COMMISSIONER’S MESSAGE
The complex environment in which we operate, presents us with a range of significant challenges and opportunities as we strive for safe and secure communities across New South Wales. By actively engaging with the community, Government, partner agencies and at risk groups, we will continue to make progress towards reducing crime, maintaining public safety, and community confidence in policing.

This corporate plan will enable us to build on our achievements and address a range of important policing priorities. The plan also identifies a number of opportunities to improve our internal management arrangements to provide safe, innovative, cost-effective, and equitable policing services to the community in partnership with the justice cluster and other agencies. Strong leadership is required to drive the strategies within this document and encourage initiative, commitment and application from everyone within the NSW Police Force to achieve our corporate priorities.

A P Scipione APM
Commissioner of Police
