1. BWH PATIENT AND FAMILY ADVISORY COUNCIL DESCRIPTION

Goal Statement:

The Patient and Family Advisory Council (PFAC) works in partnership with the leadership and clinical staff of Brigham and Women’s Hospital to create an environment of patient and family-centered care across the entire institution, and provide feedback regarding patient and family centered care activities at Brigham and Women’s Hospital (BWH). The Patient and Family Advisory Council guides the BWH Patient and Family Centered Care Philosophy and the way it is interpreted and implemented throughout the institution. Through this partnership, discussions and decisions about patient and family-centered care occurs in various meetings and forums.

Reporting Structure:

The Patient and Family Advisory Council reports to the BWH Senior Leadership Care Improvement Council (CIC), the hospital’s patient care assessment committee. The CIC chair is also co-chair of the PFAC and the co-chair also belongs to the CIC, thereby making the flow of information between the two groups direct.

Long Term Goals:

- Advise on the infrastructure necessary to create and maintain a patient and family-centered care culture.
  - Continue to identify opportunities for improving the patient and family experience
  - Advise on policies and practices to support patient and family-centered care
  - Recommend how to better measure/quantify/evaluate patient and family centered-care evolution at BWH
Membership:

Membership of the Council is comprised of patient and family advisors and select representatives of Brigham and Women’s Hospital including the Chief Medical Officer (CMO), the Chief Nursing Officer (CNO) as chairs, the Executive Director of The Center for Patients and Families, and The Patient and the Family Advisor Liaison. The BWH service line leadership joins the council on an ad-hoc as the need arises and are not considered official members.

Qualifications for membership as an advisor include, being a current or former BWH patient or family member in addition to having a willingness to contribute towards the overall mission of the council while not seeking to pursue a personal agenda. A qualified member shall be someone who successfully satisfies the previous two requirements and completes a membership application, (See Attachment 1) and interview or who has, in another form, been deemed willing and able to contribute towards the larger mission of the council. The application and interview process seek to identify individuals who are:

- interested in serving as advisors
- comfortable in speaking in a group with candor
- able to use their personal experience constructively
- able to see beyond their own experience
- concerned about more than one issue or agenda
- able to listen and hear differing opinions
- representative of patients and families served by the hospital or hospital program

However, it does not seek to exclude anyone who would need more support than others to serve in the role of advisor. We recognize that individuals can grow and develop in this role. We are committed to having a council that reflects the diverse patient population we serve here at BWH.

Recruitment is primarily reliant on clinician recommendation of potential patient and family advisors; however, members are also identified by the Center for Patients and Families, and in some of the councils, members self-identified.

Selection is based on information provided by the clinician recommending the patient/family advisor. Selection is also determined from the information provided on the PFAC membership application (See Attachment 1) and if invited to an interview, from the information learned in person.

Members Roles & Responsibilities:

The duties of the members include but are not limited to:

- Serving as a sounding board for initiatives which the institution deems important in order to establish balance with priorities of patients and families
- Generating new ideas to drive initiatives at all levels of the hospital
- Sharing best practices across the institution (service-specific & cross-service)
- Providing feedback as requested by the local advisory councils and subgroups
- Program planning and evaluation
- Providing input on institutional policies, programs, and practices, particularly those which affect the care and services that individuals and families receive

Responsibilities of members include but are not limited to:

- Adhering to the confidentiality requirements and other responsibilities set forth by the hospital during the formal hospital orientation program for volunteers

The council members can participate in various hospital settings. Council members can participate on hospital committees, tasks forces and/or service line patient family advisory councils. Members can participate in the review of Press Ganey results, and quality and safety meetings. There are departments requesting that the patient/family advisors participate in the hiring of new hospital staff. The NICU was the first to have advisors interview candidates for a medical director. Recently the Brigham and Women’s Hospital, Biomedical Research Institute has requested patient/family advisors to be on their committees. Some of our departments request that advisors participate as co-trainers for clinical and nonclinical staff, in-service programs, grand rounds and health professional trainees. The Center for Patient and Families often ask advisors to share their narratives with departments that are considering Patient and Family Advisory Councils.

Structure:

Currently the BWH Steering Committee council has eight patient/family advisors with seventeen staff advisors. The staff advisors consist of staff from the service line advisory councils, Care Improvement Council and the Steering Committee. The council is trying to increase the number of patient/family advisors, therefore, we do not have a wait list for potential advisors at this time. Our goal is to move towards a council where the ratio of patient/family advisors will be greater than staff advisors.

The Council members who have received care in one or more of our service lines, represent the population served by the hospital.

Governance:

Officers are not elected at the present time, therefore, officer duties do not exist. The council structure consists of two patient advisors co chairing the council with the CNO and CMO. The Center for Patients and Families is responsible for organizing the Council meetings. The staff liaison for the Council is the project manager for The Center for Patients and Families.

The term of an advisor is set for a three year period with the option to extend the term or become an advisor emeritus based on their interest.

The council meets quarterly with each meeting being an hour and a half in duration. It is expected that advisors attend at least 75% of these meetings. Meeting minutes are taken for each meeting and are maintained for five years by the staff liaison. Minutes of Council meetings including Council accomplishments are transmitted to the Care Improvement Council.

Evaluation:

- We believe in continuous improvement and the council evaluates itself on topics which are important to the functioning of the council including but not limited to goals, membership and governance. (See Attachment 2)
2. PATIENT AND FAMILY ADVISOR ORIENTATION: OVERVIEW

The patient and family advisor orientation begins with the interview process where the potential advisor learns directly from the area leaders about the area where he/she may serve and what being an advisor would mean.

The patient and family advisor then receive a formal four-hour orientation through the volunteer office including training on patient confidentiality. At the end of this process, and after the appropriate vaccinations, as required of any new employee, advisors also receive a hospital identification badge, for their term as an advisor.

The next step brings together the patient and family advisor with the patient and family liaison who will introduce him/her to the concepts of PFCC as set forth by the Institute for Family-Centered Care, share the Brigham and Women’s Hospital-specific philosophy statement of PFCC, and provides a brief history on the journey of Patient and Family-Centered Care at BWH. A hospital tour of specific areas is available to the advisors for their respective council. The final step in the orientation takes place when the liaison accompanies the advisor to his/her first meeting.

The orientation through the Volunteer Office is provided twice a month. The staff liaison and the Executive Director for The Center of Patients and Families orient the new advisor on an as needed basis and provide individual training to the advisors. Specific topics are discussed by the Chief Medical Officer and Chief Nursing Officer throughout the year in an effort to provide continuing education in the healthcare environment.
3. ADVISOR & PROVIDER ORIENTATION: PFCC CORE CONCEPTS

Patient and Family Centered Care
- The priorities and choices of patients and their families are identified in collaboration with the provider to drive the delivery of health care.
- Interventions are done with patients and families rather than to and for them

Definition of Family
- The patient and family define the “family”
- The patient and family determine if and how the family will be involved in care and decision-making

PFCC Core Concepts
- Dignity and respect
  - Providers include individual’s preferences, culture, capacity and abilities in determining care
- Information sharing
  - Communication is open, timely, complete, understandable
- Participation in care and decision making
  - Presence allows involvement, practice and learning
- Collaboration in policy, program development and design
  - Patient and family advisement at all levels of operations and care delivery
Brigham and Women’s Hospital (BWH) commits to working with patients and their families and considers them to be partners at the center of the health care team. At the core of this partnership are the patient’s wishes and priorities to help guide their care. Each patient will determine who to define as “family” and choose if and how to involve “family” in care and decision-making. We commit to working with patients and their families to be active participants rather than passive recipients of care.

We seek to understand and meet the needs of our patients and their families, and with the patient’s consent, strive to deliver information, which is open, timely, complete, and understandable to them. We extend this commitment with attention to the dignity of and respect for the preferences of both patient and family with respect to culture, capacity, and abilities in determining care. To maintain the vitality of our commitments to patients and families, BWH recognizes the need to incorporate patient and family input on care delivery, policies, and in designing and improving operations and facilities.
5. PATIENT AND FAMILY ADVISORY COUNCIL STRUCTURE & MEMBERSHIP

A. Brigham & Women’s Hospital Enterprise Patient and Family Advisory Council (PFAC)

1. Patient and Family Advisory Council (PFAC) est. 12/6/07
   - Purpose: Forum for sharing best practices across the institution (service-specific & cross-service); Sounding board for initiatives which the institution deems important in order to establish balance with priorities of patients and families; Place where new ideas are generated by patients and families to drive initiatives at all levels of the hospital
   - Meeting Frequency: Quarterly
   - Current Advisors: Martie Carnie, Estrellita Karsh, John and Natty McArthur, Patricia P. Petraglia, Cliff Robinson, Gayle Shumacher, Jim Stam

2. Patient and Family Advisory Council Agenda Planning Committee
   - Purpose: Plans the agendas for upcoming PFAC meetings.
   - Meeting Frequency: Meets before and after each PFAC meeting for about one hour.
   - Current Advisors: Martie Carnie, John and Natty McArthur

B. BWH Hospital Cross-Service Committees

3. Senior Leadership Care Improvement Council (CIC)
   - Purpose: This hospital board level committee oversees all departments in terms of quality & safety; regulatory requirements and new hospital policies. It also reviews faculty appointment and privileges.
   - Meeting Frequency: Meets one time per month for two hours.

4. Intensive Care Unit (ICU) Leadership Committee
   - Purpose: Intensive Care Unit clinical leaders share and address practice and quality of care issues such as hand washing and Joint Commission requirements.
   - Meeting Frequency: Meets one time per month for one hour.

5. Quality Leadership Council
   - Purpose: Develop multiyear strategic quality and patient safety plan and to review current quality and safety initiatives to ensure integration within hospital operations.
   - Meeting Frequency: Monthly. 2nd Tuesday of each month

6. Council on Disabilities Awareness (contact: Janet Razulis)
   - Purpose: To assess and improve facilities and practices regarding people with disabilities
   - Meeting Frequency: Quarterly
   - Current Advisors: Melissa Hoyt
7. Ambulatory Council
   - Purpose: BW/F initiative established to create and oversee the development of a comprehensive strategic plan for the BW/F ambulatory enterprise
   - Meeting Frequency: Monthly (started meeting in April 2008)
   - Current Advisors: Patricia Petraglia, David Altshuler, Kathleen Alvino
   - Additional Members: Council membership includes BWH and BWPO leadership and consumers from across the institution, representing many disciplines within ambulatory services. Adler, Dale S., M.D.; Carusi, Daniela Anne, M.D., M.S.C.; Chiodo, Christopher, M.D.; Coblyn, Jonathan Scott, M.D.; Ferrazza, Dawn; Hoyt, McCallum Robinson, M.D., M.B.A.; Vitti, Sharon

C. BWH Service-Line Patient and Family Advisory Councils (See Attachment 3):

8. Oncology Care Improvement Council — The Care Improvement Council (CIC) is a joint venture between Dana Farber and BWH. The purpose of the council is to discuss any ongoing issues in the inpatient setting. This council meets monthly and has three patient/family advisors on this council.

9. NICU PFAC — This Council was the first PFAC at BWH. They have worked on numerous projects to improve the NICU unit. This council meets once a month and has 4 patient/family advisors.

10. Neuroscience CIC — This Council meets once a month and has two patient/family advisors. The purpose of this council is to improve operational issues when asked for the unit.

11. Shapiro PFAC — The Shapiro PFAC is heading into year two and has included renal transplant patient and family members to the council. The council is currently working on a fragrance free policy and providing feedback to the nursing directors on their innovation projects on their units. This council meets monthly and currently has eighteen patient/family advisors.

12. Continuum of Care Council — this hospital level committee is responsible for developing and implementing a long-term strategy for integrating clinical care across the continuum of the patient’s health care experience. Thus far, patient input in shaping committee recommendations has been pivotal in drafting first steps in the hospital’s future continuum of care strategy. There are currently two patient/family members on the on the council.

13. Orthopedics CIC — This CIC has a patient/family advisor onto their council. They have created education material for total hip arthroplasty patients. Currently the council is creating an educational video for total hip arthroplasty patients. This council meets once a month.
14. OB/GYN PFAC—this council is working on several projects which include discharge process, lactation consult and warm handoffs. Currently there are four patient/family advisors on this council.

15. ED PFAC—this council is entering into their second year. The council is working on signage in the ED and also defining patient “support person.” There are currently three patient/family advisors.

16. South Huntington Medical Home—this council is at the beginning stages and is working on identifying patient and family advisors. The leadership at the medical home is anticipating having the first council meeting by mid next year.

17. Perioperative PFAC—this council is at the beginning stages and anticipates having their first meeting in the beginning of 2013. Currently there is one patient/family advisor on this council but there will be additional advisors by the time the first meeting convenes.

18. Biomedical Research Institute (BRI) – Brigham and Women’s Hospital’s BRI created a Patient-Centered Comparative Effectiveness Research Center (PCERC) to bring together all of the BWH researchers working on patient-centered outcomes research under a single umbrella. The BRI PCERC plans to establish a research-specific Patient-Family Advisory Council - the Brigham and Women’s Informed Health Options Program (BIHOP) - which will provide a conduit to forming partnerships between researchers and individual patients throughout the lifespan of a research project. Patients/caregivers in the BIHOP may be invited to partner with investigators who may engage them as collaborators on research grants.

Supporting the Council:

The Patient and Family Council on the Steering Committee has a six person leadership team. The staff liaison organizes the Steering PFAC meetings and the Cardiovascular PFAC meetings. The other PFAC meetings are managed by either a program manager or nurse manager within their own service lines. The amount of administrative time to support the councils is about twenty hours a month. The council members are provided with parking vouchers when they attend the PFAC meetings. Parking is allotted through the Center for Patients and Families budget. We do not provide stipends to our patient/family advisors.

Maintaining Success with Council:

The Council has made significant strides this year. They have seen additional Patient and Family Advisory Councils (PFAC) take root in multiple service lines. The Shapiro PFAC held their first nursing grand rounds in April and was well received by the nurses. It was so successful that the Shapiro PFAC will be hosting another grand rounds this year. The Executive Director and project manager for the Center and Patients attended the International Institute for Patients and Families Conference this past June. From that conference, they brought back ideas on how to further advance our councils.

The Center for Patients and Families is bringing more awareness of our patient and family advisory councils. The Center is writing articles featuring either councils or council members in several of the hospital publications.

Please see the section on BWH accomplishments on page 15 for additional accomplishments.

Staff members in each PFAC service line will track the specific council’s accomplishments. The staff liaison will ensure that the accomplishments are recorded.

Patient and Family Advisory Council 2012-2013 Agenda:

The Council has three proposed agenda items for the upcoming year. First, is to restructure our Patient and Family Advisory Steering Council. The restructuring will allow a patient/family advisor from each of the service line to report to the Steering Council. This will allow the Steering Council to assist in pushing their agenda items in their respective service line and possibly to implement this item hospital wide if it applies. The second is to present a Medical Grand Rounds for each of our departments. This will introduce our patient and family advisors and the councils they sit on while bringing awareness and understanding of patient and family centered care in the hospital. Finally the Council would like to identify and support the development of new council opportunities.
6. PATIENT AND FAMILY-CENTERED CARE AT BWH: SUMMARY OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS

1998-2001
- The BWH journey began in 1998 with efforts dedicated to laying the foundation for understanding the voice of our patients and families:
  - 1st Public Reporting of Patient Satisfaction data to Massachusetts Health Quality Partners and renewed commitment to improving the patient experience
  - Established several multidisciplinary inpatient care improvement teams
  - Established a Patient and Family Relations Department
  - Bretholtz Center and Kessler Library for patients and families opens - created with patient/family input

2002-2005
- Once the foundation was set, the next stage was marked by a period of searching for innovative improvement ideas that could be readily tested and applied.
  - Family areas created in Obstetrics
  - Multidisciplinary rounds instituted
  - Web nursery created
  - Enhanced nurse call system implemented
  - Improvement design teams included patient advisors
  - Senior leaders attended Institute for Family Centered Care conference to explore ways to include patient and family advisors

2005-2008
- The third period of the journey to PFCC was defined by efforts to assess the culture and values at BWH while continuing to make improvements:
  - Formation of 1st local patient advisory council in the NICU
  - Roll out of meals room service house-wide
  - Development of PFCC philosophy with input from patients and families and over 300 staff from across both service and discipline spectra
  - Inclusion of expert nurses in “Describing what excellent nursing care looks like at BWH” as part of unit-based focus groups
  - Patient & family inclusion in design of Shapiro Cardiovascular Center and seeking input for family zone design

2008-2009
- The journey continues to be reinvigorated by ideas from the outside and by fortifying linkages between patients/families and those who deliver the care, all with the goal of providing the very highest level of quality care in all of its dimensions.
  - Press-Ganey Satisfaction Surveys Administered in Ambulatory Practices
  - BWH PFAC Meets for first time and provides input on hospital PFCC Philosophy and Family and Visitor Policy
Cardiovascular Staff (RNs, PCAs, etc.) receive 4-hr interactive “Connecting with Care” training to learn communication strategies to create, manage and sustain a PFCC environment

PFAC hears the Dana Farber PFAC story and receive tour of the Carl J. and Ruth Shapiro Cardiovascular Center Prior to Opening

Carl J. and Ruth Shapiro Cardiovascular Center Opens

PFAC hears the how family involvement in the NICU lead to creation of a PFAC and to changes in the experience

PFAC invites Public Affairs director to discuss Boston Globe articles describing care at the BWH

The Institute for Patient and Family Centered Care Conference: BWH sends 20 delegates from CV, NICU, Ambulatory, Neuroscience, and administration to create action plans to start local councils or further develop existing councils

Patient and Family Advisor Liaison is hired

PFAC hears updates from IPFCC Conference

BWH Patient and Family Advisor Liaison develops member recruitment, interview, and orientation process with input from PFAC advisors

PFAC hears additional reports from IPFCC Conference and recommends learning about the safety agenda

Membership efforts are bolstered by CMO and CNO reaching out to chiefs to help identify potential advisors from the various service lines they serve

2010 – 2011

- The journey continues as more departmental committees and service lines become interested in developing Patient and Family Advisory Councils or having a patient on their existing committee.
- Maureen Fagan, WHNP – BC / MHA appointed the Executive Director, Center for Patients and Families
- Identification of service line patient and family service line committee development begins
- Training clinical leadership and staff in the principles of patient and family centered care
- BWH welcomed Jacqueline Somerville, RN, PhD, the new Chief Nursing Officer (CNO) and Senior Vice President of Patient Care Services
- BWH welcomed Stanley Ashley, MD, the new Chief Medical Officer (CMO)
- The new CMO and CNO will continue the commitment of having a patient family centered care environment in the organization.
- A large OB delegation goes to IPFCC conference in St. Louis Missouri
- Cardiovascular PFAC held their first monthly meeting in May 2011
- A patient/family advisor was invited on to the Orthopedic Care Improvement Council.
- Readying the environment for patient family centered care in the BWH OR and ED.
- ED delegation will be attending the IPFCC conference this fall in Madison, Wisconsin
- Adding diverse advisors to the Steering Committee
Our patient family centered care journey continues as we focus on spotlighting our council’s achievements and how our councils can assist each service line in providing patient family centered care.

In April our Shapiro Patient and Family Advisory Council hosted Nursing Grand Rounds. The topic of the grand rounds was Patients and Families Reflect on Their Hospital Stay.

The ED started their patient and family advisory council. They have three advisors on their councils. Advisors are working on changing the environment and redefining visitors to support person.

The South Huntington Medical Home is in the beginning phases of starting a patient and family advisory council.

The Biomedical Research Institute is exploring the idea of creating a patient and family advisory council.

Some of our patient and family advisors participated in selecting our hospital’s next electronic medical record vendor.

Our NICU council is the first department in our hospital to have a paid patient/family advisor.

Our councils and council members are being featured in the hospital’s bulletin for nurses and physicians.

Currently our Shapiro Patient and Family Advisory Council are working on having the hospital become a fragrance free environment.

The Director of Volunteer Services attended the IPFCC conference in fall 2011.

The ED sent two delegates to the IPFCC conference earlier this spring.
