Apprenticeships: a proven route to Higher Education and permanent employment

Bolton College is always keen to promote Apprenticeships and the opportunities they present in terms of progression to both further study and the world of work.

Two Bolton College apprentices who chose to pursue the Apprenticeship route to achieve their respective ambitions are 37-year-old Lee Bruton and 19-year-old Emma Birch.

"An Apprenticeship equips you with the skills for the workplace as well as essential qualifications."

Lee, who is currently completing his Level 3 Customer Service Apprenticeship, works at Royal Bolton Hospital and has recently been promoted from Procurement Assistant to Assistant Buyer. "I’d recommend doing an Apprenticeship. Your confidence grows, as well as your ability to deal with people and resolve problems. You get to work alongside skilled professionals, so it’s a great way to learn."

Emma, who is currently completing her Level 2 Teaching Assistant Apprenticeship, works at Gilnaw Primary School and will be progressing to university. “An Apprenticeship equips you with the skills for the workplace as well as essential qualifications, so your knowledge and experience increases along with your confidence. I’ve been able to forge strong relationships with both children and staff, preparing me well for studying Primary Education at Edge Hill University.”

Bolton College delivers Apprenticeships in over 35 subject areas – from Barbering and Beauty Therapy to Brickwork and Business. If you’re interested in pursuing a practical route to Higher Education and employment, email apprenticeships@boltoncc.ac.uk or call 01204 482 036.

On Friday 18th March 2016, Bolton College celebrated the final day of National Apprenticeship Week by inviting Yasmin Qureshi MP to meet some exemplary apprentices.

Apprenticeships are available in 1,500 professions, covering more than 170 industries, and one of the College’s biggest priorities is to help learners improve their employability and progress to their chosen destination.

"Learning new skills whilst earning money - you win every way you look at it!"

Sam Brown, 24, is completing a Level 3 Hairdressing Apprenticeship and working at KW Hairdressing. "I’ve always been creative and knew I wanted to do something hands-on, so an Apprenticeship is ideal for me. Learning new skills whilst working and earning money – you win every way you look at it!"

After gaining authentic insight into the hairdressing industry from male hairdresser Sam, the local MP popped in on Emma Holden – a female Vehicle Maintenance & Repair Apprentice working at Radcliffe Tyre & MOT Centre.

18-year-old Emma, who wants to work for Formula 1 one day, said: "I’ve developed a lot. Through talking to customers on a regular basis, I’ve really come out of my shell. An Apprenticeship opens you up. I feel more confident now."

Yasmin Qureshi, MP for Bolton South-East, said: “Apprenticeships are so varied and the resurgence is fantastic news for our young people. Bolton has a proud industrial past and I am pleased we are once again at the forefront with our Apprenticeship schemes.”

Whichever industry you’d like to work in, there will be an Apprenticeship to get you there. To find out more about the Apprenticeship route, email apprenticeships@boltoncc.ac.uk or call 01204 482 036.

Apprenticeships

Bolton College delivers Apprenticeships through the generations

Bolton College has been delivering Apprenticeships for over 60 years, and generations of Bolton residents have benefited from this work-based learning pathway which can lead directly to permanent employment – and in many cases, self-employment and the establishment of a business.

This was the case for Sarah Ratcliffe – employer of Level 2 Hairdressing Apprentice Ellie Dobson. Sarah, the owner of thriving hair salon Sarah’s Hair, completed her Hairdressing Apprenticeship with Bolton College in 2013 and launched her business soon after. Sarah went on to be crowned North West’s Apprentice of the Year 2013 and was Highly Commended at the National stage.

Aside from essential trade skills and techniques, former apprentice Sarah has also been able to pass on her sense of ambition to Ellie, who dreams of following in her boss’s footsteps. Ellie, 17, said: “With an Apprenticeship you get to build a client base, so it’s great in terms of establishing a business. Ellie, 17, said: “With an Apprenticeship you get to build a client base, so it’s great in terms of establishing a business.

Toby Wood is another Bolton College learner who has chosen the work-based learning pathway and is also employed by a former Bolton College apprentice, Toby, 19, is currently completing a Level 3 Carpentry & Joinery Apprenticeship and works for J Tonge Joinery, based in Bolton.

Jonathan Tonge, Toby’s employer, said: “I started off very similarly to Toby; I did my Apprenticeship 20 years ago and now here I am today with my own business! I’d absolutely recommend doing an Apprenticeship as a way of getting into an industry. You’re in control of your own future.”

If you’d like to pursue a successful career by starting on an Apprenticeship, get in touch by emailing apprenticeships@boltoncc.ac.uk or calling 01204 482 036.

While many people enrol directly onto an Apprenticeship, it can also serve as a means of progression – which was the case for Ashley Haslam, who is currently completing a Level 2 Vehicle Maintenance & Repair Apprenticeship.

Ashley, 24, left school with very low confidence and self-esteem, but with a burning ambition to become a Mechanic. He enrolled on a mainstream Motor Vehicle course but found he couldn’t keep up with the demands, which resulted in him becoming a NEET. However, through a partnership between Bolton College and Jobcentre Plus, Ashley was able to get back into education through completing some short courses in the community.

From there, Ashley secured a Traineeship placement with local employer Wilson’s Autos – who were so impressed with Ashley throughout his time with them that they took him on as an apprentice. Since then, Ashley has excelled in his role and has even received a nomination for the National Apprenticeship Awards 2016.

“[I used to be terrified of speaking on the phone, but this Apprenticeship has really helped my confidence.]”

Nigel Wilson, owner of Wilson’s Autos, said: “When Ashley started he was very quiet and didn’t really have any confidence. He has progressed so much with his work and in himself. I am really pleased with how far he has come.”

Molly Johnson, Business Admin Apprenticeship Level 3 Working at Bolton NHS Foundation Trust

I manage the directors’ diaries, take minutes, organise meetings, deal with the post, type up letters – all sorts! When I finished my Apprenticeship I was offered a full-time contract as Admin Assistant, and in the future I hope to become a secretary for one of the directors.

You can enrol on an Apprenticeship at any time of the year, so if you’d like to kick-start your dream career today, get in touch by emailing apprenticeships@boltoncc.ac.uk or calling 01204 482 036.

Access to Legal Professions
I’ve studied here since 2014; I completed Level 2 Maths Functional Skills and Level 1 English Functional Skills last year. I also won the Karin Eckersley Prize for Endeavour at the Adult & Community Learning Awards 2015.

I began to lose my vision when I was a teenager, and this affected my mental health; however I wanted to learn and was determined to travel from Manchester to Bolton College to pursue my ambition.

I came to Bolton College because I’d heard that it was a centre of excellence for disabled students. The support is excellent here. The College is also designed well, with a lot of light, so from a disabled person’s perspective it’s easy to navigate and get around.

The Access course is very flexible. The tutors are very knowledgeable and most importantly it has enabled me to access university! I’ve been offered a place at the University of Manchester to study Law in September. After university, I want to train as a mental health lawyer.

I would recommend this course to others. It’s ideal for people who didn’t achieve what they needed to at school. An Access course will enable you to go to university and achieve your ambitions.

The application was nice and easy – the College walked me through it so I didn’t really have to do anything! I’d definitely recommend the Loan to others. If I’d had to pay the fees myself, there’s no way I could’ve done the course. Plus, the Loan is wiped off if you successfully complete a degree – so it’s worth it! I’m planning on studying Psychology at university.

Access to Art & Design
I’ve always enjoyed painting so I was considering turning my interest into a career when I came across this course. I liked the tutors when I came for interview – they were really enthusiastic.

We cover a whole range of different techniques in a year, which is great for my portfolio. I’ve done photography, editing in Photoshop, life drawing, painting using oils, and I’ve particularly enjoyed graphic design – so much so that I’m planning on pursuing it at university.

Sow the seed of your future career

Here at Bolton College we have a selection of eligible courses to choose from, so select your seed today to start growing your very own career.

Are you 19 or over and want to complete a Level 3 or 4 course? With an Advanced Learner Loan, there are no credit checks and you won’t need to pay back a penny until you’re earning over £21,000 a year!

Carmen Mather
Beauty Therapy Level 4 (Salon Management)

The application process was great – I could even bring my child in with me to Student Services while I completed it. Everything went really smoothly; I enrolled on my course and applied for the Loan all in one day.

I wouldn’t have been able to afford to do the course without the Loan; I would’ve had to save and do it in two years or something! I’d recommend the Loan to others.
Students travel weekly from Scotland to Bolton

Many Bolton College learners live in the town of Bolton – or at least within the locality of Greater Manchester – so getting into College each week is a simple matter of jumping on the bus. However, for three students studying the Healthcare Play Specialism Foundation Degree, getting to College each week involves travelling from a different country altogether.

Diane Brown, Amanda Balloch and Paula Lawson are about to finish the first year of their Foundation Degree – however they all currently work for hospitals in Scotland.

Paula Lawson, who works in Dundee and has to get up at 3am on the day of her course to get to College in time, said: “The other two girls work in Edinburgh, so I drive over and we get the train down together. There’s no course like this in Scotland – it’s the closest one to us!”

While the Healthcare Play Specialism Foundation Degree is delivered at Bolton College, it runs in partnership with the University of West London – and is one of just four of its kind delivered in the UK.

Despite the distance, the aspiring Healthcare Play Specialists are full of praise for the course’s delivery. “The College provides all the support you need. The tutors are fantastic – if we can’t make a session, they’re always on the other end of an email to provide support. This was particularly helpful in winter, when we struggled to get down here.”

If you have early years experience and are interested in gaining further skills, get in touch by calling 01204 482 182 or email info@boltoncc.ac.uk

GCSE English

I really enjoy the teaching on the English GCSE course. I’m learning things that I had no interest in when I was at school! Now I’m a bit older, I pick it up a lot better.

What I also like is that you’re learning with other adults – the classes aren’t mixed with younger people – so we’re all in the same boat and encourage each other. A lot of us have come back to education after deciding on a career change or the desire to progress at work. We all have life experience and this affects our learning style.

Once I’ve completed English GCSE, I need to get my Maths and Science GCSEs so that I can get to university.

Leanne Dugdale
English & Maths Functional Skills Level 1

My maths and English tutors are brilliant. They’re aware that I have verbal dyspraxia and are very supportive.

GCSE Maths

I chose to come to Bolton College because I’d heard good reviews – my friends studied here and said it was great. The lessons are interactive and there’s a lot of group work; hearing other people’s views helps you learn more. The teachers are all friendly and there’s a relaxed atmosphere.

My ambition is to study Nursing, and I need my GCSEs to get to university.

I’d recommend taking your GCSEs at Bolton College. The teachers are really good; they help you if you’re struggling with anything and give you extra time and support.

Design Apprenticeship Level 3

Working at North West Design Studios

I was studying Interactive Media Level 3 full-time when I had the opportunity to complete a work experience placement at North West Design. By my second visit I was working on live client websites and after my fourth session they offered me a position as Web Design Apprentice. I got on with the team straightaway and the experience has built my confidence. I’m due to finish my Apprenticeship this summer and they’ve offered me a permanent position as Designer!

Krystal Ralphson

Digital Photography Level 2

I studied Art & Design Level 3 previously and then decided to specialise in photography. I love taking portraits and photos of animals, and I'm also helping to promote a disability club by taking photos of their events in my spare time.

I want to progress to Level 3 and then work as a self-employed photographer. I love the idea of having my own studio and I've already created a bit of a logo for myself! I'm determined to achieve this, regardless of my disability.
Don't forget your English & Maths! See pages 22 & 23.

Victoria Stigwood, who is currently completing a Level 3 Business Admin Apprenticeship, is not only keen to progress her career, but she also wants to challenge the misconception that Apprenticeships are just for young people with no family or prior experiences.

“I originally studied Travel & Tourism after leaving school and worked abroad as a holiday rep. In my late 20s I was due to become out on. “With a Level 3 under my belt, I can access a university degree!”

In support of Victoria’s nomination for the National Apprenticeship Awards, Davina Polding, Excellence & Innovation Manager at Bolton College, said: “Victoria is a model apprentice. She has embraced her learning journey with enthusiasm, commitment and determination.”

If you’re keen to get ahead in your career by doing an Apprenticeship, email us at apprenticeships@boltoncc.ac.uk or call 01204 482 036.

Charlotte Aldcroft
AAT Level 4
Working at Haywood & Co.

I started on the Level 2 Apprenticeship back in 2011 and have progressed from there.

I’d definitely recommend the Apprenticeship route. It’s a quick and easy way to get into an industry, and you’ll gain the qualifications you need. The fact that you have a job while you’re learning is great for your CV too, and you can build relationships with employers. My aim is to become a chartered accountant, which my employer is going to support me with.

Julia Crilly
Access to Business Management

I’m enjoying everything about the course! The lessons are so varied – we cover a different topic every few weeks. I’d been out of education for a while so it was strange coming back, but the tutors are really supportive and help you whenever you need it.

I’d recommend this course because it’s good preparation for university. As well as subject-specific knowledge, you learn skills that you’ll need at university – like how to write a bibliography and studying independently.

I’m going to UCLan in September to study Retail Management (Buying).

It’s a sandwich course, with a year in industry. After graduating I’ll be able to apply for management positions straightaway!

During the months of February and March, Bolton College worked closely with the Mayor of Bolton and Bolton Council to support preparations for the Mayor’s Ball, which took place on Friday 18th March.

While the Ball was held to help raise money for the Mayor’s charities – Urban Outreach, Bolton Hospice and Bolton Lads & Girls Club – it also served as an opportunity for Bolton College learners to gain some essential work experience.

In support of the event, Catering learners worked hard in the College’s industry-standard production kitchens to design and cook up their own dessert creations. The best dessert, as judged by the Mayor herself, was to be replicated by Heathcote & Co and served to guests on the night of the Ball.

The five options were: profiteroles with salted caramel sauce; chocolate brownie with vanilla ice cream; apple and thyme tarte Tatin; vanilla and coconut pannacotta; Bakewell tart with crème anglaise.

After tasting each creation, the Mayor chose the refreshing pannacotta as the winning dessert, which was designed by Leon Rose and Nathaniel Wolfendale – both of whom are studying Food Preparation & Cookery NVQ Diploma Level 2.

If you’re interested in studying Catering & Hospitality, get in touch by emailing info@boltoncc.ac.uk or calling 01204 482 182.

Rasha Mukhtar

Professional Cookery Level 2

I started in ESOL, and then wanted to learn all about cooking and English food.

I really like the teamwork involved; we all have to work together to make the dishes and serve them to customers. The teachers are so lovely and friendly – they support you and always help you if you need it. If you make a mistake, they reassure you and encourage you to try again.

I’ve already recommended the course to my sister and my friend!

Daniel Ryder

Professional Cookery Apprenticeship Level 2

Working at Nick’s Restaurant

I chose to do an Apprenticeship because you get paid to gain essential experience and industry techniques, and to develop as a professional.

I decided I wanted to be a Chef when I was in school, but I didn’t really have any experience before I came here. As well as learning new skills, I get a lot of support from tutors and my colleagues at work.

I have a number of options for the future – one of which is progressing onto the Level 3 Apprenticeship.

The College’s annual Beauty Showcase returned in full swing earlier this year, with learners brandishing face-paint and make-up brushes to produce their own weird and wonderful interpretations of the set theme ‘fantasy’.

The learners let their imaginations run wild by breathing life into a variety of fantastical characters, including Cruella de Vil, Medusa, Maleficent, Avatar, Peter Pan and the Queen of Hearts.

Katherine Glover
Beauty Therapy Level 2
I originally worked in early years but then experienced health problems so I couldn’t continue. I’ve returned to education to learn something new.

I like everything about the course – learning all about skincare and different treatments. The make-up unit is definitely my favourite. My tutor is really good; I like the way the course is taught and taking part in the Beauty Showcase was fun.

I’d like to do the Level 3 Media Make-up course next, and then pursue a career in make-up.

Beauty Therapy Apprentice Level 3
Working at Millisimo
Earning while training in something you enjoy is the best of both worlds, and you can apply what you learn in College straightaway to your work. You also benefit from the guidance of industry professionals, and you’re treated like a professional by clients.

When you’re used to working and earning money, the Apprenticeship route is ideal. If you want to make a living, do an Apprenticeship.

Amy Louise Walsh, who is currently studying Hair & Media Make-up Level 3, modelled her design on mythical monster Medusa. “I used body art, a head-piece with hair extensions, and make-up with special effects – including scales made out of gelatine!”

As a result of the skills she has gained during her College course, Amy has plans to study Special Effects for Television at university and complete a work placement in Media City. “I originally studied Media Studies at A-level but realised I wanted to learn more about the make-up side of things so I came here. I love learning how to create simulated cuts and bruises, black eyes and broken noses. I’d love to work in television!”

If you’re interested in studying Hair & Media Make-up, get in touch by emailing info@boltoncc.ac.uk or calling 01204 482 182.

Jamie Davies

Hair & Media Make-up Level 3

A few of my friends studied Beauty here and have since started their own businesses or gone freelance, so I thought I’d see for myself!

The course is so diverse and can lead onto so many opportunities. You don’t just have to pursue make-up artistry – you could go into cosmetic science and learn about the chemistry behind it.

I’m going to the University of Southampton in September and will be learning about session styling, freelance management, high fashion and make-up, and how to break into the industry. I can’t wait!

Norin Khan

Beauty Therapy Level 4 (Salon Management)

I was unemployed for five years before coming to College, but thanks to this Level 4 course I’ve been able to find work at a day spa.

We’re learning skills in IPL (laser hair removal), vascular blemish and vein removal, and micropigmentation (semi-permanent make-up), and practising them on real clients.

Returning to education after so many years is challenging, but the experience has really improved my confidence. I started at Level 2 and in just three years I’ve learnt so many skills!

Sow the seed of your future career

With an Advanced Learner Loan, there are no credit checks and you won’t need to pay back a penny until you’re earning over £21,000 a year!

Craig Suttill
Access to Sports Therapy

I was so impressed with the College when I resat my Maths and Science GCSEs that I decided to come back to do the Access course.

My tutor is very professional and has really helped me to develop my academic writing and referencing.

The course is fast and intense but it's fit for purpose. I'm going to university in September to study Sports Rehabilitation, and my long-term goal is to work for a professional football club.

Angela Atherton
Complementary Therapies Level 3

The course is brilliant. The teachers are great and they help you all the way through.

I've learnt so much! I'm doing the Level 4 next year and specialising in Reflexology. It absolutely fascinates me. When my little girl is old enough I want to do a degree in Physiotherapy and then work for the NHS.

Computing IT

Steven Freeman
Access to Computing

I want to study Architecture at university and this is the quickest, most related route – covering topics such as 3D modelling and design. The teaching is really good and the tutors are really helpful; they give you one-to-one support if you need it. The facilities are fit for purpose – all the software you need, and the on-demand laptops are really useful. I really enjoy the programming side of the course, so I’m going to continue this at university. I’ve got a lot of options now for the future.

Yusuf Rafiy
Computing HND

The content of the course offered exactly what I wanted to learn – programming, Photoshop and many other areas of computing. The teaching is good and the tutors are really helpful; they give you one-to-one support if you need it. The facilities are fit for purpose – all the software programs you need, and the on-demand laptops are really useful.

Lauren Cassidy
IT Apprenticeship Level 3
Working at Bolton College

I’d done my A-levels and was trying to figure out my next step. I needed some experience and wanted some industry qualifications, and I thought an Apprenticeship would be perfect because I’d be getting paid as well.

It’s a great way to get your foot in the door of your chosen industry, and you get a lot of experience because you’re practising what you’re learning every single day. A lot of employers want experience, so I’d definitely recommend an Apprenticeship.

Ashraf Khepi
Computing Level 3

I started off at Entry Level and have progressed all the way to Level 3. I didn’t really know anything about computers before, but I’ve learnt something new every day. The tutors encourage us to keep playing around with the computers to find new solutions to problems. The resources are great; I’m always borrowing books from the library and using the laptops for my assignments. I’d like to go to university or do an Apprenticeship, and work on an IT helpdesk.

Big Changes start with small steps
Construction

I’ve got a place at the University of Salford to study Architecture. I want to learn the trade, earn some money and then head to university. When Martin Taylor, 44, had his hours cut to just three days a week, he was faced with a future of uncertainty. However, instead of thinking negatively, he focused on the new opportunities available to him – and decided to train as a Plumber.

“I was previously a Service Engineer, available to him – and decided to focus on the new opportunities instead of thinking negatively, he fixed his hours cut to just three days a week, he was faced with a future of uncertainty. However, instead of thinking negatively, he focused on the new opportunities available to him – and decided to train as a Plumber.

Kameron Birchall
Winner of North West Regional Skill Build (Plastering) Plastering Apprenticeship Level 2

I’m one of the oldest apprentices here – and decided to focus on the new opportunities available to him – and decided to train as a Plumber.

I've always wanted to study Architecture and this was the nearest College to offer the course that I needed, so I travel in from Manchester.

Everyone gets along because they want to be here; it’s a really grown-up environment. The facilities are good too – we have access to surveying equipment and autoCAD software.

I’ve got a place at the University of Salford to study Architecture. I want to work as an Architect and maybe set up my own business one day.

Construction HNC

Working at Harry Peers Steelwork Ltd

I love the variety of construction units that you cover, and the first and second years are all together in class so you can learn from the more advanced students. The tutors are really nice and help you with anything you’re struggling with.

My plan is to finish the course and then progress to the University of Bolton to study Quantity Surveying. I would recommend this course – it’s hard work but you get your money’s worth!

When Martin Taylor, 44, had his hours cut to just three days a week, he was faced with a future of uncertainty. However, instead of thinking negatively, he focused on the new opportunities available to him – and decided to train as a Plumber.

“I was previously a Service Engineer, and now I have a solid background in repairs. My job involves so much variety – from boiler and radiator upgrades to fitting kitchens and bathrooms from scratch! I’ve added so many new strings to my bow.”

It’s a common misconception that Apprenticeships are designed exclusively for young people starting out on their career path; however, for Martin, it served as the perfect way to pursue a different path altogether. “It was a very good move and I’m really pleased that I had this opportunity. We all joke that I’m one of the oldest apprentices here but Apprenticeships are for any age; I’d advise anyone to do one if they’re in the position I was in.”

In addition to the hands-on experience, the recognised qualifications have also improved Martin’s prospects. “The qualifications have made a difference. I could go to Australia and work for myself if I wanted to!”

If you’d like to pursue a new career by doing an Apprenticeship, email us at apprenticeships@boltoncc.ac.uk or call 01204 482 036.

Counselling & Social Work

Stephanie Briggs

Counselling Level 3

There’s a real mix of personalities, ages and backgrounds on the course, and we all have busy lifestyles, but the course is broken into clear sections so we are able to achieve our goals.

I currently work for Beacon Counselling, and this course has introduced me to so many different specialisms I could pursue. I’ve already applied to study Level 4 here next year! The course is definitely good value for money, and you meet so many new people.

Jennifer Steadman

Access to Social Work

I’ve worked with children for the past 14 years and run my own childminding service, so I thought I’d make a good Social Worker.

I’m dyslexic and I’ve been well supported with this. The tutors really have your back; you can go to them if you’re worried about anything. They’re invaluable.

I would certainly recommend this course. I’m 51, and coming back to education was daunting, but you’re never too old to achieve your goal.
Usman Malji
Access to Primary Teaching
I currently work as a taxi driver but I fancied a career change. The course covers so much – English, psychology, education and much more.
I work full-time and have a family, so it has been a challenge, but the tutors are really flexible and they keep you motivated.
I’d definitely recommend this course; it’s one of the best things you could do. Going to university gives you a better chance in life.

Della Hatami
Supporting Teaching & Learning in Schools Level 3
I did a Business degree and worked as a manager in Boots for 13 years, but then fancied a career change. I’ve progressed from the Level 2 and am now working as a Teaching Assistant.
It’s a very practical course; there’s a lot of case study work, which I can apply to my job. We learn about behaviour management, how to support both the children and the teachers, how to adapt teaching for different abilities, and much more. I’d recommend it!

Junaid Chapti
Supporting Teaching & Learning in Schools Apprenticeship Level 3
Working at The Olive Tree Primary
I’d recommend the Apprenticeship route; you learn so much at College and then get to apply it in a real job, as part of a team. I tried to study full-time before and just couldn’t stick at it – but the Apprenticeship offered me the right balance.
I’d like to be a teacher one day, so my next step is to become an HLTA (Higher Level Teaching Assistant), then do a Foundation Degree, followed by a full degree and finally a PGCE.

Daniel Huntley
PGDE
I really enjoyed the practical side of the course – microteaching, doing presentations and work-based observations. It’s all been really good preparation for working as a teacher. I had a job alongside completing the PGDE, but the work was given at a good pace so I was never snowed under.
The teaching sold it for me – it’s a true reflection of the high standard of the course. I’d love to teach Drama or Performing Arts at a college or sixth form.
Hairdressing & Barbering

Aspiring Hairdressers are a cut above the rest

Stephanie Davies
Barbering Level 3
I like the small class sizes here – you benefit from more contact time with the tutor. Everyone is really nice and you can always get help if you need it. I’d definitely recommend the course.

I do mobile barbering at the minute but I’m currently in the process of opening my own barber shop. In the future I might like to teach barbering, maybe in a prison to help people better themselves and to give them a trade for when they come out.

Bolton College’s annual Hair Showcase returned in an explosion of glitter and neon colours as talented learners took on the contrasting themes of ‘Aurora’, ‘Best of British’ and ‘History through the Ages’.

Shannon Greer, 19, is currently studying Hairdressing Level 3 and modelled her creation on the vibrant theme of ‘Aurora’. Shannon, who plans to work on a cruise ship next year, said: “It’s good for my portfolio.”

I love creative stuff like this – plus it’s good for my portfolio.”

The Showcase provides the perfect opportunity for learners to add to their portfolios and start building a profile for themselves as professional hairdressers and barbers.

Joanne Smith, 24, is one such hairdressing learner keen to establish herself in the industry and is in the process of opening up her own salon in Harwood – attending College on her days off. “I’m studying Hairdressing because I want to be able to offer more to my customers. The Level 3 covers creative colouring and more technical cutting, and I’ve done my Hair Extension training here as well so I’ve got everything I need for my business!”

A group of creative hairdressing apprentices helped Bolton &ROOHJHNLFNRƪ1DWLRQDO Apprenticeship Week 2016 by showcasing their extravagant skills on the catwalk.

25 hairdressing and barbering apprentices each gave their model a unique image around the themes of ‘red carpet’ and ‘avant-garde masquerade’.

Dipti Patel is currently completing a Level 3 Hairdressing Apprenticeship with Bolton College and working at The Messy Mare hair salon in Bolton. Dipti, who modelled her hair design on the avant-garde theme, said: “I’d definitely recommend an Apprenticeship. Employers want experience as well as qualifications.”

In addition to influential industry figures – including Reps from Wella and Salon Services – a number of local employers attended the glittering catwalk event to get a glimpse of the apprentices’ collective talents. Employers in attendance included Sarah’s Hair, Objet d’art, Hair Shac, KW hairdressing, Perfect Cuts, Nicola Louise and Beverly Ann’s.

Nikki Lanaghan, owner of Objet d’art, said: “It’s such a treat to witness young stylists producing such a high quality of work. It’ll be exciting to see what they accomplish in the future!”

Joe Brignano
Health & Social Care Level 3

Everyone in the class has different ambitions – some want to be Social Workers, some Midwives, some Nurses... It’s very varied. We work together a lot as a class and help each other with assignments.

I’m doing a two–day placement every week with Bolton Council, working with disabled children, which has helped me develop my practical skills.

This course has made me realise my ambition: to go to university and become a Social Worker.

Fanny Bupanda
Access to Nursing & Midwifery

The course is both theoretical and practical; we’ve even dissected a sheep’s heart, which is anatomically very similar to a human heart. We’ve also received visits from health professionals who gave us real insight into nursing and midwifery. The course covers a mixture of everything.

I’ve had a fabulous time on the course! I’m going to Bangor University in Wales to study Adult Nursing, and the College has prepared me well – it’s exceeded my expectations.
Katrina Furber
Access to Therapies for Health

The tutors are really knowledgeable and friendly, and the support they give you is brilliant. Everyone gets on really well in class and supports each other.

I work full-time five days a week and come into College on my two days off. It’s hard work but I want a career change. I’ve had a conditional offer from the University of Bradford to study Physiotherapy, so I’ll hopefully be going there. I definitely recommend this course – it’s what you need to make that next step.

Bolton College works with over 3,000 employers in Bolton alone, and one of the biggest is Bolton NHS Foundation Trust. In addition to collaborating with the Trust to develop a unique Level 3 Cadet programme, Bolton College also has a number of apprentices working on the hospital site.

Carolyn, 27, is one such apprentice who is currently completing a Level 3 Clinical Healthcare Apprentice.

“I’d been working in the Intensive Care Unit for about nine months when my ward manager suggested I did the Apprentice. I didn’t have any qualifications in Health & Social Care before so couldn’t do that many things, but now I can do ECGs, take blood, do dressings and all sorts.”

Most Apprenticeships follow a day-release structure, where the apprentice attends College one day a week; however, in Carolyn’s case, all the training is delivered at the hospital. “I can apply what I learn straightaway and all the experience has given me so much confidence. I’m now going to university in September to study Adult Nursing – either at Edge Hill, Manchester Metropolitan or Salford – then I’d like to work in A&E!”

If you’re interested in doing a Health & Social Care Apprenticeship, get in touch by emailing apprenticeships@boltoncc.ac.uk or calling 01204 482 036.

Vehicle Maintenance & Repair

Apprenticeship Level 3, Working at Parkside Garage

I'm office manager at the garage, and look after both the workshop and the showroom, but I needed a Level 3 so that I could get an MOT licence and progress further in the role. It made sense to do an Apprenticeship because I already work full-time. The Apprenticeship is really thorough. With an engine repair, instead of just replacing the faulty component you're encouraged to test it out and figure out exactly what's wrong with it so that you fully understand.

- Fees: £8,583
- Cost of course if funded by an 'Advanced Learner Loan' or paid in full: £5,421

Engineering Level 3

I'm enjoying the course – especially the CAD drawing, studying diagrams and finding solutions to problems. I like learning in the STEM Centre; the staff are nice and help you if you've got any problems. The equipment is perfect too and laptops are always available.

I'd recommend this course because it prepares you for university. I want to go to Coventry University to study Aerospace Engineering.

Greg Johnson
Access to Sport & Exercise Science

I wanted to study this subject at university and this course is the ideal stepping stone. The content is really interesting, and I've had offers from four universities!

My long-term ambition, once I've completed my degree, is to do a PGCE and then work as a PE teacher.

Charlotte Wellens
Sports Coaching Apprenticeship Level 3

I was already working at Bolton Arena and looking for more coaching hours when they offered me the opportunity of doing an Apprenticeship. I didn't hesitate because it meant I could get a qualification as well as essential experience – I coach every night of the week!
