American College of Physicians | American Academy of Pediatrics | American Academy of Family Physicians | American Psychiatric Association | American Society of Anesthesiologists

2015

WYOMING MEDICAL SOCIETY
& Wyoming Association of Physician Assistants
ANNUAL MEETING
June 5-7
JACKSON LAKE LODGE

The premier educational showcase and vendor expo for Wyoming physicians & physician assistants.
Dr. Pillsbury is a Thomas J. Dark Distinguished Professor of Otolaryngology/Head & Neck Surgery, Chair of the Dept. of Otolaryngology at Univ. of North Carolina School of Medicine at Chapel Hill.

Dr. Pillsbury specializes in Otolaryngology-head and neck surgery, neurotology, facial plastic surgery, otolaryngologic allergy, cochlear implantation, acoustic tumors, skull base surgery, and laser utilization in head and neck cancer.

Dr. Pillsbury is also Executive Director of the W. Paul Biggers Carolina Children’s Communicative Disorders Program (CCCDP).

Mrs. Trautwein serves as the Wyoming Supreme Court Children’s Justice Project Coordinator. Her vast experience in child advocacy through Wyoming’s guardian ad litem program and others uniquely positions her to speak to the issues of child advocacy and how Wyoming’s physician community can better serve children in cases of abuse.

Trautwein will moderate a panel discussion that will include a prosecutor, representatives from Wyoming’s Dept. of Family Services and physicians who can lend varying perspectives on health care providers’ roles in protecting children, taking custody of a child and more.

Dr. Johnson-Quijada is board certified in General Psychiatry and has completed two fellowships in Prime Medicine for Psychiatry and Electroconvulsive Therapy.

She is currently in private practice near Los Angeles, CA after recently stepping down as medical director of the Loma Linda University Behavioral Medical Center.

Dr. Johnson-Quijada will speak to several different psychiatric topics including work-life balance and the importance of sleep in psychiatric medicine today.

Dr. Moyer is a fellow of the American College of Physicians, professor of Medicine at Temple University School of Medicine and Program Director of the Internal Medicine Residency Program.

Dr. Moyer received her Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Pennsylvania, she received her MD from Temple University School of Medicine and completed her residency at Temple University Hospital, where she was chief resident. She obtained her fellowship in infectious diseases at Harbor-UCLA Medical Center.

Dr. Moyer will speak on topics of physician-burnout and enjoying the practice of medicine.
