Reach into Backpack and discover a course packed full of exciting activities and bursting with opportunities to get your young learners using English! Your pupils will love the lively approach of Backpack, with its fun illustrations, real-life photography, chants, songs, and games.

✓ Get your pupils interested in reading from an early age, with pull-out Little Books (Starter to Level 3) and theme-based magazine pages (Levels 4 to 6)

✓ Develop your pupils’ ability to communicate through a wide variety of projects, role-plays and puzzles

“I've been using your beautiful book Backpack this year. It's incredible how much my students have learned with all your activities and materials. Thank you.”

Carol Phillips, Rancagua, Chile

Where can young learners read and learn about the abacus, life as an Inuit, clever shopping, creativity, Mozart and bees dancing habits?

In the exciting new Backpack Content Readers, of course! Each Content Reader helps learners build on key language skills. Each reader offers an incredible variety of captivating subjects and a rich mixture of illustrations and real-life photography. Each reading passage in the reader is correlated to its corresponding unit in the pupils’ book and comes supported by worksheets designed to encourage further development of key reading skills.

Along with our extensive teacher training workshops, school visits and displays at conferences, Pearson Longman has the Amazing Minds programme. We bring together experienced, educational practitioners to gain personal and professional development. The sessions are led by international speakers and all delegates share their own experiences.

“I grew as a person and a teacher.”
(Delegate from Uruguay)

“I spoke with many delegates who all shared the same thought, that we had never experienced an event that even compared – Amazing!”
(Delegate from USA)

“...everybody gets to talk and share ideas/skills professionally... Great.”
(Delegate from Malaysia)

“The sessions were useful for teacher training, useful for teaching itself, useful as a means of personal development – everything was useful.”
(Delegate from Belgium)
