Fireworks could be heard from the I-5 freeway on a cloudy Monday afternoon as vendors at Boom City were putting the finishing touches on their spray-paint graffiti decorated stands on June 20, 2016. Boom City, located in the lot behind the Tulalip Resort and Casino, officially opened June 17, and vendors are gearing up for another busy fireworks season.

Boom City offers a designated area where visitors can enjoy fireworks that are banned on off-reservation land. This area, located on the north end of Boom City, came in handy last year for firework enthusiasts who live in the nearby community of Marysville, which recently issued a citywide ban on fireworks. The ban went into effect during the summer of 2015. Marysville residents are currently only permitted to light legal fireworks on Independence Day from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.

As always Tulalip wants to ensure that safety is the primary priority this season, and the promotion of safety is evidenced throughout the busy weeks leading up to the Fourth of July. Vendors are exceptionally knowledgeable of their products, often taking the time to explain how to safely light their fireworks, and the reason they are knowledgeable is experience.

Tulalip has hosted Boom City for decades and many stands that are currently selling fireworks have been located at Boom City for years. This season there are 122 total stands that expect to sell to thousands of buyers. And based off of the success of Boom City throughout the years, vendors can expect a demanding but profitable fireworks season. Fireworks aren’t the only item available for purchase at the thriving northwest pyrotechnics capital; Boom City also hosts arts and craft vendors as well as food vendors. A variety of eateries located at the entrance of Boom City include traditional Native American dishes, BBQ dishes, espresso and shaved ice.

The Tulalip Police Department routinely checks-in on Boom City throughout each day. Security is also on hand to ensure safety for both vendors and fireworks lovers alike. For community members looking to participate in the summer celebrations, Boom City is open for business daily from 6:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m. through July 4.

lands and using traditional methods of pulling, gathering, and harvesting cedar.

“Tulalip Natural Resources Department (NRD) always works as a premier team annually to coordinate this culturally significant opportunity,” says Ross Fenton of the Tulalip Tribes Forestry Program. “The Tulalip Natural Resource’s Timber, Fish, and Wildlife Program (TFW) generally arranges a cedar site for the upcoming season by utilizing existing relationships with off-reservation landowners.

“This year, and in years past the Washington State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) was very cooperative in providing a good quality cedar and land access that favors children, elders, and all the types of vehicles as well.”

Our Tulalip NRD education and outreach coordinator plays a key role in providing all the contact personnel information as well as any other special requests that the landowner may have to Tulalip Forestry staff and others involved. Tulalip Forestry staff then reviews the site boundaries and any other special requests from the DNR/landowner (i.e. no cedar pulling within stream buffers, etc.) in order to provide guidance to the tribal membership before and during the cedar bark harvest event. Leading large caravans of tribal members to the site, obtaining access through locked gates, and securing gates after the event are some of the roles that Forestry performs.

Tulalip Forestry staff also assists the membership by helping pull and/or separate inner bark, carrying bark up steep inclines for elders, and has also donating bark to tribal members who were not able to attend, if their time allows.

As Ross puts it, “the main goal and function of Forestry staff is primary oversight and logistical planning of this season’s event to ensure successful cedar procurement for many future Tulalip generation to follow.”

During the cedar pulling event’s first day, tribal members braved some seriously wet weather to harvest a staple commodity of their ancestors. On the second day, those who returned were joined by even more tribal members and were rewarded with beautiful weather and pristine conditions for cedar pulling.

“There were three generations of family members pulling cedar bark together on the second day,” adds Ross. “It was a great experience to witness old traditions and teachings being shared.”

Tulalip Amphitheatre sold-out for vocal talents of Rhonda and Diana Ross

If you want to understand electricity, get yourself a seat anywhere Rhonda Ross performs!”

– NightLife Exchange

Singer-Songwriter, Rhonda Ross is an African Diasporic Woman of the World. Bilingual in French and English (and raising her son to be fluent in four languages), Rhonda knows how to communicate with audiences around the world. Her original music lives in the gap between Jazz, Neo-soul, Funk and Gospel. Her lyrics live in the pause between life’s most important questions and their answers. Rhonda is one of the rare artists today using her music to examine the society she lives in – from racism to sexism to homophobia to the need for self-love and spirituality, Rhonda’s songs look through all of it and ask “In the midst of THIS, how can I still live the best life possible?"

How has your spring/summer tour shaped up thus far? What has been the highlight of the tour?

RR: Our summer tour hasn’t officially started yet. The first day is Friday June 24 in Aspen and I can’t wait! Touring as part of my mother’s show is a very new occurrence and it provides me with not only wonderful opportunities to share my music and message with audiences across the country, but also it affords my mother and me special family time, so I can’t wait!

When did you know you wanted to be a performer in the music industry? How did that decision come about?

RR: I have known all my life that I wanted to be a performing artist. Perhaps it is in my DNA or perhaps it’s because it’s what I witnessed, but I have been singing all my life, all the way through high school and college. It was during my last couple years of Brown University that I joined a jazz quartet and started performing professionally. I never looked back.

When you are backstage preparing to perform what motivates you? Any superstitious rituals a part of your preparation?

RR: I like to quiet myself, align with the Spirit of God. The Spirt of Truth. I remind myself that none of this is about me. I am just a vessel only has the talent, but the significance to carry on her parents’ legacy, all the while establishing her own unique musical destination."

Through Rhonda’s individual and creative expression, the legendary Ross influence continues to live on and expand. While gearing up for the long-awaited release of her newest CD, expected to launch in July, Rhonda is currently touring the U.S. with her mom. The Tulalip Amphitheatre was fortunate enough to book the talents of Rhonda Ross as part of the Tulalip Resort Casino’s summer concert series. Rhonda will be sharing the stage with her mother Diana Ross on Saturday, July 2 in front of a sell-out crowd of faithful fans.

Rhonda took some time out of her busy schedule to answer a few questions for the Tulalip syəcəb readers:

Where does this interview find you today?

RR: I’m in my Harlem apartment. It’s a gorgeous new summer day and there’s a breeze blowing in the window! So wonderful! Reminds me of my song Summer Day; “Walking out of a deep freeze. My heart is healing and I finally feel at ease. The sun is breaking through the trees. Like the first summer day in the park. Like the first summer day in the park”. Ha!

for that energy and I relinquish to it and prepare to be danced and sung by it. It’s so fun. I feel beyond blessed to have that opportunity night after night.

Who were some of your biggest role models that you looked up to in the beginning of your career?
RR: Of course my parents, my mother and my father. They are trail-blazers. They believed in themselves when no one else did. They were single-focused. They stuck to their values and kept their eyes on the prize. They have work ethic like I have never seen before and I believe it’s because they love what they do. They both created careers that they enjoy so much, they don’t need to take vacations away from them! Even from a young girl, I knew I wanted to create a career that was organic and authentic to who I am so that it lifts me up, not burdens me, so that I can pursue it, joyfully, for the rest of my life.

You will be performing at the Tulalip Amphitheatre on Saturday, July 2 opening for your mom. Can you tell us what audiences can expect from this performance?
RR: My mother’s show is a high-energy, feel good 90 minutes. All the songs that people love from the Motown days through her film career, and her hits from the 80s, 90s and 2000s. People will be on their feet for the entire time! And my part of the show begins in the evening. I’m a singer-songwriter and I write songs that help me to live. They are about life, how to navigate it, and how to digest so much of what we see around us. I like to say that my music is for “Grown Folk”, adults. There is meaning and there are messages. That said, it’s also fun. I got a grooving band behind me and we have a ball! All told, it’s a fun, meaningful night.

Think you will find time to play some slot machines or table games at the Tulalip Resort Casino while you're in town?
RR: I’m not much of a gambler, but I do love to explore. I will definitely be walking around seeing all the new things there is to see and experience.

Who would you love to collaborate with musically that you haven’t yet had the opportunity to do so?
RR: Oh my! There are so many. I’d love to work with Jill Scott, Kendrick Lamar, Erykah Badu! Right now I (like the rest of the country) am completely obsessed with Hamilton: The Musical. Lin-Manuel Miranda is one of our geniuses. It would be incredible to collaborate with him one day.

What is the most outrageous fan interaction you’ve ever had?
RR: My mother’s and my fans are the best! The most loyal! Truly! When we go “on tour” they go “on tour” too. It’s remarkable! And truthfully, I have learned so much from them, they really know how to enjoy their lives. They pursue the things that bring them joy. It’s fantastic! Nothing is too outrageous if it brings joy into our lives. In this day and age, we need all the joy we can get.

Who is currently in your music playlist? Any artists or genres we would be surprised to find there?
RR: Like I just wrote I am obsessed with the Hamilton Soundtrack. I listen to it (from beginning to end) almost every day (I was just listening before I started this interview). I think people would be surprised to know how much I like musical theater, but it’s because I am a storyteller at heart, a poet. I am really turned on by smart lyrics.

What’s on tap next for you? What are you most excited about?
RR: My new CD should be out in July and that has got me really excited. Been working on it about a year and I’m really proud of how it’s turned out. So stay tuned for that. It will be everywhere; iTunes, Spotify, you name it. Of course, I’ll be selling (and signing) it after my shows!

Gathering Hall

“Gathering Hall” is now what the Board of Directors is referring to our “Community Building”. According to the 2/6/16 minutes.

In reading the minutes of the 2/6 meeting I am totally disappointed in the Board’s decision to not accept the recommendations of those present at the Community meeting that was held to decide on the site of our “Community Center”. At this meeting there were elders present that voiced their opinions on the 3 proposed sites and stated they wanted it close to the bay so we could view not only the water but the Olympic Mountains.

Some members of the Board want this site to be “commercialized” for their own personal profits and their reasoning is it would be too costly and keep stating this is wetlands and it would be too costly to turn into a usable site for a tribal Community building and they want it to be referred to as a “Gathering Site” that can be placed on sites they consider suitable to their own personal needs!

In my last letter to the paper I thought it would be my last letter until I read comments from our Board of Directors!

When the Board had the Housing Department build elders housing apartments on land behind the Marina they did not question that this was a hill where water run off came from the housing on the Tulalip road and they went ahead and built the apartments on a hillside! That was good enough for our elders!

According to a majority of the Board as for the Community Center they want more and more studies done to show this is wetlands and what it will cost to turn this into a site for all of the Tribal Community events. These studies are done by professionals and will end up costing more than what it cost to turn the land into a building site.

It seems the Board rely more on what these non-tribal experts think than what Tribal members want. I just want to thank Les Parks for standing up for us tribal members as for the rest of the Board I have no more respect for your decisions as in reading the minutes you rely more on what the non-tribal decide than what us tribal members want.

As the elders voices are not heard I will never consider this as a “Gathering Hall” but as a Board decided building and as far as I am concerned, it will be a “Board of Director’s Gathering building”. If this Gathering building as authorized by the Board with no access to our waterfront and mountain view and giving excuses about wetlands, then why in God’s earth is the Board allowing all of the new houses being built on the tribal waterfront and selling houses to only the “well to do” tribal members that are able to afford the cost of the homes and they have the views of our beautiful bay. And for the rest of us tribal members who are living on Social Security, or retirement or minimum salaries then we should be happy that only the special few are able to have a daily view of our waterfront.

It seems odd that our Board only worries about the “cost” of what benefits us tribal members and when it comes to the casinos they have no qualms about approving “Change Orders” for companies that are working for the Tribe and this runs into the thousands of dollars.

Sorry I said it would be my last letter but this really hit bottom for me.

Thanks
Virginia (Ginnie) Carpenter

Warrants are issued because you failed to appear at your hearing, or there was a criminal complaint filed against you, also if you have failed to comply with a court order, such as having a probation violation or a missed urinalysis. You may be able to quash old warrants and get a new hearing date.

For first time offenders (sometimes second time offenders), your warrant quash will cost you nothing. If you are a repeat offender, the judge may levy a fee for you to quash your warrant, anywhere from $25, $50 or $75 dollars. The police, prosecution, and probation are then notified that you came to the court to quash your warrant. It is advised to please keep your warrant quash paperwork on you for at least one week.

The Tribal Court encourages you to come in to quash your warrant. It shows you are taking care of business and makes a good impression on the judge.

Warrant quashes are held on Fridays from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.—it is advised you show up no later than 10:45 a.m. to quash your warrant.

If you have questions regarding warrant quashes, you can call the Tribal Court.
