Unleashing the Writer Within
Every one of us has a special story to tell, but it can be hard in this busy modern world to access that creativity. In this class, we’ll peel away the familiar outer layers of doubt, distraction and writer’s block. We’ll get to the core of what we’re actually trying to say, and we’ll learn to say it with language that is irreplaceable unique to each of us. When the writer within is unleashed, the words will come freely - and the stories we need to tell will finally occur to us. It will not be a class requirement, but those interested in sharing their work will receive the benefit of a thorough, productive critique from the instructor and fellow students. You’ll need to make copies of your work to share.

Write Your Memoir
Creativity isn’t always required when it comes to good storytelling. When we write about our own lives and experiences, the story is complete with compelling characters you already know and a great plot that’s already been lived. We have everything we need right at our fingertips when we compose a memoir — except, perhaps, the writing techniques that can help us feel confident enough to put it all down on paper. A memoir isn’t necessarily the same as autobiography. It can focus on just your childhood or your adult years — or simply one particularly life-changing day. Every life is fascinating. Every story deserves to be told — and written. This class will guide you in writing your own very unique and special memoir.

Writing the Short Story
Short stories have to do everything that a novel does — deliver a compelling narrative about dynamic characters that the reader cares about — only they have to do it in a tenth of the length (or less). We'll discuss approaches to pacing, character, dialogue and compression, and use in-class writing exercises, written comments and workshop critiques to develop your understanding of what makes successful short fiction. We'll also read great stories by some of the masters of the form, such as Nobel Prize winner Alice Munro and Folio Prize recipient George Saunders.

Henry Ford: The Man Who Invented the Modern Age

Born on a Michigan farm, Ford became fascinated by the advent of the mechanical age and spent his time tinkering to make his machines run better. Transitioning to a management role, he built a massive empire, put America on wheels and tried his hand at International Diplomacy before attempting to make the transition from business magnate to political leader. As an aging industrial statesman, his passions and prejudices inflamed the public that could never truly love or reject him. Fire up your Tin Lizzy and spend an evening examining this life that continues to impact our own.

National Civil War Images: Christmas Edition

The instructor will have a few Civil War photos in stereo, the way they were taken and viewed at the time.

Sign Language: Intermediate ASL

Civil War “News”

Have you ever wondered how Civil War news got to people across the land? Before radio, TV and Internet there were newspapers and magazines. Newspapers were in almost every town and there were several in larger cities. Large newspapers had their own correspondents who traveled with the armies, while small town papers shared a correspondent with neighboring town papers. You’ll find out how quickly people received “current” news stories. Photography was new and very popular with everyone. In this class, you will have the opportunity to see some of the famous Civil War photos in stereo, the way they were taken and viewed at the time.

Battle of Antietam (Battle of Sharpsburg)

The Battle of Antietam, America’s Bloodiest Day, was a one-day battle near Sharpsburg, VA. The locale was chosen by Robert E. Lee. This Antietam Campaign was the first battle in which Lee brought his Army of Northern Virginia north into one of the loyal slave-owning states. One reason for coming north to fight was so his army could live off of Union farmers’ food. Had he come south instead of the Western Allies. Along the way we will discuss whether the American or British Allies should have attacked Berlin, or even if they could have.

Civil War Presidents and Their Wives

Neither Abraham Lincoln nor Jefferson Davis were Civil War “readies,” so we’ll limit our discussion to the First Ladies of the Civil War. The notable exception is Mary Todd Lincoln, who spent much of her life during her husband’s presidency in the company of the nation’s greatest poets, including Walt Whitman. As First Lady, she used her influence to improve the treatment of soldiers wounded in battle, while her husband, in his position as President, worked long hours to do his best as President and as Commander-in-Chief of their armed forces. Hear what they each did right and what they could have done better. Each of the First Ladies had their detractors also, and each of them were very loyal to their husbands. You may decide if these ladies had an impact on the course of the war or not.

Battle for Berlin: World War II

Come hear about the epic final clash in Europe that ended World War II. We will look at the details of the Soviet offensive to capture the capital of the Third Reich and destroy the regime. The battle pitted over 2 million Soviet soldiers against half a million remnants of the Wehrmacht. We will discuss in depth the urban warfare, the rivalry between Soviet commanders, what manner of defenders were left, what Hitler’s inner circle were doing, and Soviet treatment of civilians. In addition to the details of the battle, we will discuss Hitler’s personal last stand and the decision to allow the Soviets to capture Berlin instead of the Western Allies. Along the way we will discuss whether the American or British Allies should have attacked Berlin, or even if they could have.

The Lost Battalion (World War I)

In the midst of the largest American battle ever, the Meuse-Argonne offensive, a reinforced battalion from the 77th Division found themselves cut off from the 77th Division, Meuse-Argonne offensive. The battle pitted over 2 million Soviet soldiers against half a million remnants of the Wehrmacht. We will discuss in depth the urban warfare, the rivalry between Soviet commanders, what manner of defenders were left, what Hitler’s inner circle were doing, and Soviet treatment of civilians. In addition to the details of the battle, we will discuss Hitler’s personal last stand and the decision to allow the Soviets to capture Berlin instead of the Western Allies. Along the way we will discuss whether the American or British Allies should have attacked Berlin, or even if they could have.

The Battle of Belleau Wood (1918)

A Marine Lieutenant, when digging in at Belleau Wood, was told by the retreating French to fall back, the German forces were too numerous. The Lieutenant replied, “Retreat? Hell! We just got here!” Come and learn how about the baptism of fire the U.S. Army and Marine Corps experienced in this key World War I battle.

Comrades and Commissars: The Abraham Lincoln Battalion in the Spanish Civil War

When a Fascist revolt broke out in 1936 Spain, support for the Republic came from wide variety of sources. This resulted in the creation of the International Brigades. The main American component was the Abraham Lincoln Battalion. This is the story of these idealistic young Americans who went to fight and die on Spanish soil.

Toes into Quagmire: How America Came to Care about Vietnam

Prior to France’s defeat there, most Americans would have been unable to find Vietnam on a map. How then, sometime between the end of World War II and the Johnson Administration, did it come to occupy center stage in our foreign policy? This course will explore the back story of Western (and Eastern) involvement in Vietnam leading up to the Tonkin Gulf Incident. It will discuss American interest in Vietnam in the context of Cold War politics and introduce students to the internal dynamics of this tropical, primitive state just larger than New Mexico. Whether you lived through the period during which America grew increasingly interested in Vietnam or arrived later, and are still attempting to determine what we were doing over there, join us. We look forward to hearing a range of perspectives.

Sign Language: Beginning ASL

Learn the fundamentals of American Sign Language (ASL), including finger spelling and hand signs. You will also receive a brief overview of deaf culture as you begin to learn the basics of unspoken communication. Text required - bring to first class.

Celluloid’s Tainted Legacy

This lecture will focus on how the film industry and the events it depicted influenced the American public’s understanding of World War II, Vietnam, and the Civil War. Also, we will briefly look at what film techniques are used to depict history, and what sort of affect they have on the viewers. Students will have an opportunity to see the film clips that were shown in class.

American and European Pottery

Changing styles and fashions have always reflected the mood and tastes of the time. We will look at the different periods and styles of pottery that have been produced in the United States from the 1600’s to the present and we will also look at pottery produced in France and England during the same period.
PERSONAL ENRICHMENT

Bogged Down in Soggy Boots: America's War in Vietnam
In 1965, twenty years after the first American was killed in Vietnam, American combat troops arrived there. Virtually unconstrained by legal limitations, President Lyndon Johnson had made clear (kind of) his intention to pursue the war he had inherited. This second installment of American involvement in Vietnam will focus on that which followed the disputed August 1964 Tonkin Gulf Incident. It will explore key events in the Vietnam experience through 1973, when the last American combat troops departed the defoliated jungle. This session will also discuss the role of American film makers, not least of all Presidents Johnson and Nixon, in directing the course of the war. Join us to determine whether the rabblerousers at home who opposed the war had any valid complaints.

Basic Bike Bonding Rider Course (BBBRC)
Bike Bonding refers to the connection and interaction of the rider and motorcycle. Good bike bonding helps riders automate their physical skills so they can devote more attention to road and traffic conditions (searching and evaluating). The objective of the Basic Bike Bonding Course is to develop and practice basic skills beyond those acquired in the Basic Rider Course. The course is designed to provide sufficient control skills to handle a motorcycle in more challenging street situations in a low risk, effective, and enjoyable training environment. The BBBRC is also an excellent refresher course for those that may not have ridden for a period of time since their Basic Rider Course or desire additional practice time. You must have completed the BRC or have sufficient riding skills and experience to operate a motorcycle with basic proficiency. Students must have a motorcycle endorsement or motorcycle permit. There is no classroom portion to this course. Training motorcycles are provided. The BRC or Returning Rider BRC are recommended prerequisites for the novice rider; however, not required. Must have motorcycle permit or M-endorsement, be 18 years of age or older. Loaner motorcycles provided. This is not a MO State waiver class.

In this class, we will discuss inspirational stories of the miracles of personal healing that radical forgiveness can produce and why forgiveness is so important for our own well-being, as well as for others. The steps of actually performing forgiveness will be presented and discussed. Following these steps outside the classroom can release grievances and heal relationships. This presentation of forgiveness is psychologically based and is not focused on any particular religious view of forgiveness, so no religious or faith-based view of forgiveness is needed to understand and practice it.

Students Rights and Responsibilities
All students are responsible for adhering to college policies and procedures. Please refer to stlcc.edu/need2know.

Postponement/Cancellation Due to Inclement Weather
Occasionally, continuing education classes are cancelled due to inclement weather. Cancellations will be broadcast on KMOX-AM (1120) and on KMOV-TV, KSDK-TV and KTVI/Fox 2. In addition, all location closings will be posted on the college website, stlcc.edu. When St. Louis Community College cancels classes, off-campus classes are also cancelled. In addition, when a particular host school district or institution closes, the continuing education classes at that location will not meet.

Refund of Fees
Since continuing education (non-credit) classes are self-supporting, the decision to run a class is based on the number of people enrolled. The college reserves the right to cancel if sufficient enrollment is not achieved. Registrants will be notified by phone, mail or email if a class is cancelled. Full refunds will be issued for classes cancelled by the college.

If you drop a class, you will receive a 100 percent refund for most classes if the class is dropped one business day before the first meeting. A 50 percent refund will be given for most classes dropped between one business day before the first class meeting and prior to the second meeting of the class. See the course schedule for classes (such as daytrips) that require notice beyond one business day for cancellation and eligibility for a refund.

Requests of withdrawals should be submitted in writing to the Continuing Education office. Calculation of refunds will be based on the date the written request is received by the office. If you have a situation that warrants an override of the above policy, an explanation of the circumstances should be made in writing to the Continuing Education office. Refunds should be received within 30 days.

Fee Reduction for Older Adults
Older adults (those 60 years and older) may enroll in most courses for a reduced fee. This reduction is half the price of the class fee only, plus whatever material costs are associated with the class. Material costs include fees for expenses such as books and materials, facility usage, tour and travel costs, computer lab usage, online courses, food supplies and other items needed for the class. NOTE: Those wishing to take advantage of this fee reduction must do so at the time of registration. Before registering, please contact the Continuing Education office to see if your course contains a material fee.

Senior Citizen Scholarship
Missouri residents who are at least sixty-five years of age will be awarded a scholarship to be exempt from maintenance fees to enroll in courses on a space available basis. There will be a non-refundable registration fee of $5 per course to a maximum of $25 per semester. Student is responsible for other fees, such as materials, supplies and books. At the earliest, students may enroll in the class two days prior to the first class date. Students may not receive a refund for a paid course in order to enroll for a scholarship space in that same course. PLEASE CALL THE CONTINUING EDUCATION OFFICE TO GET SPECIFICS REGARDING THE SENIOR SCHOLARSHIP. The senior scholarship discount does not apply to online classes.

Safety and Program Guidelines for Youth Classes
All children under the age of 16 who are enrolled in programs through the St. Louis Community College Office of Continuing Education must be accompanied and signed-in by a responsible party at the beginning of each program session. In addition, a responsible party must also meet the participant at the end of the session and sign them out. Appropriate behavior is expected. Students may be disenrolled for misbehavior.

Unattended Children
Students are not permitted to bring children to class, nor should children be left unattended in the halls, offices, library or common areas. The college reserves the right to protect the safety and welfare of unattended children. If students leave children unattended, the college will institute disciplinary action.

Textbooks
Textbooks can be purchased at the campus bookstores.

Library and Computer Lab Privileges
If you are registered in continuing education courses, you may enjoy library and computer lab privileges by showing your student ID. To obtain a student ID take your paid fee receipt to the Campus Life office and the personnel there will provide you with an ID.

Except for licensed police officers, no person shall possess or carry any firearm, visible or concealed, on college property (including college buildings and grounds leased or owned by the college-college athletic fields and parking lots) or in any college van or vehicle or at college-sponsored activities. College employees, students and visitors who hold concealed carry endorsements as allowed by Missouri law may not carry or bring any firearms, visible or concealed, on college property, owned or leased or at any college activities.
