STIFEL

Thank you for taking the time to learn about Stifel. As one of the nation’s premier wealth management and investment banking firms, we believe that we are a family comprised of our clients and our associates.

For more than 125 years, meeting and exceeding the objectives of our clients has positioned our firm for success. We believe that by placing the clients’ interests first, they prosper. It is when our clients prosper that the firm succeeds. At Stifel, we can truly say that we predicate our success on the success of our clients.

We are nurtured by years of trust and understanding, and by shared goals and shared successes. It is our relationships with and our commitment to our clients that enable us to develop innovative financial strategies. Our creativity allows individuals to pursue personal financial goals, helps businesses to raise capital, and empowers communities to offer a higher quality of life.

As we progress, we’re dedicated to providing superior services and products, the newest technological advances, and industry-leading client communication, plus the professional knowledge and exclusive research that help our clients pursue financial goals.

For our clients — individual, institutional, corporate, and municipal — we strive to remain the Advisor of Choice by understanding their needs and consistently providing quality advice. For our associates, we aim to be the Firm of Choice by attracting and retaining experienced, entrepreneurial professionals and fostering a culture of unconfined, long-term thinking.
Our Mission

By listening — really listening — we understand where our clients want to go tomorrow. And with more than 125 years’ experience, we know how to help them get there from here. We can help our clients build wealth. We can assist them in preserving wealth. And we can guide them in passing that wealth to their heirs in the most beneficial, tax-efficient way. What that means is that our associates serve generations of clients, working toward goals for today and tomorrow.

Whether it’s securing a comfortable retirement for our clients, providing the benefits of a college education for their children or grandchildren, ensuring the continued success of their businesses, or helping them pursue personal goals that require financial strength, our associates have the resources to meet any challenge. That is our charge — meeting the demands and rising to the expectations of our clients.

Our Facts

Stifel is a full-service wealth management and investment banking firm established in 1890 and headquartered in St. Louis, Missouri. The company provides securities brokerage, investment banking, trading, investment advisory, and related financial services to individual investors, institutions, corporations, and municipalities.

The company operates more than 390 offices in 45 states and the District of Columbia, with 5 European offices through Stifel Nicolaus Europe Limited. Stifel is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and all principal exchanges, as well as the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA).

Stifel, Nicolaus & Company, Incorporated is a wholly owned subsidiary of Stifel Financial Corp. Stifel Financial Corp.’s publicly traded stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol “SF.”
Our Personality

Stifel has established itself as one of the nation’s leading wealth management and investment banking firms by understanding the hopes and dreams of our clients. We’ve succeeded in reaching those goals by embracing the objectives of our clients, rising to the challenges of our industry, and empowering our entrepreneurial associates.

But to know our company is to understand that we expect much more from ourselves than recognition as an industry leader. For our family of clients and associates, success today and into the future will be predicated on the following tenet — to make Stifel the Advisor of Choice and the Firm of Choice.

Such contemporary charges are rooted in the firm’s unique history. It was in 1890 that a commitment to the investor’s long-term interest was borne and has since stood as the company’s primary obligation. From the start, company forefathers believed that without such dedication, any short-term gain would portend long-term failure.

Indeed, when Herman Stifel, a man whose sense of family and interest in the community would ultimately define the character of the firm, was hired as Treasurer in 1897, he brought to the company an edict as honest as it was infectious. He firmly believed that true success came in “safeguarding the money of others as if it were your own.” That wisdom remains a guiding principle for Stifel. It also fortifies the firm’s current doctrine.

Today, Stifel stands on a solid foundation of more than 125 years of knowledge and service. And, through the commitment of our family of clients and the talents and efforts of our associates, we have secured the cornerstones for continued success today as we energetically prepare for the challenges of the future.

Our Investing Principles
Throughout our history, Stifel’s commitment to high standards, prudent strategies, and honest philosophies has allowed us to successfully invest in the futures of our clients. At Stifel, we believe investing is about more than money. Because it presents the opportunity for individuals and families to realize their hopes and dreams and the possibility for businesses and foundations to succeed, investing is also about responsibility.
The ability to meet stated long-term financial goals requires a planning process that enables the investor to assess financial and non-financial assets, saving and investing practices, and the ability of these resources to meet future goals. At Stifel, we’ve created and employ a comprehensive planning process:

1. Financial inventory;
2. Establishment of financial goals and objectives;
3. Review and analysis of this information;
4. Establishment and implementation of a plan of action;
5. Monitoring of the plan over time to ensure its adequacy to meet client needs.

Each step builds upon the one that precedes it, helping to fortify the investor’s efforts in achieving goals. Such a strategy provides a complete, all-encompassing plan. Planning assists the investor in replacing today’s financial uncertainties with tomorrow’s possibilities. With careful design, implementation, and evaluation of a financial plan, Stifel can maximize the potential for the realization of financial goals.

Our Specialized Services

The firm’s philosophy on investing is grounded on a more than century-old tradition of trust, understanding, and solid, studied advice. Success, however, is rooted in personal, professional, and peerless service to the client. A finely honed support system exists within the firm to fortify our associates with the insight and ability necessary to meet clients’ objectives.

Stifel’s Investment Services Group consists of skilled financial professionals who are “on call” to provide experienced advice for annuities, professional money management, mutual funds, insurance, retirement plans, financial and wealth planning, options, exchange traded funds, and much more. Our Departments

Because we are dedicated to providing personalized, expert support, Stifel’s comprehensive network of departments is designed to meet the client’s financial objectives. Whether it’s providing the most current information on new tax legislation or high-caliber research, clients and associates benefit from Stifel’s many resources. While addressing specific needs, each department works in concert with both client and associate to develop a complete financial strategy.

Consulting Services

This department provides personalized support through unique fee-based asset management and advisory programs, allowing clients to utilize the tools necessary in pursuing financial goals. Stifel professionals help clients set investment objectives, determine proper asset allocation, select an appropriate investment manager, and measure and evaluate the performance of investments relative to objectives through quarterly monitoring and performance reports.

The Stifel Opportunity Program
This program offers investors a full asset management service in which Stifel helps clients select the manager(s) that best meets their needs from our pre-screened list of the nation’s top professional money managers.

The Stifel Fundamentals Program
This program differs from the Opportunity program in that it utilizes no-load mutual funds and load funds purchased without a sales charge or exchange traded funds in place of private money managers.

The Stifel Score Program
This program offers clients a full asset management service that encompasses a broad range of investing styles in which Stifel selects securities using analysis and/or recommendations from Stifel research and third-party research sources.

The Stifel Horizon Program
This non-discretionary advisory program is designed to foster a partnership between Stifel professionals and... clients seeking decision-making advice in directing their investments.

The Stifel Summit Program
The structure of this program facilitates a consultative relationship, primarily with institutions whose assets are held at another custodian.

The Stifel Alliance Program
Established as a formal, fully disclosed advisory referral program, the Stifel Alliance Program allows professionals, such as CPAs and attorneys, to develop a strategic relationship with Stifel Financial Advisors to meet clients’ investment needs.

The Stifel Spectrum Program
This program combines a number of different investment approaches that, when used together, are designed to optimize risk-adjusted performance and reduce internal expenses often associated with investment management. Spectrum discretionary portfolios combine strategic, long-term management (ten years or greater market outlook), utilizing mutual funds as the investment vehicle, with tactical management (shorter-term market outlook), utilizing exchange traded funds as the investment vehicle, along with an equity risk management strategy to help meet clients’ investment needs.
The Stifel Unison Program
This program offers investors a full asset management system and combines many of the features and benefits found in a variety of managed investment solutions into a single, convenient Stifel account. Each discretionary, model-based portfolio contains separate account managers, mutual funds, and exchange traded funds that are researched and monitored by Stifel.

The Stifel Guidepost Program
Designed to help investors with their 401(k) plan investment decisions, The Stifel Guidepost Program utilizes the advisory services of a Stifel Financial Advisor in establishing an asset allocation recommendation and receiving ongoing investment advice to allocate or reallocate existing assets and/or contributions among investments available through the client’s 401(k) plan.

Corporate Executive Services
Stifel possesses the experience and expertise required to offer guidance and support to executives of publicly traded companies as they face the varied, and often complicated, issues relating to ownership of their company’s stock. Stifel is equipped to handle such complex issues as financing the exercise of stock options, financing the taxes due upon the vesting of restricted stock awards and restricted stock units, control and restricted stock transactions, and Rule 10b5-1 plans.

Exchange Traded Funds and Notes
Exchange traded funds and notes are financial instruments that provide the diversification of a basket of securities combined with the flexibility of trading throughout the day like stock. Whether an investor is looking to gain broad market exposure, focus on a specific area of the market, or construct a fully diversified portfolio, through ongoing, professional research of the full universe of exchange traded funds and notes, Stifel is able to recommend the specific products that best fit his or her individual needs.
Wealth Planning
A road map can show the best way for someone to get where they want to go. In pursuing financial goals, the same can be said of a solid plan of action. Stifel has created the tools necessary to allow clients to effectively assess their current financial situation and create a plan of action designed to meet their needs and objectives. The financial planning process provides the investor the opportunity to assess financial and non-financial assets, saving and investing practices, and the ability of these to meet stated long-term financial goals.

Stifel Wealth Strategist Report®
This comprehensive financial planning program is customized for the unique circumstances of each individual client. The personalized report — presented in a hardbound volume — provides an impressive, detailed presentation of the client’s current financial situation, goals, and risk tolerance, and provides a clear picture of the need for a personal plan of action that helps the client gain control of his or her financial future. The Wealth Strategist program is six reports in one: net worth, risk management, asset allocation, college funding, retirement funding, and estate analysis.
Estate Planning
Estate planning is an often overlooked component of many financial plans. Proper estate planning can minimize taxes and administrative expenses and ensure that assets will pass to loved ones and charities according to an individual’s wishes. Proactive planning can also ease the burden on loved ones during a stressful period. A Stifel estate plan analysis illustrates the projected growth of an estate and examines the impact of taxes and other estate settlement costs. The report will provide information on common estate planning documents, such as wills, revocable living trusts, and powers of attorney, as well as estate planning strategies, such as credit shelter trusts and marital trusts.

Social Security
When it comes to Social Security, the right planning can pay off. Stifel Financial Advisors are equipped to help individuals or couples take full advantage of their retirement benefits through a personalized Social Security Optimization Report. The report shows an optimal strategy for claiming Social Security benefits in order to maximize lifetime benefits. The optimal strategy can be compared to other strategies that may be under consideration, providing individuals or couples the information needed to make an informed decision.
Tax Planning
Understanding the current income tax code is no easy task. Stifel’s Tax Planning Services are designed to help clients better understand federal and state income taxes and how they impact particular investment strategies. Our services range from comprehensive income tax reviews and client-specific conference calls to quick answers to general tax questions clients may encounter. Our goal is to help interpret the tax code and to provide clients with proactive tax planning ideas to discuss with their tax advisors.

Insurance and Annuities
Stifel’s insurance-licensed associates provide clients with customized service in selecting products best suited for their individual needs. Representing the most competitive companies and products in the industry, Stifel professionals can also provide clients the objective and consultative assistance they need in reviewing such areas as life, disability, and long-term care insurance, as well as tax-deferred annuities.

Investment Banking
Stifel has long been a dominant force in bringing capital and providing advice to corporate and municipal entities. When knowledgeable assistance is needed to raise capital – either through direct placement or a public offering – or provide mergers and acquisitions guidance, Stifel has stood as the Advisor of Choice. The combination of a full-service product offering and investment bankers with deep domain and product expertise allows us to provide solutions that meet the evolving needs of our clients.

Municipal Bonds
Municipalities continue to call upon Stifel to act as financial consultant and provide expert support in the planning, preparation, and sale of their bonds. Stifel has pioneered innovative financial structuring, and our creative programs have also strengthened our municipal underwriting capability. The firm is a leading dealer in tax-exempt municipal bonds, engaging in the underwriting of state and local bonds — general obligation, industrial development, and revenue bonds. Additionally, Stifel maintains an active secondary market in municipal bonds.
Mutual Funds
Stifel can take the legwork — and guesswork — out of the mutual fund selection process by providing the ongoing professional research needed in navigating what can be an overwhelming choice of mutual funds. With more than 13,000 mutual funds currently available, Stifel assists investors in choosing the most appropriate mutual funds from a wide universe of fund families and individual funds to match specific investment objectives and needs.

529 College Savings Plans
With the cost of college tuition and expenses rising faster than the rate of inflation, planning for their children’s or grandchildren’s education may be among a client’s most important financial decisions. 529 plans offer parents and grandparents a unique investment strategy with tax advantages and estate planning benefits. Stifel offers a wide selection of 529 plans and can assist investors in selecting the best plan to meet college savings goals.

Options
As versatile investments, options can help meet many different objectives. By employing both fundamental and technical research, Stifel develops options strategies to assist the more sophisticated investor in pursuing his or her individual investment goals, including risk management and income generation.
Public Finance
Working in conjunction with the Municipal Bond Department, Stifel Public Finance underwrites bonds for a diversity of public entities. From negotiated borrowings and competitive bond sales to analytical advisory services, Stifel stands as a comprehensive resource for all types of financing needs. Stifel retail and institutional clients gain special access to high-quality tax-exempt bonds.

Research
Stifel Equity Research is an awarding-winning stock-picking idea shop with a deep and broad spectrum of global coverage on many nationally acclaimed companies. Our research universe embraces all market caps, with a particular focus on small- and mid-cap stocks. Our department is predominantly staffed with professionals outside of Wall Street who are thought leaders, many with hands-on experience in their respective industries. Our analysts offer our advisors and their clients objective, in-depth analysis, and timely, actionable research ideas. We are firm believers that industry experience, our opportunistic approach, and broad market-cap coverage drives excess returns and our award-winning research franchise. Stifel is recognized as a leader in equity research, as measured by quantitative independently conducted surveys by The Wall Street Journal and StarMine. Overall, Stifel has twelve consecutive top ten finishes in the Thomson Reuters StarMine Analyst Awards, was the #1 ranked equity research firm by The Wall Street Journal in 2010, and was cited by the Financial Times as the “best house for stock picking” in 2011.

Retirement Plans
Choosing a retirement plan that can best meet a particular company’s needs is one of the most important business decisions a business owner or executive will make. With so much at stake, large and small companies from a variety of industries turn to Stifel to assist with their retirement plans, including 401(k), profit sharing, pension, 403(b), SEP and SIMPLE IRAs, and others. Whether a company requires creative plan design, assistance with product and investment selection, plan implementation, an employee communication initiative, a fee analysis, or investment monitoring, Stifel has the experience and resources to help owners, executives, and their valued employees in pursuing long-term financial objectives.

Stifel does not have a proprietary retirement plan program. As such, we analyze each company’s needs and provide objective guidance to match the needs with the most appropriate recordkeeping and investment platforms, including mutual fund, insurance company, and third-party administration providers.

The process of selecting a provider, implementing a plan, and keeping it current is no small task. Stifel can help guide employers through it all, providing resources to assist with fiduciary responsibility and compliance, and help to develop a strategy for ensuring the plan’s success.

Syndicate

Stifel continues to participate in a large number of equity and debt new issue and secondary offerings. The firm’s history, reputation, and distribution capabilities allow us to participate in many offerings underwritten by the nation’s leading investment banking firms. The department is also responsible for the issuance of our investment banking-led transactions.

Unit Investment Trusts

Through its affiliation with sponsor firms, Stifel is able to offer a variety of unit investment trusts, including portfolios of tax-free bonds, GNMA securities, U.S. Treasuries, corporate bonds, and portfolios of common stocks. Variable annuities, variable life insurance, money market funds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and unit investment trusts are offered by prospectus only. Investors should consider the investment objective, risks, charges, and expenses carefully before investing. The prospectus, which contains this and other important information, is available from a Stifel Financial Advisor and should be read carefully before investing.

An investment in a money market fund is neither insured nor guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund.

Stifel offers both commission-based and fee-based accounts. Fee-based programs are generally subject to a minimum investment. Investors should consider all terms and conditions before deciding whether a fee-based program is appropriate for their needs. Ask your Financial Advisor for a Disclosure Brochure and Client Agreement which further outline the fees, services, and disclosures associated with these programs.

Certain issues may be subject to state and alternative minimum taxes.

Options are not suitable for all investors. There are risks involved in any option strategy. Individuals should not enter into option transactions until they have read and understood the option disclosure document titled “Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options,” which outlines the purposes and risks of option transactions. This booklet is available from your Stifel Financial Advisor. Supporting documentation of claims will be supplied upon request.
