INDIANAPOLIS, IN – A new coach education course – Coaching Sports in Middle School – is now available online through the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) at www.nfhslearn.com. This course is the newest addition to the NFHS Coach Education Program.

Coaching Sports in Middle School focuses on middle school issues and how to address them. All NFHS coaching education courses are applicable to the middle school/junior high level, but this one has been tailored to the unique characteristics of that level. It factors that middle school athletes aren’t young adults yet and are at a different skill level.

NFHS Assistant Director Tim Flannery encourages all coaches to take the new course in order to make certain that middle school students receive the proper instruction.

“Every coach and administrator at the middle school level should be required to complete the online course Coaching Sports in Middle School to ensure the students who participate in athletics have an educational experience,” Flannery said. “Some schools have been using middle school teams as feeder systems for their high school programs, but that is not how they are intended to be used. This course is a reminder that middle school activities should be fundamentally about participation.”

Coaching Sports in Middle School takes approximately one hour to complete and costs $20.

The NFHS Coach Education Program was started in 2007, and more than 160,000 coaches have taken the core course — Fundamentals of Coaching. Forty-five of the 51 NFHS member associations have adopted the course.

The NFHS offers coaches the ability to become certified as an Accredited Interscholastic Coach. In addition to the Fundamentals of Coaching course, coaches must complete NFHS First Aid for Coaches, or its equivalent, and one of the sport-specific courses or Teaching Sport Skills, and then can apply for certification online.

All NFHS coach education courses are available at www.nfhslearn.com.

ACT 1214 of the 88th General Assembly requires all school districts to develop procedures to address athletic health care concerns regarding, but not limited to, heat illness, environmental concerns, athletic concussion, and communicable diseases. The ACT also requires all coaches to complete training (every three years) in dehydration/heat illness, concussions, and communicable disease (MRSA).

The Arkansas Activities Association and the Arkansas High School Coaches Association will be sponsoring the following training sessions on Heat Illness, Emergency Action Plans, Football Pre-Season Parent Meeting, and Procedures for Hot Weather Practices:

1. AHSCA Coaches Clinic, June 21 – 23 (Cosmopolitan Hotel, Fayetteville)
   a. June 21 at 1:00 pm Town Center
   b. June 22 at 8:30 am room 402
   c. June 22 at 11:00 am Town Center
   d. June 22 at 1:00 pm Town Center
   e. June 23 at 8:30 am room 409

2. AAA Building (3920 Richards Road, North Little Rock)
   a. July 6 at 10:00 am
   b. July 20 at 10:00 am
   c. July 26 at 10:00 am
   3. A free on-line Heat Illness training and NFHS Concussion Course will be available on the AAA website beginning July 18th.

We are working to provide training via CIV as well. As soon as those dates can be worked out we will contact administrators, athletic directors, and coaches.

The AAA Sports Medicine Advisory Committee is creating “Sample Emergency Action Plans” and “Sample Procedures for Hot Weather Practices.” We will release these to member schools after the June AAA Board Meeting. We will also be sending each member school a copy of the NFHS Sports Medicine Handbook. The handbook will be a great resource for addressing sports medicine concerns. We look forward to working with you as we all continually attempt to create the best possible environment for Arkansas student athletes and coaches.

Alert! Valuable Information About Health Care
INDIANAPOLIS, IN – Penalties for fouls during throw-ins have been changed in high school basketball, effective with the 2011-12 season. The throw-in revision, as well as several other rules changes and editorial revisions, were approved by the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Basketball Rules Committee at its April 4-6 meeting in Indianapolis. All rules changes recommended by the committee were subsequently approved by the NFHS Board of Directors.

Definitions within Rules 4-12-1, 4-12-2 and 4-12-6 were changed to reflect that team control will now exist during a throw-in once the throw-in has the ball at his or her disposal. The new rule will no longer grant free throws to the defending team in the bonus if the throw-in team commits a foul.

The committee also approved an editorial change to Rule 9-2-10, Penalty 4 to clarify that when an opponent contacts the throw-in, an intentional foul will be charged to the offender. The defender will not have to have broken the plane to be charged with an intentional foul.

The committee edited Rule 1-3-1 to reflect the current basketball court design, which many high schools already use. The rule now permits at minimum a ¼-inch-wide single line and a line no wider than 2 inches for the center circle.

The committee also added Rule 3-5-3, which provides guidelines for arm compression sleeves. Sleeves may be white, black, beige or a single solid school color, and all sleeves must be the same color.

Weight Classes Changed in High School Wrestling

INDIANAPOLIS, IN – The most significant changes in weight classes in high school wrestling in 23 years will take place in the 2011-12 season.

In its April 4-6 meeting in Indianapolis, the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Wrestling Rules Committee approved an upward shift of the weight classes, beginning with the 103-pound class moving to 106 pounds, which resulted in new weights for 10 of the 14 classes. The changes in weight classes, along with 17 other rules revisions, were subsequently approved by the NFHS Board of Directors.

The 14 weight classes approved by the committee for 2011-12 are as follows: 106 (pounds), 113, 120, 126, 132, 138, 145, 152, 160, 170, 182, 195, 220 and 285. Three middle weight classes – 145, 152 and 160 – were retained, although they are 7-8-9 in order now rather than 8-9-10. The largest weight class (285 pounds) remains unchanged as well.

The last wholesale shift in weight classes occurred in 1988, when the lowest weight class was increased from 98 to 103 pounds. The only other changes since then were in 2002, when the number of classes went from 13 to 14 and the 215-pound weight class became mandatory, and in 2006, when the 275-pound class was increased to 285 pounds.

Among changes in wrestling holds, the Figure 4 around the head has been ruled an illegal hold/maneuver. Previously, the Figure 4 was illegal around the body or both legs.

Another significant change was made in Rule 2-1-3, which now makes the boundary line inbounds and, thus, expands the wrestling area. Previous, a wrestler was out of bounds if he or she was touching any part of the 2-inch-wide line which marks the wrestling area.

An additional exception was added to Rule 8-2-1 stating that if the second injury time-out is taken at the conclusion of the second period, and the opponent already has the choice at the beginning of the third period, the opponent would then have the added choice at the first restart after the beginning of the third period.

In other changes, a revision in Rule 3-1-13 allows the referee the flexibility to determine his or her best position to monitor the clock and wrestlers during injury, blood or recovery time-outs. Also, language in Rule 6-2-2 was changed from “forfeit” to “disqualification” to reflect correct terminology.

The rules committee also devoted considerable time to developing rules for multi-team dual meets and team-formatted tournaments. Previously, the NFHS Wrestling Rules Book addressed only dual meets and individually bracketed tournaments. Definitions for individually bracketed tournaments, dual meet/team-formatted tournaments and combination tournaments will be contained in Rule 1-3.

The final change is one that has been approved by the NFHS Board of Directors for use in all NFHS rules books regarding the meet referee’s jurisdiction. The rule extends the clerical duties of the referee beyond the end of the meet through the completion of any reports required from actions that occurred while the referees had jurisdiction.

Points of emphasis adopted by the committee for 2011-12 include communicable diseases, injury time-outs, coach/referee conference, and concussion recognition and management.
