Senior Resource Guide

2013 - 2014

Courtesy of New York State Senator Liz Krueger
We have done our best to make this guide as comprehensive and accurate as possible. However, in a city with as many dynamic organizations and programs as ours we know we must have missed important resources. Over time it is common for organizations to move, phone numbers to change, and programs to close or change. Please feel free to contact Senator Krueger's office at (212) 490-9535 or lkrueger@nysenate.gov if there are additional resources you think should be included in the next edition, or if the information you find in this guide has changed.
Dear Community Member,

It is hard to believe that this is the Fifth Edition of our Senior Resource Guide—the most comprehensive guide to resources for older adults in our community. You will find expanded information about long-term care, veterans’ benefits, advanced directives, caregiving, and elder abuse. You will also find additional resources on healthcare, housing, consumer protection, continuing education, access to food, transportation, and much more.

As in the past, I find my office constantly receiving requests for the guide. This Fifth Edition can also be accessed online by going to krueger.nysenate.gov, where you can obtain an electronic copy and sign up for LizList to receive e-mail updates from me.

In these tough economic times, it is so important for older adults to be informed about the benefits and entitlements they have earned throughout their lifetimes, as well as ways to increase their quality of life. This is the goal of everyone who contributed to this new and expanded Fifth Edition.

One of my most important resources continues to be the input I receive from each of you. It is a great privilege to represent your interests and concerns in Albany and I am always eager to hear from you. I encourage you to contact my office at (212) 490-9535 or lkrueger@nysenate.gov with any questions or comments.

We have done our best to make this guide as comprehensive and accurate as possible. Over time organizations move, phone numbers change, and programs close or change, while new programs become available. If there are resources that you are looking for and cannot find in this guide, please call my office and my staff will be happy to help find you the information you need.

Sincerely,

Liz Krueger
State Senator

Community Boards

Community Boards are New York City’s most local level of government. There are 59 in the City, including 12 in Manhattan. Each Board consists of up to 50 unsalaried members appointed by the Borough President, with half nominated by the City Council Members who represent the community district. Each board has a paid District Manager who coordinates the work of each board, and helps to resolve problems with City services. Board members are selected from active, involved people in each community, with an effort made to assure that every neighborhood is represented. Board members must reside, work, or have some other significant interest in the community.

Boards meet once each month and have committees that meet more frequently. At these meetings, members address items of concern to the community. Board meetings are open to the public, and a portion of each meeting is reserved for the Board to hear from the public. In addition, Boards regularly conduct public hearings on the City's budget, on land use matters, and other major issues - to give the people of the community the opportunity to express their opinions. Contact the Borough President or City Councilmember if you are interested in joining a Community Board.

Following is a list of community boards in Senate District 28. All meetings are open to the public. See websites or call for meeting times, agendas and locations.

CONSUMER PROTECTION
[ALSO SEE LEGAL RESOURCES]

≈ Consumer Rights & Complaints ≈

Do Not Call Registry
888-382-1222
www.donotcall.gov
National registry that allows consumers to block most telemarketing calls to home or mobile phones. Register by phone or online. If you have joined the Do Not Call Registry and are still receiving calls from companies with which you have no previous relationship, you should file a complaint at: https://complaints.donotcall.gov/complaint/complaintcheck.aspx?panel=2

Reminder: Even if your number is registered, charities, political organizations, and telephone surveyors may legally continue to call you. Companies with which you do business may also continue to call, unless you have asked them to stop calling you. If you have asked them to stop calling, please keep a record of the date you made the request and include that information in the comment section of any complaint you submit against that company.

NYC Department of Consumer Affairs
42 Broadway, 9th Floor
New York, New York 10004
Call 311
Provides mediation services for residents who believe they have been cheated by deceptive or unfair trade practices related to the sale, lease, rental, or loan of consumer goods or services by a business operating in New York City. If the business is licensed by the Department of Consumer Affairs, the agency can hold administrative hearings that can result in monetary judgments or other forms of restitution. Complaint forms and educational materials can be obtained on the website or by calling 311.

NY State Division of Consumer Protection
800-697-1220
www.dos.ny.gov/consumerprotection
Advocates for and works to empower New York consumers through education and direct assistance. The agency responds to individual consumer complaints by working to settle disputes between consumers and businesses through voluntary mediation. Complaint forms and a variety of educational materials are available on the website.

NY State Attorney General Consumer Fraud Bureau
800-771-7755
www.ag.ny.gov/bureau/consumer-frauds-bureau
The Bureau of Consumer Frauds and Protection prosecutes businesses and individuals engaged in fraudulent, misleading, deceptive or illegal trade practices. In addition to litigating, the Bureau mediates thousands of complaints each year from individual consumers. As part of its mission, the Bureau provides information to consumers and seeks to ensure a fair and vigorous market place.
Due to jurisdictional reasons, the New York City and State Departments of Consumer Affairs, as well as the New York State Attorney General's office, can only take complaints regarding certain types of businesses and institutions.

Complaints regarding other companies must be directed to the following:

Foreclosure Helpline: 646-786-0888 or 311
www.cnycn.org

The Center for New York City Neighborhoods (CNYCN) was created to address the local repercussions of the national foreclosure crisis. Through comprehensive citywide programming that includes legal services, housing counseling, and consumer education, CNYCN pursues multiple strategies to assist those at risk of losing their homes to foreclosure. Operates a free confidential foreclosure prevention hotline.

Credit Freeze
New Yorkers who believe they are the victims of identity theft can place a security freeze on their credit files. This prohibits crediting agencies from releasing the contents of their credit reports or scores so new credit accounts can be issued until the freeze is lifted. To activate the freeze, consumers must contact each of the three individual credit-reporting agencies listed below via certified mail or overnight mail with a name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, and proof of current address. Individuals must contact each agency again when they want to lift the freeze.

Equifax Security Freeze
P.O. Box 740241
Atlanta, GA 30374
888-766-0008

Experian Security Freeze

Free Credit Reports
P.O. Box 105238
Atlanta, GA 30348
877-322-8228
www.annualcreditreport.com

While there are many companies that charge people to obtain copies of their credit reports, all New Yorkers are entitled to receive one free credit report each year from each of the major credit reporting agencies. All three national credit bureaus (Experian, Equifax and TransUnion) must provide you with a copy of your credit report once every year, upon request, under provisions of the Fair Credit Reporting Act. If you are the victim of identity theft, you are entitled to a second report from each agency.
New Economy Project (formerly known as NEDAP)
176 Grand Street Suite #300
New York, NY 10013

Provides a comprehensive list of resources and fact sheets on issues such as community banking and finance, credit reports, debt collection, identity theft, foreclosure prevention, and predatory lending available at http://nedap.org/resources/consumer.html.

Operates the New York City Financial Justice Hotline which provides information and referrals for low-income residents regarding issues with unfair debt collection practices, tax refund loans, payday loans, credit reporting and repair. The hotline can be reached at 212-925-4929 on Tuesdays 12 pm–2 pm, Wednesdays 12 pm-2 pm, and Thursdays 12 pm–2 pm.

NYC Financial Empowerment Centers
Midtown Community Court
315 West 54th Street
New York, NY 10019
Call 311

In cooperation with a number of non-profit organizations, New York City operates free Financial Empowerment Centers in each borough. The centers provide free one-on-one financial counseling by professional counselors in person or by phone in English and Spanish. Financial counselors can help with budget and debt management, debt collection, difficulties with credit repair agencies, eligibility for government benefits, opening bank accounts, and financial scams. The center listed above is the one most convenient to Senator Krueger’s district. It is open Tuesdays and Fridays, 9am-5pm. It is best to make an appointment ahead of time. Other locations are available on the website or by calling 311.
CONTINUING EDUCATION

College Programs at the City University of New York (CUNY)
CUNY Senior Colleges (4 year): When space is available, people over 60 can audit courses tuition-free at any of the four-year CUNY colleges. Students do not take tests or receive academic credit.

CUNY Community Colleges (2 year): Courses are tuition-free at community colleges when space is available. Students may participate fully in classes: doing homework, taking tests, and receiving grades and academic credit.

There is an administrative fee for both the senior and community college programs. Call the admissions office at a college that is convenient for you.

General Information - 212-335-9000
http://www.manhattanda.org/victim-family-resources

Manhattan District Attorney’s Witness Aid Services Unit
The Witness Aid Services Unit provides a variety of court-related services, social services, and counseling services designed to meet the needs of crime victims, witnesses, and their families. The unit also provides information related to the prosecution of the case, assists victims in understanding the criminal justice system, and provides information regarding crime victims’ rights. http://www.manhattanda.org/witness-aid-services-unit

Important Guidelines for Victims from the District Attorney’s Office

• Criminal cases are prosecuted by the District Attorney’s Office on behalf of the People of the State of New York. Victims, therefore, do not need their own attorneys.

• As a crime victim, you are a witness in the prosecution of your case.

• As a witness for the State, a victim has certain responsibilities to assist with the prosecution of a criminal case. These responsibilities may include signing an affidavit and providing testimony to a grand jury and at trial.

• A victim is under no obligation to speak about the facts of the case with anyone other than a representative of the District Attorney’s Office. If someone contacts you concerning the case, make sure you ask that person to identify him or herself.

• If you receive a subpoena, you must appear in court as specified by that subpoena.

• When you answer a question, you must tell the truth.

• If others advise you not to appear in court, or if you are threatened or harassed, immediately contact the Assistant District Attorney assigned to the case or the Witness Aid Services Unit at 212-335-9040.

ELDER ABUSE

Elder abuse can take many forms. If you are a victim of abuse or suspect that someone you know may be a victim, please seek help.

Elder Abuse Facts

Mistreatment of the elderly is a problem affecting all segments of society regardless of socioeconomic status, living environment, race, ethnicity, or physical or cognitive status. Elder abuse can include any or all of the following forms of abuse:

- Physical: The infliction of physical pain, injury, physical coercion or confinement against someone’s will. Examples include hitting, sexual abuse and physical restraint.
- Psychological: The infliction of mental or emotional anguish. Examples include name calling, insulting, ignoring, threatening and isolating.
- Financial: The illegal or unethical exploitation or use of an elderly person’s funds without their consent.
- Neglect: The refusal or failure to fulfill a caretaking obligation. Examples include abandonment, non-provision of food or health-related services.
- Sexual: Any unwanted sexual contact or forced exposure to sexually explicit materials or situations.

Elder Abuse Laws

All 50 states and the District of Columbia have enacted laws addressing domestic or institutional abuse of the elderly. In New York State, Adult Protective Services workers must report any instances in which they believe a client has been the victim of a crime. Also, workers in public health care facilities must report abuse of patients receiving care or services in their facilities.

Adult Protective Services (APS)
Manhattan North Borough Office: 212-971-2727
Manhattan South Borough Office: 212-279-5794

APS is a state-mandated case management program that arranges for services and support for physically and/or mentally impaired adults who are at risk of harm.

Eligibility
APS is available to persons 18 years of age and older without regard to income, who:
• Are mentally and/or physically impaired; and
• Due to these impairments, are unable to manage their own resources, carry out the activities of daily living, or protect themselves from abuse, neglect, exploitation or other hazardous situations without assistance from others, and
• Have no one available who is willing and able to assist them responsibly.

The Disaster Preparedness for Seniors Guide helps seniors develop a plan of action in the event of a house fire, power outage, hurricane or attack on the community. This guide is offered online in a printer-friendly version by the American Red Cross in Greater New York.

Ready New York for Seniors and People with Disabilities Guide
311
This guide was collaboratively developed by DFTA and the Office of Emergency Management (OEM). It addresses issues specific to seniors and people with disabilities in the event of an emergency. The guide is available in English, Russian, Spanish and Chinese. You can call 311 for the guide on audiotape.

Emergencies can present additional challenges for seniors and people with disabilities. When a disaster occurs, your personal needs, such as replacing medications and equipment, may not be met right away. By planning ahead, you will feel more confident about protecting yourself in any emergency, whether it is a house fire, power outage, hurricane, or terrorist attack.

Here is just a sample of suggestions from the NYC Office of Emergency Management (OEM):

- Keep spare sets of your keys.
- Have copies of important documents, such as information about medication and dosage, equipment and other needs.
- If you receive home-based care, include caregivers in developing an emergency plan and familiarize yourself with your homecare agency’s emergency plan.
- If you rely on home-delivered meals, always stock nonperishable food at home in case meal deliveries are suspended during an emergency.
- Have a plan with your doctor to get emergency prescription refills.
- If you receive dialysis or other medical treatments, find out your provider’s emergency plan, including where your back-up site is located.
- If you rely on medical equipment that requires electric power:
  - Contact your medical supply company for information regarding a back-up power source.
  - Check with local fire and building officials governing generator and fuel use.
  - Ask your utility company if the medical equipment qualifies you to be listed as a life-sustaining equipment Customer.

Assurance Wireless Lifeline Program
1-888-898-4888
http://www.assurancewireless.com/Public/MorePrograms.aspx
Assurance Wireless is an eligible telecommunications carrier for the Lifeline phone program that provides free wireless phones and service to income-eligible consumers in New York State. You may qualify for Assurance Wireless if you participate in any of the following government programs: Medicaid, Food Stamps/SNAP, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), Federal Public Housing Assistance (FPHA) or Section 8, Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), or National School Lunch Program’s Free Lunch Program. You may also qualify based on household income.
Social Security
Almost everyone who has worked is eligible for Social Security. When you work and pay Social Security Taxes, you earn credits toward Social Security benefits. The number of credits you need to get retirement benefits depends on when you were born.

Full Retirement Age
If you were born from 1943-1960, the age at which full retirement benefits are payable increases gradually to age 67. People born prior to 1943 are already eligible for full retirement benefits.

Early Retirement
You can receive Social Security retirement benefits as early as age 62; however, you will receive a reduced benefit if you retire before your full retirement age.

Benefits for Family Members
If you are receiving Social Security retirement benefits, some members of your family may also receive benefits, including:
- Spouses age 62 or older.
- Spouses younger than 62 if they are taking care of a child who is younger than age 16 or disabled.
- Former spouses age 62 or older, if currently unmarried and were married to the retiree for at least 10 years.
- Children up to age 18, or 19 if they are full-time students who have not yet graduated.
- Disabled children, even if they are age 18 or older.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
Supplemental Security Income provides monthly cash benefits to people with low income and limited resources who are age 65 or older, or blind, or have a disability.

For more information: Call the Social Security Administration toll-free hotline at (800) 772-1213 or for TTY service call (800)325-0778. Both lines are staffed by customer representatives on weekdays from 7:00 am to 7:00 pm. You can also go to the Social Security Administration’s website at www.ssa.gov/.

For the Emergency Food Line, call 311 or 1-866-888-8777
Food stamp benefits help low-income working people, seniors, the disabled, and others feed their families. The program issues monthly benefits that can be used to purchase food at authorized retail food stores. Benefits are provided through an electronic benefit card, similar to a debit or credit card. Eligibility and benefit levels are based on household size, income, expenses and other factors. Recent changes to the Food Stamp Program have made it easier for many working households to apply and gain access to these critical nutrition supports. The income eligibility levels are more generous for seniors than others, and deductions are available for some expenses.

Applications can be submitted in NYC through the mail or at any Human Resources Administration or Food Stamp office (the ones most convenient to NY Senate District 28 are listed below). If you submit an application by mail, you will be called for an interview once your application has been processed. Call 311 for applications and additional locations.

Medicaid

Seniors with Medicare may also be eligible for Medicaid if their incomes are low enough to qualify. Those who have both Medicare and Medicaid are considered “dual eligibles.”

NYC Medicaid Helpline
888-692-6116
[link to website]

Medicaid pays medical bills for eligible low-income residents of all ages. Medicaid pays for certain services for Medicare beneficiaries that are not covered by Medicare (dental care, home care, institutional care, prescription drugs, eye glasses, and hearing aids).

Eligibility for Medicaid:
- No age restrictions.
- Persons receiving SSI or Public Assistance are automatically eligible.
- Persons 65 and older, as well as disabled or blind 21-64 year olds, are eligible as follows: asset limit of $14,400 for an individual, or $21,150 for a couple (plus a $1,500 burial fund per person). Income limit is $800 net monthly for one person and $1,175 for a couple. These amounts include a standard $20 income disregard. (Note that the monthly income and asset limits will increase as of January 1, 2014. Many senior centers, as well as the websites and organizations listed on page 34, can help you determine if you are eligible for Medicaid.

NY State of Health: Affordable Health Care Plans

http://www.nystateofhealth.ny.gov/

Toll-free Call Center: 1-855-355-5777

NY State of Health is a new marketplace where both individuals and small businesses can shop for and enroll in affordable health insurance plans. Health plans include a comprehensive set of benefits. You will not be denied insurance on the basis of a pre-existing condition. Financial aid to buy insurance is available for individuals who earn up to $46,000 a year, or $92,200 a year for a family of 4.

These are private health plans, but the marketplace is administered by New York State as part of federal health care reform. The plans are appropriate for people who do not currently receive Medicare and who don’t have insurance through their employers.
Medicare

www.medicare.gov
Medicare is a federal health insurance program for all citizens age 65 or older (and those under age 65 with certain disabilities).

There are different parts of Medicare to help cover specific services. People typically have Medicare Part A, B, and D, or a Medicare Advantage program.

Medicare Part A (hospital insurance)
Helps cover inpatient care in hospitals, care in nursing facilities, hospice care, and home health care.

Medicare Part B (medical insurance)
Helps cover doctors’ services, outpatient care, and some preventative services. There is an initial enrollment period for Part A & Part B when you first turn 65. General enrollment begins January 1st and ends March 31st. There are also special enrollment periods.

Medicare Advantage Plans (Part C)
A health coverage plan run by private companies approved by Medicare (like an HMO or PPO). Includes Part A, Part B, and usually other coverage including prescription drugs. Open enrollment begins October 15th and ends December 7th.

Medigap (Medicare supplemental plans) cover services not covered by Medicare A & B. Enrollment possible any time of the year.

Medicare Part D (prescription drug coverage)
800-633-4227
www.medicare.gov
Coverage is provided by a large number of private insurance companies whose costs and benefits vary widely. Before selecting a company, it is advisable to compare them. The Medicare Rights Center, the NYC Department for the Aging and many senior centers can provide assistance in choosing the best plan for your needs. In order for the Part D plan to start on January 1st, registration must take place during the yearly enrollment period, which is from October 15th to December 7th each year.

Each year the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services publishes a comprehensive guide called Medicare and You, which explains Medicare in great detail, provides updates about any recent changes, and answers frequently asked questions. The guide is available online at http://www.medicare.gov/Publications/Pubs/pdf/10050.pdf or by calling 1-800-MEDICARE.

Extra Help Paying for Medicare Prescription Drug Plans
800-772-1213
www.ssa.gov/prescriptionhelp/
Extra Help pays for the costs of Medicare prescription drug plans, including premiums, deductibles, and prescription co-payments. You are eligible for Extra Help if you have Medicare and your income and resources are below a certain level. Apply online on the Social Security Administration's website or call them toll-free.

Annual income limit: $17,235 (single person) or $23,265 (married couple).
Resource limit: $13,300 (single person) or $26,580 (married couple). Resources do not include your home, car, or life insurance policies.

Medicare Savings Programs

Medicare Rights Center: 800-333-4114
www.medicare.gov/your-medicare-costs/help-paying-costs/medicare-savings-program/medicare-savings-programs.html
Medicare Savings Programs (MSPs) are state programs that help pay for your Medicare costs if your income is below a certain level. MSPs can help pay your Medicare premiums, deductibles, and co-payments. As a result, MSP enrollees will have more money in their pockets every month.

Qualified Medicare Beneficiary (QMB):
Helps pay your Medicare premiums. Will also pay your deductibles and coinsurances if you see doctors who participate in Medicare or who are in your Medicare's private health network. You can have both QMB and Medicaid.
Monthly Income limit: $978 (single person) or $1,313 (married couple)

Specified Low-income Medicare Beneficiary (SLMB):
Helps pay your Part B Premiums. You can have both SLMB and Medicaid.
Monthly Income limit: $1,169 (single person) or $1,571 (married couple)

Qualifying Individual (QI) Program:
Helps pays your Medicare Part B Premium. You cannot have both QI and Medicaid.
Monthly Income limit: $1,313 (single person) or $1,765 (married couple)

NOTE: Call or fill out an application if you think you could qualify for savings—even if your income is higher than the amounts listed here. Also, if you have income from working, you may qualify for benefits even if your income is higher than the limits listed here.

≈ Medication Assistance ≈

Prescription drugs can be expensive. Some may not be covered by your healthcare plan. Here are some tips to help lower the cost:

- Many pharmaceutical companies have programs that provide free or low-cost prescription drugs to those in need.

- Find out whether which drugs are and are not covered by your prescription drug plan.

- If a drug is not covered, speak to your doctor about whether a covered medication can be prescribed or if a generic version is available.

- Shop around. Medicines bought through the mail or online often cost less than those locally, but be careful about buying drugs outside of the USA. Standard may be lower.

- Save receipts for all medicines. These costs may be tax-deductible.

THE BENEFITS OF SUPPORT GROUPS
Regardless of format, in a support group, you'll find people with problems similar to yours. Members of a support group typically share their personal experiences and offer one another emotional comfort and moral support. They may also offer practical advice and tips to help you cope with your situation.

Benefits of participating in support groups may include:
- Feeling less lonely, isolated or judged
- Gaining a sense of empowerment and control
- Improving your coping skills and sense of adjustment
- Talking openly and honestly about your feelings
- Reducing distress, depression or anxiety
- Developing a clearer understanding of what to expect with your situation.
- Getting practical advice or information about treatment options
- Comparing notes about resources, such as doctors and alternative options

The city and state laws governing the rights and responsibilities of renters and homeowners in New York City are extremely complex. State Senator Liz Krueger’s office produces a housing mailer that discusses the most frequently asked questions by renters and cooperative and condominium owners. The guides are available online at krueger.nysenate.gov or by calling 212-490-9535.

≈ Senior Housing ≈
(See Long-Term Care for Assisted Living Information)

There is a wide variety of housing designed for seniors of different ages, levels of health, incomes, activity level, and interests across New York. Options range from low-cost government subsidized housing to privately operated luxury residences to assisted-living facilities, and everything in between.

The New York City and State Departments for the Aging provide comprehensive lists of senior housing options across the state, searchable by neighborhood, cost, and type of services provided. The list from the City Department for the Aging is available on the web at www.nyc.gov/html/dfta/html/benefits/housing.shtml, or by calling 311. The list from the State Department for the Aging includes a list of definitions of the many different types of housing available, and is available at www.aging.ny.gov/housingresources/index.cfm.

New York Foundation for Senior Citizens’ Home Sharing Program
11 Park Place
New York, NY 10007
212-962-7559
www.NYFSC.org/services/home_sharing.html
The Home Sharing program matches senior citizens age 60 and over, living throughout New York City’s five boroughs, who have excess space in their homes or apartments to share with responsible, compatible persons of all ages in need of housing. This very successful program helps relieve financial hardship and feelings of loneliness and promotes companionship. The service is free and offers confidential screening of applicants, negotiation of agreements for shared living, follow-up counseling and referral to entitlement and social service programs.
≈ Tenant Advocacy Organizations ≈

Housing Court Answers
212-962-4795
www.cwffhc.org
A non-profit organization that provides advice to unrepresented tenants in Housing Court proceedings, works to improve the Housing Court system and advocates for the right to counsel in Housing Court. Operates a telephone hotline from 9 am to 5 pm to provide information regarding Housing Court proceedings and the enforcement of housing code violations and other landlord/tenant issues to New York City residents, community-based organizations and other service providers. The assistance line can also provide the most up-to-date listing of non-profit organizations currently providing emergency rental assistance. Staff and volunteers sit at tables in all Housing Court buildings throughout the five boroughs to answer questions and to provide referrals every day from 9 am to 4 pm. The Manhattan table is located outside the 2nd Floor Clerk’s office (Room 225) in Manhattan Housing Court (111 Centre Street, New York, NY, 10013). Many fact sheets about Housing Court are available on the website and at the information tables.

Works to strengthen tenant protections while empowering and educating tenants. See website for factsheets and resources on housing laws, tenants’ rights, and tenant organizing.
Property Tax Reduction and Service Programs for Homeowners

Disabled Homeowner’s Exemption (DHE)
The Disabled Homeowner’s Exemption (DHE) provides a property tax abatement for eligible property owners who have a medically certifiable disability and an annual income below $38,400.

New York State School Tax Relief Program (STAR)
New York State Residents who are homeowners qualify for the Basic School Tax Relief (STAR) program regardless of age if their annual adjusted gross incomes is $500,000 or less and the property is their primary residence (meaning they live in the home for more than six months of each year). STAR provides savings of approximately $200 a year in NYC. Residents 65 and older who qualify for Basic STAR and have an annual household income of less than $79,050 are eligible for the Enhanced STAR program. Enhanced STAR provides average yearly savings of approximately $400 in NYC.

Senior Citizen Homeowner’s Exemption (SCHE)
The Senior Citizen Homeowner’s Exemption (SCHE) is a partial property tax exemption available for residential property owners age 65 years or older who have adjusted annual incomes below $37,400. Individuals who file for SCHE do not have to file a separate STAR application and are automatically enrolled in Enhanced STAR.

Veterans’ Tax Exemption
The Veterans’ Tax Exemption is a partial property tax exemption available to property owners who served in the U.S. armed forces in WWI & II, Korea, Vietnam, or the Gulf War. The spouse or registered domestic partner of a qualified veteran, the unmarried surviving spouse of a qualified veteran, and a Gold Star parent (the parent of a child who died in the line of duty while serving in the U.S. armed forces during one of the periods above) are eligible for this exemption.

Legislation is currently pending to expand this benefit to veterans of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Residential Emergency Services to Offer Home Repair to the Elderly (RESTORE)
212-480-7147
www.nyshcr.org/programs/restore
The RESTORE Program is available to low-income seniors who need financial assistance for emergency home repairs. The maximum grant is $5,000 and is only available to those who have lived in their homes for at least three years. The program is administered through RESTORE-qualified agencies in your service area. Call or visit the website for additional info.
Government Benefits for Low-Income Renters

Disabled Rent Increase Exemption (DRIE)
The DRIE program freezes the rents of disabled people living in rent-regulated apartments or Mitchell Lama buildings and provides a tax abatement for the owners. Households that are eligible include those receiving Social Security Disability, Supplemental Security Income, Veterans’ pensions or compensation, and those enrolled in the Medicaid Buy-In Program. DRIE is designed to work in the same way as SCRIE except that it has lower income limits. The eligibility limit for DRIE varies by household size and source of income, but in general the income limit for single individuals is $19,284 and $27,780 for couples. Applications for DRIE are available by calling 311 or online at http://www.nyc.gov/html/dof/html/property/property_tax_reduc_drie_dr_te.shtml.

Senior Citizen Rent Increase Exemption (SCRIE)
The SCRIE program run by the New York City Department of Finance freezes rents for eligible tenants and provides a tax abatement for the owner in return. To be eligible for a SCRIE, you must be 62 years of age or older, live in a rent-regulated apartment, have a household income (after taxes) of $29,000 or less and be paying more than one-third of your income for rent. You must apply for SCRIE and recertify your eligibility every two years. Tenants who experience a permanent decrease in income of more than 20% can apply to have their benefits recalculated. Applications for SCRIE are available by calling 311 or online at http://www.nyc.gov/html/dof/html/property/property_tax_reduc_drie_sc_te.shtml.

Real Property Tax Credit (IT-214)
800-225-5829
IT-214 provides rent relief to low-income seniors who have been residents of NY State for at least 12 years and have resided in a home for at least six months. Contact the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance for more information.

Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP)
Call 311 for information or application
1-800-342-3009
A one-time grant per year to help low-income homeowners and renters pay fuel and utility costs. There are income limitations but no asset restrictions. Available to both households that pay directly for heat and households where heat is included in rent. Benefit amounts range from $40.00 - $585.00. Eligible households that pay directly for heat with their main source of heat being oil, kerosene or propane may receive a benefit up to $800.00. Funds are limited. Residents 65 and older apply through the NYC Department for the Aging. Residents under 65 apply through the NYC Human Resources Administration. Both agencies can be reached by calling 311. Funds are limited, so apply early.

Weatherization Referral and Packaging Program (WRAP)
Call 311
www.aging.ny.gov/NYOSFA/programs/econsecurity/WRAP.cfm
Service for low-income seniors to lower their monthly energy bills.
A cluttered environment can have a negative impact on your well-being; it diminishes the quality of your life, wastes time, energy and creates stress. You feel overwhelmed and just don’t know where to begin, but help is available.

The following two websites offer many private fee-for-service organizations that can help with de-cluttering, downsizing, and organizing:

Cornell University Environmental Geriatrics Program
www.enviromentalgeriatrics.org/home_safety/clutter.html
Environmental Geriatrics is the study and application of design principles to interiors and products to optimize the health, function, and well-being of older adults. This website has information on creating an Alzheimer’s friendly home, fall and fire prevention, and hoarding and clutter.

ThisCaringHome.Org
http://thiscaringhome.org/index.aspx
This CaringHome.org was funded by grants from several foundations to Weill Cornell Medical College. All materials on ThisCaringHome’s website have been reviewed by select members of the Advisory Board, composed of a wide variety of professionals, including nurses, dementia specialists, physical and occupational therapists, safety experts, social workers, and recreational therapists.

GOVERNMENT-FUNDED SERVICES

Adult Protective Services (APS)
Central Intake Referral Line (212) 630-1853

APS provides free heavy-duty cleaning for their clients. An older person is eligible for APS, regardless of income or assets, if he or she:

a) has a physical or mental impairment; and
b) is unable to
- manage his or her own resources
- carry out the activities of daily living, protect themselves from physical, sexual or emotional abuse, passive or self-neglect, financial exploitation or other hazardous situations without assistance from others; and

- c) has no one willing and able to assist him or her responsibly.

If an APS client refuses to allow APS to perform a heavy duty cleaning and the client's tenancy is threatened as a result of this refusal, APS will assess to determine if a legal action can be brought for the appointment of a guardian.

Jewish Association for Services for the Aging (JASA) De-cluttering Program
JASA Help Center at (212) 273-5272
www.jasa.org/services/support-assistance

JASA has been awarded a small "de-cluttering" grant by New York State to help seniors avoid eviction due to safety and health issues created by an excessive collection of objects. Funding goes directly for the costs of hiring personal organizers, occupational therapy students, or agencies that do similar work. The objective is to avoid the "heavy duty cleaning" syndrome. JASA will conduct an assessment, offer a resource list of personal organizers and occupational therapists, and contribute funds (limited, with a capped amount) towards the cleaning. Due to limited staff, the majority of cases need a social worker from another agency who will work intensively on the project.

Housing Options for Seniors Who Need Assistance With Activities of Daily Living

What is Home Care?
More than 7.6 million Americans receive home care, according to the U.S. Census Bureau. The number is much greater when you consider that the census does not include “informal care” which is care given by a friend or family member. Home care is generally defined as non-medical support services delivered at the home of the senior. The aim of home care is to allow seniors to remain at home longer rather than enter an assisted living community, nursing home or other type of senior care. Home care may be appropriate if a senior prefers to stay at home but needs minor assistance with activities of daily living.

Activities of daily living include bathing, dressing, and meal preparation, but may also extend to assistance with transportation, paying bills, making appointments, and simply being there to provide companionship and emotional support. Home care services are generally available 24 hours a day, seven days a week and can be paid for directly by the client or through a variety of public and private funding sources such as Medicare and/or Medicaid.

What is Assisted Living?
Assisted living communities or assisted living facilities (ALFs) help promote health, safety and well-being among the senior residents who live there. Assisted living was developed as a type of senior housing to provide housing, health care and personal care services to seniors in need of assistance with activities of daily living in a more independent environment than a traditional nursing home.

There is a wide variation in the level of care that may be provided in assisted living communities. Some assisted living communities specialize in providing a supportive and safe environment for seniors who are largely independent but need some minor periodic assistance with activities of daily living or medication management. Other assisted living providers have designed their services specifically for the very frail elderly who need a very high level of assistance on a daily basis. These assisted living facilities have become a substitute for nursing homes and frequently provide many, though not all, of the same care services as a skilled nursing facility. It is important to know what type of environment each assisted living community caters to so that your loved one will be comfortable.

There are over 36,000 assisted living options to choose from in the United States.

What is a Nursing Home?
There are over 16,000 nursing homes in the U.S. Nursing homes, also known as skilled nursing facilities, are for seniors who require constant medical care and need significant assistance with the activities of daily living. The goal of care in a nursing home is to help individuals meet their daily physical, medical, social, and psychological needs. Nursing homes are generally stand-alone facilities, but some are operated within a hospital or an assisted living community.
Residents of nursing homes generally have high care needs and complex medical conditions that require routine skilled nursing services. Due to the needs of their residents, nursing homes are required by federal law to have a licensed nurse on duty 24 hours a day. Residents typically share a room and are served meals in a central dining area. Residents should have the opportunity to be involved in activities that provide mental, physical, and social stimulation. Be sure to ask about activities offered when you tour the facility.

The average cost of care for nursing home care across the country ranges between $4,000 and $8,000* per month. Cost is determined by the level of care needed, the setting where the care is provided, and the geographic location. Due to the high cost of care, many residents use supplemental funding from the government in the form of Medicare and/or Medicaid.

*Cost of care for nursing home care in the NYC Metropolitan Area is more likely to be in the $11,000/month range and higher.

Aging In Place

Adult Day Programs

Adult day programs are community based group programs designed to meet the needs of functionally and/or cognitively impaired adults through an individual plan of care. These structured, comprehensive programs provide a variety of health, social, and other related support services in a protective setting. Adult day centers generally operate during normal business hours five days a week. Some programs offer services in the evenings and on weekends.

There are two kinds, or models, of adult day programs:

- Social model day programs provide supervision and socialization through therapeutic group activities such as discussion groups, arts and crafts, games and dancing, or services such as memory simulation exercises. Most of these programs do not have a medical component, and payment is usually private pay. Each program is slightly different and has different requirements. Almost all offer lunch and many offer transportation. The cost of these programs varies a great deal. The best way to be sure a program is a good fit for a particular person’s functional ability, need for service, and financial resources is to visit, watch what goes on, and ask a lot of questions.

- Medical model day programs are designed for persons with medical problems (including dementia) who may require one or more of the following services: monitoring, nursing care, social work, occupational therapy, physical therapy, nutritional counseling, or recreational therapy, in addition to socialization. As a result, they are significantly more expensive than social model adult day care. If the person with dementia appears to need medical model care, but does not have the income or assets to pay for it, talk to a social worker at the center about the eligibility requirements for Medicaid, which covers medical model adult day programs.

The best way to be sure a program is a good fit for a particular person’s functional ability, need for service, and financial resources, is to visit the programs that interest you. Be sure to watch what goes on and ask a lot of questions. Application procedures may vary among programs.

How You Can Help a Visually Impaired Person

- Always make your presence known and identify yourself.
- Be natural. Talk to her as you would a sighted person.
- Your voice should be normal, there is no need to "Shout". His hearing may be perfect.
- Always address the blind person by name if she is the one expected to reply.
- Help to familiarize the blind person with his surroundings.
- When guiding a blind person, never take her arm and push her ahead, this could be dangerous. Allow her to take your arm; she will immediately feel secure and in control.
- Visually impaired people, as do sighted people, like to be treated with respect and consideration

WHAT ARE ADVANCE DIRECTIVES?

HEALTHCARE PROXY

The New York Health Care Proxy Law allows you to appoint someone you trust — for example, a family member or close friend — to make health care decisions for you if you lose the ability to make decisions yourself. By appointing a health care agent, you can make sure that health care providers follow your wishes. Your agent can also decide how your wishes apply as your medical condition changes. Hospitals, doctors, and other health care providers must follow your agent's decisions as if they were your own. You may give the person you select as your health care agent as little or as much authority as you want. You may allow your agent to make all health care decisions or only certain ones. You may also give your agent instructions that he or she has to follow. This form can also be used to document your wishes or instructions with regard to organ and/or tissue donation. You can download copy of the NYS Healthcare Proxy at: http://www.health.ny.gov/forms/doh-1430.pdf

POWER OF ATTORNEY

The "durable power-of-attorney" is one of the most powerful planning tools that an attorney can recommend to a client, not only for estate planning, but also for Medicaid and other entitlement programs. When a person (the principal) signs a power-of-attorney, he gives another person (the agent) the power to act in his place and on his behalf in managing his assets and affairs. The agent's powers may be broad and sweeping so as to include almost any act which the principal might have performed. It should be noted, however, that, in general, acts which are inherently testamentary in nature, such as the authority to make or revoke a will, may not be performed by an agent.

A power-of-attorney can be either a "general" power-of-attorney, where the agent may perform almost any act the principal might have performed himself regarding the financial management of his affairs, or a "limited" power-of-attorney where the agent has one or more specific powers, such as the power to sell a particular property to a particular purchaser at a particular time.

A single principal may name one or more agents who can be authorized to act either "jointly" or "severally" (alone without the signature of the other agent or agents).

The "durable" power-of-attorney is unlike the ordinary power-of-attorney in that it does not become inoperative upon the incapacity of the principal. The durable power-of-attorney provides that those powers granted to the agent will not be affected by the subsequent disability or incapacity of the principal or by the lapse of time.

In drafting powers-of-attorney, care should be given to confer powers with as much specificity as possible in order to avoid the possibility of a court construing a specific omission as an intent to fail to grant that specific power. Such an adverse finding could be a serious detriment to the principal's assets.

The power-of-attorney for asset management in the case of a seriously ill or disabled person is especially useful in situations where the person's assets may be modest and, accordingly, do not warrant the expense associated with other planning techniques such as trusts or guardianships.

The great advantage of the durable power-of-attorney is that it remains effective after the principal's incapacity. The agent, therefore, can act immediately upon the principal's incapacity to manage his assets or to take various measures without initiating costly and time-consuming guardianship proceedings to obtain the court's authorization for such transactions.

In a few states, the principal is allowed to delegate to the agent in the durable power-of-attorney various health care powers in addition to control over financial matters. In New York State, however, a health care power-of-attorney or proxy must be a separate document from a power-of-attorney.

Medical Orders for Life-Sustaining Treatment (MOLST)

The patient keeps the original MOLST form during travel to different care settings. The physician keeps a copy.

Do-Not-Resuscitate (DNR) and Other Life-Sustaining Treatment (LST)

This is a medical order form that tells others the patient's wishes for life-sustaining treatment. A health care professional must complete or change the MOLST form, based on the patient's current medical condition, values, wishes and MOLST instructions. If the patient is unable to make medical decisions, the orders should reflect patient wishes, as best understood by the health care agent or surrogate. A physician must sign the MOLST form. All health care professionals must follow these medical orders as the patient moves from one location to another, unless a physician examines the patient, reviews the orders and changes them.

MOLST is generally for patients with serious health conditions. The patient or other decision-maker should work with the physician and consider asking the physician to fill out a MOLST form if the patient:

- Wants to avoid or receive any or all life-sustaining treatment.
- Resides in a long-term care facility or requires long-term care services.
- Might die within the next year.

If the patient has a developmental disability and does not have ability to decide, the doctor must follow special procedures and attach the appropriate legal requirements checklist.

SECTION A  Resuscitation Instructions When the Patient Has No Pulse and/or is Not Breathing

Check one:

☐ CPR Order: Attempt Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation

CPR involves artificial breathing and forceful pressure on the chest to try to restart the heart. It usually involves electric shock (defibrillation) and a plastic tube down the throat into the windpipe to assist breathing (intubation). It means that all medical treatments will be done to prolong life when the heart stops or breathing stops, including being placed on a breathing machine and being transferred to the hospital.

☐ DNR Order: Do Not Attempt Resuscitation (Allow Natural Death)

This means do not begin CPR, as defined above, to make the heart or breathing start again if either stops.

SECTION B  Consent for Resuscitation Instructions (Section A)

The patient can make a decision about resuscitation if he or she has the ability to decide about resuscitation. If the patient does NOT have the ability to decide about resuscitation and has a health care proxy, the health care agent makes this decision. If there is no health care proxy, another person will decide, chosen from a list based on NYS law.

☐ Check if verbal consent (Leave signature line blank)

Honoring patient preferences is a critical element in providing quality end-of-life care. Medical Orders for Life-Sustaining Treatment (MOLST) is a program designed to improve the quality of care patients receive at the end of life by translating patient goals for care and preferences into medical orders. MOLST is based on communication between the patient, his or her health care agent or other designated surrogate decision-maker, and health care professionals that ensures shared, informed medical decision-making.

A health care proxy and a living will are traditional advance directives for adults 18 years of age and older. These documents are completed when a patient has capacity to do so and only apply when medical decision-making capacity is lost.

To complement the use of traditional advance directives and facilitate the communication of medical orders impacting end-of-life care for patients with advanced chronic or serious illness, the Medical Orders for Life-Sustaining Treatment (MOLST) program was created. The MOLST contains specific and actionable medical orders that transition with the patient across health care settings. Health care proxies and living wills typically contain more general instructions, and cannot be followed by EMS providers in an emergency.

In contrast to a health care proxy, the MOLST applies as soon as a patient consents to the orders in it and a physician signs it. It is not conditional on a physician’s determination that a patient has lost medical decision-making capacity. The MOLST program is based on the belief that patients have the right to make their own health care decisions, including decisions about life-sustaining treatment, to describe these wishes to health care providers and to receive comfort care while wishes are being honored.

The MOLST form should be printed on bright "pulsar" pink, heavy stock paper. Hard copies of the card stock pink form (with all four pages printed landscape/double-sided on a single 11" X 17" sheet folded in the middle) can be ordered using a form that can be downloaded at www.compassionandsupport.org/.
