New feature - carry over up to $500 in unused health care FSA dollars into the following year! See “Claims Deadline and Carryover” below for more information!

The Flexible Spending Account (FSA) allows you to pay some health and dependent care expenses with before-tax dollars. As a result, you pay less federal, state and Social Security taxes - and you have more take-home pay. There are two FSA reimbursement accounts: the Dependent Care Reimbursement Account (DCRA) and the Health Care Reimbursement Account (HCRA). The DCRA is for reimbursement of dependent care costs you must pay to enable you and your spouse (if married) to work. The HCRA is for reimbursement of qualified health care expenses for you and your dependents that are not covered by insurance. You cannot participate in the HCRA if you are enrolled in the Empower HSA plan.

- How the FSA Plan Works

The amount you elect to contribute for the year will be divided into equal amounts and deducted from your paychecks on a before-tax basis over 24 pay periods (two per month). If you are hired mid-year, the deductions will be based on the remaining pay periods left in the year after your eligibility date.

- Reimbursement

HealthPartners administers our Flexible Spending Accounts. There will be “automatic claims submission” - employees who participate in the HealthPartners medical plan will be automatically reimbursed for medical out-of-pocket expenses incurred at a network provider or pharmacy without filing a claim. If you want to opt-out of the automatic claims submission feature or you are covering your non-dependent adult children in the medical plan, complete the Automatic Claims Submission Out form. If you want to sign up for direct deposit of your reimbursements, complete the Direct Deposit form. Both forms, and additional information, are available online at http://www.healthpartners.com/public/plans/group-coverage/plan-details/empower-plans/empower-fsa/. As you incur other expenses, such as dental expenses or dependent day care charges, you may submit claims for reimbursement to HealthPartners. Both healthcare and dependent care claim forms can be found at the above-listed link. Claims are generally processed within 7-10 business days of receipt of claims that include all required documentation. For additional information regarding claims and reimbursement, contact HealthPartners Member Services at (952)883-7000 or toll-free at 866-443-9352.

You can only be reimbursed for expenses defined by both the IRS and the plan as eligible. For a list of eligible health care expenses, visit http://www.healthpartners.com/public/plans/group-coverage/plan-details/empower-plans/empower-fsa/health-care-fsa/. Eligible health care expenses are also outlined in IRS Publication 502.

❖ Claims Deadline and Carryover

You must submit your 2014 claims for reimbursement no later than February 28, 2015. Any money left in your DCRA after that date is forfeited. You can carry over up to $500 in unused funds in your HCRA into the following year, with this exception: if you enroll in the Empower HSA plan during open enrollment, you are not allowed to carry over unused HCRA funds into the following year. Any unused HCRA funds in excess of the allowed $500 carryover are forfeited. Be careful when deciding how much to contribute to the plan(s).

❖ Determining your Election

Your election should be based on expenses you and your eligible dependents will incur in calendar year 2015. You can contribute up to $2,500 to the HCRA (in addition to any allowed carryover from 2014) and $5,000 to the DCRA. For the DCRA, there are some additional guidelines: 1) your contributions cannot be greater than your income or your spouse’s income; 2) if your spouse is disabled or a full-time student, he/she is assumed to earn $250 per month for one eligible dependent, or $500 per month for two or more dependents; 3) if your spouse also participates in a DCRA, your combined total contributions cannot exceed $5,000; 4) if you and your spouse file separate income tax returns, your individual DCRA contribution is limited to $2,500. Please consult the Summary Plan Description (SPD), available from Human Resources, for additional information.

❖ Changing your Election

The amount you contribute cannot be changed during the plan year except under very limited circumstances. A prospective election change based on a change in status event is allowed only if the election change is necessary and consistent with the change in status event, and, for the HCRA, results in a gain or loss of health care insurance. If you have a change in status event that qualifies you to change your contributions, complete and return a family status change form to Human Resources within 30 days of the event.

❖ Definition of a Dependent

For expenses to qualify under the DCRA, the dependent must be: (1) a child under age 13 who lives with you for more than one-half of the year (temporary absences for education, vacation, illness or special circumstances are excluded); (2) a spouse incapable of self-care; or (3) a parent, grandparent or other relative who lives in your home, depends on you for at least one-half of his/her support, who is incapable of self-care and who is claimed by you as a dependent on your tax return. Non-child dependents are not eligible dependents for DCRA if they receive an income in excess of $3,700 per year.

An eligible dependent under the HCRA is: 1) a spouse to whom you are legally married and who is treated as such for tax purposes; 2) a relative or member of your household... who is a tax dependent; and 3) any child for whom you must provide benefits under a qualified medical child-support order. If you are married or divorced, you can treat children as eligible dependents if you provide more than half of their support and claim them as dependents on your income tax return. Employees with domestic partner medical and/or dental coverage may elect to participate in the Health Care Reimbursement Account or Dependent Care Reimbursement Account - provided the reimbursements requested are not for the same-sex domestic partner or the dependents of the same-sex domestic partner.

Reimbursement of out-of-pocket medical expenses for your non-dependent adult children are not allowed under the company flexible spending account ("FSA"). This means that if you cover adult children under the Open Access Choice medical plan who are not your tax dependents, you cannot receive reimbursement for their expenses from the health care FSA and you will need to opt out of the HealthPartners FSA automatic claims reimbursement process. To opt-out of the automatic claims reimbursement process, complete the Automatic Claims Submission Opt Out form available online at http://www.healthpartners.com/public/plans/group-coverage/plan-details/empower-plans/empower-fsa/ or call HealthPartners Member Services at (952)883-7000 or toll-free at 866-443-9352.

Other Points to Remember

- Use it or lose it: IRS rules state that if you have money remaining in your HCRA or DCRA accounts after you have submitted all your claims for the plan year, you lose any remaining amount. However, up to $500 in unused HCRA dollars can be carried over into the following year, provided you do not enroll in the Empower HSA plan during open enrollment. Any remaining money in your HCRA after the allowed carryover is forfeited.
- The HCRA will reimburse your eligible expense up to the total amount you elect to contribute to the HCRA.
- The DCRA will reimburse your eligible expenses up to the amount that is in your account at the time your claim is received.
- You must re-enroll every year. You must re-enroll in the HCRA and/or the DCRA each plan year.
- The Plan Year begins on January 1 each year and runs through December 31. When a person first becomes covered, the first Plan Year begins on the effective date of coverage.
- You have until February 28 to submit claims incurred in the prior year.

Federal Dependent Care Tax Credit

The federal government also provides a dependent care tax credit for those with dependent care expenses. The tax credit is available to most taxpayers. Since you cannot take advantage of both the tax credit and the Dependent Care Spending Account for the same expenses, it is up to you to determine which of these two tax-saving options saves you more money. For help in determining which option is better for you, consult a qualified tax advisor.

❖ Dependent Care Tax-Reporting

The W-2 Wage and Tax Statement issued to you after the end of the year will include the amount you contributed to the Dependent Care Reimbursement Account. In order to exclude this amount from your federal taxable wages when preparing your annual tax returns, you must provide the name, address and taxpayer identification number for your dependent care provider. If your dependent care provider is a tax-exempt organization, such as certain church-run daycare services, you may be exempt from this requirement.
