Tek Pak Contributes to the Vanishing Cultures Project

Tek Pak Inc is proud to be contributing to The Vanishing Cultures Project which is seeking to use the medium of photography to document vanishing cultures across this nation. This project is centered around the construction of the world's biggest camera, which will be used to capture portraits of these vanishing cultures in unparalleled detail.

Tek Pak will be machining all the metal components for the construction of this immense camera. For more information on the Vanishing Cultures Project please visit www.thevanishingcultures.com Stay tuned for updates on how the project is progressing.