Effective date for veteran's award of service connection for mitochondrial myopathy manifested by disabilities in other than lower extremities was not earlier than date he was hospitalized for muscle pain and weakness in all muscle groups, even though it was not until for years later that analysis of appellant's second muscle biopsy resulted in actual diagnosis of mitochondrial myopathy, since earlier rating decision was not product of clear and unmistakable error; appellant suffered from ailment that was apparently obscure in nature and difficult to diagnose. Williams v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 447

Board of Veterans' Appeals did not err in concluding claimant was not entitled to effective date earlier than March 30, 1993 pursuant to 38 USCS § 5110 where March 30, 1993 was date claimant filed formal application for pension and compensation benefits; even though medical evidence did exist that anxiety disorder was related to service-connected gastric disorder prior to the revisions and terms and conditions of the Matthew Bender Master Agreement.
March 30, 1993, effective date of award of service connection is not based on date of earliest medical evidence demonstrating causal connection, and mere receipt of medical records cannot be construed as informal claim; although filed application for secondary service connection of mental disorder relating to service-connected gastric condition in 1964, 1964 date cannot serve as effective date since regional office determined anxiety disorder was non-service-connected condition, claimant did not appeal and determination became final, and claimant has not alleged clear and unmistakable error; and although 1967 Social Security Administration report indicated nervous condition was probably related to stomach condition, report was not submitted to VA until February 1994. Lalonde v West (1999) 12 Vet App 377, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 313

There is plausible basis in record for Board's determination of effective date of September 1, 1967 pursuant to 38 USCS § 5110(a) where claim for dependency and indemnity compensation was not filed until 1973, veteran died July 14, 1961, and effective date granted was date applicant filed claim for Social Security Administration benefits Schoolman v West (1999) 12 Vet App 307, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 148

While 38 USCS § 5110(b)(1) allows for compensation back to date of discharge if application is filed within one year of discharge, it does not require that 100 percent rating ultimately awarded must be retroactive if rating level does not accord with facts found Meeks v West (1999) 12 Vet App 352, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 243, affd (2000, CA FC) 216 F.3d 1363

Board of Veterans' Appeals was required to make findings as to date entitlement arose, 38 USCS § 5110(a), and earliest date as of which it is factually ascertainable that increase in disability had occurred if application or claim had been received within one year after such date, 38 USCS § 5110(b)(2), 38 C.F.R. § 3.400(o)(2). Thomas v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 197, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 485

Regardless of whether Secretary of Veterans Affairs complied with requirements of 38 USCS § 7722 to provide benefits information and assistance to veteran, § 7722 did not provide any basis for equitably tolling statutorily mandated and unequivocal period for filing claims for benefits under 38 USCS § 5110(b)(1). Andrews v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 309, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 677, affd (2003, CA FC) 351 F.3d 1134

Any authority of Secretary of Veterans Affairs to provide equitable relief under 38 USCS § 503 was not subject to judicial review, and thus, authority under § 503 did not extend to court nor permit court to apply equitable tolling of statutorily mandated and unequivocal period for filing claims for benefits under 38 USCS § 5110(b)(1). cxlvii Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) Notwithstanding section 5110 of this title [38 USCS § 5110] or any other provision of law and except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, payment of monetary benefits based on an award or an increased award of compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, or pension may not be made to an individual for any period before the first day of the calendar month following the month in which the award or increased award became effective as provided under section 5110 of this title [38 USCS § 5110] or such other provision of law.

(b) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subsection, during the period between the effective date of an award or increased award as provided under section 5110 of this title [38 USCS § 5110] or other provision of law and the commencement of the period of payment based on such award as provided under subsection (a) of this section, an individual entitled to receive monetary benefits shall be deemed to be in receipt of such benefits for the purpose of all laws administered by the Secretary.
(2) If any person who is in receipt of retired or retirement pay would also be eligible to receive compensation or pension upon the filing of a waiver of such pay in accordance with section 5305 of this title [38 USCS § 5305], such waiver shall not become effective until the first day of the month following the month in which such waiver is filed, and nothing in this section shall prohibit the receipt of retired or retirement pay for any period before such effective date.

(c) (1) This section shall apply to payments made pursuant to section 5310 of this title [38 USCS § 5310] only if the monthly amount of dependency and indemnity compensation or pension payable to the surviving spouse is greater than the amount of compensation or pension the veteran would have received, but for such veteran's death, for the month in which such veteran's death occurred.

(2) In the case of a temporary increase in compensation for hospitalization or treatment where such hospitalization or treatment commences and terminates within the same calendar month, the period of payment shall commence on the first day of such month.

(d) For the purposes of this section, the term "award or increased award" means--

(1) an original or reopened award; or

(2) an award that is increased because of an added dependent, increase in disability or disability rating, or reduction in income.

1. Generally

Survivors may not pursue disability compensation claims of veteran, even as heirs to veteran's estate since veteran's entitlement to payment of disability compensation termination on last day of month preceding veteran's death. Haines v West (1998, CA FC) 154 F.3d 1298, cert den (1999) 526 US 1016, 143 L Ed 2d 347, 119 S Ct 1249 and (criticized in Terry v Principi (2004, CA FC) 367 F.3d 1291

Veteran's claim for compensation under 38 USCS § 1110 was extinguished by his death, notwithstanding CVA's procedural rules expressly allowing substitution; issue of substitution is separate from standing, allowing derivative actions to proceed after death of veteran-claimant would render section 5112's express termination of payment of disability compensation virtually meaningless, and Congress established in section 5121 singular exception to this rule in form of wholly separate procedure for designated survivors to recover limited amounts of disability benefits due and unpaid at veteran's death. Richard ex rel. Richard v West (1998, CA FC) 161 F.3d 719 (criticized in Terry v Principi (2004, CA FC) 367 F.3d 1291)

Date of last payment is discontinuance or ending date for awards based upon either erroneous action or erroneous or improper application of law or administrative instructions. 1943 ADVA 544

Proper date of reduction or discontinuance for erroneous payment due to mistake of fact is commencing date of erroneous payment under 38 USCS § 3012 [now 38 USCS § 5112], and for erroneous payment due to mistake of law, proper date of reduction or discontinuance is date of last payment. 1961 ADVA 975

2. Remarriage

Widow, otherwise eligible, of veteran who died after June 28, 1934 was entitled to benefits under former 38 USCS 503-507 only if proper claim was filed by her before her remarriage, and such remarriage terminated right to payment as of day before remarriage. 1936 ADVA 372

Even if appellant had actually reported her remarriage to VA, it did not absolve her of responsibility of reading regulations that were included in her initial DIC package nor did it validate cashing checks subsequently sent to her. Jordan v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 171

§ 5113. Effective dates of educational benefits

cxlix Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), effective dates relating to awards under chapters 30, 31, 32, 34, and 35 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3001 et seq., 3100 et seq., 3201 et seq., 3451 et seq., and 3500 et seq.] or chapter 106 of title 10 [10 USCS §§ 2131 et seq.]
shall, to the extent feasible, correspond to effective dates relating to awards of disability compensation.

(b) (1) When determining the effective date of an award under chapter 35 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3500 et seq.] for an individual described in paragraph (2) based on an original claim, the Secretary may consider the individual's application as having been filed on the eligibility date of the individual if that eligibility date is more than one year before the date of the initial rating decision.

(2) An individual referred to in paragraph (1) is an eligible person who--

(A) submits to the Secretary an original application for educational assistance under chapter 35 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3500 et seq.] within one year of the date that the Secretary makes the rating decision;

(B) claims such educational assistance for pursuit of an approved program of education during a period preceding the one-year period ending on the date on which the application was received by the Secretary; and

(C) would have been entitled to such educational assistance for such course pursuit if the individual had submitted such an application on the individual's eligibility date.

(3) In this subsection:

(A) The term "eligibility date" means the date on which an individual becomes an eligible person.

(B) The term "eligible person" has the meaning given that term under section 3501(a)(1) of this title [38 USCS § 3501(a)(1)] under subparagraph (A)(i), (A)(ii), (B), or (D) of such section by reason of either (i) the service-connected death or (ii) service-connected total disability permanent in nature of the veteran from whom such eligibility is derived.

(C) The term "initial rating decision" means with respect to an eligible person a decision made by the Secretary that establishes (i) service connection for such veteran's death or (ii) the existence of such veteran's service-connected total disability permanent in nature, as the case may be.

(c) The effective date of an adjustment of benefits under any chapter referred to in subsection (a) of this section, if made on the basis of a certification made by the veteran or person and accepted by the Secretary under section 3680(g) of this title [38 USCS § 3680(g)], shall be the date of the change.

Amendments:

1966. Act March 3, 1966 (effective 3/3/66, as provided by § 12(a) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 3451 note), substituted "34" for "33".

1989. Act Dec. 18, 1989 substituted "(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, effective for "Effective"; and added subsec. (b).

Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 3013, as 38 USCS § 5113.

Act Aug. 6, 1991 amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101).
2000. Act Nov. 1, 2000 (applicable as provided by § 113(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (a), substituted "subsections (b) and (c)" for "subsection (b) of this section", redesignated subsec. (b) as subsec. (c), and added new subsec. (b).

Other provisions:

Applicability of Nov. 1, 2000 amendments. Act Nov. 1, 2000, P. L. 106-419, Title I, Subtitle B, § 113(b), 114 Stat. 1832, provides:

"The amendments made by subsection (a) [amending this section] shall apply to applications first made under section 3513 of title 38, United States Code, that--"

"(1) are received on or after the date of the enactment of this Act; or"

"(2) on the date of the enactment of this Act, are pending (A) with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, or (B) exhaustion of available administrative and judicial remedies.".

SUBCHAPTER III. PAYMENT OF BENEFITS

§ 5120. Payment of benefits; delivery
§ 5121. Payment of certain accrued benefits upon death of [a] beneficiary § 5122. Cancellation of checks mailed to deceased payees
§ 5123. Rounding down of pension rates

§ 5125. Acceptance of reports of private physician examinations
§ 5126. Benefits not to be denied based on lack of mailing address
[§§ 5201-5228. Transferred]

§ 5120. Payment of benefits; delivery

(a) Monetary benefits under laws administered by the Secretary shall be paid by checks drawn, pursuant to certification by the Secretary, in such form as to protect the United States against loss, and payable by the Treasurer of the United States. Such checks shall be payable without separate vouchers or receipts except in any case in which the Secretary may consider a voucher necessary for the protection of the Government. Such checks shall be transmitted by mail to the payee thereof at the payee's last known address and, if the payee has moved and filed a regular change of address notice with the United States Postal Service, shall be forwarded to the payee. The envelope or cover of each such check shall bear on the face thereof the following notice: "POSTMASTER: PLEASE FORWARD if addressee has moved and filed a regular change-of-address notice. If addressee is deceased, return the letter with date of death, if known."

(b) Postmasters, delivery clerks, letter carriers, and all other postal employees are prohibited from delivering any mail addressed by the United States and containing any such check to any person whomsoever if such person has died or in the case of a surviving spouse, if the postal employee believes that surviving spouse has remarried (unless the mail is addressed to the surviving spouse in the name surviving spouse has acquired by the remarriage). The preceding sentence shall apply in the case of checks in payment of benefits other than pension, compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, and insurance, only insofar as the Secretary deems it necessary to protect the United States against loss.

(c) Whenever mail is not delivered because of the prohibition of subsection (b), such mail shall be returned forthwith by the postmaster with a statement of the reason for so doing, and if because of death or remarriage, the date thereof, if known. Checks returned under this subsection because of death or remarriage shall be canceled.

(d) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, pursuant to an agreement with the Department of the Treasury under which the Secretary certifies such benefits for payment, monetary benefits under laws administered by the Secretary may be paid other than by check upon the written request of the person to whom such benefits are to be paid, if such noncheck payment is determined by the Secretary to be in the best interest of such payees and the management of monetary benefits programs by the Department.

(e) Whenever the first day of any calendar month falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal public holiday (as defined in section 6103 of title 5 [5 USCS § 6103]), the Secretary shall, to the maximum extent practicable, certify benefit payments for such month in such a way that such payments will be delivered by mail, or transmitted for credit to the payee's account pursuant to subsection (d) of this section, on the Friday immediately preceding such Saturday or Sunday, or in the case of a legal holiday, the weekday (other than Saturday) immediately preceding such legal public holiday, notwithstanding that such delivery or transmission of such payments is made in the same calendar month for which such payments are issued.

(f) (1) In the case of a payee who does not have a mailing address, payments of monetary benefits under laws administered by the Secretary shall be delivered under an appropriate method prescribed pursuant to paragraph (2) of this subsection.

   (2) The Secretary shall prescribe an appropriate method or methods for the delivery of payments of monetary benefits under laws administered by the Secretary in cases described in paragraph (1) of this subsection. To the maximum extent practicable, such method or methods shall be designed to ensure the delivery of payments in such cases.

Amendments:

1977. Act Oct. 3, 1977 substituted the section heading for one which read: "Payment of benefits by check; delivery"; and added subssecs. (d) and (e).

1986. Act Oct. 27, 1986 (effective with respect to payments made on or after 10/1/86, as provided by § 11007(b)(2), which appears as a note to this section) added subsec. (f).

Act Oct. 28, 1986, in subsec. (a), substituted "the payee's" for "his", "the payee" for "he", and "the payee" for "him" respectively; in subsec. (b) substituted "such person" for "he", "surviving... spouse" for "widow" following "of a", "surviving spouse" for "she" following "that" and "name", "the" for "her" following "acquired by", and substituted "to the surviving spouse" for "to her".

1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 3020, as 38 USCS § 5120.

Act Aug. 6, 1991, substituted "administered by the Secretary" for "administered by the Veteran's Administration" wherever appearing, substituted "Department" for "Veteran's Administration" wherever appearing, and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" wherever appearing.

Other provisions:

Effective date and application of Act Oct. 27, 1986. Act Oct. 27, 1986, P. L. 99-570, Title XI, Subtitle C, § 11007(b)(2), 100 Stat. 3207-170, provides: "The amendment made by subsection (a)(2) [amending this section] shall take effect with respect to payments made on or after October 1, 1986.”.

(4) Upon the death of a child, to the surviving children of the veteran who are entitled to death compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, or death pension.

(5) Upon the death of a child claiming benefits under chapter 18 of this title [38
USCS §§ 1801 et seq.], to the surviving parents.

(6) In all other cases, only so much of the accrued benefits may be paid as may be necessary to reimburse the person who bore the expense of last sickness and burial.

(b) No part of any accrued benefits shall be used to reimburse any political subdivision of the United States for expenses incurred in the last sickness or burial of any beneficiary.

(c) Applications for accrued benefits must be filed within one year after the date of death.
If a claimant's application is incomplete at the time it is originally submitted, the Secretary shall notify the claimant of the evidence necessary to complete the application.
If such evidence is not received within one year from the date of such notification, no accrued benefits may be paid.

1972. Act June 30, 1972 (effective on the first day of the second calendar month which begins after 6/30/72, as provided by § 301(a) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1114 note), in subsec. (a), introductory matter, deleted "section 3203(a)(2)(A) of this title and"

"sections 123-128 of title 31".

(b)(2)(A)-(C) substituted "The veteran's" for "His".

1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 3021, as 38 USCS §
5121, and amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by §§ 401(a)(4) and 402(b) of such Act (see Table II preceding 38 USCS § 101).

Act Aug. 6, 1991, substituted "administered by the Secretary" for "administered by the Veterans' Administration" wherever appearing, and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" wherever appearing.
1996. Act Oct. 9, 1996, in subsec. (a), in the introductory matter, substituted "two years" for "one year".

2003. Act Dec. 16, 2003 (applicable with respect to deaths occurring on or after 12/16/2003, as provided by § 104(d) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. Veteran's claim for compensation under 38 USCS § 1110 was extinguished by his death, notwithstanding CVA's procedural rules expressly allowing substitution; issue of substitution is separate from standing, allowing derivative actions to proceed after death of veteran-claimant would render section 5112's express termination of payment of disability compensation virtually meaningless, and Congress established in section 5121 singular exception to this rule in form of wholly separate procedure for designated survivors to recover limited amounts of disability benefits due and unpaid at veteran's death. Richard ex rel. Richard v West (1998, CA FC) 161 F.3d 719 (criticized in Terry v Principi (2004, CA FC) 367 F.3d 1291)

2. Construction

Clear and unambiguous language of 38 USCS § 5121(a) only limits survivor's recovery of accrued veteran's benefits to maximum two-year period of benefits accrued at any time during veteran's life; therefore, decision denying recovery of appellant's deceased spouse's accrued benefits was reversed and remanded. Terry v Principi (2004, CA FC) 367 F.3d 1291

Term "accrued pensions" meant amount of money unpaid on pensioner's valid claim at time of his death. (1887) 19 Op Atty Gen 1

Pension money was not "accrued" after it had been paid to pensioner's guardian and had been turned over by such guardian to administrator of deceased pensioner. Appanoose County v Carson (1930) 210 Iowa 801, 229 NW 152

Although deceased veteran's retroactive benefits were paid in lump sum, award constituted accrued benefits under 38 USCS § 5121(a); retroactive award was for disability compensation benefits and special monthly compensation benefits, both of which were periodic payments, and award was due and unpaid at time of veteran's death even though funds were transferred to veteran's account six days after veteran's death. Wilkes v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 237, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 587

38 USCS § 5121(a) provides for payment of (1) periodic monetary benefits to which individual was entitled at death under existing ratings or decisions; or (2) periodic monetary benefits based on evidence in file at date of entitled individual's death and due and unpaid for period not to exceed two years, which are called "accrued benefits" for purposes of 38 USCS §§ 5121 and 5122. Bonny v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 504, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 944

Widow of veteran was entitled to receive disability benefits awarded but unpaid, i.e., full amount of periodic monetary benefits to which her deceased husband, veteran, was entitled at death, and not simply benefits that had accrued to veteran but remained unpaid at this death, because "accrued benefits," as referenced in 38 USCS § 5121, were statutorily defined subset of "periodic monetary benefits," and important distinction between two types of periodic monetary benefits was that one type of benefit was due to be paid to veteran at his death and one type was not; as to former, when benefits had been awarded but not paid pre-death, eligible survivor was to receive entire amount of award and thus right to receive entire amount of periodic monetary benefits that was awarded to eligible individual shifted to eligible survivor when payment of award was not made before eligible individual died. Bonny v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 504, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 944

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims (Court) rejected argument by widow of veteran that 38 USCS § 5121 did not specifically limit that two-year period to two years immediately preceding death of veteran because Court had previously interpreted two-year period under 38 USCS § 5121 as two years immediately preceding veteran's death. Sharp v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 431, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 14, affd in part and vacated in part, remanded (2005, CA FC) 403 F.3d 1324

3. Establishment of right to benefits

Death benefits accrued under former 38 USC § 503 were not payable since evidence in file at date of death did not establish entitlement of claimant. 1944 ADVA 551
Presence in Administration [now Department] files of notarized copy of public record of marriage which constituted prima facie establishment of marital status when considered in light of decisions of court of state in which marriage was performed and of which parties were residents qualified veteran for pension rate payable to married man based on evidence in file at date of death. 1944 ADVA 601

Denial of accrued benefits on hypothesis that veteran had not filed valid claim during his life was fundamentally flawed since claim at issue was that filed by veteran's wife, and statute only requires that claim be filed within one year of veteran's death, which it was. Hayes v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 353

Veteran's surviving spouse was entitled to one year of accrued benefits due veteran at time of his death where evidence in veteran's claim file included 26 high blood pressure readings from 1943 hospitalization. Satchel v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 258

Nephew of deceased veteran was not eligible to receive veteran's accrued benefits since nephew did not fall within specifically enumerated category of recipients under 39 USCS § 5121(a)(2) because he was not child, spouse, or dependent parent of veteran. 4. Pension rights of children

Where applicant died while his pension claim was pending, leaving daughter under 16 and widow, and after daughter became 16, mother died and pension was later allowed, daughter was entitled to accrued pension. (1881) 17 Op Atty Gen 190

Children of deceased pensioner had no rights or interest in pension money as long as widowed mother lived. Jones v Porter (1895, Tex Civ App) 30 SW 1119

Veteran's son's claim for accrued benefits is predicated upon accrued-benefits application filed after veteran's death and since it could not have been filed prior to veteran's death on December 1, 1988, NOD could not have been filed prior to effective date of statute providing appeal to court. Laconti v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 550

BVA did not err in denying reimbursement to child of veteran for failure to make apply within one year of date of death. Caranto v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 516

Court lacked jurisdiction over attempt by alleged daughter to continue appeal of deceased claimant since there had been no VA determination as to whether petitioner met status requirements of accrued-benefits claimant under § 5121. Edmonds v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 159

There is no legal basis for 70 year-old appellant to be paid dependency and indemnity compensation pursuant to 38 USCS § 1310(a) or 38 USCS § 1318, or to be paid accrued benefits under 38 USCS § 5121(a), since 38 USC 101(4)(A) excludes from category of "child" anyone who is more than 23 years of age. Burris v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 348, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1498

5. Funeral and burial expenses

Statutes limiting attorneys' fees in application for pension did not apply to attorney for one claiming reimbursement for expenses of last sickness and burial of deceased pensioner. United States v Nicewonger (1884, DC Pa) 20 F 438
Proportionate share of death benefits to which veteran's illegitimate child was entitled during its lifetime was payable as reimbursement to person who bore expense of last illness and burial of child rather than to child of veteran living with his widow. 1945 ADVA 666

While expiration of time for filing claim by any person qualifying first on list of beneficiaries normally did not set up right of person next in line on list, such person, whether child or person who bore expenses of last sickness and burial, was eligible if claim was timely filed since widow otherwise first in line has disqualified herself by fraud. 1946 ADVA 712

Funeral and burial expenses of United States veteran incurred by foreign government and paid pursuant to legal obligation of such government were not subject to reimbursement either from statutory burial allowance or from accrued pension or compensation due and unpaid at death of veteran, but such payments were authorized if foreign government paid for funeral expenses from general funds not specifically authorized for such purposes. 1954 ADVA 937

6. Miscellaneous

Denial of widow's claim for accrued disability benefits was vacated and remanded because 38 USCS § § 5121(a) did not limit survivor's recovery of accrued benefits to those benefits accrued in two-year period immediately prior to veteran's death; such recovery could be awarded for any two-year period. Sharp v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 403 F.3d 1324

Issuing of certificate for arrears of pension did not create debt against government which survived to administrator. Donnelly's Case (1881) 17 Ct Cl 105

Veteran's widow was not entitled to receive automobile purchase assistance as accrued benefit to which veteran was entitled before his death, since record did not show that certificate of eligibility was ever issued or that veteran entered into sales agreement to purchase automobile between time his eligibility was established and his death; 38 USCS § 5121 accrued benefits are paid to veteran's surviving spouse, children, or dependent parent, or person who bore expense of last sickness and burial, while automobile purchase assistance payment is made to seller of automobile. Gillis v West (1998) 11 Vet App 441

Substitution by party claiming accrued benefits under § 5121 is not permissible where appellant is veteran who dies while denial by Board of veteran's disability claim is pending; this is to ensure that Board decision and underlying regional office decision will have no preclusive effect in adjudication of any accrued-benefit claims derived from veteran's entitlements. Kawad v West (1998) 12 Vet App 61

Although veteran was due retroactive special monthly compensation benefits from time of discharge in 1946 until error was rectified in 1980, since veteran was fully compensated during two years prior to death in 1992, there are no accrued benefits for veteran's daughter to claim pursuant to 38 USCS § 5121(a). Vetern's signed application for VA compensation or pension stating that he was married only once, to appellant, and providing her name and Social Security number, was evidence in file at veteran's death of claimant's marriage to veteran which, if found credible on remand, would support her claim for accrued benefits. A check received by a payee in payment of accrued benefits shall, if the payee died on or after the last day of the period covered by the check, be returned to the issuing office and canceled, unless negotiated by the payee or the duly appointed representative of the payee's estate. The amount represented by such check, or any amount recovered by reason of improper negotiation of any such check, shall be payable in the manner provided in section 5121 of this title [38 USCS § 5121], without regard to section 5121(c) of this title [38 USCS § 5121(c)]. § 5301. Nonassignability and exempt status of benefits

(a) (1) Payments of benefits due or to become due under any law administered by the Secretary shall not be assignable except to the extent specifically authorized by law, and such payments made to, or on account of, a beneficiary shall be exempt from taxation, shall be exempt from the claim of creditors, and shall not be liable to attachment, levy, or seizure by or under any legal or equitable process whatever, either before or after receipt by the beneficiary. The preceding sentence shall not apply to claims of the United States arising under such laws nor shall the exemption therein contained as to taxation extend to any property purchased in part or wholly out of such payments. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to prohibit the assignment of insurance otherwise authorized under chapter 19 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1901 et seq.], or of servicemen's indemnity.

(2) For the purposes of this subsection, in any case where a payee of an educational assistance allowance has designated the address of an attorney-in-fact as the payee's address for the purpose of receiving a benefit check and has also executed a power of attorney giving the attorney-in-fact authority to negotiate such benefit check, such action shall be deemed to be an assignment and is prohibited.

(3) (A) This paragraph is intended to clarify that, in any case where a beneficiary entitled to compensation, pension, or dependency and indemnity compensation enters into an agreement with another person under which agreement such other person acquires for consideration the right to receive such benefit by payment of such compensation, pension, or dependency and indemnity compensation, as the case may be, except as provided in subparagraph (B), and including deposit into a joint account from which such other person may make withdrawals, or otherwise, such agreement shall be deemed to be an assignment and is prohibited.

(B) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), nothing in this paragraph is intended to prohibit a loan involving a beneficiary under the terms of which the beneficiary may use the benefit to repay such other person as long as each of the periodic payments made to repay such other person is separately and voluntarily executed by the beneficiary or is made by preauthorized electronic funds transfer pursuant to the Electronic Funds Transfers Act (15 U.S.C. 1693 et seq.).

(C) Any agreement or arrangement for collateral for security for an agreement that is prohibited under subparagraph (A) is also prohibited and is void from its inception.

(b) This section shall prohibit the collection by setoff or otherwise out of any benefits payable pursuant to any law administered by the Secretary and relating to veterans, their estates, or their dependents, of any claim of the United States or any agency thereof against (1) any person other than the indebted beneficiary or the beneficiary's estate; or (2) any beneficiary or the beneficiary's estate except amounts due the United States by such beneficiary or the beneficiary's estate by reason of overpayments or illegal payments made under such laws to such beneficiary or the beneficiary's estate or to the beneficiary's dependents as such. If the benefits referred to in the preceding sentence are insurance payable by reason of yearly renewable term insurance, United States Government life insurance, or National Service Life Insurance issued by the United States, the exemption provided in this section shall not apply to indebtedness existing against the particular insurance contract upon the maturity of which the claim is based, whether such indebtedness is in the form of liens to secure unpaid premiums or loans, or interest on such premiums or loans, or indebtedness arising from overpayments of dividends, refunds, loans, or other insurance benefits.

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the Secretary may, after receiving a request under paragraph (2) of this subsection relating to a veteran, collect by offset of any compensation or pension payable to the veteran under laws administered by the Secretary the uncollected portion of the amount of any indebtedness associated with the veteran's participation in a plan prescribed in chapter 73 of title 10 [10 USCS §§ 1431 et seq.].

(2) If the Secretary concerned (as defined in section 101(5) of title 37 [37 USCS § 101(5)]) has tried under section 3711(a) of title 31 [31 USCS § 3711(a)] to collect an amount described in paragraph (1) of this subsection in the case of any veteran, has been unable to collect such amount, and has determined that the uncollected portion of such amount is not collectible from amounts payable by that Secretary to the veteran or that the veteran is not receiving any payment from that Secretary, that Secretary may request the Secretary to make collections in the case of such veteran as authorized in paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(3) (A) A collection authorized by paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be conducted in accordance with the procedures prescribed in section 3716 of title 31 [31 USCS § 3716] for administrative offset collections made after attempts to collect claims under section 3711(a) of such title [31 USCS § 3711(a)].

(B) For the purposes of subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, as used in the second sentence of section 3716(a) of title 31 [31 USCS § 3716(a)]--

(i) the term "records of the agency" shall be considered to refer to the records of the department of the Secretary concerned; and

(ii) the term "agency" in clauses (3) and (4) shall be considered to refer to such department.

(4) Funds collected under this subsection shall be credited to the Department of Defense Military Retirement Fund under chapter 74 of title 10 [10 USCS §§ 1461 et seq.] or to the Retired Pay Account of the Coast Guard, as appropriate.

(d) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, payments of benefits under laws administered by the Secretary shall not be exempt from levy under subchapter D of chapter 64 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. 6331 et seq.).

(e) In the case of a person who--

(1) has been determined to be eligible to receive pension or compensation under laws administered by the Secretary but for the receipt by such person of pay pursuant to any provision of law providing retired or retirement pay to members or former members of the Armed Forces or commissioned officers of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration or of the Public Health Service; and

(2) files a waiver of such pay in accordance with section 5305 of this title [38 USCS § 5305] in the amount of such pension or compensation before the end of the one-year period beginning on the date such person is notified by the Secretary of such person's eligibility for such pension or compensation.

the retired or retirement pay of such person shall be exempt from taxation, as provided in subsection (a) of this section, in an amount equal to the amount of pension or compensation which would have been paid to such person but for the receipt by such person of such pay.

2. Constitutionality
   Congress clearly has power to provide for exemption of servicemen's or veterans' benefits.

Act of Congress exempting veterans' benefits is not unconstitutional on ground that it enlarges exemption from creditors' claims to sum in excess of that fixed by state constitution. Purvis v Walls (1931) 184 Ark 887, 44 SW2d 353

Predecessor to 38 USCS § 5301, exempting veterans' benefits from taxation, was authorized by war power of Congress. 3. Purpose

Purpose of predecessor to 38 USCS § 5301 was to safeguard payments made to, or for benefit of, soldier and beneficiary. Pagel v Pagel (1934) 291 US 473, 78 L Ed 921, 54 S Ct 497

Purpose of 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301] is to protect not only recipient of benefits but also to afford some degree of security to recipient's family and dependents. Surplus v Remmele (1949) 194 Misc 1036, 87 NYS2d 651; State ex rel. Eastern State Hospital v Beard (1979, Okla) 600 P2d 324

38 USCS § 3101(a) [now 38 USCS § 5301(a)] was designed by Congress to place benefits beyond reach and anticipation of creditors by assignment and from seizure under process issued for collection of debts. Ex parte Johnson (1979, Tex Civ App Waco) 583 SW2d 660

4. Construction, generally

Legislation making benefits paid by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] exempt from taxation and creditors' claims should be liberally construed to protect funds granted by Congress for maintenance and support of beneficiaries of such legislation. Porter v Aetna Casualty & Surety Co. (1962) 370 US 159, 8 L Ed 2d 407, 82 S Ct 1231

Statute exempting veterans' benefits from claims of creditors must receive liberal interpretation. Yake v Yake (1936) 170 Md 75, 183 A 555; Hoerster v Johnson City State Bank (1933, Tex Civ App) 58 SW2d 142

Right of veterans to be exempt from creditor claims against benefits must be liberally construed to protect funds granted by Congress for maintenance and support of eligible veterans. American Training Services, Inc. v Veterans Admin. (1977, DC NJ) 434 F Supp 988

Statute does not constitute limitation on Secretary's obligation with regard to payment of attorney's fees from appellant's past due benefits; that payment to appellant and appellant's attorney are to be calculated in accordance with existing regulations. Aronson v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 162

5. Relationship with other laws, generally

42 USCS § 659 authorizes assignment of benefits, which would otherwise be not assignable, under 38 USCS § 3101(a) [now 38 USCS § 5301(a)]. Sturgell v Creasy (1981, CA6 Ohio) 640 F.2d 843

38 USCS § 5301(a) provides federal right that is enforceable under 42 USCS § 1983. Higgins v Beyer (2002, CA3 NJ) 293 F.3d 683

In determining institutionalized spouse's Medicaid eligibility, state's practice of "deeming" Social Security and Veterans' benefit income paid to institutionalized spouse as being available for community spouse did not violate "anti-attachment" provisions of Social Security Act, 42 USCS § 407(a), or Veterans Act, 38 USCS § 5301(a)(1), because mere fact that unhappy spouse could request fair hearing to review decisions in "deeming" process did not create any type of administrative or judicial mechanism bearing any resemblance to execution, levy, attachment, or garnishment such that availability of fair hearing did not constitute legal process. Bianconi v Preston (2005, DC Mass) 383 F Supp 2d 276

National Service Life Insurance is contract made in pursuance of federal law and must be construed with reference to 38 USCS § 717 and § 3101 [now § 5301], regulations promulgated thereunder, and decisions applicable thereto, rather than by laws and decisions governing private insurance companies. 6. -State laws

To extent New Jersey statute authorizes prison officials to deduct funds derived from prisoner's Veteran's Administration disability benefits check to pay fine assessed to compensate victims of violent crimes, it conflicts with purpose and objectives of Congress in enacting 38 USCS § 5301(a) and is void under Supremacy Clause. Higgins v Beyer (2002, CA3 NJ) 293 F.3d 683

38 USCS § 3101(a) [now 38 USCS § 5301(a)] was not intended to remove benefits from application of marital property laws of the several states, including community property laws of Texas. Ex parte Johnson (1979, Tex Civ App Waco) 583 SW2d 660

Although failure to include within 10 USCS § 1408(c)(1) disability payments received in accordance with waiver executed pursuant to 28 USCS § 3105 arguably leads to conclusion that Congress' intent was to preclude states from recognizing community interest in such payments, neither 38 USCS § 3101(a) [now 38 USCS § 5301(a)] prohibition against assignments of Veterans' benefits nor any other federal law directly or positively precludes application of Louisiana's community property law to disability payments received pursuant to 38 USCS § 3105 [now 38 USCS § 5305] election. Campbell v Campbell (1985, La App 2d Cir) 474 So 2d 1339, cert den (1985, La) 478 So 2d 148

II. ASSIGNMENT OF BENEFITS

A. In General

7. Application of prohibition

Prohibition against assignment has no application to proceeds of insurance after payment to beneficiary; contract by beneficiary agreeing to pay proceeds to another is enforceable against him. Bostrom v Bostrom (1931) 60 ND 792, 236 NW 732

Provisions of 38 USCS § 3101(a) [now 38 USCS § 5301(a)], both before and after 1976 amendment, prohibit arrangement whereby veteran has educational benefit check sent directly to educational institution which, upon previous power of attorney given by veteran, endorses check and deposits it to institution's account; even though Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] for some period of time recognized such activity, absent affirmative misconduct by agency or its officers, agency is not bound by statements of officials which may have indicated approval of such tuition funding arrangement. American Training Services, Inc. v Veterans Admin. (1977, DC NJ) 434 F Supp 988

38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301] does not apply in case of former wife seeking to recover alimony from her former husband. Mims v Mims (1983, Ala Civ App) 442 So 2d 102 (ovrld in part by Ex parte Billeck (2000, Ala) 777 So 2d 105, 24 EBC 2813)

Verbal promise by pension claimant to pay debt when he receives his pension, or out of his pension, is not such pledge, mortgage, assignment, transfer, or sale of pension claim as is forbidden. Crane v Linneus (1884) 77 Me 59

Agreement between widow of soldier of revolution, entitled to pension under Act of 1848, c. 120, and agent that latter was to receive certain part of pension money for his services in obtaining it was void, and money received under such agreement could be recovered by pensioner in action of assumpsit. Lien provision in fee agreement between veteran and counsel granting attorney lien on veteran's claim for benefits and any sum recovered is unreasonable and unenforceable under 38 USCS § 7263(d) because it conflicts with 38 USCS § 5301(a) and 38 USCS § 5904(d)(3). Busch v West (1999) 12 Vet App 552, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 950

8. Effect of purported assignment

Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] is precluded by 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301] from giving any effect to purported assignment of benefit payments, but Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] lacks authority to withhold benefit payment checks from beneficiaries merely because beneficiary has attempted to assign such benefits, and Administration [now Department] is required to mail such checks to payee’s last known address of record, regardless of disposition beneficiary may make of such payment. 1972 ADVA 993

B. Insurance

9. Generally

Congress has declared public policy of nation by enactment of 38 USCS § 717(a) [now § 1917(a)] and § 3101(a) [now § 5301(a)] and if veteran could contract to surrender his right to change beneficiary, or assign proceeds of National Service Life Insurance policy, and then be held liable in damages for breach of such contract, public policy would be frustrated. McJunkin v Estate of McJunkin (1973, Tex Civ App Dallas) 493 SW2d 278

Absent language restricting right to execute later changes in beneficiary designations, insured's motive for beneficiary designation change is not questionable as improper assignment. VA GCO 15-76

Provisions of 38 USCS §§ 717(a) [now § 1917(a)], 749 [now § 1949], and 3101 [now § 5301] guarantee decedent's absolute right to determine beneficiary of policy. Sessions v Sessions (1974, Okla App) 525 P2d 1269

10. Assignment by insured, generally

Agreement by insured with his mother that, in consideration of her advancing money for payment of premiums and other purposes, he would continue her as beneficiary under policy was in effect assignment of insurance. Von Der Lippi-Lipski v United States (1925) 55 App DC 202, 4 F.2d 168

Agreement whereby disabled veteran assigned share of his compensation to wife to whom he was married while mentally incompetent, which marriage was subsequently annulled, was void though incorporated in annulment decree. Yake v Yake (1936) 170 Md 75, 183 A 555

Where, two days before his death, insured executed change of beneficiary form designating his mother (whom at the time he owed $4000) as primary beneficiary and his brother as contingent beneficiary, and in "Remarks" section of form wrote: "This to take care of unpaid debts to the mother in case of her death the brother is to take care of all unpaid debts," such action does not constitute assignment or "in the nature of an assignment." Stafford v United States (1955, DC La) 128 F Supp 435

Community property settlement agreement, executed by father who agreed to name son as irrevocable beneficiary of National Service Life Insurance policy and to surrender right to change beneficiary of policy, was illegal and unenforceable and estate of father was not liable to son for damages for breach of contract after father changed beneficiary. McJunkin v Estate of McJunkin (1973, Tex Civ App Dallas) 493 SW2d 278

11. Under court order

Courts do not have jurisdiction to make an order regarding permanent change of beneficiary under a National Service Life Insurance policy. Reed v Reed (1971) 29 Colo App 199, 481 P2d 125

State court had no jurisdiction to enter judgment requiring irrevocable designation of beneficiary of any part of proceeds. Sessions v Sessions (1974, Okla App) 525 P2d 1269

12. Imposition of constructive trust

Imposition of constructive trust in proceeds of National Service Life Insurance policies, in which deceased's parents were designated beneficiaries, could not be established in favor of insured's children whom he had agreed to designate as beneficiaries in property settlement with his wife. Sehrt v Sehrt (1960, 1st Dist) 179 Cal App 2d 167, 3 Cal Rptr 555

To impress trust upon proceeds of National Service Life Insurance policy would result in an evasion of intent of Congress. Lefrak v Lefrak (1975, 2d Dept) 47 App Div 2d 912, 366 NYS2d 672

By the clear terms of 38 USCS § 717 [now § 1917] and § 3101 [now § 5301], one who was not designated as the beneficiary of a National Service Life Insurance policy at the time of insured's death, was precluded from recovering proceeds of such policy in suit initiated directly against the United States or against the designated beneficiary, including any attempt to impress a trust upon the proceeds in the hands of the beneficiary. Will of Hilton (1976) 88 Misc 2d 760, 388 NYS2d 985

Where decedent was insured under National Service Life Insurance and at time of divorce from plaintiff was ordered to make plaintiff beneficiary of balance due on alimony judgment until judgment was paid, but decedent later married defendant and made her beneficiary of policy, proceeds of policy were not subject to constructive trust in favor of former wife. Sessions v Sessions (1974, Okla App) 525 P2d 1269

III. EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION

13. Generally

Proceeds of government life insurance cannot be used by bank as trustee to collect amount of estate tax paid by bank as trustee from inter vivos trust fund in its hands as such proceeds are declared by statute to be immune from taxes. In re Roosevelt's Estate (1947) 191 Misc 840, 77 NYS2d 252

Proceeds of war risk insurance policy payable to insured's estate may be used by executor to pay delinquent taxes due from insured to United States government for previous years. In re Coleman's Estate (1936) 179 Okla 251, 65 P2d 467

14. Income taxes

Exemption from taxation of compensation and war risk insurance disability benefits to mentally incompetent veteran, conferred by predecessor to 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301] was not enlarged by fact that payment is made to his guardian. Trotter v Tennessee (1933) 290 US 354, 78 L Ed 358, 54 S Ct 138

Where guardian of veteran received warrants or checks of government in payment of adjusted compensation or insurance due ward, and he deposited them in bank which collected them and credited proceeds to veteran's account, such deposits were not subject to taxation by county and municipal authorities. Lawrence v Shaw (1937) 300 US 245, 81 L Ed 623, 57 S Ct 443, 108 ALR 1102

Amounts of retired pay received by master sergeant, retired from regular army of United States after thirty years of meritorious service, were properly included in his gross income, although taxpayer claimed that such retirement pay was exempt from taxation, where his retirement was solely pursuant to statutes relating generally to retired army personnel. Hoeppel v Westover (1948, SD Cal) 79 F Supp 794, 48-2 USTC ¶ 9418, 37 AFTR 367

Where pensioner was non compos mentis and his pension was being paid to his guardian, such pension was nontaxable. Manning v Spry (1903) 121 Iowa 191, 96 NW 873
Payment of pension or compensation to guardian does not leave money in control of government so as to be exempt from taxation. State ex rel. Smith v Board of Commrs (1931) 132 Kan 233, 294 P 915, cert den (1931) 283 US 855, 75 L Ed 1462, 51 S Ct 648

Exemption from taxation ceased as soon as money was paid to veteran, it not being then "payable", and payment to his guardian was payment to veteran and has same effect. Arcese v Commonwealth (1933) 160 Va 116, 168 SE 465

Plaintiff widow, survivor of military veteran, was granted tax refund relief for funds withheld from her Survivor Benefit Plan receipts for period of time for which she was retroactively entitled to Dependency and Indemnity Compensation benefits, which were nontaxable under 38 USCS § 5301 and were credited retroactively against withholding from taxable Survivor Benefit Plan payments pursuant to 10 USCS § 1450(c). Ebert v United States (2005) 66 Fed Cl 287, 2005-2 USTC ¶ 50495, 96 AFTR 2d 5163

15. Estate and inheritance taxes

Inasmuch as predecessor to 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301] relating to exemption from taxation of proceeds of war risk insurance did not purport to exempt such proceeds from death duties, veteran's contract with government under Act was not unconstitutionally impaired by inclusion of such proceeds in computing total amount of his insurance for purposes of Federal estate tax. United States Trust Co. v Helvering (1939) 307 US 57, 83 L Ed 1104, 59 S Ct 692, 39-1 USTC ¶ 9466, 22 AFTR 327

Adjusted service bonds were not such part of veteran's estate as would make them subject to state transfer inheritance tax; Congress directed payment of adjusted service bonds to estate of veteran, not as asset thereof, but merely for purpose of ascertaining veteran's next of kin, and expressly relieved bonds from taxation. In re Schmuckli's Estate (1941, Pa) 17 A2d 876

State inheritance tax was an excise tax on the succession to property at or by reason of death and was not a tax on property; accordingly, proceeds of National Service Life Insurance policy were subject to state inheritance tax. In re Estate of Super (1968) 428 Pa 476, 239 A2d 380

IV. EXEMPTION FROM CLAIMS OF CREDITORS AND PROCESS

Pensioner may use money in any manner he may see proper for his own benefit and to secure comfort of his family, free from attacks of creditors. Holmes v Tallada (1889) 125 Pa 133, 17 A 238

19. Construction, generally

Words "attachment, levy or seizure" are not to be construed so narrowly as to embrace only process in hands of officer for service. Mahar v McIntyre (1936, DC Mass) 16 F Supp 961

Award of alimony pendente lite is not "attachment, levy, or seizure" under 38 USCS § 3101(a) [now 38 USCS § 5301(a)], since award of alimony pendente lite is legal enforcement of marital duty rather than process for collection of debt. Collins v Collins (1984, La App 3d Cir) 458 So 2d 1008

Action by Commissioner of Public Assistance to recover amount of aid furnished defendant, on statutory ground that she had received $10,000 as beneficiary of war risk insurance policy, was not dismissible on ground that insurance received was exempt from claims of creditors, levy, and execution. King v Sturtevant (1954) 206 Misc 153, 134 NYS2d 605

Claims for support and care of minor children of incompetent veteran were not subject to exemption of veteran's benefits from claims of creditors, since obligation of father to support minor children was not debt within purview of exemption statute, such obligation growing out of parental status and public policy. Gaskins v Security-First Nat'l Bank (1939) 30 Cal App 2d 409, 86 P2d 681

Exemption does not extend to nonresident adult heirs of veteran as against claim for board and lodging furnished veteran. In re Cerello's Estate (1935) 155 Misc 709, 281 NYS 599

20. -Benefits

In an action by the named beneficiary under National Service Life Insurance policy for recovery of expenditures incurred in defending a claim to proceeds in the state court, the statutory exemption from seizure of proceeds under 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301] is not a "benefit" of the policy which the Government has the duty to protect, and the failure of the Government to protect such claim to the policy proceeds in the state courts does not violate any statutory or contractual duty to the beneficiary, the policy terms and statutory provisions advantageous to an insured and his beneficiaries being primarily intended to protect those individuals from inaction or wrongdoing by the agency charged with administering the NSLI Program. Smith v United States (1972, CA9 Wash) 460 F.2d 985

Dividends payable under NSLI policy were benefits payable by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], and exempt under predecessor to 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301]. Administrator's decision, Veterans Administration, No. 832, November 25, 1949

Proceeds of war risk insurance and allowances for military services were exempt, and levy and sale were enjoined. K. Mulford Co. (1935) 52 Ga App 674, 184 SE 396)

21. -Creditors

State institution was entitled to reimbursement out of veteran's exempt funds for care and maintenance of veteran in such institution, since state was not creditor within meaning of predecessor to 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301]. Savoid v District of Columbia (1961, App DC) 110 US App DC 39, 288 F.2d 851; In re Guardianship of Bemowski (1958) 3 Wis 2d 133, 88 NW2d 22

Divorced wife of veteran claiming payment of statutory dower in personalty out of funds in hands of his guardian received from United States government as compensation was not creditor, and fund was subject to appropriation in payment of her claim, notwithstanding fact that government had allotted her $30 per month out of veteran's disability compensation. Stone v Stone (1934) 188 Ark 622, 67 SW2d 189

State hospital asserting claim against insured's estate for maintenance of elderly beneficiary of NSLI policy was not creditor within meaning of 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301]. Cruce v Arkansas State Hospital (1966) 241 Ark 680, 409 SW2d 342

Claim of de facto guardian, made in guardianship proceedings, for expenditures on behalf of ward constituted charge arising during administration of ward's estate, rather than claim of creditor, and benefits paid by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] were not exempt from such claim. In re Guardianship of Giambastiani (1934) 1 Cal App 2d 639, 37 P2d 142

Guardian of incompetent veteran was not "creditor," and estate was not exempt from payment of compensation to guardian under order of court. Hines v McKenzie (1933) 216 Iowa 1388, 250 NW 687

Funds paid to war veteran as compensation were not exempt from demand for alimony, wife not being creditor. Hollis v Bryan (1932) 166 Miss 874, 143 So 687

Alimony due wife under decree of divorce, even where solely for support of child, did not render divorced wife a "creditor," and fact that Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] had made allotment from such compensation to child did not prevent seizure. In re Gardner (1936) 220 Wis 493, 264 NW 643

22. Duration of exemption

Fund is protected only while in course of transmission to pensioner, and when it has been paid to him it is liable to seizure. McIntosh v Aubrey (1902) 185 US 122, 46 L Ed 834, 22 S Ct 561

Under terms of 38 USCS § 3101 [now 38 USCS § 5301], exemption clearly applies to funds within terms of statute after payment thereof by government and after receipt thereof by veteran, his guardian, or other fiduciary. Hannah v Hannah (1940) 191 Ga 134, 11 SE2d 779; James v James (1942, Hardin Co) 69 Ohio App 485, 24 Ohio Ops 206, 37 Ohio L Abs 66, 44 NE2d 368

Although money derived from pension is protected by congressional enactment against demands of creditors of pensioner while it remains with pension office, or in hands of any officer or agent thereof, or is in course of transmission to such pensioner, after it reaches his hands, it becomes same as money derived from other sources. Sohl v Wainwright Trust Co. (1921) 76 Ind App 198, 130 NE 282

Exemption from creditors' claims is inapplicable to funds which have come into possession of veteran or his guardian. Department of Public Welfare use of Central State Hospital v Allen (1934) 255 Ky 301, 74 SW2d 329

Where debtor agreed to pay creditor his future monthly retirement and veterans disability payments in exchange for lump sum payment, agreement did not create express trust and agreement was subject to discharge because: (1) creditor's argument that agreement created purported trust failed because there was no trust res as rights to military retired pay and veterans' disability benefits were neither entitlements nor vested rights, (2) 37 USCS § 701(c) and 38 USCS § 5301(a)(1) restricted debtor's right to transfer benefits, and (3) creditor's reliance on Uniformed Services Former Spouses' Protection Act was misplaced because nothing in that statute suggested that Congress intended it to apply outside domestic relations context. Bowden v Structured Invs. Co., LLC (In re Bowden) (2004, BC WD Wash) 315 BR 903

24. Miscellaneous

V. COLLECTION OF CLAIMS OF UNITED STATES

39. Generally

Payments made to deceased veteran's wife as "dependent widowed mother," by reason of her son and daughter, stepchildren of veteran, could be set off against balance sought by widow as administratrix of her husband's estate, where children had been inmates in veteran's home and not members of soldier's household, but rule was otherwise as to payments made to daughter, and to mother as legal guardian of her son, there being no mutuality between claim and setoff as to such payments.  United States v Mroch (1937, CA6 Ohio) 88 F.2d 888

41. Loan guarantees

Proceeds paid pursuant to loan guaranty under former 38 USC §§ 694 et seq. and not recouped from property are recoverable from veteran's pension or insurance payments, unless Administrator [now Secretary] in his discretion determines that veteran was not at fault and that such recovery would defeat purposes of benefits otherwise payable or would be against equity or good conscience; but such payments are not recoverable from pension benefits payable to veteran's widow or dependents or from any insurance payable to beneficiary after his death. 1944 ADVA 607

Pension benefits payable to widow of serviceman killed in World War II for herself and minor children were subject to offset for amount paid pursuant to loan guaranteed under Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 (38 USCS §§ 1801 et seq.); however, benefits payable to or for minor

§ 5302. Waiver of recovery of claims by the United States

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual
(a) There shall be no recovery of payments (or any interest thereon) or overpayments (or any interest thereon) of any benefits under any of the laws administered by the Secretary whenever the Secretary determines that recovery would be against equity and good conscience, if an application for relief is made within 180 days from the date of notification of the indebtedness by the Secretary to the payee, or within such longer period as the Secretary determines is reasonable in a case in which the payee demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary that such notification was not actually received by such payee within a reasonable period after such date. The Secretary shall include in the notification to the payee a statement of the right of the payee to submit an application for a waiver under this subsection and a description of the procedures for submitting the application.

(b) With respect to any loan guaranteed, insured, or made under chapter 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.], the Secretary shall, except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, waive payment of an indebtedness to the Department by the veteran (as defined in sections 101, 3701, and 3702(a)(2)(C)(ii) of this title [38 USCS §§ 101, 3701, and 3702(a)(2)(C)(ii)]), or the veteran's spouse, following default and loss of the property, where the Secretary determines that collection of such indebtedness would be against equity and good conscience. An application for relief under this subsection must be made within one year after the date on which the veteran receives notice by certified mail with return receipt requested from the Secretary of the indebtedness. The Secretary shall include in the notification a statement of the right of the veteran to submit an application for a waiver under this subsection and a description of the procedures for submitting the application.

(c) The recovery of any payment or the collection of any indebtedness (or any interest thereon) may not be waived under this section if, in the Secretary's opinion, there exists in connection with the claim for such waiver an indication of fraud, misrepresentation or bad faith on the part of the person or persons having an interest in obtaining a waiver of such recovery or the collection of such indebtedness (or any interest thereon).

(d) No certifying or disbursing officer shall be liable for any amount paid to any person where the recovery of such amount is waived under subsection (a) or (b).

(e) Where the recovery of a payment or overpayment made from the National Service Life Insurance Fund or United States Government Life Insurance Fund is waived under this section, the fund from which the payment was made shall be reimbursed from the National Service Life Insurance appropriation or the military and naval insurance appropriation, as applicable.

indebtedness under 38 USCS § 5302 because: (1) waiver of overpayment was not claim for benefits under chapter 51 of title 38 of U.S. Code but, rather, application for waiver of overcompensation under chapter 53, and VCAA notice provisions of 38 USCS § 5103(a) did not apply to chapter 53; and (2) 38 USCS § 5302(a) contained notice provision specific to request for waiver of overpayment and specific notice provisions of 38 USCS § 5302(a) superceded general VCAA notice provisions. 2. Relationship to other laws

Veteran was required to reimburse government for erroneous overpayment of educational benefits by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] under 38 USCS § 1780 [now § 3680] where he received payment for period during which he completed no courses because of illness but failed to avail himself of right granted by § 1780(3) [now § 3680] to apply for waiver of indebtedness pursuant to § 3102 [now § 5302], since reimbursement requirement applied regardless of whether overpayment resulted from fault of veteran or not. United States v Kirby (1981, ND Ga) 522 F Supp 424

Upgraded discharge constituted new and material evidence not previously available under 38 USCS § 3010 [now 38 USCS § 5110], allowing application for waiver to be resubmitted notwithstanding that more than 2 years [now 180 days] had passed, although favorable decision could nonetheless be foreclosed if operation of 38 USCS § 3102(c) [now 38 USCS § 5302(c)] was invoked. VA GCO 10-79

3. Right to request waiver

Waiver of government's right to recover overpayments of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] could not be sought by administratrix of payee's estate under 38 USCS § 3102(a) [now 38 USCS § 5302(a)]; because administratrix was neither payee nor beneficiary of payments at issue; payee's failure before his death to seek waiver within statutory period made overpayment final. United States v Estate of Payne (1987, ED Tex) 654 F Supp 399, affd (1988, CA5 Tex) 836 F.2d 914

In denying widow's claim for waiver of recovery of overpayment of death pension benefits, BVA improperly relied on General Counsel's opinion that any sum collected by VA prior to amendment of waiver statute would impermissibly give statute retroactive effect; widow was entitled to benefit from any applicable provisions in changes in law. Franklin v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 190

4. Time for request for waiver

Application for waiver must be made within 2 years [now 180 days]; due process rights of recipient of educational benefits who was required to make reimbursement was not violated by recovery of overpayments where United States twice informed recipient that he had incurred overpayments and that he could seek waiver and where recipient failed to seek waiver within 2 year period. United States v Brandon (1986, CA4 NC) 781 F.2d 1051

Incarcerated veteran timely asserted claim for partial waiver where letter to regional office contesting reduction of monthly benefits payment and computation of amount of indebtedness arising from overpayments was filed within 180-day period under 38 USCS § 5302(a). Narron v West (1999) 13 Vet App 223, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1354

Decision by Board Veterans' Appeals that appellant had not timely filed request for waiver of overpayment pursuant to 38 USCS § 5302(a) is affirmed where, although appellant did not recall receiving notice of indebtedness, appellant did not dispute that request was filed well after 180 day period expired and did not present clear evidence to contrary that notice was properly mailed to her. McCullough v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 272, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1222

Request for waiver of overpayment of benefits was untimely filed under 38 USCS § 5302(a) after veteran's widow presumptively received notice of overpayment, and widow's alleged mental illness was not permissible ground for extending statutory period. 5. Grounds for waiver

Mortgagee was entitled to waiver of foreclosure deficiency under 38 USCS § 3102 [now 38 USCS § 5302], where he did not contest foreclosure of loan guaranteed by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] after state department of veterans affairs assured him he would have no personal liability for deficiency, because collection of deficiency would be contrary to equity and good conscience. United States v Church (1990, ND Ind) 736 F Supp 1494

Amounts paid pursuant to loan guaranty and not recouped from property pledged were recoverable from veteran's pension or insurance payments, unless Administrator [now Secretary] in his discretion determined that veteran was not at fault and that such recovery would defeat purposes of such benefits otherwise payable or would be inequitable. 1944 ADVA 607

Collection of debt secured by insurance contract out of moneys that became payable on account of such contract was not subject to waiver, but collection out of benefits other than proceeds of such insurance contract could be waived if recovery would defeat purpose of benefits otherwise authorized or would be against equity and good conscience. 1951 ADVA 875

Administration [now Department] was not authorized to grant general waiver of debt simply because of hardship and present inability of veteran to pay, and waiver authority where recovery would be against equity in good conscience did not give power to grant general waiver permanently negating opportunity of government to effect recovery while ignoring question of veteran's fault in creation of indebtedness or failing to consider general equitable principles; waiver was appropriate if veteran was not at fault and recovery of whole or part would either defeat purposes of veterans' benefits otherwise payable or be against equity and good conscience. 1951 ADVA 887

Board's Decision to grant partial rather than full wavier of loan deficiency was appropriate where debt was neither fault of veteran nor of VA, veteran was gainfully employed and able to meet his current financial obligations, even though he had three minor children and his wife was legally blind, and he owned three vehicles, although he was only one able to drive them, one of which was luxury item valued at $12,500. Stone v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 56

Board did not err in waiving half of debt since collection would not be against equity and good conscience because veteran was paying several other creditors each month and therefore should be able to make payments to government, although his psychiatric disability might have contributed to his home loan default. Green v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 570

Board's review of evidence and conclusion that veteran was partially at fault in creation of debt gave adequate reasons for denying waiver of $12,000 of debt and granting over $2,000 waiver. Nelson v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 298

Board's denial of waiver of recovery of overpayment of improved death pension benefits was erroneous where it contained no discussion whether claimant's uncontroverted evidence that four times she had indicated that she was not receiving that which she was receiving resulted in preclusion of waiver because of any indication of fraud, misrepresentation or bad faith, and where Board failed to discuss or provide reasons for not discussing all elements to be considered in determining whether recovery would be against equity and good conscience. Ridings v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 544

Veteran was not entitled to waiver of recovery of overpayment of disability pension benefits since he was guilty of fraud. Brown v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 40

BVA's decision to waive over $5,000 of veteran's total indebtedness but require repayment of some $4,000 was neither arbitrary, capricious, nor abuse of discretion where it found that appellant had defaulted on loan but that appellant, lender, and VA all shared some fault; appellant abandoned property and neglected his contractual responsibility to government, deterioration of appellant's neighborhood was neither his fault nor VA's, appellant substantially relied upon written assurances from holder of deed of trust that VA had accepted his deed in lieu of foreclosure and VA failed to perceive and rectify this confusion. Kaplan v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 116, app dismd (1996, CA FC) 1996 US App LEXIS 34808
6. Liability of certifying or disbursing officer

Provision of 38 USCS § 3102(d) [now 38 USCS § 5302(d)] immunizing certifying or disbursing officer from liability for any amount paid whenever Administrator [now Secretary] has waived claim against beneficiary does not serve to protect educational institution from such claims, but protects only agency employees; phrase "certifying officer" refers to individual employed by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] for certification purposes. Colorado v VA (1977, DC Colo) 430 F Supp 551, affd (1979, CA10 Colo) 602 F.2d 926, cert den (1980) 444 US 1014, 62 L Ed 2d 643, 100 S Ct 663

7. Judicial review

Under 38 USCS § 3102 [now 38 USCS § 5302], any determination by the Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] was final and not subject to review by federal district court. United States v Oxner (1964, ED Ark) 229 F Supp 58

Government suit to recover overpayments of educational benefits to veteran was not ripe for adjudication where there had been no second-level review of veteran's application for waiver under 38 USCS § 3102 [now 38 USCS § 5302], nor could government rely on theory that veteran failed to request appeal during one-year period of limitation, where it never informed veteran of adverse decision reached at first level of review. United States v Rowin (1982, WD NY) 550 F Supp 643 (superseded by statute as stated in Daniels v United States (2000, CA6 Ohio) 2000 US App LEXIS 1798)

Board did not err in finding that veteran's actions constituted fraud and accordingly denied waiver of recovery of overpayment of improved pension benefits, upon evidence that veteran completed and signed numerous false income statements over five years to effect that his wife was not employed. Farless v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 555

Although scope of review of waiver decisions under arbitrary and capricious standard is narrow and court may not substitute its judgment for that of agency, agency must examine relevant date and articulate satisfactory explanation for its action, including rational connection between facts found and choices made. Cullen v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 510

Appellant has not demonstrated that Board failed to articulate satisfactory explanation for its decision denying entitlement to waiver of recovery of overpayments pursuant to 38 USCS § 5302(a) where appellant has not pointed to any authority indicating VA had duty to notify veterans receiving compensation of enactment of 38 USCS § 5313, limiting compensation payments to incarcerated felons; although Board did not explicitly address appellant's contentions that criminal proceedings depleted his financial resources and that his expenses exceeded his income, Board's determination that appellant's "basic necessities" are provided for by correctional institution necessarily encompasses implicit determination that claimed expenditures were not for "basic necessities" and that inadequate funds for such expenditures would not lead to deprivation of "basic necessities; and Board's explanation for its finding of unjust enrichment was satisfactory. Bruce v Gober (2000) 13 Vet App 565, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 764, reconsideration gr, op withdrawn, remanded, motion den (2001) 15 Vet App 27, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 688

In request for waiver of indebtedness under 38 USCS § 5302, Board of Veterans' Appeals provided detailed analysis based on record in support of its conclusion that veteran acted in bad faith by willfully and intentionally not disclosing his and his spouse's total income and net-worth; he chose to withhold these material facts with full knowledge that pension rate was based on all income from all sources to himself and his spouse. § 5303. Certain bars to benefits

(a) The discharge or dismissal by reason of the sentence of a general court-martial of any person from the Armed Forces, or the discharge of any such person on the ground that such person was a conscientious objector who refused to perform military duty or refused to wear the uniform or otherwise to comply with lawful orders of competent military authority, or as a deserter, or on the basis of an absence without authority from active duty for a continuous period of at least one hundred and eighty days if such person was discharged under conditions other than honorable unless such person demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary that there are compelling circumstances to warrant such prolonged unauthorized absence, or of an officer by the acceptance of such officer's resignation for the good of the service, or (except as provided in subsection (c)) the discharge of any individual during a period of hostilities as an alien, shall bar all rights of such person under laws administered by the Secretary based upon the period of service from which discharged or dismissed, notwithstanding any action subsequent to the date of such discharge by a board established pursuant to section 1553 of title 10 [10 USCS § 1553].

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (a), if it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary that, at the time of the commission of an offense leading to a person's court-martial, discharge, or resignation, that person was insane, such person shall not be precluded from benefits under laws administered by the Secretary based upon the period of service from which such person was separated.

(c) Subsection (a) shall not apply to any alien whose service was honest and faithful, and who was not discharged on the individual's own application or solicitation as an alien. No individual shall be considered as having been discharged on the individual's own application or solicitation as an alien in the absence of affirmative evidence establishing that the individual was so discharged.

(d) This section shall not apply to any war-risk insurance, Government (converted) or National Service Life Insurance policy.

(e) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, (A) no benefits under laws administered by the Secretary shall be provided, as a result of a change in or new issuance of a discharge under section 1553 of title 10 [10 USCS § 1553], except upon a case-by-case review by the board of review concerned, subject to review by the Secretary concerned, under such section, of all the evidence and factors in each case under published uniform standards (which shall be historically consistent with criteria for determining honorable service and shall not include any criterion for automatically granting or denying such change or issuance) and procedures generally applicable to all persons administratively discharged or released from active military, naval, or air service under other than honorable conditions; and (B) any such person shall be afforded an opportunity to apply for such review under such section 1553 [10 USCS § 1553] for a period of time terminating not less than one year after the date on which such uniform standards and procedures are promulgated and published.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law--

(A) no person discharged or released from active military, naval, or air service under other than honorable conditions who has been awarded a general or honorable discharge under revised standards for the review of discharges, (i) as implemented by the President's directive of January 19, 1977, initiating further action with respect to the President's Proclamation 4313 of September 16, 1974
[50 USCS Appx § 462 note], (ii) as implemented on or after April 5, 1977, under the Department of Defense's special discharge review program, or (iii) as implemented subsequent to April 5, 1977, and not made applicable to all persons administratively discharged or released from active military, naval, or air service under other than honorable conditions, shall be entitled to benefits under laws administered by the Secretary except upon a determination, based on a case-by-case review, under standards (meeting the requirements of paragraph (1) of this subsection) applied by the board of review concerned under section 1553 of title 10 [10 USCS § 1553], subject to review by the Secretary concerned, that such person would be awarded an upgraded discharge under such standards; and (B) such determination shall be made by such board (i) on an expedited basis after notification by the Department to the Secretary concerned that such person has received, is in receipt of, or has applied for such benefits or after a written request is made by such person or such determination, (ii) on its own initiative before October 9, 1978, in any case where a general or honorable discharge has been awarded before October 9, 1977, under revised standards referred to in clause (A)(i), (ii), or (iii) of this paragraph, or (iii) on its own initiative at the time a general or honorable discharge is so awarded in any case where a general or honorable discharge is awarded after October 8, 1977.

If such board makes a preliminary determination that such person would not have been awarded an upgraded discharge under standards meeting the requirements of paragraph (1) of this subsection, such person shall be entitled to an appearance before the board, as provided for in section 1553(c) of title 10 [10 USCS § 1553(c)], prior to a final determination on such question and shall be given written notice by the board of such preliminary determination and of the right to such appearance. The Secretary shall, as soon as administratively feasible, notify the appropriate board of review of the receipt of benefits under laws administered by the Secretary, or of the application for such benefits, by any person awarded an upgraded discharge under revised standards referred to in clause (A)(i), (ii), or (iii) of this paragraph with respect to whom a favorable determination has not been made under this paragraph.

Minor offense exception to discharge for willful and persistent misconduct was properly denied where appellant was in AWOL status for almost thirty percent of his time in service. Struck v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 145

3. Upgrading of discharge

Summary judgment was inappropriate due to existing issues of material fact in former naval servicemen's actions claiming that 38 USCS § 3103 [now 38 USCS § 5303] was violated because Navy interpreted Secretary of Defense's memorandum regarding upgrading of less than honorable discharges related to drug use and possession in manner different from interpretations by Army and Air Force, where affidavits of President of Army's discharge review board and Chief of Air Force's discharge review board were submitted to offset evidence of random sampling of discharge recharacterization cases in Army and Air Force that had been submitted to indicate discrepancy in interpretation. Vietnam Veterans of America v Secretary of Navy (1988, App DC) 269 US App DC 35, 843 F.2d 528

There was no merit to contention that upgrading of discharge to one of under honorable conditions entitled recipient to benefits, based upon interpretation of 38 CFR § 3.12(h), since such interpretation would directly conflict with 38 USCS § 3103(e) [now 38 USCS § 5303(e)] and therefore cause regulation to be void. Demo v United States (1983) 3 Cl Ct 349

Former Marines and Navy personnel were not entitled to mandated discharge upgrades based on Taird Memoranda, which provided for recharacterization of less-than-honorable discharges issued prior to 7/7/71 based solely on use or possession of drugs, even though court agreed that 38 USCS § 3103(e)(1) [now 38 USCS § 5303(e)(1)] uniformity requirement was being violated by inconsistent approaches component branches had adopted, because D.C. Circuit had ruled that component branches need only review applicable discharges but need not employ uniform standards. Vietnam Veterans of America v Secretary of Navy (1990, DC Dist Col) 741 F Supp 1

Veteran honorably restored to duty following dishonorable discharge pursuant to sentence of general court-martial was not entitled to monetary benefits for disability incurred subsequent to dishonorable discharge from World War service. 1935 ADVA 347

Veteran given discharge other than honorable on October 22, 1917 as enemy alien and upgraded to honorable discharge on August 18, 1945 by review board was now rated as permanently and totally disabled for nonservice pension purposes, and qualified for benefits. 1945 ADVA 673

Navy action issuing serviceman honorable discharge through Board for Correction of Naval Records, though done by administrative agency in executive department and not by Congress, had status of special Act of Congress for his relief, and was final and conclusive upon Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]; thus, bars of 38 USCS § 101 and § 3103 [now § 5303] were set aside by such action, and serviceman was eligible for veterans benefits. 1962 ADVA 980

Corrective action by discharge review board did not remove conditional bar to benefits resulting from issuance of other than honorable discharge based on continuous period of unauthorized absence from active service of 180 days or more. VA GCO 30-79

Secretary of Veterans Affairs is permitted to consider totality of circumstances, rather than relying solely on veteran’s explanation, in determining under 38 USCS § 5303(a) whether veteran demonstrated compelling circumstances for being absent without leave and was thus not barred from receiving veterans’ benefits. Lane v Principi (2003, CA FC) 339 F.3d 1331

Where veteran stated that veteran’s absence without leave was based on drug dependence and adverse effects of combat experiences, but there was no objective evidence of drug use or mental impairment at time of absence, totality of circumstances justified denial of veteran’s claim for benefits; veteran failed to show compelling circumstances for absence to warrant eligibility for benefits under 38 USCS § 5303(a). Lane v Principi (2003, CA FC) 339 F.3d 1331

Where there existed 2 grounds upon which plaintiff could have been denied veterans' benefits dating from World War II, discharge by reason of general court martial pursuant to 38 USCS § 3103 [now 38 USCS § 5303] and regulation denying benefits to persons discharged for homosexual activity, and Administration [now Department] contended that denial of benefits to plaintiff resulted exclusively from latter ground, plaintiff's request for declaratory judgment finding 38 USCS § 3103 [now 38 USCS § 5303] unconstitutional had to be dismissed as there was no justifiable controversy between parties based on that statute as long as ground of homosexual discharge continued to bar plaintiff's receipt of benefits. Kiser v Johnson (1975, MD Pa) 404 F Supp 879

Military judge did not err in failing to instruct court members that dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge would deprive accused of substantially all benefits administered by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] since accused had completed prior enlistments honorably without break in service and bad-conduct discharge only affects rights based upon period of service from which discharged. United States v Goodwin (1991, CMA) 33 MJ 18

Veteran's conduct in spending 32 of 176 days he was in service in AWOL status was severe and persistent, hence other than honorable discharge based on it barred veteran from receipt of benefits. Winter v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 29

Claim for benefits should not have been reopened since veteran's widow presented no new and material evidence regarding sanity of veteran, who was court-martialed and dishonorably discharged. Helige v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 32

   (iv) a discharge or release from active duty for a physical or mental condition that was not characterized as a disability and did not result from the individual's own willful misconduct but did interfere with the individual's performance of duty, as described in section 3011(a)(1)(A)(ii)(I) of this title [38 USCS § 3011(a)(1)(A)(ii)(I)]; or
(G) to benefits under chapter 43 of this title [38 USCS §§ 4301 et seq.].

(c) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subsection, no dependent or survivor of a person as to whom subsection (b) of this section requires the denial of benefits shall, by reason of such person's period of active duty, be provided with any benefit under this title or any other law administered by the Secretary.

(2) Paragraph (1) of this subsection does not apply to benefits under chapters 19 and 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1901 et seq. and 3701 et seq.].
(d) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law and except as provided in paragraph (3) of this subsection, a person described in paragraph (2) of this subsection who is discharged or released from a period of active duty before completing the shorter of--
   (A) 24 months of continuous active duty, or
   (B) the full period for which such person was called or ordered to active duty, is not eligible by reason of such period of active duty for any benefit under Federal law (other than this title or any other law administered by the Secretary), and no dependent or survivor of such person shall be eligible for any such benefit by reason of such period of active duty of such person.

(2) Paragraph (1) of this subsection applies--

(3) Paragraph (1) of this subsection does not apply--
   (A) to any person described in clause (A), (B), or (C) of subsection (b)(3) of this section; or
   (B) with respect to a benefit under (i) the Social Security Act other than additional wages deemed to have been paid, under section 229(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 429(a)), for any calendar quarter beginning after October 13, 1982, or (ii) title 5 other than a benefit based on meeting the definition of preference eligible in section 2108(3) of such title.

(e) For the purposes of this section, the term "benefit" includes a right or privilege, but does not include a refund of a participant's contributions to the educational benefits program provided by chapter 32 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3201 et seq.].

Because disabled military retirees were seeking money they alleged they were owed from period prior to enactment of new statute, § 641 of National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004, Pub. L. No. 108-136, (2003 Act), and because not all members of prospective class were affected by Congress's partial repeal of "concurrent receipt" prohibition in 2001, new statutory provision did not render case moot; however, argument that concurrent receipt prohibition was not rational because Congress had expressed disapproval of prohibition in recent years was not well founded as concurrent receipt prohibition was previously declared rational and it was equally rational in present. Howard v United States (2004, CA FC) 354 F.3d 1358

Congress has power to make retrospective changes in war risk insurance contract, altering rights that would ordinarily be deemed vested and subsequent amendments of federal statutes on subject govern disposition of proceeds from these policies, even where insured had died before enactment of such amendments, and estate of beneficiary under such policies has no vested interest in installments of insurance due after death of beneficiary. Precedent establishes that concurrent receipt prohibition, codified at 38 USCS § 5304, passes rational basis scrutiny; subsequent congressional modification of prohibition does not eliminate its rational basis. Howard v United States (2004, CA FC) 354 F.3d 1358

38 USCS §§ 3104 and 3105 [now 38 USCS §§ 5304 and 5305] which preclude disabled military retirees entitled to receive longevity retired pay and disability compensation from the Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], from receiving both forms of compensation at the same time and require waiver of retired pay equal in amount to any Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] disability compensation received or else be precluded from receiving disability benefits, does not deny equal protection since statutes bear demonstrable fair and substantial relation to legitimate legislative objectives such as fiscal restraint. Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

Except as provided in section 1414 of title 10 [10 USCS § 1414], any person who is receiving pay pursuant to any provision of law providing retired or retirement pay to persons in the Armed Forces, or as a commissioned officer of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration or of the Public Health Service, and who would be eligible to receive pension or compensation under the laws administered by the Secretary if such person were not receiving such retired or retirement pay, shall be entitled to receive such pension or compensation upon the filing by such person with the department by which such retired or retirement pay is paid of a waiver of so much of such person's retired or retirement pay as is equal in amount to such pension or compensation. To prevent duplication of payments, the department with which any such waiver is filed shall notify the Secretary of the receipt of such waiver, the amount waived, and the effective date of the reduction in retired or retirement pay.

5. Taxation

1. Generally
Retired officer of regular establishment, who held civilian office under Federal Government and who had waived retirement pay and, in accordance with former 5 USC § 59a, elected to receive salary of his office, was not entitled to pension under former 38 USC § 26c. 1945 ADVA 651

2. Constitutionality
38 USCS §§ 3104 and 3105 [now 38 USCS §§ 5304 and 5305] which preclude disabled military retirees entitled to receive longevity retired pay and disability compensation from the Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], from receiving both forms of compensation at the same time and require waiver of retired pay equal in amount to any Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] compensation received or else be precluded from receiving disability benefits, does not deny equal protection since statutes bear demonstrable fair and substantial relation to legitimate legislative objectives such as fiscal

3. Right of election
Officer entitled to retirement pay, who was also entitled to compensation or pension, was entitled to elect benefit he desired to receive, and such election did not bar him from subsequent election of other benefit to which he was entitled; former 5 USC § 59a did not apply to compensation or pension and did not preclude such election.  1945 ADVA 671

Wife in her capacity as legal guardian of her missing incompetent husband was not entitled to elect to receive compensation in lieu of naval retirement pay absent court order authorizing such election, but compensation was payable to wife and minor children of veteran regardless of whether there had been election between retirement pay and compensation.  1947 ADVA 763

4. Effective date of waiver
Waiver of retired pay under 38 USCS § 3105 [now 38 USCS § 5305], entitling officer to receipt of benefits from Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs], is effective from earliest date of entitlement to compensation from Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] for purposes of recomputing amount by which retired pay must be decreased due to officer's civilian employment.  (1979) 58 Comp Gen 622

5. Taxation
Payments initially received by former serviceman as retirement pay could be excluded from his taxable income as payments for service-connected disability following retroactive increase in disability benefits since neither 38 USCS § 3105 [now 38 USCS § 5305] nor administrative practice of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] required new waiver of retirement pay to be filed in order to receive any increased disability benefits.  Strickland v Commissioner (1976, CA4) 540 F.2d 1196, 76-1 USTC ¶ 9291, 37 AFTR 2d 998

§ 5306. Renouncement of right to benefits
Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) Any person entitled to pension, compensation, or dependency and indemnity compensation under any of the laws administered by the Secretary may renounce the right thereto. The application renouncing the right shall be in writing over the person's signature. Upon the filing of such an application, payment of such benefits and the right thereto shall be terminated, and such person shall be denied any and all rights thereto from such filing.

(b) Renouncement of rights shall not preclude any person from filing a new application for pension, compensation, or dependency and indemnity compensation at a later date, but such new application shall be treated as an original application, and no payments shall be made for any period before the date such new application is filed.

(c) Notwithstanding subsection (b), if a new application for pension under chapter 15 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1501 et seq.] or for dependency and indemnity compensation for parents under section 1315 of this title [38 USCS § 1315] is filed within one year after renouncement of that benefit, such application shall not be treated as an original application and benefits will be payable as if the renouncement had not occurred.

Amendments:
1986. Act Oct. 28, 1986, in subsec. (a), substituted "the" for "his" following "renounce".

§ 5307. Apportionment of benefits

(a) All or any part of the compensation, pension, or emergency officers' retirement pay payable on account of any veteran may--
(1) if the veteran is being furnished hospital treatment, institutional, or domiciliary care by the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, be apportioned on behalf of the veteran's spouse, the veteran's children, or dependent parents; and
(2) if the veteran is not living with the veteran's spouse, or if the veteran's children are not in the custody of the veteran, be apportioned as may be prescribed by the Secretary.

1. Generally

Funds received by wife on behalf of imprisoned husband from Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] could not be considered income of wife, in absence of apportionment under 38 USCS § 3107(c) [now 38 USCS § 5307(c)], for purposes of diminishing entitlement to welfare benefits. 2. Relationship with other laws
State statute construed by state courts as authorizing award of child support from veteran's disability benefits which are his sole income does not conflict with 38 USCS § 3107 [now 38 USCS § 5307] since Congress intended veterans' disability benefits to be used in part to support veteran's family; state statute is not preempted by § 3107 [now § 5307], under Supremacy Clause of U.S. Constitution (Art VI, C1 2) where § 3107 [now § 5307] giving Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] discretionary authority to apportion disability compensation on behalf of veteran's children is not intended to displace state court's power to enforce child support order. § 5308. Withholding benefits of persons in territory of the enemy

(a) When any alien entitled to gratuitous benefits under laws administered by the Secretary is located in territory of, or under military control of, an enemy of the United States or of any of its allies, any award of such benefits in favor of such alien shall be terminated forthwith.

(b) Any alien whose award is terminated under subsection (a) shall not thereafter be entitled to any such gratuitous benefits except upon the filing of a new claim, accompanied by evidence satisfactory to the Secretary showing that such alien was not guilty of mutiny, treason, sabotage, or rendering assistance to such enemy. Except as provided in section 5309 of this title [38 USCS § 5309], such gratuitous benefits shall not be paid for any period before the date the new claim is filed.

(c) While such alien is located in territory of, or under military control of, an enemy of the United States or of any of its allies, the Secretary, in the Secretary's discretion, may apportion and pay any part of such benefits to the dependents of such alien. No dependent of such alien shall receive benefits by reason of this subsection in excess of the amount to which the dependent would be entitled if such alien were dead.

The Secretary shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury the amounts of payments which, but for this section, would have been made from the special deposit account, and the Secretary of the Treasury, as directed by the Secretary, shall reimburse the appropriations of the Department from such special deposit account, or cover into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts the amount so certified.

(b) No payments shall be made for any period before the date claim therefor is filed under this section to any person whose award was terminated, or whose benefits were not paid, before July 1, 1954, because such person was a citizen or subject of Germany or Japan residing in Germany or Japan.

(b) (1) If the surviving spouse of a veteran who was in receipt of compensation or pension at the time of death is not entitled to death benefits under chapter 11, 13, or 15 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq., 1301 et seq., or 1501 et seq.] for the month in which the veteran's death occurs, that surviving spouse shall be entitled to a benefit for that month in the amount of benefits the veteran would have received under chapter 11 or 15 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1101 et seq. or 1501 et seq.] for that month but for the death of the veteran.

However, if such check or other payment is in an amount less than the amount of the benefit under paragraph (1), the unpaid amount shall be treated in the same manner as an accrued benefit under section 5121 of this title [38 USCS § 5121].

When it found that veteran was incarcerated at state prison, Board of Veterans' Appeals had not made findings on whether correctional facility that was operated by corporation was state penal institution for purposes of 38 USCS § 5313(a)(1); resolution of that issue might involve very specific factual determinations regarding contracts and other documents that were best for Board to make in first instance, so court remanded for further proceedings veteran's appeal from Board decision denying veteran payment of full disability compensation during his incarceration.

This section shall be carried out under regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this title or of any other law, the authority of the Secretary to make deductions under this section or to take other administrative action authorized by law for the purpose of collecting an indebtedness described in subsection (a) of this section, or for the purpose of determining the creditworthiness of a person who owes such an indebtedness, shall not be subject to any limitation with respect to the time for bringing civil actions or for commencing administrative proceedings.

§ 5502. Payments to and supervision of fiduciaries

(a) (1) Where it appears to the Secretary that the interest of the beneficiary would be served thereby, payment of benefits under any law administered by the Secretary may be made directly to the beneficiary or to a relative or some other fiduciary for the use and benefit of the beneficiary, regardless of any legal disability on the part of the beneficiary. Where, in the opinion of the Secretary, any fiduciary receiving funds on behalf of a Department beneficiary is acting in such a number of cases as to make it impracticable to conserve properly the estates or to supervise the persons of the beneficiaries, the Secretary may refuse to make payments in such cases as the Secretary may deem proper.

(2) In a case in which the Secretary determines that a commission is necessary in order to obtain the services of a fiduciary in the best interests of a beneficiary, the Secretary may authorize a fiduciary appointed by the Secretary to obtain from the beneficiary's estate a reasonable commission for fiduciary services rendered, but the commission for any year may not exceed 4 percent of the monetary benefits under laws administered by the Secretary paid on behalf of the beneficiary to the fiduciary.
during such year. A commission may not be authorized for a fiduciary who receives any other form of remuneration or payment in connection with rendering fiduciary services for benefits under this title on behalf of the beneficiary.

(b) Whenever it appears that any fiduciary, in the opinion of the Secretary, is not properly executing or has not properly executed the duties of the trust of such fiduciary or has collected or paid, or is attempting to collect or pay, fees, commissions, or allowances that are inequitable or in excess of those allowed by law for the duties performed or expenses incurred or has failed to make such payments as may be necessary for the benefit of the ward or the dependents of the ward, then the Secretary may appear, by the Secretary's authorized attorney, in the court which has appointed such fiduciary, or in any court having original, concurrent, or appellate jurisdiction over said cause, and make proper presentation of such matters. The Secretary, in the Secretary's discretion, may suspend payments to any such fiduciary who shall neglect or refuse, after reasonable notice, to render an account to the Secretary from time to time showing the application of such payments for the benefit of such incompetent or minor beneficiary, or who shall neglect or refuse to administer the estate according to law. The Secretary may require the fiduciary, as part of such account, to disclose any additional financial information concerning the beneficiary (except for information that is not available to the fiduciary). The Secretary may appear or intervene by the Secretary's authorized attorney in any court as an interested party in any litigation instituted by the Secretary or otherwise, directly affecting money paid to such fiduciary under this section.

(c) Authority is hereby granted for the payment of any court or other expenses incident to any investigation or court proceeding for the appointment of any fiduciary or other person for the purpose of payment of benefits payable under laws administered by the Secretary or the removal of such fiduciary and appointment of another, and of expenses in connection with the administration of such benefits by such fiduciaries, or in connection with any other court proceeding hereby authorized, when such payment is authorized by the Secretary.

(d) All or any part of any benefits the payment of which is suspended or withheld under this section may, in the discretion of the Secretary, be paid temporarily to the person having custody and control of the incompetent or minor beneficiary, to be used solely for the benefit of such beneficiary, or, in the case of an incompetent veteran, may be apportioned to the dependent or dependents, if any of such veteran. Any part not so paid and any funds of a mentally incompetent or insane veteran not paid to the chief officer of the institution in which such veteran is a patient nor apportioned to the veterans' dependent or dependents may be ordered held in the Treasury to the credit of such beneficiary. All funds so held shall be disbursed under the order and in the discretion of the Secretary for the benefit of such beneficiary or the beneficiary's dependents. Any balance remaining in such fund to the credit of any beneficiary may be paid to the beneficiary if the beneficiary recovers and is found competent, or if a minor, attains majority, or otherwise to the beneficiary's fiduciary or the beneficiary's dependents. Any payment will not be made to the beneficiary's personal representative, except as otherwise provided by law; however, payment will not be made to the beneficiary's personal representative if, under the law of the beneficiary's last legal residence, the beneficiary's estate would escheat to the State. In the event of the death of a mentally incompetent or insane veteran, all gratuitous benefits under laws administered by the Secretary deposited before or after August 7, 1959, in the personal funds of patients trust fund on account of such veteran shall not be paid to the personal representative of such veteran, but shall be paid to the following persons living at the time of settlement, and in the order named: The surviving spouse, the children (without regard to age or marital status) in equal parts, and the dependent parents of such veteran, in equal parts. If any balance remains, such balance shall be deposited to the credit of the applicable current appropriation; except that there may be paid only so much of such balance as may be necessary to reimburse a person (other than a political subdivision of the United States) who bore the expenses of last sickness or burial of the veteran for such expenses. No payment shall be made under the two preceding sentences of this subsection unless claim therefor is filed with the Secretary within five years after the death of the veteran, except that, if any person so entitled under said two sentences is under legal disability at the time of death of the veteran, such five-year period of limitation shall run from the termination or removal of the legal disability.

(e) Any funds in the hands of a fiduciary appointed by a State court or the Secretary derived from benefits payable under laws administered by the Secretary, which under the law of the State wherein the beneficiary had last legal residence would escheat to the State, shall escheat to the United States and shall be returned by such fiduciary, or by the personal representative of the deceased beneficiary, less legal expenses of any administration necessary to determine that an escheat is in order, to the Secretary, and shall be deposited to the credit of the applicable revolving fund, trust fund, or appropriation.

Amendments:

1959. Act Aug. 7, 1959 (effective as provided by § 3 of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (d), inserted "In the event of the death of a mentally incompetent or insane veteran, all gratuitous benefits under laws administered by the Veterans' Administration deposited before or after the date of enactment of this sentence in the personal funds of patients trust fund on account of such veteran shall not be paid to the personal representative of such veteran, but shall be paid to the following persons living at the time of settlement, and in the order named: The surviving spouse, the children (without regard to age or marital status) in equal parts, and the dependent parents of such veteran, in equal parts. If any balance remains, such balance shall be deposited to the credit of the applicable current appropriation; except that there may be paid only so much of such balance as may be necessary to reimburse a person (other than a political subdivision of the United States) who bore the expenses of last sickness or burial of the veteran for such expenses."

1972. Act June 30, 1972 (effective 8/1/72, as provided by § 301(a) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 1114 note), in subsec. (d), inserted "No payment shall be made under the two preceding sentences of this subsection unless claim therefor is filed with the Veterans' Administration within five years after the death of the veteran, except that, if any person so entitled under said two sentences is under legal disability at the time of death of the veteran, such five-year period of limitation shall run from the termination or removal of the legal disability."

(a) for one which read: "Except as provided in section 1701(c) of this title, where any payment of benefits under any law administered by the Veterans' Administration is to be made to a minor, other than a person in the active military, naval, or air service, or to a person mentally incompetent, or under other legal disability adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction, such payment may be made to the person who is constituted guardian, curator, or conservator by the laws of the State of residence of the claimant, or who is otherwise legally vested with the care of the claimant or his estate. Where in the opinion of the Administrator any guardian, curator, conservator, or other person is acting as fiduciary in such a number of cases as to make it impracticable to conserve properly the estates or to supervise the persons of the wards, the Administrator may refuse to make future payments in such cases as he may deem proper. Before receipt of notice by the Veterans' Administration that any such person is under such other legal disability adjudged by some court of competent jurisdiction, payment may be made to such person direct. Where no guardian, curator, or conservator of the person under legal disability has been appointed under the laws of the State of residence of the claimant, the Administrator shall determine the person who is otherwise legally vested with the care of the claimant or his estate.

"(g) Payment of death benefits to a widow for herself and child or children, if any, may be made directly to such widow, notwithstanding she may be a minor."

1984. Act March 2, 1984, in the catchline, substituted "fiduciaries" for "guardians"; and, in subsec. (a), designated the existing provisions as para. (1), and added para. (2).

1986. Act Oct. 28, 1986, in subsec. (a)(1), substituted "the Administrator" for "he" following "such cases as"; in subsec. §§ 4001 et seq. in objecting to appointment of state as fiduciary. Whitmire v United States Veterans Admin. (1986, WD Wash) 661 F Supp 720

7. Scope of authority, generally

Where Secretary of Veterans Affairs designated administrator of facility where incapacitated veteran was housed as fiduciary payee of veteran's benefits, rather than state court-appointed guardian of veteran, designation was reasonable; after proper investigation and consideration of relevant factors, Secretary properly determined that it was more efficient to funnel benefits directly to administrator and avoid payment of guardian's fee, and administrator was suitable and trustworthy payee. 12. Department as party to proceedings

III. PAYMENTS TO BENEFICIARY OF INCOMPETENTS

17. Generally
Payment from benefit fund of reasonable funeral expenses of beneficiary is not prohibited where other funds capable of being used for such purpose were not available; proceeds of insurance on life of veteran's incompetent beneficiary, who died in state institution, intestate and without distributees, and whose estate consisted of such proceeds and balance of unexpended pension moneys, constituted a definite, traceable fund, unconnected with governmental benefits, and should, therefore, have been first used in payment of beneficiary's funeral expenses and perpetual care of her grave, and, where sum total of such proceeds exceeded such expenditures, net estate should have been paid to Treasurer of United States. In re Price's Estate (1951) 199 Misc 833, 104 NYS2d 518

18. Limitation period for claims

Where estate of incompetent Spanish American War veteran who died intestate consisted of assets derived solely from deceased's pension, and more than five years had elapsed following intestate's death without filing by any person of claim of right to distributive share of estate, distributable balance thereof was required to be paid to treasurer of United States. In re Campbell's Estate (1949) 195 Misc 520, 89 NYS2d 310

IV. ESCHEAT OR REVERSION TO UNITED STATES

19. Generally

State escheat statute is based upon state sovereignty and is direction for devolution of property, and it may not prevail over United States Constitution or over congressional act which does not deprive one of property interests without due process of law; state has no right, by virtue of its sovereignty, to escheat pension funds merely because they are found within jurisdiction of state, and where gift of pension is limited to extent that, if veteran died intestate and without heirs, any unexpended balance reverted to donor, as between state and federal governments fund would go to latter; fact that veteran has been declared incompetent is immaterial on question of reversion of unexpended pension money to government on death of veteran intestate and without heirs. Estate of Lindquist (1944) 25 Cal 2d 697, 154 P2d 879, cert den (1945) 325 US 869, 89 L Ed 1988, 65 S Ct 1408 and cert den (1945) 325 US 869, 89 L Ed 1988, 65 S Ct 1410

Provision for escheat to United States of pension funds which otherwise would escheat to state in which veteran died was not unreasonable. Estate of Lindquist (1944) 25 Cal 2d 697, 154 P2d 879, cert den (1945) 325 US 869, 89 L Ed 1988, 65 S Ct 1408 and cert den (1945) 325 US 869, 89 L Ed 1988, 65 S Ct 1410

20. Purpose

Intent of Congress in passing 38 USCS § 3202(e) [now 38 USCS § 5502(e)] was that state should not benefit from funds originally provided veteran by federal government. United States v Board of Comm'rs (1977, DC Md) 432 F Supp 629

21. Construction

Although 38 USCS § 3202(e) [now § 5202(e)] speaks in terms of “escheat”, it creates reversionary interest in Federal Government, and reference in 38 USCS § 3203(e) [now 38 USCS § 5502(e)] to State law of escheat is designed only to provide method by which it can be determined whether reversionary events have occurred, and, as property reverts to Federal Government, state has no power of taxation over such property. In re Estate of Novotny (1978, SD NY) 446 F Supp 1027

38 USCS § 3202(e) [now 38 USCS § 5502(e)] impliedly prohibits expenditure of any part of benefit fund, when other funds are available, for any purpose other than that required to determine that escheat is in order. In re Price's Estate (1951) 199 Misc 833, 104 NYS2d 518
22. Application

Estate of resident of District of Columbia, consisting of payments made to decedent, who died intestate and without heirs, by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] for his benefit escheated to United States, and not to District of Columbia. In re Germanovich's Estate (1954, DC Dist Col) 122 F Supp 169

Portion of estate of intestate decedent, dying without heirs, subject to 38 USCS § 3202(e) [now 38 USCS § 5502(e)], was not subject to State escheat laws. In re Estate of Novotny (1978, SD NY) 446 F Supp 1027

Where funds remaining in hands of administrator of deceased Spanish American War veteran were all derived from pension payments made to him or to his guardian after amendment to provide that such funds should escheat to United States, residue of such funds was impressed with reversionary right in favor of United States. Where veteran died intestate and his net estate consisted wholly of unexpended benefits afforded him by United States and no distributees of veteran were discovered, United States was entitled to estate which estate under laws of state would have escheated to it; federal statutes are paramount to state law. In re Hammond's Estate (1956, 2d Dept) 2 App Div 2d 160, 154 NYS2d 820, affd (1956) 3 NY2d 567, 170 NYS2d 505, 147 NE2d 777

In re Price's Estate (1951) 199 Misc 833, 104 NYS2d 518

Portion of intestate decedent's estate, which consisted of proceeds of National Service Life Insurance Policy, was not subject to recapture by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] as they became absolute property of beneficiary after death of veteran and prior to her death. In re Estate of Strahler (1974) 79 Misc 2d 134, 359 NYS2d 481, affd (1976, 2d Dept) 51 App Div 2d 746, 379 NYS2d 475

§ 5503. Hospitalized veterans and estates of incompetent institutionalized veterans

(a) (1) (A) Where any veteran having neither spouse nor child is being furnished domiciliary care by the Department, no pension in excess of $90 per month shall be paid to or for the veteran for any period after the end of the third full calendar month following the month of admission for such care.

(B) Except as provided in subparagraph (D) of this paragraph, where any veteran having neither spouse nor child is being furnished nursing home care by the Department, no pension in excess of $90 per month shall be paid to or for the veteran for any period after the end of the third full calendar month following the month of admission for such care. which the veteran would be entitled but for the application of the preceding sentence shall be deposited in a revolving fund at the Department medical facility which furnished the veteran nursing care, and such amount shall be available for obligation without fiscal year limitation to help defray operating expenses of that facility.

(C) No pension in excess of $90 per month shall be paid to or for a veteran having neither spouse nor child for any period after the month in which such veteran is readmitted for care described in subparagraph (A) or (B) of this paragraph and furnished by the Department, if such veteran is readmitted within six months of a period of care in connection with which pension was reduced pursuant to subparagraph (A) or (B) of this paragraph.

(D) In the case of a veteran being furnished nursing home care by the Department and with respect to whom subparagraph (B) of this paragraph requires a reduction in pension, such reduction shall not be made for a period of up to three additional calendar months after the last day of the third month referred to in such subparagraph if the Secretary determines that the primary purpose for the furnishing of such care during such additional period is for the Department to provide such veteran with a prescribed program of rehabilitation services, under chapter 17 of this title [38 USCS §§ 1701 et seq.], designed to restore the veteran's ability to function within such veteran's family and community. If the Secretary determines that it is necessary, after such period, for the veteran to continue such program of rehabilitation services in order to achieve the purposes of such program and that the primary purpose of furnishing nursing home care to the veteran continues to be the provision of such program to the veteran, the reduction in pension required by subparagraph (B) of this paragraph shall not be made for the number of calendar months that the Secretary determines is necessary for the veteran to achieve the purposes of such program.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) shall also apply to a veteran being furnished such care who has a spouse but whose pension is payable under section 1521(b) of this title [38 USCS § 1521(b)]. In such a case, the Secretary may apportion and pay to the spouse, upon an affirmative showing of hardship, all or any part of the amounts in excess of the amount payable to the veteran while being furnished such care which would be payable to the veteran if pension were payable under section 1521(c) of this title [38 USCS § 1521(c)].

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or any other provision of law, no reduction shall be made in the pension of any veteran for any part of the period during which the veteran is furnished hospital treatment, or institutional or domiciliary care, for Hansen's disease, by the United States or any political subdivision thereof.

(c) Where any veteran in receipt of an aid and attendance allowance described in section 1114(r) of this title [38 USCS § 1114(r)] is hospitalized at Government expense, such allowance shall be discontinued from the first day of the second calendar month which begins after the date of the veteran's admission for such hospitalization for so long as such hospitalization continues. Any discontinuance required by administrative regulation, during hospitalization of a veteran by the Department, of increased pension based on need of regular aid and attendance or additional compensation based on need of regular aid and attendance as described in subsection (l) or (m) of section 1114 of this title [38 USCS § 1114], shall not be effective earlier than the first day of the second calendar month which begins after the date of the veteran's admission for hospitalization. In case a veteran affected by this subsection leaves a hospital against medical advice and is thereafter admitted to hospitalization within six months from the date of such departure, such allowance, increased pension, or additional compensation, as the case may be, shall be discontinued from the date of such readmission for so long as such hospitalization continues.

(d) (1) For the purposes of this subsection--
   (A) the term "Medicaid plan" means a State plan for medical assistance referred to in section 1902(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396a(a)); and
   (B) the term "nursing facility" means a nursing facility described in section 1919 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r), other than a facility that is a State home with respect to which the Secretary makes per diem payments for nursing home care pursuant to section 1741(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1741(a)].

(2) If a veteran having neither spouse nor child is covered by a Medicaid plan for services furnished such veteran by a nursing facility, no pension in excess of $90 per month shall be paid to or for the veteran for any period after the month of admission to such nursing facility.

(3) Notwithstanding any provision of title XIX of the Social Security Act [42 USCS §§ 1396 et seq.], the amount of the payment paid a nursing facility pursuant to a Medicaid plan for services furnished a veteran may not be reduced by any amount of pension permitted to be paid such veteran under paragraph (2) of this subsection.

(4) A veteran is not liable to the United States for any payment of pension in excess of the amount permitted under this subsection that is paid to or for the veteran by reason of the inability or failure of the Secretary to reduce the veteran's pension under this subsection unless such inability or failure is the result of a willful concealment by the veteran of information necessary to make a reduction in pension under this subsection.

(5) The provisions of this subsection shall apply with respect to a surviving spouse having no child in the same manner as they apply to a veteran having neither spouse nor child.

(6) The costs of administering this subsection shall be paid for from amounts available to the Department of Veterans Affairs for the payment of compensation and pension.

(7) This subsection expires on September 30, 2011.

If there are no persons in the classes named to whom payment may be made under this paragraph, no payment shall be made, except there may be paid only so much of the lump sum as may be necessary to reimburse a person who bore the expenses of last sickness or burial, but no part of the lump sum shall be used to reimburse any political subdivision of the United States for expenses incurred in the last sickness or burial of such veteran.

“(B) No payment shall be made under the last two sentences of section 3202(d) of this title or under this paragraph (2) unless claim therefor is filed with the Veterans' Administration within five years after the death of the veteran, except that, if any person so entitled under the last two sentences of section 3202(d) of this title or under this paragraph is under legal disability at the time of death of the veteran, such five-year period of limitation shall run from the termination or removal of the legal disability.”.

7. Payments to state institutions

1. Generally

Veterans hospitalized in Naval hospitals under provisions of former 38 USC § 706 are not subject to provisions of 24 USCS § 6. 1933 ADVA 209

2. Constitutionality

There is a rational justification for the classification that benefits may be withheld from an incompetent veteran having neither wife nor child whose estate exceeds $1500 and who is being furnished hospital treatment without charge by a state; classifications governing operation of 38 USCS § 3203(b) [now 38 USCS § 5503(b)] are "rationally related" to purpose of 38 USCS that veterans' benefits be paid only, as term suggests, for benefit of veterans; reclamation of veterans' benefits paid contra to 38 USCS § 3203(b) [now 38 USCS § 5503(b)] is not precluded by Due Process Clause of Fifth Amendment. United States v Macioci (1972, DC RI) 345 F Supp 325

Barring of benefit payments to parents of deceased incompetent veterans under 38 USCS § 3203(b) [now 38 USCS § 5503(b)] does not violate Due Process Clause of Fifth Amendment. Ziviak v United States (1976, DC Mass) 411 F Supp 416, affd (1976) 429 US 801, 50 L Ed 2d 64, 97 S Ct 36, reh den (1976) 429 US 951, 50 L Ed 2d 319, 97 S Ct 371

3. Purpose

In enacting 38 USCS § 3203 [now 38 USCS § 5503], Congress was wholly concerned with gratuitous benefits and with cutting off collateral relatives from such grants. Berkey v United States (1966) 176 Ct Cl 1, 361 F.2d 983

One of obvious purposes of 38 USCS § 3203 [now § 5503] is that, under appropriate circumstances, benefits authorized therein be provided to needy veterans and their immediate dependents; corollary of this purpose is that compensation should not be paid where there is little likelihood that it will ultimately benefit eligible veteran or his dependents. United States v Macioci (1972, DC RI) 345 F Supp 325

4. Construction, generally

38 USCS § 3203 [now 38 USCS § 5503] did not cut off payment to the immediate family of an institutionalized incompetent veteran from the accumulated retirement pay. Berkey v United States (1966) 176 Ct Cl 1, 361 F.2d 983

Hospitalization furnished eligible veterans by Philippine Government, which Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] reimbursed under 50 USC Appx § 1991 et seq., was not hospitalization furnished by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] so as to make former 38 USC § 739 applicable with respect to veterans receiving such medical care and treatment. 1949 ADVA 829

5. Reduction of benefits

Pension payable under former 38 USC § 229 or former § 230 was subject to reduction when disabled veteran, having no dependents, was being furnished hospital treatment, institutional or domiciliary care by government. 1945 ADVA 662

Section 3203(b)(1) [now 38 USCS § 5503(b)(1)] applied to incompetent veterans without dependents, in tax-supported institutions, regardless of whether veteran was paying cost of care. VA GCO 5-85

6. Lump sum payments

Former 38 USC § 739 specifically included adult child for purposes of lump sum payment; claimants qualified as children of veteran since relation of stepchild existed between veteran and those of his wife's children who became members of his household during their minority and family relationship common between parent and child continued to date of veteran's death. 1949 ADVA 818

Veteran furloughed for period of 30 days or more was not discharged for purposes of former 38 USC § 739, and therefore moneys withheld were not payable in lump sum when he left institution on such furlough; veteran was not entitled to full amount of compensation or pension for first 6 months after his return to institution from such furlough. 1950 ADVA 846

Lump sum disability compensation was payable to sisters of veteran as person or persons next in line within class designated in former 38 USC § 739 since veteran's father died on date of issuance of lump sum disability compensation check, and check was not delivered until after payee's death. 1951 ADVA 869

Statute mandates lump-sum payment after expiration of six months following competency finding, hence regulation denying such payment to veterans who, before payment is made, are again rated incompetent and do not have proper dependent, contravenes statute. Felton v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 61, remanded (1993, Vet App) 1993 US Vet App LEXIS 89 and vacated on other grounds, op replaced, on reconsideration, motion den (1993) 4 Vet App 363

When veteran was re-rated competent, he was entitled to lump-sum payment six-months later, and fact that he was re-rated incompetent well outside 6-month period was irrelevant. Felton v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 61, remanded (1993, Vet App) 1993 US Vet App LEXIS 89 and vacated on other grounds, op replaced, on reconsideration, motion den (1993) 4 Vet App 363

Statute mandates lump-sum payment after expiration of six months following competency finding even if veteran is thereafter again found incompetent, and regulation denying such payment to those veterans who before payment is made are again rated incompetent and do not have proper dependent imposes unauthorized limitation on scope of statute. Felton v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 363

7. Payments to state institutions

State could not compel guardian of incompetent veteran confined in state hospital to pay full cost of his care and maintenance out of disability pension payments made to veteran's guardian by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]. § 5504. Administration of trust funds

All cash balances in the personal funds of patients and the funds due incompetent beneficiaries trust funds administered by the Secretary, and all moneys received which are properly for deposit into these funds, may be deposited, respectively, into deposit fund accounts with the United States Treasury and such balances and deposits shall thereupon be available for disbursement for properly authorized purposes. When any balances have been on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States for more than one year and represent moneys belonging to individuals whose whereabouts are unknown, they shall be transferred and disposed of as directed in section 1322(a) of title 31 [31 USCS § 1322(a)].

Amendments:

1982. Act Sept. 13, 1982, substituted "section 1322(a) of title 31" for "the last proviso of subsection (a) of section 725s of title 31".

1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 3204, as 38 USCS § 5504.

(d) Temporary fiduciaries. When in the opinion of the Secretary, a temporary fiduciary is needed in order to protect the assets of the beneficiary while a determination of incompetency is being made or appealed or a fiduciary is appealing a determination of misuse, the Secretary may appoint one or more temporary fiduciaries for a period not to exceed 120 days. If a final decision has not been made within 120 days, the Secretary may not continue the appointment of the fiduciary without obtaining a court order for appointment of a guardian, conservator, or other fiduciary under the authority provided in section 5502(b) of this title [38 USCS § 5502(b)].

   (i) the Secretary has (I) made reasonable efforts to notify such person of such person's right to dispute through prescribed administrative processes the existence or amount of such indebtedness and of such person's right to request a waiver of such indebtedness under section 5302 of this title [38 USCS § 5302], (II) afforded such person a reasonable opportunity to exercise such rights, and (III) made a determination with respect to any such dispute or request; and purpose or purposes, and (II) that, upon the request of such person, the Secretary shall inform such person of whether such information has been so released and of the name and address of each consumer reporting agency to which such information was released by the Secretary and of the specific information so released.

(B) After release of any information under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph concerning the indebtedness of any person, the Secretary shall promptly notify--

(i) each consumer reporting agency to which such information has been released by the Secretary; and

(ii) each consumer reporting agency described in subsection (i)(3)(B)(i) of this section to which such information has been transmitted by the Secretary through a consumer reporting agency described in subsection (i)(3)(B)(ii)(I) of this section, of any substantial change in the status or amount of such indebtedness and, upon the request of any such consumer reporting agency for verification of any or all information so released, promptly verify or correct, as appropriate, such information. The Secretary shall also, after the release of such information, inform such person, upon the request of such person, of the name and address of each consumer reporting agency described in clause (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph to which such information was released or transmitted by the Secretary and of the specific information so released or transmitted.

(h) (1) Under regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe, the Secretary may release the name or address, or both, of any person who is a present or former member of the Armed Forces, or who is a dependent of a present or former member of the Armed Forces (and other information relating to the identity of such person), to any person in a category of persons described in such regulations and specified in such regulations as a category of persons to whom such information may be released, if the release of such information is necessary for a purpose described in paragraph (2) of this subsection.

(2) A release of information under paragraph (1) of this subsection may be made for the purpose of--

(A) determining the creditworthiness, credit capacity, income, or financial resources of a person who has (i) applied for any benefit under chapter 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.], or (ii) submitted an offer to the Secretary for the purchase of property acquired by the Secretary under section 3720(a)(5) of this title [38 USCS § 3720(a)(5)];

(B) verifying, either before or after the Secretary has approved a person's application for assistance in the form of a loan guaranty or loan insurance under chapter 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.], information submitted by a lender to the Secretary regarding the creditworthiness, credit capacity, income, or financial resources of such person;

(C) offering for sale or other disposition by the Secretary, pursuant to section 3720 of this title [38 USCS § 3720], any loan or installment sale contract owned or held by the Secretary; or

(D) providing assistance to any applicant for benefits under chapter 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.] or administering such benefits if the Secretary promptly records the fact of such release in appropriate records pertaining to the person concerning whom such release was made.

(i) (1) No contract entered into for any of the purposes of subsection (g) or (h) of this section, and no action taken pursuant to any such contract or either such subsection, shall result in the application of section 552a of title 5 [5 USCS § 552a] to any consumer reporting agency or any employee of a consumer reporting agency.

(2) The Secretary shall take reasonable steps to provide for the protection of the personal privacy of persons about whom information is disclosed under subsection (g) or (h) of this section.

(3) For the purposes of this subsection and of subsection (g) of this section--

(A) The term "consumer report" has the meaning provided such term in subsection (d) of section 603 of the Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. 1681a(d)).

(B) The term "consumer reporting agency" means--

(i) a consumer reporting agency as such term is defined in subsection (f) of section 603 of the Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. 1681a(f)), or

(ii) any person who, for monetary fees, dues, or on a cooperative nonprofit basis, regularly engages in whole or in part in the practice of (I) obtaining credit or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing such information to consumer reporting agencies (as defined in clause (i) of this paragraph), or (II) serving as a marketing agent under arrangements enabling third parties to obtain such information from such reporting agencies.

(j) Except as provided in subsection (i)(1) of this section, any disclosure made pursuant to this section shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 552a of title 5 [5 USCS § 552a].

(f), substituted "name or address, or both, of any present or former member of the Armed Forces, or a dependent of a present or former member of the Armed Forces" for "names or addresses, or both, of any present or former members of the Armed Forces, and/or their dependents", and substituted "such name or address" for "such names or addresses"; redesignated subsec. (g) as subsec. (j); added subsecs. (g)-(l); and in subsec. (j), as so redesignated substituted "Except as provided in subsection (j)(1) of this section, any" for "Any".

1989. Act Aug. 16, 1989 (effective and applicable as provided by § 302(c) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (b)(1), substituted "section 3009 or 4009" for "section 4009".

I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally

It was intent of Congress that Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] records should not be open to inspection to everyone and that examination thereof, beyond specific exceptions stated in predecessor to 38 USCS § 5701, should be allowed only with permission of ex serviceman concerned therewith, or when, in judgment of Administrator [now Secretary], such disclosure is deemed necessary and proper. Ross v Cities Service Gas Co. (1957, DC Mo) 21 FRD 34

2. Relationship with other laws
Veteran was not entitled to equitable relief because Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] released veteran's medical and psychiatric records to U.S. deputy attorney pursuant to federal grand jury subpoena without veteran's authorization on ground that District of Columbia statute barred disclosure of mental health information, since Veterans' Records Statute, 38 USCS §§ 3301 et seq., [now 38 USCS §§ 5701 et seq.] preempts local statute to extent local statute regulates disclosure of information held by agency, since Veterans' Records Statute establishes comprehensive scheme designed to occupy field of rules governing disclosure of veterans' records, there is no indication that Congress intended local or state laws to impose additional requirements and penalties upon disclosure process, and disclosure of veterans' records did not encroach upon area of traditional state regulation; even if Veterans' Records Statute did not occupy regulatory field, doctrine of federal preemption would still apply because local ban could substantially impede federal activities or place prohibition on federal government. Doe v Stephens (1988, App DC) 271 US App DC 230, 851 F.2d 1457

II. DISCLOSURE

3. To claimant

District Court could properly compel government to produce record of claimant to insurance proceeds so that claimant could examine record in advance of trial on insurance claim. Third Nat'l Bank & Trust Co. v United States (1931, CA6 Ohio) 53 F.2d 599

In action to recover on war risk insurance, court could order production of books and records of government agencies for inspection of plaintiff, unless government stipulated that it would have records in question available to plaintiff at trial, in case they were required as proof. Gonzalez v United States (1924, DC NY) 298 F 1003

Motion by claimant, suing government, to compel inspection of records, is proper remedy, and inspection was allowed. Massey v United States (1930, DC Wash) 46 F.2d 78; Seattle Title Trust Co. v United States (1931, DC Wash) 49 F.2d 818

Insured in policy of war risk insurance was entitled to inspection of files, records, and report concerning his case in Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]. Chytracek v United States (1932, DC Minn) 60 F.2d 325

38 USCS § 3301(b)(1) [now 38 USCS § 5701(b)(1)] is not mandatory; rather, disclosure under its provisions rests within the discretion of the Administrator [now Secretary]; mandamus will not lie to control the exercise of that discretion. Hester v Melidosian (1966, ED Pa) 261 F Supp 659

4. Pursuant to federal court process

Debtor was not entitled to damages under Federal Tort Claims Act §§ 1346, 2671 et seq. for improper release by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] of veteran's medical and psychiatric records to U.S. attorney pursuant to grand jury subpoena, since agency based its decision to release records on regulations promulgated under 38 USCS § 3301 [now 38 USCS § 5701] providing for disclosure of records required by process by U.S. court or federal agency, notwithstanding that subsequent to release those regulations were invalidated to extent regulations were inconsistent with Privacy Act, 5 USCS § 552a, since under 28 USCS § 2680 excludes action for damages for lack of due care by government employee based on act or omission in execution of statute or regulation whether such statute or regulation is valid. Doe v Stephens (1988, App DC) 271 US App DC 230, 851 F.2d 1457

Whether disclosure of Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] records is "necessary and proper" in private litigation is matter which must be determined in first instance by court in which judicial proceeding is pending. Ross v Cities Service Gas Co. (1957, DC Mo) 21 FRD 34

5. Pursuant to federal agency request

Any official request, written or oral, is sufficient upon which to furnish records from Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] to another department or agency of United

6. For purposes of suits and judicial proceedings

Former Veterans' Administration counseling psychologist dismissed as result of complaints of improper sexual advances made against him by 3 female beneficiaries, was not entitled to receive, in action under Freedom of Information Act (5 USCS § 552), copies of counseling records, tests and psychological profiles of complainants, since disclosure was expressly prohibited by 38 USCS § 3301(a) [now 38 USCS § 5701(a)]. Doyle v Behan (1982, CA5 Tex) 670 F.2d 535

Administrator of Veterans' Administration [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] could permit access to records in action involving insurance policies, as against contention that they contained privileged communications. Penn Mut. Life Ins. Co. v Ireton (1937) 57 Idaho 466, 65 P2d 1032

Plaintiff's medical records at Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] could be subject of discovery since plaintiff placed his health in issue and thereby waived statutory privilege where defendant's discovery request was limited to specific records relating exclusively to injury to same area of body as that put in issue by plaintiff. Martinez v Rutledge (1979, Tex Civ App Dallas) 592 SW2d 398

Under 38 USCS § 3301(e) [now 38 USCS § 5701(e)] Administrator [now Secretary] had discretion to disclose to state motor vehicle division that hospital patient had convulsive disorder which could affect public safety. Fitch v Veterans Admin. (1979, CA8 Neb) 597 F.2d 1152

Veterans' Administration had no duty to inform state department of vehicles that veteran undergoing psychiatric treatment could not safely operate motor vehicle, notwithstanding state law requiring such reports, where department made no written request for information desired, since 38 USCS § 3301 [now 38 USCS § 5701] barred release of information concerning veteran, in absence of written request from governmental public health or safety agency. Hasenei v United States (1982, DC Md) 541 F Supp 999

Court would grant standing order excepting Secretary from proscriptions of two privacy laws, 5 USCS § 552a and 38 USCS § 3301, to obviate need to obtain written consent to disclosure of records since those laws would otherwise prohibit Secretary from filing with court relevant records from veteran's case file and thus frustrate right of appeal conferred by Veteran's Judicial Review Act. In re Motion for Standing Order (1990) 1 Vet App 555

III. ADMISSIBILITY AND USE OF RECORDS

8. Actions on insurance policies

In action on war risk insurance policy, report of doctor found in files, showing existence of tubercular condition, was admissible, but mere estimates of disability were immaterial. Runkle v United States (1930, CA10 Colo) 42 F.2d 804

Certificates from medical officers as to physical examination by surgeon nine days before discharge of insured were admissible in action on war risk insurance policy. United States v Cole (1930, CA6 Ohio) 45 F.2d 339

Records of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] were admissible in evidence in action on policy. United States v Stamey (1931, CA9 Wash) 48 F.2d 150

Reports of physicians to Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] were inadmissible where there was no showing that physicians could not be produced as witnesses; and self-serving declarations in such reports, made by plaintiff at time of various examinations, were not admissible against defendant. United States v Wilson (1931, CA4 SC) 50 F.2d 1063

In war risk policy case, letter of Administrator [now Secretary] as to disability for purpose of compensation was inadmissible, but reports of physicians were admissible. McNally v United States (1931, CA8 Minn) 52 F.2d 440
Introduction of reports of physical examination by government physicians was permissible as against objection that it would deprive defendant of right of cross-examination. United States v Blackburn (1931, CA9 Wash) 53 F.2d 19

Records of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] as to physical condition of war risk insurance policy holders could be examined in advance of trial, and pertinency of such evidence need not be shown where pertinency was evident on face of pleadings; effect of such evidence was to be determined under ordinary rules of evidence, and self-serving declarations made by insured were not admissible, and statements contained therein could not be introduced in evidence if persons making them were available as witnesses. Third Nat'l Bank & Trust Co. v United States (1931, CA6 Ohio) 53 F.2d 599

Letters from Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] relating to disability compensation were admissible in insurance case. United States v Dougherty (1931, CA7 Ill) 54 F.2d 721

Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] reports of physical examinations were admissible in action on war risk policy, as against objection of hearsay and self-serving declarations. United States v Smith (1932, CA9 Wash) 55 F.2d 141, 81 ALR 926

Reports of government physicians were admissible in action on war risk insurance policy with respect to diagnosis based on observation of physical facts, but inadmissible as to prognosis based on mere opinion of physicians. Long v United States (1932, CA4 SC) 59 F.2d 602

While Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] records were competent on issue as to existence of physical ailments, opinions expressed therein were wholly immaterial where not based on issue of total and permanent disability within meaning of a war risk policy. United States v Ingalls (1933, CA10 NM) 67 F.2d 593

Ordinarily rating for compensation were not admissible to show total and permanent disability. Lockett v United States (1936, CA5 Ga) 86 F.2d 1

Result of examinations by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] were admissible in action on war risk insurance policy on issue as to total and permanent disability. Clark v United States (1931, DC Ky) 48 F.2d 291; Nichols v United States (1931, DC Ky) 48 F.2d 293

Reports of physical examinations made by physicians were not admissible where they contained self-serving declarations by insured, and such reports were not rendered admissible by stipulation authorizing use of report of commissioner appointed to settle issues, who made summary of all facts shown by Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] records. United States v Balance (1932, Dist Col App) 59 F.2d 1040

9. Tort actions

In action by administrator of estate of deceased to recover damages for her death brought against railroad under provisions of Federal Employers' Liability Act (45 USCS § 51 et seq.) where decedent's husband was only one of her surviving relatives as to whom evidence of pecuniary loss was adduced, defendant properly used induction report of surviving husband to attack his credibility and as part of its own case in mitigation of damages. McGlothan v Pennsylvania R. Co. (1948, CA3 Pa) 170 F.2d 121

Murderer's service records and records of Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] as to his mental competency could, after proper basis was established, be introduced in evidence in trial of wrongful death action brought by personal representative of murder victim against murderer's employer. Kendall v Gore Properties, Inc. (1956, App DC) 98 US App DC 378, 236 F.2d 673

Testimony of government physicians as to information obtained in making examination of war veteran after injury was inadmissible in personal injury action. Cruce v Missouri P. R. Co. (1926) 171 Ark 1074, 287 SW 583

§ 5702. Furnishing of records
Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) Any person desiring a copy of any record, paper, and so forth, in the custody of the Secretary that may be disclosed under section 5701 of this title [38 USCS § 5701] must submit to the Secretary an application in writing for such copy. The application shall state specifically--

(1) the particular record, paper, and so forth, a copy of which is desired and whether certified or uncertified; and
(2) the purpose for which such copy is desired to be used.

(b) The Secretary may establish a schedule of fees for copies and certification of such records.

Amendments:

1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 3302, as 38 USCS § 5702, and amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by §§ 401(a)(4) and 402(b) of such Act.

Act Aug. 6, 1991, purported to amend subsec. (a) of this section by substituting "Secretary" for "Veterans' Administration"; however, inasmuch as this section was enacted without a subsec. (a), such amendment was made to the first undesignated subsec. as the probable intent of Congress.

Such Act further, in subsec. (b), substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator".

1994. Act Nov. 2, 1994 designated the first paragraph of the section as subsec. (a), in subsec. (a) as so designated, substituted "custody of the Secretary that may be disclosed under section 5701 of this title must submit to the Secretary an application in writing for such copy. The application shall state" for "custody of the Secretary, which may be disclosed under section 5701 of this title, must make written application therefor to the Secretary, stating".

Such Act further purported to substitute "may establish" for "is authorized to fix" in subsec. (c); however, the amendment was executed in subsec. (b) in order to effectuate the intent of Congress.

(2) Whenever the Secretary is required or permitted to notify a claimant's representative, and the claimant has named in a power of attorney an organization listed in or approved under subsection (a), a specific office of such an organization, or a recognized representative of such an organization without specifically indicating a desire to appoint only a recognized representative of the organization, the Secretary shall notify the organization at the address designated by the organization for the purpose of receiving the notification concerned.

§ 5904. Recognition of agents and attorneys generally

(a) The Secretary may recognize any individual as an agent or attorney for the preparation, presentation, and prosecution of claims under laws administered by the Secretary. The Secretary may require that individuals, before being recognized under this section, show that they are of good moral character and in good repute, are qualified to render claimants valuable service, and otherwise are competent to assist claimants in presenting claims.

(b) The Secretary, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, may suspend or exclude from further practice before the Department any agent or attorney recognized under this section if the Secretary finds that such agent or attorney--

(1) has engaged in any unlawful, unprofessional, or dishonest practice;
(2) has been guilty of disreputable conduct;
(3) is incompetent;
(4) has violated or refused to comply with any of the laws administered by the Secretary, or with any of the regulations or instructions governing practice before the Department; or
(5) has in any manner deceived, misled, or threatened any actual or prospective claimant.

(c) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (3), in connection with a proceeding before the Department with respect to benefits under laws administered by the Secretary, a fee may not be charged, allowed, or paid for services of agents and attorneys with respect to services provided before the date on which the Board of Veterans' Appeals first makes a final decision in the case. Such a fee may be charged, allowed, or paid in the case of services provided after such date only if an agent or attorney is retained with respect to such case before the end of the one-year period beginning on that date. The limitation in the preceding sentence does not apply to services provided with respect to proceedings before a court.

(2) A person who, acting as agent or attorney in a case referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection, represents a person before the Department or the Board of Veterans' Appeals after the Board first makes a final decision in the case shall file a copy of any fee agreement between them with the Board at such time as may be specified by the Board. The Board, upon its own motion or the request of either party, may review such a fee agreement and may order a reduction in the fee called for in the agreement if the Board finds that the fee is excessive or unreasonable. A finding or order of the Board under the preceding sentence may be reviewed by the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims under section 7263(d) of this title [38 USCS § 7263(d)].

(3) A reasonable fee may be charged or paid in connection with any proceeding before the Department in a case arising out of a loan made, guaranteed, or insured under chapter 37 of this title [38 USCS §§ 3701 et seq.]. A person who charges a fee under this paragraph shall enter into a written agreement with the person represented and shall file a copy of the fee agreement with the Secretary at such time, and in such manner, as may be specified by the Secretary.

(d) (1) When a claimant and an attorney have entered into a fee agreement described in paragraph (2) of this subsection, the total fee payable to the attorney may not exceed 20 percent of the total amount of any past-due benefits awarded on the basis of the claim.

(2) (A) A fee agreement referred to in paragraph (1) is one under which the total amount of the fee payable to the attorney--

(i) is to be paid to the attorney by the Secretary directly from any past-due benefits awarded on the basis of the claim; and

(ii) is contingent on whether or not the matter is resolved in a manner favorable to the claimant.

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, a claim shall be considered to have been resolved in a manner favorable to the claimant if all or any part of the relief sought is granted.

(3) To the extent that past-due benefits are awarded in any proceeding before the Secretary, the Board of Veterans' Appeals, or the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, the Secretary may direct that payment of any attorneys' fee under a fee arrangement described in paragraph (1) of this subsection be made out of such past-due benefits. In no event may the Secretary withhold for the purpose of such payment any portion of benefits payable for a period after the date of the final decision of the Secretary, the Board of Veterans' Appeals, or Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims making (or ordering the making of) the award.

Amendments:

1986. Act Oct. 28, 1986, in subsec. (b), substituted "the Administrator" for "he".

1988. Act Nov. 18, 1988 (effective 9/1/89 and applicable as provided by §§ 401(a) and 403 of such Act, which appear as 38 USCS § 7251 note and a note to this section, respectively) substituted subsecs. (c) and (d) for former subsec. (c), which read:

"(c) The Administrator shall determine and pay fees to agents or attorneys recognized under this section in allowed claims for monetary benefits under laws administered by the Veterans' Administration. Such fees--

"(1) shall be determined and paid as prescribed by the Administrator;

"(2) shall not exceed $10 with respect to any one claim; and

"(3) shall be deducted from monetary benefits claimed and allowed.".

Act Aug. 6, 1991, substituted "administered by the Secretary" for "administered by the Veterans' Administration" wherever appearing, substituted "Department" for "Veterans' Administration" wherever appearing, and substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" wherever appearing.

1992. Act Oct. 9, 1992 (applicable as provided by § 303(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (c), in para. (1), substituted "Except as provided in paragraph (3), in" for "In", and added para. (3).

1994. Act Nov. 2, 1994 (applicable with respect to fee agreements entered into on or after the date of enactment, as provided by § 504(b), which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (d)(2), substituted subpara. (A) for one which read: "A fee agreement referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection is one under which (i) the amount of the fee payable to the attorney is to be paid to the attorney by the Secretary directly from any past-due benefits awarded on the basis of the claim, and (ii) the amount of the fee is contingent on whether or not the matter is resolved in a manner favorable to the claimant.".

(c)(1) and (d)(3), substituted "United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims" for "United States Court of Veterans Appeals".

Other provisions:

Such note provided that the Nov. 18, 1988 amendment of subsec. (c) of this section applied only with respect to services of agents and attorneys in cases in which a notice of disagreement was filed on or after Nov. 18, 1988.

Neither history of amendments to law, nor its changing position in U.S. Code through passage of series of consolidation statutes, alters fact that, as originally enacted, 38 USCS § 5904 was part of Public Law that affects provision of benefits, and therefore, is subject to review by Board of Veterans' Appeals and Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims under terms of 38 USCS § 511. Bates v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 398 F.3d 1355

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims erred in concluding that it lacked jurisdiction to consider attorney's request for mandamus requiring Secretary of Veterans Affairs to issue statement of case so that he could appeal decision to terminate his accreditation to represent claimants before Department of Veterans Affairs to Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) as 38 USCS § 5904 was part of single statutory enactment that affected provision of benefits and as result, it was subject to review by BVA and Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims under terms of 38 USCS § 511. Regardless of whether withhold-and-pay provision of 38 USCS § 5904(d) is mandatory or discretionary, Secretary is obligated to pay attorney pursuant to regulation adopted by VA and sanctioned by statute; even though all past-due benefits were disbursed to veteran, attorney is entitled to be paid directly by Secretary agreed-upon attorney fees in amount of 20 percent of past-due benefits. Secretary is obliged by his own regulation to pay attorney under withhold-and-pay contingency-fee agreement if regulatory requirements and statutory requirements of 38 USCS § 5904(d) are met; existence of erroneous payment of all past-due benefits is immaterial to Secretary's responsibility to make payment to which there is lawful entitlement. Snyder v Gober (2000) 14 Vet App 154, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 893, reconsideration gr, affd in part and mod in part (2001) 15 Vet App 285, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1247

38 USCS § 5904(c)(2) requires that determinations of eligibility, which must be done by regional office in first instance, are prerequisite for Board review of reasonableness of non-direct payment fee agreement. Snyder v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 285, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1247

Petitioner did not show that decision by Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) General Counsel (GC) to terminate petitioner's accreditation under 38 USCS § 5904(b) was decision under law that affected provision of benefits by Secretary of Veterans Affairs to veterans or dependents or survivors of veterans under 38 USCS § 511(a); accordingly, it was not matter subject to review by Board of Veterans' Appeals, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(a), and was thus not matter over which court had jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252(a); therefore, veteran's petition for writ of mandamus ordering Secretary to provide statement of case was dismissed for

2. Constitutionality

Predecessor to 38 USCS § 5904, setting maximum fee for assistance in preparation and execution of claim for war risk insurance, did not constitute unconstitutional deprivation of property. Margolin v United States (1925) 269 US 93, 70 L Ed 176, 46 S Ct 64

Predecessor to 38 USCS § 5904 was valid exercise of Congressional power. Hines v Lowrey (1938) 305 US 85, 83 L Ed 56, 59 S Ct 31

Provision of 38 USCS § 3404 [now 38 USCS § 5904] limiting that could be paid attorney or agent who represented veteran seeking benefits for service connected death or disability did not violate due process; nor did provision violate First Amendment since claims process allowed claimant to make meaningful presentation and significant government interests favored limitation on speech. Walters v Nat'l Ass'n of Radiation Survivors (1985) 473 US 305, 87 L Ed 2d 220, 105 S Ct 3180 (superseded by statute as stated in Cintron v West (1999) 13 Vet App 251, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1334)

38 USCS § 3404 [now 38 USCS § 5904] limitation on fees of attorneys was valid. Purvis v United States (1932, CA8 Ark) 61 F.2d 992

Predecessor statute limiting to $10 amount claimant can pay attorney was not unconstitutional as applied to individuals with claims based on exposure to ionizing radiation since attorneys were not necessary to ensure procedural fairness in adjudication of such claims. National Ass'n of Radiation Survivors v Derwinski (1993, CA9 Cal) 994 F.2d 583, reported at, in part (1993, CA9 Cal) 93 CDOS 4526, 93 Daily Journal DAR 7729 and cert den (1993) 510 US 1023, 126 L Ed 2d 592, 114 S Ct 634

Former statute's $10 cap on attorneys' fees did not deny veteran right to assistance of counsel; veteran did not show that he had right to counsel in veterans' benefits proceedings or that statute prohibits him from obtaining legal advice. Marozsan v United States (1996, CA7 Ind) 90 F.3d 1284, reh, en banc, den (1996, CA7 Ind) 1996 US App LEXIS 23455 and cert den (1997) 520 US 1109, 137 L Ed 2d 317, 117 S Ct 1117

Statutory limitation of fee payable by veteran to attorney is reasonable exercise of congressional power over veterans' affairs and does not violate veterans' constitutional rights to procedural due process or to equal protection of laws. Gendron v Saxbe (1975, CD Cal) 389 F Supp 1303, affd (1975) 423 US 802, 46 L Ed 2d 23, 96 S Ct 9

Fee limitation provisions of 38 USCS § 3404 [now 38 USCS § 5904] did not violate due process or first amendment rights when judged by generality of cases to which Veterans laws applied, and disability claimant could show neither sufficient risk of deprivation of private interest nor evidence that her case was so complex as to justify disturbing congressional intent, and further, claimant failed to show that § 3404 [now § 5904] denied her access to meaningful representation. Dyer v Walters (1986, ED Mo) 646 F Supp 791

Congress had power to limit fees of agents to assist in obtaining pensions and to punish violation of law. United States v Marks (1869, CCD Ky) 2 Abb 531, 26 F Cas 1162, No 15721

3. Purpose

Congress intended to protect all veterans, competent and incompetent, in all courts, whether state or federal, against imposition or payment of fees in excess of amount fixed. Hines v Lowrey (1938) 305 US 85, 83 L Ed 56, 59 S Ct 31; Sanchez v United States (1943, CA1 Puerto Rico) 134 F.2d 279, cert den (1943) 319 US 768, 87 L Ed 1717, 63 S Ct 1325

Intention is not only to protect pensioner but government as well. Christie v Steger's Adm'r (1900) 21 Ky LR 1799, 56 SW 521
Statutes limiting fees for procuring pensions were founded upon policy of federal government to protect class of persons who might be incompetent to fully protect themselves; they must necessarily be very absolute and rigorous in order to be effective. Hall v Kimmer (1886) 61 Mich 269, 28 NW 96

4. Application of fee limitation, generally

Maximum fee limitation in predecessor to 38 USCS § 5904, relating to war risk insurance, applied only to payments to be made by or out of funds of applicant, and to dealings by attorney with or on behalf of applicant. Welty v United States (1924, CA6 Ohio) 2 F.2d 562, 3 Ohio L Abs 544

Statutes governing fees for obtaining pensions were not limited to persons who are recognized or known to Commissioner of Pensions [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] as attorneys or agents for applicants; all persons rendering services in procuring such pension were governed thereby. Caverly v Robbins (1889) 149 Mass 16, 20 NE 450

Services performed by guardian, preparatory to prosecution of claim for pension, were not services of attorney, agent, or other person in procuring pension, within meaning of pension laws. Southwick v Evans (1890) 17 RI 198, 21 A 104

5. -Particular services or proceedings

Both old and new versions of § 3404 apply to limit participation of attorneys in Veterans Affairs Department debt collection proceedings, in home loan guarantee context, when veteran seeks waiver of indebtedness. Bahnmiller v Derwinski (1991, CA4 Va) 923 F.2d 1085

Limitation on attorneys’ fees in predecessor to 38 USCS § 5904 was applicable to services rendered for term insurance. United States v Rhodes (1937, DC Pa) 18 F Supp 110

Attorney's fee limitation provisions in both old and new versions of 38 USCS § 3404 [now 38 USCS § 5904] apply to debt collection proceedings brought against veteran until final administrative decision is reached within agency, because defense of debt collection action, which is usually to recover overpaid benefits and may seek setoff against benefits, is within both definitions given clear congressional intention to prevent veterans' benefits from being diverted to attorneys. Bahnmiller v Derwinski (1989, ED Va) 724 F Supp 1208, affd in part and vacated in part on other grounds (1991, CA4 Va) 923 F.2d 1085

Where fiancee of deceased veteran retained services of attorneys to seek probate of alleged nuncupative will and agreed to pay attorneys thirty-three and one-third percent of any and all recovery which might be obtained, and by reason of having procured probate of will, fiancee, long after such probate, became entitled to and was paid, large part of veteran's war risk insurance, predecessor to 38 USCS § 5904, limiting compensation of attorneys for preparation of papers with respect to application to collect insurance, was not applicable. In re Mason's Estate (1940) 174 Misc 218, 20 NYS2d 501

Attorney was not entitled to more than $10 in fees since NOD was filed prior to Act's effective date; subsequent BVA decisions and NODs pertained to pre-Act claim. In re Fee Agreement of Smith (1993) 6 Vet App 25

RO's decision on remand from Board did not constitute final decision of Board for purposes of statute's limitation on when attorney's fee may be charged, allowed, or paid; RO was acting on behalf of Board only in sense that decision facilitated Board's appellate review, and it seems inconceivable that RO decision could ever be decision of Board for that purpose even if RO completed Board's appellate review function by awarding all benefits sought on appeal or claimant withdrew NOD or otherwise acquiesced in RO's decision. In re Fee Agreement of Stanley (1996) 9 Vet App 203

Attorney was not entitled to fees from past-due benefits awarded to veteran for entitlements to total rating based on individual unemployability (TDIU) and special monthly compensation, since issue of TDIU was not before BVA in either of its underlying decisions; claim for TDIU is separate from those of underlying disabilities which cause unemployability. No payment of attorneys' fees was warranted or permitted for services rendered before VA and Board in connection with veteran's claim for posttraumatic stress syndrome since veteran was awarded benefits for it by RO under nonadversarial system of VA claims processing and PTSD claim was never subject of final BVA decision. In re Fee Agreement of Stanley (1997) 10 Vet App 104, app dismd (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 36411

Attorney was entitled to attorney's fees from past-due benefits awarded to veteran since BVA's failure to adjudicate claim reasonably before it amounted to denial of benefits sought and therefore final adverse decision. In re Fee Agreement of Smith (1997) 10 Vet App 311

Attorney was entitled to fee from past-due benefits awarded to veteran whom he represented since there was final BVA decision as to issues of total disability due to individual unemployability and depression. In re Fee Agreement Cox (1998) 11 Vet App 158

Attorney was not entitled to charge attorney fees under 38 USCS § 5904(c)(1) for services rendered before Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) or Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) with respect to secondary service connection for veteran's back disability or for total disability based on individual unemployability where attorney was not retained within one year after 1990 BVA decision; 1994 BVA decision, though final on issue of secondary service connection, was not first final decision; and services provided before Board and VA after remand from Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims were not continuation of proceedings before Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims so as to be exempt from § 5904(c)(1) limitations on charging attorney fees; however, under § 5904(d)(1), attorney's successful representation of veteran before Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims created entitlement to direct payment by Secretary of 20 percent of past-due benefits awarded on basis of claim underlying Court's decision. In re Fee Agreement of Mason (1999) 13 Vet App 79, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1112

6. -Payment by third persons

Since test of illegality was whether compensation was paid directly or indirectly from insurance fund, attorney could receive any amount of compensation from third person for services in securing benefits of war risk insurance for another. Welty v United States (1924, CA6 Ohio) 2 F.2d 562, 3 Ohio L Abs 544

Law firm's broad arguments that Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) lacked authority to regulate disinterested fee payers and that DVA's effort to regulate third-party fee payers was contrary to 38 USCS § 5904(c), were rejected, and 2002 amendments to disinterested third-party payer regulation were upheld as they were not arbitrary and capricious. Carpenter v Sec'y of Veterans Affairs (2003, CA FC) 343 F.3d 1347

If money was given to person who procured pension as mere gift, without any demand on his part, it was not violation of pension laws. Schwab v Ginkinger (1897) 181 Pa 8, 37 A 125

By no sort of contrivance or device, either under disguise of loan or purchase of property or gift, or any other scheme, could attorney prosecuting pension claim demand or receive or retain any more than fee allowed by law. United States v Moyers (1882, CCD Tenn) 15 F 411; Hall v Kimmer (1886) 61 Mich 269, 28 NW 96

Fee which includes both Equal Access to Justice Act (EAJA) award plus contingency fee for work performed before Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, Board, and VA on same claim such that fee is enhanced by EAJA award is unreasonable pursuant to 38 USCS §§ 5904(c) and 7263. Carpenter v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 64, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 815, app dismd (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1371, reh den,reh, en banc, den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 14589

8. Fee agreements

Contracts for collection of fees in excess of valid statutory limitations and for services validly prohibited by statute cannot stand whether made with competent veteran or with guardian of incompetent veteran. Hines v Lowrey (1938) 305 US 85, 83 L Ed 56, 59 S Ct 31
Court of Veterans Appeals lacked subject matter over attorney's motion to compel Secretary to pay attorney's fee specified in fee agreement since fee agreements are properly before court only when it reviews decision of Board concerning agreement or any other matter decided by Board and court did not have decision of Board before it for review when attorney's motion was filed, and attorney's motion was not one for review of fee agreement pursuant to § 7263, rather to compel action to give agreement effect. Wick v Brown (In re Wick) (1994, CA FC) 40 F.3d 367

Since parties to review of fee agreement are claimant on one hand and attorney on other, and Board serves in quasi-judicial role, when review of fee agreement is statutorily authorized it is appropriate, indeed necessary, for Board to communicate directly with represented client in connection with such review of fee agreement. Nagler v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 297

BVA Chairman has no power to review attorney-fee agreements for representation at administrative level; review of fee agreements for VA/BVA is matter reposed by statute in Board itself and not in Secretary; hence Secretary cannot promulgate regulation providing that Chairman's ruling on motion for review of the agreement will constitute final decision of Board; neither does Chairman's administrative control and supervision authority authorize him to review attorney-fee agreements. In re Smith (1991) 1 Vet App 492

Portions of Form 2-22a concerning fee agreement filing requirements contained misleading and erroneous information about fee agreements because it indicated that where payment of fees was permitted, copy of agreement must be filed, since governing statute does not require that representative enter into fee agreement with veteran. Jones v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 596

In consolidated case, fee agreement between first attorney and client did not satisfy statute's requirements, so Secretary was not required to withhold fee from client's past-due benefits nor pay fee directly to attorney; second attorney did not represent appellant before court and agreement was not reviewed by BVA, hence court lacked jurisdiction to review agreement and would not do so by writ of mandamus; third attorney's fee agreement satisfied statute's requirements hence attorney was entitled to be paid by Secretary. In re Smith (1993) 4 Vet App 487, sub nom, vacated, remanded Wick v Brown (In re Wick) (1994, CA FC) 40 F.3d 367

Contingency fee arrangement for attorneys' fee of 20 percent of past-due benefits received was presumed to be and was reasonable since it was in compliance with relevant statutory requirements and appellant's lay assertions regarding value and extent of legal services rendered by counsel were insufficient as matter of law to rebut presumption. In re Fee Agreement of Vernon (1996) 8 Vet App 457

Lien provision in fee agreement between veteran and counsel granting attorney lien on veteran's claim for benefits and any sum recovered is unreasonable and unenforceable under 38 USCS § 7263(d) because it conflicts with 38 USCS § 5301(a) and 38 USCS § 5904(d)(3). Busch v West (1999) 12 Vet App 552, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 950

§ 5904(c)(2) or 38 USCS § 7263(d) to address threshold question of whether there is fee agreement, in view of termination of attorney-client relationship, which would warrant withholding of portion of award; although jurisdiction exists under 38 USCS § 7252, § 5904 cannot justify Board's decision to award attorney fees since contingent fee agreement ceased to exist under state law when attorney-client relationship terminated. Scates v West (1999) 13 Vet App 98, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1116, motion gr, op withdrawn (2000) 13 Vet App 304, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 51

Board had authority to review fee agreement pursuant to 38 USCS § 5904(c) even though fee agreement was entered into after Board made final decision in veteran's case where agreement addressed representation before Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims and Board, agreement was filed with Board on same date it was filed with Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, and agreement satisfied requirements of § 5904(c). Carpenter v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 64, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 815, app dismd (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1371, reh den, reh, en banc, den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 14589

All issues involving eligibility for attorney fees under non-direct-payment fee agreements, as contrasted with issues of reasonableness and excessiveness, must first be addressed by Veterans Administration Regional Office in accordance with normal adjudication procedures and cannot be subject of original Board of Veterans' Appeals review. Stanley v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 356, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 702

Board of Veterans Appeals did not err in its determination that appellant attorney was not entitled to direct payment by Department of Veterans Affairs of 20 percent of veteran's son's past-due dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) benefits pursuant to his fee agreement with veteran's widow because, although attorney's successful representation of veteran's widow had result of qualifying intervenor for DIC benefits, those benefits for her helpless-adult son under 38 USCS § 1314 were separate and distinct from veteran's widow's DIC benefits under 38 USCS § 1311, and there was no evidence of record that attorney ever entered into any fee agreement with intervenor. Hanlin v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 350, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 616

9. Reimbursement of advances and expenses

Agent, attorney, or other person aiding pensioner could be reimbursed money which he advanced to or for him, and could also be repaid actual expenses incurred in prosecuting pension claim. United States v Moore (1883, CCD Ky) 18 F 686

10. Recovery of excess fees

Under predecessor to 38 USCS § 5904 excess fees for legal services could be recovered in action for money had and received. Morgan v Hutcheson (1940) 61 Ga App 763, 7 SE2d 691

Predecessor to 38 USCS § 5904, while making collection of excess fee a misdemeanor, did not penalize its payment and did not expressly give right of recovery to person making payment. Denny's Adm'r v Denny's Heirs (1936) 264 Ky 467, 94 SW2d 978

Pensioner could recover excessive fees. Smart v White (1882) 73 Me 332; Hall v Kimmer (1886) 61 Mich 269, 28 NW 96

Excessive fee could be recovered in action of assumpsit, even though it was paid voluntarily. Ladd v Barton (1886) 64 NH 613, 6 A 483

11. Miscellaneous

There was nothing which definitely undertook to put limitation upon state court's right to make allowance to guardian of incompetent veteran for attorney fees for attorney employed by guardian to obtain reinstatement of ward's disability pension. Hines v Stein (1936) 298 US 94, 80 L Ed 1063, 56 S Ct 699, reh den (1936) 298 US 692, 80 L Ed 1409, 56 S Ct 945

38 USCS § 5904(d)(2)(A) and (3) and 38 C.F.R. § 20.609(h) do not create implied-in-fact contract to pay attorney who represented veterans from past-due veteran benefits, where statute was directive from Congress rather than promise from Department of Veterans Affairs and attorney failed to offer any evidence of mutuality of intent, offer, or acceptance. Hanlin v United States (2003, CA FC) 316 F.3d 1325

Circuit court lacked jurisdiction to review decision of United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims regarding reasonableness of attorney's fee agreement with veteran; more specific provisions of 38 USCS § 7263(d) overrode general grant of jurisdiction in 38 USCS 7292(a) and, thus, precluded review of decision of Veterans' Court's under 38 USCS § 5904(c)(2).
Carpenter v Principi (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1371, reh den, reh, en banc, den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 14589

In re Fee Agreement of Bates (1997) 10 Vet App 547

Where attorney successfully represented veteran seeking to recover past due benefits from Department of Veterans Affairs, fee agreement executed between attorney and veteran in compliance with 38 USCS § 5904(d), which was thereafter accepted by Secretary, did not give rise to implied-in-fact contract that is enforceable in Court of Federal Claims. Hanlin v United States (2001) 50 Fed Cl 697, affd (2003, CA FC) 316 F.3d 1325

In prosecution in United States District Court for Puerto Rico, it was immaterial that defendant might also have been tried in insular court for defrauding beneficiary personally. Lopez v United States (1926, CA1 Puerto Rico) 17 F.2d 462

2. Purpose
Purpose of predecessor to 38 USCS § 5905 was to protect World War veterans from being charged excessive fees for aid in prosecuting applications to Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] for benefits under various statutes passed for their relief and assistance. Sanchez v United States (1943, CA1 Puerto Rico) 134 F.2d 279, cert den (1943)

3. Application
38 USCS § 3405 [now 38 USCS § 5905] did not apply to counsel fees in litigation; after administrative denial of veteran's claim, attorney who subsequently successfully prosecuted the claim in a lawsuit was entitled to fees up to 25 percent of recovery in court's discretion.

Purpose of 38 USCS § 3405 [now 38 USCS § 5905] was to prevent unscrupulous persons

Since any agent or attorney, or any other person, was liable under predecessor to 38 USCS § 5905 for withholding from pensioner any part of his pension, it was not necessary to show that

Blatchf 227, 10 F 547

Predecessor to 38 USCS § 5905 was not limited to persons who are recognized or known to Commissioner of Pensions [now Secretary of Veterans Affairs] as attorneys or agents of applicants for pensions. Caverly v Robbins (1889) 149 Mass 16, 20 NE 450

4. Offenses relating to fees
If excessive fee was paid by applicant's father, and in no manner affected property interests of applicant himself, there was no offense. Welty v United States (1924, CA6 Ohio) 2 F.2d 562,
3 Ohio L Abs 544
To constitute crime it was not essential that excessive charge be received pursuant to promise by, or understanding with, beneficiary, or as result of demand by defendant. Lopez v United States (1926, CA1 Puerto Rico) 17 F.2d 462

Demand for fee greater than statute allowed could be made by suit as well as by word of mouth or other form of demand. Purvis v United States (1932, CA8 Ark) 61 F.2d 992

State court judgment directing payment of fee to attorney who handled claim of veteran was not judicial determination of legality of fee precluding prosecution. Smith v United States (1936, CA8 Ark) 83 F.2d 631

In prosecution for receiving excessive fee, it was good defense that fee also included services in clearing charge of desertion. United States v Snow (1877, CCED Tenn) 2 Flip 1, 27 F Cas 1255, No 16350

Attorney acted unprofessionally by attempting to secure fee from client through improper contract and by engaging in inappropriate efforts to collect attorneys' fees, warranting public reprimand. In re McCarty (1997) 10 Vet App 192

5. Offenses relating to withholding of recovery

It is immaterial whether pension was obtained, or whether excessive sum was taken from particular pension money received. Frisbie v United States (1895) 157 US 160, 39 L Ed 657, 15 S Ct 586

Word "withholding" contemplated not fraudulent obtaining of money from pensioner, but withholding of money before it reached pensioner's hands. Ballew v United States (1895) 160 US 187, 40 L Ed 388, 16 S Ct 263

Attorney was not liable for withholding funds sufficient to pay for other professional services rendered for pensioner. United States v Hewitt (1882, DC NJ) 11 F 243

Attorney who received pensioner's check and cashed it by endorsing her name upon it and appropriated money to his own use was guilty of "withholding" when he subsequently refused to pay check. United States v Ryckman (1882, DC Tenn) 12 F 46

6. Sufficiency of indictment

Indictment charging defendant with withholding "pay" and "bounty" was not offense. United States v Benecke (1879) 98 US 447, 8 Otto 447, 25 L Ed 192

It was sufficient to allege that defendant was engaged in prosecuting claim for pension; his regular profession was immaterial. Frisbie v United States (1895) 157 US 160, 39 L Ed 657, 15 S Ct 586

Indictment was not defective because it did not state what kind of war risk insurance was involved. Lucas v United States (1935, CA5 Tex) 80 F.2d 372, cert den (1936) 297 US 709, 80 L Ed 996, 56 S Ct 502

Descriptive allegations of indictment charging defendant with having received larger compensation for prosecuting pension claim than allowed by law was sufficient where defendant knew what he was charged with. Perry v United States (1936, CA5 Fla) 84 F.2d 567

Indictment following words of predecessor to 38 USCS § 5905 was sufficient. United States v Wilson (1886, DC Mass) 29 F 286

7. Evidence

Letters of attorney for veteran showing acknowledgment of guilt by attorney in violation of predecessor to 38 USCS § 5905 and attempt on attorney's behalf to evade consequences were admissible. Negron v United States (1929, CA1 Puerto Rico) 30 F.2d 584

Complaint filed in state court was admissible as evidence of demand for excessive fee under predecessor to 38 USCS § 5905. Purvis v United States (1932, CA8 Ark) 61 F.2d 992

It was enough to support conviction for government to show that excessive fee was solicited, contracted, charged, or received for assistance, whether or not such assistance was ever in fact rendered in preparation and execution of necessary papers in any application to Veterans' Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]. Sanchez v United States (1943, CA1 Puerto Rico) 134 F.2d 279, cert den (1943) 319 US 768, 87 L Ed 1717, 63 S Ct 1325

Government showing that defendant sold piece of property to pensioner at value largely in excess of its real value, as mere trick, by which he obtained more than legal fee, was competent evidence. United States v Koch (1884, CCD Mo) 21 F 873

8. Jury instructions

Instruction that it was necessary to establish that defendant was agent or instrumental in prosecution of claim, and that he withheld from pensioner some part of pension that was allowed was proper. Humes v United States (1898) 170 US 210, 42 L Ed 1011, 18 S Ct 602

Upon payment of money to guardian, title passes from United States to veteran; and denunciation of embezzlement by guardians is not inconsistent with such view. Spicer v Smith (1933) 288 US 430, 77 L Ed 875, 53 S Ct 415, 84 ALR 1525

Administrator of home in which veteran no longer resided after VA check on his behalf was sent to and cashed by home was properly considered to be fiduciary even though administrator did not personally sign agreement with VA with respect to veteran United States v Zyskind (1997, CA2 NY) 118 F.3d 113

Representative payee of child receiving benefits cannot knowingly and wilfully convert payments to any use other than for use and benefit of child beneficiary without being subject to misdemeanor under 38 USCS § 3501 [now 38 USCS § 6101]; thus, state department concerned with Aid to Dependent Children may not require representative payee to use benefits for other members of child's family and state regulations which considered that children who applied for Aid have available to them all governmental income received by another child in same household conflicted with controlling Federal policy. 2. Pledge of property
Under predecessor to 38 USCS § 6101, "pledging" consisted of encumbering property so as to make unavailable for veteran’s support so much of it as must answer loan. United States v Lewis (1947, CA2 NY) 161 F.2d 683

(a) Whoever knowingly makes or causes to be made or conspires, combines, aids, or assists in, agrees to, arranges for, or in any way procures the making or presentation of a false or fraudulent affidavit, declaration, certificate, statement, voucher, or paper, concerning any claim for benefits under any of the laws administered by the Secretary (except laws pertaining to insurance benefits) shall forfeit all rights, claims, and benefits.
under all laws administered by the Secretary (except laws pertaining to insurance benefits).

(b) Whenever a veteran entitled to disability compensation has forfeited the right to such compensation under this section, the compensation payable but for the forfeiture shall thereafter be paid to the veteran's spouse, children, and parents. Payments made to a spouse, children, and parents under the preceding sentence shall not exceed the amounts payable to each if the veteran had died from service-connected disability. No spouse, child, or parent who participated in the fraud for which forfeiture was imposed shall receive any payment by reason of this subsection. An apportionment award under this subsection may not be made in any case after September 1, 1959.

(c) Forfeiture of benefits by a veteran shall not prohibit payment of the burial allowance, death compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, or death pension in the event of the veteran's death.

(d) (1) After September 1, 1959, no forfeiture of benefits may be imposed under this section or section 6104 of this title [38 USCS § 6104] upon any individual who was a resident of, or domiciled in, a State at the time the act or acts occurred on account of which benefits would, but for this subsection, be forfeited unless such individual ceases to be a resident of, or domiciled in, a State before the expiration of the period during which criminal prosecution could be instituted. This subsection shall not apply with respect to (A), any forfeiture occurring before September 1, 1959, or (B) an act or acts which occurred in the Philippine Islands before July 4, 1946.

(2) The Secretary is hereby authorized and directed to review all cases in which, because of a false or fraudulent affidavit, declaration, certificate, statement, voucher, or paper, a forfeiture of gratuitous benefits under laws administered by the Secretary was imposed, pursuant to this section or prior provisions of law, on or before September 1, 1959. In any such case in which the Secretary determines that the forfeiture would not have been imposed under the provisions of this section in effect after September 1, 1959, the Secretary shall remit the forfeiture, effective June 30, 1972. Benefits to which the individual concerned becomes eligible by virtue of any such remission may be awarded, upon application therefor, and the effective date of any award of compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, or pension made in such a case shall be fixed in accordance with the provisions of section 5110(g) of this title [38 USCS § 5110(g)].

Under predecessor to statute forfeitures based upon vitiating fraud concerning any claim for benefits might have been administratively determined, but ample and substantial grounds dictated congressional intention that veteran's service-connected disability compensation was not to be forfeited by virtue of unreviewable decision in agency that veteran was guilty of so serious offense as treason or rendering assistance to enemy in time of war. (a) Any person shown by evidence satisfactory to the Secretary to be guilty of mutiny, treason, sabotage, or rendering assistance to an enemy of the United States or of its allies shall forfeit all accrued or future gratuitous benefits under laws administered by the Secretary.

(b) The Secretary, in the Secretary's discretion, may apportion and pay any part of benefits forfeited under subsection (a) to the dependents of the person forfeiting such benefits. No dependent of any person shall receive benefits by reason of this subsection in excess of the amount to which the dependent would be entitled if such person were dead.

(c) In the case of any forfeiture under this section there shall be no authority after September 1, 1959 (1) to make an apportionment award pursuant to subsection (b) or (2) to make an award to any person of gratuitous benefits based on any period of military, naval, or air service commencing before the date of commission of the offense.

recently discharged or released from active military, naval, or air service and those who are eligible for readjustment or other benefits and services under laws administered by the Department) are provided timely and appropriate assistance to aid and encourage them in applying for and obtaining such benefits and services in order that they may achieve a rapid social and economic readjustment to civilian life and obtain a higher standard of living for themselves and their dependents; and
(2) the outreach services program authorized by this chapter [38 USCS §§ 6301 et seq.] is for the purpose of charging the Department with the affirmative duty of seeking out eligible veterans and eligible dependents and providing them with such services.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter [38 USCS §§ 6301 et seq.]-
   (1) the term "other governmental programs" includes all programs under State or local laws as well as all programs under Federal law other than those authorized by this title; and

(b) Individual notice to new veterans. The Secretary shall by letter advise each veteran at the time of the veteran's discharge or release from active military, naval, or air service (or as soon as possible after such discharge or release) of all benefits and services

(2) Whenever a veteran or dependent first applies for any benefit under laws administered by the Secretary (including a request for burial or related benefits or an application for life insurance proceeds), the Secretary shall provide to the veteran or dependent information concerning benefits and health care services under programs administered by the Secretary. Such information shall be provided not later than three months after the date of such application.

(d) Provision of aid and assistance. The Secretary shall provide, to the maximum extent possible, aid and assistance (including personal interviews) to members of the Armed Forces, veterans, and eligible dependents with respect to subsections (b) and (c) and in the preparation and presentation of claims under laws administered by the Department.

§ 7101. Composition of Board of Veterans' Appeals
(a) There is in the Department a Board of Veterans' Appeals (hereinafter in this chapter [38 USCS §§ 7101 et seq.] referred to as the "Board"). The Board is under the administrative control and supervision of a chairman directly responsible to the Secretary. The Board shall consist of a Chairman, a Vice Chairman, and such number of members as may be found necessary in order to conduct hearings and dispose of appeals properly before the Board in a timely manner. The Board shall have such other professional, administrative, clerical, and stenographic personnel as are necessary in conducting hearings and considering and disposing of appeals properly before the Board. The Board shall have sufficient personnel under the preceding sentence to enable the Board to conduct hearings and consider and dispose of appeals properly before the Board in a timely manner.

(b) (1) The Chairman shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a term of six years. The Chairman shall be subject to the same ethical and legal limitations and restrictions concerning involvement in political activities as apply to judges of the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims.

(2) The Chairman may be removed by the President for misconduct, inefficiency, neglect of duty, or engaging in the practice of law or for physical or mental disability which, in the opinion of the President, prevents the proper execution of the Chairman's duties. The Chairman may not be removed from office by the President on any other grounds. Any such removal may only be made after notice and opportunity for hearing.

(3) The Chairman may be appointed under this subsection to more than one term. If, upon the expiration of the term of office for which the Chairman was appointed, the position of Chairman would become vacant, the individual serving as Chairman may, with the approval of the Secretary, continue to serve as Chairman until either appointed to another term or a successor is appointed, but not beyond the end of the Congress during which the term of office expired.

(4) The Secretary shall designate one member of the Board as Vice Chairman. The Vice Chairman shall perform such functions as the Chairman may specify. Such member shall serve as Vice Chairman at the pleasure of the Secretary.

(c) (1) (A) The Chairman may from time to time designate one or more employees of the Department to serve as acting members of the Board. Except as provided in subparagraph (B), any such designation shall be for a period not to exceed 90 days, as determined by the Chairman.

(B) An individual designated as an acting member of the Board may continue to serve as an acting member of the Board in the making of any determination on a proceeding for which the individual was designated as an acting member of the Board, notwithstanding the termination of the period of designation of the individual as an acting member of the Board under subparagraph (A) or (C).

(C) An individual may not serve as an acting member of the Board for more than 270 days during any one-year period.

(D) At no time may the number of acting members exceed 20 percent of the total of the number of Board members and acting Board members combined.
(2) In each annual report to the Congress under section 529 of this title [38 USCS § 529], the Secretary shall provide detailed descriptions of the activities undertaken and plans made in the fiscal year for which the report is made with respect to the authority provided by paragraph (1) of this subsection. In each such report, the Secretary shall indicate, in terms of full-time employee equivalents, the number of acting members of the Board designated under such paragraph (1) during the year for which the report is made.

(d) (1) After the end of each fiscal year, the Chairman shall prepare a report on the activities of the Board during that fiscal year and the projected activities of the Board for the fiscal year during which the report is prepared and the next fiscal year. Such report shall be included in the documents providing detailed information on the budget for the Department that the Secretary submits to the Congress in conjunction with the President's budget submission for any fiscal year pursuant to section 1105 of title 31 [31 USCS § 1105].

(2) Each such report shall include, with respect to the preceding fiscal year, information specifying--
   (A) the number of cases appealed to the Board during that year;
   (B) the number of cases pending before the Board at the beginning and at the end of that year;
   (C) the number of such cases which were filed during each of the 36 months preceding the current fiscal year;
   (D) the average length of time a case was before the Board between the time of the filing of an appeal and the disposition during the preceding fiscal year;
   (E) the number of members of the Board at the end of the year and the number of professional, administrative, clerical, stenographic, and other personnel employed by the Board at the end of the preceding fiscal year; and
   (F) the number of employees of the Department designated under subsection (c)(1) to serve as acting members of the Board during that year and the number of cases in which each such member participated during that year.

(3) The projections in each such report for the current fiscal year and for the next fiscal year shall include (for each such year)--
   (A) an estimate of the number of cases to be appealed to the Board; and
   (B) an evaluation of the ability of the Board (based on existing and projected personnel levels) to ensure timely disposition of such appeals as required by section 7101(a) of this title [38 USCS § 7101(a)].

(e) A performance incentive that is authorized by law for officers and employees of the Federal Government may be awarded to a member of the Board (including an acting member) by reason of that member's service on the Board only if the Chairman of the Board determines that such member should be awarded that incentive. A determination by the Chairman for such purpose shall be made taking into consideration the quality of performance of the Board member.

"(B) A member of the Board (other than the Chairman) may be removed by the Secretary upon the recommendation of the Chairman. In the case of a removal that would be covered by section 7521 of title 5 in the case of an administrative law judge, a removal of a member of the Board under this paragraph shall be carried out subject to the same requirements as apply to removal of an administrative law judge under that section. Section 554(a)(2) of title 5 shall not apply to a removal action under this subparagraph. In designated as new para. (2) the sentences in para. (1) beginning "The Chairman may be removed . . .", "The Chairman may not be removed . . .", and "Any such removal . . .", and, in para. (3), substituted "The Chairman" for "Members (including the Chairman)", and added the sentence beginning "If, upon the expiration of the term . . .".

1998. Act Nov. 11, 1998 (effective on the first day of the first month beginning more than 90 days after enactment, as provided by § 513 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note), in subsec. (b)(1), substituted "Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims" for "Court of Veterans Appeals".

Other provisions:

Transition to new Board. Act Nov. 18, 1988, P. L. 100-687, Div A, Title II, § 201(c), (d), 102 Stat. 4109, effective on enactment as provided by § 401(c) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note, provides:

"(c) Transition to new board.(1) Appointments of members of the Board of Veterans' Appeals under subsection (b)(2) of section 4001 [now section 7101] of title 38, United States Code (as amended by subsection (a)), may not be made until a Chairman is appointed under subsection (b)(1) of that section.

"(2) An individual who is serving as a member of the Board on the date of the enactment of this Act may continue to serve as a member until the earlier of--

"(A) the date on which the individual's successor (as designated by the Administrator) is appointed under subsection (b)(2) of that section, or

"(B) the end of the 180-day period beginning on the day after the date on which the Chairman is appointed under subsection (b)(1) of such section.

"(d) Initial terms of office. Notwithstanding the second sentence of section 4001(b)(2) [now section 7101(b)(2)] of title 38, United States Code (as amended by subsection (a)), specifying the term for which members of the Board of Veterans' Appeals shall be appointed, of the members first appointed under that section--

Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

§ 7101A. Members of Board: appointment; pay; performance review

(a) (1) The members of the Board of Veterans' Appeals other than the Chairman (and including the Vice Chairman) shall be appointed by the Secretary, with the approval of the President, based upon recommendations of the Chairman.

(2) Each member of the Board shall be a member in good standing of the bar of a State.

(b) Members of the Board (other than the Chairman and any member of the Board who is a member of the Senior Executive Service) shall, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary, be paid basic pay at rates equivalent to the rates payable under section 5372 of title 5 [5 USCS § 5372].

(c) (1) (A) The Chairman shall establish a panel to review the performance of members of the Board. The panel shall be comprised of the Chairman and two other members of the Board (other than the Vice Chairman). The Chairman shall periodically rotate membership on the panel so as to ensure that each member of the Board (other than the Vice Chairman) serves as a member of the panel for and within a reasonable period.

(B) Not less than one year after the job performance standards under subsection (f) are initially established, and not less often than once every three years thereafter, the performance review panel shall determine, with respect to each member of the Board (other than the Chairman or a member who is a member of the Senior Executive Service), whether that member's job performance as a member of the Board meets the performance standards for a member of the Board established under subsection (f). Each such determination shall be in writing.

(2) If the determination of the performance review panel in any case is that the member's job performance as a member of the Board meets the performance standards for a member of the Board established under subsection (f), the Chairman shall recertify the member's appointment as a member of the Board.

(3) If the determination of the performance review panel in any case is that the member's job performance does not meet the performance standards for a member of the Board established under subsection (f), the Chairman shall, based upon the individual circumstances, either--

(A) grant the member a conditional recertification; or

(B) recommend to the Secretary that the member be noncertified.

(4) In the case of a member of the Board who is granted a conditional recertification under paragraph (3)(A) or (5)(A), the performance review panel shall review the member's job performance record and make a further determination under paragraph (1) concerning that member not later than one year after the date of the conditional recertification. If the determination of the performance review panel at that time is that the member's job performance as a member of the Board still does not meet the performance standards for a member of the Board established under subsection (f), the Chairman shall recommend to the Secretary that the member be noncertified. (5) In a case in which the Chairman recommends to the Secretary under paragraph (3) or (4) that a member be noncertified, the Secretary, after considering the recommendation of the Chairman, may either--

(A) grant the member a conditional recertification; or
(B) determine that the member should be noncertified.

(d) (1) If the Secretary, based upon the recommendation of the Chairman, determines that a member of the Board should be noncertified, that member's appointment as a member of the Board shall be terminated and that member shall be removed from the Board.

(2) (A) Upon removal from the Board under paragraph (1) of a member of the Board who before appointment to the Board served as an attorney in the civil service, the Secretary shall appoint that member to an attorney position at the Board, if the removed member so requests. If the removed member served in an attorney position at the Board immediately before appointment to the Board, appointment to an attorney position under this paragraph shall be in the grade and step held by the removed member immediately before such appointment to the Board.

(B) The Secretary is not required to make an appointment to an attorney position under this paragraph if the Secretary determines that the member of the Board removed under paragraph (1) is not qualified for the position.

(e) (1) A member of the Board (other than the Chairman or a member of the Senior Executive Service) may be removed as a member of the Board by reason of job performance only as provided in subsections (c) and (d). Such a member may be removed by the Secretary, upon the recommendation of the Chairman, for any other reason as determined by the Secretary.

(2) In the case of a removal of a member under this section for a reason other than job performance that would be covered by section 7521 of title 5 [5 USCS § 7521] in the case of an administrative law judge, the removal of the member of the Board shall be carried out subject to the same requirements as apply to removal of an administrative law judge under that section. Section 554(a)(2) of title 5 [5 USCS § 554(a)(2)] shall not apply to a removal action under this subsection. In such a removal action, a member shall have the rights set out in section 7513(b) of that title [5 USCS § 7513(b)].

(f) The Chairman, subject to the approval of the Secretary, shall establish standards for the performance of the job of a member of the Board (other than the Chairman or a member of the Senior Executive Service). Those standards shall establish objective and fair criteria for evaluation of the job performance of a member of the Board.

(g) The Secretary shall prescribe procedures for the administration of this section, including deadlines and time schedules for different actions under this section.

Amendments:

1998. Act Nov. 11, 1998, in subsec. (a), designated the existing provisions as para. (1), and added para. (2); and, in subsec. (d), substituted para. (2) for one which read: "(2) Upon removal from the Board under paragraph (1), a member of the Board (other than the Chairman) who was a career or career-conditional employee in the civil service before commencement of service as a member of the Board shall revert to the civil service grade and series held by the member immediately before the appointment of the member to the Board.

Other provisions:

Effect of Nov. 2, 1994 amendments upon existing rate of pay of members of Board. Act Nov. 2, 1994, P. L. 103-446, Title II, § 201(b), 108 Stat. 4656, provides: "The rate of basic pay payable to an individual who is a member of the Board of Veterans' Appeals on the date of the enactment of this Act may not be reduced by reason of the amendments made by this section [adding this section] to a rate below the rate payable to such individual on the day before such date."

Effective date of subsec. (b). Act Nov. 2, 1994, P. L. 103-446, Title II, § 201(c), 108 Stat. 4657, provides: "Section 7101A(b) of title 38, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall take effect on the first day of the first pay period beginning after December 31, 1994."

Deadline for establishment of job performance standards for members of Board; report to Congress. Act Nov. 2, 1994, P. L. 103-446, Title II, § 202, 108 Stat. 4657, provides:

"(a) Deadline. The job performance standards required to be established by section 7101A(f) of title 38, United States Code, as added by section 201(a), shall be established not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

"(b) Submission to Congressional Committees. Not later than the date on which the standards referred to in subsection (a) take effect, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report describing the standards established by the Chairman of the Board of Veterans' Appeals."

§ 7102. Assignment of members of Board

(a) A proceeding instituted before the Board may be assigned to an individual member of the Board or to a panel of not less than three members of the Board. A member or panel assigned a proceeding shall make a determination thereon, including any motion filed in connection therewith. The member or panel, as the case may be, shall make a report under section 7104(d) of this title [38 USCS § 7104(d)] on any such determination, which report shall constitute the final disposition of the proceeding by the member or panel.

(b) A proceeding may not be assigned to the Chairman as an individual member. The Chairman may participate in a proceeding assigned to a panel or in a reconsideration assigned to a panel of members.

Amendments:

1984. Act March 2, 1984 inserted the subsection designators (a) through (c); in subsec. (a) as so designated, designated the first sentence as para. (1) and substituted para. (2) for the second sentence, which read: "If a section as a result of a vacancy or absence or inability of a member assigned thereto to serve thereon is composed of a number of members less than designated for the section, the Chairman may assign other members to the section or direct the section to proceed with the transaction of business without awaiting any additional assignment of members thereto.", and added para. (3); and, in subsec. (b) as so designated, deleted "associate" preceding "member" in two places.
1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 4002, as 38 USCS § 7102, and amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by §§ 401(a)(4) and 402(b) of such Act (see Table II preceding 38 USCS § 101).

Act Aug. 6, 1991, substituted "Department" for "Veterans' Administration" wherever appearing.

1994. Act July 1, 1994, substituted this section for one which read:

"(a)(1) The Chairman may from time to time divide the Board into sections of three members, assign the members of the Board thereto, and designate the chief thereof.

"(2)(A) If a section is composed of fewer than three members as a result of the absence of a member or a vacancy on the Board or the inability of a member assigned to a section to serve on that section, the Chairman--

"(i) may assign another member of the Board to the section;

"(ii) may designate an employee of the Department to serve as an acting member of the Board on such section for a period of not to exceed 90 days, as determined by the Chairman; or

"(iii) may direct the section to proceed with the transaction of business without awaiting the assignment of an additional member to the section.

"(B) An individual may not serve as an acting member of the Board for more than 270 days during any 12-month period.

"(3) A section of the Board may not at any time have among its members more than one individual who is a temporary member designated under section 7101(c) of this title or an acting member designated under paragraph (2)(A)(ii) of this subsection.

"(b) A hearing docket shall be maintained and formal recorded hearings shall be held by such member or members as the Chairman may designate, the member or members being of the section which will make final determination in the claim.

§ 7103. Reconsideration; correction of obvious errors

From Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) The decision of the Board determining a matter under section 7102 of this title [38 USCS § 7102] is final unless the Chairman orders reconsideration of the decision in accordance with subsection (b). Such an order may be made on the Chairman's initiative or upon motion of the claimant.

(b) (1) Upon the order of the Chairman for reconsideration of the decision in a case, the case shall be referred--
(A) in the case of a matter originally heard by a single member of the Board, to a panel of not less than three members of the Board; or
(B) in the case of a matter originally heard by a panel of members of the Board, to an enlarged panel of the Board.

(2) A panel referred to in paragraph (1) may not include the member, or any member of the panel, that made the decision subject to reconsideration.

(3) A panel reconsidering a case under this subsection shall render its decision after reviewing the entire record before the Board. The decision of the panel shall be made by a majority vote of the members of the panel. The decision of the panel shall constitute the final decision of the Board.

(c) The Board on its own motion may correct an obvious error in the record, without regard to whether there has been a motion or order for reconsideration.

Amendments:

1988. Act Nov. 18, 1988 (effective 1/1/89 as provided by § 401(d) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note) substituted this section for one which read:

"(a) The determination of the section, when unanimously concurred in by the members of the section shall be the final determination of the Board, except that the Board on its own motion may correct an obvious error in the record, or may upon the basis of additional official information from the service department concerned reach a contrary conclusion.

"(b) When there is a disagreement among the members of the section the concurrence of the Chairman with the majority of members of such section shall constitute the final determination of the Board, except that the Board on its own motion may correct an obvious error in the record, or may upon the basis of additional official information from the service department concerned reach a contrary conclusion.".

"(b) If the Chairman orders reconsideration in a case, the case shall upon reconsideration be heard by an expanded section of the Board. When a case is heard by an expanded section of the Board after such a motion for reconsideration, the decision of a majority of the members of the expanded section shall constitute the final decision of the Board.

"(c) Notwithstanding subsections (a) and (b) of this section, the Board on its own motion may correct an obvious error in the record.".

Decision of U.S. Board of Veterans Appeals was considered final decision when reconsideration was not pursued by Chairman of Board or by veteran. Hayslip v Principi (2004, CA FC) 364 F.3d 1321

Failure by Board of Veterans' Appeals to consider presumptive eligibility in its initial decision did not create "incomplete adjudication" that left veteran's claim open; under 38 USCS §§ 7104 and 7103, finality attached once claim for benefits was disallowed, not when particular theory was rejected. Bingham v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 421 F.3d 1346

Veteran's petition for writ of mandamus would be denied where petitioner did not file motion for reconsideration of BVA decision on remand and thus failed to exhaust administrative remedies available to him. Herrmann v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 60

Petitioner was not entitled to extraordinary relief in nature of writ of mandamus from Board of Veterans' Appeals order under All Writs Act, 28 USCS § 1651, because he had neither shown clear and indisputable right to writ, nor exhausted his administrative remedies, as petitioner could file request for reconsideration with Board under 38 USCS § 7103, or he could appeal subsequent regional office decision, and further, petitioner's claim was moving through Veterans Affairs claims appellate process. § 7104. Jurisdiction of the Board

(a) All questions in a matter which under section 511(a) of this title [38 USCS § 511(a)] is subject to decision by the Secretary shall be subject to one review on appeal to the Secretary. Final decisions on such appeals shall be made by the Board. Decisions of the Board shall be based on the entire record in the proceeding and upon consideration of all evidence and material of record and applicable provisions of law and regulation.

(b) Except as provided in section 5108 of this title [38 USCS § 5108], when a claim is disallowed by the Board, the claim may not thereafter be reopened and allowed and a claim based upon the same factual basis may not be considered.
(c) The Board shall be bound in its decisions by the regulations of the Department, instructions of the Secretary, and the precedent opinions of the chief legal officer of the Department.

(d) Each decision of the Board shall include--
   (1) a written statement of the Board's findings and conclusions, and the reasons or bases for those findings and conclusions, on all material issues of fact and law presented on the record; and
   (2) an order granting appropriate relief or denying relief.

(e) (1) After reaching a decision on a case, the Board shall promptly mail a copy of its written decision to the claimant at the last known address of the claimant.
   (2) If the claimant has an authorized representative, the Board shall--
      (A) mail a copy of its written decision to the authorized representative at the last known address of the authorized representative; or
      (B) send a copy of its written decision to the authorized representative by any means reasonably likely to provide the authorized representative with a copy of the decision within the same time a copy would be expected to reach the authorized representative if sent by first-class mail.

Appeals from decisions by adjudication division on matters of basic eligibility, such as those enumerated in regulations governing guarantee on home loans, are within jurisdiction of Board of Veterans Appeals. 1945 ADVA 618

BVA failed to address whether eligibility for fee-basis outpatient services is question of eligibility for outpatient treatment within scope of its jurisdiction and, if so, why it did not have jurisdiction; issue was particularly relevant since 38 USCS § 1703 provides for fee-basis medical services, § 1712 authorizes fee-basis medical services to be provided on outpatient basis, and § 1701 defines medical services to include treatment. Webb v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 122

Whenever claimant protests adverse determination with regard to timeliness of notice of disagreement (NOD), appropriate action is for Department of Veterans Affairs regional office (RO) to issue statement of case on that issue; RO's determination that NOD was not timely filed is appealable issue. Marsh v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 381, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 734

2. Statement of claim

Board's failure to construe appellant's Form 1-9 so as to have raised compensation and pension issues was in contradiction of its regulation mandating liberal construction of such forms and thus a violation of statute. Myers v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 127

Veteran's medical record showing that his arthritic condition might be secondary to his service-connected disabilities constituted new and material evidence which Board should have considered; Board is not limited to issues specifically mentioned in appellant's VA Form 1-9 appeal but must consider entire evidence of record in making its decision. Giglio v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 560

3. Reopening of claim

Board did not exceed its authority by discussing Iowa criminal statute establishing blood alcohol level as conclusive proof of illegal intoxication for person operating motor vehicle, in denying veteran's claim for benefits for injuries incurred in automobile accident on grounds that injuries were caused by his own willful misconduct and therefore not in line of duty, since Board did not adopt Iowa state law, but merely considered it as one factor in defining willful misconduct in applicable federal regulation. Yeoman v West (1998, CA FC) 140 F.3d 1443

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims erred in holding that veteran is foreclosed under 38 USCS § 7104(b) from raising clear and unmistakable error claim with regard to 1947 regional office rating decision since 1984 and 1991 decisions of Board of Veterans Appeals did not subsume 1947 rating as neither decision addressed veteran's instant claim that 1945 rating tables should have been used to determine proper rating of injuries. Brown v West (2000, CA FC) 203 F.3d 1378

Even if veteran appeals only ultimate question of entitlement to benefits, 38 USCS § 511(a) and 38 USCS § 7104(a) authorize Board of Veterans' Appeals to make final decision on behalf of Secretary regarding whether new and material evidence has been presented by veteran;
although regional office determined veteran had presented new and material evidence to warrant reopening of claim, Board did not err in ruling that veteran had failed to present new and material evidence, even though veteran only appealed regional office's determination that disability was not service connected. Jackson v Principi (2001, CA FC) 265 F.3d 1366

Board should not have reopened claim where it found that evidence submitted was duplicative. Kehoskie v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 31

Physician's diagnosis of severe traumatic arthritis was improperly rejected by Board as not constituting new and material evidence since basis for rejection was simply unsubstantiated medical conclusion that residuals of such severe injury would have been clinically manifested at earlier time. Godwin v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 419

Where claim has been reopened Board must supply reasons or bases for its findings, but this obligation is not satisfied by adopting findings which are based upon inadequate reasons or bases. Oppenheimer v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 370

Board did not err in holding that evidence submitted since its decision was not new and material where much of it had already been considered and evidence not previously submitted pertained to unrelated medical problems and therefore was not material. Garland v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 250

Board's decision failed to contain statement of reasons or bases to support its assertion that evidence received since its earlier decision had not served to alter factual basis in it. Smith v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 235

Physician's statements did not attribute cause of veteran's death to any of three conditions for which service connection was established, hence could not create reasonable probability of changing outcome of prior decision that veteran's service-connected conditions did not contribute to his death, thus were not material for purposes of reopening claim. Deese v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 637

Appeal would not be reconsidered where plausible basis existed for Board's decision and appellant provided no compelling reasons for reconsidering that holding. Gonzales-Soto v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 527

Reconsideration of decision dismissing appeal for lack of jurisdiction due to untimely NOA would be granted upon absence of evidence that appellant's representative had actually received copy of decision appealed. Thompson v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 430

Duplicate service medical records are not new and material evidence sufficient to reopen claim. Wilkins v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 555

Board's determination that evidence was not new for purpose of reopening claim pursuant to 38 USCS § 5108, 38 USCS § 7104(b), and 38 USCS § 7105(c) is affirmed where, since last final disallowance, newly presented evidence was merely cumulative of other evidence previously presented and veteran's statements concerning claimed onset of disease was mere recitation of accounts made elsewhere Vargas-Gonzalez v West (1999) 12 Vet App 321, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 174

Where reopening of veteran's claim due to new and material evidence would not have resulted in earlier effective date for veteran's award of rating of total disability based on individual unemployability (TDIU), and veteran's appeal was not predicated upon clear and unmistakable error (CUE), decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) denying earlier effective date was affirmed. Leonard v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 447, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 81, affd (2005, CA FC) 2005 US App LEXIS 7407

4. Appellate review

On petition for review of certain regulations promulgated by Secretary of United States Department of Veterans Affairs (Secretary) filed by veterans organizations, 38 C.F.R. § 19.9(a)(2), in conjunction with 38 C.F.R. § 20.1304, was invalid because it was inconsistent with requirement of 38 USCS § 7104(a) that all questions in matter which was subject to decision by Secretary under 38 USCS § 511(a) should be subject to one review on appeal to Secretary, 38 C.F.R. §
19.9(a)(2)(ii) was invalid because it was contrary to 38 USCS § 5103(b), which provided claimant one year to submit evidence, but remaining challenged provisions were not arbitrary, capricious, or contrary to law under 5 USCS § 706(2)(A) because 38 C.F.R. § 19.31 did not conflict with 38 C.F.R. § 3.103, 38 C.F.R. § 20.903 was not contrary to 38 USCS § 5103, and 38 C.F.R. § 20.1304's requirement for good cause and ninety-day response period does not conflict with 38 USCS § 5103's notice and time limitations. Disabled Am. Veterans v Sec'y of Veterans Affairs (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1339

Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit had no jurisdiction to consider veteran's claim that Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims should have remanded his case to Board of Veterans' Appeals to consider informed consent form as evidence in veteran's claim for benefits under 38 USCS § 1151(a) due to injuries sustained following surgery performed by Department of Veterans Affairs surgeons; to decide issue, Federal Circuit would have been required to review Veterans Court's application of law, i.e., 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1), to facts and failure to consider consent form, and 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2) precluded Federal Circuit's review of factual determinations and applications of law to facts where no constitutional issues were involved. Cook v Principi (2003, CA FC) 353 F.3d 937

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims properly determined that it lacked jurisdiction over claimant's appeal of Board of Veterans' Appeals remand order because Board's remand was not "decision" within meaning of 38 USCS §§ 7252(a) and 7104(d) where it contained no order granting or denying relief; moreover, claimant's contention that Board's refusal to address his arguments should be reviewed as decision of Board was without merit because Veterans' Court's jurisdiction was premised on and defined by Board's decision concerning matter that was being appealed, and when Board had not rendered decision on particular issue, Veterans' Court had no jurisdiction to consider it under 38 USCS § 7252(a). Kirkpatrick v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 417 F.3d 1361

38 CFR § 20.901(a) was not contrary to appellate function of Board of Veterans Appeals and "one review on appeal" requirement of 38 USCS § 7104(a) because 38 USCS § 7109 created necessary exception to "one review on appeal" rule; Congress enacted 38 USCS § 7109 upon assumption expressed in statutory text-that Board had authority to procure internal Department of Veterans Affairs medical opinion-and legislative history showed that Congress, in enacting § 7109, contemplated that departmental medical opinions would be secured by Board. DAV v Sec'y of Veterans Affairs (2005, CA FC) 419 F.3d 1317

DVA's correction of appellant's individual retirement record to exclude special pay was not reviewable by Board or OPM for purposes of determining whether he was entitled to waiver of overpayment under 5 USCS § 8346. Bacani v Office of Personnel Management (1994, MSPB) 64 MSPR 588, dismd (1995, CA FC) 56 F.3d 79, reported in full (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 11969

Form 1-9 hearing before personnel in field office is not action from which petitioner may file notice of disagreement and thus obtain jurisdiction before Veterans Court; since field office is acting in appellate role, it is no longer agency of original jurisdiction so that any written disagreement with that decision is not valid notice of disagreement and therefore cannot provide statutory basis for Veterans Court jurisdiction. Strott v Derwinski (1992, CA) 964 F.2d 1124, app dismd (1992, Vet App) 1992 US Vet App LEXIS 306, app dismd (1992) 3 Vet App 258

Court lacked jurisdiction to review final decision of Board rendered prior to Veterans' Judicial Review Act's effective date since it was subject to prior law which included statutory bar to judicial review of BVA decisions. Robie v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 612

Appeal filed approximately 130 days after Board's decision was timely where Board's decision was sent to regional office for distribution instead of directly to appellant's representative as required by 38 USCS § 7104. Trammell v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 181, remanded (1995, Vet App) 1995 US Vet App LEXIS 347 and (superseded by statute as stated in Dippel v West (1999) 12 Vet App 466, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 611)

RO's decision on appellant's back claim should have been automatically returned to Board for further appellate processing since RO, on remand, awarded 10 percent rating and effective date... of March 8, 1991, but rating schedule provided for ratings higher than 10 percent for intervertebral disc disease and earlier effective date and had previously been sought by veteran while his claim was on appeal to Board. Holland v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 324

Claimant for veterans benefits submission of postmark-stamped certified-mail receipt was accepted as evidence of timely mailing of notice of appeal, where envelope in which original notice was mailed was lost. Evans v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 443, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 168, remanded (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 379

Petitioner did not show that decision by Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) General Counsel (GC) to terminate petitioner's accreditation under 38 USCS § 5904(b) was decision under law that affected provision of benefits by Secretary of Veterans Affairs to veterans or dependents or survivors of veterans under 38 USCS § 511(a); accordingly, it was not matter subject to review by Board of Veterans' Appeals, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(a), and was thus not matter over which court had jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252(a); therefore, veteran's petition for writ of mandamus ordering Secretary to provide statement of case was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. Bates v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 443, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 50, revd, remanded (2005, CA FC) 398 F.3d 1355

Court of Appeals holds that claim of clear and unmistakable error (CUE) may not be filed as to matter that is still appealable to this Court, or is pending on appeal with this Court or at higher court; thus, where veteran had filed direct appeal of March 2003 Board of Veterans' Appeals decision, pursuant to 38 CFR § 20.1410, Board should have stayed its consideration of veteran's CUE claim upon receiving notice that veteran had filed direct appeal of that decision. May v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 310, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 536

Exception to finality rule of 38 USCS § 7104(b) as result of intervening change in law providing new cause of action is not applicable to change in evidentiary standard for rebutting presumption preservice disability underwent increase in severity during service since change is procedural in nature and not substantive. Routen v West (1998, CA FC) 142 F.3d 1434, cert den (1998) 525 US 962, 142 L Ed 2d 328, 119 S Ct 404

Failure by Board of Veterans' Appeals to consider presumptive eligibility in its initial decision did not create "incomplete adjudication" that left veteran's claim open; under 38 USCS §§ 7104 and 7103, finality attached once claim for benefits was disallowed, not when particular theory was rejected. Bingham v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 421 F.3d 1346

Given statutory scheme in §§ 7104(b) and 5108, new and material evidence requirement is material legal issue which BVA has legal duty to address, regardless of whether RO adjudicated claim on merits and failed to apply new and material evidence standard, since, if BVA adjudicates claim on merits without resolving new and material evidence issue, its actions would violate its statutory mandate, and, similarly, once it finds no new and material evidence, it is bound by express statutory mandate not to consider merits of case. Barnett v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 1, affd (1996, CA FC) 83 F.3d 1380

To extent document of veteran's exposure to radiation furnished to VA by Air Force was incomplete, veteran must look to Air Force, not VA, for correction of military record. Lauginiger v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 214

Appellants whose service connection for breast cancer due to exposure to ionizing radiation during World War II had been remanded four times was not entitled to writ of mandamus directing board to decide claims without further remand of nonpresumptive aspect of claim; while remands were undoubtedly frustrating to appellant, they were reasonable and avoided fragmenting his claim into multiple appeals contrary to well-established appellate procedures, and appellant had adequate remedy by way of appeal. Nash v West (1998) 11 Vet App 91

Veteran was barred by doctrine of res judicata from asserting claim for earlier effective date for his service connection award for seizure disorder where issue before court in instant appeal and in prior decision was whether veteran was entitled to earlier effective date for service connection award and parties agreed that prior decision concerning veteran's award was valid and final judgment, decision in prior action was on merits, and same parties were involved in both cases. Bissonnette v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 105, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 346

II. CONSIDERATION AND EVALUATION OF EVIDENCE

6. Generally

Remand was required for complete analysis of credibility or probative value of evidence submitted by veteran in support of his claim for service connection for residuals of gun shot wound, to address veteran's unemployability in light of pain he suffered and effect of narcotic pain killers, and for Board to articulate with reasonable clarity its reasons or basis for rejection of such evidence, if it continued to reject that evidence. Moyer v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 289

Evidence submitted by veteran was both new and material and was not properly considered by Board, warranting remand. Tobin v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 34

Secretary was required to reopen veteran's service-connection claim for headaches and adjudicate it on basis of all evidence, since evidence submitted since prior final RO decision included diagnoses of post-traumatic chronic brain syndrome and post-traumatic headaches and evidence that veteran had suffered headaches continually since in-service accident. Vanderpool v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 273

Since claim for increase in disability rating is new claim, all relevant evidence of record must be considered. Lenderman v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 491

In support of claim to service connection for psychiatric disorder, World War II veteran's submission in 1990 of 13-page psychiatric report from psychiatrist who examined veteran and copies of evidence furnished by veteran constituted new and material evidence since there was reasonable likelihood it would change outcome of 1953 decision. Chisem v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 169

Board's use of medical treatise did not violate requirement that claimant be given notice and opportunity to respond to that treatise where there was plausible basis in record for Board's decision denying service connection for hypertension as secondary to service-connected diabetes mellitus. Flynn v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 500

Board failed to provide adequate reasons for denying veteran's claim for vocational rehabilitation benefits to assist him in obtaining doctorate in optometry with minor in pharmacy where it denied claim because of veteran's failure to cooperate in additional testing but failed to adequately inform him of purpose of the further evaluation, reason consideration of his claim was suspended, and steps necessary to resume initial evaluation. Wing v West (1998) 11 Vet App 98

7. Board failure under particular circumstances

In concluding that veteran was not unemployable and therefore denying his claim for pension benefits, Board failed to consider and evaluate relevant evidence submitted by veteran and its impact on his ability to engage in substantial gainful employment. Collier v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 413

Physician's statement that portions of veteran's deep venous system might be chronically thrombosed because of his past history of knee trauma presented basis for well-grounded claim for secondary service connection for venous thrombosis and Board's simply concluding without explanation that venous thrombosis is condition for which service connection is not in effect erroneously ignored question of whether veteran was entitled to service connection for condition. Martin v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 411

Board, in reducing veteran's disability rating, failed to consider all evidence, including what effect, if any, intervening auto accident may have had on his knee condition; Board also failed to discuss relationship between veteran's past depressive neurosis and present schizophrenia and whether schizophrenia is entitled to service connection. Corbbrey v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 266
In denying surviving spouse death benefits, Board erred in considering all evidence submitted, in determining whether under Alabama law claimant and veteran had common-law marriage. Scott v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 352

Given veteran’s Purple Heart, Board was obligated either to accept veteran’s lay evidence of service incurrence or explain why §1154 did not apply or why veteran’s version of events was not consistent with circumstances of his service. Shaw v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 365

Board erred in denying service connection for PTSD claim where it failed to address veteran’s claim that his psychiatric examination was inadequate because examiner failed to comment on the causes of veteran’s condition or relationship of his symptoms to his combat history and because his claim file was not examined at time of examination. Perez v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 562

Veteran’s medical record showing that his arthritic condition might be secondary to his service-connected disabilities constituted new and material evidence which Board should have considered; Board is not limited to issues specifically mentioned in appellant’s VA Form 1-9 appeal but must consider entire evidence of record in making its decision. Giglio v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 560

In denying increased rating for postoperative residuals of extruded L4-5 disc with radiculopathy, Board erred in failing to analyze evidence in light of regulation requiring it to regard as “seriously disabled” any part of musculoskeletal system that becomes painful on use. Clouatre v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 590

In light of VA counseling psychologist’s report that veteran could not perform work requiring standing, walking, or treading, and veterans’ assertion that VA physician stated he could not perform work sitting, Board failed to provided analysis of credibility or probative value of evidence in rejecting claim based on individual unemployability. Foster v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 35

In denying appellant increased rating for service-connected hypertensive vascular hearth disease, BVA erred in failing to consider possible application of other diagnostic codes. Zimmerman v Principi (1992) 4 Vet App 1

In denying total disability rating based on individual unemployability, Board failed to consider adequately all evidence, in light of counseling psychologist’s report that veteran was unable to perform work that would require walking, standing, or treading and veteran’s assertion that VA physician said he could not perform work sitting. Foster v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 35

In denying service connection for right thoracic outlet syndrome, Board erred in failing to consider whether there was continuity of symptomatology after discharge from service that eventually led to clinical diagnosis 1-1/2 years later, requiring remand for medical examination that shall include prior medical records. Rhodes v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 124

To extent Board relied on medical treatises in denying service connection for multiple sclerosis it erred since it had not given veteran notice and opportunity to respond to treatises, and it erred in failing to rely on any evidence other than its own unsubstantiated opinion that veteran’s in-service hospitalization was devoid of neurological problems. Traut v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 495

In denying service connection for residuals of injuries to veteran’s hands, Board failed to consider VA examiner’s report stating that abnormalities of appellant’s hands might be secondary to old soft tissue injuries, or if it did consider report, Board failed to state its reasons or bases for not according it any weight, requiring remand. Keel v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 82, op withdrawn, app dismd (1996, Vet App) 1996 US Vet App LEXIS 184

Claim for increased rating for post-traumatic stress disorder would be remanded for adequate statement of reasons or basis for Board’s conclusions; conclusion that disability merited only 50 percent disability rating was not supported by adequate statement explaining why PTSD, which “materially” contributed to “serious” employment handicap, was productive of only considerable, not severe, social and industrial adaptability. Mittleider v West (1998) 11 Vet App 181

Remand was required since Board failed to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases for denying appellant more than 50 percent disability rating for service-connected post-traumatic stress disorder, including its implicit determination that appellant's spouse was not one of his most intimate contacts. Kingston v West (1998) 11 Vet App 272

Board's denial of veteran's claim for rating increase was legally erroneous since, in failing to assign 100 percent rating for veteran's active disease, Board did not grant veteran benefit of law most favorable to him because it did not base its analogous rating of his lymphadenopathy on amended rating schedule. Green v West (1998) 11 Vet App 472

Reliance solely on V.A. Gen. Counsel Precedent Op. 5-99, which excluded occipital encephalocele suffered by veteran's child from definition of spina bifida, failed to provide adequate reasons or bases for denial of benefits, since binding opinion did not preclude finding that child was entitled to benefits for having form or manifestation of spina bifida, as indicated by uncontroverted medical evidence which was not analyzed or discussed. Jones v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 219, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 579

Where widow of veteran sought earlier effective date for her claim of entitlement for award of dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) benefits claiming that she applied for these benefits at the same time she applied for Social Security Administration (SSA) lump-sum death payment (LSDP), court concluded that there was nothing to support Board of Veterans' Appeals' (Board) purported conclusion that widow only filed lump-sum death payment (LSDP) application rather than joint application that included Veterans Administration (VA) benefits, especially where widow's original application was not even in evidence, and Board improperly relied on current forms for SSA death benefits, which resulted in improper assumption that SSA death benefits form was same in 1981 as it was at time of case. Kay v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 529, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 998

Matter was remanded to Board of Veterans Appeals for readjudication because Board did not adequately set forth reasons or bases for rejecting testimony of veteran's mother about veteran's psychiatric condition when veteran alleged that testimony provided new and material evidence and that evidence was grounds for re-opening previously disallowed claim. Fortuck v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 173, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 519

Finding, that residuals of gunshot wound to veteran's shoulder involved only injury to one muscle group and not to second muscle group, was contrary to 38 USCS § 7104(a) in failing to address whether veteran's disability rating for second muscle group was protected by length of time it had been in effect and, if not protected, failing to address evidence supporting involvement of second muscle group. Mariano v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 305, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 782

Where veteran's ulcer condition preexisted service, and veteran had suffered marked increase in symptoms associated with his ulcer, applying law in existence in 1955, Department of Veterans Affairs regional office was required to have made" specific finding" of natural progression of condition; absent such finding, it was error to conclude that presumption of aggravation had been rebutted. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

8. Board compliance under particular circumstances

Board had more than plausible basis to reject physician's conjecture that appellant's neuropsychiatric disorder appeared to have deteriorated while in service in light of total record which included records of lengthy hospitalization for such disorder dating back to 8 years before he entered service and reports of hospitalizations even prior to that time. Corry v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 231, affd without op sub nom Corry v Brown (1993, CA FC) 16 F.3d 420, reported in full (1993, CA FC) 1993 US App LEXIS 31546

Evidence in support of claim to reopen decision denying service-connected disability compensation for acquired psychiatric disorder and left-eye disorder was not material, since, although probative of current disability, there was no reasonable probability that new evidence would change outcome of prior BVA decision. Smith v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 587
Board’s denial of increased disability rating for right and left iliac crest donor site bone graft scars was not erroneous given record medical evidence describing veteran's scars as slightly tender. E-Farahji v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 278

Board adequately considered issue of pain; it reviewed medical records referring to pain and found that severely disabling rating currently assigned to condition encompassed veteran's pain. Kellar v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 157

In denying widow's claim of service connection for veteran's death from rectal cancer from veteran's one day of service at Nagasaki in November 1945, Board failed to address all of factors specified in regulation § 3.311(e), and because medical evidence before Board did not address all those factors, Board was required to remand claim for medical opinion to be obtained that would be adequate for requisite analysis. Hilkert v West (1998) 11 Vet App 284, substituted op (1999) 12 Vet App 145, affd (2000, CA FC) 232 F.3d 908

In request for waiver of indebtedness under 38 USCS § 5302, Board of Veterans' Appeals provided detailed analysis based on record in support of its conclusion that veteran acted in bad faith by willfully and intentionally not disclosing his and his spouse's total income and net-worth; he chose to withhold these material facts with full knowledge that pension rate was based on all income from all sources to himself and his spouse. Lueras v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 435, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 651, subsequent app (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 714

Evidence, e.g., veteran's statements during his initial examination that he had experienced intermittent epigastria pain and vomiting, supported conclusion of Board of Veterans' Appeals that veteran's ulcer had preexisted service. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

Board of Veterans' Appeals correctly determined that proper effective date of veteran's award of service connection was in October 2000 where veteran submitted additional evidence almost two years after Board denied his claim to reopen and that evidence should not have been considered as having been filed in connection with claim to reopen, and Board appropriately considered veteran's claim as new claim to reopen. Jackson v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 207, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 439

9. Necessity of remand under particular circumstances

Remand was required for Board to adequately address and analyze physicians' reports which indicated veteran suffered from spinal fusion, spondylolisthesis, pain, and concomitant limitation of motion. Lewis v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 259

Remand was required for BVA to obtain further medical opinion as to probability that any of multitude of diseases or symptoms in veteran's service record represented presence of HIV infection, since Board considered only intestinal symptoms. MN v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 173

Remand was required since Board's denial of service connection for low back disorder was unsupported by any objective medical evidence; medical opinions furnished were general conclusions based on history furnished by veteran and were unsupported by clinical evidence, and Board's conclusion that veteran's fall on ice was most probable cause of his problems was equally suppositious since it was unsupported by objective medical evidence. Black v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 177

In denying appellant recognition as former prisoner of war, Board erred in failing to consider "Former POW Medical History" report in which appellant presented material evidence that he had experienced physical and psychological hardships while being detained in Switzerland during World War II and remand is necessary in order for Board to consider that evidence and to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases under 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1). Thompson v Gober (2000) 14 Vet App 187, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1068

III. REQUIREMENT OF WRITTEN STATEMENT

10. Generally
BVA decision would be reversed and remanded since it contained neither analysis of credibility or probative value of evidence submitted by veteran, nor statement of reasons or basis for Board's implicit rejection of this evidence and its conclusion that doctrine of reasonable doubt was inapplicable. Cartright v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 24

Decision upholding 10-percent disability rating for PTSD with alcoholism and determination that claimant was not unemployable as result of service-connected disorders would be remanded for reconsideration and statement of reasons or bases adequate to explain to both veteran and court its findings and fact and conclusions of law. Ohland v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 147

Remand was required for Board to explain eye disorders found upon examination as well as doctor's remarks with regard to etiologies of those disorders in terms understandable to veteran and that would facilitate effective judicial review. McNeely v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 357

Board's failure to consider all record evidence and provide reasons or bases for its evaluation of evidence does not permit informed review by court, hence case cannot be affirmed or reversed but must be remanded. Begiers v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 583

Remand was required since it was impossible for court to tell whether Board ruled that veteran did not have PTSD or that he did not have PTSD as direct result of his service. Collins v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 6

Remand would be granted upon Secretary's confession that Board erred in failing to consider and discuss adequately all governing rating criteria. Dondero v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 169

Board's conclusory statement that "this has not been substantiated" in response to appellant's evidence that she never received improved pension election card does not comply with statutory requirement that BVA provide written statement of its findings and conclusions, and reasons and bases for them. Montalvo v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 312, dismd (1995, CA FC) 64 F.3d 675, reported in full (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 22918

11. Findings and conclusions

Social and industrial examination report constituted plausible basis for BVA's factual determination that veteran's post-traumatic stress disorder warranted only 30-percent, not 50-percent, rating. Hillyard v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 349

Denial of dependency and indemnity compensation for non-service connected death of veteran was erroneous where decision contained four findings of fact only two of which addressed disputed issues and two conclusions of law and findings and conclusions were not explained or supported by reasons or bases and widow's contentions were not directly addressed. Sammarco v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 111

There was plausible basis for Board's factual finding that there was insufficient evidence to support finding of post-traumatic stress disorder stemming from service member's military service; Board was not bound to accept service member's uncorroborated account of his Vietnam experience or social worker's and psychiatrist's unsubstantiated opinions that alleged PTSD had its origins in appellant's Vietnam service, especially since there was considerable passage of time between putative stressful events recounted by appellant and onset of alleged PTSD. Wood v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 190

Although plausible basis existed in record for Board to deny veteran's claim for increased disability rating, Board erred in failing to address veteran's claim of unemployability due to service-connected disabilities. Sanders v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 334

Board's implicit finding that five-year lapse between manifestation and diagnosis of ulcer was unreasonable was clearly erroneous where treating physician's statement evidencing his continuous treatment of veteran during that period established necessary strong evidentiary link between manifested disease and diagnosed disease. Cook v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 231

Board had plausible basis for denying service connection for bilateral hearing loss given absence of complaints regarding hearing disorder at time of appellant's separation examination and lack of evidence of post-service treatment until first objective medical evidence of hearing loss was established 33 years later, combined with medical treatises' undermining appellant's evidence and contentions. Godfrey v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 113

BVA's finding that appellant was already receiving highest possible rating for anatomical loss of his left eye (40 percent) and that therefore increased rating was not warranted was not clearly erroneous since applicable regulation requires that rating be based upon condition of eyes before any non-service-connected increase in disability, hence increase in non-service-connected vision impairment in his right eye was not properly factor. Villano v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 248

Board's observation that appellant's lower extremities were normal at his separation examination and appellant's acknowledgment that he sought no medical treatment until 15 years later formed adequate basis for implicit rejection of appellant's chronicity claim and for conclusion that in-service episode of thrombophlebitis was acute and transitory. Crance v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 238

Board's decision concluding that veteran's condition was not so severe as to preclude gainful employment did not contain statement of reasons or bases for this conclusion, nor was examination by orthopedist or neurologist, as recommended by own examining physician, conducted. Hyder v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 221

Board of Veterans' Appeals unquestionably violated 38 USCS § 7104(a) and (d)(1) in failing to address Veterans Claims Assistance Act of 2000 which had been enacted and became effective while veteran's claim was still pending before Board and, in light of remand for readjudication, appellant is prevailing party entitled to award of attorney fees. Cycholl v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 355, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1499

12. Necessity reasons or bases be stated

Remand was required for complete analysis of credibility or probative value of evidence submitted by veteran in support of his claim for service connection for residuals of gun shot wound, to address veteran's unemployability in light of pain he suffered and effect of narcotic pain killers, and for Board to articulate with reasonable clarity its reasons or basis for rejection of such evidence, if it continued to reject that evidence. Moyer v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 289

In light of finding of post-traumatic changes listed under radiological findings relating to veteran's left hip, Board was required to explain its evaluation of that evidence in concluding that there was no x-ray evidence of arthritis in left hip, which it failed to do. Anderson v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 347

In rejecting claim for service-connection for veteran's death, Board failed to provide adequate reasons or bases; it failed to address evidence of possible stressors in veteran's Vietnam service, including combat with guerillas, exposure to sniper fire, participating in guarding his compound, and evidence that two men from his company had received Purple Hearts and another was killed by enemy fire. Ashley v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 52

In light of implication of compatibility of some of claimant's symptoms of polio and "diagnostic doubt" raised by examining physician, rote recitation by Board that evidence does not raise reasonable doubt is inadequate statement of reasons or bases for concluding that veteran is not entitled to benefit of doubt under 38 USCS § 3007. Green v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 121

Board failed to give adequate reasons or bases for concluding that veteran was not precluded from all forms of substantially gainful employment in denying his claim for non service-connected pension. Odiorne v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 456

Remand was required because BVA decision failed to account for evidence which it found persuasive or unpersuasive and lacked requisite clear analysis and succinct but complete explanations. Ussery v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 64.

Board complied with remand order to provide reasons why 1959 RO decision was not product of clear and unmistakable error where it stated that because that decision was subsumed by subsequent decisions, and court precedents provide that clear and unmistakable error is unreviewable in such instance, appellant's clear and unmistakable error claim did not exist as matter of law. Winslow v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 469.
Where it is not clear that VA claimant has withdrawn particular claim from appeal to BVA, it is not sufficient for Board to conclude that there is abandonment without providing adequate statement of reasons or bases to support that conclusion, taking into account all facts relating to status of claim as well as Secretary's obligations to construe liberally all submissions by claimant. Verdon v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 529

Since appellant's claim was basically simple disagreement with how RO weighed evidence, any inadequacy in Board's statement of reasons or bases for its decision on claim of clear and unmistakable error would be nonprejudicial error because CUE claim could not have been granted on any of theories advanced by appellant. Eddy v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 52

Although there was plausible basis in record for Board's finding that veteran's death was due to self-inflicted gunshot wound to head while playing Russian roulette, Board's decision did not contain adequate statement of reasons or bases for its conclusion that veteran's death was result of his own willful misconduct; to extent Board may have equated intoxication with willful misconduct, it failed to discuss evidence that supported finding of nonintoxication. Myore v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 498

Board failed to provide sufficient reasons for its determination that appellant had forfeited his right to veterans benefits due to his membership in Bureau of Constabulary in Philippines during World War II; BVA did not cite any statute or regulation to support its statement that BC service per se constituted rendering assistance to enemy, and "VA recognition" does not constitute competent evidence to support such finding. Macarubbo v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 388

Board's decision to adopt independent medical expert's opinion may satisfy statutory requirement for adequate statement of reasons or bases where, as in instant case, expert has fairly considered material evidence which appears to support appellant's position; in denying service connection for cause of death of plaintiff's husband from myocardial infarction due to heart disease, Board addressed plaintiff's physician's opinion that pain and stress from veteran's service-connected leg injuries contributed to his heart disease and eventual death, but rejected underlying medical theory that stress from service-connected injuries was either proximate cause of death or accelerated it, adopting instead independent medical expert's opinion that effect of stress on development of heart disease is still controversial and unproven and that there were other well-known, indisputable coronary risk factors present in veteran's case. Wray v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 488

Decision denying spouse's entitlement to compensation under 38 USCS § 1318(b)(1) because veteran was not rated totally disabled for minimum period of 10 years prior to death is affirmed where Board supported its finding pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) that evidence presented by veteran's treating physician, though new and material, does not show that there was clear and unmistakable error in previous rating decisions since physician began treating veteran within 10-year period prior to veteran's death. Allin v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 55

Board statement that extraschedular evaluation was not appropriate because veteran's disorder was not so unusual and exceptional as to render impractical application of regular rating standards is inadequate statement of reason and bases under 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) since Board did not identify findings important to decision or account for evidence it found persuasive or unpersuasive. Johnston v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 80

Board did not provide adequate statement of "reasons or bases" pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) for denying veteran's claim to reopen for service connection for eye disease where Board discounted ophthalmologist's statement as not probative without further discussion but ophthalmologist opined that diagnoses during veteran's enlistment examination did not have anything to do with veteran's histoplasmosis, that chest x-ray showing histoplasmosis in chest at induction does not rule in or rule out histoplasmosis in eye, and that veteran's conditions may have been due to other diagnoses. Norris v West (1998) 11 Vet App 219, affd (1999, CA FC) 215 F.3d 1347, reh den (1999, CA FC) 1999 US App LEXIS 27054

Board's decision, issued after enactment of Veterans Claims Assistance Act, fails to mention new statute or to indicate whether appellant is entitled to additional notification or assistance from VA prior to adjudication of claim, and Board failed to adequately consider all applicable provisions. of law and to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases for its decision under 38 USCS § 7104(a). Weaver v Principi (2001) 14 Vet App 301, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 224

Decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals that veteran's disabilities and their effect on veteran's employability were not sufficiently extraordinary or unusual to warrant extraschedular ratings was not supported by adequate statement of reasons or bases, since finding was inconsistent with Board's remand of veteran's claim for total disability based on individual unemployability for lack of complete record; both inquiries required complete picture of veteran's service-connected disabilities and their effect on employability, and it was thus premature to deny extraschedular ratings in view of admittedly incomplete record. Brambley v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 20, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 109

Where veteran never obtained medical examination promised by VA hearing officer, Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) was obligated, in light of veteran-friendly nature of veterans benefits adjudication system and reasons-or-bases requirement of 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1), to discuss hearing officer's statements and explain why VA would not or need not provide promised medical examination. Sanders v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 232, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 651, app dismd (2004, CA FC) 87 Fed Appx 179

Veteran's assertion of reasons-or-bases error, in order to raise clear and unmistakable error (CUE), was rejected where veteran failed to establish that Board of Veterans' Appeals had any duty to raise CUE motion sua sponte. Baxter v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 407, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1

Because veteran's surviving spouse had received compliant notice, any Board of Veterans' Affairs reasons-or-bases deficiency in discussion how 38 USCS § 5103(a)/38 C.F.R. § 3.159(b)(1) notice had been satisfied in case would of necessity be nonprejudicial to claimant pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(b)(2); court's review was not hindered by any reasons-or-bases deficiency in Board decision, and remand under 38 USCS § 7104(a) and (d)(1) for reasons-or-bases error would be of no benefit to veteran and would therefore be pointless. Mayfield v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 103, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 197, reh, en banc, den (2005, US) 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 304

Decision of Board of Veterans Appeals was vacated and remanded for further development and issuance of readjudicated decision supported by adequate statement of reasons or bases; Board had failed to provide explanation as to all material issues of law presented on record when it did not address (or cite) 38 CFR § 3.41. Pelea v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 296, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 537

13. Bases for determination of claim

Board failed to follow its own procedures in automatically assigning 100 percent evaluation for 70 percent evaluation based on post traumatic stress disorder where veteran had clearly raised issue of unemployability and in evidence section of its decision, Board noted three times that veteran was considered unemployable by his doctors. Snow v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 417

Board ignored its own regulation regarding disability caused by service-connected disease or injury in dealing with veteran's repeated allegation that his right knee condition was caused by his service-connected left knee disability. Payne v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 85

Board erred in reducing veteran's disability rating which had been in effect for more than five years without benefit of examination comparable to that on which original rating was based. Jeanes v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 264

Board committed legal error in using standard that exceeded that found in regulation for eczema where it implied that constant itching must be shown by excoriation but regulation was silent regarding excoriation or any other particular evidence needed to show continual itching. Pernorio v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 625

Board's conclusion that lay evidence alone is insufficient to establish injury in service was contrary to express language of regulation providing that such injury may be established by competent medical evidence, lay evidence, or both. Cahall v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 4
While a reversal of prior rating decision may be based upon clear and unmistakable error such that retroactive award of benefits is warranted, it cannot be predicated merely upon difference of opinion. Ertell v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 18

In denying increased rating for service-connected hypertensive vascular heart disease, Board improperly failed to consider diagnostic codes other than DC 7101 and provided reasons or bases for its determination regarding their applicability. Zimmerman v Principi (1992) 4 Vet App 1

Plausible basis for denying service-connection for bilateral ear disorder and hearing loss consisted of evidence that veteran entered service with scarring on both eardrums and all audiometric evaluations in service revealed normal hearing. Slater v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 43

There was no plausible basis for Board's conclusion that veteran's tinnitus was caused by disease rather than in-service acoustic trauma, particularly in light of benefit-of-doubt rule. Bucklinger v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 435

Board erroneously relied upon its own medical judgment in rejecting claim for service connection for multiple sclerosis. Talley v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 72

Board's citation of two medical treatises in its decision denying service connection for residuals of motor vehicle accident was erroneous where it was not clear that treatises were ever provided to appellant, but error was harmless since there was no new and material evidence to warrant reopening claim. White v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 247

In rejecting veteran's claim for reimbursement for his private hospitalization bills incurred when VA doctor advised him to go to nearest private hospital for treatment, Board improperly concluded that it had no jurisdiction of reimbursement for medical expenses based on prior authorization; assuming that BVA has no jurisdiction over medical determinations, only basis for BVA to deny jurisdiction would be if it were to find that Secretary determined that appellant did not need hospital care. Similes v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 555

In denying veteran increased rating for neurosis currently rated at 10 percent, Board erred in considering factors wholly outside rating criteria provided by regulations. Massey v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 204

Board's decision denying service connection would be vacated where it violated fair process principle by telling appellant it would only consider additional evidence on written motion for good cause for its submission, failed to consider veteran's and veteran's wife's testimony, and did not advise claimant to obtain other forms of evidence since his service medical records had been destroyed. Smith v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 363, reported at (1996) 10 Vet App 44

Board's supplemental decision provided ample reasons and bases for denial of service connection and determination that benefit of doubt doctrine did not compel decision in favor of veteran. Gilbert v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 61

Where Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) did not consider veteran's testimony that he had engaged in combat, BVA did not consider adequately all of evidence and material of record, and all applicable provisions of law, and provide adequate statement of reasons or bases for its decision, as required by 38 USCS § 7104(a), (d)(1). Moran v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 149, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 479

Where Board of Veterans' Appeals failed to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases, as required by 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1), for its determination that veteran's medical tests were not authorized by VA, court vacated Board's decision and remanded matter. Jeffcoat v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 213, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 315

IV. PARTICULAR DECISIONS

A. Disability Rating

14. Board error found
Board’s decision was not failure to discount evidence in support of veteran's claims for increased rating for posttraumatic stress disorder, but failure to recognize that all evidence of record, when considered in light of total record, was in favor of claim. Crandell v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 113

Although Board increased veteran's service-connected disability rating from 10 percent to 30 percent, it failed to properly assess his condition in manner consistent with rating schedule and failed to provide reasons or basis for its conclusion that veteran was employable, requiring remand. Washington v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 459

Decision that veteran's industrial impairment was only "considerable" and hence veteran was not entitled to more than 50 percent rating for service-connected PTSD failed to comply with reasons or bases requirement; at minimum, Board must clearly explain basis for changing finding of industrial impairment to "considerable" from "severe" and provide missing analysis of why veteran was not entitled to 70 percent rating. Fletcher v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 394

Board did not provide reasons or bases for its determination not to grant increase in disability for veteran's psychiatric and intervertebral syndrome and for its determination on veteran's eligibility for total unemployability. Ferraro v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 326

In denying increase in disability rating assigned to claimant's service connected anxiety disorder, Board failed to provide adequate reasons or bases for its credibility and probative weight determinations regarding hearsay testimony, findings of clinical psychiatric examination, and findings of any physical exams that might have been conducted on claimant. Barnes v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 288

Board's decision reducing veteran's disability compensation rating from 70 to 50 percent for service-connected psychiatric disability was deficient in failing to evaluate and state reasons or bases for its findings and conclusions as to sworn testimony of veteran and his sister, failing to review or comment on its evaluation of full psychiatric history of veteran, and failing to discuss and apply certain regulations pertinent to case. Peyton v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 282

Brief discussion in Board's decision which led to conclusion that appellant did not meet criteria for individual unemployability failed to account for service-connected disability rated at 30 percent and therefore would be reversed and remanded. Goodman v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 280

Denial of reopened claim for increased rating for veteran's 30-percent service-connected post-traumatic stress disorder would be reversed and remanded since Board simply concluded that criteria for rating of more than 30 percent were not met without providing reasons or bases for its actions supported by thorough analysis of how rating schedule for PTSD applies to relevant evidence in record. Webster v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 155

Board's decision refusing to increase disability rating for service-connected panic disorder with anxiety, obsessive thoughts and secondary major depression from 50 to 100 percent failed to provide adequate explanation for apparent dismissal of evidence favorable to appellant's claim and conclusion that impairment was not more than considerable in degree. Wilson v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 139

Board failed to provide adequate reasons for decision not to increase disability rating assigned to veteran's maxillary sinusitis since it failed to make explicit credibility findings regarding veteran's testimony that he suffered from numerous sinus headaches and constant drainage from his sinuses. Ashmore v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 580

Board failed to explain why it gave only cursory treatment to benefit-of-doubt doctrine in increasing veteran's service-connected disability rating from 30 to 50 percent, why it did not give veteran higher rating in light of substantial record evidence that his overall impairment from disabilities more than "considerably" impaired his social and industrial capabilities, and why it did not consider a total rating for individual employability. Shoemaker v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 248

Board failed to articulate reasons for its bare finding that evidence did not permit it to conclude that veteran's unemployability was due to service-connected disabilities, and it failed to consider relationship, if any, between his service-connected and non-service-connected disabilities.

Board failed to provide any explanation for its implicit rejection of veteran's wife's affidavit which appeared to support increased rating for service-connected frozen feet; Board may not ignore relevant lay evidence.

Board failed to discuss its evaluation of VA physician's opinion that veteran was unemployable, to discuss evidence that veteran's severe pain due to service-connected disabilities might affect his unemployability, and to clarify whether it concluded that veteran was not unemployable or not unemployable solely due to service-connected disabilities.

Board chose diagnostic code for ailment whose symptoms were analogous to veteran's, rather than one most analogous to cause of veteran's ailment, and failed to explain on what regulatory authority it did so.

Board failed to provide reasons or bases for denying claim for increased rating for burn scars where by choosing one sentence from medical examination it implicitly rejected veteran's testimony without providing any reasons.

Board, in denying veteran's claim for total disability rating based on individual unemployability due to service-connected disability, failed to address credibility of veteran's testimony, failed to provide bases for its implicit rejection of such testimony, and failed to consider evidence that special allowances had been made for veteran at his last place of employment.

Board failed to address applicable regulations and to provide adequate statement of reasons for its findings and conclusions in denying an increased disability rating for chronic lumbosacral strain with left leg radiculopathy.

Board failed to provide reasons for denying increased rating for service-connected PTSD; it failed to provide reasons for its implicit rejection of psychiatrist's and counselor's opinions that veteran was totally disabled and unemployable and for why it applied schedular rating for "considerable" rather than "severe" or "total" impairment.

Board failed to provide sufficient explanation for its denial of increased rating for PTSD since it failed to explain why it gave greater weight to one medical examination over another.

Board failed to provide adequate reasons for finding veteran was not permanently precluded from substantially gainful employment, specifically failing to address veteran's patchwork history of employment.

Although in denying claim for total disability pension Board discussed evidence, it did not identify those findings it deemed crucial to its decision or to account for evidence it found persuasive or unpersuasive; this was exacerbated by Board's failure to discuss veteran's award of SSA disability benefits.

Although BVA properly raised issue of pyramiding in its decision due to veteran's claim for separate ratings based on scar in right inguinal area, it failed to include reasons for so concluding according to applicable law and regulations.

Board failed to provide adequate reasons for finding veteran was not permanently precluded from substantially gainful employment, specifically failing to address veteran's patchwork employment history.

Board's conclusion that veteran's service-connected disabilities limited his options for engaging in physically demanding employment but that his disabilities, when considered with his educational level and occupational experience, were insufficiently disabling to render veteran unemployable did not satisfy statute's requirement that Board provide reasons or bases for its decision.
Board failed to provide adequate reasons to support its denial of permanent and total disability rating where veteran filed for increased compensation based on unemployability, failed to discuss submitted evidence, including reference to Social Security benefits, medical records, and earlier evidence of unemployability. Abbott v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 197, app dismd without op (1993, CA FC) 9 F.3d 978, reported in full (1993, CA FC) 1993 US App LEXIS 30512

Board's decision denying total disability based on individual unemployability contained no express discussion of two VA examination reports of veteran, and from its discussion of veteran's claim of disabling pain from service-connected disabilities, it was unclear whether Board viewed VA examiners' findings to be credible objective evidence of disabling pain, requiring remand for clarification. Hatlestad v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 524

BVA did not provide sufficient reasons to support its rejection of veteran's claim for rating in excess of 10 percent for service-connected left knee condition; decision failed to explain relevant statutes and regulations, and failed to discuss and analyze evidence considered. Smith v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 335

Board's denial of claim for non-service-connected pension based on permanent and total disability was erroneous since it was based in part on mischaracterization of medical evidence, Board failed to provide analysis of credibility and probative value of much of evidence, and, in evaluating severity of veteran's disabilities, Board failed to discuss evidence of record in context of VA's schedule for rating disabilities. Genous v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 422

There was no plausible basis for Board's denying total disability rating due to individual employability given numerous psychiatric opinions in favor of appellant's claim and lack of any evidence to contrary; fact that one psychiatrist stated that appellant was equally affected by his service-connected PTSD and his non-service-connected schizoaffective disorder was not same as saying that appellant would have been capable of employment if he did not suffer from non-service-connected psychiatric disorder. Vettese v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 31, subsequent app (1994) 7 Vet App 21

Board's statement that appellant's occupation was not found to be unsuitable on basis of his specific employment handicap and condition, without supporting analysis and explanation, was inadequate statement of its determination that there was no increase in appellant's service-connected disability. Wilson v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 542

Board's statement of reasons for denying appellant's claim for increased disability rating for left-shoulder disorder was not adequate where it did not explain how pain on use was factored into its evaluation of veteran's disability in terms of limitation-of-motion equivalency under Diagnostic Code 5201. DeLuca v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 202

In denying increased ratings for service-connected degenerative changes of appellant's right and left hips, Board's reliance on VA examination to discount appellant's complaint of hip pain was erroneous where VA examination was not intended to evaluate any complaints of pain. Hicks v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 417 (ovrld in part by Padgett v Nicholson (2005, US) 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 196)

Board did not provide adequate reasons for rejecting claim of total unemployability where it did not even discuss appellant's educational and occupational history, did not sufficiently explain why it chose to rely on psychiatric panel report and industrial survey while ignoring report of individual psychiatrist and psychologist, and offered nothing more than bare conclusory statement when it concluded that appellant was not unemployable. Cathell v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 539

BVA's conclusory statement that appellant's social affect and behavior was inconsistent with severe social and industrial impairment was insufficient statement of basis for its decision denying veteran increased rating for PTSD; need for statement of reasons or bases is particularly acute when BVA findings and conclusions pertain to degree of disability resulting from mental disorders such as PTSD. Mitchem v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 138

Board's finding, in decision denying extra-schedule evaluation and entitlement to increased disability rating for blindness in left eye, which stated that evidence did not show marked interference with employment resulting was cursory at best, and did not even mention letter from prospective employer which denied appellant position due to his physical disabilities.
notwithstanding its conclusion that appellant possessed many qualities which would be favorable for position. Bagwell v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 337

Board failed to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases for its rejection of veteran's clear and unmistakable error claim as to RO decision finding that gunshot wound went through and through skin, where there was medical evidence that bullet had penetrated deltoid muscle, in support of through-and-through penetrating muscle wound with little or no contrary evidence. Beyrle v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 377

Board gave inadequate reasons for denying extraschedular disability evaluation since its statement, that there had been no demonstration of marked interference with employment or frequent periods of hospitalization so as to render application of regular schedular criteria impractical, was not supported by any evidence and did not account for evidence which Board found persuasive or unpersuasive. Fleshman v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 406, vacated, op withdrawn, substituted op, remanded (1996) 9 Vet App 548, affd (1998, CA FC) 138 F.3d 1429, cert den (1998) 525 US 947, 142 L Ed 2d 307, 119 S Ct 371

BVA failed to adequately explain its reasons for denying increased disability rating for appellant's right sternoclavicular separation since, although it briefly mentioned that it took appellant's complaints of pain into consideration, it did not clearly indicate or describe what role assertions of pain played in its decision. Smallwood v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 93

Board failed to provide adequate reasons for its denial of non-service-connected pension under § 1521; it apparently considered regulations pertaining to permanent and total disability rating without first evaluating veteran's conditions under schedule of ratings, and last evaluation of veteran's non-service-connected disabilities was made by RO 4 years earlier and Board did not mention its results, nor did Board discuss whether veteran was entitled to VA pension on extra-schedular basis, or explain why it found that his disabilities did not prevent him from working. Grantham v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 228, revd on other grounds, in part, dismd, in part, remanded (1997, CA FC) 114 F.3d 1156, on remand, remanded (1998, Vet App) 1998 US Vet App LEXIS 588 and (ovrd as stated in Rittenhouse v West (1998, Vet App) 1998 US Vet App LEXIS 945)

Denial of increased rating for service-connected pericarditis was not supported by plausible basis in record since most recent medical report, which Board focused on, provided clear evidence that enlarged heart existed. Drosky v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 251

Board's denial of increased disability rating for paranoid schizophrenia and total disability rating based on individual unemployability was not supported by sufficient reasons or bases. Zink v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 258

Where rating schedule provided listing for beriberi, Board failed to explain why that provision was not applicable prior to assigning analogous rating. Suttman v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 127

Board provided inadequate statement of reasons or bases for its rating of service-connected left-foot plantar fasciitis where it described regulatory provisions but made only conclusory findings; it did not apply regulations to facts before it. Fenderson v West (1999) 12 Vet App 119 (superseded by statute as stated in Madsen v Principi (2002, US) 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 618)

In evaluating frequency of veteran's headache episodes under 38 C.F.R. § 4.124a, Diagnostic Code 8100 (2002), Board of Veterans' Appeals improperly based its determination by comparing number of "severe" headache episodes with "mild to moderate" ones; that comparison was absurd because greater number of less-severe headaches that veteran suffered, more difficult it would be for his "severe" headaches to be considered "very frequent" so as to meet requirement for 50 percent rating. Pierce v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 440, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 652

Nothing in 38 C.F.R. § 4.124a, Diagnostic Code 8100 (2002), requires that claimant be completely unable to work in order to qualify for 50 percent rating; if "economic inadaptability" were read to import unemployability, claimant, if he met economic-inadaptability criterion, would then be eligible for rating of total disability based on individual unemployability resulting from

15. Board error not found

Board did not err in denying increased disability rating for bronchiectasis with left lower lobectomy, currently rated as 30 percent disabling. Collins v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 215

Board did not err in refusing to increase disability rating from 50 to 70 percent for service-connected paranoid schizophrenia. Hand v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 68

Board provided adequate reasons for concluding that there was no evidence prior to February 5, 1985, to support 100 percent PTSD rating, hence for its denial of earlier effective date for that rating on basis of clear error in prior RO and BVA decisions. Padgett v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 247

Board's denial of total disability rating based on unemployability was plausible since there were no circumstances in record that placed veteran, rated at 80 percent, in different category than other veterans so rated. Van Hoose v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 361, app dismd without op (1993, CA FC) 9 F.3d 978

There was plausible basis for denying increased rating for nervous condition and individual unemployability, including report of VA psychiatric examination and 50 percent disabling anxiety disorder. Blackburn v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 395

Plausible basis existed for Board's determination that veteran did not incur any additional disability stemming from nasal surgery; records indicated that surgery was successful, there was no indication of negligence or fault by VA, and veteran did not experience additional disabilities because of VA's treatment. Reichner v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 418

Thirty percent disability rating for veteran's service-connected right shoulder condition was not clearly erroneous given evidence of VA examination indicating that veteran could abduct his right arm to 60 degrees. Stanton v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 563

Board gave adequate reasons for denying increased rating for appellant's service-connected schizophrenia where it reviewed entire history of appellant's condition and all evidence in support of or against his claim and based its decision on language and findings of most recent VA psychiatric evaluation. Cox v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 459, app dismd without op (1994, CA FC) 1994 US App LEXIS 30090

Plausible basis existed for Board's finding that veteran was not entitled to increased disability rating for residuals of gunshot wound of left shoulder in most recent medical examination. Francisco v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 55

Denial of increased rating for bilateral calluses was not clearly erroneous because, regardless of diagnostic code chosen, there was no medical evidence linking appellant's pain, tenderness, and impairment of gait to service-connected calluses. Tedeschi v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 411

Board's finding that claimant was ineligible for disability compensation because his discharge was based on willful and persistent misconduct had plausible basis in record, which reflected seven-month period during which appellant was AWOL several times and failed to obey lawful order and appellant's failure to offer anything which would indicate that circumstances were beyond his control or that he was unable to seek assistance for his problems. Stringham v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 445

BVA did not clearly err in denying increased service rating for veteran's right-shoulder disability where his current award of 40 percent represented maximum disability allowed under regulations (50 percent minus 10 percent to account for veteran's pre-service injury). Dinsay v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 79 (criticized in Lynch v Gober (1997) 11 Vet App 22)

Board's denial of increased rating for left wrist disability because of shell fragment wound was not clearly erroneous where neither of two preceding VA examinations indicated that appellant had moderately severe injury to muscles affecting wrist extension, so that he did not satisfy criteria for next-higher disability rating. Johnston v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 80
Board’s denial of rating higher than 50 percent for veteran’s posttraumatic stress disorder had plausible basis in record, including examining psychiatrist's report that veteran had moderate difficulty in social, etc., functioning, and that main element in his mental status was passive/aggressive personality disorder, and SSA's disability determination report which listed his primary diagnosis as personality disorder but stated that no secondary diagnosis was established. Carpenter v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 240

Board had plausible basis for denying increased rating for veteran's service-connected left-knee shrapnel wound scars since it thoroughly analyzed all appellant's past medical records and examinations which consistently revealed that scars on left knee were nontender and nonadherent, that they had no keloid formation, and that they presented no other symptom or pathology. Garlejo v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 229

Board had plausible basis for denying increased rating for right inguinal hernia residuals in physician's report that inguinal hernia had not recurred and there was no abnormal tenderness. Dunn v West (1998) 11 Vet App 462

There was no clear and unmistakable error in denial of veteran's request for award of special monthly compensation under former 38 USCS § 314(m) (replaced by 38 USCS § 1114) where veteran failed to point to any evidence that reflected that muscles used to move his elbow joint were atrophied or would have become atrophied; veteran's argument that loss of supination and pronation even with movement in joint (unfavorable ankylosis) constituted lack of "natural elbow action" was without merit because under 38 C.F.R. § 3.350(c)(1), "natural elbow action" was defined in terms of muscle atrophy and prospective muscle atrophy. Augustine v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 505, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 722

16. Remand required

Denial of increased disability rating of 100 percent for WWII veteran who had been seriously wounded would be remanded because of insufficient statement of bases for findings and conclusions. Hatlestad v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 164

Ambiguities between Board decision and evidence of record required remand for determination of surviving spouse's claim of entitlement to accrued benefits based on alleged entitlement to increase in veteran's disability rating. Hayes v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 186

Remand was required for Board to explain why particular diagnostic code was applied to rating veteran's chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and why others which might reasonably apply to same condition were not selected. Merson v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 305

Remand was required for Board to consider entitlement to 100 percent disability rating for anxiety neurosis and to explain its analysis and conclusions on issue. Jones v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 396

Remand was required for readjudication of disability rating claim; Board failed to conduct necessary medical examinations and to provide sufficient reasons or bases for its decision. Rossiello v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 430

Although plausible basis in record existed for Board's denying increased rating for hypertensive cardiovascular disease on grounds that schedular requirements had not been met, case would be remanded for consideration of extra-schedular total rating given veteran's employment history, heavy medications required for service-connected hypertension, and his apparent illiteracy. Fisher v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 57

Although denial of increased rating for hypertensive cardiovascular disease had plausible basis, remand was required for reconsideration of denial of total rating based on individual unemployability given extraneous circumstances that might warrant such rating, including veteran's employment history, heavy medications he takes for service-connected hypertension, and his apparent illiteracy. Fisher v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 57

Remand was required for Board to provide adequate reasons its assertion, in denying earlier effective date for increased compensation for choroidal gyrate atrophy with restricted visual fields, that private clinical records cannot provide basis for assigning compensable rating for any disorder prior to date they are received by VA. Meeks v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 284
Remand was required on individual unemployability claim for new decision to include statement of reasons and to consider impact of veteran's service-connected disabilities, both alone and in combination, on his ability to secure substantially gainful employment. Hodges v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 375

Remand was required for Board to consider and discuss how regulations related to pain applied to veteran's claim for increased rating for residuals of left femur fracture in light of frequent references in record to veteran's complaints of pain, and despite veteran's failure to raise issue of applicability of regulations related to pain. Voyles v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 451

BVA failed to articulate satisfactory statement of reasons for its rating, hence it was impossible for court to determine why this appellant, as opposed to other veterans with similar claims, was not rated for his foot drop separately, requiring remand. Bierman v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 125

BVA failed to discuss appellant's pain, mention regulation requiring it to consider impact of pain in making its rating determination, or discuss possible link between appellant's complaints and his service-connected psychiatric disorder, requiring remand. Spurgeon v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 194

Determination that veteran was not entitled to non-service-connected disability pension benefits because his income exceeded statutory limit required remand since board did not apply appropriate regulation subparagraph to veteran's wife's retirement payout and did not address issues of statutory and regulatory construction raised on record. Keen v West (1999) 12 Vet App 176, motions ruled upon, op withdrawn, app dismd (1999) 13 Vet App 29, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 990

Because Board of Veterans' Appeals failed to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(d) when it rejected or failed to consider veteran's testimony of "constant high ringing" in ears, and because there is inconsistent testimony in record with respect to whether tinnitus claim is "persistent," remand of claim for increased rating is necessary Clyburn v West (1999) 12 Vet App 296, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 147

Board's decision is inadequate for appellate review pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(d) and Board's decision is vacated and matter remanded where veteran had been rated with foot muscle disability for twenty years and Board changed evaluation criteria to different diagnostic code; reason for Board's decision is unclear since Board did not discuss issue of severance or why change in diagnostic code is not analogous to severance, Board may have modified disability rating to conform to evidence, or Board may not have wanted to award veteran duplicate disability ratings for same symptomatology. Sanders v West (2000) 13 Vet App 491, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 372

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims cannot determine whether Board of Veterans' Appeals correctly determined that 30 percent disability rating for interstitial lung disease secondary to asbestos exposure was proper where Board's decision lacks adequate reasons or bases under 38 USCS § 7104 since it does not clarify delineation between veteran's asbestos-related lung or respiratory ailments and veteran's possible nicotine-dependence-related lung or respiratory ailments. Parker v Principi (2002) 15 Vet App 407, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 33

Board of Veterans' Appeals, even when it was denying jurisdiction, was required to include statement of reasons or bases for its decision; Board simply cited 38 C.F.R. § 20.101(b) for proposition that medical determinations were not reviewable, but failed to conduct critical review of nature of decision to support its conclusion that this provision was applicable. King v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 406, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 2

B. Service Connection
17. Board error found

Reversal rather than remand was required since Board's decision failed to recognize that there simply was no evidence of record against veteran's claim for service connection. Mohr v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 101

Board erred in denying service connection for basal-cell carcinoma where it failed to address evidence, including veteran's testimony that he was stationed in Pacific theater and served as deckhand, that his family showed no skin cancer or skin problems, and that since his discharge his employment had been indoors and he had not engaged in any significant outdoor recreational activities. Douglas v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 103, affd in part and vacated in part, on reconsideration, en banc (1992) 2 Vet App 435

In rejecting WWII veteran's claim for service connection for foot problems, Board committed reversible error in failing to explain its basis for rejecting veteran's assertion that he had foot problems at discharge or that he had always been bothered with foot problems, or significance of examining physician's reference to possible frozen feet residual of posttraumatic arthritis lumbar, knees, ankles and feet. Moore v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 401

Board's decision that veteran's chronic right knee disability was not incurred in or aggravated by wartime service did not include reasons or bases adequate to explain to both veteran and court its findings of fact and conclusions of law; Board decision dismissed veteran's evidence with conclusory statement that it was insufficient to demonstrate service connection. O'Hare v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 365

Board's findings and conclusion that evidence did not establish causal relationship between service-connected post-traumatic stress disorder and veteran's duodenal ulcer were so vague that it was impossible to review them. Fallo v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 175

In denying veteran's claim for service-connection for schizophrenia, Board failed to articulate reasons or bases for apparent dismissal of evidence of record favorable to veteran, including psychiatrist's statement supporting veteran's claim. Willis v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 63

BVA failed to give reasons or bases for its findings and conclusions in denying service connection for hearing loss and tinnitus where its decision contained no statement as to credibility and probative value of veteran's sworn testimony and lay and medical supporting evidence, and Board failed to identify any factors referenced in its conclusory statement that other factors of precipatory or contributory nature had not been ruled out. Mattson v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 643

Board failed to provide any reasoning to support its denial of service connection for sinusitis as postoperative residual of surgery for deviated septum where it merely stated that disorder did not occur until many years after veteran's service; Board cannot make a medical determination based on its own opinion. Dunnagan v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 557

Bare conclusory statement that veteran's arthritis did not result from trauma was insufficient to satisfy statutory requirement that bases of Board's decision be stated, particularly in light of presumption of service connection for traumatic arthritis for POWs. Myers v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 11

Board offered neither reasons nor bases for its conclusion denying service connection for veteran's ocular histoplasmosis where it simply stated that veteran's disorder did not occur until several years after service; court does not know incubation period for histoplasmosis and Board cannot make medical determination based on its own opinion. Johnson v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 16

Board's affirmation of its repeated denial of service connection for seizure disorder was deficient since it neither discussed evidence from veteran's ex-wife describing seizure episodes during veteran's service nor explained why that evidence did not support VA physician's opinion. Quinn v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 23

Board failed to state reasons for apparently ignoring definitive evidence that veteran was treated for back injury while in service, in denying claim for service-connected back disorder. Stevenson v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 31

Board failed to provide statutorily required statement of reasons for its conclusion that veteran was not unemployable solely as a result of his service-connected disabilities where it failed to analyze separate and combined impact of veteran's service-connected PTSD and his nonservice-connected personality disorders, and ignored medical examiner's conclusions that primary diagnosis was PTSD. Hanson v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 65

In face of evidence from separation physical examination that veteran's hearing was impaired during service, there was no basis for denying service connection on the ground that veteran was not treated for this impairment while in service. Ledford v Derwinksi (1992) 3 Vet App 87

Board failed to provide adequate statement of denial of service-connected disability compensation for aggravation of scoliosis; Board provided no support for its finding that scoliosis was developmental defect. Guetti v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 94

Board's conclusion that service-connected pulmonary tuberculosis did not materially contribute to veteran's death was not supported by adequate statement of its reasons or bases, but was rife with ambiguities; Board never separately addressed veteran's chronic obstructive pulmonary disease nor explained its conclusion that tuberculosis was inactive. Curl v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 98, appeal after remand, app dismd (1993, Vet App) 1993 US Vet App LEXIS 233

Board's conclusion that veteran's death did not result from service-connected disability was not adequately supported where Board failed to address medical opinion or explore possible contribution of veteran's service-connected pulmonary tuberculosis to development of his chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. Galvagno v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 118

Board failed to provide adequate reasons for denying service connection for anomaly of thoracic spine at T3-4 in not explaining its implicit decision not to provide the scope of physical examination and diagnosis requested by veteran to discover etiology of anomaly at T3-4. Hall v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 148

Board failed to provide reasons for rejecting evidence that veteran had engaged in combat with enemy and was exposed to significant stressful experiences in Vietnam in rejecting veteran's claim for service-connected PTSD disability. Trytek v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 153, app dismd (1993, Vet App) 1993 US Vet App LEXIS 607

Board did not fully address why veteran's service-connected disorders of arteriosclerotic heart disease and hypertension did not play role in his death, and Board's conclusion that malignant melanoma was so overwhelming that it produced veteran's death was not clearly substantiated in record; because veteran's service-connected disorders involved vital organs, more detailed discussion should have been provided. Schoonover v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 166

Board erred in failing to provide reasons for rejecting three medical opinions and substituting its own. Miller v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 201

Board's statement of reasons did not adequately address add evidence favorable to veteran who claimed service-connection for asbestosis, specifically failing to explain why it rejected two physicians' opinions that veteran's asbestosis was caused by exposure to asbestos during service. Hogwood v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 409, appeal after remand, app dismd (1995, Vet App) 1995 US Vet App LEXIS 420

Board did not substantiate with independent medical evidence its conclusion that it was unable to conclude veteran's hearing loss was service connected, after veteran presented evidence of service connection. Sibley v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 37

BVA failed to provide adequate reasons for concluding that veteran's death from pancreatitis due to chronic ethanol abuse was not service connected. Watson v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 189

Board failed to provide adequate statement of reasons for rejecting veteran's claim of service connection for PTSD, in particular for rejecting two diagnoses of PTSD and embracing two diagnoses to contrary. Williams v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 270

Board did not provide adequate reasons for denying service connection for Buerger's disease; Board did not comment on credibility of probative value of lay evidence veteran submitted not did it appear to apply presumptive regulation to evidence Watson v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 309

Board's bare conclusory remark that veteran's job description did not indicate he was in fact exposed to asbestos to any significant decree was inadequate basis for denial of claim for service connection for asbestosis, particularly in light of veteran's sworn testimony that he wore asbestos gloves to perform his job and Board's failure to explain standard for "significant" exposure. McGinty v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 428

Denial of service connection for psychiatric disorder was erroneous where Board did not explain its rejection of veteran's testimony that his psychiatric problems had begun during his in-service isolation. Oredson v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 450, judgment entered (1995, Vet App) 1995 US Vet App LEXIS 933

Board failed to articulate reasons for finding that veteran's preexisting psychiatric disorder was not aggravated in service, i.e., by failing to explain its dismissal of veteran's treating psychiatrist and psychologist. Guerrieri v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 467

Board referred to no evidentiary basis for its conclusion that veteran displayed "uncured" congenital heart "disease" during service which, by definition, must have preexisted service; every veteran is presumed to have been in sound condition when enrolled with exception of disorders noted at induction or established by clear and unmistakable evidence to have preexisted. Monroe v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 513

Board's determination that veteran's hypertension was not secondarily related to his service-connected PTSD was flawed in failing to include analysis of credibility or probative value of physicians' opinions submitted by veteran. Perman v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 237

Board erred in denying service connection in merely citing to medical treatises referenced in its decision without quoting them and in failing to provide veteran with reasonable notice of texts and reliance proposed to be placed on them. Houston v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 245

Board's conclusion that nearly all astigmatism is congenital is insufficient to met statute's requirement of providing reasons or bases for its decisions; Board made no attempt to clarify or discuss how pre-service traumatic injury or astigmatism related to veteran's vision problem or why it concluded veteran's right eye was not injured in service. Browder v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 268

Board failed to discuss all evidence concerning appellant's left ear hearing in denying claim for service connection; although it discussed veteran's discharge examination and subsequent audiological evaluations, it did not discuss statement in one that test results for left ear were incomplete and inconclusive nor did it discuss VA physician's statement that veteran appeared to have mild hearing loss. Butts v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 532

Board's explanation for rejecting numerous diagnoses of veteran's schizophrenia in denying service connection was inadequate where it acknowledged diagnoses, asserted its charge of making independent determination, and made conclusory statement of findings. Nash v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 1

Veteran's widow provided competent medical evidence that veteran's death from liver cancer was service-related-in that it was associated with hepatitis and/or cirrhosis, which were related to veteran's long history of alcohol and drug abuse which in turn was attempt to self-medicate his service-connected PTSD-and Board rejected evidence based on its own unsubstantiated medical conclusions. Romeo v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 388
Veteran’s claim for service connection for asthma was not well grounded and should have been denied by RO and Board where only evidence he presented was that he was healthy prior to service and that he had difficulty breathing following service, that his condition following service was very "bad," and that he began complaining of what he called asthma upon his return from service some 40 years earlier, but he presented no evidence relating his current condition to his military service. Layno v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 465

In denying widow’s claim for DIC on grounds that veteran’s death was not service-connected, Board erred as matter of law in concluding that veteran's alcoholism was result of willful misconduct for which service connection could not be granted, since statutory amendment by which disabilities secondary to alcoholism are barred by "willful misconduct" did not apply to claim filed before October 31, 1990. Gabrielson v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 36

BVA erred by not providing reasons or bases for refuting physician's medical opinion that veteran's current knee disability could be etiologically related to in-service trauma many years earlier by simply stating that veteran had no "objective clinical evidence" of knee injury contemporaneous with service and that clinical evidence of arthritis 30 years later is too remote to be etiologically related to in-service accident; Board must provide medical basis other than its own unsubstantiated conclusions to support its ultimate decision. Rollings v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 8

Board’s reasons were inadequate for concluding that veteran was not service-connected for residuals of frostbite where it failed to address appellant's testimony that he had burning sensation and numbness in his feet and hands, nurse's testimony that he had frostbite of feet and hands which was going to produce numbness and tingling, and his daughter's statement that she remembered her father complaining of burning, itching, and peeling feet before he was diagnosed with diabetes. Goss v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 109

Board improperly denied veteran's application for service-connection for pre-skin cancers where veteran's medical evidence supported such connection and record contained no contrary medical evidence, rather Board relied on its unsubstantiated medical conclusions. Sokowski v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 75

Board did not provide adequate reasons or bases pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) for denying veteran's claim where Board restated opinion of doctor in conjunction with denial of presumptive service connection but did not articulate its reasons for finding Under Secretary of Benefits' opinion convincing. Stone v Gober (2000) 14 Vet App 116, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 879

Board of Veterans' Appeals' discussion of hypothetical application of 38 C.F.R. § 3.306(b)(1) by Veterans' Affairs regional office was deficient because it did not explain how that regulation would apply to facts of appellant's service connection claim for hypothyroidism; moreover, Statement of Case did not comply with former 38 USCS § 4005(d)(1) (redesignated 38 USCS § 7105) because it did not refer to, discuss, or summarize in any way § 3.306(b)(1); thus, there was

Although Board of Veterans' Appeals did not comply with 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) when it failed to support its conclusion that Department of Veterans Affairs was not required under 38 USCS § 5103A(d) to provide veteran with medical examination with respect to veteran's claims for service connection for poor vision and hearing-loss disability, error was nonprejudicial under 38 USCS § 7261(b) because there was no evidence in record reflecting that veteran suffered event, injury, or disease in service that could be associated with those symptoms. Duenas v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 512, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 798

Where veteran sought presumptive service connection under 38 USCS § 1117 for variety of undiagnosed conditions allegedly incurred during Persian Gulf War, Board of Veterans' Appeals failed to support its finding of lack of service connection; for purposes of presumptive service connection, veteran was not required to present objective medical evidence of symptoms nor to establish link between symptoms and veteran's service in Persian Gulf War, lay testimony was competent concerning symptoms which were capable of lay observation, and lack of medical etiology for symptoms supported rather than negated veteran's claim. Gutierrez v Principi (2004) 19 Vet App 1, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 834

Where veteran's hearing loss allegedly resulted from exposure to heavy-weapons fire during Korean War, and veteran's private audiologist stated in letter that such exposure was likely beginning of veteran's hearing loss, Board of Veterans' Appeals properly gave limited probative value to opinion of audiologist, but Board failed to consider whether veteran's claim of combat-related injury was sufficient to establish service connection under 38 USCS § 1154(b). Kowalski v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 171, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 362

Record contained more than merely plausible basis for BVA's factual determination that veteran's respiratory disease existed prior to service and was not aggravated while in service where it included not only brother's letter to medical officer during veteran's service stating that appellant suffered from respiratory complaint since infancy, but also medical progress notes from shortly before appellant's disability discharge, and report of board of medical officers certifying appellant's disability discharge. Poindexter v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 35

In denying service connection for PTSD Board considered conflicting evidence and adequately explained why it chose one version of events over other. Autry v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 337

Board's denial of service connection for HIV was not clearly erroneous and had plausible basis where Board obtained and reviewed all available clinical evidence, which showed no indication of HIV during service and that veteran did not test positive for HIV until over one year after discharge. Kern v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 350

Denial of increased rating for veteran's service-connected left-sciatic-nerve injury with foot drop was inadequately explained; Board failed to explain significance of evidence, from VA neurological examinations, showing that veteran had marked muscular atrophy in left leg. Anderson v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 420, op withdrawn, op replaced, app dismd, in part, remanded, in part (1993) 5 Vet App 347

Record contained plausible basis for denial of service connection for back disorder, including evidence that disability was recurrence of injury predating his service and was not aggravated during service beyond natural progress of condition. Holoway v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 454

Denial of service connection for peptic ulcer disease, rheumatism, and chest disorder had plausible basis, including examinations upon separation from service that showed no complaints or findings of any of claimed diseases or conditions. De Los Reyes v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 548

Absence of record evidence of residuals of shell fragment wounds of veteran's right leg and left side of head constituted plausible basis for denying service connection for residuals of such wounds. Pefianco v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 226
Board's denial of service connection for PTSD was not clearly erroneous and had plausible basis: veteran's original claim for service connection was for chemical dependency, not PTSD; all examining physicians were consistent as to veteran's alcohol and substance abuse, but not PTSD; VA examination specifically found that diagnostic criteria for PTSD were not present. Irby v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 132

Board's factual findings on which service connection for arthritis was denied were plausible where appellant's physician's letter stated that findings from appellant's salivary gland biopsy were consistent with Sjogren's syndrome but did not absolutely reveal it, and VA rheumatologist refuted physician's findings and determined there was no evidence of Sjogren's syndrome, found no joint abnormalities except as related to appellant's recent right ankle injury, and concluded that appellant's history of joint pain which preceding his service was not related to any neurologic syndrome. McGraw v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 138

There was plausible basis in record for Board's conclusion that veteran's degenerative osteoarthritis of spine was not service connected where there was no documentation in either his Air Force or National Guard records of back injury, including 1952 Air Force separation examination and 1959 National Guard enlistment examination, 1965 examination attributed back pain to fact that his car's driver's seat caused him back strain and fatigue, doctor who performed VA examination characterized condition as degenerative osteoarthritis with no mention that it was caused or aggravated by in-service injuries, and x-rays were normal. Cahall v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 232, motion gr, dismd (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 16970

Denial of service connection for temporomandibular joint (TMJ) disorder, including arthritis, was supported by medical evidence that, even if certain posterior teeth had been removed in service, they were not primary factor in development of disability and significant of missing teeth was debatable; BVA was not bound to accept conflicting medical opinions which were based on dental history related by appellant. Owens v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 429

Board's denial of restoration of service connection for cause of veteran's death in 1988 had plausible basis since record reflected that veteran's pulmonary tuberculosis was declared inactive since 1985 and that no complications from disorder were reported in years thereafter, and none of medical evidence noted causal connection between veteran's PTB and his cause of death. Ventigan v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 34

There was clearly plausible basis for denying service connection for gastrointestinal disorder where no examination had noted any problems or rendered diagnosis regarding stomach disorder. Hayes v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 67

Director of Compensation and Pension Service's statement that, after reviewing all evidence, there was no reasonable possibility that World War II veteran's colon and skin cancer were result of exposure to ionizing radiation provided plausible basis for Board's denial of service connection for cancers diagnosed in 1987 and 1991. Davis v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 209

On review of 1983 decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board), Board was bound to apply regulations as they existed in 1983, and new interpretations of 38 USCS § 1111 (former 38 USCS § 311) and 38 USCS § 1153 (former 38 USCS § 353), interpretations to which Secretary of Veterans Affairs also agreed, that apparently conflicted with those regulations could not be basis for clear and unmistakable error for 1983 decision. Jordan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 261, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 721, affd (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296

Remand was required for denial of non-service-connected disability pension claim on basis that veteran's multiple joint arthritis and other disabilities prevented his obtaining substantially gainful employment. Chicco v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 400

Remand for decision concerning service connection for PTSD and panic disorder was required since Board never concluded whether panic disorder was preexisting condition. Hayes v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 7, reconsideration gr, remanded on other grounds (1991) 1 Vet App 482
Board's decision denying service connection for degenerative disc condition lacked medical foundation and would be remanded; Board simply noted proximity of first laminectomy to veteran's industrial accident and implied that accident necessitated operation.

Johnson v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 448

Denial of service-connection for veteran's heart-disorder disability would be vacated and remanded for Board's failure to provide adequate reasons or bases explaining its evaluation of all lay and medical evidence both old and new and its analysis of application of benefit-of-doubt rule.

Nagler v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 488

Remand was required for Board's failure to adequately give reasons for denying veteran's service-connection claim for ear disorder, given evidence from veteran's private physician of ear disorder as well as that from VA medical examination and outpatient record.

Sibley v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 37

In denying service connection for PTSD, Board neither set forth standard for what constitutes requisite stressor nor applied standard to record evidence, hence decision would be vacated and remanded.

Maynard v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 341

Remand was required for Board to provide reasons for its assignment of effective date for veteran's service connected Graves' disease so that veteran could understand Board's decision and how it related to whatever decision Board renders on direct, as opposed to presumptive, service connection.

Board's failure to address medical opinions that veteran's current condition was indicative of exposure to HIV virus during service required remand; whether he became infected with HIV during service is distinct from whether he exhibited symptoms of HIV infection during service.

ZN v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 183

Board failed to provide adequate reasons for its rejection of material evidence in support of claim for service-connection for hearing loss and tinnitus, requiring remand for readjudication.

Kelly v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 471

Board failed to provide adequate statement of reasons and bases analyzing weight and credibility of all record evidence that supported servicemember's account of sexual assault in service, requiring remand; although there might be good reasons to reject some of evidence, Board was required to address evidence and give reasons for accepting or rejecting it.

YR v West (1998) 11 Vet App 393

Veteran raised secondary-service claim in notice of disagreement which Board erred in failing to address, requiring remand; veteran proffered evidence to well ground claim for lower-extremity secondary service connection in form of medical evidence of current calf pain linked to his pes planus.

Buckley v West (1998) 12 Vet App 76

Board failed to provide reason to support its decision that veteran was notified of 1969 denial of service connection, when it became clear during oral argument that whether veteran was properly notified was unresolved factual matter, requiring remand.

Board of Veterans' Appeals statement of reasons or bases for determining that veteran was ineligible for benefits based on full-time duty in U.S. Coast Guard or his Service in Merchant Marine was not sufficient under 38 USCS § 7104(a), (d)(1) because, inter alia, Board failed to address certain evidence he submitted pertaining to his possible service and appeared to rely on veteran's DD Form 214 as dispositive of his dates of service; moreover, Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) erred under 38 USCS § 5103A because it did not make additional request seeking verification of service following submission of additional documents by veteran to VA regional office; however, because it was unclear whether Board properly considered all documents before it, it would be premature to determine whether Board's denial of veteran's claim was "clearly erroneous" under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4), and, thus, court remanded matter for further development.

Where record before Board of Veterans' Appeals contained: (1) veteran's statement that he experienced difficulty in breathing, easy fatigability, and recurring rapid heartbeat, (2) veteran's assertion that those symptoms were symptoms of his claimed disabilities and that he had experienced them since his separation from service, and (3) discharge examination report that included notation of tachycardia, which was abnormality of cardiovascular system, Board did not comply with 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) in that it failed to support its conclusion that Department of Veterans Affairs was not required under 38 USCS § 5103A(d) to provide veteran with medical examination with respect to his claim for service connection for heart disease; matter was remanded so that Board could properly address whether record: (1) contained competent evidence that veteran had recurrent symptoms of heart disease, and (2) indicated that those symptoms might be associated with his active military service. Duenas v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 512, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 798

C. Other Decisions

Board's finding of earliest effective date of increased award for facial scarring as date claim was reopened was proper since there was nothing in record prior to that date to indicate that scarring was anything more than "slightly disfiguring."  Hazzard v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 254

Board's statement of reasons or bases supporting its determination of date for resumption of disability compensation was inadequate; Board cited and accurately described earlier regulations but then simply ignored them and applied current regulations to preclude earlier effective date for compensation without providing explanation for when and how regulations changed and whether they were intended to have retroactive effect. Jones v West (1998) 12 Vet App 98

Board decision denying eligibility for non-service-connected, needs-based pension benefits would be vacated and remanded since Board did not explain why regulation providing that "active duty" includes authorized travel to and from such duty did not apply. Pacheco v West (1998) 12 Vet App 36

Board's conclusion that diagnostic code 5286 is not applicable to veteran's lumbar-spine disability is unsupported by any analysis or citation to authority and violates requirements of 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1). Colayong v West (1999) 12 Vet App 524, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 885

Board's decision that surviving spouse's dependency and indemnity compensation benefits will be offset by entire amount of settlement under Federal Tort Claims Act for wrongful death of veteran under 38 USCS § 1318(d) is vacated and matter remanded as Board failed to set forth adequate statement of reasons or bases pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(a) and (d)(1) where Board did not address how much money was received by plaintiffs other than surviving spouse, whether money received by such plaintiff was received ultimately by surviving spouse through estate distribution, whether such distribution was considered received by surviving spouse, and whether money received by attorney was "received" by surviving spouse. Bryan v West (2000) 13 Vet App 482, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 362

Board erroneously dismissed veteran's claim for interest on past-due benefits since, if Board had liberally framed issue in terms of whether appellant had received maximum monetary award to which he was legally entitled, including interest, or whether there were any amounts omitted in calculation of past-due benefits, including interest, claim would have been within Board's jurisdiction pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104. Smith v Gober (2000) 14 Vet App 227, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1179, affd (2002, CA FC) 281 F.3d 1384, cert den (2002) 537 US 821, 154 L Ed 2d 28, 123 S Ct 99

Board of Veterans' Appeals decision was vacated, where Board failed to mention or discuss notice requirements in 38 USCS § 5103(a) with respect to veteran's direct-appeal earlier-effective date (EED) claim; Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) also did not comply with certain notice requirements in § 5103(a), as there were no documents in which VA purported to advise veteran of information and evidence necessary to substantiate his direct-appeal EED claim. Huston v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 195, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 533, vacated, remanded (2004, CA FC) 98 Fed Appx 883, subsequent app, remanded (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 446 and on remand, remanded (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 629 and on

Where widow of veteran argued that, because she asserted that her husband died from "cancer" in her 1975 dependency and indemnity compensation claim, that claim necessarily included claim for non-Hodgkin's lymphoma and that under 38 C.F.R. § 3.313 she was eligible for earlier effective date based on 38 C.F.R. § 3.309(e), that argument was without merit; at time of 1976 adjudication, evidence established that widow's claim was one for Hodgkin's disease, and, therefore, evidence did not reasonably raise any claims for cause of death by types of cancer other than Hodgkin's disease. Bonner v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 188, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 408

Under 38 C.F.R. § 3.114(a)(3), where widow of veteran did not file her informal claim for dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) until more than one year after 38 C.F.R. § 3.309(e) was enacted in February 1994, earliest possible effective date available to her for her DIC claim was November 1, 1994, date awarded. Bonner v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 188, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 408

V. MAILING OF DECISION

21. Generally

Evidence was sufficient to rebut presumption of regularity and hold that Secretary failed to comply with provision requiring Board to promptly mail copy of its written decision to claimant where agency not only failed to show that decision was mailed but after issuance of decision claimant twice wrote to veteran service officer who had represented him and neither letter reflected that he had received copy of decision, rather appeared to be efforts to seek information regarding status of his case. Chute v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 352

Mailing of Board decision to appellant's representative does not satisfy statute's requirement; under plain language of section, written decision must be mailed to both claimant and claimant's representative. Chadwick v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 74

Term "mail" in subsection providing that Board shall mail copy of its written decision to claimant means that BVA decision must be correctly addressed, stamped with proper postage, and delivered directly by BVA into custody of U.S. Postal Service. Davis v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 298, remanded (1996, Vet App) 1996 US Vet App LEXIS 153 and (superseded by statute as stated in Dippel v West (1999) 12 Vet App 466, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 611)

Secretary failed to prove compliance with requirement that BVA mail copy of its decision to claimant's last known address where decision mailed to claimant's initial address was returned as undeliverable but later material in claimant's file disclosed other possible and plausible addresses; appellant's notification to VA through RO of his new address was sufficient notice to require Board to have mailed its decision to new address. Cross v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 18

Although appellant claimed that he did not receive Board's decision because of change of address, he did not allege that Board was aware of his new address at time its decision was issued, and when decision was returned to Board, Board did make further attempts to deliver decision to veteran, thus date of original mailing to appellant's last known address marked start of 120-day appeal period. McNaron v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 61, affd without op sub nom McNaron v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 728, reported in full (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 22480

Although appellant contends decision was not received due to change of address, appellant does not allege Board was aware of new address at time decision was issued, and appellant has failed to present evidence necessary to establish jurisdiction where Board mailed its decision to appellant's last known address as then required by 38 USCS § 7104(e) and appellant failed to file Notice of Appeal within 120 days from date of mailing of Board's decision pursuant to 38 USCS § 7266(a) and U.S. Vet. App. R. 4. McNaron v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 61, affd without op sub nom McNaron v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 728, reported in full (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 22480

Amendment of 38 USCS § 7104(e) by Veterans' Benefit Improvement Act of 1996, § 509, is not to be applied retroactively. Ryan v West (1999) 13 Vet App 151, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1274

Applying presumption of regularity that Board of Veterans' Appeals discharged its official duties under 38 USCS § 7104(e) by mailing copy of its decision denying earlier effective date for service-connection disability benefits, court concluded that veteran had not rebutted presumption of regularity even though Board's mailing was returned as undeliverable where there was no additional and plausible address in claims file at time of Board's decision. Davis v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 29, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 167, subsequent app (2004, CA FC) 85 Fed Appx 771

22. Relationship to 38 USCS § 5104

Section 5104's general command to provide certain types of notices is given content as to BVA decisions by section 7104(e)'s more specific command to provide copies of BVA decisions by "mail," and types of notice required by section 5104(a) must be mailed along with copy of BVA decision; so read, provisions are compatible and do not conflict. Thompson v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 169

23. Mailing to authorized representative

Board failed to comply with statutory mailing requirement where, instead of mailing copy to appellant's designated service representative, it mailed copies to local RO for distribution to veterans' service organizations; therefore, 120-day NOA filing period did not begin prior to court's receipt of NOA and NOA was therefore timely filed. Leo v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 28, op withdrawn, substituted op, on reh (1995) 8 Vet App 410, remanded (1997, Vet App) 1997 US Vet App LEXIS 340

Although BVA did not deposit copy of its decision with U.S. Postal Service with cover addressed to veteran's representative but hand-delivered it to Military Order of Purple Heart (MOPH) Appeals Office in same office building, any defect in providing appellant with copy of decision had been cured by date appellant's California MOPH representative submitted statement in support of claim to VA, indicating that defect in providing copy to representative had been cured by then. Pepitone v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 31

Board failed to comply with statutory mailing requirement where it failed to mail copy of its decision to address designated by appellant for his service representative; appellant clearly designated local office of American Legion as that of his representative, yet Board mailed decision to American Legion's national appeals office. Leo v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 410, remanded (1997, Vet App) 1997 US Vet App LEXIS 340

Actual receipt can be achieved through flat mail procedure if there is proof of actual receipt by representative and reliance for such receipt is not based upon mere assertion that standard flat mail procedures were followed. Thompson v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 173, subsequent app (1996, CA FC) 104 F.3d 376, reported in full (1996, CA FC) 1996 US App LEXIS 32409, reh, en banc, den (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 1669 and cert den (1997) 522 US 825, 139 L Ed 2d 42, 118 S Ct 85

Mailing decision to national DAV office as appellant's representative was proper where appellant clearly appointed DAV as his representative and it in fact represented him before BVA, despite appellant's having given local Philippine address as address of record for purposes of receiving correspondence, since there were no accredited DAV representatives in Philippines and statute only requires Board to mail decision to appellant's authorized representative. Navarro v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 192

Presumption of regularity in mailing decision to appellant attached where appellant designated national veterans service organization as his representative but did not specify address but, before decision was mailed, organization had designated to BVA address for mailing of decisions. Hill v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 246

Presumption of regularity in mailing decision to appellant attached where appellant designated national veterans service organization as his representative but did not specify address but, before decision was mailed, organization had designated to BVA address for mailing of decisions, hence appellant failed to establish that his appeal filed more than 120 days after BVA decision was timely filed. Reich v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 271

BVA decision was properly mailed to Disabled American Veterans' national office for purposes of triggering time limit for filing notice of appeal, where veteran had designated DAV as his representation, not provided any address for DAV representative, BVA decision was mailed to address specified in instructions from senior officials at DAV, and appellant did not rebut presumption that mailing was carried out properly. Perez v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 452

Although presumption of regularity of mailing of BVA decision to appellant's service representative, American Legion, because court had invalidated type of flat-mail procedures that involved sending copies of BVA decisions to local ROs for distribution to veterans' service organizations, any defects in mailing were cured by date of appellant's letter to his Senator in which he acknowledged having received copy of BVA decision and his representative had copy in his files. Ibeling v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 256

Where appellant typed "The American Legion" in Box 3 of VA Form 23-22 but did not indicate specific address and therefore did not designate local Philippines AL office as her representative, BVA was not required to mail copy of its decision to Philippines office. Paniag v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 265

Mailing of decision to national headquarters of Disabled American Veterans conformed with statute in effect at time of Board's decision where appellant did not designate local representative in Block 3 and Secretary's evidence that appellant had been represented by at least five other individuals from DAV, including representatives from national office, established that his representation was "organizational" not personal. Leonard v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 315

Notice of appeal was timely filed under 38 USCS § 7266(a) where appellant filed motion for reconsideration more than 120 days after Board's decision but filed notice of appeal within 120 days of denial of motion for reconsideration since 38 USCS § 7104(e), as amended by Veterans' Benefits Improvement Act § 509, has no application where defect in providing notice of decision to appellant's representative became harmless when appellant advanced case by filing motion for reconsideration or notice of appeal; even if amendment applied, Secretary's motion to dismiss appeal must be denied since version of law most favorable to appellant must be applied and retroactive application would be impermissible. Dippel v West (1999) 12 Vet App 466, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 611, motion gr, remanded (2000) 330 NLRB 492, 170 BNA LRRM 1097, 1999-00 CCH NLRB ¶ 15371

Board's forwarding of decision by "flat mail" to veteran's representative did not qualify as mailing under 38 USCS § 7104(e) and rebuts presumption of regularity since amendment to 38 USCS § 7104(e) by Veterans' Benefit Improvement Act of 1996, § 509, does not apply retroactively. Ryan v West (1999) 13 Vet App 151, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1274

cxcii Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) Appellate review will be initiated by a notice of disagreement and completed by a substantive appeal after a statement of the case is furnished as prescribed in this section. Each appellant will be accorded hearing and representation rights pursuant to the provisions of this chapter [38 USCS §§ 7101 et seq.] and regulations of the Secretary.

(b) (1) Except in the case of simultaneously contested claims, notice of disagreement shall be filed within one year from the date of mailing of notice of the result of initial review or determination. Such notice, and appeals, must be in writing and be filed with the activity which entered the determination with which disagreement is expressed (hereinafter referred to as the "agency of original jurisdiction"). A notice of disagreement postmarked before the expiration of the one-year period will be accepted as timely filed.

(2) Notices of disagreement, and appeals, must be in writing and may be filed by the claimant, the claimant's legal guardian, or such accredited representative, attorney, or authorized agent as may be selected by the claimant or guardian. Not more than one recognized organization, attorney, or agent will be recognized at any one time in the prosecution of a claim.

(c) If no notice of disagreement is filed in accordance with this chapter [38 USCS §§ 7101 et seq.] within the prescribed period, the action or determination shall become final and the claim will not thereafter be reopened or allowed, except as may otherwise be provided by regulations not inconsistent with this title.

(d) (1) Where the claimant, or the claimant's representative, within the time specified in this chapter [38 USCS §§ 7101 et seq.], files a notice of disagreement with the decision of the agency of original jurisdiction, such agency will take such development or review action as it deems proper under the provisions of regulations not inconsistent with this title. If such action does not resolve the disagreement either by granting the benefit sought or through withdrawal of the notice of disagreement, such agency shall prepare a statement of the case. A statement of the case shall include the following:

(A) A summary of the evidence in the case pertinent to the issue or issues with which disagreement has been expressed.

(B) A citation to pertinent laws and regulations and a discussion of how such laws and regulations affect the agency's decision.

(C) The decision on each issue and a summary of the reasons for such decision.

(2) A statement of the case, as required by this subsection, will not disclose matters that would be contrary to section 5701 of this title [38 USCS § 5701] or otherwise contrary to the public interest. Such matters may be disclosed to a designated representative unless the relationship between the claimant and the representative is such that disclosure to the representative would be as harmful as if made to the claimant.

(3) Copies of the "statement of the case" prescribed in paragraph (1) of this subsection will be submitted to the claimant and to the claimant's representative, if there is one. The claimant will be afforded a period of sixty days from the date the statement of the case is mailed to file the formal appeal. This may be extended for a reasonable period on request for good cause shown. The appeal should set out specific allegations of error of fact or law, such allegations related to specific items in the statement of the case. The benefits sought on appeal must be clearly identified. The agency of original jurisdiction may close the case for failure to respond after receipt of the statement of the case, but questions as to timeliness or adequacy of response shall be determined by the Board of Veterans' Appeals.

(4) The claimant in any case may not be presumed to agree with any statement of fact contained in the statement of the case to which the claimant does not specifically express agreement.
The Board of Veterans' Appeals may dismiss any appeal which fails to allege specific error of fact or law in the determination being appealed.

Effective date of section:
This section is effective Jan. 1, 1963, as provided by Act Sept. 19, 1962, P. L. 87-666, § 3, 76 Stat. 554, which appears as a note to this section.

Amendments:
1986. Act Oct. 28, 1986, in subsec. (b)(2) substituted "the claimant's" for "his" and "the claimant or guardian" for "him"; and in subsec. (d)(1), (3), substituted "the claimant's" for "his" wherever appearing.

1988. Act Nov. 18, 1988 (effective 1/1/89 as provided by § 401(d) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note), in subsec. (d), in para. (1), in the introductory matter, substituted "shall prepare a statement of the case. A statement of the case shall include the following:" and subparas. (A)-(C) for "will prepare a statement of the case consisting of- " and former subparas. (A)-(C) which read:

"(A) A summary of the evidence in the case pertinent to the issue or issues with which disagreement has been expressed;

"(B) A citation or discussion of the pertinent law, regulations, and where applicable, the provisions of the Schedule for Rating Disabilities;

"(C) The decision on such issue or issues and a summary of the reasons therefor."

Such Act further (effective as above), in subsec. (d), substituted para. (4) for one which read: "The appellant will be presumed to be in agreement with any statement of fact contained in the statement of the case to which no exception is taken." and, in para. (5), deleted "will base its decision on the entire record and" following "Board of Veterans' Appeals".

1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 4005, as 38 USCS § 7105, and amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by §§ 401(a)(4) and 402(b) of such Act (see Table II preceding 38 USCS § 101).

Act Aug. 6, 1991 substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" wherever appearing.

Other provisions:
Effective date of Sept. 19, 1962 amendments. Act Sept. 19, 1962, P. L. 87-666, § 3, 76 Stat. 554, provides: "The amendments made by this Act [repealing 38 USCS 4005, 4007; redesignating 38 USCS § 4006 as § 4007 (now § 7107); and adding 38 USCS 4005, 4005A, 4006 (now §§ 7105, 7105A, 7106)] shall be effective January 1, 1963."

Federal Procedure:
I. IN GENERAL

1. Generally
   Jurisdiction of Court of Veterans Appeals is determined by date of notice of disagreement that initiates appellate review of particular claim in BVA, and fact that new issues may be raised during course of proceedings in BVA and on remand to agency of original jurisdiction does not alter that rule. Jackson v Brown (1995, CA FC) 55 F.3d 589, reh den (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 13904

   Although termination of benefits was not specifically listed in issue section, statement of case required by 38 USCS § 7105(d)(1) adequately put veteran on notice that termination was at issue; failure did not rise to level of violation of due process. Herndon v Principi (2002, CA FC) 311 F.3d 1121

   There was nothing in 38 USCS § 7105 that required documentary evidence that reflected date notice of decision was mailed and lack of such evidence did not bar application of presumption of regularity. Miley v Principi (2004, CA FC) 366 F.3d 1343, 64 Fed Rules Evid Serv 85

   For purposes of presumption of regularity, it is legally sufficient if U.S. Board of Veterans' Appeals finds that decision notice was designated to be mailed along with other documents, which were in fact mailed shortly after date of decision; in that setting, presumption of regularity may properly be invoked to establish, in absence of contrary evidence, that notice of decision was in fact mailed along with other documents that were sent in timely fashion. Miley v Principi (2004, CA FC) 366 F.3d 1343, 64 Fed Rules Evid Serv 85

   Since RO was acting in appellate role, subsequent adjudication was not decision of agency of original jurisdiction for purposes of filing jurisdiction-conferring notice of disagreement. King v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 242

2. Persons entitled to prosecute claims
   Applications for review on appeal entered by accredited ex-service organization, attorney, or claims agent are to be accepted as valid unless repudiated by claimants concerned, but persons entering and signing such application are not to be recognized in prosecution of claims on appeal unless proper power of attorney is presented to Administration [now Department] and, in applications signed by persons other than accredited representatives, until such persons have been duly admitted to practice as pension attorneys or pension claims agents. 1934 ADVA 234
Right of appeal under former 38 USC § 701 et seq. died with claimant who fails to appeal decision rendered during his lifetime. 1934 ADVA 219

3. Perfection of appeal

Appellant did not perfect her appeal from denial of dependency and indemnity compensation where she did not inquire about claim until more than year after RO issued decision and appellant filed notice of disagreement, despite her claim that she never received RO's statement of case (SOC), since record showed that RO issued SOC and forwarded copy to appellant's service representative, nothing in record reflected that it was not mailed to appellant at address she gave, and that her address did not change in relevant time period. YT v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 195

Board did not err in dismissing appeal where, after filing NOD, veteran did not file within time limit provided for substantive appeal nor did he request extension of time to do so. Bridges v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 496

NOD is not sufficient to perfect appeal; after statement of case, appellant must file formal appeal within 60 days. Roy v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 554

There was no problem, with regard to timeliness of filing of appeal, which would deprive Board of jurisdiction over case as original claim, where veteran filed timely notice of appeal pursuant to 38 USCS § 7105(d)(3), which he later withdrew, but upon expressing his desire to pursue appeal, Regional Office (RO) treated appeal as timely, there was no indication that RO closed appeal, and RO appeared to have treated veteran's filing as timely. Gonzalez-Morales v Principi (2003) 16 Vet App 556, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 60

Where Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) regional office (RO) mailed statement of case (SOC) to widow and used incorrect ZIP Code, and widow claimed that she did not receive SOC, presumption of regularity of mailing was rebutted, and since Secretary of Veterans Affairs did not establish that mailing was regular or that SOC was delivered to veteran, period for filing substantive appeal under 38 USCS § 7105(d)(3) was tolled and did not begin to run again until RO mailed new copy of SOC to correct address. Crain v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 182, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 532

Where veteran's entire claim file, including Statement of Case (SOC), was sent to representative of veteran in response to request of representative who alleged that veteran never received SOC, veteran's appeal was not timely filed after receipt of file; despite representative's assertion that representative was not required to search contents of file to find SOC, it was undisputed that representative was in actual receipt of copy of SOC when file was received and there was no showing that reviewing file was particularly onerous task. Matthews v Principi (2005) 19 Vet App 23, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 18

No jurisdiction exists in District Court or Court of Appeals to review final action of Administrator [now Secretary]. Redfield v Driver (1966, CA9 CAI) 364 F.2d 812

Breach of duty to assist veteran does not vitiate finality of Veterans' Administration (VA) Regional Office's decision; Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit therefore overrules Hayre v. West, 188 F.3d 1327 (Fed. Cir. 1999) to extent that it created additional exception to rule of finality applicable to VA decisions by reason of "grave procedural error." Cook v Principi (2002, CA FC) 318 F.3d 1334, reh, en banc, den (2003, CA FC) 56 Fed Appx 496 and cert den (2003) 539 US 926, 156 L Ed 2d 603, 123 S Ct 2574

United States Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit declined to consider whether trial court should have applied doctrine of equitable tolling to 38 USCS § 7105 because issue was neither presented to nor considered by trial court. Morgan v Principi (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1357, reh den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 12017

Fact that three appeals were fortuitously consolidated could not give court jurisdiction over two as to which notices of disagreement were filed before November 18, 1988. Tucker v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 201
U.S. Court of Veterans Appeals remanded matter to Board of Veterans Appeals for readjudication because Board did not adequately set forth reasons or bases for rejecting testimony of veteran's mother about veteran's psychiatric condition when veteran alleged that testimony provided new and material evidence and that evidence was grounds for re-opening previously disallowed claim. Fortuck v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 173, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 519

Board of Veterans Appeals erred when it dismissed veteran's case claiming that it did not have discretion to hear appeal because veteran failed to identify specific error of law or fact, as purportedly required by 38 C.F.R. § 20.202 and 38 USCS § 7105(d)(5), because Board was not required to dismiss appeal on jurisdictional grounds and in fact, given nature of veteran's appeal, veteran was not required to provide any additional specifics on factual or legal errors that had occurred. Gomez v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 369, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 905

Where veteran neither alleged nor showed that notice of disagreement relating to assignment of effective date was filed before decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals, Board did not err under 38 USCS § 7105(a) by not addressing that issue. Urban v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 143, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 384

II. NOTICE OF DISAGREEMENT

5. Generally

Notice of disagreement, filed in response to RO decision subsequent to VA Form 1-9 hearing, was not filed with agency of original jurisdiction, thus not effective for court's review purposes. Hudson v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 467

Board may exercise jurisdiction based on NOD timely filed under statute, i.e., postmarked within one year after notice of unfavorable RO decision is mailed to claimant, or under "not inconsistent" regulations prescribed by Secretary, but not on any basis not provided by statute or regulation. Rowell v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 9

Veteran's letter to RO constituted valid notice of disagreement where it was filed within one year after mailing notice of decision, was from veteran's representative, and specifically referred to veteran's clear and unmistakable error (CUE) claim and to decision as having considered that claim, and expressly disagreed with contents of RO's subsequent supplement statement of case as deficient in having failed to address CUE issue. Beyrle v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 24

6. Sufficiency

Veteran's letters to Board and secretary did not constitute jurisdictionally required notice of disagreement since they did not disagree with regional office but with Board. Burton v Derwinski (1991, CA) 933 F.2d 988

Veterans' substantive appeal, along with Va Form 1-646, constituted jurisdictionally valid notice of disagreement. Drenkhahn v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 207

Veteran's Form 1-9 expressing disagreement with decision made by Director, Compensation and Pension Service of Veteran's Benefits Administration was jurisdictionally valid notice of disagreement under statute. Malgapo v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 397

© 2006 Matthew Bender & Company, Inc., a member of the LexisNexis Group. All rights reserved. Use of this product is subject to the restrictions and terms and conditions of the Matthew Bender Master Agreement.
Oral statement by veteran's accredited representative during hearing before regional office, when later reduced to writing in transcript, constituted valid notice of disagreement; there are no technical, formal requirements for NOD beyond those set in statute since to impose any would exceed Secretary's authority. Tomlin v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 355

Appellant's alleged letters to Congress indicating her intent to appeal RO decision could not be held to constitute valid notice of disagreement so as to trigger appellate review since letters, if they existed, were not present in record. Villeza v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 353, app dismd without op (1997, CA FC) 114 F.3d 1206, reported in full (1997, CA FC) 1997 US App LEXIS 12843 and (ovrd by Trilles v West (2000) 13 Vet App 314, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 100)

Veteran's statements expressing his disagreement with RO's decision as to disability rating and effective date assigned to back-disability claim constituted notice of disagreement. Holland v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 433

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims has no jurisdiction over any claim for authorization for payment of private medical expenses where record on appeal does not contain document or reference to document which could possibly serve as jurisdiction-conferring notice of disagreement under 38 USCS § 7105(b)(1). Tellex v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 233, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1103

7. Number

For jurisdictional purposes, there can be only one NOD relating to same claim; plain language of statute supports conclusion that NOD referred to is one which initiates appellate review, and legislative history also supports conclusion. Hamilton v Brown (1994, CA FC) 39 F.3d 1574

Claim appealed by veteran's February 1988 NOD was not satisfied by September 1988 award of 30 percent rating, and because that NOD was not withdrawn by veteran or his representative, veteran could not have filed additional jurisdiction-conferring NOD on or after Act's effective date. AB v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 35

There can be only one valid NOD as to particular claim, extending to all subsequent RO and BVA adjudications on same claim until final RO or BVA decision has been rendered in that matter or appeal has been withdrawn by claimant; where BVA remands to RO for further development and readjudication claim previously decided by RO and properly appealed to BVA, expression of disagreement with subsequent RO readjudication on remand cannot be NOD; where BVA remands to RO for development and adjudication claim not decided by RO and claimant files timely expression of disagreement with RO, that is NOD as to that claim. Hamilton v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 528, remanded sub nom Powell v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 275, reported in full
8. Timeliness

Notice of disagreement from denial of service-connected death compensation was untimely; Board had clearly rejected claimant's only grounds that might support extension for good cause, namely, allegation that she had never originally filed earlier claim and received notice of denial of it. Bellavance v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 402

Time for filing NOD may be extended, or untimely NOD may be accepted, only when such extension or acceptance has been requested and good cause for it has been shown, consistent with regulations, and Board may exercise jurisdiction based on such NODs, but not on any other basis not provided for by statute or regulations. Rowell v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 9

BVA's decision on question of timeliness of veteran's notice of disagreement was procedurally deficient since it failed to address whether its sua sponte consideration of question without first according veteran opportunity to submit evidence of argument on questions was prejudicial. Marsh v West (1998) 11 Vet App 468, subsequent app, remanded (2001, US) 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1303

Although Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit directed Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims to remand case if violation of duty to assist was found with regard to 1972 decision, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims dismisses case for lack of jurisdiction pursuant to 38 USCS § 7105 even though appellant filed timely Notice of Disagreement (NOD) in 1973; appellant did not pursue appeal after Statement of Case was filed, NOD filed in 1993 was submitted in response to rating decision for entirely separate claim and, even if 1993 NOD perfected 1973 NOD, 1973 NOD was not filed on or after November 18, 1988, as required under Veterans' Judicial Review Act. Hayre v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 48, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 709 (ovrd as stated in Shinogee v Principi (2003, US) 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 305) and (ovrd as stated in Gilliam v Principi (2003, US) 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 713) and affd (2003, CA FC) 78 Fed Appx 120 and (ovrd as stated in Gilliam v Principi (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 445)

Claimant for veterans benefits was denied relief from order of Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board), although his counsel's letter to Board was sufficient to constitute timely notice of disagreement under 38 USCS § 7105(b), giving Board jurisdiction to review whether substantive appeal on merits of claim was timely. Matthews v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 202, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 425

Record that was presented to Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims did not contain clear evidence rebutting presumption that Department of Veterans Affairs would not have issued statement of case if notice of disagreement veteran submitted was untimely, and court reversed Board of Veterans' Appeals' decision finding that veteran's appeal was untimely under 38 USCS § 7105(b). Marsh v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 381, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 734

9. Survivor's claims

Veteran's son's claim for accrued benefits is predicated upon accrued-benefits application filed after veteran's death and since it could not have been filed prior to veteran's death on December 1, 1988, NOD could not have been filed prior to effective date of statute providing appeal to court. Laconi v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 550

Widow's claim for accrued benefits was separate from that of veteran, hence her letter disagreeing with supplemental statement of case was disagreement in relation to veteran's claim, not hers, so no valid NOD was filed. Cates v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 399

Widow claiming DIC failed to file valid NOD since her letter could not express disagreement of her § 1318 claim since there had never been adjudication of that claim. Lyon v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 507

Accrued-benefits claim is different from service-connection claims of veteran from whose service former claim is derived, therefore, in order for survivor to pursue accrued-benefits claim based on deceased veteran's claim which was pending at time of his death, accrued-benefits claimant must file NOD as to accrued-benefits claim in order to initiate review by BVA, and ultimately Court, of that claim. Zevalkink v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 483, affd (1996, CA FC) 102 F.3d 1236, cert den (1997) 521 US 1103, 138 L Ed 2d 988, 117 S Ct 2478

10. Filing prior to Veteran's Judicial Review Act

Veteran's son's claim for accrued benefits is predicated upon accrued-benefits application filed after veteran's death and since it could not have been filed prior to veteran's death on December 1, 1988, NOD could not have been filed prior to effective date of statute providing appeal to court. Lacomti v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 550

Remand for development of PTSD claim was part of claim more generally described as "nervous condition," hence applicable NOD was one filed before November, 1988. Calvert v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 194

NOD dated 1990 did not confer jurisdiction over case since it related to continuation of claim as to which original NOD was filed prior to effective date of Veterans' Judicial Review Act. Baker v Brown (1994) 4 Vet App 461

Appellant's first-filed notice of disagreement preceded court's jurisdictional date and it therefore had no jurisdiction. Smith v Brown (1994) 8 Vet App 217

Fact that three appeals were fortuitously consolidated could not give court jurisdiction over two as to which notices of disagreement were filed before November 18, 1988. Tucker v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 201

Board of Veterans Appeals erred when denying veteran earlier effective date for service connection for veteran's back condition; Board properly concluded that veteran's 1959 letter stating that veteran wished to "refile" and to "reopen" veteran's claim met requirements of former 38 USCS § 4005 (redesignated as 38 USCS § 7105), but erred by concluding that letter was not application for review on appeal. Myers v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 228, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 585

11. Relation to particular claim

Veteran's newly asserted PTSD claim was not inextricably intertwined with rated depressive neurosis, and thus it was new claim for jurisdictional purposes; it had not been diagnosed and considered at time of prior notice of disagreement filed before November 18, 1988. Ephraim v Brown (1996, CA FC) 82 F.3d 399, on remand, remanded (1996, Vet App) 1996 US Vet App LEXIS 482, costs/fees proceeding sub nom Ephraim v West (1998, Vet App) 1998 US Vet App LEXIS 959

Veteran's 1990 NOD with RO's decision on remand was part of earlier claim of which NOD was premature to confer jurisdiction on court, hence appeal would be dismissed. Cadwell v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 386

Neither of documents relied upon by veteran as NODs would provide jurisdiction since they related to claims that were already on appeal by virtue of prior NOD. Danko v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 445

12. Miscellaneous

Even if Board of Veteran's Affairs committed grave procedural error and violated its duty to assist under 38 USCS § 5107(a) by failing to request certain medical records in determining that veteran was not disabled, finality of its decision was not vitiates; judicially-created exception to rule of finality for such errors had been overruled and veteran did not assert either of exceptions set out in 38 USCS § 7105(c). Tetro v Principi (2003, CA FC) 314 F.3d 1310

Department of Veterans Affairs' regulatory interpretation of its statutory authority for denying earlier effective date for service connection of veteran's post-traumatic stress disorder than date he reopened for new and material evidence was upheld as reasonable interpretation by agency under Chevron deference. Sears v Principi (2003, CA FC) 349 F.3d 1326, cert den (2004) 541 US 960, 158 L Ed 2d 401, 124 S Ct 1723
Court rejected veteran's argument that regional office's alleged failure to comply with "detailed reasons" aspect of notice provision in 38 C.F.R. § 3.105(e) amounted to exception to principle of finality articulated in 38 USCS § 7105(c) because statutory scheme provided only two exceptions to rule of finality, namely "new and material evidence" and clear and unmistakable error, and Congress did not intend to allow exceptions to rule of finality in addition to two that it expressly created. Norton v Principi (2004, CA FC) 376 F.3d 1336

Veteran's January 1990 NOD, which disagreed with December 1989 RO denial of rating increase for appellant's chronic eczema, encompassed appellant's total disability-individual unemployability (TDIU) claim which was denied December 1990; well-grounded TDIU informal claim was submitted as separate but related claim when appellant filed for increased rating for his skin condition and supported his application with evidence of his unemployability, TDIU claim originated in 1972 when appellant stated he had been laid off from employment repeatedly because of his skin condition, recurred throughout years, and January 1990 NOD included assertion that appellant's skin and ulcer condition caused loss of seven jobs over 20-year period. Isenbart v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 537

Board's determination that evidence was not new for purpose of reopening claim pursuant to 38 USCS § 5108, 38 USCS § 7104(b), and 38 USCS § 7105(c) is affirmed where, since last final disallowance, newly presented evidence was merely cumulative of other evidence previously presented and veteran's statements concerning claimed onset of disease was mere recitation of accounts made elsewhere Vargas-Gonzalez v West (1999) 12 Vet App 321, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 174

Board of Veterans' Appeals' discussion of hypothetical application of 38 C.F.R. § 3.306(b)(1) by Veterans' Affairs regional office was deficient because it did not explain how that regulation would apply to facts of appellant's service connection claim for hypothyroidism; moreover, Statement of Case did not comply with former 38 USCS § 4005(d)(1) (redesignated 38 USCS § 7105) because it did not refer to, discuss, or summarize in any way § 3.306(b)(1); thus, there was reasons-or-bases deficiency requiring remand under 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1). Hines v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 227, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 526

cxci Discussion and Analysis in the Veterans Benefits Manual

(a) In simultaneously contested claims where one is allowed and one rejected, the time allowed for the filing of a notice of disagreement shall be sixty days from the date notice of the adverse action is mailed. In such cases the agency of original jurisdiction shall promptly notify all parties in interest at the last known address of the action taken, expressly inviting attention to the fact that notice of disagreement will not be entertained unless filed within the sixty-day period prescribed by this subsection.

(b) Upon the filing of a notice of disagreement, all parties in interest will be furnished with a statement of the case in the same manner as is prescribed in section 7105 [38 USCS § 7105]. The party in interest who filed a notice of disagreement will be allowed thirty days from the date of mailing of such statement of the case in which to file a formal appeal. Extension of time may be granted for good cause shown but with consideration to the interests of the other parties involved. The substance of the appeal will be communicated to the other party or parties in interest and a period of thirty days will be allowed for filing a brief or argument in answer thereto. Such notice shall be forward to the last known address of record of the parties concerned, and such action shall constitute sufficient evidence of notice.

(a) (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) and in subsection (f), each case received pursuant to application for review on appeal shall be considered and decided in regular order according to its place upon the docket.

(2) A case referred to in paragraph (1) may, for cause shown, be advanced on motion for earlier consideration and determination. Any such motion shall set forth succinctly the grounds upon which the motion is based. Such a motion may be granted only--

(A) if the case involves interpretation of law of general application affecting other claims;

(B) if the appellant is seriously ill or is under severe financial hardship; or

(C) for other sufficient cause shown.

(3) A case referred to in paragraph (1) may be postponed for later consideration and determination if such postponement is necessary to afford the appellant a hearing.

(b) The Board shall decide any appeal only after affording the appellant an opportunity for a hearing.

(c) A hearing docket shall be maintained and formal recorded hearings shall be held by such member or members of the Board as the Chairman may designate. Such member or members designated by the Chairman to conduct the hearing shall, except in the case of a reconsideration of a decision under section 7103 of this title [38 USCS § 7103], participate in making the final determination of the claim.

(d) (1) An appellant may request that a hearing before the Board be held at its principal location or at a facility of the Department located within the area served by a regional office of the Department.

(2) A hearing to be held within an area served by a regional office of the Department shall (except as provided in paragraph (3)) be scheduled to be held in accordance with the place of the case on the docket under subsection (a) relative to other cases on the docket for which hearings are scheduled to be held within that area.

(3) A hearing to be held within an area served by a regional office of the Department may, for cause shown, be advanced on motion for an earlier hearing. Any such motion shall set forth succinctly the grounds upon which the motion is based. Such a motion may be granted only--

(A) if the case involves interpretation of law of general application affecting other claims;

(B) if the appellant is seriously ill or is under severe financial hardship; or

(C) for other sufficient cause shown.

(e) (1) At the request of the Chairman, the Secretary may provide suitable facilities and equipment to the Board or other components of the Department to enable an appellant located at a facility within the area served by a regional office to participate, through voice transmission or through picture and voice transmission, by electronic or other means, in a hearing with a Board member or members sitting at the Board's principal location.

(2) When such facilities and equipment are available, the Chairman may afford the appellant an opportunity to participate in a hearing before the Board through the use of such facilities and equipment in lieu of a hearing held by personally appearing before a Board member or panel as provided in subsection (d). Any such hearing shall be conducted in the same manner as, and shall be considered the equivalent of, a personal hearing. If the appellant declines to participate in a hearing through the use of such facilities and equipment, the opportunity of the appellant to a hearing as provided in such subsection (d) shall not be affected.

(f) Nothing in this section shall preclude the screening of cases for purposes of--
(1) determining the adequacy of the record for decisional purposes; or
(2) the development, or attempted development, of a record found to be inadequate for decisional purposes.

Regulation of Department of Veterans Affairs allowing Board to furnish opinion from independent medical examination to claimant's attorney rather than to claimant himself is not inconsistent with 38 USCS § 7109(c). Splane v West (2000, CA FC) 216 F.3d 1058

38 CFR § 20.901(a) was not contrary to appellate function of Board of Veterans Appeals and "one review on appeal" requirement of 38 USCS § 7104(a) because 38 USCS § 7109 created necessary exception to "one review on appeal" rule; Congress enacted 38 USCS § 7109 upon assumption expressed in statutory text that Board had authority to procure internal Department of Veterans Affairs medical opinion and legislative history showed that Congress, in enacting § 7109, contemplated that departmental medical opinions would be secured by Board. § 7111. Revision of decisions on grounds of clear and unmistakable error

(a) A decision by the Board is subject to revision on the grounds of clear and unmistakable error. If evidence establishes the error, the prior decision shall be reversed or revised.

(b) For the purposes of authorizing benefits, a rating or other adjudicative decision of the Board that constitutes a reversal or revision of a prior decision of the Board on the grounds of clear and unmistakable error has the same effect as if the decision had been made on the date of the prior decision.
(c) Review to determine whether clear and unmistakable error exists in a case may be instituted by the Board on the Board's own motion or upon request of the claimant.

(d) A request for revision of a decision of the Board based on clear and unmistakable error may be made at any time after that decision is made.

(e) Such a request shall be submitted directly to the Board and shall be decided by the Board on the merits, without referral to any adjudicative or hearing official acting on behalf of the Secretary.

(f) A claim filed with the Secretary that requests reversal or revision of a previous Board decision due to clear and unmistakable error shall be considered to be a request to the Board under this section, and the Secretary shall promptly transmit any such request to the Board for its consideration under this section.

§ 7252. Jurisdiction; finality of decisions

The Court of Appeals for Veterans Claim shall have exclusive jurisdiction to review decisions of the Board of Veterans' Appeals. The Secretary may not seek review of any such decision. The Court shall have power to affirm, modify, or reverse a decision of the Board or to remand the matter, as appropriate.

Review in the Court shall be on the record of proceedings before the Secretary and the Board. The extent of the review shall be limited to the scope provided in section 7261 of this title [38 USCS § 7261]. The Court may not review the schedule of ratings for disabilities adopted under section 1155 of this title [38 USCS § 1155] or any action of the Secretary in adopting or revising that schedule.

Decisions by the Court are subject to review as provided in section 7292 of this title [38 USCS § 7292].

Act Aug. 6, 1991, amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101).

Such Act further substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" wherever appearing.

1. Generally

Veterans Judicial Review Act's statutory review process vests exclusive jurisdiction over veterans' benefits claims, including decisions of constitutional issues, with Court of Veterans Appeals, thereby depriving district courts of jurisdiction. Beamon v Brown (1997, CA6 Ohio) 125 F.3d 965, 1997 FED App 280P

United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims has jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252 to hear arguments presented to it in first instance provided it otherwise has jurisdiction over veteran's claim; whether doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies should be invoked entails case-by-case analysis of competing individual and institutional interests, including whether United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims should remand matter to Board of Veterans' Appeals pursuant to 38 USCS § 7252. Maggitt v West (2000, CA FC) 202 F.3d 1370

Veteran's claim of entitlement to benefits is dismissed for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction, where he provides no proof that he has exhausted administrative remedies, because, even if he had, process of review leads to Court of Veterans Appeals and then to Federal Circuit pursuant to 38 USCS § 7252. Bell v VA (1996, ND Tex) 946 F Supp 479

Evidentiary equipoise rule of § 5107 does not apply to court's determination of its jurisdiction. Bethea v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 252

Provision limiting judicial review of Board decisions to cases where notice of disagreement was filed on or after November 18, 1988, date of enactment of Veteran's Judicial Review Act, did not violate claimant's Fifth Amendment rights to due process since jurisdictional date was reasonable exercise of legislative power in distributing newly created right of judicial review and it was evidence that Congress was sensitive to need for limiting review of all past Board decisions in recognition of importance of need for degree of finality in decision making process. Strott v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 114, affd (1992, CA) 964 F.2d 1124, app dismd (1992, Vet App) 1992 US Vet App LEXIS 306, app dismd (1992) 3 Vet App 258

Secretary's confession of error was not equivalent of prohibited act of "seeking review"; Secretary has broad role in representing Department before Court and, pursuant to ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct, Secretary's disclosure of legal authority was worthy of Court's attention, not its disregard. Johnson v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 95

Court of Federal Claims does not have jurisdiction to review denial of veterans' benefits, because 38 USCS § 511(a) precludes judicial review of veterans' benefits determinations in Court of Federal Claims, 38 USCS § 7252(a) provides that exclusive remedy for denial of veterans' benefits is to appeal to Court of Veterans Appeals, and jurisdiction for appeals from Court of Veterans Appeals lies exclusively in U.S. Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit (38 USCS § 7292). Davis v United States (1996) 36 Fed Cl 556

Assuming all other jurisdictional requirements are met, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims possesses jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252(a) to review all challenges and arguments relating to particular claim; however, Court generally will decline to exercise jurisdiction based upon doctrine of administrative exhaustion when appellant has failed to present those challenges and arguments, either expressly or implicitly, to Board. Stuckey v West (1999) 13 Vet App 163, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1276, motion gr, remanded (2001, CA FC) 4 Fed Appx 754 and op withdrawn, remanded (2001) 14 Vet App 254, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 37

United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims has exclusive jurisdiction to review decisions of Board of Veterans' Appeals under 38 USCS § 7252 and United States District Court overstepped its limited jurisdiction when it directed that class action claimants in litigation challenging veterans educational benefits statute could not seek review in Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims of Board denial of individual claims. West v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 246, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1189

Decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims (Court), unless or until overturned, is decision of Court on date it is issued; any rulings, interpretations, or conclusions of law contained in such decision are authoritative and binding as of date decision is issued. Sharp v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 431, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 14, affd in part and vacated in part, remanded (2005, CA FC) 403 F.3d 1324

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims does not have power to retain general and continuing jurisdiction over decision remanded to Board of Veterans' Appeals for new adjudication. Breeden v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 475, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 127

Where decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals was not adverse to veteran and where court did not have jurisdiction to review directly appeal from decision of regional office, court did not

2. Effect of veteran's death

Veteran's widow lacked standing to pursue appeal from denial of service connection for malignant melanoma of veteran's left thigh where veteran died during pendency of appeal and neither widow's DIC claim nor relationship of melanoma and veteran's death were presently before court. Coombs v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 530

Appropriate remedy where veteran dies while appeal is pending is to vacate BVA decision from which appeal was taken to be vacated and to dismiss appeal. Gregory v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 384

Appeal from denial of veteran's claim for disability compensation would be dismissed upon notice of veteran's death, to ensure that BVA decision and underlying RO decision would have no preclusive effect in adjudication of any accrued-benefits claims derived from veteran's entitlements. Jimenez v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 445

Appropriate remedy where veteran dies while appeal is pending is to vacate BVA decision from which appeal was taken and to dismiss appeal, since court has no jurisdiction over claim. Gregory v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 384

Board had no jurisdiction to review sexual harassment claim since Secretary's brief on merits had not been filed and time for any reply by appellant had thus not expired. Yu v West (1998) 11 Vet App 176, app dismd without op (1998, CA FC) 155 F.3d 572, reported in full (1998, CA FC) 1998 US App LEXIS 16059

Court does not, and Board did not, have jurisdiction over appeal of denial of request to reopen disability compensation claim where veteran died long before BVA could address denial, and despite Board's phrasing of service connection issue on appeal as "for accrued benefits purposes," VA has not yet adjudicated accrued benefits claim and Court lacks jurisdiction to consider claim pursuant to 38 USCS § 7252(b). Johnson v West (1998) 11 Vet App 225

3. Record

Court was statutorily precluded from considering rating decision made subsequent to that being appealed. Hartog v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 195

In judging whether communication can be reasonably construed as expressing dissatisfaction with adjudicative decision, court will look not only at actual wording of communication, but also at context in which it was written, and may consider evidence of jurisdictional facts which were not before Board and thus not part of official record before court. Stokes v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 201

Court is precluded by statute from considering any material not contained in record of proceedings before Secretary and Board; hence appellant could chose to pursue appeal on basis of record, or withdraw appeal and seek to have claim reconsidered by Board upon any additional material he might wish to submit. Looper v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 45

Although evidence obtained since date of Board's decision may be submitted to VA Regional Office in attempt to reopen appellant's former claim, it may not be made part of record in appeal now before court, since court's review of Board decisions is statutorily restricted to record of proceedings before Secretary and Board. Hartog v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 194
Court could not accept as part of record of appeal medical records which were not before Board since statute provides that review shall be on record of proceedings before Administrator [now Secretary] and Board; appellant had option to seek to reopen his claim and seek reconsideration on basis of newly discovered records. Rogozinski v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 19

Neither evidence which postdated BVA's decision nor that which existed prior to that decision but was not part of record of proceedings before BVA could be included in record on appeal. Andrews v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 61

Veteran's CAT scan was, as matter of law, before Secretary and Board when Board decision was made where, although it did not literally exist as part of record, veteran's assertion that he had undergone CAT scan at designated VA facility on certain date but had never received results, as well as his request for results, was part of record. Hulse v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 486, subsequent app, motion den (1994, Vet App) 1994 US Vet App LEXIS 646

Medical treatises cited in BVA decision were clearly before and considered by BVA and therefore were part of record of proceedings before it and would be part of appeal record. Colvin v Derwinski (1992) 4 Vet App 132, remanded on other grounds without op (1993) 5 Vet App 169, reported in full (1993) 6 Vet App 177

Since material contained in appendix to veteran's brief, was VA publication, Secretary and BVA had constructive if not actual knowledge of it, hence it was before them when BVA decision was made and would be included in record on appeal. Barclay v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 161

Court could not consider appellant's argument that he was entitled to pension benefits based on his family's needs since issue was not advanced before Board. Latham v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 269

If statutory mandate of section 7252 is to followed, relevant records reviewed by Court should be same records that were before Board and Secretary, and redacted record is not same. Yu v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 184

Court's prior order excluding from record documents that were submitted to BVA after its decision would be affirmed on motion for reconsideration; documents were not part of record before Board and thus not part of record on appeal before court. Murillo v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 322

Documents which were not part of record of proceedings at time Board issued its decision do not become part of that record when they are submitted in support of motion for reconsideration that BVA Chairman denies, and that denial is not appealed to court; when reconsideration was denied, finality for purposes of appeal is restored to original Board decision and court's review is limited to documents in record as of that date. Murillo v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 278

Two VA letters were within Secretary's control prior to BVA decision on appeal and thus would be deemed constructively part of record when decision was made. Henderson v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 272

Although court is precluded by statute from considering any material which was not contained in record of proceedings before Secretary and Board, records may be deemed to be constructively before Board in certain circumstances; in this case non-VA-generated records would not be deemed before Board in absence of any evidence that they were received by Secretary prior to Board decision on appeal, nor would VA-generated document since it pertained to claims for another veteran and was not submitted to VA with regard to appellant's claim. Goodwin v West (1998) 11 Vet App 494

On appeal from denial of claim for service-connected rectal cancer by veteran who was exposed to ionizing radiation in Nagasaki in World War II, counter-designated documents would not be included in record on appeal since they were neither generated by VA nor submitted to VA as part of appellant's claim, and fact that they had been referred to in many cases decided by BVA was insufficient to deem they part of record in this case. Two counter-designated VA letters relating to whether veteran was notified of results of VA examination that found nasal polyp would be deemed included in record on appeal since they were relevant and constructively before Secretary. Henderson v West (1998) 11 Vet App 111, app dismd, in part, stay den (1998) 11 Vet App 245, motions ruled upon (1998, Vet App) 1998 US Vet App LEXIS 918.

Motion to exclude counter designated documents from record on appeal is denied where medical records were generated by VA, were within Secretary's control, and could reasonably be expected to be part of record of proceedings before Secretary and Board pursuant to 38 USCS § 7252; although other documents were submitted to Regional Office and not Board, and were submitted late, regulations promulgated by Secretary created ambiguity and ambiguity is resolved in appellant's favor; and although relevancy of other documents is not readily apparent, documents were before Board and will be included in record on appeal. Sims v West (1998) 11 Vet App 237.

Appellant has provided no documentation to demonstrate that counter designated videotape, pertaining to quality of care provided in VA hospitals, was in Secretary's control, and motion to supplement record on appeal is denied pursuant to 38 USCS § 7252(b). Wilhoite v West (1998) 11 Vet App 251.

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims will strike documents submitted by appellant which postdate decision by Board of Veterans' Appeals since 38 USCS § 7252(b) requires that review by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims be on record or proceedings before Secretary and Board. McCullough v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 272, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1222.

Despite December 6, 2002, amendment to 38 USCS § 7261, there is still need for designation and counter designation of record in appeal from decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals, and court's longstanding practice of requiring that only relevant material be included in record on appeal is still in effect; therefore, motion filed by children of veteran, seeking to compel Secretary of Veterans Affairs to transmit complete copy of children's claims files, as record in their appeal from Board decisions denying their claims for education benefits, was denied, and court further declined children's invitation to remove U.S. Ct. Vet. App. R. 10, and amend U.S. Ct. Vet. App. R. 11, 33. Homan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 1, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 73.

4. Miscellaneous

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims was statutorily authorized pursuant to 38 USCS § 7252(a) to remand case to Board for further proceedings on issue of whether presumption of soundness had been rebutted since evidence was not clearly insufficient to overcome presumption of soundness, evidence before Board was subject to differing interpretation, and proper analysis turned on understanding of what examining physician meant in his report. Adams v Principi (2001, CA FC) 256 F.3d 1318.

Although court has jurisdiction to issue injunction in defense of its jurisdiction upon evidence that agency is intimidating claimants who assert their right of appeal, appellant in instant case was not entitled to injunction where evidence did not show that agency's request that he submit to examination was intended as retaliation for his having appealed. Moore v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 83.

If there is any misfeasance, malfeasance, or nonfeasance on part of government counsel, any sanction for such could not possibly extend to granting relief to appellant, e.g., default judgment, since relief can only be granted by court when error by BVA is found. Kates v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 93.

Court of Federal Claims does not have jurisdiction to entertain claim with respect to denial of disability benefits by Department of Veterans Affairs, since Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, by virtue of 38 USCS § 7252, has exclusive jurisdiction to review disability decisions of.
II. DETERMINATIONS SUBJECT TO REVIEW

5. Generally

VJRA provides exclusive remedial structure that precludes veteran from asserting Bivens cause of action in district court. Hicks v Small (1995, CA9 Nev) 69 F.3d 967, 95 CDOS 8232, 95 Daily Journal DAR 14206

Court of Veterans Appeals lacked jurisdiction to consider veteran's challenges to termination of his individual unemployability benefits since Board never issued decision on issue and veteran never filed notice of disagreement with termination of his benefits. Ledford v West (1998, CA FC) 136 F.3d 776

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims did not fail to follow its jurisdictional statute when it declined jurisdiction over arguments not previously made to Board of Veterans' Appeals; nothing compelled or even remotely suggested conclusion that 38 USCS § 7252 required Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims to review not only decisions of Board of Veterans' Appeals, but also to adjudicate arguments not initially raised before Board. Bernklau v Principi (2002, CA FC) 291 F.3d 795 (ovrd in part as stated in Jones v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 248, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 536)

Government's summary judgment motion was granted on veteran's claim based on benefits determinations made by Department of Veterans Affairs because Veterans Judicial Review Act deprived court of jurisdiction. Duke v United States (2004, ED Pa) 305 F Supp 2d 478

Government's summary judgment motion was granted on veteran's claims alleging violations of his constitutional rights, where court treated claims as Bivens claims because this was only avenue for receiving compensatory damages from federal officials for alleged violations of constitutional rights; Veterans Judicial Review Act precludes Bivens actions against Department of Veterans Affairs officials. Duke v United States (2004, ED Pa) 305 F Supp 2d 478

Court lacked jurisdiction where claimant failed to exhaust administrative remedies available, including review by Board. In re Quigley (1989) 1 Vet App 1

Court could not consider issue of pension due to service-connected kidney disability, raised for first time on appeal, until it had been properly submitted to RO and adverse determination made there and at Board. Talon v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 74

Standing is far too speculative to permit court to review case where, even if it is determined that injury is likely to be redressed by decision of court, another judicial or administrative proceeding would still be required in order to provide the relief requested. Waterhouse v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 473

Jurisdictionally valid NOD must have been submitted with respect to claim for which reconsideration is sought in order to empower Court to review denial of such reconsideration by Chairman of Board. Pagaduan v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 9

Appeals were rendered moot by appellants' having received relief sought, i.e., issuance of statements of case. Thomas v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 269
Court of Veteran's Appeal has jurisdiction of veteran's life insurance claims disputes; Congress has created system where claimant who is dissatisfied with determination in insurance claim has two possible courses of action—bring suit on claim in U.S. District Court, or appeal to Board and if dissatisfied with that decision, appeal to Court of Veterans Appeals pursuant to § 7252. Young v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 70

United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims lacks jurisdiction over petition seeking to enforce directive of Department of Veterans Affairs Office of General Counsel since Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims lacks appellate jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252 over any issue that cannot be subject of Board decision. Yi v Principi (2001) 15 Vet App 265, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1220

On appeal to Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims (Court), veteran could flesh out and rephrase argument before Court, and requirement of "some degree of specificity" was broad enough to have allowed veteran to rephrase and provide additional argument and support for same basic argument presented before Board of Veterans' Appeals. Jordan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 261, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 721, affd (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296

6. Review of schedule of ratings

Statutory scheme of 5 USCS §§ 552, 553, and 38 USCS §§ 1155, 7252, consistently excluded from judicial review all content of ratings schedule, as well as actions of Secretary of Veterans Affairs in adopting or revising that content, and 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(C) only provides standards of review to be applied by U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims when reviewing decision from Board of Veterans' Appeals and, thus, under 38 USCS § 7252, such court lacked jurisdiction to review content of diagnostic codes as part of schedule of ratings for disabilities; accordingly, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit reversed determination of U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that 38 C.F.R. § 4.87a, Diagnostic Code 6260, was invalid as inconsistent with 38 USCS § 1110. Wanner v Principi (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1124

Because claimants for disability benefits were not asking court to review contents of ratings schedules at issue, but rather were asking court to correct interpretation of 38 C.F.R. § 4.130, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims had jurisdiction over case under 38 USCS § 7252(a) and Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit had jurisdiction pursuant to 38 USCS § 7292(a). Sellers v Principi (2004, CA FC) 372 F.3d 1318

Although court did not have jurisdiction to review substance of Secretary's action with respect to revised schedule of ratings for disabilities, it did have jurisdiction to review manner in which schedule was revised. Fugere v Derwinski (1992, CA) 972 F.2d 331, 92 Daily Journal DAR 11387

Although court was prohibited by statute from adjusting schedular rating, it would vacate and remand to Board since Board did not refer claim for increased schedular rating for decision in first instance by appropriate VA officials. Bagwell v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 157, reconsideration gr, vacated, remanded (1996) 9 Vet App 337

Board lacked jurisdiction to review denial of reconsideration by BVA since notices of disagreement which initiated review of appellant's claims by BVA were all submitted prior to November 18, 1988. Wilson v West (1998) 11 Vet App 253

Court had jurisdiction over appellant challenge to denial of ratings for service connected tinnitus, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(C), to determine whether Diagnostic Code (DC) regulation at issue was in violation of statutory right and, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A), to determine whether DC regulation was arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law. Wanner v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 4, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 88, revd, remanded (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1124 and (ovrld as stated in Smith v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 448, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 674)
Where veteran argued that exclusion of periodontal disease as compensable disability under 38 C.F.R. § 3.381(a) conflicted with 38 USCS § 1110 which required compensation for disabilities, under 38 USCS § 7252(b), Court of Veterans Appeals lacked jurisdiction to review regulatory determination that periodontal disease was eligible for treatment benefits but was not compensable disability. Byrd v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 388, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 802

7. Necessity of Board's final decision

There is no statutory basis for jurisdiction in CVA over acts or decisions of Chairman absent some underlying final decision by board, and, while § 7261 may allow CVA to review actions of Chairman in cases where it already has jurisdiction by virtue of timely appeal from final board decision, it does not independently grant jurisdiction over such actions but merely sets out scope of review. Mayer v Brown (1994, CA FC) 37 F.3d 618, reh den (1994, CA FC) 1994 US App LEXIS 33576 and (ovrd in part by Bailey v West (1998, CA FC) 160 F.3d 1360) and (ovrd in part as stated in Cintron v West (1999) 13 Vet App 251, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1334) and (ovrd in part as stated in Harlow v West (1999, US) 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1411) and (ovrd in part as stated in, ovrd in part as stated in Smith v West (1999, US) 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1415) and (ovrd in part as stated in Driscoll v West (2000, US) 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 171)

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims correctly dismissed appeal for lack of jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252 since Board had not rendered final decision on clear and unmistakable error claim. Howard v Gober (2000, CA FC) 220 F.3d 1341

Veterans Court properly found it lacked jurisdiction to consider former serviceman's clear and unmistakable error claims raised for first time on appeal. Andre v Principi (2002, CA FC) 301 F.3d 1354

Widow's appeal of non-final order of remand of her claim for veteran's survivor benefits to Board of Veterans' Appeals, for reconsideration in light of Veterans Claims Assistance Act of 2000, Pub. L. No. 106-475, 114 Stat. 2096 (2000), was dismissed where there was no substantial risk that factual determination would not survive entry of final order. Myore v Principi (2003, CA FC) 323 F.3d 1347

Finality rule does not bar court from reviewing decision of Court of Veterans Appeals which overturns Secretary's established standard for denying retroactive release of indebtedness and remands to Board for application of proper standard, since it terminates action challenging Secretary's final determination. Travelstead v Derwinski (1992, CA) 978 F.2d 1244, 93 Daily Journal DAR 1163

Appeal from denial of claim for special monthly compensation for loss of use of veteran's lower extremities would be dismissed as nonfinal since claim referred back to Regional Office was likely to have meaningful impact upon whether veteran's loss of use of his lower extremities derived from service-connected injuries. Hoyer v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 208

Since appellant's anxiety neurosis claim was inextricably intertwined with his heart disorder claim which was referred back to regional office, finality doctrine precluded court from exercising jurisdiction. Harris v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 180

Issues of direct service connection for appellant's cardiovascular condition and error in previous BVA decisions were not before BVA when it rendered decision being appealed, hence court would not entertain appeal on those issues. Herlehy v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 122

Issue of compensable disability rating could not be considered by Court where it was not before BVA and Secretary indicated that rating issue was left for decision by VA's regional office. Steelman v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 335

Court lacked jurisdiction of service-connection claim since Board's remand to RO meant that claim remained pending and was not yet subject of final BVA decision. Morgan v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 161

Court lacked jurisdiction of appeal of clear and unmistakable error since there was no evidence that RO ever acknowledged error or finally adjudicated claim and therefore no final decision, nor one that had been reviewed by BVA. Best v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 322

Veteran's July 1989 NOD was rendered invalid for purposes of conferring jurisdiction on court since it related to pre-Act claim on which BVA vacated its decision, hence there was no final decision on appellant's claims to which appellant could file valid NOD until March 1991 decision, and since he failed to do so, court lacked jurisdiction. Frazer v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 19, subsequent app sub nom Yabut v Brown (1996, Vet App) 1996 US Vet App LEXIS 568

Issues which had been remanded to regional office for further development cannot be considered by United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims until such time as Board of Veterans' Appeals has rendered final determination since Court's jurisdiction to review Board decisions is limited by 38 USCS § 7252(a) to review of those Board decisions that are final. Tetro v West (2000) 13 Vet App 404, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 259, substituted op (2000) 14 Vet App 100, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 880, affd (2003, CA FC) 314 F.3d 1310

In view of Board's remand of veteran's claims for service connection for headaches, insomnia, mild obstructive airway disease, metallic taste in mouth, and sensitivity to smells, Board's decision with respect to those claims is not final and Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims does not have jurisdiction over those claims pursuant to 38 USCS § 7252(a). Neumann v West (2000) 14 Vet App 12, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 717, motions ruled upon, remanded (2001, CA FC) 5 Fed Appx 881 and op replaced, remanded (2001) 14 Vet App 304, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 360

Claims that have been remanded to regional office by Board are not ripe for review by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims since Court's jurisdiction to review Board decisions is limited by 38 USCS § 7252(a) and 38 USCS § 7266(a) to review of those Board decisions that are final. Tetro v Gober (2000) 14 Vet App 100, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 880, affd (2003, CA FC) 314 F.3d 1310

Petitioner did not show that decision by Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) General Counsel (GC) to terminate petitioner's accreditation under 38 USCS § 5904(b) was decision under law that affected provision of benefits by Secretary of Veterans Affairs to veterans or dependents or survivors of veterans under 38 USCS § 511(a); accordingly, it was not matter subject to review by Board of Veterans' Appeals, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7104(a), and was thus not matter over which court had jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252(a); therefore, veteran's petition for writ of mandamus ordering Secretary to provide statement of case was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. Bates v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 443, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 50, revd, remanded (2005, CA FC) 398 F.3d 1355

Remand by Board of Veterans' Appeals was not final decision and, thus, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims did not have jurisdiction to hear veteran's appeal where none of issues were subject to final determination; contrary to veteran's assertions, Board's remand did not constitute final decision as to its determination that veteran was not engaged in combat and that his diagnosis of PTSD had been based on unverified stressors because, upon further development, Board could have changed its ruling on these issues. Breeden v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 475, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 127

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims was not required to interpret 38 USCS §§ 7252(a) and 7266(a) to permit it to exercise jurisdiction over non-final decisions of Board of Veterans' Appeals that altered evidentiary burdens, that limited evidence Department of Veterans Affairs regional office could consider, or that contained misrepresentation of law because court's jurisdiction was limited by statute to final decisions of Board, and court could not create its own exception. Breeden v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 475, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 127

8. Notices of disagreement filed after statute's effective date

Newly diagnosed disorder, whether or not medically related to previously diagnosed disorder, cannot be same claim as one previously submitted when it has not been previously considered, hence when there is new diagnosis of new service-related condition and notice of disagreement that relates to decision concerning that condition is filed after November 18, 1988, Court of Veterans Appeals has jurisdiction to review that claim. Ephraim v Brown (1996, CA FC) 82 F.3d 399, on remand, remanded (1996, Vet App) 1996 US Vet App LEXIS 482, costs/fees proceeding sub nom Ephraim v West (1998, Vet App) 1998 US Vet App LEXIS 959

Board lacked jurisdiction of veteran's appeal since both his notices of disagreement were filed prior to November 18, 1988. Sawyer v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 220

Appeal would be dismissed since notice of disagreement was received prior to November 18, 1988. Magula v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 76

Court lacked jurisdiction where notice of disagreement was filed prior to November 18, 1988 even if it could have been timely filed after that date, since statutory language of Act created inflexible barrier to court's jurisdiction. Doub v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 17

Court lacked jurisdiction where notice of disagreement predated act's effective date. Skinner v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 2

Veteran's letters expressing disagreement with VA decision predated cutoff date for jurisdictionally valid NODs, hence court lacked jurisdiction. Balancio v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 175

Court lacked jurisdiction of appeal where NOD was filed prior to statutory cutoff date for jurisdictionally valid NODs. Burke v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 180

NOD filed after act's effective date was not valid NOD for jurisdictional purposes since it was not first NOD filed pursuant to particular claim, but NOD with rating decision rendered pursuant to remand from BVA. Adamski v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 242

BVA Chairman's sua sponte grant of reconsideration of Board decision, precipitated by Notice of Disagreement predating November 18, 1988, and thus beyond court's jurisdiction, cannot defeat right of judicial review of later Board decision with NOD permitting judicial review. Smith v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 546

Initial notice of decision (NOD) in appeal was filed before November 18, 1988, and court therefore lacked jurisdiction, even though appellant filed notice of appeal listing September 1990 date on which he filed NOD, since that NOD concerned nonfinal BVA action on claim; there can be only one valid NOD as to particular claim until final RO or BVA decision. Kuo v Brown (1993) 9 Vet App 273

9. Review of particular decisions

United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims did not lack jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252 to consider veteran's constitutional and statutory arguments, and request for remand, where veteran presented request to reopen his claims for service connection, Board of Veterans' Appeals denied request, and veteran timely appealed decision; since § 7252 concerns jurisdiction of United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims and court's authority to exercise it, United States Court of Appeals, Federal Circuit, has jurisdiction to review denial of veteran's remand motion even though veteran did not challenge decision of Board in appeal to Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims. Maggitt v West (2000, CA FC) 202 F.3d 1370

Action challenging determination by Secretary of Veterans Affairs that borrower is liable to indemnify VA based upon VA's payment on his guaranteed housing loan must fail, where borrower already appealed decision to Board of Veterans Appeals (BVA), and appealed Board's affirmance to Court of Veterans Appeals (CVA) where it is still pending, because CVA has exclusive jurisdiction to review decisions of BVA under 38 USCS § 7252, borrower has elected remedies available to him through BVA and CVA, and he has therefore waived any right he might have had to determination by Article III court. Donovan v Gober (1998, WD NY) 5 F Supp 2d 142

Court had jurisdiction to review determination that divorced spouse of veteran who had signed for home loan guarantee owed debt to U.S. Smith v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 267

Although Board made reference back to agency of original jurisdiction of veteran's claim for service connection for back and knee disorders secondary to his service-connected bilateral pes planus, those claims were not inextricably intertwined with decided claim for total rating for compensation based on individual employability, hence latter decision was appealable. Evans v Derwinski (1991) 3 Vet App 1, affd without op (1991, CA) 950 F.2d 732

Remand of appeal claiming that veteran was entitled to higher than 30 percent disability rating for service-connected PTSD was required since it is not court's function to assign rating and Secretary had indicated that, because veteran suffered from numerous neuropsychiatric conditions, additional examination of veteran was necessary. Corchado v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 26

Final judgment in case involving multiple NODs, which was decided consistent with jurisdictional holding in case later overruled on holding that there could only be one valid NOD as to particular claim, could not be collaterally attacked as void; earlier final judgment in case sprang from exercise of jurisdiction that now appeared to be after-fact error, not from action in case where jurisdiction was completely lacking. Breslow v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 560

Appellant's failure to raise with Board issue of clear and unmistakable error (CUE) with regard to prior adjudications' failure to take wartime veteran's presumption of aggravation into account precluded Court from hearing claim; appellant's prior CUE claims raised were entirely fact-driven, while this was legal matter. Sondel v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 218

Appeal would be dismissed as beyond court's jurisdiction where it did not arise out of any decision that was adverse to appellant in termination of his pension as to which he filed his NOD, but was premised upon possible adverse action on reapplication-i.e., that adjudication may have prevented him from shielding lump-sum SSA payment from consideration as income on subsequent reapplication for pension-and therefore court's opinion would be merely advisory as to future adjudication. Shoen v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 456

Having dismissed appeal of BVA decision, court did not have jurisdiction over underlying appeal on date on which appellant commenced appeal of chairman's denial of reconsideration. Jordan v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 428

In reviewing BVA decision denying appellant's claim for service connection for psychoneurosis, August 1947 decision denying service connection was subsumed in 1988 BVA decision which correctly denied claim for clear and unmistakable error, and Board was precluded from reviewing 1988 decision since it was not subject of appeal, and therefore was precluded from determining service connection since it would effectively overturn 1988 decision. Donovan v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 404, affd sub nom Donovan v West (1998, CA FC) 158 F.3d 1377, cert den (1999) 526 US 1019, 143 L Ed 2d 351, 119 S Ct 1255

Court was precluded from reviewing 1988 BVA decision that was not subject of appeal and therefore could not review 1947 RO decision for clear and unmistakable error since 1988 decision subsumed earlier decision and correctly found that no clear and unmistakable error existed as matter of law. Donovan v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 404, affd sub nom Donovan v West (1998, CA FC) 158 F.3d 1377, cert den (1999) 526 US 1019, 143 L Ed 2d 351, 119 S Ct 1255

Board's denial of entitlement to earlier effective date for chronic mononucleosis was not result of clear and unmistakable error since new testing procedures to detect it were not available at time of earlier rating decision. Kronberg v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 399

Court would vacate its prior decision and BVA's, and remand to BVA veteran's claim with respect to individual unemployability; Board did not explain why it rejected opinions of two physicians that veteran was totally and permanently disabled, did not explain inapplicability of

Remand rather than panel hearing was appropriate where Secretary confessed that he fell short in his duty to assist claimant; with additional facts to be developed, it would be inappropriate for court to make Secretary prisoner to undeveloped record. Goldman v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 20

Court had jurisdiction over appeal as to October 1994 BVA decision since veteran's September 1994 motion for BVA reconsideration was lawfully disposed of by BVA officer and thus no longer pending at Board. Henderson v West (1998) 12 Vet App 11

Board lacked jurisdiction of appellant's claim for service connection for his psychiatric condition since he failed to raise claim before regional office or BVA, hence there was neither jurisdiction-conferring notice of disagreement or final BVA decision with respect to issue for court to review. Brannon v West (1998) 12 Vet App 32

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims has jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7252 to address issue of whether there is fee agreement, in view of termination of attorney-client relationship, to warrant withholding of portion of award where Board issued final decision awarding attorney fees, veteran has been adversely affected, veteran filed timely notice of appeal, and notice of disagreement which initially conferred jurisdiction as to merits of veteran's claim had not gone stale since matter of attorney fees was inchoate to award of past-due benefits. Scates v West (1999) 13 Vet App 98, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1116, motion gr, op withdrawn (2000) 13 Vet App 304, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 51

Board of Veterans' Appeals denial of veteran's claim for clear and unmistakable error was vacated, where claim may have been denied on basis of pleading insufficiency; proper procedure was to dismiss such claim without prejudice. Simmons v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 104, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 403

Where decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals was not adverse to veteran and where court did not have jurisdiction to review directly appeal from decision of regional office, court did not possess jurisdiction over appeal. Urban v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 143, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 384

Claimant for veterans benefits was denied relief from order of Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board), although his counsel's letter to Board was sufficient to constitute timely notice of disagreement under 38 USCS § 7105(b), giving Board jurisdiction to review whether substantive appeal on merits of claim was timely under 38 USCS § 7252. Matthews v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 202, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 425

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims had jurisdiction to assess its own jurisdiction; this included power to review determination by Board of Veterans' Appeals that it lacked jurisdiction over particular claim. King v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 406, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 2

Veteran's mere reference to similar case in his notice of disagreement was not enough for VA to have inferred that veteran raised claim under 38 USCS § 1151 where reference occurred in another context and record contained no indication that veteran believed he currently had condition caused by VA medical treatment. King v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 406, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 2

Claimant for veterans benefits was denied relief, where decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals that he did not suffer from service connected post-traumatic stress disorder was based upon preponderance of medical testimony, and was not clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4). Forcier v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 414, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 25

10. Reconsideration of determination by Board

When an appeal is pending in the Court pursuant to the timely filing of a notice of appeal, any attempt by the Board or Chairman to order reconsideration of a Board decision is null and void unless the court first orders remand. Court lacked jurisdiction of appeal from BVA's decision denying claim for entitlement to service connection for cause of veteran's death since appellant filed motion for reconsideration with BVA within 120-day judicial appeal period, which abated finality of BVA decision. § 7253. Composition

(a) Composition. The Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims is composed of at least three and not more than seven judges, one of whom shall serve as chief judge in accordance with subsection (d).

(b) Appointment. The judges of the Court shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, solely on the grounds of fitness to perform the duties of the office. A person may not be appointed to the Court who is not a member in good standing of the bar of a Federal court or of the highest court of a State. Not more than the number equal to the next whole number greater than one-half of the number of judges of the Court may be members of the same political party.

(c) Term of office. The term of office of the judges of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims shall be 15 years. A judge who is nominated by the President for appointment to an additional term on the Court without a break in service and whose term of office expires while that nomination is pending before the Senate may continue in office for up to 1 year while that nomination is pending.

(d) Chief judge.

(1) The chief judge of the Court is the head of the Court. The chief judge of the Court shall be the judge of the Court in regular active service who is senior in commission among the judges of the Court who--

(A) have served for one or more years as judges of the Court; and

(B) have not previously served as chief judge.

(2) In any case in which there is no judge of the Court in regular active service who has served as a judge of the Court for at least one year, the judge of the court in regular active service who is senior in commission and has not served previously as chief judge shall act as the chief judge.

(3) Except as provided in paragraph (4), a judge of the Court shall serve as the chief judge under paragraph (1) for a term of five years or until the judge becomes age 70, whichever occurs first. If no other judge is eligible under paragraph (1) to serve as chief judge upon the expiration of that term, that judge shall continue to serve as chief judge until another judge becomes eligible under that paragraph to serve as chief judge.

(4) (A) The term of a chief judge shall be terminated before the end of the term prescribed by paragraph (3) if--

(i) the chief judge leaves regular active service as a judge of the Court; or

(ii) the chief judge notifies the other judges of the Court in writing that such judge desires to be relieved of the duties of chief judge.

(B) The effective date of a termination of the term under subparagraph (A) shall be the date on which the chief judge leaves regular active service or the date of the notification under subparagraph (A)(ii), as the case may be.
(5) If a chief judge is temporarily unable to perform the duties of chief judge, those duties shall be performed by the judge of the Court in active service who is present, able and qualified to act, and is next in precedence.
(6) Judges who have the same seniority in commission shall be eligible for service as chief judge in accordance with their relative precedence.

(e) Salary. Each judge of the Court shall receive a salary at the same rate as is received by judges of the United States district courts.

(f) Removal.
(1) A judge of the Court may be removed from office by the President on grounds of misconduct, neglect of duty, or engaging in the practice of law. A judge of the Court may not be removed from office by the President on any other ground.
(2) Before a judge may be removed from office under this subsection, the judge shall be provided with a full specification of the reasons for the removal and an opportunity to be heard.

(g) Rules.
(1) The Court shall prescribe rules, consistent with the provisions of chapter 16 of title 28 [28 USCS §§ 351 et seq.], establishing procedures for the filing of complaints with respect to the conduct of any judge of the Court and for the investigation and resolution of such complaints. In investigating and taking action with respect to any such complaint, the Court shall have the powers granted to a judicial council under such chapter.
(2) The provisions of sections 354(b) through 360 of title 28 [28 USCS §§ 354(b) through 360], regarding referral or certification to, and petition for review in, the Judicial Conference of the United States and action thereon, shall apply to the exercise by the Court of the powers of a judicial council under paragraph (1) of this subsection. The grounds for removal from office specified in subsection (f)(1) shall provide a basis for a determination pursuant to section 354(b) or 355 of title 28 [28 USCS § 354(b) or 355], and certification and transmittal by the Conference shall be made to the President for consideration under subsection (f).
(3) (A) In conducting hearings pursuant to paragraph (1), the Court may exercise the authority provided under section 1821 of title 28 [28 USCS § 1821] to pay the fees and allowances described in that section.
(B) The Court shall have the power provided under section 361 of title 28 [28 USCS § 361] to award reimbursement for the reasonable expenses described in that section. Reimbursements under this subparagraph shall be made from funds appropriated to the Court.

(h) Temporary expansion of Court.
(1) During the period from January 1, 2002, through August 15, 2005, the authorized number of judges of the Court specified in subsection (a) is increased by two.
(2) (A) Of the two additional judges authorized by this subsection--
(i) only one may be appointed pursuant to a nomination made in 2002; and
(ii) only one may be appointed pursuant to a nomination made in 2003.
(B) If a judge is not appointed under this subsection pursuant to a nomination made in 2002, a judge may be appointed under this subsection pursuant to a nomination made in 2004. If a judge is not appointed under this subsection pursuant to a nomination made in 2003, a judge may be appointed under this subsection pursuant to a nomination made in 2004. In either case, such an appointment may be made only pursuant to a nomination made before October 1, 2004.

(3) The term of office and the eligibility for retirement of a judge appointed under this subsection, other than a judge described in paragraph (4), are governed by the provisions of section 1012 of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims Amendments of 1999 (title X of Public Law 106-117; 113 Stat. 1590; 38 U.S.C. 7296 note) if the judge is one of the first two judges appointed to the Court after November 30, 1999.

(4) A judge of the Court as of December 27, 2001, who was appointed to the Court before January 1, 1991, may accept appointment as a judge of the Court under this subsection notwithstanding that the term of office of the judge on the Court has not yet expired under this section. The term of office of an incumbent judge who receives an appointment as described in the preceding sentence shall be 15 years, which includes any period remaining in the unexpired term of the judge. Any service following an appointment under this subsection shall be treated as though served as part of the original term of office of that judge on the Court.

(5) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), an appointment may not be made to the Court if the appointment would result in there being more than seven judges on the Court who were appointed after January 1, 1997. For the purposes of this paragraph, a judge serving in recall status under section 7257 of this title [38 USCS § 7257] shall be disregarded in counting the number of judges appointed to the Court after such date.

§ 7257. Recall of retired judges

(a) (1) A retired judge of the Court may be recalled for further service on the Court in accordance with this section. To be eligible to be recalled for such service, a retired judge must at the time of the judge's retirement provide to the chief judge of the Court (or, in the case of the chief judge, to the clerk of the Court) notice in writing that the retired judge is available for further service on the Court in accordance with this section and is willing to be recalled under this section. Such a notice provided by a retired judge is irrevocable.

(2) For the purposes of this section--
(A) a retired judge is a judge of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims who retires from the Court under section 7296 of this title [38 USCS § 7296] or under chapter 83 or 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8301 et seq. or 8401 et seq.]; and
(B) a recall-eligible retired judge is a retired judge who has provided a notice under paragraph (1).

(b) (1) The chief judge may recall for further service on the Court a recall-eligible retired judge in accordance with this section. Such a recall shall be made upon written certification by the chief judge that substantial service is expected to be performed by the retired judge for such period, not to exceed 90 days (or the equivalent), as determined by the chief judge to be necessary to meet the needs of the Court.

(2) A recall-eligible retired judge may not be recalled for more than 90 days (or the equivalent) during any calendar year without the judge's consent or for more than a total of 180 days (or the equivalent) during any calendar year.

(3) If a recall-eligible retired judge is recalled by the chief judge in accordance with this section and (other than in the case of a judge who has previously during that calendar year served at least 90 days (or the equivalent) of recalled service on the court) declines (other than by reason of disability) to perform the service to which recalled, the chief judge shall remove that retired judge from the status of a recall-eligible judge.

(4) A recall-eligible retired judge who becomes permanently disabled and as a result of that disability is unable to perform further service on the Court shall be removed from the status of a recall-eligible judge. Determination of such a disability shall be made pursuant to section 7253(g) or 7296(g) of this title [38 USCS § 7253(g) or 7296(g)].

(c) A retired judge who is recalled under this section may exercise all of the judicial powers and duties of the office of a judge in active service.

(d) (1) The pay of a recall-eligible retired judge who retired under section 7296 of this title [38 USCS § 7296] is specified in subsection (c) of that section.

(2) A judge who is recalled under this section who retired under chapter 83 or 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8301 et seq. or 8401 et seq.] shall be paid, during the period for which the judge serves in recall status, pay at the rate of pay in effect under section 7253(e) of this title [38 USCS § 7253(e)] for a judge performing active service, less the amount of the judge's annuity under the applicable provisions of chapter 83 or 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8301 et seq. or 8401 et seq.].

(e) (1) Except as provided in subsection (d), a judge who is recalled under this section who retired under chapter 83 or 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8301 et seq. or 8401 et seq.] shall be considered to be a reemployed annuitant under that chapter.

(2) Nothing in this section affects the right of a judge who retired under chapter 83 or 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8301 et seq. or 8401 et seq.] to serve as a reemployed annuitant in accordance with the provisions of title 5.

(a) In any action brought under this chapter [38 USCS §§ 7251 et seq.], the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, to the extent necessary to its decision and when presented, shall--

(2) compel action of the Secretary unlawfully withheld or unreasonably delayed;
(3) hold unlawful and set aside decisions, findings (other than those described in clause (4) of this subsection), conclusions, rules, and regulations issued or adopted by the Secretary, the Board of Veterans' Appeals, or the Chairman of the Board found to be--

(C) in excess of statutory jurisdiction, authority, or limitations, or in violation of a statutory right; or
(D) without observance of procedure required by law; and

(d) When a final decision of the Board of Veterans' Appeals is adverse to a party and the sole stated basis for such decision is the failure of the party to comply with any applicable regulation prescribed by the Secretary, the Court shall review only questions raised as to compliance with and the validity of the regulation.

1. Generally

There is no statutory basis for jurisdiction in CVA over acts or decisions of Chairman absent some underlying final decision by board, and, while § 7261 may allow CVA to review actions of Chairman in cases where it already has jurisdiction by virtue of timely appeal from final board decision, it does not independently grant jurisdiction over such actions but merely sets out scope of review. Decision of Court of Veterans Appeals, unless or until overturned by this court en banc, US Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit, or Supreme Court, is decision of Court on date it is issued, and any rulings, interpretations, or conclusions of law contained in such decision are authoritative and binding as of date decision is issued and are to be considered and, when applicable, followed by VA agencies of original jurisdiction, Board of Veterans' Appeal, and Secretary in adjudicating and resolving claims. Tobler v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 8

If constitutional question is properly before court, court has power to make determinations regarding it. Reeves v West (1998) 11 Vet App 255

Where veteran's claim for total disability based on individual unemployability was reinstated on appeal but had never been adjudicated, matter was remanded to Department of Veterans Affairs for adjudication. Roberson v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 135, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 402

On appeal to Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims (Court), veteran could flesh out and rephrase argument before Court, and requirement of "some degree of specificity" was broad enough to have allowed veteran to rephrase and provide additional argument and support for same basic argument presented before Board of Veterans' Appeals. Jordan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 261, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 721, affd (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296

Petitioner was not entitled to relief from Board of Veterans' Appeals' order pursuant to court's power under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(2) because authority granted in § 7261(a)(2) was grant of power to court, not grant of jurisdiction; § 7261 required independent source of jurisdiction for its deployment, such as final Board decision and, because no independent source of jurisdiction was present in case, court was without authority to grant relief petitioner sought. O'Branovic v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 81, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 144

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims may not award equitable relief, no matter how compelling facts; however, widow of veteran could raise her equitable claims with Secretary of Veterans Affairs pursuant to 38 USCS § 503(a). Bonner v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 188, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 408

Court of Veterans Appeals did not err in declining to consider effect of internal manual which was cited and relied upon by claimant for first time in her reply brief to that court; improper or late presentation of issue or argument under court's rules need not be considered and ordinarily should not be considered. Carbino v West (1999, CA FC) 168 F.3d 32, 42 FR Serv 3d 1182

Regulation providing that untimely application for Restored Entitlement Program for Survivors Benefits would be retroactive only to month in which application was filed was invalid as in excess of statutory authority; directory nature of statute and absence of any time-specific filing requirements clearly indicate that claimant need not file within 11 months of child's 16th birthday in order to be eligible for benefits as of that date. Cole v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 400, affd (1994, CA FC) 35 F.3d 551

Board decision would be set aside where it relied on medical opinion procured by process which violated fair process principle; Board request for opinion appeared to be soliciting opinion to support predetermined outcome since it stated that veteran's in-service chest injury was clearly not related to his fatal pulmonary emphysema. Austin v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 547

Appeal would not be stayed pending reopening of claim before regional office since attempt to reopen claim was necessarily new case by virtue of fact that it if were reopened it would be on basis of veteran's claim of new and material evidence not considered prior to reopening; if court were to dismiss claim and claim to reopen be denied, veteran would have lost right to review of merits. Pellerin v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 360

Where Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims is required in de novo review interpretation of statute made by Secretary of Veteran's Affairs, court will address first whether Congress has directly spoken to precise question at issue. Gomez v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 369, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 905
Board of Veterans’ Appeals statement of reasons or bases for determining that veteran was ineligible for benefits based on full-time duty in U.S. Coast Guard or his Service in Merchant Marine was not sufficient under 38 USCS § 7104(a), (d)(1) because, inter alia, Board failed to address certain evidence he submitted pertaining to his possible service and appeared to rely on veteran's DD Form 214 as dispositive of his dates of service; moreover, Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) erred under 38 USCS § 5103A because it did not make additional request seeking verification of service following submission of additional documents by veteran to VA regional office; however, because it was unclear whether Board properly considered all documents before it, it would be premature to determine whether Board's denial of veteran's claim was "clearly erroneous" under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4), and, thus, court remanded matter for further development. Frasure v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 379, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 581

II. REVIEW OF FINDINGS

3. Generally

Board's determination of degree of impairment is one of fact entitled to judicial deference and to be set aside only if clearly erroneous. Lovelace v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 73

Perhaps in most cases board's decision on issues of material fact, and court's review of that decision, will be inextricably intertwined with determination whether veteran is entitled to benefit of doubt; where findings of material facts by Board are properly supported and reasoned and Board concludes that fair preponderance of evidence weighs against veteran's claim, it would not be error for Board to deny veteran benefit of doubt, and such denial would not be subject to reversal as arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law because it was premised upon rational basis and supported by appropriate and relevant factors which were properly articulated. Gilbert v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 49, mod on other grounds (1991) 1 Vet App 61

4. Psychiatric conditions

Evidence supported Board's determination that 70 percent schedular rating for psychiatric disorder was appropriate. Gleicher v Derwinski (1991) 2 Vet App 26

Board was clearly erroneous in concluding that veteran's schizophrenia was first demonstrated medically many years after separation; only possible conclusion from record was that veteran's psychiatric condition was present during service. Willis v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 66

Board's finding of fact that veteran's psychiatric disability did not increase in severity as a result of his service was plausible and supported by clinical description in medical records of veteran's condition before entry into service and during his hospitalization during service. Green v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 320, app dismd without op (1992, CA) 976 F.2d 746

VA psychiatrists' examination provided plausible basis for BVA's conclusion that veteran did not currently suffer from acquired psychiatric disorder, including PTSD, hence that conclusion was not subject to reversal as clearly erroneous finding of fact. Brownrigg v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 244

Board's finding that veteran's personality disorder was not acquired psychiatric disease incurred in or aggravated by service was clearly correct; regulatory authority recognizes that such disorders and developmental in nature, hence not entitled to service connection. Beno v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 439
Insanity determination should also be considered question of fact subject to review on clearly erroneous standard since determination of whether person is insane is in effect determination of whether that person's actions were intentional and thus result of willful misconduct; record provided plausible basis for Board's findings that veteran's injuries were due to his own willful misconduct and not due to insanity, including evidence that he was under extreme emotional distress when he shot himself and had no history of treatment for any kind of mental illness. Zang v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 246

Claimant for veterans benefits was denied relief, where decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals that he did not suffer from service connected post-traumatic stress disorder was based upon preponderance of medical testimony, and was not clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4). Forcier v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 414, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 25

5. Unemployability

Board's factual determination that veteran was employable was clearly erroneous, warranting reversal of denial of entitlement to total disability rating based on individual unemployability due to veteran's severe hypertensive cardiovascular disease. Hersey v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 91 (ovrd in part by Padgett v Nicholson (2005, US) 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 196)

Board's finding that veteran's service-connected disabilities were not of sufficient severity to prevent his pursuit of substantially gainful employment would be reversed where record showed that veteran was not capable of substantially gainful employment and therefore entitled to total disability rating. Moore v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 356

There was no plausible basis for Board to find that veteran was able to engage in substantially gainful employment where both Postal Service and New York labor department determined that veteran was unemployable. Brown v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 307

Board's findings that veteran was not unemployable due to service-connected disabilities were clearly erroneous where record contained no evidence rebutting examining psychiatrist's conclusion that veteran was unemployable. Kaiser v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 411

Numerous examples of appellant's uncooperative behavior, poor attitude, and level of his skills supported BVA's finding that appellant's vocational goal of employment in music industry was not reasonably feasible. Kandik v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 434

6. Cancer

Board's finding that veteran's death from bronchogenic carcinoma was not related to his exposure to ionizing radiation 32 years earlier was amply supported by record. Jeffers v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 22, app dismd without op (1992, CA) 976 F.2d 746

Plausible basis existed for finding that veteran's lung cancer was not caused by his exposure to minimal radiation during service but by his heavy smoking. Harrison v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 532

7. Eye or ear conditions

Board's finding that veteran's eye disorder was developmental and not result of septoplasty conducted during service was not clearly erroneous where record was devoid of any evidence supporting veteran's assertion or rebutting Board's conclusion. Hughes v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 57

Record contained plausible basis for Board's denial of service connection for bilateral ear disorder and hearing loss, including evidence that veteran entered service with scarring on both eardrums and all audiometric evaluations in service revealed normal hearing. Slater v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 43

Board's finding that, with eye protection, farmwork or heavy equipment operation would be feasible was clearly erroneous where it had no evidentiary basis in record and Board ignored veteran's sworn and undisputed testimony that he had worn "best goggles" while farming but that his enucleated eye nevertheless got infected; where veteran submits well-grounded claim for total disability rating based on individual unemployability, BVA may not reject that claim without producing evidence rather than conjecture that veteran can perform work that would produce sufficient income to be other than marginal. Beaty v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 532

8. Miscellaneous

Board's failure to consider veteran's unrebutted evidence of painful motion in application for increased rating for rheumatoid arthritis required reversal and remand; board cannot simply ignore parol evidence from claimant, particularly where pain is sole issue. Ferguson v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 428

Board's finding that inservice epigastric complaint did not represent chronic stomach disorder was clearly erroneous. Brannon v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 314

Since 1958 medical examination report actually stated that appellant had post traumatic osteoarthritis not of recent origin but which had been aggravated by injury of 1958, Board's finding that 1958 fall probably caused appellant's arthritic condition was clearly erroneous. Spencer v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 125

Board's finding that appellant's left shoulder pathology was not secondary to his right forearm amputation was clearly erroneous where Board failed to cite independent medical authority or to supplement record through remand to agency of original jurisdiction. Meister v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 472

Board's finding that veteran was not entitled to service connection for cellulitis was not clearly erroneous since there was no record of treatment for that condition until year after his discharge from service. Basillote v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 43

Record contained plausible basis for Board's determination that rheumatoid arthritis and ulcer disease first became manifest many years after service and were unrelated to any incident of service. Cox v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 59

Plausible basis existed for BVA's determination that veteran's condition did not warrant increased rating for residuals of scars to face and ankle where VA examination showed that scars were nontender, nonadherent, and nondepressed, and subsequent examination 28 years later noted virtually unchanged picture. Schoonover v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 166

Implicit determinations that veteran's hospitalizations were not emergent, urgent, or unique were not implausible, based on record, therefore not clearly erroneous. Brooks v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 406

Board's findings of fact in claim for increased rating for residuals of gunshot wound and fracture of leg were plausible. Archer v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 433

Board's finding of lack of service connection for headaches was not clearly erroneous; there was no medical evidence suggesting headaches during service or resulting from hiking accident during service. Thaxton v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 442

Board's findings regarding claimed back disability had plausible basis in record since veteran submitted no evidence in support of service-connection, aggravation by service or secondary to injuries received in service, and his own conjecture is not competent evidence. Dunn v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 499

Board's finding that veteran was not entitled to total rating for coronary artery disease was unsupported by record and therefore clearly erroneous where both private physician and VA physician concluded that veteran was precluded from employment due to his heart condition. Carroll v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 208

Denial of service connection for residuals of head injury was not clearly erroneous since, although veteran was treated during service for head injury which resulted in headache and dizziness, record reflected no treatment for or complaints of residuals of head injury through VA's examination less than one year after discharge. Smith v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 300

BVA's denial of service connection for lumbar disc disease was not clearly erroneous where, although service records indicated that appellate experienced back pain during service, his discharge physical revealed no abnormality of spine or other defects, and evidence indicated that... disease became manifest many years after his discharge. Thibault v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 520, app dism'd without op (1994, CA FC) 33 F.3d 64

BVA's findings that veteran's prostate disorder and PTSD were not incurred in or aggravated by service were not clearly erroneous; first sign of prostate disorder was recorded nearly 40 years after veteran's separation from service, and veteran's most recent psychological examination revealed no symptomatology of PTSD. Boeck v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App

Board had plausible basis in record for findings that servicemember's pulmonary disease was not service-connected or that any of his service-connected disabilities had caused heart problems leading to his death; service records mentioned no pulmonary problems and no medical evidence demonstrated causal relationship between service-connected residuals of frozen feet and fatal myocardial infarction. Philbrick v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 316

Board's finding that veteran's service-connected right above-knee amputation was not principal or contributory cause of death was not clearly erroneous where there was no medical evidence to support widow's assertion of causal connection between veteran's service-connected polio disability, his walk in hospital several minutes before he died, and his death, listed as cardiopulmonary arrest due to metastatic carcinoma on death certificate. Van Slack v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 499

Any error in Board's rating veteran's knee disability as traumatic arthritis rather than osteoarthritis was nonprejudicial since rating procedure for both disorders is identical. Arnesen v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 432

Board's finding that veteran's knee infection and amputation was foreseeable risk of gastric surgery given veteran's age, vascular problems, and diabetes, was not clearly erroneous; Board considered physician's opinion that amputation of an extremity is not foreseeable consequence of gastric surgery, but accorded more weight to medical treatise which took into account patients whose states are as physically compromised as was veteran's. Hartman v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 623

There was no clear and unmistakable error in decision that denied service connection for veteran's right foot injury since x-ray indicated no evidence of fracture and, while service medical records did confirm occurrence of injury, they also confirmed that veteran was merely assigned temporary waiver of duties and was excused from running for period of ten days. Grover v West (1999) 12 Vet App 109

Where veteran's claims file was not provided to examiner prior to examination, as required by prior remand, court was unable to conclude under 38 USCS § 7261(b)(2) that veteran was not harmed by lack of compliance with remand and, although examiner's objective findings were properly considered, consideration of examiner's conclusions was precluded. Mariano v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 305, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 782

III. REVIEW OF DECISIONS

9. Generally

"Plausible basis" standard of review described by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims was not misapplication of "clearly erroneous" standard set forth in 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4) where Veterans Court's affirmance of Board's decision was expressly based upon consideration of record on appeal, appellant's original and reply briefs, Secretary's brief, and oral argument of parties. Sanchez-Benitez v Principi (2001, CA FC) 259 F.3d 1356, on remand, remanded (2001) 15 Vet App 268, 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1219

Veteran's Court committed legal error when it refused to apply harmless error doctrine as required by 38 USCS § 7261(b)(2); court erred when it refused to consider whether difference between notice given to veteran and notice required prejudiced veteran, such that § 7261(b)

Although Board erred in treating evidence submitted by appellant as new and material when Board itself concluded that evidence was cumulative, error would be deemed not prejudicial since appellant failed to satisfy 2-step test for reopening claim on basis of new evidence. Thompson v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 251

Error below, whether procedural or substantive, is prejudicial when error affects substantial right so as to injure interest that statutory or regulatory provision involved was designed to protect such that error affects essential fairness of adjudication; in other words, key to determining whether error is prejudicial is effect of error on essential fairness of adjudication; moreover, although demonstration by one party that error did not affect outcome of case would establish that there was or could be no prejudice, failure of other party to demonstrate that error did affect outcome does not necessarily mean that error was harmless; hence, to persuade that there was no prejudice, party must demonstrate essential fairness of adjudication. Mayfield v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 103, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 197, reh, en banc, den (2005, US) 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 304

10. Clear and unmistakable error, generally

Both 38 USCS § 7261(a)(1) and § 7261(a)(3)(A) necessarily contemplate de novo review of legal issues such as interpretation of regulation by Board of Veterans' Appeals. Lane v Principi (2003, CA FC) 339 F.3d 1331

If claimant-appellant wishes to reasonably raise clear and unmistakable error, there must be some degree of specificity as to what alleged error is and, unless kind that if true would be clear and unmistakable error on its face, persuasive reasons must be given for why result would have been manifestly different but for alleged error. Fugo v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 40 (ovrld in part by Simmons v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 104, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 403)

Claim that there was error in prior BVA decision, rather than decision on appeal, is claim of clear and unmistakable error, over which court lacks jurisdiction because Board has no jurisdiction over such claim. Trice v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 245

Court has jurisdiction to review BVA decisions on issue whether there was clear and unmistakable error requiring revision of prior adjudications of either agency of original jurisdiction of BVA over which court does not otherwise have jurisdiction, though it is necessarily limited to determining whether BVA decision was arbitrary, capricious, an abuse or discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law. Russell v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 310

Veteran could not simply allege clear and unmistakable error on basis that prior adjudications had improperly weighed and evaluated evidence; such claim must be specific and not mere broad allegation of failure to follow regulations, or failure to give due process, or any other general error. Mindenhall v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 271, dismd without op (1995, CA FC) 53 F.3d 347, reported in full (1995, CA FC) 1995 US App LEXIS 10345

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims cannot disturb Board's conclusion that regional office decision did not contain clear and unmistakable error on ground decision was arbitrary, capricious, or otherwise not in accordance with law under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A) and 38 USCS § 5109A where veteran's claim is request for reweighing of evidence. Simmons v West (2000) 14 Vet App 84, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 860

Board of Veterans' Appeals denial of veteran's claim for clear and unmistakable error was vacated, where claim may have been denied on basis of pleading insufficiency; proper procedure was to dismiss such claim without prejudice. On review of 1983 decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board), Board was bound to apply regulations as they existed in 1983, and new interpretations of 38 USCS § 1111 (former 38 USCS § 311) and 38 USCS § 1153 (former 38 USCS § 353), interpretations to which Secretary of Veterans Affairs also agreed, that apparently conflicted with those regulations could not be basis for clear and unmistakable error for 1983 decision. Jordan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 261, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 721, affd (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296

Where veteran claimed that prior disability determinations contained clear and unmistakable error, review of veteran's claims of error was limited under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A) to determining whether decision of Board of Veteran's Appeals denying claims was arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or contrary to law and, thus, plenary review was unavailable to consider underlying decisions. Andrews v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 177, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 383

There was no clear and unmistakable error in denial of veteran's request for award of special monthly compensation under former 38 USCS § 314(m) (replaced by 38 USCS § 1114) where veteran failed to point to any evidence that reflected that muscles used to move his elbow joint were atrophied or would have become atrophied; veteran's argument that loss of supination and pronation even with movement in joint (unfavorable ankylosis) constituted lack of "natural elbow action" was without merit because under 38 C.F.R. § 3.350(c)(1), "natural elbow action" was defined in terms of muscle atrophy and prospective muscle atrophy. Augustine v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 505, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 722

11. -Particular decisions
   Veteran's letter clearly raised claim of clear and unmistakable error (CUE), though he did not expressly call it CUE claim, where he stated his concern to have his disability acknowledged and corrected to at least its original 40 percent and that amount paid should be corrected by 20 percent for 439 months. Archbold v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 124

   Veteran did not raise claim of clear and unmistakable error in regional office's rating decisions since references to statute and regulation which had been brought to attention of BVA and RO previously were made in context of describing how RO allegedly had erred earlier in denying entitlement to service connection, not in attempt to raise separate claim of clear and unmistakable error. Phillips v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 25

   Board properly dismissed claims of clear and unmistakable error; court had previously held that rating decision was never appealed, and later rating decision addressed identical issue of appellant's entitlement to psychiatric disability and thus subsumed earlier decision. Chisem v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 526

   Decision holding that original rating decision denying service connection was not clearly and unmistakably erroneous was proper; fact that state of medical knowledge in general and medically opinions specifically concerning veteran's cause of death changed after original adjudication cannot be basis for revising earlier rating decision. Porter v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 233
Board's findings of entitlement to no more than 10 percent disability rating under all applicable diagnostic codes for left wrist disorder, right thigh disorder, and left anterior chest disorder are plausible and not clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4) Johnston v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 80

Board's decision assigning January 27, 1994, as effective date for non-service-connected disability pension was clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4) where veteran attempted to reopen claim on December 9, 1992, by submitting Social Security Administration (SSA) decision awarding him disability benefits based on total disability; regional office rendered adverse decision in September, 1993; decision was not final decision since regional office received SSA records on January 27, 1994, prior to expiration of one year appeal period; SSA records are considered as evidence filed in connection with claim pending at beginning of appeal period; and December 9, 1992, is effective date of claim. Muehl v West (1999) 13 Vet App 159, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1275

Board decision determining that regional office had not erred in deciding that presumption of soundness had been rebutted in 1947 was not arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A) where service medical record of veteran's induction examination contained notation of scar on right thigh and "confirmed" notation that veteran had benign tumor removed from right thigh prior to service, and notations on veteran's certificate of disability for discharge and medical board report showed veteran's condition existed prior to service; however, Board's denial of clear and unmistakable error was "not otherwise in accordance with law" as to application of presumption of aggravation because evidence before regional office in 1947 could not, as matter of law, have met criteria set forth under regulation in effect at time which required specific finding that increase in disability is due to natural progress of disease. Sondel v West (1999) 13 Vet App 213, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1278

Board's factual finding that veteran had "reason to believe" that he was not entitled to special monthly compensation checks that he received did not have plausible basis in record and was clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4) where Board supported its finding based on form sent to veteran but form was difficult to read, contained mostly irrelevant information, stated only general policy, and was sent to veteran as attachment to decision awarding veteran additional special monthly compensation, after regional office had specifically inquired as to circumstances of veteran's care. Erickson v West (2000) 13 Vet App 495, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 380

Where earlier board decision declining to reinstate compensable rating for veteran's disability contained clear and unmistakable error by failing to address 38 C.F.R. § 3.344 (1977), court reversed and remanded current board decision that had upheld earlier decision. Sorakubo v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 120, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 350

Prior disability determinations contained (before 1990) were not required to expressly address evidence and veteran's bare allegation that prior decisions failed to consider evidence did not assert any specific error in decision of Board of Veteran's Appeals that court could review. Andrews v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 177, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 383

Board of Veterans Appeals erred under 38 USCS § 5109A(e) when it proceeded to adjudicate clear and unconvincing error (CUE) claim in first instance without offering to remand question to regional office; moreover, error could not be considered nonprejudicial under 38 USCS § 7261(b)(2) because court could not decide that veteran could not possibly have prevailed on claim had matter been sent back to RO for initial CUE adjudication; thus, Board's decision was vacated and remanded. Huston v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 395, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 580, subsequent app (2004) 18 Vet App 405, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 600, motion gr, dismd (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 713

Where veteran's ulcer condition preexisted service, and veteran had suffered marked increase in symptoms associated with his ulcer, applying law in existence in 1955, Department of Veterans Affairs regional office was required to have made "specific finding" of natural progression of condition; absent such finding, it was error to conclude that presumption of aggravation had been rebutted. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

Evidence, e.g., veteran’s statements during his initial examination that he had experienced intermittent epigastria pain and vomiting, supported conclusion of Board of Veterans' Appeals that veteran’s ulcer had preexisted service. Joyce v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 36, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 97

Court of Appeals holds that claim of clear and unmistakable error (CUE) may not be filed as to matter that is still appealable to this Court, or is pending on appeal with this Court or at higher court; thus, where veteran had filed direct appeal of March 2003 Board of Veterans' Appeals decision, pursuant to 38 CFR § 20.1410, Board should have stayed its consideration of veteran's CUE claim upon receiving notice that veteran had filed direct appeal of that decision. May v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 310, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 536

12. Disability rating

Statutory scheme of 5 USCS §§ 552, 553, and 38 USCS §§ 1155, 7252, consistently excluded from judicial review all content of ratings schedule, as well as actions of Secretary of Veterans Affairs in adopting or revising that content, and 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(C) only provides standards of review to be applied by U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims when reviewing decision from Board of Veterans' Appeals and, thus, under 38 USCS § 7252, such court lacked jurisdiction to review content of diagnostic codes as part of schedule of ratings for disabilities; accordingly, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit reversed determination of U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that 38 C.F.R. § 4.87a, Diagnostic Code 6260, was invalid as inconsistent with 38 USCS § 1110. Wanner v Principi (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1124

Board erred in reducing veteran’s rating from 100 percent to 10 percent based solely on one examination, where all evidence did not support degree of material improvement found by rating board. Dofflemyer v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 277

Denial of increased rating from 30 to 50 percent for PTSD was not erroneous where there was plausible basis in record for Board’s factual determinations and it committed no legal error. Sellz v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 299

Board apparently inverted decision process and concluded that rating percentage under new criteria in ratings scheduled for mental disorder should be kept same because there was no change in evidence, then made wording of its factual findings consistent with that determination. Sabol v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 228

Board’s refusal to extend disability rating through May 1989 was not arbitrary where progress note disclosed good function of Veteran’s right thumb at end of April and BVA discredited July outpatient orthopedic clinic progress note by implicitly stating that it was unsupported by clinical evidence. Foster v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 393

Reduction of veteran's disability rating for post-traumatic stress disorder from 50 percent to 30 percent was arbitrary and capricious, particularly in light of absence of adequate statement of reasons, where it was done on basis of one inaccurate and incomplete medical report and therefore without observance of applicable regulations. Lehman v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 339

Remand was appropriate since it is not court's function to assign disability rating, but to determine whether BVA clearly erred in denying request for increased rating. Melaragni v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 20

Board's conclusion denying increased rating for PTSD was clearly erroneous and it would be reversed where there simply was no plausible basis for its conclusion that evidence failed to support claim for increased benefits; Board dismissed without comment recommendation of
A social industrial survey performed at request of DVA which addressed heart of issue whether veteran was capable of gainful employment. Crandell v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 33

Where all medical evidence of record supports finding that veteran's disability is at least "severe," thus warranting rating of no less than 70 percent, there is no plausible basis for Board's contrary holding and court will reverse as clearly erroneous. Cleary v Principi (1992) 3 Vet App 495, judgment entered sub nom Cleary v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 175

Appeal of claim for increased disability rating could be disposed of under clearly erroneous standard since it included wholly factual matters, hence was not inextricably intertwined with issue of unemployability which was referred to RO so as to deprive court of jurisdiction. Parker v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 116

VA had sufficient medical evidence to change veteran's rating for right lung cancer from 100 to 60 percent, including examinations confirming absence of recurrence or metastasis. Bennett v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 178

Board acted arbitrarily and capriciously in denying extension of appellant's total disability rating and in failing further to evaluate appellant for total and permanent disability rating where it failed to take into account notations in medical record of appellant's incapacity to work and need for additional convalescent time and instead relied on records that predated those, and failed to take into account subsequent medical notation that appellant required six months of convalescence. Seals v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 291

Board decision that March 1973 rating decision denying entitlement to service connection for herniated lumbar disc and residuals of lumbar laminectomy did not contain clear and unmistakable error; facts as they were known at time were before RO, VA physician's examination resulting in opinion that appellant's injury was misdiagnosed originally did not occur until after BVA decision, and appellant did not allege that any statutory or regulatory provisions extant at time were incorrectly applied. Rivers v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 469, subsequent app (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 205

Rating decision determining that appellant's psychosis existed prior to service and was not aggravated by service did not constitute clear and unmistakable error since appellant did not allege that correct facts as known at time were not before adjudicator or that statutory and regulatory provisions extant at time were incorrectly applied. Daniels v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 474, dismd without op sub nom Daniels v West (1998, CA FC) 155 F.3d 572, reported in full (1998, CA FC) 1998 US App LEXIS 17306

Decision by Board of Veterans Appeals that applied more stringent standard for disability rating under pre-1999 Disability Code, which required that tinnitus be "persistent" as opposed to post-1999 Disability Code, which required condition to be "recurring," was arbitrary and capricious and matter was remanded for reassessment; veteran was also entitled, under regulations as written at that time, to have two assessments because veteran suffered condition bilaterally. Smith v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 168, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 426, revd, remanded (2004, CA FC) 108 Fed Appx 628

Finding, that residuals of gunshot wound to veteran's shoulder involved only injury to one muscle group and not to second muscle group, failed to address whether veteran's disability rating for second muscle group was protected by length of time it had been in effect and, if not protected, failed to address evidence supporting involvement of second muscle group. Mariano v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 305, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 782

Factual determination, that veteran's arthritis was not residual of service-connected gunshot wound, was clearly erroneous within meaning of 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4) where there was absolutely no medical evidence to support finding since medical examination reports did not address question. Mariano v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 305, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 782

Where two examinations reflected at-or-below-shoulder-level flexion measurements, one examination reflected above-shoulder-level flexion measurement, and it was unclear what private physician was measuring, finding, that veteran had arm motion above shoulder level based solely on flexion measurements, had no plausible basis in record; application of 38 USCS § 5107(b) equipoise standard in reaching factual determination based on flexion was, thus, clearly

Where two examiners attributed veteran's limitation of movement of shoulder to service connected residual of gunshot wound, one examiner attributed limitation to arthritis or ambiguous etiology, and one examiner used flawed methodology, application of 38 USCS § 5107(b) equipoise standard in finding that limitation was due to arthritis was clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4). Mariano v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 305, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 782

In evaluating frequency of veteran's headache episodes under 38 C.F.R. § 4.124a, Diagnostic Code 8100 (2002), Board of Veterans' Appeals improperly based its determination by comparing number of "severe" headache episodes with "mild to moderate" ones; that comparison was absurd because greater number of less-severe headaches that veteran suffered, more difficult it would be for his "severe" headaches to be considered "very frequent" so as to meet requirement for 50 percent rating. Pierce v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 440, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 652

Where veteran argued that he was entitled to 50 percent rating for migraine headaches, Board of Veterans' Appeals erred when if failed to discuss letter that veteran wrote to his representative that contained most recent information regarding his headaches, their frequency, severity, incapacitation, and prostration, and his employment status. Pierce v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 440, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 652

Nothing in 38 C.F.R. § 4.124a, Diagnostic Code 8100 (2002), requires that claimant be completely unable to work in order to qualify for 50 percent rating; if "economic inadaptability" were read to import unemployability, claimant, if he met economic-inadaptability criterion, would then be eligible for rating of total disability based on individual unemployability resulting from service-connected disability (TDIU) rather than just 50 percent rating. Pierce v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 440, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 652

13. Service connection

38 USCS § 7261(a)(4) requires Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims to apply clearly erroneous standard for review of determinations by Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) regarding disputed facts or regarding application of established law to facts of particular case; therefore, where BVA concluded that veterans' benefits claimant's evidence of direct causation of peripheral neuropathy related to his chemical exposure while in service was insufficient to establish service connection, lower court properly upheld BVA's finding that medical evidence in record provided plausible basis for denial of service connection and that BVA's decision was not clearly erroneous. Lennox v Principi (2003, CA FC) 353 F.3d 941

Where service member claimed that regional office failed to consider presumption of soundness in its adjudication of his claim for disability benefits and that such failure constituted clear and unmistakable error (CUE), Court of Appeals for Veterans' Claims did not apply incorrect standard of review in evaluating service member's CUE claim, even though it did not expressly address member's challenge to legal sufficiency of evidence. Kent v Principi (2004, CA FC) 389 F.3d 1380

Board's conclusion that no etiological relationship was demonstrated between service-contracted right axillary puncture wound and right axillary/subclavian stenosis first shown many years after wound was contrary to medical evidence of record and not plausible, hence its decision denying service connection was clearly erroneous. Futch v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 204

Board did not err in determining that service connected was not warranted for veteran's low back condition where it outlined record evidence as well as applicable statutory and regulatory provisions, emphasized that veteran failed to provide evidence which demonstrated continuity of symptomatology, and found that veteran failed to account for lengthy time period for which there was no clinical documentation of his low back condition. Mense v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 354
Board did not err in denying service connection for acquired psychiatric disorder where record established that veteran served in Navy for 4 years, suffered head injury as result of traffic accident while in service for which he was service-connected for residuals of injury rated at 0 percent disabling, and was first diagnosed as having psychiatric condition several years after having left service. Little v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 560, amd on other grounds (1991, Vet App) 1991 US Vet App LEXIS 78

Board's determination that National Guard member's multiple sclerosis was not incurred during her active duty for training was not clearly erroneous where it found that first diagnosis of multiple sclerosis dated over one year after her last period of active duty for training and, while appellant introduced evidence of symptoms she allegedly experienced while on active duty for training, she did not introduce any medical evidence indicating diagnosis of multiple sclerosis or any of its symptoms that could not be readily explained by other events. Biggins v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 474

Board did not err in denying surviving spouse's claim for service connection for her husband's death from occlusive coronary atherosclerosis as related to his service-connected sickle-cell anemia where medical treatise is submitted by spouse only raised possibility of relationship between sickle-cell anemia and certain cardiovascular disorders but did not show direct causal relationship. Utendahl v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 530

Board's denial of secondary service connection for veteran's right knee condition was clearly erroneous since its rejection of treating physician's statements regarding causal relationship between service-connected left knee condition and right knee condition had no independent basis in record and medical records conflicted with Board's analysis of medical evidence. Harder v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 183

In denying service connection for seizure disorder, Board was arbitrary and capricious in finding that presumption of soundness upon induction in 1979 had been rebutted since it did not even discuss credibility of lay statements, including appellant's own testimony, that he had not suffered seizures prior to service, and there was no basis in record for Board's factual finding that 1996 VA neurological examination established that seizure disorder preexisted service since doctor expressly refused to opine regarding etiology of seizure disorder. Vanerson v West (1999) 12 Vet App 254, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 46

Court had jurisdiction over appellant challenge to denial of ratings for service connected tinnitus, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(C), to determine whether Diagnostic Code (DC) regulation at issue was in violation of statutory right and, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A), to determine whether DC regulation was arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law. Wanner v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 4, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 88, revd, remanded (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1124 and (ovrd as stated in Smith v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 448, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 674)

Board of Veterans' Appeals erred to extent that its determination that veteran had not engaged in combat was based on sole criterion of veteran's not having received fire from enemy, which was not required under 38 USCS § 1154(b)'s phrase "engaged in combat with enemy" as interpreted by VA General Counsel opinion; evidence showed that veteran's unit had been responsible for shooting artillery fire into enemy areas and that his unit killed numerous Viet Cong soldiers. Sizemore v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 264, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 555

Department of Veterans' Affairs (VA) did not make all reasonable efforts to verify veteran's claimed post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) stressors and to verify that veteran was not advised adequately by VA as to types of information that could help verify his claimed in-service stressors; in particular, VA failed to advise veteran that he could submit corroboration in form of “buddy statements” as to some of occurrences that he alleged were in-service stressors.

Veteran filed only one claim for service connection for hearing loss, even if there were two theories advanced; therefore, no claim remained pending after Board of Veterans Appeals (BVA) rejected at least one of veteran’s theories and, because veteran did not demonstrate that BVA’s denial of earlier effective date under 38 USCS § 5110(a) was clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4), BVA decision was affirmed. Bingham v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 470, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 547

Board of Veterans Appeals erred when it determined that there was no clear and unconvincing error (CUE) in decision by regional office (RO) because Board failed to provide adequate statement of reasons or bases for its conclusion that RO considered veteran's combat service, as required by 38 USCS § 1154(b); however, Board correctly concluded that veteran failed to provide medical nexus opinion relating any current hearing loss to veteran's military service; thus, veteran could not possibly prevail on his hearing-loss claim, and Board's reasons-or-bases error in not discussing § 1154(b) was nonprejudicial error under 38 USCS § 7261(b)(2). Huston v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 395, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 580, subsequent app (2004) 18 Vet App 405, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 600, motion gr, dismd (2004, US) 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 713

Although Board of Veterans' Appeals did not comply with 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1) when it failed to support its conclusion that Department of Veterans Affairs was not required under 38 USCS § 5103A(d) to provide veteran with medical examination with respect to veteran's claims for service connection for poor vision and hearing-loss disability, error was nonprejudicial under 38 USCS § 7261(b) because there was no evidence in record reflecting that veteran suffered event, injury, or disease in service that could be associated with those symptoms. Duenas v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 512, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 798

Veteran counsel's failed to raise before Department of Veterans Affairs, in his claim of clear and unmistakable error (CUE) argument that veteran's prior pro se claims should have been construed as asserting claims for total disability based on individual unemployability (TDIU); as Roberson did not apply to counsel-filed CUE motions, Court of Appeals properly refused to consider TDIU issue. Andrews v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 421 F.3d 1278

Where only evidence showed that appellant had been continually unemployed since 1975, Board erred in failing to consider regulation compelling 100-percent rating for claimant whose 70-percent service-connected mental disability prevents him from engaging in substantially gainful employment. Karnas v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 308 (ovrld in part as stated in, ovrld in part by Kuzma v Principi (2003, CA FC) 341 F.3d 1327 and (ovrld as stated in Griscom v Principi (2003, CA FC) 76 Fed Appx 289) and (ovrld as stated in May v Principi (2003, US) 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 986) and (ovrld as stated in Hollin v Principi (2003, US) 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 960)

Board's determination that prior decision terminating veteran's individual unemployability benefits did not contain clear and unmistakable error was erroneous where Board failed to apply regulation requiring that termination of such benefits require that actual employability be established by clear and convincing evidence and there was no evidence of employability at time of earlier decision. Olson v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 430

Board's decision denying servicemember's claim of total disability based on individual unemployability lacked any supporting evidence and Board ignored many pertinent facts, e.g., veteran's testimony that he was interested in working, fact that his driver's license had been suspended because of his medical condition or that VA had denied vocational rehabilitation because it determined that his condition made training unfeasible, VA social and industrial survey's conclusion that veteran was unable to work due to narcolepsy, potential employer's letter stating that none of many jobs available would be offered to veteran because his condition posed unacceptable risk of injury, and letter from principal of school where veteran was briefly employed. which explained that veteran was unable to maintain working schedule. James v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 495

15. Denial of reconsideration

Although court has jurisdiction to review BVA denials of reconsideration, it may not do so in absence of allegations of new evidence or changed circumstances. Patterson v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 362

Appeal from Board Chairman's denial of reconsideration of Board decision was not timely, and court thus lacked jurisdiction over it, where notice of appeal was filed nearly two years after issuance of Board's final decision. Cochran v Brown (1996) 8 Vet App 557

Claimant for veterans benefits was denied relief from order of Board of Veterans' Appeals (Board), although his counsel's letter to Board was sufficient to constitute timely notice of disagreement under 38 USCS § 7105(b), giving Board jurisdiction to review whether substantive appeal on merits of claim was timely; however, there was no prejudicial error, relief on reconsideration was not warranted, under 38 USCS § 7261(b)(2). Matthews v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 202, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 425

In response to Secretary's complaint that remand ordering that related claim be adjudicated within 90 days was unrealistic given inherent delays in administrative processes, court does not assume and Secretary should presume that "business as usual" defines timetable for action directed by court. Hayes v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 482

Decision or finding of prisoner of war status is legal determination, hence subject to clearly erroneous standard of review. Young v Brown (1993) 4 Vet App 106, subsequent app (1996) 9 Vet App 141, affd sub nom Young v Gober (1997, CA FC) 121 F.3d 662

Board's incompetency determination was legally erroneous where it was made without participation of Veteran's Service Officer, who, according to VA regulations, is to participate in and may modify incompetency determinations. Coleman v Brown (1993) 5 Vet App 371

BVA's reliance on medical treatise in denying service connection for helminthiasis claimed by veteran who had been held by Japanese as POW could not be considered harmless where BVA failed to give veteran notice of its intent to rely on treatise and veteran presented plausible argument calling into question general applicability of treatise's claims. Yabut v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 79

Board's decision to deny waiver of outstanding VA loan guaranty indebtedness was not arbitrary and capricious since the Board determined that appellant was at fault in creation of debt and that repayment of debt over time would not constitute undue hardship. Parker v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 476

Conclusion of Board of Veterans' Appeals that telephone call by estranged spouse to report death of veteran was not informal claim but request for information was not arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A) since veteran's claims file contents indicated parties were separated which would generally preclude estranged spouse from receiving death pension benefits. Westberry v West (1999) 12 Vet App 510, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 787, reh, en banc, den (2000) 13 Vet App 305, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 53 and affd (2001, CA FC) 255 F.3d 1377, reh den (2001, CA FC) 2001 US App LEXIS 23206

Board's decision that appellant had not filed claim for dependency and indemnity compensation was not arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or otherwise contrary to law under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A) where, even though appellant's application for burial benefits was informal claim for dependency and indemnity compensation, appellant did not return application form for dependency and indemnity benefits within one year after it had been sent to her. Mitscher v West (1999) 13 Vet App 123, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1131

Despite December 6, 2002, amendment to 38 USCS § 7261, there is still need for designation and counter designation of record in appeal from decision of Board of Veterans'
Appeals, and court's longstanding practice of requiring that only relevant material be included in record on appeal is still in effect; therefore, motion filed by children of veteran, seeking to compel Secretary of Veterans Affairs to transmit complete copy of children's claims files, as record in their appeal from Board decisions denying their claims for education benefits, was denied, and court further declined children's invitation to remove U.S. Ct. Vet. App. R. 10, and amend U.S. Ct. Vet. App. R. 11, 33. Homan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 1, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 73

Where Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) erred by failing to adequately discuss amended duty to notify in 38 USCS § 5103, BVA's error was non-prejudicial under 38 USCS § 7261(b)(2) because brother's averment that he was brother of deceased veteran was uniquely within brother's knowledge, and under 38 USCS § 101(14) brother was ineligible for dependency and indemnity compensation as matter of law on basis of sibling relationship with veteran. Valiao v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 229, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 612

Veteran who was referred from Veterans Affairs clinic to private hospital emergency room was eligible to receive payment of medical expenses incurred during hospitalization at private hospital because there was no plausible basis in record for Board of Veteran's Affairs factual determination that veteran's medical condition did not pose threat to his health, and all evidence in record supported finding that such threat did exist. Limited eligibility period for active-duty service contained in 38 C.F.R. § 3.7(x)(15) (2001 & 2003) reflects limited period previously determined by Secretary of Air Force, who has general authority, as delegated by Secretary of Defense, to designate groups for purposes of active-duty service under G.I. Bill Improvement Act of 1977, Pub. L. No. 95-202, § 401, 91 Stat. 1433 (found at 38 USCS § 106 (note)); Department of Veterans Affair's promulgation of 38 C.F.R. § 3.7(x)(15), including eligibility dates of December 7, 1941, to August 15, 1945, is not arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law or in excess of statutory jurisdiction, authority, or limitations, or in violation of statutory right pursuant to 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(A), (C). Where widow of veteran argued that, because she asserted that her husband died from "cancer" in her 1975 dependency and indemnity compensation claim, that claim necessarily included claim for non-Hodgkin's lymphoma and that under 38 C.F.R. § 3.313 she was eligible for earlier effective date based on 38 C.F.R. § 3.309(e), that argument was without merit; at time of 1976 adjudication, evidence established that widow's claim was one for Hodgkin's disease, and, therefore, evidence did not reasonably raise any claims for cause of death by types of cancer other than Hodgkin's disease. Bonner v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 188, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 408

Under 38 C.F.R. § 3.114(a)(3), where widow of veteran did not file her informal claim for dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) until more than one year after 38 C.F.R. § 3.309(e) was enacted in February 1994, earliest possible effective date available to her for her DIC claim was November 1, 1994, date awarded. Bonner v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 188, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 408

Board of Veterans’ Appeals, even when it was denying jurisdiction, was required to include statement of reasons or bases for its decision; Board simply cited 38 C.F.R. § 20.101(b) for proposition that medical determinations were not reviewable, but failed to conduct critical review of nature of decision to support its conclusion that this provision was applicable. King v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 406, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 2

Veteran's mere reference to similar case in his notice of disagreement was not enough for VA to have inferred that veteran raised claim under 38 USCS § 1151 where reference occurred in another context and record contained no indication that veteran believed he currently had condition caused by VA medical treatment. § 7262. Fee for filing appeals
(a) The Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims may impose a fee of not more than $50 for the filing of any appeal with the Court. The Court shall establish procedures under which such a fee may be waived in the case of an appeal filed by or on behalf of a person who demonstrates that the requirement that such fee be paid will impose a hardship on that person. A decision as to such a waiver is final and may not be reviewed in any other court.

(b) The Court may from time to time adjust the maximum amount permitted for a fee imposed under subsection (a) of this section based upon inflation and similar fees charged by other courts established under Article I of the Constitution.

(a) The Secretary shall be represented before the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims by the General Counsel of the Department.

(b) Representation of appellants shall be in accordance with the rules of practice prescribed by the Court under section 7264 of this title [38 USCS § 7264]. (c) A person who represents an appellant before the Court shall file a copy of any fee agreement between the appellant and that person with the Court at the time the appeal is filed. The Court, on its own motion or the motion of any party, may review such a fee agreement.

(d) In reviewing a fee agreement under subsection (c) of this section or under section 5904(c)(2) of this title [38 USCS § 5904(c)(2)], the Court may affirm the finding or order of the Board and may order a reduction in the fee called for in the agreement if it finds that the fee is excessive or unreasonable. An order of the Court under this subsection is final and may not be reviewed in any other court.

Circuit court lacked jurisdiction to review decision of United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims regarding reasonableness of attorney's fee agreement with veteran; more specific provisions of 38 USCS § 7263(d) overrode general grant of jurisdiction in 38 USCS 7292(a) and, thus, precluded review of decision of Veterans' Court's under 38 USCS § 5904(c)(2). 2. Fee agreements

Court of Veterans Appeals lacked subject matter over attorney's motion to compel Secretary to pay attorney's fee specified in fee agreement since fee agreements are properly before court only when it reviews decision of Board concerning agreement or any other matter decided by Board and court did not have decision of Board before it for review when attorney's motion was filed, and attorney's motion was not one for review of fee agreement pursuant to § 7263, rather to compel action to give agreement effect. Wick v Brown (In re Wick) (1994, CA FC) 40 F.3d 367

Court would not review fixed fee agreement at attorney's request for determination whether he was required to make refund because appellant's appeal was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction, because possibility of criminal liability was so remote as to be virtually nonexistent and court's determination of liability would probably not be controlling in any case. Attorney fee agreement provision denying offset, without qualification, in event of remand and denying offset for costs and expenses if less than full amount of EAJA fees sought is recovered is unreasonable and therefore unenforceable because it would permit unwarranted compensation to attorney and impermissibly mix fees with costs and expenses. Lien provision in fee agreement between veteran and counsel granting attorney lien on veteran's claim for benefits and any sum recovered is unreasonable and unenforceable under 38 USCS § 7263(d) because it conflicts with 38 USCS § 5301(a) and 38 USCS § 5904(d)(3). Busch v West (1999) 12 Vet App 552, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 950

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims does not have jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 5904(c)(2) or 38 USCS § 7263(d) to address threshold question of whether there is fee agreement, in view of termination of attorney-client relationship, which would warrant withholding of portion of award. Application under Equal Access to Justice Act (EAJA) for supplemental attorney fees in defending fee agreement is denied since issues concerning fee agreement were raised by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims pursuant to its independent power under 38 USCS § 7263(c) and fee agreement issues relate to original EAJA application only in collateral way. 3. Relationship to Equal Access to Justice Act

Equal Access to Justice Act does apply to proceedings in Court of Veteran's Appeals; on October 29, 1992 the EAJA was amended to add the Court of Veteran's Appeals to the definition of courts authorized to award attorneys fees and the amendment applies to any appeal pending in the Federal Circuit on the date of enactment. Jones v Principi (1992, CA) 985 F.2d 582, reported in full (1992, CA FC) 1992 US App LEXIS 31416

Court lacked authority under Equal Access to Justice Act to award attorney's fees for unsupervised nonattorney practitioners; when Congress used phrase "reasonable attorney fees," court would presume it was aware of case law restricting phrase to work performed or supervised by attorney and was aware of its specific waiver of sovereign immunity to permit payment of attorney's fees to nonattorney practitioners in Tax Court, hence its failure to include nonattorney

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims has no jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7266(a) over appellant's allegations of error in 1999 Board decision since notice of appeal is limited to 1997 Board decision and no notice of appeal has been filed with respect to 1999 decision. Tetro v Gober (2000) 14 Vet App 100, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 880, affd (2003, CA FC) 314 F.3d 1310

Appeal is dismissed for lack of jurisdiction despite appellant's contention that Board misinterpreted 38 USCS § 1154(b) in such manner as to adversely affect remanded proceedings since any misinterpretation of § 1154(b) would not evade judicial review by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims and because decision must be final pursuant to 38 USCS § 7266(a) in order for

In widow's claim for veteran's benefits, where widow's notice of appeal had foreign postmark and Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims found that widow's notice of appeal was untimely filed because 38 USCS § 7266 applied only to postmarks of United States Postal Service, fact that 38 USCS § 7266 did not apply to foreign postmarks did not violate equal protection clause because there was rational basis for Congress to have excluded foreign postmarks, for instance, lack of familiarity with foreign postal systems. Lariosa v Principi (2002) 16 Vet App 323, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 690

On appeal to Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims (Court), veteran could flesh out and rephrase argument before Court, and requirement of "some degree of specificity" was broad enough to have allowed veteran to rephrase and provide additional argument and support for same basic argument presented before Board of Veterans' Appeals. Jordan v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 261, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 721, affd (2005, CA FC) 401 F.3d 1296

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims was not required to interpret 38 USCS §§ 7252(a) and 7266(a) to permit it to exercise jurisdiction over non-final decisions of Board of Veterans' Appeals that altered evidentiary burdens, that limited evidence Department of Veterans Affairs regional office could consider, or that contained misrepresentation of law because court's jurisdiction was limited by statute to final decisions of Board, and court could not create its own exception. Breeden v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 475, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 127

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims does not have power to retain general and continuing jurisdiction over decision remanded to Board of Veterans' Appeals for new adjudication. Breeden v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 475, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 127

Veteran had not demonstrated that he was entitled to extraordinary relief through petition for writ of mandamus because veteran could not obtain review of earlier effective date (EED) that was assigned to his claim by asking Department of Veterans Affairs Regional Office to issue statement of case when EED decision had been issued by Board of Veterans Appeals; veteran could have petitioned Board for review of its decision or filed notice of appeal pursuant to 38 USCS § 7266. Harris v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 345, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 617

2. Persons entitled to file appeals

If veteran, with assistance of Veterans Administration, gathers information to substantiate claim, veteran is entitled to receive appropriate benefits, no matter how long it takes to substantiate claim. Jaquay v Principi (2002, CA FC) 304 F.3d 1276

Board decision cannot deprive claimant of standing to appeal awarding some benefits when claimant is or may be entitled to more, since any claimant who receives less than complete benefits to which he or she is or may be entitled has been "adversely affected" within meaning of statute by Board's decision and thus have standing to appeal to court. Corchado v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 160

Appellant lacked standing to challenge validity of 38 CFR § 4.16(c) providing that mentally disabled veterans rated at 70 percent who are precluded by their mental disorder from securing substantially gainful occupation shall have rating increased to 100 percent since he was arguing that Board should have applied regulation in adjudicating his claim and he was free to raise that argument without challenging regulation's validity and it appeared that regulation in fact operated in his favor rather than harming him so that he was not person adversely affected. Swan v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 20, remanded (1991) 2 Vet App 72

Private hospital is "person adversely affected" so as to be able to appeal. St. Patrick Hosp. v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 55

Private hospital was person adversely affected, and therefore entitled to appeal, by decision denying reimbursement for unauthorized medical expenses incurred by veteran in private hospital. St. Patrick Hosp. v Principi (1993) 4 Vet App 55

Substitution of veteran's widow was not appropriate since appeal was rendered moot by veteran's death. Shepard v West (1998) 11 Vet App 523
Attorney is "person adversely affected" and has standing under 38 USCS § 7266(a) to pursue claim where Board's determination that veteran's past-due-benefits termination date was miscalculated will reduce amount of attorney fees to be awarded. Cox v West (1999) 12 Vet App 522, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 886

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims lacks jurisdiction over appeal under 38 USCS § 7266(a) where Board denied veteran's VA benefits claim and veteran died one week after Board issued decision since surviving spouse lacks standing to pursue appeal. Kelsey v West (2000) 13 Vet App 437, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 331

Remand by Board of Veterans' Appeals was not final decision and, thus, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims did not have jurisdiction to hear veteran's appeal where none of issues were subject to final determination; contrary to veteran's assertions, Board's remand did not constitute final decision as to its determination that veteran was not engaged in combat and that his diagnosis of PTSD had been based on unverified stressors because, upon further development, Board could have changed its ruling on these issues. Breeden v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 475, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 127

Claimant for veterans benefits was denied relief, where decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals that he did not suffer from service connected post-traumatic stress disorder was based upon preponderance of medical testimony, and was not clearly erroneous under 38 USCS § 7261(a)(4). Forcier v Nicholson (2006) 19 Vet App 414, 2006 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 25

3. Date of mailing of decision

Postmark rule applies to motions for reconsideration which toll time limit for filing appeal to Court of Veterans Appeals. Linville v West (1999, CA FC) 165 F.3d 1382

Presumption that date stamped on Board decision was same as mailing date seemed unwarranted and would not be indulged given its jurisdictional significance; Secretary would be requested to inform court of actual or likely date of mailing Board decision. Sandine v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 26

Presumption of next-day mailing was appropriately applied to decision rendered prior to January 16, 1992, in light of BVA Chairman's affidavit that same-day mailing of decisions prior to that date could not be presumed. Ryan v Derwinski (1992) 2 Vet App 568

In widow's claim for veteran's benefits, her notice of appeal, which had foreign postmark, was deemed filed when received because provision of 38 USCS § 7266 that deemed notice of appeal filed based on date of United States Postal Service postmark did not apply to foreign postmarks. Veteran was not entitled to equitable tolling of judicial-appeal period set forth in 38 USCS § 7266(a)(1) where although veteran was in jail at time of Board of Veterans' Appeals' decision denying earlier effective date for service-connected disability benefits, veteran's communications with regional office regarding benefits evidenced that veteran knew how to communicate with Department of Veterans Affairs (VA); thus, veteran had failed to exercise due diligence in notifying VA of change of address. 4. Time for filing of notice of appeal

Incorrect zip code was inconsequential error that did not prevent notice of appeal, otherwise addressed as required, from being "properly addressed" within meaning of 38 USCS § 7266(a)(3)(b). Santoro v Principi (2001, CA FC) 274 F.3d 1366, subsequent app (2002) 15 Vet App 434, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 131

While equitable tolling is available to toll judicial appeal period of 38 USCS § 7266, veteran who files untimely notice of appeal must nevertheless show that he exercised due diligence in preserving his legal rights. Jaquay v Principi (2002, CA FC) 304 F.3d 1276

Veteran who attempted to file notice of appeal by completing document that was clearly intended to serve as notice of appeal and delivered document to Department of Veterans Affairs regional office from which his claim originated within 120-day statutory period for appeal was entitled to invoke doctrine of equitable tolling. Bailey v Principi (2003, CA FC) 351 F.3d 1381 (criticized in Bobbitt v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 547, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 193)

Dismissal of veteran's appeal to Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims was reversed because 120 day requirement for filing appeal under 38 USCS § 7266(a) was potentially subject to equitable tolling when there was some issue that veteran might have missed filing deadline because of mental disease; tolling would be allowed if failure to file in timely manner was direct result of mental illness that rendered veteran incapable of rational thought or deliberate decision, or incapable of handling his own affairs. Barrett v Principi (2004, CA FC) 363 F.3d 1316

Veteran was not entitled to equitable tolling of 120-day requirement of 38 USCS § 7266 to file notice of appeal of decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals that upheld denial of benefits because Congress explicitly decided not to broaden postmark rule of § 7266 to include notices of appeal that was delivered by means other than Postal Service and veteran's only excuse for late filing was that delivery service other than postal service had been used. Mapu v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 397 F.3d 1375

Notice that was issued by Board of Veterans' Appeals informing veteran of his appeal rights for denial of benefits was not defective under 38 USCS § 5104(a) because it provided general outline of available procedures for obtaining review of final Board decision and was not required to advise him of postmark rule of 38 USCS § 7266. Mapu v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 397 F.3d 1375

Court reversed dismissal of widow's appeal from denial of her claim for survivor benefits and dependency and indemnity compensation following death of her husband, veteran; like mental illness, physical illness could toll running of limitations period in 38 USCS § 7266(a); when deciding whether to apply equitable tolling, court's inquiry should focus on effect, not source, of appellant's infirmity. Arbas v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 403 F.3d 1379

When determining whether limitations period in 38 USCS § 7266(a) should be equitably tolled, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims must focus on whether particular infirmity of veteran prevented him from engaging in "rational thought or deliberate decision making" or rendered him "incapable of handling his own affairs or unable to function in society"; source of such infirmity is irrelevant. Arbas v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 403 F.3d 1379

Under predecessor statute, Court of Veterans Appeals correctly dismissed appeal for lack of jurisdiction where it was received by clerk after 120-day appeal period, notwithstanding that it was postmarked within 120-day appeal period. Espelita v Derwinski (1992, CA) 958 F.2d 1052, cert den (1992) 506 US 985, 121 L Ed 2d 430, 113 S Ct 491

Notice of appeal not actually received by court within 120 days would be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction, notwithstanding claimant's allegation that it was mailed six days prior to expiration of appeals period. Langston v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 239

Appeal filed approximately 130 days after Board's decision was timely where Board's decision was sent to regional office for distribution instead of directly to appellant's representative as required by 38 USCS § 7104. Trammell v Brown (1994) 6 Vet App 181, remanded (1995, Vet App) 1995 US Vet App LEXIS 347 and (superseded by statute as stated in Dippel v West (1999) 12 Vet App 466, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 611)

Notice of appeal not received within 120-day period was untimely, even though it was sent to Court at its former address pursuant to NOA form provided by veterans affairs office, since BVA provided appointee and her then representative Court's current address in appeals notice which accompanied BVA's decision. Townsend v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 258

Appeal would be dismissed since it was not received by court until 158 days after BVA decision. Ostermiller v Derwinski (1992) 3 Vet App 97

Counsel failed to show facts to warrant equitable tolling of appeal period on 1990 decision despite apparent defect in mailing that decision, since counsel had notice of it at least in 1996 when he received it as copy of second record on appeal and did not file notice of appeal within 120 days of that date. Shepard v West (1998) 12 Vet App 107

Veteran failed to establishing timely filing of appeal since his counsel's letter of representation to VA ousted American Legion as veteran's designated representative concerning pending claims, and counsel's notice of decision began running of 120-day appeal period; veteran thus could not rely on American Legion's not having received notice of decision to toll appeal period. Shepard v West (1998) 11 Vet App 518

Veteran's motion for reconsideration was constructively received by BVA Director of Administrative Service at address at which Director received mail when it was received at mail room some time prior to 121st day after mailing of Board's decision; veteran is not required to include internal VA mail routing symbol in order to have his correspondence delivered to addressee located at street address listed on envelope since it places on VA claimant unreasonable burden of assisting mail room in sorting mail. Zajicek v West (1998) 12 Vet App 48

Circumstances do not support application of equitable tolling to 120-day period for filing Notice of Appeal under 38 USCS § 7266(a) and appeal is dismissed for lack of jurisdiction even though appellant had mailed timely Notice of Appeal which was misdelivered to VA Office of General Counsel instead of Court because of wrong zip code where Court has no evidence it received Notice of Appeal within statutory time period, appellant was fully advised of his appellate rights, Board's notice listed Court's correct zip code, failure of Office of General Counsel to forward Notice of Appeal cannot toll filing period, appellant cannot circumvent 120-day deadline by claiming Postal Service should have corrected address, and Secretary's concession on issue cannot serve to confer jurisdiction. Santoro v West (2000) 13 Vet App 516, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 468, revd (2001, CA FC) 274 F.3d 1366, subsequent app (2002) 15 Vet App 434, 2002 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 131

Court of Appeals for Veteran Claims declined to hold that failure of compliance with 38 USCS § 5104(a) duty tolled running of 120-day judicial appeal period set forth in 38 USCS § 7266(a)(1) where veteran failed to keep Department of Veterans Affairs apprised of current address, and only question was whether veteran had timely appealed Board of Veterans' Appeals' decision denying earlier effective date for service-connected disability benefits. Davis v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 29, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 167, subsequent app (2004, CA FC) 85 Fed Appx 771

Fact that veteran was undergoing psychiatric treatment was not basis to equitably toll his untimely appeal of Board of Veterans' Appeals decision and veteran failed to support his claims that VA failed to properly submit his notice of appeal (NOA) or that any VA employee even assumed duty of submitting NOA. Thornhill v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 480, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 129

Equipoise standard of 38 USCS § 5107(b) applies only to determinations of Secretary of Veterans Affairs, not determinations of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims; therefore, it was not proper standard of review in determination of whether notice of appeal was timely filed with court under 38 USCS § 7266(a) and Ct. Vet. App. R. 4. Tavares v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 131, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 371

Under 38 USCS § 7266(a), in order for claimant to obtain review of Board of Veterans' Appeals decision by appellate court, that decision must be final and person adversely affected by that decision must file notice of appeal within 120 days after date on which notice of Board decision was mailed. Urban v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 143, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 384

Veteran's notice of appeal seeking review of Board of Veterans' Appeals' decision denying him earlier effective date for his service-connected low-back disability was timely where Secretary of Veterans Affairs failed to establish that notice of Board of Veterans' Appeals' decision was mailed to veteran at his address and date veteran filed notice of appeal was well within 120 days of earliest date he could have received decision. Sthele v Principi (2004) 19 Vet App 11, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 835

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims adopts three-part test to determine whether equitable tolling based on extraordinary circumstances is appropriate; (1) extraordinary circumstance must be beyond appellant's control; (2) appellant must demonstrate that untimely filing was direct result of extraordinary circumstances; and (3) appellant must exercise due diligence in preserving his appellate rights, meaning that reasonably diligent appellant, under same circumstances, would not have filed his appeal within 120-day judicial-appeal period; burden of establishing jurisdiction rests with appellant. McCreary v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 324, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 602

Veteran was not entitled to equitable tolling of 120-day judicial-appeal period under 38 USCS § 7266 where veteran had not established that his untimely appeal was direct result of Hurricane Ivan since in light of low burden on veteran for filing notice of appeal, veteran could not show that he needed his paperwork to file notice of appeal, and veteran failed to show that he had acted with due diligence in pursuing his judicial appeal. 5. Effect of reconsideration motion

Filing of reconsideration motion with Board during 120-day judicial appeals period postpones start of that appeals period until Board mails to claimant notice of its grant or denial of reconsideration motion. Rosler v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 241

Appeal was timely where it was filed within 120 days from Chairman's denial of reconsideration, which it was seeking review of, not underlying decision. Neves v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 177

Motion for reconsideration filed within 120-day period for filing appeal with Court tolled period of filing appeal and denial of motion commenced new 120-day period for filing appeal with Court. Blackburn v Brown (1995) 8 Vet App 97

Motion for reconsideration filed with VA within 120-day time period for appeal abated finality of BVA decision until denial of appellant's motion, for purposes of calculating timeliness of appeal. Dudnick v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 397, subsequent app, remanded on other grounds (1997) 10 Vet App 79

Appellant filed timely notice of appeal from Board's decision because his three reconsideration motions were timely filed so as to toll, each time, 120-day judicial appeal period. Murillo v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 108

Notice of appeal filed after reconsideration motion before Board would be dismissed. Breslow v Derwinski (1991) 1 Vet App 359

Simultaneous filing of notice of appeal and motion for reconsideration will render underlying agency action nonfinal and jurisdiction will remain with BVA; this encourages finality of agency decisions and exhaustion of administrative remedies prior to judicial review. Losh v Brown (1993) 6 Vet App 87

Although appellant's premature NOA was ineffective but became effective upon Chairman's denial of motion for BVA reconsideration, court lacked jurisdiction since no amended NOA was filed with respect to denial of reconsideration. Wachter v Brown (1995) 7 Vet App 396

To toll statutory period for filing appeal, claimant must file motion for reconsideration with BVA within 120 days from date of mailing of final BVA decision; reconsideration motion filed 121 days after Board issued decision denying claim was untimely and would therefore be denied. Paniag v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 359

Appellant's notice of appeal was timely filed under 38 USCS § 7266(a) where appellant's motion for reconsideration was postmarked exactly 120 days after date of Board decision and notice of appeal was received by Court on 119th day after board's denial of appellant's motion for reconsideration. Curtis v West (1999) 13 Vet App 114, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1123

Although appellant filed notice of appeal within 120 days after date of Board's denial of motion for reconsideration, appellant conceded that motion for reconsideration was not filed with Board within 120 days of initial decision, and appeal is dismissed for lack of jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7266; circumstances do not support application of equitable tolling even though appellant filed motions for reconsideration with regional office within 120 day period since appellant was fully advised of appellate rights, notice to appellant specifically provides that motion for reconsideration is to be filed with Board, and there is nothing ambiguous in notice's address reference. Cintron v West (1999) 13 Vet App 251, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 1334

Appeal is dismissed for lack of jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7266(a) where, even though appellant filed timely notice of appeal from Board's denial of motion for reconsideration, there is no evidence appellant filed motion for reconsideration within 120 days after mailing date of notice of Board's final decision; there is no evidence of United States Postal Service postmark as to any motion filed with either regional office or Board, there is no evidence of when Board actually received motion for reconsideration, and there is no basis to warrant application of equitable

Claimant lost right to appeal decision of Board of Veterans Appeals; result flowed from his dismissal of appeal after 120-day judicial appeal period had expired. Graves v Principi (2002, CA FC) 294 F.3d 1350

Where veteran's advocate misfiled his appeal from Board of Veterans' Appeals and veteran thus did not timely file his appeal with U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, veteran was entitled to benefit of equitable tolling of time period of 38 USCS § 7266, since he diligently filed appeal upon learning of error. Santana-Venegas v Principi (2002, CA FC) 314 F.3d 1293 (criticized in Bobbitt v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 547, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 193)

Equitable tolling suspended statutory filing period where veteran sent letter indicating his intention to appeal to wrong office, but otherwise exercised due diligence in preserving his legal rights and put Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) on notice of his intent to seek further review of his claim; in determining whether equitable tolling suspended filing deadline of 38 USCS § 7266, focus was on whether veteran had exercised due diligence in preserving his legal rights, whether veteran's intention was clear, and whether VA was put on notice of his intention to seek further review of his claim; because veteran met both criteria, error in office to which notice was sent was not sufficient to render filing ineligible for consideration under equitable tolling doctrine. Brandenburg v Principi (2004, CA FC) 371 F.3d 1362

Veteran's appeal of denial of benefits was properly dismissed by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims because that court did not receive veteran's notice of appeal within 120 days of decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals, as was required under 38 USCS § 7266; veteran could not benefit from postmark rule of § 7266 because he sent his notice by private courier and Congress, when adding post mark rule, clearly indicated that rule was only to apply to notice of appeal that was mailed using Postal Service and that notices that were delivered by other means were specifically excluded from application of rule. Mapu v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 397 F.3d 1375

Court had jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2) to review decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that equitable tolling was inappropriate when it dismissed as untimely veteran's appeal of denial of benefits; in interpreting veterans court's jurisdictional statute of 38 USCS § 7266, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit consistently held that when material facts were not in dispute and adoption of particular legal standard dictated outcome of equitable tolling claim, court had treated question of availability of equitable tolling as matter of law that it was authorized to address on appeal. Mapu v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 397 F.3d 1375

Appeal from denial of benefits increase filed 23 days after deadline for filing notice of appeal was untimely and Court of Veterans Appeals could not entertain appeal notwithstanding alleged failure of agency to provide notice of appeal rights. Machado v Derwinski (1991, CA) 928 F.2d 389

Appellant failed to meet burden of demonstrating that notice of appeal was filed within 120 days after date of mailing notice of BVA decision, and since judge was not entitled to consider equitable tolling and extraordinary relief, appeal would be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. Appeal is dismissed pursuant to 38 USCS § 7266(a) and U.S. Vet. App. R. 4 because appellant has not met burden of demonstrating that Notice of Appeal was filed within 120 days after date of mailing of notice of Board's decision even though appellant mailed Notice of Appeal within 120-day period to VA Office of General Counsel since appeals notice sent to appellant properly informed appellant that Notice of Appeal must be filed with Court and that filing copy with VA General Counsel will not protect right of appeal; even if VA's General Counsel had duty to forward Notice of Appeal to Court, failure to do so could not toll filing period where appellant had been properly informed of filing requirements. Baisden v West (1998) 11 Vet App 215

Appeal is dismissed for lack of jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7266 since notice of appeal was filed more than 120 days after notice of Board's decision was mailed and circumstances do not support application of equitable tolling since nothing in notice could reasonably be said to have induced appellant to miss filing deadline and appellant failed to show requisite cause-and-effect relationship between any VA adjudicative conduct and failure to file timely appeal. Chastain v West (2000) 13 Vet App 296, 2000 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 29, affd (2001, CA FC) 6 Fed Appx 854

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims declined to apply equitable tolling to untimely notice of appeal (NOA) that veteran had improperly sent to Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Office of General Counsel (OGC), where veteran had benefit of Notice of Appellate Rights, in accordance with 38 USCS § 5104, attached to copy of Board of Veterans' Appeals decision that explicitly provided that filing copy of NOA with OGC would not have protected his right to appeal with Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims. Reed v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 380, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 924

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims declined to apply equitable tolling to untimely notice of appeal (NOA) where veteran mailed NOA to Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Office of General Counsel, entity with which he had no familiarity, as opposed to cases that had applied equitable tolling because appellants in those cases mailed their NOA to VA regional offices at which their claims originated. Reed v Principi (2003) 17 Vet App 380, 2003 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 924

Veteran's disability benefits case was dismissed as untimely where only document that could have been construed as notice of appeal of prior decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals was filed after 120 day deadline and no basis for tolling was present. Durr v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 486, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 128, revd, remanded (2005, CA FC) 400 F.3d 1375

District court was bound by Federal Circuit court's definition of "due diligence," and claimant's actions, in timely filing statement of appeal with Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA) and asking BVA to forward statement to court, fell under equitable-tolling-doctrine umbrella; although claimant's filing of Notice of Appeal, after BVA did not forward statement, was filed outside of appeal period, it was considered timely and court had jurisdiction to review appeal. Bobbitt v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 547, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 193

Appellant did not file timely notice of appeal from decision of Board of Veterans' Appeals, and there was no evidence that tolling of time period in 38 USCS § 7266(a) and Ct. Vet. App. R. 4 was warranted, as appellant was fully advised of his right to appeal, in accordance with 38 USCS § 5104, appellant did not show that he had timely misfiled notice of appeal, and also did not show that appellant had mental illness that made him incapable of timely filing notice of appeal; therefore, appeal was dismissed. Tavares v Principi (2004) 18 Vet App 131, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 371

Under plain language of 38 USCS § 5103A, Secretary of Veterans Affairs' duty-to-assist provisions apply in connection with claimant's attempt to establish entitlement to his or her claim for award of Veterans Administration benefits and not in connection with claimant's attempt to establish mental incapacity for purposes of tolling judicial-appeal period under 38 USCS § 7266(a)

Veteran's appeal from Board of Veterans Appeals decision was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction because veteran had failed to file his notice of appeal during 120-day judicial-appeal period, and veteran had failed to provide evidence that symptoms of his dementia had manifested in such manner and to such extent that his failure to file his notice of appeal in timely fashion was "a direct result" of his medical condition, warranting equitable tolling. Claiborne v Nicholson (2005) 19 Vet App 181, 2005 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 363

7. Form or sufficiency of notice of appeal

Fact that veteran used wrong form to file notice of appeal was not sufficient to render filing ineligible for consideration under equitable tolling doctrine because veteran's intention to appeal was clear and Department of Veterans Affairs was put on notice of veteran's intention to appeal. Bailey v Principi (2003, CA FC) 351 F.3d 1381 (criticized in Bobbitt v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 547, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 193)

During court's formative period, timely written expression of desire for judicial review submitted to claimant's regional office was adequate as substitute notice of appeal. Torres v Derwinski (1990) 1 Vet App 15

Appellant's pro se letter to court identifying veteran, listing his VA file number, and expressing desire to "follow the legal flow" of case was sufficient notice of appeal. Calma v Brown (1996) 9 Vet App 11

Veteran's letter to BVA requesting reconsideration, with copy to Department of Veterans Affairs General Counsel's office, did not constitute notice of appeal where it neither requested review by Court nor even mentioned Court. Martin v Brown (1997) 10 Vet App 100

VA Form 9 (Substantive Appeal to BVA) could not satisfy notice of appeal since it was received by court nearly two years before BVA decision in question and thus could not confer jurisdiction, nor could it possibly satisfy requirement that NOA designate Board decision appealed from. Crampton v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 386, app dismd (1997, Vet App) 1997 US Vet App LEXIS 857, app dismd (1997, CA FC) 152 F.3d 946

Appellant's filing VA Form 9 did not result in timely notice of appeal to court; form which is device for appealing decision of regional officer to Board, was received by court nearly two years before BVA decision in question and could not confer jurisdiction upon court. Crampton v Gober (1997) 10 Vet App 386, app dismd (1997, Vet App) 1997 US Vet App LEXIS 857, app dismd (1998, CA FC) 152 F.3d 946

For Court to meet its obligations to general public and to its veteran appellants with regard to public access to its records, it must conduct examination of each case and each document or group of documents for which protection is sought and balance conflicting interest presented in deciding whether to seal record. 2. Standard governing sealing of records

Unsupported conjecture that if public was given access to appeal records appellant might be discriminated against due to her medical condition was insufficient to carry burden of articulating cognizable privacy interest of sufficient significance to overcome presumption of public access to judicial records. § 7292. Review by United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit

§ 7291. Date when Court decision becomes final

(a) A decision of the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims shall become final upon the expiration of the time allowed for filing, under section 7292 of this title [38 USCS § 7292], a notice of appeal from such decision, if no such notice is duly filed within such time. If such a notice is filed within such time, such a decision shall become final--

(1) upon the expiration of the time allowed for filing a petition for certiorari with the Supreme Court of the United States, if the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims is affirmed or the appeal is dismissed by the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and no petition for certiorari is duly filed;
(2) upon the denial of a petition for certiorari, if the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims is affirmed or the appeal is dismissed by the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit; or
(3) upon the expiration of 30 days from the date of issuance of the mandate of the Supreme Court, if that Court directs that the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims be affirmed or the appeal dismissed.

(b) (1) If the Supreme Court directs that the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims be modified or reversed, the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims rendered in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme Court shall become final upon the expiration of 30 days from the time it was rendered, unless within such 30 days either the Secretary or the petitioner has instituted proceedings to have such decision corrected to accord with the mandate, in which event the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims shall become final when so corrected.
(2) If the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims is modified or reversed by the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and if--
(A) the time allowed for filing a petition for certiorari has expired and no such petition has been duly filed, or
(B) the petition for certiorari has been denied, or
(C) the decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit has been affirmed by the Supreme Court, then the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims rendered in accordance with the mandate of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit shall become final upon the expiration of 30 days from the time such decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims was rendered, unless within such 30 days either the Secretary or the petitioner has instituted proceedings to have such decision corrected so that it will accord with the mandate, in which event the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims shall become final when so corrected.

(c) If the Supreme Court orders a rehearing, or if the case is remanded by the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit to the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims for a rehearing, and if--
(1) the time allowed for filing a petition for certiorari has expired and no such petition has been duly filed, or
(2) the petition for certiorari has been denied, or
(3) the decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit has been affirmed by the Supreme Court, then the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims rendered upon such rehearing shall become final in the same manner as though no prior decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims had been rendered.

(d) As used in this section, the term "mandate", in case a mandate has been recalled before the expiration of 30 days from the date of issuance thereof, means the final mandate.

Effective date of section:
This section took effect on Sept. 1, 1989, pursuant to § 401(a) of Act Nov. 18, 1988, P. L. 100-687, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note.

Amendments:

1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 4091, as 38 USCS § 7291, and amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by §§ 401(a)(4) and 402(b) of such Act (see Table II preceding 38 USCS § 101).

Such Act further substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" wherever appearing.

1998. Act Nov. 11, 1998 (effective on the first day of the first month beginning more than 90 days after enactment, as provided by § 513 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note) substituted the section heading for one which read: "§ 7291. Date when United States Court of Veterans Appeals decision becomes final" and, in subsecs. (a)-(c), substituted "Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims" for "Court of Veterans Appeals" wherever appearing.

Other provisions:

Commencement of operation of Court of Veterans Appeals. For provisions relating to the commencement of the operation of the Court of Veterans Appeals, see Act Nov. 18, 1988, P. L. 100-687, Div A, Title IV, § 401(e), 102 Stat. 4122, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note.

§ 7292. Review by United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit

discussion and analysis in the veterans benefits manual

(a) After a decision of the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims is entered in a case, any party to the case may obtain a review of the decision with respect to the validity of a decision of the Court on a rule of law or of any statute or regulation (other than a refusal to review the schedule of ratings for disabilities adopted under section 1155 of this title [38 USCS § 1155]) or any interpretation thereof (other than a determination as to a factual matter) that was relied on by the Court in making the decision. Such a review shall be obtained by filing a notice of appeal with the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims within the time and in the manner prescribed for appeals to United States courts of appeals from United States district courts.

(b) (1) When a judge or panel of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, in making an order not otherwise appealable under this section, determines that a controlling question of law is involved with respect to which there is a substantial ground for difference of opinion and that there is in fact a disagreement between the appellant and the Secretary with respect to that question of law and that the ultimate termination of the case may be materially advanced by the immediate consideration of that question, the judge or panel shall notify the chief judge of that determination. Upon receiving such a notification, the chief judge shall certify that such a question is presented, and any party to the case may then petition the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit to decide the question. That court may permit an interlocutory appeal to be taken on that question if such a petition is filed with it within 10 days after the certification by the chief judge of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims. Neither the application for, nor the granting of, an appeal under this paragraph shall stay proceedings in the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, unless a stay is ordered by a judge of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims or by the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

(2) For purposes of subsections (d) and (e) of this section, an order described in this paragraph shall be treated as a decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims.

c) The United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit shall have exclusive jurisdiction to review and decide any challenge to the validity of any statute or regulation or any interpretation thereof brought under this section, and to interpret constitutional and statutory provisions, to the extent presented and necessary to a decision. The judgment of such court shall be final subject to review by the Supreme Court upon certiorari, in the manner provided in section 1254 of title 28 [28 USCS § 1254].

d) (1) The Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit shall decide all relevant questions of law, including interpreting constitutional and statutory provisions. The court shall hold unlawful and set aside any regulation or any interpretation thereof (other than a determination as to a factual matter) that was relied upon in the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit finds to be--

(A) arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law;
(B) contrary to constitutional right, power, privilege, or immunity;
(C) in excess of statutory jurisdiction, authority, or limitations, or in violation of a statutory right; or
(D) without observance of procedure required by law.

(2) Except to the extent that an appeal under this chapter presents a constitutional issue, the Court of Appeals may not review (A) a challenge to a factual determination, or (B) a challenge to a law or regulation as applied to the facts of a particular case.

e) (1) Upon such review, the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit shall have power to affirm or, if the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims is not in accordance with law, to modify or reverse the decision of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims or to remand the matter, as appropriate.

(2) Rules for review of decisions of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims shall be those prescribed by the Supreme Court under section 2072 of title 28 [28 USCS § 2072].

Effective date of section:
This section took effect on September 1, 1989, pursuant to § 401(a) of Act Nov. 18, 1988, P. L. 100-687, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note.

Amendments:
1989. Act Aug. 16, 1989 (effective and applicable as provided by § 302(c) of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 5701 note), in subsec. (d)(1), in the introductory matter, deleted "statute or" preceding "regulation or".
1991. Act May 7, 1991 redesignated this section, formerly 38 USCS § 4092, as 38 USCS § 7292.
Act June 13, 1991 (amending this section as in effect immediately before enactment of Act May 7, 1991, as provided by § 14(d) of Act June 13, 1991), in subsec. (c), substituted "United States Court" for "United States Courts".

Act Aug. 6, 1991 amended the references in this section to reflect the redesignations made by § 5(a) of such Act (see Table III preceding 38 USCS § 101).

Such Act further substituted "Secretary" for "Administrator" wherever appearing.

1998. Act Nov. 11, 1998 (effective on the first day of the first month beginning more than 90 days after enactment, as provided by § 513 of such Act, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note), in subsecs. (a), (b), (d), and (e), substituted "Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims" for "Court of Veterans Appeals" wherever appearing.

2002. Act Dec. 6, 2002 (applicable as provided by § 402(b) of such Act, which appears as a note to this section), in subsec. (a), inserted "a decision of the Court on a rule of law or of".

Other provisions:

Commencement of operation of Court of Veterans Appeals. For provisions relating to the commencement of the operation of the Court of Veterans Appeals, see Act Nov. 18, 1988, P. L. 100-687, Div A, Title IV, § 401(e), 102 Stat. 4122, which appears as 38 USCS § 7251 note.

The amendment made by subsection (a) [amending subsec. (a) of this section] shall apply with respect to any appeal--

"(1) filed with the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit on or after the date of the enactment of this Act; or

"(2) pending with the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit as of the date of the enactment of this Act in which a decision has not been rendered as of that date."

Jurisdiction of Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit over "free-standing" constitutional issues, those not involving challenge to interpretation or validity of statute or regulation, is consistent with express statutory grant of jurisdiction in 38 USCS § 7292. In re Bailey (1999, CA FC) 182 F.3d 860

Federal Circuit Court of Appeals may exercise jurisdiction pursuant to 38 USCS § 7292 over appellant's neck and headache claims despite Veterans Court's remand of veteran's back claim as legal issues presented on appeal to Veterans Court were all distinct, claims are separable, and review will not disrupt orderly process of adjudication with respect to remanded claim. Elkins v Gober (2000, CA FC) 229 F.3d 1369, on remand, remanded (2001, US) 2001 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 113

Veteran's appeal of decision from Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims (CAVC) was not reviewable to extent that veteran's complaints about remand, denial of interest and cost of living increases, denial of review by full panel of CAVC, and denial of notification of procedures used for pro se veterans did not present constitutional violations or questions of statutory or regulatory interpretations. Arnesen v Principi (2002, CA FC) 300 F.3d 1353, reh den (2002, CA FC) 2002 US App LEXIS 20935

Under 2002 amendment to 38 USCS § 7292(a), in case in which decision below regarding governing rule of law would have been altered by adopting position being urged, United States Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit has jurisdiction to entertain matter, even though issue underlying stated position was not "relayed on" by Veterans Court; to that extent at least matter is "case" jurisdiction. Morgan v Principi (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1357, reh den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 12017

Circuit court lacked jurisdiction to review decision of United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims regarding reasonableness of attorney's fee agreement with veteran; more specific provisions of 38 USCS § 7263(d) overrode general grant of jurisdiction in 38 USCS 7292(a) and, thus, precluded review of decision of Veterans' Court's under 38 USCS § 5904(c)(2). Carpenter v Principi (2003, CA FC) 327 F.3d 1371, reh den, reh, en banc, den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 14589

Because question of whether equitable tolling applies in particular case involves, in part, application of law to fact, and because it frequently requires not only decision as to what legal principle applies but also assessment of facts and decision as to whether application of governing legal principle to those facts requires that limitations period be equitably tolled, where material facts are not in dispute and adoption of particular legal standard would dictate outcome of equitable tolling claim, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit, when reviewing decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, treats question of availability of equitable tolling as one that it is authorized by 38 USCS § 7292 to address. Bailey v Principi (2003, CA FC) 351 F.3d 1381 (criticized in Bobbitt v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 547, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 193)

Appeals court had jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7292 to determine whether U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims misinterpreted court's earlier rulings on issue of law. Moody v Principi (2004, CA FC) 360 F.3d 1306

Because claimants for disability benefits were not asking court to review contents of ratings schedules at issue, but rather were asking court to correct interpretation of 38 C.F.R. § 4.130, Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims had jurisdiction over case under 38 USCS § 7252(a) and Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit had jurisdiction pursuant to 38 USCS § 7292(a). Sellers v Principi (2004, CA FC) 372 F.3d 1318

Court rejected veteran's argument that regional office's alleged failure to comply with "detailed reasons" aspect of notice provision in 38 C.F.R. § 3.105(e) amounted to exception to principle of finality articulated in 38 USCS § 7105(c) because statutory scheme provided only two exceptions to rule of finality, namely "new and material evidence" and clear and unmistakable error, and Congress did not intend to allow exceptions to rule of finality in addition to two that it expressly created. Norton v Principi (2004, CA FC) 376 F.3d 1336

Failure of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims to consider impact of law that was in effect at time of its decision to award fee to non-attorney practitioner was decision on rule of law within meaning of 38 USCS § 7292, and thus, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit had "rule of law" jurisdiction to address issue; moreover, although veteran failed to raise issue in court below (because law was not yet in effect), court below erred when it failed to consider effect of § 403 of P. L. 107-330 on its determination of appropriate fee for non-attorney practitioner, because amendment was enacted while appeal was pending and veteran's fee application, pursuant to 28 USCS § 2412, was pending before it. Wilson v Principi (2004, CA FC) 391 F.3d 1203
Failure by Board of Veterans' Appeals to consider presumptive eligibility in its initial decision did not create "incomplete adjudication" that left veteran's claim open; under 38 USCS §§ 7104 and 7103, finality attached once claim for benefits was disallowed, not when particular theory was rejected. Bingham v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 421 F.3d 1346

Court of Federal Claims does not have jurisdiction to review denial of veterans' benefits, because 38 USCS § 511(a) precludes judicial review of veterans' benefits determinations in Court of Federal Claims, 38 USCS § 7252(a) provides that exclusive remedy for denial of veterans' benefits is to appeal to Court of Veterans Appeals, and jurisdiction for appeals from Court of Veterans Appeals lies exclusively in U.S. Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit (38 USCS § 7292). Dissent by one member of panel is not and cannot be notification to chief judge of disagreement contemplated by § 7292(b). Bowey v West (1998) 11 Vet App 188

Appellants' construed motion for interlocutory appeal under 38 USCS § 7292(b) was denied where, although appellants stated their interpretation of amendments to 38 USCS § 7261, and correctly noted that there was disagreement between them and Secretary of Veterans Affairs on whether these amendments required court to review entire claims file as record on appeal, nothing in appellants' motion demonstrated how immediate consideration by Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit of their assertion that court was required to review entire record, regardless of relevance of material from that record, would have materially advanced ultimate termination of their appeals. 2. Relationship to Equal Access to Justice Act

Although VJRA instituted changes in veterans' benefits system and expanded rights of veterans relating to adjudication of their claims-including right to seek judicial review, right to have reasonable doubt resolved in favor of claimant, and right to agency decision based on evidence of record-changes were unmistakably procedural in nature, hence in absence of showing of new basis of entitlement to claimed benefit as result of intervening change in law or regulation, de novo review of previously and finally denied claim to veterans benefits is not available. Spencer v Brown (1994, CA FC) 17 F.3d 368, cert den (1994) 513 US 810, 130 L Ed 2d 19, 115 S Ct 61

Under statute describing boundaries of court's jurisdiction, court is not empowered to review Court of Veterans Appeals' application of standard set forth in Equal Access to Justice Act for determining whether government is liable for attorney's fees and expenses, since such determination necessarily involves determination of facts and application of substantially justified standard of EAJA to those facts. Stillwell v Brown (1995, CA FC) 46 F.3d 1111

Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit does not have jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2) to hear appeal from denial of application for attorney fees and expenses pursuant to Equal Access to Justice Act despite contention Secretary erred by not following his own regulations and by deferring to precedent of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims which was subsequently overruled; there is no statutory requirement that Secretary appeal from Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims' decision that is arguably inconsistent with regulations and, absent legal claim, appeal is reduced to request for review of whether Secretary's litigation position was substantially justified, and Court is specifically precluded from considering such challenge. Clemmons v West (2000, CA FC) 206 F.3d 1401, reh den, reh, en banc, den (2000, CA FC) 2000 US App LEXIS 11467

Whether government's position was substantially justified for purposes of determining Equal Access to Justice Act fees is discretionary inquiry requiring application of law to facts and is specifically excluded from Federal Circuit Court of Appeals' jurisdictional grant under 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2). Bowey v West (2000, CA FC) 218 F.3d 1373
Decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims denying appellant's application for attorney fees and expenses under Equal Access to Justice Act was not matter of statutory interpretation but finding that agency was justified in its position and, as "quintessentially discretionary" ruling necessarily involving questions of fact and application of law to fact, not within jurisdiction of Federal Circuit under 38 USCS § 7292. Carpenter v Gober (2000, CA FC) 228 F.3d 1379

Federal Circuit Court of Appeals has jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7292(d)(1) to review Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims' dismissal of claim for attorneys fees pursuant to Equal Access to Justice Act despite contention Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims merely interpreted and applied its own precedent and did not perform any statutory interpretation since it is clear that Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims interpreted, either directly or through vehicle of its precedent, statutory language of Equal Access to Justice Act. Burkhardt v Gober (2000, CA FC) 232 F.3d 1363, reh den (2001, CA FC) 2001 US App LEXIS 1347

Ultimate conclusion of whether party prevailed in action is one of law based on findings of fact, notably whether party has received at least some relief on merits of his claim; under these circumstances, it is beyond scope of court of appeals' jurisdiction to address question of whether veteran's attorney is prevailing party within meaning of EAJA. Halpern v Principi (2002, CA FC) 313 F.3d 1364

Court had jurisdiction over veteran's claim that lower court did not use proper standard for determining whether Secretary of Veterans Affairs' position was substantially justified for purposes of Equal Access to Justice Act (EAJA), 28 USCS § 2412(d), but did not have jurisdiction over question of whether lower court was correct in determining that Board of Veterans' Appeals' position was substantially justified. Smith v Principi (2003, CA FC) 343 F.3d 1358, CCH Unemployment Ins Rep ¶ 17096B

In light of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims' subsequent action in other cases that were similarly situated, it behooved Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit in exercise of its discretion as matter of justice to address question of whether court below should have taken § 403 of Veterans Benefits Act of 2002 into account when it decided veteran's fee petition under Equal Access to Justice Act. Wilson v Principi (2004, CA FC) 391 F.3d 1203

Judgment in appellant's case became final and unappealable when 60-day appeal period to U.S. Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit had run; therefore, application for attorney's fees filed 31 days after that was untimely under EAJA. Grivois v Brown (1994) 7 Vet App 100

3. Review of validity of statute or regulation

Because veteran did not raise argument concerning interpretation of 38 USCS § 1151 in Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, Court of Appeals will not consider argument in first instance since argument below was predicted entirely on factual question, 38 USCS § 7292(c) does not require Court to decide issue that has been waived, and veteran has no statutory right of appeal under 38 USCS § 7292(c) since court below did not rely on interpretation of law asserted on appeal. Boggs v West (1999, CA FC) 188 F.3d 1335, reh, en banc, den (1999, CA FC) 1999 US App LEXIS 29877

Whether regulations require that informal claim be written involves interpretation of regulation, not application of regulation to particular facts, and Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit has jurisdiction over issue under 38 USCS § 7292(a) and (c). Rodriguez v West (1999, CA FC) 189 F.3d 1351, reh, en banc, den (1999, CA FC) 1999 US App LEXIS 31382 and cert den (2000) 529 US 1004, 146 L Ed 2d 219, 120 S Ct 1270

Issue of whether Department of Veterans Affairs misinterpreted 38 USCS § 5103(a) and thereby violated veteran's right to due process is not properly before Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit since issue was never raised or addressed in Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, and appeal is dismissed pursuant to 38 USCS § 7292. Smith v West (2000, CA FC) 214 F.3d 1331, reh, en banc, den (2000, CA FC) 2000 US App LEXIS 22323 and cert den (2001) 531 US 1144, 148 L Ed 2d 956, 121 S Ct 1080

Issue of whether statutory presumption of soundness under 38 USCS § 1111 can be overcome by veteran's own statements placing onset of disorder prior to entry into service is not properly before Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit since issue was not addressed by or presented to Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, and appeal is dismissed pursuant to 38 USCS § 7292. Belcher v West (2000, CA FC) 214 F.3d 1335, reh, en banc, den (2000, CA FC) 2000 US App LEXIS 23411 and cert den (2001) 531 US 1144, 148 L Ed 2d 956, 121 S Ct 1080

38 USCS § 7292(a) means any party to case may obtain review of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims' decision insofar as review "relates to" or "concerns" validity of any statute or regulation or interpretation thereof on which decision below depended. Forshey v Principi (2002, CA FC) 284 F.3d 1335, cert den (2002) 537 US 823, 154 L Ed 2d 33, 123 S Ct 110

Widow's appeal of non-final order of remand of her claim for veteran's survivor benefits to Board of Veterans' Appeals, for reconsideration in light of Veterans Claims Assistance Act of 2000, Pub. L. No. 106-475, 114 Stat. 2096 (2000), was dismissed where there was no substantial risk that factual determination would not survive entry of final order. Myore v Principi (2003, CA FC) 323 F.3d 1347

Because no factual issues were presented and veteran challenged validity of regulation, federal circuit court of appeals had jurisdiction to review decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims pursuant to 38 USCS § 7292. Terry v Principi (2003, CA FC) 340 F.3d 1378, reh den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 24133 and cert den (2004) 541 US 904, 158 L Ed 2d 246, 124 S Ct 1606

Federal Court of Appeals reviewed interpretations of regulation made by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims to determine if interpretation was arbitrary, capricious, abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law, and determined that Veterans Claims Court properly precluded review of earlier decision of Board of Veterans Appeals for clear and unmistakable error when earlier decision had been reviewed and affirmed by appellate court. Winsett v Principi (2003, CA FC) 341 F.3d 1329, reh den, reh, en banc, den (2003, CA FC) 2003 US App LEXIS 21172 and cert den (2003) 540 US 1082, 157 L Ed 2d 758, 124 S Ct 943

Where veteran, who was awarded retroactive disability payments due to clear and unmistakable error made in 1969, argued that he was entitled to interest on difference because without interest he was paid in deflated nominal dollars, rather than in real dollars, and under "same effect" language of 38 USCS § 5109A(b), payment of nominal 1969 dollars made in 1996 (year in which he was awarded difference) did not have "same effect" as payment of nominal 1969 dollars made in 1969, Court of Appeals reiterated its prior holding that "same effect" language of 38 USCS § 5109A(b) was not clear waiver of "no-interest rule" inherent in government's sovereign immunity. Sandstrom v Principi (2004, CA FC) 358 F.3d 1376

There was nothing in 38 USCS § 7105 that required documentary evidence that reflected date notice of decision was mailed and lack of such evidence did not bar application of presumption of regularity. Miley v Principi (2004, CA FC) 366 F.3d 1343, 64 Fed Rules Evid Serv 85

Statutory scheme of 5 USCS §§ 552, 553, and 38 USCS §§ 1155, 7252, consistently excluded from judicial review all content of ratings schedule, as well as actions of Secretary of Veterans Affairs in adopting or revising that content, and 38 USCS § 7261(a)(3)(C) only provides standards of review to be applied by U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims when reviewing decision from Board of Veterans' Appeals and, thus, under 38 USCS § 7252, such court lacked jurisdiction to review content of diagnostic codes as part of schedule of ratings for disabilities; accordingly, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit reversed determination of U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that 38 C.F.R. § 4.87a, Diagnostic Code 6260, was invalid as inconsistent with 38 USCS § 1110. Wanner v Principi (2004, CA FC) 370 F.3d 1124

Court had jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2) to review decision of Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims that equitable tolling was inappropriate when it dismissed as untimely veteran's appeal of denial of benefits; in interpreting veterans court's jurisdictional statute of 38 USCS § 7266, Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit consistently held that when material facts were not in dispute and adoption of particular legal standard dictated outcome of equitable tolling claim, court had treated question of availability of equitable tolling as matter of law that it was authorized to address on appeal. Mapu v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 397 F.3d 1375
Federal Circuit had jurisdiction to consider Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims' decision dismissing veteran's appeal for failure to file timely notice of appeal where contents of notice of appeal were not in dispute and interpretation of legal requirements governing notices of appeal dictated case's outcome. Durr v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 400 F.3d 1375

Court lacked authority to review decision of Court of Veterans' Appeals since appellant's case rested solely on the alleged misinterpretation of legal effect of BVA's decision; in absence of challenge to validity of statute or regulation, or interpretation of constitutional or statutory provision or regulation, court has no authority to consider appeal. Livingston v Derwinski (1992, CA) 959 F.2d 224

4. Factual determinations

Court lacked jurisdiction to review Court of Veterans Appeals' dismissal of surviving spouse's claim as untimely since appellant challenged factual determination of timeliness of notice of appeal. Albun v Brown (1993, CA FC) 9 F.3d 1528

Although veteran's appeal raised questions arguably within appellate court's jurisdiction, those questions presumed and depended upon purported factual determination made in administrative assessment of veteran's claim, and since whether alleged factual determination was made is itself question of fact, it was beyond court's jurisdiction to review. Futrell v Brown (1995, CA FC) 45 F.3d 1534

CVA's affirmance of BVA's decision, declining to reopen benefits claim on ground that no new and material evidence had been proffered, involved factual determination or application of law to facts of particular case and thus was not within court's appellate jurisdiction. Barnett v Brown (1996, CA FC) 83 F.3d 1380

Question of whether veteran's newly submitted medical records qualify as "new and material" evidence sufficient to reopen claim pursuant to 38 USCS § 5108 is question over which Court of Veterans Appeals has final authority, and Court of Appeals is without jurisdiction to review decision of Court of Veterans Appeals under 38 USCS § 7292. Routen v West (1998, CA FC) 142 F.3d 1434, cert den (1998) 525 US 962, 142 L Ed 2d 328, 119 S Ct 404

Whether regional office's failure to consider Army regulations explaining diagnostic codes in medical records would constitute clear and unmistakable error is fact-based and beyond jurisdiction of Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit under 38 USCS § 7292. Yates v West (2000, CA FC) 213 F.3d 1372, cert den (2000) 531 US 960, 148 L Ed 2d 297, 121 S Ct 386

Appeal is dismissed for lack of jurisdiction since 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2) expressly bars Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit from reviewing challenges to application of law to facts of particular case and appellant's claim that equitable tolling should be applied to excuse late filing of notice of appeal requires evaluation of facts. Leonard v Gober (2000, CA FC) 223 F.3d 1374, reh den (2000, CA FC) 2000 US App LEXIS 26868 and cert den (2001) 531 US 1130, 148 L Ed 2d 797, 121 S Ct 889

Argument that Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims erred in affirming Board's denial of service connection because appellant submitted enough proof to establish treatment of hypertension within one year of discharge, and of beriberi heart disease, involves factual challenges over which Court of Appeals has no jurisdiction under 38 USCS § 7292 and appeal is dismissed. Jefferson v Principi (2001, CA FC) 271 F.3d 1072

Order finding that there was no new and material evidence supporting reopening of veterans' claims for service connection was upheld; because new and material evidence determination was fact-intensive, deference to Board of Veterans Appeal's determination was required; question of whether evidence in case was new and material was either factual determination under 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2)(A) or application of law to facts under 38 USCS § 7292(B). Prillaman v Principi (2003, CA FC) 346 F.3d 1362

Veteran who attempted to file notice of appeal by completing document that was clearly intended to serve as notice of appeal and delivered document to Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) regional office from which his claim originated within 120-day statutory period for appeal was entitled to invoke doctrine of equitable tolling; fact that veteran used wrong form or filed it in wrong forum was not sufficient to render filing ineligible for consideration under equitable tolling doctrine because VA was put on notice of veteran's intention to appeal. Bailey v Principi (2003, CA FC) 351 F.3d 1381 (criticized in Bobbitt v Principi (2004) 17 Vet App 547, 2004 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 193)

Court of Appeals for Federal Circuit had no jurisdiction to consider veteran's claim that Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims should have remanded his case to Board of Veterans' Appeals to consider informed consent form as evidence in veteran's claim for benefits under 38 USCS § 1151(a) due to injuries sustained following surgery performed by Department of Veterans Affairs surgeons; to decide issue, Federal Circuit would have been required to review Veterans Court's application of law, i.e., 38 USCS § 7104(d)(1), to facts and failure to consider consent form, and 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2) precluded Federal Circuit's review of factual determinations and applications of law to facts where no constitutional issues were involved. Cook v Principi (2003, CA FC) 353 F.3d 937

Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims' rejection of finding of clear and unmistakable error as to veteran's claim was affirmed; although court misconstrued duty of Department of Veterans Affairs to fully and sympathetically develop claim, it was harmless error. Szemraj v Principi (2004, CA FC) 357 F.3d 1370

Where Secretary of Veterans Affairs argued that even if physical illness could toll limitations period in 38 USCS § 7266(a), veterans widow failed to present sufficient evidence to establish that her illness met criteria for applying equitable tolling in her case, Secretary's argument raised fact question that had not been decided by Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims; under 38 USCS § 7292(d)(2), circuit court lacked jurisdiction to consider fact question in first instance. Arbas v Nicholson (2005, CA FC) 403 F.3d 1379

New and material evidence determinations are generally reviewable for clear error rather than de novo. Elkins v West (1999) 12 Vet App 209

Motion for issuance of mandate is granted where Court previously vacated portion of decision by BVA which held new and material evidence had not been submitted to reopen claim but affirmed decision respecting claim of clear and unmistakable error where veteran's notice of appeal pursuant to 38 USCS § 7292(a) is sufficiently specific to exclude from appeal portion of decision which remanded claim Norris v West (1999) 12 Vet App 304, 1999 US App Vet Claims LEXIS 199

(2) A judge who is not reappointed following the expiration of the term for which appointed may retire upon the completion of that term if the judge has served as a judge of the Court for 15 years or more.
(3) A judge who becomes permanently disabled and as a result of that disability is unable to perform the duties of the office shall retire.

(c) (1) An individual who retires under subsection (b) of this section and elects under subsection (d) of this section to receive retired pay under this subsection shall (except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subsection) receive retired pay as follows:
(A) In the case of a judge who is a recall-eligible retired judge under section 7257 of this title [38 USCS § 7257] or who was a recall-eligible retired judge under that section and was removed from recall status under subsection (b)(4) of that section by reason of disability, the retired pay of the judge shall be the pay of a judge of the court.
(B) In the case of a judge who at the time of retirement did not provide notice under section 7257 of this title [38 USCS § 7257] of availability for service in a recalled status, the retired pay of the judge shall be the rate of pay applicable to that judge at the time of retirement.
(C) In the case of a judge who was a recall-eligible retired judge under section 7257 of this title [38 USCS § 7257] and was removed from recall status under subsection (b)(3) of that section, the retired pay of the judge shall be the pay of the judge at the time of the removal from recall status.

(2) An individual who serves as a judge for less than 10 years and who retires under subsection (b)(3) of this section and elects under subsection (d) of this section to receive retired pay under this subsection shall receive retired pay at a rate equal to one-half of the rate of pay in effect at the time of retirement.
(3) Retired pay under this subsection shall begin to accrue on the day following the day on which the individual's salary as judge ceases to accrue and shall continue to accrue during the remainder of the individual's life. Retired pay under this subsection shall be paid in the same manner as the salary of a judge.

(d) (1) A judge may elect to receive retired pay under subsection (c) of this section. Such an election--

(A) may be made only while an individual is a judge (except that, in the case of an individual who fails to be reappointed as judge at the expiration of a term of office, the election may be made at any time before the date after the day on which the individual's successor takes office); and

(B) may not be revoked after the retired pay begins to accrue.

(2) In the case of a judge other than the chief judge, such an election shall be made by filing notice of the election in writing with the chief judge. In the case of the chief judge, such an election shall be made by filing notice of the election in writing with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management.

(3) The chief judge shall transmit to the Director of the Office of Personnel Management a copy of each notice filed with the chief judge under this subsection.

(e) If an individual for whom an election to receive retired pay under subsection (c) is in effect accepts compensation for employment with the United States, the individual shall, to the extent of the amount of that compensation, forfeit all rights to retired pay under subsection (c) of this section for the period for which the compensation is received.

(f) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the provisions of the civil service retirement laws (including the provisions relating to the deduction and withholding of amounts from basic pay, salary, and compensation) shall apply with respect to service as a judge as if this section had not been enacted.

(2) In the case of any individual who has filed an election to receive retired pay under subsection (c) of this section--

(A) no annuity or other payment shall be payable to any person under the civil service retirement laws with respect to any service performed by such individual (whether performed before or after such election is filed and whether performed as judge or otherwise) except as authorized by section 8440d of title 5 [5 USCS § 8440d];

(B) no deduction for purposes of the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund shall be made from retired pay payable to that individual under subsection (c) of this section or from any other salary, pay, or compensation payable to that individual, for any period beginning after the day on which such election is filed; and

(C) such individual shall be paid the lump-sum credit computed under section 8331(8) or 8401(a) of title 5 [5 USCS § 8331(8) or 8401(a)], whichever applies, upon making application therefor with the Office of Personnel Management.

(3) (A) A cost-of-living adjustment provided by law in annuities payable under civil service retirement laws shall apply to retired pay under this section only in the case of retired pay computed under paragraph (2) of subsection (c).

(B) If such a cost-of-living adjustment would (but for this subparagraph) result in the retired pay of a retired judge being in excess of the annual rate of pay in effect for judges of the Court as provided in section 7253(e) of this title [38 USCS § 7253(e)], such adjustment may be made only in such amount as results in the retired pay of the retired judge being equal to that annual rate of pay (as in effect on the effective date of such adjustment).

(g) (1) A judge who becomes permanently disabled and as a result of that disability is unable to perform the duties of the office shall certify to the President in writing that such permanent disability exists. If the chief judge retires for such a disability, the retirement of the chief judge shall not take effect until concurred in by the President. If any other judge retires for such a disability, the chief judge shall furnish to the President a certificate of disability signed by the chief judge.

(2) Whenever the President finds that a judge has become permanently disabled and as a result of that disability is unable to perform the duties of the office, the President shall declare that judge to be retired. Before a judge may be retired under this paragraph, the judge shall be provided with a full specification of the reasons for the retirement and an opportunity to be heard.

(h) (1) An individual who has filed an election to receive retired pay under subsection (c) of this section may revoke such election at any time before the first day on which retired pay would (but for such revocation) begin to accrue with respect to such individual.

(2) Any revocation under this subsection shall be made by filing a notice of the election in writing with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management. The Office of Personnel Management shall transmit to the chief judge a copy of each notice filed under this subsection.

(3) In the case of a revocation under this subsection--

(A) for purposes of this section, the individual shall be treated as not having filed an election to receive retired pay under subsection (c) of this section;

(B) for purposes of section 7297 of this title [38 USCS § 7297]--

(i) the individual shall be treated as not having filed an election under section 7297(b) of this title [38 USCS § 7297(b)], and

(ii) section 7297(e) of this title [38 USCS § 7297(e)] shall not apply and the amount credited to such individual's account (together with interest at 3 percent per year, compounded on December 31 of each year to the date on which the revocation is filed) shall be returned to the individual;

(C) no credit shall be allowed for any service as a judge of the Court unless with respect to such service either there has been deducted and withheld the amount required by the civil service retirement laws or there has been deposited in the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund an amount equal to the amount so required, with interest;

(D) the Court shall deposit in the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund an amount equal to the additional amount it would have contributed to such Fund but for the election under subsection (d); and

(E) if subparagraphs (C) and (D) of this paragraph are complied with, service on the Court shall be treated as service with respect to which deductions and contributions had been made during the period of service.

(i) (1) Beginning with the next pay period after the Director of the Office of Personnel Management receives a notice under subsection (d) of this section that a judge has elected to receive retired pay under this section, the Director shall deduct and withhold 1 percent of the salary of such judge. Amounts shall be so deducted and withheld in a manner... determined by the Director. Amounts deducted and withheld under this subsection shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims Judges Retirement Fund. Deductions under this subsection from the salary of a judge shall terminate upon the retirement of the judge or upon the completion of 15 years of service for which either deductions under this subsection or a deposit under subsection (j) of this section has been made, whichever occurs first.

(2) Each judge who makes an election under subsection (d) of this section shall be considered to agree to the deductions from salary which are made under paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(j) A judge who makes an election under subsection (d) of this section shall deposit, for service on the Court performed before the election for which contributions may be made under this section, an amount equal to 1 percent of the salary received for the first years, not exceeding 15 years, of that service. Retired pay may not be allowed until a deposit required by this subsection has been made.

(k) The amounts deducted and withheld under subsection (i) of this section, and the amounts deposited under subsection (j) of this section, shall be deposited in the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims Retirement Fund for credit to individual accounts in the name of each judge from whom such amounts are received.

(c) There shall be deducted and withheld each pay period from the pay of a judge who has made an election under subsection (b) of this section a sum equal to that percentage of the judge's pay that is the same as provided for the deduction from the salary or retirement salary of a judge of the United States Court of Federal Claims for the purpose of a survivor annuity under section 376(b)(1)(B) of title 28 [28 USCS § 376(b)(1)(B)]. Amounts so deducted and withheld shall be deposited in the retirement fund. A judge who makes an election under subsection (b) of this section shall be considered by that election to agree to the deductions from the judge's pay required by this subsection.

(d) (1) A judge who makes an election under subsection (b) of this section shall deposit, with interest at 3 percent per year compounded on December 31 of each year, to the credit of the retirement fund, an amount equal to 3.5 percent of the judge's pay and of the judge's basic salary, pay, or compensation for service as a Member of Congress, and for any other civilian service within the purview of section 8332 of title 5 [5 USCS § 8332]. Each such judge may elect to make such deposits in installments during the judge's period of service in such amount and under such conditions as may be determined in each instance by the chief judge. Notwithstanding the failure of a judge to make such deposit, credit shall be allowed for the service rendered, but the annual annuity of the surviving spouse of such judge shall be reduced by an amount equal to 10 percent of the amount of such deposit, computed as of the date of the death of such judge, unless the surviving spouse elects to eliminate such service entirely from credit under subsection (k) of this section. However, a deposit shall not be required from a judge for any year with respect to which deductions from the judge's pay, or a deposit, were actually made (and not withdrawn) under the civil service retirement laws.

(2) The interest required under the first sentence of paragraph (1) shall not be required for any period--

(A) during which a judge was separated from any service described in section 376(d)(2) of title 28 [28 USCS § 376(d)(2)]; and

(B) during which the judge was not receiving retired pay based on service as a judge or receiving any retirement salary as described in section 376(d)(1) of title 28 [28 USCS § 376(d)(1)].

(e) If the service of a judge who makes an election under subsection (b) of this section terminates other than pursuant to the provisions of section 7296 of this title [38 USCS § 7296], or if any judge ceases to be married after making the election under subsection (b) of this section and revokes (in a writing filed as provided in subsection (b) of this section) such election, the amount credited to the judge's individual account (together with interest at 3 percent per year compounded on December 31 of each year to the date of the judge's relinquishment of office) shall be returned to the judge. For the purpose of this section, the service of a judge making an election under subsection (b) of this section shall be considered to have terminated pursuant to section 7296 of this title [38 USCS § 7296] if--

(1) the judge is not reappointed following expiration of the term for which appointed; and

(2) at or before the time of the expiration of that term, the judge is eligible for and elects to receive retired pay under section 7296 of this title [38 USCS § 7296].

(f) (1) If a judge who makes an election under subsection (b) of this section dies after having rendered at least 18 months of civilian service (computed as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section), for the last 18 months of which the salary deductions provided for by subsection (c) of this section or the deposits required by subsection (d) of this section have actually been made (and not withdrawn) or the salary deductions required by the civil service retirement laws have actually been made (and not withdrawn)--

(A) if the judge is survived by a surviving spouse but not by a dependent child, there shall be paid to the surviving spouse an annuity beginning with the day of the death of the judge, in an amount computed as provided in subsection (k) of this section; or

(B) if the judge is survived by a surviving spouse and a dependent child or children, there shall be paid to the surviving spouse an immediate annuity in an amount computed as provided in subsection (k) of this section and there shall also be paid to or on behalf of each such child an immediate annuity equal to the lesser of--

(i) 10 percent of the average annual pay of such judge (determined in accordance with subsection (k) of this section), or

(ii) 20 percent of such average annual pay, divided by the number of such children; or

(C) if the judge is not survived by a surviving spouse but is survived by a dependent child or children, there shall be paid to or on behalf of each such child an immediate annuity equal to the lesser of--
(i) 20 percent of the average annual pay of such judge (determined in accordance with subsection (k) of this section), or
(ii) 40 percent of such average annual pay, divided by the number of such children.

(2) The annuity payable to a surviving spouse under this subsection shall be terminated--
   (A) upon the surviving spouse's death; or
   (B) upon the remarriage of the surviving spouse before age 55.

(3) The annuity payable to a child under this subsection shall be terminated upon the child's death.

(4) In case of the death of a surviving spouse of a judge leaving a dependent child or children of the judge surviving the spouse, the annuity of such child or children under paragraph (1)(B) of this subsection shall be recomputed and paid as provided in paragraph (1)(C) of this subsection. In any case in which the annuity of a dependent child is terminated, the annuities of any remaining dependent child or children, based upon the service of the same judge, shall be recomputed and paid as though the child whose annuity was so terminated had not survived the judge.

(5) If a judge dies as a result of an assassination and leaves a survivor or survivors who are otherwise entitled to receive annuity payments under this section, the 18-month requirement in the matter in paragraph (1) preceding subparagraph (A) shall not apply.

(g) Questions of family relationships, dependency, and disability arising under this section shall be determined in the same manner as such questions arising under chapter 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8401 et seq.] are determined.

(h) (1) If-
   (A) a judge making an election under subsection (b) of this section dies while in office (i) before having rendered 5 years of civilian service computed as prescribed in subsection (l) of this section, or (ii) after having rendered 5 years of such civilian service but without a survivor entitled to annuity benefits provided by subsection (f) of this section; or
   (B) the right of all persons entitled to an annuity under subsection (f) of this section based on the service of such judge terminates before a claim for such benefits has been established, the total amount credited to the individual account of such judge (with interest at 3 percent per year, compounded on December 31 of each year, to the date of the death of such judge) shall be paid in the manner specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection.

(2) An amount payable under paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be paid, upon the establishment of a valid claim therefor, to the person or persons surviving at the date title to the payment arises, in the following order of precedence:
   (A) To the beneficiary or beneficiaries whom the judge designated in writing filed before death with the chief judge (except that in the case of the chief judge such designation shall be filed before death as prescribed by the Court).
   (B) To the surviving spouse of the judge.
(C) To the child or children of the judge (and the descendants of any deceased children by representation).
(D) To the parents of the judge or the survivor of them.
(E) To the executor or administrator of the estate of the judge.
(F) To such other next of kin of the judge as may be determined by the chief judge to be entitled under the laws of the domicile of the judge at the time of the judge's death.

(3) Determination as to the surviving spouse, child, or parent of a judge for the purposes of paragraph (2) of this subsection shall be made without regard to the definitions in subsection (a) of this section.

(4) Payment under this subsection in the manner provided in this subsection shall be a bar to recovery by any other person.

(5) In a case in which the annuities of all persons entitled to annuity based upon the service of a judge terminate before the aggregate amount of annuity paid equals the total amount credited to the individual account of such judge (with interest at 3 percent per year, compounded on December 31 of each year to the date of the death of the judge), the difference shall be paid, upon establishment of a valid claim therefor, in the order of precedence prescribed in paragraph (2) of this subsection.

(6) Any accrued annuity remaining unpaid upon the termination (other than by death) of the annuity of any individual based upon the service of a judge shall be paid to that individual. Any accrued annuity remaining unpaid upon the death of an individual receiving an annuity based upon the service of a judge shall be paid, upon the establishment of a valid claim therefor, in the following order of precedence:

(A) To the executor or administrator of the estate of that person.
(B) After 30 days after the date of the death of such individual, to such individual or individuals as may appear in the judgment of the chief judge to be legally entitled thereto.

Such payment shall be a bar to recovery by any other individual.

(i) When a payment under this section is to be made to a minor, or to a person mentally incompetent or under other legal disability adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction, the payment may be made to the person who is constituted guardian or other fiduciary by the law of the State of residence of such claimant or is otherwise legally vested with the care of the claimant or the claimant's estate. If no guardian or other fiduciary of the person under legal disability has been appointed under the laws of the State of residence of the claimant, the chief judge shall determine the person who is otherwise legally vested with the care of the claimant or the claimant's estate.

(j) Annuities under this section shall accrue monthly and shall be due and payable in monthly installments on the first business day of the month following the month or other period for which the annuity has accrued. An annuity under this section is not assignable, either in law or in equity, or subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process.

(k) (1) The annuity of the surviving spouse of a judge making an election under subsection (b) of this section shall be an amount equal to the sum of the following:

(A) The product of--

(i) 1.5 percent of the judge's average annual pay; and
(ii) the sum of the judge's years of judicial service, the judge's years of prior allowable service as a Member of Congress, the judge's years of prior allowable service performed as a member of the Armed Forces, and the judge's years, not exceeding 15, of prior allowable service performed as a congressional employee (as defined in section 2107 of title 5 [5 USCS § 2107]).

(B) Three-fourths of 1 percent of the judge's average annual pay multiplied by the judge's years of allowable service not counted under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph.

(2) An annuity computed under this subsection may not exceed 50 percent of the judge's average annual pay and may not be less than 25 percent of such average annual pay. Such annuity shall be further reduced in accordance with subsection (d) of this section (if applicable).

(3) For purposes of this subsection, the term "average annual pay", with respect to a judge, means the average annual pay received by the judge for judicial service (including periods in which the judge received retired pay under section 7296(d) of this title [38 USCS § 7296(d)]) or for any other prior allowable service during the period of three consecutive years in which the judge received the largest such average annual pay.

(l) Subject to subsection (d) of this section, the years of service of a judge which are allowable as the basis for calculating the amount of the annuity of the judge's surviving spouse shall include the judge's years of service as a judge of the Court, the judge's years of service as a Member of Congress, the judge's years of active service as a member of the Armed Forces not exceeding 5 years in the aggregate and not including any such service for which credit is allowed for the purposes of retirement or retired pay under any other provision of law, and the judge's years of any other civilian service within the purview of section 8332 of title 5 [5 USCS § 8332].

(m) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent a surviving spouse eligible therefor from simultaneously receiving an annuity under this section and any annuity to which such spouse would otherwise be entitled under any other law without regard to this section, but in computing such other annuity service used in the computation of such spouse's annuity under this section shall not be credited.

(n) A judge making an election under subsection (b) of this section shall, at the time of such election, waive all benefits under the civil service retirement laws except section 8440d of title 5 [5 USCS § 8440d]. Such a waiver shall be made in the same manner and shall have the same force and effect as an election filed under section 7296(d) of this title [38 USCS § 7296(d)].

(o) Each survivor annuity payable from the retirement fund shall be increased at the same time as, and by the same percentage by which, annuities payable from the Judicial Survivors' Annuities Fund are increased pursuant to section 376(m) of title 28 [28 USCS § 376(m)].
The "civil service retirement laws", referred to in subsecs. (d), (f) and (n), appear generally as 5 USCS §§ 8331 et seq.

Three-year delay in filing appeal could not be excused because of discovery of statute enacted after close of record in appellant's appeal since statute did not warrant different outcome because it did not grant Board appeal rights to employees who previously lacked such rights, but was passed as technical correction to Due Process Amendments Act of 1990 in order to retroactively correct unintentional exclusion by those amendments of certain Veterans Affairs employees from coverage of Chapters 75 and 43, while appellant never had appeal rights because of statutory exclusion set forth in former 38 USCS § 4114. (2) assure appropriate geographic distribution of such facilities.

(c) The Secretary may not designate a health-care facility as a location for a center under subsection (a) unless the peer review panel established under subsection (d) has determined under that subsection that the proposal submitted by such facility as a location for a new center under subsection (a) is among those proposals which have met the highest competitive standards of scientific and clinical merit, and the Secretary (upon the recommendation of the Under Secretary for Health) determines that the facility has (or may reasonably be anticipated to develop) each of the following:

(1) An arrangement with an accredited medical school which provides education and training in geriatrics and with which such facility is affiliated under which residents receive education and training in geriatrics through regular rotation through such center and through nursing home, extended care, or domiciliary units of such facility so as to provide such residents with training in the diagnosis and treatment of chronic diseases of older individuals, including cardiopulmonary conditions, senile dementia, and neurological disorders.

(2) An arrangement under which nursing or allied health personnel receive training and education in geriatrics through regular rotation through nursing home, extended care, or domiciliary units of such facility.

(3) The ability to attract the participation of scientists who are capable of ingenuity and creativity in health-care research efforts.
(4) A policymaking advisory committee composed of appropriate health-care and research representatives of the facility and of the affiliated school or schools to advise the directors of such facility and such center on policy matters pertaining to the activities of such center during the period of the operation of such center.

(5) The capability to conduct effectively evaluations of the activities of such center.

(d) (1) In order to provide advice to assist the Secretary and the Under Secretary for Health in carrying out their responsibilities under this section, the Assistant Under Secretary for Health described in section 7306(b)(3) of this title [38 USCS § 7306(b)(3)] shall establish a panel to assess the scientific and clinical merit of proposals that are submitted to the Secretary for the establishment of new centers under this section.

(3) The panel shall review each proposal submitted to the panel by the Assistant Under Secretary and shall submit its views on the relative scientific and clinical merit of each such proposal to the Assistant Under Secretary.

(4) The panel shall not be subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act [5 USCS Appx.].

(e) Before providing funds for the operation of any such center at a health-care facility other than a health-care facility designated under subsection (b)(1), the Secretary shall assure that the center at each facility designated under such subsection is receiving adequate funding to enable such center to function effectively in the areas of geriatric research, education, and clinical activities.

(f) There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary for the support of the research and education activities of the centers established pursuant to subsection (a). The Under Secretary for Health shall allocate to such centers from other funds appropriated generally for the Department medical care account and medical and prosthetics research account, as appropriate, such amounts as the Under Secretary for Health determines appropriate.

(g) Activities of clinical and scientific investigation at each center established under subsection (a) shall be eligible to compete for the award of funding from funds appropriated for the Department medical and prosthetics research account and shall receive priority in the award of funding from such account insofar as funds are awarded to projects for research in geriatrics and gerontology.

§ 7316. Malpractice and negligence suits: defense by United States

(a) (1) The remedy--

(A) against the United States provided by sections 1346(b) and 2672 of title 28 [28 USCS §§ 1346(b) and 2672], or

(B) through proceedings for compensation or other benefits from the United States as provided by any other law, where the availability of such benefits precludes a remedy under section 1346(b) or 2672 of title 28 [28 USCS § 1346(b) or 2672], for damages for personal injury, including death, allegedly arising from malpractice or negligence of a health care employee of the Administration in furnishing health care or treatment while in the exercise of that employee's duties in or for the Administration shall be exclusive of any other civil action or proceeding by reason of the same subject matter against the health care employee (or employee's estate) whose act or omission gave rise to such claim.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "health care employee of the Administration" means a physician, dentist, podiatrist, chiropractor, optometrist, nurse, physician assistant, expanded-function dental auxiliary, pharmacist, or paramedical (such as medical and dental technicians, nursing assistants, and therapists), or other supporting personnel.
(b) The Attorney General shall defend any civil action or proceeding brought in any court against any person referred to in subsection (a) (or such person's estate) for any such damage or injury. Any such person against whom such civil action or proceeding is brought shall deliver within such time after date of service or knowledge of service as determined by the Attorney General, all process served upon such person or an attested true copy thereof to such person's immediate superior or to whomever was designated by the Secretary to receive such papers and such person shall promptly furnish copies of the pleading and process therein to the United States attorney for the district embracing the place wherein the proceeding is brought, to the Attorney General, and to the Secretary.

(c) Upon a certification by the Attorney General that the defendant was acting in the scope of such person's employment in or for the Administration at the time of the incident out of which the suit arose, any such civil action or proceeding commenced in a State court shall be removed without bond at any time before trial by the Attorney General to the district court of the United States of the district and division embracing the place wherein it is pending and the proceeding deemed a tort action brought against the United States under the provisions of title 28 and all references thereto. After removal the United States shall have available all defenses to which it would have been entitled if the action had originally been commenced against the United States. Should a United States district court determine on a hearing on a motion to remand held before a trial on the merits that the employee whose act or omission gave rise to the suit was not acting within the scope of such person's office or employment, the case shall be remanded to the State court.

(d) The Attorney General may compromise or settle any claim asserted in such civil action or proceeding in the manner provided in section 2677 of title 28 [28 USCS § 2677], and with the same effect.

(e) The Secretary may, to the extent the Secretary considers appropriate, hold harmless or provide liability insurance for any person to whom the immunity provisions of this section apply (as described in subsection (a)), for damage for personal injury or death, or for property damage, negligently caused by such person while furnishing medical care or treatment (including the conduct of clinical studies or investigations) in the exercise of such person's duties in or for the Administration, if such person is assigned to a foreign country, detailed to State or political division thereof, or is acting under any other circumstances which would preclude the remedies of an injured third person against the United States, provided by sections 1346(b) and 2672 of title 28 [28 USCS §§ 1346(b) and 2672], for such damage or injury.

(f) The exception provided in section 2680(h) of title 28 [28 USCS § 2680(h)] shall not apply to any claim arising out of a negligent or wrongful act or omission of any person described in subsection (a) in furnishing medical care or treatment (including medical care or treatment furnished in the course of a clinical study or investigation) while in the exercise of such person's duties in or for the Administration.

§ 7317. Hazardous research projects: indemnification of contractors

(a) (1) With the approval of the Secretary, any contract or research authorized by section 7303 of this title [38 USCS § 7303], the performance of which involves a risk of an unusually hazardous nature, may provide that the United States will indemnify the contractor as provided in paragraph (2), but only to the extent that the liability, loss, or damage concerned arises out of the direct performance of the contract and to the extent not covered by the financial protection required under subsection (e).
(2) Indemnity under paragraph (1) is indemnity against either or both of the following:
   (A) Liability (including reasonable expenses of litigation or settlement) to third persons, except liability under State or Federal workers' injury compensation laws to employees of the contractor employed at the site of and in connection with the contract for which indemnification is granted, for death, bodily injury, or loss of or damage to property, from a risk that the contract defines as unusually hazardous.
   (B) Loss of or damage to property of the contractor from a risk that the contract defines as unusually hazardous.

(b) A contract that provides for indemnification in accordance with subsection (a) must also provide for--
   (1) notice to the United States of any claim or suit against the contractor for death, bodily injury, or loss of or damage to property; and
   (2) control of or assistance in the defense by the United States, at its election, of any such suit or claim for which indemnification is provided hereunder.

(c) A payment may not be made under subsection (a) unless the Secretary certifies that the amount is just and reasonable.

(d) Upon approval by the Secretary, payments under subsection (a) may be made from--
   (1) funds obligated for the performance of the contract concerned;
   (2) funds available for research or development or both, and not otherwise obligated; or
   (3) funds appropriated for those payments.

(e) Each contractor which is a party to an indemnification agreement under subsection (a) shall have and maintain financial protection of such type and in such amounts as the Secretary shall require to cover liability to third persons and loss of or damage to the contractor's property. The amount of financial protection required shall be the maximum amount of insurance available from private sources, except that the Secretary may establish a lesser amount, taking into consideration the cost and terms of private insurance. Such financial protection may include private insurance, private contractual indemnities, self-insurance, other proof of financial responsibility, or a combination of such measures.

(f) In administering the provisions of this section, the Secretary may use the facilities and services of private insurance organizations and may contract to pay a reasonable compensation therefor. Any contract made under the provisions of this section may be made without regard to the provisions of section 3709 of the Revised Statutes (41 U.S.C. 5), upon a showing by the Secretary that advertising is not reasonably practicable, and advance payments may be made under any such contract.

(g) The authority to indemnify contractors under this section does not create any rights in third persons which would not otherwise exist by law.

(h) Funds appropriated to carry out this section shall remain available until expended.
(i) In this section, the term 'contractor' includes subcontractors of any tier under a contract containing an indemnification provision pursuant to subsection (a).

(B) acquire and ensure the dissemination to such personnel of any appropriate information on research and clinical practices relating to such services that are carried out by researchers, clinicians, and educators who are not affiliated with the Administration.

(4) Facilitate the optimal use of the unique resources of the Department for cooperative research into health outcomes by initiating recommendations, and responding to requests of the Under Secretary for Health and the Director of the Medical and Prosthetic Research Service, for such research into preventive health services.

(5) Provide advisory services to personnel of Department health-care facilities with respect to the planning or furnishing of preventive health services by such personnel.
(d) There is authorized to be appropriated $1,500,000 to the Medical Care General and Special Fund of the Department of Veterans Affairs for each fiscal year for the purpose of permitting the National Center for Preventive Affairs to carry out research, clinical, educational, and administrative activities under this section. Such activities shall be considered to be part of the operation of health-care facilities of the Department without regard to the location at which such activities are carried out.

Any such center may be a consortium of efforts of more than one medical center.
2. A finding by the Secretary referred to in paragraph (1) with respect to a proposal for designation of a site as a location of a center under this section is a finding by the Secretary, upon the recommendations of the Under Secretary for Health and the Assistant Secretary with responsibility for operations, preparedness, security, and law enforcement functions, that the facility or facilities submitting the proposal have developed (or may reasonably be anticipated to develop) each of the following:

   - The ability to attract scientists who have made significant contributions to the development of innovative approaches to the detection, diagnosis, prevention, or treatment of injuries, diseases, and illnesses arising from the use of chemical, biological, radiological, incendiary or other explosive weapons or devices posing threats to the public health and safety.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2)(A)--

(d) Research activities. Each center shall conduct research on improved medical preparedness to protect the Nation from threats in the area of that center's expertise. Each center may seek research funds from public and private sources for such purpose.

(e) Dissemination of research products.

(1) The Under Secretary for Health and the Assistant Secretary with responsibility for operations, preparedness, security, and law enforcement functions shall ensure that information produced by the research, education and training, and clinical activities of centers established under this section is made available, as appropriate, to health-care providers in the United States. Dissemination of such information shall be made through publications, through programs of continuing medical and related education provided through regional medical education centers under subchapter VI of chapter 74 of this title [38 USCS §§ 7471 et seq.], and through other means. Such programs of continuing medical education shall receive priority in the award of funding.

(2) The Secretary shall ensure that the work of the centers is conducted in close coordination with other Federal departments and agencies and that research products or other information of the centers shall be coordinated and shared with other Federal departments and agencies.

(f) Coordination of activities. The Secretary shall take appropriate actions to ensure that the work of each center is carried out--

(1) in close coordination with the Department of Defense, the Department of Health and Human Services, and other departments, agencies, and elements of the Government charged with coordination of plans for United States homeland security; and

(g) Assistance to other agencies. The Secretary may provide assistance requested by appropriate Federal, State, and local civil and criminal authorities in investigations, inquiries, and data analyses as necessary to protect the public safety and prevent or obviate biological, chemical, or radiological threats.

(h) Detail of employees from other agencies. Upon approval by the Secretary, the Director of a center may request the temporary assignment or detail to the center, on a nonreimbursable basis, of employees from other departments and agencies of the United States who have expertise that would further the mission of the center. Any such employee may be so assigned or detailed on a nonreimbursable basis pursuant to such a request.

(i) Funding.

(1) There are authorized to be appropriated for the centers under this section $10,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2005 through 2007.

(2) In addition to any amounts appropriated for a fiscal year specifically for the activities of the centers pursuant to paragraph (1), the Under Secretary for Health shall allocate to the centers from other funds appropriated for that fiscal year generally for the Department medical care account and the Department medical and prosthetic research account such amounts as the Under Secretary determines necessary in order to carry out the purposes of this section.

§ 7332. Confidentiality of certain medical records

(a) (1) Records of the identity, diagnosis, prognosis, or treatment of any patient or subject which are maintained in connection with the performance of any program or activity (including education, training, treatment, rehabilitation, or research) relating to drug abuse, alcoholism or alcohol abuse, infection with the human immunodeficiency virus, or sickle cell anemia which is carried out by or for the Department under this title shall, except as provided in subsections (e) and (f), be confidential, and (section 5701 of this title [38 USCS § 5701] to the contrary notwithstanding) such records may be disclosed only for the purposes and under the circumstances expressly authorized under subsection (b).

(2) Paragraph (1) prohibits the disclosure to any person or entity other than the patient or subject concerned of the fact that a special written consent is required in order for such records to be disclosed.

(b) (1) The content of any record referred to in subsection (a) may be disclosed by the Secretary in accordance with the prior written consent of the patient or subject with respect to whom such record is maintained, but only to such extent, under such circumstances, and for such purposes as may be allowed in regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

(2) Whether or not any patient or subject, with respect to whom any given record referred to in subsection (a) is maintained, gives written consent, the content of such record may be disclosed by the Secretary as follows:

(A) To medical personnel to the extent necessary to meet a bona fide medical emergency.

(B) To qualified personnel for the purpose of conducting scientific research, management audits, financial audits, or program evaluation, but such personnel may not identify, directly or indirectly, any individual patient or subject in any report of such research, audit, or evaluation, or otherwise disclose patient or subject identities in any manner.

(C) (i) In the case of any record which is maintained in connection with the performance of any program or activity relating to infection with the human immunodeficiency virus, to a Federal, State, or local public-health authority, charged under Federal or State law with the protection of the public health, and to which Federal or State law requires disclosure of such record, if a qualified representative of such authority has made a written request that such record be provided as required pursuant to such law for a purpose authorized by such law.

(ii) A person to whom a record is disclosed under this paragraph may not redisclose or use such record for a purpose other than that for which the disclosure was made.

(D) If authorized by an appropriate order of a court of competent jurisdiction granted after application showing good cause therefor. In assessing good cause the court shall weigh the public interest and the need for disclosure against the injury to the patient or subject, to the physician-patient relationship, and to the treatment services. Upon the granting of such order, the court, in determining the extent to which any disclosure of all or any part of any record is necessary, shall impose appropriate safeguards against unauthorized disclosure.

(3) In the event that the patient or subject who is the subject of any record referred to in subsection (a) is deceased, the content of any such record may be disclosed by the Secretary only upon the prior written request of the next of kin, executor, administrator, or other personal representative of such patient or subject and only if the Secretary determines that such disclosure is necessary for such survivor to obtain...
benefits to which such survivor may be entitled, including the pursuit of legal action, but then only to the extent, under such circumstances, and for such purposes as may be allowed in regulations prescribed pursuant to section 7334 of this title [38 USCS § 7334].

(c) Except as authorized by a court order granted under subsection (b)(2)(D), no record referred to in subsection (a) of this section may be used to initiate or substantiate any criminal charges against, or to conduct any investigation of, a patient or subject.

(d) The prohibitions of this section shall continue to apply to records concerning any person who has been a patient or subject, irrespective of whether or when such person ceases to be a patient.

(e) The prohibitions of this section shall not prevent any interchange of records--

(1) within and among those components of the Department furnishing health care to veterans, or determining eligibility for benefits under this title; or

(2) between such components furnishing health care to veterans and the Armed Forces.

(f) (1) Notwithstanding subsection (a) but subject to paragraph (2), a physician or a professional counselor may disclose information or records indicating that a patient or subject is infected with the human immunodeficiency virus if the disclosure is made to (A) the spouse of the patient or subject, or (B) to an individual whom the patient or subject has, during the process of professional counseling or of testing to determine whether the patient or subject is infected with such virus, identified as being a sexual partner of such patient or subject.

(2) (A) A disclosure under paragraph (1) may be made only if the physician or counselor, after making reasonable efforts to counsel and encourage the patient or subject to provide the information to the spouse or sexual partner, reasonably believes that the patient or subject will not provide the information to the spouse or sexual partner and that the disclosure is necessary to protect the health of the spouse or sexual partner.

(B) A disclosure under such paragraph may be made by a physician or counselor other than the physician or counselor referred to in subparagraph (A) if such physician or counselor is unavailable by reason of absence or termination of employment to make the disclosure.

(g) Any person who violates any provision of this section or any regulation issued pursuant to this section shall be fined, in the case of a first offense, up to the maximum amount provided under section 5701(f) of this title [38 USCS § 5701(f)] for a first offense under that section and, in the case of a subsequent offense, up to the maximum amount provided under section 5701(f) of this title [38 USCS § 5701(f)] for a subsequent offense under that section.

1. Generally

VA physician appointed under 38 USCS § 4114 is not entitled to protection of Whistleblower Protection Act. Chan v Department of Veterans Affairs (1992, MSPB) 53 MSPR 617

In breach of contract action, doctor failed to show requirements necessary for implied-in-fact contract because: (1) he was federal employee rather than independent contractor; (2) he was appointed pursuant to 38 USCS § 7405(a)(2), which specified that pay and length of employment were subject to change according to Veterans Affairs Secretary, unlike those appointed under 38 USCS § 7401, who were employed on permanent basis, or those appointed under 38 USCS § 7405(a)(1), who were employed on temporary full-time, part-time, or no compensation basis; and (3) those who allegedly promised doctor certain number of hours did not have authority to enter into binding contracts on behalf of government. Pijanowski v United States (2004) 60 Fed Cl 628

2. Temporary full-time appointments

Temporary full-time physicians could not succeed with challenge to their continuing designation as temporary employees, even though former 38 USCS § 4114(a)(3)(A) stated that temporary appointments could exceed 90 days only if Chief Medical Director found that circumstances rendered it impracticable to obtain permanent appointments, because regulations provided for up-to-3-year temporary appointments, with possible 3-year renewals, and regulations did not contradict congressional purpose of providing flexibility with regard to temporary appointments, without necessity of national director making express finding of impracticability for each temporary appointment to last beyond 90 days. Woods v Milner (1991, ED Mich) 760 F Supp 623, affd (1992, CA6 Mich) 955 F.2d 436

Nurse with Department of Veterans Affairs under 38 USCS § 3405 who received series of temporary full-time appointments was not entitled to benefit of Title 5's reduction in force procedures; § 7401 provides that appointments under § 7405 may be made without regard to civil service laws, rules or regulations. Beckstrom-Parcell v Dep't of Veterans Affairs (2002, MSPB) 91 MSPR 656

Record contained conflicting information regarding nature of appellant's appointment, so that remand was required to determine if she was permanent employee appointed under 38 USCS § 7401 or temporary employee appointed under § 7405, before proceeding with her reduction in force appeal. Olson v Dep't of Veterans Affairs (2002, MSPB) 92 MSPR 336, subsequent app (2002, MSPB) 93 MSPR 305

3. Part-time appointments

Appellant's request for part-time status required it to convert her appointment to one not authorized by 38 USCS § 7401, since § 7405 did not authorize agency to appoint her to any part-time position other than one that was not to exceed one year, and there was no other authority on which agency could have effected appellant's part-time appointment, but she should have been informed of inapplicability of chapter 75 and its appeal rights to such positions before determining whether she actually consented to conversion of her appointment. Exum v Department of Veterans Affairs (1994, MSPB) 62 MSPR 344

4. Without-compensation appointments

Period of appellant's without-compensation appointment could not be counted toward 3 years of continuous creditable civil federal service to take appellant out of probationary period for purposes of placement in reduction-in-force group. Bridgewood v Department of Veterans Affairs (1997, MSPB) 75 MSPR 480, affd without op (1998, CA FC) 155 F.3d 565, reported in full (1998, CA FC) 1998 US App LEXIS 6163

§ 7406. Residencies and internships
(a) (1) The Secretary may establish residencies and internships. The Secretary may appoint qualified persons to such positions without regard to civil service or classification laws, rules, or regulations.

(2) For the purposes of this section:
   (A) The term "internship" includes the equivalency of an internship as determined in accordance with regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe.
   (B) The term "intern" means a person serving an internship.

(b) The Secretary may prescribe the conditions of employment of persons appointed under this section, including necessary training, and the customary amount and terms of pay for such positions during the period of such employment and training. The amount and terms of such pay may be established retroactively based on changes in such customary amount and terms.

(c) (1) In order to carry out more efficiently the provisions of subsection (a)(1), the Secretary may contract with one or more hospitals, medical schools, or medical installations having hospital facilities and participating with the Department in the training of interns or residents to provide, by the designation of one such institution to serve as a central administrative agency, for the central administration--
   (A) of stipend payments;
   (B) provision of fringe benefits; and
   (C) maintenance of records for such interns and residents.

(2) The Secretary may pay to such designated agency, without regard to any other law or regulation governing the expenditure of Government moneys either in advance or in arrears, an amount to cover the cost for the period such intern or resident serves in a Department facility furnishing hospital care or medical services of--
   (A) stipends fixed by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (1);
   (B) hospitalization, medical care, and life insurance and any other employee benefits as are agreed upon by the participating institutions for the period that such intern or resident serves in a Department facility furnishing hospital care or medical services;
   (C) tax on employers pursuant to chapter 21 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 [26 USCS §§ 3101 et seq.], where applicable; and
   (D) an amount to cover a pro rata share of the cost of expense of such central administrative agency.

(3) (A) Any amounts paid by the Secretary to such central administrative agency to cover the cost of hospitalization, medical care, or life insurance or other employee benefits shall be in lieu of any benefits of like nature to which such intern or resident may be entitled under the provisions of title 5, and the acceptance of stipends and employee benefits from the designated central administrative agency shall constitute a waiver by the recipient of any claim such recipient might have to any payment of stipends or employee benefits to which such recipient may be entitled under this title or title 5.

(B) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), any period of service of any such intern or resident in a Department hospital shall be deemed creditable service for the purposes of section 8332 of title 5 [5 USCS § 8332].
(4) The agreement with such central administrative agency may further provide that the designated central administrative agency shall--
   (A) make all appropriate deductions from the stipend of each intern and resident for local, State, and Federal taxes;
   (B) maintain all records pertinent to such deductions and make proper deposits of such deductions; and
   (C) maintain all records pertinent to the leave accrued by such intern and resident for the period during which such recipient serves in a participating facility, including a Department facility furnishing hospital care or medical services.

(5) Leave described in paragraph (4)(C) may be pooled, and the intern or resident may be afforded leave by the facility in which such person is serving at the time the leave is to be used to the extent of such person's total accumulated leave, whether or not earned at the facility in which such person is serving at the time the leave is to be afforded.

Resident physician participating in psychiatry rotation resident at VA hospital, although receiving no compensation directly from VA hospital, was federal employee within meaning of FTCA; he was treated as such by medical school, by VA hospital, and by 38 USCS § 7406. In suit brought by medical resident against his supervisor and Secretary of Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), alleging that he was discharged from residency program at VA medical center without due process in violation of Fifth Amendment, district court properly dismissed resident's claim for equitable relief, including declaratory judgment, reinstatement, and back pay, because resident had neither guarantee of future employment nor statutory right to appeal any adverse personnel action, and, thus, he did not have constitutionally-protected property interest in his former position; resident was temporary employee, and he was appointed under system that allowed employees to be expeditiously separated from service. § 7422. Collective bargaining

(a) Except as otherwise specifically provided in this title, the authority of the Secretary to prescribe regulations under section 7421 of this title [38 USCS § 7421] is subject to the right of Federal employees to engage in collective bargaining with respect to conditions of employment through representatives chosen by them in accordance with chapter 71 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 7101 et seq.] (relating to labor-management relations).

(b) Such collective bargaining (and any grievance procedures provided under a collective bargaining agreement) in the case of employees described in section 7421(b) of this title [38 USCS § 7421(b)] may not cover, or have any applicability to, any matter or question concerning or arising out of (1) professional conduct or competence, (2) peer review, or (3) the establishment, determination, or adjustment of employee compensation under this title.

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "professional conduct or competence" means any of the following:

(1) Direct patient care.
(2) Clinical competence.

(d) An issue of whether a matter or question concerns or arises out of (1) professional conduct or competence, (2) peer review, or (3) the establishment, determination, or adjustment of employee compensation under this title shall be decided by the Secretary and is not itself subject to collective bargaining and may not be reviewed by any other agency.

Although Secretary has no mandatory duty under CSRA [5 USCS §§ 7101 et seq.] to bargain with nurses over working conditions because Title 38 grants Secretary authority to prescribe working conditions of medical professionals employed by Department, collective bargaining agreement voluntarily entered into with union was enforceable under CSRA so that union’s unfair labor practice petition could be heard. American Federation of Government Employees, Local 3884 v Federal Labor Relations Authority (1991, CA8) 930 F.2d 1315, 137 BNA LRRM 2081

Federal Labor Relations Authority (FLRA) has jurisdiction to determine whether Department of Veterans Affairs failed to comply with 5 USCS § 7114(a)(2)(B) and thereby violated 5 USCS § 7116(a) and (8); 38 USCS § 7422 does not divest FLRA of jurisdiction, because it deals with collective bargaining, and rights contained in § 7114(a)(2)(B) are not tied to collective bargaining. Veterans Administration did not commit unfair labor practice by refusing to disclose information requested by union for processing grievance concerning timeliness of proficiency ratings of unit employees because it concerned matter excluded from parties’ negotiated grievance procedure, pursuant to 38 USCS § 7422, and, further, VA Secretary’s determination that subject is excluded from collective bargaining is not reviewable by Authority. 2. Professional conduct or competence

Union's action against employer for refusal to arbitrate grievance is dismissed, where employer withdrew its declaration that grievance concerned professional conduct or competence and was thus not subject to grievance procedures under 38 USCS § 7422(b), because employer agreed that arbitration could proceed, so union's action was moot. 3. Peer review

Even if representational rights of VA nurses fall within scope of collective bargaining protections of statute, VA's decision to bar union representation in peer review investigation would still fall within peer review exception to bargaining rights which VA employees have. (4) At the same time as rates of basic pay are increased for a year under section 5303 of title 5 [5 USCS § 5303], the Secretary shall increase the amount of base pay payable under this subsection for that year by a percentage equal to the percentage by which rates of basic pay are increased under such section for that year.

(c) Market pay. One element of pay for physicians and dentists shall be market pay. Market pay shall meet the following requirements:

(1) Each physician and dentist is eligible for market pay.

(2) Market pay shall consist of pay intended to reflect the recruitment and retention needs for the specialty or assignment (as defined by the Secretary) of a particular physician or dentist in a facility of the Department of Veterans Affairs.

(3) The annual amount of the market pay payable to a physician or dentist shall be determined by the Secretary on a case-by-case basis.

(A) In determining the amount of market pay for physicians or dentists, the Secretary shall consult two or more national surveys of pay for physicians or dentists, as applicable, whether prepared by private, public, or quasi-public entities in order to make a general assessment of the range of pays payable to physicians or dentists, as applicable.

(B)

(i) In determining the amount of the market pay for a particular physician or dentist under this subsection, and in determining a tier (if any) to apply to a physician or dentist under subsection (e)(1)(B), the Secretary shall consult with and consider the recommendations of an appropriate panel or board composed of physicians or dentists (as applicable).

(ii) A physician or dentist may not be a member of the panel or board that makes recommendations under clause (i) with respect to the market pay of such physician or dentist, as the case may be.

(iii) The Secretary should, to the extent practicable, ensure that a panel or board consulted under this subparagraph includes physicians or dentists (as applicable) who are practicing clinicians and who do not hold management positions in the medical facility of the Department at which the physician or dentist subject to the consultation is employed.

(5) The determination of the amount of market pay of a physician or dentist shall take into account-

(A) the level of experience of the physician or dentist in the specialty or assignment of the physician or dentist;

(B) the need for the specialty or assignment of the physician or dentist at the medical facility of the Department concerned;

(C) the health care labor market for the specialty or assignment of the physician or dentist, which may cover any geographic area the Secretary considers appropriate for the specialty or assignment;

(D) the board certifications, if any, of the physician or dentist;

(E) the prior experience, if any, of the physician or dentist as an employee of the Veterans Health Administration; and

(F) such other considerations as the Secretary considers appropriate.
(6) The amount of market pay of a physician or dentist shall be evaluated by the Secretary not less often than once every 24 months. The amount of market pay may be adjusted as the result of an evaluation under this paragraph. A physician or dentist whose market pay is evaluated under this paragraph shall receive written notice of the results of such evaluation in accordance with procedures prescribed under section 7433 of this title [38 USCS § 7433].

(7) No adjustment of the amount of market pay of a physician or dentist under paragraph (6) may result in a reduction of the amount of market pay of the physician or dentist while in the same position or assignment at the medical facility of the Department concerned.

d) Performance pay.

(1) One element of pay for physicians and dentists shall be performance pay.

(2) Performance pay shall be paid to a physician or dentist on the basis of the physician's or dentist's achievement of specific goals and performance objectives prescribed by the Secretary.

(3) The Secretary shall ensure that each physician and dentist of the Department is advised of the specific goals or objectives that are to be measured by the Secretary in determining the eligibility of that physician or dentist for performance pay.

(4) The amount of the performance pay payable to a physician or dentist may vary annually on the basis of individual achievement or attainment of the goals or objectives applicable to the physician or dentist under paragraph (2).

(5) The amount of performance pay payable to a physician or dentist in a fiscal year shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary, but may not exceed the lower of-

(A) $15,000; or

(B) the amount equal to 7.5 percent of the sum of the base pay and the market pay payable to such physician or dentist in that fiscal year.

(6) A failure to meet goals or objectives applicable to a physician or dentist under paragraph (2) may not be the sole basis for an adverse personnel action against that physician or dentist.

e) Requirements and limitations on total pay.

(1) (A) Not less often than once every two years, the Secretary shall prescribe for Department-wide applicability the minimum and maximum amounts of annual pay that may be paid under this section to physicians and the minimum and maximum amounts of annual pay that may be paid under this section to dentists.

(B) The Secretary may prescribe for Department-wide applicability under this paragraph separate minimum and maximum amounts of pay for a specialty or assignment. If the Secretary prescribes separate minimum and maximum amounts for a specialty or assignment, the Secretary may establish up to four tiers of minimum and maximum amounts for such specialty or assignment and prescribe for each tier a minimum amount and a maximum amount that the Secretary determines appropriate for the professional responsibilities, professional achievements, and administrative duties of the physicians or dentists (as the case may be) whose pay is set within that tier.
(C) Amounts prescribed under this paragraph shall be published in the Federal Register, and shall not take effect until at least 60 days after the date of publication.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3) and subject to paragraph (4), the sum of the total amount of the annual rate of base pay payable to a physician or dentist under subsection (b) and the market pay determined for the physician or dentist under subsection (c) may not be less than the minimum amount, nor more than the maximum amount, applicable to specialty or assignment of the physician or dentist under paragraph (1).

(3) The sum of the total amount of the annual rate of base pay payable to a physician or dentist under subsection (b) and the market pay determined for the physician or dentist under subsection (c) may exceed the maximum amount applicable to the specialty or assignment of the physician or dentist under paragraph (1) as a result of an adjustment under paragraph (3) or (4) of subsection (b).

(4) In no case may the total amount of compensation paid to a physician or dentist under this title in any year exceed the amount of annual compensation (excluding expenses) specified in section 102 of title 3 [3 USCS § 102].

(f) Treatment of pay. Pay under subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall be considered pay for all purposes, including retirement benefits under chapters 83 and 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8301 et seq. and 8401 et seq.] and other benefits.

(g) Ancillary effects of decreases in pay.
   (1) A decrease in pay of a physician or dentist resulting from an adjustment in the amount of market pay of the physician or dentist under subsection (c) shall not be treated as an adverse action.
   (2) If the pay of a physician or dentist is reduced under this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 7431 et seq.] as a result of an involuntary reassignment in connection with a disciplinary action taken against the physician or dentist, the involuntary reassignment shall be subject to appeal under subchapter V of this chapter [38 USCS §§ 7461 et seq.].

SUBCHAPTER IV. PAY FOR NURSES AND OTHER HEALTH-CARE PERSONNEL

§ 7451. Nurses and other health-care personnel: competitive pay
§ 7452. Nurses and other health-care personnel: administration of pay
§ 7453. Nurses: additional pay
§ 7454. Physician assistants and other health care professionals: additional pay § 7455. Increases in rates of basic pay
§ 7456. Nurses: special rules for weekend duty
§ 7456A. Nurses: alternate work schedules
§ 7457. On-call pay
§ 7458. Recruitment and retention bonus pay

§ 7451. Nurses and other health-care personnel: competitive pay
(a) (1) It is the purpose of this section to ensure, by a means providing increased responsibility and authority to directors of Department health-care facilities, that the rates of basic pay for health-care personnel positions described in paragraph (2) in each Department health-care facility (including the rates of basic pay of personnel employed in such positions on a part-time basis) are sufficient for that facility to be competitive, on the basis of pay and other employee benefits, with non-Department health-care facilities in the same labor-market area in the recruitment and retention of qualified personnel for those positions.

(2) The health-care personnel positions referred to in paragraph (1)(hereinafter in this section referred to as "covered positions") are the following:
   (A) Registered nurse.
   (B) Such positions referred to in paragraphs (1) and (3) of section 7401 of this title [38 USCS § 7401] (other than the positions of physician, dentist, and registered nurse) as the Secretary may determine upon the recommendation of the Under Secretary for Health.

(3) (A) Except as provided in subparagraph (b), the rates of basic pay for covered positions in the Department shall be established and adjusted in accordance with this section instead of subsection (b)(1) of section 7404 of this title [38 USCS § 7404] or chapter 53 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 5301 et seq.].
   (B) Under such regulations as the Secretary shall prescribe, the Secretary shall establish and adjust the rates of basic pay for covered positions at the following health-care facilities in order to provide rates of basic pay that enable the Secretary to recruit and retain sufficient numbers of health-care personnel in such positions at those facilities:
      (i) The Veterans Memorial Medical Center in the Republic of the Philippines.
      (ii) Department of Veterans Affairs health-care facilities located outside the contiguous States, Alaska, and Hawaii.

(4) The Secretary, after receiving the recommendation of the Under Secretary for Health, shall prescribe regulations setting forth criteria and procedures to carry out this section and section 7452 of this title [38 USCS § 7452]. Requirements in such regulations for directors to provide and maintain documentation of actions taken under this section shall require no more documentation than the minimum essential for responsible administration.

(b) The Secretary shall maintain the five grade levels for nurses employed by the Department under section 7401(1) of this title [38 USCS § 7401(1)] as specified in the Nurse Schedule in section 7404(b) of this title [38 USCS § 7404(b)]. The Secretary shall, pursuant to regulations prescribed to carry out this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 7451 et seq.], establish grades for other covered positions as the Secretary considers appropriate.

(c) (1) For each grade in a covered position, there shall be a range of basic pay. The maximum rate of basic pay for a grade shall be 133 percent of the minimum rate of basic pay for the grade, except that, if the Secretary determines that a higher maximum rate is necessary with respect to any such grade in order to recruit and retain a sufficient number of high-quality health-care personnel, the Secretary may raise the maximum rate of basic pay for that grade to a rate not in excess of 175 percent of the minimum rate of basic pay for the grade. Whenever the Secretary exercises the authority under the preceding sentence to establish the maximum rate of basic pay at a rate in excess of 133 percent of the minimum rate for that grade, the Secretary shall, in the next annual report required by subsection (g), provide justification for doing so to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives.

(2) The maximum rate of basic pay for any grade for a covered position may not exceed the maximum rate of basic pay established for positions in level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of title 5 [5 USCS § 5316].

(3) The range of basic pay for each such grade shall be divided into equal increments, known as "steps". The Secretary shall prescribe the number of steps. Each grade in a covered position shall have the same number of steps. Rates of pay within a grade may not be established at rates other than whole steps. Any increase (other than an adjustment under subsection (d)) within a grade in the rate of basic pay payable to an employee in a covered position shall be by one or more of such step increments.

(d) (1) Subject to subsection (e), the rates of basic pay for each grade in a covered position shall be adjusted periodically in accordance with this subsection in order to achieve the purposes of this section. Such adjustments shall be made--

A whenever there is an adjustment under section 5303 of title 5 [5 USCS § 5303] in the rates of pay under the General Schedule, with the adjustment under this subsection to have the same effective date and to be by the same percentage as the adjustment in the rates of basic pay under the General Schedule; and

B at such additional times as the director of a Department health-care facility, with respect to employees in that grade at that facility, or the Under Secretary for Health, with respect to covered Regional and Central Office employees in that grade, determines.

(2) An adjustment in rates of basic pay under this subsection for a grade shall be carried out by adjusting the amount of the minimum rate of basic pay for that grade in accordance with paragraph (3) and then adjusting the other rates for that grade to conform to the requirements of subsection (c). Except as provided in paragraph (1)(A), such an adjustment in the minimum rate of basic pay for a grade shall be made by the director of a Department health-care facility so as to achieve consistency with the beginning rate of compensation for corresponding health-care professionals in the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) labor-market area of that facility.

(3) (A) In the case of a Department health-care facility located in an area for which there is current information, based upon an industry-wage survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for that labor market, on compensation for corresponding health-care professionals for the BLS labor-market area of that facility, the director of the facility concerned shall use that information as the basis for making adjustments in rates of pay under this subsection. Whenever the Bureau of Labor Statistics releases the results of a new industry-wage survey for that labor market that includes information on compensation for corresponding health-care professionals, the director of that facility shall determine, not later than 30 days after the results of the survey are released, whether an adjustment in rates of pay for employees at that facility for any covered position is necessary in order to meet the purposes of this section. If the director determines that such an adjustment is necessary, the adjustment, based upon the information determined in the survey, shall take effect on the first day of the first pay period beginning after that determination.

(B) In the case of a Department health-care facility located in an area for which the Bureau of Labor Statistics does not have current information on compensation for corresponding health-care professionals for the labor-market area of that facility for any covered position, the director of that facility shall conduct a survey in accordance with this subparagraph and shall adjust the amount of the minimum rate of basic pay for grades in that covered position at that facility based upon that survey. To the extent practicable, the director shall use third-party industry wage surveys to meet the requirements of the preceding sentence. Any such survey shall be conducted in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary. Those regulations shall be developed in consultation with the Secretary of Labor in order to ensure that the director of a facility collects information that is valid and reliable and is consistent with standards of the Bureau. The survey should be conducted using methodology comparable to that used by the Bureau in making industry-wage surveys except to the extent determined infeasible by the Secretary. To the extent practicable, all surveys conducted pursuant to this subparagraph or subparagraph (A) shall include the collection of salary midpoints, actual salaries, lowest and highest salaries, average salaries, bonuses, incentive pays, differential pays, actual beginning rates of pay, and such other information needed to meet the purpose of this section. Upon conducting a survey under this subparagraph, the director concerned shall determine, not later than 30 days after the date on which the collection of information through the survey is completed or published, whether an adjustment in rates of pay for employees at that facility for any covered position is necessary in order to meet the purposes of this section. If the director determines that such an adjustment is necessary, the adjustment, based upon the information determined in the survey, shall take effect on the first day of the first pay period beginning after that determination.

(C) (i) A director of a Department health-care facility may use data on the compensation paid to certified registered nurse anesthetists who are employed on a salary basis by entities that provide anesthesia services through certified registered nurse anesthetists in the labor-market area only if the director--

(I) has conducted a survey of compensation for certified registered nurse anesthetists in the local labor-market area of the facility under subparagraph (B);

(II) has used all available administrative authority with regard to collection of survey data; and

(III) makes a determination (under regulations prescribed by the Secretary) that such survey methods are insufficient to permit the adjustments referred to in subparagraph (B) for such nurse anesthetists employed by the facility.

(ii) For the purposes of this subparagraph, certified registered nurse anesthetists who are so employed by such entities shall be deemed to be corresponding health-care professionals to the certified registered nurse anesthetists employed by the facility.

(iii) [Deleted]

(D) The Under Secretary for Health shall prescribe regulations providing for the adjustment of the rates of basic pay for Regional and Central Office employees in covered positions in order to assure that those rates are sufficient and competitive.
(E) The director of a facility or Under Secretary for Health may not adjust rates of basic pay under this subsection for any pay grade so that the minimum rate of basic pay for that grade is greater than the beginning rates of compensation for corresponding positions at non-Department health-care facilities.

(4) If the director of a Department health-care facility, or the Under Secretary for Health with respect to Regional and Central Office employees, determines, after any survey under paragraph (3)(B), that it is not necessary to adjust the rates of basic pay for employees in a grade of a covered position at that facility in order to carry out the purpose of this section, such an adjustment for employees at that facility in that grade shall not be made.

(5) Information collected by the Department in surveys conducted under this subsection is not subject to disclosure under section 552 of title 5 [5 USCS § 552].

(6) In this subsection--

(A) The term "beginning rate of compensation", with respect to health-care personnel positions in non-Department health-care facilities corresponding to a grade of a covered position, means the sum of--

(i) the minimum rate of pay established for personnel in such positions who have education, training, and experience equivalent or similar to the education, training, and experience required for health-care personnel employed in the same category of Department covered positions; and

(ii) other employee benefits for those positions to the extent that those benefits are reasonably quantifiable.

(B) The term "corresponding", with respect to health-care personnel positions in non-Department health-care facilities, means those positions for which the education, training, and experience requirements are equivalent or similar to the education, training, and experience requirements for health-care personnel positions in Department health-care facilities.

(e) (1) An adjustment in a rate of basic pay under subsection (d) may not reduce the rate of basic pay applicable to any grade of a covered position.

(2) The director of a Department health-care facility, in determining whether to carry out a wage survey under subsection (d)(3) with respect to rates of basic pay for a grade of a covered position, may not consider as a factor in such determination the absence of a current recruitment or retention problem for personnel in that grade of that position. The director shall make such a determination based upon whether, in accordance with criteria established by the Secretary, there is a significant pay-related staffing problem at that facility in any grade for a position. If the director determines that there is such a problem, or that such a problem is likely to exist in the near future, the Director shall provide for a wage survey in accordance with subsection (d)(3).

(3) The Under Secretary for Health may, to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of subsection (d), modify any determination made by the director of a Department health-care facility with respect to adjusting the rates of basic pay applicable to covered positions. If the determination of the director would result in an adjustment in rates of basic pay applicable to covered positions, any action by the Under Secretary under the preceding sentence shall be made before the effective date of such pay adjustment. Upon such action by the Under Secretary, any adjustment shall take effect on the first day of the first pay period beginning after such action.
The Secretary shall ensure that the Under Secretary establishes a mechanism for the timely exercise of the authority in this paragraph.

(4) Each director of a Department health-care facility shall provide to the Secretary, not later than July 31 each year, a report on staffing for covered positions at that facility. The report shall include the following:
   (A) Information on turnover rates and vacancy rates for each covered position, including a comparison of those rates with the rates for the preceding three years.
   (B) The director's findings concerning the review and evaluation of the facility's staffing situation, including whether there is, or is likely to be, in accordance with criteria established by the Secretary, a significant pay-related staffing problem at that facility for any covered position and, if so, whether a wage survey was conducted, or will be conducted with respect to that position.
   (C) In any case in which the director conducts such a wage survey during the period covered by the report, information describing the survey and any actions taken or not taken based on the survey, and the reasons for taking (or not taking) such actions.
   (D) In any case in which the director, after finding that there is, or is likely to be, in accordance with criteria established by the Secretary, a significant pay-related staffing problem at that facility for any covered position, determines not to conduct a wage survey with respect to that position, a statement of the reasons why the director did not conduct such a survey.

(5) Not later than September 30 of each year, the Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report on staffing for covered positions at Department health care facilities. Each such report shall include the following:
   (A) A summary and analysis of the information contained in the most recent reports submitted by facility directors under paragraph (4).
   (B) The information for each such facility specified in paragraph (4).

(f) Not later than March 1 of each year, the Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives a report regarding any pay adjustments under the authority of subsection (d) effective during the 12 months preceding the submission of the report. Each such report shall set forth, by health-care facility, the percentage of such increases and, in any case in which no increase was made, the basis for not providing an increase.

(g) For the purposes of this section, the term "health-care facility" means a medical center, an independent outpatient clinic, or an independent domiciliary facility.

(2) A nurse serving in a head nurse position shall while so serving receive basic pay at a rate two step increments above the rate that would otherwise be applicable to the nurse. If such a nurse is in the highest or next-to-highest step for that nurse's grade, the preceding sentence shall be applied by extrapolation to create additional steps only for the purposes of this paragraph. The limitation in section 7451(c)(1) of this title [38 USCS § 7451(c)(1)] shall not apply with respect to increased basic pay under this paragraph.

(3) An employee in a covered position who is promoted to the next higher grade shall be paid in that grade at a step having a rate of basic pay that is greater than the rate of basic pay applicable to the employee in a covered position on the day before the effective date of the promotion.

(b) (1) Under regulations which the Secretary prescribes for the administration of this section, the director of a Department health-care facility (A) shall pay a cash bonus (in an amount to be determined by the director not to exceed $2,000) to an employee in a covered position at that facility who becomes certified in a specialty recognized by the Department, and (B) may provide such a bonus to an employee in such a position who has demonstrated both exemplary job performance and exemplary job achievement. The authority of the Secretary under this subsection is in addition to any other authority of the Secretary to provide job performance incentives.

(2) The Secretary shall include in the annual report under section 7451(g) of this title [38 USCS § 7451(g)] a discussion of the use during the period covered by the report of the payment of bonuses under this subsection and other job performance incentives available to the Secretary.

(c) (1) The Secretary shall provide (in regulations prescribed for the administration of this section) that the director of a Department health-care facility, in making a new appointment of a person under section 7401(1) of this title [38 USCS § 7401(1)] as an employee in a covered position for employment at that facility, may make that appointment at a rate of pay described in paragraph (3) without being subject to a requirement for prior approval at any higher level of authority within the Department in any case in which the director determines that it is necessary to do so in order to obtain the services of employees in covered positions in cases in which vacancies exist at that health-care facility.

(2) Such a determination may be made by the director of a health-care facility only in order to recruit employees in covered positions with specialized skills, especially employees with skills which are especially difficult or demanding.
(3) A rate of pay referred to in paragraph (1) is a rate of basic pay in excess of the minimum rate of basic pay applicable to the grade in which the appointment is made (but not in excess of the maximum rate of basic pay for that grade).
(4) Whenever the director of a health-care facility makes an appointment described in paragraph (1) without prior approval at a higher level of authority within the Department, the director shall--
   (A) state in a document the reasons for employing the employee in a covered position at a rate of pay in excess of the minimum rate of basic pay applicable to the grade in which the employee is appointed (and retain that document on file); and
   (B) in the first budget documents submitted to the Secretary by the director after the employee is employed, include documentation for the need for such increased rates of basic pay described in clause (A).
(5) Whenever the director of a health-care facility makes an appointment described in paragraph (1) on the basis of a determination described in paragraph (2), the covered employee appointed may continue to receive pay at a rate higher than that which would otherwise be applicable to that employee only so long as the employee continues to serve in a position requiring the specialized skills with respect to which the determination was made.

(d) Whenever the director of a health-care facility makes an appointment described in subsection (c)(1), the director may (without a regard to any requirement for prior approval at any higher level of authority within the Department) increase the rate of pay of other employees in the same covered position at that facility who are in the grade in which the appointment is made and are serving in a position requiring the specialized skills with respect to which the determination under subsection (c)(2) concerning the appointment was made. Any such increase shall continue in effect with respect to any employee only so long as the employee continues to serve in such a position.
(e) An employee in a covered position employed under section 7401(1) of this title [38 USCS § 7401(1)] who (without a break in employment) transfers from one Department health-care facility to another may not be reduced in grade or step within grade (except pursuant to a disciplinary action otherwise authorized by law) if the duties of the position to which the employee transfers are similar to the duties of the position from which the employee transferred. The rate of basic pay of such employee shall be established at the new health-care facility in a manner consistent with the practices at that facility for an employee of that grade and step, except that in the case of an employee whose transfer (other than pursuant to a disciplinary action otherwise authorized by law) to another health-care facility is at the request of the Secretary, the Secretary may provide that for at least the first year following such transfer the employee shall be paid at a rate of basic pay up to the rate applicable to such employee before the transfer, if the Secretary determines that such rate of pay is necessary to fill the position. Whenever the Secretary exercises the authority under the preceding sentence relating to the rate of basic pay of a transferred employee, the Secretary shall, in the next annual report required under section 7451(g) of this title [38 USCS § 7451(g)], provide justification for doing so.

(A) Each Department health care facility.

(B) The Central Office.

(2) The amount of special pay paid to a nurse executive under paragraph (1) shall be not less than $10,000 or more than $25,000.

(3) The amount of special pay paid to a nurse executive under paragraph (1) shall be based on factors such as the grade of the nurse executive position, the scope and complexity of the nurse executive position, the personal qualifications of the nurse executive, the characteristics of the health care facility concerned, the nature and number of specialty care units at the health care facility concerned, demonstrated difficulties in recruitment and retention of nurse executives at the health care facility concerned, and such other factors as the Secretary considers appropriate.

(4) Special pay paid to a nurse executive under paragraph (1) shall be in addition to any other pay (including basic pay) and allowances to which the nurse executive is entitled, and shall be considered pay for all purposes, including retirement benefits under chapters 83 and 84 of title 5 [5 USCS §§ 8301 et seq. and 8401 et seq.], and other benefits, but shall not be considered basic pay for purposes of adverse actions under subchapter V of this chapter [38 USCS §§ 7461 et seq.].

In suit brought by medical resident against his supervisor and Secretary of Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), alleging that he was discharged from residency program at VA medical center without due process in violation of Fifth Amendment, district court properly dismissed resident's Bivens claim for money damages because such claim was barred by remedial provisions of Title 38, which excluded resident from remedial processes afforded to permanent VA employees; thus, it would thwart will of Congress to allow resident to bring such action when permanent VA physicians, who were provided limited remedies in Title 38, could not. In suit brought by medical resident against his supervisor and Secretary of Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), alleging that he was discharged from residency program at VA medical center without due process in violation of Fifth Amendment, district court properly dismissed resident's claim for equitable relief, including declaratory judgment, reinstatement, and back pay, because resident had neither guarantee of future employment nor statutory right to appeal any adverse personnel action, and, thus, he did not have constitutionally-protected property interest in his former position; resident was temporary employee, and he was appointed under system that allowed employees to be expeditiously separated from service. § 7462. Major adverse actions involving professional conduct or competence

(a) (1) Disciplinary Appeals Boards appointed under section 7464 of this title [38 USCS § 7464] shall have exclusive jurisdiction to review any case--
(A) which arises out of (or which includes) a question of professional conduct or competence of a section 7401(1) [38 USCS § 7401(1)] employee; and
(B) in which a major adverse action was taken.

(2) The board shall include in its record of decision in any mixed case a statement of the board's exclusive jurisdiction under this subsection and the basis for such exclusive jurisdiction.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (2), a mixed case is a case that includes both a major adverse action arising out of a question of professional conduct or competence and an adverse action which is not a major adverse action or which does not arise out of a question of professional conduct or competence.

(b) (1) In any case in which charges are brought against a section 7401(1) [38 USCS § 7401(1)] employee which arises out of, or includes, a question of professional conduct or competence which could result in a major adverse action, the employee is entitled to the following:
   (A) At least 30 days advance written notice from the Under Secretary for Health or other charging official specifically stating the basis for each charge, the adverse actions that could be taken if the charges are sustained, and a statement of any specific law, regulation, policy, procedure, practice, or other specific instruction that has been violated with respect to each charge, except that the requirement for notification in advance may be waived if there is reasonable cause to believe that the employee has committed a crime for which the employee may be imprisoned.
   (B) A reasonable time, but not less than seven days, to present an answer orally and in writing to the Under Secretary for Health or other deciding official, who shall be an official higher in rank than the charging official, and to submit affidavits and other documentary evidence in support of the answer.

(2) In any case described in paragraph (1), the employee is entitled to be represented by an attorney or other representative of the employee's choice at all stages of the case.

(3) (A) If a proposed adverse action covered by this section is not withdrawn, the deciding official shall render a decision in writing within 21 days of receipt by the deciding official of the employee's answer. The decision shall include a statement of the specific reasons for the decision with respect to each charge. If a major adverse action is imposed, the decision shall state whether any of the charges sustained arose out of a question of professional conduct or competence. If any of the charges are sustained, the notice of the decision to the employee shall include notice of the employee's rights of appeal.
   (B) Notwithstanding the 21-day period specified in subparagraph (A), a proposed adverse action may be held in abeyance if the employee requests, and the deciding official agrees, that the employee shall seek counseling or treatment for a condition covered under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 [29 USCS §§ 701 et seq.]. Any such abeyance of a proposed action may not extend for more than one year.

(4) (A) The Secretary may require that any answer and submission under paragraph (1)(B) be submitted so as to be received within 30 days of the date of the written notice of the charges, except that the Secretary shall allow the granting of extensions for good cause shown.
(B) The Secretary shall require that any appeal to a Disciplinary Appeals Board from a decision to impose a major adverse action shall be received within 30 days after the date of service of the written decision on the employee.

(c) (1) When a Disciplinary Appeals Board convenes to consider an appeal in a case under this section, the board, before proceeding to consider the merits of the appeal, shall determine whether the case is properly before it.

(2) Upon hearing such an appeal, the board shall, with respect to each charge appealed to the board, sustain the charge, dismiss the charge, or sustain the charge in part and dismiss the charge in part. If the deciding official is sustained (in whole or in part) with respect to any such charge, the board shall--

(A) approve the action as imposed;
(B) approve the action with modification, reduction, or exception; or
(C) reverse the action.

(3) A board shall afford an employee appealing an adverse action under this section an opportunity for an oral hearing. If such a hearing is held, the board shall provide the employee with a transcript of the hearing.

(4) The board shall render a decision in any case within 45 days of completion of the hearing, if there is a hearing, and in any event no later than 120 days after the appeal commenced.

(d) (1) After resolving any question as to whether a matter involves professional conduct or competence, the Secretary shall cause to be executed the decision of the Disciplinary Appeals Board in a timely manner and in any event in not more than 90 days after the decision of the Board is received by the Secretary. Pursuant to the board's decision, the Secretary may order reinstatement, award back pay, and provide such other remedies as the board found appropriate relating directly to the proposed action, including expungement of records relating to the action.

(2) If the Secretary finds a decision of the board to be clearly contrary to the evidence or unlawful, the Secretary may--

(A) reverse the decision of the board, or
(B) vacate the decision of the board and remand the matter to the Board for further consideration.

(3) If the Secretary finds the decision of the board (while not clearly contrary to the evidence or unlawful) to be not justified by the nature of the charges, the Secretary may mitigate the adverse action imposed.

(4) The Secretary's execution of a board's decision shall be the final administrative action in the case.

(e) The Secretary may designate an employee of the Department to represent management in any case before a Disciplinary Appeals Board.

(f) (1) A section 7401(1) [38 USCS § 7401(1)] employee adversely affected by a final order or decision of a Disciplinary Appeals Board (as reviewed by the Secretary) may obtain judicial review of the order or decision.

(2) In any case in which judicial review is sought under this subsection, the court shall review the record and hold unlawful and set aside any agency action, finding, or conclusion found to be--
(A) arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law;
(B) obtained without procedures required by law, rule, or regulation having been followed; or
(C) unsupported by substantial evidence.

§ 7464. Disciplinary Appeals Boards

(a) The Secretary shall from time to time appoint boards to hear appeals of major adverse actions described in section 7462 of this title [38 USCS § 7462]. Such boards shall be known as Disciplinary Appeals Boards. Each board shall consist of three employees of the Department, each of whom shall be of the same grade as, or be senior in grade to, the employee who is appealing an adverse action. At least two of the members of each board shall be employed in the same category of position as the employee who is appealing the adverse action. Members of a board shall be appointed from individuals on the panel established under subsection (d).

(b) (1) In appointing a board for any case, the Secretary shall designate one of the members to be chairman and one of the members to be secretary of the board, each of whom shall have authority to administer oaths.

(c) (1) Notwithstanding sections 5701 and 7332 of this title [38 USCS §§ 5701 and 7332], the chairman of a board, upon request of an employee whose case is under consideration by the board (or a representative of that employee) may, in connection with the considerations of the board, review records or information covered by those sections and may authorize the disclosure of such records or information to that employee (or representative) to the extent the board considers appropriate for purposes of the proceedings of the board in that case.

(2) In any such case the board chairman may direct that measures be taken to protect the personal privacy of individuals whose records are involved. Any person who uses or discloses a record or information covered by this subsection for any purpose other than in connection with the proceedings of the board shall be fined not more than $5,000 in the case of a first offense and not more than $20,000 in the case of a subsequent offense.

(d) (1) The Secretary shall provide for the periodic designation of employees of the Department who are qualified to serve on Disciplinary Appeals Boards. Those employees shall constitute the panel from which board members in a case are appointed. The Secretary shall provide (without charge) a list of the names of employees on the panel to any person requesting such list.

(2) The Secretary shall announce periodically, and not less often than annually, that the roster of employees on the panel is available as described in paragraph (1). Such announcement shall be made at Department medical facilities and through publication in the Federal Register. Notice of a name being on the list must be provided at least 30 days before the individual selected may serve on a Board or as a grievance examiner. Employees, employee organizations, and other interested parties may submit comments to the Secretary concerning the suitability for service on the panel of any employee whose name is on the list.

(3) The Secretary shall provide training in the functions and duties of Disciplinary Appeals Boards and grievance procedures under section 7463 of this title [38 USCS § 7463] for employees selected to be on the panel.

§ 8110. Operation of medical facilities

(a) (1) The Secretary shall establish the total number of hospital beds and nursing home beds in medical facilities over which the Secretary has direct jurisdiction for the care and treatment of eligible veterans. The Secretary shall establish the total number of such beds so as to maintain a contingency capacity to assist the Department of Defense in time of war or national emergency to care for the casualties of such war or national emergency. Of the number of beds authorized pursuant to the preceding sentence, the Secretary shall maintain the availability of such additional beds and facilities in addition to the operating bed level as the Secretary considers necessary for such contingency purposes. The President shall include in the Budget transmitted to the Congress for each fiscal year pursuant to section 1105 of title 31 [31 USCS § 1105], an amount for medical care and amounts for construction sufficient to maintain the availability of the contingency capacity referred to in the second sentence of this paragraph. The Secretary shall staff and maintain, in such a manner as to ensure the immediate acceptance and timely and complete care of patients, and in a manner consistent with the policies of the Secretary on overtime, sufficient beds and other treatment capacities to accommodate, and provide such care to, eligible veterans applying for admission and found to be in need of hospital care or medical services.

(2) The Secretary shall maintain the bed and treatment capacities of all Department medical facilities, including the staffing required to maintain such capacities, so as to ensure the accessibility and availability of such beds and treatment capacities to eligible veterans in all States, to minimize delays in admissions and in the provision of hospital, nursing home, and domiciliary care, and of medical services furnished pursuant to section 1710(a) of this title [38 USCS § 1710(a)], and to ensure that eligible veterans are provided such care and services in an appropriate manner.

(3) (A) The Under Secretary for Health shall at the end of each fiscal year (i) analyze agencywide admission policies and the records of those eligible veterans who apply for hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care, but are rejected or not immediately admitted or provided such care or services, and (ii) review and make recommendations regarding the adequacy of staff levels for compliance with the policy established under subparagraph (C), the adequacy of the established operating bed levels, the geographic distribution of operating beds, the demographic characteristics of the veteran population and the associated need for medical care and nursing home facilities and services in each State, and the proportion of the total number of operating beds that are hospital beds and that are nursing home beds.

(B) After considering the analyses and recommendations of the Under Secretary for Health pursuant to subparagraph (A) of this paragraph for any fiscal year, the Secretary shall report to the committees, on or before December 1 after the close of such fiscal year, on the results of the analysis of the Under Secretary for Health and on the numbers of operating beds and level of treatment capacities required to enable the Department to carry out the primary function of the Veterans Health Administration. The Secretary shall include in each such report recommendations for (i) the numbers of operating beds and the level of treatment capacities required for the health care of veterans and the maintenance of the contingency capacity referred to in paragraph (1) of this subsection, and (ii) the appropriate staffing and funds therefor.

(C) The Secretary shall, in consultation with the Under Secretary for Health, establish a nationwide policy on the staffing of Department medical facilities in order to ensure that such facilities have adequate staff for the provision to veterans of appropriate, high-quality care and services. The policy shall take into account the staffing levels and mixture of staff skills required for the range of care and services provided veterans in Department facilities.

(4) (A) With respect to each law making appropriations for the Department for any fiscal year (or any part of a fiscal year), there shall be provided to the Department the funded personnel ceiling defined in subparagraph (C) of this paragraph and the funds appropriated therefor.

(B) In order to carry out the provisions of subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall, with respect to each such law (i) provide to the Department for the fiscal year (or part of a fiscal year) concerned such funded personnel ceiling and the funds necessary to achieve such ceiling, and (ii) submit to the appropriate committees of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States certification that the Director has so provided such ceiling. Not later than the thirtieth day after the enactment of such a law or, in the event of the enactment of such a law more than thirty days prior to the fiscal year for which such law makes such appropriations, not later than the tenth day of such fiscal year, the certification required in the first sentence of this subparagraph shall be submitted, together with a report containing complete information on the personnel ceiling that the Director has provided to the Department for the employees described in subparagraph (C) of this paragraph.

(C) For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "funded personnel ceiling" means, with respect to any fiscal year (or part of a fiscal year), the authorization by the Director of the Office of Management and Budget to employ (under the appropriation accounts for medical care, medical and prosthetic research, and medical administration and miscellaneous operating expenses) not less than the number of employees for the employment of which appropriations have been made for such fiscal year (or part of a fiscal year).

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of this title or of any other law, funds appropriated for the Department under the appropriation accounts for medical care, medical and prosthetic research, and medical administration and miscellaneous operating expenses may not be used for, and no employee compensated from such funds may carry out any activity in connection with, the conduct of any study comparing the cost of the provision by private contractors with the cost of the provision by the Department of commercial or industrial products and services for the Veterans Health Administration unless such funds have been specifically appropriated for that purpose.
(6) (A) Temporary research personnel of the Veterans Health Administration shall be excluded from any ceiling on full-time equivalent employees of the Department or any other personnel ceiling otherwise applicable to employees of the Department.

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the term "temporary research personnel" means personnel who are employed in the Veterans Health Administration in other than a career appointment for work on a research activity and who are not paid by the Department or are paid from funds appropriated to the Department to support such activity.

(b) When the Secretary determines, in accordance with regulations which the Secretary shall prescribe, that a Department facility serves a substantial number of veterans with limited English-speaking ability, the Secretary shall establish and implement procedures, upon the recommendation of the Under Secretary for Health, to ensure the identification of sufficient numbers of individuals on such facility's staff who are fluent in both the language most appropriate to such veterans and in English and whose responsibilities shall include providing guidance to such veterans and to appropriate Department staff members with respect to cultural sensitivities and bridging linguistic and cultural differences.

(c) The Secretary shall include in the materials submitted to Congress each year in support of the budget of the Department for the next fiscal year a report on activities and proposals involving contracting for performance by contractor personnel of work previously performed by Department employees. The report shall--

(1) identify those specific activities that are currently performed at a Department facility by more than 10 Department employees which the Secretary proposes to study for possible contracting involving conversion from performance by Department employees to performance by employees of a contractor; and

(2) identify those specific activities that have been contracted for performance by contractor employees during the prior fiscal year (shown by location, subject, scope of contracts, and savings) and shall describe the effect of such contracts on the quality of delivery of health services during such year.

(d) The Secretary may not in any fiscal year close more than 50 percent of the beds within a bed section (of 20 or more beds) of a Department medical center unless the Secretary first submits to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives a report providing a justification for the closure. No action to carry out such closure may be taken after the submission of such report until the end of the 21-day period beginning on the date of the submission of the report.

(e) The Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and the House of Representatives, not later than January 20 of each year, a report documenting by network for the preceding fiscal year the following:

(1) The number of medical service and surgical service beds, respectively, that were closed during that fiscal year and, for each such closure, a description of the changes in delivery of services that allowed such closure to occur.

(2) The number of nursing home beds that were the subject of a mission change during that fiscal year and the nature of each such mission change.
(f) For purposes of this section:

1. The term "closure", with respect to beds in a medical center, means ceasing to provide staffing for, and to operate, those beds. Such term includes converting the provision of such bed care from care in a Department facility to care under contract arrangements.

2. The term "bed section", with respect to a medical center, means psychiatric beds (including beds for treatment of substance abuse and post-traumatic stress disorder), intermediate, neurology, and rehabilitation medicine beds, extended care (other than nursing home) beds, and domiciliary beds.

3. The term "justification", with respect to closure of beds, means a written report that includes the following:
   (A) An explanation of the reasons for the determination that the closure is appropriate and advisable.
   (B) A description of the changes in the functions to be carried out and the means by which such care and services would continue to be provided to eligible veterans.
   (C) A description of the anticipated effects of the closure on veterans and on their access to care.

"(C) Identify and assess further opportunities for the coordination and sharing of health care resources between the Departments that, in the judgment of the Committee, would not adversely affect the range of services, the quality of care, or the established priorities for care provided by either Department.

"(D) Review the plans of both Departments for the acquisition of additional health care resources, especially new facilities and major equipment and technology, in order to assess the potential effect of such plans on further opportunities for the coordination and sharing of health care resources.

The cost of any care or services provided by the Department under subsection (a) of this section shall be reimbursed to the Department by the Department of Defense at such rates as may be agreed upon by the Secretary and the Secretary of Defense based on the cost of the care or services provided.

Amounts received under this subsection shall be credited to funds allotted to the Department facility that provided the care or services.

The Secretary of Veterans Affairs and the Secretary of Defense shall jointly review plans for the implementation of this section not less often than annually.

Whenever a modification to such plans is agreed to, the Secretaries shall jointly submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of

(b) (1) A health-care item for use by the Department may be procured under a local contract if--

(A) the procurement is within the limits prescribed in paragraph (3) of this subsection; and

(B) (i) the item is not otherwise available to the Department medical center concerned,

(ii) procurement of the item by a local contract is necessary for the effective furnishing of health-care services or the conduct of a research or education

(iii) procurement under a local contract is demonstrably more cost-effective for the item.

(2) In the case of the need for an emergency procurement of a health-care item, such item may be procured under a local contract, but no greater quantity of such item may be procured by a local contract than is reasonably necessary to meet the emergency need and the reasonably foreseeable need for the item at the medical center concerned until resupply can be achieved through procurement actions other than emergency procurement.

(3) (A) Except as provided in subparagraphs (C) and (D) of this paragraph, not more than 20 percent of the total of all health-care items procured by the Department in any fiscal year (measured as a percent of the total cost of all such health-care items procured by the Department in that fiscal year) may be procured under local contracts.

The authority to increase such percentage may not be delegated.

(D) Items procured through an emergency procurement shall not be counted for the purpose of this paragraph.

(c) A provision of law that is inconsistent with subsection (a) or (b) of this section shall not apply, to the extent of the inconsistency, to the procurement of a health-care item for use by the Department.

(d) (1) Not later than December 1 of each year, the director of each Department medical center shall transmit to the Secretary a report containing a list indicating the quantity of each health-care item procured at that medical center under a local contract during the preceding fiscal year and the total amount paid for such item during such fiscal year.

In determining such projected demand, the Secretary shall take into account travel distances for veterans and their families.

(A) may not accord any priority to a project for the construction or acquisition of a hospital; and

(B) may not accord any priority to a project which would expand a State's capacity to furnish hospital care in a State home.

(4) The Secretary shall establish a list of approved projects (including projects that have been conditionally approved under paragraph (6) of this subsection), in the order of their priority, as of August 15 of each year. The Secretary shall award grants in the order of their priority on the list during the fiscal year beginning on October 1 of the calendar year in which the list was made.

(5) (A) The Secretary shall defer approval of an application that otherwise meets the requirements of this section if the State submitting the application does not, by the July 1 deadline (as defined in subparagraph (D) of this paragraph), demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the State has provided adequate financial support for construction of the project.

(B) In a case in which approval of an application is deferred under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the Secretary shall select for award of a grant or grants under this subsection an application or applications which would not have been approved during the fiscal year but for the deferral and to which the Secretary accords the highest priority under paragraph (2) of this subsection.

(C) An application deferred in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph shall be accorded priority in any subsequent fiscal year ahead of applications that had not been approved before the first day of the fiscal year in which the deferred application was first approved.

(D) For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "July 1 deadline" means July 1 of the fiscal year in which the State is notified by the Secretary of the availability of funding for a grant for such project.

(6) (A) The Secretary may conditionally approve a project under this section, conditionally award a grant for the project, and obligate funds for the grant if the Secretary determines that the application for the grant is sufficiently complete to warrant awarding the grant and that, based on assurances provided by the State submitting the application, the State will complete the application and meet all the requirements referred to in paragraph (1)(A) of this subsection by the date, not later than 180 days after the date of the conditional approval, specified by the Secretary.

(B) If a State does not complete the application and meet all the requirements referred to in such paragraph by the date specified by the Secretary under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the Secretary shall rescind the conditional approval and award under such subparagraph and deobligate the funds previously obligated in connection with the application. In the event the Secretary rescinds conditional approval of a project under this subparagraph, the Secretary may not further obligate funds for the project during the fiscal year in which the Secretary rescinds such approval.

(7) (A) Subject to subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, the Secretary may increase the amount of any grant awarded to any State for a project under this section by an amount by which the Secretary determines that the estimated cost of the construction or acquisition has increased from the estimated cost on which the Secretary based the determination to award the grant, without regard to the position of such project on the list established under paragraph (4) of this subsection, if the Secretary determines that the grant was awarded before the State entered into a contract for the construction or acquisition provided for in such project.

(B) A grant may not be increased under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph by more than 10 percent of the amount of the grant initially awarded for such project, and the amount of such grant, as increased, may not exceed 65 percent of the cost of the project.

(d) No application submitted to the Secretary under this section shall be disapproved until the Secretary has afforded the applicant notice and an opportunity for a hearing.

(e) The amount of a grant under this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 8131 et seq.] shall be paid to the applicant or if designated by the applicant, the State home for which such project is being carried out or any other agency or instrumentality of the applicant. Such amount shall be paid, in advance or by way of reimbursement, and in such installments consistent with the progress of the project as the Secretary may determine and certify for payment to the Secretary of the Treasury. Funds paid under this section for an approved project shall be used solely for carrying out such project as so approved.
(f) Any amendment of any application, whether or not approved, shall be subject to approval in the same manner as an original application.

(a) (1) To secure health-care resources which otherwise might not be feasibly available, or to effectively utilize certain other health-care resources, the Secretary may, when the Secretary determines it to be in the best interest of the prevailing standards of the Department medical care program, make arrangements, by contract or other form of agreement for the mutual use, or exchange of use, of health-care resources between Department health-care facilities and any health-care provider, or other entity or individual.

(2) The Secretary may enter into an enhanced-use lease only if--

      (i) at least part of the use of the property under the lease will be to provide appropriate space for an activity contributing to the mission of the Department;
      (ii) the lease will not be inconsistent with and will not adversely affect the mission of the Department; and
      (iii) the lease will enhance the use of the property; or
   (B) the Secretary determines that the implementation of a business plan proposed by the Under Secretary for Health for applying the consideration under such a lease to the provision of medical care and services would result in a demonstrable improvement of services to eligible veterans in the geographic service-delivery area within which the property is located.

(3) The provisions of sections 3141-3144, 3146, and 3147 of title 40 [40 USCS §§ 3141-3144, 3146, and 3147] shall not, by reason of this section, become inapplicable to property that is leased to another party under an enhanced-use lease.

(4) A property that is leased to another party under an enhanced-use lease may not be considered to be unutilized or underutilized for purposes of section 501 of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act [McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act] (42 U.S.C. 11411).

   (B) In the case of a property that the Secretary determines is appropriate for use as a facility to furnish services to homeless veterans under chapter 20 of this title [38 USCS §§ 2001 et seq.], the Secretary may enter into an enhanced-use lease with a provider of homeless services without regard to the selection procedures required under subparagraph (A).

(2) The term of an enhanced-use lease may not exceed 75 years.
(3) (A) Each enhanced-use lease shall be for fair consideration, as determined by the Secretary. Consideration under such a lease may be provided in whole or in part through consideration in-kind.
   (B) Consideration in-kind may include provision of goods or services of benefit to the Department, including construction, repair, remodeling, or other physical improvements of Department facilities, maintenance of Department facilities, or the provision of office, storage, or other usable space.

(4) The terms of an enhanced-use lease may provide for the Secretary to--
   (A) obtain facilities, space, or services on the leased property; and
   (B) use minor construction funds for capital contribution payments.

(c) (1) Subject to paragraph (2), the entering into an enhanced-use lease covering any land or improvement described in section 421(b)(2) of the Veterans' Benefits and Services Act of 1988 (Public Law 100-322; 102 Stat. 553) [unclassified] shall be considered to be prohibited by that section unless specifically authorized by law.

   (2) The entering into an enhanced-use lease by the Secretary covering any land or improvement described in such section 421(b)(2) [unclassified] shall not be considered to be prohibited under that section if under the lease--
      (A) the designated property is to be used only for child-care services;
      (B) those services are to be provided only for the benefit of--
          (i) employees of the Department;
          (ii) individuals employed on the premises of such property; and
          (iii) employees of a health-personnel educational institution that is affiliated with a Department facility;

38 USCS §§ 5220 et seq. While term "all personal property" within meaning of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8520 was broad enough to include veteran's beneficial interest in trust fund created by payment of his pension to treasurer of veterans' home, effect of provision was to vest in United States only such property as would be liable to escheat to state for lack of testamentary disposition and heirs at law. 5. Relationship to other laws, generally

Provisions of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8521, that death of veteran in veterans' hospital "shall give rise to a conclusive presumption of a valid contract," were not inconsistent with predecessor to 38 USCS § 8520, providing for automatic vesting in United States of all personal property, not disposed of by will or otherwise, of veteran dying while member or patient in veterans' facility or veterans' hospital while being furnished care and treatment, "contractual" provisions of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8521 having been included in statute for purpose of reinforcing rather than detracting from provisions of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8520. 38 USCS § 5220 [now 38 USCS § 8520] applied where a veteran received institutional treatment or care being furnished by the Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs] either in one of its own facilities or in some other facility adopted to meet the veteran's particular needs; 38 USCS § 5220 [now 38 USCS § 8520] was applicable to personal property of veteran who died intestate and without heirs in private nursing home, which was paid for its services by Veterans Administration [now Department of Veterans Affairs]. In re Estate of Wallace (1971) 186 Neb 271, 182 NW2d 829

9. Persons entitled to property under state law

State of Pennsylvania was not heir of intestate though state intestate act provided that if there were no heirs of specified classes, intestate's property would descend to state. In re Estate of Skriziszouski (1955) 382 Pa 634, 116 A2d 841

No private person was "entitled" to decedent's estate, within meaning of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8520, and property vested in United States, subject to claims of distributees presented within 5 years of date of death, where no next of kin had appeared despite lapse of over 3 years since veteran's death and diligent efforts of Administrator [now Secretary] to locate next of kin. In re Bonner's Estate (1948) 192 Misc 753, 80 NYS2d 122

State, although entitled under intestacy act to take citizen's estate in default of all other persons specified, was not person "entitled" to personal property of veteran within meaning of 38 USCS § 5220 [now 38 USCS § 8520]. In re Estate of Skriziszouski (1955) 382 Pa 634, 116 A2d 841

10. Determination of rights to property

United States was not bound by state court decree and is entitled to recover proceeds of veteran's estate from state to which it had been held escheated where United States was not made party to state distribution proceeding. United States v California (1956, DC Cal) 143 F Supp 957

38 USCS § 8520 is self-executing and does not require, in all circumstances, probate proceeding as condition precedent to Veteran's Administration's entitlement to funds. United States v Riggs Nat'l Bank of Wash., D.C., Trust Group (2000, DC Dist Col) 109 F Supp 2d 1
Where veteran died intestate while member or patient in facility, without legal heirs and without having designated beneficiary of his Civil Service Retirement lump-sum benefits, and no administrator of his estate had been named, Civil Service Commission could, under 38 USCS §§ 5220 and 5224 [now 38 USCS §§ 8520 and 8524], pay such benefits directly to General Post Fund, notwithstanding 5 USCS § 8342(c) and (g); where administrator of estate had been named, even though no legal heirs could be found, Civil Service Commission could pay such benefits only to administrator and not directly to General Post Fund. (1976) 43 Op Atty Gen 39

Proof that decedent left no distributees was not condition precedent to exercise by United States of its right to deceased's property. In re Bonner's Estate (1948) 192 Misc 753, 80 NYS2d 122

United States did not have burden of proving that decedent left no distributees as condition precedent to claiming unexpended fund. In re Regan's Estate (1959) 18 Misc 2d 463, 185 NYS2d 350

Under predecessor to 38 USCS § 8520, there was no presumption that veteran died leaving heirs. In re Witte's Estate (1953) 174 Kan 360, 255 P2d 1039, 36 ALR2d 717

11. Delivery of property

Pension moneys of inmate, unapplied for his benefit at time of his death, could be paid into Post Fund only in case there was no widow, minor children, or dependent parent. Durack v National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers (1930, CA1 Me) 44 F.2d 516

38 USCS §§ 5220 et seq. [now 38 USCS §§ 8520 et seq.] were self-executing and savings bank was obligated to deliver funds in savings account to United States notwithstanding absence of probate or administration. United States v Peoples Nat'l Bank (1953, DC Ill) 121 F Supp 331; United States v Mid City Nat'l Bank (1953, DC Ill) 121 F Supp 402; In re Estate of Rodgers (1969) 60 Misc 2d 769, 303 NYS2d 551

12. Taxation of property

Property passing to United States under 38 USCS § 5220 [now 38 USCS § 8520] was not subject to state estate taxes. In re Levy (1978, CA2 NY) 574 F.2d 128, affd (1978) 439 US 920, 58 L Ed 2d 314, 99 S Ct 301

Under 38 USCS § 5220 [now 38 USCS § 8520], United States became vested of property and estate was not subject to state estate tax where veteran died intestate while in hospital, leaving no next of kin. In re Estate of Weaver (1980, 3d Dept) 74 App Div 2d 678, 424 NYS2d 789

§ 8521. Presumption of contract for disposition of personalty

The fact of death of a veteran (admitted as such), or a dependent or survivor of a veteran receiving care under the penultimate sentence of section 1781(b) of this title [38 USCS § 1781(b)], in a facility or hospital, while being furnished care or treatment therein by the Department, leaving no spouse, next of kin, or heirs, shall give rise to a conclusive presumption of a valid contract for the disposition in accordance with this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 8520 et seq.], but subject to its conditions, of all property described in section 8520 of this title [38 USCS § 8520] owned by said decedent at death and as to which such person dies intestate.

3. Relationship with other laws, generally

Provisions of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8521, that death of veteran in veterans' hospital "shall give rise to a conclusive presumption of a valid contract," were not inconsistent with predecessor to 38 USCS § 8520, providing for automatic vesting in United States of all personal property, not disposed of by will or otherwise, of veteran dying while member or patient in veterans' facility or veterans' hospital while being furnished care and treatment, "contractual" provisions of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8521 having been included in statute for purpose of reinforcing rather than detracting from provisions of predecessor to 38 USCS § 8520. Upon receipt of the purchase price the Secretary is authorized to deliver at the place of sale, said property sold, and upon request to execute and deliver appropriate assignments or other conveyances thereof in the name of the United States, which shall pass to the purchaser such title as decedent had at date of death. The net proceeds after paying any proper sales expense as determined by the Secretary shall forthwith be paid to the Treasurer of the United States to the credit of the Fund; and may be disbursed as are other moneys in the Fund by the Division of Disbursements, Treasury Department, upon order of said Secretary. Articles of personal adornment which are obviously of sentimental value, shall be retained and not sold or otherwise disposed of until the expiration of five years from the date of death of the veteran, without a claim therefor, unless for sanitary or other proper reasons it is deemed unsafe to retain same, in which event they may be destroyed forthwith. Any other articles coming into possession of the Secretary or the Secretary's representative by virtue of this subchapter [38 USCS §§ 8520 et seq.] which, under regulations promulgated by the Secretary, are determined to be unsalable may be destroyed forthwith or at the time prescribed by regulations, or may be used for the purposes for which disbursements might properly be made from the Fund, or if not usable, otherwise disposed of in accordance with regulations.

Notwithstanding the crediting to said Fund of the assets, or proceeds thereof, of any decedent, whether upon determination by a court or the Department pursuant to the provisions of section 8520 of this title [38 USCS § 8520], any person claiming a right to such assets may within five years after the death of the decedent file a claim on behalf of such person and any others claiming with the Secretary. Upon receipt of due proof that any person was at date of death of the veteran entitled to the veteran's personal property, or a part thereof, under the laws of the State of domicile of the decedent, the Secretary may pay out of the Fund, but not to exceed the net amount credited thereto from said decedent's estate less any necessary expenses, the amount to which such person, or persons, was or were so entitled, and upon similar claim any assets of the decedent which shall not have been disposed of shall be delivered in kind to the parties legally entitled thereto. If any person so entitled is under legal disability at the date of death of such decedent, such five-year period of limitation shall run from the termination or removal of legal disability. In the event of doubt as to entitlement, the Secretary may cause administration or other appropriate proceedings to be instituted in any court having jurisdiction. Notice may be served in person or by registered mail or by certified mail upon the Secretary, or upon the Secretary's authorized attorney in the State wherein the action or proceedings may be pending. Notice may be waived by the Secretary or by the Secretary's authorized attorney, in which event the finding, judgment, or decree shall have the same effect as if the Secretary were a party and served with notice.
