  Externship: School psychology externs are considered “LEND trainees” (non-funded). Externs participate in psychology service provision in clinics and go to some didactics. Externs also do a LEND sponsored community activity and project. Externs can often choose which clinics they participate in depending on availability. Clinics are based on particular days of the week. A neuropsych rotation is possible but many do not ever do neuropsych while at the CIDD.

• LEND Fellowship @ CIDD
  Donna Yerby
  919.966.4819
  donna.yerby@cidd.unc.edu

  The LEND fellowship in special education is a funded LEND position in education. This is not a psychology externship and one does not accrue hours toward clinical experience in psychology (e.g., you cannot count this on APPIC applications). This trainee participates in educational service provision in clinics and goes to some didactics. They also do a lend community experience and project. They also are a part of a year-long seminar in Leadership and to do year-long interdisciplinary problem based learning class on Thursday evenings. The funding is tuition, health insurance, and a nice stipend. This fellowship is not in neuropsychology, as Donna Yerby is not a neuropsychologist and is not on that clinic.
