State of the District and the EEOC
Rayford O. Irvin, District Director, EEOC Houston District Office
Attendees will hear from the Director about the key issues the EEOC and the Houston District Office have been working on and will be looking at in the future.

A look inside the Digital Charge System
Martin Ebel, Director, EEOC Field Management Programs, and Investigator Gerard Ladera will spotlight important changes made when receiving an electronic notice that a charge has been filed with the EEOC. How to view that charge and submit a position statement through EEOC’s secure portal. Our experts will show you how to review the option to mediate and electronically designate a legal representative through the secure portal. Bring your questions and leave with the answers.

Mediation Matters
If you have never considered coming to mediation, then maybe you should. Through our internal panel of experts, we will provide an overview of our successful Mediation program and insights into the mediation process, resulting in a 75% settlement rate for participants. By highlighting hot topics and best practices to achieve resolutions in challenging situations, we will prepare you to say YES to your next opportunity to mediate and use our program to your advantage!

Let’s Keep it in Your House Not Ours, Conducting an Effective Internal Investigation
One of the most challenging duties HR professionals are tasked with is conducting workplace investigations. Workforce demographics are shifting. Laws are interpreted by the courts that affect your workplace. Investigator Karen Allen will walk us through the important steps in doing it right! This session is full of tips on how to weigh the evidence and conclude whether company policies were violated or misconduct occurred.

LGBT Updates
This session will explore the legal protections for LGBT individuals in the workplace. Outreach Manager Joe Bontke will focus on workplace issues involving transgender and gender nonconforming employees. He will also suggest practical ways for employers to address these issues in a sensitive, respectful, inclusive, and lawful manner.

Lunch and Networking

What Momma Said Not to Talk About @ Work. When Politics & Religion Turn the Break Room into a Battlefield
The 2016 presidential campaign has stimulated political chatter at work, but it doesn’t take an election to get people wound up about politics, values & religion. Social media and the 24-hour cable news cycle keep controversial matters constantly in the public dialogue. Investigator DeAnna Brooks-Torres will offer the best way to manage the risk associated with conflicts at their core while reminding staff that “your voice is more effective at the polls than in the office.”

From Micro Aggressions to Bias & Bigotry and Everything In-Between
In this two-hour session: Katrina Grider and Outreach Managers Joe Bontke and Rodney Klein will discuss the latest emerging issues facing the HR community. Combing the web, the courts, and every nook and cranny, we are preparing the latest and best information to keep ya’ll out of trouble. Collecting your questions from the morning session, and those questions Tweeted to @joebontke, this lively session is sure to delight, entertain, educate, and give their take on HR’s best practices.
