The Pinellas Community Foundation is in full compliance with National standards for the U.S. Community Foundations.
The governing body of the Foundation is the Board of Governors. The Trust Agreement creating the Foundation provides that each of the following organizations, or Appointing Authorities, is responsible for making an appointment to the Board: Clearwater and St. Petersburg Bar Associations (joint appointment); League of Women Voters of St. Petersburg Area and North Pinellas County (joint appointment); Pinellas County Board of County Commissioners; Pinellas County Medical Society; Pinellas County School Board; and the Chief Judge of the Sixth Judicial Circuit. The Trustees’ Committee of the Foundation makes two appointments and the Board of Governors itself has the option of appointing six additional members.

Maria N. Edmonds, Chair served many years as Associate Provost at St. Petersburg College in Tarpon Springs. She currently chairs the Hispanic Leadership Council, is on the Board of Trustees of the YWCA of Tampa Bay and serves on the GAP Achievement Committee at Largo Middle School and Clearwater High School.

Sallie Parks, Vice-Chair is a graduate of Central Michigan University and attended Michigan State University for her advanced degree work. She served on the Pinellas County Board of County Commissioners for eight years during which time she sat on the Boards of Directors of Tampa Bay Water, the Juvenile Welfare Board, the St. Pete/Clearwater Convention and Visitors Bureau and the Pinellas Suncoast Transit Authority (PSTA), among others. She also served four years as a gubernatorial appointment on the Governing Board of the Southwest Florida Water Management District.

Louie N. Adcock, Jr., is associated with the St. Petersburg law firm of Fisher & Sauls. He received his law degree from the University of Florida. In addition to a distinguished legal career in the area of trusts and estates, he has a broad history of community involvement in Pinellas County.

Sandra F. Diamond is an attorney with Williamson, Diamond & Caton and practices in the area of trusts and estates. She is the Past Chair of the Real Property, Probate and Trust Law Section of the Florida Bar and serves on the boards of All Children’s Hospital and All Children’s Health Systems.

Dr. Robert J. Entel is a radiologist and past President of the Pinellas County Medical Association. He has been active both in a number of local and statewide professional organizations and in local community efforts. He is a graduate of the Medical University of South Carolina.

Joseph W. “Jay” Fleece, III practices estate and trust litigation with the firm of BaskinFleece. He is currently the Chairman of the Board of Trustees for All Children’s Hospital and past president of PARC and The Police Athletic League of St. Petersburg. In addition to serving on numerous boards in the St. Petersburg area, he has also been commodore of the St. Petersburg Yacht Club and former Chancellor and member of the Standing Committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Southwest Florida.

Glen Gilzean, a graduate of the University of South Florida, received his bachelor’s degree in biomedical sciences and a master’s degree in business/entrepreneurship. As the regional field director for the Florida Department of Education, he was the liaison for 16 counties, teachers, principals, superintendents, and Florida’s Education Commissioner. He was also active as a member of the National Foundation for Teaching Entrepreneurship, the Florida Attorney General’s Gang Reduction Task Force, Cornerstone Family Ministries and the Florida Afterschool Network.

Glen was appointed to the Pinellas County School Board in January 2012.

Dr. Martin Klemperer is a specialist in Pediatric Hematology-Oncology and was Director of Bone Marrow Transplant Services at All Children’s Hospital’s from the late 1980’s until his retirement in 2001. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College and New York University School of Medicine.

Judith Powers served 21 years as the executive director of the Pinellas County Arts Council and the Cultural Affairs Department. She served as a board member and president of the Florida Association of Local Arts Agencies and has been active with a number of community organizations including the Junior League of Clearwater-Dunedin and the PACE Center for Girls. She currently serves on the Clearwater Public Art Committee, the City of St. Petersburg Arts Advisory Committee and as director of the Pinellas Cultural Foundation.

Virginia “Ginny” Rowell was appointed to the Board by the Pinellas County Board of County Commissioners. A graduate of Florida State University, Rowell spent her career in social services, both with the State of Florida and the City of St. Petersburg. She has long been active in a wide variety of community affairs in the St. Petersburg area.

David Sietsma is a partner with Carr Rigs & Ingram and has almost 20 years of experience in public accounting, as well as over 10 years of experience as a closely-held business owner in retail sales. In addition to tax and opportunity planning for high net worth individuals, he provides a variety of tax and business advisory services to business owners. David also focuses in the area of estate and trust planning. A member of both the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants (FICPA), David is a graduate of the University of South Florida and is active in civic and professional organizations.

Byron C. Smith, a certified public accountant, is a shareholder and a Director of the Wealth Services division of the Tampa Bay firm of Gregory, Sharer & Stuart. He is a 1981 graduate of the University of South Florida with a degree in accounting.

Irene Sullivan served as a juvenile and family court judge from 1999-2011 in the Sixth Judicial Circuit serving Pinellas and Pasco counties. Prior to that, she was a general partner at Harris, Barrett, Mann & Dew, L.L.P. in St. Petersburg, Florida, where she had a civil trial practice for 22 years and became an A-V rated trial lawyer.

In addition to sitting on many boards and committees involving children’s issues, Judge Sullivan has received numerous awards at the national and local levels including, most recently, her induction into the Stetson College of Law Hall of Fame, from which she graduated cum laude.

Sarah Williams is an attorney practicing in the areas of estate planning and probate and trust administration. She also teaches Estate Planning as an Adjunct Professor at Stetson University College of Law. Sarah holds a Master of Science Degree in Speech Pathology from the University of South Florida, a Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Communicative Sciences and Disorders from Northwestern University, and a J.D. Degree from Stetson University College of Law, where she graduated Summa Cum. She is also active in professional and civic organizations.
In 1969, 10 banks and trust companies in Pinellas County executed a Trust Agreement creating the Pinellas Community Foundation. The Trust Agreement envisioned the type of philanthropic organization that could help meet the changing needs of the community of Pinellas County. It would be set up to give wealthy people and those of moderate means an equal opportunity to accomplish their philanthropy within a flexible framework. The charitable funds they created would be permanently secure. The organization’s governing body—an impartial and changing committee of Pinellas County citizens chosen for their understanding of philanthropic needs—would oversee the selection of charitable beneficiaries.

This was the beginning of the Pinellas Community Foundation. In 2012, ten banks and trust companies were signatories to the Trust Agreement. The representatives of these financial institutions constitute the Trustees’ Committee, and each financial institution is authorized to receive and manage funds in trust for the Pinellas Community Foundation.

Following are grants totaling $11,583,290* awarded through the Community Foundation in our fiscal year of January 1, 2012 through December 31, 2012. The list is a combination of (1) grants awarded through our discretionary grants programs; (2) Field of Interest grants; (3) distributions from both designated and agency endowment funds and (4) distributions from our Donor Advised Funds. These grants and distributions reflect the philanthropic spirit and vision of our many donors. The grants and distributions made, and the lives touched by them, serve as a reminder that the Pinellas Community Foundation is Building a Better Future for Pinellas County.

*The Pinellas Community is extremely proud and honored that Meta Osborn, who passed away on April 23, 2009, entrusted a large gift with the Foundation for the benefit of many organizations. Through her gift, Mrs. Osborn hoped to make these charities aware of the benefit of long term planning through endowments. The amount of grants and distributions for 2012 reflects, in part, principal distributions to many of those organizations.

Agency Endowment Funds permit non-profits to create permanent revenue streams. Incomes from endowments allow them to weather unforeseen circumstances that might otherwise necessitate the curtailment of services. By placing endowments at the Foundation, these organizations have access to a level of expertise not readily available to other nonprofits. By working with the Community Foundation, these agencies safeguard their endowments forever.

On the following Page is an alphabetized listing of Foundation funds which include the types of funds described above. The Community Foundation holds over 120 funds and is committed to helping all of our donors become philanthropists by connecting them to the causes they care about most.

Donor Advised Fund. The donor advises the Foundation about how distributions are to be made. The Foundation’s Donor Advised Funds are governed by an Agreement between the donor and the Foundation and by the Foundation’s Guidelines for Donor Advised Funds.

Field of Interest Funds. Donors who create a field of interest fund name the cause or issue which they desire to support. The Foundation, through a competitive process, selects the organizations for grants from those funds. Currently, the Foundation has Field of Interest funds for arts and culture, the environment, public broadcasting, and social and human services.

Restricted Funds. These funds benefit charities specified by donors. In 2012, over 60 charities that were designated by donors received distributions from the Foundation.

Scholarship Funds. In 2012, the Foundation administered nine donor-established scholarship programs and distributed $160,652 for scholarships.

Unrestricted Funds. These funds allow the Foundation to allocate the donor’s gift to support the unmet or future charitable needs of the Pinellas community. In 2012, the Foundation funded 45 charitable and cultural organizations in Pinellas County. Services provided by these organizations included affordable housing, children and youth, cultural outreach, elderly, health care, women, family services and animal welfare.
Since 1969, the Pinellas Community Foundation (Foundation) has served the needs of donors and non-profits in Pinellas County. One of the oldest community foundations in Florida, the Foundation is an aggregate of funds set up by individuals, families and organizations to support charitable organizations.

The Foundation’s Combined Endowment Fund currently holds endowments benefiting thirty-five (35) organizations. The purpose of having these various accounts in one fund is to realize substantial savings on fees and costs. The larger asset size also allows the fund the opportunity to maximize investment and performance. The Trustee fee was negotiated by the Foundation so that the beneficiaries would receive the maximum income possible from their respective endowments. The Trustee bank is responsible for holding and investing moneys in the fund and furnishing statements to the Foundation.

The Foundation handles all other administrative matters relating to the fund which includes tracking each organization’s percentage share of the fund, distributing net income annually to each organization, coordinating with the Foundation’s independent accountant on audits and tax filings and handling all pertinent correspondence.

Regarding investment style, since its establishment, the Foundation has been committed to returning the maximum amount of income to beneficiaries. The Foundation has an Investment Oversight Committee which periodically, but at least annually, reviews the investment performance of the trustees and ensures that they are observing our guidelines for investment.

Our spending policy is that only net income is distributed to beneficiaries; however, an agency may choose to have the interest reinvested over a period of years to increase the size of the fund.

The Combined Endowment Fund also gives donors – some of whom already support current operations and programs of the agency they wish to benefit – the opportunity to provide for the future needs of that agency. There are many types of gifts and giving vehicles that provide donors with the maximum tax and financial benefits. They include:

- A gift of non-cash assets, including appreciated stock, retirement plan assets and life insurance.
- A bequest, which is a deferred gift given through a donor’s will.
- A life income gift, which allows a donor to make a charitable gift and also receive a stream of income for life. The two most common types of life income gifts are charitable gift annuities and charitable remainder trusts.
- A charitable lead trust, which helps a donor reduce gift and estate taxes when passing assets on to heirs. Trust income is paid to a charity annually for a period of years; at the end of the term, the trust principal passes to family members.
These charitable organizations have placed their endowment funds at the Foundation as a means of protecting and enhancing these charitable funds for the future. Endowment funds are particularly useful to organizations whose contributions fluctuate with changing economic conditions. They demonstrate the organization’s security, stability and long-range financial, and help fulfill its mission in perpetuity. Distributions from these funds are made annually from the net investment earnings of the funds to the named not-for-profit organization.

Why Choose the Pinellas Community Foundation?

For over 40 years, people like you have invested in the promise of tomorrow through the Pinellas Community Foundation. More than 100 funds established by generous donors support community programs, scholarships and community services. To date, the Foundation has awarded over $40,000,000 in grants to scores of non-profits and scholarship recipients. Simply put, the Foundation fulfills your vision of a better community and changes people’s lives. It is Building a Better Future for Pinellas County.

Key Reasons to Create a Fund

Permanent Legacy – You can create a legacy that will provide community support for years to come through an endowed fund.

Personal and Professional Attention – The Foundation’s staff has expertise in helping transform charitable ideas into philanthropic funds that change lives. Our grant making program is tailored to encompass specific charitable values and interests.

Flexibility – One of the Foundation’s priorities is to make reaching philanthropic goals simple. You can use a wide variety of assets to create funds that address charitable interests.

Maximum Tax Benefits – As a public nonprofit agency with approved 501(c)(3) status, the Pinellas Community Foundation offers you the most advantageous tax benefits for charitable giving.

Fund Management – Funds are invested and managed by professional money managers. The Investment Oversight Committee and Board of Governors oversee the Foundation’s investment goals and objectives.

Simplicity – The Foundation can help you establish a fund with one easy-to-read document. We’re local, easy to reach, and available at your convenience.
Creating A Fund Is As Easy As 1 - 2 – 3

1. Define your charitable objectives with the help of Foundation staff. This preliminary meeting can include discussion with your professional advisor about the many tax benefits of charitable gifts.

2. Name your fund. Many people choose to honor their family name. Or, they may honor a family member or friend. (Example: John Doe Family Fund OR Jane Doe Memorial Fund.)

3. Seed your fund with cash, real estate, securities or other appropriate options.

Once the assets are transferred, your vision becomes a reality.

Is The Foundation An Alternative To A Private Or Family Foundation?

Yes – and without all the extensive legal costs and paperwork. The Foundation assumes all of the administrative and reporting requirements. This type of fund can be created in a day versus several months.

A fund with the Foundation offers many advantages, along with greater charitable tax benefits. For example, gifts of cash or ordinary property to the Foundation are deductible up to 50% of adjusted gross income (AGI). Gifts to private or family foundations are deductible only to 30% of AGI. Similarly, gifts of appreciated property to community foundations are deductible up to 30% of AGI compared to 20% for a private foundation. There are no excise taxes on community foundations as there are on private foundations and community foundations do not have a requirement that a certain percentage must be distributed each year.
The Membership Program of the Foundation was started in 1984 with 8 members who donated a total of $1,000. Its purpose is to raise additional moneys which go directly to the Summer Competitive Grants program. In 2012, members donated a total of $36,000

Julie Scales joined the Foundation as Executive Director on October 1, 2003. Prior to becoming a part of the Foundation, she practiced law for over twenty years, primarily in the areas of public finance and government law. She has long been active in professional associations and has served on the boards of many not-for-profit organizations. She received her undergraduate degree from Trinity College in Washington, D.C. and law degree from Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska.

Rae Cappallo Lynch has served the Foundation as Administrative Assistant since April of 2003. She attended the University of South Florida and George Mason University in Virginia where she majored in accounting. She previously worked as a financial analyst for a major defense contractor in Alexandria, Virginia and for Tech Data in Clearwater.
Mission Statement

“Building a better future for Pinellas by partnering donors who care with causes that matter”
