generally, a borrower has from 10 to 25 years to repay the loan, depending on which repayment plan is selected. The following repayment plans are available:

- Standard Repayment Plan: Generally requires a fixed payment amount each month for up to 10 years with a minimum payment of $50 per month.

- Graduated Repayment Plan: Payments start out low at first and then increase, usually every two years. The loan must be paid in full within 10 years. At a minimum, payments must cover the interest that accumulates on the loans between payments. This plan is tailored to individuals with relatively low current incomes (e.g., recent college graduates) who expect their incomes to increase in the future. However, the borrower pays more for this loan than under the Standard Plan, because more interest accumulates in the early years of the plan when the outstanding loan balance is higher and monthly payment is smaller.

- Extended Repayment Plan: Under this plan, a borrower pays a fixed annual or graduated repayment amount of at least $50 over a period not to exceed 25 years. The monthly payment amount will be lower than it would be under the Standard Plan, but the borrower will ultimately pay more for the loan because of the interest that accumulates during the longer repayment period.

- Income-Based Repayment (IBR): Under the IBR, the required monthly payment is capped at an amount that is intended to be affordable based on the income and family size. The borrower is eligible for IBR if the monthly repayment amount under IBR will be less than the monthly amount calculated under a 10-year standard repayment plan. If the borrower repays under the IBR plan for 25 years and meets other requirements, the borrower may have any remaining balance of the loan canceled. Additionally, if the borrower works in public service and has a reduced loan payment through IBR, the remaining balance could be canceled after 10 years in a public service job.

• Pay As You Earn Repayment Plan: Maximum monthly payments are 10% of discretionary income, the difference between adjusted gross income and 150% of the poverty guideline for the borrower’s family size and state of residence (other conditions apply). Payment amount changes as borrower’s income changes. Borrowers have up to 20 years to repay under this plan.

• Income-Contingent Repayment Plan (for Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loans and Direct PLUS Loans for Graduate and Professional Students): Monthly payments are based on the borrower’s annual income (and that of the spouse, if married), the family size, and the total amount of Direct Loans. Borrowers have 25 years to repay under this plan, and the unpaid portion will be forgiven. The borrower may have to pay income tax on the amount that is forgiven. Direct Subsidized Loans, Direct Unsubsidized Loans and Direct PLUS Loans for graduate and professional student PLUS borrowers may be repaid under the income-contingent repayment (ICR) plan. Direct PLUS Loans for parent borrowers may not be repaid under ICR.

• Income Sensitive Repayment Plan: Monthly payments are based on borrower’s annual income. Payment amount changes as borrower’s income changes. Borrowers have up to 10 years to repay under this plan.

Application Procedure: Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), available at www.fafsa.gov or obtain a paper form by calling 1-800-4-FedAid. The information from your application will be shared with the schools you have identified on the FAFSA. Some schools have additional application procedures — check with your college’s financial aid office to be certain. Follow the instructions of your college financial aid office for obtaining a Direct Loan application promissory note at www.StudentLoans.gov.

Federal Direct PLUS Loans for Graduate or Professional Students

Graduate or professional students are eligible to borrow under the Direct PLUS Loan Program up to their cost of attendance minus other estimated financial assistance.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be a U.S. citizen or eligible noncitizen with a valid Social Security number
- Be a graduate or professional student enrolled at least half-time
- Complete the FAFSA, although applicant does not have to demonstrate need
- Have either a good credit history or no credit history
- Have applied for annual loan maximum eligibility under Federal Direct Loan Program

Value: The student may borrow up to the estimated cost of attendance for the period of enrollment, minus other estimated financial assistance.

Interest Rate and Repayment Terms: Interest is a fixed rate of 6.84% for loans made July 1, 2015 – June 30, 2016. Repayment begins on the date of the final disbursement of the loan, and the first payment is due within 60 days after the date the loan is fully disbursed. A graduate or professional Federal PLUS Loan borrower may receive a deferment while he or she is enrolled on at least a half-time basis at an eligible school. Upon dropping to less than half-time enrollment status, the borrower is not entitled to a grace period.

Federal Direct PLUS Loans for Parents

These loans are for parents of dependent students enrolled in undergraduate programs of study. Federal Direct PLUS Loans now require completion of the FAFSA and the determination of eligibility for the Federal Pell Grant or Federal Direct Stafford Loan. Also, parent borrowers must not have an “adverse credit history,” as defined in federal regulations. Repayment normally starts once funds are disbursed. However, parents may defer payments on a PLUS loan until six months after the date the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time. Interest must be paid monthly or quarterly, or capitalized quarterly.

Value: A parent may borrow up to the difference in the estimated cost of attendance and other received financial aid for each dependent student meeting the eligibility requirements.
NOTE:
The Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010 (HCERA), Pub.L. 111-152, provides that no new loans may be made under the Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program after June 30, 2010.

To apply for a Direct Loan, complete the FAFSA (www.FAFSA.gov) and list at least one institution to receive the results. Each school determines its policies and procedures for the DL Program; therefore, for specific information on the program, contact the financial aid office at the school you are attending or plan to attend.

Remember:
Federal student loans are real loans, just like car loans or mortgage loans. You must repay a student loan even if your financial circumstances become difficult. Federal student loans usually cannot be written off in bankruptcy. They cannot be canceled because you did not get the education or job you expected, and they cannot be canceled because you did not complete your education (unless you could not complete your education because your school closed).

PLUS Loan Features

• Available to parents of dependent undergraduate students
• Parent may borrow up to the cost of attendance minus any other aid received by the student
• Interest rate – 6.84% for loans made July 1, 2015–June 30, 2016
• Long-term repayment options
• Creditworthiness evaluation required
• Subject to an origination fee
• Parent and dependent student must be U.S. citizens or eligible noncitizens, not in default on any federal education loans nor owe an overpayment on a federal education grant, and must meet other general eligibility requirements for the Federal Student Aid programs

Application procedure: Complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at FAFSA.gov and the Federal PLUS Loan application, which may be obtained at www.StudentLoans.gov. For more information about the PLUS loan program, contact the financial aid office at your son/daughter’s school.

Work

Federal Work-Study Program (FWS)
This program provides part-time jobs for eligible undergraduate and graduate students. The program encourages community service work and work related to the student’s course of study.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.
• Demonstrate financial need
• Be enrolled at an approved postsecondary institution
• Be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States

Value: Amounts vary and are determined by the financial aid office of the institution. Eligible students may work up to the maximum number of hours per week set by the institution. Jobs usually range from 8 to 15 hours per week and pay at least minimum wage. Employment may be on or off campus.

Application Procedure: Students apply for a Federal Work-Study award by filling out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FWS will be included as part of the student’s total financial aid package developed by the college the student attends. Annual application is required. Recipients are selected by the financial aid office at the institution. See the webpage at: http://studentaid.ed.gov/guide.
Accounting

North Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants (NCACPA)

The North Carolina Association of CPAs’ (NCACPA) charitable foundation, the NCACPA Foundation, Inc., annually awards accounting scholarships, ranging from $1,000 to $5,000, to deserving North Carolina accounting students. Also, through the association’s 11 chapters, the NCACPA Foundation, Inc., distributes need-based scholarships to North Carolina accounting students in amounts up to $3,000. To find out more, call (919) 469-1040 or email chapters@ncacpa.org.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Have a North Carolina residence
- Be enrolled in a North Carolina college or university
- Have completed at least one college- or university-level accounting course
- Have completed at least 36 semester hours (or equivalent) by the start of the spring semester of the year of application
- Enroll or be enrolled in an academic program leading to a degree in accounting or its equivalent, either currently or during the first semester after the awarding of the scholarship
- Be sponsored by two accounting faculty members who sign the application form
- Provide evidence of academic achievement with GPA (including accounting subjects and overall) of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale
- Submit typed essay. Topic listing is available at http://www.ncacpa.org/Member_Connections/Students/Scholarships

The maximum length of the essay is 1,000 words. The essay will weigh substantially in the scholarship awarding process. The reviewers (association members) will consider grammar, punctuation, organization, style, content, creativity, and appropriate references or citations when applicable. Because the reviewers are CPAs, applications should not include information in the essay with which professionals would already be familiar. Please prepare your essay in Microsoft Word.

Value: Scholarships range from $1,000 to $5,000 and are awarded annually at the discretion of the NCACPA Foundation. All qualified applicants receive a complimentary one-year NCACPA membership.

Application Procedure: Applicants must submit transcripts of all course work completed, to include the fall semester of the academic year of application. Transcripts should be sent directly from the Registrar’s Office to the NCACPA Foundation after grades have been posted for the fall semester. Application, essay, and transcripts must be postmarked by the date specified on the online application. Visit the following link for the application and additional scholarship details: http://www.ncacpa.org/Member_Connections/Students/Scholarships.aspx

NCACPA Minority Accounting Student Scholarship

The North Carolina Association of CPAs (NCACPA) awards scholarships to top-performing minority accounting students through the NCACPA Minority Issues Committee. These awards are distributed by the NCACPA Foundation, Inc.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be enrolled full-time in an accredited North Carolina college or university and have had a legal residence in North Carolina for the past year
- Have completed at least four college- or university-level accounting courses
- Have completed at least 36 semester hours (or equivalent) by the start of the spring semester
- Be enrolled in an academic program leading to a degree in accounting or its equivalent, either currently or during the first semester after the awarding of the scholarship
- Submit letters of recommendation from:
  a. An accounting faculty member
  b. A professional or community affiliate, or a second accounting faculty member
- Provide evidence of academic achievement, demonstrated by an average (accounting subjects and overall) of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale
- Submit a typed essay on one of the following topics:
  a. What can the profession do to educate minorities with regard to understanding the impact of and ways to survive the national financial crisis?
b. How will you impact minority communities by becoming a CPA?
c. What challenges/issues do minority CPAs face in the profession?

The essay should be at least 500 words and will weigh substantially in the scholarship process. The reviewers (NCACPA members) will consider grammar, punctuation, organization, style, content, and creativity. Because the reviewers are CPAs, applicants should not include information in the essay with which professionals would already be familiar.

For the purpose of this program, the Minority Issues Committee defines minority students as those of black, Native American/Alaskan Native, Middle-Eastern, Asian or Pacific Island races, or of Hispanic ethnic origin.

Value:
Scholarships are given annually, ranging from $1,000 to $2,000.

Aubrey Lee Brooks Scholarships

Established in 1955, these scholarships are available to graduating high school seniors from a 14-county area of North Carolina. The North Carolina State Education Assistance Authority provides administration for the Brooks Foundation.

Eligibility: Awards are made annually to 17 graduating high school seniors who meet all of the following criteria:
• Complete an Aubrey Lee Brooks Scholarship Application
• Demonstrate financial need
• Plan to enroll as full-time students in a degree granting program at North Carolina State University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, or the University of North Carolina at Greensboro
• Permanently reside in one of the following counties: Alamance, Bertie, Caswell, Durham, Forsyth, Granville, Guilford, Orange, Person, Rockingham, Stokes, Surry, Swain, or Warren

Of the 17 scholarships, one is awarded to a student from the areas of Greensboro and High Point and to a senior at the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics who is from an eligible county. Additional criteria include merit, leadership, character, and the desire of the recipient to prepare for a career as a useful and informed citizen.

Value: The scholarship provides for an award of about one-half the cost of an undergraduate education. The maximum award amount for the 2015-16 academic year was $12,000.
Brooks Scholars may receive additional funding for summer internships, research or travel abroad, and a one-time computer stipend of $2,500. The scholarship is renewable, provided the recipient has continued financial need, remains enrolled full-time at an eligible institution, and maintains a 2.75 cumulative grade point average and good citizenship.

Application Procedure: Applications must be submitted online via CFNC.org. The online application is available beginning in November of each year. The application deadline is set annually around mid-January. Additional information is available online at CFNC.org/Brooks.

Diamante Education Scholarship

Diamante Inc. is a statewide nonprofit organization dedicated to the advancement of the Hispanic/Latino population in North Carolina, preserving its culture, heritage, and art forms. One of its initiatives is to recognize the contributions made by Hispanic/Latino community members and fostering further engagement, integration, and development of existing and future leaders within our community. For this reason, the organization makes available education scholarships to high school seniors and freshman college students in North Carolina of Hispanic/Latino origins, who are selected for their academic achievements, contributions to the community, and leadership qualities.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Must have Hispanic and/or Latino origins (at least one parent)
- Be a high school senior or freshman in college/university during the current academic year
- Complete scholarship application
- Provide a recommendation from a high school principal, a college counselor, or a community leader
- Present a certified copy of school transcripts with a minimum C+ or 2.5 grade point average
- Submit evidence of enrollment at a North Carolina institution of higher education
- Submit an essay

Value: The value and number of scholarships will be determined based on availability of funds. Funds will be used for tuition and educational expenses and are paid directly to the college/university.

Application Procedure: The application and program details, including application and deadline information, may be obtained at www.diamanteinc.org or by contacting Diamante Inc., 315 N. Academy St. Suite 256, Cary, NC 27513; or 919-852-0075.

Duke Energy Power Careers Program in the Carolinas

The Power Careers Program is designed to attract the most promising high school and community college talent, provide students an introduction to the business of power plant operations, support students’ completion of targeted two-year associate degrees, and ultimately provide a career opportunity in the utility industry.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be nominated by community college or high school faculty
- Maintain at least a 3.0 cumulative grade point average (GPA)
- Be a high school graduate, 18 years of age, and have a valid North Carolina driver’s license upon internship with Duke Energy
- Enroll in a qualifying two-year AAS degree curriculum demonstrating interest in pursuing a craft career in power plant operation
  – Approved programs include: Electrical-Electronics Technology, Industrial Systems Technology or Electric Power Production Technology, Mechatronics, Electrical Engineering Technology, or Mechanical Engineering Technology

Value: Students accepted in the internship will be awarded $650 per semester, (fall and spring) for a qualifying student. Students will also work at one of Duke Energy’s generating facilities while completing their degree which allows hands-on experience. The scholarship may be renewed, provided recipient maintains a 3.0 grade point average (GPA), on-the-job evaluations are good, and continues full-time enrollment in a degree program at the institution from which he/she received the scholarship award.

Application Procedure: Nominations are accepted from community college and high school faculty each year starting October 1st. Nominating period remains open until December 1st. Nomination form must be sent to the Duke Energy Power Careers Program Manager, Aubrey Jones (AubreyP.Jones@duke-energy.com) for consideration.

For more information, contact the financial aid office of the community college you plan to attend.

GSK Opportunity Scholarship of Triangle Community Foundation

Provided by GSK in Research Triangle Park and administered by Triangle Community Foundation, this program offers Triangle residents who have overcome significant adversity the opportunity to improve their lives through further education.

Reserve Officers’ Training Corps Scholarships (ROTC) – includes Army, Air Force, Navy and Marines Repetitive

Four-year scholarships are available on a competitive, merit basis to high school students who plan to enroll in the Army, Air Force, Navy, or Marines Reserve Officers’ Training Corps at a postsecondary institution. The length of the scholarship may vary for each branch of the service.
Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.
- Be at least 17 (and no older than 23) for Navy ROTC scholarships
- Be at least 17 within the first semester of freshman year and under 27 years old on June 30 of the calendar year in which student will graduate from college and receive Army commission
- Be able to pass a commissioning physical
- Be a United States citizen

Value: ROTC scholarships are offered at different monetary levels of up to $180,000 annually that provide for college tuition and educational fees. All applicants are considered for each level. An additional scholarship benefit is a designated book allowance each semester. Scholarship recipients also receive a monthly tax-free allowance during the academic school year for each year the student is on a scholarship. The stipend amount varies by service but starts at $250 to $300 per month in the freshman year and increases each year to between $400 and $500 per month in the senior year.

Application Procedure:
For Army ROTC Scholarships: High school seniors may apply for four-year and three-year advanced designation scholarships by January 10. Applications are found at http://www.goarmy.com/rotc/high-school-students/four-year-scholarship.html. For information about two- and three-year on-campus scholarships, contact the recruiting operations officer at Army ROTC detachments. The Army also offers scholarships for students majoring in nursing and scholarships for dedicated Army Reserve or National Guard duty. There is no restriction on choice of majors. More information can be obtained on the web at www.armyrotc.com or by contacting an adviser at 910-396-8408.

Additional Information: Army ROTC scholarships cover tuition and fees, OR room and board, and they provide an allotment to pay for books as well as a monthly stipend of spending money that increases each year.

For Air Force ROTC Scholarships: For students still in high school (or who have never been “full-time” college students), the deadline for the “High School Scholarship Program” is December 1 of senior year. The application starts with an online process at the AFROTC website, http://afrotc.com. For students who have already been “full-time” college students, there are numerous in-college scholarships ranging from two-year awards to more than three years. For more information, contact professors of aerospace studies at your nearest campus Air Force ROTC detachments. Some in-college scholarships are tied to specific majors. Contact your recruiter or local detachment for more details. Deadlines for in-college scholarships vary. All scholarship recipients must pass the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test (AFOQT) prior to scholarship activation. More information can be obtained about the AFOQT from the website under the “Admissions” link; click on “Qualifying Test.”

For Navy and Marine Corps ROTC Scholarships:
All Navy and Marine Corps Scholarships provide full tuition and fees to recipients. To receive more information on eligibility requirements and to begin the application process, visit www.nrotc.navy.mil or contact your local Navy or Marine Corps ROTC recruiter. The Navy also offers scholarships for students majoring in nursing to become Nurse Corps Officers for the Navy. More information on this and other scholarship opportunities that are available, including scholarships for those already enrolled in college, is available on the Navy web site. Deadline to complete the online application is January 31. For questions, contact your local recruiter, email PNSC_NROTC_scholarship@navy.mil or call 1.800.NAV.ROTC.

Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents

Individuals who served on active duty with the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard may be entitled to educational assistance benefits as veterans.

Active duty members of the armed services may earn tuition assistance while on active duty. Members of the Army and Air National Guard, and members of the five service components of the Selected Reserve, may qualify for educational assistance under special programs. Spouses and children of veterans who are totally disabled from service-connected disabilities may qualify for educational assistance programs.

Eligibility: Individuals qualify based upon conditions and benefits in effect at the time of the member’s service to the nation in a branch of the armed forces and the kind of discharge issued upon separation. Service in the Air Force, Army, Navy, Marine Corps and the Coast Guard, along with contributions, may establish eligibility.

Service in the National Guard and Reserve components of the five services on or after July 1, 1985, may also establish eligibility.

Applications to determine qualifications for educational benefits can be obtained from several sources:
- US Department of Veterans Affairs (US DVA) Regional Office, Veterans Services Office, 251 N. Main St., Winston-Salem, NC 27155
- County Veterans Services Office (96 such offices in North Carolina – consult the telephone directory)
- NC Department of Veterans Affairs District Office (15 such offices – consult the telephone directory)
- Information concerning the value and eligibility requirements for programs is available on the web at http://gibill.va.gov/benefits/index.html. You may also contact the Financial Aid Officer in the Veteran Affairs office of the college/university you plan to attend
- Call 888-GI-BILL-1 to speak with a Veterans Benefits Counselor
Some of the various federal programs for veterans and dependents are as follows:

1) Montgomery G.I. Bill – Active Duty (MGIB-AD/Chapter 30)

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.
- Entered military on or after July 1, 1985
- Continuous active duty equal to or greater than initial enlistment period
- Contributed $1,200
- Was honorably discharged

Kickers (additional contributions by the Department of Defense) up to $400 per month are also available.

Value: Subject to change due to government appropriations, consult the following website for further information and current values: http://gibill.va.gov/benefits/montgomery_gibill/active_duty.html.

2) Montgomery G.I. Bill – Selected Reserve (MGIB-SR/Chapter 1606)

- Available to service members who increase their current obligation of service for a six-year period
- Available for members of the Selected Reserve for degree and certificate programs, flight training, apprenticeship, and correspondence courses
- Must have completed IADT, be an active drilling reservist, in good standing in your unit, and have a high school diploma or equivalent

Value: Subject to change due to government appropriations, consult the following website for further information and current values: http://gibill.va.gov/benefits/montgomery_gibill/selected_reserve.html.

3) New Montgomery G.I. Bill – Post 9/11 Veterans Educational Assistance (Chapter 33)

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.
- Must have served
  - 30 days continuous active duty service after 9/1/2001, and be discharged due to a service-connected disability, or
  - 90 days active duty service after 9/1/2001, and be honorably discharged from the service
- Includes:
  - National Guard and Reserves members serving pursuant to federal call to active duty
- In some circumstances, spouses and children of active-duty service members
- Be honorably released from the armed forces with certain specific conditions

Value: Visit the following website for updated information: http://gibill.va.gov/benefits/post_911_gibill/index.html.

4) Reserve Education Assistance Program (REAP/Chapter 1607)

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.
- Must have been called to active duty under federal authority for a contingency operation as determined by Congress or the president of the United States
- Must have served on active duty in a contingency operation for at least 90 continuous days after September 11, 2001
- Participants who separate from the Reserve after completing their contract are eligible for benefits for 10 years after separation

Value: Visit the following website for updated information: http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/reap.asp.

5) Restored Entitlement Program for Survivors (REPS/Section 156)

Eligibility: Armed Forces members who died while on active duty before August 13, 1981, or who died from disabilities incurred or aggravated by active duty before August 13, 1981. Paid to a surviving spouse for the youngest child in their care if the child is 16 but under 18 years of age; paid to an unmarried child who is 18 but not over 22 years of age and attending an approved post-secondary school; paid to a grandchild who is recognized as a child of a deceased person.

Value: Varies according to family income and Chapter 35 payable amounts. Contact your local Veterans Affairs office.

6) Survivors’ and Dependents’ Educational Assistance Program (DEA/Chapter 35)

  - Forcibly detained by a foreign power or government
  - A POW or MIA
Value: The value and application deadlines for this program are subject to change pending government action. Consult your local Veterans Affairs office or visit the following website for updated information: http://www.benefits.va.gov/GIBILL/resources/benefits_resources/rates/ch35/ch35rates100114.asp.

7) Tuition Assistance “Top Up” Program
On October 30, 2000, the president signed into law an amendment to the Montgomery GI Bill - Active Duty education program that permits Veterans Affairs to pay a Tuition Assistance “Top Up” benefit.

Value: The amount of the benefit can be equal to the difference between the total cost of a college course and the amount of tuition assistance that is paid by the military for the course. For more information, consult your local Veterans Affairs office.

8) Veterans Educational Assistance Program (VEAP/Chapter 32)
Eligibility: Applicants must meet the following eligibility requirements.
• Entered service for the first time between January 1, 1977, and June 30, 1985
• Opened a contribution account before April 1, 1987
• Voluntarily contributed from $25 to $2,700

Division of Services for the Blind Vocational Rehabilitation Services (DSBVR Services)
This is a state and federally-funded program for N.C. residents who are blind or visually impaired.

Eligibility: DSBVR Services provides services to people whose blindness, significant vision loss, or combination of hearing and vision loss present impediments to employment, and who will require an individualized plan of rehabilitation services to obtain, maintain, or regain employment. Services include vocational assessments and counseling; job placement assistance; orientation and mobility training; Braille instruction; transition services; adjustment to blindness training; medical services; assistive technology assessment and training; sponsorship of postsecondary training; job modifications; and other services necessary for successful employment. The division provides specialized services to meet the needs of students preparing to transition from high school into work or postsecondary training.

Value: For eligible individuals who require post-secondary education to reach their career goal, tuition assistance, less all other benefits, may be provided without regard to income. Assistance with other costs of training, such as room, board, books, and transportation, is provided based on financial need as determined through the division’s Economic Need Scale, less all available comparable benefits, such as Pell Grants. The maximum amount of assistance is determined annually and will not exceed the highest N.C. state-supported school rates.

Application Procedure: Applicants should contact the nearest DSB District Office. Offices are located in Asheville, Charlotte, Fayetteville, Greenville, Raleigh, Wilmington, and Winston-Salem. Location and phone numbers can be found by accessing the division’s website at www.ncdhhs.gov/dsb, or calling 919-733-9700 or 866-222-1546.

National Federation of the Blind (NFB)

Vocational Rehabilitation Program

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Student must have a mental, physical or learning disability that is an impediment to employment and requires vocational rehabilitation services to achieve an employment outcome.

Each program of services is designed individually with the student. Assistance with counseling, job placement, and some support services, such as interpreters, can be provided without regard to financial need. Assistance with the costs of tuition and fees, transportation, books, etc., depends upon demonstrated financial need and the student’s award from other sources of financial aid.

For additional information: Contact the Vocational Rehabilitation office nearest the student’s home, or contact the North Carolina Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services, 2801 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-2801; 919- 855-3500; (TDD) 919- 855-3579. The Winston-Salem Foundation awards scholarships, financial need-based grants, and loans that vary by amount, criteria, and deadlines. While some scholarships have a separate application process, most are submitted with one common online application. Students may apply for scholarships from January 1 to April 15 of each year.

For more information and to apply, visit http://www.wsfoundation.org/netcommunity/scholarships.
Charlotte W. Newcombe Doctoral Dissertation Fellowship

The purpose of the Newcombe Doctoral Dissertation Fellowship is to encourage original study of ethical and religious values in all areas of human endeavor. The program is administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be candidates for Ph.D. or Th.D. degrees in doctoral programs at graduate schools in the United States. Candidates working on D. Min., Psy. D, Ed.D, law, and other professional degrees are not eligible.
- Be able to fulfill all pre-dissertation requirements by the application deadline, including approval of the dissertation proposal, and expect to submit completed dissertations between April 1, 2017 and August 31, 2017.
- Be in the writing stage of the dissertation. Usually, this means that fieldwork or other research is complete and writing has begun by the time of the award.
- Have never held a similar national award for the final year of dissertation writing. Applicants who have won such awards as the ACLS, AAUW, Ford, MacArthur, Mellon, Pew, Spencer, or Whiting fellowship are not eligible.
- Plan to write on topics where ethical or religious values are a central concern.
- Have never applied for the Newcombe Fellowship before. Previous applicants may not apply.

Divinity school students are eligible to apply for this fellowship.

Value: The Newcombe Program will award at least 22 non-renewable fellowships. Fellows will receive $25,000 for 12 months of full-time dissertation writing. In addition, their graduate schools will be asked to waive tuition and/or remit some portion of their fees.

Fellowship tenure begins in September, 2016.

Application Procedure: All components of the application must be submitted to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation by November 15, 2015.

Information on submitting an application can be found at www.woodrow.org/newcombe. Please be sure to review the Frequently Asked Questions and Eligibility/Application Information pages of the website. If, after reviewing these pages, you have further questions, please email newcombe@woodrow.org.

Recipients are notified in April.

Ford Foundation Predoctoral Fellowships

The National Research Council (NRC) of The National Academies conducts the Ford Foundation Predoctoral Fellowship program for research-based study in the sciences and the humanities.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

- Be citizens or nationals of the United States regardless of race, national origin, religion, gender, age, disability, or sexual orientation (must have become a U.S. citizen by November 2015), or be granted deferred action status under the DACA program.
- Provide evidence of superior academic achievement (such as grade point average, class rank, honors, or other designations).
- Be committed to a career in teaching and research at the college or university level.
- Be enrolled in or planning to enroll in an eligible research-based program leading to a Ph.D. or Sc.D. degree at a U.S. educational institution.
- Must have not earned a doctoral degree at any time, in any field.

(The term “national of the United States” designates a citizen of the United States or a native resident of a territory of the United States. It does not refer to a U.S. permanent resident who is a citizen of another country.)

Predoctoral fellowships are intended for students near the beginning of their graduate study. Criteria for selection may also apply. Visit http://sites.nationalacademies.org/pga/fordfellowships/ for details.

Value: Approximately 60 predoctoral fellowships valued at $24,000 per year. The Ford Foundation will also pay expenses to attend at least one Conference of Ford Fellows.
Application Procedure: For further information, contact the Fellowship Office, Keck 576, National Research Council, 500 Fifth Street, NW, Washington, DC 20001; 202-334-2872, or infofell@nas.edu. Deadline is in November 20. Online applications in early September.

North Carolina Principal Fellows Program (PFP)

Created by the 1993 General Assembly, this program was established to train qualified individuals to enter school-based administrative positions in the public schools of North Carolina. The program provides a full year of academic study at the master’s level, followed by a one-year internship in a school system. A 12-member Principal Fellows Commission selects the scholarship-loan recipients of the program.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

• Be a domiciliary (legal resident) of North Carolina by the time studies begin
• Have at least a 3.2 GPA in the most recent 60 semester hours of college study
• Be admitted to a master’s program in school administration at a participating UNC institution
• Have completed no more than two courses (six hours) that apply toward the master’s in school administration
• Have at least four years of teaching experience
• Sign a promissory note and scholarship agreement with the North Carolina State Education Assistance Authority, promising to seek and obtain employment as an assistant principal or principal in a public school or a U.S. government school in North Carolina for four years

Value: Up to 180 awards at a value of $30,000 ($15,000 per semester) for first year of the program and 60% of an assistant principal’s salary and an internship stipend determined by the General Assembly the second year.

Application Procedure: Contact the director of the Principal Fellows Program.

NC Principal Fellows Program
910 Raleigh Road
Meredith Riggs-Spangler Annex Bldg.
Suite #420 Academic Affairs
Campus Box #9000
Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27514-9862.
For information, visit the webpage at: www.ncpfp.org or contact one of the following participating institutions: Appalachian State University, East Carolina University, Fayetteville State University, N.C. A&T State University, N.C. Central University, N.C. State University, UNC-Chapel Hill, UNC-Charlotte, UNC-Greensboro, UNC-Wilmington, and Western Carolina University. Applications for the 2016-17 academic year will be posted in July 2015, with the deadline in January 2016.

Repayment: Recipients who graduate with a master’s degree in school administration may cancel their loans through four years of service repayment in North Carolina. Should the individual not complete the program or not serve in an eligible school administration position, the debt must be repaid in cash at an interest rate of 10 percent within a period of 12 years or less.

Shaver-Hitchings Scholarship of Triangle Community Foundation

The Shaver-Hitchings Scholarship Fund was created in 1990 by Dr. George H. Hitchings and Dr. Joyce Shaver Hitchings to honor and reward individuals with a commitment to helping others in the area of drug and alcohol addiction. The scholarship is available to any graduate student, physician’s assistant, or medical student in the Triangle area who has worked (preferably as a volunteer) to help others with alcoholism, drug abuse, and addictive disorder treatment or with preventive education on the subject of addiction. The fund is designed to recognize the recipient for his or her work or volunteer activity and to provide financial aid. Excellent candidates who have demonstrated a commitment to working with others in the area of addictive disorders, especially those who have done so as volunteers, are sought.

Eligibility: Applicant must meet the following eligibility requirements.

• Be a resident of Chatham, Durham, Orange, or Wake County, North Carolina, for at least 12 months prior to application
• Be enrolled or planning to enroll in graduate school, a physician assistant program, or medical school

There are no limitations on age or income level. Scholarships may be used to begin a new program of study or continue a program in which the applicant is already enrolled. The student need not be pursuing a degree in addictive disorders, but must show a demonstrated commitment to working with others in that field during or before graduate studies, preferably as a volunteer. Awards will be made without regard to race, creed, color, sex, age, or national origin.
Value: One scholarship of $1,500 will be awarded each year. The scholarship may be applied toward expenses for tuition, required fees, and required books or materials not covered by other financial aid. The scholarship does not cover living expenses such as room and board, transportation, or child care.

Application Process:

Applications may be obtained online at http://www.trianglecf.org or by contacting Triangle Community Foundation, 324 Blackwell Street Suite 1220, Durham, NC 27701, 919-474-8370, email: scholarships@trianglecf.org. All application materials must be submitted online before March 15. A selection committee of community leaders selects the final recipient.

For additional information, visit http://www.trianglecf.org or contact Triangle Community Foundation, 324 Blackwell Street, Suite 1220, Durham, NC 27701; call 919-474-8370, or email scholarships@trianglecf.org.

UNC Campus Scholarship Program

This program, established in 2002 by the General Assembly, was created through the consolidation of several programs that previously existed to provide assistance to North Carolinians attending the state’s public universities. CSP is designed to promote diversity on the 16 North Carolina public university campuses. A portion of the funds are reserved for American Indian/Native American students who can provide evidence of membership in an Indian tribe recognized by the State of North Carolina or by the United States. The program provides funding for eligible students at the 10 North Carolina public universities offering doctoral degrees. Information about the undergraduate program can be found elsewhere in this publication.

Eligibility: Each campus determines eligibility and recipients based on approved criteria established by the institution.

Value: The amount awarded is determined by the campus.

Application Procedure: Students interested in this program should contact the financial aid office at the North Carolina public university they plan to attend.
Tax Incentives for College Attendance

All tax incentives subject to change.

This publication provides details of tax incentive programs for informational purposes only. It is not intended to be tax advice. If you have questions about your own eligibility or strategies, you should consult a tax adviser or other qualified financial professional.

American Opportunity Tax Credit
Taxpayers may be eligible to claim a partially refundable tax credit against their federal income taxes. The American Opportunity Tax Credit may be claimed for qualified tuition and related expenses, including books, supplies, and equipment needed for a course of study, for each student in the taxpayer’s family (i.e., the taxpayer, the taxpayer’s spouse, or an eligible dependent) who is enrolled at least half-time in postsecondary education and who is enrolled in a program leading to a degree, certificate, or other recognized educational credential. The amount that may be claimed as a credit is generally equal to: (1) 100% of the first $2,000 of the taxpayer’s out-of-pocket expenses for each student’s qualified expenses, plus (2) 25% of the next $2,000 of the taxpayer’s out-of-pocket expenses for each student’s qualified expenses. Thus, the maximum credit a taxpayer may claim for a taxable year is $2,500 multiplied by the number of students in the family who meet the enrollment criteria described above. The credit is 40% refundable, which means a family that does not earn enough to pay income taxes will get up to $1,000 back through a refundable credit.

The amount a taxpayer may claim as an American Opportunity Tax Credit is gradually phased out for taxpayers who have modified adjusted gross income greater than $80,000 for single filers and $160,000 for married taxpayers filing jointly. Taxpayers earning more than $90,000 for single filers and more than $180,000 for married taxpayers are not eligible. See www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p970.pdf for additional information.

Coverdell Education Savings Accounts
(formerly known as Education IRA)
A Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA) is a trust or custodial account that is created exclusively for the purpose of paying the qualified elementary, secondary, or post-secondary (college) education expenses of the designated beneficiary of the account. Single taxpayers with modified adjusted gross incomes (adjusted gross income as figured on federal income tax return for most taxpayers) below $110,000 ($220,000 for joint filers) may contribute up to $2,000 per year into an ESA account for a child under the age of 18 or a special needs beneficiary. Parents, grandparents, other family members, friends, and even the child himself/herself may contribute to the account, provided the total contributions made on behalf of the child do not exceed the $2,000 limit. Contributors may not take a tax deduction for contributions made to an ESA; however, the beneficiary will not owe tax on any withdrawal from the account if his/her qualified education expenses for the year equal or exceed the amount of withdrawal. Amounts withdrawn from the ESA that exceed the child’s qualified expenses are generally subject to income tax and an additional tax of 10%. The Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001 allows taxpayers to claim an American Opportunity Tax or Lifetime Learning credit in the same year as distributions are made from the ESA as long as the credit is not claimed for the expenses covered by the ESA. In addition, taxpayers are now permitted to make contributions to a qualified state tuition program (see North Carolina’s National College Savings Plan) in the same tax year as they make contributions to an ESA.

The term “qualified education benefit” now includes Coverdell. The account is treated as an asset of the owner unless owned by a dependent student and then it is considered an asset of the parents. It is not included as an adjustment to the COA or considered as a resource or estimated financial assistance. The value of the asset that must be reported on the FAFSA is the balance of the account at the time the FAFSA is completed. This includes accounts with a designated beneficiary other than the student for whom the FAFSA is being completed, such as a sibling of the dependent applicant or a child of the independent applicant. See www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p970.pdf for more information.
Early Distribution from IRAs
This benefit allows taxpayers to take distributions from their IRAs before reaching age 59 1/2 and not have to pay the 10% additional tax if, for the year of the distribution, the funds are used to pay for qualified education expenses for the individual, spouse, children, or grandchildren. Qualified educational expenses include tuition, fees, books, supplies, and equipment required for enrollment or attendance at an eligible educational institution. They also include expenses for special-needs services incurred by or for special-needs students in connection with their enrollment or attendance.

In addition, if the student is at least a half-time student, room and board are considered qualified education expenses. The expenses for room and board qualify only to the extent that the total is not more than the greater of the following two amounts:

• The allowance for room and board, as determined by the eligible educational institution, that was included in the cost of attendance (for federal financial aid purposes) for a particular academic period and living arrangement of the student.

• The actual amount charged if the student is residing in housing owned or operated by the eligible educational institution.

Employer Provided Educational Assistance
This benefit allows workers to exclude up to $5,250 of employer-provided educational benefits from their taxable income for undergraduate and graduate courses. Tax-free educational assistance benefits include payments for tuition, fees and similar expenses, books, supplies, and equipment. The payments do not have to be for work-related courses or courses that are part of a degree program. Employers offering tax-free educational assistance are required to have a written plan describing the benefit and the terms under which it is available. Neither the American Opportunity Tax Credit nor the Lifetime Learning Credit may be claimed for the year the student receives Employee-Provided Educational Assistance. See www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p970.pdf for additional information.

Lifetime Learning Credit
Taxpayers may be eligible to claim a nonrefundable Lifetime Learning Credit against their federal income taxes. The Lifetime Learning Credit may be claimed for the qualified tuition and related expenses of the students in the taxpayer’s family (i.e. the taxpayer, the taxpayer’s spouse, or an eligible dependent) who are enrolled in eligible educational institutions. The amount that may be claimed as a credit is equal to 20% of the taxpayer’s first $10,000 of out-of-pocket qualified tuition and related expenses. The maximum credit a taxpayer may claim for a taxable year is $2,000. These amounts are not indexed for inflation.

If the taxpayer is claiming an American Opportunity Tax Credit for a particular student, none of that student’s expenses for that year may be applied toward the Lifetime Learning Credit. The limits on a modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) are $64,000 for single taxpayers ($128,000 for joint filers). The amount a taxpayer may claim as a Lifetime Learning Credit is gradually reduced for taxpayers who have modified adjusted gross incomes between $54,000 and $64,000 ($108,000 and $128,000 for taxpayers filing jointly). The modified adjusted gross income is indexed for inflation. The definition of modified adjusted gross income is the same as it is for purposes of the American Opportunity Tax Credit. See www.irs.gov/publications/p970/index.html or www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p970.pdf for more information.

North Carolina’s National College Savings Program
North Carolina’s National College Savings Program was launched in 2001 and offers investment options designed to meet the needs of all savers with varying degrees of risk and potential rates of return. Investment options include: Dependable Income Fund, Federally-Insured Deposit Account and The Vanguard Group, Inc. This 529 plan is administered by College Foundation, Inc. (CFI), as an agent of the NCSEAA. There are no enrollment fees or sales charges. Participants may establish accounts by contacting CFI toll-free at 1-800-600-3453 or reviewing information and enrolling online at CFNC.org/savings.

This program offers North Carolinians several tax benefits:

• For North Carolina residents, earnings on contributions are not subject to federal or state income taxes while in the trust fund.

• Withdrawals for qualified higher education expenses of beneficiaries are exempt from both N.C. and federal income taxes for both the participant and the beneficiary.

• Subject to certain restrictions, an individual who pays state of North Carolina income tax may deduct from North Carolina adjusted gross income contributions to an account or accounts up to $2,500 ($5,000 for joint filers).
Student Loan Interest Deductions
Taxpayers who have taken loans to pay the cost of attending a postsecondary institution (for spouse, dependent, or himself/herself) may deduct the interest they paid on the student loan(s). The interest paid on qualified education loans is tax-deductible for single taxpayers with modified adjusted gross incomes less than $80,000 ($160,000 for joint filers). This deduction can reduce the amount of income subject to tax by up to $2,500 in 2014. See www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p970.pdf for additional information.

Tax Deduction for Tuition and Fees
Taxpayers with qualifying incomes — modified adjusted gross income of $80,000 or less ($160,000 or less if filing a joint return) — may reduce income subject to tax by up to $4,000 for qualified education expenses paid during the year. The qualified expenses must be for higher education and include tuition and fees required for enrollment or attendance at an eligible postsecondary educational institution, but not including personal, living, or family expenses, such as room and board. The deduction is available even if the taxpayer does not itemize; however, the taxpayer cannot claim the American Opportunity and Lifetime Learning tax credit for the same student in the same year.

This can be used in conjunction with tax-free distribution from Coverdell Education Savings Accounts, qualified tuition programs, and education savings bonds, provided that sufficient education expenses form the basis for each benefit. A student claimed as a dependent on someone else’s tax return cannot use the tuition deduction. This deduction is not available if filing status is married filing separately.
