We here at the GLOCK Sport Shooting Foundation are always looking for new ideas to enhance the GSSF experience.

The last three such enhancements were the GLOCK Girls Side Match, the Pocket GLOCKs Division, and splitting the Unlimited Division into separate “Amateur” and “Master” subdivisions. So, what is the story behind them, and how are they working out?

GLOCK Girls Side Match
The idea behind the GGSM can be summed up as “if Mom is at the match, everyone is at the match!”. So, GSSF did a “proof of concept” GGSM event at the Conyers, GA match in 2013.

Results were encouraging. Seventy total entries or 6% of a 1,095-total-entry match.

This compared favorably to older divisions such as Guardian, MasterStock, MajorSub, and Unlimited so it was instituted as its own Division at the beginning of the 2014 Match Season.

As 2014 drew to a close, there were a total of 1,199 entries, or 5.8% of 20,832 total entries. This has continued during the first 17 matches for 2015. Totals so far this year are 438 or 5.3% of 8,273 total entries.

Pocket GLOCKs
We knew in the fall of 2013 that the .380 G42 was going to be announced at the SHOT Show in January, 2014. However, this was a closely held secret at that time.

We also knew that we had to write the G42 into the GSSF rules for 2014 somehow. It clearly was not going to “fit” within any of the existing Divisions and would have to be a one-gun division all by itself. Secondly, the GLOCK Report with those rules was going to have to be in the mail to GSSF members before the G-42 was going to be announced. Thirdly, we were going to get our knuckles severely rapped if we let the cat out of the bag before the SHOT Show!

So we snuck it into the rules by adding the .380 cartridge into the list of allowed cartridges that could be used at GSSF matches “just in case a G25 or G28 ever shows up” and adding a blurb to the end of every “division” description paragraph that GSSF reserved the right to add new GLOCK products to a given division if GLOCK happened to announce them during an on-going match season.

“Pocket GLOCKs” was instituted at the first GSSF match just after the 2014 SHOT Show release of the product, within just a couple of weeks of that event. Naturally, it took some time for G-42s to make it from GLOCK to the wholesalers, to the retailers, to the members, and then back to the GSSF matches. Even in that short time frame there were 14 Pocket GLOCK entries at the first match that had a Pocket GLOCKs Division. The 749-entry 2014 Orlando, FL GSSF match.

Pocket GLOCK’s participation continued to grow through 2014 and topped out at a total of 697 or 3% of 20,832 total entries.

This has continued to grow during 2015. As of this writing, for the first 17 matches on the 2015 schedule there have been a total of 485 or 6% Pocket GLOCK entries out of 8,273 total entries. This puts it right up there or even ahead of the older Guardian, Heavy Metal, Master-Stock, Major-Sub, Unlimited Divisions and equal to the newer GLOCK Girls Side Match.

This upward trend is expected to continue with the introduction of the new GLOCK model G43 in 9mm now added to the Pocket GLOCKs Division.

Split of “Unlimited” into “Amateur” and “Master” Subdivisions
“Unlimited” dates back to the very beginnings of GSSF and was a historically “winner takes all” match event.

As a result, the 1st/2nd/3rd place “Performance” awards were almost invariably taken by the “Master” class of GSSF competitors.
Yet, the numbers indicated that there was enough interest among the “Amateurs” to justify splitting it as had been done years earlier in other Divisions. Participation by Masters remains flat, but participation by Amateurs has taken a noticeable upturn since the split.

This trend is also expected to continue with the introduction of the new G-34, G-35, G-40, and G-41 Modular Optic System models announced at the January, 2015 SHOT Show.

As they make it into the hands of GSSF members over time, the MOS models are expected to enhance a given GSSF members’ ability to assemble a competitive “Unlimited”-style GLOCK using off the shelf, “bolt together” components at a lower cost than has been the case with “traditional” Unlimited-oriented GLOCKs.

We must be doing something right

As of this writing near the end of May, 2015, with 17 matches behind us GSSF is 5 months into the calendar year, but only 1/3 of the way into our 51-match schedule for 2015.

Despite this, the 8,273 total match entries to date top the annual totals of the first 18 of the 25 years of GSSF’s existence!

So far in just six months 2015 has beaten every year prior to 2009!

This is a testament to GLOCK customers who not only support us by continuing to buy GLOCK products, but are seeking places like the GLOCK Sport Shooting Foundation to shoot them as well! We thank you for your continued interest in GLOCK Products, and in the GLOCK Sport Shooting Foundation.
G43 For Thee: The New Glock In GSSF Matches

The long, eagerly anticipated, new single stack mini GLOCK is here! The GLOCK Model 43 had its “coming out party” at the recent NRA convention in Nashville, TN. The response was tremendous and GLOCK began shipping pistols immediately. The GLOCK Sport Shooting Foundation already has a space for it to run at matches: the G43 will join the very slightly smaller and lighter G42 (.380 Auto) in the Pocket GLOCK division. Briefly we’ll discuss the new GLOCK 43 qualities and how it will blast away on the GSSF stages.

For those who may have been adrift at sea, or otherwise cut off from the world, the G43 has the following specifications: Overall length: 6.26 inches, Width: 1.02 inches, with a 3.39 inch cold hammered forged hexagonal barrel. Magazine capacity is 6 rounds, 7 rounds total loaded. Two magazines are supplied, one with a finger extension. A super “SlimNine”!

Despite its diminutive size, the G43 is all GLOCK. Polymer frame with GLOCK “Safe Action” fire control, slide and barrel with GLOCK hardened finish and world famous GLOCK reliability and accuracy. In testing, GSSF staff shot some groups of just under 1” at 15 yards! We have no doubt this little wonder can clean the stages.

Following the MajorSub division rules, this little powerhouse will start each string fully loaded with 7 rounds. One shot on each cardboard target, and steel targets if set to fall, must fall to score. Again, the G43’s pleasing accuracy should put all rounds “in the center” (providing the shooter does their part!) with speed and reliability. In our experience with the G42 and other Major Sub GLOCKs, one piece of friendly advice would be to take a little care on the plate racks – not much room for error there!

We look forward to seeing you on a range somewhere soon- to run the new GLOCK gun!

The MOS: Two in One

With the introduction of GLOCK’s Modular Optic System(MOS), competitors can now enjoy two for the price of one, so to speak.

The ability to quickly and conveniently mount a small, electro/optic sight on a GLOCK, exponentially increases flexibility.

MOS GLOCKs come with multiple adapter plates to accept a variety of sights of the mini red dot variety, such as Trijicon’s RMR or the Leupold Deltapoint. When coupled with a G34, a competitor has one of the more popular combinations that can do “double duty” in GSSF. And this without the added expense of custom gun smithing and/or extra external mounts. Just add a sight and race! To find out just how well the MOS can run at a match, we set a sample up with a Trijicon RMR and took it out to a GSSF match “for a spin”. One hint we have for new adopters of the adapters is to use the “iron” sights as a reference point so the dot can be picked up or seen quickly and efficiently. A competitor should have the mindset of acquiring a standard sight picture (with MOS mounted) and that will make picking up the dot in the relatively small window easier. With both eyes open, the dot (when properly adjusted) is where the projectile will strike.

It is a boon for old eyes and new; our times on “GLOCK the Plates” went down when we did our part with the trigger and the groups were definitely smaller. With a little practice, one might be a contender!
On Monday, June 1 officials from the Georgia Yaarab Shrine dropped by GLOCK HQ in Smyrna, GA for their annual GLOCK pistol shoot day. They spent some time on the GLOCK indoor range shooting the new models and visiting with the GSSF staff.

Shriners do unbelievable good work all year long for many deserving causes including the Shriners Children’s Hospital. Every year they sponsor a Circus in the local Marietta, GA area and GLOCK has been very happy to contribute for the past 7 years.

Ed Fitzgerald (GLOCK Special Projects Manager) brought along a check to present again for 2015. Please support the Shriners in their quest to raise funds in your area.
Membership Benefits

Initial Membership Package
Your initial membership package will include a copy of the GLOCK Annual magazine, a range bag, a copy of the GLOCK Report detailing the GSSF program itself and several other promotional items.

Matches Nationwide
The biggest single benefit is to allow you to compete in the GSSF matches themselves. There are over fifty of these per year, nationwide, at outdoor venues. Prizes at an average outdoor match amount to 26 firearms and $5,625 in cash awards. The larger the match, the larger the number of and greater the quality of the awards. With record-setting attendance, our Conyers, GA match in 2014 awarded a total of 78 firearms and $28,350 in cash awards.

There are also over one hundred indoor league match series nationwide each year. These are held at GLOCK Stocking Dealers who also run indoor ranges. Firearm and other GLOCK item awards are also a feature of these matches.

Armorers Classes
As a GSSF member you are allowed access to the basic GLOCK Armorer's class. As a GLOCK owner, this teaches you how to detail strip and maintain your GLOCK collection.

CMP Affiliation
GSSF is affiliated with the Civilian Marksmanship Program. The CMP makes World War II-era military long guns and ammunition for them available to those eligible to purchase at preferential prices.

Pistol Purchase Program
New members who join for two or more years and all renewing GSSF members are eligible to participate in the Pistol Purchase Program, as allowable by local laws. Eligible members will receive a coupon which can be used at participating dealers. More information on this program can be found in the GSSF FAQs on page 7.
Frequently Asked Questions

How do I receive a pistol purchase coupon?
If you are a renewing member you will automatically receive a new member card and coupon. If you are a new member you will need to join for a minimum of 2 years. When you receive your member packet you will receive a member card and coupon. They are located on the bottom of the welcome letter. You will receive one coupon per year as long as you are a current member. If you are a new member joining for one year, you will not receive a coupon until you renew your membership.

If you don’t receive your coupon, you can email us at gssf@glock.us with your name and member number (if you know it) to request one.

How do I use my pistol purchase coupon?
GSSF Pistol Purchase Coupons must be used at a dealer that carries law enforcement GLOCK models. If you have a dealer near you that sells to Law Enforcement you can contact them to see if they are participating in the program. If you do not know of any dealers near you, call the GSSF office at 770-437-4718 for assistance.

Can I pre-register for an Indoor League Match?
You do not pre-register for an indoor match. You will register at the match, you can also join and renew at the match.

If I do not pre-register for an outdoor match can I still shoot?
Yes, you can register at the match and join or renew. If you pre-register it will save you time, you won’t have to stand in registration lines at the match. If you are pre-registering please note that pre-registrations have to be into GSSF by noon, Eastern time, the Wednesday before the match. That gives staff time to get all paperwork packed and ready to go to the match.

Can I bring a friend to watch the match?
Yes, they will need to stop by registration and sign a liability form. They will also need to bring hearing and eye protection with them.

When will the match results be posted?
The preliminary results will be posted soon after the match. If there is an error in your results please email GSSF with your name and the match name. Please let us know in which division and which course of fire the error is located. The match will be finalized in approximately 4 weeks. If we have a heavy match schedule it will take longer to finalize matches. Once the match is finalized you will see the prizes for that match listed with the scores.

I am new to GSSF and shooting competitions.
Everything can be found on our website, www.gssfonline.com. For new shooters it will help if you read the sign in procedure, “GSSF made easy,” and new competitor briefing. Those are located under the “Hot Topics” link. You can only shoot each division one time per match. If you want to shoot more than one gun you need to shoot different divisions. If you still have questions you can email us or you can call 770-437-4718.
RangeMasters’ Corner: Pre-Registration

I don’t know about you, but when I go to the range my most favorite thing to do is shoot. My least favorite is to stand in line to register. Pre-registration is a win-win situation. First, you don’t have to stand in line at the match. Second, if you are unable to make the match, we will send you a $25.00 voucher for each division entered. The vouchers can be used for future match registrations or even towards renewal of your membership.

Matches are growing and, as you see in the pictures, you end up waiting in line to register while your fellow shooters are already out on range shooting. If you have not previously used pre-registration, give it a try and share your feedback. I believe you will continue to use it going forward.

Thank you for being a member of the GLOCK Sport Shooting Foundation, we look forward to seeing you out on the range.
Responsible Gun Ownership

The Second Amendment provides that “A well-regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.” This powerful statement is the core of our freedom as gun owners. Therefore, it is our responsibility to gain the knowledge and expertise necessary to practice safe and responsible ownership to ensure these rights are not infringed.

The initiative to become proficient in all aspects of firearm ownership begins with the firearm owner. Ownership is defined as the state or fact of owning something, while responsibility defines the person that causes something to happen. Responsible gun ownership requires following the basic firearm safety rules. These are outlined in many forms by many different organizations. GLOCK recommends the following: 1. Handle every firearm as if it's loaded; 2. Train with all your guns; 3. Always point the muzzle in a safe direction, away from yourself and others; 4. Keep your finger outside the firearm's trigger guard and off the trigger until you have aligned the firearm's sights on a safe target and you have made the decision to fire; 5. Always be certain that your target and the surrounding area are safe before firing; 6. Know your gun’s safety features; 7. Store your gun properly; 8. Educate loved ones on gun safety; 9. Ensure all users are properly trained; and 10. Properly maintain your gun.

Understanding your firearm’s features and proper maintenance starts with a thorough review of the manufacturer’s owner’s manual. This manual contains the basic safety features and maintenance procedures for your firearm. Many sources offer training to enhance your knowledge of firearms operating systems and safety features. Normally, these classes are only available to military or law enforcement armorers. However, as a member of the GLOCK Sport Shooting Foundation (GSSF), the GLOCK Armorer Course is offered to all members as an invaluable tool to gain a full understanding of the function and maintenance of GLOCK Safe Action Pistols.

Accuracy in any discipline requires an understanding of the basic fundamentals of marksmanship. To safely and effectively employ your firearm requires application of these fundamentals. Stance, grip, sight alignment, sight picture, breath control, trigger control and follow through are only words unless you train on a regular basis to master these fundamentals. In 2015, GSSF offers 52 opportunities in 28 states for you to practice and master the basic fundamentals of marksmanship through competition, in a friendly environment filled with encouraging enthusiasts from all skill levels.

Knowing when and how to defend yourself in a critical situation is a key skill in the application of responsible gun ownership. Laws and reasonable circumstances dictate the legal use of deadly force and vary by state. Many training programs, videos and books exist to educate firearm owners on the legal use of deadly force. GLOCK contributor Massad Ayoob has compiled two of the most comprehensive writings on the subject. First, is his book entitled IN THE GRAVEST EXTREME: THE ROLE OF THE FIREARM IN PERSONAL PROTECTION. Next, Ayoob has recently published a supplemental publication entitled, DEADLY FORCE: UNDERSTANDING YOUR RIGHT TO SELF-DEFENSE. Both texts are invaluable tools to educate gun owners on personal protection and legal considerations in the use of deadly force.

It is our responsibility as a gun owner to gain the knowledge and expertise necessary to practice safe and responsible ownership. In turn, applying knowledge into practices that transcend to the masses, ensuring those rights guaranteed by the Second Amendment are not infringed.

GLOCK Instructors Make An Impression

Each year, the International Association of Law Enforcement Firearms Instructors (IALEFI), holds a conference where LE Firearms Instructors come from all over the world to share knowledge and learn from one another. One event that occurs in conjunction with the conference is a shooting match that instructors can participate in, and see how they “match up” with each other. Believe it or not, Instructors don’t always get to shoot a lot- they’re always instructing!

The match itself has varied over the years, but in the past several years has featured disappearing steel targets for a good challenge and spectator appeal. The 2015 match utilized a Rogers Ring Range setup and had strings of fire where one could only shoot with the support hand only or shooting hand only from behind cover. On the final string, a competitor used two hands behind cover with multiple reloads necessary.

When the smoke cleared, GLOCK Professional Instructors took the first 4 positions in their Division and all placed in the top 6 overall out of 60 entrants! Recognition and congratulations go to Chris Edwards, Joe Evans, Lynn Freshly and Alan Ramsey for running their GLOCKs with accuracy and speed.

One of the many benefits of GSSF membership is eligibility for attendance to a GLOCK Armorer or Advanced Armorer class.

If you always wanted to know more about servicing, maintaining and trouble-shooting GLOCK pistols, check out our GLOCK Training website schedule and class description pages at www.glocktraining.com.

GLOCK offers classes in all 50 U.S. states and in Canada throughout every year. You can search for classes by date and/or by state to find one that may be nearby your location and fits your schedule.

In the past 12 months there have been over 500 classes completed - 459 Armorer (AC) classes and 44 Advanced Armorer (AA) classes together certifying more than 15,000 GLOCK armorers.

The GLOCK Armorer class is an 8-hour / 1 day classroom presentation that covers firearms safety, basic handgun marksmanship fundamentals, loading, unloading, cleaning, lubrication, field stripping, detail stripping, ammunition selection and diagnostics for all GLOCK pistol models, calibers and generations (except the select-fire model G18). You can register online, the class fee is $250.00 and successful completion of the class includes factory certification for 3 years along with the opportunity to purchase GLOCK parts directly from GLOCK. Bring some safety glasses (in case someone launches a spring), a small flashlight (optional), a good attitude and GLOCK supplies everything else needed to successfully complete the class. GLOCK provides lunch, tools, parts and a pistol to work on along with an armorer’s mat, parts tray and manual.

The Advanced Armorer’s class is a 2-day / 16 hour classroom presentation that grants a 5-year certification. The class fee is $350 and GLOCK provides everything above in the AC class along with whatever else is needed to successfully complete the course. A prerequisite for this course is to have been a factory certified armorer with at least 2 years’ experience before tackling the AA class. Lunch is provided both days and each student gets a package of GLOCK products such as an armorer’s mat, parts tray, manuals, posters, hat and various promotional products. The first day of the Advanced class is a review of the basic armorer’s class, a quick look at the newest pistol models and a part-by-part inspection of the GLOCK design. The second day consists of students examining over 30 GLOCK ‘scenario’ pistols of every model, caliber and generation to determine what possible problems or upgrades might be needed. Practical and written exams ensure each student knows the GLOCK Safe Action System design thoroughly.

GLOCK instructors are tasked in both armorer classes with assisting students in any way possible and ensuring a safe and fun experience. Come to ‘GLOCK School’ and see how much you know about GLOCK Perfection!
One of the benefits of a GSSF Membership is a partnership with the CMP (Civilian Marksmanship Program). If you are not aware of the CMP programs, check out their websites, become familiar with their history and see what all they have to offer.

Through this program, U.S. citizens may qualify to purchase vintage military rifles, accessories and ammunition directly through the CMP via the internet or through their stores located at Camp Perry near Port Clinton, Ohio and Anniston, AL. On June 5, 2015 GLOCK staff attended the Grand Opening of the CMP Talladega Marksmanship Park just outside Anniston, AL. The Governor of Alabama, several state and U.S. representatives, movie stars, CMP officials, various LE officers, U.S. Military officials and many others were there to toast this grand facility and its staff at the official opening.

GLOCK staff manned a GLOCK Demo booth with all the latest GLOCK pistols and ammunition available for test firing.

GSSF staff set up a ‘sample’ GSSF match with all 3 stages available and we estimate approximately 175-200 people dropped by to shoot with us.

This range is open to the public and is a state-of-the-art facility in every way. The property consists of 500 acres and it’s like a candy store for shooters of all types.

The clubhouse area is beautiful and they have Training Rooms (maybe for GLOCK Armorer Classes?) and a Shooting Pro Shop. The main range has 54 covered firing points at 200, 300 and 600 yards with electronic targets. It will host Modern Military Service Rifle, As-Issued Vintage Military, Vintage Sniper Rifle and many other types of marksmanship matches for many years to come.

There is a 50 position 100 yard rifle range (perfect for sighting in and testing).

They also have a 25 Position 50 yard Pistol Range along with a 20 Position 50 foot Pistol Range (could host a variety of pistol matches and disciplines). There are 15 Action Pistol Bays (just perfect for a GSSF Outdoor Match) - 3 of them are 50 yards long and the other 12 are 25 yards in length. They did not forget the shotguns - there is a Trap Field and 15 Station Sporting Clays area.

Congratulations to the CMP & thanks for all they do for shooters everywhere!
GSSF Goes International (Again)

In the last issue of the GLOCK Report, our cover story was about the first ever GSSF match in South America held in October, 2014 in Uruguay.

Well, due to the great success there because of the expertise, hard work and dedication shown from everyone involved; it was decided GSSF would return ‘down south’ again in February, 2015.

GLOCK Vice President to the Americas Luiz ‘Tatai’ Horta along with Alex Cobb (GLOCK U.S. Instructor and Morganton, NC GSSF Match Director) teamed up with many GLOCK supporters in South America to hold another fantastic shooting competition - Jornada GLOCK Argentina 2015.

The range was fantastic, the weather was exquisite and the shooting was fast and accurate. Dedicated and knowledgeable Range Officers, plus highly skilled GLOCK pistol shooters mixed with generous and hospitable hosts equals a marvelously fun day at the range.

GSSF thanks everyone for their contributions to sport shooting and keep your eyes open because you never know if we might just ‘show up’ in other locations all around the world.

Congratulations to the Division winners -

“We at Duncan’s Outdoor Shop are honored to receive the 2014 GSSF Indoor League Range of the Year award,” says owner Glenn Duncan. “GLOCK offers quality products, has high customer brand awareness and is a key part of our handgun lineup.”

Glenn Duncan, president of Duncan’s Outdoor Shop in Bay City, MI started in the outdoor retailing business at the age of six when we worked for his parents in their home based archery shop.

The operation changed directions and moved into the firearms business, manufacturing ammunition and adding firearms, accessories and gunsmithing services to the mix.

Glenn developed an interest in gunsmithing and began helping his dad repair guns in the shop. He trained at a number of manufacturer’s facilities including Remington, Savage, Colt and Springfield Armory.

After marrying, Glenn decided to try his hand as a tool and die maker while still working a few nights a week at the shop. When the company he worked for closed its doors he returned to the family business to take over the full time reins and began a search for a facility that could house a shooting range.

In 1991 Glenn decided to purchase a classic 1880 building in Bay City and two years later had ten shooting lanes, archery and airgun ranges and a retail shop up and running. Today, he offers 40,000 square feet of shooting opportunities (including 50, 100 and 200 yard underground indoor ranges) hosts education and training classes, league activities and a full line of shooting products.

“Our 200 yard range is the longest indoor range open to the public in the United States,” says Glenn.

Glenn is a staunch supporter of 2nd Amendment rights and shooting, hunting and civic organizations. He has served on a number of association committees and is the president of the Michigan Firearm Retailers Association. He is active in supporting and furthering pro-firearm and shooting legislative issues locally, statewide and nationally.

Duncan’s Outdoor Shop also received the 2013 NSSF Don’t lie for the Other Guy Retail Store of the Year award and the 2013 SHOT Business Range of the Year award.

Pistol Giveaway Winner

If you looked at my entire GSSF record, you would say it took me 4 years, 20 matches or 94 divisions to get the ever so coveted asterisk next to my name.

However, if you asked me, I’d tell you that it really only took a year, 6 matches, or 42 divisions during the 2014 season, and I really wouldn’t be telling a lie, as I didn’t really get serious about competing until the middle or end of 2012. In the beginning, I was shooting mostly for fun, and would go to local GSSF matches, because it was another fun thing to do. I was still relatively new to shooting competitively; I would only shoot a couple of divisions at a GSSF match, and a couple of matches a year (mostly the local ones) at the most.

The idea of making master hadn’t even crossed my mind to tell the truth, other than, it would sure be nice to shoot as well as some of those other guys and be the one taking home 3 guns.

Then not so long later, out of the blue, I won my first performance gun in the Sub Compact division at Norco, CA ’14, which just so happened to be the same match I shot for the very first time just 3 years prior. I’m not going to lie, there was still part of me that thought it might have been a fluke, or maybe just all the other shooters had a bad day, and just my day wasn’t as bad as theirs. But, that first win planted the seed, and that’s all it took. The next thing I knew, I found myself either in, or near the top 10 of the next few matches I shot. The first thing I began to do was analyze, what was so different about my shooting this time, than it had been all those other times? I know that I started out the day with a little bit of a different mindset (I was going to shoot slower, and make my hits count). But my times were faster, so maybe I didn’t shoot that slow after all, or maybe slowing down made my hits more accurate. Whatever it was, I liked it, and I was determined, that I was going to make it happen again, and again.

So, I started practicing more, I’d set up a reduced version of the three stages in one of my bedrooms, I even arranged a faux match with some of my fellow competitors with score sheets and all, so we could see how we did (really not very good, and we’re not sure why). Even with my increased practice regimen, I wasn’t able to make it happen at the next event, but overall, I shot better than I ever had before, so I knew what I was doing was working, and it made me even more determined. Only four months after I won my first gun, I made it happen again in Richmond, CA ’14 in Major Sub Compact, and man was the competition fierce. I really felt like I had to fight for it. My final win came three months later at my “home” range in Piru, CA ’14 in Sub Compact once again, and I really didn’t think I was going to pull it off as it was nearly rained out on Saturday, and I really didn’t feel like I was shooting at the top of my game, but I guess everyone else encountered the same troubles, and I was still able to pull it off.

So, if I had anything to say to all of those aspiring master shooters out there, it would be to not give up, slow down your pace, practice hard, shoot as many matches as you can, as many divisions as you can, and before you know it, they’ll be one more name with an asterisk next to it in the results. Happy shooting and maybe I’ll see you at a match in the future.

I would just like to say that I have been an avid shooter of GLOCK pistols since I first shot one upon getting discharged from the U.S. Army in 1992.

I have been competing in the GSSF indoor league and have enjoyed meeting other GLOCK shooters. I attended my first GLOCK outdoor event this past weekend at Blackhawk Shooting Range STAPC, RCS outside of San Antonio, TX. It was the most fun I have had in a long time.
I should have listened to some other GLOCK shooters and brought all of my GLOCKs to the event and competed in more classes - I will in the future.

I shot a G17 in Civilian and a G20 in Heavy Metal - I have a G24, a G42, a G19 and a G34 which I could have brought with me. I’m planning to get a G26 and a G21 this year.

This was my first, but definitely not my last, event, looking at the event calendar for next year and planning vacations so that I can attend in TX and LA.

I would just like to say thank you from an avid GLOCK shooter for putting on these events for us to participate in. I greatly appreciate the time and effort that GLOCK puts forth to sponsor these events and hope that they will continue.

My daughter is very busy with college and work but during her last visit I asked what she wanted to do for our daughter/dad day. This is our special time to bond and it is always her choice. To my pleasant surprise she quickly said, “gun range.” I was taken back since it has been over a year since she has seen a front sight.

“Great,” I said. We packed our gear and headed to our local indoor gun range. This was an excellent time I thought to myself, to let her try my new purchase- my GLOCK Model 42. She was already familiar with my other GLOCK models so this was going to work out well.

After a half a box of ammo, my daughter stuck her head over to my stall and said, “Are you ready for our little competition?” “What’s the plan,” I said. “Twenty feet for me, fifty feet for you. Shot nearest the bull wins and winner buys lunch”, she said laughingly.

Well, we both shot the 42 and I did not hold back but at age 62 my eyes are getting old. She kicked my butt with my GLOCK and I could not be more proud. It was a perfect shot with a perfect GLOCK and a perfect day with a perfect daughter! Life’s good.

I have been around GLOCKS for quite a few years. Especially being disabled and retired now, but have worked for the federal government. All of my fellow employees carried GLOCKS. My wife made the comment during our Christmas dinner, that if I could still work, I should apply to work as a car salesman or a representative for GLOCK and GSSF. I have had a lot of my friends and friends of friends as well as many relatives who have owned we will say some fancy guns and leave it at that, without mentioning any names, who paid thousands of dollars for their sidearms. I can honestly say, that I have literally convinced every one of those people to own GLOCKs now. Most recently, my brother in law in North Carolina. Once they handle one, shoot one, and I show them the ease of take down, and all the working parts and how it is a breeze to get to know the mechanics of the gun, they are sold. I can’t tell you how many people I have convinced that the GLOCK pistol is the way to go, for a great shooting, accurate and simple operation gun.

In the same token, I have had the pleasure of getting a lot of people interested in the GSSF as well. After I explain, that I read the GLOCK Report several times and even share it with my local FFL customers, they are excited, not only for the competitions held, but the great information that is inside each issue. Being disabled, I don’t get to go very far, or get to the range as often as I would like to, the GLOCK Report keeps me up to date on a lot of issues as well as how well people are shooting. It excites me to read every issue. I have been successful in getting a lot of people to enroll especially in the 2 year subscription after I explain the potential for winning a GLOCK or several GLOCKS shooting in competitions and the members corner.

Even my local FFL has asked me to tell people in the store about GLOCKS, as I am well versed and will gladly talk about GLOCK to anyone who has a listening ear. I told my wife laugh as you may about my “Sales ability”, but I have convinced her to own one as well, as we both have our CCW’s. I am encouraging her to shoot in some of the upcoming competitions. It’s actually hard to admit being a prior military veteran, and at one time aconstant shooter and competitor, she as a lot of other women are quite excellent shooters. And I might add a lot more than people give them credit for. I have learned a lot about shooting as well as from other women shooters, so kudos to them who have helped me as well. So there you have it. I guess I should have been a car salesman when I was able to work, but I have convinced her to own one as well, as we both have our CCW’s.

I would like to thank the GSSF official that came to our aid at the Griffin match this year.

My cousin has been shooting GSSF matches since the mid 90’s. He has been a longtime fan of GLOCKS and a few years after purchasing his, he introduced me to GLOCKs and the GSSF. Even though we lived 500 miles apart, we would pick a spot in or near Georgia and occasionally meet up for a match. After retiring in 2011, I moved back to north Georgia and we agreed we would meet up at the Griffin match each year. This year I arrived early and my cousin was running late so just as I finished, he arrived.

My cousin has been devastated with some serious medical issues over the past 20 years and shoots as a Senior/Challenged participant and truly enjoys the GSSF matches. He completed the GLOCK M and 5 to GLOCK without any difficulty and as we started the walk over to the plates, he told me that he couldn’t move. His legs had cramped up and he was out of breath. He told me that he was going to have to forfeit the match because he couldn’t continue. I told him to give me a minute as I had spotted an off-road RV type vehicle near the entrance to plates. I asked him if I could get him some transportation to the plates and back to his vehicle would he be able to continue to finish the match and he replied with a very positive yes!

As I approached the entrance to the plates, I spotted a GSSF official with score sheets in his hands. I told him about how my cousin had finished two stages and was unable to continue. The GSSF official said, “let’s get in this Kawasaki and go get him.” We met my cousin back at the top of the hill and then we were transported right up to the registration table at the plate rack. I was just about to ask the GSSF official if he would mind giving us a ride back up the hill and before I could get the words out of my mouth, the GSSF official told me that he was going to wait until my cousin finished shooting the plates and then transport us back to his vehicle. Once we were back at the car, we thanked the official for the assistance and he replied, “That’s what we are here for.”

I would like to thank the Griffin Gun Club for their outstanding hospitality and GLOCK for their excellent product that we all enjoy and their commitment to the GSSF. Again, I would like to thank the GSSF and the official who helped us and enabled my cousin to complete the match.

I recently participated in my second GSSF match, at the JnG Gulf Coast Challenge IV in Clearwater, FL. I have family in Clearwater, so even though I live across the state it was a great opportunity to visit and partake in the match. I shot last year in the Okeechobee GLOCK the Lake match, which I thought was fantastic. I signed up to shoot in four different divisions at Clearwater, shooting my G17 and G30. I brought 5 mags for each gun, and wouldn’t you know it, 6 would have been better! I was disappointed, as my game was off that day, and my scores were not as good as at my previous match. I have played the lottery twice a week for the last twenty years and not won a thing, but I won a random gun and two random cash prizes from GSSF. I cannot express how lucky I feel about that.

The people at the match were outstanding and friendly. While waiting my turn to shoot, it was easy to shoot the breeze and talk GLOCKs with everyone there even though I didn’t know anyone and I am usually an introvert! We all were enthusiastic about GLOCKs! Even the Range Officers were awesome, and one gave me great advice to sweep the GLOCK’M targets that I tried and I thought worked well. All in all, it was an outstanding day and I can’t wait to go back and visit again next year.

I am relatively new to shooting. It has only been 12 months since I purchased my first gun, a Gen 3 G17. I’ve come to enjoy the sport, but like every new shooter I hear so many different pieces of advice it is enough to make your head spin. I recently learned about the GSSF and I did not learn about this from the “professionals” at the gun store I purchased my GLOCK from or the range staff gun range, I learned from Okeechobee Shooting Sports because I went to a steel shoot. After looking at your website and some of the links and learning about a GSSF event, I joined and registered for my first GSSF event, GLOCK the Lake.

I also heard from Okeechobee Shooting Sports, you guys needed volunteers to help at the event. I have to tell you, I was hesitant, not only do I consider myself a new shooter, but the ride is about 1 hour and 40 minutes each way. I was concerned I was not knowledgeable enough to be of assistance. After some soul searching because it is not easy to say no to someone who tells me they need help, I signed up to help on Sunday the day after I was scheduled to shoot at GLOCK the Lake, I ended up signing up for the full day.

When I went to shoot on Saturday, I had such a great time, met a ton of really nice people. I don’t think I did as well as I could, but the laughs at the jokes, the advice from GLOCK shooters, from the Range officers made it a great day. On Sunday, helping out at 5 to GLOCK and GLOCK the Plates, I met even more people, the shooters competing and the other Range officers, hearing stories about how some of these good hearted souls almost travel up and down the east coast and the dedication these people show I was so glad to be playing a small role, meeting some of the “Red Shirts” especially at GLOCK the Plates, how once an issue was pointed out, to see them stop what they were doing and come to help showed me what character these people have.

And meeting the shooters as they came through the events, how many told me that this is their first event ever, I told them they picked the right one, as we waited and watched other shooters take their turn, I had the opportunity to compare my new shooting experiences with theirs. I had such a good time. My only regret was not registering in more events on Saturday, but I won’t make that mistake again.

The knowledge I picked up just by talking to people at this event, I can’t wait to try on the range, and improve my skill sets even more.

Thank you so much for putting on these events, bringing us together as a community. I can’t wait until the next one.

I am a plumber and have always loved GLOCKs. Well, I did a job at a home here in Vinton, VA a couple of months ago. The homeowner had several certificates from the GSSF where he and
As long as I can remember, I have been fascinated with the sport of shooting. I remember as a child watching the television show Cops and thinking how having a career in law enforcement would be the career of my dreams. I have always had a fascination with law enforcement and as I got older I trained for that profession, which included marksmanship and handgun safety. I started working in my mom’s restaurant when I was 16 and I was able to save up enough money to buy my first handgun when I was 21, a G26. I knew from the first time I held my GLOCK that it was the gun for me. The way it felt in my hand, it’s accuracy and ease of use was perfect. I officially started my law enforcement career in 2006, working for the local sheriff’s department. I had my GLOCK by my side. Unfortunately, in 2009, I was injured on duty and ultimately I was medically retired.

I learned about GSSF in 2012. I became a member of GSSF in 2013. GSSF has allowed me to maintain and improve upon my marksmanship skills. When I left my law enforcement career, I still very much wanted to participate in trainings that I was physically able to attend. GSSF has afforded me that opportunity. I continue to feel confident in my skills and abilities as a shooter because of GSSF. GSSF has allowed me to continue on with my love of shooting even though I was forced to leave my career in law enforcement earlier than I had anticipated.

I attended my first GSSF match in March 2014. It was very enjoyable. I was able to meet people who, like me, enjoyed shooting and all things GLOCK. I learned a lot during that first competition and started practicing more and gathering the gear I needed for the next competition. I was pleasantly surprised to learn that I won a two year membership extension at my first match. I recently shot at my second match the March in Yolo county. This time I was able to bring some friends along. They enjoyed watching me shoot. GSSF membership is something that I hope to share with my family and friends.

Being a member of GSSF is something I take a lot of pride in and something that I will share with my son when he is old enough. The fundamentals of shooting and self-defense are things that I take pride in. As a member of GSSF I am able to improve my skills, have fun, and challenge myself.

I went to the Dallas Pistol Club GSSF Match in Carrollton and it was my first match. As an immigrant and a proud naturalized citizen of this great country, I do not come from a family of firearms enthusiasts. Nobody in my family knows anything about guns. When I walked in, I did not know what to expect. Would I be accepted? Would my lack of shooting skills as a newbie make me a laughingstock? Would I make a really bad “procedural” error and get myself kicked out? My only goal for this match was not to finish last.

I’m happy to say that my experience has been totally opposite of my fears. Not only was I accepted, but the other, more experienced shooters took me in to the pack and welcomed me. When I had questions, the GSSF staff and Dallas Pistol Club volunteers helped me and advised me. I met some new friends and bumped into an old friend I had not seen in a while.

While it is great to win, and the first prize of a new GLOCK pistol gives us something to shoot for (pun intended), the real prize of this match is camaraderie, friendship, learning, and fun. I met my goal of not finishing last. My buddy and I are training regularly at the Dallas Pistol Club now. My goal for next year’s match is to finish in the top half. Thank you, GSSF and Dallas Pistol Club, for setting this up!

1989 brought curiosity about this new to me “plastic pistol.” I purchased my first GLOCK, a G19, in July 1989 and then had the opportunity to fill a vacancy in an Armorer’s Course in 1990. What I learned was astonishing. I saw the videos of the gun being drop tested from a helicopter and heard the stories about the methods used by some of the sales staff to demonstrate the durability and reliability of the guns under the most adverse conditions imaginable. The handouts from that course include a copy of a target showing a 1 7/8” group at 15 meters from a GLOCK pistol which had fired 300,000 rounds. All of a sudden, it began to look like there might be something to this pistol.

Especially impressive was the story from a GLOCK sales rep about a test in which 10 GLOCK pistols were detail stripped, the parts stirred together in a pile and a single gun assembled using randomly selected parts from the pile. The gun was then fired 10,000 times without a malfunction except for a broken trigger spring. The gun continued to run even with that broken spring. Now I’m convinced that this pistol is both durable and reliable.

I had never seen or heard of a pistol that would run like this out of the box, especially with interchangeable parts. Imagine, a pistol that runs right out of the box, doesn’t require access to gunsmithing skills and factory magazines that all work. All you have to do is open the box, load the magazines and shoot. Many thousands of rounds have been fired through my GLOCKs and the malfunctions can be counted on the fingers of one hand.

I attended the GSSF match at the Cobb County Sheriff’s range in October 1991. I was impressed with a course of fire that was challenging to experienced shooters while at the same time was not too intimidating for beginners. In my experience this is even more true today.

Most of the other shooting sports in which I have participated seem to focus almost entirely on keeping the top competitors happy. I really enjoyed seeing the GSSF staff focus on the beginners and newcomers, especially juniors and ladies, and go out of their way to see that they have a good time. I have seen a staff member loan their personal pistol to a junior (parent present, of course), round up the needed ammunition and arrange for the junior to be coached through the match. Seeing the smile on that kid’s face is something I will always remember.

Without question, at least in my opinion, GLOCK is clearly the industry leader in introducing new shooters to sport shooting and the GSSF staff support at the matches is just beyond compare. Ever since I walked into the first armorer’s course (now three basic courses and one advanced course) everyone associated with GLOCK has treated me like I was the purchasing officer for a major police department even though I have little to offer in return. They demonstrate what should be the standard in customer service.

Experience has shown that all GLOCKs tend to shoot high in my hands and require a lower rear sight than that furnished on the guns. Even with the lowest sight available, that first G19 shot high. During a visit to GLOCK in Smyrna, GA they suggested I leave it with them for a close examination. About two days later I got a call saying that they had found a machining error in the slide and that a new gun was on the way. That G19 had fired over 6000 rounds. Customer service doesn’t get better than this.

It only took about two years for my 1911 trained hand to mutate to fit the GLOCK. Since adjusting to the GLOCK I have only fired about 100 - 150 rounds with the 1911 except for some NRA bullseye shooting with a tuned 1911. The GLOCK is now my pistol of choice and GSSF has become my favorite shooting sport.

Just recently my dear wife remarked that she would like to shoot a GSSF match with me. It was an exceptionally pleasant surprise. She has gone to the range with me over the years, attended GSSF matches with me and done a little shooting but was always reluctant to shoot in front of others. I couldn’t imagine her being interested in participating in a match. Her first experience in competition of any kind was the plate rack. She walked up, followed the range officer’s instructions and absolutely pounded six plates with six shots. The next three strings were almost as good. Then she came back and talked about how nervous and shaky she was. I’m so proud of her I can hardly stand it. She now has her own G17 and we travel to attend matches. Most recently, we shot the Griffin Classic V along with our son and his wife and our grandson-in-law. GSSF has become a family activity and we love it.

GLOCK is now my gun company. Thank you for the sport you have created and the opportunity to be a part of it.

What a great time we had at the Table Rock Challenge!!!!!!

I left my house in North Jersey at a little past midnight Saturday morning, picked up a friend in Pennsy and drove down getting there a little before noon. Despite the crowd due to the forecast of rain for Sunday, EVERYONE was really great!!

I had the honor of being the last shooter of the day because driving that far I sign up for as many divisions as possible and I shot six different GLOCK models.

Well let me tell you, everyone was just as nice as they could like we were family! And the range officers at the plate rack who went above and beyond the call of duty in waiting for us to finish the day, offering a reshoot and helping us slug though the last stage, passing back half empty mags to be loaded up as brain fade started to set in for me.

The entire staff including GSSF personnel were among the best, and deserve a big “Thank You” from all the competitors on that day for moving so many people in one day with only three bays.

Hope all is well with everyone there and their families, and we will see you soon.

I have been a devoted fan of GLOCK pistols for almost a decade. I grew up shooting 1911s with my father, putting all eight rounds in the black since age twelve. When I decided it was high time to have a pistol of my own at home for range use and personal defense my first inclination was to simply get a 1911 like I was used to shooting. But when I began to research my options I discovered GLOCK. The more I learned about the brand the more I saw to love. I was immediately awed by the pure genius of the Safe Action trigger as well as the reputation of GLOCKs for reliability. When I took yet another trip to my local gun store they had an OD G23 in the case and that was it. That was MY gun. I bought it on the spot, filed my paperwork for the permit, and never looked back.

My GSSF membership qualified me to take the GLOCK Armorer’s Course at my local range and has only served to make me an even bigger believer in the GLOCK brand. Scotty, who taught the course, is an ace. He made sure we all understood not just how to disassemble and reassemble the pistol, but also how each component works and interacts with all the others. I came away from this experience even more in awe of GLOCK’s Safe Action Trigger system.

He was with Glock Perfection as security before coming over to GSSF. Tim brings with him a very diverse background and a strong team work ethic. He has been shooting all of his life but recently transitioned into competitive shooting last year. “I learned very quickly with competitive shooting, slow down and don’t think so much” said Tim. He is looking forward to getting out on the ranges and working with the professionals here at GSSF. If you see him at a match, be sure to stop and say hello.
