Game Room

We've found a bunch of games that will help you learn about the environment and have some fun at the same time.

- Air Quality Index
  What should you do when the Air Quality Index is orange? Let the chameleons K.C., Koko, and Kool, show you how EPA measures pollution in the air.

- Chemicals around your House
  What should people always do before they even buy a household product? Take the test and find out how you rate!

- Detective Training Activities
  We need your detective skills to help us protect the earth! Solve these mysteries and you'll learn how you can take care of the environment too!

- Environmental Science Center Games
  These games will help you learn about life in the Chesapeake Bay and the tools scientists use to study the environment.

- The Environauts Mission to Earth
  Help! The planet Ergon is filling up with trash and they need some help....fast! Can you teach the people of Ergon to protect their environment? I bet you can!

- Happy Earth Day Activity Book
  An 11-page activities book full of tips for making the Earth a better place.
Interactive Water Cycle

In this animated activity, you control the water cycle as you learn.

Recycle City

A game, an interactive storybook, and other puzzles will teach you hundreds of ways a whole town can reduce, reuse, and recycle.

Waste no Words

How much do you know about garbage and recycling? Find out in this totally awesome crossword puzzle!

What's Wrong with this Picture?

Can you find all the ways that we pollute the water around us? Click on the picture to learn about some of the most common things to avoid.