I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally
   No pensioner has legal vested right to his pension; pensions are bounties of government, which Congress has right to give, withhold, distribute, or recall at its discretion. Walton v Cotton (1857) 60 US 355, 19 How 355, 15 L Ed 658; United States v Teller (1883) 107 US 64, 17 Otto 64, 27 L Ed 352, 2 S Ct 39; Frisbie v United States (1895) 157 US 160, 39 L Ed 657, 15 S Ct 586; Estate of Lindquist (1944) 25 Cal 2d 697, 154 P2d 879, cert den (1945) 325 US 869, 89 L Ed 1988, 65 S Ct 1408 and cert den (1945) 325 US 869, 89 L Ed 1988, 65 S Ct 1410
   Under Article 1, § 8, of United States Constitution, giving Congress power "to raise and support armies," Congress has power to give bounties and pensions to those who engage in military service of United States. United States v Fairchilds (1867, WD Mich) 1 Abb 74, 25 F Cas 1035, No 15067

2. Nature of pension benefits
Pension is gratuity involving no claim of right, agreement of parties, or rights of third persons. Harrison v United States (1885) 20 Ct Cl 122

Pension benefits are granted as conditional, not absolute right, conferred upon widow and children of deceased. St. Louis, I. M. & S. R. Co. v Maddry (1893) 57 Ark 306, 21 SW 472

3. Construction of pension statutes

Pension statutes serving beneficial purpose are to be liberally construed. Walton v Cotton (1857) 60 US 355, 19 How 355, 15 L Ed 658; O'Dea v Cook (1917) 176 Cal 659, 169 ¶ 366

4. Relationship with other laws

Surviving widow of serviceman killed in collision with military vehicle while on 3-day pass may bring action against government under Federal Tort Claims Act (28 USCS §§ 2671 et seq.); widow's receipt of veterans benefits does not foreclose FTCA cause of action because serviceman received right to be off duty, he was driving civilian vehicle towards home off military reservation, he was not performing any military function, his activities were not "incident to service," and government should be liable like any "private person." Parker v United States (1980, CA5 Tex) 611 F.2d 1007, reh den (1980, CA5 Tex) 615 F.2d 919

Surviving spouse's action, under Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 USCS § 1346, for wrongful death of off-duty, on furlough, serviceman husband, who was killed on roadway within military reservation while proceeding to his off-base home, is not barred by survivor's receipt of veterans benefits. Parker v United States (1980, CA5 Tex) 611 F.2d 1007, reh den (1980, CA5 Tex) 615 F.2d 919

38 USCS § 101(24) should not be incorporated into Veterans' Reemployment Rights Act of 1974 (VRRA) to expand scope and application of VRRA: (1) even though courts construe veterans' statutes liberally, they cannot create rights out of whole cloth; (2) employer complies with VRRA when it rehires employee following his or her discharge from military service; and (3) VRRA does not purport to create additional reemployment rights after employee has been rehired and thereafter is granted disability leave, even if disability is related to his prior military service. Bowlds v GM Mfg. Div. of GMC (2005, CA7 Ind) 411 F.3d 808, 177 BNA LRRM 2529

38 USCS § 1151 does not redefine service-connected from how that term is defined in 38 USCS § 101(16); instead, it provides exception that grants compensation for some non-service-connected disabilities, treating those disabilities for some purposes as if they were service-connected. Alleman v Principi (2003, CA FC) 349 F.3d 1368

II. ELIGIBILITY FOR BENEFITS

5. Persons deemed veterans

Veteran who was dishonorably discharged from enlistment entered into prior to November 11, 1918, and who was honorably discharged from enlistment entered into between November 12, 1918 and July 2, 1921, is not honorably discharged World War veteran under regulations applicable to claims for reimbursement of burial expenses. 1938 ADVA 428

Veteran who served in United States naval forces in Russia prior to April 1, 1920 as member of landing parties co-operating with Army in suppressing rebellion is veteran of World War I for purpose of receiving benefits. 1939 ADVA 449

Claimant is not "a veteran of any war" where he refused to sign enlistment contract and to take Federal oath. 1941 ADVA 462

Person inducted into military service in July, 1941 and transferred to Enlisted Reserve Corps in October, 1941 under honorable conditions was not in active military or naval service on or after

December 7, 1941 and is not "a veteran of any war" for purpose of payment of burial expenses. 1943 ADVA 522

Member of Coast Guard Auxiliary enrolled under 14 USCS § 756 as member of Temporary Reserve during World War II did not thereby attain status of veteran or become entitled to veterans' benefits, since 14 USCS § 893 provides that members of Coast Guard Auxiliary and temporary members of Coast Guard Reserve are entitled only to such rights, privileges and benefits as may be specifically granted them by law and 38 USCS § 101(2) does not specifically include service as temporary member of Coast Guard Reserve in definition of "Veteran" for purposes of entitlement to veterans' benefits. G-LGL Memo 16790, 5 Jul 79, CGLB, Jun 1980

6. Service requirements

In computing service under any law, other than one based on Civil War service, periods of agricultural, industrial, or indefinite furlough, time under arrest, in absence of acquittal, time for which soldier or sailor was determined to have forfeited pay by reason of absence without leave, and time spent in desertion or while undergoing sentence of court-martial are to be excluded; however, time lost through intemperate use of drugs or alcoholic liquor, or through disease or injury resulting from own misconduct are includable in such computation. 1946 ADVA 724

7. Active service

Serviceman injured while on agricultural furlough is not "in the military or naval service" and no compensation is payable for such injury. 1933 ADVA 114

In determining benefits, time spent at home awaiting orders are not to be used in computing length of service, and disabilities acquired during that time are not considered as being acquired in active service. 1936 ADVA 376

Decedent killed on day of enlistment while performing active duty without pay, is in active naval service, and dependents are entitled to death pension. 1943 ADVA 532

Reservist who was not accepted for active service and was rejected upon reporting for active duty is entitled to disability benefits only for injuries or diseases actually incurred during period of his enlistment in reserves and prior to his rejection. 1944 ADVA 608

National guardsman who was not finally accepted into federal service, who did not contract disease or injury resulting in death or disability in line of duty between date he reported and date of discharge, had no "active duty", was never in "active military, naval or air service" within definitions of 38 USCS § 101, and did not acquire status to qualify for benefits under Title 38, United States Code. 1963 ADVA 983

Soldier, killed in truck in which he was ordered to carry supplies, is engaged in activity "in the line of duty," entitling his widow to pension. (1931) 36 Op Atty Gen 439

Myocardial infarction sustained during mandatory physical fitness test by national guardsman on inactive duty training is not "injury" within meaning of 38 USCS § 101(24). VA GCO 1-81, 1990 VAOPGCPRC LEXIS 1662

Service by Air and National Guard member with Air Force NCO school under orders stating he was ordered to "active duty" qualifies individual under 38 USCS § 101(21). VA GCO 32-79

Thirty-month period from reenlistment until release from military control after Army determined that appellant, as he had claimed all along, had been validly discharged day before his reenlistment (and thus was not subject to court-martial jurisdiction on desertion charges) was not period of active military service; military's attempt to assert court-martial jurisdiction cannot impose military status where appellant consistently claimed civilian status and his position was ultimately vindicated. Maldonado v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 48, app dismd (1994, CA FC) 1994 US App LEXIS 11299, vacated without op, recalled, app reinstated (1994, CA FC) 1994 US App LEXIS 16826, motion gr, app dismd without op (1994, CA FC) 43 F.3d 1485, reported in full (1994, CA FC) 1994 US App LEXIS 35418

Board decision denying eligibility for non-service-connected, needs-based pension benefits would be vacated and remanded since Board did not explain why regulation providing that "active duty” includes authorized travel to and from such duty did not apply. Pacheco v West (1998) 12 Vet App 36

8. Reserve duty

Temporary members of Coast Guard Reserve are not within purview of laws governing Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] for pension, National Service Life Insurance or medical and hospital services as beneficiaries of Veterans’ Administration [now Department]. 1946 ADVA 700

Reservist’s active duty for slightly more than 180 days did not constitute active duty as defined by statute; therefore, reservist did not establish that he was "veteran," where his 6-month period had to include minimum 3 months’ active duty for training. Strachan v United States Postal Serv. (1994, MSPB) 64 MSPR 333

Determination by Army that reservist is performing active duty for training is controlling as to reservist’s eligibility under 38 USCS § 1818. VA GCO 16-79

9. Former prisoner of war

Board and CVA properly evaluated both type and degree of hardship suffered by veteran in prisoner camp of neutral government during World War II in determining that veteran did not met regulatory guidelines for status as former prisoner of war. Young v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 662

In denying veteran POW status, Board failed to provide adequate reasons to support its determination that hardships suffered during internment in Sweden were not comparable to hardships suffered by veterans interned as POWs by enemy nations or forces. Young v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 106, subsequent app (1996) 9 Vet App 141, affd sub nom Young v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 662

Decision or finding of prisoner of war status is legal determination, hence subject to clearly erroneous standard of review. Young v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 106, subsequent app (1996) 9 Vet App 141, affd sub nom Young v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 662

Appellant was not eligible for benefits as former prisoner of war where service department records did not reflect that appellant had been POW during service, dates of alleged POW status varied considerably in appellant's evidence, and although record showed that appellant signed oath of obedience to Imperial Japanese Forces, there was no showing that oath was exacted as condition of release from internment as POW. Manibog v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 465

BVA had rational basis for denying appellant POW status where it found that his internment by Swedish government during 2 and 1/2 months was not sufficiently severe as to be comparable to detainment by enemy government; regulation regarding prisoner of war status provided BVA basis for evaluating POW status which focuses on kinds of hardships experienced by veteran during internment. Young v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 141, affd sub nom Young v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 662

10. Nature of discharge

Federal court lacks jurisdiction to hear veteran's claim of improper denial of medical benefits where veterans' administrator [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs], through his own regulation, made decision "under" 38 USC § 101(2) that veteran's discharge because of homosexuality was dishonorable. Kiser v Johnson (1975, MD Pa) 404 F Supp 879

Applicant who fraudulently accepted commission actually intended for another is not honorably discharged veteran and not entitled to any benefits accruing to such veterans. 1931 ADVA 68
Veteran is entitled to pension based upon period of active service which terminated under honorable circumstances, notwithstanding extension of that enlistment which terminated with bad conduct discharge. 1934 ADVA 275

In determining entitlement to compensation or pension under laws administered by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] where discharge under honorable conditions is requisite to entitlement, question whether discharge was under honorable or other than honorable conditions is controlled by determination of military or naval authorities under departmental policy and practice in effect at time of discharge. 1943 ADVA 508

Veteran, convicted of assault to commit rape and later discharged for such conviction, is discharged under conditions other than dishonorable where veteran made no attempt to conceal such conviction and would have been subject to punishment for refusing to render military service. 1950 ADVA 853

Action of Board for Correction of Naval Records in changing status of discharge to honorable sets aside bars of 38 USCS § 101, and serviceman is eligible for veterans benefits, if otherwise entitled. 1962 ADVA 980

Board did not err in finding that veteran was discharged under dishonorable conditions, thus making surviving spouse ineligible for dependency and indemnity compensation benefits, where he requested discharge for good of service in lieu of court-martial on charge of wrongful possession of heroin. Rogers v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 419

Remand was required to determine if veteran’s AWOL conduct leading to his discharge should be excused because of insanity for determining whether he met definition of veteran. Stringham v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 560, appeal after remand sub nom Stringham v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 445

Regulation providing that discharge is considered to have been issued under dishonorable conditions if given for willful and persistent misconduct is consistent with statute; if Congress had meant to make sentence of general court martial only event for precluding veteran status, it could easily have done so by stating it directly, and there is nothing in statute or overall statutory scheme encompassed by either title 38 or 10 which suggests that definition of “veteran” was to be entirely removed from rulemaking power of Secretary of Veterans Affairs and given over to unfettered discretion of general courts-martial panels. Camarena v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 565, aff’d without op (1995, CA FC) 60 F.3d 843, reported in full (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 16683

Although claimant’s deceased husband’s first discharge to reenlist was honorable, she was still not entitled to benefits as surviving spouse since his subsequent discharge for absence without leave occurred during his initial three-year period such that it precluded satisfactory completion of initial service obligation and award of requisite discharge. Holmes v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 38 (ovrd by D’Amico v West (2000, CA FC) 209 F.3d 1322)

III. ENTITLEMENT TO BENEFITS

11. Generally

Eligibility for benefits arising from marriage of veteran following sex-change operation depends upon treatment given marriage under state law, and where state considers marriage invalid as involving members of same sex, benefits are denied. VA GCO 1-80

Only service department records can establish if and when person was serving on active duty, active duty for training, or inactive duty training. Venturella v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 340

12. Parent

Term “father” does not include father who did not assume legal and moral obligations of parent toward veteran, and such father is not entitled to pension upon showing of dependency. 1934 ADVA 284
Mere fact that child has been legally adopted by other persons does not take natural mother outside definition of mother and natural mother is entitled to benefits where she was person who last bore relation of mother. 1943 ADVA 541

Claimant is eligible as beneficiary where in loco parentis relationship to veteran existed for period of not less than 1 year at any time prior to entry into active service and relationship had its inception before serviceman attained his majority. 1945 ADVA 675

Veteran's younger sister was not proper claimant for burial expenses and other Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] benefits since she failed to satisfy statute's requirements to be considered foster parent; veteran never referred to his sister as foster parent or guardian, sister never referred to herself as veteran's foster mother except on one occasion, veteran was 18 or 19 and sister 13 or 14 when their last parent died and thus she was not in position to rear veteran, and record did not reveal that veteran had disability that required parental guidance or supervision. Mayang v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 260

13. Surviving spouse

Where veteran's disability was clearly not service-connected as defined by 38 USCS § 101(16) because it arose from veteran's treatment at Department of Veterans Affairs hospital and veteran was awarded compensation under 38 USCS § 1151, veteran's widow was not entitled to Service Disabled Veterans' Insurance under 38 USCS § 1922 because § 1922 benefits were not among those covered by § 1151. Alleman v Principi (2003, CA FC) 349 F.3d 1368

Widow of rejected draftee, who became ill prior to final examination for military service and who had requisite degree of disability, is entitled to death compensation. 1938 ADVA 425

Bar to death benefits set forth in 38 USCS § 101 is not applicable where unremarried widow was mentally incompetent during pertinent period of living with man and holding out as his wife. 1964 ADVA 985

All laws discontinue pension on widow's remarriage, and nothing can accrue after that event. (1828) 2 Op Atty Gen 95

Claimant may be recognized as surviving spouse, notwithstanding she had 2 children by another man while husband was missing in action and where he never learned of wife's infidelity prior to death as prisoner of war. VA GCO 3-80

Secretary was ordered to file brief on question whether regulation was in conflict with statute by not requiring that separation be caused by veteran's misconduct or procured by veteran. Gregory v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 295

Soldier's pension rights pass to his widow and children only where he died from wound, injury, or disability on which the pension was granted. St. Louis, I. M. & S. R. Co. v Maddry (1893) 57 Ark 306, 21 SW 472

Board's failure to cite to law of any particular state or provide any reasons or bases for law chosen or not chosen in determining that appellant was not veteran's lawful spouse was clearly erroneous. Sanders v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 17

Spouse who had remarried following veteran's death was not entitled to resumption of DIC benefits as surviving spouse of veteran upon divorce from second husband, since divorce proceedings did not begin before effective date of amendment eliminating benefits for remarried spouses. Owings v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 17, affd, without op (1996, CA FC) 86 F.3d 1178, reported in full (1996, CA FC) 1996 US App LEXIS 11368

BVA decision denying appellant recognition as veteran's surviving spouse was not clearly and mistakenly erroneous in light of evidence that she did not live continuously with veteran from date of marriage until his death, and that after their separation she had two other children and therefore was not without fault as to continuation of separation. Berger v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 166

Although claimant was legal spouse of veteran at time of veteran's death and was deemed to have lived with veteran continuously since their marriage, Board of Veterans' Appeals did not err in deciding claimant was not entitled to recognition as veteran's surviving spouse pursuant to 38
USCS § 101(3) since claimant held herself out to public as spouse of another until after veteran's death and, therefore, 38 USCS § 1311(e), which permits restoration of prior eligibility for dependency and indemnity compensation, is not applicable. Cacatian v West (1999) 12 Vet App 373, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 306

Board's decision to deny appellant entitlement to retroactive apportionment of pension benefits that had been paid to veteran is affirmed since appellant was not veteran's "spouse" under 38 USCS § 101(31) at any time during veteran's receipt of pension benefits where veteran and appellant were divorced two years prior to veteran's award of pension benefits. 14. Children

Word "children" as used in Pension Act of June 4, 1832, and July 4, 1836, embraces grandchildren of deceased pensioner, whether their parents died before or after his decease and entitled them, per stirpes, to distributive share of deceased parent. Walton v Cotton (1857) 60 US 355, 19 How 355, 15 L Ed 658

Marriage of mother after birth of child and acknowledgment of husband that he is father of child constitute prima facie proof that he is the father. United States v Skam (1837, CCD Dist Col) 5 Cranch CC 367, 27 F Cas 1122, No 16308

Daughter of Vietnam veteran who died of service-connected heart disability was entitled to award of Restored Entitlement Program for Survivors benefits from time of veteran's death since she met all applicable eligibility criteria at that time, rather than from time of her application filed now invalidated Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] regulation. Skinner v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 141, affd (1994, CA FC) 27 F.3d 1571, reh, en banc, den (1994, CA FC) 1994 US App LEXIS 28461

Neither of two children who lived with veteran's widow was "child" for purposes of entitlement to additional pension benefits where they were not biological children of veteran, and, although widow was their legal guardian, there was no evidence that they were living in veteran's household at time of his death or that veteran had legally adopted them. Burch v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 512

15. Children over age of 18

Combination of training and employment in United States Cadet Nurse Corps as provided by Congress does not bring minor within contemplation of Veterans' Regulation No. 2(a) [predecessor to 38 USCS § 101], and such compensation may not be continued beyond minor's 18th birthday by reason thereof. 1843 ADVA 542

Pension is payable to child pursuing course of instruction, even though such child was never on pension rolls as minor and was over age of 18 years on date of veteran's death. 1934 ADVA 244

Child pursuing course of instruction at Government Indian School supported wholly by United States is not entitled to continuation of compensation after 18th birthday, where government already is providing substantial support. 1936 ADVA 367

Child who has been helpless from infancy and who has attained age of 18 years on date of her mother's marriage to veteran is not stepchild where, during infancy she had right to look upon veteran as parent and veteran had corresponding duty to give support. 1956 ADVA 672

Board did not err in denying additional compensation for disabled veteran's adult son where evidence established that son's mental disability rendering him incapable of self-employment was not established until 10 years after he turned 18. Bledsoe v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 32

Income of college student's mother and stepfather were properly included in calculating student's entitlement to improved death pension benefits for his deceased father, Vietnam veteran; mother had custody for Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] purposes, hence stepfather did also in absence of any evidence parents were estranged. Kelly v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 177

Finding that adult child of deceased veteran was not incapable of self-support at age 18 was improperly placed on fact that child graduated from high school some 5 years late; if anything, belated graduation supported petitioner's contention that she was incapable of self-support at 18. Dobson v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 443

There is no legal basis for 70 year-old appellant to be paid dependency and indemnity compensation pursuant to 38 USCS § 1310(a) or 38 USCS § 1318, or to be paid accrued benefits under 38 USCS § 5121(a), since 38 USCS 101(4)(A) excludes from category of "child" anyone who is more than 23 years of age. Burris v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 348, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1498

Construing interpretative-rule exception in 5 USCS § 553(A) narrowly, March 2000 amendment to 38 C.F.R. § 3.57(a)(1)(iii) extends beyond merely clarifying or explaining existing law; instead, it makes new substantive law by excluding home-school programs wholesale from classification as part of category educational institution and, because amendment affects individual rights and obligations, it is substantive, legislative rule that is subject to notice-and-comment requirements of 5 USCS § 553(b) and (c). March 2000 amendment to 38 C.F.R. § 3.57(a)(1)(iii), which excluded home-school programs from definition of educational institution for purposes of 38 USCS §§ 101(4)(A)(iii) and 104, is invalid for failure to comply with notice-and-comment rulemaking procedures that 5 USCS § 553 requires of such substantive rule changes. Individual adopted after 18th birthday by veteran is "child" within meaning of 38 USCS § 101 until 23 if attending approved educational institution. VA GCO 14-79

Issue of clear and unmistakable error was clearly before Board on appellant's claim that it reopen decision refusing to recognize validity of adoption of veteran's and appellant's children where appellant asserted validity under both Philippine and U.S. law and Board simply responded by not disputing validity under Philippine law but stating that it was not recognized for Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] purposes. 18. Sibling

Veteran's sibling, who did not claim that sibling acted as veteran's parent, was ineligible for dependency and indemnity compensation benefits under 38 USCS § 101, even though sibling was veteran's parents' next of kin, and parents never claimed their benefits. (b) Dependency of a parent shall not be denied (1) solely because of remarriage, or (2) in any case in any State where the monthly income for a mother or father does not exceed minimum levels which the Secretary shall prescribe by regulation, giving due regard to the marital status of the mother or father and additional members of the family whom the mother or father is under a moral or legal obligation to support.

(c) For the purpose of this subsection in determining monthly income the Secretary shall not consider any payments under laws administered by the Secretary because of disability or death or payments of bonus or similar cash gratuity by any State based upon service in the Armed Forces.

§ 103. Special provisions relating to marriages

(a) Whenever, in the consideration of any claim filed by a person as the widow or widower of a veteran for gratuitous death benefits under laws administered by the Secretary it is established by evidence satisfactory to the Secretary that such person, without knowledge of any legal impediment, entered into a marriage with such veteran which, but for a legal impediment, would have been valid, and thereafter cohabited with the veteran for one year or more immediately before the veteran's death, or for any period of time if a child was born of the purported marriage or was born to them before such marriage, the purported marriage shall be deemed to be a valid marriage, but only if no claim has been filed by a legal widow or widower of such veteran who is found to be entitled to such benefits. No duplicate payments shall be made by virtue of this subsection.

(b) Where a surviving spouse has been legally married to a veteran more than once, the date of original marriage will be used in determining whether the statutory requirement as to date of marriage has been met.

(c) In determining whether or not a person is or was the spouse of a veteran, their marriage shall be proven as valid for the purposes of all laws administered by the Secretary according to the law of the place where the parties resided at the time of the marriage or the law of the place where the parties resided when the right to benefits accrued.

(d) (1) The remarriage of the surviving spouse of a veteran shall not bar the furnishing of benefits to such person as the surviving spouse of the veteran if the remarriage is void, or has been annulled by a court with basic authority to render annulment decrees unless the Secretary determines that the annulment was secured through fraud by either party or collusion.

(2) (A) The remarriage of the surviving spouse of a veteran shall not bar the furnishing of benefits specified in paragraph (5) to such person as the surviving spouse of the veteran if the remarriage has been terminated by death or divorce unless the Secretary determines that the divorce was secured through fraud or collusion.

(B) The remarriage after age 57 of the surviving spouse of a veteran shall not bar the furnishing of benefits specified in paragraph (5) to such person as the surviving spouse of the veteran. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, the remarriage after age 55 of the surviving spouse of a veteran shall not bar the furnishing of benefits under section 1781 of this title [38 USCS § 1781] to such person as the surviving spouse of the veteran.

(3) If the surviving spouse of a veteran ceases living with another person and holding himself or herself out openly to the public as that person's spouse, the bar to granting that person benefits as the surviving spouse of the veteran shall not apply in the case of the benefits specified in paragraph (5).

(4) The first month of eligibility for benefits for a surviving spouse by reason of paragraph (2)(A) or (3) shall be the month after--

(A) the month of the termination of such remarriage, in the case of a surviving spouse described in paragraph (2)(A); or

(B) the month of the cessation described in paragraph (3), in the case of a surviving spouse described in that paragraph.

(5) Paragraphs (2)(A) and (3) apply with respect to benefits under the following provisions of this title:

(D) Chapter 37, relating to housing loans [38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.].

(e) The marriage of a child of a veteran shall not bar recognition of such child as the child of the veteran for benefit purposes if the marriage is void, or has been annulled by a court with basic authority to render annulment decrees unless the Secretary determines that the annulment was secured through fraud by either party or collusion.

1. Legal impediments

State laws rendering marriage invalid for consanguinity of parties are "legal impediment" under 38 USC § 103 which do not bar widow from collecting death benefits based upon otherwise valid marriage. 1961 ADVA 976

French requirement of civil ceremony is "legal impediment" to valid marriage of widow, originally married in religious ceremony, and under terms of 38 USCS § 103 does not in itself bar her from receiving benefits. 1962 ADVA 797

Claimant who alleged that she was surviving spouse of veteran, to whom she had been married and from whom she had been divorced some 35 years later, because veteran continued to cohabit with her until his death approximately one and one-half years later, was entitled to opportunity on remand to submit signed statement that she had no knowledge that marriage ceremony requirement in Puerto Rico was legal impediment to common law marriage she was asserting. Colon v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 104

2. Determination of validity of marriage

Validity of marriage as affecting widowhood under National Service Life Insurance Act of 1940 is determined by law of place where parties resided at time of marriage or at time claim accrued; hence, claimant could not assert validity of marriage where Mexican divorce was not recognized by applicable law. United States v Snyder (1949, App DC) 85 US App DC 198, 177 F.2d 44

Wife, separated from veteran by New York decree, is subject to loss of her portion of his disability benefits where veteran has obtained valid Nevada divorce decree and was domiciled in granting state, notwithstanding that one of parties to decree was not resident of state wherein decree was granted and notwithstanding that state wherein she resides would not, according to its own law, give effect to decree as granted. 1933 ADVA 169

Second wife of Indian in plural marriage valid according to tribal custom is not eligible for pension under governing Federal law since pension laws and other Federal laws do not contemplate plural marriages. 1944 ADVA 568

Comity need not apply to Mexican divorce, and Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] need not recognize woman as wife resulting from subsequent marriage in Colorado, where woman originally failed to establish domicile in Mexico prior to obtaining divorce there. 1970 ADVA 991

Statute providing that marriage shall be proven valid according to law of place where parties resided at time of marriage does not violate free exercise of religion clause since it is neutral statute dealing with subject that state is free to regulate; there simply is no express or implied discrimination against any particular religious belief or sect, nor does statute target subtly or otherwise any religious conduct for distinctive treatment. Bierer v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 563

4. Divorce

Widow whose marriage has been dissolved by decree of divorce cannot claim pension right upon death of her ex-husband. (1863) 11 Op Atty Gen 1

Religious marriage ceremony is of no legal significance in determining surviving spouse's eligibility for death pension benefits if veteran and claimant were divorced at time of veteran's death. Frankel v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 23

Claimant was not surviving spouse of veteran since divorce decree was issued nunc pro tunc effective on date that preceded date veteran was declared missing in action and date he was presumed dead. Koch v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 568

Statute barring reinstatement of DIC benefits for veteran's child whose marriage has been dissolved by divorce, but not by annulment, does not violate equal protection; Congress's budgetary considerations, coupled with rationale that marriages terminated by divorce or death pose less of financial burden than marriages terminated by annulment, establish that statute is rationally related to legitimate governmental interests. Giancaterino v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 555

5. Remarriage
Restoration of pension to widow removed from rolls for remarriage now found voidable must not precede date of decree of nullity; restoration to widow for void remarriage should not precede date of separation following discovery that marriage was void, rather than date of decree, if any. 1949 ADVA 824

Remarriage of widow estops her from claiming pension by virtue of death of her first husband although second marriage is later declared illegal. (1873) 14 Op Atty Gen 220

Woman who married and lived with man, supposing her husband to be dead, and who subsequently discovered he was alive, is precluded from claiming pension upon subsequent death of her husband in military service. United States v Hays (1884, CCD Mo) 20 F 710

§ 105. Line of duty and misconduct

(a) An injury or disease incurred during active military, naval, or air service will be deemed to have been incurred in line of duty and not the result of the veteran's own misconduct when the person on whose account benefits are claimed was, at the time the injury was suffered or disease contracted, in active military, naval, or air service, whether on active duty or on authorized leave, unless such injury or disease was a result of the person's own willful misconduct or abuse of alcohol or drugs. Venereal disease shall not be presumed to be due to willful misconduct if the person in service complies with the regulations of the appropriate service department requiring the person's to report and receive treatment for such disease.

(b) The requirement for line of duty will not be met if it appears that at the time the injury was suffered or disease contracted the person on whose account benefits are claimed (1) was avoiding duty by deserting the service or by absenting himself or herself without leave materially interfering with the performance of military duties; (2) was confined under sentence of court-martial involving an unremitted dishonorable discharge; or (3) was confined under sentence of a civil court for a felony (as determined under the laws of the jurisdiction where the person was convicted by such court).

(c) For the purposes of any provision relating to the extension of a delimiting period under any education-benefit or rehabilitation program administered by the Secretary, the disabling effects of chronic alcoholism shall not be considered to be the result of willful misconduct.

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162:

Amendments:

1986. Act Oct. 28, 1986, in subsec. (a) substituted "the person's" for "his" and "him" respectively; and in subsec. (b) substituted "service or by absenting himself or herself" for "service, or by absenting himself".

1990. Act Nov. 5, 1990 (applicable as provided by § 8052(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (a), substituted "a result of the person's own willful

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, substituted "administered by the Secretary" for "administered by the Veterans' Administration".

Application of Feres doctrine under which federal government is not liable for injuries arising out of or in course of activity incident to military service, to bar suit brought by Navy serviceman against doctors in naval hospital for negligent treatment of fractured leg is not affected by fact that serviceman was denied benefits under Veterans Benefits Act because injuries were sustained in motorcycle accident resulting from serviceman's consumption of alcohol, operation of motorcycle at excessive rate of speed, and the failure to negotiate a curve. Because 38 USCS § 101(16) makes clear that "service-connected" means same thing as "incurred in line of duty," 38 USCS § 105(a) creates presumption of service connection, that is, that disability first manifested or aggravated during active duty is deemed to be service connected unless such injury or disease was result of person's own willful misconduct or abuse of alcohol or drugs. Unremitted bad conduct discharge given to veteran is not equivalent to unremitted dishonorable discharge; thus, veteran who died while confined under sentence of court-martial under circumstances not due to his own willful misconduct, is not barred from benefits otherwise payable. 1950 ADVA 861

3. -Parole

Amendments to Missing Persons Act (50 USCS Appx §§ 1001 et seq.) providing for pay and allowances for Philippine Scouts after parole by Japanese do not require change in Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] policy that such scouts in parole status are not in active service for purpose of entitlement to benefits, notwithstanding such payment of pay and allowances by service department pursuant to terms of Missing Persons Act. 1961 ADVA 971

Veteran in parole status from September 1, 1942 through July 3, 1945 is not on active duty or on authorized leave and hence is not in active service within purview of 38 USCS § 105, during that period, notwithstanding that he received pay therefor under Missing Persons Act (50 USCS App §§ 1001 et seq.). 1961 ADVA 972

4. Willful misconduct

As "preponderance of evidence" establishing willful misconduct was sufficient to rebut presumption of service-connection for peacetime disabilities under 38 USCS § 105(a), and veteran's willful misconduct in repeatedly failing to obey lawful order was proved under that standard, his claim for disability benefits was properly denied. Thomas v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 423 F.3d 1279

Where hearing officer (HO) found that veteran was not entitled to disability benefits due to his willful misconduct in disobeying sergeant's order to leave area, 38 C.F.R. § 3.103(2)(c) did not require HO to ask veteran how much time he had to respond to sergeant's orders; HO fulfilled his duty in evaluating record and evidence adequately established nature of veteran's conduct. Thomas v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 423 F.3d 1279

Chronic use of alcohol as beverage, whether out of compulsion or otherwise, is not willful misconduct. 1964 ADVA 988

Yeoman v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 378

Board did not err in finding that injuries veteran sustained in automobile accident were result of his willful misconduct since there was plausible basis in record to conclude that veteran was voluntarily intoxicated at time. Yeoman v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 378

§ 106. Certain service deemed to be active service

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) (1) Service as a member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps for ninety days or more by any woman who before October 1, 1943, was honorably discharged for disability incurred or aggravated in line of duty which rendered her physically unfit to perform further service in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps or the Women's Army Corps shall be considered active duty for the purposes of all laws administered by the Secretary.

(c) For the purposes of this title, an individual discharged or released from a period of active duty shall be deemed to have continued on active duty during the period of time immediately following the date of such discharge or release from such duty determined by the Secretary concerned to have been required for that individual to proceed to that individual's home by the most direct route, and in any event that individual shall be deemed to have continued on active duty until midnight of the date of such discharge or release.

(d) (1) For the purposes of this title, any individual—

(B) who is disabled or dies from an injury or covered disease incurred while proceeding directly to or returning directly from such active duty for training or inactive duty training, as the case may be;
shall be deemed to have been on active duty for training or inactive duty training, as the case may be, at the time such injury or covered disease was incurred.
(2) In determining whether or not such individual was so authorized or required to perform such duty, and whether or not such individual was disabled or died from injury or covered disease so incurred, the Secretary shall take into account the hour on which such individual began so to proceed or to return; the hour on which such individual was scheduled to arrive for, or on which such individual ceased to perform, such duty; the method of travel employed; the itinerary; the manner in which the travel was performed; and the immediate cause of disability or death.
(3) Whenever any claim is filed alleging that the claimant is entitled to benefits by reason of this subsection, the burden of proof shall be on the claimant.
(4) For purposes of this subsection, the term "covered disease" means any of the following:
(A) Acute myocardial infarction.
(B) A cardiac arrest.
(C) A cerebrovascular accident.

(e) Each person who has incurred a disability as a result of an injury or disease described in subsection (b) shall be entitled to the same rights, privileges, and benefits under title 5 as a preference eligible described in section 2108(3)(C) of title 5 [5 USCS § 2108(3)(C)].

(f) Service as a member of the Alaska Territorial Guard during World War II of any individual who was honorably discharged therefrom under section 8147 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2001, shall be considered active duty for purposes of all laws administered by the Secretary.

"(A) after a full review of the historical records and all other available evidence pertaining to the service of any such group, determines, on the basis of judicial and

1. Constitutionality

Action by veteran of Philippine military challenging constitutionality of statute was barred by prior class action, since he was member of class despite fact that he was not resident of California at time, where action raised same claims as class action, and plaintiff made no charge of inadequate representation by original class action plaintiffs nor pointed to significant intervening change in law that would warrant relitigation of claims. Besinga v United States (1989, CA9 Cal) 879 F.2d 626, 14 FR Serv 3d 897, op withdrawn, substituted op, remanded on other grounds (1991, CA9 Cal) 923 F.2d 133, 91 CDOS 228, 91 Daily Journal DAR 145, 18 FR Serv 3d 718

Earlier decision upholding constitutionality of statute could not be given res judicata effect since no notice was provided to absent class members allowing them to opt out of class. Besinga v United States (1991, CA9 Cal) 923 F.2d 133, 91 CDOS 228, 91 Daily Journal DAR 145, 18 FR Serv 3d 718

Provision that Commonwealth Army members called into service by President's 1941 order would not be deemed members of U.S. military for purposes of veterans benefit programs (38 USCS § 107(a)) did not violate equal protection component of due process clause as applied to such member who later became naturalized U.S. citizen; Congress had rational basis for treating Commonwealth Army members different from U.S. forces, including costs, fact that Philippine residents did not contribute to federal treasury, and practical administrative difficulties inherent in dispensing benefits directly to citizens of what was soon to become foreign state. Besinga v United States (1994, CA9 Cal) 14 F.3d 1356, 94 CDOS 385, 94 Daily Journal DAR 655, cert den (1994) 513 US 864, 130 L Ed 2d 115, 115 S Ct 180, reh den (1994) 513 US 1010, 130 L Ed 2d 437, 115 S Ct 534

38 USCS § 107(a), which limits veterans' benefits available to veterans of Philippine Army and their spouses, is not unconstitutional under rational basis test to extent it deprives Philippine Army veterans and their dependents of benefits administered by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] and requires that benefits that are available to said veterans and their dependents be paid at reduced rate because the distinction Congress drew between members of the Philippine Army and United States service members is rationally related to the statutes purpose. Quiban v Veterans Admin. (1991, App DC) 289 US App DC 62, 928 F.2d 1154, cert den (1994) 513 US 918, 130 L Ed 2d 210, 115 S Ct 297, reh den (1994) 513 US 1009, 130 L Ed 2d 436, 115 S Ct 533

Government's new evidence does not establish constitutionality of 38 USCS § 107(a) and warrant reconsideration of decision granting Philippine Army veteran's widow survivors' benefits based on her husband's non-service-connected death, where new evidence consists of post-enactment internal executive memoranda discussing "practical difficulties" of extending veterans' benefits in light of other pending legislative aid to Philippines and imminent Philippine independence, because such evidence does not alter previous conclusion that Congress, by singling out persons equally entitled to U.S. Army veteran status to be means by which goal of saving money was to be achieved, failed to insure that means were rationally related to purposes of veterans' benefits legislation. Quiban v United States Veterans Admin. (1989, DC Dist Col) 724 F Supp 993

Statute did not deny equal protection to veteran who served with Philippine Commonwealth Army during World War II, even if he later resided in and became citizen of U.S., since fact that estimated cost of extending full benefits to such veterans would be $2 billion annually was itself sufficient basis upon which Congress could rationally exclude Philippine veterans from pension benefits. Widow of veteran who served in New Philippine Scouts was not entitled to extraordinary writ ordering Secretary to pay her full value of her DIC benefits on grounds that 38 USCS § 107 was unconstitutional; claimant was free to challenge constitutionality of statute in district court, hence could not demonstrate absence of adequate alternative remedies. Based on 38 USCS § 107(a), which makes members of Philippine military statutorily ineligible for most benefits available to members of U.S. Armed Forces, members of Philippine military are not eligible for benefits provided by Section 654 of National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1998 (Act Nov. 18, 1997, P.L. 105-85, 111 Stat. 1629 at 1804), which provides for payment of back quarters and subsistence allowances to World War II veterans who served as guerilla fighters in Philippines. 3. Persons entitled to benefits
As Philippine Commonwealth Army was not deemed to have been active military service of United States under 38 USCS § 107(a), court was without power to issue mandamus compelling federal authorities to allow burial of petitioners’ father’s remains at Arlington National Cemetery. Realuyo v Metzler (2003, SD NY) 263 F Supp 2d 686

Any member of Commonwealth Army who was ordered into and served in Armed Forces of United States, or any person who served in such forces, is potentially entitled to benefits under applicable laws; such service being shown by record, or by certification of United States Armed Forces; also, it must be shown that at time injury (disease) or death occurred: (a) person was serving in Armed Forces of United States, or (b) that he was serving, albeit in irregular force, under commissioned officer of United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, or under commissioned officer of Commonwealth Army recognized by, and co-operating with United States forces; presumption of soundness attaches only to such persons where record shows examination at time of entrance into Armed Forces of United States; and any period of parole is not to be considered as active service in Armed Forces of United States for such purpose. 1947 ADVA 746

BVA did not commit either legal or factual error in holding that appellant’s act of service in organized military forces of Government of Commonwealth of Philippines from July 1943 to December 1946 was not qualifying service for purpose of establishing eligibility for non-service-connected pension. Solis v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 6

Based on 38 USCS § 107(a), which makes members of Philippine military statutorily ineligible for most benefits available to members of U.S. Armed Forces, members of Philippine military are not eligible for benefits provided by Section 654 of National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1998 (Act Nov. 18, 1997, P.L. 105-85, 111 Stat. 1629 at 1804), which provides for payment of back quarters and subsistence allowances to World War II veterans who served as guerilla fighters in Philippines. 4. -Philippine Scouts

United States Court of Veterans Claims properly concluded that individual’s service with Philippine Expeditionary Forces in Korea was not service in United States Armed Forces where 38 USCS § 107(a)(3) only recognized such service occurring before July 1, 1946 and individual’s service had occurred after 1946. Cayat v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 429 F.3d 1331

Limiting provisions of former 38 USCS § 38 do not apply to service in Philippine Scouts since that force was not, and is not, part of “organized military forces of the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines” but is component part of Army of United States; provisions of statute limiting benefits available to Philippine Scouts apply only to enlistments entered into under former 10 USCS § 637. 1946 ADVA 721
Restrictions in legislation limiting benefits under laws administered by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] available to Philippine Scouts who are enlisted and serve pursuant to former 10 USCS § 637 are not applicable to officers commissioned in connection with administration of such Act. 1948 ADVA 778

5. Benefits payable

Pensions that may be paid are those payable under laws administered by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], on account of service-connected disability or death of persons who served in organized military forces of Government of Commonwealth of Philippines, while such forces were in service of Armed Forces of United States pursuant to military order of President dated July 26, 1941; no distinction is permissible among those falling within class of veterans affected by reason of citizenship, residence of theater of operations in which service was performed. 1946 ADVA 696

Benefits of legislation allowing Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans' Affairs to provide automobile or other conveyance for certain veterans are not available to those persons whose service consisted of service in organized military forces of Commonwealth of Philippines and who were ordered into service of Armed Forces of United States pursuant to military order of President of United States dated July 26, 1941, even though such persons may have been entitled to benefits for loss or loss of use of one or both legs, at or above ankle, incurred in services in World War II. 1947 ADVA 749

6. Payment of benefits

Allowable pensions are payable in Philippine pesos at rate of one Philippine peso for every dollar authorized to be paid under laws providing for service-connected disability or death pensions or such payment may be made in American dollars, but, in latter case, only if each payment is made in amount which, according to rate of exchange prevailing at time of payment, will conform to requirement that payment be made at a rate of 1 Philippine peso for each dollar authorized. 1946 ADVA 696

Manner of payment is in no way conditioned upon place of residence of beneficiary. 1946 ADVA 696

Regarding those cases in which governing income limitations are expressed in pesos, annual income reported in dollars is to be converted to pesos at current rate of exchange. 1964 ADVA 986

§ 108. Seven-year absence presumption of death

(a) No State law providing for presumption of death shall be applicable to claims for benefits under laws administered by the Secretary.

(b) If evidence satisfactory to the Secretary is submitted establishing the continued and unexplained absence of any individual from that individual's home and family for seven or more years, and establishing that after diligent search no evidence of that individual's existence after the date of disappearance has been found or received, the death of such individual as of the date of the expiration of such period shall be considered as sufficiently proved.

(c) Except in a suit brought pursuant to section 1984 of this title [38 USCS § 1984], the finding of death made by the Secretary shall be final and conclusive.

1. Generally

Suit to recover proceeds of policy may not be maintained as practical matter, prior to expiration of statutory seven-year period, cause of action to recover proceeds of policy accrues at time when, under 38 USCS § 108, beneficiary might successfully maintain her suit, and that is date from which six-year statute of limitations (which is, under predecessor to 38 USCS § 1984, applicable to suits on national service life insurance policies) should be computed; cause of action for proceeds of national service life insurance policy issued to one who disappeared and is claimed to have died in 1943, but whose death, if found to have occurred after 1943, might still be within coverage of his policy (since, if he was totally disabled at time of his disappearance, he would, under predecessor to 38 USCS § 1912, have been eligible for waiver of premiums), does not accrue until 1950, as of which time insured, having been continuously and unexplainedly absent for period of seven years, is, under predecessor to 38 USCS § 108, presumed dead. Peak v United States (1957) 353 US 43, 1 L Ed 2d 631, 77 S Ct 613

Decree presuming death because of unexplained absence is not bar to payment of benefits to dependent of incompetent veteran who has disappeared. 1939 ADVA 443
2. Operation of presumption

Presumption of death from absence is that death occurred at end of 7 year period, not at beginning of such period or during its continuance. United States v Robertson (1930, CA9 Or) 44 F.2d 317; United States v O'Brien (1931, CA4 Va) 51 F.2d 37; McCune v United States (1932, CA6 Ky) 56 F.2d 572

Presumption of death of insured from absence of seven years does not establish time of death. United States v Hayman (1932, CA5 Tex) 62 F.2d 118

Date of disappearance of individual during period of hostilities is date of individual's death where there is evidence that insured disappeared while actively participating in combat or under comparable conditions, that he was not accounted for as prisoner of war or as parolee or internee, that there was no subsequent official or other information as to his existence subsequent to his disappearance, that his family received no information as to his whereabouts subsequent to his disappearance, or after restoration of normal conditions, that since termination of hostilities and/or declaration of peace no intelligence has been received which would rebut inference of death arising from facts; however, when evidence is insufficient to indicate probability of death as of definite date, date of death is date 7 years after unexplained absence. 1953 ADVA 929

3. Rebuttal of presumption

Beneficiary is not precluded from introducing evidence, such as insured's frail health and disability and other relevant facts, from which jury might conclude that insured's presumed death occurred at earlier date, when policy was in force, since statute does not purport to create conclusive presumption that insured died at end of seven-year period. Peak v United States (1957) 353 US 43, 1 L Ed 2d 631, 77 S Ct 613

Although presumption is that insured died immediately upon expiration of period of seven years, evidence may be adduced to rebut that presumption and show the true date of death. United States v Willhite (1955, CA4 NC) 219 F.2d 343

Presumption of death of insured from evidence of his disappearance in 1919 and issuance of letters of administration thereon in 1929, is overcome by evidence that he enlisted under assumed name and that some time after his said disappearance, he resumed his real name and in 1923 became married and was seen alive and well in 1928; thus, evidence failed to establish death of insured. Swanson v United States (1933, DC NY) 3 F Supp 813

Appellant was not entitled to presume that first wife was dead, for purposes of having Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] recognize second wife as spouse for Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] benefits, since RO interviewed both appellant and first wife and found that it was veteran who abandoned first wife, not reverse; therefore, he could not presume she was dead at time he married second wife. Brillo v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 102

4. Miscellaneous

Claim for proceeds of national service life insurance policy filed by beneficiary of insured who disappeared in 1943, and who, because continuously and unexplanationly absent since his disappearance, is, under predecessor to 38 USCS § 108, presumed dead as of 1950, should be considered as including lesser claim that, because of his total and permanent disability at time of his disappearance, insured was entitled to waiver of premiums provided for in predecessor to 38 USCS § 1912, where beneficiary alleges that insured was so disabled, and claim for insurance proceeds is made within one year subsequent to presumed date of insured's death and thus complies with requirement of § 1912 that premium waiver claims be made within one year of death. Peak v United States (1957) 353 US 43, 1 L Ed 2d 631, 77 S Ct 613

BVA's findings that veteran's third marriage was invalid under Philippine law was supported by record showing that he wed third wife only six years after his second wife became absent and he did not believe his second wife was dead at time he remarried; presumption of death was also not applicable since absence of second wife was not unexplained and there was no diligent search to ascertain her existence. § 109. Benefits for discharged members of allied forces

(a) (1) In consideration of reciprocal services extended to the United States, the Secretary, upon request of the proper officials of the government of any nation allied or associated with the United States in World War I (except any nation which was an enemy of the United States during World War II), or in World War II, may furnish to discharged members of the armed forces of such government, under agreements requiring reimbursement in cash of expenses so incurred, at such rates and under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, medical, surgical, and dental treatment, hospital care, transportation and traveling expenses, prosthetic appliances, education, training, or similar benefits authorized by the laws of such nation for its veterans, and services required in extending such benefits. Hospitalization in a Department facility shall not be afforded under this section, except in emergencies, unless there are available beds surplus to the needs of veterans of this country. The Secretary may also pay the court costs and other expenses incident to the proceedings taken for the commitment of such discharged members who are mentally incompetent to institutions for the care or treatment of the insane.

   (2) The Secretary, in carrying out the provisions of this subsection, may contract for necessary services in private, State, and other Government hospitals.

   (3) All amounts received by the Department as reimbursement for such services shall be credited to the current appropriation of the Department for which expenditures were made under this subsection.

(b) Persons who served in the active service in the armed forces of any government allied with the United States in World War II and who at time of entrance into such active service were citizens of the United States shall, by virtue of such service, and if otherwise qualified, be entitled to the benefits of chapters 31 and 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq. and 3701 et seq.] in the same manner and to the same extent as veterans of World War II are entitled. No such benefit shall be extended to any person who is not a resident of the United States at the time of filing claim, or to any person who has applied for and received the same or any similar benefit from the government in whose armed forces he served.

(c) (1) Any person who served during World War I or World War II as a member of any armed force of the Government of Czechoslovakia or Poland and participated while so serving in armed conflict with an enemy of the United States and has been a citizen of the United States for at least ten years shall, by virtue of such service, and upon satisfactory evidence thereof, be entitled to hospital and domiciliary care and medical services within the United States under chapter 17 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] to the same extent as if such service had been performed in the Armed Forces of the United States unless such person is entitled to, or would, upon application thereof, be entitled to, payment for equivalent care and services under a program established by the foreign government concerned for persons who served in its armed forces in World War I or World War II.

   (2) In order to assist the Secretary in making a determination of proper service eligibility under this subsection, each applicant for the benefits thereof shall furnish an authenticated certification from the French Ministry of Defense or the British War Office as to records in either such Office which clearly indicate military service of the applicant in the Czechoslovakian or Polish armed forces and subsequent service in or with the armed forces of France or Great Britain during the period of World War I or World War II.

1. Generally
2. Benefits available
3. Disqualifications
4. Payment of benefits to survivors
5. Service in particular forces

1. Generally
Question whether particular service is active military or naval service of any government allied with the United States in World War II is question of fact in individual case to be determined by either examination of record or report from proper agency of government of nation with which United States was allied in World War II. 1946 ADVA 698

Eligibility under statute providing like benefits for American veterans and certain veterans of allied armies is dependent upon service in active military or naval forces of government which declared war or maintained state of war against common enemies and was allied with United States in World War II, whether such country fought declared or de facto war; such service between September 16, 1940 and July 25, 1947 is basis for determining eligibility; during this time claimant's government must have been at war with common enemies, and any service performed at time when such government was at war with United States or its allies is excluded in determining eligibility. 1947 ADVA 770

2. Benefits available
Benefits provided for under Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 (38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.) are not same, nor are they similar to, "war service gratuity" and "re-establishment credit" apparently paid in cash to claimant by Canadian government under Canadian law. 1946 ADVA 717
3. Disqualifications

Citizen of United States, who is veteran of Royal Canadian Air Force, is not entitled to benefits otherwise available under Federal law where he is presently receiving benefits under Canadian law. 1946 ADVA 719

Veteran's discharge from Royal Canadian Air Force is merely change of status, and therefore veteran's discharge under dishonorable conditions from United States Armed Forces is bar to receipt of benefits on basis of his service in Royal Canadian Air Force. 1948 ADVA 782

Unremarried widow of person who served in military or naval forces of government allied with United States in World War II is not, by virtue of his service, eligible for benefits under statute providing such benefits on equal basis with American veterans or those otherwise entitled. 1950 ADVA 851

Veteran of Canadian Armed Forces receiving pension from Canadian Government and pursuing full-time institutional training under Federal law is entitled to vocational rehabilitation funds under statute providing same support for persons who served in active military or naval service of any government allied with United States in World War II as provided for persons who served in active military or naval service of United States. 1948 ADVA 790

Persons who served in irregular (guerrilla) forces of nations allied with United States in World War II are not within purview of statute providing like benefits for American veterans and certain veterans of other nations, and are not brought within its purview by legislation of foreign government retroactively conferring active duty status on such irregular service. 1949 ADVA 817

Appellant who was injured while he was 13-year old civilian citizen of Hungary following instructions of Russian Army officer, and who later moved to U.S. and became naturalized citizen, was not eligible for benefits under statute since he did not serve with allied government and was not U.S. citizen at time of injury. § 110. Preservation of disability ratings

A rating of total disability or permanent total disability which has been made for compensation, pension, or insurance purposes under laws administered by the Secretary, and which has been continuously in force for twenty or more years, shall not be reduced thereafter, except upon a showing that such rating was based on fraud. A disability which has been continuously rated at or above any evaluation for twenty or more years for compensation purposes under laws administered by the Secretary shall not thereafter be rated at less than such evaluation, except upon a showing that such rating was based on fraud. The mentioned period shall be computed from the date determined by the Secretary as the date on which the status commenced for rating purposes.

Prior law and revision:

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XXII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162:

Former 38 USC § 746 (Act March 17, 1954, ch 100, 68 Stat. 29).

Amendments:
1962. Act Oct. 15, 1962 (effective as provided by § 7 of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), inserted "The mentioned period shall be computed from the date determined by the Administrator as the date on which the status commenced for rating purposes."

1964. Act Aug. 19, 1964, in the section catchline, deleted "total" following "Preservation of"; in the section, inserted "A disability which has been continuously rated at or above any percentage for twenty or more years for compensation purposes under laws administered by the Veterans' Administration shall not thereafter be rated at less than such percentage, except upon a showing that such rating was based on fraud.".

1991. Act Aug 6, 1991, substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" and "administered by the Secretary" for "administered by the Veterans' Administration".

Other provisions:

Effective date of amendments made by Act Oct. 15, 1962. Act Oct. 15, 1962, P. L. 87-825, § 7, 76 Stat. 950, provides: "This Act [amending this section and 38 USCS §§ 1115, 1159, 5110, 5112; adding 38 USCS § 5310; repealing 38 USC §§ 3004, 3011] shall take effect on the first day of the second calendar month which begins after the date of enactment of this Act, but no payments shall be made by reason of this Act for any period before such effective date. Payments for any period before such effective date shall be made under prior laws and regulations. The provisions of this Act with respect to reductions and discontinuances shall be applicable only where the event requiring such reduction or discontinuance occurs on or after such effective date. If such event occurred before such effective date, action shall be taken pursuant to the prior laws and regulations."

1. Generally
   Twenty-year period under predecessor to 38 USCS § 110 begins to run from date on which rating decision of total disability or permanent total disability is signed by member of appropriate Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] Rating Board. 1954 ADVA 942

2. Relationship with other laws
   Renouncement of compensation pursuant to 38 USCS § 5306 extinguishes entitlement and protection of disability rating under 38 USCS § 110. VA GCO 5-83

3. Application
   Rating of permanent and total disability reduced or discontinued prior to effective date of legislation insulating such rate is not protected thereby, unless it is established that reduction was in error and that permanent total disability actually continued to exist subsequent to effective date of such statute. 1954 ADVA 943

   Veteran rated as permanently and totally disabled whose award is suspended prior to expiration of 20-year period because of his disappearance is not considered to have had rating of permanent total disability continuously in force for 20 or more years under predecessor to 38 USCS § 110, and is not entitled to protection of such statute unless Veterans' Administration subsequently finds such veteran was permanently and totally disabled continuously over said 20-year period. 1955 ADVA 954

Elements upon which adjudicator might conclude that rating was based on fraud are (1) knowledge of facts upon which payments are based, (2) knowledge of change in circumstances, (3) knowledge that change removes eligibility for some or all of compensation being paid (4) failure to advise agency of change with actual intention of receiving or obtaining payments or of obtaining increased payments, and (5) actual receipt or retention of payments or increased payments as consequence of intentional failure to disclose. VA GCO 4-85

§ 111. Payments or allowances for beneficiary travel

(a) Under regulations prescribed by the President pursuant to the provisions of this section, the Secretary may pay the actual necessary expense of travel (including lodging and subsistence), or in lieu thereof an allowance based upon mileage traveled, of any person to or from a Department facility or other place in connection with vocational rehabilitation, counseling required by the Secretary pursuant to chapter 34 or 35 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3451 et seq. or 3500 et seq.], or for the purpose of examination, treatment, or care. In addition to the mileage allowance authorized by this section, there may be allowed reimbursement for the actual cost of ferry fares, and bridge, road, and tunnel tolls.

(b) (1) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section and notwithstanding (g)(2)(A) of this section or any other provision of law, if, with respect to any fiscal year, the Secretary exercises the authority under this section to make any payments, the Secretary shall make the payments provided for in this section to or for the following persons for travel during such fiscal year for examination, treatment, or care for which the person is eligible:

(A) A veteran or other person whose travel is in connection with treatment or care for a service-connected disability.
(B) A veteran with a service-connected disability rated at 30 percent or more.
(C) A veteran receiving pension under section 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1521].
(D) A veteran (i) whose annual income (as determined under section 1503 of this title [38 USCS § 1503]) does not exceed the maximum annual rate of pension which would be payable to such veteran if such veteran were eligible for pension under section 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1521], or (ii) who is determined, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, to be unable to defray the expenses of the travel for which payment under this section is claimed.

(E) Subject to paragraph (3) of this subsection, a veteran or other person whose travel to or from a Department facility is medically required to be performed by a special mode of travel and who is determined under such regulations to be unable to defray the expenses of the travel for which payment under this section is claimed.

(F) A veteran whose travel to a Department facility is incident to a scheduled compensation and pension examination.

(2) The Secretary may make payments provided for in this section to or for any person not covered by paragraph (1) of this subsection for travel by such person for examination, treatment, or care. Such payments shall be made in accordance with regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe.

(3) (A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, the Secretary shall not make payments under this section for travel performed by a special mode of travel unless (i) the travel by such mode is medically required and is authorized by the Secretary before the travel begins, or (ii) the travel by such mode is in connection with a medical emergency of such a nature that the delay incident to obtaining authorization from the Secretary to use that mode of travel would have been hazardous to the person's life or health.

(B) In the case of travel by a person to or from a Department facility by special mode of travel, the Secretary may provide payment under this section to the provider of the transportation by special mode before determining the eligibility of such person for such payment if the Secretary determines that providing such payment is in the best interest of furnishing care and services. Such a payment shall be made subject to subsequently recovering from such person the amount of the payment if such person is determined to have been ineligible for payment for such travel.

(c) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the Secretary, in making a payment under this section to or for a person described in subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of subsection (b)(1) of this section for travel for examination, treatment, or care, shall deduct from the amount otherwise payable an amount equal to $3 for each one-way trip.

(2) In the case of a person who is determined by the Secretary to be a person who is required to make six or more one-way trips for needed examination, treatment, or care, during the remainder of the calendar month in which the determination is made or during any subsequent calendar month during the one-year period following the last day of the month in which the determination is made, the amount deducted by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection from payments for trips made to or from such facility during any such month shall not, except as provided in paragraph (5) of this subsection, exceed $18.

(3) No deduction shall be made pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection in the case of a person whose travel to or from a Department facility is performed by a special mode of travel for which payment under this section is authorized under subsection (b)(3) of this section.

(4) The Secretary may waive the deduction requirement of paragraph (1) of this subsection in the case of the travel of any veteran for whom the imposition of the deduction would cause severe financial hardship. The Secretary shall prescribe in regulations the conditions under which a finding of severe financial hardship is warranted for purposes of this paragraph.

(5) Whenever the Secretary increases or decreases the rates of allowances or reimbursement to be paid under this section, the Secretary shall, effective on the date on which such increase or decrease takes effect, adjust proportionately the dollar amounts specified in paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection as such amounts may have been increased or decreased pursuant to this paragraph before such date.

(d) Payment of the following expenses or allowances in connection with vocational rehabilitation, counseling, or upon termination of examination, treatment, or care, may be made before the completion of travel:

(1) The mileage allowance authorized by subsection (a) of this section.
(2) Actual local travel expenses.
(3) The expense of hiring an automobile or ambulance, or the fee authorized for the services of a nonemployee attendant.

(e) When any person entitled to mileage under this section requires an attendant (other than an employee of the Department) in order to perform such travel, the attendant may be allowed expenses of travel upon the same basis as such person.

(f) The Secretary may provide for the purchase of printed reduced-fare requests for use by veterans and their authorized attendants when traveling at their own expense to or from any Department facility.

(g) (1) In carrying out the purposes of this section, the Secretary, in consultation with the Administrator of General Services, the Secretary of Transportation, the Comptroller General of the United States, and representatives of organizations of veterans, shall conduct periodic investigations of the actual cost of travel (including lodging and subsistence) to beneficiaries while traveling to or from a Department facility or other place pursuant to the provisions of this section, and the estimated cost of alternative modes of travel, including public transportation and the operation of privately owned vehicles. The Secretary shall conduct such investigations immediately following any alteration in the rates described in paragraph (3)(C) of this subsection, and, in any event, immediately following the enactment of this subsection [enacted Oct. 21, 1976] and not less often than annually thereafter, and based thereon, shall determine rates of allowances or reimbursement to be paid under this section.

(2) In no event shall payment be provided under this section--

(A) unless the person claiming reimbursement has been determined, pursuant to regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe, to be unable to defray the expenses of such travel (except with respect to a person receiving benefits for or in connection with a service-connected disability under this title, a veteran receiving or eligible to receive pension under section 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1521], or a person whose annual income, determined in accordance with section 1503 of this title [38 USCS § 1503], does not exceed the maximum annual rate of pension which would be payable to such person if such person were eligible for pension under section 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1521];
(B) to reimburse for the cost of travel by privately owned vehicle in any amount in excess of the cost of such travel by public transportation unless (i) public transportation is not reasonably accessible or would be medically inadvisable, or (ii) the cost of such travel is not greater than the cost of public transportation; and (C) in excess of the actual expense incurred by such person as certified in writing by such person.

(3) In conducting investigations and determining rates under this section, the Secretary shall review and analyze, among other factors, the following factors:

(A) (i) Depreciation of original vehicle costs;
(ii) gasoline and oil costs;
(iii) maintenance, accessories, parts, and tire costs;
(iv) insurance costs; and
(v) State and Federal taxes.
(B) The availability of and time required for public transportation.
(C) The per diem rates, mileage allowances, and expenses of travel authorized under sections 5702 and 5704 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 5702 and 5704] for employees of the United States.

(4) Before determining rates or adjusting amounts under this section and not later than sixty days after any alteration in the rates described in paragraph (3)(C) of this subsection, the Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Senate a report containing the rates and amounts the Secretary proposes to establish or continue with a full justification therefor in terms of each of the limitations and factors set forth in this section.

(h) The Secretary, in consultation and coordination with the Secretary of Transportation and appropriate representatives of veterans' service organizations, shall take all appropriate steps to facilitate the establishment and maintenance of a program under which such organizations, or individuals who are volunteering their services to the Department, would take responsibility for the transportation, without reimbursement from the Department, to Department facilities of veterans (primarily those residing in areas which are geographically accessible to such facilities) who seek services or benefits from the Department under chapter 17 [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] or other provisions of this title.

Prior law and revision:

§ 114. Multiyear procurement

(a) The Secretary may enter into a multiyear contract for the procurement of supplies or services if the Secretary makes each of the following determinations:

(1) Appropriations are available for obligations that are necessary for total payments that would be required during the fiscal year in which the contract is entered into, plus the estimated amount of any cancellation charge payable under the contract.

(2) The contract is in the best interest of the United States by reason of the effect that use of a multiyear, rather than one-year, contract would have in--

(A) reducing costs;

(B) achieving economies in contract administration or in any other Department activities;

(C) increasing quality of performance by or service from the contractors; or

(D) encouraging effective competition.

(3) During the proposed contract period--

(A) there will be a continuing or recurring need for the supplies or services being procured;

(B) there is not a substantial likelihood of substantial changes in the need for such supplies or services in terms of the total quantity of such supplies or services or of the rate of delivery of such supplies or services; and

(C) the specifications for the supplies or services are expected to be reasonably stable.

(4) The risks relating to the prospective contractor's ability to perform in accordance with the specifications and other terms of the contract are not excessive.

(5) The use of a multiyear contract will not inhibit small business concerns in competing for the contract.

(6) In the case of the procurement of a pharmaceutical item for which a patent has expired less than four years before the date on which the solicitation of offers is issued, there is no substantial likelihood that increased competition among potential contractors would occur during the term of the contract as the result of the availability of generic equivalents increasing during the term of the contract.

(b) (1) A multiyear contract authorized by this section shall contain--

(A) a provision that the obligation of the United States under the contract during any fiscal year which is included in the contract period and is subsequent to the fiscal year during which the contract is entered into is contingent on the availability of sufficient appropriations (as determined by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (2)(A) of this subsection) if, at the time the contract is entered into, appropriations are not available to cover the total estimated payments that will be required during the full term of the contract; and

(B) notwithstanding section 1502(a) of title 31 [31 USCS § 1502(a)], a provision for the payment of reasonable cancellation charges to compensate the contractor for nonrecurring, unrecovered costs, if any, if the performance is cancelled pursuant to the provision required by subparagraph (A) of this paragraph.

(2) (A) If, during a fiscal year after the fiscal year during which a multiyear contract is entered into under this section, the Secretary determines that, in light of other funding needs involved in the operation of Department programs, the amount of funds appropriated for such subsequent fiscal year is not sufficient for such contract, the Secretary shall cancel such contract pursuant to the provisions required by paragraph (1)(A) of this subsection.

(B) Cancellation charges under a multiyear contract shall be paid from the appropriated funds which were originally available for performance of the contract or the payment of cancellation costs unless such funds are not available in an amount sufficient to pay the entire amount of the cancellation charges payable under the contract. In a case in which such funds are not available in such amount, funds available for the procurement of supplies and services for use for the same purposes as the supplies or services procured through such contract shall be used to the extent necessary to pay such cost.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed so as to restrict the Secretary's exercise of the right to terminate for convenience a contract under any other provision of law which authorizes multiyear contracting.

(d) The Secretary shall prescribe regulations for the implementation of this section.

(e) For the purposes of this section:
(1) The term "appropriations" has the meaning given that term in section 1511 of title 31 [31 USCS § 1511].
(2) The term "multiyear contract" means a contract which by its terms is to remain in effect for a period which extends beyond the end of the fiscal year during which the contract is entered into but not beyond the end of the fourth fiscal year following such fiscal year. Such term does not include a contract for construction or for a lease of real property.
(3) The term "nonrecurring, unrecovered costs" means those costs reasonably incurred by the contractor in performing a multiyear contract which (as determined under regulations prescribed under subsection (d) of this section) are generally incurred on a one-time basis.

Amendments:
1989. Act Dec. 18, 1989, substituted the section catchline for one which read: "§ 114. Multiyear procurement for certain medical items"; in subsec. (a), in the introductory matter, deleted "for use in Veterans' Administration health-care facilities" following "services"; in subsec. (b)(2)(A), deleted "health-care" following "Administration" and in subsec. (e), deleted para. (2) which read: "The term 'cancel' or 'cancellation' refers to the termination of a contract by the Administrator as required under paragraph (2)(B)(i) of this subsection." and redesignated paras. (3) and (4) as paras. (2) and (3), respectively.

(2) The Committee shall submit to the two Secretaries and to Congress an annual report containing such recommendations as the Committee considers appropriate.

(d) Functions. In order to enable the Committee to make recommendations in its annual report under subsection (c)(2), the Committee shall do the following:
(1) Review existing policies, procedures, and practices relating to the coordination and sharing of resources between the two Departments.
(2) Identify changes in policies, procedures, and practices that, in the judgment of the Committee, would promote mutually beneficial coordination, use, or exchange of use of services and resources of the two Departments, with the goal of improving the quality, efficiency and effectiveness of the delivery of benefits and services to veterans, service members, military retirees, and their families through an enhanced Department of Veterans Affairs and Department of Defense partnership.
(3) Identify and assess further opportunities for the coordination and collaboration between the Departments that, in the judgment of the Committee, would not adversely affect the range of services, the quality of care, or the established priorities for benefits provided by either Department.
(4) Review the plans of both Departments for the acquisition of additional resources, especially new facilities and major equipment and technology, in order to assess the potential effect of such plans on further opportunities for the coordination and sharing of resources.

(5) Review the implementation of activities designed to promote the coordination and sharing of resources between the Departments.

I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally

Regulations are intended to create uniform system for determining Veterans Administration's obligations, which system operates to displace inconsistent state law. United States v Shimer (1961) 367 US 374, 6 L Ed 2d 908, 81 S Ct 1554

Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit reviewed regulations promulgated by Department of Veterans Affairs pursuant to Veterans Claims Assistance Act of 2000 (VCAA), Pub. L. No. 106-475, 114 Stat. 2096 (codified in scattered sections of 38 USCS) and with exception of one regulation, 38 C.F.R. § 3.159(b)(1), which was inconsistent with VCAA, and therefore invalid, regulations regarding claims procedures under 38 C.F.R. §§ 3.156 and 1.159 were affirmed as regulations were not on their face arbitrary, capricious, and contrary to various statutory provisions. Paralyzed Veterans of Am. v Sec'y of Veterans Affairs (2003, CA FC) 345 F.3d 1334 (superseded by statute as stated in Detviler v Principi (2005, US) 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 328)

38 USCS §§ 210(c) (now repealed) and 621 (now § 1721), authorizing Administrator [now Secretary] to prescribe rules and regulations, contemplated only rules and regulations implementing powers given Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] by law. Texas Employers Ins. Asso. v United States (1975, ND Tex) 390 F Supp 142

2. Limitations upon rulemaking authority

No regulation can be promulgated to lessen obligation of government or to curtail benefits it contracts to pay. Lynch v United States (1934) 292 US 571, 78 L Ed 1434, 54 S Ct 840 (overlt in part as stated in Pro-Eco v Board of Comm'rs (1995, CA7 Ind) 57 F.3d 505, 26 ELR 20445)

Fact that 38 USCS § 5904(c) did not prohibit payments by disinterested fee payers did not mean that Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) could not regulate payments by such fee payers; DVA was authorized to issue rules governing conduct of third-party fee payers where those rules were designed to prevent circumvention of statutory prohibition against attorney fee payments made by claimant or from funds intended for benefit of claimant. Carpenter v Sec'y of Veterans Affairs (2003, CA FC) 343 F.3d 1347

Regulations conferring rights inconsistent with import of statute cannot be given effect. Nordberg v United States (1931, DC Mont) 51 F.2d 271
Regulation adding longer suspension of statute of limitations than provided in statute, is invalid. Harrop v United States (1935, DC Neb) 10 F Supp 753

Although former 38 USCS § 210(c)(1) was broad grant of authority to Administrator [now Secretary] to promulgate necessary or appropriate rules and regulations to carry out laws administered by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], regulations had to be consistent with laws they sought to carry out and former 38 USCS § 210 contemplated that Administrator [now Secretary] would promulgate only those regulations which implemented powers given him by Congress, and he could not issue regulations on matters which had not been delegated to him; Administrator [now Secretary] could ask Congress to enact necessary legislation related to veterans' affairs, but he could not legislate himself. Wayne State University v Cleland (1977, ED Mich) 440 F Supp 811, affd in part and revd in part on other grounds (1978, CA6 Mich) 590 F.2d 627

General rulemaking authority in 38 USCS § 501 was basically indistinguishable from that found in 42 USCS § 405(a), which Supreme Court held did not contain any express authority allowing Commissioner of Social Security to engage in retroactive rulemaking; granting retroactive effect to 38 CFR § 3.22 would have taken away appellant's right to 38 USCS § 1318 adjudication under "hypothetically entitled to receive" theory, and thus, she was entitled to pursue her § 1318 dependency and indemnity compensation claim based on that theory. Rodríguez v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 275, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 523

3. Relationship of regulations with state laws

Under predecessor to former 38 USCS § 210, which authorized Veterans' Administrator [now Secretary] to promulgate regulations, Administrator [now Secretary] was authorized to displace state law by adoption of regulations stating exclusive procedures regarding obligations of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] as guarantor of veterans' mortgages; hence, Veterans' Administrator [now Secretary] was authorized to adopt regulations displacing state statute which provided that mortgagee who purchases mortgaged property at foreclosure sale cannot recover deficiency judgment unless and until mortgagee obtains court determination of fair market value of property and credits that amount to unsatisfied liability, failing which debtor and guarantor are permanently discharged. United States v Shimer (1961) 367 US 374, 6 L Ed 2d 908, 81 S Ct 1554

Regulations promulgated by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] pursuant to former 38 USCS § 210(c), providing for assignment of state workmen's compensation claim to Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], in compensation for treatment in hospital of veteran with compensable claim, prevailed over state law precluding assignment of workmen's compensation claims; Supremacy Clause of Constitution, Article VI, cl. 2 prevails. Texas Employers' Ins. Asso. v United States (1978, CA5 Tex) 569 F.2d 874, cert den (1978) 439 US 826, 58 L Ed 2d 119, 99 S Ct 98

Order of director [now Secretary] as to commissions of guardians was merely expressive of desire, and not positive prohibition which would limit power of state probate court. Keating v Hession (1930) 272 Mass 212, 172 NE 111

4. Force and effect of regulations

Regulations promulgated by Administrator [now Secretary] have force of law when not inconsistent with statute and when appropriate to carry out laws administered by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]. Sawyer v United States (1926, CA2 NY) 10 F.2d 416

II. PARTICULAR REGULATIONS

6. Definitions

7. Forms

Regulations requiring claimants to furnish statements in support of their claim, when requested, on forms provided by administration [now Department], were proper. Burgett v United States (1935, CA7 Ill) 80 F.2d 151, 104 ALR 167

8. Disability standards

It was not within power of director [now Secretary] to make regulation which provided that loss of one hand and one eye was to be deemed total permanent disability. Miller v United States (1935) 294 US 435, 79 L Ed 977, 55 S Ct 440, reh den (1935) 294 US 734, 79 L Ed 1262, 55 S Ct 635

9. Insurance

Regulation which provided that loss of hand and eye should be deemed total permanent disability under yearly renewable term insurance was invalid. Miller v United States (1935) 294 US 435, 79 L Ed 977, 55 S Ct 440, reh den (1935) 294 US 734, 79 L Ed 1262, 55 S Ct 635

Regulation requiring that changes of beneficiary must be attested and recorded with bureau [now Department] was valid. United States v Napoleon (1924, CA5 Fla) 296 F 811

Regulation requiring that insurance of one who, in writing, requested its discontinuance remain in force throughout grace period he would have had if he had not made request is valid. Baker v United States (1928, CA5 Tex) 24 F.2d 766

Reasonable regulations, adopted after certificate of war risk insurance has issued, form part of contract. Ross v United States (1931, CA5 Tex) 49 F.2d 541

10. Disability benefits

Word "continuously" meant reasonable regularity, and if insured was able to follow gainful occupation only spasmodically with frequent interruptions due to disability, he was entitled to recover, question of total and permanent disability being for jury. Ford v United States (1930, CA1 Mass) 44 F.2d 754

Word "continuously" as used in administrator's [now Secretary's] regulation meant reasonable regularity, and fact that insured worked for substantial period was not conclusive against him, and medical testimony as to permanent case of disability was not determinative of question, which was for jury if there was substantial evidence of disability. Carter v United States (1931, CA4 NC) 49 F.2d 221

Under insurance regulation which defines total disability as any impairment which renders it impossible for disabled person to follow continuously any substantially gainful occupation, word "continuously" should not be interpreted in its absolute sense, but reasonably and relatively interpreted, having in mind object which Congress intended. United States v Dougherty (1931, CA7 Ill) 54 F.2d 721; United States v Crain (1933, CA7 Ill) 63 F.2d 528
Regulation of director [now Secretary] providing that government would not be liable for disability arising before policy was applied for could not be given effect in view of incontestability statute subsequently enacted. Hicks v United States (1933, CA4 Va) 65 F.2d 517

Requirement in 38 C.F.R. § 3.304(f) (2002), of “credible supporting evidence” of claimed in-service stressor is valid exercise by Secretary of Veterans Affairs of his 38 USCS § 501(a)(1) authority to promulgate regulations as to “nature and extent of proof and evidence” necessary to

11. Death benefits

Manual for Adjudication Procedure for Death Benefits, which was validly promulgated pursuant to former 38 USCS § 210(c), to execute policy of limiting assignments to close relatives of insured decedent, was binding in dispute between persons claiming to be beneficiaries.
Alford v United States (1973, ND Ohio) 369 F Supp 1339

12. Educational benefits

Since Congress mandated 12 semester hour minimum for all undergraduate students who seek to obtain full-time veterans' benefits, Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] was merely including Congressional mandate in its regulations by requiring 12 semester hours and was not exceeding its statutory authority. Merged Area X (Education) v Cleland (1979, CA8 Iowa) 604 F.2d 1075

13. Appeals

Provision that order of administrator [now Secretary] of November 13, 1931, fixing period of limitation for appeals from decisions of insurance claims council, was to be given effect as of November 1, 1931, had to be disregarded, because such order could not be given retroactive effect. Lopez v United States (1936, CA4 NC) 82 F.2d 982

§ 502. Judicial review of rules and regulations

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

An action of the Secretary to which section 552(a)(1) or 553 of title 5 [5 USCS § 552(a)(1) or 553] (or both) refers (other than an action relating to the adoption or revision of the schedule of ratings for disabilities adopted under section 1155 of this title [38 USCS § 1155]) is subject to judicial review. Such review shall be in accordance with chapter 7 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 701 et seq.] and may be sought only in the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. However, if such review is sought in connection with an appeal brought under the provisions of chapter 72 of this title [38 USCS §§ 7251 et seq.], the provisions of that chapter shall apply rather than the provisions of chapter 7 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 701 et seq.].

Explanatory notes:

A prior § 502 was transferred by Act Aug. 6, 1991, P. L. 102-83, § 5(a), 105 Stat. 406, and appears as 38 USCS § 1502.

§ 510. Authority to reorganize offices
(a) Except to the extent inconsistent with law, the Secretary may--
(1) consolidate, eliminate, abolish, or redistribute the functions of the Administrations, offices, facilities, or activities in the Department;
(2) create new Administrations, offices, facilities, or activities in the Department; and
(3) fix the functions of any such Administration, office, facility, or activity and the duties and powers of their respective executive heads.

(b) The Secretary may not in any fiscal year implement an administrative reorganization described in subsection (c) unless the Secretary first submits to the appropriate committees of the Congress a report containing a detailed plan and justification for the administrative reorganization. No action to carry out such reorganization may be taken after the submission of such report until the end of a 45-day period following the date of the submission of the report, not less than 30 days of which shall be days during which Congress shall have been in continuous session. For purposes of the preceding sentence, continuity of a session of Congress is broken only by adjournment sine die, and there shall be excluded from the computation of any period of continuity of session any day during which either House of Congress is not in session during an adjournment of more than three days to a day certain.

(c) An administrative reorganization described in this subsection is an administrative reorganization of a covered field office or facility that involves a reduction during any fiscal year in the number of full-time equivalent employees with permanent duty stations at such office or facility—

(1) by 15 percent or more; or
(2) by a percent which, when added to the percent reduction made in the number of such employees with permanent duty stations at such office or facility during the preceding fiscal year, is 25 percent or more.

(d) (1) Not less than 30 days before the date on which the implementation of any administrative reorganization described in paragraph (2) of a unit in the Central Office is to begin, the Secretary shall transmit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives a notification regarding the reorganization.

(2) Paragraph (1) applies to an administrative reorganization of any unit of the Central Office that is the duty station for 30 or more employees if the reorganization involves a reduction in any fiscal year in the number of full-time equivalent employees with permanent duty stations in such unit by 50 percent or more.

(e) For purposes of this section, the term "administrative reorganization" does not include a consolidation or redistribution of functions at a covered field office or facility, or between components of the Veterans Benefits Administration and the Veterans Health Administration at a Department medical and regional office center, if after the consolidation or redistribution the same number of full-time equivalent employees continues to perform the affected functions at that field office, facility, or center.

(f) For purposes of this section:

(1) The term "covered field office or facility" means a Department office or facility outside the Central Office that is the permanent duty station for 25 or more employees or that is a free-standing outpatient clinic.

(2) The term "detailed plan and justification" means, with respect to an administrative reorganization, a written report that, at a minimum, includes the following:

(A) Specification of the number of employees by which each covered office or facility affected is to be reduced, the responsibilities of those employees, and the means by which the reduction is to be accomplished.

(B) Identification of any existing or planned office or facility at which the number of employees is to be increased and specification of the number and responsibilities of the additional employees at each such office or facility.

(C) A description of the changes in the functions carried out at any existing office or facility and the functions to be assigned to an office or facility not in existence on the date that the plan and justification are submitted pursuant to subsection (b).

(D) An explanation of the reasons for the determination that the reorganization is appropriate and advisable in terms of the statutory missions and long-term goals of the Department.

(E) A description of the effects that the reorganization may have on the provision of benefits and services to veterans and dependents of veterans (including the provision of benefits and services through offices and facilities of the Department not directly affected by the reorganization).

(F) Estimates of the costs of the reorganization and of the cost impact of the reorganization, together with analyses supporting those estimates.

Explanatory notes:

Amendments:

1996. Act Oct. 9, 1996, in subsec. (b), substituted "a 45-day period following the date of the submission of the report, not less than 30 days of which shall be days during which Congress shall have been in continuous session" for "a 90-day period of continuous session of Congress following the date of the submission of the report" and substituted "any period of continuity of session" for "such 90-day period".

Other provisions:

"Section 210(b) of title 38, United States Code (as amended by subsection (a)) [now repealed; for similar provisions, see 38 USCS § 510], shall not apply to a reorganization of a unit of the Central Office of the Department of Veterans’ Affairs if the reorganization--

"(1) is necessary in order to carry out the provisions of or amendments made by this Act [for full classification of such Act, consult USCS Tables volumes]; and

"(2) is initiated within 6 months after the effective date of this Act.”.

Authorization of Secretary of Veterans Affairs to proceed with reorganization of regional field offices of Veterans Health Services and Research Administration. Act June 25, 1990, P. L. 101-312, 104 Stat. 271, provides:

"(a) The Secretary of Veterans Affairs may proceed with the administrative reorganization described in subsection (b) of this Act without regard to section 210(b) of title 38, United States Code [now repealed; for similar provisions, see 38 USCS § 510].

"(b) The administrative reorganization referred to in subsection (a) is the reorganization of the regional field offices of the Veterans Health Services and Research Administration of the Department of Veterans Affairs as that reorganization and related activity are described in (1) letters dated January 22, 1990, and the detailed plan and justification enclosed therewith, submitted by the Secretary to the Committees on Veterans’ Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives pursuant to such section 210(b) [now repealed; for similar provisions, see 38 USCS § 510], and (2) letters dated April 17, 1990, submitted in supplementation thereof by the Secretary to such Committees.”.

Authority of the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to carry out specified administrative reorganization. Act June 13, 1991, P. L. 102-54, § 12, 105 Stat. 273, provides:

"(a) Authority for administrative reorganization. The Secretary of Veterans Affairs may carry out the administrative reorganization described in subsection (b) without regard to section 210(b)(2) of title 38, United States Code [now repealed; for similar provisions, see 38 USCS § 510].

"(b) Specified reorganization. Subsection (a) applies to the organizational realignment of management responsibility for the Department of Veterans Affairs Data Processing Centers, together with the corresponding organizational realignment of associated Information...
Resources Management operational components and functions within the Department of Veterans Affairs central office, as such realignment was described in the detailed plan and justification submitted by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs in January 4, 1991, letters to the Chairmen of the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives.”.

§ 511. Decisions of the Secretary; finality

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) The Secretary shall decide all questions of law and fact necessary to a decision by the Secretary under a law that affects the provision of benefits by the Secretary to veterans or the dependents or survivors of veterans. Subject to subsection (b), the decision of the Secretary as to any such question shall be final and conclusive and may not be reviewed by any other official or by any court, whether by an action in the nature of mandamus or otherwise.

(b) The second sentence of subsection (a) does not apply to--

(1) matters subject to section 502 of this title [38 USCS § 502];

(2) matters covered by sections 1975 and 1984 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1975 and 1984];

(3) matters arising under chapter 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.]; and

(4) matters covered by chapter 72 of this title [38 USCS §§ 7251 et seq.].

1. Generally

Action against administrator [now Secretary] of veterans affairs was properly dismissed for lack of jurisdiction, decisions of administrator [now Secretary] being final under statute. Magnus v United States (1956, CA7 Ill) 234 F.2d 673, cert den (1957) 352 US 1006, 1 L Ed 2d 551, 77 S Ct 569

Except with regard to life insurance programs, decision of Administrator [now Secretary] of any question of law or fact may not be reviewed by any official or court of United States by action in nature of mandamus or otherwise. Fermin v Army Board for Correction of Military Records (1963, CA9 Cal) 312 F.2d 552; Barefield v Byrd (1963, CA5 Miss) 320 F.2d 455, cert den (1964) 376 US 928, 11 L Ed 2d 624, 84 S Ct 675

By enactment of former 38 USCS § 211, Congress expressly deprives courts of jurisdiction to decide merits of claim. Fritz v Director of Veterans Administration (1970, CA9 Cal) 427 F.2d 154

Court had no jurisdiction to review Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision accorded finality under former 28 USCS § 211, unless agency acted without statutory authority or veteran was denied constitutional right. Holley v United States (1972, SD Ohio) 352 F Supp 175, affd without op (1973, CA6 Ohio) 477 F.2d 600, cert den (1973) 414 US 1023, 38 L Ed 2d 314, 94 S Ct 446

Decisions of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] were fully isolated from judicial review by former 38 USCS § 211, at least in absence of action so egregiously discriminatory and procedurally unfair as to require judicial re-examination of constitutionality of statute. Cieliczka v Johnson (1973, ED Mich) 363 F Supp 453

Petitioner did not show that decision by Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) General Counsel (GC) to terminate petitioner's accreditation under 38 USCS § 5904(b) was decision under law that affected provision of benefits by Secretary of Veterans Affairs to veterans or dependents or survivors of veterans under 38 USCS § 511(a); accordingly, it was not matter subject to review by Board of Veterans' Appeals, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(a), and was thus not matter over which court had jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252(a); therefore, veteran's petition for writ of mandamus ordering Secretary to provide statement of case was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. Bates v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 443, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 50, revd, remanded (2005, CA FC) 398 F.3d 1355

2. Constitutionality

Provision of former 38 USCS § 211 that decisions of Administrator [now Secretary] not be subject to review by courts was not unconstitutional. Milliken v Gleason (1964, CA1 RI) 332 F.2d 122, cert den (1965) 379 US 1002, 13 L Ed 2d 703, 85 S Ct 723

Preclusion of judicial review under former 38 USCS § 211(a) was not unconstitutional. Rosen v Walters (1983, CA9 Cal) 719 F.2d 1422

Finality provision of former 38 USCS § 211 did not deprive claimants of due process of law by judge and jury, since veterans' benefits were gratuities, to which recipients had no vested right. Rodulfa v United States (1972, App DC) 149 US App DC 154, 461 F.2d 1240, 18 ALR Fed 890, cert den (1972) 409 US 949, 34 L Ed 2d 220, 93 S Ct 270; Sager v Johnson (1972, DC Md) 342 F Supp 351

Provision of former 38 USCS § 211 as to conclusiveness of findings of director [now Secretary] was valid. Ex parte Rickell's Estate (1930) 158 Md 654, 149 A 446

Eighth Amendment challenge to 38 USCS § 511 must fail, where Seventh Circuit previously affirmed district court's summary dismissal of equal protection challenge to statute, because § 511(a), as construed "to allow substantial constitutional challenges to veterans' benefits statutes and regulations, as well as to procedures established by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] to administer them," is clearly constitutional and its subject matter is not close to kind of considerations that violate Eighth Amendment. Marozsan v United States (1994, ND Ind) 849 F Supp 617, affd, motion den (1996, CA7 Ind) 90 F.3d 1284, reh, en banc, den (1996, CA7 Ind) 1996 US App LEXIS 23455 and cert den (1997) 520 US 1109, 137 L Ed 2d 317, 117 S Ct 1117

3. Purpose

Primary purposes of former 38 USCS § 211(a), were to insure that veterans' benefits claims would not burden courts and Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] with expensive and time-consuming litigation, and to insure that technical and complex determinations and applications of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] policy connected with veterans' benefits decisions would be adequately and uniformly made. Johnson v Robison (1974) 415 US 361, 39 L Ed 2d 389, 94 S Ct 1160 (criticized in Hall v United States Dep't Veterans' Affairs (1996, CA11 Fla) 85 F.3d 532, 9 FLW Fed C 1171) and (superseded by statute as stated in Menendez v United States (1999, DC Puerto Rico) 67 F Supp 2d 42)

By providing judicial review of Secretary's decisions in Federal Circuit, Congress intended to obviate Supreme Court's reluctance to construe statute as barring judicial review of substantial statutory and constitutional claims, and such judicial review provisions amply evinced Congress' intent to include all issues, even constitutional ones, necessary to decision which affects benefits in this exclusive appellate review scheme; although district courts continue to have jurisdiction to hear facial challenges of legislation affecting veteran's benefits, other constitutional and statutory claims must be pursued within appellate mill Congress established in VJRA. Larrabee v Derwinski (1992, CA2 Conn) 968 F.2d 1497 (criticized in Hall v United States Dep't Veterans' Affairs (1996, CA11 Fla) 85 F.3d 532, 9 FLW Fed C 1171)

4. Relationship with other laws

State statute construed by state courts as authorizing award of child support from veteran's disability benefits which were his sole income does not conflict with former 38 USCS § 211 since Congress intended veterans' disability benefits to be used in part to support veteran's family, under Supremacy Clause of U.S. Constitution (Art VI, Cl 2), statute was not preempted by former § 211 which stated that Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decisions regarding benefits were to be final and not subject to judicial review where former § 211 was not intended to allow Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] to make child support determinations contrary to determination of state courts. Rose v Rose (1987) 481 US 619, 95 L Ed 2d 599, 107 S Ct 2029

Under former 38 USCS § 211, judicial review of suit claiming that antidiscrimination provisions of 29 USCS § 794 of Rehabilitation Act of 1973 invalidated otherwise valid Veterans Administration's [now Department of Veterans Affairs] regulation purporting to deny extension of G. I. Bill educational benefits to certain alcoholics was not precluded, since text and legislative history of former § 211 provide no clear and convincing evidence of congressional intent to preclude such suits, notwithstanding that former § 211 generally bared judicial review of decisions, where, inter alia, 29 USCS § 794 was applicable to all federal agencies, enforcement of § 794 is not exclusive domain of agency, there is no challenge to agency's construction of any veterans' benefits statute, and judicial review of such suit would not undermine purposes of former § 211. Traynor v Turnage (1988) 485 US 535, 99 L Ed 2d 618, 108 S Ct 1372, 1 ADD 469, 2 AD Cas 214, 46 CCH EPD ¶ 37924 (superseded by statute as stated in Larrabee v Derwinski (1992, CA2 Conn) 968 F.2d 1497) and (superseded by statute as stated in Menendez v United States (1999, DC Puerto Rico) 67 F Supp 2d 42)

Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951 (65 Stat. 33) did not, by granting gratuitous indemnity, create contract right in serviceman, but rather made provision for pension for payment of which government had not consented to be sued, and decision of board of appeal was final and conclusive and not subject to review by any court of United States. Turner v United States (1956, CA8 Ark) 237 F.2d 700

Administrator [now Secretary] is not bound to follow provisions of Administrative Procedure Act [5 USCS §§ 1001 et seq. Barefield v Byrd (1963, CA5 Miss) 320 F.2d 455, cert den (1964) 376 US 928, 11 L Ed 2d 624, 84 S Ct 675

Statute takes precedence over general provision providing for judicial review of administrative action except so far as statutes preclude judicial review or agency action is committed to agency's discretion by law. Brewer v United States (1954, DC Tenn) 117 F Supp 842
Court of Federal Claims does not have jurisdiction to review denial of veterans' benefits, because 38 USCS § 511(a) precludes judicial review of veterans' benefits determinations in Court of Federal Claims, 38 USCS § 7252(a) provides that exclusive remedy for denial of veterans' benefits is to appeal to Court of Veterans Appeals, and jurisdiction for appeals from Court of Veterans Appeals lies exclusively in U.S. Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit (38 USCS § 7292). Davis v United States (1996) 36 Fed Cl 556

5. Retroactive application

Former 38 USCS § 211 was applicable even though appeal of Administrator's [now Secretary's] decision was perfected prior to date of enactment of former § 211. Van Horne v Hines (1941) 74 App DC 214, 122 F.2d 207, cert den (1941) 314 US 689, 86 L Ed 552, 62 S Ct 360, reh den (1942) 314 US 717, 86 L Ed 570, 62 S Ct 478

Inclusion in 1970 amendment to this statute of effective date October 17, 1940, evidenced unmistakable intent that statute be applied retroactively, and as so applied to bar recovery of fees by attorneys who successfully represented plaintiffs in actions to reinstate benefits prior to enactment of 1970 amendment; such bar did not violate attorneys' due process rights. Rodulfa v United States (1972, App DC) 149 US App DC 154, 461 F.2d 1240, 18 ALR Fed 890, cert den (1972) 409 US 949, 34 L Ed 2d 220, 93 S Ct 270

1970 amendment to former 38 USCS § 211(a), although retroactive to October 17, 1940, did not affect final, unappealable judgments. Daylo v Administrator of Veterans' Affairs (1974, App DC) 163 US App DC 251, 501 F.2d 811

1970 amendment to former 38 USCS § 211(a) pertained to all judgments to extent that they remained non-final at effective date of amendment; thus, dismissal in de Rodulfa was restricted to attorney's fees only, since Administrator [now Secretary] restricted appeal in that case to issue of attorney's fees. Dampitan v Administrator of Veterans Affairs (1974, App DC) 170 US App DC 115, 516 F.2d 708

6. Conclusiveness of prior state court determinations

State court judgment determining right to administration of estate of deceased holder of war risk policy is not subject to collateral attack in any other court. Cuff v United States (1933, CA9 Cal) 64 F.2d 624, cert den (1933) 290 US 676, 78 L Ed 583, 54 S Ct 96

Decision of state court as to rights of veteran under contract of war risk insurance was not res judicata binding on director of bureau [now Secretary] in his administration under federal statutes. Hines v Starnes (1928, Dist Col App) 58 App DC 219, 26 F.2d 997

7. Conclusiveness of prior federal court determinations

Judgment of Federal Court of Appeals as to disability of veteran was not binding on Administrator [now Secretary] in determining right to compensation. Kalasanckas v Hines (1930, Dist Col App) 59 App DC 217, 38 F.2d 389, cert den (1930) 282 US 837, 75 L Ed 744, 51 S Ct 29

Administrator [now Secretary] could review award of benefits based on finding of permanent disability and discontinue payment of such award when he no longer believes disability to exist, even though court originally directed payment of benefits. United States ex rel. Wilkinson v Hines (1934, Dist Col App) 64 App DC 5, 73 F.2d 514

II. MAINTENANCE OF PARTICULAR ACTIONS

A. In General

8. Generally

Beneficiary of life insurance granted under Servicemen's Indemnity Act, to whom veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] had refused to pay proceeds upon death of insured soldier, could maintain action in federal district court for recovery thereof. Miller v United States (1954, DC Mo) 124 F Supp 203
Broad language of former 38 USCS § 211 required courts to decline judicial review and to dismiss action brought by patients at Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital for lack of subject matter jurisdiction as to all statutory claims, including those based upon §§ 504 and 505 of Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 USCS §§ 794 and 794a) and Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (42 USCS §§ 600 et seq.). Falter v Veterans' Admin. (1980, DC NJ) 502 F Supp 1178

In suit by plaintiffs, on behalf of individuals who participated in activities associated with atomic weapons test detonations, against various past and present government officials, employees, and contractors alleging violation of constitutional rights by concealing medical records and other information necessary to obtain disability, medical, and other compensation, district court had subject matter jurisdiction and suit was not barred by 38 USCS § 511 because plaintiffs did not seek benefits determination under § 511, but raised issue of access to courts. Broudy v Mather (2004, DC Dist Col) 335 F Supp 2d 1

9. Damage actions

Civil damage action alleging that doctor caused defamatory psychiatric report to be placed in veteran's file, which was later used to deny him veteran's benefits, was barred by former 38 USCS § 211. Ross v United States (1972, CA9 Cal) 462 F.2d 618, cert den (1972) 409 US 984, 34 L Ed 2d 249, 93 S Ct 326, reh den (1973) 409 US 1118, 34 L Ed 2d 703, 93 S Ct 897

Privacy Act (5 USCS § 552) claim for damages based upon allegations that agency destroyed medical records pertinent to plaintiff's disability claim was barred by former 38 USCS § 211(a). Rosen v Walters (1983, CA9 Cal) 719 F.2d 1422

Veteran's state tort action brought against Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] physician under Federal Tort Claims Act was properly dismissed by district court for lack of subject matter jurisdiction since it would have necessitated consideration of issues of law and fact involving decision to reduce veteran's benefits, which is review specifically precluded by 38 USCS § 511. Hicks v Small (1995, CA9 Nev) 69 F.3d 967, 95 CDOS 8232, 95 Daily Journal DAR 14206

Veteran's federal tort claim, alleging that negligent loss of his military medical records prevented his receipt of service-connected disability benefits, was precluded by former 38 USCS § 211(a), because former § 211(a) barred attempt through Federal Tort Claims Act (28 USCS §§ 1346 et seq.) to seek judicial review of decision to deny benefits. Quarles v United States (1990, DC Kan) 731 F Supp 428

Veteran cannot pursue his claim that Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] doctor attempted and for period of time succeeded in reducing his benefits in retaliation for his complaints to his congressman regarding care received at Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] medical center, because 38 USCS § 511 precludes federal District Court's exercise of jurisdiction over veteran's tort claim since to do so would involve judicial review of decision of Secretary of Department of Veterans Affairs regarding veteran's benefits. Hicks v Small (1993, DC Nev) 842 F Supp 407, affd (1995, CA9 Nev) 69 F.3d 967, 95 CDOS 8232, 95 Daily Journal DAR 14206

10. Mandamus actions

Mandamus would not lie to compel commissioner [now Secretary] to issue pension certificate, where he has decided that law did not entitle veteran to such certificate. United States ex rel. Dunlap v Black (1888) 128 US 40, 32 L Ed 354, 9 S Ct 12, 3 AFTR 2511

Except with regard to life insurance programs, decision of Administrator [now Secretary] of any question of law or fact could not be reviewed by any official or court of United States by action in nature of mandamus or otherwise. Fermin v Army Board for Correction of Military Records (1963, CA9 Cal) 312 F.2d 552; Barefield v Byrd (1963, CA5 Miss) 320 F.2d 455, cert den (1964) 376 US 928, 11 L Ed 2d 624, 84 S Ct 675

Mentally ill veteran's suit against Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] is not moot where he sued on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated and agency had not responded to mandamus issued upon it directing that veteran be provided psychological care. Taylor v United States (1974, ND Ill) 385 F Supp 1034

Award of compensation to veteran was discretionary with director [now Secretary], and if he did not exercise such power in arbitrary manner, mandamus would not issue to control his action. Hines v Welch (1928, Dist Col App) 57 App DC 371, 23 F.2d 979

Privileges conferred were subject to discretion of Administrator [now Secretary] to reconsider, set aside, or vacate either his own orders or those of his predecessors, and his action in that regard could not be controlled by mandamus. United States ex rel. Finley v Hines (1928, Dist Col App) 58 App DC 120, 25 F.2d 544

Mandamus would not control decisions of director [now Secretary] of bureau as to whether veteran had become permanently and totally disabled so as to be entitled to benefits of war risk insurance. Hines v Starnes (1928, Dist Col App) 58 App DC 219, 26 F.2d 997

Determination by Director [now Secretary] that retired enlisted man of regular Army was not entitled to pay of retired emergency officer, was not subject to review by mandamus. United States ex rel. Bowling v Hines (1931, Dist Col App) 60 App DC 180, 50 F.2d 330

B. Actions Raising Constitutional Issues

11. Constitutionality of statute

Prohibition of former 38 USCS § 211(a) against judicial review of decisions of the Administrator [now Secretary] did not deprive Federal District Court of jurisdiction of suit challenging constitutionality of the statutory scheme restricting educational benefits under the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 (38 USCS §§ 3451 et seq. to veterans who served on active duty, thus denying benefits to conscientious objects who performed required alternative civilian service, since former § 211(a) did not bar judicial consideration of constitutional challenges to veterans' benefits legislation. Hernandez v Veterans' Administration (1974) 415 US 391, 39 L Ed 2d 412, 94 S Ct 1177

Provisions of former 38 USCS § 211(a) precluded judicial review of action of Administrator of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], even when veteran alleged that Administrator [now Secretary] acted unconstitutionally and action was for damages, although judicial review would not be precluded if constitutional attack were directed to statutes underlying veterans' benefits program. Anderson v Veterans Admin. (1977, CA5 La) 559 F.2d 935

Prohibitions of former 38 USCS § 211 against review did not preclude review of claim that involved constitutional issue rather than mere challenge to administrator's [now Secretary] decision; thus, claim of class of student veterans which asserted that procedures used by agency to suspend and terminate class members' educational assistance payments violated procedural due process was reviewable under former § 211. Devine v Cleland (1980, CA9) 616 F.2d 1080

Former 38 USCS § 211(a) did not preclude judicial review of constitutional challenges to provisions of veterans' benefits legislation and regulations issued thereunder or of challenges to Administrator's [now Secretary] authority to promulgate regulations. Evergreen State College v Cleland (1980, CA9 Wash) 621 F.2d 1002

Although former 38 USCS § 211 prohibited review of decisions of Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs on any questions of law or fact, and it was not intended to permit judicial review of determinations and interpretations of agency policies, there is no congressional statutory intent to preclude judicial cognizance of constitutional challenge to statute proscribing payment of benefits to veteran who asserts denial of "equal protection." Criminal Injuries Compensation Bd. v Gould (1975) 273 Md 486, 331 A2d 55 (superseded by statute as stated in McGee v Criminal Injuries Compensation Bd. (1984) 57 Md App 143, 469 A2d 470)

Although provisions of former 38 USCS § 211(a) limited jurisdiction of District Court over matters which involved approving of veteran's educational benefits, District Court was not precluded from inquiry into constitutionality of amendment to veteran's benefit legislation.

Former 38 USCS § 211 did not deprive court of jurisdiction to review plaintiff's claims, where subject matter of claims was agency's constitutional and statutory authority to enforce its retroactive billing regulations. American Federation of Government Employees v Nimmo (1982, ED Va) 536 F Supp 707, affd in part and vacated in part on other grounds (1983, CA4 Va) 711 F.2d 28

Court lacked jurisdiction to review final decision of Board of Veteran Appeals where disability claimant attempted to characterize her claim as constitutional challenge and alleged she was denied due process by not being allowed a hearing before Board, because claimant was represented by counsel at practically every critical stage of her proceedings and in fact was granted hearing. Dyer v Walters (1986, ED Mo) 646 F Supp 791

Veteran's suit against Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] alleging improper discontinuation of benefits was dismissed, because (1) veteran failed to exhaust administrative remedies by appealing decision to Board of Veterans Appeals, and (2) court was precluded by former 38 USCS § 211(a) from reviewing agency decision relating to benefits since veteran was really attacking application of statute rather than its constitutionality. Secretary of Labor v Turnage (1987, DC Puerto Rico) 657 F Supp 1033

Court would address veteran's constitutional arguments, even though substance of veteran's complaint was attempt to have court review questions of law and fact as applied to his particular reduction in disability percentage, because veteran proposed novel constitutional argument that beneficiary's right to due process was violated if Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] initiates constitutionally adequate process of reevaluation. Tietjen v United States Veteran's Admin. (1988, DC Ariz) 692 F Supp 1106, affd (1989, CA9 Ariz) 884 F.2d 514

12. Constitutionality of regulations

Former 38 USCS § 211(a) did not preclude criminal court's jurisdiction to review plaintiffs' challenge to Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] guidelines under which plaintiffs, employees of agency, were billed for medical care provided by agency hospitals, where action is not aimed at review of denial of benefits, but rather at constitutional and statutory authority of agency to enforce its retroactive billing regulations. American Federation of Government Employees v Nimmo (1982, ED Va) 536 F Supp 707, affd in part and vacated in part on other grounds (1983, CA4 Va) 711 F.2d 28

Former section 211(a) did not bar review of quasi-legislative actions of Administrator [now Secretary]; thus, suits challenging authority to promulgate regulations were not barred by former § 211(a). Hartmann v United States (1985, ED NY) 615 F Supp 446

Court review of constitutionality of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] regulation and its application to particular case was permissible under former 38 USCS § 211(a), where veteran and his wife challenged erratic pattern of dispositions which reduced veteran's disability rate without affording him a hearing; regulation allowing action affecting benefits against veteran who failed to report to medical examination was only constitutionally applied where veteran received hearing and opportunity to establish adequate reasons for noncompliance, and agency acted irresponsibly by reducing benefits of veteran for not attending medical exam when it was obvious from record that schizophrenic, paranoid veteran could not be forced to attend exam by sending letters to his wife. Zayas v Veterans Admin. (1987, DC Puerto Rico) 666 F Supp 361

13. Administrative determinations and practices

Provisions of former 38 USCS § 211(a) precluded judicial review of action of Administrator of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], even when veteran alleged that Administrator [now Department of Veterans Affairs] acted unconstitutionally and action is for damages, although judicial review would not be precluded if constitutional attack were directed to statutes underlying veterans' benefits program. Anderson v Veterans Admin. (1977, CA5 La) 559 F.2d 935

Bar to judicial reviewability imposed by former 38 USCS § 211(a) could not be overcome by alleging deprivation of property interest in form of benefits claimed. Durant v United States (1985, CA11 Fla) 749 F.2d 1554.

Federal District Court had subject matter jurisdiction to hear veteran's constitutional due process challenge to Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] procedures in terminating veteran's educational benefits without appropriate notice while veteran was incarcerated, since constitutional procedural challenge was significantly different in substance and effect from challenges to Administrator's [now Secretary's] decisions regarding entitlement to veterans benefits which were not subject to federal court review under former 38 USCS § 211. Mathes v Hornbarger (1987, CA7 Ind) 821 F.2d 439.

Former 38 USCS § 211 did not bar judicial review of veteran's constitutional claim that arbitrary quota system employed by agency to grant disability benefits violated due process, since veteran's claims sought more than benefits, they seek review of procedures employed by administrator [now Secretary] to reach decisions. Marozsan v United States (1988, CA7 Ind) 852 F.2d 1469.

Veteran's suit alleging constitutional rights' violations by agency and seeking over $27 million in damages could not be construed as anything more than request for judicial review of agency's decision to deny him disability benefits in absence of specific allegation of any particular constitutional violation. Deloria v Veterans Admin. (1991, CA7 Wis) 927 F.2d 1009, reh den (1991, CA7 Wis) 1991 US App LEXIS 7836.

District Court lacked jurisdiction to pass on validity of Administrator's [now Secretary] 1952 determination terminating monthly disability compensation benefits in favor of World War II Veteran, and to pass on question of whether Administrator's [now Secretary] action was consistent with due process constitutional requirement, where record showed that veteran ignored invitation to present evidence at pretermination hearing and was granted four posttermination hearings on his claim for restoration of benefits. Langston v Johnson (1973, App DC) 156 US App DC 5, 478 F.2d 915.

Action was not maintainable against United States for declaratory judgment that veteran's induction into army constituted taking of his body and its earning power, his private property, for public use, for which he was entitled to just compensation to be determined by jury in view of injuries sustained in combat which rendered him totally unable to follow any gainful occupation. Commers v United States (1946, DC Mont) 66 F Supp 943, affd (1947, CA9 Mont) 159 F.2d 248, cert den (1947) 331 US 807, 91 L Ed 1828, 67 S Ct 1189.

Allegation of constitutional infirmity in particular administrative action was not sufficient basis for avoiding effect of former 38 USCS § 211 and permitting judicial review of decision of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]. Cieliczka v Johnson (1973, ED Mich) 363 F Supp 453.

Former 38 USCS § 211(a) did not prohibit review by federal court of veteran's constitutional attack on Veterans' Administration's [now Department of Veterans Affairs'] refusal to provide pretermination hearing in connection with suspending veterans' pension benefits since veteran did not seek review of decision of Administrator [now Secretary] on question of law or fact under law providing benefits for veterans but rather seeks constitutional review of generally applicable procedural policy. Plato v Roudebush (1975, DC Md) 397 F Supp 1295.

Provisions of former 38 USCS § 211(a) did not preclude judicial review of constitutional questions arising from Administrator's [now Secretary] interpretation of limits of his authority in promulgating regulations; Congress could, consistent with Constitution, withdraw from judicial scrutiny administrative decisions which were "discretionary" or which involved "privileges" and not deprivations of liberty or property by extrajudicial action, but former 38 USCS § 211 should not be construed as attempt to insulate from judicial review decisions of Administrator [now Secretary].
Secretary) as to scope of his authority, as this would make Administrator [now Secretary] sole judge of lawfulness of regulations he had enacted, and call into question constitutionality of former 38 USCS § 211(a); provisions of former § 211(a) precluded court from taking jurisdiction of questions involving decision of Administrator [now Secretary] in interpretation of application of particular provision of statute to particular set of facts. Wayne State University v Cleland (1977, ED Mich) 440 F Supp 806

Claim that Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] acted unreasonably in not processing Vietnam veteran's application for benefits in timely manner thereby denying veteran equal protection of law and depriving him of property without due process of law appeared to fit within exception to jurisdictional bar of former 38 USCS § 211(a). Arnolds v Veterans' Admin. (1981, ND Ill) 507 F Supp 128

Former 38 USCS § 211(a) did not bar judicial review of constitutional challenges to veterans' benefits legislation but it did bar courts from considering action by veteran alleging discriminatory practices in treatment of drug addicted patients at Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] Hospital, since plaintiff was challenging medical and rehabilitative decisions of administrators, not congressional act. Pettus v Veterans Admin. Hospital (1981, ED Pa) 517 F Supp 656, 33 BNA FEP Cas 903

Former section 211(a) barred suit to require Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] to provide diagnostic testing and correct treatment for filariasis in Vietnam veterans notwithstanding contention that World War II veterans received care for filariasis and that unequal treatment for Vietnam veterans violated their right to equal protection under Constitution. Hartmann v United States (1985, ED NY) 615 F Supp 446

III. REVIEWABILITY OF PARTICULAR DETERMINATIONS

A. Benefit Determinations

1. In General

14. Generally

Decisions of director [now Secretary] upon right to compensation were final and conclusive and not subject to judicial review, unless they were wholly unsupported by evidence, wholly dependent upon question of law, or clearly arbitrary or capricious. Silberschein v United States (1924) 266 US 221, 69 L Ed 256, 45 S Ct 69 (superseded by statute as stated in New York v Eadarso (1996, ED NY) 946 F Supp 240); Armstrong v United States (1926, CA8 Iowa) 16 F.2d 387; Smith v United States (1936, CA8 Ark) 83 F.2d 631

Decisions of veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] upon questions concerning pensions, compensation allowances and special privileges, all of which are gratuities, were final and not subject to judicial review. United States v Robinson (1939, CA9 Cal) 103 F.2d 713

Former 38 USCS § 211(a) did not preclude District Court review of challenge to Administrator's [now Secretary] interpretation of his authority under 38 USCS § 3101(a) [now 38 USCS § 5301(a)], since litigation did not involve veterans' benefits claims. University of Maryland v Cleland (1980, CA4 Md) 621 F.2d 98

Complaint which sought benefits which had been claimed and denied failed to state valid claim for relief since applicant for benefits could not challenge disposition of his claim because administrator's [now Secretary] decisions of law or fact concerning administration of benefits were not subject to judicial review; one could not circumvent former 38 USCS § 211 by seeking damages on constitutional claim arising out of denial of benefits. Pappanikolaou v Administrator of Veterans Admin. (1985, CA2) 762 F.2d 8, cert den (1985) 474 US 851, 88 L Ed 2d 124, 106 S Ct 150

District Court did not have jurisdiction to review decision of administrator [now Secretary], as it is final, since veteran benefits are mere gratuities and not matter of right; Congress did not intend any appeal from decision of administrator [now Secretary]. Slocumb v Gray (1949, App DC) 86 US App DC 5, 179 F.2d 31

Judicial review of use by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] of certain documents and methodologies to help determine claims of injury from exposure to radiation during military service was precluded by former 38 USCS § 211. Gott v Walters (1985, App DC) 244 US App DC 193, 756 F.2d 902, reh gr, en banc, vacated (1985, App DC) 253 US App DC 1, 791 F.2d 172

Even if veteran appeals only ultimate question of entitlement to benefits, 38 USCS § 511(a) and 38 USCS § 7104(a) authorize Board of Veterans' Appeals to make final decision on behalf of Secretary regarding whether new and material evidence has been presented by veteran; although regional office determined veteran had presented new and material evidence to warrant reopening of claim, Board did not err in ruling that veteran had failed to present new and material evidence, even though veteran only appealed regional office's determination that disability was not service connected. Jackson v Principi (2001, CA FC) 265 F.3d 1366

On petition for review of certain regulations promulgated by Secretary of United States Department of Veterans Affairs (Secretary) filed by veterans organizations, 38 C.F.R. § 19.9(a)(2), in conjunction with 38 C.F.R. § 20.1304, was invalid because it was inconsistent with requirement of 38 USCS § 7104(a) that all questions in matter which was subject to decision by Secretary under 38 USCS § 511(a) should be subject to one review on appeal to Secretary, 38 C.F.R. § 19.9(a)(2)(ii) was invalid because it was contrary to 38 USCS § 5103(b), which provided claimant one year to submit evidence, but remaining challenged provisions were not arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law under 5 USCS § 706(2)(A) because 38 C.F.R. § 19.31 did not conflict with 38 C.F.R. § 3.103, 38 C.F.R. § 20.903 was not contrary to 38 USCS § 5103, and 38 C.F.R. § 20.1304's requirement for good cause and ninety-day response period does not conflict with 38 USCS § 5103's notice and time limitations. Disabled Am. Veterans v Sec'y of Veterans Affairs (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1339

Federal District Courts, which possess only such jurisdiction as Congress may confer upon them by statute, were expressly precluded by former 38 USCS § 211(a), from reviewing factual or legal determinations made by Administrator [now Secretary] providing benefits for veterans, dependents or survivors; nonreview clause of former 38 USCS § 211(a) was intended to insure that veterans' benefits claims would not burden courts and Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] with expensive and time-consuming litigation, and to insure that technical and complex determinations and application of Veterans' Administration policy connected with veterans' benefits decisions would be adequately and uniformly made. Wexler v Roudebush (1977, ED Pa) 443 F Supp 31

Claims against Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] were improperly removed to federal court because former 38 USCS § 211(a) provides that federal courts had no jurisdiction to hear challenges to benefits. Woodward v Turnage (1986, ED Mo) 646 F Supp 219

Court lacked jurisdiction to review Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision regarding pro se plaintiff's effort to obtain benefits, because former 38 USCS § 211(a) specifically prohibited judicial review of benefit decisions. Bactong v United States Veterans Admin. (1987, DC Dist Col) 663 F Supp 10

Veterans' challenge to Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] implementation of Gramm-Rudman-Hollings federal deficit reduction directive was dismissed, because to extent plaintiffs (1) sought review of individual benefit reductions, or (2) attack on nonconstitutional grounds any "decisions of Veterans Administrator [now Secretary] on any question of law or fact," no jurisdiction existed for ordinary judicial review under former 38 USCS

Court lacked subject matter jurisdiction over plaintiff veteran's claims under Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 USCS §§ 2671 et seq., and over alleged constitutional violations and other claims, that were based on defendant Department of Veterans' Affairs' alleged failure to inform veteran of diagnosis and to offer treatment, because claims amounted to request that court review adequacy of medical attention provided to veteran and, therefore, were barred by 38 USCS § 511. Thomas v Principi (2003, DC Dist Col) 265 F Supp 2d 35, aff'd in part and revd in part, remanded, request den (2005, App DC) 394 F.3d 970

15. Eligibility for benefits

Denial by veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] of claim for gratuitous indemnity for son who died in active duty in service was final and federal district court must dismiss suit of mother for lack of jurisdiction, for there was no provision in Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951 authorizing suits against United States on claims for gratuitous indemnity. Cyrus v United States (1955, CA1 Mass) 226 F.2d 416

Since court lacked jurisdiction over determination of veteran's benefits, it could not be compelled to consider and render judgment on validity of claim or evidence pertaining thereto. Carter v Register (1963, CA8 ND) 316 F.2d 226

Veteran's argument that district court's refusal to apply claim preclusion to his action under Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 USCS § 2671 et seq., resulted in impermissible judicial review of Department of Veterans Affairs' disability determinations in violation of 38 USCS § 511 failed because veteran had not shown how adverse decision in FTCA could possibly have had any effect on benefits he had already been awarded, and without any diminution of his entitlement to disability benefits, there was no way in which decision on merits of veteran's FTCA claim amounted to judicial review of 38 USCS § 1151 proceedings. Littlejohn v United States (2003, CA9 Nev) 321 F.3d 915, cert den (2003) 540 US 985, 157 L Ed 2d 377, 124 S Ct 486

Because adjudicating claim that Department of Veteran's Affairs (VA) committed medical malpractice when it failed to inform veteran that VA doctor had diagnosed veteran with schizophrenia would not require district court to review question necessary to decision under law that affected provision of benefits, district court erred in dismissing complaint. Thomas v Principi (2005, App DC) 394 F.3d 970

Decision of Administrator [now Secretary] that deceased veteran was honorably discharged from United States Army at his own request upon ground of alienage and, therefore, was not entitled to adjusted service certificate or to loan on security of such certificate, was controlling against veteran's estate, upon validity and allowance of claim. United States v Gudewicz (1942, DC NY) 45 F Supp 787

Former 38 USCS § 211 precluded judicial review of claim alleging that Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] wrongfully withheld veterans' benefits. Sager v Johnson (1972, DC Md) 342 F Supp 351

Federal court was without jurisdiction to hear veteran's claim of improper denial of medical benefits since Administrator [now Secretary], through his own regulation, made decision under 38 USC § 101(2) that veteran's discharge because of homosexuality was dishonorable. Kiser v Johnson (1975, MD Pa) 404 F Supp 879

Disabled veteran's action against Secretary of Veterans Affairs is dismissed, where veteran alleged that Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) violated his constitutional and statutory rights by improperly setting his disability rating at 50 percent and refusing to revise that rating, because 38 USCS § 511 precludes the court from reviewing VA determinations of benefit awards or of disability ratings. Sugrue v Derwinski (1992, ED NY) 808 F Supp 946, affd (1994, CA2 NY) 26 F.3d 8, cert den (1995) 515 US 1102, 132 L Ed 2d 254, 115 S Ct 2245

Veteran's action seeking $10.4 billion from Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) for denial of his civil rights must fail, where veteran claims department has refused to provide him medical benefits to which he is entitled, because he is essentially seeking judicial review of VA determination regarding his eligibility for benefits, which is precluded by 38 USCS § 511(a). Marsh v Department of Veterans Affairs (1995, ND W Va) 921 F Supp 360, affd without op (1996, CA4 W Va) 77 F.3d 469, reported in full (1996, CA4 W Va) 1996 US App LEXIS 2188 and cert den (1996) 517 US 1226, 134 L Ed 2d 960, 116 S Ct 1861

Veteran seeking Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] payment of his medical bills must fail, where state seeks to recover portion of his hospital bill from veteran, because review of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] determination not to award benefits to veteran is expressly precluded by 38 USCS § 511(a). New York v Eadarso (1996, ED NY) 946 F Supp 240

Board had jurisdiction to decide whether veteran was entitled to fee-basis medical care since implementing regulation regarding Board's jurisdiction specifically states that Board has jurisdiction to review eligibility for outpatient treatment. Meakin v West (1998) 11 Vet App 183

16. -Eligibility date

Decision of Administrator [now Secretary] became "final and conclusive" and district court lacked jurisdiction to review that decision, where based on "Difference of Opinion" under 38 C.F.R. 3.105(b), corrective action was taken in widow's claim for dependency and indemnity compensation benefits, previously and finally disallowed, but reopened by Administrator [now Secretary] who decided to allow benefits, effective as of later date under 38 USCS § 3010(a) [now 38 USCS § 5310(a)]. Sibonga v Administrator of Veterans Affairs (1972, App DC) 147 US App DC 370, 458 F.2d 789, cert den (1972) 409 US 952, 34 L Ed 2d 224, 93 S Ct 298, reh den (1972) 409 US 1068, 34 L Ed 2d 521, 93 S Ct 564

Action challenging determination of Administrator of Veterans Administration [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] that aunt of deceased veteran, who stood in loco parentis to veteran, was not entitled to retroactive dependency and indemnity compensation for death of nephew, would be dismissed, notwithstanding complaint alleges violation of due process and conflict between statute and pertinent regulation, where denial of retroactive benefits was not based on challenged regulation but rather on findings as to factual time claim was filed, since former 38 USCS § 211 precludes court review of decisions of Administrator [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] on questions of law or fact. Brooks v Cleland (1982, ED Mich) 531 F Supp 103

Air Force veteran's claim seeking retroactivity of service-incurred disability benefits was dismissed for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction, because veteran's challenge involved application of statutory provision and regulation to particular set of facts—technical matter within particular expertise of agency—which former 38 USCS § 211(a) precluded court from reviewing. Mozur v Turnage (1990, ED Pa) 729 F Supp 27, affd without op (1990, CA3 Pa) 908 F.2d 963

17. Termination of benefits

Action, seeking declaration that forfeiture was void, could not be maintained by veteran whose benefits had been forfeited for alleged fraud. Milliken v Gleason (1964, CA1 RI) 332 F.2d 122, cert den (1965) 379 US 1002, 13 L Ed 2d 703, 85 S Ct 723

Judicial review of Administrator's [now Secretary's] decision to terminate certain vocational training benefits, was barred by former 38 USC § 211(a), since benefits, which were made available by 38 USCS 610 [now 38 USCS § 1710], were such as Administrator [now Secretary] could "furnish within limits of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] facilities" and were thus committed to agency discretion by law and by reason of 5 USCS 701(a)(2). Moore v Johnson (1978, CA9 Cal) 582 F.2d 1228
Judicial review of Administrator's [now Secretary] decision to relocate certain veterans receiving domiciliary care and to terminate certain vocational training benefits, was barred by former 38 USCS 211(a), since benefits, which were made available by 38 USCS 610 [now 38 USCS § 1710], were such as Administrator [now Secretary] could "furnish within limits of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] facilities" and were thus committed to agency discretion by law and by reason of 5 USCS 701(a)(2). Moore v Johnson (1978, CA9 Cal) 582 F.2d 1228

Mere fact that government made conclusive discretion of the administrator [now Secretary's] in granting benefit did not carry with it conclusiveness in discretion in taking it away retroactively. Hines v United States (1939) 70 App DC 206, 105 F.2d 85

Forfeiture of previously awarded pension benefits was not decision on claim, but action initiated by Administrator [now Secretary] to which former 38 USCS § 211 did not apply; although award of benefits pursuant to claim did not give veteran vested right in benefits, after claim had been allowed and benefits had been awarded, there was no longer mere claim which Administrator [now Secretary] could unreviewably reject if he chose because veteran was beneficiary and Administrator's [now Secretary's] subsequent termination of his benefits was not immune from judicial scrutiny. Tracy v Gleason (1967, App DC) 126 US App DC 415, 379 F.2d 469 (superseded by statute as stated in Carter v Cleland (1980, App DC) 207 US App DC 6, 643 F.2d 1) and (superseded by statute as stated in Gott v Walters (1985, App DC) 244 US App DC 193, 756 F.2d 902) and (superseded by statute as stated in Marozsan v United States (1988, CA7 Ind) 852 F.2d 1469)

Federal District Court had no jurisdiction to review decision of veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] that plaintiff was shown by evidence to be living as wife of third person, and had generally acquired reputation as such in community; accordingly, she could no longer be recognized as unmarried widow of deceased, former Philippine scout in United States army, and hence was not entitled to recover death compensation benefits as widow of deceased. Guzman v Gleason (1964, DC Dist Col) 234 F Supp 145

18. Recovery of payments

Predecessor to former 38 USCS § 211 did not preclude judicial review of evidentiary basis for government's claimed right to setoff overpayments of gratuitous benefits against national service life insurance dividends, since finality accorded Administrator's [now Secretary's] decisions by predecessor to former § 211 was limited to decisions denying claim for gratuitous benefits or declaring their forfeiture. Di Silvestro v United States (1968, CA2 NY) 405 F.2d 150

Administrator's [now Secretary's] determination of fraud upon which he acted retroactively to recover overpayments from veterans, was not a conclusive nature. Hines v United States (1939) 70 App DC 206, 105 F.2d 85

When agency took affirmative action against individual under former 38 USCS § 211, whether by bringing action to recover on asserted claim or by proceeding on its common-law right of set-off, validity of underlying basis of action became open to judicial scrutiny. De Magno v United States (1980, App DC) 205 US App DC 6, 636 F.2d 714

Whether or not pension payments or disability compensation erroneously received by veteran from veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] should be set off against salary payments due him from it was matter for administrative settlement through consideration and decision by administrator of veterans' administration [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] and not by courts. Egan v United States (1952) 123 Ct Cl 472, 112 F Supp 958

A debt asserted by the government was not a "claim for benefits" conferring on Administrator [now Secretary] final and conclusive jurisdiction under predecessor to former 38 USCS § 211. Hormel v United States (1954, DC NY) 123 F Supp 806

Provisions contained in former 38 USCS § 211 relating to finality of decisions of veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] were applicable solely to cases in which claim was presented against government, but did not extend to affirmative claims made by government to secure repayments. Gongora v United States (1960, DC Dist Col) 183 F Supp 872

In action by United States to recover educational assistance allowance paid to veteran who was allegedly not entitled to such money, court could decide whether veteran owed government notwithstanding provision of former 38 USCS § 211 purporting to deprive federal court of jurisdiction to review decision of Administrator [now Secretary] on veterans benefits. United States v Brandon (1984, WD NC) 584 F Supp 803

Former 38 USC § 211(a) did not preclude federal court from independently examining merits of controversy involving overpayment of veteran's benefits where Board of Veterans Appeals had already determined that debt was owed to government because of veteran's failure to report workers' compensation benefits. United States v Walls (1986, SD W Va) 633 F Supp 720

Decision of Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans' Affairs that decedent had never served in United States army or navy, that issuance of his discharge from army was error, and that amounts paid to him were erroneous and unlawful was controlling with respect to government's claim for refund filed against decedent's estate in state court. In re Rosa's Estate (1939) 172 Misc 808, 16 NYS2d 285

Administrator's [now Secretary's] erroneous and excessive award to one beneficiary at expense of fellow-beneficiary under war risk insurance policies was not final and conclusive determination under predecessor to 38 USCS § 211, thus allowing court to award set-off in favor of fellow-beneficiary. Day v Bradshaw (1939) 174 Va 105, 5 SE2d 514

19. Generally

Predecessor to former 38 USCS § 211, providing that decisions by the Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs were final and conclusive on all questions of law and fact, did not relate to war risk insurance but concerned only pensions, compensation allowances and special privileges to veterans and their dependents. Lynch v United States (1934) 292 US 571, 78 L Ed 1434, 54 S Ct 840 (ovrd in part as stated in Pro-Eco v Board of Comm'rs (1995, CA7 Ind) 57 F.3d 505, 26 ELR 20445)

20. Beneficiaries

Because automatic free insurance provided by Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951 (65 Stat. 33) created contract of insurance, claim for proceeds of such insurance was exempt from provisions of this section and serviceman's widow could obtain judicial review of veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] determination that soldier's mother was true beneficiary of his insurance. Wilkinson v United States (1957, CA2 NY) 242 F.2d 735, cert den (1957) 355 US 839, 2 L Ed 2d 51, 78 S Ct 52

21. Dividends

No-review clause did not preclude veteran from obtaining judicial review of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision that it had right to set off national service life insurance dividends against monies claimed to be due from veteran to United States as result of benefit payments made to veteran allegedly procured by fraud. Di Silvestro v United States (1968, CA2 NY) 405 F.2d 150

3. Other Particular Benefits

22. Pensions

Decisions of commissioner of pensions were not reviewable by United States Supreme Court. United States ex rel. Dunlap v Black (1888) 128 US 40, 32 L Ed 354, 9 S Ct 12, 3 AFTR 2511

Whatever may have been fact regarding deceased Civil War veteran's term of service insofar as pension claim was concerned, District Court was without jurisdiction to issue to Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs order to pay it, since Congress had denied judicial review of decisions of administrator [now Secretary] concerning claims for pensions. Snauffer v Stimson (1946, App DC) 81 US App DC 110, 155 F.2d 861

District Court had no jurisdiction to review decision of Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs denying pension to widow of World War I veteran. Cook v Higley (1956, App DC) 99 US App DC 180, 238 F.2d 41

Matter of ascertaining, determining, and certifying who is lawfully entitled to gratuity authorized to be bestowed on account of military service was confided to certain executive officers, and nowhere to judiciary; no right to pension is fixed until those officers declared it so, and if they decide against the right, there was no appeal from that decision except to Congress. Daily's Case (1881) 17 Ct Cl 144

Action against United States to recover sum for sickness incurred by veteran while on duty in Army, if maintainable at all, was for pension, and it could not be maintained in Court of Claims. Killian v United States (1946) 105 Ct Cl 393, 63 F Supp 748

Court of Claims did not have jurisdiction of claim for emergency officer's retirement pay, since jurisdiction to determine such claim was restricted to Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs. Peyton v United States (1951) 120 Ct Cl 722, 100 F Supp 823, cert den (1952) 343 US 909, 96 L Ed 1326, 72 S Ct 639

If plaintiff intended to sue defendants in their individual capacities for making him wait eight years before his pension benefits were reinstated and by delaying for another four years after reinstating his benefits before paying him back benefits for eight-year gap, he failed to state claim for which relief could be granted because comprehensive remedial structure of 38 USCS § 511 provided adequate remedy for constitutional violations and, thus, precluded Bivens claims. Murrhee v Principi (2005, CD Ill) 364 F Supp 2d 782

Plaintiff's action, challenging delay of his pension benefits was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction because, although district courts retained jurisdiction to review facial constitutional challenges to veterans' benefits statutes, 38 USCS § 511(a) effectively precluded district court review of veterans' benefits claims; further, plaintiff's complaint challenged agency's conduct and, therefore, claim could not be construed to raise facial constitutional challenge. Murrhee v Principi (2005, CD Ill) 364 F Supp 2d 782

Pensions are free gifts from government, and, where law provides that claims for pensions are to be finally determined by administrative officers, that is exclusive remedy. Corkum v Clark (1928) 263 Mass 378, 161 NE 912

23. Death benefits

Action against United States by natural mother of soldier to recover $10,000 payment under Servicemen's Indemnity Act, which amount had been awarded by veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] to soldier's aunt and uncle as persons standing in relationship of parents, was properly dismissed either as claim seeking judgment for money or as effort to review correctness of administrator's [now Secretary] action under Administrative Procedure Act (5 USCS §§ 1001 et seq.). Ford v United States (1956, CA5 Ga) 230 F.2d 533

Decision that death of veteran was due to service-related disability was subject to judicial review where determination of whether veteran died from service-connected disability or died from another cause while receiving benefits for service-connected disability affected whether widow's award for economic loss due to medical negligence during heart surgery could be set-off or whether future death benefits owing to widow could be withheld until amount of future death benefits owed to widow exceeded amount received as economic loss from court. Greenwood v United States (1988, CA5 Tex) 858 F.2d 1056

Widow and child of armed service member who died while stationed in Germany might not be precluded from seeking intermediate relief if lawful, even though then they might well hope that corrected Army record might warrant reconsideration by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] of service member's status and, in turn, their entitlement to benefits, notwithstanding that original purpose in initiating review of military record and bringing law suit was to qualify for veteran survivor's benefits, such purpose being contrary to bar against judicial review of Veteran Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] denial of benefits. Moore v Secretary of Army (1986, DC Conn) 627 F Supp 1538

Plaintiff's action, seeking reversal of Secretary of Veterans Affairs' determination that he is not due benefits as surviving spouse of veteran, is dismissed, because jurisdiction for this matter rests solely with Court of Veterans Appeals, so court lacks subject-matter jurisdiction. Pate v Department of Veterans Affairs (1995, MD Ala) 881 F Supp 553

Court lacked jurisdiction of Secretary's decision concerning survivor's benefits claim. Pena v Secretary, Dep't of Veterans Affairs (1991, CA) 944 F.2d 867

24. Disability payments

Director of Veterans' Bureau [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] was not shown to have acted arbitrarily in discontinuing compensation of disabled veteran by facts that, after allowing compensation, he discontinued it, although veteran's physical condition had become worse, as result of same causes for which compensation was originally made; or that he allowed for temporary partial disability when undisputed evidence showed that veteran was temporarily totally disabled, where it was not alleged that evidence showed such disability to have resulted from injury caused in line of duty; or that veteran was suffering from disability shown by entries in Adjutant General's office not to have existed at time of his entering service, and there was no cause therefor other than veteran's military service, these being matters bearing upon soundness of director's [now Secretary's] determination upon matter properly submitted to his judgment. Silberschein v United States (1924) 266 US 221, 69 L Ed 256, 45 S Ct 69 (superseded by statute as stated in New York v Eadarso (1996, ED NY) 946 F Supp 240)

Decision of Director of Veterans' Bureau [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] that applicant for reinstatement of lapsed insurance policy issued under War Risk Insurance Act of October 6, 1917 [40 Stat at L 398, chap 105], at time of making application was totally and permanently disabled, was not subject to review by courts. Meadows v United States (1930) 281 US 271, 74 L Ed 852, 50 S Ct 279, 73 ALR 310

Judicial review of denial of disability compensation claim was precluded by former 38 USCS § 211. Wickline v Brooks (1971, CA4 Va) 446 F.2d 1391, cert den (1972) 404 US 1061, 30 L Ed 2d 750, 92 S Ct 749, reh den (1972) 405 US 981, 31 L Ed 2d 257, 92 S Ct 1199

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] denial of claim for service-connected disability compensation was not subject to judicial review. Davis v United States (1971, CA5 Ga) 447 F.2d 959; Holley v United States (1972, SD Ohio) 352 F Supp 175, affd without op (1973, CA6 Ohio) 477 F.2d 600, cert den (1973) 414 US 1023, 38 L Ed 2d 314, 94 S Ct 446

Former 38 USCS § 211 did not deprive federal court of jurisdiction to hear veteran's claim that veteran was entitled to hearing prior to any future alteration or reduction of veteran's disability rating under Due Process Clause of U.S. Constitution, since veteran was not challenging decision of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] program but presented question of law arising under federal constitution regarding constitutionality of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] procedures. Winslow v Walters (1987, CA7 Wis) 815 F.2d 1114, 7 FR Serv 3d 967

Federal district court had no jurisdiction to review veteran's challenge of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision to deny veteran benefits on ground that veteran's mental disorder was not to service connected, since court lacks authority under former § 211 to review administrative decisions. Higgins v Kelley (1987, CA8 Minn) 824 F.2d 690 (criticized in Czerkies v United States Dep't of Labor (1996, CA7 Ill) 73 F.3d 1435)

District Court erred in ordering set off of disabled veteran's tort judgment according to provisions of 38 USCS § 351 [now 38 USCS § 1151], where Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] had determined that veteran's increased future disability benefits due to negligent medical treatment were covered by 38 USCS § 331 [now 38 USCS § 1131] which did not provide for cessation of future disability benefits, since former 38 USCS § 211 barred judicial review of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]
decision that veteran's future disability benefits were governed by 38 USCS § 331 [now 38 USCS § 1131], so that veteran's tort judgment was to be reduced by present value of veteran's expected future disability benefits in order to prevent double recovery. Cole v United States (1988, CA11 Ga) 861 F.2d 1261

Statute precluded judicial review of Administrator's [now Secretary] reduction of disability benefits, which challenged decision question of law or fact rather than constitutionality of Act of Congress. Tietjen v United States Veterans Admin. (1989, CA9 Ariz) 884 F.2d 514

Court lacked jurisdiction of veteran's action against Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] disputing his disability rating since none of exceptions to finality of Secretary's decisions listed in 38 USCS § 511(b) applied; neither Privacy Act nor Freedom of Information Act could be used as rhetorical cover to attack Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] benefits determinations. Sugrue v Derwinski (1994, CA2 NY) 26 F.3d 8, cert den (1995) 515 US 1102, 132 L Ed 2d 254, 115 S Ct 2245

Dismissal for lack of subject matter jurisdiction was appropriate where substance of plaintiff's complaint alleging conspiracy, fraud, misrepresentation, and so forth, against Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] officials sought review of actions taken in connection with denial of plaintiff's claim for disability benefits. Weaver v United States (1996, CA10 Kan) 98 F.3d 518

Former section 211(a) barred granting of relief to veteran claiming that Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] and Board of Veterans Appeals wrongly passed on degree of his disability, and hence his entitlement, notwithstanding veteran's confusion and protest over Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] characterization of claim as "nervous condition," "generalized seizure disorder," and "cerebellar degeneration secondary to seizure disorder," rather than originally diagnosed idiopathic epilepsy. Slotnick v United States (1985) 8 Cl Ct 784

Administrator's [now Secretary's] decision to allow death compensation to widow of veteran presumed dead for only 2 year period following veteran's death was final under terms of former 38 USCS § 211, and was not subject to judicial review. De Capili v Administrator of Veterans Affairs (1970, DC Dist Col) 314 F Supp 805

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision that claimant's injuries were not service-connected and were not permanently disabling, was not subject to review. United States ex rel. Hester v Veterans Administration Center (1971, ED Pa) 330 F Supp 995, affd without op (1973, CA3 Pa) 478 F.2d 1399

Plain language of former § 211 unequivocally barred court review of decisions by Administrator of Veterans' Administration [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs], thus veteran's challenge to disability decision was dismissed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. Marozsan v United States (1986, ND Ind) 635 F Supp 578, affd in part and revd in part on other grounds, remanded (1988, CA7 Ind) 852 F.2d 1469

Pro se claim of former serviceman "raped of his civil rights by system" is dismissed, where he alleges that he was denied 100% disability pay with proof of his military health record, because judicial review of denial of any veterans benefits is specifically precluded by 38 USCS § 511(a). Hunt v United States Air Force (1994, ED Pa) 848 F Supp 1190, 44 Soc Sec Rep Serv 361

Statute conferred no jurisdiction on court over challenge to application of veterans' benefits statutes to facts of discharged veteran's disability compensation claim. Hilario v Secretary, Dep't of Veterans Affairs (1991, CA) 937 F.2d 586

25. Educational benefits

Prohibition of former 38 USCS § 211(a) against judicial review of decisions of Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs on questions of law or fact under any law administered by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] providing for veterans' benefits did not deprive District Court of jurisdiction of suit challenging constitutionality of statutory scheme restricting educational benefits under 38 USCS §§ 1651-1697 [now 38 USCS §§ 3451-3493] to veterans who served on active duty, thus denying benefits to conscientious objectors who performed required alternative civilian service, since former § 211(a) did not bar judicial consideration of constitutional challenges to veterans' benefits legislation. Hernandez v Veterans' Administration (1974) 415 US 391, 39 L Ed 2d 412, 94 S Ct 1177

Former 38 USCS § 211 did not bar judicial review of veteran claim alleging that denial of extension of veteran educational benefits on ground of regulation defining veteran's alcoholism as willful misconduct was invalid as contrary to 29 USCS § 794. Traynor v Turnage (1988) 485 US 535, 99 L Ed 2d 618, 108 S Ct 1372, 1 ADD 469, 2 AD Cas 214, 46 CCH EPD ¶ 37924 (superseded by statute as stated in Larrabee v Derwinski (1992, CA2 Conn) 968 F.2d 1497) and (superseded by statute as stated in Menendez v United States (1999, DC Puerto Rico) 67 F Supp 2d 42)

Judicial review of whether Veterans Administration's treatment of certain forms of alcoholism as willful misconduct violated 29 USCS § 794 as handicap discrimination was not barred by former § 211, since, inter alia, preclusion of review depended at minimum that claim be resolved by actual decision of Administrator [now Secretary], and no decision concerning impact of Rehabilitation Act on veteran's education benefits extension application was made until after decision denying extension of benefits due to veteran's inability to partake of benefits during statutory period because of alcoholism; application of bar to judicial review under former § 211 was to be firmly and finally decided on date plaintiff commenced litigation so that District Court could issue judgment not later set aside by agency fiat. McKelvey v Turnage (1986, App DC) 253 US App DC 126, 792 F.2d 194, affd (1988) 485 US 535, 99 L Ed 2d 618, 108 S Ct 1372, 1 ADD 469, 2 AD Cas 214, 46 CCH EPD ¶ 37924 (superseded by statute as stated in Larrabee v Derwinski (1992, CA2 Conn) 968 F.2d 1497) and (superseded by statute as stated in Menendez v United States (1999, DC Puerto Rico) 67 F Supp 2d 42)

Judicial review of marine officer's claim for increased educational benefits as an active duty officer following decision of Administrator of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] that under 38 USCS § 1682 [now 38 USCS § 3482] educational benefits for full time study should be pro-rated for part-time study of law by Marine officer, was barred by former § 211. Roberts v Walters (1986, CA) 792 F.2d 1109

B. Other Determinations

26. Award of indemnity

Federal district court was without jurisdiction to review award made by Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs under Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951. United States v Houston (1954, CA6 Tenn) 216 F.2d 440

27. Character of military discharge

District Court erred in dismissing, under former 38 USCS § 211, former serviceman's suit seeking judicial review of Army Board of Military Correction's decision denying request to correct serviceman's military record to reflect service related disability, notwithstanding that any correction might affect Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision that denied serviceman's claim for benefits for service related injuries, since there was no violation of former § 211 because an applicant's military record was changed through judicial review, where tasks performed by the Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] and by boards of correction were distinctively different, and just because military record was changed through judicial review does not mean Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision regarding benefits had to change. Fishel v American Sec. Life Ins. Co. (1988, CA5 Miss) 835 F.2d 613
Administrator's [now Secretary's] decision that, under 38 USCS § 101, veteran's discharge because of homosexuality was dishonorable, was accorded finality by former 38 USCS § 211, and was not subject to judicial review.  Kiser v Johnson (1975, MD Pa) 404 F Supp 879

28. Diagnosis of mental condition

Court of Claims was without jurisdiction to revise or correct Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] diagnosis of veteran's mental condition where veteran alleged factual and procedural errors.  Cunningham v United States (1977) 212 Ct Cl 451, 549 F.2d 753, cert den (1980) 445 US 969, 64 L Ed 2d 246, 100 S Ct 1662

29. Determinations affecting third parties not recipients of benefits

   Judicial review of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] determinations against third parties who were not recipients of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] gratuities was not barred by former 38 USCS § 211(a).  Colorado v VA (1977, DC Colo) 430 F Supp 551, affd (1979, CA10 Colo) 602 F.2d 926, cert den (1980) 444 US 1014, 62 L Ed 2d 643, 100 S Ct 663

   General court review of fiduciary payee determinations by Secretary of Veterans Affairs under 38 USCS § 5502 is not barred by 38 USCS § 511; determination is collateral to actual claim for benefits, determination is not subject to alternative judicial review of benefit determinations under § 511(a), and no-court-review statutes are to be strictly construed. In re Guardianship & Conservatorship of Blunt (2005, DC ND) 358 F Supp 2d 882

30. Miscellaneous

   Veterans' claims for postservice injuries based on alleged failure of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] to provide adequate medical treatment to veterans exposed to Agent Orange were not subject to judicial review.  In re "Agent Orange" Prod. Liab. Litig. (1987, CA2 NY) 818 F.2d 194

   Statute requiring Secretary to make decision under law that affects provision of benefits by Secretary to veteran applied to attorney's claim for fee under § 5904(d) erroneously paid to veteran; decision interpreted law affecting veteran's benefits.  Cox v West (1998, CA FC) 149 F.3d 1360

   Neither history of amendments to law, nor its changing position in U.S. Code through passage of series of consolidation statutes, alters fact that, as originally enacted, 38 USCS § 5904 was part of Public Law that affects provision of benefits, and therefore, is subject to review by Board of Veterans' Appeals and Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims under terms of 38 USCS § 511. Bates v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 398 F.3d 1355

   Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims erred in concluding that it lacked jurisdiction to consider attorney's request for mandamus requiring Secretary of Veterans Affairs to issue statement of case so that he could appeal decision to terminate his accreditation to represent claimants before Department of Veterans Affairs to Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) as 38 USCS § 5904 was part of single statutory enactment that affected provision of benefits and as result, it was subject to review by BVA and Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims under terms of 38 USCS § 511. Bates v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 398 F.3d 1355

   Former 38 USCS § 211(a) precluded judicial review of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] 1948 adjudicative action severing service connection for veteran's noncompensable back injury residuals growing out of fall while on active duty in 1944. Barry v United States (1981, DC SC) 527 F Supp 472

   Former 38 USCS § 211 did not preclude judicial review of decision by Board for Correction of Military Records denying veteran's application to correct records to reflect service-connection of disease.  Yagjian v Marsh (1983, DC NH) 571 F Supp 698

   Although appellant may challenge validity of underlying debt which affects entitlement to claimed benefits, where injury is only possibility of additional tax liability or some other unspecified monetary burden, actual or threatened injury is too speculative to give court jurisdiction. Waterhouse v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 473

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims does not have jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 511(a) to review manner in which Secretary disburses special adaptive housing grant pursuant to 38 USCS § 2101(a) since manner in which funds are disbursed is committed solely to Secretary's discretion. Werden v West (2000) 13 Vet App 463, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 359

§ 512. Delegation of authority; assignment of functions and duties

(a) Except as otherwise provided by law, the Secretary may assign functions and duties, and delegate, or authorize successive redelegation of, authority to act and to render decisions, with respect to all laws administered by the Department, to such officers and employees as the Secretary may find necessary. Within the limitations of such delegations, redelegations, or assignments, all official acts and decisions of such officers and employees shall have the same force and effect as though performed or rendered by the Secretary.

(b) There shall be included on the technical and administrative staff of the Secretary such staff officers, experts, inspectors, and assistants (including legal assistants) as the Secretary may prescribe.

I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally
Person allegedly injured while voluntarily providing recreational supplies and services without compensation at veterans hospital is rendering personal services authorized by act of Congress as contemplated by Federal Employees' Compensation Act (5 USCS §§ 751 et seq.), and is therefore employee. McNicholas v United States (1964, ND Ill) 226 F Supp 965

II. GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

A. Bids

2. Generally

There are limits to amount of study that bidder is required to undertake in discerning government's requirements prior to bidding, in that admonition in specifications that requirements of various drawings and specifications should be coordinated to avoid duplication cannot be stretched so far as to require bidder to seek out and correct all errors and discrepancies therein. George E. Jensen, Contractor, Inc. (1972, VACAB) 72-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 9680

Prudent bidder is not at liberty to ignore any information on contract documents. Wolverine Fire Protection Co. (1977, VACAB) 78-1 CCH BCA Dec. ¶ 12902

When contract drawings themselves purport to represent existing conditions in respect to particular feature, bidder has right to rely thereon notwithstanding provisions requiring that site inspection be made. Klefstad Engineering Co. & Blackhawk Heating & Plumbing Co. (1968, VA-CAB) 68-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 7254, affd 68-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 7396

3. Acceptance

In proper circumstances, Government may accept bid, once expired, which has subsequently been revived by bidder; however, where mistake in original bid is alleged, but original bid is affirmed, original bid as affirmed lapses before acceptance and request for extension is specifically denied by bidder. (1978) 57 Comp Gen 228

4. Protests

When bid protest is filed with apparent purpose of seeking General Accounting Office sanction for cancellation and resolicitation after other bids have been exposed, as evidenced when original bid is reinstated more than week after extension was specifically denied, bidder's behavior adversely affects integrity of competitive bid system such that interests of Government are not served by awarding contract to him. (1978) 57 Comp Gen 228

B. Terms of Contract

5. Generally

Government is entitled to specify what it wants in contract and to require strict conformance with contract even though offered substitute may be said to be superior; burden is on drafters of government contract to use such language, and in such manner, that it will convey what they intend and will not reasonably be understood as meaning something else. George E. Jensen, Contractor, Inc. (1972, VACAB) 72-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 9680

Although advised by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] officials during prebid inspection that windows in certain parts of building were not included in contract for cleaning of windows, government's requirement that such windows be cleaned does not constitute compensable extra, since contract expressly provides that any clarification of specifications must be requested in writing from contract authority and total number of windows done by contractor is within number contemplated by contract. A. A. A. Services, Inc. (1980, VACAB) 80-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14249

6. Drawings

Contract requirement shown on drawings but not in specifications, and not in conflict with any specification requirement is, under Clause 2 of General Provisions of procurement contract, as effective as if it were shown in both specifications and drawings; standard contract language providing that in case of difference between drawings and specifications, latter shall govern, is not for application unless only reasonable interpretation of contract as whole compels conclusion of inconsistency and conflict.  Wolverine Fire Protection Co. (1977, VACAB) 78-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 12902

7. Economic price adjustment clause

Where economic price adjustment clause allows reduction of price government is to pay on indefinite quantity contract, prompt payment discount is to be taken on adjusted price and not on original price where adjustment is made downward.  Sheidow Bronze Corp. (1978, VACAB) 78-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 13031

8. Change and suspension clauses

Relief rights under changes and suspension clauses of government contract are independent and separable; therefore, recovery under suspension clause may be allowed notwithstanding existence of agreement on recovery due under changes clauses.  Alrae Constr. Co. Inc. (1973, VACAB) 73-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 9872

Generally when change order involves performance of additional work, price adjustment is based upon cost of extra labor and materials.  Picoult (1978, VACAB) 78-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 13024

In absence of probative evidence in support of upward adjustment of allowance by contracting officer under change order, government contractor is entitled to no more than that sum.  Philp D. Tigue Contracting (1978, VACAB) 78-2 CCH BCA Dec. ¶ 13,549

9. Trade practices

Trade practice, even if shown, cannot override provisions of contract where there is no discrepancy or ambiguity between specifications and drawings.  Wolverine Fire Protection Co. (1977, VACAB) 78-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 12902

Contractor is entitled to equitable adjustment for cost of filling fuel tanks under contract for installation of boiler plant, where both government's and contractor's interpretations of requirements are reasonable, and trade practice favors contractor's interpretation.  Charles Constr. Co., Inc. (1979, VACAB) 80-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14227

Much language of construction contracts is of such nature as to require analytical consideration and determination of interpretative conclusion that must accept one alternative and, consciously or unconsciously, reject other possible interpretations; where ambiguity involved is latent and not obvious, and contractor's interpretation of drawings is reasonable and there is nothing in contract provisions themselves, nor attendant circumstances, to put contractor on notice of such error as to require request for clarification during bidding period, ambiguity will be resolved in favor of contractor; if, on other hand, there is glaring and obvious error, of material consequence, which because of unmistakable conflict, discrepancy or omission must necessarily be recognized as such error, contractor has duty to request clarification before bidding.  Klefstad Engineering Co. & Blackhawk Heating & Plumbing Co. (1968, VACAB) 68-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 7396

Prior course of dealing between parties to ambulance service contract which, in effect, constitutes additional provision to contract, will be accepted by Board and enforced as provision of contract where conduct was based on reasonable interpretation of contract and government failed to indicate its intention to alter course of conduct when issuing invitation for bids.  Ambulance, Inc. (1980, VACAB) 80-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14555

C. Claims

11. Burden of proof
Contractor has burden of proving its claim for costs, and failure of contractor to prove amount may lead to total rejection of claim for lack of proof or it may result in jury verdict; where entitlement is shown, but proof is not so positive as to permit absolute determination of precise excess costs, approximate and reasonable determination may be made on basis of facts and circumstances and best available evidence. Picoult (1978, VACAB) 78-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 13024

Although it is not necessary for contractor to establish its costs for changed work with accounting accuracy, there must exist some means by which reasonable amount may be computed; mere statements of fact by contractor do not constitute proof of claim; there must be documentary evidence. Philp D. Tigue Contracting (1978, VACAB) 78-2 CCH BCA Dec. ¶ 13,549

Contractor fails to meet burden of proof on claim for equitable adjustment where it makes general claims of government interference with contract performance. A. A. A. Services, Inc. (1980 VACAB) 80-2 CCH BCA Sept ¶ 14683

Contractor's claim for additional expenses caused by government change, where evidence consisted of contractor's wage reports which were not verified, under oath, by workers who signed them, and photocopies of material invoices which were partially illegible, fails to establish that costs were reasonable and attributable to accomplishment of extra work. United Baeton International (1979, BACAB) 79-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14045

Although contractor is entitled to equitable adjustment for increased insurance costs associated with contract changes, neither contracting officer nor Board can order remedy without documentation of increased insurance costs actually incurred by contractor, and Board has no basis upon which to grant relief where contractor refused to substantiate costs in any manner other than government paid audit. Wilner Constr. Co. (1979, VA CAB) 79-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14180

12. Government liability for particular claims

Government contracts contain warranty that satisfactory performance is possible, if specifications are followed, and Government is therefore liable for increase in costs to Government contractor by reason of drawing defects; there was timely notification of claim for additional compensation due to dimensional errors in drawings where contractor informed Government of errors in drawings, Government made corrections and forwarded them to contractor and contractor then tentatively estimated revised costs. J.W. Bateson Co. (1970, VACAB) 70-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 8541, affd 71-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 8704

Since government took too long to order change for which recovery was agreed and continued, uncertainty caused deferral of specific work and had delaying effect upon overall job progress, contractor is entitled to recover for time caused by delay. Alrae Constr. Co. Inc. (1973, VACAB) 73-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 9872

Presence of hard rock layer, removal of which requires blasting and use of heavy equipment not commonly required of small contractors, constitutes differing site condition entitling contractor to equitable adjustment, since site inspection did not reveal existence of such rock, most of which is below surface; total cost method of determining amount of adjustment is not proper where contractor has unresolved claims relating to same work, since costs of unresolved claims may be duplicated in claim for which adjustment is made. Bick-Com Corp. (1980, VACAB) 80-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14285

Contractor is entitled to equitable adjustments for variable overhead office related expenses incurred because of governmental delay. Salt City Contractors (1980, VACAB) 80-2 CCH BCA Sept. ¶ 14713

Contractor is not entitled to compensation for overhead expenses claimed in settlement allowance, where allocation of overhead was by percentage of total contract method, including value of subcontracts in base, without evidence of causal relationship between variations in dollar value of subcontracts fluctuations in total overhead expenses. Starks Contracting Co. Inc. (1979, VA CAB) 79-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14018
13. Release of claims

Absent any indication to contrary, release of all claims under government contract for installation of automatic fire sprinkler system at Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital, without exception or reservation, signed by contractor at conclusion of contract is given its literal interpretation and is held to constitute accord and satisfaction as to disputed claim. Mid South Fire Protection, Inc. (1977, VACAB) 77-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 12776

D. Default

14. Generally

Contractor need not be given time to cure deficiencies under substantial performance doctrine where contractor's proposed corrections would also result in nonconformance with specifications, and where deficiencies are substantial. Reach Electronics, Inc. (1979, VACAB) 79-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14048

15. Particular grounds for default termination

Government contract for taxicab service for patients at Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital is properly terminated for default due to intoxication of driver, driver operating with revoked license, and numerous complaints from hospital patients of unsatisfactory service. Maywood Cab Service, Inc. (1977, VACAB) 77-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 12751

Contractor's failure to supply surety bonds by date required in contract is sufficient justification for default termination of construction contract, and contractor's claim that contracting officer abused his discretion by imposing prohibitive bonding requirements must be rejected, since contractor never submitted any bonds or sureties for approval. United Baeton International (1979, VACAB) 80-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14211

Termination of construction contract for default is proper, although termination occurred prior to start of construction, where contractor let substantial portion of performance period expire without starting construction, and without valid excuse for delay. Record Electric, Inc. (1979, VACAB) 80-1 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 14226

E. Appeal

16. Generally

Mere fact that contractor requests additional information upon which to base his appeal argument does not vitiate otherwise valid timely notice of intent to take appeal from contracting officer's final decision. Louis G. Redstone Associates, Inc. (1977, VACAB) 77-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 12811

17. Jurisdiction of board of contract appeals

Board of contract appeals lacks jurisdiction to decide claim that has not been presented to and decided by contracting officer; when however, contracting officer does settle claim, board is not restricted on appeal to consideration of only those issues of entitlement that were considered and relied upon by contracting officer in denying claim, where claim has been denied in its entirety and appeal has been taken from decision, since there is no jurisdictional limitation in disputes clause of contract to preclude board from considering and deciding general issue of entitlement to payment. J.W. Bateson Co., (1968, VACAB) 68-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 7279

When claim upon which appeal before Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] Contract Appeals Board has been released by contractor, Board has no jurisdiction under terms of contract to afford any relief to contractor. Mid South Fire Protection, Inc. (1977, VACAB) 77-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 12776

Contract appeals board lacks jurisdiction to give contractor right to pursue either new procedures or expanded remedies covered by 41 USCS §§ 601 et seq, where final decision of contracting officer has been issued and received by contractor over 3 months prior to date set as time at which appeal provisions could be invoked on claims "pending" before contracting officer. Bick-Com Corp. (1979, VACAB) 79-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 13904

Jurisdiction of subject matter of dispute before Contract Appeals Board is measured by boundaries of claim to entitlement in action taken in final decision on that claim by contracting officer; where claim is denied in its entirety, points selected by officer for consideration and final decision are not jurisdictional measure on review. Stramese Constr. Corp. (1979, VACAB) 79-2 CCH BCA Dec ¶ 13940

§ 515. Administrative settlement of tort claims

(a) (1) Notwithstanding the limitations contained in section 2672 of title 28 [28 USCS § 2672], the Secretary may settle a claim for money damages against the United States cognizable under section 1346(b) or 2672 of title 28 [28 USCS § 1346(b) or 2672] or section 7316 of this title [38 USCS § 7316] to the extent the authority to do so is delegated to the Secretary by the Attorney General. Such delegation may not exceed the authority delegated by the Attorney General to United States attorneys to settle claims for money damages against the United States.

(2) For purposes of this subsection, the term "settle", with respect to a claim, means consider, ascertain, adjust, determine, and dispose of the claim, whether by full or partial allowance or by disallowance.

(b) The Secretary may pay tort claims, in the manner authorized in the first paragraph of section 2672 of title 28 [28 USCS § 2672], when such claims arise in foreign countries in connection with Department operations abroad. A claim may not be allowed under this subsection unless it is presented in writing to the Secretary within two years after the claim accrues.

(1) that employees responsible for counseling functions associated with employment discrimination and for receiving, investigating, and processing complaints of employment discrimination shall be supervised in those functions by, and report to, management; and

(2) that employees performing employment discrimination complaint resolution functions at a facility of the Department shall not be subject to the authority, direction, and control of the Director of the facility with respect to those functions.

(c) The Secretary shall ensure that all employees of the Department receive adequate education and training for the purposes of this section and section 319 of this title [38

Secretary for Human Resources and Administration shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report summarizing the employment discrimination complaints filed against the individuals referred to in paragraph (2) during such quarter.

individuals on the basis of such individuals' personal conduct and shall not apply in the case of complaints filed solely on the basis of such individuals' positions as officials of the Department.

(B) The Deputy Secretary of Veterans Affairs.
(C) The Under Secretary for Health and the Under Secretary for Benefits.

individuals who are the subject of, the complaints concerned or the facilities at which the discrimination identified in such complaints is alleged to have occurred;
(B) shall summarize such complaints by type and by equal employment opportunity field office area in which filed; and
(C) shall include copies of such complaints, with the information described in subparagraph (A) redacted.

(4) Not later than April 1 each year, the Assistant Secretary shall submit to the committees referred to in paragraph (1)(A) a report on the complaints covered by paragraph (1) during the preceding year, including the number of such complaints filed during that year and the status and resolution of the investigation of such complaints.

(f) The Secretary shall ensure that an employee of the Department who seeks counseling relating to employment discrimination may elect to receive such counseling from an employee of the Department who carries out equal employment opportunity counseling functions on a full-time basis rather than from an employee of the Department who carries out such functions on a part-time basis.

(g) The number of employees of the Department whose duties include equal employment opportunity counseling functions as well as other, unrelated functions may not exceed 40 full-time equivalent employees. Any such employee may be assigned equal employment opportunity counseling functions only at Department facilities in remote geographic locations (as determined by the Secretary). The Secretary may waive the limitation in the preceding sentence in specific cases.

(h) The provisions of this section shall be implemented in a manner consistent with procedures applicable under regulations prescribed by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

§ 711. Grade reductions

(a) The Secretary may not implement a grade reduction described in subsection (b) unless the Secretary first submits to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report containing a detailed plan for such reduction and a detailed justification for the plan. The report shall include a determination by the Secretary (together with data supporting such determination) that, in the personnel area concerned, the Department has a disproportionate number of employees at the salary grade or grades selected for reduction in comparison to the number of such employees at the salary levels involved who perform comparable functions in other departments and agencies of the Federal Government and in non-Federal entities. The study shall include an evaluation and assessment of the following:

Benefits for Conscientious Objectors. 19 Catholic Lawyer 62, Winter 1973

1. Prior service

2. Relationship of benefits to other compensation

1. Prior service

Veteran is entitled to such benefits as are otherwise payable where he enlisted in Navy prior to November 11, 1918, was placed on inactive duty subsequent to November 11, 1918, and thereafter recalled to active service prior to July 2, 1921, and re-enlisted for purposes of awarding compensation. 1937 ADVA 406

Service between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918 is not prior service for purposes of pension or compensation, where veteran was discharged during such period by reason of alienage. 1937 ADVA 408

2. Relationship of benefits to other compensation

Since statutory provisions concerning service-connected disability set forth at 38 USCS §§ 301 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.] do not by their terms preclude receipt of Veterans' Administration disability compensation by veteran who is earning salary, finding of total disability by Veterans' Administration does not ipso facto establish person's unavailability for work so as to preclude award of compensatory damages following wrongful termination from federal employment. Cunningham v United States (1977) 212 Ct Cl 451, 549 F.2d 753, cert den (1980) 445 US 969, 64 L Ed 2d 246, 100 S Ct 1662

Disability compensation awarded veteran under 38 USCS §§ 301 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.] does not constitute benefit for loss of time from employment and thus is not subject to being offset under private insurance company's disability insurance policy which provides for lessening of payments to extent that other disability income benefits are payable to insured. Gibson v Connecticut General Life Ins. Co. (1978) 145 Ga App 799, 245 SE2d 49

Veterans' claims under Chapter 11 do not survive their deaths; Chapter 11 makes no provision for survivors, rather Chapter 13 provides for award of DIC survivors' benefits, and 38

§ 1102. Special provisions relating to surviving spouses

(a) No compensation shall be paid to the surviving spouse of a veteran under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.] unless such surviving spouse was married to such veteran--

(1) before the expiration of fifteen years after the termination of the period of service in which the injury or disease causing the death of the veteran was incurred or aggravated; or

(2) for one year or more; or

(3) for any period of time if a child was born of the marriage, or was born to them before the marriage.

(b) Subsection (a) shall not be applicable to any surviving spouse who, with respect to date of marriage, could have qualified as a surviving spouse for death compensation under any law administered by the Secretary in effect on December 31, 1957.

Act Sept. 30, 1976 (effective 10/1/76, as provided by § 406 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1101 note), in the section catchline, substituted "surviving spouses" for "widows"; in subsec. (a), introductory matter, substituted "surviving spouse of a veteran under this chapter unless such surviving spouse was married to such veteran" for "widow of a veteran under this chapter unless she was married to him"; in subsec. (b), substituted "surviving spouse" for "widow" wherever appearing.

§ 1103. Special provisions relating to claims based upon effects of tobacco products

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a veteran's disability or death shall not be considered to have resulted from personal injury suffered or disease contracted in the line of duty in the active military, naval, or air service for purposes of this title on the basis that it resulted from injury or disease attributable to the use of tobacco products by the veteran during the veteran's service.

(b) Nothing in subsection (a) shall be construed as precluding the establishment of service connection for disability or death from a disease or injury which is otherwise shown to have been incurred or aggravated in active military, naval, or air service or which became manifest to the requisite degree of disability during any applicable presumptive period specified in section 1112 or 1116 of this title [38 USCS § 1112 or 1116].

Applicability of section. Act June 9, 1998, P. L. 105-178, Title VIII, Subtitle B, § 8202(b), as added July 22, 1998, P. L. 105-206, Title IX, § 9014(a), 112 Stat. 866, provides: "Section 1103 of title 38, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall apply with respect to claims received by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs after the date of the enactment of this Act.".

77 Am Jur 2d, Veterans and Veterans' Laws § 36

38 USCS § 1103(a) applies to surviving spouse's dependency and indemnity compensation claim, even if veteran had previously established service connection for disability because 38 USCS § 1310(a) explicitly refers to Chapter 11 of Title 38 of U.S. Code, which includes 38 USCS § 1103(a), and as result, 38 USCS § 1310(a) incorporates 38 USCS § 1103(a)'s service connection preclusion; 38 USCS § 1103(a) does not apply to veterans themselves who have established service connection for their disabilities prior to enactment date of § 1103(a), June 9, 1998, even if disability was attributable to tobacco use during veterans' military service. Stoll v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1375

Wife could not rely on her deceased husband's prior service connection status to save dependency and indemnity compensation claim where 38 USCS § 1310(a) incorporated 38 USCS § 1103(a)'s service connection preclusion, § 1103(a) only applied to living veterans, and there was no dispute that her husband's chronic obstructive pulmonary disease was attributable to his in-service tobacco use. Stoll v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1375

Plain language of 38 USCS § 1103 expresses congressional intent to no longer award service connection for veteran's death that results from service connected disease that was "capable of being attributed" to use of tobacco products during veteran's service; therefore, although smoking-related heart disease that caused veteran's death had been deemed to be "service-connected" while veteran was alive, veteran's widow was not entitled to dependency and indemnity compensation benefits under 38 USCS § 1310(a), due to enactment of 38 USCS § 1103, and 38 C.F.R. § 3.300. Kane v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 97, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 385

Since Veterans Claims Assistance Act of 2000 (VCAA), P. L. 106-475, 114 Stat. 2096 (2000), has no effect on appeal that is limited to interpretation of law, it had no effect on widow's appeal from Board of Veterans' Appeals' denial of widow's claim for dependency and indemnity compensation benefits, since proper interpretation of 38 USCS § 1103 was dispositive of appeal. Kane v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 97, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 385

§ 1104. Cost-of-living adjustments

(a) In the computation of cost-of-living adjustments for fiscal years 1998 through 2013 in the rates of, and dollar limitations applicable to, compensation payable under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.], such adjustments shall be made by a uniform percentage that is no more than the percentage equal to the social security increase for that fiscal year, with all increased monthly rates and limitations (other than increased rates or limitations equal to a whole dollar amount) rounded down to the next lower whole dollar amount.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "social security increase" means the percentage by which benefit amounts payable under title II of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401 et seq.) are increased for any fiscal year as a result of a determination under section 215(i) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 415(i)).

§ 1110. Basic entitlement

For disability resulting from personal injury suffered or disease contracted in line of duty, or for aggravation of a preexisting injury suffered or disease contracted in line of duty, in the active military, naval, or air service, during a period of war, the United States will pay to any veteran thus disabled and who was discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable from the period of service in which said injury or disease was incurred, or preexisting injury or disease was aggravated, compensation as provided in this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 1110 et seq.], but no compensation shall be paid if the disability is a result of the veteran's own willful misconduct or abuse of alcohol or drugs.

Amendments:
1990. Act Nov. 5, 1990 (applicable as provided by § 8052(b) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 105 note) substituted "a result of the veteran's own willful misconduct or abuse of alcohol or drugs" for "the result of the veteran's own willful misconduct".

Bivens type action involving former servicemen’s claim against federal officials, both civil and military, for injuries suffered before or after his discharge from military service arising from surreptitious administration of LSD to servicemen while participating in military volunteer program purportedly designed to develop and test military equipment and protective clothing for use during chemical warfare was not available. Compensation under 38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq. is normally reserved for veterans with service-connected disabilities; however, 38 USCS § 1151 provides compensation for veterans who are disabled as result of Department of Veterans Affairs medical or surgical treatment. Kilpatrick v Principi (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1375

Injured veteran has valid tort claim against military where it committed intentional act, and then negligently failed to protect him, after he returned to civilian status, from dire consequences which flowed from original wrongdoing; later negligence is separate wrong; new action or omission occurred after civilian status was attained, and perpetrators of this wrong must be held accountable for their conduct. Thornwell v United States (1979, DC Dist Col) 471 F Supp 344, 59 ALR Fed 299

Insofar as 38 USCS §§ 310 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 1110 et seq.], may apply in action by veterans and members of their families for relief for injuries allegedly sustained from use by military of defoliant in Vietnam, it furnishes limited monthly benefits which may not fully compensate plaintiffs for serious injuries alleged in complaint, or provide compensation to veterans’ spouses or their children who are alleged to have suffered genetic damage, and makes §§ 310 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 1110 et seq.], insufficient guardian of rights at stake in instant litigation. Veteran is not entitled to some sort of benefit simply because he had a disease or injury while on active service; Congress specifically limits entitlement for service-connected disease or injury to cases where disability results. Brammer v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 223

2. Active service
Veteran was entitled to presumption under 38 USCS § 105(a) that injury occurring during active duty was service-connected for purposes of disability compensation, but denial of presumption in determining lack of service connection for veteran's claimed mental disorder was harmless error in view of alternative and unchallenged finding that veteran failed to show any psychiatric disorder occurring in active service. Shedden v Principi (2004, CA FC) 381 F.3d 1163

Disabilities acquired by Navy officers while at home awaiting orders are not acquired in active service. 1936 ADVA 376

Time which Navy officers spent at home awaiting orders is not to be used in computing length of service for purposes of awarding disability benefits. 1936 ADVA 376

Service between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918 is not prior service for purposes of pension or compensation where veteran was discharged during such period by reason of alienage. 1937 ADVA 408

Veteran, was entitled to benefits otherwise payable where he enlisted in Navy prior to November 11, 1918, was placed on inactive duty subsequent to November 11, 1918, was recalled to active service prior to July 2, 1921, and re-enlisted for purposes of awarding compensation. 1937 ADVA 406

Presumption of soundness under former 38 USCS § 311 (redesignated 38 USCS § 1111) did not attach where appellant was not "veteran" under former 38 USCS § 310 (redesignated 38 USCS § 1110) at time of Veterans' Affairs regional office adjudication of his claim in 1976 because his service was active duty for training and he had not established service-connected disability in order to achieve veteran status. Hines v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 227, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 526

3. Disease or disability

Reasonable basis existed for excluding "refractive error of eye" from construction of terms "injury" and "disease" in 38 USCS §§ 1110 and 1131 when presbyopia was due to developmental problems associated with aging rather than due to trauma that was incurred during military service and, therefore, interpretation adopted by Secretary of Veterans Affairs in 38 C.F.R. 3.303(c), which prohibited compensation for refractive error of eye and, in particular, for presbyopia, was not arbitrary, capricious, or manifestly contrary to statutes, and represented permissible construction of statutes. Terry v Principi (2003, CA FC) 340 F.3d 1378, reh den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 24133 and cert den (2004) 541 US 904, 158 L Ed 2d 246, 124 S Ct 1606

"Disability" as used in statute refers to impairment of earning capacity, and such definition mandates that any additional impairment of earning capacity resulting from already service-connected condition, regardless of whether additional impairment is itself separate disease or injury caused by service-connected condition, shall be compensated. Allen v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 439

Service-connection may be granted for diseases but not defects of congenital, developmental, or familial origin; service-connection is deemed to exist with respect to retinitis pigmentosa and polycystic renal disease if evidence establishes that such familial conditions were incurred or aggravated during service within meaning of Veterans Administration law and regulations. VA GCO 1-85

Term "disease" in 38 USCS §§ 310 and 331 [now 38 USCS §§ 1110 and 1131] and term "defects" in 38 CFR § 3.303(c) (providing that congenital or developmental defects are not diseases) are mutually exclusive; "defect" is defined as structural or inherent abnormalities or conditions which are more or less stationary in nature, while "disease" has been variously defined as morbid condition of body or of some organ or part, illness, or sickness. VA GCO 1-85

Although congenital or developmental defects may not be service-connected because they are not diseases or injuries under law, many such defects can be subject to superimposed disease or injury, and if during individual's military service superimposed disease or injury does occur, service-connection may be warranted for resultant disability. VA GCO 1-85
Decision by Board of Veterans Appeals that applied more stringent standard for disability rating under pre-1999 Disability Code, which required that tinnitus be "persistent" as opposed to post-1999 Disability Code, which required condition to be "recurring," was arbitrary and capricious and matter was remanded for reassessment and for assessment of effective date before June 1999 based upon pre-1999 Disability Code. Smith v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 168, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 426, revd, remanded (2004, CA FC) 108 Fed Appx 628

Where: (1) record of veteran's discharge examination noted that veteran's physical condition was normal in all respects except that veteran had tachycardia, and (2) veteran's doctors did not relate veteran's claimed disabilities to his period of service, Board of Veterans' Appeals properly denied veteran's claims for service connection for urinary tract infection, poor vision, hearing-loss disability, gastrointestinal disorder, asthma, bronchitis, emphysema, and hypertension; medical evidence was necessary to establish etiology of disabilities and veteran's statements were insufficient to demonstrate in-service incurrence of disabilities. Duenas v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 512, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 798

Where veteran argued that exclusion of periodontal disease as compensable disability under 38 C.F.R. § 3.381(a) conflicted with 38 USC § 1110 which required compensation for disabilities, under 38 USCS § 7252(b), Court of Veterans Appeals lacked jurisdiction to review regulatory determination that periodontal disease was eligible for treatment benefits but was not compensable disability. Byrd v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 388, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 802

4. Willful misconduct

Widow's appeal of non-final order of remand of her claim for veteran's survivor benefits to Board of Veterans' Appeals, for reconsideration in light of Veterans Claims Assistance Act of 2000, Pub. L. No. 106-475, 114 Stat. 2096 (2000), was dismissed where there was no substantial risk that factual determination that veteran was disabled and died due to willful misconduct would not survive entry of final order. Myore v Principi (2003, CA FC) 323 F.3d 1347

Organic diseases and disabilities which are secondary result of chronic use of alcohol as beverage, whether out of compulsion or otherwise, are not willful misconduct. 1964 ADVA 988

In denying widow's claim for DIC on grounds that veteran's death was not service-connected, Board erred as matter of law in concluding that veteran's alcoholism was result of willful misconduct for which service connection could not be granted, since statutory amendment by which disabilities secondary to alcoholism are barred by "willful misconduct" did not apply to claim filed before October 31, 1990. Gabrielson v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 36

5. Alcohol or drug abuse

38 USCS § 1110 does not preclude veteran from receiving compensation for alcohol or drug-related disabilities arising secondarily from service-connected disability or from using alcohol or drug-related disabilities as evidence of increased severity of service-connected disability. Allen v Principi (2001, CA FC) 237 F.3d 1368, CCH Bankr L Rptr ¶ 78584, reh, en banc, den (2001, CA FC) 268 F.3d 1340

Organic diseases and disabilities which are secondary result of chronic use of alcohol as beverage, whether out of compulsion or otherwise, are not willful misconduct. 1964 ADVA 988

Statute prohibiting compensation for disabilities which result from alcohol or substance abuse does not bar award for service connection for disability due to abuse of alcohol or drugs. Barela v West (1998) 11 Vet App 280 (ovrld in part by Allen v Principi (2001, CA FC) 237 F.3d 1368, CCH Bankr L Rptr ¶ 78584)

6. Concurring causes

Pension obtained for partial paralysis claimed to have resulted from disease and sickness contracted in Army cannot be held fraudulent by showing that paralysis was direct, immediate result of blow or accident, if prior physical condition caused by ill health and exposure in Army may fairly be regarded as concurring cause of paralysis. Lalone v United States (1896) 164 US 255, 41 L Ed 425, 17 S Ct 74
Veteran was not entitled to presumption of service connection for malaria where he lived and continued to live in tropical climate where malaria is endemic. Tenio v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 47

7. Particular disability determinations

Rating board effectively granted service connection for veterans' ischemic heart disease in 1986 when it considered symptoms of that disease and increased veteran's rating from 10 to 30 percent, hence board erred in denying service connection for consequences of that disease, including arteriosclerotic, cardiovascular and peripheral vascular disease and resulting above-knee amputation. Baughman v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 563

Failure of rating board in 1953 to assign disability of at least moderate degree to muscle group was clear and unmistakable error, warranting retroactive effect of 30 percent disability rating where gunshot wound sustained by veteran in 1950 resulted in injuries to 2 separate and distinct muscle groups. Myler v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 571

BVA's denial of increased rating for residuals of multiple shell-fragment wounds was supported by medical evidence that residuals of veteran's wound were small, well-healed scars with no retained shrapnel fragments or demonstrable muscle damage. Shy v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 647

Ninety percent disability rating which was in effect for 10 years preceding veteran's death was not erroneous, but in fact was highest percentage rating that could have been awarded. Hrvatin v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 426

Denial of service-connection for polycythemia rubra as result of exposure to ionizing radiation was made in full accordance with applicable laws and regulations; disease was not one presumed to result from radiation, is not "radiogenic disease" entitled to extended presumption period, and veteran developed it some two decades after service. Ennis v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 50, vacated, stay den, reconsideration gr, motion den (1993, Vet App) 1993 US Vet App LEXIS 138 and op replaced, on reconsideration (1993) 4 Vet App 523

Veteran's claim for frostbite residuals was properly denied, despite undisputedly harsh conditions of his confinement as POW, where veteran failed to produce any evidence, medical or otherwise, that tended to show present disability arising from frozen feet, and service medical records showed no complaints of or treatment for frostbite. Burger v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 340

Where veteran's ulcer condition preexisted service, and veteran had suffered marked increase in symptoms associated with his ulcer, applying law in existence in 1955, Department of Veterans Affairs regional office was required to have made "specific finding" of natural progression of condition; absent such finding, it was error to conclude that presumption of aggravation had been rebutted. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

Evidence, e.g., veteran's statements during his initial examination that he had experienced intermittent epigastria pain and vomiting, supported conclusion of Board of Veterans' Appeals that veteran's ulcer had preexisted service. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

8. Mental disabilities

Secretary of Veterans Affairs permissibly interpreted statute to require current symptomatology at time claim is filed in order for veteran to be entitled to compensation for disability such as post-traumatic stress disorder; many of statutes governing benefit provisions only allow benefits for disability existing on or after date of application, and if Congress had been concerned with awarding compensation to any applicant who had disability, it would not have so restricted effective date of payments to period of time after application has been filed, and other statutes limit compensation to disabled veterans to those who have service-connected disability at time of application. Gilpin v West (1998, CA FC) 155 F.3d 1353, reh, en banc, den (1998, CA FC) 1998 US App LEXIS 29450 and cert den (1999) 526 US 1144, 143 L Ed 2d 1031, 119 S Ct 2019

Board erred in denying service-connection for psychiatric disorder where physicians' expert opinions linking veteran's current psychiatric disorders to his military service stood unrebutted and were supported by record evidence. Chisem v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 169

Denial of service connection for psychosis was not erroneous where no evidence establishing that claimant currently had claimed disability accompanied claim for service connection. Degmetich v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 208, affd (1997, CA FC) 104 F.3d 1328

Appellant was not entitled to disability compensation at wartime rate for service-connected psychiatric disability since there was no record evidence other than appellant's own testimony to suggest that his psychiatric disability was incurred during wartime. Ford v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 531

Vietnam veteran who sought increased rating for panic disorder provided medical evidence of some significance that would support disability rating in excess of 10 percent, yet BVA's decision lacked any meaningful discussion of such evidence and there was no indication that Board gave any consideration to veteran's post-hearing letter concerning nature and frequency of his panic attacks. Fisher v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 406, vacated, in part, on reconsideration, remanded (1992) 3 Vet App 121

9. Consolidation of awards

Benefits payable upon service-connected disabilities from World War I and World War II were entitled to be consolidated and paid as one award. 1946 ADVA 723

10. Miscellaneous

Veteran's claim for compensation under 38 USCS § 1110 was extinguished by his death, notwithstanding CVA's procedural rules expressly allowing substitution; issue of substitution is separate from standing, allowing derivative actions to proceed after death of veteran-claimant would render 38 USCS § 5112 express termination of payment of disability compensation virtually meaningless, and Congress established in 38 USCS § 5121 singular exception to this rule in form of wholly separate procedure for designated survivors to recover limited amounts of disability benefits due and unpaid at veteran's death. Richard ex rel. Richard v West (1998, CA FC) 161 F.3d 719 (criticized in Terry v Principi (2004, CA FC) 367 F.3d 1291)

Statutory scheme of 5 USCS §§ 552, 553, and 38 USCS §§ 1155, 7252, consistently excluded from judicial review all content of ratings schedule, as well as actions of Secretary of Veterans Affairs in adopting or revising that content, and 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(C) only provides standards of review to be applied by U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims when reviewing decision from Board of Veterans' Appeals and, thus, under 38 USCS § 7252, such court lacked jurisdiction to review content of diagnostic codes as part of schedule of ratings for disabilities; accordingly, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit reversed determination of U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that 38 C.F.R. § 4.87a, Diagnostic Code 6260, was invalid as inconsistent with 38 USCS § 1110. Wanner v Principi (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1124
Regulatory provision, to extent it would provide disability compensation for temporary exacerbations of preexisting conditions, is inconsistent with statutory scheme for disability benefits. Jensen v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 304

Inconsistent statement on VA Form 21-6782 could not contradict non-service-connected rating decision, since clerical error cannot be relied upon to invoke estoppel against U.S. for money payments. Lozano v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 184

§ 1111. Presumption of sound condition

For the purposes of section 1110 of this title [38 USCS § 1110], every veteran shall be taken to have been in sound condition when examined, accepted, and enrolled for service, except as to defects, infirmities, or disorders noted at the time of the examination, acceptance, and enrollment, or where clear and unmistakable evidence demonstrates that the injury or disease existed before acceptance and enrollment and was not aggravated by such service.

1. Generally
2. Rebuttal of presumption

1. Generally
It was reasonable for Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to conclude that presumption of soundness in 38 USCS § 1111 was always rebutted by medical evidence with respect to refractive error of eye and that therefore refractive error of eye could be reasonably excluded from terms "injury" and "disease"; therefore, VA's interpretation of 38 C.F.R. § 3.303(c) as prohibiting compensation for refractive error of eye and, in particular, for presbyopia, was not contrary to 38 USCS § 1111. Terry v Principi (2003, CA FC) 340 F.3d 1378, reh den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 24133 and cert den (2004) 541 US 904, 158 L Ed 2d 246, 124 S Ct 1606

Although there was new regulatory interpretation of 38 USCS § 1111 after Board of Veterans' Appeals decision that there was no clear and unmistakable error (CUE) in denial of service connection, Board's decision was final and veteran had no recourse for appeal through CUE claim; rather, 38 C.F.R. § 20.1403(e) clearly proscribed veteran's claim. Jordan v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296

Presumption of soundness is not applicable in determining entitlement to service pension for nonservice-connected disabilities. 1944 ADVA 558

Unless record shows examination at time of entrance into armed forces of United States, persons who served with so-called recognized guerrilla forces in Philippines subsequent to December 7, 1941 are not entitled to presumption of soundness. 1947 ADVA 746

Term "defect" in section necessarily means defect that amounts to or arises from disease or injury, and only service-connected "disability resulting from personal injury suffered or disease contracted" is entitled to compensation under 38 USCS § 1110; it would be anomalous in extreme to expand "disabilities" to include non-disease and non-injury entities such as congenital defects, and then allow their existence to be rebutted only by evidence of disease or injury when congenital defect is neither disease or injury. Winn v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 510, app dismd (1997, CA FC) 110 F.3d 56

On review of 1983 decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board), Board was bound to apply regulations as they existed in 1983, and new interpretations of 38 USCS § 1111 (former 38 USCS § 311) and 38 USCS § 1153 (former 38 USCS § 353), interpretations to which Secretary of Veterans Affairs also agreed, that apparently conflicted with those regulations could not be basis for clear and unmistakable error for 1983 decision. Jordan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 261, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 721, affd (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296, reh den, reh, en banc, den (2005, CA FC) 2005 US App LEXIS 10618

Presumption of soundness under former 38 USCS § 311 (redesignated 38 USCS § 1111) did not attach where appellant was not "veteran" under former 38 USCS § 310 (redesignated 38 USCS § 1110) at time of Veterans' Affairs regional office adjudication of his claim in 1976 because his service was active duty for training and he had not established service-connected disability in order to achieve veteran status. Hines v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 227, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 526

2. Rebuttal of presumption

Appellant's argument that presumption of soundness cannot be rebutted by medical professional's after-the-fact opinion regarding probable onset of disease or condition is not supported by 38 USCS § 1111, which only requires that evidence, whatever it may be, must clearly and unmistakably lead to conclusion that injury or disease existed before veteran entered service. Harris v West (2000, CA FC) 203 F.3d 1347, cert den (2000) 530 US 1276, 147 L Ed 2d 1008, 120 S Ct 2745

Correct standard for rebutting presumption of soundness under 38 USCS § 1111 requires government to show by clear and unmistakable evidence that (1) veteran's disability existed prior to service and (2) that pre-existing disability was not aggravated during service. Wagner v Principi (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1089

Lower court's decision affirming Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) denial of veteran's claim for disability benefits based on alleged aggravation of knee disorder during service was vacated and remanded for further consideration where lower court and BVA had applied incorrect legal standard in determining if presumption of soundness had been rebutted. Wagner v Principi (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1089

Veteran's argument that 1945 rating decision did not rebut presumptions of sound condition and aggravation failed, where rating board had found that veteran's eye condition was clearly shown by service records and examination conducted subsequent to discharge to be of congenital or developmental origin, that it was due to defect in form and structure of eye, held to be of congenital or developmental origin, and that there was no evidence of superimposed disability during service which could have caused or aggravated condition; fact that rating board did not specifically advert to presumptions of soundness and aggravation, and did not specifically recite applicable standard of proof for rebutting those presumptions, did not require holding that rating board's decision constituted clear and unmistakable error as matter of law. Natali v Principi (2004, CA FC) 375 F.3d 1375, reh den (2004, CA FC) 2004 US App LEXIS 21062

Court of Appeals for Veterans' Claims did not err in its interpretation of 38 USCS § 1111 because presumption that service entrants were in sound condition was rebuttable even if face of entrance examination affirmatively indicating that condition in question was tested and found not to exist upon entry into service. Kent v Principi (2004, CA FC) 389 F.3d 1380

Board erred in concluding that presumption of soundness had been rebutted where totality of evidence it relied upon was examining Army physician's notes about what veteran allegedly said to him when seeking treatment for problem concerning other eye; if on remand BVA seeks to rely on physician's statement it must do so after analysis of and in context of all evidence of record, e.g., BVA did not deal with veteran's sworn testimony that it had misinterpreted his response to question by Army physician and that conclusion about pre-service eye injury reflected misunderstanding between what he had said and what he had meant in prior medical examinations. Parker v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 522

Presumption of soundness was effectively rebutted, despite failure of claimant's induction x-ray examination to detect presence of ulcer, by references in service hospital records to ulcer as "chronic" and "old". Bagby v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 225

Since veteran's keratoconus was first diagnosed while in service, burden was on government to rebut presumption of sound condition upon induction by showing with clear and unmistakable evidence that condition existed prior to service and, if it makes this showing, that condition was not aggravated in service. Kinnaman v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 20

Tentative diagnosis of early keratoconus shortly after veteran's induction, coupled with fact that earlier examinations did not conduct detailed ophthalmologic examinations did not constitute clear and unmistakable evidence to rebut veteran's claim of service-connection for bilateral keratoconus. Kinnaman v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 20

Board's conclusion that appellant's psychiatric condition existed prior to service did not rebut presumption of soundness since only evidence supporting it was reports not supported by any contemporaneous clinical evidence or recorded history in record, but constituted bare conclusion by medical professional; without factual predicate, this is insufficient to rebut statutory presumption of soundness. Miller v West (1998) 11 Vet App 345

Appellant did not rebut presumption of soundness and aggravation so as to establish viable claim for service connection for retinitis pigmentosa, since he was diagnosed with condition two years after his entrance examination and at that time reported that he had 8-year history of poor night vision that had worsened in preceding year and Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] physician opined that worsening of condition was normal progression. Harris v West (1998) 11 Vet App 456, reh, en banc, den (1998, Vet App) 1998 US Vet App LEXIS 1611 and affd (2000, CA FC) 203 F.3d 1347, cert den (2000) 530 US 1276, 147 L Ed 2d 1008, 120 S Ct 2745

Evidence, e.g., veteran's statements during his initial examination that he had experienced intermittent epigastria pain and vomiting, supported conclusion of Board of Veterans' Appeals that veteran's ulcer had preexisted service. "(2) Psychosis which became manifest to a degree of 10 per centum or more within two years from the date of separation from such service; shall be considered to have been incurred in or aggravated by such service, notwithstanding that there is no record of such disease during the period of service."

1988. Act May 20, 1988, P. L. 100-321 (effective 5/1/88, as provided by § 2(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section) added subsec. (c).

Act May 20, 1988, P. L. 100-322, in subsec. (b), in para. (11), deleted "or" following "frostbite.", and added paras. (13)-(15).

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 312, as 38 USCS § 1112, amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101), and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

Act Aug. 14, 1991, in subsec. (c), in para. (1), substituted "active military, naval, or air service" for "the veteran's service on active duty", and substituted "during a period" for "during the period".

Such Act further, in subsec. (c), in para. (4)(A), added "(i)"", ", or" and cl. (ii).

Such Act further (applicable as provided by § 104(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (c), in para. (3), deleted ", except that such period shall be the 30 year period beginning on that date in the case of leukemia (other than chronic lymphocytic leukemia)" following "radiation-risk activity".
1992. Act Oct. 30, 1992 (effective 10/1/92, as provided by § 2(b) of such Act), in subsec. (c), in para. (1), deleted "to a degree of 10 percent or more within the presumption period (as specified in paragraph (3) of this subsection)" following "veteran", in para. (2), added subparas. (N) and (O), deleted para. (3), which read: "The presumption period for purposes of paragraph (1) of this subsection is the 40-year period beginning on the last date on which the veteran participated in a radiation-risk activity.", and redesignated para. (4) as new para. (3).

1994. Act Nov. 2, 1994, in subsec. (c)(3)(B)(i), inserted "(without regard to whether the nation conducting the test was the United States or another nation)".

2003. Act Dec. 16, 2003, substituted subsec. (b) for one which read:

"(b) For the purposes of section 1110 of this title and subject to the provisions of section 1113 of this title, in the case of a veteran who is a former prisoner of war and who was detained or interned for not less than thirty days, the disease of--

5. Miscellaneous

1. Time of service

Veteran in service on April 6, 1917 and discharged thereafter without serving 90 days during World War is not thereby barred from benefits if he had 90 days continuous service. 1934 ADVA 247

Veteran who served in Hiroshima shortly after atomic bomb was dropped there was entitled to reconsideration of service-connected disability for cancer of urinary tract pursuant to Veterans' Radiation Exposure Act of 1992. Farris v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 6

Veteran’s 93 total days of service did not qualify him for presumptive service connection since it did not include 90 days of continuous active service. Lorenzano v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 446

Ninety-day duty requirement for presumption of service connection is not irrational; appellant's brief lacked any developed or well-supported argument against 90-day requirement, and conclusory statement that regulation could just as easily be read to state 60-day presumption does not show why 90-day requirement is irrational. Robinson v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 398, app dismd (1997, CA FC) 111 F.3d 142, reported in full (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 7697

2. Degree of disability

Showing that chronic disease became manifest to degree of 10 percent or more within one year from date of discharge from enlistment entered into prior to November 11, 1918, is necessary to entitle claimant to disability benefits. 1934 ADVA 236

Physician’s statement that veteran was his patient 40 years earlier and suffered from occasional attacks of hypertensive and cardiovascular disease for which he treated veteran was insufficient to establish service connection. Oris v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 95

Board’s conclusion that veteran’s low back disorder did not warrant more than 10 percent disabling rating was not clearly erroneous in light of record viewed in its entirety. Moore v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 209

Board erred in denying claim for right thoracic outlet syndrome, not chronic disease subject to presumption of service connection, without considering whether there was continuity of symptomatology after discharge from service. Rhodes v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 124

Board’s error in not applying former POW presumptions, hence denying surviving spouse’s application for DIC benefits, was not clear and unmistakable error since application would not assist appellant in proving that veteran was totally disabled due to psychiatric disorder for at least ten years prior to his death: presumption is intended only to assist in proving service connection, not as means of increasing disability rating once service connection is established. Allin v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 207

Claim for increased disability rating is new claim and, in light of amendments to rating schedule pertaining to mental disorders which became effective after veteran filed his appeal, case would be remanded to application of amendments more favorable to claimant than earlier provisions. Baker v West (1998) 11 Vet App 163

3. Time of manifestation of disease or disability

Board did not clearly err in denying veteran's presumptive service connection claim for acquired psychiatric disorder since evidence did not demonstrate that it was manifested by March 1977 and thus within one year after his discharge; veteran's testimony that he had received hospital care for psychiatric condition prior to that time was inconsistent with his previous assertions that his maladies were related only to his back and his alcoholism, medical evidence dating from that time at most suggested only possibility that he had been treated for psychiatric disorder, and there was no other medical evidence referring to psychiatric disorder until 1982, well beyond presumptive service connection period. Madden v Gober (1997, CA FC) 125 F.3d
1477, cert den (1998) 523 US 1046, 140 L Ed 2d 511, 118 S Ct 1361

Portion of opinion by general counsel for Department of Veterans Affairs concluding that 38
USCS § 1112(a) does not establish presumption of aggravation for chronic disease that existed before entry into service interprets statute in manner that is not in accordance with law and is vacated since phrase "or aggravated by" indicates Congress intended to include preexisting conditions in presumption of in-service occurrence. Splane v West (2000, CA FC) 216 F.3d 1058

Board's finding that service member's schizophrenia was not present within one year after separation from service was clearly erroneous where evidence was unanimous in supporting that there were symptoms of psychosis within one year after separation from service. Caldwell v
Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 466

Physician's report that he diagnosed veteran with rheumatoid arthritis within year following his discharge established well-grounded claim of presumptive service-connection. Emperador v
Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 343

Board did not err in denying service connection for chronic acquired psychiatric disorder where it properly found that first evidence of chronic psychiatric disorder occurred over 10 years after separation from the service and that in-service psychological problems were attributable to adjustment reaction of adolescence, personality disorder, and alcohol and drug abuse, not to Veteran was not entitled to benefit of 40-year presumption of service connection for any of his cancerous disorders since two-cancer of larynx and of urinary bladder-were not on list-and 40-year presumptive period expired before he was diagnosed with lymphomatic cancer.

Stegman v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 228

Given diagnosis of fibromyalgia in service, there was no plausible basis in record for BVA's finding that veteran's myofascial pain syndrome was not manifested in service. Hoag v Brown
(1993) 4 Vet App 209

New and material evidence is not required to reopen claim of former POW for disease which is presumptively service connected under 38 USCS § 1112(b); all that is required is that former POW submit well-grounded claim. Roncevich v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 192

4. Radiation claims

VA's interpretation that list of radiogenic diseases is exclusive, i.e., that veteran can only establish service connection on direct basis based on radiation exposure if disability is enumerated in list, is not reasonable. Combee v Brown (1994, CA FC) 34 F.3d 1039, reh den Ramey v Gober (1997, CA FC) 120 F.3d 1239)

Proper standard for BVA's adjudication of claims for entitlement to service-connected disability compensation based on exposure to ionizing radiation is not "no reasonable possibility" standard, but one under generally applicable regulations giving due consideration to all evidence

Veteran was entitled to readjudication of claim for service-connected bladder cancer in light of Congress' enacting Veterans' Radiation Exposure Act during pendency of appeal. Farris v
Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 6

Board's finding that veteran's eye disorder was not radiogenic disease enumerated in either 38 USCS § 1112 or regulations was not clearly erroneous, and its conclusion that disorder may not be related to active service on basis of exposure to ionizing radiation was correct. Nix v BVA's denial of service connection for polycythemia rubra vera, based on exposure to ionizing radiation, fully accorded with applicable laws and regulations.  Ennis v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 523

Colon cancer is not one of specified diseases to which presumption of service connection for disease resulting from exposure to ionizing radiation applies, and in absence of any medical evidence suggesting that veteran's colon cancer, first manifested more than 40 years after exposure, was related to service, plausible basis existed for denying service connection.  Papa v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 327

Veteran's exposure to radiation during course of his laboratory work as chemist at Manhattan Project did not constitute radiation-risk activity as defined by statute, hence statutory presumption of service connection was not applicable to veteran's lymphoma.  Lasovick v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 141

Provision of Department's adjudication manual that claimant's assertion of radiation-risk activity may be substantiated, for presumptive service-connection services, only through official Defense Nuclear Agency documentation is substantive rule because it necessarily limits administrative action and was invalid since it was not adopted subject to notice and public comment procedures. Earle v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 558

Board's finding that death of veteran, who had served in Nagasaki shortly after atomic bomb had been dropped there, was due to colon cancer was not clearly erroneous where medical evidence indicated that carcinoma in veteran's liver was result of metastasis from colon cancer, not primary source of cancer, or at least another source unrelated. Ramey v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 40, affd sub nom Ramey v Gober (1997, CA FC) 120 F.3d 1239, cert den (1998) 522 US 1151, 140 L Ed 2d 181, 118 S Ct 1171

World War II veteran was not entitled to presumption of service connection for cancers of bladder, left kidney, prostate and right lung since such cancers were not included in 15 listed and veteran admitted to not participating in radiation risk activity as defined by statute. Rucker v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 67

Intent of statute as to radiation risk activity is to grant presumption to those veterans who somehow participated in seizure or control of Hiroshima and Nagasaki at time when U.S. forces were assigned to occupy those cities, and although Congress chose expansive definition of veterans who qualified for presumption, it is clear that statute does not apply presumption based merely upon veteran's leisure presence in those cities; accordingly, appellant whose duties did not require him to participate in occupation, but who visited both cities exclusively while on weekend leave, was not entitled to presumptive service connection for his cancers. McGuire v West (1998) 11 Vet App 274

In denying widow's claim of service connection for veteran's death from rectal cancer from veteran's one day of service at Nagasaki in November 1945, Board failed to address all of factors specified in regulation § 3.311(e), and because medical evidence before Board did not address all those factors, Board was required to remand claim for medical opinion to be obtained that would be adequate for requisite analysis. Hilkert v West (1998) 11 Vet App 284, substituted op (1999) 12 Vet App 145, afffd (2000, CA FC) 232 F.3d 908

Any medical nexus between veteran's fatal lung cancer and in-service exposure to ionizing radiation was speculative at best where three physicians found that it was extremely unlikely that lung cancer was caused by veteran's level of radiation exposure and that contrary opinion of appellant's physician lacked scientific validity; adenocarcinoma of lungs is not one of fifteen cancers subject to presumption of service connection for exposure to ionizing radiation under 38 USCS § 1112 and there was plausible basis in record for Board to discount opinion of appellant's physician. Davis v West (1999) 13 Vet App 178, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1287, remanded (2001) 15 Vet App 163, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1008

5. Miscellaneous

Veteran's assertion of presumption does not act as collateral estoppel against assertion of contrary position in proceedings to obtain insurance benefits if Administrator [now Secretary] decides to pay veteran's claim so that assertion is never presented in adversary hearing.

§ 1113. Presumptions rebuttable

(a) Where there is affirmative evidence to the contrary, or evidence to establish that an intercurrent injury or disease which is a recognized cause of any of the diseases or disabilities within the purview of section 1112, 1116, 1117, or 1118 of this title [38 USCS § 1112, 1116, 1117, or 1118], has been suffered between the date of separation from service and the onset of any such diseases or disabilities, or the disability is due to the veteran's own willful misconduct, service-connection pursuant to section 1112, 1116, or 1118 of this title [38 USCS § 1112, 1116, or 1118], or payments of compensation pursuant to section 1117 of this title [38 USCS § 1117], will not be in order.

(b) Nothing in section 1112, 1116, 1117, or 1118 of this title [38 USCS § 1112, 1116, 1117, or 1118], subsection (a) of this section, or section 5 of Public Law 98-542 (38 U.S.C. 1154 note) shall be construed to prevent the granting of service-connection for any disease or disorder otherwise shown by sound judgment to have been incurred in or aggravated by active military, naval, or air service.

BVA erred in denying service connection for former POW's suffering from residuals of frostbite since there was no affirmative evidence to the contrary to rebut the presumption of service connection. Borella v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 52

Unless there is affirmative evidence to contrary, veteran who has been POW and manifests helminthiasis to degree of 10 percent or more shall be considered service connected for disorder, and claim for entitlement to service connection for POW presumptive diseases does not require any new and material evidence to reopen; claim must merely be well grounded, which it was in instant case since veteran had diagnosis of intestinal parasites. (p) in the event the veteran's service-connected disabilities exceed the requirements for any of the rates prescribed in this section, the Secretary may allow the next higher rate or an intermediate rate, but in no event in excess of $4,176. In the event the veteran has suffered service-connected blindness with 5/200 visual acuity or less and (1) has also suffered bilateral deafness (and the hearing impairment in either one or both ears is service connected) rated at no less than 30 percent disabling, the Secretary shall allow the next higher rate, or (2) has also suffered service-connected total deafness in one ear or service-connected anatomical loss or loss of use of one hand or one foot, the Secretary shall allow the next intermediate rate, but in no event in excess of $4,176. In the event the veteran has suffered service-connected blindness, having only light perception or less, and has also suffered bilateral deafness (and the hearing impairment in either one or both ears is service connected) rated at 10 or 20 percent disabling, the Secretary shall allow the next intermediate rate, but in no event in excess of $4,176. In the event the veteran has suffered the anatomical loss or loss of use, or a combination of anatomical loss and loss of use, of three extremities, the Secretary shall allow the next higher rate or intermediate rate, but in no event in excess of $4,176. Any intermediate rate under this subsection shall be established at the arithmetic mean, rounded down to the nearest dollar, between the two rates concerned;

(q) [Repealed]

(r) Subject to section 5503(c) of this title [38 USCS § 5503(c)], if any veteran, otherwise entitled to compensation authorized under subsection (o) of this section, at the maximum rate authorized under subsection (p) of this section, or at the intermediate rate authorized between the rates authorized under subsections (n) and (o) of this section and at the rate authorized under subsection (k) of this section, is in need of regular aid and attendance, then, in addition to such compensation--

(1) the veteran shall be paid a monthly aid and attendance allowance at the rate of $1,792; or
(2) if the veteran, in addition to such need for regular aid and attendance, is in need of a higher level of care, such veteran shall be paid a monthly aid and attendance allowance at the rate of $2,669, in lieu of the allowance authorized in clause (1) of this subsection, if the Secretary finds that the veteran, in the absence of the provision of such care, would require hospitalization, nursing home care, or other residential institutional care.

For the purposes of clause (2) of this subsection, need for a higher level of care shall be considered to be need for personal health-care services provided on a daily basis in the veteran's home by a person who is licensed to provide such services or who provides such services under the regular supervision of a licensed health-care professional. The existence of the need for such care shall be determined by a physician employed by the Department or, in areas where no such physician is available, by a physician carrying out such function under contract or fee arrangement based on an examination by such physician. For the purposes of section 1134 of this title [38 USCS § 1134], such allowance shall be considered as additional compensation payable for disability.

(s) If the veteran has a service-connected disability rated as total, and (1) has additional service-connected disability or disabilities independently ratable at 60 percent or more, or, (2) by reason of such veteran's service-connected disability or disabilities, is permanently housebound, then the monthly compensation shall be $2,678. For the purpose of this subsection, the requirement of "permanently housebound" will be considered to have been met when the veteran is substantially confined to such veteran's house (ward or clinical areas, if institutionalized) or immediate premises due to a service-connected disability or disabilities which it is reasonably certain will remain throughout such veteran's lifetime.

Law Review Articles:

Wellen. Armed Forces Disability Benefits-a Lawyer's View. 27 Judge Advocate General Journal 485, Spring 1974
1. Generally

While promulgated under exercise of discretion given to Secretary of Veterans Affairs in 38 USCS § 1114(p), 38 C.F.R. § 3.350(f)(3) (1972) itself contained no discretionary language; rather, it stated that veteran's additional injuries would afford entitlement to higher special monthly compensation rate and, to extent that Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims concluded that Secretary retained discretion not to award next higher rate to veteran despite wording of 38 C.F.R. § 3.350(f)(3), its decision was contrary to law. Augustine v Principi (2003, CA FC) 343 F.3d 1334

Determination of "loss of use" regarding a particular benefit is controlling respecting eligibility irrespective of whether such loss is functional or organic in origin, and assertion that prognosis for reversal is virtually nil from medical standpoint meets requirements of permanence applicable to entitlement to benefits. 1974 ADVA 994

2. Receipt of in kind benefits

Pension of veteran who comes within phrase "or is so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance", is being maintained by Government in institution and is thus being furnished with benefits in kind, is to be reduced to rate provided for total disability while so maintained. 1933 ADVA 201

3. Recovery of damages in civil action

In action against hospital brought by veteran who became paraplegic due to accident while under psychiatric supervision at hospital for service-related injury, modification of judgment by reducing damage award for pain and suffering because of increase in disability benefits received by veteran pursuant to 38 USCS § 314 [now 38 USCS § 1114] was improper, since there was no statutory authority permitting § 314 [now § 1114] benefits to set off pain and suffering awards, and increase in § 314 [now § 1114] benefits received by plaintiff were not equivalent to pain and suffering damages to justify setoff, but were intended to compensate veteran for lost earning capacity, thus original damage award to be reinstated. Ulrich v Veterans Admin. Hospital (1988, CA2 NY) 853 F.2d 1078

4. Practice and procedure

Where veteran was entitled to larger disability benefit due to clear and unmistakable error made in 1969 because his disability was incorrectly classified under 38 USCS § 1114(m) when proper classification was under 38 USCS § 1114(n), while veteran was awarded difference in payments, and these payments incorporated cost-of-living adjustments (COLAs) that had been authorized and in effect for each month for which he received payment, veteran was not entitled to interest on difference because government's sovereign immunity prevented award of interest. Sandstrom v Principi (2004, CA FC) 358 F.3d 1376

Board did not err in denying veteran earlier effective date for Special Monthly Compensation rating where, at time contested ratings were made, those decisions were not clearly and unmistakably erroneous. Moreira v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 522

Board incorrectly applied regulatory standard for determining special monthly compensation for veteran's loss of use of both feet; relevant inquiry is not whether amputation was warranted but whether appellant had effective function remaining other than that which would be equally well served by amputation with use of suitable prosthetic appliance. Tucker v West (1998) 11 Vet App 369

Board's decision denying veteran entitlement to special monthly compensation pursuant to 38 USCS § 1114(l) is affirmed even though there is substantial evidence both for and against veteran's claim since Board found that preponderance of evidence was against finding that veteran required aid and attendance solely on account of his service-connected mental condition, Board supported its conclusion with an adequate statement of its reasoning of why it found certain medical opinions more probative than others, and there is plausible basis in record for Board's decision. Prejean v West (2000) 13 Vet App 444, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 344

§ 1115. Additional compensation for dependents

Any veteran entitled to compensation at the rates provided in section 1114 of this title [38 USCS § 1114], and whose disability is rated not less than 30 percent, shall be entitled to additional compensation for dependents in the following monthly amounts:

   (B) has a spouse and one or more children, $233 plus $68 for each child in excess of one;
   (C) has no spouse but one or more children, $91 plus $68 for each child in excess of one;
   (D) has a parent dependent upon such veteran for support, then, in addition to the above amounts, $109 for each parent so dependent;
   (E) notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph, the monthly payable amount on account of a spouse who is (i) a patient in a nursing home or (ii) blind, or so nearly blind or significantly disabled as to need or require the regular aid and attendance of another person, shall be $257 for a totally disabled veteran and proportionate amounts for partially disabled veterans in accordance with paragraph (2) of this section; and
   (F) notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph the monthly amount payable on account of each child who has attained the age of eighteen years and who is pursuing a course of instruction at an approved educational institution shall be $215 for a totally disabled veteran and proportionate amounts for partially disabled veterans in accordance with paragraph (2) of this section.

(2) If and while rated partially disabled, but not less than 30 percent, in an amount having the same ratio to the amount specified in paragraph (1) of this section as the degree of disability bears to total disability. The amounts payable under this paragraph, if not a multiple of $1, shall be rounded down to the nearest dollar.

Denial of widow's claim for accrued disability benefits under 38 USCS § 1115 was affirmed because such benefits were provided solely to veteran and any claim pursuant to that statute was extinguished by veteran's death. Sharp v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 403 F.3d 1324

Since there is no clear indication in statute or Public Law amending it that Congress intended to create duty to notify potential beneficiaries of change in law from 30 to 50 per centum, no such duty was created by law. Gold v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 315

Board's decision that veteran's spouse did not have legal standing to apply for entitlement to additional compensation to veteran based on spouse's need for regular aid and attendance under 38 USCS § 1115(1)(E)(ii) is affirmed where spouse has not demonstrated that she has standing to submit Notice of Disagreement or substantive appeal. Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] divested spouse of her capacity as legal guardian for veteran and designated veteran's mother as legal guardian, and spouse has no personal stake in outcome of controversy since benefit would flow to veteran and not to her. Widow of veteran had no standing under 38 USCS § 1115 because any retroactive benefits under that section belonged to veteran, not to widow, and veteran's claim was extinguished by his death; widow thus had no property interest in any such benefits. (3) For purposes of this section, the term "herbicide agent" means a chemical in an herbicide used in support of the United States and allied military operations in the Republic of Vietnam during the period beginning on January 9, 1962, and ending on May 7, 1975.

(b) (1) Whenever the Secretary determines, on the basis of sound medical and scientific evidence, that a positive association exists between (A) the exposure of humans to an herbicide agent, and (B) the occurrence of a disease in humans, the Secretary shall prescribe regulations providing that a presumption of service connection is warranted for that disease for the purposes of this section.
(2) In making determinations for the purpose of this subsection, the Secretary shall take into account (A) reports received by the Secretary from the National Academy of Sciences under section 3 of the Agent Orange Act of 1991 [note to this section], and (B) all other sound medical and scientific information and analyses available to the Secretary. In evaluating any study for the purpose of making such determinations, the Secretary shall take into consideration whether the results are statistically significant, are capable of replication, and withstand peer review.
(3) An association between the occurrence of a disease in humans and exposure to an herbicide agent shall be considered to be positive for the purposes of this section if the credible evidence for the association is equal to or outweighs the credible evidence against the association.

(c) (1) (A) Not later than 60 days after the date on which the Secretary receives a report from the National Academy of Sciences under section 3 of the Agent Orange Act of 1991 [note to this section], the Secretary shall determine whether a presumption of service connection is warranted for each disease covered by the report. If the Secretary determines that such a presumption is warranted, the Secretary, not later than 60 days after making the determination, shall issue proposed regulations setting forth the Secretary's determination.
(B) If the Secretary determines that a presumption of service connection is not warranted, the Secretary, not later than 60 days after making the determination, shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of that determination. The notice shall include an explanation of the scientific basis for that determination. If the disease already is included in regulations providing for a presumption of service connection, the Secretary shall issue regulations providing that such presumption is not warranted.

connection, the Secretary, not later than 60 days after publication of the notice of a determination that the presumption is not warranted, shall issue proposed regulations removing the presumption for the disease.

(2) Not later than 90 days after the date on which the Secretary issues any proposed regulations under this subsection, the Secretary shall issue final regulations. Such regulations shall be effective on the date of issuance.

(d) Whenever a disease is removed from regulations prescribed under this section--
(1) a veteran who was awarded compensation for such disease on the basis of the presumption provided in subsection (a) before the effective date of the removal shall continue to be entitled to receive compensation on that basis; and
(2) a survivor of a veteran who was awarded dependency and indemnity compensation for the death of a veteran resulting from such disease on the basis of such presumption shall continue to be entitled to receive dependency and indemnity compensation on such basis.

(e) Subsections (b) through (d) shall cease to be effective on September 30, 2015.

(f) For purposes of establishing service connection for a disability or death resulting from exposure to a herbicide agent, including a presumption of service-connection under this section, a veteran who, during active military, naval, or air service, served in the Republic of Vietnam during the period beginning on January 9, 1962, and ending on May 7, 1975, shall be presumed to have been exposed during such service to an herbicide agent containing dioxin or 2,4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid, and may be presumed to have been exposed during such service to any other chemical compound in an herbicide agent, unless there is affirmative evidence to establish that the veteran was not exposed to any such agent during that service.

Study and report on effects of exposure to herbicide agents containing dioxin; rulemaking; limits. Act Dec. 27, 2001, P. L. 107-103, Title II, § 201(a)(2)-(4), 115 Stat. 987, provides:

"(2) The Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall enter into a contract with the National Academy of Sciences, not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act, for the performance of a study to include a review of all available scientific literature on the effects of exposure to an herbicide agent containing dioxin on the development of respiratory cancers in humans and whether it is possible to identify a period of time after exposure to herbicides after which a presumption of service-connection for such exposure would not be warranted. Under the contract, the National Academy of Sciences shall submit a report to the Secretary setting forth its conclusions. The report shall be submitted not later than 18 months after the contract is entered into.

"(3) For a period of six months beginning on the date of the receipt of the report of the National Academy of Sciences under paragraph (2), the Secretary may, if warranted by clear scientific evidence presented in the National Academy of Sciences report, initiate a rulemaking under which the Secretary would specify a limit on the number of years after a claimant's departure from Vietnam after which respiratory cancers would not be presumed to have been associated with the claimant's exposure to herbicides while serving in Vietnam. Any such limit under such a rule may not take effect until 120 days have passed after the publication of a final rule to impose such a limit.

"(4)(A) Subject to subparagraphs (B) and (C), if the Secretary imposes such a limit under paragraph (3), that limit shall be effective only as to claims filed on or after the effective date of that limit.

"(B) In the case of any veteran whose disability or death due to respiratory cancer is found by the Secretary to be service-connected under section 1116(a)(2)(F) of title 38, United States Code, as amended by paragraph (1), such disability or death shall remain service-connected for purposes of all provisions of law under such title notwithstanding the imposition, if any, of a time limit by the Secretary by rulemaking authorized under paragraph (3).
“(C) Subparagraph (B) does not apply in a case in which-- "(i) the original award of compensation or service connection was based on fraud; or

"(ii) it is clearly shown from military records that the person concerned did not have the requisite service or character of discharge.”.

Secretary's determination not to create presumption that prostate cancer, liver cancer, and nose cancer are connected to exposure to herbicides in Vietnam, was reasonable in light of Academy's conclusion that there was yet no convincing evidence of, or mechanistic basis for, carcinogenicity of any of herbicides used in Vietnam. LeFevre v Secretary, Dep't of Veteran's Affairs (1995, CA FC) 66 F.3d 1191, reh den (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 29853 and cert den (1996) 517 US 1188, 134 L Ed 2d 778, 116 S Ct 1674

Section 2 of Agent Orange Act of 1991, Pub. L. No. 102-4, 105 Stat. 11 (1991), establishes presumption of service connection, by reason of exposure to dioxin, for diseases that are to be identified in later-promulgated regulations. Williams v Principi (2002, CA FC) 310 F.3d 1374

National Academy of Sciences and Institute of Medicine (Academies) was entitled to dismissal of action filed by veteran of Vietnam War seeking declaratory judgment reflecting that Academies failed to adequately review scientific evidence concerning association between herbicide Agent Orange exposure and illnesses among Vietnam veterans; there was no plausible contention in pleadings that Academies did not adhere to provisions of Agent Orange Act, 38 USCS § 1116, in reviewing scientific evidence and offering recommendations for further study and such lawsuits would significantly imperil and inhibit free and effective scientific inquiry and research that was protected under U.S. Const. amend. I. McMillan v Togus Reg'l Office, Dep't of VA (2003, ED NY) 294 F Supp 2d 305, affd (2005, CA2 NY) 120 Fed Appx 849

Statute concerning service connection for conditions caused by exposure to Agent Orange precludes granting of service connection for birth defects and deaths of appellant's three children secondary to appellant's exposure to Agent Orange, because children are not veterans. Martin v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 138

Veteran's medical records and death certificate rebutted service connection for veteran's cause of death, even though he died, in part, from lung cancer, since records indicated that first diagnosis was for stomach cancer, that additional cancers developed as result of metastasizing, and that veteran's lung cancer was due to or consequence of veteran's stomach cancer. § 1117. Compensation for disabilities occurring in Persian Gulf War veterans

(a) (1) The Secretary may pay compensation under this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 1110 et seq.] to a Persian Gulf veteran with a qualifying chronic disability that became manifest--
   (A) during service on active duty in the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War; or
   (B) to a degree of 10 percent or more during the presumptive period prescribed under subsection (b).
   (2) For purposes of this subsection, the term "qualifying chronic disability" means a chronic disability resulting from any of the following (or any combination of any of the following):
      (A) An undiagnosed illness.
      (B) A medically unexplained chronic multisymptom illness (such as chronic fatigue syndrome, fibromyalgia, and irritable bowel syndrome) that is defined by a cluster of signs or symptoms.
      (C) Any diagnosed illness that the Secretary determines in regulations prescribed under subsection (d) warrants a presumption of service-connection.

(b) The Secretary shall prescribe by regulation the period of time following service in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War that the Secretary determines is appropriate for presumption of service connection for purposes of this section. The Secretary's determination of such period of time shall be made following a review of any available credible medical or scientific evidence and the historical treatment afforded disabilities for which manifestation periods have been established and shall take into account other pertinent circumstances regarding the experiences of veterans of the Persian Gulf War.

(c) (1) Whenever the Secretary determines under section 1118(c) of this title [38 USCS § 1118(c)] that a presumption of service connection previously established under this section is no longer warranted--
      (A) a veteran who was awarded compensation under this section on the basis of the presumption shall continue to be entitled to receive compensation under this section on that basis; and
      (B) a survivor of a veteran who was awarded dependency and indemnity compensation for the death of a veteran resulting from the disease on the basis of the presumption before that date shall continue to be entitled to receive dependency and indemnity compensation on that basis.
   (2) This subsection shall cease to be effective on September 30, 2011.

(d) (1) The Secretary shall prescribe regulations to carry out this section.
   (2) Those regulations shall include the following:
      (A) A description of the period and geographical area or areas of military service in connection with which compensation under this section may be paid.
      (B) A description of the illnesses for which compensation under this section may be paid.
(C) A description of any relevant medical characteristic (such as a latency period) associated with each such illness.

(e) A disability for which compensation under this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 1110 et seq.] is payable shall be considered to be service connected for purposes of all other laws of the United States.

(f) For purposes of this section, the term "Persian Gulf veteran" means a veteran who served on active duty in the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War.

(g) For purposes of this section, signs or symptoms that may be a manifestation of an undiagnosed illness or a chronic multisymptom illness include the following:

1. Fatigue.
2. Unexplained rashes or other dermatological signs or symptoms.
3. Headache.
5. Joint pain.
7. Neuropsychological signs or symptoms.
8. Signs or symptoms involving the upper or lower respiratory system.
9. Sleep disturbances.
10. Gastrointestinal signs or symptoms.
11. Cardiovascular signs or symptoms.
12. Abnormal weight loss.

(h) (1) If the Secretary determines with respect to a medical research project sponsored by the Department that it is necessary for the conduct of the project that Persian Gulf veterans in receipt of compensation under this section or section 1118 of this title [38 USCS § 1118] participate in the project without the possibility of loss of service connection under either such section, the Secretary shall provide that service connection granted under either such section for disability of a veteran who participated in the research project may not be terminated. Except as provided in paragraph (2), notwithstanding any other provision of law any grant of service-connection protected under this subsection shall remain service-connected for purposes of all provisions of law under this title.

2. Paragraph (1) does not apply in a case in which--
   (A) the original award of compensation or service connection was based on fraud; or
   (B) it is clearly shown from military records that the person concerned did not have the requisite service or character of discharge.

(3) The Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register a list of medical research projects sponsored by the Department for which service connection granted under this section or section 1118 of this title [38 USCS § 1118] may not be terminated pursuant to paragraph (1).

Amendments:

2001. Act Dec. 27, 2001 (effective 3/1/2002, as provided by § 202(c) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), substituted subsec. (a) for one which read:

"(a) The Secretary may pay compensation under this subchapter to any Persian Gulf veteran suffering from a chronic disability resulting from an undiagnosed illness (or combination of undiagnosed illnesses) that--

(1) became manifest during service on active duty in the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War; or in subsec. (c)(1), in the introductory matter, deleted "for an undiagnosed illness (or combination of undiagnosed illnesses)" following "connection", and, in subpara. (A), deleted "for such illness (or combination of illnesses)" following "this section"; and added subsec. (g).

(2) became manifest to a degree of 10 percent or more within the presumptive period prescribed under subsection (b)."

Such Act further, in subsec. (c)(2), substituted "on September 20, 2011" for "10 years after the first day of the fiscal year in which the National Academy of Sciences submits to the Secretary the first report under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998".

Such Act further (applicable as provided by § 203(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), added subsec. (h).

Other provisions:

Persian Gulf War Veterans' Benefits Act; congressional findings. Act Nov. 2, 1994, P. L. 103-446, Title I, § 102, 108 Stat. 4647, provides:

"The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) During the Persian Gulf War, members of the Armed Forces were exposed to numerous potentially toxic substances, including fumes and smoke from military operations, oil well fires, diesel exhaust, paints, pesticides, depleted uranium, infectious agents, investigational drugs and vaccines, and indigenous diseases, and were also given multiple immunizations. It is not known whether these servicemembers were exposed to chemical or biological warfare agents. However, threats of enemy use of chemical and biological warfare heightened the psychological stress associated with the military operation.

(2) Significant numbers of veterans of the Persian Gulf War are suffering from illnesses, or are exhibiting symptoms of illness, that cannot now be diagnosed or clearly defined. As a result, many of these conditions or illnesses are not considered to be service connected under current law for purposes of benefits administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs.

(3) The National Institutes of Health Technology Assessment Workshop on the Persian Gulf Experience and Health, held in April 1994, concluded that the complex biological, chemical, physical, and psychological environment of the Southwest Asia theater of operations produced complex adverse health effects in Persian Gulf War veterans and that no single disease entity or syndrome is apparent. Rather, it may be that the illnesses suffered by those veterans result from multiple illnesses with overlapping symptoms and causes that have yet to be defined.

(4) That workshop concluded that the information concerning the range and intensity of exposure to toxic substances by military personnel in the Southwest Asia theater of operations is very limited and that such information was collected only after a considerable delay.

"(5) In response to concerns regarding the health-care needs of Persian Gulf War veterans, particularly those who suffer from illnesses or conditions for which no diagnosis has been made, the Congress, in Public Law 102-585 [for full classification, consult USCS Tables volumes], directed the establishment of a Persian Gulf War Veterans Health Registry, authorized health examinations for veterans of the Persian Gulf War, and provided for the National Academy of Sciences to conduct a comprehensive review and assessment of information regarding the health consequences of military service in the Persian Gulf theater of operations and to develop recommendations on avenues for research regarding such health consequences. In Public Law 103-210 [for full classification, consult USCS Tables volumes], the Congress authorized the Department of Veterans Affairs to provide health care services on a priority basis to Persian Gulf War veterans. The Congress also provided in Public Law 103-160 (the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 [for full classification, consult USCS Tables volumes]) for the establishment of a specialized environmental medical facility for the conduct of research into the possible health effects of exposure to low levels of hazardous chemicals, especially among Persian Gulf veterans, and for research into the possible health effects of battlefield exposure in such veterans to depleted uranium.

"(6) In response to concerns about the lack of objective research on Gulf War illnesses, Congress included research provisions in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 [Act Oct. 5, 1994, P. L. 103-337; for full classification, consult USCS tables volumes], which was passed by the House and Senate in September 1994. This legislation requires the Secretary of Defense to provide research grants to non-Federal researchers to support three types of studies of the Gulf War syndrome. The first type of study will be an epidemiological study or studies of the incidence, prevalence, and nature of the illness and symptoms and the risk factors associated with symptoms or illnesses. This will include illnesses among spouses and birth defects and illnesses among offspring born before and after the Gulf War. The second group of studies shall be conducted to determine the health consequences of the use of pyridostigmine bromide as a pretreatment antidote enhancer during the Persian Gulf War, alone or in combination with exposure to pesticides, environmental toxins, and other hazardous substances. The final group of studies shall include clinical research and other studies on the causes, possible transmission, and treatment of Gulf War syndrome, and will include studies of veterans and their spouses and children.

"(7) Further research and studies must be undertaken to determine the underlying causes of the illnesses suffered by Persian Gulf War veterans and, pending the outcome of such research, veterans who are seriously ill as the result of such illnesses should be given the benefit of the doubt and be provided compensation benefits to offset the impairment in earnings capacities they may be experiencing.

"The purposes of this title [for full classification, consult USCS Tables volumes] are--

"(1) to provide compensation to Persian Gulf War veterans who suffer disabilities resulting from illnesses that cannot now be diagnosed or defined, and for which other causes cannot be identified;

"(2) to require the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to develop at the earliest possible date case assessment strategies and definitions or diagnoses of such illnesses;
“(3) to promote greater outreach to Persian Gulf War veterans and their families to inform them of ongoing research activities, as well as the services and benefits to which they are currently entitled; and

“(4) to ensure that research activities and accompanying surveys of Persian Gulf War veterans are appropriately funded and undertaken by the Department of Veterans Affairs.”.

“(a) Uniform medical evaluation protocol.(1) The Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall develop and implement a uniform and comprehensive medical evaluation protocol that will ensure appropriate medical assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of Persian Gulf War veterans who are suffering from illnesses the origins of which are (as of the date of the enactment of this Act) unknown and that may be attributable to service in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War. The protocol shall include an evaluation of complaints relating to illnesses involving the reproductive system.

“(2) If such a protocol is not implemented before the end of the 120-day period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall, before the end of such period, submit to the Committees on Veterans’ Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report as to why such a protocol has not yet been developed.

“(3)(A) The Secretary shall ensure that the evaluation under the protocol developed under this section is available at all Department medical centers that have the capability of providing the medical assessment, diagnosis, and treatment required under the protocol.

“(B) The Secretary may enter into contracts with non-Department medical facilities for the provision of the evaluation under the protocol.

“(C) In the case of a veteran whose residence is distant from a medical center described in subparagraph (A), the Secretary may provide the evaluation through a Department medical center described in that subparagraph and, in such a case, may provide the veteran the travel and incidental expenses therefor pursuant to the provisions of section 111 of title 38, United States Code.

“(4)(A) If the Secretary is unable to diagnose the symptoms or illness of a veteran provided an evaluation, or if the symptoms or illness of a veteran do not respond to treatment provided by the Secretary, the Secretary may use the authority in section 1703 of title 38, United States Code, in order to provide for the veteran to receive diagnostic tests or treatment at a non-Department medical facility that may have the capability of diagnosing or treating the symptoms or illness of the veteran. The Secretary may provide the veteran the travel and incidental expenses therefor pursuant to the provisions of section 111 of title 38, United States Code.

“(B) The Secretary shall request from each non-Department medical facility that examines or treats a veteran under this paragraph such information relating to the diagnosis or treatment as the Secretary considers appropriate.

“(5) In each year after the implementation of the protocol, the Secretary shall enter into an agreement with the National Academy of Sciences under which agreement appropriate experts shall review the adequacy of the protocol and its implementation by the Department of Veterans Affairs.

“(b) Relationship to other comprehensive clinical evaluation protocols. The Secretary, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, shall ensure that the information collected through the protocol described in this section is collected and maintained in a manner that permits the effective and efficient cross-reference of that information with information collected and maintained through the comprehensive clinical protocols of the Department of Defense for Persian Gulf War veterans.

"(c) Case definitions and diagnoses. The Secretary shall develop case definitions or diagnoses for illnesses associated with the service described in subsection (a)(1). The Secretary shall develop such definitions or diagnoses at the earliest possible date."

"(a) In general. The Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall implement a comprehensive outreach program to inform Persian Gulf War veterans and their families of the medical care and other benefits that may be provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense arising from service in the Persian Gulf War.

"(b) Newsletter.(1) The outreach program shall include a newsletter which shall be updated and distributed at least semi-annually and shall be distributed to the veterans listed on the Persian Gulf War Veterans Health Registry. The newsletter shall include summaries of the status and findings of Government sponsored research on illnesses of Persian Gulf War veterans and their families, as well as on benefits available to such individuals through the Department of Veterans Affairs. The newsletter shall be prepared in consultation with veterans service organizations.

"(2) The requirement under this subsection for the distribution of the newsletter shall terminate on December 31, 2003.

"(c) Toll-free number. The outreach program shall include establishment of a toll-free telephone number to provide Persian Gulf War veterans and their families information on the Persian Gulf War Veterans Health Registry, health care and other benefits provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs, and such other information as the Secretary considers appropriate. Such toll-free telephone number shall be established not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act."

Report on payment of compensation. Act Nov. 2, 1994, P. L. 103-446, Title I, § 106(c), 108 Stat. 4651, provides: "Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report stating whether or not the Secretary intends to pay compensation as provided in section 1117 of title 38, United States Code, as added by subsection (a)."

Publication of proposed regulations. Act Nov. 2, 1994, P. L. 103-446, Title I, § 106(d), 108 Stat. 4651, provides: "If the Secretary states in the report under subsection (c) that the Secretary intends to pay compensation as provided in section 1117 of title 38, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), the Secretary shall, not later than 30 days after the date on which such report is submitted, publish in the Federal Register proposed regulations under subsections (b) and (c) of that section."

"(a) Evaluation program. Subject to subsection (c), the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall conduct a program to evaluate the health status of spouses and children of Persian Gulf War veterans. Under the program, the Secretary shall provide for the conduct of diagnostic testing and appropriate medical examinations of any individual--

"(1) who is the spouse or child of a veteran who--
"(A) is listed in the Persian Gulf War Veterans Registry established under section 702 of Public Law 102-585 [38 USCS § 527 note]; and

"(B) is suffering from an illness or disorder;

"(2) who is apparently suffering from, or may have suffered from, an illness or disorder (including a birth defect, miscarriage, or stillbirth) which cannot be disassociated from the veteran's service in the Southwest Asia theater of operations; and

"(3) who, in the case of a spouse, has granted the Secretary permission to include in the Registry relevant medical data (including a medical history and the results of diagnostic testing and medical examinations) and such other information as the Secretary considers relevant and appropriate with respect to such individual.

"(b) Duration of program. The program shall be carried out during the period beginning on November 1, 1994, and ending on December 31, 2003.

"(c) Funding limitation. The amount spent for the program under subsection (a) may not exceed $2,000,000.

"(d) Contracting. The Secretary may provide for the conduct of testing and examinations under subsection (a) through appropriate contract arrangements, including fee arrangements described in section 1703 of title 38, United States Code.

"(e) Standard protocols and guidelines. The Secretary shall seek to ensure uniform development of medical data through the development of standard protocols and guidelines for such testing and examinations. If such protocols and guidelines have not been adopted before the end of the 120-day period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall, before the end of such period, submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report as to why such protocols and guidelines have not yet been developed.

"(f) Entry of results in registry. The results of diagnostic tests, medical histories, and medical examinations conducted under subsection (a) shall be entered into the Persian Gulf War Veterans Health Registry.

"(g) Outreach. The Secretary shall conduct such outreach activities as the Secretary determines necessary for the purposes of the program. In conducting such outreach activities, the Secretary shall advise that medical treatment is not available under the program.

"(h) Use outside department of standard protocols and guidelines. The Secretary shall--

"(1) make the standard protocols and guidelines developed under this section available to any entity which requests a copy of such protocols and guidelines; and

"(2) enter into the registry the results of any examination of the spouse or child of a veteran who served in the Persian Gulf theater which a licensed physician certifies was conducted using those standard protocols and guidelines.

"(i) Report to Congress. Not later than July 31, 1999, the Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report on activities with respect to the program, including the provision of services under subsection (d).

"(j) Definitions. For purposes of this section, the terms 'child' and 'spouse' have the meanings given those terms in paragraphs (4) and (31), respectively, of section 101 of title 38, United States Code."

"(a) In general. The Secretary of Veterans Affairs may carry out a survey of Persian Gulf veterans to gather information on the incidence and nature of health problems occurring in Persian Gulf veterans and their families.

"(b) Coordination with Department of Defense. Any survey under subsection (a) shall be carried out in coordination with the Secretary of Defense.

"(c) Persian Gulf veteran. For purposes of this section, a Persian Gulf veteran is an individual who served on active duty in the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War as defined in section 101(33) of title 38, United States Code.".

Authorization of epidemiological studies. Act Nov. 2, 1994, P. L. 103-446, Title I, § 110, 108 Stat. 4654, provides:

"(a) Study of health consequences of Persian Gulf service. If the National Academy of Sciences includes in the report required by section 706(b) of the Veterans Health Care Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-585) [38 USCS § 527 note] a finding that there is a sound basis for an epidemiological study or studies on the health consequences of service in the Persian Gulf theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War and recommends the conduct of such a study or studies, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs is authorized to carry out such study.

"(b) Oversight.(1) The Secretary shall seek to enter into an agreement with the Medical Follow-Up Agency (MFUA) of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences for (A) the review of proposals to conduct the research referred to in subsection (a), (B) oversight of such research, and (C) review of the research findings.

"(2) If the Secretary is unable to enter into an agreement under paragraph (1) with the entity specified in that paragraph, the Secretary shall enter into an agreement described in that paragraph with another appropriate scientific organization which does not have a connection to the Department of Veterans Affairs. In such a case, the Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives, at least 90 days before the date on which the agreement is entered into, otice in writing identifying the organization with which the Secretary intends to enter into the agreement.

"(c) Access to data. The Secretary shall enter into agreements with the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Health and Human Services to make available for the purposes of any study described in subsection (a) all data that the Secretary, in consultation with the National Academy of Sciences and the contractor for the study, considers relevant to the study.

"(d) Authorization. There are authorized to be appropriated to the Department such sums as are necessary for the conduct of studies described in subsection (a).".

All provisions of that order relating to membership and administration shall remain in effect. All Committee appointments, as well as the President's designation of a Chairperson, shall remain in effect. The limitations set forth in section 2(c)-(e) and section 4(a) of Executive Order 12961 [note to this section] shall also remain in effect. The Committee shall remain subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended, 5 U.S.C. App. 2.

"Sec. 2. Functions. (a) The Committee shall report to the President through the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, and the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

"(b) The Committee shall have two principal roles:

"(e) The Committee shall submit by letter a status report by April 30, 1997, and a final supplemental report by October 31, 1997, unless otherwise directed by the President.

"Sec. 3. General Provisions. (a) The Committee shall terminate 30 days after submitting its final supplemental report.

"(b) This order is intended only to improve the internal management of the executive branch and it is not intended to create any right, benefit or trust responsibility, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or equity by a party against the United States, its agencies, its officers, or any person."

"(a) Purpose. The purpose of this section is to provide for the National Academy of Sciences, an independent nonprofit scientific organization with appropriate expertise, to review and evaluate the available scientific evidence regarding associations between illnesses and exposure to toxic agents, environmental or wartime hazards, or preventive medicines or vaccines associated with Gulf War service.

"(b) Agreement. The Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall seek to enter into an agreement with the National Academy of Sciences for the Academy to perform the activities covered by this section. The Secretary shall seek to enter into the agreement not later than two months after the date of enactment of this Act.

"(c) Identification of agents and illnesses.(1) Under the agreement under subsection (b), the National Academy of Sciences shall--

"(A) identify the biological, chemical, or other toxic agents, environmental or wartime hazards, or preventive medicines or vaccines to which members of the Armed Forces who served in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War may have been exposed by reason of such service; and

"(B) identify the illnesses (including diagnosed illnesses and undiagnosed illnesses) that are manifest in such members.

"(2) The consideration of agents, hazards, and medicines and vaccines under paragraph (1) shall not preclude the Academy from identifying other agents, hazards, or medicines or vaccines to which members of the Armed Forces may have been exposed for purposes of any report under subsection (i).

"(3) Not later than six months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Academy shall submit to the designated congressional committees a report specifying the agents, hazards, and medicines and vaccines considered under paragraph (1).

"(e) Determinations of associations between agents and illnesses.(1) For each agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine and illness identified under subsection (c), the National Academy of Sciences shall determine, to the extent that available scientific data permit meaningful determinations--

"(A) whether a statistical association exists between exposure to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine and the illness, taking into account the strength of the scientific evidence and the appropriateness of the scientific methodology used to detect the association;

"(B) the increased risk of the illness among human or animal populations exposed to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine; and “(C) whether a plausible biological mechanism or other evidence of a causal relationship exists between exposure to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine and the illness.

“(2) The Academy shall include in its reports under subsection (i) a full discussion of the scientific evidence and reasoning that led to its conclusions under this subsection.

“(f) Review of potential treatment models for certain illnesses. "(e) Scientific determinations concerning illnesses. (1) For each illness identified under subparagraph (B) or (C) of subsection (c)(1), the National Academy of Sciences shall determine (to the extent available scientific evidence permits) whether there is scientific evidence of an association of that illness with Gulf War service or exposure during Gulf War service to one or more agents, hazards, or medicines or vaccines. In making those determinations, the Academy shall consider--

"(A) the strength of scientific evidence, the replicability of results, the statistical significance of results, and the appropriateness of the scientific methods used to detect the association;

In determining whether to make such a recommendation, the Secretary shall consider the matters specified in subparagraphs (A) through (F) of subsection (e)(1).

"(3) The report under this subsection shall be submitted not later than 120 days after the date on which the Secretary receives the report from the Academy.

In order to establish well-grounded claim for compensation under 38 USCS § 1117(a), claimant need only present some evidence that he or she is Persian Gulf veteran, that he or she exhibits objective indications of chronic disability, that sign or symptoms became manifest during active service in Southwest Asia theater of operations during Persian Gulf War, and that such symptomatology, by history, physical examination, and laboratory tests, cannot be attributed to any known clinical diagnosis; to extent veteran argues that claim for right wrist condition is entitled to benefits of § 1117 presumption, claim must be rejected as legally insufficient since veteran's symptoms were diagnosed as cubital tunnel syndrome. Where veteran sought presumptive service connection for variety of undiagnosed conditions allegedly incurred during Persian Gulf War, but claim was denied based on finding that veteran's subjective complaints were insufficient to establish illness connected to service in Persian Gulf War, denial of claim was erroneous since veteran was not required to present objective medical evidence of symptoms nor to establish link between symptoms and veteran's service in Persian Gulf War. § 1118. Presumptions of service connection for illnesses associated with service in the Persian Gulf during the Persian Gulf War

(a) (1) For purposes of section 1110 of this title [38 USCS § 1110], and subject to section 1113 of this title [38 USCS § 1113], each illness, if any, described in paragraph (2) shall be considered to have been incurred in or aggravated by service referred to in that paragraph, notwithstanding that there is no record of evidence of such illness during the period of such service.

(2) An illness referred to in paragraph (1) is any diagnosed or undiagnosed illness that--

(A) the Secretary determines in regulations prescribed under this section to warrant a presumption of service connection by reason of having a positive association with exposure to a biological, chemical, or other toxic agent, environmental or wartime hazard, or preventive medicine or vaccine known or presumed to be associated with service in the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War; and

(B) becomes manifest within the period, if any, prescribed in such regulations in a veteran who served on active duty in that theater of operations during that war and by reason of such service was exposed to such agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine.

(3) For purposes of this subsection, a veteran who served on active duty in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War and has an illness described in paragraph (2) shall be presumed to have been exposed by reason of such service to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine associated with the illness in the regulations prescribed under this section unless there is conclusive evidence to establish that the veteran was not exposed to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine by reason of such service.

(4) For purposes of this section, signs or symptoms that may be a manifestation of an undiagnosed illness include the signs and symptoms listed in section 1117(g) of this title [38 USCS § 1117(g)].

(b) (1) (A) Whenever the Secretary makes a determination described in subparagraph (B), the Secretary shall prescribe regulations providing that a presumption of service connection is warranted for the illness covered by that determination for purposes of this section.

(B) A determination referred to in subparagraph (A) is a determination based on sound medical and scientific evidence that a positive association exists between--

(i) the exposure of humans or animals to a biological, chemical, or other toxic agent, environmental or wartime hazard, or preventive medicine or vaccine known or presumed to be associated with service in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War; and

(ii) the occurrence of a diagnosed or undiagnosed illness in humans or animals.

(2) (A) In making determinations for purposes of paragraph (1), the Secretary shall take into account--

(i) the reports submitted to the Secretary by the National Academy of Sciences under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998 [38 USCS § 1117 note]; and

(ii) all other sound medical and scientific information and analyses available to the Secretary.

(B) In evaluating any report, information, or analysis for purposes of making such determinations, the Secretary shall take into consideration whether the results are statistically significant, are capable of replication, and withstand peer review.

(3) An association between the occurrence of an illness in humans or animals and exposure to an agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine shall be considered to be positive for purposes of this subsection if the credible evidence for the association is equal to or outweighs the credible evidence against the association.

c) (1) Not later than 60 days after the date on which the Secretary receives a report from the National Academy of Sciences under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998 [38 USCS § 1117 note], the Secretary shall determine whether or not a presumption of service connection is warranted for each illness, if any, covered by the report.

(2) If the Secretary determines under this subsection that a presumption of service connection is warranted, the Secretary shall, not later than 60 days after making the determination, issue proposed regulations setting forth the Secretary's determination.

(3) (A) If the Secretary determines under this subsection that a presumption of service connection is not warranted, the Secretary shall, not later than 60 days after making the determination, publish in the Federal Register a notice of the determination. The notice shall include an explanation of the scientific basis for the determination.

(B) If an illness already presumed to be service connected under this section is subject to a determination under subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall, not later than 60 days after publication of the notice under that subparagraph, issue proposed regulations removing the presumption of service connection for the illness.

(4) Not later than 90 days after the date on which the Secretary issues any proposed regulations under this subsection, the Secretary shall issue final regulations. Such regulations shall be effective on the date of issuance.

(d) Whenever the presumption of service connection for an illness under this section is removed under subsection (c)--

(1) a veteran who was awarded compensation for the illness on the basis of the presumption before the effective date of the removal of the presumption shall continue to be entitled to receive compensation on that basis; and

(2) a survivor of a veteran who was awarded dependency and indemnity compensation for the death of a veteran resulting from the illness on the basis of the presumption before that date shall continue to be entitled to receive dependency and indemnity compensation on that basis.

(e) Subsections (b) through (d) shall cease to be effective on September 30, 2011.

Amendments:

2001. Act Dec. 27, 2001 (effective 3/1/2002, as provided by § 202(c) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1117 note), in subsec. (a), added para. (4).

Such Act further, in subsec. (e), substituted "on September 30, 2011" for "10 years after the first day of the fiscal year in which the National Academy of Sciences submits to the Secretary the first report under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998".

xxviii Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

For disability resulting from personal injury suffered or disease contracted in line of duty, or for aggravation of a preexisting injury suffered or disease contracted in line of duty, in the active military, naval, or air service, during other than a period of war, the United States will pay to any veteran thus disabled and who was discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable from the period of service in which said injury or disease was incurred, or preexisting injury or disease was aggravated, compensation as provided in this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 1131 et seq.], but no compensation shall be paid if the disability is a result of the veteran's own willful misconduct or abuse of alcohol or drugs.

1. Generally
   Secretary's interpretation of 38 USCS § 1131 to require presently existing disability at time veteran applied for benefits cannot be considered arbitrary as statute is silent on matter of when disabled veteran must be disabled and Secretary’s interpretation is supportable when viewed in context with other statutes. 2. Relationship with other remedies
   Former soldier exposed by military order to nuclear radiation does not have cause of action against government and individual defendants, since his exclusive remedy for injury in course of activity incident to military service is compensation under Veterans' Benefits Act (38 USCS §§ 301 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.]). Jaffee v United States (1981, CA3 NJ) 663 F.2d 1226, cert den (1982) 456 US 972, 72 L Ed 2d 845, 102 S Ct 2234

3. State law remedies
   Navy enlisted man's personal injury claim under state tort law against operator of nuclear reactor which also designed and manufactured deck which collapsed while serviceman was standing on it pursuant to contract with federal government was not preempted by VBA; if serviceman were successful and contractor sought indemnification from government, policies underlying Act might be implicated but, if so, preemption would operate against contractor's claim and not against serviceman's. Chapman v Westinghouse Electric Corp. (1990, CA9 Idaho) 911 F.2d 267, 36 CCF ¶ 75931

4. Compensability of diseases
   Reasonable basis existed for excluding "refractive error of eye" from construction of terms "injury" and "disease" in 38 USCS §§ 1110 and 1131 when presbyopia was due to developmental problems associated with aging rather than due to trauma that was incurred during military service and, therefore, interpretation adopted by Secretary of Veterans Affairs in 38 C.F.R. 3.303(c), which prohibited compensation for refractive error of eye and, in particular, for presbyopia, was not arbitrary, capricious, or manifestly contrary to statutes, and represented permissible construction of statutes. Terry v Principi (2003, CA FC) 340 F.3d 1378, reh den (2003,

Service-connection may be granted for diseases but not defects of congenital, developmental, or familial origin; service-connection is deemed to exist with respect to retinitis pigmentosa and polycystic renal disease if evidence establishes that such familial conditions were incurred or aggravated during service within meaning of Veterans Administration law and regulations. VA GCO 1-85

Term "disease" in 38 USCS §§ 310 and 331 [now 38 USCS §§ 1110 and 1131] and term "defects" in 38 CFR § 3.303(c) (providing that congenital or developmental defects are not diseases) are mutually exclusive; "defect" is defined as structural or inherent abnormalities or conditions which are more or less stationary in nature, while "disease" has been variously defined as morbid condition of body or of some organ or part, illness, or sickness. VA GCO 1-85

Although congenital or developmental defects may not be service-connected because they are not diseases or injuries under law, many such defects can be subject to superimposed disease or injury, and if during individual's military service superimposed disease or injury does occur, service-connection may be warranted for resultant disability. VA GCO 1-85

5. Particular benefit determinations

Board's conclusion that veteran's Tourette's Syndrome was not present during service was clearly erroneous where all evidence of record indicated that it was incurred in service. Hanson v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 512

Enlistment examination noting cystitis chronic with history of dematuria dysuria and frequency for year prior to enlistment constituted more than sufficient factual basis for Board's decision denying service connection for chronic interstitial cystitis. Sanders v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 88

Denial of claim for service connection for hypertension was proper where there was total lack of evidence of any hypertension existing since service. Rabideau v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 141

6. -Hearing loss

Board did not err in denying service connection for veteran's hearing loss where it was first documented more than quarter of century after veteran's service-connected injury. Bankowski v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 36

Assuming veteran's hearing loss arose during his inactive duty training with Air National Guard under 38 USCS § 1131, claim is not compensable even though departmental examination record found no evidence of ear disease since veteran has not submitted plausible evidence of hearing loss incurred during inactive duty for training given episodic nature of veteran's service, and there is no competent evidence to suggest nexus between presumed exposure to jet-aircraft noise and hearing loss. McManaway v West (1999) 13 Vet App 60, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1035, vacated on other grounds, remanded (2001, CA FC) 4 Fed Appx 821 and op withdrawn on other grounds, remanded (2001) 14 Vet App 275, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 126

7. -Mental conditions

Secretary permissibly required presently existing disability at time claim was filed in order for veteran to be entitled to compensation under 38 USCS § 1131, hence even if veteran suffered from psychiatric problems within one year of his discharge, his claim for service connection was properly denied since there was no evidence that he suffered from psychosis at time he applied for benefits. Degmetich v Brown (1997, CA FC) 104 F.3d 1328
Veteran failed to establish that onset of his schizophrenia occurred within one-year presumptive period following service; letters from German physicians related history of symptoms, but were too inconclusive regarding degree of disability to support assertion that schizophrenia was at least 10 percent disabling. Stadin v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 280

8. Judicial review

District Court erred in ordering set off of disabled veteran's tort judgment according to provisions of 38 USCS § 351 [now 38 USCS § 1151] where Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] had determined that veteran's increased future disability benefits due to negligent medical treatment were covered by 38 USCS § 331 [now 38 USCS § 1131] which does not provide for cessation of future disability benefits, since 38 USCS § 211 [now 38 USCS § 511] bars judicial review of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision that veteran's future disability benefits are governed by 38 USCS § 331 [now 38 USCS § 1131]. Cole v United States (1988, CA11 Ga) 861 F.2d 1261

Veteran was entitled to presumption under 38 USCS § 105(a) that injury occurring during active duty was service-connected for purposes of disability compensation, but denial of presumption in determining lack of service connection for veteran's claimed mental disorder was harmless error in view of alternative and unchallenged finding that veteran failed to show any psychiatric disorder occurring in active service. Shedden v Principi (2004, CA FC) 381 F.3d 1163

For the purposes of section 1131 of this title [38 USCS § 1131], every person employed in the active military, naval, or air service for six months or more shall be taken to have been in sound condition when examined, accepted and enrolled for service, except as to defects, infirmities, or disorders noted at the time of the examination, acceptance and enrollment, or where evidence or medical judgment is such as to warrant a finding that the disease or injury existed before acceptance and enrollment.

§ 1151. Benefits for persons disabled by treatment or vocational rehabilitation

(a) Compensation under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.] and dependency and indemnity compensation under chapter 13 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] shall be awarded for a qualifying additional disability or a qualifying death of a veteran in the same manner as if such additional disability or death were service-connected. For purposes of this section, a disability or death is a qualifying additional disability or qualifying death if the disability or death was not the result of the veteran's willful misconduct and--

(1) the disability or death was caused by hospital care, medical or surgical treatment, or examination furnished the veteran under any law administered by the Secretary, either by a Department employee or in a Department facility as defined in section 1701(3)(A) of this title [38 USCS § 1701(3)(A)], and the proximate cause of the disability or death was--
(A) carelessness, negligence, lack of proper skill, error in judgment, or similar instance of fault on the part of the Department in furnishing the hospital care, medical or surgical treatment, or examination; or
(B) an event not reasonably foreseeable; or

(2) the disability or death was proximately caused (A) by the provision of training and rehabilitation services by the Secretary (including by a service-provider used by the Secretary for such purpose under section 3115 of this title [38 USCS § 3115]) as part of an approved rehabilitation program under chapter 31 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq.], or (B) by participation in a program (known as a "compensated work therapy program") under section 1718 of this title [38 USCS § 1718].

(b) (1) Where an individual is on or after December 1, 1962 awarded a judgment against the United States in a civil action brought pursuant to section 1346(b) of title 28 [28 USCS § 1346(b)], or on or after December 1, 1962 enters into a settlement or compromise under section 2672 or 2677 of title 28 [28 USCS § 2672 or 2677], by reason of a disability or death treated pursuant to this section as if it were service-connected, then (except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2)) no benefits shall be paid to such individual for any month beginning after the date such judgment, settlement, or compromise on account of such disability or death becomes final until the aggregate amount of benefits which would be paid but for this subsection equals the total amount included in such judgment, settlement, or compromise.

(2) In the case of a judgment, settlement, or compromise covered by paragraph (1) that becomes final on or after the date of the enactment of this paragraph [enacted Dec. 10, 2004] and that includes an amount that is specifically designated for a purpose for which benefits are provided under chapter 21 or 39 of this title [38 USCS §§ 2101 et seq. or 3901 et seq.] (hereinafter in this paragraph referred to as the "offset amount"), if such judgment, settlement, or compromise becomes final before the date of the award of benefits under chapter 21 or 39 [38 USCS §§ 2101 et seq. or 3901 et seq.] for the purpose for which the offset amount was specifically designated-
(A) the amount of such award shall be reduced by the offset amount; and
(B) if the offset amount is greater than the amount of such award, the excess amount received pursuant to the judgment, settlement or compromise, shall be offset against benefits otherwise payable under this chapter.

(c) A qualifying additional disability under this section shall be treated in the same manner as if it were a service-connected disability for purposes of the following provisions of this title:
(1) Chapter 21 [38 USCS §§ 2101 et seq.], relating to specially adapted housing.
(2) Chapter 39 [38 USCS §§ 3901 et seq.], relating to automobiles and adaptive equipment.

Prior law and revision:

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XXII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162.

Amendments:

1962. Act Oct. 15, 1962 (effective as provided by § 7 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 110 note), deleted "; except that no benefits shall be awarded unless application be made therefor within two years after such injury or aggravation was suffered, or such death occurred" following "service-connected", and inserted "Where an individual is hereafter awarded a judgment against the United States in a civil action brought pursuant to section 1346(b) of title 28, United States Code, or hereafter enters into a settlement or compromise under section 2672 or 2677 of title 28, United States Code, by reason of a disability, aggravation, or death treated pursuant to this section as if it were service-connected, then no benefits shall be paid to such individual for any month beginning after the date such judgment, settlement, or compromise on account of such disability, aggravation, or death becomes final until the aggregate amount of benefits which would be paid but for this sentence equals the total amount included in such judgment, settlement, or compromise.".

1976. Act Sept. 30, 1976 (effective 10/1/76, as provided by § 406 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1101 note), deleted "him" following "title, awarded" and substituted "such veteran's" for "his".

1996. Act Sept. 26, 1996 (effective 10/1/97 unless legislation is enacted providing for an earlier date, as provided by § 422(c) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section) substituted subsec. (a) for the former first sentence, which read: "Where any veteran shall have suffered an injury, or an aggravation of an injury, as the result of hospitalization, medical or surgical treatment, or the pursuit of a course of vocational rehabilitation under chapter 31 of this title, awarded under any of the laws administered by the Secretary or as a result of having submitted to an examination under any such law, and not the result of such veteran's own willful misconduct, and such injury or aggravation results in additional disability to or the death of such veteran, disability or death compensation under this chapter and dependency and indemnity compensation under this chapter and dependency and indemnity compensation under chapter 13 of this title shall be awarded in the same manner as if such disability, aggravation, or death were service-connected."; and designated the second sentence as subsec. (b) and, in such subsection as so designated, deleted ", aggravation," following "disability" in two places and substituted "subsection" for "sentence".

2000. Act Nov. 1, 2000, in subsec. (a)(2), inserted "(A)" and ", or (B) by participation in a program (known as a 'compensated work therapy program') under section 1718 of this title".

2004. Act Dec. 10, 2004, in subsec. (b), designated the existing provisions as para. (1), inserted "except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2))", and added para. (2).

Such Act further (applicable as provided by § 304(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), added subsec. (c).

Other provisions:

Effective date and applicability of Sept. 26, 1996 amendments. Act Sept. 26, 1996, P. L. 104-204, Title IV, § 422(b), (c), 110 Stat. 2927, provides:

"(b)(1) The amendments made by subsection (a) [amending this section] shall take effect on October 1, 1996. [But see subsec. (c) below, which provides that notwithstanding this paragraph, § 422 (amending this section) shall not take effect until October 1, 1997, unless legislation other than Act Sept. 26, 1996, P. L. 104-204, is enacted to provide for an earlier effective date.]

“(2) Section 1151 of title 38, United States Code (as amended by subsection (a)), shall govern all administrative and judicial determinations of eligibility for benefits under such section that are made with respect to claims filed on or after the effective date set forth in paragraph (1), including those based on original applications and applications seeking to reopen, revise, reconsider, or otherwise readjudicate on any basis claims for benefits under such section 1151 or any provision of law that is a predecessor of such section.

“(c) Notwithstanding subsection (b)(1), section 421(d) [38 USCS § 1801 note], or any other provision of this Act, section 421 [adding 38 USCS §§ 1801 et seq., amending the tables of chapters preceding 38 USCS §§ 101 and 1101, and amending 38 USCS § 5312] and this section [amending this section] shall not take effect until October 1, 1997, unless legislation other than this Act is enacted to provide for an earlier effective date.”.

Application of subsec. (c). Act Dec. 10, 2004, P. L. 108-454, Title III, § 304(b), 118 Stat. 3611, provides: "Subsection (c) of section 1151 of title 38, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall apply with respect to eligibility for benefits and services provided by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.”.

I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally

Veteran injured while receiving treatment for disability originally held as service connected is entitled to disability compensation though finding of service connection for original disability is subsequently severed. 1934 ADVA 20

Claim under prior 38 USCS § 1151 based upon incident as to which there has previously been settlement under Federal Tort Claims Act must be well grounded and claim is not per se well grounded as result of settlement. Jones v West (1999) 12 Vet App 460, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 612

2. Relationship with other laws and remedies

Although veteran of army air force injured his left knee while on active service, and seven years after his discharge from service operation was negligently performed on injured knee at Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital, he is not required to seek relief under Compensation Act (5 USCS § 751 et seq.) but can recover from United States under Tort Claims Act (28 USCS §§ 1346(b), 2671 et seq.) for injury to his leg as result of negligent operation. Brown v United States (1954, CA2 NY) 209 F.2d 463, affd (1954) 348 US 110, 99 L Ed 139, 75 S Ct 141

Veterans’ Benefit Act (38 USCS §§ 301 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.]) does not preclude serviceman's recovery against government under Swine Flu Act (42 USCS § 247). Brown v United States (1983, CA9 Or) 715 F.2d 463

Because procedures established for 38 USCS § 1151 claims provided government with neither tools nor opportunity to fully litigate negligence and causation questions in veteran's case, and because there were differences in burdens of proof for proceedings under Federal Tort Claims Act (FTCA), 28 USCS § 2671 et seq., and Department of Veterans Affairs' disability system, application of issue preclusion in veteran's FTCA action was inappropriate. Littlejohn v United States (2003, CA9 Nev) 321 F.3d 915, cert den (2003) 540 US 985, 157 L Ed 2d 377, 124 S Ct 486

Veteran’s argument that liability under Federal Tort Claims Act (FTCA), 28 USCS § 2671 et seq., was established by Department of Veterans Affairs’ (VA) Rating Decisions under traditional claim preclusion principles failed because VA could not assert its FTCA causation defense in disability benefit proceedings, and because claim preclusion was incompatible with separate statutory purposes underlying § 1151 veterans’ disability and FTCA statutory schemes. Littlejohn v United States (2003, CA9 Nev) 321 F.3d 915, cert den (2003) 540 US 985, 157 L Ed 2d 377, 124 S Ct 486

Order of United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims directing that specially adapted housing benefits be awarded to veteran was affirmed, because 38 USCS § 2101(a) merely required that (1) veteran be entitled to compensation under 38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq., and (2) compensation be be that which was awarded for permanent and total service-connected disability; those requirements were met in this case. Kilpatrick v Principi (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1375

Where veteran’s disability was clearly not service-connected as defined by 38 USCS § 101(16) because it arose from veteran's treatment at Department of Veterans Affairs hospital and veteran was awarded compensation under 38 USCS § 1151, veteran's widow was not entitled to Service Disabled Veterans’ Insurance under 38 USCS § 1922 because § 1922 benefits were not among those covered by § 1151. Alleman v Principi (2003, CA FC) 349 F.3d 1368

non-service-connected disabilities, treating those disabilities for some purposes as if they were service-connected. Alleman v Principi (2003, CA FC) 349 F.3d 1368

On its face, 38 USCS § 1151 only grants compensation under Chapter 11 and Chapter 13 of Title 38, and not Service Disabled Veterans’ Insurance benefits of 38 USCS § 1922. Alleman v
Principi (2003, CA FC) 349 F.3d 1368

Nurse injured in veterans’ hospital while undergoing treatment is restricted to recovering compensation and cannot sue government for damages. Pettis v United States (1952, DC Cal)
108 F Supp 500

Federal Tort Claims Act (28 USCS § 2671) is applicable to claims for injuries otherwise compensable as if service-connected, if injury or death is due to negligence or other tortious act, and judgment under such act does not preclude compensation payments; but in settling such claims, Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] is to take into consideration any payments previously made for such injuries, and any award under Federal Tort Claims Act precludes further payments. 1955 ADVA 953

Veteran receiving compensation under 38 USCS § 1151 is not eligible for Service Disabled Veterans’ Insurance benefits under 38 USCS § 1922. Alleman v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 253, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 605, affd (2003, CA FC) 349 F.3d 1368

3. Rate of compensation

Veteran who suffered additional disabilities as result of surgery for war-connected injuries is eligible for benefits for such additional disabilities at 100 percent of rates provided therefor.
1934 ADVA 294

Veteran is entitled to payment of additional allowance for anatomical loss or loss of use of one hand, one foot, or one eye, and is entitled to higher rate of payment where dates of service meet statutory definition of wartime service. 1936 ADVA 388

4. Regulations

Regulation requiring veteran to prove he has suffered disability as result of negligent treatment or accident occurring during treatment is invalid implementation of statute since statute does not require veteran to prove that Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] treatment was faulty or that accident occurred during treatment. Gardner v Brown (1993, CA FC) 5 F.3d 1456, affd (1994) 513 US 115, 130 L Ed 2d 462, 115 S Ct 552, 94 CDOS 9401, 94
Daily Journal DAR 17388, 8 FLW Fed S 500

Regulation requiring either accident or fault on part of agency for veteran to receive compensation for increased disability for any aggravation of injury resulting from treatment at agency facility was contrary to statute by including element of fault. Gardner v Derwinski (1991)
Ct 552, 94 CDOS 9401, 94 Daily Journal DAR 17388, 8 FLW Fed S 500

Decision holding invalid regulation requiring either accident or fault on Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] part for veteran to receive compensation for increased disability for any aggravation of injury resulting from treatment at VA facility was precedential one that must be applied by BVA in first instance, hence case in which regulation was applied would be remanded. Werner v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 37

II. ENTITLEMENT TO BENEFITS

A. In General

5. Persons entitled to compensation

Veteran of Women’s Army Auxiliary Corps, properly hospitalized under Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] care and suffering injury or aggravation of injury while under such care, is eligible for benefits as if such injuries were service-connected.
1949 ADVA 805
One admitted to Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] facility without legal eligibility is not within definition of term "veteran" and is not entitled to compensation for disability incurred from injury, or aggravation of existing injury, while in receipt of hospitalization to which no legal entitlement existed. 1950 ADVA 856

6. Circumstances creating right to compensation

Phrase “as a result of hospitalization,” as used in former 38 USCS § 1151 (amended 1996), did not require that veteran's injuries have been caused by actions of Department of Veterans Affairs; in order to recover under § 1151, word "result" only implied causal connection, not fault, although injury could not result from veteran's own willful misconduct. Jackson v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 433 F.3d 822

Word "injury" includes contagious disease contracted while undergoing treatment, and payment for otherwise unauthorized medical services in treating disease is proper as if expense were incurred for service-connected disability. 1946 ADVA 716

Phrase "in pursuit of course of vocational rehabilitation" in 38 USCS § 1151 contextually refers to vocational rehabilitation program defined in chapter 31 of title 38, and if veteran is injured as result of pursuit of such course or program and before veteran is declared rehabilitated, veteran has basic eligibility under § 1151 to file claim for Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] compensation. Cottle v Principi (2001) 14 Vet App 329, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 536

Board's finding that veteran developed symptoms consistent with diagnosis of possible non-A non-B hepatitis secondary to blood transfusions during surgery was not specific factual finding necessary to determine entitlement to benefits under statute. Davis v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 276

Veteran's death while in Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital was not shown to be service-connected for purposes of awarding DIC benefits to widow where death certificate listed cause of death as cardio-pulmonary arrest due to hepatic renal syndrome and renal cell carcinoma with liver metastasis and, at time of his death, veteran was not service-connected for any disability. Cariaga v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 397

Adjudicative decision by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] that veteran was not eligible for further physical therapy following knee surgery because veteran's income level disqualified him cannot constitute Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] medical care under 38 USCS § 1151 and veteran has failed to furnish well-grounded claim because he failed to submit any evidence between Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] medical care and any additional disability. Jimison v West (1999) 13 Vet App 75, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1063

B. Injuries Incurred Under Particular Circumstances

7. During training

World War II veteran is not entitled to payment of benefits for injury or aggravation suffered as result of training taken under Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] auspices, or for payments for injury resulting from hospital or medical, including surgical, treatment furnished by school or training institution as incident of education or training. 1946 ADVA 710

Claimant who suffered injury while in training, which disability was not result of his own willful misconduct, is eligible for benefits if it is determined that injury resulted from pursuit of course of vocational rehabilitation and that additional disability has resulted therefrom. 1949 ADVA 803

8. During examination

Although action brought under Federal Tort Claims Act (28 USCS §§ 1346(b), 2671 et seq.) was dismissed for want of jurisdiction because veteran alleged that he suffered injury as result of examination by doctor, employee of the veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], for purpose of obtaining information to be used in considering veteran's appeal from reduced rate of compensation for service-incurred injuries, veteran is not without remedy since World War Veterans’ Act of 1924 [predecessor to 38 USCS § 1151] provides for compensation to veterans injured undergoing examination for benefits. Perucki v United States (1948, DC Pa) 80 F Supp 959

Veteran, who was struck by motorized wheelchair while awaiting scheduled examination, suffered injury coincidental to examination rather than one resulting from his having submitted to examination. Sweitzer v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 503

Where veteran was injured when ceiling grate fell on his knee while he was undergoing medical examination in VA clinic, veteran was properly denied compensation under 38 USCS § 1151 because injury was coincidental to examination and was not caused by it. Loving v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 96, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 131

9. During transportation

Transportation authorized by Veterans’ Administration is not part of hospitalization for purpose of disability benefits. 1948 ADVA 802

Patient who is hospitalized is in such status during time of transport from one Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital to another, whether by agency vehicle and employee or by independent contractor; but injury occurring during such transport is compensable by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] only if negligence of its agent is proximate or concurring cause. 1954 ADVA 945

10. During care at nursing home

Benefits are not payable to veteran under 38 USCS § 351 [now 38 USCS § 1151 et seq.] where injuries were sustained during care at nursing home authorized by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] since statutory definition of "nursing home care" in § 101 does not meet requirements of § 351 [now § 1151] for "hospitalization" or "medical or surgical treatment." 1970 ADVA 992

Veteran’s claim for injuries as result of fall after getting out of wheelchair and walking down hall at Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] Medical Center is not well grounded under prior 38 USCS § 1151 as there is no medical evidence to relate claimed conditions to VA treatment. Jones v West (1999) 12 Vet App 460, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 612

III. PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

11. Generally

Veteran’s disability claim under 38 USCS § 1151 does not survive veteran's death and Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims properly dismissed claim when veteran died during pendency of appeal. Seymour v Principi (2001, CA FC) 245 F.3d 1377

Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit had no jurisdiction to consider veteran's claim that Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims should have remanded his case to Board of Veterans' Appeals to consider informed consent form as evidence in veteran's claim for benefits under 38 USCS § 1151(a) due to injuries sustained following surgery performed by Department of Veterans Affairs surgeons; to decide issue, Federal Circuit would have been required to review Veterans Court's application of law, i.e., 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1), to facts and failure to consider consent form, and 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2) precluded Federal Circuit's review of factual determinations and applications of law to facts where no constitutional issues were involved. Cook v Principi (2003, CA FC) 353 F.3d 937

Veteran’s challenge to denial of service connection for conditions stemming from surgery is dismissed for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction, where he simply claims that Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] denied him equal protection by failing (1) to grant him relief under 38 USCS § 1151, and (2) properly to apply 38 CFR § 3.358(c)(3), because it is clear that veteran does not challenge validity of § 1151 on its face and judicial review is either barred or channeled to Court of Veterans' Appeals and Federal Circuit. McCulley v United States Dep't of Veterans Affairs (1994, ED Wis) 851 F Supp 1271

Decision holding invalid regulation requiring either accident or fault on Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] part for veteran to receive compensation for increased disability for any aggravation of injury resulting from treatment at VA facility was precedential one that must be applied by BVA in first instance, hence case in which regulation was applied would be remanded. Werner v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 37

Although veteran had proper claim for compensation for depression as secondary to award of compensation for impotence, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims lacked jurisdiction to review claim where issue was neither raised before, nor adjudicated by, Veterans' Administration. Anderson v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 371, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 579

38 USCS § 1151(a)(1)(B) requires that finding be made regarding whether event in question was reasonably foreseeable only if and when it is first determined, under § 1151(a)(1), that additional disability at issue was caused by VA hospital care, medical or surgical treatment, or examination; where Board of Veterans' Appeals determined that claimant's disability was not caused by VA hospital care, medical or surgical treatment, or examination, but rather was caused by falling ceiling grate at VA clinic, Board was not required to make finding as to whether falling grate was reasonably foreseeable. Loving v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 96, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 131

12. Filing of claims

38 USCS § 351 [now 38 USCS § 1151] does not require second claim to be filed after death of claimant. Devany v United States (1966, CA2 NY) 366 F.2d 807 (criticized in Seymour v Principi (2001, CA FC) 245 F.3d 1377)

Veteran's mere reference to similar case in his notice of disagreement was not enough for VA to have inferred that veteran raised claim under 38 USCS § 1151 where reference occurred in another context and record contained no indication that veteran believed he currently had condition caused by VA medical treatment. King v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 406, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 2

Monetary benefits are not payable as result of veteran's death unless it is shown that death proximately resulted from accident, carelessness, negligence, lack of proper skill, error in judgment, or malpractice on part of person or persons charged with duty respecting his hospitalization or treatment. 1934 ADVA 255

14. Setoffs

District Court erred in ordering set off of disabled veteran's tort judgment according to provisions of 38 USCS § 351 [now 38 USCS § 1151], where Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] had determined that veteran's increased future disability benefits due to negligent medical treatment were covered by 38 USCS § 331 [now 38 USCS § 1131] which does not provide for cessation of future disability benefits, since 38 USCS § 211 [now 38 USCS § 511] bars judicial review of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] decision that veteran's future disability benefits are governed by 38 USCS § 331 [now 38 USCS § 1131], so that veteran's tort judgment is to be reduced by present value of veteran's expected future disability benefits in order to prevent double recovery. Cole v United States (1988, CA11 Ga) 861 F.2d 1261
Veteran who is awarded both benefits under 38 USCS § 1151 and damages under FTCA for same Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital injuries must have his § 1151 benefits set off against entire amount of FTCA damages, not just against lost earnings portion of award. Morgan v United States (1992, CA2 NY) 968 F.2d 200

Despite rule that government does not have to pay twice for same injury, successful plaintiff in medical malpractice action against Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital was entitled to compensation for future medical treatment even though such treatment would be available without charge from Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], where amount of future VA benefits was too speculative to be deducted from recovery, and to do so would unduly restrict plaintiff's future choice of medical care; by terms of statute, benefits awarded to plaintiff under 38 USCS § 351 [now 38 USCS § 1151] must be set off, and future benefits withheld in amount of damages awarded. Powers v United States (1984, DC Conn) 589 F Supp 1084

All damages under 38 USCS § 351 [now 38 USCS § 1151] paid to plaintiff, who was negligently treated at Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital, before date of plaintiff's judgment's are setoff against court award, and all further § 351 [now § 1151] benefits must be curtailed until such time as sum of benefits reaches amount of court damages. Powers v United States (1984, DC Conn) 589 F Supp 1084

Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] may not only withhold from widow accrued benefits which veteran was entitled to receive up to time of death, but also any DIC payable to her in her own right until aggregate of such withholding equals full amount of settlement paid to widow under Federal Tort Claims Act (28 USCS § 2672). VA GCO 1-75

Offsetting relief with part of FTCA settlement attributable to widow in her individual capacity was proper where widow acted as both representative of deceased husband's estate and for estate beneficiaries, of whom she was one, when entering settlement. Neal v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 296

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] did not reduce amount of widow's retroactive DIC entitlement, but rather subtracted from it sum of money that she already received as death pension benefits, nor did district court's judgment, in widow's Federal Tort Claims Act, which included consideration of death pension benefits she had received, constitute wrongful second recoupment of that amount, thus Board did not err in determining that widow was not entitled to additional payment of DIC for period before district court's judgment. Gantt v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 89, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 297

§ 1153. Aggravation

A preexisting injury or disease will be considered to have been aggravated by active military, naval, or air service, where there is an increase in disability during such service, unless there is a specific finding that the increase in disability is due to the natural progress of the disease.

Since veteran's visual acuity decreased during service, Board had obligation to apply presumption of aggravation or explain why presumption should not be applied. Browder v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 204, appeal after remand, remanded (1993) 5 Vet App 268

On review of 1983 decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board), Board was bound to apply regulations as they existed in 1983, and new interpretations of 38 USCS § 1111 (former 38 USCS § 311) and 38 USCS § 1153 (former 38 USCS § 353), interpretations to which Secretary of Veterans Affairs also agreed, that apparently conflicted with those regulations could not be basis for clear and unmistakable error for 1983 decision. Jordan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 261, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 721, affd (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296, reh den, reh, en banc, den (2005, CA FC) 2005 US App LEXIS 10618

Regulation providing that symptomatic manifestations of preexisting disease or injury will establish aggravation of disability does not impose conclusive or irrebuttable presumption of service-connection based on aggravation in conflict with 38 USCS § 1153 which it implements, since statute is silent about method or level of proof necessary to establish increase in severity, rather those matters are taken up by 38 USCS § 1154 which gives Secretary authority to set out regulations to create rules of evidence directed at nature and level of proof required to establish service-connection, one method is aggravation, and regulation followed that statute's mandate in creating evidentiary presumption in favor of combat veteran, but presumption may be rebutted. Jensen v Brown (1994, CA FC) 19 F.3d 1413

Secretary of Veterans Affairs was reasonable in excluding presbyopia in 38 C.F.R. § 3.303(c) because medical evidence showed that increase in presbyopia was always due to natural progress of disease and, as veteran had not provided any contrary evidence suggesting that presbyopia could be caused by or aggravated by events associated with military service other than aging, Secretary's interpretation of terms "injury" and "disease" was not contrary to 38 USCS § 1153. Terry v Principi (2003, CA FC) 340 F.3d 1378, reh den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 24133 and cert den (2004) 541 US 904, 158 L Ed 2d 246, 124 S Ct 1606

Regulatory provision, to extent it would provide disability compensation for temporary exacerbations of preexisting conditions, is inconsistent with statutory scheme for disability benefits. Jensen v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 304

3. Determinations

Evidence of temporary flare-ups symptomatic of underlying preexisting condition, alone, is not sufficient for non-combat veteran to show increased disability under 38 USCS § 1153 unless underlying condition is worsened. Davis v Principi (2002, CA FC) 276 F.3d 1341

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims properly remanded denial of benefits to Board of Veterans' Appeals after finding that board incorrectly determined that evidence in case met "clear and unmistakable" standard for rebutting presumption of in-service aggravation of disability; board had applied incorrect standard and remand was necessary to determine whether evidence generally acceptable as competent showed that any increase in disability was due to natural progress of condition. Stevens v Principi (2002, CA FC) 289 F.3d 814

Veteran's argument that 1945 rating decision did not rebut presumptions of sound condition and aggravation failed, where rating board had found that veteran's eye condition was clearly shown by service records and examination conducted subsequent to discharge to be of congenital or developmental origin, that it was due to defect in form and structure of eye, held to be of congenital or developmental origin, and that there was no evidence of superimposed disability during service which could have caused or aggravated condition; fact that rating board did not specifically advert to presumptions of soundness and aggravation, and did not specifically recite applicable standard of proof for rebutting those presumptions, did not require holding that rating board's decision constituted clear and unmistakable error as matter of law. Natali v Principi (2004, CA FC) 375 F.3d 1375, reh den (2004, CA FC) 2004 US App LEXIS 21062

Where veteran's ulcer condition preexisted service, and veteran had suffered marked increase in symptoms associated with his ulcer, applying law in existence in 1955, Department of Veterans Affairs regional office was required to have made "specific finding" of natural progression of condition; absent such finding, it was error to conclude that presumption of aggravation had been rebutted. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

Evidence, e.g., veteran's statements during his initial examination that he had experienced intermittent epigastria pain and vomiting, supported conclusion of Board of Veterans' Appeals that veteran's ulcer had preexisted service. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

4. Particular injuries or diseases
Where records show that veteran's foot disorder increased in severity during service inclusive of time of discharge, Board erred in denying veteran's reopened claim for service connection for flat feet. Townsend v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 408

Board's denial of service connection for aggravation of right knee disability was not erroneous since its factual finding that there was no increase in severity of knee injury during service was plausible in light of entire record. Hunt v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 292

Service-connection was mandated where there was no evidence that natural progression of veteran's traumatic cataract was glaucoma which in turn led to enucleation of his right eye. Akins v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 228

Appellant was not entitled to service connection for aggravation of preexisting knee condition since there was no evidence to show that appellant experienced persistent worsening of knee condition in service, and in fact evidence showed that knee condition actually improved in service. Beverly v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 402

Rating decision determining that appellant's psychosis existed prior to service and was not aggravated by service did not constitute clear and unmistakable error since appellant did not allege that correct facts as known at time were not before adjudicator or that statutory and regulatory provisions extant at time were incorrectly applied. Daniels v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 474, dismd without op sub nom Daniels v West (1998, CA FC) 155 F.3d 572, reported in full (1998, CA FC) 1998 US App LEXIS 17306

§ 1154. Consideration to be accorded time, place, and circumstances of service

(a) The Secretary shall include in the regulations pertaining to service-connection of disabilities (1) additional provisions in effect requiring that in each case where a veteran is seeking service-connection for any disability due consideration shall be given to the places, types, and circumstances of such veteran's service as shown by such veteran's service record, the official history of each organization in which such veteran served, such veteran's medical records, and all pertinent medical and lay evidence, and (2) the provisions required by section 5 of the Veterans' Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act (Public Law 98-542; 98 Stat. 2727) [note to this section].

(b) In the case of any veteran who engaged in combat with the enemy in active service with a military, naval, or air organization of the United States during a period of war, campaign, or expedition, the Secretary shall accept as sufficient proof of service-connection of any disease or injury alleged to have been incurred in or aggravated by such service satisfactory lay or other evidence of service incurrence or aggravation of such injury or disease, if consistent with the circumstances, conditions, or hardships of such service, notwithstanding the fact that there is no official record of such incurrence or aggravation in such service, and, to that end, shall resolve every reasonable doubt in favor of the veteran. Service-connection of such injury or disease may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence to the contrary. The reasons for granting or denying service-connection in each case shall be recorded in full.

Prior law and revision:

This section is based on 38 USC § 2354 (Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title III, Part F, § 354, 71 Stat. 102).

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XXII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162:

Amendments:

1976. Act Sept. 30, 1976 (effective, 10/1/76 as provided by § 406 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1101 note), in subsec. (a), substituted "such veteran's" and "such veteran" for "his" and "he", respectively, wherever appearing.

1984. Act Oct. 24, 1984, in subsec. (a), substituted "(1)" for a comma and added: "and (2) the provisions required by section 5 of the Veterans' Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act".

Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 354, as 38 USCS § 1154, and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

Other provisions:

"Short Title

"Section 1. This Act may be cited as the 'Veterans' Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act'.

"Findings

"Sec. 2. The Congress makes the following findings:

"(1) Veterans who served in the Republic of Vietnam during the Vietnam era and veterans who participated in atmospheric nuclear tests or the American occupation of Hiroshima or Nagasaki, Japan, are deeply concerned about possible long-term health effects of exposure to herbicides containing dioxin or to ionizing radiation.

"(2) There is scientific and medical uncertainty regarding such long-term adverse health effects.

"(3) In section 102 of Public Law 97-22 [probably a reference to § 102 of P.L. 97-72, which amended 38 USCS §§ 1710, 1712], the Congress responded to that uncertainty by authorizing priority medical care at Veterans' Administration facilities for any disability of a veteran who may have been so exposed (even though there is insufficient medical evidence linking such disability with such exposure) unless the disability is found to have resulted from a cause other than the exposure.

"(4) The Congress has further responded to that medical and scientific uncertainty by requiring, in section 307 of Public Law 96-151 [38 USCS § 527 note] and section 601 of Public Law 98-160 [38 USCS § 527 note], the conduct of thorough epidemiological studies of the health effects experienced by veterans in connection with exposure both to herbicides containing dioxin and (if not determined to be scientifically infeasible) to radiation, and by requiring in Public Law 97-414 [21 USCS § 301 note, among other things; for full classification, consult USCS Tables volumes], the development of radioepidemiological tables setting forth the probabilities of causation between various cancers and exposure to radiation.

"(5) There is some evidence that most types of leukemia, malignancies of the thyroid, female breast, lung, bone, liver, and skin, and polycythemia vera are associated with exposure to certain levels of ionizing radiation.

"(6) As of the date of the enactment of this Act, there are sixty-six federally sponsored research projects being conducted relating to herbicides containing dioxin, at a cost to the Federal Government in excess of $130,000,000 and, as of 1981, federally sponsored research projects relating to ionizing radiation were costing the Federal Government more than $115,000,000.

"(7) The initial results of one project—an epidemiological study, conducted by the United States Air Force School of Aerospace Medicine, of the health status of the 'Ranch Hand' veterans who carried out the loading and aerial spraying of herbicides containing dioxin in Vietnam and in the process came into direct skin contact with such herbicides in their most concentrated liquid form—were released on February 24, 1984, and contained the conclusion 'that there is insufficient evidence to support a cause and effect relationship between herbicide exposure and adverse health in the Ranch Hand group at this time'.

"(8) The 'film badges' which were originally issued to members of the Armed Forces in connection with the atmospheric nuclear test program have previously constituted a primary source of dose information for veterans (and survivors of veterans) filing claims for Veterans' Administration disability compensation or dependency and indemnity compensation in connection with exposure to radiation.

"(9) These film badges often provide an incomplete measure of radiation exposure, since they were not capable of recording inhaled, ingested, or neutron doses (although the Defense Nuclear Agency currently has the capability to reconstruct individual estimates of such doses), were not issued to most of the participants in nuclear tests, often provided questionable readings because they were shielded during the detonation, and were worn for only limited periods during and after each nuclear detonation.

"(10) Standards governing the reporting of dose estimates in connection with radiation-related claims for Veterans' Administration disability compensation vary among the several branches of the Armed Forces, and no uniform minimum standards exist.

"(11) The Veterans' Administration has not promulgated permanent regulations setting forth specific guidelines, standards, and criteria for the adjudication of claims for Veterans' Administration disability compensation based on exposure to herbicides containing dioxin or to ionizing radiation.

"(12) Such claims (especially those involving health effects with long latency periods) present adjudicatory issues which are significantly different from issues generally presented in claims based upon the usual types of injuries incurred in military service.

"(13) It has always been the policy of the Veterans' Administration and is the policy of the United States, with respect to individual claims for service connection of diseases and disabilities, that when, after consideration of all evidence and material of record, there is an approximate balance of positive and negative evidence regarding the merits of an issue material to the determination of a claim, the benefit of the doubt in resolving each such issue shall be given to the claimant.

*Purpose
"Sec. 3. The purpose of this Act is to ensure that Veterans' Administration disability compensation is provided to veterans who were exposed to ionizing radiation in connection with atmospheric nuclear tests or in connection with the American occupation of Hiroshima or Nagasaki, Japan, for all disabilities arising after that service that are connected, based on sound scientific and medical evidence, to such service (and that Veterans' Administration dependency and indemnity compensation is provided to survivors of those veterans for all deaths resulting from such disabilities).

"Requirement in Title 38, United States Code, Relating to Regulations

"Sec. 4. [Section 4 of this Act amends subsecs. (a)(1), (2) of this section; see the 1984 Amendments notes to this section.]

"Requirement for and Content of Regulations

"Sec. 5. (a) In carrying out the responsibilities of the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs under section 354(a)(2) [now section 1154(a)(2)] of title 38, United States Code, and in order to promote consistency in claims processing and decisions, the Administrator shall prescribe regulations to--

"(1) establish guidelines and (where appropriate) standards and criteria for the resolution of claims for benefits under laws administered by the Veterans' Administration where the criteria for eligibility for a benefit include a requirement that a death or disability be service connected and the claim of service connection is based on a veteran's exposure during service in connection with such veteran's participation in atmospheric nuclear tests or with the American occupation of Hiroshima or Nagasaki, Japan, prior to July 1, 1946, to ionizing radiation from the detonation of a nuclear device; and

"(2) ensure that, with respect to those claims, the policy of the United States described in section 2(13) is carried out.

"(b)(1)(A) The guidelines required to be established in regulations prescribed under this section shall include guidelines governing the evaluation of the findings of scientific studies relating to the possible increased risk of adverse health effects of exposure to ionizing radiation. Those guidelines shall require that, in the evaluation of those studies, the Administrator shall take into account whether the results are statistically significant, are capable of replication, and withstand peer review.

"(B) The evaluations described in subparagraph (A) shall be made by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs after receiving the advice of the Scientific Council of the Veterans' Advisory Committee on Environmental Hazards (established under section 6). Those evaluations shall be published in the notice section of the Federal Register.

"(C) The standards and criteria required to be established in regulations prescribed under this section shall include provisions governing the use in the adjudication of individual claims of the Administrator's evaluations made under subparagraph (B).

"(2)(A)(i) In prescribing regulations under this section, the Administrator (after receiving the advice of the Advisory Committee and of the Scientific Council of the Veterans' Advisory Committee on Environmental Hazards regarding the diseases described in subparagraph (B)) shall make determinations, based on sound medical and scientific evidence, with respect to each disease described in subparagraph (B) as to whether service connection shall, subject to division (ii) of this subparagraph, be granted in the adjudication of individual cases. In making determinations regarding such diseases, the Administrator shall give due regard to the need to maintain the policy of the United States with respect to the resolution of contested issues as set forth in section 2(13). The Administrator shall set forth in such regulations such determinations, with any specification (relating to exposure or other relevant matter) of limitations on the circumstances under which service connection shall be granted, and shall implement such determinations in accordance with such regulations.

"(ii) If the Administrator makes a determination, pursuant to this subparagraph, that service connection shall be granted in the case of a disease described in subparagraph (B), the Administrator shall specify in such regulations that, in the adjudication of individual cases, service connection shall not be granted where there is sufficient affirmative evidence to the contrary or evidence to establish that an intercurrent injury or disease which is a recognized cause of the described disease has been suffered between the date of separation from service and the onset of such disease or that the disability is due to the veteran's own willful misconduct.

"(iii) With regard to each disease described in subparagraph (B), the Administrator shall include in the regulations prescribed under this section provisions specifying the factors to be considered in adjudicating issues relating to whether or not service connection should be granted in individual cases and the circumstances governing the granting of service connection for such disease.

"(B) The diseases referred to in subparagraph (A) are those specified in section 2(5) and any other disease with respect to which the Administrator finds (after receiving and considering the advice of the Scientific Council established under section 6(d)(2)) that there is sound scientific or medical evidence indicating a connection to exposure to ionizing radiation, in the case of a veteran who was exposed to ionizing radiation in connection with such veteran's participation in an atmospheric nuclear test or with the American occupation of Hiroshima or Nagasaki, Japan, before July 1, 1946.

"(3) The regulations prescribed under this section shall include--

"(A) specification of the maximum period of time after exposure to such ionizing radiation for the development of those diseases; and

"(B) a requirement that a claimant filing a claim based upon a veteran's exposure to ionizing radiation from the detonation of a nuclear device may not be required to produce evidence substantiating the veteran's exposure during active military, naval, or air service if the information in the veteran's service records and other records of the Department of Defense is not inconsistent with the claim that the veteran was present where and when the claimed exposure occurred.

"(c)(1) The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs shall develop the regulations required by this section (and any amendment to those regulations) through a public review and comment process in accordance with the provisions of section 553 of title 5, United States Code. That process may include consideration by the Administrator of the recommendations of the Veterans' Advisory Committee on Environmental Hazards and the Scientific Council thereof (established under section 6) with respect to the proposed regulations, and that process shall include consideration by the Administrator of the recommendations of the Committee and the Council with respect to the final regulations and proposed and final amendments to such regulations. The period for public review and comment shall be completed not later than ninety days after the proposed regulations or proposed amendments are published in the Federal Register.

"(2)(A) Not later than one hundred and eighty days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall develop and publish in the Federal Register a proposed version of the regulations required to be prescribed by this section.

"(B) Not later than three hundred days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall publish in the Federal Register the final regulations (together with explanations of the bases for the guidelines, standards, and criteria contained therein) required to be prescribed by this section.

"Advisory Committee on Environmental Hazards

"Sec. 6. (a) The advisory committee referred to in subsections (b) and (c) of section 5, to be known as the Veterans' Advisory Committee on Environmental Hazards (hereinafter in this section referred to as the "Committee") shall consist of nine members appointed by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs after requesting and considering recommendations from veteran organizations, including--

"(1) six individuals (of whom none may be members of the Armed Forces on active duty or employees of the Veterans' Administration or the Department of Defense and not more than three may be employees of other Federal departments or agencies), appointed, after requesting and considering the recommendations of the heads of Federal entities with particular expertise in biomedical and environmental science, including--

"(A) three individuals who are recognized medical or scientific authorities in fields pertinent to understanding the health effects of exposure to ionizing radiation; and

"(B) three individuals who are recognized medical or scientific authorities in fields, such as epidemiology and other scientific disciplines, pertinent to determining and assessing the health effects of exposure to ionizing radiation in exposed populations; and

(C) [Redesignated]

"(2) three individuals from the general public, including at least one disabled veteran, having a demonstrated interest in and experience relating to veterans' concerns regarding exposure to ionizing radiation.

"(b) The Committee shall include, as ex officio, nonvoting members, the Chief Medical Director [Under Secretary for Health] and the Chief Benefits Director [Under Secretary for Benefits] of the Veterans' Administration, or their designees.

"(c) The Committee shall submit to the Administrator any recommendations it considers appropriate for administrative or legislative action.

"(d)(1) The six members of the Committee described in subsection (a)(1) shall, in addition to serving as members of the Committee, constitute a Scientific Council of the Committee (hereinafter in this section referred to as the 'Council').

"(2) The Council shall have responsibility for evaluating scientific studies relating to possible adverse health effects of exposure to ionizing radiation.

"(3) The Council shall make findings and evaluations regarding pertinent scientific studies and shall submit to the Committee, the Administrator, and the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives directly periodic reports on such findings and evaluations.

"(e) The Administrator shall designate one of the members to chair the Committee and another member to chair the Council.

"(f) The Administrator shall determine the terms of service and pay and allowances of members of the Committee, except that a term of service of any member may not exceed three years. The Administrator may reappoint any member for additional terms of service.

"(g) The Administrator shall provide administrative support services and fiscal support for the Committee.

"Nuclear Radiation Matters Involving Other Agencies
"Sec. 7. (a) In connection with the duties of the Director of the Defense Nuclear Agency, as Department of Defense Executive Agent for the Nuclear Test Personnel Review Program, relating to the preparation of radiation dose estimates with regard to claims for Veterans' Administration disability compensation and dependency and indemnity compensation under chapters 11 and 13, respectively, of title 38, United States Code [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq. and 1301 et seq.]--

"(1) the Secretary of Defense shall prescribe guidelines (and any amendment to those guidelines) through a public review and comment process in accordance with the provisions of section 553 of title 5, United States Code--

"(A) specifying the minimum standards governing the preparation of radiation dose estimates in connection with claims for such compensation,

"(B) making such standards uniformly applicable to the several branches of the Armed Forces, and

"(C) requiring that each such estimate furnished to the Veterans' Administration and to any veteran or survivor include information regarding all material aspects of the radiation environment to which the veteran was exposed and which form the basis of the claim, including inhaled, ingested, and neutron doses; and

"(2) the Secretary of Health and Human Services, through the Director of the National Institutes of Health, shall--

"(A) conduct a review of the reliability and accuracy of scientific and technical devices and techniques (such as 'whole body counters') which may be useful in determining previous radiation exposure;

"(B) submit to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs and the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Senate, not later than July 1, 1985, a report regarding the results of such review, including information concerning the availability of such devices and techniques, the categories of exposed individuals as to whom use of such devices and techniques may be appropriate, and the reliability and accuracy of dose estimates which may be derived from such devices and techniques; and

"(C) enter into an interagency agreement with the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs for the purpose of assisting the Administrator in identifying agencies or other entities capable of furnishing services involving the use of such devices and techniques.

"(b) The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, in resolving material differences between a radiation dose estimate, from a credible source, submitted by a veteran or survivor and a radiation dose estimate prepared and transmitted by the Director of the Defense Nuclear Agency, shall provide for the preparation of a radiation dose estimate by an independent expert, who shall be selected by the Director of the National Institutes of Health and who shall not be affiliated with the Defense Nuclear Agency, and the Administrator shall provide for the consideration of such independent estimate in connection with the adjudication of the claim for Veterans' Administration compensation.

*Amendments to Regulations

"Sec. 8. [Section 8 of this Act amends Act Dec. 20, 1979, P. L. 96-151, Title III, § 307(b)(3), 93 Stat. 1097, which appears as 38 USCS § 527 note.]

"Interim Benefits for Disability or Death in Certain Cases

"Sec. 9. (a)(1) In the case of a veteran--
"(A) who served in the active military, naval, or air service in the Republic of Vietnam during the Vietnam era; and

"(B) who has a disease described in subsection (b) that became manifest within one year after the date of the veteran's most recent departure from the Republic of Vietnam during that service, the Administrator shall (except as provided in subsection (c)) pay a monthly disability benefit to the veteran in accordance with this section.

"(2) If a veteran described in paragraph (1) dies from the disease, the Administrator shall pay a monthly death benefit to the survivors of the veteran in accordance with this section.

"(b) The diseases referred to in subsection (a) are chloracne and porphyria cutanea tarda.

"(c) Benefits may not be paid under this section with respect to a disease occurring in a veteran--

"(1) where there is affirmative evidence that the disease was not incurred by the veteran during service in the Republic of Vietnam during the Vietnam era;

"(2) where there is affirmative evidence to establish that an intercurrent injury or disease which is a recognized cause of the disease was suffered by the veteran between the date of the veteran's most recent departure from the Republic of Vietnam during active military, naval, or air service and the onset of the disease; or

"(3) if the Administrator determines, based on evidence in the veteran's service records and other records of the Department of Defense, that the veteran was not exposed to dioxin during active military, naval, or air service in the Republic of Vietnam during the Vietnam era.

"(d)(1) A disability benefit payable to a veteran under this section for a disease described in subsection (b) shall be paid at the rate at which compensation would be payable under chapter 11 of title 38, United States Code [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.], to that veteran for the disability resulting from that disease if the disability were determined to be service-connected.

"(2) A death benefit payable under this section to the survivors of a veteran shall be paid to such survivors based upon the eligibility requirements (other than the requirement that death be the result of a service-connected or compensable disability) and at the rates that are applicable to dependency and indemnity compensation under chapter 13 of that title [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.].

"(e) A benefit may not be paid under this section with respect to a disease or the death of a veteran for any month for which compensation is payable to that veteran for that disease under chapter 11 of title 38, United States Code [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.], or for which dependency and indemnity compensation is payable for that death under chapter 13 of such title [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.].

"Identification of activities involving exposure before January 1, 1970.

Sec. 10. (a) In general.(1) In order to determine whether activities (other than the tests or occupation activities referred to in section 5(a)(1)(B)) resulted in the exposure of veterans to ionizing radiation during the service of such veterans that occurred before January 1, 1970, and whether adverse health effects have been observed or may have resulted from such exposure in a significant number of such veterans, the Advisory Committee established under section 6 shall--

1. Generally
Since § 5 of Veterans' Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act (Dioxin Act), Pub. L. No. 98-542, 98 Stat. 2725 (1984) did not establish service connection for lung cancer in veterans exposed to dioxin during service, it did not establish present entitlement to dependency and indemnity compensation benefits for widow whose husband had died of lung cancer several years before Dioxin Act was effective. Williams v Principi (2002, CA FC) 310 F.3d 1374

Two conditions must exist before 38 USCS § 354(b) [now 38 USCS § 1154(b)] apply: 1) veteran must have been engaged in combat with enemy and 2) injury (in this case "stressors" triggering PTSD) must have been consistent with circumstances, conditions, or hardships of such combat service. Wood v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 406

38 USCS § 1154(b) does not obviate requirement that appellant submit evidence of current disability and service to well ground claim and to succeed on merits of claim. Kessel v West
2. Construction

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims misinterpreted 38 USCS § 1154(b) by holding that it does not apply to any illness incurred during combat when there is record documenting at least one in-service illness. Dambach v Gober (2000, CA FC) 223 F.3d 1376, on remand, motion den, remanded (2001) 14 Vet App 307, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 363, app dismd, mand den (2001, CA FC) 17 Fed Appx 959

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims correctly interpreted 38 USCS § 1154(b) as permitting consideration of veteran's entire medical history, including lengthy period of absence of complaint directed to condition in issue, despite veteran's contention presumption of service-connected aggravation of pre-existing condition can only be overcome by positive medical evidence of non-aggravation. Maxson v Gober (2000, CA FC) 230 F.3d 1330

Regulation providing that symptomatic manifestations of preexisting disease or injury will establish aggravation of disability does not impose conclusive or irrebuttable presumption of service-connection based on aggravation in conflict with 38 USCS § 1153 which it implements, since statute is silent about method or level of proof necessary to establish increase in severity, rather those matters are taken up by 38 USCS § 1154 which gives Secretary authority to set out regulations to create rules of evidence directed at nature and level of proof required to establish service-connection, one method is aggravation, and regulation followed that statute's mandate in creating evidentiary presumption in favor of combat veteran, but presumption may be rebutted. Jensen v Brown (1994, CA FC) 19 F.3d 1413

38 C.F.R. § 3.304(f), which requires "credible supporting evidence" of occurrence of stressor in non-combat-related claims for service connection of post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), is not arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law; § 3.304(f) does not conflict with 38 USCS §§ 1154(a) and 5107(b), because regulation does not alter Department of Veterans Affairs' obligation to review all evidence of record when determining service connection, nor does it preclude consideration of lay evidence. Nat'l Org. of Veterans' Advocates v Sec'y of Veterans Affairs (2003, CA FC) 330 F.3d 1345

Requirements for class certification were satisfied by members of class challenging Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] implementation of Veteran's Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act of 1984, 38 USCS § 354 [now 38 USCS § 1154] note, by regulation that permits recovery only for one particular skin disease as being compensable as service-related injury connected to exposure to Dioxin, where class members consist of all current or former service members or their next of kin, who are eligible to apply, who will become eligible to apply, who have an existing claim pending before agency for service-connected disabilities or death arising from exposure during service to herbicides containing Dioxin, or who have had a claim denied by agency for such disability or deaths because of exposure to herbicides containing Dioxin. Nehmer v United States Veterans Admin. (1987, ND Cal) 118 FRD 113

Regulation which denies service connection to all medical problems allegedly caused by dioxin except chloracne is invalidated and all benefit denials made under regulation are voided, because administrator [now Secretary] misinterpreted Dioxin Act (38 USCS § 354 [now 38 USCS § 1154] note, by imposing impermissibly demanding cause and effect test for granting service connection for various diseases, and refused to give veterans benefit of doubt in meeting demanding standard. Nehmer v United States Veterans Admin. (1989, ND Cal) 712 F Supp 1404

Veteran's reopened disability claim for lung cancer allegedly resulting from exposure to nuclear tests should have been given de novo review in light of statute's implementing regulations setting forth list of requirements and steps agency must follow to determine if veteran's disability, based on radiation exposure, is service-connected. Sawyer v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 130 (ovrld in part by Douglas v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 435)

4. Evidence

If veteran produces credible evidence that would allow reasonable factfinder to conclude that alleged injury or disease was incurred in or aggravated by veteran's combat service, veteran has produced satisfactory evidence to satisfy first requirement of 38 USCS § 1154(b); it is only at third step of analysis, if agency seeks to rebut presumption of service connection, that evidence contrary to veteran's claim of service connection comes into play. Collette v Brown (1996, CA FC) 82 F.3d 389, on remand, remanded (1996, Vet App) 1996 US Vet App LEXIS 464

Board erred in concluding that without service medical records, which had been destroyed in fire, to verify that veteran received treatment or a diagnosis while in service, Board had no choice but to deny him benefits; service connection can also be shown through lay evidence. Smith v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 147, appeal after remand, remanded (1996) 9 Vet App 363, reported at (1996) 10 Vet App 44

Given veteran's Purple Heart, Board was obligated either to accept veteran's lay evidence of service incurrence or explain why 38 USCS § 1154 did not apply or why veteran's version of events was not consistent with circumstances of his service. Shaw v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 365

Effect of statute, whether or not it is labeled as due to "presumption," is that when in case of combat veteran three 38 USCS § 1154(b) elements are satisfied, its relaxation of adjudication evidentiary requirements dictates that veteran's "lay or other evidence" be accepted as sufficient proof of service incurrence or aggravation unless there is "clear and convincing" evidence that disease or injury was not incurred or aggravated in service or during applicable presumption period; this reading comports most logically and clearly with statute's words, which do not include word "presumption." Caluza v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 498, affd without op (1996, CA FC) 78 F.3d 604, reported in full (1996, CA FC) 1996 US App LEXIS 2635 and reh den (1996, CA FC) 1996 US App LEXIS 11269

Even if Board did not comply with three-step process for evaluating service-connection claims under 38 USCS § 1154 and instead leapt directly to step three without determining whether veteran had submitted lay or other evidence consistent with conditions, circumstances, and hardships of his service, there was clear and convincing evidence of nonincurrence during service to rebut steps one and two, so error was harmless. Velez v West (1998) 11 Vet App 148, app dismd (1998, CA FC) 178 F.3d 1308, vacated on other grounds (1998, CA FC) 185 F.3d 878 and app dismd (1999, CA FC) 215 F.3d 1344

Combat veteran who has successfully established in-service occurrence or aggravation of injury pursuant to lighter evidentiary burden imposed on combat veterans must still submit sufficient evidence of causal nexus between that in-service event and his or her current disability in order to meet initial burden of submitting well-grounded claim. Wade v West (1998) 11 Vet App 302

Board of Veterans' Appeals erred by failing to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases for its conclusion that in its May 1981 decision Department of Veterans' Affairs regional office (RO) considered veteran's combat service; specifically, Board relied solely on RO's mention of veteran's Purple Heart award as evidence that it so considered, without evaluating whether or not RO had adequately considered, as 38 USCS § 354(b) then mandated (and as 38 USCS § 1154(b) presently mandated) that it must, whether there was satisfactory lay or other evidence of service incurrence or aggravation notwithstanding fact that there was no official record of such incurrence or aggravation in such service. Huston v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 195, 2003 US App

Veterans' Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act does not remove veteran's right to pursue direct service connection with proof of actual direct causation; therefor, veteran who sought to show connection between his exposure to radiation during service in armed forces and his neutropenia and leucopenia should have been given opportunity to prove actual causation. Combee v Brown (1994, CA FC) 34 F.3d 1039, reh den (1994, CA FC) 1994 US App LEXIS 31577 and remanded (1994) 7 Vet App 193 and (criticized in Ramey v Gober (1997, CA FC) 120 F.3d 1239)

Veterans' Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act does not create presumption of service connection for radiation-exposed veterans who contract radiogenic diseases, nor does it direct DVA to create any such presumption by regulation, rather statute leaves to agency task of determining whether to grant service connection. Ramey v Gober (1997, CA FC) 120 F.3d 1239, cert den (1998) 522 US 1151, 140 L Ed 2d 181, 118 S Ct 1171

6. -Post-traumatic stress disorder

BVA's denial of service connection for PTSD would be affirmed where it discussed each claimed stressor and pointed out contradictions between veteran's various claims and information provided by U.S. Army and Joint Services Environmental Support Group. Wilson v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 614, app dismd without op (1993, CA) 996 F.2d 1236

In denying service connection for PTSD, Board neither set forth standard for what constitutes requisite stressor nor applied standard to record evidence, hence decision would be vacated and remanded. Maynard v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 341

In adjudicating Korean War veteran's claim for service connection for PTSD, BVA erred in rejecting possibility that any of alleged stressors were combat-related on ground that appellant's aircraft carrier was engaged in combat only brief period and in failing to determine which events, if any, occurred during combat. West v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 70

Board did not err in denying service-connection for post-traumatic stress disorder since, although appellant served in Vietnam, he was assigned as stock and accounting specialist, he did not receive any of recognized military citations which recognize combat, and none of submitted evidence indicated that appellant was engaged in combat at any time. Fossie v West (1998) 12 Vet App 1, app dismd (2000, CA FC) 250 F.3d 760, reported in full (2000, CA FC) 2000 US App LEXIS 15216

Board of Veterans' Appeals erred to extent that its determination that veteran had not engaged in combat was based on sole criterion of veteran's not having received fire from enemy, which was not required under 38 USCS § 1154(b)'s phrase "engaged in combat with enemy" as interpreted by VA General Counsel opinion; evidence showed that veteran's unit had been

7. -Hearing and ear injuries

Board erred in specifically relying upon lack of official record that was contemporaneous with alleged trauma as to veteran's claimed ear injury and completely disregarding veteran's own lay evidence and other evidence of record in determining entitlement to service connection. Smith v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 137

Board erred in relying on absence of any entry in veteran's service medical record indicating that he had ever been treated during service for complaints associated with hearing difficulties to discount his testimony of service incurrence and in failing to rely on clear and convincing evidence to contrary. Peters v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 540

8. -Frostbite

Appellant was entitled to service connection for frostbite injury, even in absence of official recording of occurrence of injury, based on appellant's statements and existing medical records since condition was consistent with circumstances of engagement and combat with enemy. Horvath v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 240

World War II veteran's uncontradicted assertion of having experienced frozen feet in combat was consistent with circumstances of his service and therefore satisfactory evidence that it occurred in service. Russo v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 46

9. -Miscellaneous disabilities

BVA was required to consider and discuss testimony of veteran who had engaged in combat as to jaw dislocation in service 20 years earlier, and other lay evidence, and its was not permissible to BVA to reject lay evidence of service incurrence of TMJ syndrome simply because it was not substantiated by contemporaneous medical evidence. Antonian v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 179

Board erred in rejecting veteran's claim of service connection for headaches since testimony that his headaches started about five minutes after he was hit by shell fragment was consistent with circumstances surrounding his in-service shell fragment wound. Franko v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 502

Clear and convincing evidence exists to rebut veteran's claim of aggravation of preexisting condition of partial colectomy under 38 USCS § 1154(b) despite numerous pre-1944 entries regarding veteran's symptomatology where evidence of record reveals that from 1944 to 1989, there is no record of any complaint or treatment involving veteran's colon condition. Maxson v West (1999) 12 Vet App 453, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 602, affd (2000, CA FC) 230 F.3d 1330

§ 1155. Authority for schedule for rating disabilities

The Secretary shall adopt and apply a schedule of ratings of reductions in earning capacity from specific injuries or combination of injuries. The ratings shall be based, as far as practicable, upon the average impairments of earning capacity resulting from such injuries in civil occupations. The schedule shall be constructed so as to provide ten grades of disability and no more, upon which payments of compensation shall be based, namely, 10 percent, 20 percent, 30 percent, 40 percent, 50 percent, 60 percent, 70 percent, 80 percent, 90 percent, and total, 100 percent. The Secretary shall from time to time readjust this schedule of ratings in accordance with experience. However, in no event shall such a readjustment in the rating schedule cause a veteran's disability rating in effect on the effective date of the readjustment to be reduced unless an improvement in the veteran's disability is shown to have occurred.

Prior law and revision:
This section is based on 38 USC § 2355 (Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title III, Part F, § 355, 71 Stat. 103).

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XXII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162:
Veterans' Regulation No. 3(a), para. I.

Amendments:
1984. Act March 2, 1984 (effective 4/1/84, as provided by § 107 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1114 note), substituted "percent" for "per centum" wherever it appears.

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 355, as 38 USCS § 1155, and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

Act Aug. 14, 1991 (applicable as provided by § 103(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), added the sentence beginning "However, in no event . . .".

3. Miscellaneous

1. Generally
Disability compensation rating by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] is not determinative of issues involved in disability retirement determination by military, although Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] ratings are proper evidence to be waived by military, since Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] ratings are based upon average impairment of earning capacity in civilian life while military's determination is directed to question of whether individual is unfit to perform duties of his office, grade, rank or rating. Bennett v United States (1973) 200 Ct Cl 635
Although both military and Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) utilize Veterans Administration Schedule of Rating Disabilities, two entities utilize rating systems for different purposes; thus, VA rating decision may be relevant to consideration of appropriate disability rating by military, but it is not binding on military. Champagne v United States (1996) 35 Fed Cl 198, affd (1998, CA FC) 136 F.3d 1300

2. Increased valuation or rating

Decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims was affirmed because its interpretation of 38 C.F.R. § 4.130, general rating formula for mental disorders promulgated by Department of Veterans' Affairs pursuant to 38 USCS § 1155, that symptoms listed in Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, 4th edition, (DSM-IV), do not replace, but rather supplement, criteria listed in general rating formula as basis for rating post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) claims was correct as matter of law; under regulation, while Board of Veterans Appeals is not restricted to considering only those symptoms listed in general rating formula and may consider those identified in DSM-IV, criteria listed in general rating formula are rating formula adopted by Secretary in rating PTSD claims. Sellers v Principi (2004, CA FC) 372 F.3d 1318

Protection afforded to 1925 schedule rating by former 38 USC § 737 ceases to apply whenever there is increased valuation under 1945 rating schedule, with continuing or running award (not temporary or limited by its terms), irrespective whether increase results from change in condition, or from some other cause, such as change in tests or treatment. 1961 ADVA 977

BVA failed to provide adequate reasons or bases for rejecting medical testimony that veteran was incapable of work in rejecting his claim that his disability rating be increased from 60 to 100 percent, where there was evidence that veteran's back disease was progressive in nature and there was no explanation why Board found more recent diagnoses less persuasive than earlier ones. Simon v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 621

Issue of rating higher than 50 percent for PTSD was inextricably intertwined with remanded issue of unemployability in that all disability ratings are primarily predicated on impairment in gainful employment, hence was not ripe for review. Herlehy v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 122

Board's denial of veteran's claim for rating increase was legally erroneous since, in failing to assign 100 percent rating for veteran's active disease, Board did not grant veteran benefit of law most favorable to him because it did not base its analogous rating of his lymphadenopathy on amended rating schedule. Green v West (1998) 11 Vet App 472

Court reversed Board of Veteran's Appeals' decision that bilateral tinnitus could not qualify for two 10 percent ratings, one for each ear, and remanded matter for expeditious re-adjudication as to whether veteran had bilateral tinnitus and, if so, for assignment of rating that was consistent with opinion. Smith v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 63, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 143

Statutory scheme of 5 USCS §§ 552, 553, and 38 USCS §§ 1155, 7252, consistently excluded from judicial review all content of ratings schedule, as well as actions of Secretary of Veterans Affairs in adopting or revising that content, and 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(C) only provides standards of review to be applied by U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims when reviewing decision from Board of Veterans' Appeals and, thus, under 38 USCS § 7252, such court lacked jurisdiction to review content of diagnostic codes as part of schedule of ratings for disabilities; accordingly, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit reversed determination of U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that 38 C.F.R. § 4.87a, Diagnostic Code 6260, was invalid as inconsistent with 38 USCS § 1110. Federal Tort Claims Act did not bar plaintiff from recovering, in addition to benefits that plaintiff received from proceedings under 38 USCS § 1155, damages for spouse's death as result of hospital's negligence. Aldridge v United States (2003, WD Tenn) 282 F Supp 2d 802

When service connection for claimant's disability is established but nature of medical evidence permits reasonable arguments for rating disability under two or more possible diagnostic codes, BVA must weigh evidence and make informed choice as to which diagnostic code provides most appropriate method for rating veteran's disability. § 1157. Combination of certain ratings

The Secretary shall provide for the combination of ratings and pay compensation at the rates prescribed in subchapter II of this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1110 et seq.] to those veterans who served during a period of war and during any other time, who have suffered disability in line of duty in each period of service.

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 357, as 38 USCS § 1157, and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

Board properly applied combined rating formula to arrive at 40 percent combined rating for veteran, and since there was no plausible basis upon which veteran's individual ratings could be combined to give rating in excess of that, he failed to submit well-grounded claim for relief. § 1158. Disappearance

Where a veteran receiving compensation under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.] disappears, the Secretary may pay the compensation otherwise payable to the veteran to such veteran's spouse, children, and parents. Payments made to such spouse, child, or parent under the preceding sentence shall not exceed the amounts payable to each if the veteran had died from service-connected disability.

Prior law and revision:

2. Right to benefits when veteran not receiving compensation

1. Generally

Court decree presuming death of veteran because of unexplained absence is not bar to payment of benefits to veteran's dependents by reason of his disappearance. 1939 ADVA 443

2. Right to benefits when veteran not receiving compensation

Dependents of veteran who disappeared are entitled to benefits since disability from which veteran was suffering at time of disappearance was rated as directly service connected, and even though veteran was not receiving compensation at the time of disappearance. 1935 ADVA 316

Wife in her capacity as legal guardian of her missing incompetent husband is not entitled to elect to receive compensation in lieu of naval retirement pay in absence of court order authorizing such election, and payment of compensation to wife and minor child of veteran is authorized, without regard to fact that there has been no election between retirement pay and compensation. 1947 ADVA 763

§ 1159. Protection of service connection

Service connection for any disability or death granted under this title which has been in force for ten or more years shall not be severed on or after January 1, 1962, except upon a showing that the original grant of service connection was based on fraud or it is clearly shown from military records that the person concerned did not have the requisite service or character of discharge. The mentioned period shall be computed from the date determined by the Secretary as the date on which the status commenced for rating purposes.

Amendments:

1962. Act Oct. 15, 1962 (effective as provided by § 7 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 110 note), inserted "The mentioned period shall be computed from the date determined by the Administrator as the date on which the status commenced for rating purposes.".

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) Where a veteran has suffered--
   (1) blindness in one eye as a result of service-connected disability and blindness in the other eye as a result of non-service-connected disability not the result of the veteran's own willful misconduct;
   (2) the loss or loss of use of one kidney as a result of service-connected disability and involvement of the other kidney as a result of non-service-connected disability not the result of the veteran's own willful misconduct;

   (5) permanent service-connected disability of one lung, rated 50 percent or more disabling, in combination with a non-service-connected disability of the other lung that is not the result of the veteran's own willful misconduct, the Secretary shall assign and pay to the veteran the applicable rate of compensation under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.] as if the combination of disabilities were the result of service-connected disability.

(b) If a veteran described in subsection (a) of this section receives any money or property of value pursuant to an award in a judicial proceeding based upon, or a settlement or compromise of, any cause of action for damages for the non-service-connected disability described in such subsection, the increase in the rate of compensation otherwise payable under this section shall not be paid for any month following a month in which any such money or property is received until such time as the total of the amount of such increase that would otherwise have been payable equals the total of the amount of any such money received and the fair market value of any such property received.

Code of Federal Regulations

Department of Veterans Affairs-Adjudication, 38 CFR Part 3

Decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims denying veteran's claim for compensable rating evaluation for service-connected left-ear hearing loss was affirmed, since 38 USCS § 1160(a)(3), at that time, precluded any consideration of less than total, non-service-connected right-ear hearing loss for purposes of evaluating service-connected hearing loss in left ear. Boyer v West (2000, CA FC) 210 F.3d 1351

Disability arising from appellant's non-service-connected hearing loss did not have to be part of rating provided for disability attributable to appellant's service-connected hearing loss, since 38 USCS § 1160, at that time, authorized compensation only for total deafness in both ears, which was not case here, and 38 USCS § 1155 authorized only schedule of ratings to reflect reductions in earning capacity. Boyer v West (1999) 12 Vet App 142

Court could not say that Secretary's interpretation of statute was wrong or frustrated its purpose since record evidence did not show that appellant was totally deaf in both ears, as required by statute at that time; thus, it was not erroneous for Board not to consider appellant's right-ear hearing loss when rating his left-ear hearing loss and holding that hearing loss was not compensable. Boyer v West (1998) 11 Vet App 477

§ 1161. Payment of disability compensation in disability severance cases

The deduction of disability severance pay from disability compensation, as required by section 1212(c) of title 10 [10 USCS § 1212(c)], shall be made at a monthly rate not in excess of the rate of compensation to which the former member would be entitled based on the degree of such former member's disability as determined on the initial Department rating.

1976. Act Sept. 30, 1976 (effective 10/1/76, as provided by § 406 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1101 note), substituted "such former member's" for "his".

§ 1162. Clothing allowance

The Secretary under regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe, shall pay a clothing allowance of $641 per year to each veteran who--

(1) because of a service-connected disability, wears or uses a prosthetic or orthopedic appliance (including a wheelchair) which the Secretary determines tends to wear out or tear the clothing of the veteran; or

(2) uses medication which (A) a physician has prescribed for a skin condition which is due to a service-connected disability, and (B) the Secretary determines causes irrepairable damage to the veteran's outergarments.

§ 1163. Trial work periods and vocational rehabilitation for certain veterans with total disability ratings

(a) (1) The disability rating of a qualified veteran who begins to engage in a substantially gainful occupation after January 31, 1985, may not be reduced on the basis of the veteran having secured and followed a substantially gainful occupation unless the veteran maintains such an occupation for a period of 12 consecutive months.

(2) For purposes of this section, the term "qualified veteran" means a veteran who has a service-connected disability, or service-connected disabilities, not rated as total but who has been awarded a rating of total disability by reason of inability to secure or follow a substantially gainful occupation as a result of such disability or disabilities.

(b) The Secretary shall make counseling services described in section 3104(a)(2) of this title [38 USCS § 3104(a)(2)] and placement and postplacement services described in section 3104(a)(5) of this title [38 USCS § 3104(a)(5)] available to each qualified veteran.
(whether or not the veteran is participating in a vocational rehabilitation program under chapter 31 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq.]).

(c) (1) In the case of each award after January 31, 1985, of a rating of total disability described in subsection (a)(2) of this section to a veteran, the Secretary shall provide to the veteran, at the time that notice of the award is provided to the veteran, a statement providing--

(A) notice of the provisions of this section;
(B) information explaining the purposes and availability of and eligibility for, and the procedures for pursuing, a vocational rehabilitation program under chapter 31 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq.]; and
(C) a summary description of the scope of services and assistance available under that chapter [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq.].

(2) After providing the notice required under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the Secretary shall offer the veteran the opportunity for an evaluation under section 3106(a) of this title [38 USCS § 3106(a)].

Amendments:

1988. Act Nov. 18, 1988, in subsec. (a)(2)(B), substituted "January 31, 1992" for "January 31, 1989"; in subsec. (c), in para. (1), substituted "In" for "(A) Except as provided in paragraph (4) of this subsection, in", redesignated former cls. (i)-(iii) as subparas. (A)-(C), respectively, deleted subpara. (B) which read: "After providing the notice required under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph to a veteran, the Administrator shall arrange as promptly as is practical for the veteran to be provided an evaluation in order to make a determination as to whether the achievement of a vocational goal by the veteran is reasonably feasible. Such evaluation shall include a personal interview of the veteran by a Veterans' Administration employee who is trained in vocational counseling. The Administrator shall provide the veteran with reasonable notice of the schedule for the evaluation.", and substituted para. (2) for former paras. (2)-(4), which read:

"(2) If the veteran fails, for reasons other than those beyond the veteran's control, to participate in an evaluation under paragraph (1)(B) of this subsection in the manner required by the Administrator in order to make the determination described in that paragraph, the Administrator shall reduce the veteran's disability rating to the rating that would be applicable to the veteran but for the determination of the veteran's inability to secure or follow a substantially gainful occupation. Any such reduction shall remain in effect for the duration of such failure.

"(3)(A) If, after completion of an evaluation under paragraph (1)(B) of this subsection, the Administrator determines that achievement of a vocational goal by the veteran is reasonably feasible, the Administrator shall formulate an individualized written plan of vocational rehabilitation for the veteran under chapter 31 of this title.

"(B) If the Administrator determines that the veteran has failed to pursue (or to continue to pursue) the vocational rehabilitation program described in such plan, the Administrator shall provide the veteran with notice that, if the veteran fails, for reasons other than those beyond the veteran's control, to initiate or resume pursuit of such program within 60 days after the Administrator provided such notice (or such longer period as the Administrator determines is the shortest period within which it is reasonably feasible for the veteran to initiate or resume pursuit), the Administrator will provide for the results of the evaluation to be considered in the next scheduled review of the veteran's eligibility for a rating of total disability based on inability to secure or follow a substantially gainful occupation. Unless the veteran initiates or resumes such pursuit within such 60 days (or such longer period, if applicable), the Administrator shall provide for such results to be so considered.

"(4) This subsection does not apply with respect to a veteran as to whom the Administrator determines that an evaluation of vocational rehabilitation potential or achievement of a vocational goal is not reasonably feasible.".

(a) With respect to a veteran who died in the active military, naval, or air service, such veteran's pay grade shall be determined as of the date of such veteran's death or as of the date of a promotion after death while in a missing status.
(b) With respect to a veteran who did not die in the active military, naval, or air service, such veteran's pay grade shall be determined as of--

(c) The pay grade of any veteran described in section 106(b) of this title shall be that to which such veteran would have been assigned upon final acceptance or entry upon active duty.

(d) If a veteran has satisfactorily served on active duty for a period of six months or more in a pay grade higher than that specified in subsection (a) or (b) and any subsequent discharge or release from active duty was under conditions other than dishonorable, the higher pay grade shall be used if it will result in greater monthly payments to such veteran's surviving spouse under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.]. The determination as to whether an individual has served satisfactorily for the required period in a higher pay grade shall be made by the Secretary of the department in which such higher pay grade was held.

Widow's appeal of non-final order of remand of her claim for veteran's survivor benefits to Board of Veterans' Appeals, for reconsideration in light of Veterans Claims Assistance Act of 2000, Pub. L. No. 106-475, 114 Stat. 2096 (2000), was dismissed where there was no substantial risk that factual determination that veteran's disability and death were not service-connected would not survive entry of final order. Myore v Principi (2003, CA FC) 323 F.3d 1347

Eligibility for survivors benefits under 38 USCS § 410(b)(1) [now 38 USCS § 1310(b)(1)] is controlled by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] not findings regarding disability rather than service department's ratings of total disability. VA GCO 3-83
Board erred in failing to apply benefit-of-doubt doctrine to surviving spouse’s claim for DIC benefits where there was substantial evidence in her favor. Garcia v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 382

2. Conduct of beneficiary

Widow of service member was not entitled to renew her eligibility for survivor benefit plan annuities after waiving her statutory entitlement to dependency indemnity compensation benefits while also continuing to receive benefits of Federal Tort Claims Act settlement since there is no statutory provision entitling individual such as plaintiff who voluntarily albeit mistakenly renounces her entitlement to dependency indemnity compensation benefits following receipt of FTCA settlement to have survivor benefit plan annuity restored. Kesler v United States (1992) 25 Cl Ct 189

Surviving minor child of Spanish-American War veteran is precluded from receiving increase in basic rate of pension on account of death of sister, where it appears her death was due to his felonious act. 1941 ADVA 468

3. Cause of death determinations

DIC claim following veteran's death from respiratory failure due to chronic obstructive pulmonary disease complicated by nosebleed was properly denied where veteran had made no complaints of any lung condition while in service. Gartman v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 225

Denial of DIC benefits had plausible basis where cause of veteran's death was terminal stage of prostrate cancer, non-service connected condition, and Board determined that Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] treatment when veteran was hospitalized did not cause or hasten veteran's death. Monts v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 379

Surviving spouse failed to present well-ground claim of service connection for cause of veteran's death where 1937 death certificate listed only coronary sclerosis as principal cause of death and anemia as contributory cause of death, and did not mention veteran's service-connected PTB and bronchitis or provide any other information regarding causation, and physician's letter written 15 years after veteran's death stating that veteran's death was aggravated by service-connected disability also stated that physician had no evidence that veteran had service-connected disability or was receiving compensation from Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], nor did it refer to any specific disability. Hanna v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 507, app dismd without op (1995, CA FC) 56 F.3d 82, reported in full (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 10749, reh, en banc, den (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 16626

Board's determination that veteran's death was not service connected for purpose of dependency and indemnity compensation claim under 38 USCS § 1310 was not clearly erroneous even though physician who prepared death certificate stated that total sum of veteran's injuries sustained while being in service contributed to veteran's death where medical opinion obtained by regional office stated that it was not likely any of veteran's service-connected disabilities contributed substantially or materially to veteran's death. Sachs v Gober (2000) 14 Vet App 175, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 742, mod, remanded, app dismd (2001) 14 Vet App 298, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 164

4. Miscellaneous

38 USCS § 1103(a) applies to surviving spouse's dependency and indemnity compensation claim, even if veteran had previously established service connection for disability because 38 USCS § 1310(a) explicitly refers to Chapter 11 of Title 38 of U.S. Code, which includes 38 USCS
§ 1103(a), and as result, 38 USCS § 1310(a) incorporates 38 USCS § 1103(a)'s service connection preclusion. Stoll v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1375

Wife could not rely on her deceased husband's prior service connection status to save dependency and indemnity compensation claim where 38 USCS § 1310(a) incorporated 38 USCS § 1103(a)'s service connection preclusion, § 1103(a) only applied to living veterans, and there was no dispute that her husband's chronic obstructive pulmonary disease was attributable to his in-service tobacco use. Stoll v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1375

Widow of deceased veteran was not entitled to have deceased veteran's claims for increased disability ratings reopened since she presented no new evidence and only asserted evidence which was previously submitted; survivor's accrued-benefits claims asserting veteran's disorder was service-connected necessarily incorporates any previous adjudications of service-connection claims of veteran and requires new and material evidence before accrued benefits claim may be considered, just as if veteran himself had been asking to have claim reopened. Wright v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 300

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] failed to follow its own regulations governing termination of benefits when it terminated DIC benefits to deceased veteran's dependent children; record revealed that earlier notification to both children's custodians, despite adjudicative decision that veteran's death was not service connected, constituted final and binding agency decision which was not subject to revision except when it is clearly and unmistakably erroneous, requiring notice to recipients and burden on government. Wilson v West (1998) 11 Vet App 383

There is no legal basis for 70 year-old appellant to be paid dependency and indemnity compensation pursuant to 38 USCS § 1310(a) or 38 USCS § 1318, or to be paid accrued benefits under 38 USCS § 5121(a), since 38 USCS 101(4)(A) excludes from category of "child" anyone who is more than 23 years of age. Burris v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 348, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1498

Plain language of 38 USCS § 1103 expresses congressional intent to no longer award service connection for veteran's death that results from service connected disease that was "capable of being attributed" to use of tobacco products during veteran's service; therefore, although smoking-related heart disease that caused veteran's death had been deemed to be "service-connected" while veteran was alive, veteran's widow was not entitled to dependency and indemnity compensation benefits under 38 USCS § 1310(a), due to enactment of 38 USCS § 1103, and 38 C.F.R. § 3.300. Kane v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 97, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 385

Plaintiff widow, survivor of military veteran, was granted tax refund relief for funds withheld from her Survivor Benefit Plan receipts for period of time for which she was retroactively entitled to Dependency and Indemnity Compensation benefits, which were nontaxable under 38 USCS § 5301. Ebert v United States (2005) 66 Fed Cl 287, 2005-2 USTC ¶ 50495, 96 AFTR 2d 5163

§ 1311. Dependency and indemnity compensation to a surviving spouse

(a) (1) Dependency and indemnity compensation shall be paid to a surviving spouse at the monthly rate of $1,033.

(2) The rate under paragraph (1) shall be increased by $221 in the case of the death of a veteran who at the time of death was in receipt of or was entitled to receive (or but for the receipt of retired pay or retirement pay was entitled to receive) compensation for a service-connected disability that was rated totally disabling for a continuous period of at least eight years immediately preceding death. In determining the period of a veteran's disability for purposes of the preceding sentence, only periods in which the veteran was married to the surviving spouse shall be considered.
(3) In the case of dependency and indemnity compensation paid to a surviving spouse that is predicated on the death of a veteran before January 1, 1993, the monthly rate of such compensation shall be the amount based on the pay grade of such veteran, as set forth in the following table, if the amount is greater than the total amount determined with respect to that veteran under paragraphs (1) and (2):

n1 If the veteran served as sergeant major of the Army, senior enlisted advisor of the Navy, chief master sergeant of the Air Force, sergeant major of the Marine Corps, or master chief petty officer of the Coast Guard, at the applicable time designated by section 1302 of this title, the surviving spouse's rate shall be $1,271.

n2 If the veteran served as Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Chief of Staff of the Army, Chief of Naval Operations, Chief of Staff of the Air Force, Commandant of the Marine Corps, or Commandant of the Coast Guard, at the applicable time designated by section 1302 of this title, the surviving spouse's rate shall be $2,365.

(b) If there is a surviving spouse with one or more children below the age of eighteen of a deceased veteran, the dependency and indemnity compensation paid monthly to the surviving spouse shall be increased by $257 for each such child.

(c) The monthly rate of dependency and indemnity compensation payable to a surviving spouse shall be increased by $257 if the spouse is (1) a patient in a nursing home or (2) blind, or so nearly blind or significantly disabled as to need or require the regular aid and attendance of another person.

(d) The monthly rate of dependency and indemnity compensation payable to a surviving spouse shall be increased by $122 if the surviving spouse is, by reason of disability, permanently housebound but does not qualify for the aid and attendance allowance under subsection (c) of this section. For the purposes of this subsection, the requirement of "permanently housebound" will be considered to have been met when the surviving spouse is substantially confined to such surviving spouse's home (ward or clinical areas, if institutionalized) or immediate premises by reason of a disability or disabilities which it is reasonably certain will remain throughout such surviving spouse's lifetime.
(e) In the case of an individual who is eligible for dependency and indemnity compensation under this section by reason of section 103(d)(2)(B) of this title [38 USCS § 103(d)(2)(B)] who is also eligible for benefits under another provision of law by reason of such individual's status as the surviving spouse of a veteran, then, notwithstanding any other provision of law (other than section 5304(b)(3) of this title [38 USCS § 5304(b)(3)]), no reduction in benefits under such other provision of law shall be made by reason of such individual's eligibility for benefits under this section.

(f) (1) Subject to paragraphs (2) and (3), if there is a surviving spouse with one or more children below the age of 18, the dependency and indemnity compensation paid monthly to the surviving spouse shall be increased by $250, regardless of the number of such children.

(2) Dependency and indemnity compensation shall be increased under this subsection only for months occurring during the two-year period beginning on the date on which entitlement to dependency and indemnity compensation commenced.

(3) The increase in dependency and indemnity compensation of a surviving spouse under this subsection shall cease beginning with the first month commencing after the month in which all children of the surviving spouse have attained the age of 18.

(4) Dependency and indemnity compensation under this subsection is in addition to any other dependency and indemnity compensation payable under this chapter.

Prior law and revision:
This section is based on 38 USC § 1112 (Act Aug. 1, 1956, ch 837, Title II, § 202, 70 Stat. 862).

Explanatory notes:
The subsection designator "(f)" has been inserted in brackets in order to maintain alphabetical continuity.

Amendments:
1961. Act Sept. 21, 1961 (effective 10/1/61, as provided by § 3 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1312 note), in subsec. (d)(1), substituted "412(a)" for "412".

1963. Act May 15, 1963 (effective as provided by § 5 of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (b), concluding matter, substituted "$28" for "$25".

Act Oct. 5, 1963 (effective as provided by § 2 of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (a), substituted "$120" for "$112".

Act Oct. 27, 1969 (effective 12/1/69, as provided by § 8 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1302 note), substituted this section for one which read:

"(a) Dependency and indemnity compensation shall be paid to a widow at a monthly rate equal to $120 plus 12 per centum of the basic pay of her deceased husband.

"(b) If there is a widow and two or more children below the age of eighteen of a deceased veteran, and--

"(1) the total of the monthly benefits to which such widow and children are (or would be, upon the filing of an application) entitled on the basis of such deceased veteran's status under the laws referred to in subsection (d); is less than

"(2) the amount described in subsection (e);

then the dependency and indemnity compensation paid monthly to the widow shall be increased by $28 for each such child in excess of one; however, the total of increases under this subsection shall not exceed the difference between the amounts referred to in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection.

"(c) If the amount determined under subsection (a), after increase (if any) under subsection (b), involves a fraction of a dollar, the amount payable shall be increased by the Administrator to the next higher dollar.

"(d) The laws referred to in subsection (b)(1) are--

"(1) section 412(a) of this title;

"(2) section 402 of title 42 (including the reduction provisions of subsection (a) of section 403 of title 42, but without regard to the deduction provisions of section 403); and

"(3) section 228e of title 45 (including the reduction provisions of section 228c-1(h) and 228e(h) of title 45).

"(e) The amount referred to in subsection (b)(2) is an amount equal to the total of the monthly benefits to which a widow and two children of a deceased fully and currently insured individual would be entitled under section 402 of title 42 (after reduction under subsection (a) of section 403 of title 42 but without regard to deduction provisions of section 403) if such deceased individual's average monthly wage had been $160.

"(f) The amount referred to in subsection (b)(1) shall be determined by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, or the Railroad Retirement Board, as the case may be, and shall be certified to the Administrator upon his request.

1970. Act Dec. 24, 1970 (effective 1/1/71, as provided by § 10(a) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1521 note), in subsec. (c), substituted "$55" for "$50".

1971. Act Dec. 15, 1971 (effective as provided by § 10 of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), substituted new section for one which read:

"(a) Dependency and indemnity compensation shall be paid to a widow, based on the pay grade of her deceased husband, at monthly rates set forth in the following table:

4. Termination

1. Generally

Receipt of Bureau of Employees' compensation benefits does not terminate widow's basic eligibility for dependency and indemnity compensation, though such eligibility may be terminated by death or remarriage. 1961 ADVA 974

2. Relationship with other laws

Claimant was not surviving spouse of veteran for purposes of receiving benefits where, although she and veteran had been married and divorced and subsequently cohabited, they never remarried before veteran's death and Tennessee, where they were domiciled, does not recognize common law marriages. Harden v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 39, app dismd (1992, CA) 979 F.2d 215, reported in full (1992, CA FC) 1992 US App LEXIS 36778

Whether veteran was entitled to receive total disability rating for his cirrhosis for eight continuous years prior to time of his death, so that his widow would be entitled to enhanced DIC, required remand for establishment of effective date and assignment of disability; because both 38 USCS § 1311(a)(2) and 38 USCS § 1318(b) are located in Chapter 13 and deal with DIC, phrase "in receipt of or entitled to receive" must have same meaning in both sections. Hix v West (1999) 12 Vet App 138, affd sub nom Hix v Gober (2000, CA FC) 225 F.3d 1377

Board of Veterans Appeals did not err in its determination that appellant attorney was not entitled to direct payment by Department of Veterans Affairs of 20 percent of veteran’s son’s past due dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) benefits pursuant to his fee agreement with veteran’s widow because, although attorney’s successful representation of veteran’s widow had result of qualifying intervenor for DIC benefits, those benefits for her helpless-adult son under 38 USCS § 1314 were separate and distinct from veteran’s widow’s DIC benefits under 38 USCS § 1311. Hanlin v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 350, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 616

38 USCS § 1311(a)(2) requires retrospective determination of extent and duration of disability of deceased veteran upon entirety of record, including any new evidence presented by surviving spouse. Hix v Gober (2000, CA FC) 225 F.3d 1377

Board did not err in denying claim of surviving spouse of veteran for aid and assistance since claimant presented only her own statement to show that she met requirements, yet Board had her physician’s opinion that she was neither housebound nor in need of aid and assistance. Smith v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 78

Although claimant was legal spouse of veteran at time of veteran's death and was deemed to have lived with veteran continuously since their marriage, Board of Veterans’ Appeals did not err in deciding claimant was not entitled to recognition as veteran’s surviving spouse pursuant to 38 USCS § 101(3) since claimant held herself out to public as spouse of another until after veteran’s death and, therefore, 38 USCS § 1311(e), which permits restoration of prior eligibility for dependency and indemnity compensation, is not applicable. Cacatian v West (1999) 12 Vet App 373, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 306

Award of veteran’s indemnity made in favor of widow is not lawfully terminated upon her remarriage, for purpose of giving effect to his intent that his mother become beneficiary in event his widow remarried. 1959 ADVA 968

   the Secretary shall pay for such monthly benefits under this section to each such survivor in an amount equal to the amount of the benefits which would have been paid for such month to such survivor under Title II of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401 et seq.), if such veteran had been both fully and currently insured at the time of his death and if such survivor had filed application therefor on the same date on which application for benefits under this section is filed with the Secretary.

(b) In any case where the amount of dependency and indemnity compensation payable under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] to a surviving spouse who has children is less than the amount of pension which would be payable to (1) such surviving spouse, or (2) such children if the surviving spouse were not entitled, under chapter 15 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1501 et seq.] had the death occurred under circumstances authorizing payment of death pension, the Secretary shall pay dependency and indemnity compensation to such surviving spouse in an amount equal to such amount of pension.

§ 1313. Dependency and indemnity compensation to children

§ 1316. Dependency and indemnity compensation in cases of prior deaths

(a) (1) Any person who is eligible as a surviving spouse or child for death compensation by reason of a death occurring before January 1, 1957, may receive dependency and indemnity compensation upon application therefor.

(2) Any person who is eligible as a parent, or, but for such person's annual income, would be eligible as a parent, for death compensation by reason of a death occurring before January 1, 1957, may receive dependency and indemnity compensation upon application therefor; however, the annual income limitations established by section 1315 of this title [38 USCS § 1315] shall apply to each such parent.

(b) (1) Whenever the surviving spouse of a veteran has been granted dependency and indemnity compensation by reason of this section, payments to such surviving spouse and to the children of the veteran shall thereafter be made under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.], and shall not thereafter be made to them by reason of the death of the veteran under (A) other provisions of law administered by the Secretary providing for the payment of compensation or pension, or (B) subchapter I of chapter 81 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8101 et seq.].

(2) Whenever the child or parent of any veteran is granted dependency and indemnity compensation, payments shall not thereafter be made to such child or parent by reason of the death of the veteran under (A) other provisions of law administered by the Secretary providing for the payment of compensation or pension, or (B) subchapter I of chapter 81 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8101 et seq.].

(c) If children of a deceased individual are receiving death compensation, and all such children have not applied for dependency and indemnity compensation, (1) paid to each child who has applied therefor shall not exceed the amounts which would be paid if the application had been made by, or on behalf of, all such children, and (2) benefits paid under other provisions of law administered by the Secretary providing for the payment of compensation or pension, or under subchapter I of chapter 81 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8101 et seq.], to each child who has not so applied therefor shall not exceed the amounts which would be paid to such child if no such application had been made.

(d) If there are two parents of a deceased individual eligible for benefits by reason of subsection (a), and an application for dependency and indemnity compensation is not made by both parents, (1) dependency and indemnity compensation paid to the parent who applies therefor shall not exceed the amounts which would be paid to such parent if both parents had so applied, and (2) benefits paid under other provisions of law administered by the Secretary providing for the payment of compensation, or under subchapter I of chapter 81 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8101 et seq.], to the parent who has not so applied therefor shall not exceed the amounts which would be paid to such parent if no such application had been made.

(e) (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (3) and (4), no person who, on January 1, 1957, was a principal or contingent beneficiary of any payments under the Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951 may receive any such payments based upon the death giving rise to such payments after such person has been granted dependency and indemnity compensation based upon that death. No principal or contingent beneficiary who has assigned such beneficiary's interest in payments under the Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951 after June 28, 1956, may receive any payments under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] based upon the death giving rise to such payments until the portion of the indemnity so assigned is no longer payable to any person.

(2) Where a beneficiary is barred from the receipt of payments under the Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951 by virtue of the first sentence of paragraph (1), no payments of the portion of indemnity in which such beneficiary had an interest shall be made to any other beneficiary.

(3) In the case of a child who has applied for dependency and indemnity compensation pursuant to this section or prior corresponding provisions of law, and who is or becomes a beneficiary under the Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951 by reason of the death giving rise to such child's eligibility for dependency and indemnity compensation, the Secretary shall determine and pay to such child for each month, or part thereof, payments under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] or under such Act, whichever payment the Secretary determines to be the greater amount.
(4) Notwithstanding paragraph (2), where a child receives dependency and indemnity compensation under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.], and thereafter dies, the portions of servicemen's indemnity in which such child had an interest may be paid (subject to paragraph (3)) to another child of the person by reason of whose death such servicemen's indemnity was payable.

§ 1318. Benefits for survivors of certain veterans rated totally disabled at time of death

1Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) The Secretary shall pay benefits under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] to the surviving spouse and to the children of a deceased veteran described in subsection (b) of this section in the same manner as if the veteran's death were service connected.

(b) A deceased veteran referred to in subsection (a) of this section is a veteran who dies, not as the result of the veteran's own willful misconduct, and who was in receipt of or entitled to receive (or but for the receipt of retired or retirement pay was entitled to receive) compensation at the time of death for a service-connected disability rated totally disabling if:

(1) the disability was continuously rated totally disabling for a period of 10 or more years immediately preceding death;

(2) the disability was continuously rated totally disabling for a period of not less than five years from the date of such veteran's discharge or other release from active duty; or

(3) the veteran was a former prisoner of war who died after September 30, 1999, and the disability was continuously rated totally disabling for a period of not less than one year immediately preceding death.

(c) Benefits may not be paid under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] by reason of this section to a surviving spouse of a veteran unless--

(1) the surviving spouse was married to the veteran for one year or more immediately preceding the veteran's death; or

(2) a child was born of the marriage or was born to them before the marriage.

(d) If a surviving spouse or a child receives any money or property of value pursuant to an award in a judicial proceeding based upon, or a settlement or compromise of, any cause of action for damages for the death of a veteran described in subsection (a) of this section benefits under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] payable to such surviving spouse or child by virtue of this section shall not be paid for any month following a month in which any such money or property is received until such time as the total amount of such benefits that would otherwise have been payable equals the total of the amount of the money received and the fair market value of the property received.

(e) For purposes of sections 1448(d) and 1450(c) of title 10 [10 USCS §§ 1448(d) and 1450(c)], eligibility for benefits under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1301 et seq.] by virtue of this section shall be deemed eligibility for dependency and indemnity compensation under section 1311(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1311(a)].

Amendments:

1989. Act Dec. 18, 1989, in subsec. (c)(1), substituted "one year" for "two years".

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 418, as 38 USCS § 1318, amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101), and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

2000. Act Nov. 1, 2000, in subsec. (b)(3), substituted "not less than" for "not later than".

Code of Federal Regulations
Department of Veterans Affairs-Adjudication, 38 CFR Part 3

1. Generally
2. Duration requirement
3. Evidence
4. Prior rating decisions
5. Damages actions
6. Miscellaneous

1. Generally

There is no legal basis for 70 year-old appellant to be paid dependency and indemnity compensation pursuant to 38 USCS § 1310(a) or 38 USCS § 1318, or to be paid accrued benefits under 38 USCS § 5121(a), since 38 USCS 101(4)(A) excludes from category of "child" anyone who is more than 23 years of age. Burris v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 348, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1498

2. Duration requirement

Language of statute and implementing regulations permit award of DIC benefits where deceased veteran's total disability status could be established on basis of clear and unmistakable error in prior rating action which had caused veteran to fall short of meeting duration requirements. Damrel v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 242

Veteran's widow was not entitled to benefits pursuant to 38 USCS § 1318 because veteran was not rated 100 percent disabled due to his schizophrenia upon his discharge from service; 100 percent rating did not occur until 13 months after he was discharged from service. Ruiz v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 352

Board's error in not applying former POW presumptions, hence denying surviving spouse's application for DIC benefits, was not clear and unmistakable error since application would not assist appellant in proving that veteran was totally disabled due to psychiatric disorder for at least ten years prior to his death: presumption is intended only to assist in proving service connection, not as means of increasing disability rating once service connection is established. Allin v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 207

Widow was not entitled to DIC payments without presenting new and material evidence since statute and its implementing regulations were in effect at time RO first decided appellant's DIC claim, hence no new substantive right was created after her claim was first decided. Green v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 111

Widow presented well-grounded claim for DIC because she presented evidence that veteran was injured in service in 1944 and that he was rated 100 percent disabled thereafter, albeit by service department, and that he remained so rated until his death in 1992. Wingo v West (1998) 11 Vet App 307

Widow's claim for dependency and indemnity compensation would be remanded to determine whether veteran, based upon evidence in his claims file or in Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] custody prior to his death, would have been entitled to receive total disability rating for ten years immediately preceding his death. Weaver v West (1999) 12 Vet App 229, op withdrawn on other grounds, motion den, app dismd (1999, US) 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 423

Law of case doctrine precluded review of widow's claim of clear and unmistakable error in RO's rating for deceased veteran's service-connected disabilities since court had already determined that Board did not err in finding no clear and unmistakable error in RO's decision. Allin v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 55

Decision denying spouse's entitlement to compensation under 38 USCS § 1318(b)(1) because veteran was not rated totally disabled for minimum period of 10 years prior to death is affirmed where Board supported its finding pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) that evidence presented by veteran's treating physician, though new and material, does not show that there was clear and unmistakable error in previous rating decisions since physician began treating veteran within 10-year period prior to veteran's death. McNaron v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 61, affd without op sub nom McNaron v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 728, reported in full (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 22480

Where prior final Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] determination had denied veteran total disability rating, so that veteran had not been rated totally disabled for 10 continuous years prior to his or her death, survivor under 38 USCS § 1318(b) must demonstrate clear and unmistakable error in prior Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] determination in order to establish eligibility under § 1318(b)(1). Marso v West (1999) 13 Vet App 260, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1392, remanded on other grounds (2001, CA FC) 17 Fed Appx 994, on remand, remanded (2002) 15 Vet App 406, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 21

To raise clear and unmistakable error theory in dependency and indemnity compensation claim under 38 USCS § 1318(b)(1), claimant must provide date or approximate date of decision sought to be attacked collaterally, or otherwise provide sufficient detail so as to identify clearly prior decision, and must indicate how, based on evidence of record and law at time of decision, veteran would have been entitled to have prevailed so as to have been receiving total disability rating for ten years immediately preceding veteran's death; to raise hypothetical "entitled to receive" theory, claimant must, prior to Board decision, set forth how, based on evidence in veteran's claims file, or under Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] control, at time of veteran's death and law then applicable, veteran would have been entitled to total disability rating for ten years immediately preceding veteran's death. Cole v West (1999) 13 Vet App 268, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1391

Veteran’s widow’s benefits under 38 USCS § 1318 will not be suspended, where widow did not prevail on any wrongful death claim, because suspension of § 1318 benefits is warranted only if award of damages is "based upon . . . any cause of action for damages for death of veteran" and damages award here is not linked to death of veteran. Parkins v United States (1993, DC Conn) 842 F Supp 617

38 USCS § 1318(d) does not distinguish between economic and noneconomic damages and surviving spouse's dependency and indemnity compensation benefits will be offset by amount of settlement under Federal Tort Claims Act for wrongful death of veteran despite contention that dependency and indemnity compensation payments are intended to compensate only for economic losses and that majority of settlement was for noneconomic losses. Bryan v West (2000) 13 Vet App 482, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 362

Veteran’s widow was not entitled to benefits pursuant to 38 USCS § 1318 because veteran was not rated 100 percent disabled due to his schizophrenia upon his discharge from service; 100 percent rating did not occur until 13 months after he was discharged from service. Ruiz v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 352

Widow of World War II veteran was entitled to adjudication of her 38 USCS § 1318 DIC claim under law and regulation in effect when she brought that claim since it was more favorable to adjudication of claim and Secretary in changing regulation did not make new regulation retroactive; hence, widow was entitled to adjudication of her claim as though it were claim brought by veteran prior to his death and without regard to BVA decision made during veteran's lifetime regarding his claim of total disability based on individual unemployability. Carpenter v Gober (1998) 11 Vet App 140

"Hypothetically entitled to receive" theory constituted substantive right at time that appellant's claim was pending before Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) in that Green/Carpenter/Wingo were in effect on day before new regulation was promulgated and were binding on VA in its adjudication process; to apply amended 38 CFR § 3.22 to her claim would thus have taken away substantive right that existed at time regulation was promulgated, and accordingly, VA's application of amended § 3.22 to her case had "retroactive effect." Rodriguez v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 275, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 523

It would have been fundamentally unfair to claimant to apply Cole pleading requirement when Secretary of Veterans Affairs had provided her no notice of evidence needed to substantiate "hypothetically . . . entitled to receive" basis for her 38 USCS § 1318 dependency and indemnity compensation claim; hence, her failure to meet Cole specificity requirement for pleading "hypothetically entitled to receive" § 1318 claim was not dispositive of appeal. Rodriguez v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 275, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 523

The Congress further finds and declares that it lacks sufficient long range information as to actual and anticipated financial characteristics of potential pensioners (and their families) upon which to estimate costs of existing alternative pension programs.

"(b) No later than October 1, 1977, the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs shall submit a report to Congress and the President. The report shall contain the findings and recommendations of a comprehensive investigation, analysis, and evaluation of existing and alternative nonservice-connected pension programs, and shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

"(C) provide the greatest amount of assistance to those with the greatest amount of need.
“(c) On the basis of the investigation, analysis, and evaluation required to be made in subsection (b), the report shall identify alternative courses of legislative or administrative action (including proposed legislation) and long-range cost estimates therefor which, in the judgment of the Administrator, would result in a more equitable nonservice-connected pension program.”.

3. Unemployable as a result of disability reasonably certain to continue throughout the life of the person.
4. Suffering from--
   (A) any disability which is sufficient to render it impossible for the average person to follow a substantially gainful occupation, but only if it is reasonably certain that such disability will continue throughout the life of the person; or
   (B) any disease or disorder determined by the Secretary to be of such a nature or extent as to justify a determination that persons suffering therefrom are permanently and totally disabled.

(b) For the purposes of this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1501 et seq.], a person shall be considered to be in need of a regular aid and attendance if such person is (1) a patient in a nursing home or (2) blind, or so nearly blind or significantly disabled as to need or require the regular aid and attendance of another person.

Law Review Articles:

1. Generally
2. Regular aid and attendance
3. Blindness

1. Generally

Words "total disability" in pension laws have technical significance which cannot be disregarded, and courts have no power to increase amount fixed by statute in such cases. Burnett v United States (1885) 116 US 158, 29 L Ed 586, 6 S Ct 327

Secretary has statutory authority to prescribe regulations establishing criteria for determining Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] pension eligibility based on combination of subjective and objective standards; provisions of 38 USCS § 1502 which provide for determinations based upon objective criteria for certain disabilities to be conclusively presumed to be permanently and totally disabling for pension purposes do not supplant general authority in 38 USCS § 1521, which provides for payment of pension to individual veteran determined to be permanently and totally disabled based upon subjective factors applicable to that veteran. Talley v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 282

Board did not enunciate which standard of 38 USCS § 1502 was being applied to evaluation of veteran's claim for non-service connected disability, did not consider all of veteran's disabilities in its evaluation, and neglected to consider veteran under "average person" test. Brown v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 444

Aid and attendance benefits may be treated as income for purposes of determining extent of Medicaid allowances an eligible veteran or veteran's survivor can receive under home and community-based Medicaid waiver program. Lamore v Ives (1992, CA1 Me) 977 F.2d 713, 39 Soc Sec Rep Serv 153

In evaluating disability, need for regular aid and attendance must be permanent need in order to qualify for higher rate of pension; but term "regular aid and attendance of another person" does not require that individual attention be devoted by such attendant to exclusion of all others. 1953 ADVA 927

3. Blindness
Functional blindness, as distinguished from blindness or near blindness due to organic conditions, if permanent, as determined by medical principles and evidence, meets statutory requirements. 1953 ADVA 927

§ 1503. Determinations with respect to annual income

(a) In determining annual income under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1501 et seq.], all payments of any kind or from any source (including salary, retirement or annuity payments, or similar income, which has been waived, irrespective of whether the waiver was made pursuant to statute, contract, or otherwise) shall be included except--
   (1) donations from public or private relief or welfare organizations;
   (2) payments under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1501 et seq.];
   (3) amounts equal to amounts paid by a spouse of a veteran for the expense of such veteran's last illness, and by a surviving spouse or child of a deceased veteran for--
      (A) such veteran's just debts,
      (B) the expenses of such veteran's last illness, and
      (C) the expenses of such veteran's burial to the extent such expenses are not reimbursed under chapter 23 of this title [38 USCS §§ 2301 et seq.];
   (4) amounts equal to amounts paid--
      (A) by a veteran for the last illness and burial of such veteran's deceased spouse or child, or
      (B) by the spouse of a living veteran or the surviving spouse of a deceased veteran for the last illness and burial of a child of such veteran;
   (5) reimbursements of any kind for any casualty loss (as defined in regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe), but the amount excluded under this clause may not exceed the greater of the fair market value or reasonable replacement value of the property involved at the time immediately preceding the loss;
   (6) profit realized from the disposition of real or personal property other than in the course of a business;
   (7) amounts in joint accounts in banks and similar institutions acquired by reason of death of other joint owner;
   (8) amounts equal to amounts paid by a veteran, veterans' spouse, or surviving spouse or by or on behalf of a veteran's child for unreimbursed medical expenses, to the extent that such amounts exceed 5 percent of the maximum annual rate of pension (including any amount of increased pension payable on account of family members but not including any amount of pension payable because a person is in need of regular aid and attendance or because a person is permanently housebound) payable to such veteran, surviving spouse, or child;
   (9) in the case of a veteran or surviving spouse pursuing a course of education or vocational rehabilitation or training, amounts equal to amounts paid by such veteran or surviving spouse for such course of education or vocational rehabilitation or training, including (A) amounts paid for tuition, fees, books, and materials, and (B) in the case of such a veteran or surviving spouse in need of regular aid and attendance, unreimbursed amounts paid for unusual transportation expenses in connection with the pursuit of such course of education or vocational rehabilitation or training, to the extent that such amounts exceed the reasonable expenses which would have been incurred by a nondisabled person using an appropriate means of transportation (public transportation, if reasonably available); (10) in the case of a child, any current-work income received during the year, to the extent that the total amount of such income does not exceed an amount equal to the sum of--

In case arising under Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 USCS §§ 1346(b) and 2671 et seq., in which veteran was awarded damages for medical malpractice from Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), fact that VA was liable to veteran had very little to do with his right to income-based benefits; while veteran's pension rate would be affected by increase in his annual income, that in itself did not entitle him to damages for loss of benefits. 1991. Act May 7, 1991, § 402(d)(1), amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by §§ 401(a)(4) and 402(b) of such Act (see Table II preceding 38 USCS § 101).

Other provisions:

Savings provisions. Act Aug. 29, 1959, P. L. 86-211, § 9, 73 Stat. 436, formerly classified as a note to this section, was repealed by Act Nov. 4, 1978, P. L. 95-588, Title III, § 306(b)(1), 92 Stat. 2509, effective Jan. 1, 1979, as provided by § 306(b)(1) of such Act. For effect of this repeal on existing rights, see note to this section containing Act Nov. 4, 1978, § 306. Prior to repeal, § 9 read as follows:

"(a) Any claim for pension which is pending in the Veterans' Administration on June 30, 1960, or any claim for death pension filed thereafter within one year from the date of death of a veteran which occurred prior to July 1, 1960, shall be adjudicated under title 38, United States Code, in effect on June 30, 1960, with respect to the period before July 1, 1960, and except as provided in subsection (c), under such title, as amended by this Act, thereafter.

"(b) Nothing in this Act shall affect the eligibility of any person receiving pension under title 38, United States Code, on June 30, 1960, for pension under all applicable provisions of that title in effect on that date for such period or periods thereafter with respect to which he can qualify under such provisions. This subsection shall not apply in any case for any period after pension is granted, pursuant to application, under title 38, United States Code, as amended by this Act.

"(c) Subsection (b) shall apply to those claims within the purview of subsection (a) in which it is determined that pension is payable for June 30, 1960.".

Payments for period prior to eligibility denied. Act July 21, 1961, P. L. 87-101, § 2, 75 Stat. 219, provides: "Pension shall not be paid for any period prior to the effective date of this Act to any person whose eligibility for pension is established solely by virtue of this Act [amending this section].".

Retirement income exclusion. Act Oct. 13, 1964, P. L. 88-664, § 10 78 Stat. 1096, provides: "In computing the income of persons whose pension eligibility is subject to the first sentence of section 9(b) of the Veterans Pension Act of 1959 [see note to this section], there shall be excluded 10 per centum of the amount of payments received under public or private retirement, annuity, endowment, or similar plans or programs.".

Aid and attendance allowance for widows of veterans of all periods of war. Act Aug. 31, 1967, P. L. 90-77, Title I, § 108(c), 81 Stat. 180, provides: "If any widow is entitled to pension under the first sentence of section 9(b) of the Veterans' Pension Act of 1959 [see note to this section] and is in need of regular aid and attendance, the monthly rate of pension payable to her shall be increased by $50.".

"The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs shall pay to a veteran who is entitled to pension under the first sentence of section 9(b) of the Veterans' Pension Act of 1959 [see note to this section] and who--

"(1) has, in addition to a disability rated as permanent and total, additional disability or disabilities independently ratable at 60 per centum or more, or
"(2) by reason of his disability or disabilities, is permanently housebound but does not qualify for pension based on need of regular aid and attendance, in lieu of the pension otherwise payable to him, a pension at the monthly rate of $100."

Pension, dependency, and indemnity compensation; relation to the Social Security Amendments of 1967. Act March 28, 1968, P. L. 90-275, § 3, 82 Stat. 67 (for effective date, see note this section), provides:

"(a) If the monthly rate of pension or dependency and indemnity compensation payable to a person under title 38, United States Code [this title], would be less, solely as a result of an increase in monthly insurance benefits provided by the Social Security Amendments of 1967 [Act Jan. 2, 1968, P. L. 90-248, 81 Stat. 821], than the monthly rate payable for the month immediately preceding the effective date of this Act [see note this section], the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs shall pay the person as follows:

"(1) for the balance of calendar year 1968 and during calendar year 1969, at the prior monthly rate;

"(2) during the calendar year 1970, at the rate for the next $100 annual income limitation higher than the maximum annual income limitation corresponding to the prior monthly rate; and

"(3) during each successive calendar year, at the rate for the next $100 annual income limitation higher than the one applied for the preceding year, until the rate corresponding to actual countable income is reached.

"(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply for any period during which annual income of such person, exclusive of an increase in monthly insurance benefits provided by the Social Security Amendments of 1967 [Act Jan. 2, 1968, P. L. 90-248, 81 Stat. 821], exceeds the amount of annual income upon which was based the pension or dependency and indemnity compensation payable to the person immediately prior to receipt of the increase."

Effective dates of March 28, 1968 amendments. Act March 28, 1968, P. L. 90-275, § 6, 82 Stat. 68, provides:

"(a) The first section and sections 2 and 4 of this Act [amending this section and 38 USCS §§ 1315, 1541 and adding note to this section] shall take effect on January 1, 1969.

"(b) Sections 3 and 5 of this Act [amending 38 USCS § 5112 and adding note to this section] shall take effect on the first day of the first calendar month following the month of initial payment of increases in monthly insurance benefits provided by the Social Security Amendments of 1967 [Act Jan. 2, 1968, P. L. 90-248, 81 Stat. 821]."

"(a) Sections 1, 2(a), (b), and (c), 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 [amending this section, among other things; for full classification, consult USCS Tables volumes] shall take effect on January 1, 1971.

"(b) Sections 2(d) and 6 [amending 38 USCS §§ 1315, 1506] shall take effect on January 1, 1972.". In view of the similarity of subject matter covered by amendments made by sections
2(d) and 6 or Act Dec. 24, 1970, the effective date for the amendment made by section 6 was probably intended by Congress to be Jan. 1, 1972, as called for in § 10(b) of Act Dec. 24, 1970, rather than Jan. 1, 1971, as called for in § 10(a).

Effective date of Dec. 6, 1973 amendments. Act Dec. 6, 1973, P. L. 93-177, § 8, 87 Stat. 697, provides: "This Act [amending this section and 38 USCS §§ 1315, 1541, 1542, 5110, 5503 and adding 38 USCS § 5110 note] shall take effect on January 1, 1974."

Effective date of Dec. 21, 1974 amendments. Act Dec. 21, 1974, P. L. 93-527, § 10, 88 Stat. 1705, provides: "This Act [amending this section and 38 USCS §§ 103, 1315, 1541, 1542, 5110 and adding notes to this section and 38 USCS § 1501] shall take effect on January 1, 1975."

"(a) The provisions of this Act [amending 38 USCS § 102 and notes to this section and 38 USCS § 1541; adding 38 USCS §§ 5106 and 1501 note], other than titles II and III and section 401, shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

"(b) Titles II and III and section 401 of this Act [amending this section and 38 USCS §§ 1122, 1315, 1502, 1541, 1542, 1544, and note to this section] shall take effect January 1, 1977."

Savings provisions for persons entitled to pension as of Dec. 31, 1978. Act Nov. 4, 1978, P. L. 95-588, Title III, § 306, 92 Stat. 2508 (effective 1/1/79, as provided in § 401 of such Act); Aug. 6, 1991, P. L. 102-83, § 6(c), 105 Stat. 407, provides:

"(a)(1)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), any person who as of December 31, 1978, is entitled to receive pension under section 521, 541, or 542 [now 1521, 1541, or 1542] of title 38, United States Code, may elect to receive pension under such section as in effect after such date, subject to the terms and conditions in effect with respect to the receipt of such pension. Any such election shall be made in such form and manner as the Secretary of Veterans Affairs (hereinafter in this section referred to as the 'Secretary') may prescribe. If pension is paid pursuant to such an election, the election shall be irrevocable.

"(B) Any veteran eligible to make an election under subparagraph (A) who is married to another veteran who is also eligible to make such an election may not make such an election unless both such veterans make such an election.

"(2) Any person eligible to make an election under paragraph (1) who does not make such an election shall continue to receive pension at the monthly rate being paid to such person on December 31, 1978, subject to all provisions of law applicable to basic eligibility for and payment of pension under section 521, 541, or 542 [now 1521, 1541, or 1542], as appropriate, of title 38, United States Code, as in effect on December 31, 1978, except that--

"(A) pension may not be paid to such person if such person's annual income (determined in accordance with section 503 [now section 1503] of title 38, United States Code, as in effect on December 31, 1978) exceeds $4,038, in the case of a veteran or surviving spouse without dependents, $5,430, in the case of a veteran or surviving spouse with one or more dependents, or $3,299, in the case of a child; and

"(B) the amount prescribed in subsection (f)(1) of section 521 [now section 1521] of such title (as in effect on December 31, 1978) shall be $1,285; as each such amount is increased from time to time under paragraph (3)."
“(3) Whenever there is an increase under section 3112 [now section 5312] of title 38, United States Code (as added by section 304 of this Act), in the maximum annual rates of pension under sections 521, 541, and 542 [now 1521, 1541, and 1542] of such title, as in effect after December 31, 1978, the Secretary shall, effective on the date of such increase under such section 3112 [now section 5312], increase--

"(A) the annual income limitations in effect under paragraph (2); and

"(B) the amount of income of a veteran's spouse excluded from the annual income of such veteran under section 521(f)(1) [now section 1521(f)(1)] of such title, as in effect on December 31, 1978; by the same percentage as the percentage by which such maximum annual rates under such sections 521, 541, and 542 [now 1521, 1541, and 1542] are increased.

"(b)(1) Effective January 1, 1979, section 9 of the Veterans' Pension Act of 1959 (Public Law 86-211) [see note this section] is repealed.

"(2)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), any person who as of December 31, 1978, is entitled to receive pension under section 9(b) of the Veterans' Pension Act of 1959 [see note this section] may elect to receive pension under section 521, 541, or 542 [now 1521, 1541, or 1542] of title 38, United States Code, as in effect after such date, subject to the terms and conditions in effect with respect to the receipt of such pension. Any such election shall be made in such form and manner as the Secretary may prescribe. If pension is paid pursuant to such an election, the election shall be irrevocable.

"(B) Any veteran eligible to make an election under subparagraph (A) who is married to another veteran who is also eligible to make such an election may not make such an election unless both such veterans make such an election.

"(3) Any person eligible to make an election under paragraph (2) who does not make such an election shall continue to receive pension at the monthly rate being paid to such person on December 31, 1978, subject to all provisions of law applicable to basic eligibility for and payment of pension under section 9(b) of the Veterans' Pension Act of 1959, as in effect on December 31, 1978 [see note this section], except that pension may not be paid to such person if such person's annual income (determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of law, as in effect on December 31, 1978) exceeds $3,534, in the case of a veteran or surviving spouse without dependents or in the case of a child, or $5,098, in the case of a veteran or surviving spouse with one or more dependents, as each such amount is increased from time to time under paragraph (4).

"(4) Whenever there is an increase under section 3112 [now section 5312] of title 38, United States Code (as added by section 304 of this Act), in the maximum annual rates of pension under sections 521, 541, and 542 [now 1521, 1541, and 1542] of such title, as in effect after December 31, 1978, the Secretary shall, effective on the date of such increase under such section 3112 [now section 5312] increase the annual income limitations in effect under paragraph (3) by the same percentage as the percentage by which the maximum annual rates under such sections 521, 542, and 543 [now 1521, 1542 and 1543] are increased.

"(c) Any case in which--

"(1) a claim for pension is pending in the Veterans' Administration on December 31, 1978;

"(2) a claim for pension is filed by a veteran after December 31, 1978, and within one year after the date on which such veteran became totally and permanently disabled, if such veteran became totally and permanently disabled before January 1, 1979; or “(3) a claim for pension is filed by a surviving spouse or by a child after December 31, 1978, and within one year after the date of death of the veteran through whose relationship such claim is made, if the death of such veteran occurred before January 1, 1979; shall be adjudicated under title 38, United States Code, as in effect on December 31, 1978. Any benefits determined to be payable as the result of the adjudication of such a claim shall be subject to the provisions of subsection (a).

“(d) In any case in which any person who as of December 31, 1978, is entitled to receive pension under section 521, 541, or 542 [now 1521, 1541, or 1542] of title 38, United States Code, or under section 9(b) of the Veterans’ Pension Act of 1959 [see note this section], elects (in accordance with subsection (a)(1) or (b)(2), as appropriate) before October 1, 1979, to receive pension under such section as in effect after December 31, 1978, the Administrator of Veterans’ Affairs shall pay to such person an amount equal to the amount by which the amount of pension benefits such person would have received had such election been made on January 1, 1979, exceeds the amount of pension benefits actually paid to such person for the period beginning on January 1, 1979, and ending on the date preceding the date of such election.

“(e) Whenever there is an increase under subsections (a)(3) and (b)(4) in the annual income limitations with respect to persons being paid pension under subsections (a)(2) and (b)(3), the Secretary shall publish such annual income limitations, as increased pursuant to such subsections, in Federal Register at the same time as the material required by section 215(i)(2)(D) of the Social Security Act [42 USCS § 415(i)(2)(D)] is published by reason of a determination under section 215(i) of such Act [42 USCS § 415(i)].

Study of pension benefits paid to persons overseas. Act Nov. 4, 1978, P. L. 95-588, Title III, § 308, 92 Stat. 2510, provides:

“(a) The Administrator of Veterans’ Affairs, in consultation with the Secretary of State, shall carry out a comprehensive study of the income characteristics of veterans of a period of war (as defined in section 101(11) of title 38, United States Code) and their survivors who are residing outside the fifty States and the District of Columbia, including those who are receiving pension benefits under chapter 15 of title 38, United States Code [38 USCS §§ 1501 et seq.], or under section 9(b) of the Veterans’ Pension Act of 1959 [see note this section], as in effect on the date of the enactment of this Act. The Administrator shall include in such study (1) an analysis of the issues involved in the payment of non-service-connected pension benefits to such persons, (2) analyses of such aspects of the economy of each foreign country and each territory, possession, and commonwealth of the United States in which a substantial number of such persons reside as are relevant to such issues, such as the rate of inflation, the standard of living, and subsistence levels in such foreign country or such territory, possession, or commonwealth, and (3) estimates of the present and future costs of the payment of pension benefits to such persons.

“(b) The Administrator of Veterans’ Affairs shall transmit a report to the Congress and to the President, not later than February 1, 1980, on the results of such study, together with the Administrator's recommendations as to the desirability of modifying the Veterans' Administration non-service-connected pension program for veterans of a period of war (as defined in section 101(11) of title 38, United States Code) and their survivors who are residing outside the fifty States and the District of Columbia.”.

“(a) Not later than twenty-eight months after the date of the enactment of this Act [enacted Oct. 24, 1984], the Administrator of Veterans’ Affairs shall submit to the Committees on Veterans’ Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report containing a statistical tabulation of the results of the medical examinations conducted under subsection (b)(1)(A) and the determinations made under subsection (b)(1)(B).

“(b)(1) The Administrator--
"(A) shall provide for the selection of a sampling of the class of pension recipients described in paragraph (3) to undergo, and each recipient in such sampling shall undergo, a medical examination of the kind provided a veteran under 65 years of age who is applying for pension under section 521 [now section 1521] of title 38, United States Code [this section]; and

"(B) shall determine what, if any, percentage rating would be applicable to the recipient under the schedule of ratings adopted pursuant to section 355 [now section 1155] of such title.

"(2) The sampling of pension recipients selected under paragraph (1)(A) shall be selected in a manner that is statistically valid for the purpose of estimating the disability ratings of all recipients in the class described in paragraph (3).

"(3) The class of pension recipients referred to in paragraphs (1) and (2) are those individuals who, during the two-year period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act [enacted Oct. 24, 1984], are awarded pension under section 521 [now section 1521] of title 38, United States Code by reason of being considered, under section 502(a) [now section 1502(a)] of such title, to be permanently and totally disabled by reason of being 65 years of age or older or becoming unemployable after age 65."

"Effective October 1, 1998, the maximum annual rates of pension in effect as of September 30, 1998, under the following provisions of chapter 15 of title 38, United States Code, are increased by $600:

"(1) Subsections (d)(1), (d)(2), (f)(2), and (f)(4) of section 1521.

"(2) Section 1536(d)(2)."

4. Computation

   Disclosure of disabled veteran's social security benefits to Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] is lawful in view of fact Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] is obligated by statute to take payments into account in its determination of benefits under 38 USCS § 521 [now 38 USCS § 1521]. Jaffess v Secretary, HEW (1975, SD NY) 393 F Supp 626
Veteran's receipt of lump sum, nonservice-connected pension could be considered income received during year for purposes of calculating whether he exceeded annual income limitation, even though payments were for service rendered over 34-year period. Hermogenes v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 75, dismd without op (1997, CA FC) 106 F.3d 427, reported in full (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 2418

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] did not have duty to review amounts available to veteran under both old and new pension and "automatically" deem his improved pension election effective on date his benefits under improved pension program exceeded those under old program since pensioner was required to file election in order to enter improved pension program; and Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] fulfilled its duties when, after having received one election request, it notified appellant that election would not be advantageous to him at that time and informed him that he must notify Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] if he wished further action to be taken on election. Disabled veteran's claim for pension benefits was properly denied where Board correctly determined that veteran's income exceeded maximum allowed by law for pension purposes. Johnson v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 534

5. -Exclusions from income

Ten percent exclusion from income provided by 38 USCS § 503 [now 38 USCS § 1503] for new law pension cases is applicable to payments for permanent and total disability and for death under workmen's compensation and employer's liability laws. 1966 ADVA 989

Lump-sum accrued benefits to which veteran was entitled at his death were excludable from annual income countable for death pension purposes since accrued benefit is derivative in nature and thus paid "under" Chapter 15; at minimum, accrued benefit is paid "under both 38 USCS § 5121 and Chapter 15, and that is sufficient to meet 38 USCS § 1503(a)(2) exclusion. Martin v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 196

6. -Deductions for improper payments

Government is entitled to deduct amount of improperly paid pension from amount due guard officer on retirement pay, even though right was not asserted by government until just prior to judgment. Price v United States (1952) 121 Ct Cl 681, 104 F Supp 99, cert den (1953) 344 US 911, 97 L Ed 703, 73 S Ct 333

7. Persons in need of regular aid and attendance

Pension of veteran, who comes within phrase "or is so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance", who is being maintained by Government in institution and who is thus being furnished with those benefits in kind, is to be reduced to rate provided for total disability while so maintained. 1933 ADVA 201

Neither pension, compensation, nor retirement pay of veteran suffering from Hansen's Disease is subject to reduction while veteran is undergoing course of treatment for such disease in Government institution. 1951 ADVA 865

BVA's determination that veterans did not qualify for aid and attendance was plausible, hence would be affirmed, where examining physician noted that veteran was able to care for his physical needs although his ability to leave home on a daily or weekly basis was variable, as opposed to neighbor's testimony that veteran was physically incapable of taking care of his own needs and that she shopped and ran errands daily for him. Kulick v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 640

BVA's conclusion that veteran was not qualified to receive special monthly pension, based on need for regular aid and attendance or housebound status, was plausible and thus not clearly erroneous, where appellant's back condition was rated at 40 percent disability and there was no record evidence to indicate condition which could be basis for 100 percent rating. Turco v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 222
8. Persons deemed permanently and totally disabled

Health and Human Services Secretary's interpretation, as stated in SSR 82-31, that Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] benefits paid to veteran for support of dependent living with veteran will be treated as unearned income to dependent for purposes of determining dependent's eligibility for and amount of Supplemental Security Income benefits, was reasonable and entitled to deference, even if it represented change in policy and interpretation; change was made in response to circuit court rulings that prior interpretation was invalid, and within regulation Secretary provided sufficient reasons for change. Fair v Shalala (1994, CA11 Fla) 37 F.3d 1466, 45 Soc Sec Rep Serv 726, 8 FLW Fed C 811

Veteran rated permanently and totally disabled and paid pension for 10-year period, who was found not to be permanently and totally disabled for limited period of time, is not entitled to higher rate when he again merits rating of permanent and total disability. 1944 ADVA 602

Secretary has statutory authority to prescribe regulations establishing criteria for determining Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] pension eligibility based on combination of subjective and objective standards; provisions of 38 USCS § 1502 which provide for determinations based upon objective criteria for certain disabilities to be conclusively presumed to be permanently and totally disabling for pension purposes do not supplant general authority in 38 USCS § 1521, which provides for payment of pension to individual veteran determined to be permanently and totally disabled based upon subjective factors applicable to that veteran. Talley v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 282

Where Secretary of Interior decides that veteran comes within meaning of law granting pensions to those persons who require regular aid and attendance, and commissioner [now Secretary] accepts that decision and notes pension as he understands law to be, court can not interfere to establish different rate. United States ex rel. Miller v Raum (1890) 135 US 200, 34 L Ed 105, 10 S Ct 820

In case arising under Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 USCS §§ 1346(b) and 2671 et seq., in which veteran was awarded damages for medical malpractice from Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), fact that VA was liable to veteran had very little to do with his right to income-based benefits; while veteran's pension rate would be affected by increase in his annual income, that in itself did not entitle him to damages for loss of benefits. Davis v United States (2004, CA7 Ill) 375 F.3d 590

Veteran who filed new application for pension after renouncing prior payments is not entitled to 10 year monthly rate of pension; such rate is legally payable only after expiration of 10 years from date of reopening (assuming permanent and total disability rating is continuous for period), or after veteran reaches age of 65 years. 1951 ADVA 867

Board of Veterans' Appeals' decision to deny veteran additional non-service-connected pension benefits for dependents under 38 USCS § 1521(c) for his 18-year-old son, who was attending state-approved home school, was vacated where Board relied in part on 2000 amendment to 38 C.F.R. § 3.57(a)(1)(iii), which was substantive change in law because it established criteria for entitlement to benefits for children who were over 18 but Secretary of Veterans Affairs had not complied with notice-and-comment requirements of 5 USCS § 553 when adopting amendment. § 1522. Net worth limitation

(a) The Secretary shall deny or discontinue the payment of pension to a veteran under section 1513 or 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1513 or 1521] when the corpus of the estate of the veteran or, if the veteran has a spouse, the corpus of the estates of the veteran and of the veteran's spouse is such that under all the circumstances, including consideration of the annual income of the veteran, the veteran's spouse, and the veteran's children, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of such estates be consumed for the veteran's maintenance.

(b) The Secretary shall deny or discontinue the payment of increased pension under subsection (c), (d), (e), or (f) of section 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1521] on account of a child when the corpus of such child's estate is such that under all the circumstances, including consideration of the veteran's and spouse's income, and the income of the veteran's children, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of such child's estate be consumed for the child's maintenance. During the period such denial or discontinuance remains in effect, such child shall not be considered as the veteran's child for purposes of this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1501 et seq.].

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XXII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162:
Veterans' Regulation No. 1(a), Part III, para. II(a)-(c) (as amended Act May 23, 1952, ch 324, § 1, 66 Stat. 91).

Amendments:
1959. Act Aug. 29, 1959 (effective 7/1/60, as provided by § 10 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1521 note), substituted this section for one which read:
"§ 522. Income limitations
"(a) No pension shall be paid under section 521 of this title to any unmarried veteran whose annual income exceeds $1,400, or to any married veteran or any veteran with children whose annual income exceeds $2,700.
"(b) As a condition of granting or continuing pension under section 521 of this title, the Administrator may require from any veteran applying for, or in receipt of, pension under such sections such information, proofs, or evidence as he desires in order to determine the annual income of such veteran.".

1978. Act Nov. 4, 1978 (effective 1/1/79, as provided by § 401 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 101 note), substituted the text of this section for text which read: "The Administrator shall deny or discontinue payment of pension under section 521 of this title when the corpus of the veteran's estate is such that under all the circumstances, including consideration of the veteran's income, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus be consumed for the veteran's maintenance."

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 522, as 38 USCS § 1522, amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101), and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

2001. Act Dec. 27, 2001 (effective as of 9/17/2001, as provided by § 207(c) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1513 note), in subsec. (a), inserted "1513 or".

§ 1524. Vocational training for certain pension recipients

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) (1) In the case of a veteran under age 45 who is awarded a pension during the program period, the Secretary shall, based on information on file with the Department of Veterans Affairs, make a preliminary finding whether such veteran, with the assistance of a vocational training program under this section, has a good potential for achieving employment. If such potential is found to exist, the Secretary shall solicit from the veteran an application for vocational training under this section. If the veteran thereafter applies for such training, the Secretary shall provide the veteran with an evaluation, which may include a personal interview, to determine whether the achievement of a vocational goal is reasonably feasible.

(2) If a veteran who is 45 years of age or older and is awarded pension during the program period, or a veteran who was awarded pension before the beginning of the program period, applies for vocational training under this section and the Secretary makes a preliminary finding on the basis of information in the application that, with the assistance of a vocational training program under subsection (b) of this section, the veteran has a good potential for achieving employment, the Secretary shall provide the veteran with an evaluation in order to determine whether the achievement of a vocational goal by the veteran is reasonably feasible. Any such evaluation shall include a personal interview by a Department employee trained in vocational counseling.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the term "program period" means the period beginning on February 1, 1985, and ending on December 31, 1995.

(b) (1) If the Secretary, based upon an evaluation under subsection (a) of this section, determines that the achievement of a vocational goal by a veteran is reasonably feasible, the veteran shall be offered and may elect to pursue a vocational training program under this subsection. If the veteran elects to pursue such a program, the program shall be designed in consultation with the veteran in order to meet the veteran's individual needs and shall be set forth in an individualized written plan of vocational rehabilitation of the kind described in section 3107 of this title [38 USCS § 3107].

(2) (A) Subject to subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, a vocational training program under this subsection shall consist of vocationally oriented services and assistance of the kind provided under chapter 31 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq.] and such other services and assistance of the kind provided under that chapter [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq.] as are necessary to enable the veteran to prepare for and participate in vocational training or employment.

(B) A vocational training program under this subsection--

(i) may not exceed 24 months unless, based on a determination by the Secretary that an extension is necessary in order for the veteran to achieve a vocational goal identified (before the end of the first 24 months of such program) in the written plan formulated for the veteran, the Secretary grants an extension for a period not to exceed 24 months;

(ii) may not include the provision of any loan or subsistence allowance or any automobile adaptive equipment of the kind provided under chapter 39 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3901 et seq.]; and

(iii) may include a program of education at an institution of higher learning (as defined in sections 3452(b) and 3452(f), respectively, of this title [38 USCS §§ 3452(b) and 3452(f)]) only in a case in which the Secretary determines that the program involved is predominantly vocational in content.
(3) When a veteran completes a vocational training program under this subsection, the Secretary may provide the veteran with counseling of the kind described in section 3104(a)(2) of this title [38 USCS § 3104(a)(2)], placement and postplacement services of the kind described in section 3104(a)(5) of this title [38 USCS § 3104(a)(5)], and training of the kind described in section 3104(a)(6) of this title [38 USCS § 3104(a)(6)] during a period not to exceed 18 months beginning on the date of such completion.

(4) A veteran may not bring pursuit of a vocational training program under this subsection after the later of (A) December 31, 1995, or (B) the end of a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Secretary, following either the evaluation of the veteran under subsection (a) of this section or the award of pension to the veteran as described in subsection (a)(2) of this section. Any determination by the Secretary of such a reasonable period of time shall be made pursuant to regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe.

(c) In the case of a veteran who has been determined to have a permanent and total non-service-connected disability and who, not later than one year after the date the veteran's eligibility for counseling under subsection (b)(3) of this section expires, secures employment within the scope of a vocational goal identified in the veteran's individualized written plan of vocational rehabilitation (or in a related field which requires reasonably developed skills and the use of some or all of the training or services furnished the veteran under such plan), the evaluation of the veteran as having a permanent and total disability may not be terminated by reason of the veteran's capacity to engage in such employment until the veteran first maintains such employment for a period of not less than 12 consecutive months.

(d) A veteran who pursues a vocational training program under subsection (b) of this section shall have the benefit of the provisions of subsection (a) of section 1525 of this title [38 USCS § 1525] beginning at such time as the veteran's entitlement to pension is terminated by reason of income from work or training (as defined in subsection (b)(1) of that section) without regard to the date on which the veteran's entitlement to pension is terminated.

(e) Payments by the Secretary for education, training, and other services and assistance under subsection (b) of this section (other than the services of Department employees) shall be made from the Department appropriations account from which payments for pension are made.

I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally

Phrase "receiving or entitled to receive compensation," includes persons whose entitlement to receive monetary disability benefits is suspended solely by virtue of their presence in military or naval service. 1940 ADVA 454

2. Income

$5,000 lump-sum payment widow received from life insurance company is "annual income" within meaning of former 38 USC § 503, and widow is entitled to death benefits from first day of calendar year following that in which she received lump-sum payment. 1940 ADVA 454

Income of widow is measured on calendar year basis for purposes of income limit found in former 38 USC § 503, and her income does not exceed limit even if sum of installments received in particular month, or series of months, would exceed limits. 1940 ADVA 460
Cost of maintenance provided for in widow's contract of employment is part of her salary, and therefore is income for benefits eligibility purposes. 1941 ADVA 471

Proceeds of allowances paid to widow as dependent of veteran of Armed Forces are income for purposes of death benefits eligibility. 1943 ADVA 521

Sum of $3,231.57, received by surviving spouse as fire insurance on account of destruction by fire of her business property is not income, but merely serves as partial restoration of capital asset. 1944 ADVA 569

Annual income for compensation purposes does not include surviving spouse's income while veteran was living; and if her income from date she became surviving spouse to end of calendar year is proportionately less than $2,500, she is entitled to compensation. 1944 ADVA 609

Retirement deductions for Civil Service retirement annuity are income, but annuity payments are not subject to taxation prior to veteran's recoupment of entire amount of consideration paid into plan from salary. 1946 ADVA 688

Plain meaning of statutes requires that minimum income widow provision of Survivor Benefit Plan be included as annual income and that appropriate deductions be made. Johnson v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 369

3. Compensation for death resulting from peacetime service

Death compensation is payable to widow under former 38 USC § 503, where death of veteran is due to or result of his peacetime service. 1938 ADVA 433

Widow of veteran who met service requirements for World War II service is not entitled to death pension where service-connected disability for which veteran was receiving compensation at date of death was incurred in period of peacetime service. 1958 ADVA 961

4. Support agreements

Mother entitled to pension loses such right upon entering into contract with third person for her support during life. United States v Purdy (1889, DC Ohio) 38 F 902

5. Remarriage

Widow of soldier of Revolution who has remarried after his death is entitled to pension given by Act July 7, 1838 [predecessor of 38 USCS § 1541], even during period of her second coverture, if she was a widow when she made application. Poucher's Case (1865) 1 Ct Cl 207

Widow is entitled to death benefits only if proper claim is filed by her before her remarriage, and in such cases remarriage terminates right to payment as of day before remarriage. 1936 ADVA 372

Where woman remarried, believing her husband to be dead, her continued cohabitation with other party after she learned that her husband was alive, disqualifies her from claiming pension upon death of husband. United States v Hays (1884, CCD Mo) 20 F 710

6. Withdrawal of claim

Though widow is not entitled to waive her right to benefits, withdrawal of her claim for benefits places her case in status that existed prior to favorable consideration of her application; that is, as though no claim for benefits had been filed. 1938 ADVA 431

II. DETERMINATIONS

7. Validity of marriage

Validity of marriage as affecting widowhood is determined by law of place where parties resided at time of marriage or at time claim accrued; hence, claimant cannot assert validity of marriage since Mexican divorce is not recognized by applicable law. United States v Snyder (1949, App DC) 85 US App DC 198, 177 F.2d 44

8. Eligibility determinations
Death benefit is payable, where veteran at time of death was receiving compensation for service-connected disability, disabling to degree of 30 percent or more, and where disabilities that resulted in death were also due to same disease. 1936 ADVA 385

Widow of rejected draftee, who is shown to be included within that class of persons which has been heretofore recognized by statute as having pensionable status, is entitled to death compensation under former 38 USCS § 503. 1938 ADVA 425

Since widow and child meet definition found in former 38 USC § 505a for persons of their relationship, veteran is survived by "widow with a child." 1940 ADVA 459

Death benefits are not payable where deceased veteran had been receiving disability compensation based upon service connection erroneously granted, based upon report from War Department pertaining to another veteran of same name. 1942 ADVA 500

Award is designated for surviving widow with children under former 38 USC 503-505a, subject to apportionment since children were out of widow's custody during all relevant time, even though widow died before decision in her favor was made on claim. 1943 ADVA 524

Dependents of veteran who died in active service during World War II, who are ineligible for death benefits because of cause of his death, are not entitled to use another service-connected disability present at date of death, which he had incurred in same period of service, as basis for benefits. 1944 ADVA 605

Widow of rejected draftee who served less than 90 days but was discharged for disability incurred in line of duty is entitled to death compensation. 1948 ADVA 774

Since veteran was killed after his release from active duty, and such release was under conditions other than dishonorable, pension is payable to widow under former 38 USCS § 507. 1949 ADVA 823

9. Judicial review

District court has no jurisdiction to review decision of Administrator of Veterans Affairs [now Secretary] denying pension to one claiming to be widow of World War I veteran. Cook v Higley (1956, App DC) 99 US App DC 180, 238 F.2d 41

§ 1542. Children of veterans of a period of war

The Secretary shall pay to each child (1) who is the child of a deceased veteran of a period of war who met the service requirements prescribed in section 1521(j) of this title [38 USCS § 1521(j)], or who at the time of death was receiving (or entitled to receive) compensation or retirement pay for a service-connected disability, and (2) who is not in the custody of a surviving spouse eligible for pension under section 1541 of this title [38 USCS § 1541], pension at the annual rate of $600, as increased from time to time under section 5312 of this title [38 USCS § 5312] and reduced by the amount of such child's annual income; or, if such child is residing with a person who is legally responsible for such child's support, at an annual rate equal to the amount by which the appropriate annual rate provided under section 1541(c) of this title [38 USCS § 1541(c)] exceeds the sum of the annual income of such child and such person, but in no event may such annual rate of pension exceed the amount by which $600, as increased from time to time under section 5312 of this title [38 USCS § 5312], exceeds the annual income of such child. The appropriate annual rate under such section 1541(c) [38 USCS § 1541(c)] for the purposes of the preceding sentence shall be determined in accordance with regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe.

(3) Hospital care or medical services for the treatment of medical emergencies which pose a serious threat to the life or health of a veteran receiving medical services in a Department facility or nursing home care under section 1720 of this title [38 USCS § 1720] until such time following the furnishing of care in the non-Department facility as the veteran can be safely transferred to a Department facility.

(4) The requirement in paragraphs (1) and (2) that the Secretary furnish hospital care and medical services, the requirement in section 1710A(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1710A(a)] that the Secretary provide nursing home care, and the requirement in section 1710B of this title [38 USCS § 1710B] that the Secretary provide a program of extended care services shall be effective in any fiscal year only to the extent and in the amount provided in advance in appropriations Acts for such purposes.

(5) During any period during which the provisions of section 1710A(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1710A(a)] are not in effect, the Secretary may furnish nursing home care which the Secretary determines is needed to any veteran described in paragraph (1), with the priority for such care on the same basis as if provided under that paragraph.

The Secretary may furnish dental services and treatment, and related dental appliances, under this subsection for a non-service-connected dental condition or disability of a veteran only (1) to the extent that the Secretary determines that the dental facilities of the Department to be used to furnish such services, treatment, or appliances are not needed to furnish services, treatment, or appliances for dental conditions or disabilities described in section 1712(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1712(a)], or (2) if (A) such non-service-connected dental condition or disability is associated with or aggravating a disability for which such veteran is receiving hospital care, or (B) a compelling medical reason or a dental emergency requires furnishing dental services, treatment, or appliances (excluding the furnishing of such services, treatment, or appliances of a routine nature) to such veteran during the period of hospitalization under this section.

(i) a disease listed in section 1112(c)(2) of this title [38 USCS § 1112(c)(2)]; or

(C) Subject to paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subsection, a veteran who served in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War is eligible for hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care under subsection (a)(2)(F) for any disability, notwithstanding that there is insufficient medical evidence to conclude that such disability may be associated with such service.

(D) Subject to paragraphs (2) and (3), a veteran who served on active duty in a theater of combat operations (as determined by the Secretary in consultation with the Secretary of Defense) during a period of war after the Persian Gulf War, or in combat against a hostile force during a period of hostilities (as defined in section 1712A(a)(2)(B) of this title [38 USCS § 1712A(a)(2)(B)]) after November 11, 1998, is eligible for hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care under subsection (a)(2)(F) for any illness, notwithstanding that there is insufficient medical evidence to conclude that such condition is attributable to such service.

Secretary for Health, to have resulted from a cause other than an exposure described in paragraph (4)(A)(ii); or

(ii) a disease for which the National Academy of Sciences, in a report issued in accordance with section 3 of the Agent Orange Act of 1991 [38 USCS § 1116 note], has determined that there is limited or suggestive evidence of the lack of a positive association between occurrence of the disease in humans and exposure to a herbicide agent.

(B) In the case of a veteran described in subparagraph (C), (D), or (E) of paragraph (1), hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care may not be provided under subsection (a)(2)(F) with respect to a disability that is found, in resulted from a cause other than the service or testing described in such paragraph.

(3) Hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care may not be provided under may have been exposed during such service to dioxin or was exposed during such service to a toxic substance found in a herbicide or defoliant used for military purposes during such period.

(B) The term "radiation-exposed veteran" has the meaning given that term in section 1112(c)(3) of this title [38 USCS § 1112(c)(3)].

(5) When the Secretary first provides care for veterans using the authority provided in paragraph (1)(D), the Secretary shall establish a system for collection and analysis of information on the general health status and health care utilization patterns of veterans receiving care under that paragraph. Not later than 18 months after first providing care under such authority, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report on the experience under that authority. The Secretary shall include in the report any recommendations of the Secretary for extension of that authority.

(f) (1) The Secretary may not furnish hospital care or nursing home care under this section to a veteran who is eligible for such care under subsection (a)(3) of this section unless the veteran agrees to pay to the United States the applicable amount determined under paragraph (2) or (4) of this subsection.

(2) A veteran who is furnished hospital care or nursing home care under this section and who is required under paragraph (1) of this subsection to agree to pay an amount to the United States in order to be furnished such care shall be liable to the United States for an amount equal to--

(A) the lesser of-

(i) the cost of furnishing such care, as determined by the Secretary; or
(ii) the amount determined under paragraph (3) of this subsection; and

(B) before September 30, 2007, an amount equal to $10 for every day the veteran receives hospital care and $5 for every day the veteran receives nursing home care.

(3) (A) In the case of hospital care furnished during any 365-day period, the amount referred to in paragraph (2)(A)(ii) of this subsection is--

(i) the amount of the inpatient Medicare deductible, plus
(ii) one-half of such amount for each 90 days of care (or fraction thereof) after the first 90 days of such care during such 365-day period.

(B) In the case of nursing home care furnished during any 365-day period, the amount referred to in paragraph (2)(A)(ii) of this subsection is the amount of the inpatient Medicare deductible for each 90 days of such care (or fraction thereof) during such 365-day period.

(C) (i) Except as provided in clause (ii) of this subparagraph, in the case of a veteran who is admitted for nursing home care under this section after being furnished, during the preceding 365-day period, hospital care for which the veteran has paid the amount of the inpatient Medicare deductible under this subsection and who has not been furnished 90 days of hospital care in connection with such payment, the veteran shall not incur any liability under paragraph (2) of this subsection with respect to such nursing home care until--

(I) the veteran has been furnished, beginning with the first day of such hospital care furnished in connection with such payment, a total of 90 days of hospital care and nursing home care; or
(II) the end of the 365-day period applicable to the hospital care for which payment was made, whichever occurs first.

(ii) In the case of a veteran who is admitted for nursing home care under this section after being furnished, during any 365-day period, hospital care for which the veteran has paid an amount under subparagraph (A)(ii) of this paragraph and who has not been furnished 90 days of hospital care in connection with such payment, the amount of the liability of the veteran under paragraph (2) of this subsection with respect to the number of days of such nursing home care which, when added to the number of days of such hospital care furnished in the preceding 365-day period, equals or exceeds 90 days.
care, is 90 or less, is the difference between the inpatient Medicare deductible and the amount paid under such subparagraph until--

(I) the veteran has been furnished, beginning with the first day of such hospital care furnished in connection with such payment, a total of 90 days of hospital care and nursing home care; or

(D) In the case of a veteran who is admitted for hospital care under this section after having been furnished, during the preceding 365-day period, nursing home care for which the veteran has paid the amount of the inpatient Medicare deductible under this subsection and who has not been furnished 90 days of nursing home care in connection with such payment, the veteran shall not incur any liability under paragraph (2) of this subsection with respect to such hospital care until--

(i) the veteran has been furnished, beginning with the first day of such nursing home care furnished in connection with such payment, a total of 90 days of nursing home care and hospital care; or

(ii) the end of the 365-day period applicable to the nursing home care for which payment was made,

whichever occurs first.

(E) A veteran may not be required to make a payment under this subsection for hospital care or nursing home care furnished under this section during any 90-day period in which the veteran is furnished medical services under paragraph (3) of subsection (a) to the extent that such payment would cause the total amount paid by the veteran under this subsection for hospital care and nursing home care furnished during that period and under subsection (g) for medical services furnished during that period to exceed the amount of the inpatient Medicare deductible in effect on the first day of such period.

(F) A veteran may not be required to make a payment under this subsection or subsection (g) for any days of care in excess of 360 days of care during any 365-calendar-day period.

(4) In the case of a veteran covered by this subsection who is also described by section 1705(a)(7) of this title [38 USCS § 1705(a)(7)], the amount for which the veteran shall be liable to the United States for hospital care under this subsection shall be an amount equal to 20 percent of the total amount for which the veteran would otherwise be liable for such care under subparagraphs (2)(B) and (3)(A) but for this paragraph.

(5) For the purposes of this subsection, the term "inpatient Medicare deductible" means the amount of the inpatient hospital deductible in effect under section 1813(b) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395e(b)) on the first day of the 365-day period applicable under paragraph (3) of this subsection.

(g) (1) The Secretary may not furnish medical services under subsection (a) of this section (including home health services under section 1717 of this title [38 USCS § 1717]) to a veteran who is eligible for hospital care under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] by reason of subsection (a)(3) of this section unless the veteran agrees to pay to the United States in the case of each outpatient visit the applicable amount or amounts established by the Secretary by regulation.

(2) A veteran who is furnished medical services under subsection (a) of this section and who is required under paragraph (1) of this subsection to agree to pay an amount to the United States in order to be furnished such services shall be liable to the United States, in the case of each visit in which such services are furnished to the veteran, for an amount which the Secretary shall establish by regulation.

(3) This subsection does not apply with respect to home health services under section 1717 of this title [38 USCS § 1717] to the extent that such services are for improvements and structural alterations.

(h) Nothing in this section requires the Secretary to furnish care to a veteran to whom another agency of Federal, State, or local government has a duty under law to provide care in an institution of such government.

I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally

To extent that veterans believe that Administrator of Veterans Administration [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] is required to furnish domiciliary care and vocational training benefits to them at specific facilities in certain cities, their expectations depart from duties imposed on Administrator [now Secretary] by 38 USCS § 610 [now 38 USCS § 1710] and, so far as their complaint reveals, are merely "unilateral expectations" and as such, are not property interests entitled to due process protection. Moore v Johnson (1978, CA9 Cal) 582 F.2d 1228

2. False statements as to financial ability

Veteran who in his application for free hospitalization in veterans' administration hospital falsely states his financial ability to pay for hospitalization violates predecessor to 18 USCS § 289, the False Claims Act. 4. Regulations

Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] has no authority to promulgate regulations depriving veterans of right to hospitalization and treatment, or conditioning enjoyment of such right. United States v St. Paul Mercury Indem. Co. (1956, CA8 Neb) 238 F.2d 594

Naval hospitals are primarily for medical care of navy and marine corps personnel on active duty, and other members of uniformed services on active duty, as provided by 10 USCS §§ 1074(a), 6201; thus, "honorary discharged veterans", who are only entitled to hospitalization and medical care from Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] under provisions of 38 USCS §§ 610 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 1710 et seq.], and who brought action seeking to restrain Secretary of Defense from discontinuing operations of naval hospital are not entitled to use hospital and fail to show irreparable harm which would result from scheduled closing. Term "medical and hospital treatment," as used in existing legislation pertaining to veterans, includes medical or hospital treatment furnished in osteopathic hospital; thus, veteran is eligible for subsequent payment by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], although he was taken in emergency into osteopathic hospital for treatment of service-connected disability without prior authorization by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]. 1946 ADVA 694

Taylor v United States (1974, ND Ill) 385 F Supp 1034

In rejecting veteran's claim for reimbursement for his private hospitalization bills incurred when Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] doctor advised him to go to nearest private hospital for treatment, Board improperly concluded that it had no jurisdiction of reimbursement for medical expenses based on prior authorization; assuming that BVA has no jurisdiction over medical determinations, only basis for BVA to deny jurisdiction would be if it were to find that Secretary determined that appellant did not need hospital care. Similes v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 555
III. REIMBURSEMENT OF GOVERNMENT

10. Generally

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] billing program for recovering costs of medical care provided by hospitals to veterans, employees of agency, who were ineligible for such care does not violate equal protection clause of Fifth Amendment since agency has right to place higher standard on its own employees and program may represent first step in larger program to recover costs from all ineligible veterans. 11. By other governmental agencies

Administrator [now Secretary] is authorized to furnish injured workman with hospital and medical care at veterans' hospital and to make reasonable charge for such service and to have his claim for such service allowed by state industrial commission to same extent as any other private hospital or physician. Higley v Schlessman (1956, Okla) 292 P2d 411

12. By employer and insurance carriers

Government, assignee, is entitled to recover, for services rendered to veterans under 38 USCS § 610 [now 38 USCS § 1710], against veterans' employer under Longshoremen's and Harborworkers' Compensation Act [33 USCS §§ 901 et seq., provisions of Veterans Benefits Act [38 USCS §§ 101 et seq.] fulfill Congressional purpose of providing free hospital services to veterans who have suffered nonservice-connected disabilities and who are unable to pay for hospital care, but to include veterans legally entitled to provisions of hospital care by third parties would be inconsistent with Congress' exclusion of veterans who would otherwise be able to defray expense of hospital care and nothing in such Act indicates that Congress intended to relieve employer of statutory responsibility for providing medical treatment to his injured employees. United States v Bender Welding & Machine Co. (1977, CA5) 558 F.2d 761

Government, as assignee of veteran to whom services were rendered under 38 USCS § 610 [now 38 USCS § 1710], is entitled to recover against veteran's employer under state workmen's compensation act for such services rendered to veteran; Veterans' Benefits Act [38 USCS §§ 101 et seq.] was intended to authorize free hospital care for nonservice-connected injuries only to those veterans unable to defray necessary medical costs and was not intended to relieve employer of statutory duty of compensating injured employee for expenses incurred in treatment of job-related injury. Texas Employers' Ins. Asso. v United States (1977, CA5 Tex) 558 F.2d 766

United States is entitled to recover from veteran's employer for hospital and medical services rendered veteran, which services employer is under statutory duty to furnish. Stafford v Pabco Products, Inc. (1958) 53 NJ Super 300, 147 A2d 286

Administrator [now Secretary] of Veterans Affairs is entitled to recover from employer and its insurance carrier costs of treating at veterans hospital injuries of indigent veteran which resulted from industrial accident in course of employment. Marshall v Rebert's Poultry Ranch & Egg Sales (1966) 268 NC 223, 150 SE2d 423

13. By veteran's insurer

Veteran who qualified for and received hospitalization without charge, did not "actually incur" any expenses for his hospitalization, and veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] cannot recover costs of his hospitalization from insurer under poliomyelitis expense policy, assigned by veteran to veterans' administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], which provides that insurer will pay veteran "for expenses actually incurred" if he is stricken by poliomyelitis. United States v St. Paul Mercury Indem. Co. (1956, CA8 Neb) 238 F.2d 594

Insurance company providing health insurance is not liable to Government, as assignee of rights, under policy, for costs of free medical services provided needy veteran by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], where policy conditions payment of benefits upon insured first incurring expense, since veteran could not assign to Government right to reimbursement which he does not have, in absence of incurred costs. United States v Metropolitan Life Ins. Co. (1982, CA9 Ariz) 683 F.2d 1250

(A) which is service-connected and compensable in degree;

(i) the dental condition or disability is shown to have been in existence at time of the veteran's discharge or release from active military, naval, or air service;

(ii) the veteran had served on active duty for a period of not less than 180 days or, in the case of a veteran who served on active duty during the Persian Gulf War, 90 days immediately before such discharge or release;

(iii) application for treatment is made within 90 days after such discharge or release, except that (I) in the case of a veteran who reentered active military, naval, or air service within ninety days after the date of such veteran's prior discharge or release from such service, application may be made within 90 days from the date of such veteran's subsequent discharge or release from such service, and (II) if a disqualifying discharge or release has been corrected.
by competent authority, application may be made within 90 days after the date of correction; and
(iv) the veteran's certificate of discharge or release from active duty does not bear a certification that the veteran was provided, within the 90-day period immediately before the date of such discharge or release, a complete dental examination (including dental X-rays) and all appropriate dental services and treatment indicated by the examination to be needed;
(C) which is a service-connected dental condition or disability due to combat wounds or other service trauma, or of a former prisoner of war;
(D) which is associated with and is aggravating a disability resulting from some other disease or injury which was incurred in or aggravated by active military, naval, or air service;
(E) which is a non-service-connected condition or disability of a veteran for which treatment was begun while such veteran was receiving hospital care under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] and such services and treatment are reasonably necessary to complete such treatment;
(F) from which a veteran who is a former prisoner of war is suffering;
(G) from which a veteran who has a service-connected disability rated as total is suffering; or
(H) the treatment of which is medically necessary (i) in preparation for hospital admission, or (ii) for a veteran otherwise receiving care or services under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.].
(2) The Secretary concerned shall at the time a member of the Armed Forces is discharged or released from a period of active military, naval, or air service of not less than 180 days or, in the case of a veteran who served on active duty during the Persian Gulf War, 90 days provide to such member a written explanation of the provisions of clause (B) of paragraph (1) of this subsection and enter in the service records of the member a statement signed by the member acknowledging receipt of such explanation (or, if the member refuses to sign such statement, a certification from an officer designated for such purpose by the Secretary concerned that the member was provided such explanation).
(3) The total amount which the Secretary may expend for furnishing, during any twelve-month period, outpatient dental services, treatment, or related dental appliances to a veteran under this section through private facilities for which the Secretary has contracted under clause (1), (2), or (5) of section 1703(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1703(a)], may not exceed $1,000 unless the Secretary determines, prior to the furnishing of such services, treatment, or appliances and based on an examination of the veteran by a dentist employed by the Department (or, in an area where no such dentist is available, by a dentist conducting such examination under a contract or fee arrangement), that the furnishing of such services, treatment, or appliances at such cost is reasonably necessary.
(4) (A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, in any year in which the President's Budget for the fiscal year beginning October 1 of such year includes an amount for expenditures for contract dental care under the provisions of this subsection and section 1703 of this title [38 USCS § 1703] during such fiscal year in excess of the level of expenditures made for such purpose during fiscal year
1978, the Secretary shall, not later than February 15 of such year, submit a report to the appropriate committees of the Congress justifying the requested level of expenditures for contract dental care and explaining why the application of the criteria prescribed in section 1703 of this title [38 USCS § 1703] for contracting with private facilities and in the second sentence of section 1710(c) of this title [38 USCS § 1710(c)] for furnishing incidental dental care to hospitalized veterans will not preclude the need for expenditures for contract dental care in excess of the fiscal year 1978 level of expenditures for such purpose. In any case in which the amount included in the President's Budget for any fiscal year for expenditures for contract dental care under such provisions is not in excess of the level of expenditures made for such purpose during fiscal year 1978 and the Secretary determines after the date of submission of such budget and before the end of such fiscal year that the level of expenditures for such contract dental care during such fiscal year will exceed the fiscal year 1978 level of expenditures, the Secretary shall submit a report to the appropriate committees of the Congress containing both a justification (with respect to the projected level of expenditures for such fiscal year) and an explanation as required in the preceding sentence in the case of a report submitted pursuant to such sentence. Any report submitted pursuant to this paragraph shall include a comment by the Secretary on the effect of the application of the criteria prescribed in the second sentence of section 1710(c) of this title [38 USCS § 1710(c)] for furnishing incidental dental care to hospitalized veterans.

(B) A report under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph with respect to a fiscal year is not required if, in the documents submitted by the Secretary to the Congress in justification for the amounts included for Department programs in the President's Budget, the Secretary specifies with respect to contract dental care described in such subparagraph--

(i) the actual level of expenditures for such care in the fiscal year preceding the fiscal year in which such Budget is submitted;
(ii) a current estimate of the level of expenditures for such care in the fiscal year in which such Budget is submitted; and
(iii) the amount included in such Budget for such care.

(b) Dental services and related appliances for a dental condition or disability described in paragraph (1)(B) of subsection (a) shall be furnished on a one-time completion basis, unless the services rendered on a one-time completion basis are found unacceptable within the limitations of good professional standards, in which event such additional services may be afforded as are required to complete professionally acceptable treatment.

(c) Dental appliances, wheelchairs, artificial limbs, trusses, special clothing, and similar appliances to be furnished by the Secretary under this section may be procured by the Secretary either by purchase or by manufacture, whichever the Secretary determines may be advantageous and reasonably necessary.

(d) The Secretary shall furnish to each veteran who is receiving additional compensation or allowance under chapter 11 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq.], or increased pension as a veteran of a period of war, by reason of being permanently housebound or in need of regular aid and attendance, such drugs and medicines as may be ordered on prescription of a duly licensed physician as specific therapy in the treatment of any illness or injury suffered by such veteran. The Secretary shall continue to furnish such drugs and medicines so ordered to any such veteran in need of regular aid and attendance whose pension payments have been discontinued solely because such veteran's annual income is greater than the applicable maximum annual income limitation, but only so long as such veteran's annual income does not exceed such maximum annual income limitation by more than $1,000.

(c) In order to assist the Secretary of Health and Human Services in carrying out national immunization programs under other provisions of law, the Secretary may authorize the administration of immunizations to eligible veterans who voluntarily request such immunizations in connection with the provision of care for a disability under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] in any Department health care facility. Any such immunization shall be made using vaccine furnished by the Secretary of Health and Human Services at no cost to the Department. For such purpose, notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary may provide such vaccine to the Department at no cost. Section 7316 of this title [38 USCS § 7316] shall apply to claims alleging negligence or malpractice on the part of Department personnel granted immunity under such section.

1. Generally
Any person qualifying as veteran within applicable law, who is suffering from disease or injury incurred in or aggravated during service and not resulting from misconduct, is eligible for treatment of such condition. 1933 ADVA 129

Members of Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, Women's Reserve of Navy and Marine Corps, and Women's Reserve of Coast Guard, qualifying under applicable law, are entitled to outpatient treatment, even though receiving monetary benefits from Employees' Compensation Commission; Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] claims and rating boards make eligibility findings independent of recommendations by United States Employees' Compensation Commission. 1943 ADVA 531

Persons, who meet regulation requirements of discharge prior to November 12, 1918, with disability incurred in line of duty and not resulting from misconduct, are entitled to outpatient treatment for injuries or diseases incurred in line of duty, and for any condition which would be appropriate from medical standpoint to treat as adjunct thereto. 1945 ADVA 648

Service department finding that disability was incurred in line of duty, entitling veteran to domiciliary or hospital care, also determines line of duty status of particular condition requiring medical treatment, even though Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] found disability not incurred in line of duty for pension purposes. 1934 ADVA 232

Finding of service department that disability, for which soldier or sailor was discharged, was incurred in line of duty is to be accepted for purpose of determining eligibility of peacetime veterans for medical and hospital treatment; since War Department reported veteran was discharged for disability incurred in line of duty, he is eligible to receive prosthetic appliances, notwithstanding that Veterans’ Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] has determined that his disability was incurred not in line of duty for pension purposes. 1936 ADVA 369

Members of Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, Women's Reserve of Navy and Marine Corps, and Women's Reserve of Coast Guard, qualifying under applicable law, are entitled to outpatient treatment, even though receiving monetary benefits from Employees' Compensation Commission; Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] claims and rating boards make eligibility findings independent of recommendations by United States Employees' Compensation Commission. 1943 ADVA 531

If BVA determines that appellant has compensable dental disability, then claim for outpatient dental treatment must be allowed. Grovhoug v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 209

Where veteran argued that exclusion of periodontal disease as compensable disability under 38 C.F.R. § 3.381(a) conflicted with 38 USCS § 1110 which required compensation for disabilities, under 38 USCS § 7252(b), Court of Veterans Appeals lacked jurisdiction to review regulatory determination that periodontal disease was eligible for treatment benefits but was not compensable disability. Byrd v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 388, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 802

3. Drugs

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] may furnish very unusual or expensive drugs and medicines to eligible veteran in state home provided there is no duplication of medical services required to be provided by home. VA GCO 14-74, reissued 1991 VAOPGCPREC LEXIS 1195

38 USCS § 1712(d) is exclusive legal authority for providing veteran with drugs prescribed by private physician where Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] has no involvement in veteran's treatment. VA GCO 11-83, reissued 1991 VAOPGCPREC LEXIS 1183

4. Dental care

Given that Air Force Secretary's failure to comply with notification provisions of statute resulted in veteran's delayed Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] dental examination more than 6 months after discharge, veteran's claim for outpatient dental treatment must be disallowed if on remand Board concludes that veteran has noncompensable service-connected dental disability. Mays v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 302

If BVA determines that appellant has compensable dental disability, then claim for outpatient dental treatment must be allowed. Grovhoug v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 209

(B) Subparagraph (A) applies to the following veterans:

(i) Any veteran who served on active duty--
   (I) in a theater of combat operations (as determined by the Secretary in consultation with the Secretary of Defense) during the Vietnam era; or
   (II) after May 7, 1975, in an area at a time during which hostilities occurred in that area.

(ii) Any veteran (other than a veteran covered by clause (i)) who served on active duty during the Vietnam era who seeks or is furnished such counseling before January 1, 2004.

(2) (A) Upon the request of any veteran (other than a veteran covered by paragraph (1)) who served in the active military, naval, or air service in a theater of combat operations (as so determined) during a period of war, or in any other area during a period in which hostilities (as defined in subparagraph (B)) occurred in such area, the Secretary may furnish counseling to the veteran to assist the veteran in readjusting to civilian life.

(B) For the purposes of subparagraph (A), the term "hostilities" means an armed conflict in which the members of the Armed Forces are subjected to danger comparable to the danger to which members of the Armed Forces have been subjected in combat with enemy armed forces during a period of war, as determined by the Secretary in consultation with the Secretary of Defense.

(b) (1) If, on the basis of the assessment furnished under subsection (a) of this section, a physician or psychologist employed by the Department (or, in areas where no such physician or psychologist is available, a physician or psychologist carrying out such function under a contract or fee arrangement with the Secretary) determines that the provision of mental health services to such veteran is necessary to facilitate the successful readjustment of the veteran to civilian life, such veteran shall, within the limits of Department facilities, be furnished such services on an outpatient basis. For the purposes of furnishing such mental health services, the counseling furnished under subsection (a) of this section shall be considered to have been furnished by the Department as a part of hospital care. Any hospital care and other medical services considered necessary on the basis of the assessment furnished under subsection (a) of this section shall be furnished only in accordance with the eligibility criteria otherwise set forth in this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] (including the eligibility criteria set forth in section 1784 of this title [38 USCS § 1784]).

(2) Mental health services furnished under paragraph (1) of this subsection may, if determined to be essential to the effective treatment and readjustment of the veteran, include such consultation, counseling, training, services, and expenses as are described in sections 1782 and 1783 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1782 and 1783].

(c) [Repealed]

(d) The Under Secretary for Health may provide for such training of professional, paraprofessional, and lay personnel as is necessary to carry out this section effectively, and, in carrying out this section, may utilize the services of paraprofessionals, individuals who are volunteers working without compensation, and individuals who are veteran-students (as described in section 3485 of this title [38 USCS § 3485]) in initial intake and screening activities.
(e) (1) In furnishing counseling and related mental health services under subsections (a) and (b) of this section, the Secretary shall have available the same authority to enter into contracts with private facilities that is available to the Secretary (under sections 1703(a)(2) and 1710(a)(1)(B) of this title [38 USCS §§ 1703(a)(2) and 1710(a)(1)(B)]) in furnishing medical services to veterans suffering from total service-connected disabilities.

(2) Before furnishing counseling or related mental health services described in subsections (a) and (b) of this section through a contract facility, as authorized by this subsection, the Secretary shall approve (in accordance with criteria which the Secretary shall prescribe by regulation) the quality and effectiveness of the program operated by such facility for the purpose for which the counseling or services are to be furnished.

(3) The authority of the Secretary to enter into contracts under this subsection shall be effective for any fiscal year only to such extent or in such amounts as are provided in appropriation Acts.

(f) The Secretary, in cooperation with the Secretary of Defense, shall take such action as the Secretary considers appropriate to notify veterans who may be eligible for assistance under this section of such potential eligibility.

(g) (1) (A) Except as provided in subparagraph (C) of this paragraph, the Secretary may close or relocate a center in existence on January 1, 1988, only as described in the national plan required by paragraph (3) of this subsection (or in a revision to such plan under paragraph (4) of this subsection in which the closure or relocation of that center is proposed).

(B) A closure or relocation of a center which is proposed in such national plan may be carried out only after the end of the 120-day period beginning on the date on which the national plan is submitted. A closure or relocation of a center not proposed in such plan may be carried out only after the end of the 60-day period beginning on the date the Secretary submits a revision to such plan in which the closure or relocation of that center is proposed.

(C) The Secretary may relocate a center in existence on January 1, 1988, without regard to the national plan (including any revision to such plan) if such relocation is to a new location away from a Department general health-care facility when such relocation is necessitated by circumstances beyond the control of the Department. Such a relocation may be carried out only after the end of the 30-day period beginning on the date on which the Secretary notifies the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the proposed relocation, of the circumstances making it necessary, and of the reason for the selection of the new site for the center.

(2) (A) Not later than April 1, 1988, the Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report on the Secretary's evaluation of the effectiveness in helping to meet the readjustment needs of veterans who served on active duty during the Vietnam era of the readjustment counseling and mental health services provided pursuant to this section (and of outreach efforts with respect to such counseling and services). Such report shall give particular attention, in light of the results of the study required by section 102 of the Veterans' Health Care Amendments of 1983 (Public Law 98-160), to the provision of such counseling and services to veterans with post-traumatic stress disorder and to the diagnosis and treatment of such disorder.

(B) The report required by subparagraph (A) of this paragraph shall include--
(i) the opinion of the Secretary with respect to (I) the extent to which the readjustment needs of veterans who served on active duty during the Vietnam era remain unmet, and (II) the extent to which the provision of readjustment counseling services under this section in centers is needed to meet such needs; and
(ii) in light of the opinion submitted pursuant to clause (i) of this subparagraph, such recommendations for amendments to this subsection and for other legislative and administrative action as the Secretary considers appropriate.

(3) (A) The Secretary, after considering the recommendations of the Under Secretary for Health, shall submit to such committees a report setting forth a national plan for all centers in existence on January 1, 1988. Such national plan shall set forth the Secretary's proposals as to each such center for a period (to be determined by the Secretary) of not less than 12 months beginning on the date of the submission of the report. The plan shall include, as to each center, whether the Secretary proposes to relocate the center to a general Department facility, relocate the center to a new location away from a general Department facility, expand the center in the same location, or close the center. The plan shall also set forth any proposal of the Secretary to open additional centers.

(B) The plan shall include the Secretary's evaluation as to how, in light of each of the criteria described in subparagraph (C) of this paragraph, the proposal set forth in the plan for each center covered by the plan would ensure the continued availability and effective furnishing of readjustment counseling services to eligible veterans needing such services in the geographic area served by that center.

(C) The Secretary shall make the evaluation described in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph with respect to any center in light of the following:
(i) The distribution of Vietnam-era veterans in the geographic area served by the center and the relationships between the location of such center and the general Department facility and such distribution.
(ii) The distance between the center and the general Department facility.
(iii) The availability of other entities (such as State, local, or private outreach facilities) which provide assistance to Vietnam-era veterans in the area served by the center.
(iv) The availability of transportation to, and parking at, the center and the general Department facility.
(v) The availability, cost, and suitability of the space at the general Department facility.
(vi) The overall cost impact of the proposed closure or relocation, including a comparison of the recurring nonpersonnel costs of providing readjustment counseling to the same estimated number of veterans at the center and the general Department facility.
(vii) The workload trends over the two previous fiscal years, and projected over the next fiscal year (or longer), at the center.
(viii) Such other factors as the Secretary determines to be relevant to making the evaluation described in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph.

(D) For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "general Department facility" means a Department facility which is not a center and at which readjustment counseling would be furnished in a particular geographic area upon the closure or relocation of a center.

(4) After submitting the plan required by paragraph (3) of this subsection, the Secretary may submit to the committees a revision to such plan in order to modify the proposal set forth in the plan as to any center. Any such revision shall include, with respect to each center addressed in the revision, a description of the Secretary's evaluation of the matters specified in paragraphs (3)(B) and (3)(C) of this subsection.

(5) For purposes of determining a period of time under paragraph (1)(B) of this subsection, if the national plan (or a revision to the national plan) is submitted to the committees during the 121-day period beginning 60 days before and ending 60 days after the final day of a session of the Congress, it shall be deemed to have been submitted on the sixty-first day after the final day of such session.

(h) [Repealed]

(i) For the purposes of this section:

(1) The term "center" means a facility (including a Resource Center designated under subsection (h)(3)(A) of this section) which is operated by the Department for the provision of services under this section and which (A) is situated apart from Department general health-care facilities, or (B) was so situated but has been relocated to a Department general health-care facility.

(2) The term "Department general health-care facility" means a health-care facility which is operated by the Department for the furnishing of health-care services under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.], not limited to services provided through the program established under this section.

§ 1722. Determination of inability to defray necessary expenses; income thresholds

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) For the purposes of section 1710(a)(2)(G) of this title [38 USCS § 1710(a)(2)(G)], a veteran shall be considered to be unable to defray the expenses of necessary care if--
   (1) the veteran is eligible to receive medical assistance under a State plan approved under title XIX of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 et seq.);
   (2) the veteran is in receipt of pension under section 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1521]; or
   (3) the veteran's attributable income is not greater than the amount set forth in subsection (b).

(b) (1) For purposes of subsection (a)(3), the income threshold for the calendar year beginning on January 1, 1990, is--
   (A) $17,240 in the case of a veteran with no dependents; and
   (B) $20,688 in the case of a veteran with one dependent, plus $1,150 for each additional dependent.

   (2) For a calendar year beginning after December 31, 1990, the amounts in effect for purposes of this subsection shall be the amounts in effect for the preceding calendar year as adjusted under subsection (c) of this section.

(c) Effective on January 1 of each year, the amounts in effect under subsection (b) of this section shall be increased by the percentage by which the maximum rates of pension were increased under section 5312(a) of this title [38 USCS § 5312(a)] during the preceding calendar year.

(d) (1) Notwithstanding the attributable income of a veteran, the Secretary may refuse to make a determination described in paragraph (2) of this subsection if the corpus of the estate of the veteran is such that under all the circumstances it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of the estate of the veteran be consumed for the veteran's maintenance.
   (2) A determination described in this paragraph is a determination that for purposes of subsection (a)(3) of this section a veteran's attributable income is not greater than the amount determined under subsection (b) of this section.
   (3) For the purposes of paragraph (1) of this subsection, the corpus of the estate of a veteran shall be determined in the same manner as the manner in which determinations are made of the corpus of the estates of persons under section 1522 of this title [38 USCS § 1522].

(e) (1) In order to avoid a hardship to a veteran described in paragraph (2) of this subsection, the Secretary may deem the veteran to have an attributable income during the previous year not greater than the amount determined under subsection (b) of this section.
(2) A veteran is described in this paragraph for the purposes of subsection (a) of this section if--
   (A) the veteran has an attributable income greater than the amount determined under subsection (b) of this section; and
   (B) the current projections of such veteran's income for the current year are that the veteran's income for such year will be substantially below the amount determined under subsection (b).

(f) For purposes of this section:
   (1) The term "attributable income" means the income of a veteran for the previous year determined in the same manner as the manner in which a determination is made of the total amount of income by which the rate of pension for such veteran under section 1521 of this title [38 USCS § 1521] would be reduced if such veteran were eligible for pension under that section.
   (2) The term "corpus of the estate of the veteran" includes the corpus of the estates of the veteran's spouse and dependent children, if any.
   (3) The term "previous year" means the calendar year preceding the year in which the veteran applies for care or services under section 1710(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1710(a)].

(g) For the purposes of section 1724(c) of this title [38 USCS § 1724(c)], the fact that a veteran is--
   (1) eligible to receive medical assistance under a State plan approved under title XIX of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 et seq.);
   (2) a veteran with a service-connected disability; or
   (3) in receipt of pension under any law administered by the Secretary, shall be accepted as sufficient evidence of such veteran's inability to defray necessary expenses.

(a) Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), the Secretary shall not furnish hospital or domiciliary care or medical services outside any State.

(b) (1) The Secretary may furnish hospital care and medical services outside a State to a veteran who is otherwise eligible to receive hospital care and medical services if the Secretary determines that such care and services are needed for the treatment of a service-connected disability of the veteran or as part of a rehabilitation program under chapter 31 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3100 et seq.].

(2) Care and services for a service-connected disability of a veteran who is not a citizen of the United States may be furnished under this subsection only--

(c) Within the limits of those facilities of the Veterans Memorial Medical Center at Manila, Republic of the Philippines, for which the Secretary may contract, the Secretary may furnish necessary hospital care to a veteran for any non-service-connected disability if such veteran is unable to defray the expenses of necessary hospital care. The Secretary may enter into contracts to carry out this section.

(d) The Secretary may furnish nursing home care, on the same terms and conditions set forth in section 1720(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1720(a)], to any veteran who has been furnished hospital care in the Philippines pursuant to this section, but who requires a protracted period of nursing home care.

(e) Within the limits of an outpatient clinic in the Republic of the Philippines that is under the direct jurisdiction of the Secretary, the Secretary may furnish a veteran who has a service-connected disability with such medical services as the Secretary determines to be needed.

Prior law and revision:

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XXII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162:

Veterans' Regulation No. 6(a), para. IV (as amended Act Oct. 17, 1940, ch 893, § 4, 54 Stat. 1195).

Explanatory notes:

The amendment made by § 1(a)(1) of Act Oct. 27, 2000, P. L. 106-377, is based on § 501(c) of Title V of H.R. 5482 (114 Stat. 1441A-58), as introduced on Oct. 18, 2000, which was enacted into law by such § 1(a)(1).

A prior § 1724 was transferred by Act Aug. 6, 1991, P. L. 102-83, § 5(a), 105 Stat. 406, and appears as 38 USCS § 3524.

Amendments:
1959. Act Aug. 11, 1959, substituted subsec. (b) for one which read:

"(b) The Administrator may furnish necessary hospital care and medical services for any service-connected disability--

"(1) if incurred during a period of war, to any veteran who is a citizen of the United States temporarily sojourning or residing abroad except in the Republic of the Philippines; or

"(2) whenever incurred, to any otherwise eligible veteran in the Republic of the Philippines."

1960. Act July 12, 1960, in subsec. (a), substituted "any state" for "the continental limits of the United States, or a Territory, Commonwealth, or possession of the United States".

1973. Act Aug. 2, 1973 (effective 9/1/73, as provided by § 501 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1701 note), substituted new section catchline for one which read: "§ 624. Hospital care and medical services abroad"; added subsec. (d).

1976. Act Oct. 21, 1976 (effective 10/21/76, as provided by § 211 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 111 note), in subsec. (c), substituted "the Administrator" for "he" preceding "may furnish" and deleted "of any war" following "a veteran".

1978. Act Oct. 26, 1978, in subsec. (c), substituted "Veterans Memorial Medical Center" for "Veterans Memorial Hospital".

1981. Act Nov. 3, 1981, in subsec. (d), deleted "and at the same rate as specified in section 632(a)(4) of this title" preceding "to any veteran".

1982. Act Oct. 12, 1982 purported to amend the heading of this section by substituting "Hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care abroad" for "Hospital care and medical services abroad"; however, Act Aug. 2, 1973, P. L. 93-82, Title I, § 108, 87 Stat. 186 (see the 1973 Amendments note to this section) had previously amended the heading of this section; thus, the heading of this section was substituted for one which read: "Hospital care, medical services and nursing home care abroad" to conform to the probable intent of Congress.

1988. Act May 20, 1988 substituted subsec. (b) for one which read: "(b) The Administrator may furnish necessary hospital care and medical services to any otherwise eligible veteran for any service-connected disability if the veteran (1) is a citizen of the United States sojourning or residing abroad, or (2) is in the Republic of the Philippines.".

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 624, as 38 USCS § 1724, amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101), and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

Other provisions:

Application and construction of Oct. 12, 1982 amendment. For provisions as to the application and construction of the Oct. 12, 1982 amendment of this section, see § 5 of such Act, which appears as 10 USCS § 101 note.

§ 1725. Reimbursement for emergency treatment

(a) General authority.
   (1) Subject to subsections (c) and (d), the Secretary may reimburse a veteran described in subsection (b) for the reasonable value of emergency treatment furnished the veteran in a non-Department facility.
   (2) In any case in which reimbursement is authorized under subsection (a)(1), the Secretary, in the Secretary's discretion, may, in lieu of reimbursing the veteran, make payment of the reasonable value of the furnished emergency treatment directly--
      (A) to a hospital or other health care provider that furnished the treatment; or
      (B) to the person or organization that paid for such treatment on behalf of the veteran.

(b) Eligibility.
   (1) A veteran referred to in subsection (a)(1) is an individual who is an active Department health-care participant who is personally liable for emergency treatment furnished the veteran in a non-Department facility.
   (2) A veteran is an active Department health-care participant if--
      (A) the veteran is enrolled in the health care system established under section 1705(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1705(a)]; and
      (B) the veteran received care under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] within the 24-month period preceding the furnishing of such emergency treatment.
   (3) A veteran is personally liable for emergency treatment furnished the veteran in a non-Department facility if the veteran--
      (A) is financially liable to the provider of emergency treatment for that treatment;
      (B) has no entitlement to care or services under a health-plan contract (determined, in the case of a health-plan contract as defined in subsection (f)(2)(B) or (f)(2)(C), without regard to any requirement or limitation relating to eligibility for care or services from any department or agency of the United States);
      (C) has no other contractual or legal recourse against a third party that would, in whole or in part, extinguish such liability to the provider; and
      (D) is not eligible for reimbursement for medical care or services under section 1728 of this title [38 USCS § 1728].

(c) Limitations on reimbursement.
   (1) The Secretary, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary, shall--
      (A) establish the maximum amount payable under subsection (a);
      (B) delineate the circumstances under which such payments may be made, to include such requirements on requesting reimbursement as the Secretary shall establish; and
      (C) provide that in no event may a payment under that subsection include any amount for which the veteran is not personally liable.
   (2) Subject to paragraph (1), the Secretary may provide reimbursement under this section only after the veteran or the provider of emergency treatment has exhausted without success all claims and remedies reasonably available to the veteran or provider against a third party for payment of such treatment.
(3) Payment by the Secretary under this section on behalf of a veteran to a provider of emergency treatment shall, unless rejected and refunded by the provider within 30 days of receipt, extinguish any liability on the part of the veteran for that treatment. Neither the absence of a contract or agreement between the Secretary and the provider nor any provision of a contract, agreement, or assignment to the contrary shall operate to modify, limit, or negate the requirement in the preceding sentence.

(d) Independent right of recovery.

(1) In accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary, the United States shall have the independent right to recover any amount paid under this section when, and to the extent that, a third party subsequently makes a payment for the same emergency treatment.

(2) Any amount paid by the United States to the veteran (or the veteran's personal representative, successor, dependents, or survivors) or to any other person or organization paying for such treatment shall constitute a lien in favor of the United States against any recovery the payee subsequently receives from a third party for the same treatment.

(3) Any amount paid by the United States to the provider that furnished the veteran's emergency treatment shall constitute a lien against any subsequent amount the provider receives from a third party for the same emergency treatment for which the United States made payment.

(4) The veteran (or the veteran's personal representative, successor, dependents, or survivors) shall ensure that the Secretary is promptly notified of any payment received from any third party for emergency treatment furnished to the veteran. The veteran (or the veteran's personal representative, successor, dependents, or survivors) shall immediately forward all documents relating to such payment, cooperate with the Secretary in the investigation of such payment, and assist the Secretary in enforcing the United States right to recover any payment made under subsection (c)(3).

(e) Waiver. The Secretary, in the Secretary's discretion, may waive recovery of a payment made to a veteran under this section that is otherwise required by subsection (d)(1) when the Secretary determines that such waiver would be in the best interest of the United States, as defined by regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

(A) when Department or other Federal facilities are not feasibly available and an attempt to use them beforehand would not be reasonable;

§ 1728. Reimbursement of certain medical expenses

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) The Secretary may, under such regulations as the Secretary shall prescribe, reimburse veterans entitled to hospital care or medical services under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] for the reasonable value of such care or services (including travel and incidental expenses under the terms and conditions set forth in section 111 of this title [38 USCS § 111]), for which such veterans have made payment, from sources other than the Department, where--

(1) such care or services were rendered in a medical emergency of such nature that delay would have been hazardous to life or health;

(2) such care or services were rendered to a veteran in need thereof (A) for an adjudicated service-connected disability, (B) for a non-service-connected disability associated with and held to be aggravating a service-connected disability, (C) for any disability of a veteran who has a total disability permanent in nature from a service-connected disability, or (D) for any illness, injury, or dental condition in the case of a veteran who (i) is a participant in a vocational rehabilitation program (as defined in section 3101(9) of this title [38 USCS § 3101(9)]), and (ii) is medically determined to have been in need of care or treatment to make possible such veteran's entrance into a course of training, or prevent interruption of a course of training, or hasten the return to a course of training which was interrupted because of such illness, injury, or dental condition; and

(3) Department or other Federal facilities were not feasibly available, and an attempt to use them beforehand would not have been reasonable, sound, wise, or practical.

(b) In any case where reimbursement would be in order under subsection (a) of this section, the Secretary may, in lieu of reimbursing such veteran, make payment of the reasonable value of care or services directly--

(1) to the hospital or other health facility furnishing the care or services; or

(2) to the person or organization making such expenditure on behalf of such veteran.

§ 1729. Recovery by the United States of the cost of certain care and services

(a) (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, in any case in which a veteran is furnished care or services under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] for a non-service-connected disability described in paragraph (2) of this subsection, the United States has the right to recover or collect reasonable charges for such care or services (as determined by the Secretary) from a third party to the extent that the veteran (or the provider of the care or services) would be eligible to receive payment for such care or services from such third party if the care or services had not been furnished by a department or agency of the United States.

(2) Paragraph (1) of this subsection applies to a non-service-connected disability--
(A) that is incurred incident to the veteran's employment and that is covered under a workers' compensation law or plan that provides for payment for the cost of health care and services provided to the veteran by reason of the disability;
(B) that is incurred as the result of a motor vehicle accident to which applies a State law that requires the owners or operators of motor vehicles registered in that State to have in force automobile accident reparations insurance;
(C) that is incurred as the result of a crime of personal violence that occurred in a State, or a political subdivision of a State, in which a person injured as the result of such a crime is entitled to receive health care and services at such State's or subdivision's expense for personal injuries suffered as the result of such crime;
(D) that is incurred by a veteran--
(i) who does not have a service-connected disability; and
(ii) who is entitled to care (or payment of the expenses of care) under a health-plan contract; or

(E) for which care and services are furnished before October 1, 2007, under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] to a veteran who--
(i) has a service-connected disability; and
(ii) is entitled to care (or payment of the expenses of care) under a health-plan contract.

(3) In the case of a health-plan contract that contains a requirement for payment of a deductible or copayment by the veteran--
(A) the veteran's not having paid such deductible or copayment with respect to care or services furnished under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.] shall not preclude recovery or collection under this section; and
(B) the amount that the United States may collect or recover under this section shall be reduced by the appropriate deductible or copayment amount, or both.

(b) (1) As to the right provided in subsection (a) of this section, the United States shall be subrogated to any right or claim that the veteran (or the veteran's personal representative, successor, dependents, or survivors) may have against a third party.

(2) (A) In order to enforce any right or claim to which the United States is subrogated under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the United States may intervene or join in any action or proceeding brought by the veteran (or the veteran's personal representative, successor, dependents, or survivors) against a third party.

(B) The United States may institute and prosecute legal proceedings against the third party if--
(i) an action or proceeding described in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph is not begun within 180 days after the first day on which care or services for which recovery is sought are furnished to the veteran by the Secretary under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.];
(ii) the United States has sent written notice by certified mail to the veteran at the veteran's last-known address (or to the veteran's personal representative or successor) of the intention of the United States to institute such legal proceedings; and
(iii) a period of 60 days has passed following the mailing of such notice.

(C) A proceeding under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph may not be brought after the end of the six-year period beginning on the last day on which the care or services for which recovery is sought are furnished.

(c) (1) The Secretary may compromise, settle, or waive any claim which the United States has under this section.

(2) (A) The Secretary, after consultation with the Comptroller General of the United States, shall prescribe regulations for the purpose of determining reasonable charges for care or services under subsection (a)(1) of this section. Any determination of such charges shall be made in accordance with such regulations.

(B) Such regulations shall provide that reasonable charges for care or services sought to be recovered or collected from a third-party liable under a health-plan contract may not exceed the amount that such third party demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary it would pay for the care or services if provided by facilities (other than facilities of departments or agencies of the United States) in the same geographic area.
(C) Not later than 45 days after the date on which the Secretary prescribes such regulations (or any amendment to such regulations), the Comptroller General shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives the Comptroller General's comments on and recommendations regarding such regulations (or amendment).

(d) Any contract or agreement into which the Secretary enters with a person under section 3718 of title 31 [31 USCS § 3718] for collection services to recover indebtedness owed the United States under this section shall provide, with respect to such services, that such person is subject to sections 5701 and 7332 of this title [38 USCS §§ 5701 and 7332].

(e) A veteran eligible for care or services under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.]--
   (1) may not be denied such care or services by reason of this section; and
   (2) may not be required by reason of this section to make any copayment or deductible payment in order to receive such care.

(f) No law of any State or of any political subdivision of a State, and no provision of any contract or other agreement, shall operate to prevent recovery or collection by the United States under this section or with respect to care or services furnished under section 1784 of this title [38 USCS § 1784].

(g) [Deleted]

(h) (1) Subject to paragraph (3) of this subsection, the Secretary shall make available medical records of a veteran described in paragraph (2) of this subsection for inspection and review by representatives of the third party concerned for the sole purposes of permitting the third party to verify--
   (A) that the care or services for which recovery or collection is sought were furnished to the veteran; and
   (B) that the provision of such care or services to the veteran meets criteria generally applicable under the health-plan contract involved.
   (2) A veteran described in this paragraph is a veteran who is a beneficiary of a health-plan contract under which recovery or collection is sought under this section from the third party concerned for the cost of the care or services furnished to the veteran.
   (3) Records shall be made available under this subsection under such conditions to protect the confidentiality of such records as the Secretary shall prescribe in regulations.

Amendments:
1986. Act April 7, 1986 (effective as provided by § 19013(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), substituted this section for one which read:

"(a) In any case in which a veteran is furnished care and services under this chapter for a non-service-connected disability that was incurred--

"(1) incident to the veteran's employment and the disability is covered under a workers' compensation law or plan that provides reimbursement for or indemnification of the cost of health care and services provided to the veteran by reason of the disability,

"(2) as the result of a motor vehicle accident to which applies a State law that requires the owners or operators of motor vehicles registered in that State to have in force automobile accident reparations insurance, or

"(3) as the result of a crime of personal violence that occurred in a State, or a political subdivision of a State, in which a person injured as the result of such a crime is entitled to receive health care and services at such State's or subdivision's expense for personal injuries suffered as the result of such crime, the United States has the right to recover the reasonable costs of such care and services from the State, or political subdivision of a State, employer, employer's insurance carrier, or automobile accident reparations insurance carrier, as appropriate, to the extent that the veteran, or the provider of care and services to the veteran, would be eligible to receive reimbursement or indemnification for such care and services if the care and services had not been furnished by a department or agency of the United States.

"(b) The amount that may be recovered by the United States under subsection (a) of this section may not exceed the lesser of (1) an amount equal to the reasonable cost of the care and services furnished the veteran under this chapter, as determined by the Administrator, or (2) the maximum amount specified by the law of the State or political subdivision concerned or by any relevant contractual provision to which the veteran was a party or was subject. The Administrator shall prescribe regulations for the determination of the reasonable cost of care and services under clause (1) of the preceding sentence, and any determination of such reasonable value by the Administrator under such clause shall be made in accordance with such regulations. Regulations under the preceding sentence shall be prescribed only after notice and opportunity for public comment.

"(d) A veteran eligible for care and services under this chapter may not be denied such care and services by reason of this section.

"(e) No law of any State or of any political subdivision of a State, and no provision of any contract or agreement entered into, renewed, or modified under any State law, shall operate to prevent recovery by the United States (1) under subsection (a) of this section for care and services furnished under this chapter to any veteran for a non-service-connected disability, or (2) under section 611(b) of this title for care and services furnished under such section to an individual as a humanitarian service in an emergency case.".

1. Constitutionality

3. Costs related to crimes of violence
4. Medicare-related insurance
5. Statute of limitations

1. Constitutionality

Under 38 USCS § 629 [now 38 USCS § 1729], United States is entitled to seek compensation from state’s crime victims compensation board for cost of medical treatment of veterans, who were crime victims, even though medical treatment was rendered without cost to veterans, since U. S. is to be treated as if veterans had received care by entity other than government hospital subject to board's usual prerequisites for compensation; 38 USCS § 629 [now 38 USCS § 1729] does not violate Tenth Amendment, since it does not require crime victim's compensation board to award compensation to crime victims, but requires that states with victim compensation schemes not deny benefits simply because government treated of victim without cost. United States v New Jersey (1987, CA3 NJ) 831 F.2d 458

2. Costs related to motor vehicle accidents

In action by government to recover cost of medical treatment rendered to veteran seriously injured in hit and run automobile accident, Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] was entitled to recover notwithstanding fact that accident occurred prior to effective date of 38 USCS § 629 [now 38 USCS § 1729], since triggering event is not accident, but care and services rendered. United States v State Farm Ins. Co. (1984, ED Mich) 599 F Supp 441

Fact that state statute provides that benefits paid under laws of state or federal government are to be subtracted from personal protection insurance benefit does not bar Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] from recovering from automobile insurer cost of medical treatment of veteran seriously injured in hit and run automobile accident, where 38 USCS § 629 [now 38 USCS § 1729] provides that no law of any state shall prevent recovery. United States v State Farm Ins. Co. (1984, ED Mich) 599 F Supp 441

Statute permitted U.S. to recover from state costs of care provided to crime victims at veterans hospitals under state's Criminal Injuries Compensation Act since state act's serious financial hardship requirement would operate in vast majority of cases to prevent federal government from recovering its costs in treating crime victims where private hospital would be able to do so and was thus in conflict with 38 USCS § 629 [now 38 USCS § 1729]. United States v Maryland (1990, CA4 Md) 914 F.2d 551

State statute's "economic loss" requirement under crime victims compensation scheme is preempted by 38 USCS § 629, where Congress intended § 629 to end discrimination against federal hospitals precisely like that state is espousing here, because present scheme places Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospitals—which rarely bill for cost of care provided crime victims—in position which nearly guarantees they will never be eligible for reimbursement of costs. United States v Ohio (1990, SD Ohio) 756 F Supp 340, affd (1992, CA6 Ohio) 957 F.2d 231, reh, en banc, den (1992, CA6) 1992 US App LEXIS 6209 and cert den (1992) 506 US 823, 121 L Ed 2d 40, 113 S Ct 75

4. Medicare-related insurance

Insurer offering gap-filling coverage to Medicare patients may not construe its coverage to exclude reimbursement to VA hospitals because hospitals do not derive benefits from Medicare system; insurer's interpretation would discriminate against Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospitals, and medigap policies are health-plan contracts. United States v Blue Cross & Blue Shield, Inc. (1993, CA4 Md) 989 F.2d 718, cert den (1993) 510 US 914, 126 L Ed 2d 250, 114 S Ct 302

U.S. may recover from private insurer reasonable costs of health care provided by Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital to veterans under medigap policies, to same extent non-federal provider could recover; only reason federal Medicare program is beyond reach of section is to avoid inefficient procedure of having one arm of federal government reimburse another, but this does not exclude private insurance policies. United States v Capital Blue Cross (1993, CA3 Pa) 992 F.2d 1270, 41 Soc Sec Rep Serv 127

Medigap policies are health-plan contracts as defined by statute since they are policies under which expenses of health services are paid, and plain language of exclusion refers only to Medicare and does nothing to exclude from definition of health-plan contracts those policies issued by private insurance companies as supplement to Medicare benefits. United States v Blue Cross/Blue Shield (1993, CA11 Ala) 999 F.2d 1542, 7 FLW Fed C 806, cert den (1994) 510 US 1112, 127 L Ed 2d 376, 114 S Ct 1056
Medicare-eligible veterans are entitled to recover cost of care and services furnished at Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] medical center under Medicare supplemental insurance policies, where U.S. brings suit on their behalf under 38 USCS § 1729(a)(1), because contention that insurer need not pay Medicare supplements since Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] medical center is ineligible to receive benefits from Medicare is without merit. United States v Blue Cross & Blue Shield, Inc. (1992, DC Md) 790 F Supp 106, affd (1993, CA4 Md) 989 F.2d 718, cert den (1993) 510 US 914, 126 L Ed 2d 250, 114 S Ct 302

Medigap insurer must pay U.S. for covered care and services furnished veterans at Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospitals, even though Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospitals may not recover expenses for care and services from Medicare program under 38 USCS § 1729 and are thus not technically "participating hospitals" under Medigap policy, because § 1729(a)(1) and (f) compel conclusion that care and services furnished to nonservice-connected veteran by Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital must, as matter of law, be deemed to have been furnished by "participating hospital" in action to recover benefits thereunder. United States v Blue Cross & Blue Shield (1992, ND Ala) 791 F Supp 288, affd (1993, CA11 Ala) 999 F.2d 1542, 7 FLW Fed C 806, cert den (1994) 510 US 1112, 127 L Ed 2d 376, 114 S Ct 1056

Health insurer must reimburse federal government pursuant to 38 USCS § 1729(a) for reasonable cost of health care furnished to veterans at Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] hospital for nonservice-related maladies, where veterans had purchased Medigap policies from insurer which by their terms do not cover health care not eligible for Medicare reimbursement, because since very few private hospital facilities do not participate in Medicare, such policies violate § 1729 by acting to bar recovery to Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] facilities while permitting recovery by private facilities in same situation. United States v Capital Blue Cross (1992, MD Pa) 796 F Supp 144, affd (1993, CA3 Pa) 992 F.2d 1270, 41 Soc Sec Rep Serv 127

5. Statute of limitations

State's 1-year statute of limitations is no defense to government's claim for cost of medical treatment of veteran injured in hit and run automobile accident, since United States is exempt from operation of statutes of limitations except in those instances where it expressly imposes limitation upon itself. United States v State Farm Ins. Co. (1984, ED Mich) 599 F Supp 441

Action by Veteran's Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] to recover medical costs of treating veteran injured in automobile accident is grounded on quasi-contract and thus subject to 6-year statute of limitations for actions founded upon any contract, rather than 3-year limit for actions founded upon tort. United States v State Farm Ins. Co. (1984, ED Mich) 599 F Supp 441

§ 1729A. Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Care Collections Fund

The Secretary shall make available to each facility the entirety of the amount specified to be made available to such facility by the preceding sentence.

(e) Amounts recovered or collected under the provisions of law referred to in subsection (b) shall be treated for the purposes of sections 251 and 252 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (2 U.S.C. 901, 902) as offsets to discretionary appropriations (rather than as offsets to direct spending) to the extent that such amounts are made available for expenditure in appropriations Acts for the purposes specified in subsection (c).

§ 1730. Community residential care

(a) Subject to this section and regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary under this section, the Secretary may assist a veteran by referring such veteran for placement in, and aiding such veteran in obtaining placement in, a community residential-care facility if--

(1) at the time of initiating the assistance the Secretary--
   (A) is furnishing the veteran medical services on an outpatient basis or hospital, domiciliary, or nursing home care; or
   (B) has furnished the veteran such care or services within the preceding 12 months; and
(2) placement of the veteran in a community residential-care facility is appropriate.

(b) (1) The Secretary may not provide assistance under subsection (a) of this section with respect to a community residential-care facility unless such facility is approved by the Secretary for the purposes of this section.

(2) The Secretary's approval of a facility for the purposes of this section shall be based upon the Secretary's determination, after inspection of the facility, that the facility meets the standards established in regulations prescribed under this section. Such standards shall include the following:
   (A) Health and safety criteria, including a requirement of compliance with applicable State laws and local ordinances relating to health and safety.
   (B) A requirement that the costs charged for care by a facility be reasonable, as determined by the Secretary, giving consideration to such factors as (i) the level of care, supervision, and other services to be provided, (ii) the cost of goods and services in the geographic area in which the facility is located, and (iii) comparability with other facilities in such area providing similar services.
   (C) Criteria for determining the resources that a facility needs in order to provide an appropriate level of services to veterans.
   (D) Such other criteria as the Secretary determines are appropriate to protect the welfare of veterans placed in a facility under this section.

(3) Payment of the charges of a community residential-care facility for any care or service provided to a veteran whom the Secretary has referred to that facility under this section is not the responsibility of the United States or of the Department.

(c) (1) In order to determine continued compliance by community residential-care facilities that have been approved under subsection (b) of this section with the standards established in regulations prescribed under this section, the Secretary shall provide for periodic inspection of such facilities. If the Secretary determines that a facility is not in compliance with such standards, the Secretary (in accordance with regulations prescribed under this section)--
   (A) shall cease to refer veterans to such facility; and
(B) may, with the permission of the veteran (or the person or entity authorized by law to give permission on behalf of the veteran), assist in removing a veteran from such facility.

Regulations prescribed to carry out this paragraph shall provide for reasonable notice and, upon request made on behalf of the facility, a hearing before any action authorized by this paragraph is taken.

(d) The Secretary shall prescribe regulations to carry out this section. Such regulations shall include the standards required by subsection (b) of this section.

(e) (1) To the extent possible, the Secretary shall make available each report of an inspection of a community residential-care facility under subsection (b)(2) or (c)(1) of this section to each Federal, State, and local agency charged with the responsibility of licensing or otherwise regulating or inspecting such facility.

(2) The Secretary shall make the standards prescribed in regulations under subsection
(d) of this section available to all Federal, State, and local agencies charged with the responsibility of licensing or otherwise regulating or inspecting community residential-care facilities.

(f) For the purpose of this section, the term "community residential-care facility" means a facility that provides room and board and such limited personal care for and supervision of residents as the Secretary determines, in accordance with regulations prescribed under this section, are necessary for the health, safety, and welfare of residents.

In addition, such agreement may provide for the payment of travel expenses pursuant to section 111 of this title for Commonwealth Army veterans in connection with hospital care or medical services furnished them. Such agreement may also provide that during the contract period specified in paragraph (1) of this section, payments for hospital care and for medical services provided to Commonwealth Army veterans or to United States veterans may consist in whole or in part of available medicines, medical supplies, and equipment furnished by the Administrator to the Veterans Memorial Hospital at valuations therefor as determined by the Administrator. "(b) Subject to the conditions set forth in subsection (c) of this section, such agreement may be further modified after September 30, 1966 to authorize extension of the contract specified in paragraph (1) of subsection (a) for an additional period ending June 30, 1973, and may authorize expansion of such contract to include payments for hospital care at the Veterans Memorial Hospital of Commonwealth Army veterans determined by the Administrator to need such care for non-service-connected disabilities if they are unable to defray the expenses of necessary hospital care. It shall provide that failure to fulfill such commitment or to maintain the hospital in a well-equipped and effective operating condition, as determined by the Administrator, shall be a ground for stopping payments under the agreement upon reasonable notice as stipulated by the contract.

"(d) To assist the Republic of the Philippines in replacement and upgrading of equipment and in rehabilitating the physical plant and facilities of the Veterans Memorial Hospital, there is hereby authorized to be appropriated the sum of $500,000 to be used by the Administrator for making grants to the Veterans Memorial Hospital for this purpose on such terms and conditions as the Administrator may prescribe. for each veteran receiving such care in a State home, if such veteran is eligible for such care in a Department facility.
(2) The Secretary may pay each State per diem at a rate determined by the Secretary for each veteran receiving extended care services described in any of paragraphs (4) through (6) of section 1710B(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1710B(a)] under a program administered by a State home, if such veteran is eligible for such care under laws administered by the Secretary.

(d) Subject to section 1743 of this title [38 USCS § 1743], the payment of per diem for care furnished in a State home facility shall commence on the date of the completion of the inspection for recognition of the facility under section 1742(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1742(a)] if the Secretary determines, as a result of that inspection, that the State home meets the standards described in such section.

(e) Payments to States pursuant to this section shall not be considered a liability of a third party, or otherwise be used to offset or reduce any other payment made to assist veterans.

Prior law and revision:

This section is also based on the following provisions, which were repealed by Act June 17, 1957, P. L. 85-56, Title XXII, § 2202, 71 Stat. 162:

Explanatory notes:

A prior § 1741 was transferred by Act Aug. 6, 1991, P. L. 102-83, § 5(a), 105 Stat. 406, and appears as 38 USCS § 3541.

Amendments:

1960. Act July 12, 1960, in subsec. (a), purported to substitute "at the per diem rate of $2.50 per diem for each veteran" for "at the annual rate of $700.00 for each veteran"; however, the substitution was made for "at the annual rate of $700 for each veteran" in order to effectuate the probable intent of Congress.

"No reduction shall be made under this subsection by reason of the retention or collection by a State home of any amounts from the estate of a deceased veteran if such amounts are placed in a post fund or other special fund and used for the benefit of the State home or its inhabitants in providing--

"(A) educational, recreational, or entertainment facilities or activities;

"(C) other activities or facilities for the benefit of the home or its inhabitants which are not specifically required by State law (including the cost of any necessary insurance to protect the property of such fund or any of its facilities)."

1964. Act Aug. 19, 1964 (effective as provided by § 3(c) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), substituted the text of this section for text which read:

"(a) The Administrator shall pay each State at the per diem rate of $2.50 per diem for each veteran of any war cared for in a State home (whether or not he is receiving hospitalization or domiciliary care therein) in such State who is eligible for such care in a Veterans' Administration facility; however, such payment shall not be more, in any case, than one-half of the cost of such veteran's maintenance in such State home.

"(b) The amount payable on account of any State home pursuant to subsection (a) for any veteran cared for therein shall be reduced--

"(1) by one-half of any amounts retained by such home from any payments of pension or compensation made to such veteran; and

"(2) unless the widows or wives of veterans of any war are admitted and maintained in such State home, by any other amounts collected in any manner from such veteran to be used for the support of such State home.

No reduction shall be made under this subsection by reason of the retention or collection by a State home of any amounts from the estate of a deceased veteran if such amounts are placed in a post fund or other special fund and used for the benefit of the State home or its inhabitants in providing--

"(A) educational, recreational, or entertainment facilities or activities;
"(B) operation of post exchanges; or

"(C) other activities or facilities for the benefit of the home or its inhabitants which are not specifically required by State law (including the cost of any necessary insurance to protect the property of such fund or any of its facilities).

"(c) No amounts shall be paid on account of any State home under this section if a bar or canteen is maintained therein where intoxicating liquors are sold.."

1968. Act July 26, 1968, substituted the text of this section for text which read: "The Administrator shall pay each State at the per diem rate of $2.50 for each veteran of any war receiving hospitalization or domiciliary care in a State home in such State if the veteran is eligible for hospitalization or domiciliary care in a Veterans' Administration facility, and at the per diem rate of $3.50 for each veteran of any war receiving nursing home care in a State home in such State, if such veteran meets the requirements of paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of section 610(a) of this title, except that the requirement in clause (B) of such paragraph (1) shall, for this purpose, refer to the inability to defray the expenses of necessary nursing home care; however, such payment shall not be more, in any case, than one-half of the cost of the veteran's maintenance in such State home."

1969. Act Dec. 30, 1969, substituted the text of this section for text which read: "The Administrator shall pay each State at the per diem rate of--

  "(1) $3.50 for hospital or domiciliary care, and

  "(2) $5.00 for nursing home care, for each veteran of any war receiving such care in a State home, if, in the case of such a veteran receiving domiciliary or hospital care, such veteran is eligible for such care in a Veterans' Administration facility, or if, in the case of such a veteran receiving nursing home care, such veteran meets the requirements of paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of section 610(a) of this title, except that the requirements of clause (B) of such paragraph (1) shall for this purpose refer to the inability to defray the expenses of necessary nursing home care; however, in no case shall the payments made with respect to any veteran under this section exceed one-half of the cost of the veteran's care in such State home."

1973. Act Aug. 2, 1973 (effective 9/1/73, as provided by § 501 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1701 note) , in para. (1), substituted "$4.50" for "$3.50"; in para. (2), substituted "$6" for "$5"; in para. (3), substituted "$10" for "$7.50"; in the concluding matter, inserted "or of service after January 31, 1955".

1976. Act Sept. 21, 1976, substituted the text of this section for text which read: "The Administrator shall pay each State at the per diem rate of--

  "(1) $4.50 for hospital or domiciliary care,

  "(2) $6.00 for nursing home care, and

for each veteran of any war or of service after January 31, 1955 receiving such care in a State home, if, in the case of such a veteran receiving domiciliary or hospital care, such veteran is eligible for such care in a Veterans' Administration facility, or if, in the case of such a veteran receiving nursing home care, such veteran meets the requirements of paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of section 610(a) of this title, except that the requirements of clause (B) of such paragraph (1) shall for this purpose refer to the inability to defray the expenses of necessary nursing home care; however, in no case shall the payments made with respect to any veteran under this section exceed one-half of the cost of the veteran's care in such State home.".
Act Oct. 21, 1976 (effective 10/21/76, as provided by § 211 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 111 note), purported to delete "of any war or of service after January 31, 1955"; however, the phrase had previously been deleted in the general amendment of this section by Act Sept. 21, 1976, effective Oct. 1, 1976.

1979. Act Dec. 20, 1979 (effective as provided by § 101(b)(2) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (a), in para. (1), substituted "$6.35" for "$5.50", in para. (2), substituted "$12.10" for "$10.50", in para. (3), substituted "$13.25" for "$11.50".

1983. Act Nov. 21, 1983 (effective 4/1/84, as provided by § 105(b) of such Act), in subsec. (a), in para (1), substituted "$7.30" for "$6.35", in para. (2) substituted "$17.05" for "$12.10", and, in para. (3), substituted "$15.25" for "$13.25"; and added subsec. (c).

1988. Act May 20, 1988 (effective 1/1/88 as provided by § 134(b)(1) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (a), substituted paras. (1) and (2) for former paras. (1)-(3) which read:

"(1) $7.30 for domiciliary care,

"(2) $17.05 for nursing home care, and

"(3) $15.25 for hospital care,".

Such Act further (effective 10/1/88 as provided by § 134(b)(2) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section) added subsec. (d).

1991. Act Aug. 6, 1991, redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 641, as 38 USCS § 1741, amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101), and substituted "Department" for "Veterans' Administration" and "Secretary" for "Administrator".

1995. Act Dec. 21, 1995 repealed subsec. (c), which read: "The Secretary shall submit every three years to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report on the adequacy of the rates provided in subsection (a) of this section in light of projections over each of the following five years of the demand on the Department for the provision of nursing home care to veterans eligible for such care under this section and sections 1710 and 1720 of this title. The first such report shall be submitted not later than June 30, 1986."); and redesignated subsecs. (d) and (e) as subsecs. (c) and (d), respectively.

1996. Act Oct. 9, 1996, in subsec. (a), designated the existing text as para. (1), and, in such paragraph as so designated, redesignated paras. (1) and (2) as subparas. (A) and (B), and added para. (2).

1999. Act Nov. 30, 1999 (effective on enactment as provided by § 101(h)(1) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1710B note), in subsec. (a)(2), substituted "extended care services described in any of paragraphs (4) through (6) of section 1710B(a) of this title under a program administered by a State home" for "adult day health care in a State home".

Other provisions:

(b) Eligible recipients. Payments to a State for a fiscal year under this section shall, subject to submission of an application, be made to any State that during that fiscal year-
(1) receives per diem payments under this subchapter for that fiscal year; and
(2) has in effect an employee incentive scholarship program or other employee incentive program at a State home designed to promote the hiring and retention of nursing staff and to reduce nursing shortages at that home.

(c) Use of funds received. A State may use an amount received under this section only to provide funds for a program described in subsection (b)(2). Any program shall

(d) Limitations on amount of payment.

(1) A payment under this section may not be used to provide more than 50 percent of the costs for a fiscal year of the employee incentive scholarship or other employee incentive program for which the payment is made.

(2) The amount of the payment to a State under this section for any fiscal year is, for each State home in that State with a program described in subsection (b)(2), the amount equal to 2 percent of the amount of payments estimated to be made to that State, for that State home, under section 1741 of this title [38 USCS § 1741] for that fiscal year.

(e) Applications. A payment under this section for any fiscal year with respect to any State home may only be made based upon an application submitted by the State seeking the payment with respect to that State home. (h) Use of certain receipts. The Secretary shall require as a condition of any payment under this section that, in any case in which the State home receives a refund payment made by an employee in breach of the terms of an agreement for employee assistance that used funds provided under this section, the payment shall be returned to the State home's incentive program account and credited as a non-Federal funding source.

(i) Annual report from payment recipients. Any State home receiving a payment under this section for any fiscal year, shall, as a condition of the payment, be required to agree to provide to the Secretary a report setting forth in detail the use of funds received through the payment, including a descriptive analysis of how effective the incentive program has been on nurse staffing in the State home during that fiscal year. The report for any fiscal year shall be provided to the Secretary within 60 days of the close of the fiscal year and shall be subject to audit by the Secretary. Eligibility for a payment under this section for any later fiscal year is contingent upon the receipt by the Secretary of the annual report under this subsection for the previous fiscal year in accordance with this subsection.

In cases in which Department medical facilities are equipped to provide the care and treatment, the Secretary is also authorized to carry out such purposes through the use of such facilities not being utilized for the care of eligible veterans. A dependent or survivor receiving care under the preceding sentence shall be eligible for the same medical services as a veteran, including services under sections 1782 and 1783 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1782 and 1783].

(d) (1) (A) An individual otherwise eligible for medical care under this section who is also entitled to hospital insurance benefits under part A of the medicare program [42 USCS §§ 1395c et seq.] is eligible for medical care under this section only if the individual is also enrolled in the supplementary medical insurance program under part B of the medicare program [42 USCS §§ 1395j et seq.].

(B) The limitation in subparagraph (A) does not apply to an individual who--
(i) has attained 65 years of age as of June 5, 2001; and

(i) the amount payable for such medical care under the medicare program; and
(ii) the total amount paid or payable for such medical care by third party payers other than the medicare program.

(3) The amount payable under this subsection for medical care may not exceed the total amount that would be paid under subsection (b) if payment for such medical care were made solely under subsection (b).

(4) In this subsection:
(A) The term "medicare program" means the program of health insurance administered by the Secretary of Health and Human Services under title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.).
(B) The term "third party" has the meaning given that term in section 1729(i)(3) of this title [38 USCS § 1729(i)(3)].
