The first Webb recorded in Marion County, Tenn., was in 1822 when Henry Webb on July 16, 1822 received Land Grant No. 17651 for five acres of land, registered in Book T. on page 789.

Due to a fire destroying all other courthouse records than the deed book, we can only assume this is the first recording for a Webb. Marion County became a county in 1817, formerly it was Indian lands.

In 1828 Henry Webb sold “155” acres of land to Littleberry Webb and Wiley Webb, this land being in Sweedens Cove. A John Webb in 1828 is also recorded. Later this was sold to Jacob Webb, then to Asahel Webb in 1834.

The first lands in Marion County owned by Webbs, other than the Sweedens Cove area were Shellmound (near Nickajack Cave), Walden’s Ridge (closer to Chattanooga), and at Cedar Ridge in Jasper.

The Wiley and Mary heirs were listed as Joseph, W.M., John, M.D., Rufus, Mel, and Rachel.

Ellis Webb, Melchiradee Webb, Jacob Webb, and Wiley Webb were also here in 1830, as were Asahel and son Alfred G. Webb. Meridith and Thomas Webb were at Walden’s Ridge.

Verbal history relates the Webbs came from Middle Tennessee at Warren and White Counties, and Smithville (DeKalb), formerly coming from North Carolina.

The early Webb history dates back to England.

The annual Webb Reunion at Nickajack Dam, Shellmound Park, on the third Sunday every August invites all Webbs to attend, visit with your “kinfolks,” check out the “Webb History Display” for your ancestors, and add your family to our Webb Genealogy collection. A book on the Webbs of Marion County is in our public library. Howard Kenneth Webb and Nonie Hlobil Webb, reunion hosts, are from Jasper, Tennessee.
