Welcome to the 2016 National Association of State Treasurers (NAST) Treasury Management Training Symposium! It is my great privilege and honor to serve as NAST President for 2016. Your continued support and attendance at this conference as well as September’s Annual Conference in Seattle are sure to make this a successful year for our association.

I especially wish to commend our Senior Vice President and Program Committee Chair, Oklahoma Treasurer Ken Miller along with the Banking & Cash Management, Financial Education & Empowerment, Unclaimed Property Administrators, State Debt Management, and College Savings Plans leadership for doing a stellar job in developing an outstanding program for this year’s symposium. Thanks to their efforts and the hard work of NAST’s remarkable staff, we can all look forward to a productive and exciting week in the historic city of New Orleans.

Thus far, NAST has gotten off to a great start in 2016 with a significantly increased presence in national media, a successful legislative conference and continued strides in enhancing both our administrative operations and fiscal management. The leadership team, committee chairs and membership of this fine organization continue to impress and inspire me. Together we will strive to provide Treasurers, treasury officials, staff, networks and corporate affiliates opportunities such as this conference to discuss and engage on pertinent issues that have an impact on each of our states and communities. It is our goal to work with NAST members and corporate affiliates in sustaining and improving upon this progress.

I’ve always valued NAST’s annual training symposium because it gets to the heart of what we do as treasury professionals and allows us a unique opportunity to learn from, and share with, each other. This year’s symposium will feature more training tracks than ever with variety of useful topics. Whether you are looking to learn more about “strategic thinking for today’s volatile markets” or “integrating financial education into K-12 classrooms” you won’t be disappointed. The week’s evening events and entertainment will also be exceptional as we explore the WWII Museum, listen to traditional New Orleans jazz, and dine around the French Quarter with friends and colleagues.

Best wishes for a successful week in New Orleans and I look forward to welcoming all of you in September to my beautiful home city of Seattle for this year’s Annual Conference!

Sincerely,

James L. McIntire
