Complaint Handling Process

TPG aims to provide our customers with the best possible service. If you haven't received the service you expected or you would like to make a suggestion we always appreciate your feedback.

Consumers and former customers have the right to make a complaint for escalation within TPG.

A complaint means an expression of dissatisfaction made to us in relation to our products or the complaints handling process itself, where a response or resolution is explicitly or implicitly expected by you. Contacting TPG to request support or to report a service difficulty is not necessarily a complaint.

Level 1 Customer Support

Where possible, our level 1 Customer Service and Technical Support teams will resolve your complaint upon first contact. Where they have been unable to do so, our Customer Relations team will take over management of the complaint and resolve your complaint within 15 business days of receiving it, depending on the complexity of your complaint.

We will let you know any reasons for delay and a specific timeframe for resolution. We will keep you updated with the status of your complaint and you may contact us either by phone or by email with your reference number to request a status update. Please note that TPG is unable to implement any resolution until you have accepted it.

Further options

You will find the majority of matters can be handled by TPG’s internal processes and we do ask that you first allow us the opportunity to exhaust all avenues in resolving your complaint. However, if you are not satisfied with our handling of your complaint and you have escalated this within TPG, you may seek complaint mediation or further assistance from the Telecommunications Industry Ombudsman (telephone 1800 062 058) or the fair trading department in your state or territory.
